Q. Who planted the trees in the "Y" intersection of U. S. 80 and S.H. 208?

A. The trees were planted by the State Highway Department. Steve Graham said they were just getting started on the beautification project, using trees donated by Wesley Smith, former local nurseryman. The trees planted were Hollywood Juniper and a variety of Japanese Pine, and also four varieties of wildflowers in the area. More are to be planted when the weather improves. It is hoped something can be worked out with the City to get water to the area.

Four accidents investigated by City Police

Four traffic accidents, three as result of icy road conditions experienced here last Tuesday, were investigated by the City Police the past week.

On Sunday, Jan. 30 at 12:41 p.m. a 1980 Buick sedan driven by Charles Lawrence Edwards of Colorado City was struck in the rear by a 1984 Dodge sedan driven by Brian Lane Hamrick of Loraine in the 300 block of East Hickory.

Tuesday at 7:04 a.m. a 1980 Chrysler sedan driven by Edgar Dwayne Good of Waco slid on ice and hit the bridge in the 200 block of Concho Street.

At 8:45 a.m. a 1985 Ford Wagon pulling a utility trailer, driven by Harry Radford Lane of Midland hit a slick spot on Interstate 20, crossed the median and heat the westbound guard rail and rolled over at the 215 East Overpass. Lane was slightly injured.

Near the same location a 1976 Chevrolet pickup driven by Dean Allen Payne of Big Spring, hauling a trailer, went out of control on ice and hit the overpass guard rail.

Car retrieved from Champion

The 1978 Oldsmobile, which skidded on ice and dived into Lake Champion at the SH 208 bridge last Tuesday morning, was retrieved late that afternoon.

The car was located by local wet-suit diver David Myers in about 10 feet of water on the east side of the bridge, and it was pulled out by Dossey Wrecker Service.

The driver Mistie Raschke and a passenger, Annette Roberts, escaped from the car by crawling through the passenger-side window and swimming to shore.

For The Record ...

FROM THE SCRIPTURES—"A wise man leaves an inheritance to his descendants, but the sinner's hoard passes to the righteous." Proverbs 13:22

No further word has been received about the possibility of Colorado City Municipal Airport being used for an Arab scene in a movie. Not enough wise men making the decision, I guess.

In the Middle East an estate was to be divided with the instructions that one-half of the possessions were to be given to the widow, one-fourth to the first-born son, and one-fifth to the second-born son. This was easy until it came to the disposition of the 19 camels.

The family finally consulted a wise man, who said, "Why, that's no problem. I will give you my camel and then you will have twenty. Then one-half of them can go to the widow, that will be ten; one-fourth, or five can go to the first-born son; and one-

4 burglaries reported in northwest Mitchell

Four apparently unrelated burglaries in the northwest part of Mitchell County last Tuesday night are being investigated by the Sheriff's Office.

Sheriff Wendell Bryant said a burglar attempted to enter a residence by kicking in a storm door. When the occupant turned on the lights the burglar fled. Deputy Tony Pantoja later talked with a suspect, then Wednesday the suspect was arrested for DWI and is being held in jail with possible charges of criminal trespass and criminal mischief pending.

Early Wednesday morning in the same area near SH 350, burglars entered a residence, again by kicking in a door. When the burglars realized the owner of the house was at home, they fled. The owner fired two pistol shots at the fleeing vehicle described as a black or dark-colored pickup with chrome rear bumper.

Sometime during the same night, two oilfield buildings in the Cuthbert community area were burglarized. Approximately $105 in tools were taken from the Fina Pump Station, and $16,275 worth of tools were taken from the Baron-Kidd lease.

The Sheriff's Office doesn't believe same groups were involved in the different incidents and investigations are continuing.

A jury list of 120 local persons has been summoned for 9 a.m. as prospective petit jurors to hear the case.

Post Office to close noon Wednesdays

The local post office window service will close at noon on Wednesdays beginning February 17, Colorado City Postmaster Charles Greer has announced.

Window service will continue from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the other days of the week, and remain closed on Saturday and Sunday as in the past.

No other services will be affected by the cutback which was brought about by Federal Budget deficit reduction measures.

Greer said local patrons may call 728-3612 for information on purchasing postage by mail, and on-site meter refilling. Stamp dispensing machines in the lobby will still be available after the window services closes.

Window service hours at Loraine and Westbrook post offices remain as in the past, with no change by the current cutback.

