SMITH DIRECTS FIGHT AGAINST KLAN AND DRYS

CHARGES ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE WORKING TO DEFEAT DEMOCRATS

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER. Associated Press Staff Writer. NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Home again after a flying campaign visit to Maryland, Governor Smith was on record today with the blunt charge that the Anti-Saloon League and the Ku Klux Klan were forces working hand in hand with the Republican party to bring about his defeat.

Addressing one of the most demonstrative and colorful audiences of the presidential drive in the Fifth Madison square in Baltimore last night, the democratic presidential nominee vigorously assailed the league and the Klan and contended that republican leaders, including Herbert Hoover, were "wiggling and wobbling" on the question of prohibition because their party was held right down to earth by the power and the influences of the forces of intolerance.

Wilson Nominated There speaking in the same building where Woodrow Wilson was nominated 18 years ago and with the president's glow on the platform, the governor devoted a large part of his speech to the argument that the republican party stood for the old order of things and conservatism as opposed to the democratic stand for "Progressive" treatment of the big questions of the country. Foreign policy, water power, the tariff, government reorganization—all were dealt with in detail before prohibition and intolerance were reached.

The Anti-Saloon League, the league charged, had flooded the country with propaganda "in an effort to make God-fearing men and women believe that the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act

The Lubbock county commissioners' court met in a called session at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at the request of officials of the Lubbock County Good Roads association for the purpose of receiving a petition asking for a bond election of $2,000,000 to care for county-wide paving.

Although members of the commission have stated that immediate action would be taken on the petition as soon as it was presented they were under the impression at the beginning of this afternoon's meeting that it was impossible to call a bond election except during regular sessions.

Mrs. Burke Speaker AT AAUW Meeting

A talk by Mrs. H. C. Burke, Jr. of Fort Worth, who is regional director for the American Association of University Women, featured an open house meeting of the local A. U. W. chapter yesterday afternoon in the Technological college home economics practice house. A number of college women who are not members of the A. A. U. W. were in attendance.

Mrs. Burke talked on the ideals and standards of A. A. U. W. and told of the different fields of service for members of the organization.

This was an informal gathering of women Mrs. R. T. Coffey, gave a solo and coffee was served by Mrs. A. H. Leigh, local A. A. U. W. president, and Mrs. Paul W. Horn. Sandwiches and candies were served with the coffee.

Mrs. Burke is retiring president of the Texas Association and came here following a state convention in Amarillo.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

YOU ARE ONLY YOUNG ONCE. WHY NOT FEEL ASKS READER

I wonder if my readers realize how little space I have to say what I have to say. I cannot go into detail about all the problems submitted to me. I can only generalize. If I could talk with you face to face I might modify some of my statements or make exceptions, but not in the column, with so many people waiting for me to answer their questions.

A charming little letter comes to my desk questioning my attitude on getting. Here it is:

"Dear Mrs. Lee: We are constant readers of your column and have discovered in much of your advice that you consider it cheap and vulgar to get. Just what is wrong with getting, if one doesn't go too far? We get a big kick out of it and yet we do not do it professionally. We know our boy friends do not consider us any the cheaper for it, but just good sports. You're only young once, and soon are married. We thank you for your answer."

You thank me whether I agree with you or not. I take it, that is nice of you. You say, "what is wrong with getting if one doesn't go too far?" That is just the point. How far should one go? And isn't that the danger, that two warm blooded young people may be led to go just too far, through even a little getting?

Now, dears, you must not get the idea that I think that a wee kiss, or holding of hands, etc., occasionally, is going to make a coarse and vulgar person of anyone, but I do think that when a girl allows every boy she goes with—even though they are thoroughly nice boys—to kiss her and hug her, it can't help taking a little of the sweetness and blood from her—make her a little less desirable. And boys feel that. Many have written me to that effect, and boys I know have so expressed themselves.

"Dear Mrs. Lee: Some time ago I met a young man with whom I fell in love, but my parents do not approve of his coming. He has left town. He told me he was coming back pretty soon. What must I do to still let him come, for I love him and I believe he loves me. When he left I gave him my address. Did I do right? Should a girl say anything about writing first, or should the boy?"

It was all right to give the address, and it does not much matter which one speaks first about writing. Talk with your parents about the boy and try to get their consent to let him come. They may get over their prejudice, or you may see why they dislike him and realize he is not the friend you want.

American Legion Has Hallowe'en Party

A "Hall of Horrors" fortune telling booths and stunts of various kinds that are peculiar to Halloween were enjoyed Monday evening by about sixty men and women who attended the American Legion party in the Ellis building basement. Women in the Legion Auxiliary entertained on this occasion.

Guests were in costume and the Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Porter were awarded a costume prize.

