McGovern To Reveal Selection By Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern talked for two hours with Sen. Edmund S. Muskie last evening about the Democratic vice-presidential nomination, Muskie's office announced today.

The Maine senator has been considered a leading candidate for the second spot on the Democratic ticket.

NO COMMENT

"Sen. Muskie will have no further comment for the time being," his office said.

McGovern said Thursday three senators have refused anew to accept the vice presidential nomination but said he was having no difficulty finding applications for the job.

He said he'll announce no later than Monday his choice to replace Missouri Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton on the ticket.

McGovern confirmed, in response to questions, that this week he sounded out Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut and Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts about accepting the vice-presidential nomination. But all three said no.

MUSKIE?

McGovern said he did not push them on it because he had discussed it with them during the Democratic National Convention, where they first refused.

Speculation over McGovern's next choice is centering around Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine. Muskie, who a year ago was considered the favorite for the presidential nomination, has had no comment on the No. 2 spot, which he held on the ticket in 1968.

McGovern met with a dozen newsmen in his Senate office as he attempted to lay to rest increasing speculation that he is having serious trouble getting a suitable running-mate.

As he denied those reports, McGovern said he is purposely taking his time in recommending a successor to Eagleton, who was persuaded by McGovern to withdraw from the ticket following disclosure that he had been hospitalized for depression stemming from nervous exhaustion and fatigue in 1960, 1964 and 1966.

"I can assure you the decision is being made the way it should be, with care and deliberation," McGovern said.

BIG GAMBLE

McGovern criticized the present system of selecting vice-presidential candidates, calling it "a major gamble."

He said presidential candidates are exhausted and rushed by the time they win their own nomination but "must get a vice-presidential nominee within a matter of hours."

The Democratic standard-bearer said he will ask party Chairman Jean Westwood to recommend that the party's charter committee investigate new ways to pick the vice-presidential nominee.

In response to a question, McGovern also said he never fully believed that Kennedy would not accept the vice-presidential nomination in Miami Beach, despite public disavowals of interest. "I thought . . . once I got the nomination when it got right down to the crunch" that Kennedy would accept it, McGovern said.

Hunt For Two Small Girls Who Vanished From Homes

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Foul play was feared early today after search parties spent a full day hunting for two small girls who disappeared two days ago.

Missing were Fara Fazi, 8, and Cherry Lambert, 6, the daughters of two Lackland Air Force Base sergeants. They were last seen playing in the front yard of one of their homes about 4 p.m. Wednesday, officers said.

FOUL PLAY?

"We have nothing at this point. I hope there's no foul play, but I'm beginning to suspect the worst," said Sheriff's Lt. Alfred Carreon late Thursday. "I'm beginning to suspect foul play."

Officers said one man told them he saw two girls standing in an area near the scene of the search Wednesday night and saw a car stop. He said he assumed their parents were in the car but was unsure if they got in it.

STILL SEARCHING

"That's why we are still searching, because we don't know if the girls were picked up or not," Carreon said.

The ever-growing search was massive, with more than 400 persons taking part Thursday, including about 200 trainees from Lackland.

Two helicopters were dispatched to the area on the city's west side, along with six specially trained dogs, 15 horseback riders, several deputies and many volunteers.

Rain hampered Thursday's efforts, much of which were concentrated on a brushy area near the girls' homes.

Fara's parents are T.Sgt. and Mrs. Floyd Fazi. Cherry's parents are S.Sgt. and Mrs. Walter Lambert.

Fate Of Accused Assailant Bremer In Hands Of Jurors

BULLETIN

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP) — Arthur H. Bremer was found sane and convicted today of all charges arising out of the shooting of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace and three other persons.

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP)-Jury deliberations began today in the trial of Arthur H. Bremer, accused assailant of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

The jurors received the case after hearing the 21-year-old former busboy described by the prosecution as fully sane but called a schizophrenic by the defense, which contended he was not in control of his own actions the day Wallace and three others were wounded.

The case was given to the jury at 12:40 p.m. EDT after 4½ days of testimony.

"He knew he'd be arrested ... he knew he'd be on trial. This is his moment of glory," prosecutor Arthur A. Marshall Jr. told the jury in his closing argument.

SIX WOMEN

Marshall, Prince Georges County state's attorney, addressed the panel of six men and six women, leading off closing prosecution and defense arguments.

As Marshall spoke, Bremer sat impassively across the courtroom at the defense table.

Benjamin Lipsitz, Bremer's lawyer, countered that the defendant is a schizophrenic who "can't cope with the world."

"He wants to kill you and he can't stop it," Lipsitz said.

He told the jurors that Bremer intellectually understands what he is doing "but it is meaningless to him on a gut level. This man has no emotional capacity to understand anything."

FIRST QUESTION

Bremer is charged with assault with intent to commit murder and with weapons violations. His lawyer has mounted a defense based on the contention that the defendant was mentally unable to understand his actions.

The jury earlier was instructed that the first question it must answer was whether Bremer actually fired the bullets which wounded Wallace and the other three.

Judge Ralph W. Powers, in a 25-minute charge to the jury before the start of closing defense and prosecution arguments, said that if the jurors decide that Bremer did fire the shots at a May 15 political rally, the panel then must decide whether Bremer was "suffering from a mental disorder" and was unable to conform his actions to the law.

INNOCENT

Bremer has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to all charges brought against him as a result of the shootings at the Laurel, Md., shopping center.

As the case went to the final stages today, nine counts were left standing—four each of assault with intent to murder and using a handgun in violation of Maryland law and one charge of illegally carrying a handgun.

Four counts of assault and battery were dropped before the judge's charge, with no explanation in court as to the reasons. Judge Powers Thursday dismissed four other charges of assault with intent to maim, citing a lack of evidence.

Bremer could, if convicted, receive 2 to 15 years on each count of assault with intent to murder, 5 to 15 years on each count of using a handgun and a mandatory 5 years for illegally carrying a handgun.

Americans Hunt Work, Prices Rise

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wholesale prices posted in July the sharpest rise in five months to continue increasing at a faster pace than before President Nixon's Phase 2 wage-price controls, the government said today.

Last month's increase in prices of food and a broad range of industrial raw materials and manufactured goods was eight-tenths of one per cent, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

The report said wholesale prices in the eight months of Nixon's Phase 2 controls rose at an annual rate of 5.7 per cent compared with 5.2 per cent in the eight months before the Phase 1 wage-price freeze imposed a year ago.

The bureau also reported that the nation's unemployment rate remained unchanged in July at 5.5 per cent of the work force and total employment was virtually unchanged at 83.4 million.

"The jobless rate in June and July was substantially below the rates of around 6 per cent which had prevailed since the close of 1970," the report said.

It added that average hourly earnings of some 50 million rank-and-file workers rose one cent per hour to $3.62 and were up $1.09 per week to $136.47.

Average earnings were up $8.53 weekly or 6.7 per cent over the past year, and after deduction for the 2.9 per cent rise in living costs, the average paycheck was $4.58 per week above a year earlier, the report said.

The report on wholesale prices said food prices rose 2.2 per cent in July; finished goods ready for retail sale went up one per cent; and industrial raw materials rose two-tenths of one per cent.

Black Candidate Tennessee Winner

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee Democrats have nominated their first black candidate for Congress, State Sen. J. O. Patterson, who defeated three white opponents in the state's primary election.

Patterson's victory Thursday set up a match in the general election this fall with Republican Dan Kuykendall, who now represents the realigned 8th District.

The all-Memphis 8th was made heavily black and more Democratic when Tennessee lost one of its nine districts due to redistricting.

Sen. Howard Baker, a Republican seeking his second term, will be opposed this fall by conservative Democrat Ray Blanton in a contest that will have overtones stemming from the Democratic presidential race.

Baker and other Tennessee Republican leaders have capitalized on some Democratic discontent over the nomination of Sen. George McGovern as the Democratic presidential candidate. The Republicans have invited conservative Democrats to join the GOP fold. Blanton earlier said he would divorce his campaign from McGovern's.

Bandit Flees In Airplane?

PINELAND, Tex. (AP) — Authorities believe a gunman who took $15,000 from the Pineland State Bank used a small airplane in his escape.

The holdup occurred Thursday afternoon.

Several hours later, a stolen car used by the robber was found at a small airstrip near here. A blue and white Cessna plane was missing and officers say the robber may have flown it away.

Bank officials said the man had originally come to the bank to talk about financing a car. After several hours' discussion, he held a pistol on the bank president and cleaned out three tellers' cages.

The man was described as white and between 25 and 30 years old. He fled the bank in a car belonging to one of the employes.

Revenue Sharing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee was urged today to re-examine the basic concepts behind a House passed revenue-sharing bill in light of an anticipated $30-billion federal deficit.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., made public a letter to Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., saying other ways should be sought to "help local and state governments improve their fiscal situation."

Symington questioned whether the federal government should commit itself to granting $29.6 billion to state and local governments — the bill would grant $5.3 billion annually for the next five years — when its deficit for this year is expected to be more than $30 billion.

Boosting GI Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a measure sharply boosting the benefits for veterans to attend school under the GI Bill.

The Senate passed the measure 89-0 Thursday. It provides an increase of 43 per cent — more than the amount the Nixon administration requested and approved by the House.

If the difference can be worked out by a House-Senate conference committee before the fall term, a single veteran attending a college or vocational school would receive $250 a month. Currently the GI Bill pays $175 a month.

Married veterans would receive $297 a month, compared with the current $265, and if he has a child, $339 instead of $305.

Let's Wait, Says Briscoe

AUSTIN (AP) — Dolph Briscoe said again today he thought it would be better to wait until the Sept. 19 State Democratic Convention to fill Texas' three vacancies on the National Democratic Committee.

The National committee meets next Tuesday to vote on another vice presidential nominee.

Thursday, Mrs. Emma Long, Austin, urged Briscoe to call a meeting of the 130-member Texas delegation to the national convention on Sunday and let the committee name the three national committee members instead of waiting until the September convention. Mrs. Long was chairman of the Sen. Hubert Humphrey supporters at the recent Miami Beach national convention.

Briscoe, Democratic nominee for governor who voted first for George Wallace then switched his vote to Sen. George McGovern, did not mention Mrs. Long's telegram in his statement today.

'SPASSKY IS MASSACRED'

Fischer Wins 10th

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP)—World champion Boris Spassky resigned today in his 10th game of the world chess championship with challenger Bobby Fischer. This put Fischer in a commanding position with a lead.

The Russian titleholder resigned after 56 moves in the game, which resumed after adjourning Thursday night. The play started when the referee opened Fischer's sealed 41st move, king to king 2, which experts acclaimed as a winner.

But Spassky battled on for nearly two hours, as the 29-year-old challenger picked off his pawns and pushed his own relentlessly forward.

Fischer's opening move with the white pieces in the second day of the adjourned match freed his three king side pawns, allowing them to push up the board to harass Spassky's black king.

Grandmasters Bent Larsen of Denmark and Svetozar Gligoric of Yugoslavia agreed that the American challenger appeared certain to gain a three-point edge when play resumes in the game.

MASSACRE

"Spassky is massacred," said Gligoric. "It is unbelievable that the world champion cannot even manage a draw."

"If Spassky loses this game, the match becomes a farce," said British Grandmaster David Levy.

Play was adjourned Thursday night after the 40th move, and Fischer handed his sealed 41st move to referee Lothar Schmid.

With a win counting one point and a draw half a point, Fischer needs 12½ points to capture the championship and Spassky must get 12 to keep it.

Fischer was playing the white pieces Thursday, giving him the first move. It was pawn to king four, an opening he used only once in the three previous times he played the white pieces. Then he went into the Ruy Lopez pattern, but Spassky broke out of it with an exchange of pieces that left the board open for attacks.

Grandmaster Isaac Kashdan, analyzing the matches for The Associated Press, said Fischer after the 40th move "had the material advantage with two rooks against a rook and a bishop. Spassky had the edge in pawns, four against three, but this did not quite make up for the deficit."

TRAPPED

Twice Spassky appeared trapped by Fischer's aggressive play, but both times he wriggled out.

When the American's queen threatened Spassky's kingside bishop pawn and then checked, the champion used his bishop to force one of Fischer's rooks to protect his forward pawns, isolated from the mate strike.

Spassky escaped again after one of Fischer's rooks grabbed his bishop and another put him in check.

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — Two San Luis Potosi, Mexico, men were being held in the Hidalgo County jail here today after they allegedly stole a Mission man's car at gunpoint, saying they planned to rob a bank.

Juan Gonzalez Soto and Deonicio Calderon, both 32, were ordered held in lieu of $20,000 bond each on charges of robbery by firearms. They were also charged in Starr County with possession of firearms. Bond on that charge was set at $1,500 each.

Air Force Sergeant Hit With Spy Charge

TYNDALL AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — An Air Force intelligence officer says M. Sgt. Walter T. Perkins went to Mexico City twice before being nabbed with top secret documents that he planned to turn over to the Russian embassy.

Maj. Joe Nunez of the Office of Special Investigation (OSI) gave the testimony Thursday at a preliminary court-martial hearing where Perkins, a 20-year Air Force veteran, is facing espionage charges.

The Air Force contends that Perkins intended to turn over the classified papers, including a document on ballistic missiles, to Soviet agents at the Russian embassy in the Mexican capital.

Defense attorney Henry Rothblatt said Perkins' acts were "excusable under the law" because his client was an alcoholic who demonstrated a "psychotic condition, an inability to adhere to the right when the acts were being done."

Police Raid Newly Opened Film House, Charges Filed

A "triple XXX rated" movie theatre was raided Thursday at 3 p.m. by Big Spring police detectives. The operator of the theatre and seven customers were taken into custody. Two eight millimeter movie film projectors and eight containers of eight millimeter color movie film were confiscated as evidence.