Voters must be registered by 5 p.m. Monday

Any unregistered voters who will want to cast a ballot in the political primary elections on March 8, must register by 5 p.m. Monday, Feb. 8, Tax Assessor-Collector Mike Burt reminded. Currently registered voters should be in possession of the new "white" voter registration card.

As of January 31, there were 4,604 registered voters in Mitchell County, however, approximately 600 of the new registration cards, included in that total, were returned to the tax office due to undeliverable addresses. Only about 25 of these have been reissued.

A SALUTE TO . . . Our Ladies Clubs

You read accounts of their meetings in our community newspaper. It is easy to regard what they are doing as tame.

Some have names like homemakers, sewing and quilting and just plain social clubs. Whatever the name, the ladies meet in living rooms of homes and others gather at established places accommodating small groups.

While socializing is the flavor of the ladies in song, inspirational talks and possibly games, there is much more attached to the weekly and monthly sessions.

These are the ladies sewing, knitting, baking and whatever for the good of the cause. Sometimes the products go directly to recipients in any number of worthy settings. More often the handmade articles are collected and sold at special events, either their own or under other sponsorship.

The proceeds from such endeavors are used to fund planned causes and sometimes the purse is left to grow until something comes along needing support.

Although casual in their approach, their impact of results is felt and appreciated as steady community producers. These ladies represent the best quality of citizenship we have.

Students to participate in 'Jump Rope for Heart'

Students from Hutchinson Elementary School will be participating in the Jump Rope for Heart on Feb. 17. This is a fund-raising project for the American Heart Association.

Each student will be jumping during his or her physical education class. Those students who wish to collect money will collect after school.

"If a student asks you for money, be sure he has the Heart Association forms and please don't give money to any students you don't know," said Susan Anderson, PE teacher. "Flat donations are easiest for the students to collect and checks are preferred."

For more information or to make a donation, call Mrs. Anderson at 728-5720.

Mayo

My wife suggested to me the other night, as she was grading a stack of papers, that I should go back to college and get my teaching certificate and become a teacher, too.

"That way," she explained, pausing as she sorted through some more of her first grade students' papers, "we could have holidays off together and the whole summer."

A few years ago, I might have considered the idea of becoming a teacher - but not now.

It's true that teachers have more time off than in a lot of professions. However, because of the stress and pressures involved in teaching today, it takes that much time off to recuperate and try to gear up for another year. Of course, not many teachers have a whole summer off - most of them are in workshops or going back to school themselves.

Somewhat, I don't think I have the patience or skills to be a good teacher. The first time a student smart-mouthed me, I would smart-mouth him right back - a no-no in Texas schools today. The first time an appraiser came into my classroom and chided me for my teaching methods, I would probably be guilty of smart-mouthing again. One of the best teachers I had in high school was an English teacher who would have probably stuffed a textbook into the appraiser's you-know-what if her teaching skills had dared be questioned.

"Sure," you say, "you're married to a teacher and you're just taking her side."

True, I am married to a teacher, but my brother has been a principal for many years and is involved in the controversial appraisal process in a school district much larger than Colorado City.

My brother tells me that he thinks teachers are under enough stress already and his school district doesn't make a big deal out of teacher appraisals. "We're just interested in making sure the kids are getting a good education," he says. "If the teachers are doing the job they should be, their contracts are renewed - if not, their contracts are not renewed."

That sounds simple enough.

I realize that the appraisal process is designed to improve teaching methods and is used as a yardstick to reward good teaching by means of the career ladder.

However, I have heard of teachers, including some in Colorado City, who have become physically sick when confronted by the state-mandated appraisal system. To me, that doesn't sound very conducive to good teaching - or learning, for that matter.

But thanks to H. Ross Perot and the sweeping changes he caused in the Texas education system, there are a lot of disgruntled teachers around the state. Of all people, Perot, a billionaire businessman, should know that happy, satisfied employees are more productive than unhappy employees.

I think I'll be a lot happier staying out of the classroom.

However, judging from some of the homework our fifth grader is bringing home these days, it might not be a bad idea if I did go back to the classroom and bone up on some math and science.

Lawler

Wake up, Larry.

It could have been worse. You could have been killed. As it is, all you have to do is go to the dressing room, pick up your lucrative paycheck and go home.

Time was when some upstart kid with a heavy fist would have been picking himself off the canvass - the victim of a Larry Holmes barrage. But not anymore, Larry.