As guests arrived they were "initiated" in the hall of horrors, after which they were taken to the entertainment parlor in a wheelchair. A round of the booths was made and Mrs. J. B. Jackson told a ghost story—Pumpkin-pie, was served with whipped cream, coffee and salted almonds. A general sing-song closed the entertainment.

Box Supper Feature Of Social

A box supper was a feature of a Halloween party given Monday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam T. Davis, 1002 Avenue O, for members of the First Methodist Wesleyan class and their husbands. Proceeds from the supper will be used in buying chairs for the class in the new Sunday school building that has been erected by the Methodists.

Hallowe'en games and stunts were enjoyed during the evening. Among those in attendance were Messrs. Richardson, D. B. Dook, W. O. Stevens, H. W. Sims, Eric Thompson, W. C. Retlander, Clarence Mast, Sam T. Davis, Mrs. Pebble Taylor, J. T. Trigg, Mrs. W. L. Baugh, Mrs. Green, Bunnie Dow, Rusty and Mollie Davis.

Barrier Home Scene Of C. E. Party

About twenty members of the First Christian church Senior Endeavor attended a Halloween party Monday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Barrier, 1802 Avenue I, spending the hours enjoying Hallowe'en games and stunts. Apples, pop corn balls and other confections were served.

The stockings had surely will not last long. The ladies can't be running around continually without any money.

Church Federation In Session Monday

Church women of the city met at the First Christian church yesterday afternoon when the Federation of Church societies met in regular fifth Monday session there.

Mrs. Virgil Kerahner, who is visiting here from South America, made a general talk on Brazil and answered questions which were propounded by those in attendance in a round table talk.

Mrs. J. A. Pressley, of the First Presbyterian church and president of the federation, conducted the devotional, telling the story of the Good Shepherd. Mrs. Eric Stuedeman, of the First Baptist church, made a report on the work of the Light refreshments were served by the hostess society.

Dance For Nurses Is Large Function

The largest and probably the gayest affair of Monday evening was a masquerade dance given by the Lubbock Sanitarium staff for the nurses and their friends in the U-Town Dance Palace.

Special waltzes and other dances were given during the evening in the hall, which was decorated for the Hallowe'en occasion. In one corner was a grotesque display that had been prepared and booths were arranged along one side of the palace for fortune telling and other features.

A grand march was led by Dr. O. Peters and Miss Virginia Macomber. Prizes were awarded couples in special dances and costumes were judged. The Charleston was danced by Leroy Patterson.

Hallowe'en favors were distributed and punch was served. There was an attendance of about one hundred and fifty.

PAVING

Facing being done or contemplated along the route of Highway No. 9 were presented the delegates to the convention.

Attendance Cut Down

Representative here were given a full realization of the need of hard surfaced highways through West Texas following a trip through mud and over slippery roads to attend the meeting. Attendance of the convention was cut down considerably because of the muddy slick roads, said A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce in calling the meeting to order.

Other officers selected yesterday include: James W. Stevens, of Tulsa, as vice-president; and Rolla White, of Brady, as vice-president. Two men from each county along the route will be selected to serve on the board of directors of the organization. Last year's representatives from here were Jed A. Rix and Judge Charles Nordyke.

B. Sherrod, president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the visitors to the city and explained the county's paving and hard-surfacing project expected to be presented to the county commission in the near future.

Judge Mathison, retiring president of the association, reviewed the history of the organization through county's existence. He stated that more good roads had been built in West Texas during the past twelve months than in any other section during a similar period of time.

Report On Improvements

Reports were made by each of the representatives on the progress made in their respective counties during the past year. Col. Harve H. Haines, secretary-manager of the Amarillo Board of City Development, told of a trip last year to the North and East over more than 1,000 miles.

The speakers were unanimous in urging that rapid strides be taken for more paving along the highway.

Applause followed the announcement of Jed Rix, chairman of the Lubbock County Good Roads association, that the petition asking for a county wide bond election of $2,000,000 to care for paving and hard-surfacing the highways of the county would be presented to the commissioners as soon as they could be gathered together this morning by Judge Charles Nordyke.

A discussion of the requirements of the state highway department for highways was held. George A. Field, district highway engineer stationed here, announcing that the present specification of the state was hundred feet rather than the former eight. He stated that the most important problem of the department at the present time was that of location.

BOTH PARTIES

Liquor, Tariff are Issues

That part of the present political agitation which lies on the surface is concerned with prohibition and the tariff, for this is an industrial state and a state with an enormous wet sentiment within its borders. That part which lies beneath the surface concerns race with religion and with race, for many groups of varied racial origin, have come here through the years to live side by side with the old hereditary stock of New England. Religion has been debated comparatively little from the stump, but when the voters write letters to the editor, many of them discuss it copiously.

