U. S. May Pull Big Part Of Iceland Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — Withdrawal of a substantial part of the American military force now stationed in Iceland is under consideration at the highest U.S. and Atlantic Alliance levels, informed officials revealed Saturday.

The Defense Department declined to discuss this development in view of President Eisenhower's absence on his good-will tour in Europe, Africa and Asia. But a reduction in the 6,000-man force in the North Atlantic island is understood to be one of the matters that will come before the NATO defense ministers meeting in Paris starting Dec. 14.

U.S. troops first went to Iceland in the months before the United States officially entered World War II 18 years ago Monday. The U.S. forces now in Iceland are there under terms of the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance of which Iceland is a member.

Iceland furnishes no combat forces to the alliance but her geographical position has served as a vital link in East-West hemispheric defenses.

Most of the Americans in Iceland belong to the Army and the Air Force. There is an Army group and engineers whose main functions is to look after the air base and supporting facilities centered at Keyflavik.

In addition to providing ground support at the air base, Army and Air Force personnel man radar and communications installations in Iceland.

The Navy has a much smaller group ashore, but is concerned with communications and the constant antisubmarine surveillance of the North Atlantic passages.

Several years ago strong political pressures developed in Iceland for withdrawal of the U.S. forces, but that situation was quieted down through diplomatic means.

Early this fall, the Defense Department removed Brig. Gen. Gilbert L. Pritchard, commander of U.S. troops in Iceland, 'in response to a request by the Icelandic government."

The general's removal followed an incident in which two Icelandic civil defense officials said they had been forced to lie face down on wet ground by an American sentry while he took time to find out whether they had authority to enter a U.S. military base.

The current discussion over the removal of U.S. forces was understood to have no connection with the early September incident. And there was no official word that the Icelandic government had made any formal request for the departure of American troops.

However, there is no getting away from the fact that the people of Iceland have never become reconciled to having U.S. troops stationed in their midst.

In recent years, the United States has sought to avoid any situations that might lead to the exchange of formal documents, with possibly embarrassing results, between this government and Iceland.

A case in point is the question of stationing U.S. Negroes in Iceland. Administration sources said Saturday there are no Negroes presently assigned to American units in Iceland.

However, both the Defense Department and the Icelandic Embassy in Washington have denied the existence of any agreement defining the identity of Americans in Iceland.

Negotiators Meet Again On Monday

By JOE F. KANE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Union and management negotiators who held "constructive" talks Saturday will meet again Monday in another effort to settle the steel strike.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, declined to give any details on Saturday's discussions other than to say he thought they were constructive.

Finnegan had said earlier that he would offer some settlement proposals. He didn't say what they might be but added that his mediators had been suggesting peace plans to both sides right along.

R. Conrad Cooper, top industry negotiator, and David J. McDonald, Steelworkers president, said after Saturday's 2½-hour meeting they had no comment.

Renewal of the 166-day strike is threatened when a Taft-Hartley Act injunction expires Jan. 26.

Boyd Leedom, chairman of the National Labor Relations Board, estimated in a New York speech Saturday that the strike has cost workers 1¾ billion dollars, has cost industry 1½ billion dollars and the government $1,600,000,000 —a total of $4,850,000,000.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), assistant Senate Democratic leader, said in an interview that the mushrooming losses from the strike make it certain that the federal government will be in the red this fiscal year.

Mansfield said that if the strike resumes after the 80-day cooling-off period, Congress will have to find a way to handle it "through some sort of arbitration or special labor court able to deal with these problems with full authority."

The industry is standing firm on its offer of a three-year contract with benefits it values at 30 cents an hour and the union values at 24 cents. The union demands the terms of its Kaiser Steel Corp. Agreement calling for 22½ cents hourly gain over 20 months. There also is disagreement on work rules.

Prestrike wages for Steelworkers averaged $1.11 an hour.

Turkey Next Tour Stop

ROME (AP)—President Eisenhower and Italy's leaders called on their allies Saturday night to keep their defenses up until the Soviet Union agrees to disarm with "controls, inspection and safeguards."

With a final two-hour review of world problems, Eisenhower wound up two days of talks with President Giovanni Gronchi and Premier Antonio Segni. Italy was the first stop on the American leader's 11-nation good-will tour.

Eisenhower declared there can be no letup in the Western defensive position until Moscow agrees to a trustworthy peace.

Eisenhower also promised the Italian government to look favorably on Italy's desire to join any East-West summit conference that deals with European security as well as disarmament problems.

The President set forth his views in a joint communique with Gronchi and Segni.

Smiling and chipper, Eisenhower was host later at a formal dinner for the Italian leaders at Villa Taverna, the residence of the U.S. ambassador in Rome.

After dinner, when Gronchi left, Eisenhower accompanied him outside the embassy residence to his car. Despite the chill of the rainy evening, Eisenhower went out without a hat or outer coat. He was only outside a minute or two and was not in the rain.

Eisenhower returned to Quirinal Palace, where he is staying, at 1 p.m.

The President leaves Italy Sunday shortly before noon after an audience with Pope John XXIII. He flies to Turkey, second stop on his tour.

The final communique reported Eisenhower had agreed with the Italian officials on these key points:

1. The 15-nation Atlantic Pact must remain "the cornerstone of their foreign policies." An American spokesman said this means steps should be taken to avoid anything that might weaken the 10-year-old defense treaty.

2. More free countries should join in a coordinated plan for stepping up economic assistance to underdeveloped lands struggling to lift their living standards.

3. Further measures should be taken quickly to wipe out discriminatory trade restrictions which block commerce among free countries.

Eisenhower's three separate talks with Italian officials were conducted in a warm, friendly atmosphere.

At a news conference afterward, Undersecretary of State Robert D. Murphy and White House press secretary James C. Hagerty made clear Italy did not ask to join the scheduled Big Four East-West summit conference.

But Hagerty said Eisenhower promised to look with "a certain sympathy" on Italy's request to be included if East-West talks moved on into the fields of disarmament and European security.

Eisenhower pledged to bring up at the Western summit meeting in Paris Dec. 19 Italy's desire to make what Hagerty described as a maximum contribution to easing world tensions.

Carr Urges Governor To Reveal Plans

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN (AP)—House Speaker Waggoner Carr urged Gov. Price Daniel Saturday to disclose now his plans for financing school improvement.

Carr said he thought the governor should give the public a chance to think over whatever program he has on who will pay the bill, in advance of any special session of the Legislature.

The speaker made public copies of his reply to the governor's request for legislative views on the proposed teachers pay special session.

Daniel has given no sign of what reaction has been to a questionnaire he sent members. He asked whether they thought a fourth special session could get anywhere on the teachers pay and school improvement program.

Carr's reply, one of the few that have reached public notice, said in effect that it was Daniel's constitutional duty alone to decide whether to call the Legislature back. This echoed some others that have given the governor the same advice.

Daniel has been on the road most of this week, carrying with him the letters received thus far. Members of his staff say they do not know what the letters contain.

Sentiment for a special session is being built up by such powerful lobbying groups as the Texas State Teachers Assn., the Texas State AFL-CIO and the State Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Carr said he felt it would be "presumptive for me to tell you what the decision should be." He wrote as a member of the House from Lubbock.

"Legislative opinion can only reflect public opinion," Carr said.

"It will be helpful to the legislators if they can convene, in the event a special session is called, with the benefit of informed public opinion to support their course and decision in regard to the revenues to be raised as well as in regard to the expenditures to be made."

He said he did not think a 30-day session should or would take up any major basic changes in the tax structure.

"The tax issue is much more likely to be new rates for old taxes rather than the imposition of entire new taxes in new fields," the speaker said.

"This makes it all the more important that the public understand what is at stake so that the people may have full opportunity to think about and express themselves to their legislatures in advance of any convening of another special session . . .

"It would seem to me that a sound public service would be rendered by you in laying out substantially, in advance of any session a program of raising the additional revenue so that such program could be reasonably and soberly considered."

Bill Love Enters Race For Sheriff

W. D. (Bill) Love has announced that he will be a candidate for sheriff of Scurry County in the 1960 elections, subject to action in the Democratic primary.

Love, 37, said he believed his experience as a law enforcement officer qualified him to give the type of service Scurry County residents would appreciate.

He began his law enforcement career in 1949 as a deputy stationed in Hermleigh. He entered military service in 1950 during the Korean conflict, returning here in 1951 to join the Snyder Police Dept. He served with the police department until Jan. 1, 1953, when he resigned his post as captain to become chief deputy in the sheriff's department. He held the latter post for four years.

In 1957 he opened a barbershop and beauty salon, which he sold recently to make the race for sheriff.

Love has been a resident of Scurry County for the past 26 years. He is a 1941 graduate of the Fluvanna High School, and he entered military service with the U.S. Army soon after graduation, serving three years during WWI in the European

Fire Damages Building Here

The House of Guns on the Big Spring Highway was heavily damaged by fire which broke out at about 8 p.m. Saturday.

The blaze appeared to be centered mostly in the attic of the building, but the entire structure sustained considerable damage. Firemen fought the blaze for over an hour.

Cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Winds Blast California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Seventy-mile-an-hour blasts of wind battered foothill communities Saturday, ripping off roofs and felling power and telephone poles.

Fire officials called out extra crews to fight hundreds of small brush fires set off by fallen electrical lines.

Toppled trees blocked streets and there were numerous reports of broken windows and doors.

The roof of a six-unit apartment house in suburban Pacoima was torn off just as the occupants were awakening Saturday morning.

A small rowboat was grabbed by gusts off Malibu and blown two miles out to see before the three persons aboard were rescued.

Santa Claus Due In City Thursday

Santa Claus is coming to Snyder next Thursday.

The old gentleman will find the usual festive setting, with a big Christmas parade sharing the spotlight.

The parade is scheduled to launch the activities at 4:30 p.m. It will feature floats entered by area churches, along with several bands.

Several churches already have announced their intentions to enter floats, and others are invited. They may enter by simply advising the Chamber of Commerce that they will have a float.

Local bands will participate, and several out-of-town bands have been invited. By Saturday morning bands from Loraine and Coahoma had accepted invitations, assuring plenty of music during the parade.

Bob Crowell, parade chairman for the sponsoring Chamber of Commerce Merchants committee, said that the parade would form at Avenue U and Twenty-sixth street, from which point it will proceed to the business district.

Parade floats already entered include those from the First Christian Church, St. Elizabeth's Youth Club, Calvary Baptist Church, Mount Olive Baptist Church, Dunn Baptist Church, Trinity Methodist Church, First Methodist MYF and the First Assembly of God.

Santa Claus will appear on the south side of the courthouse during the festivities.

Chilly Winds Fan State

By The Associated Press

Brisk and chilly north winds fanned all of Texas Saturday and a moderate freeze was in store for most of the state.

Small craft warnings went up along the coast after the norther arrived. Winds fanned the sea at 25 to 35 miles an hour and were stronger in gusts.

As the cold front whizzed through Texas into Louisiana and the Gulf, skies cleared Saturday night the only patches of broken clouds were reported at Laredo and Beaumont.

High afternoon readings ranged from 40 degrees at Dalhart to 65 at Brownsville and Harlingen.

Rain totals for the 24-hour period ending at 6 p.m. Saturday included Beaumont .22 inches, Houston .08, Galveston .04, Lufkin .10, Tyler .15 and Longview .11.

Winds which made Texas feel colder than it actually was were expected to diminish during the night, except along the coast. The winds would remain gusty through Sunday.

The norther reached the Lower Rio Grande Valley early Saturday morning. Night temperatures were expected to be just above freezing in the middle and western Valley sections. Light frost was expected.

Harvest Is Tapering Off

Although the harvest season is tapering off, Scurry County gins were still grinding during the week and the total was approaching the 30,000-bale mark by Saturday.

Harvest operations are expected to continue at a fair pace for at least 10 days to two weeks. By the end of the week, most estimates on the ultimate total still were in the neighborhood of 35,000 bales.

Two Hospitalized After Collisions

Two persons were injured, one of them seriously, in separate two-vehicle collisions here at about 3 p.m. Saturday.

Victor Oquist, 69, who lives on the Lubbock Highway, was hospitalized for treatment of injuries after his pickup truck was involved in a collision driven by James Ray of Lubbock. The mishap occurred on the Lubbock Highway in North Snyder.

A door of the pickup truck flew open and Mr. Oquist was thrown to the pavement.

He suffered skull fractures and broken ribs, and his condition was described as serious Saturday night at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Travelling with Ray were his wife and two children, who were not hospitalized.

In the other accident, Mrs. Sally Blythe was hospitalized after a two-car crash at Avenue B and Thirty-sixth Street. The other car was driven by Baily Johnson.

Mrs. Blythe's injuries were not believed to be serious.

Battle Looms On Public Deception

By JOHN W. BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is stepping up its campaign to protect the American consumer from tricky and deceptive salesmanship.

On a scale never before attempted, federal agencies are moving against fraud and deceit in business and advertising.

The television, radio and phonograph record industries have already come under the investigative spotlight. Magazines and newspapers have been told their turn is coming.

Chairman Earl W. Kintner of the Federal Trade Commission announced Saturday a two-day conference on Public Deception will be held here just before Christmas to probe into all forms of shady merchandising.

The major aim of the meeting, which opens Dec. 21, is to alert the public to such things as fictitious pricing, bait advertising, phony labeling, spurious make-money-at-home schemes and other dubious developments in the selling arts, Kintner said.