Like just about every boxer who has ever fought - save Rocky Marciano - you just didn't know when to quit.

You won 48 straight fights before Michael Spinks slipped in with a couple of decisions. Rocky won 49 straight, of course, then retired undefeated - but you only got to 48, you miserable failure.

Now you've got a three-fight losing streak on your hands, thanks to Mike Tyson, who turned you into a big sausage ball on the boardwalk at Atlantic City the other day.

There you are, Larry, on sports pages all over the world - sprawled out with your arms to both sides and a bald-headed ref reaching down to make sure your pulse is still quivering.

It is, thank goodness.

It would have been a shame to leave all that money with your widow and some kids. They'd have probably grieved for a month before resuming normal lives. Some fancy guy who never worked up a decent sweat in his life, would have come along and shared your millions with your family. You'd have been cursing him all the way from heaven.

But you got another chance, Larry. You're still on the reel, free to move about as a husband, father and grandfather, to write your own script during your allotted years on earth. Free to relax and develop a middle-aged spread. To travel and sip fine wines, to shake hands with much weaker men at car dealers' show rooms. Or to simply take your money and run to the hills and bury your shame.

What shame?

Don't ask me, Larry. You're the one who's been going around for years acting as if people are ashamed of you - as if not being the greatest heavyweight boxing champion of all time is something to be ashamed of.

You were the best of an era in spite of yourself, Larry, and for some guys that might have been enough, don't you think?

Guess not? You guys are all the same. If you didn't have so much pride and ego, you'd never win the championship in the first place. And it's the same pride and ego that refuses to accept satisfaction at being the best of an era, that destroys you in the end.

I'm afraid it'll keep on eating at you, Larry - making you feel like a failure for not being as good as Ali until he was an old man. There it is right now, telling you that people thought more of Joe Louis and Marciano than they did of you. It just can't help picking on Larry Holmes, because he's so easy.

It knew he'd just keep on trying to change the opinions of faceless sports fans. Fans who wouldn't let him be the No. 1 boxer of all time.

It wasn't the sports fans who did you in, though, Larry. When you looked into their faces, you saw Larry Holmes. Or a thousand Larry Holmes. A thousand faces shaking their heads in disapproval. And the more they shook, the angrier you got trying to prove you weren't you.

The plain truth is, Larry, you were the best all along. You've been the butt of a cruel joke. The voices and faces in your head lied and now it's over and you're lying there on the canvas, all used up, second best in a game of two. The faces always said it'd turn out like this, and they talked you right out of enjoying all those wonderful years. What a joke.

Go home Larry. Enjoy the rest of your life. Ignore those lying faces. You earned everything you got - and more.

Letters to the editor

Praise given

Flowers returned:

TO THE EDITOR: As you know, Tuesday last was a day of extremely hazardous driving conditions. The early morning ice build-up on Interstate 20 was the cause of many minor accidents. My wife and I were involved in one of the accidents that occurred just east of town as our van skidded off the highway and into a concrete culvert; then later I was struck by another car that lost control. We praise God that the physical injuries sustained were minimal. We would also like to give due praise to Mitchell County Sheriff's Deputy Clifton and Texas Highway Patrolman Nichols. In the very busy performance of their duties that morning, they were very courteous, considerate and helpful to all concerned. Their efficiency speaks very highly of their caliber as law enforcement officials. Our county and our state can be proud to have these men in their employ. My wife and I thank them both.

Very sincerely,
Rev. Jack Ward

Conservation reserve signup underway

COLLEGE STATION - Texas farmers have another opportunity to enroll highly erodible land in the Conservation Reserve Program.

The current signup period is Feb. 1-19. Farmers may enroll land at Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service county offices where previously-accepted bids do not exceed 25 percent of the cropland in the county.

"The February signup is the sixth since the program got underway two years ago," points out Dr. B.L. Harris, soils specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

"Texans have already enrolled 2.8 million acres CRP, and nationally about half of the 45 million acres targeted for the program are under contract and removed from crop production," notes Harris.

Farmers who participate in the 10-year commitment receive annual rental payments. In addition, the U.S. Department of Agriculture picks up half the cost of establishing a permanent conservation cover.

Only highly erodible cropland is eligible. The highly erodible designation is based on land capability class, soil loss tolerance and the erodibility index, explains the soils specialist.

The land also must have produced an agricultural commodity during any two years from 1981-1985.

