The SDN Column

Although we had plenty of problems, apparently Snyder escaped one source of trouble during the recent ice storm.

Over in Lamesa, tree limbs were broken to such an extent that special arrangements were required to clear them.

The Lamesa Press-Reporter reported:

"Local residents are urged to pile their broken tree limbs up as neatly as possible in their alleys for pick up by city crews, according to City Manager Carroll Taylor (an old Scurry County boy). With substantial tree breakage apparent, local residents are being urged to cut the broken limbs up into manageable lengths, preferably not over five feet in length."

The absence of wind was credited with preventing such chores in Snyder. Trees, shrubbery, power lines, etc., had heavy loads, and for a time the power company people and telephone company people especially were keeping their fingers crossed. Fortunately, we got a thaw before widespread breakage occurred.

Down at Ballinger, the motorists apparently felt that if they managed to get around on the ice (it got down to four below zero there one morning), they didn't need anymore driving instructions. Anyway, the Ballinger Ledger reported:

"Ballinger School Superintendent Dick Richey said late Friday that the defensive driving course that was to have been offered by the Ballinger schools had been cancelled. Richey said that only four persons had signed up for the course, and a minimum of 25 students were required."

Kim Pease, editor and publisher of the Rotan Advance and Roby Star-Record, came up with a warning to delinquent subscribers and non-advertisers, a sort of tongue-in-cheek edict, no doubt, which he clipped from the Altoona, Kan., Tribune:

"Ten cents straight will be charged for all obituary notices on all businessmen who do not advertise while living.

"Delinquent subscribers will be charged 15 cents per line for an obituary notice.

"Advertisers and cash subscribers will receive as good a sendoff as we are capable of writing, without any charge whatever.

"Better send in your subscriptions as the hog cholera is abroad in the land."

Incidentally, the Kansas paper published this in 1928. It would probably be a quarter, or half-dollar nowadays.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Jan. 19, the 19th day of 1973. There are 346 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1942, Japan invaded Burma during World War II.

On this date:

In 1736, the inventor of the steam engine, James Watt, was born in Breenock, Scotland.

In 1795, French forces overran Holland.

In 1861, Georgia seceded from the Union.

In 1937, Howard Hughes established a transcontinental air record, flying across the United States in 7 hours, 28 minutes.

In 1938, Gen. Francisco Franco's Nationalist air force bombed the Spanish cities of Barcelona and Valencia, killing 700 persons.

In 1960, the United States and Japan signed a treaty of mutual security.

Ten years ago: Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced that he had arbitrated a dispute between the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association for control of U.S. amateur sports.

Five years ago: President Lyndon Johnson named Clark Clifford as secretary of Defense after the resignation of Robert McNamara.

One year ago: Attorneys for Howard Hughes said in court in New York that they could produce witnesses to prove that a purported autobiography of the billionaire was a hoax.

Economy Ends Year Strong

8.5% Gain In Quarter

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's economy closed out 1972 on a strong note, growing at a sharp 8.5 per cent rate during the final three months of the year while the rate of inflation accelerated slightly, the government said today.

The Commerce Department reported that prices, as measured by the broad yardstick of the Gross National Product, rose by 2.7 per cent during the October-December quarter, up from 2.4 per cent in the previous quarter.

GNP, the market value of the nation's output of goods and services, climbed by $31.8 billion during the quarter. With the effect of inflation removed, the department figure the economy increased at an annual rate of 8.5 per cent compared with 6.3 per cent in the third quarter.

For the year as a whole, the economy grew by 6.5 per cent, higher than the 6 per cent forecast by the Nixon administration a year ago, while the rate of inflation increased by 3 per cent, lower than the 3.25 per cent forecast by President Nixon's Council of Economic Advisors.

For all of 1972, GNP averaged $1.152 trillion, an increase of about $102 billion over 1971. This figure was about $4 billion over the administration's target, and indicated the economy is expanding stronger than had been expected.

The administration is now worried that the current economic expansion, which started in late 1971, may be growing too quickly and getting to the point where inflation could become much worse.

To counter this possibility, Nixon has ordered big cutbacks in federal spending and a tight budget for fiscal 1974, beginning July 1, which will go to Congress in about a week. In addition, Nixon has decided to keep wage-price controls.