Earlier last week the FTC put out a special guide warning the Christmas-shopping public about bait advertising. It said this consists of advertising a product at a spectacularly low price just to lure customers into a store. Once there, the buyer is worked on by high pressure salesmen to switch to a higher priced product.

The booklet and upcoming conference are just part of what the FTC hopes will be a wide-ranging campaign to show the public some of the traps set for it in the market place.

The FTC met with representatives of the broadcasting industry Wednesday to plan an attack on false and misleading advertising on radio.

On Monday the Federal Communications Commission will start questioning scores of witnesses in the broadcasting field in hearings that could lead to some censorship over radio and television programs.

The FTC is trying to find out if the government needs to exercise control over program content to eliminate objectionable features turned up in the recent hearings on rigged television quiz shows and under-the-table payoffs to disc jockeys to play certain records.

Ike To Get Full Report By Nehru

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will get a firsthand report from Prime Minister Nehru this week on the extent of the threat posed by Red China to India's non-Communist neighbors.

What he learns may have a vital bearing on the prospects for starting a worldwide disarmament system during Eisenhower's last year in office.

For as Communist China's hostility and aggressiveness toward the outside world increase, there is increasing concern in official quarters here over the possibility of setting up an effective inspection system to police any kind of disarmament accord—even a relatively simple undertaking to refrain from testing nuclear weapons.

Every major Western plan for disarmament, as well as the nuclear test ban treaty now under negotiation at Geneva, provides for the establishment of inspection stations manned by international teams in Red China as well as the Soviet Union.

Questions concerned with Red China's policies and attitudes are expected to be fully discussed by Eisenhower and Nehru during the President's four-day visit to New Delhi beginning next Wednesday. These questions even enter into calculations about the amount of foreign aid, including U. S. help, which India may require in the next few years to carry out its economic expansion plans.

New aggression by Red Chinese forces in disputed border areas between the two countries could force Nehru into an armament program he has long avoided. The cost of this could cut into India's economic plan, unless the burden were offset by more outside aid.

Disarmament issues also are expected to come up because both Eisenhower and Nehru advocate bringing the nuclear arms race under control as a means of providing a global nuclear war.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told a news conference Nov. 24 that it is "very much of a question" whether any kind of a disarmament agreement would be practical without Red China's participation. He declined any further discussion.

But the fact is that of about 180 inspection stations which would be necessary to police the nuclear test ban being negotiated at Geneva, approximately 8 would have to be set up in Red China. That is according to the number and distribution worked out in the Geneva talks already. By way of illustration there would be about 12 on U.S. territory and 20 to 24 on Soviet Territory.

End Of Poll Tax Is Urged

FORT WORTH (AP)—The Texas Farmers Union at the concluding session of its 56th annual here Saturday joined forces with others organizations in calling for elimination of the poll tax as a prerequisite for voting in Texas.

Labor organizations have previously taken this stand.

On strictly the agriculture front, most of the resolutions passed by the delegates were repeats from last years session at Mineral Wells.

One called for the immediate dismissal and replacement of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

A new resolution called for the appointment of a sub-committee of the Senate agriculture committee to investigate the Administration of Price Support programs "and other activities" of the Department of Agriculture.

Alex Dickie Jr. of Denton was re-elected president, along with other officers, Joe J. Berg, Panhandle, vice president, and Richard Alexander, Denton, secretary-treasurer.

Humans Interest Monkey Pioneer

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—A pioneer space monkey named Sam nibbled fruit, scratched himself vigorously, and displayed a healthy interest in humans Saturday after a spinning rocket trip through the fringes of outer space.

Sam, a seven-pound rhesus monkey, was plucked from the Atlantic Friday off the North Carolina coast after a 55-mile-high trip in a Project Mercury capsule. A Navy destroyer brought Texas-born Sam here Saturday.

The capsule, designed to carry man in his first orbit around the earth, was boosted into space from Wallops Island, Va., by a Little Joe rocket. It attained a top speed of 3,600 miles an hour.

"It was very simple," was the way the recovery operation was described by Cmdr. Joseph Sahaj, skipper of the destroyer Borie, which picked up the capsule 120 miles off Cape Hatteras, N. C.

"It took us 15 minutes," Sahaj said. "We received instructions by radio on how to open the capsule. I opened it with a wrench."

Sam, still encased in his airtight biopack container, was lifted from the capsule six hours after the launching and taken to the Borie's sick bay. There, Sahaj opened the container and greeted a hale and hearty Sam, wearing diapers.

Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Agency said Sam apparently had suffered no ill effects during his ride.

The bell-shaped capsule was shot aloft at Wallops at 1:15 a.m. and splashed into the Atlantic 40 minutes later.

It was tracked during its flight by a Neptune search plane piloted by Lt. Robert R. Mackie of Warren, Ohio.

"I saw the rocket go up, about 80 miles from us," Mackie said. "Then it disappeared. My crewmen picked up the signals from the capsule. We flew to the area and sighted green dye marker on the ocean. We radioed its position to the Borie."

While Sam was taken below, the capsule was lashed to the Borie's deck for the return to Norfolk.

Sam was met at Norfolk by Maj. Cloid Green, an Air Force physician from the Aviation School of Medicine at Brooks Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex.

The monkey, still encased in his biopack, was whisked away from the ship to Langley Air Force Base, to be flown to Brooks for detailed examination.

NASA said the primary purpose of the rocket shoot was to test at high altitude the escape system of the Project Mercury capsule.

Requests Top Supply

AUSTIN (AP)—Houston and the Trinity River Authority are asking permission to pump more water from the Trinity than the steam carries during five months of the year, testimony indicated Friday.

Forney Fleming, a Houston engineer, made the admission as he testified before the State Board of Water Engineers.

Houston and TRA seek permits to build a 40 million dollar dam at Livingston and a 5 million dollar salt water barrier at Wallisville.

The hearing was recessed until Tuesday.

Fleming, questioned by Water Board Chairman Durwood Manford, agreed with computations showing the flow of the trinity during the five dry months averages 107 acre feet per day between Livingston and Wallisville.

The Houston - Tra application calls for diversion of 240 acre feet per day at Wallisville — 133 feet more than the average flow.

The difference would have to be made up with water released from upstream.

Ex-Officer Is Charged

HOUSTON (AP) — A former army officer was charged Saturday as an accessory to the slaying of a Houston couple in which Howard Stickney, 21, was given the death sentence.

Police said James Vittitoe, 36, admitted knowing of the Galveston beach killings of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Barnes shortly after they occurred.

Vittitoe is accused of advising Stickney to flee to avoid prosecution and of financing his flight. Canadian police arrested Stickney about a month after the May, 1958, slayings.

Barnes' body was found by rabbit hunters beside a country road near Sugar Land and that of his wife in their apartment. Stickney was convicted last fall and is awaiting execution.

Dentist Testifies He Broke Faith With John Addison

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Dr. Gerald Latimer, Austin dentist, testified Saturday he broke faith with uranium developer John Milton Addison and now only expects his $1,250 loan and 10 per cent interest.

Latimer, second witness in the theft trial of the promoter, repudiated a personal loan note and two affidavits to facts which he signed.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Mayo Galindo impeached his own witness before defense attorney William Yelderman got around to it.

Addison, 31, is also accused of violation of the state securities act and conspiracy to violate the act.

Galindo asked Latimer if the papers he signed at Addison's request March 21 were sworn to truthfully or falsely. Latimer replied the statements were false.

The three documents specified that Latimer expected to receive nothing more than his loan plus 10 per cent interest per year. Like Dr. Cliff Ochsenbein, the first witness, Latimer said he envisioned great wealth including an interest in the Moonlight Mine in Nevada and the as-yet unbuilt DollyO Hotel in Tabletop Mountain in Colorado.

The state charges Addison has bilked hundreds of investors of about one million dollars with representations of a miraculous uranium upgrading machine. Addison claims the machine can step up uranium ore 7 to 1, can produce eight times as much uranium as an 18 million dollar regular uranium mill.

Yelderman asked Latimer if he was keeping faith with Addison in April and May when he made written statements to the Texas Department of Public Safety, and again in July when he gave a statement to the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.

Representatives of the commission, as well as the Internal Revenue Service, are attending the trial.

Yelderman asked Latimer:

"You were willing to swear your soul into Hell and your body into the penitentiary . . . ?"

Asst. Dist. Atty. James Barlow interrupted and said:

"If anybody goes to Hell it would be this witness."

Child Perishes In Fire Near Post

POST, Tex. (AP)—Jimmy Clay, 2, burned to death, and four members of a farm family were injured in a fire 12 miles southwest of here Friday.

The body was found in ashes just outside the ruins of his parents' four-room home.

A brother, Larry, 5, was in critical condition. Also burned, but less seriously, were the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Clay, and a sister, Linday, 4.

Conference Urged To Back Program

By JOE BENHAM

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel urged the governor's conference on children and youth Saturday to back his programs for higher pay for teachers and for a juvenile parole system.

"Education is a state and local responsibility and we should meet it at home," Daniel told more than 500 delegates.

The governor said the 116 Texas delegates who go to the 1960 White House Conference on Children and Youth next spring should urge a program of increased responsibility at home.

"Our purpose is not to go to Washington next year and ask anyone how to take care of our children," Daniel said.

Following Daniel's address, the delegates moved into 20 discussion groups to talk over values and ideals in modern society, welfare, education, health and juvenile delinquency.

Conclusions reached in the study groups will form the basis for the Texas recommendations to the national conference.

Dr. Guy Newman, president of Howard Payne College of Brownwood, is chairman of the conference.

"We know what the problems of our youth are,—or at least, we think we know," Daniel said.

"Most of these are state and local responsibilities which must be met at home."

On the teacher salary question, Daniel outlined his attempts to decide whether to call the Legislature into special session to consider highway pay for teachers. He said he will do so if he "finds there is a chance of success in a special session."

The governor said Texas needs 10,000 new teachers, to fill existing vacancies and meet the increases in population.

Farm Census Half Finished

The 1959 Census of Agriculture is about 50 per cent completed in this area, it was announced Saturday by Field Director James W. Stroud of the Census Bureau's regional office at Dallas.

The Census official stated that he was well pleased with the cooperation the census takers are receiving from farmers in the area and has high hopes of completing the canvass within the next 10 days. He pointed out that the field canvass of farms is one of the larger costs of the census and that cooperation of farmers in completing questionnaires promptly will be a vital factor in keeping down the final cost of the undertaking.

Quick completion of the census will not only help in keeping cost down but will aid in prompt publication of the results, the field director said. He urged local farmers who have not already done so to complete the census questionnaire and have it ready when the census taker calls.

Retired Judge Dies

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Edgar Vaught, 86, pioneer federal judge who retired several years ago, died Saturday.

Vaught gained national fame presiding over the Charles Urschell kidnaping case here in the 1930s.

Steel Strike Pinch Felt By Business

AUSTIN (AP)—The Bureau of Business Research said Saturday that Texas business felt the pinch of the steel strike in October.

The business index, composed of all segments of Texas industries, dropped four per cent from September. The index was six per cent above October 1958 when business was beginning to roll after the recession.

But in summary, the bureau said as the end of the decade approaches "We can look to the future with confidence."

"New industries will be established to broaden the base of an economy that is already well diversified. The 1960's will be a decade in which industrial applications of discoveries in the fields of atomic energy, electronics, nucleonics and space vehicles will quicken.

"Economic growth of the nation will benefit the state's economy to an equal degree. There will be more Texans and they will be living better than ever before."

"Crude petroleum production dropped two per cent. For the year, Texas oil wells have been this year, an average of 10.3 days a month, compared to 122 days in 1958.

For the first 10 months production averaged six per cent higher than for the January-October period of 1958. The number of wells to which the daily allowable is applied increases by 175 to 200 a week.

October demand for oil would have been higher if it had not been for the steel strike which effected consumers' use of automobiles and consumption of gasoline and industrial consumption of fuel oil.

Sam Going Under Wraps In Texas

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Sam, the space monkey, will be put under wraps when he arrives at the School of Aviation Medicine here.

Maj. S. M. Appleman said Saturday Sam will be strictly off limits to newsmen.

He said there will even be no photographs. The instructions, he said, came from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Appleman said he expects Sam to arrive from Norfolk, Va., Saturday night.

Convention Preview Is Scheduled Monday

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democrats are coming up Monday night with a sort of preview of their 1960 convention.

It's a big party rally with seven possible presidential nominees on hand for judgment.

Republicans, with no one in sight but Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, cannot hope to match such a display—if they wanted to.

Speaking from the same platform in New York Monday will be such Democrats as Harry S. Truman, Adlai Stevenson, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, Gov. Pat Brown of California, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan.

All except former President Truman must be considered possibilities for their party's 1960 nomination, and Truman said this week he wants a part in deciding who does win it.

The ever-confident Truman — remember 1948? — also said the Democrats can whip the Republican candidate next year with any one of seven men, "able and distinguished."

On this list: Kennedy, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas (who couldn't make it to the New York rally), Symington, Humphrey, Stevenson, Brown and Williams.

It was something of a surprise to see Stevenson on the list, because in 1956 Truman unsuccessfully fought Stevenson's nomination with a remarkably flat statement.

"I don't think he can win the November election. I think Averall Harriman can."

Incidentally, the Democratic Advisory Council in setting up the Monday rally hopefully put a six-minute on most of the speeches. Mrs. Chairmen everywhere will be watching—dubiously — to see how that comes out.

Every week brings evidence that political speakers don't like to leave a stone unturned, a base untagged, an idea untried.