Chief of Police Vance Chisum said that his department has had the Mini-Flick Theater Club, 3103 West Highway 80, under observation since it opened for business on Wednesday, Aug. 2.

One man arrested had in his possession an automatic pistol, Chisum said.

Detective Captain Jack Jones and City Manager Harry Nagel reported that they had received numerous calls complaining of the theatre's presence in Big Spring.

On the date of the theatre opening, Detective Jim McCain attended the showing of the movies which he reported to be about 20 minutes each in length. He said that membership to the club was one dollar. Admission to the film showings was $3.50.

He filed a complaint Wednesday afternoon in Howard County Court, alleging the theatre with exhibiting obscene matter.

Detective McCain and Detective Avery Falkner entered the club Thursday afternoon, prefacing the arrests.

The eight persons picked up were taken to the police station.

Arrested on a complaint of possession of obscene matter with intent to exhibit same and exhibiting obscene matter was Kenneth Andrew Bora, 27, 2027 W. 10th, Odessa. He was released on $1,500 bond for each charge by Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter. Bora is the operator of the theatre club, according to police.

Some of the customers were military personnel and were released to their command officers. Civilians were released on appearance bonds.

Antonio Lopez was charged with carrying a prohibited weapon and was released on $1,000 bond.

County Judge A. G. Mitchell said that all military personnel had been released on bond into custody of their commanding officers, and were to report to Howard County Court Monday at 1:30 p.m. in the presence of County Attorney Bill Eyssen to determine bonding procedure.

The Mini-flick Theatre Club was registered on an assumed-name certificate Wednesday by Jackie Bert Kirk, 3103 W. 3rd St. Kirk's address is not known, but police believe he lives in Odessa where he operates other theatres.

Stamped on a box containing the film is the following: "A recent report on Obscenity and Pornography has suggested that viewing even Hard Core Pornography satisfied the emotional and intellectual needs of many informed adults."

Three Demos Fall For 'An Enemy Lie'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Democratic senators today accused the Nixon administration of a "deliberate, if not calculated, policy of bombing the dikes of North Vietnam."

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania denounced the three as having fallen for "an enemy lie."

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and the others noted a State Department report last week that only 12 areas had been hit on the dike system and that each was close to what was described as "a legitimate" military target.

"Clearly, if the dikes are in close proximity to a potential bombing target, the policy of the administration is to bomb the target anyway, regardless of the consequences for the dikes," Kennedy said.

"It doesn't take a Philadelphia lawyer to label this policy for what it is—a policy of deliberately bombing dikes."

Scott accused his colleagues of being taken in by Communist propaganda.

If the United States wanted to, "it could turn North Vietnam into a lake in less than a week," he said

But there is no such "horrendous" intention, he asserted.

"These dikes are not being bombed," Scott said.

"There is an order by the President that they shall not be bombed.

And he added: "It's about time we debated the genuine issues and stopped discussing extraneous and inane nonsense..."

Kennedy was joined by Sen. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., and Fred Harris, D-Okla., in a recitation of reports and charges that the dikes have been and are being bombed.

The three are sponsors of a Senate resolution introduced today calling attention to North Vietnam's fragile dike system and warning of the disastrous flooding and potential famine that would be caused if it was breached.

The resolution supports President Nixon in his announced policy against the bombing of the dikes.

MD Carnival Date Is Set

George Roberison and his helpers are all set for their carnival Aug. 17 to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy fund.

"We've already got about $100 in prizes given by merchants, and we may have more," he said, adding that anyone who could add to the prize list can call him at 3-1504.

George and his teen-age assistants will open the carnival in the east Mall of Highland Center at 12 noon and operate until closing time. Any prizes left over will be sold the following day and proceeds turned to the MD fund.

There will be contests in dart, football and baseball throwing, along with a water-dunking apparatus where the customers throw a softball at a target. Another is a duck-on-the water game. In addition, there will be concessions operated by the young people.

Assisting George are Philip Ringener, assistant chairman; Ricky Robertson, Ducky Robertson, Ruby Digby, and Joe Riherd.

SERVING LOCAL CHURCH — Four young men are serving the local Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints as elders as part of the two-year voluntary service to their church. They are, from left to right, Ken Anderson, Paul Robison, Steven Hutchison and Lagene Allred.

Young Men Finance Own Way On Missions Stint

For young men are serving the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints here as part of their two-year voluntary service to their Church.

Serving here are Elders Kenneth Anderson, Idaho Falls, Idaho; Paul B. Robison, Ely, Nev.; W. Lagene Allred, Yarnell, Ariz.; and Steven L. Hutchison, Kansas City, Mo. They may be reached at 263-6340.

During their two years of service, the young men will be sent to various churches where they will work from four to six months in all church activities and in calling on non-Mormon members of the community to explain the history of the church and of the Book of Mormon on which it is founded.

At the end of two years, they will be able to return to college, careers or military service.

Expenses during the two-year period are met by the elders' parents or with money they were able to save before entering church service.

The four men working with the Big Spring church are part of a force of 15,000 such young men who have been sent to serve Mormon churches through out the world.

Locally, their work is under the direction of Bishop Craig S. Funk. There are no professional clergymen in the Church of Latter-Day Saints, but the work is done by regional and local officers chosen from the church's lay members.

1,500 Work To Encircle Forest Fire

BIG SUR, Calif. (AP) — Aided by photographs snapped by a U2 reconnaissance plane, a force of 1,500 men worked today to encircle a blaze that has blackened 4,100 acres in the coastal Big Sur country.

A blanket of dense fog and dwindling winds helped Thursday night as fire fighters wielding axes, shovels and hoes tried to halt the fire along three miles of open line.

The fire was about 70 per cent contained and could be fully contained tonight, officials said.

Six fire fighters have been injured, including one hurt seriously when he tumbled 200 feet down a cliff.

The photographs made by the reconnaissance plane, loaned by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, have been used in plotting a map of the fire's progress so that men along with planes and helicopters dropping retardants and water can be used in the most important areas. It was believed the first time a U2 has ever been used for forest fire reconnaissance.

It went into operation Wednesday.

Fanned by 40-mile-per hour winds earlier, the fire—the region's worst in 20 years—had swept through stands of young redwoods, madrona, live oak and tan oak.

The full-grown redwoods, many dating back to the time of Christ and able to withstand searing heat, were not damaged, officials said.

No buildings have been lost in the fire, but many have been threatened. An abandoned house trailer was destroyed.

The fire, burning in the 98,000-acre Ventana Wilderness area of the Los Padres National Forest, was started Tuesday by an illegal campfire, officials said.

City To Enter Contest For All-American Rating

The decision to enter Big Spring in the 1972 All American City contest was made at a noon meeting Thursday by the Chamber of Commerce Pride People and representatives of Big Spring Civic clubs.

The contest provides recognition to cities who have done outstanding work in community improvement through citizen action.

"The program is not interested in just our accomplishments," said Bob Butler, Pride People chairman, "but in problems we have that we are still working on."

The representatives at the meeting discussed achievements in Big Spring that might be included in the entry form. These included the Optimist sponsored motocross, the sewage treatment plant work, the amphitheater at Comanche Trail Park and the Cosden Club property, the Miss Softball of America tournament and other sports activities.

The meeting closed with a request by Butler that ideas for the entry be turned in to the Chamber office by Aug. 15.

"We want ideas from any citizen or group that think they can help. We have a city that has done substantial work on some problems, and has begun work on others. We want to get as many people involved as possible in this community project," he said.

$11.8 Million WTSU Budget

CANYON, Tex. (AP) — West Texas State University regents have approved an $11.8 million operating budget for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1.

The legislature appropriated about $7.4 million to the university at its recent special session.

The regents also voted to ask the legislature for more than $9 million for each year of the 1973-75 biennium.

District Has Its First Billion-Gallon Month

The Colorado River Municipal Water District experienced its first two-billion gallon month during July.

Deliveries amounted to 2,074,052 gallons, said O. H. Ivie, general manager.

This was 12.39 per cent greater than for July 1971 and was 136 million gallons more than the total for June of this year.

During the first seven months of this year, the district had produced 11,264,974,248 gallons, an increase of 37.45 per cent over the same period in 1971. During the first half of 1971, however, deliveries to oil and industrial users were curtailed sharply because of need to conserve low lake supplies. Heavy rains in August 1971 changed that picture. In fact, most of the July gain this year is represented in oil and industrial deliveries.

For instance, the municipal users took 1,562,433,000 gallons in July, an increase of only 3.46 over the same month a year ago. Oil and industrial users took 512,035,052 gallons, up 52.61 per cent.

By cities, the district deliveries in July were: Odessa 636,219,000, up 2.76 per cent; Big Spring 299,410,000, down 12.72; Snyder 95,008,000, down 18.51; Stanton 10,179,000, up 63.93; Midland 401,878,000, down 5.47. San Angelo, which took no water in July 1971, took 119,739,000 this year. Big Spring and Snyder losses were attributed to showers.

Bond Sales Off Slightly

Sale of U. S. Savings Bonds were slightly off the pace for District No. 4 in the first half of 1972, according to Larson Lloyd, district chairman.

However, Howard County totals were over quota for the first half, said Robert W. Currie, county chairman.

Martin County almost attained its year's target during the first half, reports of James Jones, chairman, showed.

The record of June sales (cumulative total in parenthesis) and per cent of year's quota follow:

Andrews $3,589 ($28,574) 48; Borden $490 ($3,169) 16; Dawson $4,403 $55,988) 56; Fisher $2,067 ($36,561) 73; Gaines $6,728 ($48,321) 69; Howard $42,405 ($310,759) 52; Martin $9,808 ($28,873) 96; Mitchell $15,439 ($48,880) 32; Nolan $9,372 ($91,182) 34; Scurry $11,432 (67,868) 45; total $105,733 ($720,175) 48.

The area I total for June was $971,092 and for the first half $6,848,112, or 51 per cent of quota. Texas sales the first half amounted to $108,024,525, or 53 per cent of the year's goal.

Call A Lawyer

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am at my wits' end. I live in a four-flat building, but my landlady and her two grown, unmarried sons live here, and those sons make so much noise I am about to go stark mad!

What happened to the ordinance about disturbing the peace? I called the police after 10 p.m. to report this racket and they said, "Take a shot, lady, and go to sleep."

I am not a drinking woman, and I am not going to "take a shot" so I can get some sleep.

I have gone to my son's home when things have been so noisy I wasn't able to sleep here, but why should I pay good rent money to sleep somewhere else?

I am a widow and have been under a doctor's care since my husband died a year ago. This landlady told me I could tear up my lease and move any time, but the apartment I want to move to isn't available for another 90 days. So what am I going to do in the meantime?

GOING MAD IN CHICAGO

DEAR GOING: Talk to your lawyer. You shouldn't be expected to pay rent for an apartment in which you cannot sleep.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My older sister Nancy has been married to Joe for a year. About a month ago Joe joined the Navy. He'll be in the Navy training program for nine weeks, during which time Nancy is staying with me and my husband. It's a break for me because I am expecting a baby next month and Nancy is a big help right now. But here's the problem:

My husband's best friend Lenny, who is single, has been dating Nancy regularly. My husband thinks it's okay; in fact, he is pushing it. It's plain to see that Nancy and Lenny are very much interested in each other.

I don't approve of married women dating, and told Nancy how I felt about it, and she said, "Joe told me to have a good time."

I'm afraid if I kicked Nancy out, she'd go stay with Lenny. Yet I don't feel right letting her date. What should I do?

NANCY'S SIS

DEAR SIS: Having told Nancy that you disapprove of her dating, you have done all you can do. Your husband appears to have been the "architect" in this deal. Shame on him. I wonder how he'd like it if YOU dated?

* * *

DEAR ABBY: How would you cope with people who barge in on you unexpectedly after 9:30 in the evening? We have these so-called friends who spend every night of the week "dropping in" on victims like ourselves. I say "victims" because in my household (and most others I know about) by this hour we are already preparing to go to bed.

Naturally when friends call, you have to act pleased and sit around entertaining them until they are ready to go home. What would you do? ANNOYED

DEAR ANNOYED: I would greet them with, "I am so sorry you didn't call earlier to say you were coming. We were just going to bed. Good night."

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	1 NT	Pass
2 ♡	Pass	3 ♡	Pass
4 ♡	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Jack of ♣

North's holding appeared quite mediocre when his partner opened the bidding with one spade and he properly responded with one no trump; when the latter rebid two hearts, North's hand which began as a mere seven high card points, revalued to nine points in support of hearts and with five trumps, he was well within himself in raising to three hearts. This was an invitation which South promptly accepted by carrying on to four hearts.

West opened the jack of clubs which was covered by North's queen, East's king and declarer's ace. The ace of hearts was cashed to test trumps. A spade was led to the king and a small one returned to the ace. A third spade was ruffed in dummy and overruffed by East with the jack of hearts. The latter returned a small club which West overtook with the eight to lead a fourth spade. North trumped with the ten of hearts, but East topped this with the queen to complete the defensive book and they could not be prevented from scoring the setting trick subsequently in diamonds.

North criticized his partner for not drawing a second round of hearts before he began to ruff out the spades, however East can counter this play by refusing to overruff dummy on the third round of spades. If he merely waits until dummy exits with either a diamond or a club, he can get in to draw a third round of trumps. This leaves North with only one trump and tho South can subsequently ruff out a second spade to establish that suit, he must now lose two clubs tricks on the deal which along with one diamond and one heart, still spells a one trick setback.

The solution to South's problem was quite simple. Instead of ruffing the third spade, it is suggested that he discard dummy's deuce of clubs, thereby transferring a potential loser from one suit to another. Altho East can overruff the fourth spade with the jack of hearts, he is doing so with a natural trump trick and South retains enough trumps in dummy to take care of his club losers. All he loses is one diamond, one spade, and an overruff in spades.