The GNP meaure for the rate of inflation is regarded as a broader one than the Consumer Price Index. The CPI, figured on a different basis and affecting only goods sold at retail, advanced at a 3.5 per cent rate in 1972.

Many economists regard the CPI as a more reliable rate of inflation and say that the GNP yardstick tends to understate the rate.

The administration had hoped to cut the rate of inflation to under 3 per cent in 1972, but it never said which yardstick it would use. It has conceded, however, that inflation is slightly over its 1972 target.

For its Phase 3 economic system of largely voluntary wage-price restraint, the administration has set a goal of cutting inflation to a 2.5 per cent rate of increase by the end of 1973.

LEADING UP TO INAUGURATION

Festivities In Second Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — An "ethnic cocktail party" followed by three evening concerts herald this second day of festivities for those handpicked to celebrate President Nixon's second inauguration.

The cocktail party and concerts are preliminaries leading up to noon Saturday when Nixon will take the oath of office for the second time.

A number of groups protesting the war in Vietnam plan counter-inaugural demonstrations, even though the White House says work will start Tuesday on completing an agreement to end the conflict.

The Justice Department said precautionary measures are being taken in case any of the demonstrations turn violent.

About 2,000 military reinforcements have been called in, but the administration said no violence is expected.

Buffet tables at this afternoon's "salute to America's heritage" at the Corcoran Gallery of Art will abound with hundreds of culinary delicacies from more than 100 ethnic and minority groups in the United States.

Sponsors promised 1,500 pounds of cheese, 360 pints of strawberries, Irish stout, Chinese meatballs, Spanish empanadas, German bratwurst and among other foods, 6,000 stuffed grape and cabbage leaves.

All the food will belong in the finger category—no forks and plates—to ensure that nobody can take too much at once. Napkins and plastic stemware will carry the official inaugural seal of approval.

The Cabinet and members of Congress will have a special VIP room if they feel the need to escape the crush.

"It will be a typical Washington cocktail party for 15,000," said one caterer.

The cultural appetite will be filled by music and art from around the world.

After the mass feeding—which is by invitation only but still costs $10 a head—three nearly simultaneous concerts will keep the party pace going mightily throughout the evening, this time at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

Scheduled are a youth concert, a symphonic concert and an American music show. These, too, are invitational and tickets range from $20 to $500 for the more sophisticated entertainment to $10 for the youth event.

BACKED BY STATE BAR

'No-Fault' Insurance Bill Filed For Introduction

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A "no—fault" car insurance bill backed by the State Bar of Texas was filed for introduction in the House Thursday.

The measure, sponsored by Rep. Jon Newton of Beeville, would not deny an injured motorist the right to file suit against the other driver as would most no—fault proposals.

Newton's bill probably will be formally introduced and referred to committee Monday.

"This is the bar's response to no—fault," said Davis Grant, the bar's general counsel.

The bill would add to each auto liability policy—unless rejected by the policyholder in writing—"personal injury protection coverage" for the motorist, his family and passengers, as well as pedestrians struck by his car. The coverage would provide $2,000 for medical bills, $100 per week for lost wages and $10,000 in the vent of death. Most insurance policies now carry $2,000 in first party coverage for medical expenses.

Rep. Carl Parker of Port Arthur filed a bill requiring uninsured drivers to pay $60 into a state uninsured motorists fund before they can obtain license plates for their cars. His bill also would add $5,000 in property damage coverage to the standard inunsured motorist policy, which now pays only medical and death expenses.

Other bills introduced or filed Thursday included these measures:

—HB108 by Rep. Joe Hubenak of Rosenberg, requiring hunters—at the risk of a $10 to $200 fine for violation—to wear flourescent orange hats and jackets.

—HB112 by Rep. Bob Hendricks of McKinney, providing life imprisonment without possibility of parole as an alternative to the death penalty.

—HB118 by Rep. Senfronia Thompson of Houston, making Jan. 15, birthday of the late Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., a state holiday.

—HB119 by Rep. Neil Caldwell of Angleton, providing a $900,000 appropriation for the special commission that will make recommendations to the legislature when it meets next year as a constitutional convention.

—HB120 by Rep. Ben Z. Grant of Marshall, allowing all qualified voters to serve on juries. Present law limits jury service to persons 21 and over.

HB121 by Rep. James D. Cole of Greenville, allowing judges to expunge minors' marijuana convictions from the record after successful completion of probation.