For example, when Kennedy spoke in Wyoming—the governor out there is J. J. Hickey, another Democrat—the senator commented that one of his grandmothers was a Hickey and "that makes me one-fourth Hickey."

Truman's listing topped Democratic news this week.

Among Republicans there were:

1. Several declarations that Nixon has things well in hand. He's "way out in front" in the spoken judgment of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the No. 1 GOP senator. Republican Govs. Harold W. Handley of Indiana and John F. Davis of North Dakota said much the same.

2. An announcement by Rockefeller that he is going to do some scouting around in Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas and Florida—as well as in previously listed Indiana, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

LPG Major Contender For Crown

AUSTIN (AP) — Liquefied petroleum gas is a major contender for the Texas oil crown long held by crude oil, the Bureau of Business Research said Saturday.

In some parts of the state a competitive fight is shaping up between LPG — which usually is distributed as butane and propane — and natural gas.

"Liquefied petroleum gas was for many years the unwanted child of the oil industry," the business research report said, "as natural gas was initially a waste product in the production and refining of oil. LPG was burned off as waste in oil refining and in the processing of natural gas and gasoline. Not until the early 1920's did it become an important sideline product in natural gasoline plant operation."

National consumption was not more than 300,000 gallons in 1925 when Texas first set up laws to regulate the industry. In January, 1958, Texas had 31 cycling plants turning out 5,548,388 gallons per day of propane and 3,154,226 gallons daily of butane, plus smaller other amounts of other types of LPG. Total national LPG production in 1958 was 9,150,000,000 gallons of which Texas produced about 4,500,000,000 gallons.

"Producers claim liquefied petroleum gas sales will hit 10,200,000,000 gallons by 1962," the bureau report said. "They base their optimism on the trend to increased suburban living, especially increased home building in districts not now serviced by natural gas."

Crosby Boys Seek A Rest

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I think we all need a good, long rest. We've just about had it."

That's how Gary Crosby summed it up after Bing's boys flew home Friday, their six-month song and dance tour abruptly broken off in Montreal.

Gary, 26, arrived first, followed on a later plane by Lindsay, 21, and twins Phillip and Dennis, 25.

The latter three denied reports published in Montreal that the quartet had a fiery argument that led to blows in their dressing room there Thursday night.

"We'd often discuss the act after the show and like red-blooded Irish boys we'd start to argue," Phillip told a reporter. "Someone must have heard us yell and thought we were throwing punches."

Gary, glum when he first stepped off the earlier plane, said: "I just don't want to talk about it. I want to go home and lie down that's all."

Will the act continue?

"Everything is up to the other three."

Some astronomers believe that the moon may be covered with dust up to two-thirds of a mile in depth.

Jan Moore Makes New Recording

Jan Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carter J. Moore of Andrews, formerly of Snyder, returned last week from Nashville, Tenn., where she made another recording for the Todd Recording Co.

A ballad, "I Know," is featured on one side of the new record and it was written by Jan. The other side, "Crazy Mixed-Up Teens" is a rock 'n roll disc.

The Anita Kerr quartet accompanied Jan on the record, which will be released sometime after Christmas.

While in Nashville, Jan, along with her mother and brother, Bobby, attended the Disc Jockey Convention. Jan was introduced by Paul Coin, her manager with Todd Recording Co., as his next big recording star.

Jan is a 10th grader in Andrews High School and she made her first recording with the Todd label last spring. "Reassure Me" which is on one side of the record, was 32 on the top 100 list of favorites, and on the other side, "Play It Cool" was popular in many areas. Both are still selling.

A teen-ager who has been singing and dancing since she was 10 years old, Jan made the first record at Slim Willet's recording studio in Abilene. It was sold to Todd Records of New York and a contract was signed between Jan and Todd Recording Co.

Soviets Are Second In Oil Production

TULSA (AP)—Russia apparently again has slipped into the runner - up spot behind the United States in world oil production.

Russia's estimated daily output of 2,688,000 barrels in September pushed it ahead of Venezuela, as the second - biggest oil producing nation, the Oil and Gas Journal said Saturday. Venezuela's daily average was 2,533,600 barrels in the same month.

The United States had 6,857,000 barrels daily in September, the Journal said.

The Journal pointed out Russia still has less producing capacity than Venezuela.

Free world oil production in September reached 16,255,400 barrels daily, a boost of 144,500 over the previous month. The Journal said total world production was 19,238,400 barrels including 2,983,000 barrels daily for Russia and the Red bloc including Romania and Hungary.

Kuwait, Iran and Saudi Arabia are the only other nations with reported production in excess of a million barrels daily in September.

Iran output reached 1,011,000 barrels daily, compared with 889,000 the previous month, marking the first time its output was above 1,000,000 barrels since the initial Middle East discovery more than 50 years ago.

Kuwait produced 1,298,300 barrels and Saudi Arabia had 1,055,800 barrels daily during September.

205 Oil Wells Are Completed In Week

AUSTIN (AP)—Drillers brought in 205 oil and 12 gas wells last week, the Railroad Commission said Saturday.

Drillers hit 141 dry holes and plugged 217 wells, including 67 oil wells.

Oil well completions total 11,412 for the year compared with 11,466 a year ago. Gas wells total 1,957 compared with 1,983. Wildcatters hit 3 oil and 1 gas wells.

Unofficial records show Texas oil men will produce about 33 million barrels of oil more than last year.

Production will total about 942 million barrels compared to last year's total of 909,957,000. Production topped the one billion mark in five of the last six preceding years prior to 1958.

QBC PRESIDENT THANKS WORKERS

Dr. B. J. Weaver, President of the Snyder Quarterback Club, expressed his appreciation Saturday night for assistance of all who helped with various tasks at the Stamford-Denver City football game.

"Everything went off like clockwork, and as president of the Quarterback Club I want to thank everyone for his cooperation," Weaver said.

The Quarterback Club assumed responsibility for arranging manpower to handle many of the chores associated with the game.

Bank Action Is Delayed

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Banking Commission postponed action on six bank applications until Jan. 7.

The commission granted applications Thursday for the Mid-Valley State Bank of Weslaco and the Jasper County State Bank of Jasper.

Decisions were postponed on these banks: American Bank of Commerce, Mercantile Bank and Trust, San Pedro State Bank and Texas State Bank, all of San Antonio; Stella Link State Bank and Sun Valley State Bank, both of Houston.

Approvals of the two banks at Weslaco and Jasper came on a 2-1 vote with Atty. Gen. Will Wilson and State Treasurer Jesse James favoring the application and Banking Commissioner J. M. Falkner opposing them.

Capitalization of the Jasper bank will be $400,000 with Carl Bledsoe, former executive vice president, of Jasper's existing bank, as president. P. E. Lindsey of Jasper will be vice president. A group led by Jasper attorney Joe Tonahil opposed the application because a national charter had been obtained by another group.

Jasper apparently will be one of the few cities in Texas of 6,000 population with three banks if the two new groups are able to sell the stock.

Garland Smith of Weslaco is the proposed chairman of the board for the Weslaco bank. It will have a capitalization of $165,000, certified surplus of $60,000 and reserves of $50,000—a total of $275,000.

V. C. Thompson, Weslaco, will be president and George S. Potts, Elsa, will be vice president and chief executive officer.

Four Newsmen Due Honors

AUSTIN (AP) — The Headliners Club of Austin will honor four newsmen, a photographer and select the outstanding Texas publisher at an awards party Jan. 30.

The prizes will total $1,150, including $250 in each of four writing categories and $150 for the best picture.

Encephalitis Fight Slated

LUBBOCK (AP) — A regional meeting here of the Texas Municipal League heard Tuesday that the South Plains has been designated a "sentinel area" for eradication of encephalitis.

James Smith of the U.S. Public Health Service communicable disease center at Greeley, Colo., spoke to about 60 municipal officials from the area and employes of health departments.

Smith said the disease, commonly known as sleeping sickness, has become a major problem throughout the nation. He devoted his discussion to control of mosquitoes and encephalitis.

Other speakers included Frank Von Zuben Jr., chief engineer, and Robert Peel, senior sanitarian, both of the State Department of Health; and Walter Breedlove, Lubbock city-county health department engineer.

Von Zuben said two deaths last year in this area were attributed to the disease. He said the prevalence of the virus seemed to run in four-year cycles.

Smith said the larger the number of mosquitoes, the greater the possibility of transmitting the virus. It is passed from mosquitoes to wild birds and domestic fowls and thence to horses and human beings.

When the mosquito population is reduced, he said, the possibility of transmitting the virus is lessened.

Celebration Opens

DALLAS (AP)—Gov. Price Daniel opened a celebration Friday night to mark the completion of the 35 million dollar Stemmons Expressway.

Soldier Is Killed

GEORGETOWN, Tex. (AP)—A Ft. Hood soldier died early today and a companion escaped serious in a bridge and a tree 7 miles north of here on U.S. 81.

Ft. Hood officials withheld the names.

2 Hurt As Train, Truck In Crash

HOUSTON (AP)— A Santa Fe passenger train smashed into a stalled trailer-truck Saturday injuring the engineer and fireman.

None of the 35 passengers on the Houston-Galveston section of the Santa Fe's Texas Chief was injured.

The engine and two cars of the train were derailed.

Hugh Hayes of 1717 Bryan Homes, the fireman from Galveston, was taken to a hospital in Houston with serious head and back injuries.

Engineer G. W. Marchand, also of Galveston, was treated for cuts and bruises and admitted to an Alvin hospital for observation.

The driver of the truck, W. G. Waley of Houston, was not in the vehicle when it was struck by the train that conductor W. R. Harding said was travelling at 75 miles an hour.

W. L. Winner of the Hunsaker Trucking Contractor Co. of Houston said the truck was taking a dragline to a construction project when it stalled on the Santa Fe tracks in Pearland, 20 miles southeast of downtown Houston.

The train had left Galveston at 6:50 a.m. and was to arrive here at 7:55 a.m.

Two diesel engines were pulling three coaches and a baggage car.

The impact tossed the truck-trailer off the tracks. The lead engine broke loose, left the tracks and overturned. Wheels of one coach and the baggage car left the tracks but the cars did not overturn. The second engine and a generator unit were not derailed.

About 600 feet of track were torn up.

G. F. Stanford, Santa Fe maintenance chief, said the route would be cleared within several hours.

Buses brought the 35 passengers into Houston.

Farm Plan Is Offered

FORT WORTH (AP)—Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) offered what he called a "Charter of Hope for Agriculture" Friday night at the Texas Farmers Union—banquet.

The senator, a contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, came here from Houston where he and Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) make luncheon speeches.

Earlier, the two hunted deer on Johnson's ranch in Central Texas.

Humphrey's farm program called for:

1. Determination of a fair price for farm commodities and a fair income standard for farmers.
2. Production, to be determined by what is needed to satisfy the true needs for the American people, the commercial export market, necessary reserves, and foreign policy program.
3. An agricultural resources conservation program.
4. Employment goals which would envisage a farm population, and especially farm families which have adequate opportunity to be fully and usefully employed, along with proper credit facilities.

Identity Of Burned Man Is Corrected

MEXICO CITY (AP) —A man burned alive here Thursday was not James A. Markey of Houston, whose woman friend identified the body.

Markey, 60, says so himself, and adds:

"It was a good joke, although in bad taste."

The woman identified the human torch victim as Markey Friday. On a second visit changed her mind.

The sailor said he had been drinking for four days and couldn't find his hotel.

Longview, Orange Mares Win Honors

The winners were Poco Lena, owned and ridden by B. A. Skipper of Longview, and Poco Mona, owned by the Rinehurst Ranch of Orange and ridden by John Carter.

Sheepmen Face More Australian Imports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says U. S. producers and processors can expect steady or increasing competition from Australian lamb and sheep imports in the year ahead.

Sheep numbers in that country were described as being at an all-time high. A lower demand in the British market for sheep and lamb meat is forcing Australians to look to other markets, including this country.

The only thing that would halt such imports, the department said, would be a sharp break in U. S. prices.

Stock Market Hits Highest Mark Since Early September

By RIP WATSON
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market reached its highest point since early September this week on the best weekly volume in more than a month.

Analysis hoped the performance, which equaled the best gain since the final week of July, heralded the start of a traditional year-end rally. The record book shows the Dow Jones industrial index has risen during December in 44 of the past 62 years.

The index rose 11.48 on the week to 664.00, but those who swear by the charts noted it failed to close higher than the Aug. 31 rally peak of 664.41 on any day during the week. Topping that figure is regarded as a necessity before the list can take aim ah the all-time highs established early in August.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $3.30 to $225.80, its best performance since a similar rise late in July.

Bullish elements liked the idea that trading tended to increase during the market's upward swings and decline while stocks were going down. Volume came to 18,033,375 shares and the daily average of 3,606,675 shares compared with the daily figure of 3,417,157 in last week's holiday-shortened trading. Volume in the week ended Oct. 31 came to 19,104,818.

On the bond market, volume rose to $37,447,000 par value from $25,993,000 a week ago and $31,890,000 a year ago.

Brokers said sales to establish tax losses had been pretty well finished, especially among the rails and oils. Both groups have been hard hit during the year. Electronic and space age issues again were in the spotlight, along with the steels.

The latter, as might be expected, swung up and down according to the latest bulletin from the labor front.

Resistance Noted To Idea Of Ending Agriculture Curb

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — New resistance appears to be developing against the idea of throwing off government controls on farm production.