MICE PRICE

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Zoo Director Lawrence Curtis said Wednesday the price of the mice is up one-third, but the city actually stands to gain.

The zoo serves 300 to 400 mice a week to some of its animals. Last year it paid 12 cents each for mice, but the cost has risen this year to 16 cents.

Curtis said, however, that the 12-cent charge was for delivery at Austin, Tex. Then the mice were air freighted here, at a cost of about 3.5 cents per mouse, then transported to the zoo at an additional cost.

The 16-cent charge includes delivery directly to the zoo, he said.

Service Requirements Can Be Satisfied In Reserve

Under the Reserve Enlistment Program qualified men between the ages of 17 and 26 can fulfill their military obligation by enlisting in the Army Reserve for a period of six years, according to the Big Spring unit commander, Lt. Tom Rayburn.

A man entering the Reserve today will know, in advance of enlisting, exactly the job he will do in the Reserve, also the length of active duty time required to learn the job, Rayburn reported.

Rayburn commands Detachment 1, 974th Supply Company, United States Army Reserve, here.

He said that Detachment 1, which trains at Midland Air Terminal, has openings in the fields of light equipment maintenance, supply operations and administration.

Under normal circumstances, Rayburn announced, a man will leave for active duty within 180 days after enlistment. After active duty training, he will return to the Big Spring-Midland-Odessa area and continue his training with this detachment.

The unit meets monthly at the Armed Forces Reserve Center and participates in an annual two-week summer training period at a military installation. He receives a full day's pay commensurate with his grade for each four-hour training session, as well as regular pay for his two weeks summer training.

Persons interested in Reserve enlistment may gain more information by contacting Lt. Tom Rayburn, 800 E. 15th or by calling him at 267-2196.

Mrs. Norma Kacen, executive director of the Houston Teachers Association, said the district needs to pay more for teachers.

She said average family income in Houston is among the highest in the nation while the average teacher's salary is among the lowest.

A beginning teacher with a bachelor's degree now receives $7,100 a year with the maximum increasing to $10,200 in $310 a year increments.

City Water Sale Figures Are Up

City water sales during the month of July have topped sales for July of 1971 by $25,000, announced City Director of Finance Robert Massengale.

Massengale said last month's billing was $117,254.43, bringing total sales for the first 10 months of fiscal 1971-72 $952,276.40, representing an increase of 21 per cent over the same period last year.

Massengale reported that July billing exceeded the June billing, first summer month, by only $355.

Casualties In Viet War

SAIGON (AP) — Eight American servicemen were killed in action in the Vietnam war last week and 17 were wounded, the U.S. Command announced Thursday in its weekly casualty summary. It said three more Americans died from nonhostile causes and one was missing in action.

The total of South Vietnamese and enemy casualties continued a month-long decline, according to the report of the Saigon command.

It said 1,891 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed last week while government casualties were 587 killed, 2,563 wounded and 235 missing.

The week's U.S. casualties were slightly below the weekly average of about nine killed and 31 wounded during the past 18 weeks of the North Vietnamese offensive.

The allied commands now have announced these total casualty figures for the war:

American—45,836 killed in action, 303,260 wounded in action, 10,243 dead from nonhostile causes.

South Vietnamese — 151,580 killed in action, 391,701 wounded.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong—868,131 killed.

DUNKED: (Q.) At parties I'm the one who gets thrown in the pool, clothes and all.

Not only that, but at the party last Saturday, somebody told me my parents were there to get me. It was late so I got my stuff and walked out the door. When I did I got four water balloons thrown at me.

I felt so bad after four hours of no one being nice to me that I walked home crying all the way. What can I do? — Crying in Kentucky

(A.) The old saying that when people like you they tease you is usually true. It is probably true in your case. But they are overdoing it. This may be because you take it without protest. Tell them enough is enough, and if that doesn't help find some friends who can treat you less roughly.

* * *

BOWLED OVER: (Q.) I had a bowling party. There were two boys, a girl friend and me. My mother decided she and my father should come along.

We had separate alleys from her and Dad. That part was okay. But when we went to have pizza Mother insisted that we sit together. We could talk about hardly anything we wanted to talk about. Also a boy and I were messing around and a glass of soda got knocked over. My mother stood up and yelled at us, just like at home, and ruined the rest of the night.

How can I get her not to spoil everything I do? All my friends say she's loudmouthed and nasty. — Unhappy Daughter in New Jersey

(A.) Your mother probably has a bundle of big worries. Worried parents often get upset when some small distraction such as the spilled soda comes along.

During the night of July 5th there was a fire in our General Electric distributor's Lubbock warehouse. Although the fire was contained with relatively little effect, there was extensive smoke and water damage when the automatic sprinkler system went off, soaking the cartons of literally hundreds of General Electric appliances and TV's. After cleanup, G-E has offered this merchandise to their dealers at distress prices. We have made substantial purchases, and can, in turn, SAVE YOU MONEY on that major appliance or TV you may have been planning to buy. Normal new warranties will apply, as well as General Electric's "Customer Care, Everywhere" service guarantees.

Candy-Stripers

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My girlfriend and I are both 12. We are very serious about becoming nurses in a maternity ward. When we turn 14 we want to become candy-stripers. Could you give us information about the job and what hospitals still have candy-stripers? — K.M.

Most all large hospitals either have candy-stripers or programs that mean the same thing but go under some other name.

Some just call it the "volunteer program." Anyway, it's a fine and worthwhile sort of thing to get into, and it's excellent training for bright girls who want to become nurses eventually.

The candy-stripers do such things as working with the occupational therapy staff, working in the children's ward, and so on. Besides making themselves useful, they gain a first-hand insight into the way hospitals operate.

Programs and ages vary a bit from one hospital to another. In the one I'm most familiar with, 16 is the age, but they sometimes stretch a point — some girls are more grown up at 15 than others are at 17.

You're too young at 12 or 13 anywhere, of course, but in a couple of years ask for an interview at the hospital. Be on your toes — some hospitals have more applicants than openings.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Enclosed is 15 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to send me the booklet about ringing noises in the ears. Really, can you be cured? I've been told several times that doctors don't know what causes them and don't know how the noises can be stopped. — F.W.

Like a lot of things you hear, that's true in part, but wrong in part. Doctors don't know what causes ALL ear noises, but they know what causes SOME, which is why I titled the booklet as I did: "Ear Noises: Their Causes and Cures."

Sometimes the noises can't be cured, but that doesn't mean folks souldn't do what can be done to cure the curable noises.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is there besides tuberculosis that can leave a scar on the lung? I am 76 and recently had a routine lung X-ray. The doctor told me I must have had TB sometime in my life but I haven't. What else could cause it? How could a person have TB and not know it, or get over it without treatment? — M.R.G.

Well, people DO throw off even serious diseases, and years ago, when there wasn't any treatment for TB except bed rest, some patients did recover anyway. So it can happen, but it takes time.

X-rays keep on turning up such people who never knew they had TB.

There's one other disease that causes scarring that closely resembles that of TB. It is a fungus infection called histoplasmosis. In your case it's academic, and whatever you had, you got over. But in active cases, there are skin tests which determine whether the organism at work is TB or histoplasmosis.

What causes "balance" trouble? What can be done to correct or overcome it? Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Dizzy Spells," discusses loss of balance, vertigo and nausea, Meniere's disease and labyrinthitis. No Money To Pay For Elections

AUSTIN (AP) — Secretary of State Bob Bullock said today the state has run out of money to pay for this year's primary elections.

"By the weekend, we will have officially disbursed all the money that was originally appropriated to pay for the 1972 primary elections," Bullock said, "but we have flat run out of money before all the costs have been paid.

"This has put many local county chairman between a rock and a hard place. A lot of election workers, not to mention printers and other suppliers, have yet to be paid for their work."

Bullock estimated the $2,150,000 appropriated by the March special session of the legislature was about $325,000 short of paying all election costs.

Bullock said the unpaid bills "apparently will have to ride" until 63rd Legislature.

Air Piracy Rap Hits 5

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury Thursday indicted three men and two women, all of Detroit, Mich., on a charge of air piracy in the case of a gang of hijackers who commandeered a Detroit-to-Miami Delta Air Lines jet flight to Algiers July 31.

The hijackers landed in Algiers where they are presently detained.

The ' single-count indictment was returned in U.S. District Court in Miami, the Justice Department said.

Maximum penalty upon conviction of air piracy is life in prison. The minimum penalty is 20 years.

The five who were indicted are George Brown, 28; George Edward Wright, 29; Melvin McNair, 23; his wife, Jean Carol Allen McNair, 25, and Joyce Tillerson Burgess, 23.

The FBI said Wright, convicted of murder, and Brown, serving time for armed robbery, broke out of a state prison at Leesburg, N.J., on Aug. 22, 1970.

Wright was sentenced in 1963 to 15 to 30 years for the murder of a service station attendant, the FBI said. Brown was convicted of armed robbery in Elizabeth, N.J., in 1968 and sentenced to three to five years.

Riot Training For Game Wardens

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas game wardens must be trained on riot control and must take part in controlling riots if help is needed by other peace officers, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said here.

The request for the option was made by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The attorney general's opinion noted that game management officers are commissioned as peace officers, and as such they have the duty to preserve the peace and to disperse riots. The opinion said the game warden could act individually in a riot or at the call for help from other officers.

Crisis For Britain

Great Britain, once the envy of other nations, has fallen on evil days.

A general dock strike, called over job security, threatens a grave industrial crisis in the island country so dependent upon shipping.

Prime Minister Edward Heath and his conservative government already are in deep trouble in other areas and must determine whether to declare a state of emergency. If an emergency is declared, Britain will have to bring home some of its NATO forces from Germany to work the docks.

This is complicated by Britain's deepening involvement in the Northern Ireland civil violence. Heath sent another 4,000 troops to Ulster last week, bringing the British forces to 21,000 in the violence-torn province. The British government also provided $73 million to aid Ulster's economy.

These measures are an added drain on Britain's economy where runaway inflation already has forced the government to float the pound in the money markets.

Britain is dependent upon trade for its life and the docks are the heart of keeping trade moving. A prolonged walkout threatens further damage, perhaps incalculable, to the economy. Food supplies will be disrupted, increasing discontent.

The dock walkout came on the heels of wildcat strikes by dockers and thousands of other union members over the jailing of five dockers for contempt under the new Industrial Relations Act. The chaos ended when the dockers were released.

All of these troubles come at a time when Britain is hoping to attract new foreign investments before it joins the European Common Market in January. Investors are not attracted by such an unstable situation.

Britain already has lost 15.4-million man-days to strikes this year, more than it lost in all of 1971.

While the dock strike is a move to protect jobs against modern containerization methods, the workers are proving extremely shortsighted. They are risking wrecking their nation's economy — making certain they will be ultimate losers — for a short-term gain.

Britain is hurting and hurting badly. Heath and his government are imperiled by the crisis. More important, the island nation is imperiled unless the dock strike is promptly resolved.

Need To Find Out

When the Skylab is whirling in earth orbit next year, how will its crewmen react to weeks of life in that cramped environment? Space officials deem the question important enough to warrant finding out in advance. That is why three astronauts have begun a 56-day sojourn in an earthbound Skylab replica.

They will feel the pull of gravity; there is no way of duplicating the weightlessness of space. But in all other important respects their experience before they emerge again on Sept. 20 will be that encountered on an actual Skylab mission.

Though this may seem more of an ordeal than is necessary, that is not the case. The success of the early Skylab missions depends heavily on knowing what to expect in the way of physical and psychological effects on the crew, and how to deal with problems that may arise. The present test run in an altitude chamber at the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston is a vitally important prelude to a venture that will be a major advance in space developments.

No Dull Moments

Around The Rim

Steve Hultman

According to the area service representative for the Detroit-based manufacturer of my sub-compact, anything that went wrong with their cars could and would be fixed.

I HOPE SO. I bought my new car in February after waiting for striking auto workers to return to the job so my special order car could be produced. It turned out that they returned to the factory just long enough to turn out my car before going back on strike.

I thought I was lucky. I drove by the dealer one afternoon, and there it was — my shiny new station wagon sitting on a platform, just waiting for me. I picked it up — and ran into the first of a long list of problems.

DELIVERY STICKERS had been pasted on the inside of the rear window, right on top of the defroster wires that had cost me $40. ("The stickers are never put on the inside, said the area representative.")

Despite company rules, the stickers had been put inside — and were scraped off with a razor blade, complete with my $40 wires.

WHILE WAITING for the wires to be fixed (I am still waiting), I noticed the engine temperature gauge didn't work. Later, after the dealer twice tried to correct the problem, I found a metal plug and a loose wire where the temperature sensor belonged.

I found that problem while waiting for the radiator to be repaired. My brand new car, on my first trip out of town, threw part of the alternator support bracket through the radiator. That was fixed, and I made almost 10 miles before anything else went wrong.

When the alternator bracket broke, no spare was available, so I had the local dealer put the part on special order. After three weeks, it came in. In the meantime, the car had broken down because the part was not installed, resulting in a two-day stay in Midland while the head was removed and milled down.

Problems continued, most with the alternator. I had the car checked here on a Friday and left bright and early Saturday for Big Bend. I made it to Stanton before the alternator stopped charging. I had it "repaired" in Midland ("All it needs is a new bolt"), and was soon back on the road.

I CHECKED IN with the dealer in Odessa about the same problem ("Bolt just needs to be tightened,") skipped Monahans, and met the dealer in Fort Stockton ("We'll just tighten up this bolt"). I went on to Big Bend, and couldn't find a dealer. The car was bad again, so I left Sunday morning and returned to Big Spring. Where the car was fixed again.

I WROTE A LETTER to the president of the automobile company. He sent the letter back to the dealer. The area representativ "happened to be in the area" and said we could straighten everything out. There is no such thing as a lemon, I was assured — green lemons, that is.

