LIONS REPRESENTING OVER FIFTY PER CENT OF CLUBS IN DISTRICT REGISTERED

Colorado Club Led With 123; Lubbock Second With 36 Out of Total 287

Out of 52 unit clubs, District 2-T, Texas, Lions International, registered 287 delegates from 28 clubs during annual convention here Monday and Tuesday. Colorado led with a total of 123, and this distinction would have been unanimous had the other three Lions been able to attend the convention. Minister J. D. Harvey, one of the Lions not registering, was holding a meetig in Van Horn and the other two members were also out of the city.

"Such a record is entitled to the commendation of every Lion in the district," declared Governor Harrington Tuesday afternoon when shown report on registration. "It shows that Lionism is definitely influencing the manhood of West Texas. Colorado is to be complimented upon the splendid showing made in this respect."

Lubbock, having one of the largest clubs in the district, came in for first place among visiting delegations for the number of registrations with a total of 36. Plainview was second with 19 registration and Snyder third with 15. Other registrations were as follows:

Amarillo, 5; Alpine, 1; Anson, 2; Big Spring, 11; Brownfield, 1; Childress, 5; Clarendon, 5; Dalhart, 2; El Paso, 4; Fort Stockton, 2; Hamlin, 8; Hereford, 7; Lamesa, 2; Matador, 1; Midland, 11; McCamey, 2; Pampa, 10; Paducah, 1; Panhandle, 2; Pecos, 1; Perryton, 5; Rankin, 3; Wink, 2.

There were several hundred visitors who did not register. Midland, alone, brought a delegation of fifty boosters for Marion Peters, their candidate for district governor, and a large band. Snyder, Lubbock and other clubs sent many visitors to the convertion who were not registered and the official total did not include registration of the women.

TAIL TWISTER HAS ONE OF CLUBS' IMFORTANT OFFICES, SPEAKER SAYS

One of the most important offices within the Lions Club is that of the tail twister, Herb Walker of Pampa, a former district governor of District 2-T Texas, declared in addressing a group of those officials at annual breakfast program Tuesday morning.

"I believe your office is one that should be given greater recognition, due to its uniqueness," Walker said. "Ours is the only service club having a Tail Twister and when you find a live, aggressive Tail Twister, you will usually find a live Lions Club."

COLORADO LIONS SHARE IN CONVENTION HONORS

J. H. Greene and W. N. Crosthwaite, members of the Colorado Lions Club, were among eight citizens within the large district to receive Master Key awards during the convention. In order to attain such a distinction a Lion must be personally responsible in having brought ten new members into his club. The keys were presented Tuesday morning by Sam Braswell of Clarendon, member of the International directorate.

LOCAL WOMEN ATTEND ABILENE P. T. A. MEET

Three local women, all officers in the Colorado Parent Teachers Association which was organized last February, attended Friday's sessions of the Sixth District convention of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers held in Abilene last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

The three women attending from Colorado were Mrs. Bob Hubbard, president of the Colorado P. T. A., Mrs. L. B. Elliott and Mrs. John Howell, first and second vice-presidents.

Cotton Contract Adjustments To Close Saturday

Announcement is made from the office of B. J. Baskin, county farm agent, that necessary adjustments in the 1934-35 cotton contracts for Mitchell county should be made by Saturday night, April 28.

"Any delay in this matter will materially affect the date of receiving checks," Baskin states. All contracts will be paid immediately upon receipt in Washington and later checked for errors. Any adjustment in rates of pay, parity payments, etc., will be made in the second payment, which is due in August and September.

"The whole-hearted cooperation of the contract signers at this time will expedite matters, and will cause checks to be received sooner. The county committee is only 24 hours behind the committeemen in the tabulation of all adjusted contracts and will endeavor to stay that close with their work."

DISRICT KEY LIONS WILL 'CARRY ON' IN CAMPAIGN TO WIN HIGH HONOR FLAG

Are 76 New Members Behind California, Harrington Says At Breakfast

"We are going to carry on determinedly in campaign to deliver to our District Governor Del W. Harrington the International banner for largest number of new members," was resolution adopted with applause at annual Key Members breakfast at the Barcroft hotel Monday morning.

The resolution was adopted after Governor Harrington had announced that 2-T, Texas, was third among the growing districts, with California holding first place. The California district was leading West Texas by 76.

Amarillo and Big Spring clubs immediately pledged to bring in 15 new members each before close of the convention here Tuesday afternoon.

The breakfast program was among the inspirational features of the two days. Deputy District Governor Long of Fort Stockton occupied the chair. Addresses, extolling Lionism and urging every Key member in the district to return home determined to continue his record of service.

SHOOTING OF AIR RIFLE OR SLING SHOT WITHIN CITY LIMITS IS BARRED

The police department this week issued warning that the shooting of air rifles, or sling shots, (Nigger shooters) within corporate limits of the city will not be tolerated. The offense is in violation of a specific law and entails fine upon conviction.

"The breaking of windows, street light globes and rendering other damage to either public or private property must stop," the warning outlined. "We mean to arrest all parties charged with this offense and invite full cooperation of parents of any youngsters possessing either of the weapons."

LOCAL RETAILERS WARNED THAT TRADE GROUPS WILL BE REQUIRED UNDER CODE

Organization Must Come, So Watson Says, Before New Blue Eagles Issued

That there are several retail trade groups in Colorado not complying with provisions of the National Recovery Act through organization of a self-governing body was asserted Wednesday afternoon by J. W. Watson, chairman of the Mitchell county compliance board. Watson made strong urge that attention to this matter be given without delay.

Stating that attention to this code requirement was imperative, Watson offered plea that several retail industries not already organized into a self-governing association do so at once. The law specifies that those groups failing to comply with the law in this respect will receive no new Blue Eagles.

Statement issued by Watson Wednesday afternoon follows:

This office has been advised by the State director of NRA, that in every permanent code, there are specific provisions for self-governing bodies, to be formed by the industry itself.

It is intended that these bodies will be formed in each city and town, and will be the means of permitting industry to settle its own complaints and misunderstandings without intervention of outside agencies, such as governmental.

At the present time the retail drug trade; retail food and grocery distributors trade; restaurants and others whose permanent code has been approved, have failed in the city of Colorado to form these governing bodies. There are provisions in each code for this, and if you do not have your code, see the local chairman of the NRA, who will show you same.

It It is imperative that this be done, and all requirements of the code adhered to in order to receive the new blue eagle.

The different trades should hold meetings and take advantage of these specific provisions, and unless same is done, it will be necessary that other agencies step in and do it.

The local compliance board suggests that the above trades and any other, whose permanent code has been signed, to meet at the district court room at 8:00 P. M., on Friday evening, to perfect their respective organizations.

CANTRILL WAS 'ON THE JOB' MEETING TRAINS

R. H. Cantrill was chairman of the Lions convention committee to meet incoming trains. Sunday afternoon while talking over things with a group of Lions in lobby of the Colorado hotel he heard whistle of an approaching train. "Hurry up, boys, we must meet that train," he shouted while making a rush for the street. Arriving at the station almost out of breath Cantrill found the trains was a through freight.

CONTRACTOR USES PINE BOARD TO WRITE ORDER

Houston Hill, local contractor, wrote out an order for $1.50 on a piece of pine board the other day when he found that the more conventional paper was not handy. The order was issued on H. E. Grantland, treasurer of a fund being carried by First Methodist church and paid immediately upon presentation at the City National Bank.

PAYNE PEOPLE HAVE ANNUAL BARBECUE

About 100 people of the Payne community attended the annual barbecue sponsored by the Payne P. T. A. Friday evening.

The barbecue was given in a pasture at J. R. Henderson's farm. Henderson, Ed Snowden, and Pierce Lindley prepared the barbecue, while ladies of the community furnished cakes and pies.

Isaac Would Have Been Roaring Lion Julien Hyer Says

Isaac, outstanding character in early days of Bible history, would have been an outstanding Lion today, were he living in this generation and a citizen of West Texas, Julien C. Hyer, past president of Lions International, declared in address at the high school auditorium Sunday evening. Mr. Hyer arrived in Colorado Sunday afternoon from his home at Ft. Worth.

Every church in Colorado cooperated with the Lions Club in opening program of the convention and the large auditorium was filled with people. It was the first time a past president of the International association had ever spoken here.

Hyer gave reference to the determined will of Isaac as he went out to dig wells from which to obtain water for his people and flocks, picturing such leadership as characteristic of Lionism.

MITCHELL VOTERS REFUSE TO LEGALIZE BEER SALES IN SATURDAY'S ELECTION

Proposal Lost By Margin of 78 Votes; Colorado For Beer By Lead of 272

Mitchell county voters Staurday turned thumbs down on proposal to legalize 3.2 beer, with approximately fifty per cent of the qualified electors going to the polls. Out of a total of 1,704 votes reported, the drys polled 891, a lead of 78.

Colorado, Landers, Iatan, McKenzie and Hyman were the only voting precincts to vote in favor of the beverage sales. At Colorado the wets rolled up a lead of 272 votes out of 822 votes polled. The vote was 547 to 275. McKenzie polled only 8 votes, every one of which was for the beer proposal.

Loraine swung the county safely into the dry column by registering a vote of more than four to one against beer. There were 94 citizens there in favor of the sales as compared with 379 against. Majorities against the sale were voted at Westbrook, Spade, Cuthbert, Carr, and Buford.

Complete tabulation of unofficial returns as reported to The Record is published in another column of the paper today.

OLD PAPERS AND OTHER RELICS MADE ATTORNEY COLLECTION INTERESTING

That M. Carter, pioneer Colorado attorney who died a few months ago, had kept an interesting collection of old newspapers and other relics was brought to light Wednesday afternoon by R. H. Ratliff, local attorney. Ratliff was exhibiting the collection at The Record office.

There were copies of the "West Texas News," "Colorado Clipper" and "Colorado Times," some of them dating back from forty to fifty years. Announcement of a cowboys ball on New Years, 1902, was written in verse. There is in the collection an almanac printed in 1811.

SAN JACINTO DAY GIVEN HONOR BY SCHOOLS, BANK

The Colorado schools were closed Friday out of recognition of the 98th anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto, event turning history of Texas from that of a Mexican province into a republic. Saturday the City National bank was closed in honor of the holiday.

STUNT FEATURES GIVEN AT SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

Due to unfavorable weather conditions, stunt program planned for Ruddick Park Monday afternoon were given in auditorium of the high school building. The program was made most interesting by presentation of numbers by visiting artists.

'CHILD HEALTH DAY' WILL BE OBSERVED THROUGHOUT TEXAS SUNDAY, MAY 6TH

State Health Official Asks Colorado Parents Join In Welfare Objective

"Mothers and Babies First" is slogan for Child Health Day, to be observed on Sunday, May 6, Dr. H. N. Barnett, director of the bureau of child hygiene, State department of public health, outlines in a communication to The Record. There is especial significance in this year's celebration of the day, Dr. Barnett states, because children are always among the greatest sufferers in periods of hard times.

After offering invitation that Coloradoans join in appropriate observance of the day, Dr. Barnett goes on to say:

"Child Health Day is a challenge to all adults to take stock of the health needs of all children, babies as well as those of school age, in their communities. All should be interested in furthering all measures to conserve health and promote happiness of children. An examination by the family physician at this time would not be amiss. He can detect signs of malnutrition, unsound teeth, heart defects, poor vision, poor hearing, and many other defects and can advise the parents of the proper treatment necessary.

"Parents should take an inventory of what they are doing for their children, to see if they are neglecting anything that should be done to remove health handicaps.

"It is suggested that every community in the State conduct suitable exercises on May Day. Texas has always taken a prominent part in this observance and each year numbers of clinics for babies and preschool children are held. In this way a community-wide interest is centered on the small child. Teachers, children, and members of clubs are enlisted to establish year round activities for the betterment of mothers and babies."

METHODISTS IN TRIBUTE TO DR. J. W. HUNT, LATE PRESIDENT OF McMURRY

Colorado Methodists united wit other congregations throughout the Northwest Texas Conference Sunday morning to pay tribute to the life and memory of Dr. J. W. Hunt, founder and president of McMurry college, who died a few weeks ago at his home in Abilene.

Addresses extolling greatness of the man were delivered by Rev. Cal C. Wright, pastor, and Sam Braswell of Clarendon, leader among the layity in Southern Methodism for several years.

Dean Boswell of McMurry college, scheduled to speak here, was unable to do so on account of illness.

MRS. BARBER TAKEN IN SEARCH OF HEALTH

Accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. G. A. Cole, Mrs. T. H. Barber left last Friday for Fort Worth, Mineral Wells, Marlin, and other points in search of some help in recovery from a recent nervous breakdown.

UNIVERSAL APPROVAL OF LIONISM BY PASTORS AT COLORADO GIVEN PRAISE

The greatest attribute that Lionism in Colorado may claim is couched in the fact that every pastor within the city is not only carrying his name on membership roster of the organization, but is aggressive in lending his support to those principles for which the service organization stands.

That statement was given before general assembly of the district convention Tuesday morning and that the speaker making reference to that feature of Lionism in the city voiced sentiment of Lions attending was demonstrated by applause.

The Colorado Lions Club has grown in numbers 120 per cent within the past eight months because the people here become impressed with the proposition Lionism means something to citizenship and humanity, it was stated.

FFA SHOW SATURDAY TO EXHIBIT SIXTEEN CONDITIONED CALVES

Entrants To Be Judged By Cisco Vocational Instructor

Displaying calves and pigs which they have conditioned during the year, members of the Colorado High School Chapter of the Future Farmers of America will hold their annual livestock show Saturday, beginning at 10 A. M., on the Trades Day lot south of the courthouse.

About sixteen calves which have been fed by members of vocational agriculture classes of Colorado High School under the guidance of Doyle Williams, head of the vocational agriculture department and director of Future Farmer activities, are to be shown. Ten or twelve hogs will also be exhibited. Both hogs and calves have been on special feed for five or six months.

Exhibits will be judged by J. M. Bird, head of Vocational Agriculture in Cisco High School and agricultural director of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce. Five prizes of $5, $4, $3, $2, and $1 are being offered by the Colorado Chamber of Commerce.

Boys who will have exhibits in the show include Joe Leonard Blackard, Wesley Elliott, Raymond Franklin, Roy Key, Jack Morrison, James Pritchett, Joe Pritchett, Robert Stell, Paul Vest, Frank Carpenter, Bill Galey, Romaine Hammonds, Ivy Jones, and Cleveland Whitten.

Plans are being made to take these exhibits to the Livestock show in Sweetwater May 10 and 11, and the boys plan to sell barbecue sandwiches during the show Saturday to help defray their expenses to the Sweetwater show.

'ANTELOPES' TO SPONSOR DANCE SATURDAY NIGHT AT THE LEGION BUILDING

"The Col-Tex Antelopes" is name under which baseball club representing the refinery will be known during this season. In reorganizing their ball club the players selected the new name to distinguish the team with "Antelope" gasoline, manufactured by Col-Tex.

A benefit dance is to be given at the Legion building Saturday evening, to which all interested parties are invited. The Antelopes are to play Coahoma Sunday afternoon at 3 at Westside park.

FEDERAL EDICT IN COURT AT ABILENE CLEARS SITE TITLE AT WALNUT-THIRD

Topographical Survey To Be Made Soon, Colorado Is Advised This Week

Another material stride toward realization of a federal building at Colorado was realized Tuesday when edict was passed by federal court authorizing condemnation proceedings to clear title to property at Walnut and West Third streets, contracted for several months ago by the government as site for the building.