Massachusetts has been almost impregnable republican in the past, but so far as the record goes the great contention and hope of the democrats lies in the fact that a

Political workers have not found it easy to trace out the effects of all of the racial and religious influences which have come into the under-currents of politics this year in Massachusetts. Which makes it more than ordinarily difficult to predict precisely what the state will do at the ballot box a week from today.

Blasted out of solid rock, a new strong room covering an area of two and a half acres has been constructed 150 feet below the Bank of France. The task occupied 1950 men for three years, working night and day.

Republican Nationally

On the basis of the record, the great consolation of the republicans lies in the regularity with which the state has persisted in voting the republican ticket nationally. Cleveland could not break that regularity, and although Wilson did get the electoral vote in the three-way split of 1912, it was by a minority vote. Four years ago, Massachusetts gave Coolidge, her favorite son, two and a half times as many votes as she gave his democratic opponent.

There is speculation as to how solidly various racial groups will come to the support of Smith. One important group about which this speculation centers is that made up of French-Canadian Catholics.

Throughout New England there has been a noticeable Irish affiliation between the French and Irish Catholics. Trouble between them in Rhode Island resulted some years ago in a public controversy of large proportions. The French Catholics have been traditionally democratic. This time democratic leaders say many of the French will vote for Smith, but the republicans declare the number will not be great enough to have an appreciable effect.

PICKERS AND PICKING STOP

INFLUX OF LABOR IS HALTED BY COLD; HARVEST SLOWED

Both the influx of cotton pickers and the activities of cotton picking was halted by the present cold spell. R. Frank Nelson, U. S. Federal farm employment agent stationed here to solve the need of pickers in the South Plains, said this morning.

He said that the wet muddy roads slowed down the incoming pickers to a considerable extent and that the downpours had brought picking to a complete halt. He predicted that although a hard freeze would result in considerable damage to the cotton crop, that he did not feel that a killing frost would cause any great harm.

Mr. Nelson stated that many cotton pickers could yet be used in this section. A few have been coming in for the past few days. Securing of places to board the incoming pickers is one of the outstanding problems at the present time, he said.

According to his statement this morning, "Little Juarez," Lubbock's Mexican quarters, is full almost to overflowing point, with cotton pickers waiting for dry weather so that they can be distributed throughout the section.

force of about 100 miles an hour off the French and Irish coasts. The British meteorological department announced that there was a deep depression moving southward from Ireland.

The airship carried 62 persons including a stowaway discovered when she was putting out to sea. There were a crew of 37 three United States naval officers traveling as observers, 11 passengers making their first trans-Atlantic flight and 10 other passengers completing a journey from Friedrichshafen to Lakehurst and return. One of the new passengers was a woman, Mrs. Clara Adams of Tannersville, Pa.

The stowaway, Clarence Terrence, 19 year old cadet of the Rye Country club, eluded hundreds of eyes watchful for just such an attempt and gained distinction of being the first person to steal a ride on a trans-Atlantic flight.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Oct. 30 (AP)—A radio message received from the Graf Zeppelin at 9:20 a. m. today (3:30 eastern standard time) said that at 6 a. m. the airship was 250 miles northeast of Cape Race, Newfoundland. All was well on board.

The dirigible of the Zeppelins made preparations to welcome the largest airship built, racing home to complete the first commercial air voyage to America and return. The huge air liner is expected to arrive here tomorrow afternoon. Her flight is viewed as an acid test to the dirigible's claim to be received as a medium of ocean air travel which would definitely dispense such craft from the realm of legend and experiment.

As soon as the town fathers learned that the Graf Zeppelin had left Lakehurst, N. J., they decreed the erection of a rostrum on the air-drome. There Dr. Hugo Eckener, builder and commander of the airship, and his chiefs of staff will be welcomed on their arrival. At night an enormous torchlight parade will be held in honor of the new conquerors of the Atlantic.

Grapes are now being harvested along the vine clad shores of Lake Constance and the triumphant home coming of Graf Zeppelin is expected to enliven the traditional convivial spirits and sentiments of the Saubian populace.

Aboard the air liner is a bale of cotton destined for Bremen and this is considered to be of great importance as representing the first commodity of commercial importance to traverse the Atlantic by the air route.

BAND WAGON PLANS TOUR

NEXT APPEARANCE DUE TO BE WEDNESDAY NIGHT ON TRIP

Jupiter Pluvius willing the next appearance of the South Plains Democratic Band Wagon will be tomorrow night in a series of political rallies throughout the county. The regular band wagon organization will be broken up into groups of two speakers for each rally.

It is planned by the democratic organization to carry out an intensive final wind-up campaign from now until the election next Tuesday. Inclement weather prevented a number of speaking Monday and Tuesday nights. The campaign planned will end with final rally in Lubbock on next Monday night on the eve of the election when the last appeal to the voters of the county will be made. Crowds of the band will be the scenes of rallies in the interest of Gov. Al Smith's presidential candidacy on Saturday afternoon and night.