Meat Issue

Marquis Childs

By FRANK VAN DER LINDEN
(Substituting for Marquis Childs)

WASHINGTON — President Nixon expects the Democrats will run a class-warfare campaign in their attempt to defeat his second-term bid this fall.

THEY WILL TRY to rally the nation's "have-nots" against the "haves," he told several of his aides at a recent political strategy conference at the White House.

Sen. George McGovern, the Democratic presidential nominee, is expected to bear down hard on charges that Nixon has not done enough to curb rising food prices, to reduce unemployment, to help the poor on welfare, to ease the tax burden on the working people.

SOME OF THE Administration's brightest stars are moving to refute the charges before severe damage can be done. Thus, Dr. Herbert Stein, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, has told Congress that unemployment, which has been hovering just below six per cent of the labor force for months, can be cut to "the neighborhood of five per cent" by the end of the year. The economy, he said, is up 8.9 per cent for April, May and June while inflation is slowing down.

DONALD RUMSFELD presidential counselor who doubles as director of the Cost of Living Council, stressed the bright side of the statistics during a parley with a few columnists.

"We have 82.5 million people employed, a new all-time high," the former Illinois Congressman said. "Real earnings have improved because the price rise has slowed and income taxes have been cut."

RUMSFELD SAID that in the three years of John F. Kennedy's regime, the figures showed, the jobless rate began at 6.7 per cent in 1961; eased to 5.5 per cent in 1962 and rose to 5.7 per cent in 1963. His successor, Lyndon B. Johnson, reduced unemployment to 3.8 per cent in 1966 and 1967 and to 3.6 per cent in 1968, but only because "he ran the Vietnam war and the most massive emplosion in domestic programs at the same time," and that caused runaway inflation, Rumsfeld charged.

Rumsfeld admitted the consumers are still concerned about rising food prices, especially the cost of beef. He said: "Prices will go up as long as there is a shortage."

McGOVERN & COMPANY may have no program for lowering food prices. They don't have to produce one to exploit the housewives' discontent.

Back in 1946 the Republicans captured Congress while complaining about meat shortages that resulted from price controls in Harry Truman's administration, shortly after World War II ended.

One Republican freshman elected to the House that November from a California district was a young man named Richard M. Nixon.

United Feature Syndicate Inc.

Control Of Congress

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Sen. George McGovern got an unexpected turndown by the Senate on Tuesday when a roll call of 59 to 33 rejected his proposals to cut $4 billion from the defense budget. Thirty-two Democrats supported him, along with one Republican, but there were 19 Democrats who voted with 40 Republicans against him. (An anti-war amendment by Sen. Brooks (R-Mass.) later carried 49-47.)

THIS WAS the first vote of importance since the South Dakota Sen. became the Democratic presidential nominee, but many of his party colleagues in the Senate were apparently not influenced by his arguments about cutting defense expenses.

There are indications that the administration is anxious about the control of Congress in the next term. For the feeling is that cooperation between the executive and legislative sides of the government can be more effective in planning public policies when one party is in power in both branches. The people, however, do not seem to be as much concerned about their votes for members of Congress as they are about the man they select for the presidency, and they have in the last several decades often elected to Congress a majority from a party that is different from that of the president. This sometimes means delay, and compromises in order to get legislation enacted. It is not as efficient a system as exists in countries where the two branches of government are obliged to work together with a common responsibility.

JUDGING BY PAST experience, an incumbent administration always has some advantages because a president is a conspicuous figure and can take action which is widely noted. President Nixon is not expected to go abroad during September and October, but he will make trips to many states across the country while the party works hard to enlist the support of individuals who may be indifferent about going to the polls.

LOTS OF CITIZENS who are friendly to President Nixon are taking it for granted that he will win anyhow and have probably not planned to register or vote. The Republicans will be busily engaged in persuading these folks that they should not take any chances but should bear in mind that the Democrats are organizing youthful teams of vote-getters, especially among the 18-to-25-year-old group, and that everyone who is of age should cast a ballot.

IT IS EXPECTED that some of the issues now being discussed will have diminished in importance by the time election day arrives and will not arouse voter interest as they have in the past. The Vietnam war is one of these. It will not be surprising if by November virtually all American troops will have been withdrawn from Vietnam and possibly an agreement reached for a cease-fire supervised by an international tribunal. The center of attention then would be domestic affairs and particularly economic problems.

American Convention

Garth Jones

By SY RAMSEY
(Substituting for Garth Jones)

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The American Party appeared ready today to nominate Republican Congressman John Schmitz for president, but a movement to draft Alabama Gov. George Wallace still flickered.

"If you want to draft Gov. Wallace, that's your prerogative," national chairman Coleman Andrews told the 2,000 delegates in an emotional speech Thursday. "I would hope you find it advisable to respect his wishes."

ANDREWS READ a telegram from Wallace to the delegates Thursday night in which the governor reiterated he would not be a candidate "under any circumstances."

But short of irrefutable evidence that Wallace would reject a draft, American party leaders could not squelch the final effort.

The difficulty was mirrored in the activity of Tom Turnipseed of Columbia, S. D., who continued to insist that Wallace was available, if pressed. Turnipseed held a draft-Wallace gathering Thursday night in a motel adjoining the state Fairgrounds convention site.

Leaders of the draft-Wallace movement said they're determined to push it. As one of them, Bill West of Tulsa, Okla., put it, they hope to get Wallace nominated and let him accept it or turn it down.

MEANWHILE, the only other active presidential candidate, Richard Kay of Cleveland, Ohio, asserted at a news conference that a clique of "power brokers" was trying to squeeze him out of contest by choosing an outsider for president.

But Schmitz, the "outsider," contended that since his primary defeat for the Republican nomination in President Nixon's home district of Southern California, his natural shelter and hope for the future rests in the American party.

Schmitz said in an interview that despite marked contrast between him and Wallace, both basically are concerned with "the survival of a non-socialist, non-totalitarian America."

SCHMITZ, 41, a former Marine aviator, was born in Milwaukee. A former college instructor, he is Roman Catholic and is a member of the ultra-conservative John Birch Society.

Lt. Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia, also suggested as a possible nominee, was to address the convention at noon today.

Convention sources said Maddox' appearance — before presidential nominations were to begin — was little more than a courteous gesture, and Schmitz remained the odds-on favorite.

Hearty Eaters

NEW YORK (AP) — While it took many technicians, computers and complex communication equipment to get the Apollo 16 astronauts to the moon and back, it also took a lot of eating and drinking.

Servomation Corp., that serves the NASA Manned Spaceflight Center, says NASA personnel consumed some 87,000 sandwiches, 123,000 candy bars and gum, 18,800 hot meals, 96,000 cups of coffee, 136,000 soft drinks and 48,000 packs of cigarettes during the 12-day mission.

Russians Go Home

John Cunniff

By LEWIS GULICK
(Substituting for John Cunniff)

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a period of initial skepticism, U.S. officials now believe that the great majority of some 15,000 Soviet military personnel once stationed in Egypt is being pulled out.

Meanwhile, the Nixon administration remains publicly mum about Cairo's latest headline move: the proposed merger of Egypt and Libya by Sept. 1, 1973.

U.S. authorities privately doubt that it will have much practical impact on the Arab-Israeli balance.

But the Russian withdrawal, closely watched here since Egyptian President Anwar Sadat announced July 18 that he was ousting "Soviet advisers and military experts," is now conceded to be on a genuinely large scale.

Latest reports indicate that at least some of the Soviet planes which have been flying reconnaissance over the Mediterranean and the U.S. 6th Fleet from Egyptian bases are going home.

So are Russians who have been piloting planes for Egypt's internal defense and manning advanced surface-to-air (SAM) missiles, along with advisers to Egypt's armed forces, according to accounts received here.

Soviet transport craft have been seen ferrying out personnel and equipment, including dissassembled planes.

Just how many Soviet military men will remain in Egypt is still unknown. Some estimate that only a tiny fraction of the original contingent will be left — primarily such specialists as instructors who are particularly wanted by Egypt.

Earlier, some U.S. officials figured Sadat's order would not apply to the bulk of Soviet forces assigned to sophisticated defense weaponry and to Moscow's strategic interests in the Mediterranean.

Still unanswered here are important questions that go beyond the physical evidence of Soviet withdrawal:

—Just what lay behind Sadat's move and how does he plan to proceed hereafter?

Raquel—Sex Goddess

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — If you think Raquel Welch hates being a glamor symbol and a sex goddess, you've got the wrong girl.

She likes wearing the mantle handed down by such previous renowned screen beauties as Jean Harlow, Clara Bow, Rita Hayworth, Kim Novak and Marilyn Monroe.

"I don't think that the public has a mistaken image of me—only that it is too limited," she said frankly during a luncheon at Orsini's, where her skimpy halter and bare midriff attracted far more interest than the chef's specialty of the day, pollo con peperoni—chicken with pepper.

"I don't find it unflattering or immoral to be regarded as a sex object. I want to go on playing sexy roles, but I want them also to be more than one-dimensional.

"I'd like to play more many-dimensional roles, as Julie Christie and Jane Fonda do. My image simply needs to be updated rather than changed."

Raquel hopes that her latest film, "Kansas City Bomber," will help do this. It allows her fiery temperament full reign, as she portrays the tempestuous star of one of America's seamier sports spectacles—professional rollerskate racing.

Famous beauties, like ordinary women, often are as aware of their defects as they are of their loveliness. Remember that the Venus de Milo couldn't even drink a bowl of soup without someone holding the spoon for her.

Raquel is sometimes uptight too. She feels that her biggest handicap is lack of self-confidence.

"It's my worst fault," she said. "I get in a panic that I won't be able to do things as well as I want to. I could do with less panic and less inside hysteria. I have to fight it every time."

What does she feel is her best character asset?

"I forgive easily," she replied. "I'm not very cynical. I'm still vulnerable. But I'd rather be pushed around and taken advantage of than become cynical.

"I am hopeful and optimistic. My philosophy is to enjoy everything that happens, the good times and feelings, but also the bad times and feelings—because of the experience and knowledge they bring you. I believe that you can have happiness in a lifetime. I believe we should become immersed in life and not try to fight off our emotions and impulses for fear of where they might lead us."

Here are some of Raquel's likes:

"Hearing my two children laughing or reading to me—Japanese food and white wine—browsing in record shops—the sound of the water and the palm trees in a particular cove at Acapulco—the smell of kitchens and of freshly baked pastry—playing I Ching, a Chinese philosophy game—sailing with my father—wearing skirts and dresses that make me feel sensual—plum, eggplant and burnt rose colors—people who are not too set in their thinking—and good-looking, funny, sexy men who are intelligent but don't try to rap you over the head with what they know."

My Answer

Billy Graham

I am a "worrier" by nature. I just sit and brood about my problems, and I am making myself miserable. What can one do to cure himself from chronic worrying? F.L.V.

Worry is a natural human condition when we do not take God into account. Brooding and withdrawal are common with modern man, and can often lead to mental illness. Our mental hospitals are overcrowded with patients who could not cope with the tensions of this machine, space age.

Worry began in the first family when God said to Cain: "Why art thou wroth? and why is thy countenance fallen?" Genesis 4:6. Anger and worry are companions, and they produce cynicism. Cain obviously was worried because he was envious of his brother, Abel, then he became angry, committed the crime of murder, and then he began to worry. He had good reason to do so, and I presume that you do too. Worry and brooding are many times caused by guilt. If sin is unconfessed and unforgiven, it can cause grave psychiatric and spiritual difficulty.

Jesus spoke of worry many times. He said, "Let not your heart be troubled. Ye believe in God, believe also in me." John 14:1. He also said, "Take no thought for your life . . . but seek ye first the kingdom of God." Matthew 6:25-33.

While it is natural and beneficial to have concern, worry is unnecessary. Worry is mental tension, sometimes caused by guilt — and lack of faith and trust.

Peter, once a worrier himself, said: "Casting all your care on him; for he careth for you." I Peter 5:7.

A Devotion For Today . .

Be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the Lord, and work: for I am with you, saith the Lord of hosts. (Haggai 2:4)

PRAYER: Dear God, we are weak, but Thou art strong. Forgive us when we fail to see opportunity, or when we feel sorry for ourselves. Give us the strength of Thy presence, certainty of faith, and commitment to Thy will. Amen.

Miss James Weds Samuel J. Chappell

Miss Becky Ann James and Samuel Joseph Chappell, both of Big Spring, were married July 28, at Lubbock in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Ralph Robertson in St. John's Methodist Church. The afternoon rites were conducted before an altar flanked by branched candelabra holding white tapers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. James, Snyder Highway, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chappell, 1809 Owens.

Attendants of the couple were the bride's brother, Johnny James, who served as best man, and Mrs. Johnny James, who was matron of honor. Melvin Chappell of Lubbock, the bridegroom's brother, served as usher.

The bride's wedding attire was of black and white checked velvet and she wore a red carnation corsage. The matron of honor wore a green suit.

The newly weds are graduates of Big Spring High School where he served as president of the Student Council as well as president of the Texas Association of Student Councils. He is employed this summer at Webb Credit Union.

At BSHS, the bride was active in the Steer Band, Golden Horns Stage Band and the annual band production, "Campus Revue."

After the wedding, the couple returned to Big Spring where they will reside temporarily. They plan to move this fall to Anderson, Ind. where both will attend Anderson College.

A LOVELIER YOU

Posture, Skin Care For Backless Wear

By MARY SUE MILLER

It's a fact fall evening fashions, short and long, bare the back. The plunge, like this summer's, is deep and daring. Some backs were not ready for it in June. Some continue to present a too fleshy, too bony, or too round-shouldered contour.