"In Texas the maximum, or cutoff, bids have ranged from $35-55 an acre, depending on geographic location in the state," says Harris. "Cut-off bids in Texas' seven bid 'pools' have not changed since earlier signups."

"Texas still has many acres of land being cropped that will be subject to conservation compliance provisions, which take effect in 1990. CRP is a good alternate for many of those problem soils," says Harris.

County Extension offices have information to aid farmers in their decision-making about CRP.

POUND PUPPIES - These six half Kelpie and half Lab puppies are free for the taking at the city pound located at Mitchell County Veterinary Hospital, Highway 208 South. There are three males and three females. For more information about them or other pets available for adoption, call 728-8055.

Diabetes screening set

As a public service to local residents, The Medicine Place, 2135 Hickory, will be sponsoring a free health care screening for diabetes on Wednesday, Feb. 10, from 1:30-5:30 p.m.

Statistics released by national and medical departments estimate over 5 million Americans today have undiagnosed diabetes. In Texas, the incidence of diabetes is possibly five times greater in the Mexican-American population. The large number of complications because of diabetes in this group calls for increased public awareness and individual treatment.

Symptoms of diabetes almost always include abnormal hunger, abnormal thirst and frequent urination. Symptoms sometimes will include weakness, weight loss and slow-healing infections.

Diabetes cannot be cured, but once diagnosed it can be controlled. However, left untreated, diabetes can cause blindness, heart disease, stroke, gangrene and kidney failure.

Mayo elected Delta Kappa Gamma chapter president

Janet Mayo was elected to serve a second biennium as president of the Beta Epsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

Other officers named by nomination chairman Erna Lou Burt were Wilma Reynolds, vice president; Carolyn Weaver, second vice president; Katherine Walla, secretary; and Debbie Denson, corresponding secretary. The treasurer is appointed by the president and approved.

Patty Pharis and Mrs. Walla presented the program Books on Trial. Frances Godwin was program director and participant.

Libraries have a magic all their own, both speakers agreed, and a teacher's individual library for her students is beyond evaluation. It puts correlating material at fingertips.

"The magic machine age will never replace book and magazine information," the speakers noted, adding that the computer age has helped in information finding and in speeding up where to locate needed materials.

"There should be careful scrutiny of new textbooks. A teacher knows what is needed; parents know what they want. Those wants should parallel," they said.

"All books should be informative, honest and interesting," they said.

"Lessons should be learned that are appropriate for the age and grade of the students, as well as deal with fast learners, slow learners, behavioral problem students and disabled students," they said.

"Biases should be of great concern," they noted, adding that "decency in word selection should be a committee's burdensome sense of responsibility," the two agreed.

Both speakers challenged members to keep abreast of changes, biases and people who are demanding changes and why they want changes.

Mrs. Godwin concluded the program with evaluation of good books, good reading and results.

Hostesses Debbie Denson, Judy Merrell, Mabel Merriitt, Mamie Lou New and Margaret Rees invited guests to the refreshment area.

A Valentine decorated table was centered with a basket full of heart shaped mints and candies. Heart shaped balloons attached to the handles floated. Sandwiches, cookies and punch were served.

Others attending were Fanny Fay Feaster, Erna Lou Burt, Nancy Carroll, Ethelyn Lancaster, Linda Mathis, Janet Mayo, Margaret Latimer, Karan Johns, Janie

Lou Greenlee and Frances Godwin.

Also, Mary Ellis, Nadine Gordon, Marian Craddock, Betsy Aycock, Kitten Arthur, Patty Pharis, Wilma Reynolds, Jean Robinson, Margaret Sparks, Clara Shoemaker and Katherine Walla.

MITCHELL COUNTY

Pol. Adv. pd. for by George Walker,

VINCE ARIAZ

for
Mitchell County
Sheriff
"To protect and and to serve"

Should we be concerned about our jail facility? Is it not the responsibility of the Sheriff to make sure that the jail is kept certified by Texas Jail standards in order for it to be secure, safe and suitable to house inmates. Yet since 1984 Mitchell County jail has failed to pass certification at the time of inspection. In 1986 there were 5 jail escapes and 1 in 1987. And what about the budget dollars spent to operate the Sheriff's Department and the jail? Shouldn't we be concerned about the dollars spent versus the amount of work being done? In 1986 the budget for the Sheriff's Department and the jail was exactly $286,350.72 and during 1986 only 14 criminal cases were filed in county court. In 1987 the budget was $313,675.81 "Plus" an additional $16,300.00 for overtime pay that was not even budgeted and in 1987 only 10 criminal cases were filed in county court. Now the budget for 1988 is exactly $341,205.76 an increase of $54,900.04 since 1986 and a decrease of 4 criminal cases filed since 1986. What should we expect from the Mitchell County Sheriff's Department in 1988? These are our tax dollars that are being spent. I would like to propose 3 steps that I believe will help keep the budget from climbing as it did from 1986 to 1988 during the present Sheriff's administration and also provide the most effective Law Enforcement possible to you, the citizens of Mitchell County.