The elimination of the 25-year-old control program has been a basic tenet of the Eisenhower administration farm program. Through the persistence of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, considerable progress has been made in this direction.

Acreage controls have been tossed out on corn, the nation's biggest single crop. They have been eased considerably on cotton.

The administration will make a big pitch at the coming session of Congress to rid wheat of restrictions.

It is Benson's contention that if the government lowers price supports and takes off production restrictions, farmers themselves will adjust supplies to markets. He says lower prices would encourage sales and discourage some less efficient production, with costly surpluses disappearing in time.

But oddly enough the administration's gains are serving to strengthen supporters of production control programs.

This year's corn crop, the first grown since elimination of acreage allotments, has turned out to be a tremendously large one—a sixth larger than last year's record. It will add an estimated half billion bushels to the reserve and surplus supply of this grain, putting this at over two billion bushels with a cost of upwards of 2½ billion dollars to the government.

In other words, corn is joining wheat as a major surplus headache—and under a program designed to cure overproduction.

This development has created some doubts in the big Midwestern corn belt as to the feasibility of unrestricted production. These doubts found expression at recent farm bureau federation meetings in Illinois and Iowa. The American Farm Bureau Federation, of which the Illinois and Iowa bureaus are members, has supported the administration in efforts to eliminate controls.

Certainly Congress is expected to take a new look at the corn program and the question of controls. Hooked up, of course, with the matter is the administration proposal to free wheat of acreage allotments.

Pair Jailed By Judge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An Appeals Court judge, changing his mind, has ordered two unwed mothers back into jail while the court decides whether they violated a lawful court order by becoming pregnant.

The American Civil Liberties Union objected when the nearby Pittsburg Judicial Court jailed the women for becoming pregnant again in violation of its probation order.

Ordering Lucy Martinez and Lucy Turrieta to refrain from extramarital relations violates "a fundamental aspect of personal liberty," the ACLU contended. Ernest Besig, executive ACLU director here, said he plans to take the case to the State Supreme Court.

Justice A. F. Bray of the Second Dist. Appeals Court ordered the women, both 24, released without bail Friday, pending the appeal. But after consulting with two associate judges, the judge rescinded that order and directed that the women be put back in jail.

False Issue, HST Asserts

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman said today that birth control is "a false issue—so far as the presidency is concerned."

He made the comment on the controversy over whether the United States should furnish birth control aid to underdeveloped, overpopulated countries. Truman was taking a brief prebreakfast stroll here.

He was asked specifically whether the birth-control issue would affect the presidential chances of U. S. Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, considered a contender for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Truman replied: "Why should it? It's a false issue to begin with as far as the presidency is concerned. It has nothing to do with it."

The Roman Catholic hierarchy in the United States recently issued a statement opposing use of American foreign aid funds for artificial birth control. Kennedy is a Catholic.

IT'S GAMBLIN AGAIN—Bobby Gamblin, 190-pound Stamford lineman (65) makes one of his many tackles in the Stamford-Denver City Class AA playoff game. Stamford Topples Denver City, 14-0

Mighty Stamford struck for a touchdown in the first four minutes, added another late in the second quarter and then repulsed a spirited Denver City bid in the last half to take a 14-0 decision and advance to the Class AA semi-finals here Saturday afternoon.

Ronnie Gerloff, a 158-pound standout for Stamford, burst through right guard, shook off a tackler at the scrimmage line and then eluded two more to gallop 78 yards for the first Bulldog score. Only three minutes and 38 seconds had elapsed on the scoreboard clock when Gerloff rang up the first six-pointer.

Wayne Bates ran over the extra point to give the Bulldogs an 8-0 advantage before the game really warmed up.

Gerloff and Charlie Helmer, who contributed his share of the ball carrying to the Bulldog cause, combined to eat up the remaining time in the first quarter as Stamford continued to control the football.

On the try for point, Helmer fumbled and Denver City recovered in the end zone.

It was a different story in the second half, but Denver City started too late with too little to overcome the Stamford advantage.

With 185-pound Bert Gravitt and 131-pound Bert Kidwell doing most of the damage, the Mustangs drove to Stamfords 26, 35, 5, 1 and 23 yard lines, as the Denver City boys spent most of the last two quarters in Stamford territory. The Mustangs actually went over once, but lost the ball on a fumble, with Stamford recovering for a touchback.

Possibly Denver City's most spectacular play came in the third quarter, when Gravitt completed a 37-yard pass to Kidwell, setting the Mustangs up in business on the Stamford 27. However, the drive fizzled out.

Gerloff picked up 127 yards in 13 carries, while Helmer had 61 yards in 19 tries for Stamford. Gravitt, the Mustang's No. 1 quarterback, shifted to fullback frequently and he picked up 73 yards in 16 carries.

Bobby Gamblin and Wendell Robinson were terror on defense for Stamford, along with Dalton Jones and Helmer.

Bill Gravitt, Marcell Dorethy and Clifford stood out on defense for Denver City.

The Bulldogs will face Olney, winner of Daingerfield in a Friday night game, in the semi-finals next week.

Early in the second quarter, Denver City tried to muster a drive, but the Mustangs could not keep it going. An exchange of punts found the Denver City lads backed up on their own 20 yard line, following a booming 57-yard boot off the toe of Stamford's Mark Hinson. After three running plays gained only five yards, Bill Gravitt got off a short punt which gave Stamford possession on the Mustang 49 yard line.

Denver City drew a 15-yard penalty back to the 34. From that point, with Hinson and Helmer carrying the load, the Bulldogs drove to the 9 yard line. It was there that Tom Lovvorn spotted Halfback Wayland Shurley, and connected with a dramatic touchdown pass.

Four Tigers Picked On All-District Team

LAMESA, (Spl.) — Tri-champions Lamesa, Snyder and Sweetwater dominated the District 3-AAA football team announced today after a poll of the district coaches and sportswriters.

Three gridders scored unanimous approval on the team, which was paced by Snyder with four players. Lamesa, who went to bi-district on the toss of a coin, had three as did Sweetwater. Each team had three representatives on the second team. Lake View placed one on each team and Colorado City had one player on the second team.

Two Sweetwater linemen tackle Billy Belew and guard Bev Herndon—were unanimous picks along with Snyder's great back, Dick Hayes. The Tiger quarterback-halfback was the lone repeater on the team from last season.

Belew, a junior tackle; Howard Westmoreland, Lamesa's senior fullback; and Nat Self, Lamesa senior end, moved up from last season's second team. There are six seniors and four juniors on the first team with a line averaging 182 and a backfield averaging 175 per man.

Snyder had Hayes, center Reg Scarborough, guard David Wiman and tackle Charles Gladson on the first team. Lamesa placed Westmoreland, end Nat Self and back Kirk Wiggins; Sweetwater had Belew and Herndon and end Bud Alldredge—the lone sophomore on the team.

The second team has seven seniors and four juniors. Tackles Tom Minton of Snyder and Ross Woodson of Lamesa, end Barry Walker of Snyder and back Joe Gerald of Sweetwater were the top vote getters to land on the second team. Voting was close for the guard and tackle slots behind Herndon and Belew and for end positions and the second team backfield. The second team line averages 176 and the backs average 157.

Scotties Bow Out Of Race

DALLAS (AP) — Fort Worth Carter-Riverside surged 49 yards in 11 plays in the second period Saturday to push across a touchdown and beat Highland Park 6-0 in quarter-finals of the Class AAAA Texas, schoolboy football race. Carter-Riverside will play Wichita Falls in the semifinals.

The touchdown drive was set up by a fine punt return by Robert Baker that reached deep into Highland Park territory. Clipping, however, was called on the 34 and Carter-Riverside was penalized back to the Highland Park 49.

Mike Goldstein, racked up 15 yards in the drive, scoring the touchdown from the Highland Park one. Dan Jones had chipped in with 17 of the yards.

Billy Gannon led Highland Park surges that reached the Carter-Riverside 16 and 10-yard lines in the final period. Gannon had 97 yards running for the day. He also made 10 tackles and had 15 assists.

Highland Park was crippled for the game with three of its first string backs out with injuries.

Spikes, Doke Win Houston Post Awards

HOUSTON (AP) — Fullback Jack Spikes of TCU and guard Maurice Doke of Texas won the 1959 Houston Post football trophies.

The Snyder youth that Coach Abe Martin of the Frogs calls "the best fullback I ever coached" and the Wichita Falls scholar who switched from end to guard and helped make Texas a tri-champion of the Southwest Conference polled seven of a possible nine votes in the annual poll.

Breck Wins, 32-0

ANDREWS, Tex. (AP)—Defending State champion Breckenridge put on a 3-touchdown splurge in the final period Saturday to beat Andrews 32-6 and advance to the semi-finals of the Class AAA schoolboy football race.

The Buckaroos scored in the second period on a 58-yard pass play from Jerry Gibson to Billy West with Gibson running over the conversion.

The game rocked on like that until the final period when Breckenridge began to move once more. First it scored a touchdown on a 61-yard drive in 14 plays with Dickie Rogers making the last yard and running across the two extra points.

Billy West intercepted a pass on the Andrews 41 to set up the next touchdown made in six plays, with Gibson going across from the one. West ran over the conversion.

Next Travis Gandy ran 13 yards to cross the Andrews goal line but fumbled and tackle Eddie Clark recovered in the end zone for the final Breckenridge touchdown.

Doug Jeffreys passed to Dudley Mitchell for five yards and the Andrews score late in the game.

A crowd of 7,500 saw the contest.

Daugherty, Bud Will Head Clinic

DALLAS (AP)—Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State and Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma will head the annual Coach of the Year clinic here Feb. 19-20.

The staff will include also a head coach from the Southwest Conference, the man voted collegiate coach of the year by the American Coaches Assn. and two other coaches, to be announced later.

Forty different jockeys and 152 trainers won races during the 1959 meeting at Monmouth Park, Oceanport, N.J.

Lou Klein, who managed Fort Worth in the American Assn. last season, will coach for the Chicago Cubs in 1960.

Camilo Pascual of the Washington Senators pitched a five-inning one-hitter and a pair of two-hitters last season.

Coyotes Power To Win Over Eagles

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Defending Class AAAA champion Wichita Falls took the breaks and powered its way to a 26-12 quarterfinal victory over Abilene here Saturday.

Abilene opened the scoring when Wylie Newman, husky fullback, smashed over from the 1-yard line to make the score 6-0 in the opening minutes.

Abilene scored again in the second quarter on an 81-yard drive climaxed by Newman's second one-yard smash through the line. Again the try for extra point was no good.

Wichita Falls roared back to get in the scoring column, when tailback Dicky Turner pitched a 49-yard pass to wingback Travis Reagan for the score.

Abilene had the ball on the Wichita Falls 1-yard line with first down as the half ended after Charles McCook had passed 32 yards to halfback Bobby Austin. Reagan tackled Austin just short of the goal line to keep the score at 12-6 as the half ended.

The Coyotes intercepted an Abilene pass on the Eagle 19-yard line in the third period. And then on an 11-yard pass from Turner to Reagan tied the score at 12-12 and went ahead on Joe Watkins conversion kick, 13-12.

An Eagle fumble on their own 43-line set up the next score. The Coyotes recovered and scored in two plays when Turner unreeled a 20-yard scamper for the score. Again the extra-point try was no good and Wichita Falls led 19-12.

Abilene again fumbled one play after the kickoff and the Coyotes recovered on the Eagle 5-yard stripe. In two plays, fullback Ray Shields scored from the one and Watkins kicked the extra point to make the final score 26-12.

Turner was the outstanding star of the game, gaining 117 yards in 28 carries, throwing two touchdown passes, and scoring once himself.

Reagan, who has scored 27 touchdowns this season, was also outstanding.

Wichita Falls meets Fort Worth Carter-Riverside in a semifinal game next week end at a place and site to be determined.

Tigers Rap Cubs, 45-29

Snyder's green but determined Tigers took a surprisingly easy decision over the Brownfield Cubs in opening basketball game of the season for both teams here Friday night.

The Bengals rolled to a 45-29 decision after the Snyder B team had turned back the Brownfield B, 34-27, to give local quintets a sweep in the evening's proceedings.

Brownfield jumped to an early lead on the strength of two free shots, but the Tigers soon forged ahead to attain a 12-5 margin at the end of the first quarter and the Cubs never were able to catch up.

Although a last-minute field goal cut the Tigers' margin to 21-18 at the half, Coach J. P. Ward's warriors poured 13 points through the hoop in the third stanza while holding Brownfield to five. That gave the locals a 33-23 lead at the end of the third period.

Mike Moffett accounted for six field goals and three free tosses to take scoring honors with 15 points. Tollett was top man for the Cubs, roping four field goals and five free shots for a total of 13.

Although they gave away a considerable amount of height, the Bengals had the Cubs outclassed in scoring from the field. Brownfield managed only seven field goals, compared to 17 for Snyder.

Jimmy McFarland's four field goals were enough to take scoring honors for the Snyder B team in its triumph. Three other B teamers, Tommy Cooper, Gene Roe and Larry Smith, had six points each.

Next action for the Snyder team will come Tuesday night when they travel to San Angelo to meet the Bobcats of District 2-AAAA.

Cleburne Rolls By LaMarque, 28-0

TEXAS CITY (AP)—Cleburne's Yellow Jackets rolled over LaMarque here Saturday 28-0 to advance to the semifinals of the state schoolboy Class AAA football playoffs.

After a scoreless first quarter, Cleburne scored with only 2 minutes and 25 seconds left in the half to go ahead 6-0.