The following day Joe Y. Fraser, assistant postmaster here, received the information by wire that the government would proceed with topographical survey of the site without delay. Engineers to direct this work are now being consulted. It is believed that after the title has been cleared actual construction work on the project will be started as soon as preliminaries are out of the way.

Three commissioners, John B. Girand, J. E. Wills and J. W. Boger, all of Abilene, appraised the lots and entered a judgment that the government should set aside $10,000 as just compensation in the matter. This is to be paid to four persons, Floyd Dodson, A. J. Coe as an individual and as executor of the M. M. Coe estate. John Brown and the Great Southern Life Insurance company of Houston. Besides Dodson, Coe and Brown, dissenting Colorado property owners who were made defendants in the suit were Rupert P. Ricker, Sam L. Majors, R. W. Mitchell, J. R. Daniel and J. B. Coe.

The property is three and one-fifth lots at the northwest intersection of West Third and Walnut sts., city of Colorado. The suit was brought pursuant to instructions from the attorney general and F. K. Heath, assistant secretary of the treasury.

Ball Club Formed By Fire Dept. At Meeting Tuesday

Organization of the fire boys base ball club was perfected at meeting held Tuesday night at the city hall. Jno. A. Thompson was elected president, Dick Delaney secretary-treasurer, Sid Burrus manager, Abilene Giddens captain and Truman Henderson assistant captain.

Thompson stated Wednesday morning that his team would be ready for opening the season within a few days. The men are to be equipped with new uniforms.

MILLS APPRECIATES THE SUPPORT GIVEN TO 1934 CONVENTION OF LIONISM

Joe B. Mills, president of the Lions Club, stated Thursday morning that he wished to publicly state in behalf of every member of the organization that cooperation extended by the public during recent annual district convention had assured success of the meeting.

"Officials and other Lions attending the convention were profuse in their praise of the hospitality extended by Colorado and I want every one who did anything in cooperation with our committees to know that they are entitled to credit for that achievement, whether or not they be a Lion," Mills said.

CONVENTION COMMITTEE PAID FOR ALL EXPENSES

The convention committee will not be out any expense, Moco Grantland, secretary of the host Lions Club, stated Wednesday. Sufficient patronage was given every paid attraction to underwrite the expense incurred. Jack Helton, manager of the dance given Monday night, stated that his attraction was liberally patronized.

Mrs. Sandusky Hostess To Standard Club Friday

Mrs. L. W. Sandusky was hostess to the Standard Club Friday afternoon, and was also leader of the lesson, topic of which was "The History of Texas from 1830 to the Present."

Mrs. Y. D. McMurry illustrated her subject of "Texas Flags" with sketches of each. "The Legend and Romance of Texas Flags" was told by Mrs. C. E. Way, who also read the Texas Declaration of Independence.

A paper on "The Life of Sam Houston" was read by Mrs. J. A. Buchanan.

Plans were made to have Recreation Day on May 4, celebrating with a picnic at Ruddick Park. Each member is to bring a well-filled basket.

Mrs. H. L. Hutchinson, Jr., was received into the club as a new member.

A salad plate with iced tea and caramel pie was served to Mesdames C. M. Adams, J. A. Buchanan, Roy Buchanan, Y. D. McMurry, H. L. Hutchinson, S. N. Sherwin, H. B. Smoot, R. B. Terrell, C. E. Way, and Mrs. Way's sister, Mrs. Perkins of California, who was a visitor.

The next meeting is with Mrs. Smoot, and the subject will be "From Slavery to Science."

White Cross Seals To Be Sold Here

Mrs. Ed Jones, Sr., will be in charge of the sale of White Cross seals in Colorado, according to announcement made by hte Mitchell County Federation this week. The seals are being sold for the benefit of crippled children in Texas.

Seals are to be distributed among school children, and citizens of Colorado and vicinity are urged to buy these seals at one cent each.

Sale of the seals is explained in a communication from Senator Margie Neal, who was instrumental in getting the law passed for the treatment and hospitalization of crippled children in Texas:

"We are sending White Cross Seals for sale, for the benefit of crippled children of Texas, into every county in the State during the month of April, and shall appreciate more than words can express the various counties organizing for the campaign. A committee of from nine to twenty-one—or even twenty-nine—of leading, working men and women will divide up the labor in the seals sale, and work no hardship on anyone," says the Director. "A goal of $25,000 per year to add to the State's $10,000 per year for the biennium is what we have set. To attempt to operate the new State law with less money will be to destroy in a measure the purpose of the law."

Important Discussions And Plans at 1921 Club Meeting

Plans for a Mother's Day pageant and discussion of important business details filled a great amount of time when the 1921 Study Club met Friday with Mrs. P. K. Mackey.

Mrs. C. C. Thompson presided in the absence of the president. A letter was read from the State Federation president asking the cooperation of all clubs in putting over the benefit picture shows all over Texas on Thursday. A percentage of box office receipts on this is to go to the Texas Federated Clubs to apply on the Permanent Headquarters clubhouse in Austin.

Mrs. R. H. Cantrill, general chairman in the distribution of tickets to be sold by clubwomen, delivered a quota of tickets to Mrs. B. P. Price, who was made club chairman.

The Mother's Day Pageant entitled "The Seven Sorrows of Mary," was written by a club member, Mrs. J. Lee Jones, and will be presented at the First Christian Church on May 13.

"Mexico," the study of which was continued from the last meeting, was the lesson topic. Mrs. Ed Jones, Sr., was leader. Miss Mable Smith talked on "The Foreign Invasion" and Mrs. Mackey told of Mexico's interesting cities. Mrs. Lee Jones' topic was "Mexicans North of the Rio Grande."

Mrs. Ace McShan is the next hostess.

Mrs. Howard Lindley Honored With Shower

Mrs. Dick Delaney and Mrs. Joe McEwen entertained Thursday afternoon with a Stork shower for Mrs. Howard Lindley at the home of Mrs. Delaney.

The house was decorated with an abundance of roses, phlox and golden California poppies.

As the guests arrived each was asked to register. After a number of games had been enjoyed, Mrs. Lee Brandon read a poem, "Just A Baby." Little Yvonne Ward then entered, pushing a large doll buggy. It was decorated in pink and white and filled with tissue wrapped packages. She stopped directly in front of Mrs. Lindley and very cleverly recited "Golden Locks."

The twenty-five charming and useful gifts were opened and admired. Then the honoree very graciously expressed her appreciation to all.

Refreshments of punch and oatmeal cookes were served, buffet style. Favors were pink napkins containing assorted colored jelly beans.

Mrs. Joe Smoot Made Shakespeare President

Mrs. Joe Smoot was made president when the Shakespeare Club held its election of officers Friday afternoon during its meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank Lupton.

Mrs. W. R. Motley was elected secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. J. Riordan was continued as reporter.

The lesson, which continued the study of Southern Fiction, was led by Mrs. Motley. Mrs. Thomas R. Smith gave a review of "Southern Charm" by Isa Glenn. The Shakespeare lesson was from "Taming of the Shrew."

The hostess and her daughters served delicious ice cream and cake at the social hour.

Informal Tea Given For Mrs. Simpson

Mrs. Earl Cramer of Butler Camp entertained with an informal tea Saturday afternoon, complimenting her week-end guest, Mrs. Bill Simpson if Midland.

Conversation and sewing were enjoyed by the following guests: Mrs. J. A. Buchanan, Mrs. Thomas Dawes, Mrs. S. T. Shropshire, Mrs. C. H. Earest, Miss Mildred Coleman, Mrs. Joe Smoot, and Miss Martha Earnest.

Sandwiches and chocolate sticks were served with tea.

Morning Bridge Given By Mrs. Clay Smith

Morning bridge, followed with luncheon at her farm home, was the delightful entertainment offered by Mrs. Clay Smith Wednesday morning.

Spring flowers were used for decoration. There were five tables of players.

High score prize, a boudoir pillow, was won by Mrs. Dick Carter. Mrs. Austin Bush won second high, which was an apron.

The luncheon menu included string beans, combination salad, radishes, onions, beets, hot corn bread sticks, and tea, followed by strawberry ice cream and angel food cake.

Baptist Women Plan Fifth Monday Program

An entertainment stunt by each circle will be the feature of the Fifth Monday social program of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church next Monday afternoon at the church, beginning at three o'clock.

Members of the Dorcas circle are to be in charge of the meeting, and all Baptist women are urged to attend.

White's Pool opens Friday, April 27, 1 to 6 P. M. Free.

DISTRICT METHODIST YOUNG PEOPLE MEET HERE OVER WEEK-END

Local Organization Planning To Entertain Around 200 Visitors

Young people of the Methodist church under the leadership of Miss Nelda Garrett, district director, are planning to entertain between 150 and 200 young people from the Sweetwater district of the Young People's Division of the Methodist church at the fourth quarterly meeting here Saturday and Sunday.

Counties which will be represented at the meeting include Fisher, Nolan, Mitchell, Howard, Martin, Andrews, Borden, Scurry, Garza, and Dawson.

Program of the meeting will begin Saturday evening at the church, wiht Miss Ora Sharp of Stanton leading the devotional. Others on the evening program will be Woodrow Adcock of Abilene, Miss Opal Williamson of Ackerly, Miss Myrle Gary of Dunn, Miss Oneta Prescott of Wesley Memorial church, Big Spring; and Calloway Huffaker of Sparenberg. An assembly pep rally will be led by Tilman Crance of Big Spring.

A "morning watch" will be held at seven o'clock Sunday morning at the park, with Barney Cox of Roscoe talking of "God's Call to Service." Breakfast will be had at the park also.

At nine o'clock officers' interest groups will be held, with Dr. B. E. Young of Post, Rev. C. C. Wright of Colorado, Mrs. Dale Morrison of Roscoe, and Mrs. Jim Johnson of Loraine taking part on the program.

Mrs. J. G. Merritt of Colorado will talk on "How to Reach Those at Home" at the Sunday school hour. At the church hour Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Keaton of Big Spring will give special music, and the sermon will be delivered by Rev. A. F. Reifsnyder, missionary from Peru.

A special intermediate program is scheduled for Sunday afternoon, with Colorado Intermediates leading the devotional. Feature of the afternoon will be a pageant, "Hands Around the World" by the Wesley Memorial Young People of Big Spring.

Those who have been working on local committees in preparation for the meeting include: Homes committee: Polly Bellomy, Hettie Adele Hutchinson, Marie Girvin, Ruthel McKinney, and Lois Key; Recreation: Maxine Dorn; Registration: Elizabeth Hutchinson and Ruth Wright; Committee on Arrangements: Nelda Garrett, Marie Girvin, Polly Bellomy, Elizabeth Hutchinson, and Mr. Dale Warren.

Baptist Program Sunday Evening

A program sponsored by the Young People's Department of the First Baptist Church will be given at the church Sunday evening, beginning at 7:45.

Special musical numbers will be given by the choir and the orchestra. Eddie Moeser will be program leader and Mrs. J. A. Sadler is to read the scripture lesson. A short talk on "Possibilities of the Young People's Department" will be made by J. H. Greene. There will be no sermon, as the pastor, Rev. F. D. O'Brien, is out of town.

Zetagathian Meets With Mrs. Dierdorf

The Zetagathian Study Club met Friday with Mrs. E. A. Dierdorf.

The only business was the selling of tickets for the Federation Headquarters clubhouse benefit show on Thursday, and Mrs. Don Wallace was made chairman of this.

France was studied, and papers were read by Mrs. Frank Mackey, Mrs. Bill Dorn, Mrs. Dierdorff, Mrs. Ed Jones, Jr., Mrs. Don Wallace, Mrs. Lloyd Mackey, Mrs. Jimmie Logan, and Mrs. Randolph McIntyre.

The meeting this week is to be with Mrs. Lloyd Mackey.

Country Club Given Card Shower Friday

A card shower, in which twenty-eight decks of cards were received, was given the Colorado Country Club at the club party Friday evening.

Eleven tables of players enjoyed five games of bridge, following which there was dancing. Refreshments consisted of cake and coffee.

This entertainment was planned by the entertainment committee, which includes Mrs. D. H. Snyder, Mrs. Chester Jones, Mrs. Will Doss, Jr., and Jake Merritt.

Jolly Three Contract Meets With Mrs. Nixon

The Jolly Three Contract Club met with Mrs. Hugh Nixon Wednesday with only members present.

High score prize went to Mrs. Bill Jarman, who received a deck of cards.

Lemon chocolate pie with whipped cream, cherries, and iced tea was served.

Sixth Anniversary Of McCall Mission Church

Sunday was the date of the opening of McCall Mission church six years ago and the anniversary was celebrated Sunday afternoon with a program which began at three o'clock. The church had been dressed up with new curtains, new chairs for the beginners and flower beds and shrubs in the yard. The superintendent, Mrs. Garrett, presided.

After a song Bro. Leach led in prayer. Mrs. Merritt told of the beginnings of the work. Mrs. McCall told of her vision of a church and how the Daughters of the King and others classes had helped to make it come true. How carpenters, painters and others had given their time and how additions were made from year to year.

Mr. U. D. Wulfjen told of the first Sunday school with its twelve members.

Mrs. Garrett said that eight hundred pupils had been enrolled during this time. She gave other interesting figures.

The pupils sang some of their Sunday school songs, then W. W. Porter talked on Sunday school work.

Bro. Wright preached on "Go ye into all the World."

The service closed with a solo by Marie Womack, "Into a Tent Where a Gypsy Boy Lay."

Woman's Day Is Observed Here

Colorado Clubwomen, in cooperation with Federated club women all over Texas, are observing Woman's Day today (Thursday). The day has been officially proclaimed in Colorado by Mayor J. A. Sadler.

On this day picture shows all over Texas are giving a percentage of their receipts to be applied to the permanent headquarters clubhouse of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs in Austin.

Ross Dixon, manager of the local theaters, is cooperating in this respect, and local clubwomen are selling tickets.

Mrs. A. H. Dolman Hostess To Harmony

The Harmony Club was entertained Wednesday by Mrs. A. H. Dolman, who had her home beautifully decorated with roses grown in her own yard.

Guests other than club members were Mrs. F. E. Lee, Mrs. Belle Vaughan, Miss Berneice Terrell, Mrs. Jeannette Porter, Miss Nellie Riordan, Mrs. W. M. Elliott, and Mrs. Charles Kyle.

The hostess served a moulded salad, two kinds of sandwiches, iced tea and cookies. Mrs. James T. Johnson is the next hostess.

Yvonne Williamson Has Birthday Picnic

Celebrating the fifth birthday of Yvonne Williamson, a picnic was given by her mother, Mrs. H. F. Ward, Saturday afternoon for several of her little friends.

The group was taken to the park, where games were enjoyed and the birthday cake and punch were served. The honoree was remembered with a number of gifts.

Miriam Club To Meet With Mrs. Lindley

The Miriam Club is to meet next Tuesday afternoon with M. E. Lindley. It is to be a birthday party, and all members are urged to be present.

Methodist Missionary Society Has Meeting

The Methodist Missionary Society met Monday in the church with the president, Mrs. J. G. Merritt, presiding. "Come Thou Almighty King" was sung. Mrs. W. L. Adams of Roscoe led in prayer.

The Missionary topic "Why have Missionary Schools in Brazil" was given by Mrs. McCreeless and Mrs. Herman Evans in a very interesting way.

The president urged all to feel their responsibility as Christians, missionary women or whatever place they had in church life and gave a short summary of the conference work. She asked each circle to take one division of CSR work and all promised to do this.