—HB133 by Rep. Woody Denson of Houston, eliminating the requirement that families making their own wine must file a statement with the Alcoholic Beverage Commission and pay a $10 fee.

—HB109 by Rep. Lindon Williams of Houston, requiring policemen and others to determine whether an unconscious or incoherent person is suffering from a disabling condition and to seek medical help.

—HB146 by Rep. Carlos Truan of Corpus Christi, requiring bi-lingual education programs for "linguistically different" children.

Service For Mrs. Hammit

Mrs. John Hammit, 87, died at 8 p.m. Thursday in Cogdell Memorial Hospital. She was born June 19, 1885, in Erath County, and had been a resident of Snyder since 1922. She was a Baptist.

Services are set for 2 p.m. Saturday in Bell-Seale Funeral Home Chapel, with the Rev. Virgil Mott officiating. Burial will follow in Snyder Cemetery, under the direction of Bell-Seale.

She is survived by her husband, John; a daughter, Mrs. Thomas Tatom, Snyder; two sons D.L. Hammit of Snyder and D.E. Hammit of Farwell; a sister, Mrs. Dora Chapman Stephenville; eight grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Police Seeking Motive In Mass Home Slaying

WASHINGTON (AP) — Police are searching for a motive for the execution-type slayings of seven persons, including five children, in an expensive home that is headquarters for a Muslim religious sect.

Milwaukee Bucks basketball star Kareem Abdul Jabbar, who bought the house and donated it to the Hanafi Muslims, said of the crime: "I can think of only crazy people, lunatics who would do it." Jabbar was known as Lew Alcindor when he starred at UCLA.

Jabbar, a member of the sect, was in Milwaukee when the slayings occurred about 4 p.m. Thursday in an area where many of Washington's wealthiest black families live. All the victims were black and ranged in age from infancy to 30 years, police said.

Police said they were looking for four black men seen by witnesses running from the rear door of the home, and police intelligence sources indicated as many as eight men may have participated in the killings.

A police spokesman said it was "definitely an execution."

Police said they were having trouble identifying the victims. Two women who were found shot in the head, but alive, inside the house were identified as Bibi Khaalis and Almina Khaalis, both about 20.

Bibi Khaalis was reported in critical condition and Almina Khaalis in fair condition. North Carolina civil-rights leader Dr. Reginald Hawkins, who was a Democratic candidate for governor in 1964 and 1968, was quoted as saying Bibi Khaalis was his daughter and that the three children originally reported found in a bathtub were hers.

Police said they could not confirm these identifications.

Police said some of the victims had been shot and others drowned. Officers added that although three children had been found in a bathtub, an autopsy would be needed to determine whether they had been drowned there.

Police said it appeared that some of the victims had tried to flee their attackers and were gunned down as they fled.

Officers used dogs in an attempt to trace the escape route of the attackers. Weapons found near the house included a 38-caliber revolver and a sawed-off shotgun, and police said that, while they believe the arms are related to the slaying, only ballistic tests could say for sure.

Police Lt. Joseph O'Brien said the killings were discovered about 4:30 p.m. when an occupant of the home arrived from a shopping tour. When he got no answer at the front of the house he went around to the back and saw four black men running through the back yard, he told police.

S-Vietnamese In Agreement

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government indicated today it is ready to accept a peace agreement, and Foreign Minister Tran Van Lam declared, "We are quite close to a conclusion."

Lam told newsmen that Saigon has no objections to the agreement that the United States and North Vietnam have agreed to in principle but is seeking clarifications on technical annexes to the main document before Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho resume negotiations in Paris Tuesday.

Lam noted that President Nixon's emissary, Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr., is returning to Saigon for another meeting with President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Haig conferred with Thieu Tuesday and Wednesday, then moved on to Cambodia, Laos and Thailand to brief the governments there. He had been expected to return to Washington today, but the White House said he would return to Saigon.

The United States and North Vietnam announced Thursday that Kissinger and Tho will resume negotiations in Paris "for the purpose of completing the text of an agreement" to end more than a decade of war.

The wording of the joint announcement and Lam's statements indicated that tentative agreement had been reached on the major points, including a cease-fire and the return of prisoners.

But Lam said: "Unfortunately I cannot tell you the time and the date because we are still asking for some clarifications and some points are points of concern to our government."