These problems are correctable. But first you must become aware of the causes. Poor posture is the principal one. Habitually poor carriage triggers or aggravates troubles. Fatty pads develop from hunching the shoulders and straining the head forward. Winging the shoulders back sharpens thin blades. Allowing the chest to sink into the diaphragm rounds the shoulders.

Of course, weight may be a contributing factor. With a gain in poundage, a thin back fills out. A weight loss helps to deflate shoulder padding. But not unless there is an improvement in carriage; not unless the chest is held high, the shoulders fall relaxed in the dead center of the body's profile, and the head raches for the sky. When those actions become a habit, problems begin to disappear. Results are hastened by corrective exercise: 1. (Trims Upper Back.) Sit erect, and clasp hands behind neck. Quickly swing elbows forward to touch, then back as far as possible. Repeat 25 times. 2. (Pads Thin Blades.) Perform exercise 1., slowly and with tension. 3. (For Round Shoulders.) Raise chest and slowly rotate shoulders from front to back.

To tone up the back's complexion cleanse with a long-handled sponge and a pH soap, dry briskly. Night and morning apply a moisturized body lotion to the area. That backless dress has your name on it.

TRIMMERS, SLIMMERS

Let me help you with the problem of a too-fleshy arm, chest or upper back by sending you my leaflet, "Trimmers and Slimmers." It contains a set of coordinated spot reducing exercises — easy to do, quick to get results. Just write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and ten cents in coin.

All-Girl Service Station Sends Gas Sales Soaring

By FRANK MACOMBER
Copley News Service

Move over, Gloria Steinem, and make room for a new fangle in your Women's Liberation movement.

It's an all-woman service station at Dearborn Heights, Mich. Called Boron's All-Girl Service, the station was about to shut down for lack of business when men were operating it. Then Thomas Boland, an oil company supervisor, got a bright idea. He staffed the station with gals and named Nancy Fitsmaurice as manager.

The ladies not only peddle gasoline, chassis lubrications, tires and accessories, but are getting praise for bang-up motor tuneup jobs as well, Boland says.

"Sales were poor when the men were running the station," he recalls. "The station needed turning around. Something had to be done immediately. So we tried the gals, and are we glad we did!"

The experiment has been so successful, Boland says, that powder-puff mechanics may be hired at other company stations around the country. Gas sales at the Dearborn Heights station climbed 400 per cent in the first month the ladies took over.

Dallas Market Center Gears For Record-Setting Gift Show

DALLAS, TEXAS — With buyer attendance increase ranging from nine to 19 per cent at two gift shows and two homefurnishings markets this year at the Dallas Market Center, expectations are high for a record-setting Fall Gift, Jewelry and Housewares Show, Sept 3-8.

In addition to accelerated buyer attendance, most exhibitors' sales volume has shown strong to record-breaking gains over the previous year.

The Fall Gift, Jewelry and Housewares Show, the largest of the three gift shows held at the Dallas Market Center each year, will be held in the Trade Mart, Market Hall, and the Marriott Motor Hotel.

The gift, accessory, jewelry, housewares and toy showrooms in the Dallas Trade Mart will be filled with more than 2,200 lines being shown in these permanent spaces.

The Marriott Motor Hotel will house the precious jewelry portion of the Fall Gift show, as in years past.

Every square foot of transient exhibit space in Market Hall will be used, with many jewelry exhibitors showing there. Among the recent trends in the July Gift Show, in addition to an increase in the number of exhibitors and buyers, is the showing of more precious jewelry, silver and crafts in Market Hall.

Permanent gift showrooms in the Trade Mart will be open Sunday, Sept. 3 through Friday, Sept. 8. Temporary exhibits in Market Hall will show Sunday, Sept. 3 through Thursday noon, Sept. 7. The precious jewelry portion of the show at the Marriott Motor Hotel will be open Sunday, Sept. 3 through Tuesday, 6 p.m. Sept. 5.

The Dallas Market Center, recognized as the most unique Market Center in the country, features beautiful air-conditioned buildings, adjacent to each other on landscaped grounds, surrounded by 83 acres of free, paved parking.

During the Fall Gift, Jewelry and Housewares Show, air-conditioned courtesy buses serve the buildings, motels in the surrounding area, and the downtown area.

No Help Wanted, City Dads Stress

HOUSTON A(Pa) — A move by the Houston Chamber of Commerce to create an airport advisory board was shot by an 8 to 1 vote of the City Council.

The ordinance called for a nine-member board, appointed by Mayor Louie Welch who was the sole vote for the measure, which would make recommendations to council on airport planning and operation. It would have had no administrative or legislative power.

Councilman Frank Mancuso, who led the opposition, said the council does not need any more advice about how to run the airport.

College Baptist Youth Lead Mission School In El Paso

By LINDA CROSS

Twenty-three weary young people and four adult sponsors from College Baptist Church have returned from El Paso where they conducted a one-week mission Vacation Bible School, July 24-29.

The Bible school, under the direction of Wayne Poling, minister of youth at College Baptist, ws held at Cedar Grove Baptist Church, with the Rev. Jose Rosales, minister, on the south side of El Paso.

Divided into three departments, the local young people worked with El Paso youngsters in first through third grade, fourth through sixth grade and youths.

"The Bible school was a type of outreach project. Because the church was so small, with an average Sunday School attendance of 25, we had to try to involve those children and youth who had no connection with the church," said Poling.

To do this, College Baptist young people began each day with a recreation program, usually softball, which was open to anyone wishing to participate, and involvement in the Bible School followed, according to Poling.

"Preparation for the Bible School began at the first of the summer. Early in June, we wrote all the Baptist Associations along the southern border of Texas. After response from many of the associations, we decided on Cedar Grove Baptist Church in El Paso," said Poling.

GOING HOME — Patsy Eason catches a moment's rest as College Baptist Church youth return from a mission Vacation Bible School they conducted in El Paso.

Poling traveled to the El Paso church to meet the Rev. Mr. Rosas and to view the churches facilities for the Bible School.

After Poling's return to Big Spring, training sessions designed to teach the church youth how to conduct a Bible School were begun.

Techniques for instructing youngsters in first through third grades were taught by Mrs. Don Adams and Mrs. Jimmy Law. Mrs. Bob Carlile and Mrs. Sherrill Carroll instructed the young people in teaching youngsters in fourth through sixth grades. Mrs. Wayne Watson was among the church members who instructed the young people in conducting Bible study classes for other young people.

The young people traveled to El Paso by bus Sunday, July 23. Bible classes began Monday at 8:30 a.m., and were conducted through 11:30 a.m. each day through Saturday, July 29.

"This trip caused our youth to grow very close together. I learned that prayer can take care of any problem," said Mike Carroll, Big Spring High School senior on his return from the El Paso mission.

A similar mission project may be planned for next summer.

"In the meantime, I want our youth to get involved here in Big Spring to see what they can accomplish here," said Poling.

"The success of the Bible School can be measured in the involvement of the El Paso youngsters, in the love they felt, in the love that our young people had for those youngsters and that those youngsters responded to that love," said Poling.

In addition to their work each day with the Bible School, some of the youth visited other youth in El Paso detention homes, psychiatric wards, hospitals, and drug rehabilitation centers. On these visits, the young people shared music and laughter with troubled and ill persons their own age, said Poling.

"Everybody needs love, no matter who they are," said Cindy Upton, BSHS sophomore, "I learned how to feel love and how to show it."

"The week I spent in El Paso was the greatest exhibition of the power of prayer and love I have ever witnessed," said Mike Adams, University of Texas senior.

Other young people who participated in the El Paso mission were Debra Blackshear, Jim Blackshear, Bruce Blalack, Kim Burchell, Bobby Carlile, Kelly Draper, Patsy Eason, Debbie Grigg, Edith Herman, Cathy Hicks, Lynelle Horn, Jackie Huckaby and Dovie Law.

Others were Jimmy Law, Mark Law, Mike Rich, Sammy Robertson, Deatta Watson, Debbie Watson and Julie Williams.

Adult sponsors in addition to Poling were Mrs. Jimmy Law, Mrs. Wayne Watson and Dick Grove.

Doctor Loses Bid To Stay In Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — An Army eye doctor who wants to work in a Pennsylvania hospital rather than in the military, has lost his bid to stay here while his case is acted on.

His next assignment: Vietnam.

Maj. Joseph E. Sofranko, a native of Mount Pleasant, Pa., had sought to remain at Ft. Sam Houston pending the outcome of his federal court petition.

U.S. District Court Judge John H. Wood Jr. refused Thursday to issue such a stay order.

The officer now is scheduled to report for duty in Vietnam Aug. 10.

Sofranko is seeking a discharge from the Army, contending his services as an ophthalmologist are critically needed in the small town of Somerset, Pa., which he said currently has no eye doctors.

Pioneer Resubmits Its Rate Adjustment Bid

Pioneer Natural Gas Company has asked that its application for a rate adjustment again be placed on the agenda for the next city commission meeting.

The increase is necessary to assist Pioneer in seeking additional gas supplies for the system and to avoid a gas shortage which has affected some parts of the nation, the company declared.

In a letter to the city commission, W. N. Lampe, Amarillo, vice president of Pioneer, said that news reports of reasons for a 2-2 vote (which caused the rate ordinance to lose on second reading) were of concern to the company and prompted a review of the matter. Said Lampe in his letter, furnished also to the news media:

STATEMENT

"Pioneer, on April 24, 1972, filed with the City of Big Spring for a cost of gas adjustment of six-tenths of one cent (.6 cents) per Mcf and an ordinance provision to provide for future adjustments. On April 26, 1972, representatives of the company met with the Big Spring City Commission at their regular meeting. We outlined the gas supply situation, the reasons Pioneer needed such an adjustment and pointed out to the commission that 59 other cities and towns in the West Texas System had approved ordinances providing for this and that adjustments had been made — five-tenth of one cent (.5 cents) per Mcf in April of 1971 and one-tenth of one cent (.1 cents) per Mcf in April of 1972. At this meeting additional information was requested, and on Monday, May 1, 1972, a representative of Pioneer went to Big Spring and met with the city manager to supply and discuss the requested data. We left a copy of the 1969 rate application by Pioneer in the City of Big Spring, Xerox copies of pages from the company's 1971 annual report to the Railroad Commission of Texas, overhead allocations in 1971, and other information applicable to the Big Spring System.

"Again, on June 5, 1972, representatives of the company met with City Manager Harry Nagle to discuss the information which we had supplied and to assure that the data had been complete enough for his study. Some additional information was supplied to the city manager during this discussion. After meeting with Mr. Nagle, and at his suggestion, the proposed ordinance was reworded so that positive action would be required on the part of the city before an annual adjustment would become effective. This change in wording was reviewed by the city attorney.

TECHNICALITY

"At the request of the company, Pioneer's application was placed on the agenda for the regular meeting of the Big Spring City Commission on Tuesday, June 27, 1972, at which time representatives of the company were present to answer questions. We gave a recapitulation of the gas supply situation and again outlined the company's need for a cost of gas adjustment. Several questions were asked by members of the commission and answered by company representatives. The commission appeared satisfied and ready to vote on the issue. Members of the commission were handed a paragraph to supersede a paragraph in the rate ordinance initially submitted with the application when a procedural technicality developed causing the application to be tabled.

"The Commission, at its meeting on July 11, 1972, approved the company's application on its first reading by a 3 to 1 vote. It was our understanding that the commissioners present at this meeting were satisfied with the information which the company had supplied and that these members had no further questions. Since Mr. (Eddie) Acri was unavoidably absent from this meeting, we wanted to contact him prior to the next commission meeting in order to determine whether or not he might have additional questions or need more information. It is unfortunate and we deeply regret that this action may have caused Mr. Acri to believe that we wanted to negotiate secretly and in private, as it was certainly not intended.

"We would like to have our application placed on the agenda and considered at the next meeting of the commission. We plan to appear personally at this meeting. We certainly want to do whatever is needed or required by the commission and cooperate fully in all matters.

SEEK SUPPLIES

"Again, we want to point out that the sole purpose of this request is to assist Pioneer in seeking additional gas supplies for the system and, hopefully, to avoid the gas shortage which is becoming increasingly desperate in other parts of the nation. Failure to do this would stifle industrial expansion and increasingly affect everyday commerce as curtailments of gas become frequent. Because of the singular importance of the gas supply objective, as well as the indefiniteness of the National Price Commission's rulings around the time of the application before you, no detailed cost of service or general rate increase was considered at that time.

"In addition to the Mayor and City Commission, a copy of this letter is being supplied to the city manager, to the city attorney and to the news media. We have no intention of this communication nor any previous ones being considered secretive."

Church To Begin New Program

Sunday, Aug. 6, will be a significant day in the history of the Church of Christ, located at 14th and Main.

Beginning on that day will be a new radio broadcast, over Station KBST-1490 from 8-8:15 a.m.

The speaker for the program will be M. Ralph Williams, new minister for the 14th and Main congregation.

"The radio broadcast" explained Williams, who has had five years of broadcast experience, "will actually be a combination of live broadcast and pre-taped segments. The introduction and music will be pre-recorded while the sermon will be broadcast live.

"The new program is designed to broaden the present base of evangelistic effort," said Williams. "The 14th and Main congregation is spearheading the presentation of the Herald of Truth radio program in this area over the same station. It features Dr. Batsell Barrett Baxter each Sunday at 8:30 p.m. In conjunction with this, there will be offered a free Bible study course to anyone who requests it."

Danger Of Flash Floods Sounded

By The Associated Press

Flooding downpours hit around San Antonio and other South Texas points today, and widespread showers dampened broad areas across the state.

Even with the rain, however, most sections stayed uncomfortably warm except for the Panhandle, where a cool front which arrived the day before stalled along a line from near Childress westward to north of Lubbock.