The corresponding secretary reported that the district secretary was complimentary of her quarter's report. A letter of thanks from Mrs. E. Clyde Smith for the life membership, also one from her mother thanking Sweetwater District, was read. A letter from Mrs. Boothe concerning the District meeting to be held in Sweetwater Wednesday was read and Circles were instructed to elect delegates Monday.

The recording secretary was absent and Mrs. Shepperd served in her place. The treasurer reported $84.00 sent conference treasurer, two boxes sent and $20 spent locally. Some money on hand. Mrs. Garrett reported that she was meeting with with the Juniors in the evening. The study of Japan to be begun soon. No way of raising finances yet worked out. Mrs. Evans reported 15 new babies added to her roll and was given a cheer for this increase.

Mrs. Grubbs reported 64 members in her Circle. They will begin their study course next week, are visiting, working in every way and gave a wonderful report. Mrs. Ferguson's Circle had made twelve chairs for the Mission Study school, had done a great amount of visiting and given many garments.

Mrs. Dobbs group working on Health. Some taking the course in Home Hygiene.

Mrs. Winn's has its first layette in use and beginning another. They are taking "Life and Letters of Paul" as their Bible study. All are making quilts, all making money in some way. Mrs. Winn's group have paid their full amount on furniture placed in the parsonage.

Mr. Warren and a group of young people asked for help in serving their Sunday meal for the District Conference meeting here. They also asked that the meal be served in the basement. It was voted to have it there and all of those present promised food.

Mrs. Adams, zone leader from Roscoe was introduced and made a good talk on the work of her group and about the duties of zone leaders.

The meeting was dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Wright.

MEXICAN AND NEGRO HEALTH OFFICERS VISIT IN COLORADO

Schools Hear Addresses And See Health Films Demonstration

Two State health officers, R. C. Ortega, director of Mexican Health Service, and F. R. Barnwell, director of negro health service, visited the Mexican and negro schools of Colorado Tuesday.

Mr. Ortega visited the Catholic school first, accompanied by Mrs. Jeff Dobbs, Mitchell County chairman of the State Tuberculosis Board, and Mrs. A. F. King. At this place he spoke to a large number of mothers and children. The nuns showed every consideration, according to members of the visiting group, and seemed appreciative of the address.

The group next visited the free school, where another group of mothers and children heard Mr. Ortega.

In the afternoon, through the courtesy of Ross Dixon, manager, the health films carried by Mr. Ortega were shown at the Ritz to a packed house of Mexicans.

Mr. Barnwell, the negro director, was introduced at the negro school by Mayor J. A. Sadler. In his talk he called for a mass meeting at one of the churches in the afternoon instead of in the evening, as had been planned by the committee.

A Negro Health unit was organized with Fanny Robertson as chairman and other leading negro citizens as officers and members.

MISCELLANEOUS

"CODE BABY CHICK SITUATION"

The Code Co-Ordinating Committeemen are now writing the people interested in baby chicks, through the papers, to urge them to place their orders for baby chicks RIGHT NOW for all the chicks they will need this season, as the NATIONAL HATCHERY CODE makes it impossible for hatcheries to have large surpluses and you have noticed by now that special chick auctions and special low chick prices are a thing of the past. Chick prices must be based on cost and it costs more to hatch chicks in the summer than it does right now because eggs will not hatch as good in hot weather, states Jimmy Logan of the Logan Hatchery. So why wait for Summer chicks when you know that all hatcheries must operate under the Code and cannot sell below their 1934 costs and therefore there will be no low priced chicks at the close of the season, or during the Summer.

Because hatcheries have to be careful regarding surpluses, they did not start to set eggs until they had the orders and orders have come in faster than last year, with less chicks to supply, so the result is that unless you place your order right away you will likely be unable to get any April or May chicks anywhere.

The code is helping farmers and chicken raisers a lot. Just think of what egg prices migh have been without it! Eggs are about twice as high as last year. Chicks are being hatched from bigger eggs, from better flocks. It is true there will be no more "cheap" chicks, hatched from "cheap" low quality stock, but that is all to your advantage. With the better egg and poultry prices now assured you, and knowing that there will be no low Summer prices, you should order all the chicks you need, NOW!

Amos 'n Andy Due In Abilene This Saturday

Amos 'n Andy at Abilene.

That's the super stage attraction the Paramount Theatre offers the theatregoers and radio fans of the Southwest for one day only—Saturday, April 28th.

The doors of the popular Abilene showhouse will open at 10:30 A. M. in order to accommodate the tremendous attendance which is expected. The first show will start promptly at 11 A. M. with the others continuous thereafter. No seats will be reserved and at least seven complete shows will be given during the day. The prices will be Adults 75c including tax and Children 40c both matinee and night shows.

Radio's most celebrated entertainers, the fellows who have been broadcasting constantly for five years are brought to Abilene as another step of the Paramount Theatre's policy of presenting the outstanding attractions of the nation.

Amos 'n Andy, known in private life as Freeman F. Gosden and Charles J. Correll respectively, are known perhaps in character to more people than any other team of entertainers. Their characterizations of "Lightnin," "The Kingfish," "Brother Crawford," "Roland Weber" and other mythical personages of their broadcasts are household names of the world.

In their personal appearances at the Paramount, Amos 'n Andy offer the first opportunity Southwestern theatregoers have had to see them since they began their sensational record broadcasts which have extended through half a decade.

In addition to these stellar entertainers, the management has booked Pietro Gentili, heralded as the most promising of the rising baritones and Huston Ray, famed as a concert pianist and composer of note. This team of artists has arranged a program of melody that brings the classis as well as popular numbers to the stage.

The screen attraction which will be shown in conjunction with the personal appearance of Amos 'n Andy is "Let's Fall in Love," a gay, tuneful musical romance featuring Edmund Lowe, Ann Southern, and Gregory Ratoff.

TOWN TO OBSERVE BETTER HOMES WEEK, BEGINNING SUNDAY

Mayor Sadler's Proclamation Sets Dates of April 29 to May 5

Observation of Better Homes Week, which was proclaimed this week by Mayor J. A. Sadler to begin Sunday, April 29, and end Saturday, May 5, will begin Sunday morning when pastors of the various churches are to deliver sermons dealing with the spiritual and character-building phase of home-making.

Program for the week is in charge of Mrs. J. M. Doss, who is Mitchell County chairman of Better Homes Week. Mrs. Doss has requested the American Home chairmen in all of the local clubs to act as her assistants in carrying out the program for the week. Miss Evelyn Jennings, head of the home economics department of Colorado High School, and Miss Emma Gunter, county home demonstration agent, are also to work with Mrs. Doss.

Since no new homes have been opened in Colorado in the past year, the usual Open House day will not be held, Mrs. Doss states, but plans are being made for a lecture and exhibit during the week if possible.

Mayor Sadler, in issuing his proclamation for observance of the week, urged that Coloradoans work for "Better Homes" by staging a general "clean-up" campaign.

BEAUTY OPERATORS RECEIVE CERTIFICATES

Mrs. R. D. Tiner, manager of the Real Art Beauty Shop, and Miss Gladine Powell, operator, received certificates from Lewis Barton of San Francisco, California, when they attended the third annual Russell Morrison Beauty School in Lubbock Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

As a result of her trip to the school Mrs. Tiner is installing a complete line of Theo Bender cosmetics and new shop equipment, including an electric Electro manicuring machine.

Mrs. Tiner and Miss Powell left Sunday to attend all sessions of the school, returning Wednesday night after it closed with a banquet and reception.

V. EARL EARP CANDIDATE FOR STATE'S ATTORNEY IN 32ND JUDICIAL DISTRICT

Sweetwater Attorney Served As Assistant Attorney General Last Year

V. Earl Earp, prominent Sweetwater attorney and until recently an assistant in the office of Attorney General Allred at Austin, announced while in Colorado Tuesday afternoon that he had entered his candidacy for election to the office of district attorney of the 32nd judicial district, subject to action of the Democratic primary election July 28.

Earp was born in Comanche county and reared in Eastland and Brown counties. His education consists of graduation from high school, three years academic work at Howard Payne, Brownwood, and an L.L.B. degree from the University of Texas. He graduated from the university in 1924 and the following year established law offices in Sweetwater.

He taught in the public schools of Texas seven years. For three years he was a member of the State board of examiners for teachers. He enlisted with the regular army at outbreak of the World war and spent a year in active service in France with the 6th Infantry. He was disabled in action.

He is a past State commander of the American Legion, serving one year without salary and giving of his time and means in interest of the ex-service man. He was city attorney at Sweetwater four years. He sponsored a law making depositories preferred creditors for cities and schools, an act that since its inception has saved large sums to those interests. These funds were protected when a depository bank closed. $90,000 alone was saved to Sweetwater alone, Earp stated.

He was two years an assistant in the attorney general's department at Austin, assigned to the gasoline tax division. He was assigned to the Lone Star gas rate case while in that office. He resigned a few weeks ago and returned to his home in Sweetwater to run for the office of district attorney.

INFANT DAUGHTER MR. MRS. WOMACK BURIED

Mary Elizabeth, two-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Womack, died at 228 Locust street Monday morning at 12:10 o'clock. Funeral services were held at the family residence Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Rev. W. M. Elliott of First Presbyterian church officiating. Burial was in the Cuthbert cemetery.

Surviving are parents of the infant, three sisters, Alice, Dorothy and Cathryn, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Womack and her maternal grandparent, Mrs. Ellen Bozeman. Funeral plans were directed by Kiker & Son.

LOCAL CINDER MEN WIN AT ABILENE SATURDAY

Elvie Stagner, holder of first place in half mile sprints for more than one season, again came out ahead in annual regional meet at Abilene Saturday. Colorado won second place for the region in the relay race, with Stagner, Connell, Church and Henderson running. These boys will participate in contests with A. C. C. Freshmen in Abilene Saturday before going to State contests in Austin the following week.

Ruebelle will appreciate your vote for County Clerk. tfp.

LOCAL MEMBERS LOAN ASSOCIATION ATTEND SWEETWATER MEETING

Hale, Williams, and Terry Hear Houston Secretary

John Hale, Doyle Williams, and Les Terry of Colorado were among officers and members of Credit Production Loan Association bodies in nine West Texas Counties attending a gathering in Sweetwater Saturday to hear Owen W. Sherrill, secretary of the Credit Production Loan Corporation of Houston, explain progress being made in development of the Federal supported system.

Hale is crop inspector for the loan association in Mitchell county and Terry is livestock inspector. J. W. Watson, director of the association in Mitchell county, conferred with Sherrill in Sweetwater on Friday.

Crop Production Loan banks were declared by Sherrill to be permanent organizations, and he took time to warn his listeners that the set-up is not an emergency one.

The three basic principles, as set forth by Mr. Sherrill, in organization of these credit institutions are as follows:

1. Repayment of old debts.
2. Betterment of farm and ranch conditions, through available sources of operating revenue.
3. Absolute repayment of loans, with the borrower knowing, however, that sympathetic handling and extensions would be possible when events of which he had no control prevented immediate payment.

In line with the basic principles, a federal survey is to be made, starting during early summer, in which all farmers are to be required to present a complete farm inventory.

The inventory will open the way for credit agencies to step in and assist in building up the needed equipment or articles to better farm home conditions. At the same time, it will give the farmer a true picture of his values, something, generally speaking, he has not had before.

Guinn Williams, president of the Texas Production Credit Association, San Angelo, the master organization which handles larger loans, was in attendance at the meetig. He went over the function of the organization he heads, supporting the statements of Mr. Sherrill in further explanation.

Beating the egg whites too long will make an angel food cake too dry.

'LOOKING IN ON DISTRICT LIONS CLUBS CONVENTION' AS SEEN BY LUBBOCK MAN

Chas. A. Guv. Publisher, Is Impressed With Lionism, But Not Colorado

The following editorial comment on the convention was published in the Lubbock Evening Jornal for Monday:

Down in Colorado City today and tomorrow members of Lions clubs from all over the Panhandle-Plains region are conventioning.

They are having luncheons and "model luncheons," good talks and bad.

But the most interesting thing about the whole business is that there is a great horde of them there, which is indicative of better times.

* * *

Those men in Colorado City are, according to our present American standards, "small business men."

One may own a restaurant in Pampa, a bottling works in San Angelo, a bank in Matador, or a clothing store in Snyder.

Another may be a school teacher, a preacher or a lawyer and still another may be a contractor, a newspaperman or a doctor.

All of them may make $5000 a year apiece, which is not to be sneered at today as it was in 1929, but all of them come under the category of "little fellows."

And as "little fellows" they are important—simply because upon the shoulders of the "little fellow" rests the responsibility of bring ing America back to where it belongs.

* * *

Colorado City, is, frankly a good little town. It has nicely paved streets, good stores, as much entertainment as any town of its size in the country, good schools and fine churches.

But, with all respects to Colorado City, there is nothing there to cause a business man to travel 200 or more miles to get there unless he had some unusual reason for wanting to go.

That unusual reason today and tomorrow, is the Lions convention and thereby hangs a tale.

* * *

During the past three years attendance at Lions conventions—and at conventios of all clubs, too—has been very slim.

Only the faithful have continued to go because "dat ole debbil" hard times, has taken a hand in things.

Last year, or year before, it would have been next to impossible to get more than a corporal's guard to Colorado City for anything short of a repetition of Lady Godiva's ride.

Today the town is running over with business men, there for the civic club confabs.

* * *

What does that mean? You know. Everybody knows.

It means that the "little fellow" in this section feels better, that his business is better and that once again he doesn't mind spending $25 to $40 to attend a gathering like is going on in old Colorado.

It doesn't mean that he thinks any more of the Lions club than he did last year. It doesn't mean that we are back on the 1929 level, either

But it does mean that John Citizen's financial affairs are in better shape than they have been for quite a spell, and that his outlook is so much brighter that he is rapidly approaching normaley.

Statistics do not necessarily mean anything.

A smart guy with a pencil can show just about what he wants to show.

But when you see what is going on in Colorado today, and compare that with what has been going on, you've got a basis upon which to work.

And if the "little fellow" in the Panhandle-Plains region is better off than he has been, whoy shouldn't that be true of the "little fellow" everywhere else?

Mr. Roosevelt may pause to catch his second wind and feel that so far his big task is going along nicely toward completion.

Business and Professional Women to Have 'Surprise'

A "surprise" is in store for members of the Business and Professional Women's Club, which holds its monthly social meeting tonight (Thursday), according to members of the program committee.

Members are to gather at the home of Mrs. Philip Berman promptly at seven o'clock. Mrs. Berman and Mrs. Bob Petrecek are in charge of the entertainment.

REV. ELLIOTT SPEAKER AT BIG SPRING BANQUET

Rev. W. M. Elliott, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, was the principal speaker at a banque held by men of the Presbyterian church in Big Spring Tuesday evening. Mrs. Elliott accompanied him to the meeting.

SOCIETY

Hesperian Club Has Program On Health

The Hesperian Club met the past week with Mrs. Merritt with a Health program.

Mrs. Millwee and Mrs. S. O. Wulfjen were made State delegate and alternate. Mrs. Ralph Lee and Mrs. J. T. Johnson, District delegate and alternate. Mrs. S. A. Martin and Mrs. Willis Shropshire were elected visiting members.

It was decided to have a picnic as the closing meeting. Mrs. Millwee gave the club five dollars for the high school honor student and received a rising vote of thanks for this gift. Centennial seals were sold, each member buying some.

Mrs. Cantrill reported tickets for the picture show placed with the other clubs. Mrs. Willis Shropshire was made club chairman of this sale.