Two Added To SNB's Board

Max von Roeder, co-owner of Von Roeder Seed Farms, and John Reed, manager of Clark Lumber Co. were elected to the board of directors of Snyder National Bank at the annual stockholders' meeting Thursday.

Re-elected to the board were Hugh Boren Jr., Scott Casey, G.B. Clark, Jr., William M. Fuller, John Jarrell, Theo Lamb, Roger Mize, Rex Robinson, E.W. Schrader, William H. Wilson Jr., and Harrie Winston.

Officers re-elected include Schrader as president; Robinson, executive vice president; Cecil J. Boren, vice president; Derwin Thompson, vice president and cashier; Edna Sells, assistant vice president; Joe Jackson, assistant vice president. Nelda Allen and Annie Faye Lopour were promoted to assistant cashier.

In his annual report to stockholders, Schrader said the bank had record growth and that deposits were at an all-time high.

Quit proposing and cool it for a while

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 By Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 70-year-old man and recently lost my wife after 49 years of a happy marriage. My loss was almost unbearable at first, but I faced reality and tried to live again.

My problem is this: I have proposed marriage to four widows, all near my age. They are receptive to a point, but all say there is no need for sex at our ages.

I am a healthy man and had a good sex life with my wife until she died, so why should I be expected to forget about sex now?

What should I tell these ladies when they turn me down on this important part of life? I say sex is healthy and normal and adds to a happy marriage. Please advise me.

NAMELESS, PLEASE

DEAR NAMELESS: Perhaps these ladies have turned you down because you appear to be preoccupied with sex. You say you "recently" lost your wife. Yet you have already proposed to four widows. Cool it. Surely there must be an eligible widow who will see things your way. But don't rush her.

DEAR ABBY: I am a teen-aged girl who has hairy legs. I don't see anything wrong with it because it is natural. My mother and older sisters say it looks ugly and if I don't shave my legs I will be the butt of guys' jokes, and besides it is not considered good grooming for a girl to go around with hair on her legs.

I don't see why society should dictate whether I should have hair on my legs. I think this is strictly a matter of my own choice.

What do you think? NATURALLY HAIRY

DEAR HAIRY: It's your hair, your legs and your choice. If you choose to keep the hair on your legs, you will soon find out to whom it matters, and to whom it matters not. Since you like the natural look, I suggest you keep it.

DEAR ABBY: God help me, Abby, but I made the biggest, most stupid mistake of my life. I tried to steal a piece of costume jewelry from a store and was caught red-handed by a detective posing as another shopper. The foolish thing is, I could have bought it as I had the money. I don't know what came over me.

I was booked, and now I have a criminal record which I am afraid will follow me for the rest of my life.

How will this affect my future? I am planning to get married soon. Should I tell my fiance? Will this affect my voting? Will I ever be able to get a passport? Can I hold a civil service job? Will my record follow me into another state? Please tell me everything! I am so sorry for what I did. I wish I could wake up and find it was all a bad dream. HEARTSICK

DEAR HEARTSICK: Laws vary in different states. Talk to a lawyer and get the facts. I think you may be greatly relieved.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "BROWNIE": Yes, give him another chance. Tell your husband you will meet him at the next Alcoholics Anonymous meeting, and afterwards you will talk about a reconciliation.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Casey Denies Charges

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—William J. Casey, President Nixon's nominee to be an undersecretary of State, says he is not guilty of mismanagement and flagrant violation of duties as charged in a suit naming him and 13 other directors of a corporation.

Casey, chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, was quoted as saying in a statement issued here Thursday that, "In none of the causes of action in the suit ... have I been named nor did I have any personal interest."

Casey was listed in the suit's "cause for action" but is not one of the two defendants identified as key figures in five specific instances of alleged mismanagment.

William W. Herpel, the court-appointed trustee for the now bankrupt Multiponics, Inc., has filed a $2.1-million suit in U. S. District Court the corporation's 14 directors, two companies and another individual.

Multiponics owns 43,000 acres of farm land in Arkansas, Florida, Louisiana and Mississippi, operating cotton, rice and soybean farms.

The alleged mismanagement took place before President Nixon nominated Casey to be SEC chairman. Multiponics filed a bankruptcy petition Feb. 8, 1971, and the Senate confirmed Casey's nomination to the SEC in April 1971.