SPECIAL ALERTS

Special warnings alerted one county after another to danger of flash floods in low areas and at low water crossings. The latest of these was effective until 9 a.m. for persons in Bandera, Kerr and Real counties. Similar alerts went up earlier for Bexar, Comal, Dimmit, Edwards, Guadalupe, Karnes, Kendall, Medina and Wilson counties.

Deluges pouring down at a rate up two inches per hour were reported by the National Weather Service in the Southwest Texas Hill Country from near Barksdale toward Harper.

There was no immediate report, however, of property damage from flooding.

There were lighter showers also from around Amarillo southward past Childress, Plainview, Lubbock, Lamesa, Colorado City, Sweetwater, Big Spring, Sonora, Kerrville and Van Horn.

Another shower belt embraced Texarkana, Marshall, Austin, Killeen, Waco and San Antonio, and a similar patch of showers covered Rock Springs, Lufkin, McAllen and Eagle Pass.

SUMMER HEAT

Most areas east of the Pecos River and south of a Fort Worth-Lufkin line also received rain Thursday. Amounts were heaviest between Victoria and Corpus Christi, with the latter city measuring 3.40 inches in 24 hours.

Top temperatures Thursday afternoon ranged from 97 degrees at Wichita Falls down to 81 at Austin and Dalhart.

Readings near dawn today stayed as high as 81 at Galveston and 80 at Corpus Christi while the mercury was down to 65 at Dalhart.

Forecasts called for mostly cloudy skies and scattered showers in all sections with a little cooling in West Texas and continued summer heat elsewhere.

Bureau's Queen Contest Saturday

Reheasal for Saturday's Howard County Farm Bureau Queen Pageant will be today at 8 p.m. in the Big Spring High School Auditorium. The pageant will be at 8 p.m. Saturday in the BSHS Auditorium.

Six young women between the ages of 16-22 years of age are vying for the title of Howard County Farm Bureau Queen and the right to compete in the district contest later this month.

Mrs. Ruby Molpus, Farm Bureau secretary, said "we might have one more contestant by Saturday."

Rules for entry in the contest are that each young woman must be 16 years old by Sept. 1, 1972 and not any older than 22, single and not ever having been married. The entrants are all daughters of Farm Bureau families.

Poise, personality and appearance are the qualities the judges, who will be from outside Howard County, will be looking for, said Mrs. Molpus.

A large part of the judging basis will be each contestant's one-minute speech on "Why I am Glad My Family Belongs to the Farm Bureau." The young women will compete in formal gowns.

J. R. "Rich" Anderson, Borden County rancher, will be master of ceremonies for the pageant.

The queen and runner-up Saturday will receive bouquets of roses, $15 and $10 awards respectively, plus gift certificates from the Farm Bureau. Winner of the district contest, which may be held in Big Spring, will compete in the state finals in November, with all expenses paid. She will receive a wristwatch.

The state title is the highest honor. State Farm Bureau Queens from throughout the United States will be honored at the national convention in Los Angeles, Calif., in December. Each winner's expenses to the national convention will be paid, and each will receive an engraved wristwatch commemorating her title.

County queen contestants are Judy Cave, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Cave, Route 1, Ackerly; Kathy Fryar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Fryar, 4001 Wasson; Kayla Gaskins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins, Knott; Terry Gibbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Gibbs, Route 1, Knott; Sherry Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wayne Jackson, Gail Route; and Carletta Pierce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pierce, 1807 S. Monticello.

Nixon Orders Jobs Freeze

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has ordered an immediate freeze on new hiring under a $1.2-billion municipal jobs program designed to reduce unemployment, the Labor Department announced.

Under the federally funded program more than 160,000 workers have been hired by various cities for salaries up to $12,000.

The spokesman said telegrams ordering the freeze went out Monday because of the possibility President Nixon might veto the $30.5-billion spending bill for the departments of labor and health, education and welfare approved by House and Senate conferees. Nixon proposed spending $1.7 billion less than that.

Starting next week, the spokesman said, about 6,000 persons would have been hired weekly under the program.

The administration does not quarrel with funding for the jobs program, passed as the Emergency Employment Act last September. But its funding is included in the larger appropriations bill for the two departments and so would be vetoed along with the rest of the measure should Nixon decide it's cost is too inflationary.

'Pressbox Battle'

By DON COOPER
Herald Sports Editor

There was excitement in the air at American Little League Park Tuesday night. The fans were excited and the players were edgy. The Big Spring National All-Stars were preparing to take on Pecos, with the winner going to the State Little League Tournament in Waco.

The game was colorful and dramatic. After falling behind, 7-0, the local team suddenly rallied and threatened to capture the game with a four-run outburst in the fourth inning. The fans, who were excited about the drama unfolding on the field, were completely unaware of the drama of a titanic struggle going on above their heads.

At the same time the game was being played, another battle was taking place in the pressbox. The battle for the sportscasting championship was being waged by KBST's "Big Ken" Carter and KBLE's Brian Peay.

The stage was set when the two announcers found themselves wedged into one corner of the pressbox. The age-old hostility of radio toward television was an added ingredient in the formula already embodied by the need of each announcer to drown out the sound of the other's voice.

A championship boxing match could not have had more drama. The "Great Battle of the Pressbox" followed a plan which could only have been created in Hollywood. Fight fans love drama — and drama was present. The pressbox battle pitted the old pro against the rising young star. The slugger was facing the darting, colorful jabber. The ring-savvy veteran was protecting his crown from the youthful challenger in his first title bout.

All the ingredients for a great fight were there, and Carter and Peay did not let down the spectators in the pressbox.

Before the start of the game, the two announcers eyed each other warily. Carter displayed the old pro's calm, cool confidence which belies his inner tension.

Peay was nervous and edgy. The challenger knew he was facing the Champ — that veteran announcer who had destroyed all other local sportscasters without a sign of pity.

The battle started slowly as both announcers were cautious. They ran through the starting lineups; each checking his opponent's style and probing for a weakness in his defense.

Both fighters decided to slug it out in the first inning of the ballgame. Peay opened with a hard-hitting batting order while Carter scored with a defensive set-up.

Peay landed several telling blows as Carter missed the answer to one of his own baseball trivia questions. Peay moved in quickly as Carter had to break for a commercial. Then at the end of the inning, Carter staggered Peay with a strong inning recap.

Coming out for the second inning, Peay scored with a quick ball-strike comment; however, he was floored by three lightning-like trivia questions and answers by Carter.

Peay was up quickly; however, Carter staggered him again with a roundhouse strikeout and a short-to-first ground out. After a line single to right, Carter was firmly in command of the fight.

Carter completely overwhelmed Peay for the rest of the game, drowning out his commercial breaks, sneering at his comments and ridiculing his play-calling.

Carter was in top form — trivia, innuendoes and snide asides had Peay reeling over the pressbox.

There was never any doubt about the outcome of the battle after the crucial second inning. The telecaster did make a belated flurry in the top of the sixth; however, the fight had been lost long before Peay's last-ditch try for a knockout. Although caught off-guard by Peay's unexpected rally in the sixth, Carter resumed the attack quickly by naming the shortstop for the 1938 Yankees and had Peay reeling at the end of the game.

Perry Starves Texas

Twins Handcuff Rangers, 9-1

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — When summer's heat gets the best of Jim Perry, the Minnesota Twins righthander cuts down on his eating.

"I'm down to one meal a day," says the gangling North Carolinian whose more publicized brother Gaylord is already an 18-game winner for Cleveland. "It's too hot to eat. It's nothing new, I've been doing this for years."

If Perry continues to pitch like he did Thursday night, he might turn the one meal a day diet into a year-round habit. Allowing only three hits—just one in the first eight innings—Perry handcuffed the punchless Rangers, 9-1, for his 10th win on 19 decisions.

The Rangers' first hit was Dave Nelson's sixth-inning bunt single.

"It was a good idea and a perfect bunt," said Perry. "If that had been the only hit I wouldn't have had any gripes coming. It was a perfect bunt just a couple of feet off the third base line. No way you'll get him out on a bunt like that."

Nelson singled with one out in the ninth, moved to third on Elliott Maddox' single and scored on Ted Ford's fly to right.

"I was just trying to throw strikes. Nothing fancy the last couple of innings. As for the pressure, I'm not about to let losing a no-hitter bother me too much. Sure I'd like to pitch one, but all I'm concerned about is winning.

"I had good stuff," Perry continued. "My slider broke quickly and the umpire (Bill Deegan) was calling the corners well. I was picking up the corners and he was callin' 'em strikes. He called an excellent game.

The Twins pounded three Texas pitchers for 11 hits, including three by Rod Carew and Bobby Darwin. Rich Reese drove in three runs with a pair of singles.

The victory gave the Twins a 2-1 edge in the three-game series. They return home Friday night to face the American League west-leading Oakland A's while the Rangers travel to Chicago for a single game Friday night that begins a four-game weekend series.

Culver Files Grievance On $100 Fine

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Astros relief pitcher George Culver says he has filed a grievance charge over a $100 fine levied against him by Astros manager Harry Walker.

Culver said he filed the grievance Thursday with Marvin Miller, director of the Major League Baseball Players Association.

He said Walker fined him as the result of a dugout confrontation during last Sunday's doubleheader with the San Diego Padres.

"I think the fine was unfair," Culver said, "and that's why I am filing the grievance."

After pitching three innings in the opener, Culver said Walker told him to warm up during the sixth inning of the second game.

Culver said he told Walker his arm was stiff and he couldn't throw.

"I hadn't pitched in nine days when I pitched in the first game," Culver said.

Culver said he told Walker he couldn't throw and he was not going to hurt his arm.

He said Walker, angered by the refusal, replied: "How can you hurt your arm with that — you throw?"

Culver said an argument followed and Walker fined him.

Culver said he talked to Astros general manager Spec Richardson and that Richardson said the fine was Walker's business.

Early Wynn Wants One More Turn On Pitching Mound

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — If Calvin Griffith is persuasive enough, the last of baseball's 300-game winners could pitch against the last of the .400 hitters Sept. 19 or Sept. 20 in an American League game at Metropolitan Stadium.

Early Wynn, who posted a career pitching record 300-244, has asked the Minnesota Twins president for permission to pitch at least one inning in a game this year so that his career would span five decades.

Griffith is mulling over the request, and admitted that if he went along with it, he might as well talk Ted Williams into the act.

Wynn, 52, who joined the Hall of Fame this year, is managing the Twins' Class A team at Orlando, Fla. Williams, 54, the Hall-of-Famer who hit .406 in 1941, is manager of the Texas Rangers.

The Twins and Rangers meet in a two-game series next month at Met Stadium.

Griffith said he planned to contact Bob Short, owner of the Rangers, for help in getting Williams back on the active roster for at least one game.

"If Early Wynn started a game," said Griffith, "I'd like to see him pitch more than one inning. I told him if I could arrange it so that Ted Williams could bat against him, I would do it.

"I don't think Williams would let anybody outdo him. I'm sure he would like to have his career go five decades, too.

The former stars, then, would have their names in the record books for playing in the 1930s, 1940s, 1950s, 1960s and 1970s.

Williams, who won six batting titles, retired after the 1960 season, hitting a home run in his final game.

Wynn called it quits in 1963 when he won only one game—but it was No. 300. He served as Twins' pitching coach for three seasons before joining Minnesota's farm system in 1970.

It doesn't appear the performances of the two men would have any effect, good or bad, on the final standings of the two teams.

Texas is deep in the West Division cellar. The Twins rank third in the division, about 10 games back of leading Oakland.

PADRES DUMP BRAVES, 6-5

Colbert Opens Another Page

By The Associated Press

Nate Colbert of San Diego has opened another page of the National League record book but Chicago's Bill Hands has discovered he should let his fingers do the walking.

Colbert, who slugged two homers in Houston Sunday and five more in a doubleheader in Atlanta Tuesday, blasted a two-run circuit in the Padres 6-5 victory over Atlanta Thursday night to tie the league record for most homers in a week.

Hands, a Cubs' right-hander, couldn't handle a ground ball off the bat of Montreal's Ken Singleton in the seventh inning and lost his chance for a no-hitter as Chicago beat the Expos 3-0 in the second game of a doubleheader. Montreal won the first game 2-1.

LA BLANKS GIANTS

In other NL games, Los Angeles blanked San Francisco 3-0, Philadelphia beat New York 4-1 and Pittsburgh edged St. Louis 2-1.

In the American League, it was Minnesota 9, Texas 1; Boston 7, New York 2; Cleveland 4, Baltimore 3; Milwaukee 6, Detroit 3 and Chicago 4, California 2.

"I just hope I can keep my stroke," said Colbert, who is tied with Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh in 1947 and Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati in 1956. "I hope it never ends."

LEADS MAJORS

The Padres' first baseman, who leads the majors with 31 homers and 84 runs batted in, said he actually was more impressed with the feat of Dale Long of Pittsburgh in 1956, who hit homers in eight straight games.

Colbert's five homers and 13 RBI Tuesday night tied the mark for circuits in a doubleheader and broke the mark for runs batted in and total bases in two games.

The Padres won the game in the 11th inning on three singles, the last was a broken-bat hit by Dave Roberts.

Hands didn't live up to his name. He had pitched perfect ball through 6 1-3 innings before he gave up a walk to Clyde Mashore. Singleton then hit a chopper, which bounced off Hands' glove and went into right field.

FAIRLY WALKS

After the hit, Hands walked Ron Fairly to load the bases. Manager Whitey Lockman visited the mound and Hands settled down, getting Boots Day to hit into a double play.

"If that doesn't beat everything, Poppy (second baseman Paul Popovich) told me if I had let the ball alone we would have had a double play on Singleton."

A bases-loaded walk to Rick Monday in the first inning gave the Cubs the lead. They scored two more runs in the sixth on an RBI-single by Ron Santo and a passed ball charged to catcher Terry Humphrey.