The scoring drive started when center David McWilliams intercepted a LaMarque pass on Cleburne's 15-yard line and ran it back to the Cleburne 43. Fifty-six yards and 14 plays later, fullback Billy Cohen took a pitchout and smashed right tackle for a yard and the score. The try for extra point was no good.

Cleburne wasted no time in the second half. With the third period just 53 seconds old, Bucks, McCall ran 36 yards for the touchdown and Timmy Doerr faked a pass and ran over the two-point conversion to make it Cleburne 14, LaMarque 0.

After the kickoff, Cleburne recovered a LaMarque fumble on the LaMarque 37 and 10 plays later Cecil Evans smashed over for LaMarque's third touchdown on a 1-yard buck at tackle. The conversion attempt failed and the score was Cleburne 20, LaMarque 0.

With about 8 minutes left in the final period, substitute halfback Albert Archer ran 20 yards for the final score after Cleburne intercepted a LaMarque pass. Doug Shouse ran over the conversion to make the final score 28-0.

Cleburne led in first downs 15-11 and in rushing 165 yards to 132 for LaMarque.

Orange Belts UCLA, 36-8 For First Perfect Season

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mighty Syracuse belted UCLA for a 36-8 victory Saturday and, for the first time in its 71 years of intercollegiate football, finished the season unbeaten and untied in 10 games.

In a strong closing bid for the national championship, the nation's top-ranked team got off to a 14-0 lead in the first period, boosted it to 21-0 in the second and then beat back a gallant challenge by the underdog Bruins of UCLA.

A short-sleeved crowd of 46,436 sat in Memorial Coliseum for the nationally televised contest.

The big Easterns sped to a quick lead after intercepting a pass shortly after they kicked off to the Bruins. They traveled 43 yards in nine plays. A nifty six-yard scoring pass from quarterback Dave Sarette to Gerhard Schwedes put UCLA on the road to its fourth defeat of the year.

Syracuse's so-called second team then trooped on to the field and after a 72-yard thrust that required seven plays, the Orangemen were on the scoreboard again. The touchdown came on a 15-yard pass from Dick Easterly to Mark Weber.

Early in the second period the score mounted to 21-0. Easterly, Weber, John Nichols and Bob Haft took turns in the drive, ending when Easterly plunged for the final yard.

UCLA, with halfback Bill Kilmer in the starring role as the passer, got into the act before the half ended.

Jim Johnson's great 44-yard kickoff return started it off and Kilmer kept it going. He passed to Gene Gaines for 30 yards then 13 more and the final 20 to Johnson for the touchdown.

Skip Smith went through his own left tackle for the extra two points and that was it for UCLA.

From midway in the second until midway in the final period Syracuse slacked down. Whether the heat—it was around 80 degrees—was hard to tell.

But the Eastern champs broke loose for two more touchdowns in the final period, good for 15 points, to dispell any doubts, if there were any, that this is a tremendous football team.

UCLA, which knocked off Southern California and ended the Trojans' eight-game winning streak two weeks ago, were nine point underdogs Saturday.

They were not expected to run against the powerful "Sizable Seven" line. And they didn't, winding up with a minus net yardage of 13.

Syracuse, as expected, displayed a sound, hard hitting rushing attack that netted 354 yards and added 106 more via the air.

Fullmer May Seek Sugar Ray Match

LOGAN, Utah (AP)—NBA middleweight champ Gene Fullmer is eyeing other titleholders for his next bout but the best man for the job might be a cryptographer.

The West Jordan, Utah, mauler and his manager, Marv Jenson, used a complicated number code Friday night in collecting a unanimous, 15-round decision from challenger Spider Webb of Chicago.

Fullmer and Jenson later told newsmen they might consider a match with Sugar Ray Robinson, recognized as middleweight king in New York and Massachusetts, or with light heavyweight champ Archie Moore.

Throughout the Webb battle, Jenson directed Fullmer strategy by yelling such things as "seven, plus," "one, eight," "thirteen" or "seven."

Boxing writers asked Jenson to reveal the secrets of the numbers but the manager declined, saying: "We're not divulging our code. It takes too long to memorize."

Jenson dispelled any thoughts that Spider might get another chance. "I don't know who you're talking about. Who's Webb?" said the manager.

But Fullmer and Jenson let it be known they would welcome a clash with Robinson "to clean up" the confusion in the middleweight title department. The NBA stripped Robinson of the crown for failure to defend and Fullmer took it over after stopping Carmen Basilio Aug. 28 in a San Francisco fightoff.

Dick Norman Top Gainer For Season

By The Associated Press

The man who piled up the most individual yardage in major college football during the past season was a member of a team which went nowhere at all.

The total offense leader for the 1959 campaign is Dick Norman, quarterback of the Stanford team which lost seven games and finished on the bottom of the Pacific Coast's new Big Five Conference.

Norman's dead-eye passing not only carried him to the over-all offense and passing crowns but helped bring along the quarterback's chief target, Chris Buford, for the pass receiving championship.

This, according to the figure experts of the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau, is the first time a seven-game loser ever produced the individual offense champion.

Also Norman had the most completions and most passing yardage ever engineered against major opposition. Burford tied the single season high for pass interceptions with 61.

Norman completed 152 passes in 263 attempts for a total of 1,96 yards and 11 touchdowns. His total offense yardage, including passing and running, was 2,018—nearly 400 yards ahead of second-place Charley Johnson of New Mexico State.

Polly Bergen Figures Way To Keep Welcome Mat Out

NEW YORK (AP)—During this year of the television special, demand for big-name guests is so great that many of them are suffering from that often-fatal TV disease: over-exposure. Hitherto performers most susceptible had been stars with their own daily or weekly programs.

Polly Bergen, however, has figured out a way to avoid wearing out her television welcome. It calls for a strict rationing of guest appearances as a singer and the development of two distinct personalities.

Polly appears weekly as a panelist on CBS' "To Tell the Truth." Here she makes funnies and plays a guessing game. Then, on an average of once a month, Polly emerges as a singing guest star on somebody else's show.

"I had my own weekly series a couple of years ago," she says, "and when I had chances to do others I turned them down. I didn't want to do that much work or take on that much responsibility. No matter how much help you have, you carry the weight of the whole show. I found I was getting nervous under the pressures of responsibility, and the result was that my family—my children and my husband—suffered."

Polly's plans for this season involve show-hopping and network-jumping. So far she has been on "The Wonderful World of Entertainment" extravaganza, and the Telephone Hour. On Dec. 17 she will guest on the Pat Boone Show. To conclude her season she will appear with Dinah Shore; do another Telephone Hour and work on a Bob Hope show.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon will be grand marshal of Pasadena's Tournament of Roses parade on New Year's Day which NBC will colorcast. NBC will televise the Rose and Sugar Bowl football games that day, while CBS will focus on the Orange and Cotton Bowl battles.

The TV sages were predicting that Perry Como would miss the services of his former chief writer Goodman Ace, this year, but as it has turned out, it looks as if it were the other way around. Airlines, French perfume distributors and major appliance manufacturers, all of whom went in strongly for incidental name plugs in exchange for prize merchandise, will be hit hardest by CBS' new anti-plug directive. NBC is going all out for Eisenhower trip—hired a symphonic composer, Ralph Burns, to do special music for its seven interpretives on the journey, to be played by a 45-piece orchestra. There will be Oriental music, London-Paris music and "state occasion" music in the backgrounds.

Santa Gives Away $50 Bills In Dixie

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — "Who the heck was ever able to catch Santa Claus?"

That was the reaction of one frustrated policeman after a well-dressed white man and a Negro handed out thousands of dollars worth of $50 bills Friday in Atlanta and Birmingham, Ala.

Officers were unable to find the pair but the persons who received the bills didn't care. There was whooping and hollering in the streets and joy in many a home.

Atlanta police estimated $10,000 was handed out in two Negro neighborhoods. Birmingham officers reported at least 20 of the $50 bills were distributed to Negroes in that city.

Nobody knew who the men were or why they were giving the money away.

AMUSEMENT

KIRK DOUGLAS and Burt Lancaster indulge in some badinage in the presence of British soldiers. The film version of George Bernard Shaw's comedy, "The Devil's Disciple," in which they star with Laurence Oliver, will open Sunday, Dec. 13, at the Palace Theater through United Artists release.

Virginia Bruce Is Attractive At 49

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — She has the same peaches-and-cream skin, the lovely blonde hair. A pound or two has been added, but at 49 Virginia Bruce is still strikingly beautiful.

She's back in movies after a 10-year absence, playing Kim Novak's mother in "Strangers When We Meet." When you point out that this is hardly credible, she readily admits her age and remarks that she has a daughter (by John Gilbert) the same age as Kim, 26.

Miss Bruce has had a life with many triumphs and a sizable share of tragedies. She talked candidly about them as she prepared for her film return.

Her marriage to Gilbert ended in divorce. She remembers him fondly.

Her second marriage, to MGM bigwig J. Walter Rubin, ended with his death in 1942. In 1946, she married a wealthy Turk, Ali Ipar. Their union has prevailed, but under the most difficult of circumstances.

The marriage started stormily when an over-cooperative U.S. Army Sergeant gave Ali an illegal pass. The pair was wed before the posse arrived to haul him back to camp.

"Then Ali had to put in service in the Turkish army," she recalled. "The law said no Turk married to a foreigner could be an officer. Enlisted personnel live in unbelievable squalor, so we decided to get divorced. You can do that by just signing a paper in Turkey.

"We went on living together for the year he was in the Army. Everything was the same, except that Ali had to hide on the balcony whenever the doorbell rang. When he got out of the army, we were married again.

"My son, Chris Rubin, hated living in Turkey. He had been back here with relatives, but I decided to return and give him some kind of home."

Panel Members To Continue Same Work

AUSTIN (AP) — Three former members of the State Tax Study Commission will continue similar work under appointments made Saturday by Gov. Price Daniel.

He named Dr. John Stockton of Austin, John McKee of Dallas and Hugo Lowenstern of Amarillo to the Texas Commission on State and Local Tax Policy. It was created by the last Legislature.

'Plug' Now Cause Of Great Concern

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A congressional committee, a federal agency and the broadcasting industry now are concerned about an old American institution: the plug.

Before they can do much about it, somebody will have to decide just what it is, or at least when it's improper.

For instance: An advertising agency executive recently ordered removal of a water cooler from a television set just before show time. The sponsor was an equipment company. The water cooler was made by a competitor.

"The company was paying one hell of a price for that show," explained the agency man. "Why should it plug a rival's product?"

Why, indeed? Of course, in the credits at the end of the same show, it was prominently noted that the star appeared "by courtesy of Abou Ben Adams studios, producers of 'Ahoy There.' "A film in which the star did not even appear. And the equipment company itself hires press agents to get plugs of its products and its television shows in newspapers and magazines.

Is it a plug when Ethel Merman, in a TV show sponsored by an auto manufacturer, stands in front of a big sign advertising her Broadway show?

Is it a plug when the star of a musical show holds up a new record album he has made, or discusses the album a guest star has made?

Certainly they are plugs. But apparently the plugs which concern the investigators are the sneaky ones—dropped in without the knowledge of the show producers and agency supervisors.

Some performers — including big stars—are known in the business as plug droppers, and are suspected of accepting gifts, even payoffs, for their activities.

"With these guys, there's absolutely nothing you can do when it's a live show," says one television veteran.

"But the other kind of plugs need not happen often if you are vigilant. In one show the scene was a diner and in rehearsal when we did a closeup of the counterman in an important scene, you could identify the brand of cereal on the shelf behind him. We made them turn the boxes around. Sometimes these things are accidental. But when they aren't, you usually find they have been slipped in at an earlier creative level."

It's easy enough to keep an actor from flaunting a pack of cigarettes so that the label shows. Others are almost impossible to avoid.

"Suppose you've got a serious drama and you must show a telegraph office," continued the agency man. "What are you going to do—call it Eastern Union? Same thing with airport scenes. You'll often see the names of real airlines—not as plugs but to make it real. And when you want to be sure that the audience knows the characters are drinking a soft drink you've got to use one identifiable bottle."

Jack Kelly Has A Close Call On Skis

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Jack Kelly can handle television's toughest gunslingers, card sharks and plain ornery cusses with consummate ease.

But offscreen Kelly — fortunately—has a beautiful and devoted wife to watch over him. Else there might be only one Maverick brother in the Warner Bros. series.

Recently the show's sponsor invited Kelly and his wife to his Lake Tahoe home. Kelly wanted to try water skiing.

Donna Kelly, known professionally as actress May Wynn, demurred but finally consented as long as she could go along in the speedboat.

Kelly fell off his skis, an everyday occurence in that sport. But watchful Donna noticed that her husband didn't come up—a rare occurrence. Quick thinking, she guessed rightly that the synthetic cord had wrapped around his ankle.

"I was dragged underwater for a good 200 feet," Kelly recalls. "I kept thinking that this was the end of me. I was surprisingly calm and kept hoping that the boat would not swerve. The way the cord was entwined on my ankle, a sudden pitch could possibly have cut it off.

"Donna, God bless her, told the driver to ease to a stop."

The rope had cut an inch into [illegible] ankle. Then when the cut finally healed, glass particles in [illegible] rope fibers caused a festering. The wound had to be cut open again and the particles removed piece by piece.

HOME AGAIN!

We enjoyed our vacation and want to help you find that home you want. . .we have several — including this well located home near schools, with 3 bedrooms, den and 2 baths. . .Out of town owner, says sell it. . .that means someone will get a BARGAIN.