The suit did not mention his position in the SEC, but did say that Multiponics directors, with Casey as general counsel, mapped a course of action "for the purpose of attempting to obtain the approval of the appropriate regulatory authorities for the debtor corporation to sell its stock to the general public, so that their own stock, and-or options to purchase stock, in the debtor corporation would be greatly enhanced in value." The SEC would have been involved in any approval of the firm's stock for public sale.

Casey's statement issued by the SEC said that any implication that Casey, as SEC chairman, had a part in passing on Multiponics' prospectus is false.

Security Precautions Taken

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 2,000 military reinforcements have been called in as a precautionary measure, but the administration says it doesn't expect violence from antiwar demonstrators during President Nixon's inauguration Saturday.

A spokesman for the Justice Department, which has been coordinating security activities for the agencies involved as well as the D.C. Police, said Thursday: "The threat of disorder and violence in 1969 was much greater than this one."

Nevertheless, riot-trained Marines from Camp Lejeune, N.C., and Army paratroopers and military police from Ft. Bragg, N.C., and Ft. Meade, Md., are moving into the Washington area to buttress some 8,000 police and National Guardsmen already assigned to street security.

"The only thing we're concerned about is the potential for violence," said the Justice Department spokesman. "We don't see any. We're taking people at their word that there will be only peaceful demonstrations."

Organizers of the largest antiwar demonstration, the "March Against Death," predict a crowd of up to 50,000 will assemble at the Lincoln Memorial and march to the Washington Monument grounds for a rally about noon Saturday, at the same time as Nixon's inauguration at Capitol Hill and parade to the White House. The routes do not cross.

Police say a maximum of 20,000 demonstrators will show up. The Justice Department spokesman said the number has been estimated at between 10,000 and 30,000 at security-planning meetings chaired by Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst during the past three weeks.

Police also estimate that about 3,000 members of four groups considered militant—Students for a Democratic Society, the Progressive Labor Party, the Youth International Party (Yippies) and the Vietnam Veterans Against the War—will show up. All plan separate demonstrations.

Some 20,000 soldiers and police, including experts known for their ability to spot pickpockets, con men and psychopaths, were on hand for Nixon's inaugural in 1969. It was the tightest security ever for the swearing-in of a president.

Agent Tells Of Warning Five

By DON McLEOD
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON AP —A former FBI agent who said he monitored Democratic calls for President Nixon's campaign committee, testified today he stood on a motel balcony and radioed a warning before five men were arrested inside Democratic Party headquarters last June 17.

The witness was Alfred C. Baldwin III. As he resumed his testimony, which had been interrupted Wednesday by a legal dispute over whether he could reveal the content of the wiretapped conversations he said he overheard, the U.S. Court of Appeals issued a ruling banning any admission of the content of the calls.

Baldwin testified that James W. McCord Jr., one of the two remaining defendants in the political espionage case, assembled various electronic equipment in Baldwin's hotel room across the street from Democratic headquarters in the Watergate building on the evening of June 16, 1972.

Later, he said, McCord gave Baldwin a walkie-talkie radio and asked Baldwin to call if he saw anything unusual.

McCord then left the room, saying he was going across the street, Baldwin said.

Baldwin said he first radioed an alert to men across the street in the Watergate office building when he saw lights go on on the seventh floor, but he said he was told in reply that this was only a routine light check.

Next, Baldwin said he saw lights go on on the sixth floor and an automobile pulled up to the Watergate building. He said three men got out of the car and went inside.

Then, Baldwin said, he saw two men come out onto a balcony outside Democratic party headquarters on the Watergate's sixth floor with guns drawn.

Seven Indicted

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal grand jury has returned an 11-count indictment against seven men charging them with violating federal banking laws.

The indictment, returned before U.S. District Court Judge Woodrow Seals Thursday, named Raymond G. Novelli, a Pasadena contractor, Charles E. Lambert, a director of Surety Savings Association, Cornelius J. Kehoe, former president of Surety, Claude T. Allen, former attorney for Surety, Fred L. Gaines, former advisory director of Surety, Ray K. Bullock, an advisory director of Surety, and Dennie B. Collins, a business partner of Novelli.