In the opener, Ron Woods pinch-hit single in the 13th inning drove in the winning Montreal run. He came to bat with the bases loaded after a single, a hit batsman and an intentional walk. Montreal starter Ernie McAnally gave up just one hit to the Cubs in the first six innings but Mike Marshall 9-3, came on to relieve and get the victory.

SHUTOUT BY JOHN

Los Angeles' Tommy John pitched a three-hitter for his first complete-game shutout of the season. Willie Davis and Manny Mota had RBI singles and Wes Parker hit a sacrifice fly for the Dodgers. San Francisco collected two singles by Dave Rader and a double by Tito Fuentes. John, 9-5, hurled five innings of no-hit baseball before Rader singled leading off the sixth.

The Philadelphia victory over the New York Mets was their third straight. Denny Doyle hit a home run and scored twice for the Phils. Willie Montanez doubled in a run and Tom Hutton had a sacrifice fly for the winners. The lone Met run came on an infield groundout.

Vic Davalillo stroked a two-out single in the 10th inning to drive in Pittsburgh's winning run. The Pirates hit three singles in the 10th after St. Louis starter Rick Wise had given up just three safeties in the first nine innings. The Cards' Lou Brock tied the game 1-1 in the fifth after Pittsburgh scored the first run in the second inning on a walk to Willie Stargell and a triple by Dave Cash.

Cardinals Face Snyder

Orlando Olague will get the call tonight as the Big Spring Cardinals put their 18-0 season record on the line against the Snyder Redlegs. The game will get underway at 8 p.m. in Johnny Stone Park.

In the last meeting of the two teams, Big Spring emerged victorious by a 4-3 margin. Olague gave up only four hits and fanned 14 Redlegs in that contest.

The Cardinals and the Big Spring Tiger Cubs will renew their arch-rivalry Sunday at 2 p.m. when the two teams square off in Steer Park.

All records will go out of the window in this clash. Jody Florez, who has been the mainstay of the Cardinals pitching staff this season, is the probable starter. Ismael Paderez will probably get the nod for the Tiger Cubs.

AL East Leaders Handed Losses

By The Associated Press

There was a time when the Baltimore Orioles used to run away and hide from the rest of the American League East.

My, how time flies.

The Orioles, who've won three straight pennants and four in the last six years, are involved in—you should excuse the expression—a race.

No supermen this season, the Orioles were beaten 4-3 by the Cleveland Indians Thursday night for their fifth loss in the last six games.

Luckily for Baltimore, Detroit's play has been strictly for the birds, too. The lowly Milwaukee Brewers beat the Tigers 6-3 to hand the East leaders their sixth defeat in eight games.

TIGERS HOLD LEAD

The Tigers thus maintained a tenuous two-game lead over the Orioles in the Division That Nobody Wants, and both had better be looking over their shoulders of the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox.

Both stayed within shooting range of the top after the Red Sox whipped the Yankees 7-2 Thursday. New York is in third place, five games behind Detroit and Boston in fourth, 5½ back.

The Chicago White Sox trimmed the California Angels 4-2 and chipped a half-game off Oakland's lead in the West to 5½ games. In the American League's only other game Thursday, the Minnesota Twins routed the Texas Rangers 9-1.

In the National League, the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the New York Mets 4-1; the San Diego Padres tripped the Atlanta Braves 6-5 in 11 innings; the Pittsburgh Pirates topped the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1 in 10; the Los Angeles Dodgers blanked the San Francisco Giants 3-0 and the Montreal Expos downed the Chicago Cubs 2-1 in 13 innings in the first game of a doubleheader before losing the second, 3-0.

CHAMBLISS STARS

Chris Chambliss drilled three hits and sparked two rallies and Tom Hilgendorf and Phil Hennigan combined on a seven-hitter to help the Indians beat the Orioles.

Chambliss, who singled in the first inning, doubled in both the fourth and fifth innings to highlight two-run rallies in each frame as the Indians wiped out an early 1-0 Baltimore lead. The Orioles came back with two runs in the sixth on Brooks Robinson's homer, but Hennigan shut the door in the late innings.

Milwaukee, despite its sixth-place posture in the East, continues to act like a pennant-contender against Detroit.

BREWERS SWEEP SERIES

With Thursday night's triumph, Milwaukee swept the front-running Tigers in a three-game set and established an 8-4 margin in the season series. The Brewers came up with 45 hits and 28 runs in the just-concluded series in Detroit.

"I hate to leave this good-hitting ballpark," said Milwaukee Manager Del Crandall. "From now on, I'm going to have a bit of a problem calling batting practice. We hit .429 in this series without two nights of batting practice."

The Brewers skipped the pregame warmup the past two games because of rain.

Carlton Fisk's two-run homer in the second inning and a three-run seventh carried Boston and rookie pitcher Lynn McGlothen to a victory over New York. Tommy Harper had a two-run double in the decisive Boston seventh.

19 Earn Title In 'Y' Program

Nineteen boys and girls recently earned "fish" status in the YMCA's Aquatic Progressive Program.

The "fish" is one of four levels of skill in the new program. The others are "minnow," "flying fish," and "swimmer." "Fish" ranks between "minnow" and "flying fish" in ability.

To become a "fish," one must perform an endurance swim, going 120-150 yards. The swim must be made of two lengths each of back crawl, breaststroke and front crawl.

After the endurance swim, the participant must do a survival float for seven minutes. He may be on his front or back with a minimum amount of movement optional. He must also do a front survival float or a back float with a minimum of movement for seven minutes.

He must perform non-swimming assists using extension assists from the water holding on to the pool deck, a pole, a towel, arm, leg and so on.

He must do a standard front dive off of a one meter board.

Finally, he must push off of the side of the pool, glide and swim under water for a total distance of 30 feet.

People reaching the fish level include:

(Boys) Leslie Dixon, Robin Jodoi, Darrell Stephens, Todd Tyree, Charlie Corson, David Towery and Todd Smith.

(Girls) Cathy Daley, Paula Jeffus, Kerry Whitley, Cathy Corson, Brenda Kelley, Lisa Holland, Teresa Nixon, Dru Kelley, Christine Paul and Robbi Gaskins.

Americans Take Two

The American League All-Stars took two games from the National League All-Stars in the annual Big Spring Slow-pitch Softball League All-Star Game Thursday night.

The Americans won the first game, 13-11, behind the pitching of Royce Cox of the league champion Price Pavers.

Roger Dixon's home run in the second game gave Boyce Hale support as he hurled the Americans to a 12-11 win over the Nationals.

Managers for the teams were Hale for the American League and Steve Kotera of the National League.

Douglass, Walton To Start At QB

By The Associated Press

The National Football League, which has rarely seen black quarterbacks in the past, will have two of them in starting roles tonight as the first busy weekend of preseason games gets under way.

Karl Douglass, a rookie from Texas A&I who was on the Baltimore taxi squad last year, is expected to start and go most of the way when the Colts take on the Washington Redskins at Tampa, Fla.

John Walton, in his fourth training camp but still a rookie with Los Angeles, gets the nod as the Rams host the Cleveland Browns in the annual Los Angeles Times Charities game.

In the only other game scheduled tonight, St. Louis plays at Buffalo. Saturday's schedule has Kansas City against Chicago at South eBnd, Ind., in an afternoon contest, while at night it's Cincinnati at Green Bay, Houston at Dallas, Miami at Detroit, New England at Oakland, the New York Jets against San Francisco at Jacksonville, Fla., the New York Giants at Pittsburgh and Atlanta at San Diego.

Completing the weekend's action Monday night, New Orleans is at Philadelphia. Denver and Minnesota are not scheduled.

James Harris, a reserve with the Buffalo Bills, is the lone veteran black quarterback in the NFL. He was a starter for a while, but has since lost the top job to Dennis Shaw.

In addition to Douglass and Walton, rookie Joe Gilliam of Tennessee State is trying out with Pittsburgh. But the Steelers already have Terry Bradshaw and Terry Hanratty, so his chances appear slim.

In the recent past, Marlin Briscoe started five games at quarter for Denver in 1968, but he has since been switched to wide receiver. Oakland drafted Eldridge Dickey of Tennessee State as a quarterback, but he too was shifted to wide receiver.

BS Riders Take Trophies

Motocross racers from Big Spring took home most of the trophies from the races in Carlsbad last weekend.

Craig Hodnett and Brian Farrell won first and second respectively in the minibike class.

In the 125 expert division, Kelly Guinn captured fourth place.

Big Spring riders finished first, second and third in the 125 junior class. Corky Burchell took first, Larry Adams won second and David Walker captured third.

Rodney Farrell won the 0-247 novice division.

In the 250 expert class, Danny Weir finished second.

Charles Puga took a second in the 250 jr. class.

Gene Leonard was third in the open division.

Sanderson Says WHA Will Be 'Dirtier' Loop

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Derek Sanderson took time out from tightening his money belt to predict that play in the embryo World Hockey Association will be much dirtier than it is in the established National Hockey League.

The 26-year-old Sanderson jumped from the NHL champion Boston Bruins Thursday to the WHA's Philadelphia Blazers. It wasn't because he liked Independence Mall, or the Liberty Bell, or Betsy Ross' house, or disliked Beacon Hill, Old North Church, Boston Commons or Boston banked beans.

THIRSK, ALLIN

Two Unknowns Grab PGA Lead

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — "Men, I'm sorry I made you miss your dinners," apologized Stan Thirsk with a grin, "but I really enjoyed it."

That's the way the virtual golfing unknown from Shawnee Mission, Kan., signed off his news conference after stunning reporters by strolling off the Oakland Hills Country Club course with a two-under par 68 Thursday for a share of the lead with Bud Allin after the first round of the 54th PGA National Championship.

Most reporters had their stories all wrapped up and were ready to go home, having written about another relatively obscure pro, Allin, who came in early with a 68 and appeared certain to stay on top alone.

But the 44-year-old Thirsk—that's T-h-i-r-s-k—birdied three holes on the back nine, including two of the last four, which put him two-under. He was in the last golfer off the course.

Although the 27-year-old Allin's name isn't a household word either among golf followers, he did win $55,786 last year in his first season on the tour and was at least vaguely familiar to the more than 300 writers covering the prestigeous event.

Allin and Thirsk are leading such notables as Arnold Palmer, Lee Trevino, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player.

Trevino, criticizing himself for using the wrong club four times, shot a 73 while Nicklaus was in at 72 along with Player.

Joining the one-under group was another nearly unknown pro, Larry Gilbert of Fayetteville, Tenn. Jerry Heard, who has already won two tour events this year, was at 69 also, along with Ray Floyd and Jim Jamieson.

Two days of rain prior to the first round made things somewhat damp for the field of 139 and the record first day PGA crowd of 19,200. Brief rains hit again Thursday along with brisk winds at times.

Sam Snead, 60-year-old relic from another era of golfing greatness, was one of a large group matching par 70 over the 7,054-yard layout. Also in the group were Richard Crawford, Rod Funseth, John Miller, Dan Sikes and Jim Wiechers.

Gene Sarazen, marking his 50th anniversary in the PGA-which the 70-year-old won in 1922 and 1923, carded a 79.

The payments aren't very big, either.

Just a $250 cash down payment and $59.01 a month for 36 months.

(If you're not too good at math, that works out to a deferred payment price of $2374.36 which includes a finance charge at an ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE of 11.08%.)

Along the way, you get a little financial help from the car.

It uses about 5 pints of oil instead of 5 quarts.

It doesn't need antifreeze because the engine's air cooled.

And although it does need gas, it doesn't need much of it (usually a gallon every 25 miles or so).

Of course, you might be the kind that likes to pay cash for everything.

In that case, the cash price is $2099.00.

CARROL RIGHTER

Friday, Aug. 4

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime finds you restless and nervous and pretty eager to get out from under whatever you have promised to do. Later in the day and evening you find basic considerations become most important to you, so that they cause you to study a well-rounded plan for the future that can make your dreams come true.

ARIES March 21 to April 19) Use that fine smile and do whatever will please others today who are in a pretty grumpy mood and need cheering up. Handle outside affairs during day hours. Evening should be devoted to kin, home.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Handle practical affairs early that will add to present security and then off to the amusements that really please you. Avoid topics, persons who could start serious arguments. Keep poised.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Relieve anxieties early by doing whatever you most like in the a.m., and you know later how to handle whatever is of a financial nature. Don't add to present expenses, if possible. Be more analytical of conditions about you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You can get ahead in a personal way now provided you use the fine smile you have in dealing with others. Temper could be most destructive. Amusing close ties brings fine results.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Contact those fine friends who have the information you want and get it. Plan the future more intelligently in p.m. Do those things that give you the greatest amount of personal happiness.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Gain those favors from others that give you advancement where the public is concerned. A friend extends an invitation which would be to your benefit to accept. Put away your big doubts and all is fine.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Studying new ideas or planning a trip is best in a.m., then get busy delving into new information you need. Experts can be most inspiring now. Get all pieces of your pattern of life to fit in satisfactorily.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Morning is a good time to complete any obligations you have assumed before you start on or look into new interests later. Being most encouraging with others is good. Don't permit another to push you around, even if it is a relative.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Strive for the good will of partners before you sit down and make new arrangements with them. Show that you will do your share of any work necessary. Try not to quarrel with them, or there will be trouble.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get busy; improve conditions around you so you're happier and more successful in the future. Your health, vim and vigor can be improved also now that the planets are favorable. A person of wisdom can be most helpful in p.m.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Show more consideration for those around you and have better rapport with them in the future. See to it that your wardrobe is improved so you look more charming. Your health needs invigorating so you can accomplish more.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Not a good day to force any work obligations, but fine for entertainment or making plans for such later. Anything of a creative nature is okay, also. Don't permit some neighbor to put one over on you.