Speakers at the rallies tomorrow night are: W. W. Campbell and Vaughn E. Wilson at Foster; Pink L. Parrish and H. T. Kimbro at Carville; James H. Goodman and C. B. Powell at Canyon; E. L. Klett and L. A. Howard at Culwell; and Robert H. Benn and Durwood Bradley at Center.

Thursday the entire band wagon will go to Southland for a rally.

COMMITTEE ON PROJECT TO MEET WEDNESDAY MORNING HERE

A committee, selected from the Retail Merchants' association to work out a more effective parking system in the city will meet in the offices of the organization in the city hall at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

This will be the initial meeting of the committee. A chairman is to be selected and work started on some system whereby additional parking space will be afforded to shoppers in the city.

Result of the investigation and planning of this committee will be presented and recommended to the city commission as a means of solving the parking problem.

Members of the committee were selected from representative parts of the business section. The committee is composed of Walter Myrick, J. A. Hodges, George Moore, Olin J. Green, E. L. Robertson, Albert Pennington and Jack Parsons.

CORSICANA, Oct. 30 (AP)—Rain amounting to 1.15 inches fell here last night, and was followed by a drop in temperature that sent the thermometer to 43 degrees. Indications were that the precipitation would continue today.

"The Cooking Marvel of the Age---Detroit Jewel Gas Ranges"

Mrs. Myra Oliver Dougan

Crowds who attended the keynote lecture of Mrs. Dougan marveled at the ease and grace of her preparation of food. Time after time she reminded them of the need of the proper stove to prepare edible dishes and in many cases demonstrated the wonder qualities of the Detroit Jewel.

This is her fourteenth school to use this famous range and she declares that anticipations of its finished results have always been fulfilled—better food, more economical. We urge you to hear these marvelous lectures and see the finished product at the Uptown Dance Palace each afternoon from 2 until 5.

Throughout this week we are making liberal allowance on your old stove.

It may be worn out and terrible looking but we will give you a very liberal allowance in exchange for one of these new model Detroit Jewel's. The balance can be paid at your convenience as your budget will permit. Ask our credit department about this easy pay plan.

ENJOY BETTER FOOD WITH THE DETROIT JEWEL!

They Bake Better

Mrs. Dougan is using an all white model in her Lectures.

Beauty that is supreme in this new and better Detroit Jewel Stove is complemented by the very latest mechanical improvements that tends to make this the "Gas Range Perfect".

For example, the new air circulation system has done more to equalize and evenly distribute the heat than any other improvement in the past decade of stove making. Air chambers and passages cause the heat that originates at the bottom of these cabinet ranges to rise evenly to the top hence, a uniformly cooked morsel.

Construction and size is also carefully analyzed. A sturdy range is the finished product because of this forethought in engineering. Room sizes are taken into consideration and stoves are made to fit any particular need. All in all it's just the best in stoves you will readily see after a close inspection and the demonstrations at the cooking schools.

There is a stove in our most complete department that will fit your particular need and our budget system will permit the purchase on easy suitable payments. Enjoy better food and greater cooking happiness. Come in any day and let us counsel with you about your stove requirements.

Free!

A $10 credit each day on one of these beautiful new model stoves will be given some woman attending the Cooking School. Information as to how to receive this gift can be obtained at the school or by coming to our store on Broadway.

Each of the five women will be permitted to deduct this amount from the regular price of the stove. Our installment plan enables you to pay the balance after the first payment is made in suitable monthly payments. No woman is allowed two or more credit allowances during this week.

HOOVER'S TALK FOR ST. LOUIS STIRS INTEREST

NOMINEE'S SPEECH IN THAT CITY BRINGS PREDICTIONS

By JAMES L. WEST
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Aside from his speech of acceptance perhaps no address Herbert Hoover has made in this campaign has aroused keener advance interest than the one he will deliver next Friday night at St. Louis.

Dealing almost entirely with farm relief, the speech not only will be the last word of the Republican nominee before election day on this outstanding issue, but it is likely to furnish the pattern after which his first message to congress will be fashioned if he is successful in his quest of the presidency.

While the contents of the address are being closely guarded, it is believed that Hoover has followed the suggestions of his advisers to discuss in rather complete detail the manner in which he believes his formula for farm aid will work out and elaborate upon the various provisions of that formula.

In his acceptance speech, the Republican standard bearer put the tariff first in his discussion of the agricultural question, but advisers received here indicated that his proposal for a farm board to handle crop surpluses with federal financial aid is one which has attracted more widespread interest in the corn and wheat belts.

Greater tariff protection and a measure establishing a more satisfactory marketing system are coupled with the farm board and the three go to make up a program which congressional leaders doubt can be translated into legislation at the three months session of Congress which will begin on December the 5.