1st--To establish a county wide crime prevention unit in the Sheriff's Department, a program that will bring Public Relations closer between you, the citizens and the Sheriff's Office. Crime prevention programs that will involve everyone from our kids to our Senior Citizens. Crime prevention programs dealing from schools without drugs, McGruff for kids, Neighborhood Watch and Crime Stoppers. A Crime prevention Unit that will be eligible for funds from grants out of the governors office.

2nd--To establish a 24 hour Sheriff's Patrol in the county to replace the present patrol that generally ends around 1 or 2 o'clock in the morning. This will provide quicker response time, more patrol and higher visibility. This can be accomplished by having an active working Sheriff to share in the duties and responsibility with his Deputies. With a county of approximately 10,000 people, I don't see any reason why the Sheriff needs to spend his entire day at the office or the jail. I believe he should be out in the county doing the job he gets paid for.

3rd--To establish residential deputies in our communities. I am yet to see where the problem is or has been in accomplishing this task. Every Sheriff's Department that I have come in contact with in the 5 1/2 years of my Law Enforcement career employs Deputies for its communities and if elected Sheriff, I intend to do the same.

The Sheriff is the Chief Law Enforcement Officer in the County. I believe the most important thing the Sheriff should be concerned about is in Protecting and Serving the citizens of Mitchell County. If you are as concerned as I am, then I ask you, the citizens of Mitchell County for your vote and your support.

Thank you,
Vince Ariaz,
Candidate for Sheriff of
Mitchell County

Ira Bulldogs clinch title

IRA - The Ira Bulldogs remained undefeated in the district 17-A girls basketball race with 67-40 win over the Loraine Bulldogs here Tuesday night.

Ira also remained undefeated in the boys standings with a 73-58 victory over Loraine.

Loraine's girls fell to 2-2 with the loss and into a second place tie with the Hermleigh Cardinals. District 17-A teams were originally scheduled to end the regular season this coming Tuesday but might have games to make up because of Friday's snowstorm.

Loraine hosts Westbrook Tuesday.

The Bulldog girls, 7-16, are tied for second place with Hermleigh at 2-2 behind 4-0 Ira. Westbrook is 0-4.

Loraine's girls could have clinched a playoff spot with a win over Hermleigh Friday.

"We played our worst game of the whole year," said Loraine girls coach Jim Nau about the Bulldogs' loss to Ira. "We flat just didn't play well."

Ira led 16-10 after one period, 37-18 at halftime and 55-28 after three periods.

Scoring for Loraine were Cheryl Alvarez 14, Jolinda Troutt 8, Terry Munoz 8(2 three-pointers), Michelle Garcia 4, Amy Vasquez 3, Trena Williams 1 and Christi Blair 2.

A. Garna and Dana Gunset led Ira with 24 and 14 points, respectively.

Ira's win in the boys contest left the Bulldogs at 4-0. Trailing Ira are Westbrook at 3-1, Hermleigh at 1-3 and Loraine at 0-4.

Ira led Loraine 19-17 after one period, 39-29 at halftime and 62-43 after three periods.

Scoring for Loraine, 2-19, were Anthony Williams 21, Shawn Finley 15, Charlie Alvarez 10, Rudy Sanchez 8 and Ruben Vasquez 4.

For Ira were Chuck Barbee 20, Gary Gunset 14, T. Withers 13 and J. Sturdivant 11.

Ira won the junior varsity girls contest 35-18.

Scoring for Loraine were Shelli Webb 10, Angelic Garcia 2, Betty Garcia 2, Mary Gonzalez 3 and Michelle Clayton 1.

Big Spring hosting Triple Crown

The members of the National Triple Crown Softball Selection Committee announced today January 1, 1988, their selection of Big Spring, Texas as the site for the first leg of the West Texas Triple Crown to be held on May 28, 29, 30, 1988. The tournament is part of the acclaimed National Triple Crown Slowpitch Softball Series.