Rev. Cole has reduced the price on his beautiful Colonial Hills home . . .you know this one has the MOST living area plus 3 baths and study. It also has GROUNDS. . .and its beautifully arranged. . .you CAN'T beat it. . .and we can take a smaller home on trade.

We hoped Scott & Scott might have sold our home in Colonial Hills which is priced at $21,500.00. . .we didn't accuse Donald R. of NOT trying. . .but anyway he didn't and now we must sell this home, which is one of the finest; did you know that Arkansas stone costs MUCH more than brick, and that this fine home is UNDER replacement cost?

Now we are getting close to home . . .we have one of our own for sale. . .great big rooms, 2 nice baths, 2 car garage, and $1400.00 down. . .it will pay you to look at this one. . .

We are back on our normal office hours. . .call us any time; We are here to serve you. . .

"Dont wait -- we sell em!"

CONSTRUCTION. . . Mrs. Billy Butler, Mrs. Nellie Smith and Mrs. Robert Hargrove examine a small Christmas arrangement that would be ideal for a mantel, TV, desk or most any room in the home. The arrangement carried out a red and gold color theme.

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

VOL. 10, NO. 188 SNYDER, TEXAS, SUNDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1959 SECTION B

Twilight Garden Club Makes Christmas Decorations At Meeting

OUTDOOR CANDLE—Mrs. J. R. McCrary is pictured above with the large outdoor lighted candle which will be displayed outside her home in keeping with the Christmas theme. Simple styrofoam, a little decoration, a large flower pot and an electric lamp are assembled to make this attractive candle.

GUEST SPEAKER—Mrs. Lillian Jones, art teacher at the Snyder High School gave a most colorful and artistic program to the Twilight Garden Club's 21 members and three guests Thursday evening. Pictured with Mrs. Jones is some of the Christmas table decor she assembled and displayed at the meeting. She also showed color slides of centerpieces students had made in art class at the school, along with slides of out-door decorations she had made in Dallas.

LAMPLIGHTER—This unusual lantern is displayed by its owner Mrs. Clyde Brown. It is a simple old coaloil lantern that has been converted into an electric light, sprayed with aluminum paint, silver glitter and adorned with a spray of silver pine and blue Christmas balls to make a beautiful decoration for the porch of her home.

SIMPLICITY. . .A small arrangement for the home adds much conversation when guests arrive as Mrs. J. M. Davis explains to Mrs. J. O. McNew how a little imagination and articles around the home were used in this attractive creation.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED—Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Roberds, Twenty-sixth Street, announce the engagement of their daughter Patty, to Wilbur Taylor of Rotan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Taylor of Rotan. The couple plan a January wedding to be held in the Primitive Baptist Church, with the pastor, O. C. Floyd, officiating. (Craft Studio photograph)

Library Notes

The latest addition to the Christmas material in your Scury County Library is a group of Christmas records. One is a selection of Christmas Hymns with George Beverly Shea singing "O Holy Night" and "Put Christ Back Into Christmas"; Mr. Shea has been acclaimed America's best-known and —loved Gospel singer. A different presentation of the music of the Yuletide season is "To Wish You a Merry Christmas" by Harry Belafonte and includes "A Star In The East" and "Where The Little Jesus Sleeps". "Christmas Bells" with Paul Mickelson playing Symphonic Carillon and Vibrasharp is intended for those moments of deep personal reflection when we are left alone to contemplate the story of christmas and its meaning. "Sounds of Christmas" is music of the season played on bells, chimes, and music box. Patrons will find these pleasant listening in the library, in their homes, or perhaps useful for a Christmas program.

Also in the spirit of the approaching season are the stories of memorable Christmas Days in With Ed Sullivan, Ed's friends in the entertainment field contributing are Moss Hart, Helen Hayes, Jackie Robinson, Cole Porter and many others. Stories by Pearl Buck and Bret Harte have also been included.

"A New Look at Christmas Decorations" presents a background of traditions and customs in Germany, Czechoslovaka, Yugoslavia, Switzerland, Holland, Russia and China with color plates of their traditional trees.

Other books of the season available at the library are "Christmas Trees, Decorations and Ornaments" "Christmas Ideals", "American Festival Guide", "Bob Considines' Christmas Stocking", 4,000 Years of Christmas", and Peter Marshall's "Let's Keep Christmas".

Present demand exceeds the supply of Christmas material. If you do not find the title you need in the library, ask to have the book reserved and you will be called when it is available.

Give A Gift For The Home

VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

There are two kind of Christmas gifts for the home that strike a happy note. One is the gift that is needed and the other is the gift that represents a frivolous surprise, something one wouldn't buy for herself.

Practical gifts include necessary items for kitchen or table. Casseroles, for instance. But these do not need to be ordinary. There are charming styles available that may go from oven to table to complement the decor. Orange enameled Belgium ware, French clay pots blue and white dru ware of Holland, Swedish enamelware, or a Chinese work (cooking pot) to be used on a gas stove, are all waiting to be set under a tree.

The lady of the house may need a new coffee maker or iron, perhaps one with a cord minder, a gadget that attaches to the ironing board to keep the cord out of the way. A wise husband can choose a number of utility gifts — pots pans, cutlery, ice box dishes.

There are gay gifts in every price category. Low-priced boxes of large matches are fun to have at a fireplace, an ideal stocking stuffer. Coasters are inexpensive and some new ones have interesting motif such as old English pub signs. Inexpensive glassware has taken on glamor. You can find some with any desireable motif from sports insignia to travel banners with the theme color and symbols of important cities. There are elegant glasses with 24-karat gold trim, some with hand-etched initials.

One of the new thermal trays that plugs in and keeps a meal at even heat from morning until night would be much appreciated by a busy hostess. Ditto a soda sparklet syphon that will charge a quart of water, another handy item for entertaining ladies, ideal, too, in a house full of youngsters.

There are fancy ash trays, telephone memo pads and pencil sets, sterling silver phone dialers, cigarette boxes, all attractive to the woman who likes surprises.

GOOD PARTNER

Art An Insight Into Nature

LUBBOCK Dec — "Round people from square canvases" are making personages in paintings come alive, says Dr. Elizabeth Skidmore Sasser, Texas Tech associate professor of architecture and allied arts.

Dr. Sasser believes "the making of papier-mache characters inspired by persons depicted in portraits helps to bring about a vivid understanding of costume and custom, as well as insight into human nature as it is captured by the artist."

In an article in the November issue of THE INSTRUCTOR, an education magazine, she tells how portrait paintings provide a primary source of information, especially for social studies teachers.

Dr. Sasser said, "Portraits disclose how people dressed, and give hints concerning the etiquette which guided behavior. The artist who reveals so much about humanity in his brush strokes often adds further data by showing the furniture and the rooms where his subjects lived."

"For art teachers, portraits not only contain a treasury of cultural history, but may act as a stimulant to creativity," she said. She explained that recreating the background as well as making and dressing the figure adds to the experience.

Dr. Sasser cited examples of portraits by artists such as Francisco de Goya and Diego Rodriguez Velasquez as showing the changing times.

She said, "Goya's boy with his birds and greedy cats, and Velasquez's infants, set off exciting adventures in the realm of children's dress, games played, and how the behavior expected of children may have changed over the centuries."

"Mrs. Freake and Baby Mary," by an unknown limner, introduces a study of seventeenth century housing, furniture and way of life when placed in a colonial New England setting, she explained.

Mrs. W. L. Cass Hostess To Betty Bowlin Circle

The Betty Bowlin Circle of the Bethel Baptist Church met Thursday in the home of Mrs. W. L. Cass, 306 Twenty-ninth Street.

The subject for the meeting was "Oh God, we pray for presses at work for God".

Members present were Mrs. C. L. Cass, Mrs. Wayne Tittle, Miss Lally Lane, Mrs. Betty Bigham and Mrs. Maye Simmons. One visitor Mrs. Grace Parker was also present.

Mrs. Cass opened the meeting with a prayer—and, Mrs. Bigham gave the closing prayer.

Ethel Rose Hundsnurcher, Lanny Wadleigh Exchange Vows November 28

The St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church was the setting for the marriage of Ethel Rose Hundsnurcher and Lanny Wadleigh on Saturday morning Nov. 28 at 9 o'clock. The Rev. Edward Chrisman pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Wadleigh is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Hundsnurcher of Hermleigh, the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wadleigh, 3305 Fortieth Street.

The church was beautifully decorated with large arrangements of white stock and palm leaves gracing the main altar and both side altars. White ribbon bows flanked the isle.

Nuptial high mass was sung by the church choir, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Mary Smith.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white peau de soie satin with French imported lace insertion. The dress was fashioned with a lace stand-up collar, lace was used profusely in the bodice that ended in a point at the waistline and long sleeves that ended in scallops closing with tiny satin covered buttons. The bouffant skirt was adorned with flowers embroidered with pearls and rhinestones and a deep lace insertion around the hemline. Her jewelry was a two string pearl necklace with matching pierced earrings. Her shoulder-length veil of nylon tulle fell from a pearl tiara.

She carried white feathered carnations atop a white missal with long satin streamers, tied in love-knots.

Benadette Bezner of Amarillo served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mary Ellen Grossman, Hermleigh, and Pat Nachlinger, Snyder. They were attired in aqua satin gowns fashioned with scooped necklines, full gathered skirts with three-quarter length sleeves. Their accessories included, dyed to match shoes, feathered bandeaus and white satin shortie gloves. They carried colonial bouquets of white feathered carnations.

Joyce Brink of San Antonio and Polly Wadleigh, sister of the groom were junior bridesmaids.

John Carroll served as best man. Joe Reaves and Gerry Tucker were groomsmen.

A reception was held in St. Elizabeth's cafetorium following the mass. The table was lald with a white crocheted cloth over blue, with silver and crystal appointments.

Jayne Gannaway presided at the three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple and trimmed with blue roses. Susan Gracey registered guests in the white satin bridal book.

A dinner honored at the couple at the home of the bride's parents at 5 o'clock Saturday evening.

For her wedding trip to Austin and San Marcos, the bride chose a black wool sheath with bolero, three-quarter length sleeves and trimmed with black mouton collar. They will make their home in Amarillo.

Mrs. Wadleigh is a 1957 graduate of Hermleigh High School and a senior at St. Anthony's Nursing School in Amarillo.

Mr. Wadleigh is a 1956 graduate of Snyder High School and attended Texas Tech for two years. He is presently contruction foreman for the J. L. Wadleigh Construction Co.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Frances Wadleigh, Denver, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mullis, Scotland; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reindl, Moulton; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mueller, Ballinger; Mr. and Mrs. Royce Ellison, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Heinrich, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Wimmer, Mr. and Mrs. A. The Gardeners Corner

By NORMA GAUHN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

You can have the soft air of spring, the steamy air of summer, the crisp air of autumn.

I'll take the frigid blasts of winter. It's the only time I really feel sorry for people in the southland.

That's because winter means Christmas and in the north, that means easy times for the gardener while he takes delight in his Christmas tree.

Conscientious green thumbers in warm climates are still hard at it, battling aphids and diagnosing leaf mold.

But the northerners have battened down their tulip bulbs and can settle down by the fireside hearth to study garden catalogues.

It's a time of dreams and good resolve for next growing season, especially with the green inspiration of a Christmas tree.

I'm a promoter of buying the biggest tree you can find room for, budget permitting. This may be because every year I accumulate new ornaments, never throw away old ones and have to have something the size of a city hall tree to hang them on.

But this is a matter of preference. Those who delight in small trees are welcome to them, especially if they subdue the decorations enough for the tree to show through.

The scotch pine has grown in popularity in recent years because its long, silky needles resist shedding and provide enough natural beauty so it isn't necessary to pile on a lot of ornaments.

However, as a big tree booster I prefer short needled varieties, such as Douglas fir, balsam and spruce — they have more notches for ornament hooks.

I'd buy Douglas fir if I could afford this emperor of evergreens. The needles are thick and the tall well-shaped trees are usually the ones anchored at the corners of tree lots as advertisements of what a Christmas tree should look like.

But when you actually get down to it, it's not the size but the shape that's important. Pick your tree for symmetry and try to find o that feels sticky — this can mean longer lasting needles.

Trees for the holiday season are cut as early as November, so chances are yours will be pretty well dried out by the time your get it.

Leave your tree out in the yard in a spot sheltered against drying winds until time to bring it inside. Sticking it in wet sand or gravel also will help preserve it.

Once inside, set it in a tree stand that holds water. Keep the container filled — the water will evaporate quickly in artificial heat. Some experts say a quantity of sugar dissolved in the water helps the trunk absorb the liquid.

If you hate to see a Christmas tree dismantled as much as I do, you'll stave off the evil day as long as possible. But when it comes ease the pain by clipping some of the branches for filling an unused fireplace or as tinder for the fire, or for use in flower arrangements.

Fruit Cake Time Again

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newfeatures Food Editor

FRUIT MAKES concocted at home are easier to make now than they were in Grandma's day. Electric mixers do a great job of creaming butter and sugar, beating eggs. Fruits and peels come cut-up in jars, nuts come shelled in cans and plastic bags. Newer than new are chopped packaged dates.

If you try this recipe, the chances are you'll agree with us that it produces a delectable nut-brown fruit cake that slices well and stays moist. Using cake flour is a trick of the trade; a baker's manual we sometimes consult asserts that this flour helps to carry fruit cake's rich ingredient. The manual also states that if a recipe is well-balanced and the fruit thoroughly drained, dusting the fruit mixture with flour should be unnecessary.