Mrs. Paul Teas of San Antonio and Mrs. Ralph Beal, both former members, were guests.

Roll call was answered with Health Problem. Mrs. Whipkey made a good talk on How to Control Communicable Diseases in the Community. Mrs. Lee told "How the Most Progressive High Schools Teach Health." Mrs. Williams told how mothers may cooperate with the school in teaching health, and she put most of the burden upon the mothers.

A discussion of what we as club women may do for rural health closed the program.

The hostess served sandwiches, pickles, coffee and individual pies.

The meeting this week is with Mrs. Sadler with a lesson on Contemporary Plays.

Self Culture Club Met With Mrs. W. A. Pelfry

The Self Culture Club met Friday with Mrs. W. A. Pelfry. The president, Mrs. J. B. Pritchett, presided. The committees were urged to visit adopted schools. Flowers and plants had been planted and transplanted in Ruddick park.

Centennial seals were sold to almost every member, ad tickets for club picture show benefit given out.

Mrs. Mahon led the lesson of Social Adjustments. Mrs. Pond discussed adjustments between Parents and Children. Mrs. Lavendera sent her paper "Is Conflict Good For Society?" which was read by Mrs. Barber. The lesson closed with a Better English drill.

The hostess served delicious home made ice cream and angel cake at the social hour.

The next meeting is with Mrs. John Brown.

Miss Katherine Gage To Marry Saturday

Friends of Miss Katherine Gage have received news that she is to be married Saturday morning at ten o'clock at the home of her parents in Wink to Mr. Neal Cook, employee of the Shell Pipe Line Company in Wink.

Miss Corinne Lupton left last Thursday to visit in Wink and attend numerous pre-nuptial affairs arranged for Miss Gage. She will attend the wedding.

Miss Gage, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Gage, attended high school in Colorado, graduating here.

On last Friday afternoon, when Miss Gage was visiting in Forsan, Miss Lupton and Mrs. F. S. Conaway, who was formerly Miss Irene Dorn of Colorado, honored her with a lingerie shower at the home of the latter.

Miss Key Entertains Sunday School Class

Miss Lois Key entertained with a picnic for her McCall Mission Sunday School class of intermediates Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock. She was assisted by Mr. Martin Dobbs.

Games were played for an hour and a half, after which refreshments were served to fourteen.

Mrs. Mannering Hostess To Wednesday Contract

Mrs. Lester Mannering was hostess to the Wednesday Contract Club this week. She had no guests.

High score prize went to Mrs. C. A. Wilkins. Refreshments were strawberries, whipped cream, and devil's food cake. Mrs. Jim Logan is the next hostess.

Presbyterian Auxiliary Meets With Mrs. Maddin

The Presbyterian Auxiliary met Monday at the home of Mrs. A. E. Madden for their Bible Study.

Mrs. W. M. Elliott, secretary of spiritual life, taught the lesson, which was from the book of Mark.

Contract Club Held No Meeting Tuesday

No meeting of the Contract Club was held because of social activities in progress during the Lions convention.

CHURCHES

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Church School at 9:45. Jerold Riordan, superintendent. Classes for all. Come and bring your friends.

There are a lot of people in our city who do not go to Sunday School or church. Invite them to come with you. We would love to have them. Our church services are at 11 and 7:30.

Our Young People would like to have anyone who will come to meet them in the basement of the church at 6:45 every Sunday evening and so would our Juniors who meet at 5 P. M.

Let us bring some one else to our Bible study every Wednesday evening at 7:30. We will study I Kings next week. Read the book through if you have time, and come and spend an hour in review.

W. M. ELLIOTT, Pastor.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Pastor Lawrence Hays, of Tahoka, will preach at the First Baptist church next Sunday morning. Bro. Hays is a graduate of Howard Payne College and Southwestern Seminary, and is one of the best preachers and most successful pastors in West Texas. He will address the Amigos class and preach at the morning hour. The young people and church choir will have charge of the evening service.

We are with Brother Hays and his church at Tahoka in a revival this week and next. We earnestly request the prayers of the church for the success of the meeting. Large crowds are attending both the day and night services, and we never saw better prospects for a successful revival.

Please give Brother Hays your support in the services next Sunday morning, and the same loyal help to Chester Thomas and his choir Sunday evening. We remember you daily in our devotions and hope we are included in yours.

DICK O'BRIEN, Pastor.

Contrary to generally accepted history, Alonzo Alvarez de Pineda and his companions were probably the first white men to explore what now is Texas soil. When his party touched the gulf coast in 1519, nine years before Cabeza de Vaca, they gave the new country the name of Amichel.

FIRST STEP IN POTASH MINING MADE AT ODESSA

ODESSA.—The first step toward the actual mining of potash near Odessa, believed certain by many to develop into one of the major industries of this part of the United States, was taken at ten o'clock Wednesday morning of last week, when a crew of miners under the direction of A. P. Stramler, chief mining engineer of the Texas Potash Corporation, lifted the first shovelsfull of dirt at the site of the shaft to be dug on the corporation's lease, eleven miles southeast of Odessa.

Digging of the shaft, 15 feet by 6 feet 2 inches, inside dimensions, and 2,150 feet deep, is a major engineering project within itself, and is expected to occupy some nine months of labor, using machinery and a comparatively small group of miners. When this is completed, the actual mining of the polyhalite is expected to require the work of a much larger group of miners.

Some idea of the economic importance of the project may be gained from the fact that it is the only mining project known in America for the production of polyhalite. The only other mine for potash salts of any kind is said to be the one near Carlsbad, New Mexico, and there the product is quite different from the one sought here. Potash came to the attention of this country more strongly during the World War, when potash fertilizer jumped from forty dollars a ton to over nine hundred dollars a ton. Germany was supplying this country with nearly all its potash before the war, and again today is said to control the world market.

Polyhalite, which is to be mined here, is valuable because it yields directly potassium sulphate, a form which for soil fertilization brings a higher price than the chloride (which is the form produced naturally in other places) and is needed for the growing of tobacco and citrus fruits. Because this Texas potash deposit is a pure sulphate mineral and because the sulphate fertilizer now sold is of necessity produced by chemical treatment and always contains an appreciable amount of the objectionable potassium chloride, this deposit here is particularly desirable, and frees us from our dependence on Germany for this important material.

Mrs. J. A. Packard Rites Held Friday At Baptist Church

Rites for Mrs. J. A. Packard, 31, were held at First Baptist church Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock with Rev. A. C. Hardin of Loraine officiating. Mrs. Packard died Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the residence of her parents, Mr and Mrs. G. W. Weeks after a lingering illness.

In addition to her parents deceased is survived by her husband of San Antonio, who was unable to attend the rites and the following brothers and sisters:

Ross Weeks, Hillister; Mrs. Vera Pope, Woodville; Pearl, Elsie Mae, Johnnie Lee, Jewel and Kelby Weeks of Colorado, all of whom were present for the services.

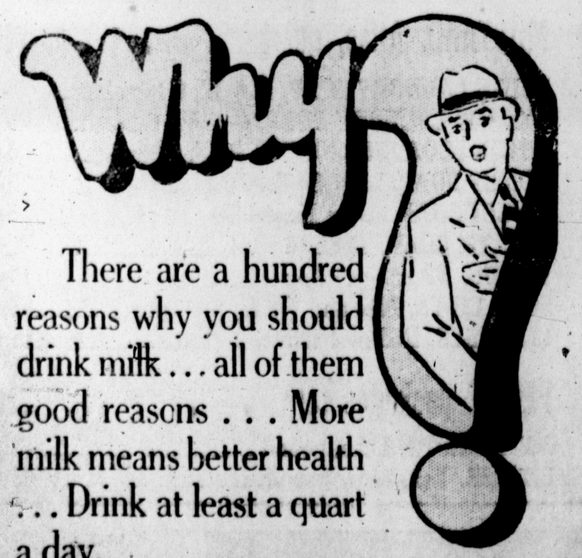

Active pall bearers were J. A. Sherpard, E. B. Smith, Thurston Smith, Roy McBride, Buddie Weeks and F. P. Roney. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of Kiker & Son.

Aged Blackwell Woman Recalls Pioneer Days In West Texas

BLACKWELL.—When Mrs. Mary Hanna came to Nolan county in 1883, there was not a wire fence between San Angelo and Sweetwater, the closest settlement. There was only one house between Sweetwater and Mrs. Hanna's home, lumber for which was hauled from Fort Worth.

Relatives and friends gathered at Mrs. Hanna's home recently to surprise her on her 87th birthday. The guests brought the dinner. Members of the family present were a son, J. Q. Hanna, Jr., Miss Margaret Hanna, Mesdames Harve McPeters and Hatten Moore who are grand daughters. Other guests Mesdames S. P. Smith, R. H. Reaves, G. H. Arledge, W. T. Whiteside, Frank Steele, R. B. Kirk, Weston Reynolds, J. W. Reynolds, Charles Lewis, Bob McFarlan, D. T. McDonald and Miss Mary Louise Reaves.

Mrs. Hanna, born April 1, 1847, in Ohio. At the age of 16 she moved to Iowa and it was there she met and married the late Judge J. Q. Hanna. Mrs. Hanna with her husband and children moved to Nolan county in 1883. Mrs. Hanna tells interesting stories of the pioneer days. Colorado City was rapidly booming into one of the leading cities of the West.

After several days of traveling they drove upon a hill overlooking Oak Creek, and Mrs. Hanna gazed upon the beautiful valley, and told her husband, "There is where I want my home built." So today she lives on the bank of a stream, but the onec beautiful flower garden of nature has been sacrificed to the cattle and sheep.

Mr. Hanna soon entered politics in Nolan county and was elected county judge, serving two terms. Also he was county commissioner for two terms.

A few years passed and other home seekers moved to the community of the Hanna Ranch and decided they needed a post office. Soon there was a post office established in the Hanna home under the name of Olga, for Mrs. Hanna's first grand-daughter, and one of the Hanna girls was postmistress. This continued for a few years. One day the mail carrier was notified there was smallpox in the fmaily and he refused to deliver the mail to the office. Then, with permission the post office was moved about four miles west to a new location, but under the same name. This office continued to serve the people until after Blackwell was buildt. Then Olga post office was discontinued, but the community still bears its name.

Dorothy Scarborough, the author of "The Wind" whose relatives were friends of the Hannas, used to visit the Hanna home often. Mrs. Hanna says Dorothy was a great lover of nature. Perhaps "The Wind" had its birth during her childhood visits to the ranch. Since reading "The Wind," Mrs. Hanna says she can appreciate Dorothy's creative childhood stories more.

One of the greatest handicaps Mrs. Hanna found in pioneering was school for the children. Judge and Mrs. Hanna were able to carry on the school work in the home. One daughter studied law under her father and the present Nolan county judge, Charles Lewis, got his early law training in the Hanna home.

After the school problem was solved, there was a church and outside entertainment lacking. Before many years, a little town of Hylton was built which was a distance of about 12 miles east. Soon churches were built for this new and growing country.

Mrs. Hannas has fine cattle on her ranch. She and her husband brought a herd of thoroughbred Durham cattle with them from Iowa. Now she has herefords. Mrs. Hanna's brand is J Q with a bar under it.

Former President Herbert Hoover is a distant relative of Mrs. Hanna. Mrs. Hanna has the Hoover family tree in book form up to date. She spends much of her time in her vegetable garden and is very active.

Rogers Ramblings

The Westbrook ball teams came to Rogers last Thursday and soundly drubbed the home teams again. The teams will play again soon.

Mrs. D. M. Smith and children visited Mr. Smith at Carlsbad Sanitorium Saturday and reported that he was making fair improvement.

Several of the Rogers people have been fishing the past few days of beautiful Spring weather and some reported good luck.

Remember the play Friday night and do not miss it.

H. B. Barrier worked in Fisher county last week-end meeting friends in his campaign for the legislature.

The Rogers students will present "Closed Lips," a 3-act comedy-drama Friday night. This is a very interesting play with a good plot centered around an innocent man who served a term in the penitentiary for another man's crime. The young married couple and the colored servants will cause you to laugh your troubles away. The play will provide a full evening of delightful entertainment. Music will be furnished between acts. A small admission will be made for the benefit of the school. Some very valuable prizes will be given away.

The cast of characters is as follows: Mrs. Radcliff, Jauree Burford; Terry Radcliff, Laverne Carpenter; Mammy Jinny, Dessie Lee Stump; Patricia Stone, Mary Ruth Goswick; Willie Stone, Leon Callan; Jeff, Harlon Barber; Star Bliven, Rachel Wood; Bart Clay, Boley Green; Mathew Radcliff, Harris Wilson; John Clay, Roy Sweatt.

The play will begin promptly at 8:15 P. M. and you should come early to get a front seat. All candidates who have not made their announcements in this community will be given an opportunity to speak between acts.

BROWNSTON, Ind.—Return to favor of the horse and buggy era in preference to the machine age was indicated at a public sale here. A buggy that retailed 25 years ago for $65 commanded a bid of $17, while an automobile made in 1926 to sell for $500 brought only $12.

Duck hunters shot so much lead into several Minnesota lakes that ducks frequenting these waters got lead poisoning.

BUFFALOES INCREASE ONE EACH YEAR ON RANCH

FORT DAVIS.—Fifteen buffaloes in fifteen years, but how many in the next ten years?

Fifteen years ago, in 1919, the Reynolds men of Rockpile and X ranches started buffalo raising with five head. Two died, leaving two cows and a bull. Today, said Will Reynolds, manager of the ranches, they have six cows, two two-year-old heifers, four yearlings, the bull, two steer calves and a world of experience.

"You learn things when you go in for buffaloes," said Mr. Reynolds.

The two animals that died, out of the original five, he said, got screw worms and the cowboys rounded up the humped beasts and roped them, also some cattle in the same plight, and threw them to doctor them.

"But they never got up," said Mr. Reynolds.

The animals were scared to death, or they couldn't stand the treatment tame cattle stand, or being of a wild heritage they required rougher handling than cattle—maybe all put together did the finish for them.

The Reynolds had a similar experience, in a way, this past winter. They sold a buffalo steer to an El Paso butcher, but it died, of overheating or something, before the man or company got to butcher it.

The Reynolds butchered a buffalo themselves the past winter. It was the second one they had butchered. The meat was much like beef, they said, but darker. Asked if it was considerably like a buck deer the reply was that it was "much like range beef."

Incidentally, the Rockpile ranch is about the most scenic and picturesque place in the Davis Mountains, and its attractiveness is added to not only by the strange humped buffalo to be seen now and then at their grazing, but also by elk and wild turkey.

The turkeys are a common sight around the rockpile itself—or themselves, there being two of the strange stacks of great boulders.

The elk are of the American or Wyoming variety. There is quite a little herd. And they are sometimes seen at their grazing also.

Continental Oil Company's Net Rises To Huge Figures During 1933 Business

Continental Oil Company and subsidaries reported net profit for 1933 of $2,275,860 in the annual financial statement forwarded to stockholders. The profit includes non-recurring profit of $1,306,954 realized on the sale of the company's 90 per cent interest in Sealand Petroleum Company, Ltd., an English subsidiary, and is equal to approximately 48 cents a share on 4,738,593 shares outstanding of the $5 per capital stock.

In his report to shareholders Dan Moran, president says that restrictive provisions of the NRA petroleum code, imposed upon practically al activities of the industry, have not to any important extent hampered the business of Continental Oil.