Especially would this be so if advocates of the McNary-Haugen bill should renew their efforts on behalf of that legislation, which twice has been vetoed by President Coolidge. Herbert Hoover has stated that if Congress fails to act at this session and if the voters continue the Republican party in control of the government he will call an extra session of the seventy-first congress.

Hoover planned to finish his St. Louis speech today and to resume work on the three others he will deliver as he swings through the border states of Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky and Missouri and on across Kansas, Colorado, Utah, Nevada and California.

"No church that I ever heard of, no church that you ever heard of," the governor asserted amid loud applause, "attempted to make the Eighteenth Amendment or the Volstead Act an act of faith."

Brow-Beating Legislation

"What is it?" he continued. "It is nothing more or less than legislation passed in the stress of war and lobbied through the congress by the brow-beating methods of the Anti-Saloon League."

The governor contended that every religion taught the value of sobriety and temperance, as well as the danger of intolerance, and declared he could not escape the thought that it must be "quite a shock to the American people to have the moral power of the church used to impress men and women with the idea that in talking against the Eighteenth Amendment or Volstead Act they are against every church, or that they have sinned against God himself."

Say Norris Threatened

Senator Norris, republican independent of Nebraska, who, in a speech Saturday night announced his support of Governor Smith, was said by the nominee to have received a "red-blooded threat" from the Anti-Saloon League declaring it would withdraw its support of the Nebraskan if he made that speech.

"That means," the governor said amid cheers, "that all of Senator Norris' great work in the senate, all the efforts that he put into the advancement of progressive legislation, all that he did for men, women and children throughout the country falls to the ground and tumbles into dust in the eyes of the Anti-Saloon League just as soon as he runs counter to their ideas and just as soon as he gets out of line and out of tune with their bigotry and intolerance."

Referring to "that gallant band of patriots known as the Ku Klux Klan," the governor said: "I never hear the words without having the thought flashed across my mind, what must the American people think after the countless millions of dollars they have poured into the cost of public education to see reared up in a country like our organization like this."

A roar of applause swept the flag-waving, paper-throwing thousands that jammed into the armory, as the governor said there is abundant evidence that the Klan is receiving "a good deal of encouragement from some republican leaders."

The nominee brought applause when he said he would "sooner go down to ignominious defeat than to be elected to any office in this country, if to accomplish it I had to have the support of any group with such perverted ideas of Americanism."

The governor was given an ovation that lasted approximately 20 minutes when he entered the armory and frequently during the course of his address he was forced to quiet the makers.

His Family Can Outvote Hoover's Two To One

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—The Alfred E. Smith family can outvote the Herbert Hoover family to one next Tuesday as there are ten of voting age in the immediate family the democratic presidential candidate and only five in that of the republican nominee.

Besides the governor and Mrs. Smith there are two sons and their wives and two daughters and their husbands who can cast their ballots.

In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Hoover there are two sons, both of voting age, and the wife of the son, Herbert, Jr.

All five of the Hoovers will vote at the same polling place on the campus at Stanford university, but the members of the Smith family will have to separate, some of them voting outside of New York city.

The reason for the unusual shape was the large number of independent candidates for the bench, each of whom must be allotted a separate column headed by the "party" name or slogan he chooses.

Light Gravity Oil Production Is Less

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 30 (AP)—The downward trend in the daily average production in light gravity oils in virtually all fields of the United States during the past month continued during the week ending Oct. 27, with a 5,860 barrel decrease in Oklahoma fields; 1,738 barrels in the West Texas fields and 5,581 barrels in the Mid-continent area, according to the Oil and Gas Journal.

Although a total increase of 4,743 barrels was recorded during the week the deficit was made up by an unusual increase in heavy gravity oil production throughout the country. Heavy gravity oil showed an increase of 7,621 barrels during the week.

The grand total daily average production for the United States during the week was 2,513,378 as compared to 2,508,636 during the week ending Oct. 20.

RAIN FORCES MATADORS TO TAKE INDOOR WORKOUT MONDAY

SANDIE COACH STRIVES TO KEEP DOWN OVERCONFIDENCE

DOPE BASED ON SCORES FAVORS BILLIES TO WIN

TECH TEAM FAR FROM DISCOURAGED BY LOSS TO FROGS

A chilling rain which swept across the Tech gridiron Monday afternoon prevented the Tech Matadors from taking their first workout in preparation for their hard game this week-end with the Daggle Baker Hill Billies in Brownwood, and the Scarlet and Black gridsters were forced to be content with a lengthy stall practice and blackboard drill.

The Matadors emerged from their hard battle with the T. C. U. Horned Frogs without any serious injuries and except for a few bruises the squad is ready to tackle the T. I. A. eleven. Spurred by their success in crossing the Frogs' goal line, the Crimson aggregation resumed training with the powerful Hill Billy crew as the next foe.