NUT-BROWN FRUIT CAKE

Sift together 2¼ cups sifted cake flour, ½ teaspoon double - acting baking powder, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon cloves and ¼ teaspoon mace. Cream 1 cup butter or margarine and 1¼ cups firmly-packed light brown sugar; add 5 large eggs (beaten until extremely thick and pale colored), 1 jar (4 ounces) cut-up candied orange peel, 1 jar (4 ounces) cut-up citron, 1 jar (4 ounces) glace cherries, 1 jar (4 ounces) cut-up candied pineapple, 1 package (7-⅓ ounces) chopped dates, 1 cup each seedless raisins and currants (rinsed and dried in a towel), 1 cup coarsely broken walnuts, ½ cup honey, ½ cup dark molasses and ¼ cup brandy. Add flour mixture gradually, mixing thoroughly after each addition. Turn batter into prepared pans. Bake in slow (275 degrees) oven until firm when touched with finger—3 to 3½ hours for large cake, about 2 hours for small cake. Set pans on wire racks to cool about 1 hour; turn out; remove paper. Finish cooling. Store in tightly covered container in cool place. To prepare pans: Grease bottom and sides of a 9 by 5 by 3 inch loaf pan and a 3-cup ring mold; line both pans entirely with 2 thicknesses of heavy waxed paper; grease paper.

DECEMBER WEDDING PLANS—Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Stubbs, Sweetwater Highway, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter Delores, to Jimmie Joe Key, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Key. The couple will exchange vows in the Key home, 2809 Westridge Drive on December 29, at 8 p.m. The Rev. Jimmie Nelson, pastor of the Colonial Hill Baptist Church will officiate.

Sparkle Comes To After-Dark

There's a sharp new line between night and day in fashions this holiday season. After-dark fashions have an entirely new feeling - of quiet elegance, of a more dressy approach.

The most beautiful expression of this new feeling is in a new group of important jewelry intended to shine after dark.

This type of jewelry often uses old settings accented with a profusion of glowing stones - or stones in new settings with a deep, dimensional look. It has been a tradition with smart European women. It gives elegance, beauty and glamour to the simplest cocktail or dinner dress. It is a beautiful new look for American women this season, a look important in itself and designed to share this importance with the woman who wears it.

This big trend to "important" dressy jewelry is seen in both precious and costume, each filling its own special place in the fashion picture, the Institute reports.

It is estimated that almost half of all American drivers got their motor vehicle licenses before official tests of vision were required.

The ghost bat is regarded with superstition by the Australian aborigines because its wings and fur are white and it feeds on other bats.

Program On Alaska Living Given By Mr. J. M. Kayser

The Twentieth Century Club met Tuesday at the Martha Ann Clubhouse with Mrs. D. E. Holder as hostess. Nineteen members answered roll call and read the club collect in unison.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Dale Clemmer, presided over the business session.

Mrs. H. J. Brice gave a federation report and Mrs. John Hamblen gave the thought for the day.

Mrs. Dave Shaeffer was in charge of the program on Alaska. She gave some interesting facts and figures on the "land of snow and ice".

Mrs. S. M. Pfiler than introduced Mr. J. M. Kayser, principal of the high school, who was guest speaker for the day. Mr. Kayser, who spent 15 months in Alaska as a school teacher, gave a very interesting report on his trip.

"It was really the realization of a boyhood dream", he said. "I had always wanted to go to Alaska, and it was all I had dreamed it would be.

"Going up the Alcan Way, we crossed the Metenuska River and came to the Valdee mountains, the Switzerland of Alaska. There we saw the bridal wreath and Horstail Falls, which were breathtaking in their beauty.

We passed through Anchorage and Fairbanks, and came to the top of the Glacier of the Marn. Farther on we saw the Knack Knack Peninsula or 'King Salmon' where many fish are caught. This is also the country of the big kodiak bear.

"During a short three months summer, the days are 18 to 20 hours long. It does not get dark at night, only twilight. Flowers bloom in a profusion of color and beauty. The birch trees are beautiful and colorful.

"The other nine months are bitter cold, and the river stays frozen solid from early November until June. It was sundown by 2:30 in the afternoon in winter. The temperature dropped to 54 below zero".

Mr. Kayser and his wife taught a one-room school at Ekwak, which means "place where the banks are steep". Enrolled were 35 Eskimo children and one white girl, ranging from grade one through seven. The school was built by the U.S. Government and is now supported by the territory.

"During the spring thaw, when the ice broke up, the entire school group were marooned in the school building for three weeks. There were 32 cases of measles and two cases of pneumonia in the one room of the school at one time. The army flew penicillin up by helicopter and all survived.

"The Eskimo people are very lazy, with little or no ambition. They have their own customs and legends, and have no desire to better themselves. But, they are very artistic people."

Kayser showed colored slides of many beautiful scenes in Alaska. He also exhibited several garments made from fur that the Eskimos wear, including mittens, fur boots, hat and a childs dress.

Mrs. Smith Speaks To Acacia Club

Community Affairs was the program topic for the Acacia Study Club Wednesday afternoon at the Martha Ann Clubhouse.

Mrs. Billy Bob McMullan introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Maurice Smith, director of nurses at Cogdell Memorial Hospital who spoke on "Shortage of Nurses in Texas".

Mrs. Smith said their was a big gap between the supply and demand for nurses. There is an increase of two and one-half million per year in population.

"Nursing has changed in the past years as patients are confined to hospitals instead of long recovery periods in the home due to pneumonia and typhoid fever and long illnesses. Now nurses are sought for employment in industry, schools, and hospitals mainly.

"Much more is expected of nurses today. She must teach the patient and his family to care for themselves after their hospital stay. She must teach other workers on her team. She must be skilled in management, leadership, communications and human relations.

"A community can help the demand for more nurses through scholarships, encouraging high school students to take courses in science, languages and English.

Knowledge of nursing is a science. Practicing it is an art. As medicine progresses, the science of nursing is widening, and the art is more than bedside care."

A short business meeting was held with Mrs. Bill Lee, president, presiding.

The current event was presented by Mrs. Tim Dennis.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Ben Moore to 20 members.

Sorority Holds Christmas Party

Christmas balls entwined with greenery illuminated by candlelight set the stage for the annual Beta Sigma Phi Christmas dinner Thursday evening at the Country Club.

Mrs. Wendell was hostess for the club members and their husbands.

The musical entertainment was Christmas carols sung by Linda Mize, Kathie Crooks, Paula Keaton, Linda Miller, Brenda Pitts and Judy Wallace accompanied on the piano by Rozanne McCloskey.

Miniature Santa Clauses marked places for Mr. and Mrs. Jurden Brunken, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Burchett, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Comer, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Greenfield, Mr. and Mrs. Dusty Moore, Mr. Shiflett, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gracey, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Scott.

Santa Clause mix-up bridge was played by the group after dinner.

Keep Weather Eye On Prettiest New Evergreens

Even in landscaping, fashion innovations are apt to affect wearing qualities. That's particularly true of many fine evergreens, pleasing to the eye but vulnerable to Winter storms.

With proper care however, prized specimens will usually weather the snowy season with hardly a blemish. Columnar types should be wrapped spirally with stout cord and some others can be helped with supports. Burlap or wood windbreaks or sunshades are occasionally in order and all evergreens like Winter mulches. But for fighting snow one of the best weapons of all is an old broom.

Gentle brushing is a prerequisite—for a vigorously-wielded broom may do more damage than the storm.

Many nursery developments in taxus, azalea and juniper, among others, have pleasing forms but and other prized plantings may require even more careful protection against ice formations than snow. When ice accumulates on branches and trees, applications of lukewarm water gently sprayed from the garden hose is the only feasible remedy. Avoid the use of salt or other ice-melting chemicals.

Snow is far from being all villain. It's one of nature's best safeguards against root freeze. Snowflakes, with their many variable forms trap large amounts of air and they blanket the ground with one of the warmest and most effective mulches known.

Two Texas Solons Facing Lively Committee Sessions

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Service

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Texas Reps. Bob Poage of Waco and Clark Thompson of Galveston face some lively committee sessions when Congress convenes in January.

While lacking the sensationalism of the TV inquiry, their House Agriculture Committee meetings nevertheless will be highly controversial as the group tackles the farm problem.

The issue was pointed up by a recent Agriculture Department report showing a drop in farm income along with higher costs of planting and harvesting.

The report followed Agriculture Secretary Benson's proposal that parity price support formula be replaced by one based on the marketing prices of the preceding or previous years.

The old parity formula, originated by a depression-period, Democratic-controlled congress, generally speaking still is defended by Democrats.

And, Democrats say Benson usually has fixed price supports nearer minumn than maximum levels as he enforces the present sliding scale support law.

The latest government report on farm income shows a 3 per cent decline in realized gross income in the first nine months of 1959 from that for the corresponding period of 1958. Gross income include government payments to farmers as well as receipts from sales of crops and livestock.

"Farm income is down this year almost as much as it was up last year," says the official report. "The further decline expected in 1960 is likely to be much smaller than the drop occuring this year.

"Although income of farm people from non-farm sources is higher this year than in 1958, this is certainly outweighed by the decline in farm income, so per capita income for persons on farms from all sources will be down some this year from the 1958 high."

The report showed that Texas farmers and ranchers received about 7 per cent less from their marketings in the January-September period of this year than at the same point in 1958.

The Texas receipts for the nine monthe totaled $1,360,230,000 (B) as compared with $1,458,304,000 for the corresponding period of last year. The big drop came in sales of crops; receipts totaled $679,854,000 (M) this year as compared with $762,810,000 last year. Livestock and livestock products brought $680,376,000 this year, $695,494,000 last year.

Anticipating a legislative fight, Thompson said in a statement that Benson's market price basis of support could lead to further declines.

He contended this would tie farm income to the desire and ability of commodity buyers to raise, lower or stabilize prices.

Referring to committee consideration of Benson's plan, Thompson said:

"The fight is going to be a hot one."

Skunk Bounty Is Problem

BOERNE, Tex. (AP)—Kendall County commissioners are considering a bounty on skunks but are running into some limitations, forcefully stated by County Judge M. A. Shumard Jr.

The commissioners debated the issue of a bounty and decided it might be a good thing.

Then a commissioner brought up the question of what part of the carcass should be delivered for collection of a bounty.

Judge Shumard suggested skunk tails, but with one provision.

"Of course these would be received on the front steps of the courthouse instead of in my office," he said.

The commissioners will decide the bounty issue in January.

Geologist Urges Oil Conservation

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP)—A Texas oilman believes oil states must modernize petroleum conservations or risk federal control.

"Partial conservation is a made to order vehicle for the proponents of federal control," said Michel Halbouty, an independent operator.

"The best protection lies in shoring up state conservation laws and regulations in Texas and elsewhere if we are to avoid federal control."

The Houston geologist and petroleum engineer who recently expanded his operations to include explorations in Alaska said some current conservation laws actually encourage rather than prevent waste of gas and liquids when applied to modern gas fields.

"We know that within a very few years it will take twice as much oil to meet the requirements of the people in this country as it takes today," he said. "Therefore, petroleum conservation is far more vital today than it was in the 1930s when most of the present laws on the subject were placed on the books."

Halbouty said an attack on and gas was made in a book published last month under a direct grant from the American Petroleum Institute. "Integration and competition in the Petroleum Industry" was written by two economists, Melvin de Chazeau and Alfred Kahn.

Habouty said the book should be accepted by oilmen as a warning in that it advocates mandatory unitization under federal control for all pools throughout the nation.

Halbouty objected particularly to two paragraphs in the book.

The authors said:

"It is clear that state control under prorationing has failed to achieve attainable standards of efficiency in the development of oil reservoirs . . . .

"In our view, these goals stand a better chance of attainment if a uniform federal statute governing oil development is substituted for the present multiplicity of state regulations."

Halbouty said such views are being supported by some of the leading business publications of the nation.

Cattleman's Wife Winner In Beef Council Contest

"Apple Meat Balls," a recipe submitted by Mrs. N. L. B. Davis, Throckmorton, was chosen the best combination of economy beef and Comet Rice in the recent Texas Beef Council contest.

"You can't imagine how much beef I cook," Mrs. Davis said, "my family includes three active youngsters."

The Davises live about 15 miles from their ranch, and spend many weekends there. Their home in Throckmorton is on the edge of the city, and they are able to keep a horse for their 12-year-old son and 6- and 10-year old daughters to ride after school.

The children nearly always spend Saturdays at the ranch," Mrs Davis said, "working up enormous appetites."

Printed recipe folders containing the five winning recipes will be distributed during Beef Week, Nov. 30-Dec. 6, by TBC County Chairman. Comet Rice Mills was one of five Texas food manufacturers who participated in the Beef Council's contest on behalf of their products.

Mrs. Davis' recipe is proportioned for other healty young appetites. It makes 8 servings.

APPLE MEAT BALLS

1½ pounds ground beef
1 apple
2 pieces celery, chopped
2 pieces celery, chpped
5 soda crackers
1 egg
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablesp on brown sugar
4 tablespoons cooking oil
4 tablespoons flour
4 cups cooked Comet Rice

Core and chop unpeeled apple, onion, and celery and crush soda crackers. Add to beef. Add beaten egg, salt and sugar and mix well. Form into small balls. Dredge with flour and brown in hot vegetable oil or drippings. Remove beef from skillet. Blend flour into fat to make smooth paste and slowly add hot water to make medium thin gravy. Spread the hot cooked Comet Rice in a large serving tray. Pour gravy over rice and arrange meat balls on top.