The Continental is not only very active in West Texas, but owns the Group 1 Oil Corporation and the Texas Oil and Land Co., pioneers in the development of West Texas and original owners of the famous Santa Rita No. 1 well in the Reagan county field.

Continental paid $16,683,933 in taxes, and taxes paid by controlled companies paid an additional $756,633 in taxes in 1933.

Gross operating income for 1933 was $52,338,811, against $53,405,568 in the preceding year, and operating charges increased to $46,472,316 from $42,133,384, net operating income being $5,866,495, compared with $10,292,034 in 1932. Net income amounted to $782,692 after all charges, reserves and minority interest for 1933. Extraordinary income items, including the $1,306,954 profit from the sale of the Sealand company, otaled $1,403,168, the difference being accounted for by a write-up of $96,214 in equity in Kettleman North Dome Association resulting from adjustment in ownership.

The consolidated balance sheet shows current assets of $35,408,895, including $11,519,648 in cash and $505,000 in United States government securities. Current liabilities on December 31 amounted to $5,780,098. At the end of 1932 the company reported current assets of $31,646,955, cash of $9,153,321, and current liabilities of $4,369,571. Inventories of crude oil and refined products were valued at $18,636,891 at the end of 1933, against $17,909,466 at the close of 1932.

Charges for capital write-offs, as shown in the 1933 statement, are based on the property accounts as revalued by the management as of October 31, 1932, made effective December 31, 1932. As a result, these charges were lower by $4,517,943 than would have been the case before the revaluation.

Net working capital on December 31 totaled $29,628,796 and was $21,663,388 in excess of the company's funded and long term debt. The ratio of current assets to current liabilities was 6.1 to 1 at the end of 1933, against 7.2 to 1 on December 31, 1932.

Mr. Moran says that in spite of adverse economic conditions, losses on credits extended in connection with the sale of petroleum products were the lowest, in both percentage and amount in 1933, than in any year in the company's experience. Bad debt losses resulting from 1935 business amounted to two-tenths of 1 per cent of total credit sales.

During the year funded and long-term debt was reduced $1,671,554 with a resulting annual interest saving of $83,141. Funded and long-term debt outstanding on December 31 totaled $8,625,409. Property additions in 1933 amounted to $5,656,980, of which one-half was expended for the maintenance of crude oil reserves.

In the first six months of 1933, Continental realized an average of 55.29 cents a barrel on its crude oil. In the last six months this average rose to 83.18 cents a barrel. "There was not, however, a comparable increase in the selling price of gasoline, and in order to bring about a better adjustment between crude and refined prices Continental Oil has joined with others representing a greater part of the oil industry in a pooling agreement under which surplus of so-called 'distress' gasoline stocks will be purchased and distributed in an orderly manner," the report continues.

(The pooling agreement referred to has been approved by Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, as oil administrator.)

Net production of crude oil by Continental and subsidiaries amounted to 12,236,438 barrels, or 4-10th of one per cent less than the output for 1932. Leases covering 137,455 acres were acquired or renewed during the year and leases on 222,825 acres were surrendered. On December 31, the total net acreage held by the company amounted to 1,447,855.

Company refineries, with a rated crude charging capacity of 61,000 barrels daily and daily cracking capacity of 28,100 barrels, processed 19,831,206 barrels of oil, both crude and cracking in 1933, crude being charged at the average rate of 55.85 per cent of capacity and cracking capacity utilized to the extent of 71.92 per cent over the year. This compares with 44.6 per cent and 67 per cent respectively for 1932.

Austin Documents Recall How Camel Came To The State

AUSTIN.—A group of American soldiers, rocking across the arid lands of West Texas on the backs of camels and dromedaries, makes the incongrous picture afforded by documents which have come to light in the archives of the University of Texas library.

That a trip on camel-back was made from Indianola to San Antonio, thence to Fort Davis in the Davis Mountains, and finally into California is not only the story developed through legend, but it is the same story that is recorded in the letters of men in charge of the "camel expedition." These letters are preserved in the Senate Executive Documents for the years 1857 to 1863 when the Federal government disposed of its "camel corps" for all time.

Jefferson Davis, secretary of war in 1857, who was considered always a dreamer, accomplished the task of passing a $30,000 appropriation bill through Congress. This money was used in the importation of a number of camels from the Far East to form a transportation fleet for the army posts in the arid lands of the West.

With the help of Major H. C. Wayne, Mr. Davis imported two shipments of camels, but he overlooked the fact that the men of the West thought more of their horses than they did of the government at Washington. Moreover, the Westerners did not like the "rolling" of these "ships of the desert."

How the men managed to complete the trip from Texas to California by way of camel was more than Major Wayne could understand, according to one of his reports to the War Department. Time after time camels were found in their stalls with fractured skulls, and never was there a satisfactory explanation for the occurrence. One story has it that three camels were "taken for a walk" one night and pushed over the edge of a cliff. Some were left to wander in the desert, appearing later like ghosts to frighten the inhabitants.

Long after the last camel had been sold to Barnum and Bailey Circus, rumors were frequently heard of the animals in the hill country of Arizona and the Davis Mountains of Texas. The story of a huge red camel was the last of these rumors concerning the animals which might have made a great change in the history of transportation in the West.

LIONS CONCLUDE SUCCESSFUL MEETING AT COLORADO

DISTRICT CONVENTION FOR 1935 GOES TO PLAINVIEW AS MEETING HERE CLOSED

Judge Pitts of Lubbock Wins Over Peters of Midland For Governorship

Lions attending annual convention of District 2-T, Texas, here Tuesday afternoon voted to give their meeting next year to Plainview after Childress, only other contender for the honor, had withdrawn in favor of the Hale county city. Selection of the next convention host came up as a matter of business at general assembly banquet held in the Colorado hotel building.

Judge E. L. Pitts of Lubbock won over Marion Peters of Midland for the office of district governor, succeeding Del W. Harrington of El Paso. Thirty of the 52 Lions clubs within the district registered delegates at the convention, said by officials to have been the largest and most successful ever held.

J. T. H. Bickley of Alpine, associated with the State department of education, presided as toastmaster at the banquet. The assembly was called to order by Governor Harrington who presented the Alpine man. Among enjoyable entertainment features was the Lions quartet of Perryton, consisting of James E. Barber, Chas. W. Claybough, Malvin Jackson and Addison Cutter, and tap dancing by two talented young ladies from Plainview. Rev. Winston Borum, pastor of First Baptist church, Midland, delivered the principal address.

"The convention was successful from every consideration and I know that every visiting Lion will long remember the courtesies extended by members of the host club and other citizens of your splendid little city," Governor Harrington declared Tuesday night before boarding a train for his home in El Paso. "To me this has been one of the greatest conventions our service organization has ever held."

Sam Braswell, of Clarendon, a past district governor and now a member of the International directorate, spoke of his appreciation of the many courtesies extended while in Colorado. "I wish that I had the time to write for publication in my own words the way I feel about this citizenship and this city," he said. "You people have sold yourselves to the Lions of West Texas."

PLANS FOR TAKING GENERAL RELIGIOUS CENSUS TO BE MADE

Bible School Association To Hold Regular Fifth Sunday Meeting

The matter of taking a general religious census of Mitchell county is to be taken up at the regular fifth Sunday meeting of the Mitchell County Bible School Association next Sunday afternoon at the Methodist Church in Colorado, according to announcement made this week by W. W. Porter, superintendent of the association.

Porter urges that all members of the Executive Board, which consists of every Bible school superintendent in the county, and the Council Board, which includes all ministers in the county, be present at this meeting.

Reports will be heard from the various superintendents, Porter states, and methods of advancing Bible school work will be discussed.

Making of plans to take a general religious census was deferred at the last meeting because of bad weather and sickness. It is hoped, Porter states, that definite plans can be made at the meeting next Sunday.

LIONS CLUB MEMBERSHIP BOOSTED TO 126 ON EVE ANNUAL DISTRICT MEET

Eight Are Voted Into Service Organization Friday; One Application Pending

A few months ago members of the Lions club accepted the challenge that membership of the organization should be not less than 100 by time annual district 2-T, Texas, convention met here. Friday, President Joe B. Mills announced that such a goal had been attained, with 26 to spare.

"A few months ago these Lions announced that they were going to boost our membership roster to 100 by date for our convention and I am most happy to note they have accomplished that objective," Mr. Mills said.

Eight new members were voted into the club Friday, the most of whom were formally presented in that they be priviliged to participate in sessions of the conventions as Lions. The cubs elected were J. M. Doss, Vernon Pylant, John Deffebach, E. B. Gregson, Bill Dorn, Chas. Brazil, M. L. Campbell and Bruce Hart. One application for membership was passed after the first reading.

New club members formally presented in address by J. E. Watson included Allie Burnett, Ocie Cox, John Deffebach, J. M. Doss, Frank Benson, Chas. Brazil, and Vernon Plyant.

Four additional Key Lions were given recognition at the club meeting Friday, two of whom are charter members. C. M. Adams, W. W. Whipkey, Rev. Wallace Jones and M. E. Carter were presented with the Key emblems in an address by Jim Greene. Adams and Whipkey are the two charter members and Mr. Adams served as first president of the organization.

Music on the accordion was furnished by Charlie and Richard Lange, well known Colorado musicians. Mrs. J. E. Watson, member of the McCleary Bible Class in First Methodist Sunday school, addressed the club briefly, inviting Lions to attend the model luncheon planned the following Monday noon for the Plainview club.

Roy Duke of Abilene and Doc Wimberly of Loraine were among the guests to make brief addresses.

CHEAPER RATES FOR TEXANS BORROWING FROM LAND BANKS

The farm credit administration at Washington reported Thursday that interest rates on farm mortgages in Texas that have been refinanced through the federal land bank have been reduced from a maximum of nine per cent to a maximum of five per cent.

An analysis of more than half the loans closed in Texas by the land bank and land bank commissioner from June 1, 1933, through March 31, 1934, the administration said, shows that interest charges which formerly ran from five to nine per cent now carry a maximum interest rate of five per cent with a large proportion on a four and one-half per cent basis.

The analysis dealt only with interest rates paid on first and second mortgages and upon short-term commercial bank loans. The total of loans closed during the June-March period was approximately $67,400,000.

The average rate paid by farmers on mortgage debts refinanced with land bank loans in Texas was 6.3 per cent, while the average paid on short-term, commercial bank loans was 8 per cent. Corresponding figures for mortgage and short-term debts refinanced with commissioner's loans were 6.9 per cent and 8.8 per cent.

The average charge on all the indebtedness refinanced with land bank loans was 6.4 per cent. Against this rate farmers pay on their land bank loans 4½ per cent interest until July 11, 1938, after which the rate becomes 5 per cent. Borrowers who obtained their loans directly from the federal land banks instead of through national farm loan associations pay a rate of ½ of one per cent higher.

The average interest rate on all debts of farmers refinanced with commissioner's loans was 7.1 per cent, against which the farmers now pay a rate of 5 per cent.

Small Son Of Mrs. Ruth Chase Dies In Mineral Wells

Joe Chase, 6, son of Mrs. Ruth Chase of Mineral Wells, died in a Mineral Wells hospital Friday. He had been in the hospital for two weeks before his death, suffering from a stomach ailment.

Funeral services were held in Mineral Wells Saturday. Attending from Colorado were Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Landers and Charley Reems Earnest. Mr. and Mrs. Austin Bush visited Mrs. Chase after receiving news of the child's death, but did not attend the funeral.

Survivors, other than the mother, include the child's father, J. W. Chase, who is living in Arkansas.

SIXTEEN GIRLS GO TO HOME ECONOMICS RALLY IN AUSTIN THIS WEEK

Miss Jennings Takes Contest Winners To State Meeting

Sixteen members of home economics classes in Colorado High school, led by their instructor, Miss Evelyn Jennings, are attending the State Home Economics Rally in Austin this week.

Six girls, including Frances Kaufman, Eleanor Hagler, Ruth Wright, Jo Axtell, Lucille Bodine and Aldred Bodine, left last Thursday with Miss Jennings, planning to go by San Antonio to visit points of interest and witness the Battle of the Flowers on San Jacinto Day. They were also to visit some flour mills and make other instructive tours.

Ten other girls left Tuesday in cars driven by Mrs. L. B. Elliott and Miss Martha Lee Henderson, accompanied by Mrs. J. E. Cox. These girls were Betsy Lee, Melba Slaton, Arabelle Sorrells, June Cox, Frances Elliott, Etta Fern Harkins, Nina Laura Smith, Lois Andrews, Maurine Morris, and Juanita Reese. They arrived in Austin in time for the opening of the rally Wednesday morning, and the entire party will return Sunday.

Those entitled to attend the rally were determined by a contest conducted by Miss Jennings in Home Economics classes 1, 2, and 3. The girls are paying their own expenses, according to C. A. Wilkins, high school principal, supplementing with their own funds what money they were able to make through various recent enterprises.

BREAD CHUNKING ROUSES IRE OF CHARLIE ADAMS, LIONS CLUB PERSECUTOR

Colonel Charlie Adams, official "persecutor" for the Lions Club, had his dander up Friday. It was all because several members of the club elected to lay down a barrage of buns about the banquet room during progress of the program.

"I believe in having fun, alright, but this thing has gone too far," the Colonel announced with a determined air. "I am serving notice on every one of you Lions that this thing is not going to be tolerated. You act as a gang of six-year-old boys. I want you to behave during the convention next week because it would not look just proper for you to act in the presence of company as you have done here today. The fine for bread throwing during the convention will be 25 cents and up."

Mr. Adams started to go further with his admonition that order prevail but was prevented from being heard by Doyle Williams, who let loose one of his typical laughs.

BANQUET—RECEPTION

The junior class entertained the senior class with a banquet in the home of Miss Myrtle Gregson on Friday evening, April 20. The seniors and faculty were invited. The sophomore girls, Melba Harris, Oneta Knowles, and Juanita McKenney, acted as waitresses.

The first course consisted of a very delicious fruit cocktail. The second course consisted of spinach, baked chicken with dressing, gravy, potatoes, corn, carrots, rolls, and salad. Sherbet, vanilla wafers, and ice tea was the third course.

E. B. Gregson, Jr., gave the invocation. He also acted as toastmaster. Elmer Sorrells gave the response. Before the second course, Mrs. Fisher gave a reading; Miss Edna Gregson sang two beautiful solos; Miss Myrtle Gregson then gave a reading. Miss Mary Belle Brennand played a very beautiful selection on the piano. E. B. Gregson, Jr., sang a selection. He was accompanied by Miss Edna Gregson, who played the piano. The tables were cleverly placed to form an "I". A beautiful center piece of carnations adorned the table.

At 8 o'clock the banquet guests and waitresses went to Mrs. Fisher's for the reception, where they met the other high school pupils. These guests were delightfully entertained by playing table tennis, "42", bridge, and other games. At a late hour refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

WOMEN, GIRLS' CLUB NEWS

By MISS EMMA GUNTER, Home Demonstration Agent

"Let us show you" is the motto the rural club women will have at the exhibit of hooked rugs, tufted bedspreads and quilts to be held April 30th, May 1 and 2 in the Farmer Building next door south of Pritchett's Grocery Store. Everyone is invited to come in and see some of the work done by the rural women. This is a part of their planned program for bedroom improvement work. Some of the women have no doubt begun their project but will not have it completed in time to exhibit it, but they will have an opportunity to have it on display in July when the clothing work will be exhibited.

Exhibit committees from the individual clubs will bring all articles to the office of the home demonstration agent on the 27th and 28th so that they can be scored before they are placed.