Although clearly outclassed by the superior man power of the T. C. U. team, the Matadors scored seven first downs against the Southwest Conference leaders, and so do not exhibit an offensive which gained favorable mention from the conference experts. The brilliant performance of Captain Walker was the high spot of the contest. The Matador scoring ace further proved his mettle by scoring the first touchdown of the 1928 season, scoring Matty Bell eleven, and thereby proved himself one of the outstanding backs in Texas gridiron circles.

Comparative scores give the Hill Billies an edge over the Matadors. The former scored two touchdowns against the McMurry Indians while Tech won by a field goal over the Abilene team. However, neither of the two markers scored by Daniel Baker came by sheer driving power. The Billies took advantage of breaks of the game to defeat the 1927 T. I. A. champs.

Three strenuous days of training are in store for the Matador gridsters before Coaches Freehand and Payne will pronounce them ready for the Hill Billy tilt. A number of mistakes which stood out in the Tech offense will be corrected and a defense for the strong Billy attack will be worked on.

Hooks and Slides

Cochrane Worked For It
Mickey Cochrane may not have deserved the American League's most valuable player prize in preference to Heinie Manush, but he certainly worked for it.

By his individual efforts Manush had much to do with the transformation of the St. Louis Browns into a first division club but Cochrane had his own personal responsibilities with an important team in a torrid pennant race.

Cochrane worked behind the bat in nearly every game of the season and he had more duties than to catch what the pitcher threw at him. He had to strain himself in every inning of every game to put some fight in the team.

The ball players say that Cochrane was one of only two "money players" on the team and that is their way of saying something mighty important about the players on a team that were just noosed out of a championship.

Fox Couldn't Get Tough
Mechanically Jimmy Fox may have been more valuable to the Athletics than Cochrane was. Some baseball men think he was because he caught, played third base and first base and hit nobly. In the positions he was forced to fill he was more necessary than Cochrane because there was a very good catcher sitting on the bench.

But Jimmy is just a boy and he couldn't have the influence on his teammates that the older Cochrane had and he couldn't call the older men on the team as Cochrane called them plenty.

No Kick Either Way
The voting of the committee of writers upon whose judgment the prize was awarded indicated that opinion was so closely drawn between Cochrane and Manush that no serious kick could have been made if either one had received the slight majority.

Selling Wholesale Now
The owners of the San Francisco Pacific Coast League club may pull something new in the way of a sale during the winter months by disposing of its outfield as a unit.

Batteries have been sold before and the St. Louis Browns and the New York Yankees bought second base combinations last year but it is now recalled that any major league ball club ever bought an entire outfield from one club.

The San Francisco magnates have been trying to get a pile of money for Gene Dreyer but major purchasers balked at the price. They then suggested that they would throw the other two outfielders, Earl Averill and Roy Johnson in for the proper price.

BACKFIELD ACE

Experts on the Pacific coast term Lee Egan, California quarterback the trickiest field general on the coast and they ought to know from his work last year for the Golden Bears. Egan is back with California again and has done splendid work in preliminary skirmishes.

AMARILLO HAS HIGH RESPECT FOR LUBBOCK

WESTERNERS ADMITTED TOUGH FOR NORTH PLAINS TEAM

AMARILLO, Oct. 30.—The Sandies have now taken on a different attitude; they are ready to settle down to business and get to work seriously in an effort to go as far as possible in the state high school gridiron race.

They have played two conference games so far and both of them have been easy to win. Plainview was trampled 53 to 0 and Quanah was crushed 102 to 0. The Sandies didn't have to push themselves to win, as the score indicates, but they realize that it is a rocky road from now on. None of the other teams in this district are being considered as easy.

They started training with a new attitude Monday afternoon. The day was cold and the smiles were missing from the faces of the Amarillo crew. They are serious. They barked and snapped at each other, gave one and all the rasp—for not training seriously and for the lack of fight which was shown in the first quarter of the Quanah game. Sandies know Lubbock strength. Amarillo realizes that the Lubbock Westerners under the tutelage of Henry Frnka and Del Morgan are planning their campaign for Saturday's game so as to put up as stiff a battle as possible. They realize that even a fair Lubbock team is hard to beat in Lubbock and they will not be out for a good time when the Westerners are met on the field of battle.

Amarillo fans will make their team feel as much at home as possible by turning out 500 strong in a Santa Fe special for Lubbock.

The high school band and pep squad will make the trip and Lubbock will see one of the most impressive demonstrations when the pep squad and band swing into action before the game. The fans will parade through Lubbock as soon as the special arrives, according to present plans.

Drizzle Fails To Halt Westerners

The cold drizzle which drove all West Texas indoors Monday was not enough to keep the Lubbock Westerners from beginning their training grid for the crucial game of the season here Saturday with the Amarillo Golden Sandstorm eleven and Coaches Frnka and Morgan sent their charges through a fast clip on the Central Ward grounds Monday afternoon.