Triple Crown President, Dave King, stated the selection of Big Spring as a site for the 80-140 team tournament was due to the efforts of the local Chamber, Convention and Visitors Bureau and the Recreation Department, plus the desirable location of the community for teams around the state, region and nation.

The National Triple Crown Softball Series is designed for three separate tournaments to be held in each of 12 states from Florida to Washington. Each tour-namment is comprised of six separate divisions: three men's, two women's and one coed division. Leg one will be run in each of the 12 Triple Crowns on Memorial Weekend, May 28-30 with legs two and three to follow in June and July. The three separate tournaments in each Triple Crown state are combined in one scoring system. The top point-getters in each division (six in each Triple Crown state equalling 72 total teams) will advance to the National Triple Crown Finals to be played in Steamboat Springs, Colorado August 12-15, 1988. The trip includes a travel package valued at $3,500 for each winning team.

Big Spring will be marketed state, region, and nationwide to bring in 80-140 teams and 3,000-5,000 people to compete for the West Texas Triple Crown title and a berth to the Finals.

On February 15, 1988, the Triple Crown Marketing Committee will be in Big Spring for one week to place key advertisers in the state and national brochures for the series.

A press conference for local media and interested business owners will be held at 1 p.m. on February 15, 1988, at the Park Inn.

Loraine, Westbrook move to 7-A

The Loraine Bulldogs finally have a district to call home.

The Bulldogs, currently in district 17-A for basketball, have played the last two football seasons without being a member of a district.

The dilemma began when Loraine dropped to Six-man football two seasons ago but made the change too late to join a district.

That forced the Bulldogs to play their first two seasons of Six-man ball as an independent.

That changed recently when the University Interscholastic League completed district realignments-as the UIL does every two years.

Loraine, Westbrook, Ira and Hermleigh have formed district 17-A the last two seasons.

Loraine will play football next season against Hermleigh, Ira, Trent, Blackwell and Highland.

For basketball the teams will be Blackwell, Loraine, Roscoe, Highland, Trent and Westbrook.

In bi-district 7-A representatives will play 8-A teams Christoval, Lohn, Brookesmith, Panther Creek, Paint Rock, Novice and Lawn.

Retailers report sales up

AUSTIN - State Comptroller Bob Bullock said final figures on strong 1987 Christmas sales are a good sign that the Texas economy is recovering.

"A surge in consumer spending in December brought in more than $619 million in state sales taxes," Bullock said.

He said tax collections were about 56 percent more than tax collections in December of 1986.

The increase is well above any factor that can be attributed to the Legislature's hike in the sales tax rate last fall from 4.125 percent to 6 percent.

Bullock said a survey of major retailers shows that Christmas season sales were up an average of 5.5 percent this year compared to the previous year.

"That's a healthy gain that will translate into a better financial position for Texas merchants and an overall improvement in the economy for all Texans," Bullock said.

He said strong retail sales provide a benchmark that consumers are gaining more confidence in the Texas economy.

This is one more indicator that Texas is coming back from the economic doldrums brought on by the collapse of oil prices a couple of years back, he said.

Taxable retail sales in the fourth quarter of 1987 are estimated to total more than $17.5 billion. This compares with retail sales in the fourth quarter of 1986 of $16.7 billion.

HE PREACHES WELL THAT LIVES WELL

If you stike a tuning fork that is designed to vibrate at middle C, and place it anywhere near another fork with the same natural frequency, the second one will begin to vibrate, even without being struck. How well that illustrates the statement that "religion is caught, not taught."

A friend of mine is constantly reminding his children that God is watching them, lectures about the importance of prayer, and insists they read two chapters of the Bible each day. He is sincerely trying to raise his children to be good Christians, but they are beginning to rebel. Another one of my friend's children frequently hear him say, "Thank You, Lord, for that gorgeous sunset!" or "Let's talk to Jesus about this problem," or "I'll go biking with you for a few minutes, but right now I need to spend some time alone with God." They see their father reading the Bible, help him deliver "meals on wheels" for shut-ins and join him at the piano to sing their favorite hymns. They have caught their father's deep and vibrant faith, their "tuning forks" have been set in motion, and Jesus Christ is very real to them.

If your child or spouse or best friend is in need of a closer relationship with the Lord, instead of trying to convince them with arguments, why not try the tuning fork way--with "sympathetic vibrations."