"Watch your curves" was the slogan at the Foundation Pattern School held at the Junior high school in Sweetwater, April 18th with 6 women from Mitchell county going for the instruction. Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist of A. & M. College supervised the work of the women directing them in the use of the foundation sleeve pattern in cutting bishop, bell, leg O mutton, dolman, and saddle sleeves. By knowing how to convert any type of sleeve into a reality is one of the things every woman that sews should be adept in. The women that went were also given a chance to take a picture and cut a special collar, waist, sleeve, or yoke pattern by using their foundation pattern as their guide. Any club woman that has a good fitting foundation pattern is sure to save some money on account of not having to buy a pattern every time she wishes to make a different style of dress, and knowing too that you can cut a dress without having to pin and fit every time you make one is one of the advantages for a woman that sews for herself. Mrs. Barnes stressed the importance of watching the lines in the new styles being shown ad emphasized that unless you had style you did not have a new dress up to date. She asked them to observe the straight line in the skirts and showed them how to cut out the bias seams.

Those women attending from Mitchell county were: Mrs. W. K. Miles and Mrs. W. A. Webb of Looney club, Mrs. J. C. Shepherd and Mrs. B. H. Henson from Plainview club and Mrs. R. C. Sublett and Mrs. Geo. Vanzandt from the Spade Club. Mr. Henson and Miss Gunter were the chauffeurs who drove in the rain. This school was held with the Nolan county women.

Spring brings new paint, flowers and promises for a brighter season and this is certainly proving true in the case of Mrs. Harry Hyman, who is the bedroom improvement demonstrator in her club. Mrs. Hyman has moved into her new home and has designated her guest bedroom as the contest room. She has used a colonial designed wall paper with a diamond pattern for her walls This room is 14x14 feet in size and has two west windows and two south cottage type. Since this room has west exposures Mrs. Hyman is using a cool blue side drapery material with a floral scrim for glass curtains.

The Hyman girls club held their regular meeting, Friday, April 20th, with 9 members present. After the business session, each girl was given an opportunity to cut a collar pattern using another girl as a model to fit it on. We used a picture to look at to get the pattern idea. Miss Gunter assigned each girl to bring to the club meeting next time two collar patterns they had cut and the pictures they got their ideas from. These lessons on cutting collars are to familiarize us with patterns for our tailored dresses we are making for our club work. The next meeting will be May 4th. We are to get a sponsor for our club for the summer months.

PROFIT FOR ROLLATOR REFRIGERATION OWNERS

● "I have a neighbor whose husband makes a handsome income in the cold storage business—buying produce when it is cheap and keeping it until prices are high. I find I can do the same with my Norge. Of course, I don't hold the food for months like the cold storage house does, but I buy in quantities, whenever and wherever there is a price advantage, and Norge Rollator Refrigeration keeps the food delightfully fresh for days and days. You'd be amazed at how much I save."

Before you buy your refrigerator, consider its beauty, its convenience, its economy, and its mechanism. See the Norge, and you'll agree that it excels on every point, and especially in the simplicity and efficiency of the Rollator cooling mechanism, exclusive with Norge. Its extra power makes it more economical in the use of electricity.

Notwithstanding its many advantages, the Norge is attractively priced and terms are easy.

BLACK-DRAUGHT For CONSTIPATION

"I am 71 years old and have used Thedford's Black-Draught about forty years," writes Mr. W. J. Vanover, of Rome, Ky. "We are never without it. I take it as a purgative when I am bilious, dizzy and have swimming in my head. Black-Draught relieves this, and helps me in many ways." ... Keep a package of this old, reliable, purely vegetable laxative in your home, and take it for prompt relief at the first sign of constipation.

Funeral For C. C. Wyatt Held Here On Last Tuesday

Funeral services were held here Tuesday afternoon for C. C. (Charley) Wyatt, about 58, one-time resident of Colorado, who died Monday night at his home in Big Spring after a lengthy illness.

Services were conducted by Rev. W. M. Elliott, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in the funeral parlor of Kiker & Son. Interment was in the I.O.O.F cemetery by the side of his wife, who died several years ago.

Mr. Wyatt moved away from Colorado about ten years ago. His wife was the sister of Miss Neal Mills.

Surviving are four children, Jack Wyatt of Big Spring, Charles Wyatt, Wilson Wyatt and Miss Billie Wyatt of Colorado.

CHEVROLET When you pay the price of a Knee-Action car, you naturally want genuine Knee-Action and all that goes with it. You want the new gliding ride at its best. You want the huskiest, sturdiest front-end you can buy. And, of course, you want shock-proof steering. You pay for them all—but you get them all, in the low-price field, only from Chevrolet. The reason is simple. Fully-enclosed Knee-Action wheels are costly to build—so costly that only Chevrolet, world's largest builder of cars, can afford to make the necessary huge investment in new machinery—and still keep prices among the lowest of the low. Only Chevrolet has the resources and the assured volume of sales that permit this extra production cost. Chevrolet does it because Chevrolet believes that, to KEEP ON SELLING THE MOST CARS, YOU MUST KEEP ON BUILDING THE BEST.

BULLETIN SHOWS CHANGE IN RURAL SCHOOL STATUS

Many changes in the educational program in Texas schools for the term 1934-35 are found in a bulletin issued recently by Dr. L. A. Woods, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, to Mrs. Ruby McGill Dodge, county superintendent. These changes include an increase in rural teachers salaries in some instances.

The number of teachers to each school, governed by scholastics, follow: Schools with 20 to 35 scholastics are supervised by one teacher who is to receive $90 a month for the next term, a raise of $10; two teachers are to teach a school with an enrollment up to 65, salaries for principal, $90, and assistant $80, a raise of $5; three-teacher schools may have an enrollment of 95 pupils and the principal is to receive $95, with assistants $80 each; four teacher schools enrollment may reach 125 salaries for the principal being $100, primary, $85 and assistants, $80, a $5 raise for assisting teachers.

About 155 students may attend a five teacher school with the salaries of teachers remaining the same as last year, principal, $105, primary, $85, assistants, $80; seven teacher schools are not to receive a raise for the year, their salaries being, principal, $120, primary, $85, High school assistant, $85, other assistants, $80; Principals above seven teacher schools are to receive $125, primary, $90, high school assistants, $90 and other assistants, $80.

Teachers employed in state aid schools shall be required to have a minimum of two years of college training or the equivalent, and shall be required to have a Texas State Teacher's Certificate of no lower standing than a six-year elementary of a four-year high school grade. As far as possible, teachers in State aid schools shall secure special preparation in the subjects or grades wherein they are employed to teach, the schoolman's guide pointed out.

Superintendents and principals must have as a minimum a baccalaureate degree and a credit of eighteen semester hours in educational administration, provided they, who are employed and do not hold a degree or do not have 18 semester hours of credit in this administration may be re-employed, but only if they complete the required hours of credit in such courses every three years.

The superintendent for a four-year affiliated high school with 16 or more credits with 12 teachers or more may be paid $1,800 for 12 months service provided such superintendent also serves as business manager of the school district. The High school principal may be paid $100 a month and every other teacher $90 per month. The superintendent of any affiliated school of six teachers or more may be paid $125 per month on a twelve month basis if the local board so desires. In a school system of $20 teachers or more the high school principal may be paid $125 per month, each ward principal of a separate building $100 per month, and every other teacher in the system $90.

The first successful long-distance, non-stop flight for free balloon was made on Nov. 7, 1836, and was for a distance of 500 miles, a distance still considered good for a free balloon.

Sweetwater Plans To Open New Park With Gala Affair

SWEETWATER.—Civic leaders in Sweetwater and Nolan county have set June 14 and 15 for the opening and dedication of Lake Sweetwater park, seven and one-half miles southeast of the city.

The park, constructed as a C. W. A. project, is built around Lake Sweetwater. Built as a unit of the city's water system three years ago, the lake filled immediately after it was finished, and afforded excellent fishing for the section last year. It covers approximately 800 acres, and has a shore line of 15 miles.

Improvements made on the park consist of a stone club house, nine hole golf course with grass greens, tennis courts and bathing beaches. A sixty-five acre grove has been made into a picnic ground and equipped with seventy picnic units, wading pools, fish hatcheries and ball park. A meandering road encircles the lake and serves the thirty or more summer cottages built along its shore.

Plans for the celebration include the free barbecue for which thirty beeves and as many sheep and goats have been pledged by stockmen of this section, a series of house parties with lodge owners acting as hosts to prominent Texans, will be a feature of the celebration. An entertainment program of boat races, swimming contest, bathing girl revue and golf tournament has been arranged.

Candidates for state offices have been advised of the dates, and several acceptances have been received. An attendance of from 12 to 15 thousand people is anticipated. W. R. (Buck) Johnson, president of the Sweetwater club, is general chairman of the celebration, and John M. Hendrix, secretary.

CONTENTMENT

In my many years of newspaper experience I have known two or three country editors who were sent to jail. I have been acquainted with two or three others who were sent to congress. Up to date I have never been sent to either place, and still cherish hopes that I may escape both. I have a wholesome regard for the law of averages.

A few years ago a successful magazine editor wrote a restful little book entitled "Adventures in Contentment." It carried the reader into the quietness of a small New England community, far from the maddening throng.

A few days ago O. O. McIntyre, popular New York columnist gave it as his opinion that the greatest contentment will be found among people in towns under five thousand.

In days of yore a section of Greece known as Arcadia became noted for the contentment enjoyed by its people. But times have changed, and the Arcadia of today must compete with bright lights along jazzy thoroughfares, with whirling wheels in centers of industry, with jerky stock tickers in busy offices, with modern Jacob's ladders leading into unseen heavens of wealth.

In the eyes of many of our sophisticated brethren, the seeker after an Arcadia today hasn't a chance. He is an object of a certain measure of pity, with his hick surroundings and hick town ideas. A favorite expression, that "hick town." But it isn't so opprobrious as it sounds when you stop to consider that a hick town is any community smaller than the dewelling place of the person who uses the term.

Nearly two thousand years ago the question was asked, "Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?" It wasn't that there was anything particularly wrong with Nazareth. It just happened to be a place of small population. It was a "hick" town. Yet it was the boyhood home of the most outstanding character in all history. And by the way, we here have proof that the more recently discovered inferiority complex is at least twenty centuries old, for the question was asked not only by city dwellers of that day, but by the Nazarenes themselves.

A good many people seem obsessed with the idea that there is more knowledge, more ingenuity, more refinement, in an area cluttered with several thousand people to the square mile than one housing a few hundred. The sum total per square mile is higher of course, but you may count on the average intelligence of any group of small town folks against an average group of the same size from a congested center.

Why it hasn't been so very long since I watched the eyes of a well reared city lad grow round as he looked upon his first adding machine. I once knew an elderly mother reared in the city who had grown rather proud of the fact that she had never seen a live hog. The bewhiskered rustic of the old time melodrama who used to go up to the city to buy a gold brick has been succeeded by the clever lad from the big burg who goes broke trying to run a farm. The city girl actually existed who wanted to know in all seriousness, whether the white cows gave regular milk and the brown ones chocolate milk.

A writer in one of the magazines said that the cause for a look of discontent on the faces of many prosperous Americans lies in the fact that what they really want is the opportunity to give something worth while. Where but in a small town can one give with the feeling that it is appreciated? The president of the New York Lion's Club once said to the president of a small town club, "You fellows can do far more than we can for New York. When you do something good everybody in town knows it and benefits, when we try to do something, it creates about as much stir as pouring a tub of water in the ocean.

No one will dispute the statement, I take it, that the foremost desire of the human race is happiness or contentment. Behind the daily strife for the elusive dollar lies the belief that its possession will bring contentment. Efforts toward fame and power are based on the conviction that their attainment will afford contentment.

Residents of the small towns are not contented. Nor did the magazine writer or McIntyre say they were. The statement is that the nearest approach to contentment is to be found in these modest centers. Neither does it mean a place without ambition, from which heaven deliver us.

Rather, it means a place where we have our friends, the Almighty's greatest gift to humanity. We know who and what they are. Sham and pretense, commonly known as as "front" must of necessity be thin and easily pierced.

We have our daily vacations, just as important to the individual, just as grinding, and just as capable of affording satisfaction, as if performed in the proximity of a million or two other perspiring souls.

We have but a few bustling factories, belching forth smoke at the chimneys and Bolshevists at the back doors, no tall office buildings, housing big business and pale cog-in-the-wheel clerks, seldom a spreading university, turning out trained engineers, trained accountants, ad trained Etta Bita Pi enthusiasts.

Instead we live in an athosphere dominated by home loving wife and husband loving, children loving, business loving. A place where a neighbor's a neighbor whether he works or plays golf, where a man's a man, whether he be a banker or a blacksmith.

Where we walk a few blocks along pleasant streets to our work in the morning, only five minutes or so between the breakfast table and the work shop.

The small town is a place where we walk home for a noonday meal with the family, where we breathe air uncontalinated by that modern stuff called "smog", where we drink water pumped from deep wells and unsullied by chemicals, where we eat pure food fresh from the farms and gardens, where most people own their own homes and the verdant lawns that surround them, where we have efficient local government because the officials feel responsible to the personal acquaintances who elected them, where we walk back home at the close of a day's toil to an evening of—what comfort? Ah, there's both the fly and the essence in the oil of contentment.

Shall it be a basketball game or perhaps it shall be a game of bridge for the evening. Like as not unless friend wife has her dates mixed on which club meets tonight, or unless she has to attend a Sunday school teachers meeting or a session of the committee to make out a program for her reading club, or unless friend husband has to meet with a committee from his luncheon club or his church board, or has promised to take part in degree work at lodge, or must lend a hand at a political caucus, or unless the oldest daughter can't stay at home with the younger children because she has to practice for a school play, or go to a young people's conference, or play the piano for the boys glee club.

Is this the night of the school play? I spent a recent evening in the auditorium full of parents as a stage full of their children and neighbors' children presented an operetta, a performance put on not by a comparative few, but giving to substantially every musically inclined youngster in the community an opportunity to strut his stuff.

If it be summer, shall we enjoy a drive this evening? Shall we cross the bridge at the edge of town and take the winding road along the river? Can we time the trip so the moon will be slipping up over the eastern hills about the time we can reach our favorite big tree? Can we stop at the bend in the creek and let the children play on the sandy bank, and dabble their bare feet in the rippling waters? Can we linger in some moonlit spot and listen to the night-birds, and whif the odor from new-mown fields, then circle back home past the bluebonnet and gladiolus gardens?

Riches in all these things? No. Fame or power? No. Contentment? Yes. It's reflected best, perhaps in the plaint of the homesick youngster in one of the poems of our own beloved Hoosier, James Whitcomb Riley who wanted to go back to Grigsby's Station.

Back where the latch string's a hangin' from the door
And ever' neighbor round the place is dear as a relation
Back where we ust to be so happy and so pore.

China Grove News

Most everyone is busy planting. We have a good season in the ground. Some feed stuff is up and looking good.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bullock and children visited Mr. Bullock's mother in Abilene last week. We are sorry to report Grandma Bullock is in very bad health. She has many friends here who hope she will soon be well.

Mrs. D. V. Walker and her daughter, Mrs. Wesley McCulloch, honored Jack Walker and McCullock Sunday with a birthday dinner in the latters home. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Pan Hall and family, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Witt and family, Grandma Lafevre, Frank White of China Grove; Mrs. H. Wells and children, Mrs. D. V. Walker and family, Robert Walker and son, Mr. and Mrs. Otho McCulloch and family of German community.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hall and children came home from Weatherford Thursday. Their daughter, Mrs. George Bean came home with them. She will visit here for awhile.