Chinese Wipe Out Venereal Disease

PEKING (AP) — The Chinese Communists have wiped out cholera, smallpox, plague and venereal disease, all once endemic in their country, a high official of the department of health reports.

The drug problem is nonexistent, Dr. Chen Hai-feng said in a long interview, due to a combination of education, strict control of drugs by the government and severe treatment of sellers 10-15 years ago.

Tuberculosis, typhoid, measles, chickenpox, malaria and snail fever, all of which once were rampant in China, are considered "controlled," the doctor said.

"We cannot find venereal disease cases to show our medical students in colleges," Dr. Chen said.

A small, intense man, Dr. Chen explained the four-point aim of China's health program, which is not unlike those in the West, and also the medical structure which seems a key to China's success in programs that failed elsewhere in the world.

The four aims:

1. To direct medical work at the masses by putting medical workers into the field.

2. Prevention of disease by vaccines, sterilization of drinking water and attacking insects such as mosquitos and flies.

3. Combining Western and ancient Chinese herb medicines in new treatment.

'BAREFOOT' DOCS

4. Mass education of peasants and workers to understand the dangers of diseases and the worth of prevention measures.

These principles are administered through a detailed medical structure reaching units of 100 persons or less. China has 800 million people.

It had been thought previously that the "barefoot doctors" were the lowest level of the state medical program, but it goes farther down than that, to the "health worker," a part-time job. The health worker is trained to give injections and detect disease. His main strength is in knowing well everyone he deals with.

The health worker knows all that happens to his small group and can report to the barefoot-doctor level if a disease appears which he cannot handle.

'COMPULSORY'

Barefoot doctors, many of them women, have received three to four months' training in hospitals. They can administer Chinese herb medicines, acupuncture and some Western medicines. If the barefoot doctor finds a problem too complicated, he sends the patient to an outpatient clinic, staffed by regular nurses and doctors, for treatment. If the patient requires further treatment, he is sent to a hospital.

Obviously a disease cannot go long undetected at the health-worker level. The Chinese avoid saying that their vaccines and other preventive treatments are "compulsory," but it is obvious that treatment, if it is needed, is given one way or the other.

Shortage In 7th Fleet Disclosed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The buildup of U.S. warships off Vietnam into the largest naval armada since World War II has created a manpower shortage in the 7th Fleet, prompting requests that men ashore voluntarily go back to sea.

Navy spokesmen say this was one of several steps taken within the past few weeks to help fill the gap and bring relief to crews working round the clock in launching carrier-based air strikes over Indochina.

Men with critical job skills now serving with the 7th Fleet have been asked to extend expiring enlistments, at least until their vessels return home.

In addition, the Navy has sent letters to 80,000 reservists asking them to come back voluntarily for one year. It hopes 2,000 will respond.

Nearly 40,000 men are aboard U.S. ships in the Gulf of Tonkin following the buildup, which began four months ago in response to the North Vietnamese offensive.

The Navy said it cannot fill the vacancies with new recruits because it needs experienced personnel "With the high tempo of the operations, they've been pressed to the wall out there," says a Bureau of Naval Personnel spokesman.

Before asking for volunteers, the Navy said, about 600 men were ordered from shore stations. Their jobs ashore were filled by women for the first time, the spokesman said.

"We may have to reconsider (less desirable alternatives) including a further drawdown of personnel assigned to support and training activities ashore and a further drawdown of non-deployed ships and aircraft squadrons."

However, the spokesman said these steps will not be taken "unless the situation becomes critical."

Officials say it is too early to gauge the response to the call for volunteers.

Infantrymen Drive Reds From Bunkers Along Road

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese infantrymen drove the North Vietnamese from their last two major strongpoints along Highway 13 north of Saigon today, military sources reported. They predicted the road between the capital and An Loc, which has been out for 119 days, would soon be open all the way.

The Saigon troops killed 28 North Vietnamese in fighting that cleared bunkers American forces had left at a fire base they abandoned two miles south of Tau O. The bunkers were so sturdy that U.S. air strikes failed to smash them, the sources said, and the South Vietnamese had to flush out the North Vietnamese with infantry and tank assaults.

DESTROY BRIDGE

No South Vietnamese casualties were reported.

The South Vietnamese overran a second North Vietnamese strong point on the highway just south of the destroyed Tau O bridge and nine miles south of An Loc.

The sources said only small pockets of resistance remain along the 60-mile road from Saigon north to An Loc, and these are not expected to hamper movement seriously. But they said the road must be cleared of mines, and the bridges must be repaired.

Heavy North Vietnamese assaults on An Loc eased off a month ago. The government appears to be in firm control of the provincial capital after three months of bloody fighting.

South of Saigon in the Mekong delta, government troops claimed 102 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed in infantry, artillery and air attacks in the Plain of Reeds.

The area has been the site of daily fighting for several weeks.

DOZEN WOUNDED

The U.S. Command said the senior official killed in the region last Saturday was Lt. Col. Oscar Herrgesell, 43, of Jackson, Miss., the senior adviser to the South Vietnamese 4th Ranger Group. The group's Vietnamese commander also was killed.

On the northern front, South Vietnamese marines on a new drive to clear the North Vietnamese from the western half of Quang Tri City reported killing 36 of the enemy Thursday and capturing 20 weapons, including two 37mm antiaircraft guns. One South Vietnamese was killed, and 12 were wounded, the Saigon command said.

The marines claimed another 44 North Vietnamese killed and 25 more weapons captured in a 4½-hour battle today about a mile north of Quang Tri City. The Saigon command said there were no marine losses.

Two Small Boys On Wild Spree

BELFORD, N.J. (AP)—Two small boys went on a spree after they found a wallet containing $180.

The boys, 6 and 8, bought themselves candy, sodas, ice cream and then in a generous mood, started giving away money to playmates. The spree came to an end when the mother of one of the boys learned of the find.

Police said the wallet was lost by Louis Brown of Neptune, who got back $135.

'WHITE CHRISTIANS' ADS

Reason Why 'Niggers' Want Integration?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has ruled that J. B. Stoner may continue campaign broadcasts saying, "The main reason why niggers want integration is because the niggers want our white women."

The Constitution protects such language even though government officials may find it personally repulsive, the commission decided Thursday in a case arising when Atlanta Mayor Sam Massell urged broadcasters to reject the ads on grounds they presented a "danger of violence."

Stoner is affiliated with the National States Rights party, but is running in the Democratic primary for the U.S. Senate seat held by Sen. David H. Gambrell. One of 15 candidates in the balloting Tuesday, Stoner is not expected to make a strong showing.

"If there is to be free speech," the FCC said, "It must be free for speech that we abhor and hate as well as for speech that we find tolerable or congenial."

Acting as a board, three of the seven commissioners—Robert E. Lee, H. Rex Lee and Richard E. Wiley—delivered the ruling in a letter to NAACP representative Lonnie King who joined the mayor and representatives of the Atlanta Community Coalition on Broadcasting and the Anti-Defamation League in the complaint.

In Atlanta, Stoner called the FCC ruling "a victory for freedom of speech for us white Christians."

He said, "As it is in general, Jews and niggers have freedom of speech, but not us white Christians."

Gun Running Contempt Raps

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Five witnesses in a federal grand jury inquiry reportedly concerned with gun-running to Northern Ireland have had their contempt sentences affirmed by the appelate court in New Orleans.

A three-judge panel from the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals upheld sentences handed down by U.S. Dist. Judge Leo Brewster against Kenneth Tierney, Paschal Morahan, Mathias Reilly, Thomas Laffey and Daniel Crawford.

FIVE GUILTY

The five were convicted of contempt in June for refusing to testify despite court-granted immunity from prosecution. They were sentenced to terms not to exceed the 18-month life of the grand jury.

The men charged in briefs sent to the circuit court that Brewster did not permit them to consult with counsel during the questioning and that despite the immunity grant, they would be liable to extradition and prosecution in Great Britain.

"Appellants were, in fact, permitted to consult with counsel during their appearances before the grand jury," the circuit judges said in a 15-page opinion.

REJECTED

They also rejected the other argument, saying, "our view... is that because of the secrecy of the grand jury proceedings, no substantial risk of foreign prosecution is posed."

Lawyers for the witnesses had asked the entire 15-member circuit court hear the case because of the foreign prosecution contention which they said was a point of law never before passed upon.

The appeals court Wednesday rejected that proposal.

In New York, where the five men reside, attorney Paul O'Dwyer said he was upset by the ruling against his clients.

"We're chagrined, to say the least," he said. "We will try to get a review of that by the Supreme Court as quickly as possible."

"I think its an outrageous decision. I would hope that a decision like this would have a political ramifications everywhere," he said.

"Defense committees are being formed everywhere and I hope this will give them some added energy," O'Dwyer said.

SAD DEAL

The purpose of the committees, which are being organized "across the country," he said, is to provide "financial assistance and publicize the sad state of civil liberties in America."

Acting U.S. Atty. Frank McCown said he hadn't seen the court's opinion Thursday night, but he hoped that "the witnesses would go ahead and testify . . . because the circuit has affirmed that the action of the trial court and said Judge Brewster was correct."

"I don't know what type of a writ they might file seeking an immediate hearing in the supreme court or just what," he said, but he confirmed that the Justice Department was committed to fighting the issue through the supreme court if necessary.

WHAT YOU SEE IS WHAT YOU GET — When Larry Reese, staff photographer for the Dallas Morning News, was nosing around for a feature picture, he spotted what looked like a 17-foot-long compact car behind a crate. After making the picture he decided to take a closer look and it turned out to be, well, a 17-foot compact car. Seems it was a special-made job by the distributor of the not-so-little-car.

A Day In Life Of Wallace At Rehabilitation Center

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Using therapy techniques developed after World War II and the motivation and drive acquired in years of tough political battles, Gov. George C. Wallace is ahead of the game in his program to be independent though partially paralyzed, his doctor says.

"We're following the original four-week schedule. He should be out in two more weeks," said Dr. George H. Traugh, acting medical director of the Spain Rehabilitation Center here.

"But as far as his physical therapy goes, he's ahead of the game compared to most persons suffering spinal cord injuries."

Wallace is paralyzed from the waist down as the result of an attempted assassination in Laurel, Md., May 15. His work at Spain is designed to make him independent.

BOXED SOME

"Why is the governor an extraordinary patient?" Traugh was asked.

"Incentive, drive, and don't forget he's got a background in sports. He boxed some. He was agile physically when he was injured," Traugh replied.

Wallace's program is not one developed especially for him. He goes through the same physical therapy — PT—and occupation therapy — OT—as any other patient would.

But there are some differences in his daily routine because, well, because Wallace is Wallace. For instance, when he awakes at 7 a.m. he washes and dresses himself, then reads newspapers.

SPEED READER

"He is a speed reader and he has amazing retention of what he reads," Traugh said. "He can read six newspapers in the time it would take an average person to read one."

He then goes through an hour of OT, where he learns such things as getting in and out of cars, down steps, etc.—the kind of thing one might face at work.

In that respect, Wallace set a precedent at Spain. Most patients learn to slide from a wheelchair into the front seat of a car and then pull the wheelchair in after them. But not the governor.

"I always ride in the back," he told therapists the first day.

Next there's an hour of physical therapy which consists of such things as learning to get into a wheelchair from bed and vice versa and how to walk with braces.

CHECKS MAIL

During the lunch hour—which Wallace usually spends with his wife, Cornelia, who is staying at a nearby hotel — the governor reads mail, more newspapers and talks to his staff via telephone. He also manages to eat.

The afternoon OT and PT sessions are repeats of the morning program.

The governor goes through his session alongside other patients and is treated like just another one of the group, said Judith Cantey, director of clinical services.

"I don't think he has much effect on the other patients," Traugh added. "They're all here to get well, that's all."

Visiting hours are from 4:30 to 8 in the evening and the governor sees his staff, family, and of late, such notables as former Secretary of the Treasury John Connally and Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter.

ENJOYS WORK

After visiting hours, patients are free to engage in any recreational activities they want before retiring.

"Wallace's recreation is actually in his work. That is where he gets the most enjoyment," said Traugh, who is a specialist in removing architectural barriers for the handicapped.

He recommended changes at the executive mansion and the Capitol in Montgomery to make it easier for the governor—and the handicapped public—to get around in the buildings.

Much of the work has been done on the mansion. Traugh said he hopes Wallace can take a therapeutic weekend off to return to Montgomery and get used to getting around outside the Spain center. "That may come next week," he said.

The therapy program itself utilizes techniques developed after World War II, explained Bev Ritch, a therapist.

ARM PRESSURE

"Some persons were coming back from the war with injuries and, too, we had quite a bit of polio then," she said.

The aim of the program is simply to get from one place to another.

"There is very little you can't do from a wheelchair. Architectural barriers are our biggest problem," Traugh said.

With Wallace's injury it is very important that his muscles in the unparalyzed portion of his body be strengthened. One way he accomplishes this is to raise his body by arm pressure on the frame of the wheelchair. He does it at least once every 15 minutes.

School Board Will Appeal

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — A lawyer for four Nederland School Board members said Thursday they will appeal a district court ruling they should be removed for incompetence.

District Court Judge Thomas A. Thomas said Thursday he concurred with a jury's ruling in the case but he stipulated the four could remain in office until all appeals have been exhausted.

The four include Board President Emmett Harper and members O. R. Purdue, Dewey Arnold and Murry Liebersat.

They were charged by a group of Nederland residents with misconduct and incompetence in handling school affairs. One of the accusations dealt with the firing of Emmett McKenzie, the school superintendent, and an assistant superintendent.

Homecoming

Annual homecoming of the Williams school near Cisco will be held at the school gymnasium Saturday, Aug. 12 beginning at 8 p.m. All ex-students, former teachers and friends are invited to attend, bring sack lunches and drinks, according to Cooter Moore, president.