Facing the highly-touted Sandies with the regulars on the hospital list makes the outlook for the local high school aggregation look anything but rosy. Although the Electra clash the past Friday ended favorably for the Westerners in the win column, the game was costly for the Lubbock team in view of the hard tussle with Amarillo this week.

A possibility that three regulars in the Lubbock line will be kept out of the game Saturday has dimmed the hopes for a Westerner victory. Raymond Barton, tackle and line-captain, was taken from the Electra fray with an injured shoulder and is almost certain to watch the game from the sidelines Saturday. With Barton out of the lineup, the Lubbock line will unquestionably be weakened.

Coch Frnka must also find capable reserves for the guard posts to fill the places of Charley Wilson and Elmer Calhoun, regulars. With Lawson on the hospital list, the Westerners will be without the services of their most powerful line plunger.

Amarillo, Vernon and Lubbock are in a deadlock for first place in the district with two victories each. Vernon beat the Coyotes of Wichita Falls Saturday, and Lubbock defeated the Electra Tigers Friday. The games this past week end make the standings as follows:

Team	Won	Lost	Per
Amarillo	2	0	100
Vernon	2	0	100
Lubbock	2	0	100
Wichita Falls	1	1	50
Electra	1	2	33
Plainview	0	2	0

University of Pittsburgh Football Coach
The importance of the kicking game was impressed on me several years ago when my team won a game by using the punt as an offensive weapon.

In 1923 Pitt played a team rated easily as one of the best developed in the east in several years, on a gridiron that was a sea of mud. Rain poured down throughout the game.

During the first half, we kicked on second and third down and in the last half we kicked on first down. The ball was slippery, but fortunately we had a punter who could kick a wet ball almost as well as a dry one.

There were many fumbles in the first half and we felt safer when the other team had the ball. We played a strictly defensive game and waited for the "break."

The "break" came. One of the many fumbles was recovered by a Pitt man a few yards from the goal line and we put across a touchdown. It won the game.

Ordinarily, I do not advocate playing for the "break," but under the circumstances it worked satisfactorily. Games have been won by playing a kicking game and waiting for the other team to fumble. However, since the new rule was adopted making a fumbled punt dead at the point of recovery, the value of such tactics has been decreased.

The quarterback is taught to make the best use of the kicking game. The position of the ball, the effectiveness of the punter, the ability of the line to go down the field under kicks, the condition of the field, the strength of the opponent.

Griffiths Scores Fiftieth Triumph
CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Jerry "Tuffy" Griffiths has turned back a Canadian light heavyweight threat and added his fiftieth straight ring victory.

With comparative ease, the Sioux City, Ia., youth outpointed Harry Dillon, former Canadian champion, in 10 rounds at the coliseum last night. He floored Dillon for a count of three in the fourth round, and carried the fight to his opponent throughout with his hooks and right crosses.

Disallow Protest On Football Game

CORSICANA, Oct. 30.—The executive committee of district fourteen, University of Texas Inter-scholastic League, has refused to allow a protest by Ennis on the State Orphan Home-Ennis football game here. Ennis contended that the State Orphan's touchdown, which won for the Corsicana eleven, was made after time had expired.

EASTERN GRID LEADERS MEET THIS SATURDAY

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY TO CLASH WITH GEORGETOWN

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—There are 16 half dozen games on this week's eastern football calendar to give pigskin followers their customary quota of thrills but only one of them will have much bearing on the sectional championship fight.

At the moment it appears that in the event Army's dashing, powerful squad eventually meets defeat, the clash of Georgetown and New York University at the Yankee Stadium next Saturday will go far toward deciding where the mythical Eastern title will go. It will not be all-decise, however, for both must meet another good team before the final curtain is rung down.

Bear Star Has Close Escape

WACO, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Jake Wilson whose speed in a broken field makes him the outstanding quarter back on Baylor University's football squad, probably was saved from death in a fire here today by the same fireman of foot he exhibits on the gridiron.

The athlete, who works as a fireman to defray his expenses through the university, and Wilbur Thomas, another fire fighter, were pinned near a wall by falling timbers and rescuers worked 15 minutes liberating them. Firemen were extinguishing minor blazes in the Exchange Hotel, which was rased by an early morning fire at an estimated loss of $100,000, when the second floor of the structure collapsed. Warned by the crackling of timbers, Wilson, directly under the falling embers, dashed for safety.