Mrs. Thurber Swan came home Sunday after spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Thompson at Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Witt visited relatives in Roscoe last Monday.

Leonard Rogers who was kicked by a horse Saturday morning is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Merket visited with their daughter and family at Snyder Sunday. They attended the singing convention there in the afternoon.

Mr. Visgle Nail and Mrs. Hugh Brown were guests of their parents Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Swan.

Several from here attended the singing at Snyder Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brown and children visited Floyd Merket and family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. York and children attended church at Barnet Sunday and were dinner guests of his father, Mr. York at Loraine.

Our school is progressing nicely. All the children seem to be interested in their work. Mr. Trott and Mrs. Hamol have been employed as teachers for next school term.

Mrs. A. M. Merket is to entertain the W. M. S. Monday with a tacky party next Monday. Every fifth Monday is social day. Our society is doing some good work. We wish more of the ladies would attend. Our average attendance is nine. We have almost finished the Bible but will start again and intend to study it closer next time. Any one that would like to study it with us have an invitation to come. Bible study is every second and fourth Monday.

Mrs. Bessie Dunn is having her house torn down and rebuilt. They are moving a house from Loraine to use in the building.

Lynn Trott who had pneumonia is slowly improving. He is unable to attend school yet.

KNOW THE TRUTH ABOUT MOTOR OILS—
Conoco dares to give you the facts!
Here are no idle claims—But PROOF!

COMPARE this positive proof of superiority with all the exaggerated claims you hear about motor oils—now the facts can be told. We arranged with the Contest Board, American Automobile Association, to test five widely-known and advertised motor oils along with New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil in a daring "Destruction Test."

These six oils, a single fill of 5 quarts, with no more oil added, in six brand new strictly stock cars, were driven until the motor in each car was destroyed from lack of lubrication. The first oil failed with motor destroyed at 1,713.2 miles—others failed in rapid succession. The best of the competing oils ran a total of 3,318.8 miles . . . while New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil lubricated its motor for a total of 4,729 miles! . . . more than 3,000 miles farther than the first oil to fail . . . and more than 1,400 miles farther than the second best oil. Thanks to Conoco's Hidden Quart protection, this amazing victory stands unchallenged!

This is evidence . . . these are facts . . . that should open a new era of results and economy for your motor. Drive into a Conoco Station or dealer—fill with this New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. There's no longer any guess about what oil is best for your car!

Warning TO NEW CAR OWNERS
Some car manufacturers are using new types of bearings which will stand greater pressures and temperatures, resulting from increased power and speed. New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil has been exhaustively tested on these new bearings. The results show that it gives them greater protection against damage than many straight mineral oils now on the market.
Protect your new car by using the motor oil you can be sure of.

Fort Stockton Lion Wins First Place In Annual Convention Essay Contest

H. M. Long of Fort Stockton, prominent in Lionism for several years and at present one of the deputy governors in District 2-T, won first place in essay contest sponsored by Governor Del W. Harrington of El Paso. Announcement of the awards was made during the convention here Tuesday.

R. S. Underwood of Lubbock won second place, Jack Williams of Dalhart won third and Miss Theoro Thompson of Childress fourth. The essays were written from the subject: "What Lionism Has Done To My Home Community."

The essay written by Mr. Long is published, as follows:

Lionism, what a magical word! How suggestive of courage and strength! It has seemed perfectly timed to meet the needs and conditions of the world since it passed through a baptism of fire in it's struggle to preserve and maintain the principles of a true democracy. Following such human carnage, such enormous destruction of physical properties, such demoralization of the moral and cultural forces of the world; how necessary that some shining emblem be lifted up before the saddened eyes and the moping spirits of a discouraged and dejected manhood.

At this critical juncture, coming as if by stealth, there appeared a motto bearing the inscription: "Liberty, Intelligence, Our Nations Safety," back of this motto was an emblem bearing the appropriate and significant inscription: "Lion's International" and back of both motto and emblem was a Constitution and a Code of ethics which made immediate appeal to the minds and hearts of the men of our own and other lands.

The psycho'ogy of the motto of Lionism has proven most practical and opportune, for within this trinity of words—LIBERTY, INTELLIGENCE, SAFETY, are couched the highest ideals of civilization.

Both fortunate and wise has been the manner of approach in which Lionism has sought to make real the ideals of government, to make concrete the abstract theories of business and social relationships, to make genuine the professed fraternal fellowship between men and nations and to make warm hearted and effective the old doctrine of: "The Father hood of God and the Brotherhood of man."

From it's earliest inception Lionism has placed full emphasis upon the dignity and the worth of each individual lion. It has never concerned itself overmuch with a questionaire seeking to elicit, from a prospective member, the wealth, the prominence, the high social standing or even the distinguished service of forebears: but rather has been content to ask the simple question: "Who are you and what are you willing to do for others?" It is plainly manifest that the chief concern of Lionism is the full rounded development of the individual lion member.

In perfect conformity with this central purpose of Lionism is the weekly program followed in all well functioning clubs. For fifty-two days, in each year, Lions salute the flag and sing the National anthem, stand with bowed heads and render grateful thanks to the God and Father of us all, sit together in the finest fellowship around the luncheon table, discuss together the varjous needs of the community in which they dwell, plan for the wisest solution of their local problems and, after all is said, Resolve to go forth and render, each in his own way, the very best SERVICE of which he is capable.

Could any thoughtful mind question the positive results of this program followed week after week and year after year? Surely all will agree that out of it will come a finer type of citizen, in the service of his country; a humbler and more devout follower of his God; a truer friend and more appreciative of the meaning of FELLOWSHIP and, above, all, with a VISION which enables him to see the vast volume of worthy work to be done by him in the world in which he lives.

Challenged by the principles and inspired by the program of Lionism, as above outlined, my local club has always taken its work seriously and has sought to maintain a loyal relationship to every department of the organization. The constitutional set-up has always been observed. We have found both pleasure and profit in our zone activities and are convinced that great benefits have been derived from contacts with our neighboring towns. We have likewise kept in close touch with the District, State and International Convention and have, when possible, had delegates to them all.

We have always felt a peculiar pride in keeping our finances in good form and have paid all dues and local obligations as and when due and have never had a fully depleted treasury. We approach the District 2-T Convention, with all claims paid and about three hundred and fifty dollars in the bank.

The educational institutions, in our midst, have been of special concern and we have cooperated with parents and faculty in lending any possible aid or encouragement. Our program committees have drawn liberally upon the talen of our schools, for the luncheon hour, and from this practice have made many happy discoveries of otherwise dormant and inactive gifts and graces. By the same practice we have discovered hidden powers in many of our own members. Our club has a students' loan fund of approximately $1500.00 and this is circulating to the aid of crippled and deserving children and students. We raised $200 for the President's Birthday Fund to go to the crippled children of Warm Springs, Georgia. More than $100 was recently expended for making "Christmas Cheer" for all the children of our town.

Projects, too numerous to mention, have been fostered and encouraged by our local club and we have come upon a time when we may look to any point of the compass and see the works of our hands. Time will not erase the enduring marks of progress as made by our local Lions club, for we have erected walls of stone and frames of steel in our efforts to make permanent and attractive the work which may be done with such materials; but more enduring still are the friendships we have formed and the memories which we will cherish to the end of our days.

SENIORS FROM MITCHELL COUNTY HIGH SCHOOLS TO VISIT SIMMONS U.

University Host To Seniors Of This Section Next Saturday

Around fifty seniors from Mitchell County high schools will attend High School Senior Day at Simmons University, Abilene, next Saturday.

Simmons University has invited seniors from all high schools within a radius of 150 miles of Abilene to be guests of the institution on that day, when a sort of "open house" is to be held. Visiting students will be shown through the college and will be guests at a picnic and barbecue.

In each town included in this invitation the Women's Missionary Society of the local Baptist church has had charge of making arrangements for transportation of seniors to and from this affair. The Colorado W. M. S., headed by Mrs. J. A. Sadler, president, will furnish transportation for some thirty-nine or forty Colorado high school seniors.

The Loraine and Westbrook missionary societies are working under the leadership of their respective presidents, Mrs. Charles B. Reeder and Mrs. W. E. Donaldson, to transport representatives of Loraine and Westbrook senior classes.

Those who have already signed up to go from the senior class at Colorado include Dona'd Adrian, Harvey Baker, Lynn Bodine, Frank Carpenter, Charles Garrett, Arthur Geffs, T. J. Geiger, C. W. Hagler, Robert King, J. M. Kirby, M. C. Lowry, Arlene Morris, Omer Rodgers.

Elvie Stagner, Dennis Walding, Jack Wood, Fred Warner, Opal Alexander, Polly Bellomy, Christine Bolin, Leatha Brandon, Frances Kaufman, Estelle Dossey, Voynelle Irwin, Merle Frazier, Marie Girvin, Audrey Iglehart, B'anche Mackey;

Lela Johnson, Iva Lee Pennington, Elizabeth Pond, Memphis Porter, Iva Lee Rankin, Anna Smith, Dora Paul Sniveley, Elvirie Sorrells, Marjorie Taylor, Sidney Thomas, and Lovena Wren.

Those who plan to go from Westbrook's senior class are Weldon Moore, Edwin Hall, Ada Jackson, Florence Neal, James Berry, John Rowland, Woodrow Leach, and Herman May.

Several members of the Colorado W. M. S. also plan to attend the Senior Day program, if possible. They are Mrs. Fielding Lee, Mrs. P. D. O'Brien, Mrs. W. W. Alexander, and Mrs. Sadler.

Loraine seniors who will attend are Bob Looney, Faye Johnson, La Verne Nelson, Max Martin, Vesta Shultz, Ruth Lee, Elvis Narrell, Butsie Hall, Hugh Harrell; Tommy Horton, Boyd House, Christine Riden, Reed Burns, Walter Prescott, and Milton Hallmark.

J. P. MAJORS INJURED WHEN RUN OVER BY CAR

J. P. Majors, of Sweetwater, former resident of Colorado and father of Oscar, Ed, and Sam Majors of this place, is reported recovering from injuries received late Friday afternoon in Sweetwater when run over by an automobile driven by J. B. Wprley, Sweetwater high school youth.

Mr. Majors, who is a former mayor of Sweetwater, had just stepped from the curb on one of the Sweetwater streets when the car swerved around the corner, not making the usual turn in the middle of the street, according to the Sweetwater Daily Reporter. He was knocked quite a distance, his head barely missing the curb, and two wheels of the car passed over his chest. Injuries sustained included a broken rib, bruised elbow and knee.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Majors and Sam Majors went to Sweetwater Sunday to visit the injured man.

It will be an all-southern battery working for the San Francisco Seals this baseball season when Sam Gibson pitches to Larry Woodall. They both comes from North Carolina.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES

The young people of the Rocolo union met at Westbrook Thursday night, April 18.

Roscoe gave a very fine program, after which there was a business meeting. Westbrook furnished the entertainment which consisted of a reading and several musical numbers. Refreshments of cake and punch were served to about eighty people including several visitors.

Westbrook won the union banner for the ensuing six weeks.

Brother Ross preached Sunday morning on Christian Education, pointing out the many fine principles as set forth in the life of Dr. Hunt, late president of McMurry College. A splendid offering was received for McMurry College at that time.

The unusually good attendance at Sunday school and church last Sunday was very encouraging.

The Board of Christian Education met at the parsonage Tuesday evening.

The Missionary society continued its study of Methodism Monday afternoon with Mrs. Lindsey as leader.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS,

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Mitchell County—GREETING:

YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED, That you summon, by making Publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Mitchell, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in a newspaper published in the nearest County to said Mitchell County, for four consecutive weeks previous to return day hereof, Frank Lampley whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the Hon. 32nd District Court, at the next regular term thereof, to be holden in the County of Mitchell at the Court House thereof, in Colorado, Texas, on the 25th day of June, A. D. 1934, then and there to answer a Petition filed in said Court, on the 11th day of April A. D. 1934, in a suit numbered on the Docket of said Court No. 5438, wherein May Lampley is plaintiff and Framk Lampley is defendant. The nature of the plaintiffs demand being as follows, to-wit: Suit for Divorce as follows;

Now comes May Lampley, hereinafter called plaintiff, who resides in the said County of Mitchell, State of Texas, complaining of Frank Lampley whose residence is unknown, and, praying for a divorce, for grounds show the court the following:

That on or about the 29th day of September 1928, plaintiff was duly and legally married to defendant in the county of Logan, State of Arkansas, and continued to live with him as his wife until about the 16th day of November 1932.

That Plaintiff has been an actual bona fide inhabitant of the State of Texas for a period of twelve months, and has resided in the said county of Mitchell where this suit is filed, a period of six months, next preceding the filing thereof, having become an inhabitant of said state on the 9th day of April 1933, and a resident of said county on the 10th day of April 1933.

At all times, while married to the defendant, plaintiff, has conducted herself with propriety, doing her duty as a wife, has at all times treated defendant with kindness and forbearance, and has been guilty of no act bringing about or causing the herein after described acts, omissions and conditions on defendants part.

Defendant, disregarding the solemnity of his marriage vow, and his obligation to treat plaintiff with kindness and attention, within about four months after their marriage, commenced a course of unkind, harsh and tyrannical conduct towards plaintiff, which cotinued with very slight intermission, until plaintiff finally, separated from defendant on or about the 16th day of November A. D. 1932. On divers occasions, while plaintiff lived with defendant as aforesaid, defendant was guilty of excesses, cruel treatment and outrages toward plaintiff, of such a nature as to render their living together insupportable; The Defendant drank liquor and would come home drunk and strike and curse plaintiff; and at various times, defendant would leave the plaintiff in a strange town among strange people and would not return for several months.

Wherefore Plaintiff prays the court that defendant be cited by publicatjon to appear and answer this petition and upon final hearing hereof, she do have judgment of divorce, dissolving the marriage between plaintiff and defendant, and for such other and further relief both general and special in law and in equity as she may show herself entitled.

MAY LAMPLEY,
Plaintiff.

HEREIN FAIL NOT, And have you before said Court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this Writ, with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Colorado, Texas, this, the 11th day of April A. D. 1934.

J. H. BALLARD,
Clerk District Court Mitchell County, Texas.

May-4-chg.

EDITORIAL—MAY DAY

May has long been celebrated the first day of May by the crowning of a May Queen with a garland and by dancing around a Maypole.

The actual basis for May Day seems to have been the Roman Floralia, celebrated April 28 to May 3, and instituted at Rome, in the year 238 B. C. Among observances of the Florlia are mentioned gay costumes, dramatic performances, and many beautiful dances. It has long been the custom on this day to start before dawn, and make excursions to the woods gathering beautiful wild flowers and green boughs and making them into garlands for the May Queen and for the beautiful ceremonies that were to follow. The Maypole once introduced has always been the scene of popular amusements.

Why does West Texas, especially Colorado, not celebrate May Day more often than it does? She has a chance to have the most beautiful ceremonies because of having so many different varieties of wild flowers and trees. The teachers would enjoy waking up on May Day morning and finding a large basket of wild flowers on his or her porch. What would be more appropriate than a basket of yellow buttercups and blue bells on the superintendent's and principal's front door step? A basket of wild hollyhocks and dandelions on the math or history teacher's desk would put him in a better humor and maybe would ward off a test he had planned to give.

These baskets are symbols of love and good wishes and good luck. The children, young people, and adults would enjoy the May Day ceremonies alike. The older people would enjoy watching the younger people having their fun remembering that once upon a time they did the same thing. Again we ask, why does West Texas with all her beautiful wild flowers not celebrate May Day more than she does?