O Where Are Hearts And Flowers?

By BETTY A. DIETZ
Dayton News

DAYTON (AP) — 'Boy meets girl, boy marries girl.

That just about summarizes the modern courtship: American-style.

If she's lucky, however, today's sweet young thing with the stars in her eyes may be swept off her feet— as the saying goes — by a round of football games, a platter of pizza and a bit of woo at a drive-in movie.

Whatever happened to the old-fashioned courtship — complete with hearts and flowers?

The girls themselves are to blame, judging from the results of an informal survey here.

"American girls are trained to face the world alone. They're so independent," muses Mexican born Mrs. Adam Trapp. Even in Mexico, all the wonderful courtship custom are fading from the picture, Mrs. Trapp adds sadly. Reason, she says, is the presence of numerous exchange student there. The chaperone has all but disappeared.

Modern girls are too practical for romance, one young wife says, adding that hers is the voice of experience.

"I wish now I had insisted on some elegant evenings — you know, theater and dancing. But I thought we should save our money. We're still trying to save," she adds wryly.

"But even the most practical girl expects candy and flowers once in a while — maybe only for special occasions," points out Mrs. Jack Ellis. "If he forgets before marriage, though, look out."

A bright-eyed girl in a gray flannel suit, however, turns down on the formal type of courtship. This working bride, married last June, admits she delighted in the kind of informal fun her husband served up during "courting" days.

"No plans for me," she explains. "I like to be surprised."

Little "fun" gifts rate higher with most of the young women than the more costly presents.

"You can buy good costume jewelry anywhere," says one bride-to-be. "I'd rather have a single flower or some little gadget. Maybe a stuffed animal." One of her co-workers still treasures a Chinese back-scratcher from her husband.

A former small-town girl still gets dreamy-eyed about a date who brought her gardenias from a plant in his mother's garden.

"The old-fashioned courtship might not be such a bad idea after all," suggests Mrs. William Blalock. "At least it would be different. Might even prevent some divorces."

"A man used to send cut roses —the symbol of love— or orchids. today he wants a blooming plant," sighs Herb Mitchell, local florist. "It has to last for a few weeks."

Mitchell blames the women, says their own practicality has nipped romance in the bud.

That's the problem, one recent bridegroom points out:

"The girls want to be sensible to prove they're good wife material, but once they catch the guy they expect to be courted the rest of their lives."

Earrings Top In Fashion Jewelry

Since the days of Cleopatra, earrings have been among the most cherished and thoughtful gifts a woman can receive. A wardrobe of earrings is a "must" for every well-dressed woman, and the gift of them is always an implied compliment.

Because they are worn close to the face, earrings accent the beauty of complexion tone, intensify the color of eyes, and dramatize facial contours. The gift of earrings implies that "someone has noticed" these charms and found them worthy of adornment. For Christmas 1959 earrings are both a warmly personal and a soundly practical gift.

Besides their power as "vanity fare," these important bits of jewelry have enormous fashion impact in this year of "background colors." As a case in point, there is nothing more attractive than a pair of rich-colored earrings in emerald or ruby - precious or costume - with the season's sharply unrelieved black.

In textured gold, pearls or colorful jewels, the new earrings offer a stunning array of shapes, size and designs for the coming season.

Round button earrings are significant for daytime wear, says the Fashion Coordination Institute, and the new-looking upswept earring that follows the line of the ear is increasingly important for both daytime and after dark. The upswept frequently diamonds with pearls, textured gold with brilliants and color.

An important trend in earrings for this wintef calls for mixing and matching to achieve a new and fashion-fresh look. This is seen in gold earrings worn with pearls, and colored stones in a gold necklace. The traditional "matched continues strong, and has been elaborated to include the pairing of earrings with pin or bracelet.

Printed recipe folders containing the five winning recipes will be distributed during Beef Week, Nov. 30-Dec. 6, by TBC County Chairman. Comet Rice Mills was one of five Texas food manufacturers who participated in the Beef Council's contest on behalf of their products. Mrs. Davis' recipe is proportioned for other healty young appetites. It makes 8 servings.

APPLE MEAT BALLS

1½ pounds ground beef
1 apple
2 pieces celery, chopped
2 pieces celery, chpped
5 soda crackers
1 egg
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon brown sugar
4 tablespoons cooking oil
4 tablespoons flour
4 cups cooked Comet Rice

Core and chop unpeeled apple, onion, and celery and crush soda crackers. Add to beef. Add beaten egg, salt and sugar and mix well. Form into small balls. Dredge with flour and brown in hot vegetable oil or drippings. Remove beef from skillet. Blend flour into fat to make smooth paste and slowly add hot water to make medium thin gravy. Spread the hot cooked Comet Rice in a large serving tray. Pour gravy over rice and arrange meat balls on top.

Earrings Top In Fashion Jewelry

Since the days of Cleopatra, earrings have been among the most cherished and thoughtful gifts a woman can receive. A wardrobe of earrings is a "must" for every well-dressed woman, and the gift of them is always an implied compliment.

Because they are worn close to the face, earrings accent the beauty of complexion tone, intensify the color of eyes, and dramatize facial contours. The gift of earrings implies that "someone has noticed" these charms and found them worthy of adornment. For Christmas 1959 earrings are both a warmly personal and a soundly practical gift.

Besides their power as "vanity fare," these important bits of jewelry have enormous fashion impact in this year of "background colors." As a case in point, there is nothing more attractive than a pair of rich-colored earrings in emerald or ruby - precious or costume - with the season's sharply unrelieved black.

In textured gold, pearls or colorful jewels, the new earrings offer a stunning array of shapes, size and designs for the coming season.

Round button earrings are significant for daytime wear, says the Fashion Coordination Institute, and the new-looking upswept earring that follows the line of the ear is increasingly important for both daytime and after dark. The upswept frequently diamonds with pearls; textured gold with brilliants and color.

An important trend in earrings for this winter calls for mixing and matching to achieve a new and fashion-fresh look. This is seen in gold earrings worn with pearls, and colored stones in a gold necklace. The traditional "matched continues strong, and has been elaborated to include the pairing of earrings with pin or bracelet.

O Where Are Hearts And Flowers?

By BETTY A. DIETZ
Dayton News

DAYTON (AP) — Boy meets girl, boy marries girl.

That just about summarizes the modern courtship, American-style.

If she's lucky, however, today's sweet young thing with the stars in her eyes may be swept off her feet— as the saying goes — by a round of football games, a platter of pizza and a bit of woo at a drive-in movie.

Whatever happened to the old-fashioned courtship — complete with hearts and flowers?

The girls themselves are to blame, judging from the results of an informal survey here.

"American girls are trained to face the world alone. They're so independent," muses Mexican born Mrs. Adam Trapp. Even in Mexico, all the wonderful courtship custom are fading from the picture, Mrs. Trapp adds sadly. Reason, she says, is the presence of numerous exchange student there. The chaperone has all but disappeared.

Modern girls are too practical for romance, one young wife says, adding that hers is the voice of experience.

"I wish now I had insisted on some elegant evenings — you know, theater and dancing. But I thought we should save our money. We're still trying to save," she adds wryly.

"But even the most practical girl expects candy and flowers once in a while — maybe only for special occasions," points out Mrs. Jack Ellis. "If he forgets before marriage, though, look out."

A bright-eyed girl in a gray flannel suit, however, turns down on the formal type of courtship. This working bride, married last June, admits she delighted in the kind of informal fun her husband served up during "courting" days.

"No plans for me," she explains. "I like to be surprised."

Little "fun" gifts rate higher with most of the young women than the more costly presents.

"You can buy good costume jewelry anywhere," says one bride-to-be. "I'd rather have a single flower or some little gadget. Maybe a stuffed animal." One of her co-workers still treasures a Chinese back-scratcher from her husband.

A former small-town girl still gets dreamy-eyed about a date who brought her gardenias from a plant in his mother's garden.

"The old-fashioned courtship might not be such a bad idea after all," suggests Mrs. William Blalock. "At least it would be different. Might even prevent some divorces."

"A man used to send cut roses —the symbol of love— or orchids, today he wants a blooming plant," sighs Herb Mitchell, local florist. "It has to last for a few weeks."

Mitchell blames the women, says their own practicality has nipped romance in the bud.

That's the problem, one recent bridegroom points out:

"The girls want to be sensible to prove they're good wife material, but once they catch the guy, they expect to be courted the rest of their lives."

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico reported $67,016,000 worth of lead, zinc and copper during the first nine months this year, the National Bank of Foreign Commerce reported Thursday. This was a little over a million dollars more than for the same period of 1958.

Most Harvesting Is' Wrapped Up'

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Clear, cold weather during the past week enabled Texas farmers to just about wrap up the harvests of cotton and grain sorghums.

District agents reported to Director John Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service that more than 75 per cent of the cotton is ginned.

W. H. Jones from Lubbock said 30,000 to 40,000 bales were harvested daily on the South Plains last week. Two more weeks of good weather, he said, would for practical purposes complete the harvest. Ranges are dry, stock water is getting low and feeding of livestock is under way in some areas, he said.

Ray Siegmund from Ft. Stockton said 80 per cent of the cotton in his district had been harvested; stalk destruction and early land preparation has started; and livestock are in good condition. The cold stopped all grass growth and caused some loss of weight. No feeding has been reported.

An estimated 15 to 25 per cent of the cotton remains in the Rolling Plains, James Simmons at Vernon reported. Moisture is needed in most counties but small grain and livestock look good. Fence work, working cattle and plowing were said to be getting major attention as the harvests are completed.

The Panhandle area received little moisture from snow; feeding of livestock is beginning; wheat pastures are beginning to come back after the setback by cold weather and cattle generally are in fair to good condition.

Favorable weather permitted farmers in North Central Texas to complete their cotton and peanut harvests. Small grains are making good growth and livestock are in good condition. The dry grass on pastures and ranges is a fire hazard and Martin urged everyone to be extremely careful.

Fires have caused a tremendous amount of damage in northeast Texas to pastures, timber, barns and homes. Farm work was at a standstill because of the cold; cattle are losing weight and heavy feeding had become necessary.

Roy Huckabee from San Angelo reported moisture is adequate but a warm rain would help small grains and winter pastures. The cotton harvest is past the 75 per cent mark and all fall small grains have been planted. The deer and turkey harvests continue excellent.

The peanut harvest in the west Cross Timbers area is making progress, said R. G. Burwell from Stephenville. Growth of oat pastures has been slowed by the cold but are still furnishing grazing. The demand is good for the light pecan crop.

Fires also have taken their toll and rains are needed in far East Texas. Cattle are losing weight and many are being fed a protein but most pastures contain plenty of old grass.

Land preparations, said Joe Glover from Gonzales, are in full swing. Livestock conditions generally are good.

Association Admits 3 Junior Colleges

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Three Texas junior colleges are among five admitted to membership by the Southern Assn. of Colleges and Secondary Schools Thursday.

They are Alvin Junior College, Decatur Baptist College and Temple Junior College.

The Mexico City College of Mexico was among eight senior colleges admitted.

Dr. Hanry Jenkins of Tyler (Texas) Junior College was elected association president.

Tests conducted by the Interior Department indicate that hard-shelled clams can be encouraged to grow 17 per cent faster through selective breeding methods.

Former Slave Dies At 101

FREEPORT (AP) — A Negro who was born in slavery died here Thursday at the age of 101.

He was Milam Watson, whose son, Ernest, says his father was born on a plantation near Brenham on Oct. 3, 1858.

A retired Freeport cattleman, A. G. Bingle, has land titles which the elder Watson signed as a justice of the peace in Brazoria after the Civil War.

Kurachi Plans Big Greeting

By HENRY S. BRADSHER

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—The people of Karachi will line up along a 10-mile road from the airport to downtown Karachi to greet President Eisenhower Monday.

This nation is divided into two vastly different parts. One side, including Karachi, is largely desert. East Pakistan, 900 miles away across a wedge of India, is an area of rice paddies wetted by monsoons.

President Eisenhower will spend a day and a half in Karachi, an overcorwded city between the desert and the Arabian Sea. Most of Pakistan's government is still here, although the capital was recently shifted 700 miles inland to Rawalpindi.

Eisenhower also will fly across fertile irrigation projects and the stonily barren mountains of West Pakistan, between Afghanistan on one side and India on the other.

The most important link between east and west Pakistan is the Moslem religion. Under the leadership of Mohammed Ali Jinnah, the Moslems won a separate state when freedom came to the Indian subcontinent in 1947.

Jinnah died in 1948 and his top aide, Prime Minister Liaquat Ali Khan, was assassinated in 1951. Pakistan began to slide into corruption. In October 1958 the army chief of staff, Mohammed Ayub Khan, stepped in. The British-trained officer has a reputation for discipline, hard work and honesty.

In a part of the world noted for neutralism, Ayub Khan thinks in terms of military positions and is a firm American ally.

But Ayub Khan has worries of his own. The Soviets are building roads down through the buffer nation of Afghanistan. The Chinese Communists are building roads through western Tibet near disputed Kashmir. Ayub Khan says Pakistan will be under military threat within five years.

This and the foreign aid without which Pakistan cannot continue its economic development programs are likely to be on Ayub Khan's mind when Eisenhower flies in from Ankara Monday.