Yale-Dartmouth Attracts

Although both have suffered defeat, the Yale-Dartmouth clash at New Haven will not lack for interest. Yale lost by two touchdowns to Army and Dartmouth by a similar margin to Harvard but that is not another way of saying they have weak teams. Army is a match for any one and it appears that Harvard may be the same. Harvard, has no one harder than Leigh to beat Saturday.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF FOREIGN NEWS

By MELVIN E. COLEMAN

(Cable Editor, The Associated Press)

The reparations and war debts problem of Europe and the question of naval disarmament, hitherto treated by interested governments as separate subjects, became fused when Stanley Baldwin, prime minister of England, coupled a discussion of the Franco-British Naval accord with a declaration that Great Britain had entered into no deal with France that would endanger her relations with Germany, Italy or the United States.

German circles, ever alert upon this point and the coincidence that it came up just as the heirs of the Kaiser's war policy were about to ask the powers to submit the reparations question to a commission of experts as had been agreed at Geneva in September.

War Debts Up Again. The prime minister's speech followed others of similar tenor by members of his cabinet. Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, told an audience at Chislehurst that Great Britain would be glad to accept an invitation to a reparations conference and would do all it could to forward any reasonable agreement. He said, once more, however, that the British treasury must have from continental Europe in the way of war debt payments, and amount equal to that which she must pay the United States.

Lord Cuthbert, acting foreign minister, made another revelation respecting the much discussed Naval accord. He said that Great Britain had proposed to France abolition of all submarines and had accepted the latter's plan for a limitation of large submarines on the proverbial ground that half a loaf was better than none. He denounced critics of the agreement who saw in it a slap at the United States by asking:

How can we maintain good relations all around if friendliness to each nation is always taken as hostility to another?

These speeches followed the chorus of criticism that broke out abroad in England after the long delayed publication of the official text of the accord. The "white papers" issued simultaneously in London and Paris revealed that there was a bargain outside the naval questions before the two governments reached the agreement on sea armaments.

Great Britain said she would adopt the French idea that trained army reserves should not be counted when the question of land armaments comes up, and in return France came to the British idea of limiting all war vessels of more than 10,000 tons and all ships under that tonnage which carry guns of more than six-inch caliber.

Italy Is Agreeable. Italy may have had some inside information as to this when she responded to the Naval accord communication, for she then said that the discussion should take in land and air as well as sea forces. Mussolini expressed a willingness to limit Italy's total armament to any agreeable figure, provided it did not place his country in a lower category than any other continental power. Italy was also agreeable to a similar basis for total naval tonnage.

The practical effects of such provisions, it was pointed out, would be to cut down the French army to the size of Italy's and to give the latter preponderant naval forces in the Mediterranean. This latter would be true because Italy's home and colonial ports are on the sea whereas England and France, with highly important interests there, must also patrol world-wide routes to far-flung possessions.

Suspicion Is Paramount. Despite all the talk about disarmament, generosity in the settlement of war debts and similar trends toward stability in peace, there persisted the usual increase of suspicion, international "fears" and distrust of motives. Premier Baldwin took cognizance of these when he warned his London hearers that the "tiger characteristics" of mankind, as revealed in war, might readily be summoned from their lairs by unscrupulous politicians and agitators.

Count De Broqueville, minister of national defense for Belgium, gave frank expression to the lingering fears of German aggression. He told parliament that it ought to increase the term of compulsory military service, now set at six months, because the present arrangement left the eastern Belgian garrisons open to a surprise attack from Germany half of each year.

China's new nationalist government held to its policy of blocking every possible way an extension of Japanese influence in Manchuria. C. T. Wang, foreign minister said that his government would object strongly to a loan of $30,000,000 which New York bankers were said to have agreed to furnish to a semi-official Japanese concern for use in Manchuria. Mr. Wang said that province was a part of China and Nanking could not approve a loan by one foreign group to another foreign group for investment within its domain.

TORAL TRIAL SET NEXT WEEK

OBREGON MURDER WILL HAVE ECHO IN THE COURT ROOM

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 30.—The trial of Jose De Leon Toral, who assassinated General Obregon, president-elect, will be set probably for early next week, along with that of Mother Concepcion, charged with complicity. Counsel for the defense today delivered to the court an outline of the case. The attorneys maintain that the assassination of General Obregon was a crime of political nature—in the hope of alleviating the religious situation of the country and did so without any feeling of hatred toward the victim. They assert that Mother Concepcion is entirely innocent and demand that the prosecutor be removed from office for a period of three months for having proceeded illegally in formulating charges against the mother superior not based on affidavits, as required by law. They ask further a similar suspension of the judge who admitted the charges.

Colonel Lindbergh shot the antelope, they said, after a 20-mile chase in an attempt to get close enough to his quarry to shoot it. First reports were that a Colonel McNab from Mexico City had shot the antelope from a plane Lindbergh was piloting, but visitors on the

'Feed Back' Radio Title Is Denied

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company was today denied the title to the "regenerative" or "feed back" circuit, a basic feature in radio amplification, used in many receiving sets. The supreme court announced without opinion that the decision of the lower court was affirmed on authority cited. The Westinghouse claim was based on patents granted Edward H.