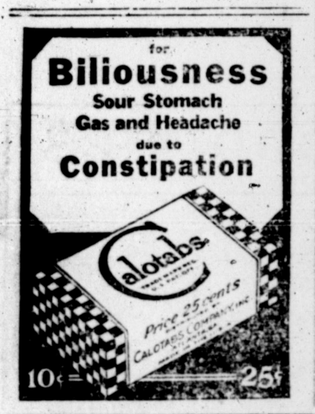

HAS COLORADO HIGH SCHOOL ACCOMPLISHED ANYTHING THIS YEAR?

Sometimes one gets to thinking that he has not accomplished anything at school but when he really gets down to thinking he finds that he has accomplished more than he thought. Even if one has learned only a few things a day, in a year's time the knowledge adds up.

The lasting friendship's one makes in a year's time in high school is something accomplished. These friends often prove to be the greatest help in business, time of need, pleasure, and success. They are the ones who remain fast and true.

In our studies in the Colorado High School, we may have not put on any fancy touches, but we have learned the solid, worthwhile facts that will remain with us through life. Here are N. T. Berry and George Kiker who are studying geometry hard, because they are going to be civil engineers. Ruth Smith has advanced in English by leaps and bounds, because she is going to be a public speaker. J. M. Kirby's arms are centered on the profession of a doctor. Oren's commercial work spells him a business manager for some large concern.

Colorado High School means to develop her students in character, health, and mentality; means to make her students big men, brave men, capable leaders who stand for the good of mankind.

SENIOR NEWS

Senior Day

Senior Day will be Friday of this week. The seniors will spend the day at the Colorado Country Club where they will swim, fish, golf, dance, go boat riding, and eat. Arrangements are being made for every one to have a good time.

Seniors Plan To Go To Abilene

Simmons University is observing their Senior Day in a very unique way. They are entertaining all senior classes in high schools within a hundred mile radius of Abilene. Ways are being provided for the Colorado High school seniors by the W. M. U. of the First Baptist church.

JUNIOR NEWS

Last week in a junior class meeting the juniors selected their class rings for next year and other important details.

For the junior-senior banquet the class has selected committees for doing the major part of the work. They are as follows:

Entertainment committee: Lynn Morrison, Estelline Chivers, Il'a Ruth Kelly.

Decoration committee: Merl Garner, Loyse Jenkins, Louise Jenkins, Joe Alfred.

Menu committee: Aldred Bodine, Maxine Conaway, Juanita Reese.

Favors committee: Brady Warren, Mabel Earnest Cooper, Bobby Wulfjen.

The juniors also are having a contest to determine which side can get the most banquet fees. The side that wins gets a picture from the other side.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

The sophomore class has been working exceedingly hard the past week, as it is their time to publish The Howl. A staff of reporters and two editors were selected. The editor is Frances Jones and editor-in-chief is Elwood Beal. The staff of reporters (or collectors of news) are as follows:

Senior News ..... Regal Porter
Junior News ..... Jane Axtell
Sophomore News ..... Oren Womack
Freshmen News ..... Courtleigh Snodgrass
School News ..... Julias Smith and Paschall Lynch
Literary News ..... Tom Hughes
Jokes ..... Jesse Jones

Next week we sign over our stenographer and typewriters to the Junior class, who will have charge of the paper, and we sincerely hope that they enjoy it as much as we have.

Many of the sophomore girls are going to be absent this week, for they are attending the Home Makers Rally with Miss Jennings at Austin. Ruth Wright, Arabelle Sorrels and Eleanor Hagler with others left for San Antonio, Friday in order to attend the Battle of Flowers, Saturday. The remainder of the group of Sophomore H. E. girls, who are Melba Slaton, Loyce Andrews, Betsy Lee, and others, also girls from other classes will leave Tuesday afternoon.

ASSEMBLY

The High School was entertained in assembly, Monday by a group of students from Midland High School. The girl's quartet sang several songs and a tap dancer gave several lively dance numbers. The program was very entertaining. The Midland students were in Colorado as guests of the District Lions Convention.

CONTEST

Much interest is being shown in the "My Home Town" speaking contest. Ideas about Colorado are being sought on every turn, and judging from the sounds emerging from Mr. Croslin's room during the day, we certainly have a fine group of "budding Chamber of Commerce secretaries."

LA TERTULIA

By Polly Bellomy

La Tertulia met Monday morning April 23, at the usual class period with President Louis Taylor presiding. Minutes were read by Secretary Mabel Majors.

The first report was given by Miss Smith who read an article on the different views of Spain. It included the comparison of the Spain pictured to foreigners by romantic poets and novelists with the bare truth of the conditions prevailing in Spain today of unsanitary conditions, political revolutions, the tragedy of the peasant life, and many other phases of the Spanish life.

Several scenes of the Spanish play "Zaragueta" were read by members of the club.

Plans for the coming La Tertulia banquet were discussed.

VOCATIONAL NEWS

The baby typists are hard at work again. They are planning to give a program in assembly one day next week and they want every one in town to be present so that they may show the work and progress the typists are doing. They are: Danna Marie Merritt, Bobby Fee, Joan Haines (Westbrook), Juanice Elliott, Iva Helen Lee, Martha Jane Watson, Buddy Doss, Bobby Ratliff, Billie Margaret Gregory, Frances Dorn, Dick Gregory, Freddie Watson, Ernest Porter, Phyllis Berman, and Mr. Bruce Cambell's little girl.

We promised several weeks ago to give away awards in assembly, but due to so many other things in the weeks we have not had time to give them. These will be given away at the same time the little typists give their program. Every one is asked to attend.

Miss Cooper is planning to spend the week-end in Dallas attending the State Vocational Teachers Association which meets Saturday.

Estelle Dossy took shorthand dictation from Mrs. Johnson, Monday morning. She is one of the seniors taking shorthand in high school. She is getting practice that will help her in her stenographic work. She hesitated about going because she did not think that she could do it. Miss Cooper sent her so that she would gain confidence in her ability as a stenographer.

Velma Rodgers is being missed from the Vocational classes this week as she is teaching in Miss Jennings place while the latter is in Austin attending the Home Economics girl's meeting.

AGRICULTURE

The calves which are being fed by the Vocational Agriculture classes will be shown at Sweetwater, April 28. We hope that the calves take many prizes.

The Future Farmers are planning another barbecue but the date has not been made definite. Watch for signs and notices.

ATHLETICS

In the regional meet held Saturday the twenty-first, in Abilene, Colorado won thirteen points. Elvey Stagner won the half mile race, running it in two minutes, five and nine tenths seconds. The Colorado relay team ran the relay in three minutes and thirty-nine seconds. This was very good time but Abilene won first place by one second. The members of Colorado's relay team will go to the State Interscholastic Track meet which is to be held in Austin, May 2, 3, 4. The boys are: Elvey Stagner, Frances Connell, Red Church, and Wilburn Henderson. We hope that these boys win.

FRESHMEN H. E. NEWS

By Aanetta Lacey

This last week the Freshmen Home Economics foods class has continued on refrigeration and toys. We have studied the selection of toys and also the good and bad points of certain ones. We have studied the planning of foods in the refrigerator and why they should go in a certain spot.

Thursday we were to bring toys and Friday we made a toy selection for a certain setting. The latter part of the period we took a test on planning foods in the refrigerator and why we should put them in that certain place.

HOME ECONOMICS IB

By Doris O'Brien

The girls of our class have finished their pajamas and started their school dresses. The girls have selected some very pretty material for their dresses.

Miss Jennings left Friday for San Antonio with some of the Home Economic girls. The remainder of the girls left Tuesday morning. They will meet Miss Jennings in San Antonio and go on to Austin Thursday. Loyce Andrews is going from our class.

We are to have the following finished by Monday: 1. Working plan; 2. Neck Finish; 3. Sleeves or arm seams and skirt seams; 4. Shoulder and underarm seams.

SECOND YEAR H. E. NEWS

By Agnes Cawthorn

The second year home Economics class has been making rapid progress on the three problems which they have for this six weeks. The infant's garment is due Friday. There is no assigned time for the preschool child's garment to be in. Some of the girls have almost all of their baby books made. The girls are working very hard on these last three projects for this year.

Six of the girls who were going to Austin left Thursday afternoon with Miss Jennings for San Antonio. They spent this last week-end in San Antonio in order to see the "Battle of Flowers." The other girls who left Tuesday morning will meet Miss Jennings late Tuesday afternoon in San Antonio. They will go through the missions and other places of interest and then go on to Austin Thursday, where they shall enter the contest.

THANKS

The Sophomore class wishes to express its thanks for having the privilege of editing the paper this week. We have all enjoyed it very much. Miss Cooper, the sponsor, praised the class for its fine cooperation and willingness to work. "It was this spirit," she said, "which enabled them to make the paper a success."

An Aberdeen upholsterer bequeathed $25,000 to Aberdeen University for the foundation of scholarships, although he never earned more than $15 a week.

PALMER PAPERS

Miss Locker sent off the Palmer papers Tuesday. She will send off the American Penman and the Graves papers Friday.

CHAPEL

Last week in chapel Mr. Holman told some jokes and announced the play "Tom Sawyer" and introduced the characters.

In one of the jokes he asked Miss Green if she had lost one of Billy Mann's essays. This is what it said:

Cats that meant for little boys to maul and tease is called maultease cats. Some cats is reckernized by how quiet their purrs is and these is named purrsion cats. The cats what have very bad tempers is called angora cats, and cats with deep feelings is called feline cats. I don't like cats.

Another one was:

Friend of Glen G.: I'll bet you five dollars you can't tell me how many doors in this office.

Glen: I'll bet you five dollars I can. There are three doors.

Friend: You forgot the cuspidoor.

Glen (in another office): I'll bet you can't tell me how many doors in this office.

Friend: There are two doors.

Glen: You forgot the spitoon.

After this we sang several songs and then went back to our rooms.

PLAY TO BE GIVEN FOR LIBRARY FUND

We have received the following amount of money so far for the "Tom Sawyer" play to be presented here Friday:

5B—$1.08.
6B—$1.07.
7A—$1.17.
5A—$1.21.
6A—$.68.
7B—$.23.

The money taken in at this play is to be used to pay for books that the library has bought.

The room which takes in the most money for the play will be taken on a picnic.

NOTICE

PARENTS WANTED: "Tom Sawyer" given here Friday. We want you parents to be here. The admission is 2c or over.

FOR SALE OR TRADE:

Virginia Gurney's blonde curly hair.
Conrad Lantron's girl.
Miss Greene's gold fish.
Adelaide Harvey's smile.
Anna Don's dog.
Nancy's blue eyes.
Mary Louise's fountain pen.
Mattie Belle's Literature.
Doris Wynne's engagement ring.
Ruby Lee's long dress.

WHAT WOULD THIS WORLD BE LIKE IF:

Shirley didn't have her hair cut short?
Mattie B. didn't read?
Ruby D. were to study English?
Jack H. were to make a good grade?

CAN YOU IMAGINE:

Dale Simpson playing checkers?
Miss Greene riding in a model T?
Nancy Lee studying her arithmetic?
Betty Hodge walking to school alone?
Jane C. writing notes?
Billie M. jumping 5 feet?
Pauline W. studying this term?
Mattie B. having the blues, not hardly.

CAN YOU THINK OF:

Ruby D. liking a Freshman boy whose initials are M. S.?
Doris W. riding in a model T instead of a model A?
Joe Lee getting a poem to memorize for throwing paper wads?

WE WONDER WHY:

Joe Lee is afraid to turn around in his seat? (Ask Doris W.)
Frances Doss doesn't use paint?
John Colson winks at Armoria?
Muriel Gunn wears her tam in the school room?
Blanche B. likes to go riding in a Dodge car.
Anna Don is so interested in English.
Birdie gets so many letters.
George G. has the big head.

WE HOPE SOME DAY TO SEE—

Mattie B. a school teacher.
Jane C. a housewife.
Ruby D. an artist.
Dorothy M. Hagler a nurse.
Betty a book writer.
George G. a doctor.
Mary Louise not always talking to Wimpy (Darrel McGuire).
Blanchie Bess Jones a poet

WE WONDER IF WE WILL EVER SEE—

Pauline Wren clerking in a dry goods store at Colorado.
Clifford Greener an athletic coach.
John Colson making A in spelling.
Armoria arguing with Dale in Geography again.
Mattie Belle a school teacher.
Jane C. a housewife.

JOKES

Teacher (Miss Greene): Can you tell me what a waffle is, Junior?

Junior Thomas: Yes'm. It's a pancake with a non-skid tread.

::

Mr. Holman: I know the evidence is strongly against my innocence, but I have $50,000 to fight the case.

Lawyer: As your attorney, I assure you that you'll never go to prison with that amount of money.

And he didn't, he went there broke.

::

WHAT IF:

Jane C. didn't like her part in the play.
Cleo F. liked arithmetic.
Mr. Holman didn't know any wise cracks.
Claude Morgan were to be tardy.

::

BELIEVE IT OR NOT:

Doris W. wants school to be out.
Mattie Belle wishes she had Shirley's new white slippers.
Frances D. is timid.
Mattie B. wants to pass!

STATE HEALTH OFFICER TELLS OF SNAKE BITES

AUSTIN.—Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, urges every one to be careful when in the country to prevent snake bite. In Texas the chief offender is the rattlesnake; and, contrary to common belief, it does not always rattle before it strikes.

About seventy-five per cent of all bites occur on the lower extremities and could be prevented, to a large extent, by wearing high top boots or leggins. About twenty per cent occur on the hands and arms. Care should be exercised in putting the hands in invisible places when climbing rocks, and to look before picking up anything that may be obscured by vegetation, brush or rocks.

If one it bitten, prompt action is necessary and a physician should be obtained as soon as possible. No time should be lost in removing the poison by suction; this can be done by mouth or a suition cup. First a tourniquet should be applied above the wound, so as to increase congestion and assist in washing out the poison. A cross cut incision with a sharp, clean knife or razor blade should be made over each fang mark, or preferably to connect the two fang punctures. These cuts should be a least a quarter of an inch deep and at least that long. Suction should be applied for least a half hour. The tourniquet should be released every ten or fifteen minutes for a minute at a time.

If bitten by a snake; do not run or get overheated; do not take alcoholic stimulants; do not use pot ash permanganate (which is now known to be of no value as an antidote) to cauterize the wound; and do not depend on home remedies.

Why is the swing to GAS refrigeration?

Because:

The GAS Refrigerator operates for 25c a week, or less—an operating cost much less than any other system of refrigeration. A saving that goes on day after day—year after year!

Because:

The GAS Refrigerator operates without motors or complicated machinery. A tiny gas flame circulates a simple sealed-in refrigerant. Ordinary air from your kitchen cools it. That's all!

Because:

The GAS Refrigerator is the most scientifically advanced. The absence of moving parts means freedom from expensive repairs. It is the simplest freezing method next to nature itself!

Because:

The GAS Refrigerator operates in absolute and permanent silence. It has no moving parts to make noise or become inefficient and cause vibration.

Because:

The GAS Refrigerator is the only system with a constant operation. There's no starting and stopping. Hence, a constant, uniform cold below 50 degrees is maintained regardless of any sudden rises in room temperature.

Because:

The GAS Refrigerator has been subjected to severe tests under all sorts of conditions by the American Gas Association, Good Housekeeping Institute and your own gas company. These and the experiences of owners prove that the GAS Refrigerator will give you more years of care-free, dependable refrigeration at much less cost!