The indictment alleged Kehoe, who no longer is affiliated with the savings association, caused Surety to loan Novelli and Collins $2.7 million. It further alleges Novelli and Collins used some $869,000 of the loan to buy stock from Kenoe, Allen and Gaines.

The stock allegedly was of the First National Bank of Nordheim, Community State Bank of Runge, Smiley State Bank and the Slaton Savings and Loan Association.

Seals issued bench warrants and set bonds for all seven at the request of Asst. U.S. Atty. Henry J. Novak, who presented the case to the grand jury.

Bonds of $10,000 were ordered for Novelli, Collins and Kehoe. Bonds of $5,000 were set for Lambert, Bullock, Allen and Gaines.

Novelli earlier had been named in federal and state indictments alleging he had received kickbacks on Pasadena construction projects.

The infractions alleged in each of the counts dealing with the loans to Novelli and Collins and the subsequent stock purchases is a conflict of interest.

Federal statutes forbid officers of savings firms from making profits themselves as a result of any transaction or loan or act of the corporation or association.

Pleas Are Entered

Four men—Isabel Perales Romer, Manuel D. Garcia, Eddie Romero and Luis Alaniz—pleaded guilty in district court yesterday afternoon to a charge of theft of two hogs. They received two-year probated prison terms after they agreed to make restitution.

Diesel Fuel Supply Short

DALLAS (AP) — The energy crisis has arrived here in a new way—shortages of diesel fuel.

The crisis is here, according to the Dallas News, if you consider that one of the largest truck stops in Dallas has seen its diesel fuel supply cut by 43 per cent and will run out this week.

It is here if you consider that Dallas-based REA Express truck rigs will run out of fuel Monday and will come to a halt if fuel is not found.

The situation is perhaps more serious than recent natural gas curtailments, according to the News story by John Cranfil.

Almost all supplies brought into this burgeoning Southwestern city, including food, arrive by truck. And many hospitals and generating plants use diesel power for backup.

A. S. Crosby, operator of the Dick Price Truck Stop, said Texaco representatives came to him two days ago "and told me I was being cut on the amount of diesel fuel I could buy."

Crosby said he was told his January allotment is 75,000 gallons.

"Already I've sold 65,900 gallons in January and I'll run out next week," he said.

A. E. Brandon, manager of fleet maintenance for REA Express in Dallas, said American Oil Co. cut him off last Friday. REA operates 24 trucks in Texas and Louisiana.

Brandon said he bought some fuel from an independent supplier that will last until Monday. "I went to Texaco, Shell and Mobil, but they're not taking any new customers," he said.

In Houston, a spokesman for Texaco said the company is doing what it stated last week it would do—rationing supplies of middle distillates, fuel oil, diesel fuel, jet fuel and kerosene. He said it was being done by regions, with no standard applying across the nation.

A Shell spokesman said Thursday that his company had placed all diesel customers on an allocation system Jan. 1. They can buy only the amount of fuel they ordered last year.

American Petrofina in Dallas said all its 451 suppliers in 26 states have been allocated 85 per cent of their normal diesel supplies until further notice.

The diesel shortage is nationwide, according to Jack Golding, executive vice president of the National Association of Truck Stop Operators. He said several truck stops are out of fuel and at least 25 more will run out next week.

"Maybe 100 more will be out of fuel by the end of the month," he said, "and that's serious."

Golding declined to blame anyone for the shortages.

Price Of Tickets Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four years ago Jim Mulligan and his wife sat in bleachers one block from the White House and watched President Nixon and his inaugural parade roll by in front of them. They paid $5 each for their seats.

Mulligan isn't going to the repeat performance Saturday. Part of the reason, he says, is that seats in the same spot cost $25 this year.

That's a 400-per-cent increase, well above the President's own recently ended wage-price guidelines.

However, a spokesman at the Cost of Living Council said the parade may not have come under the price controls anyway because it will not be exactly like the 1969 parade.

"It's essentially a new product, like a football game or a play," the spokesman said, and as such would not fall under the old guidelines.

Mulligan, who works for Rep. Brock Adams, D-Wash., said he is not particularly anxious to watch another Republican inaugural parade anyway.

Mrs. Nixon's Inaugural Attire Will Be Elegant

WASHINGTON (AP) — When President Nixon takes the oath of office Saturday, his wife will be at his side in a double-breasted green coachman coat with sable collar.

At the inaugural balls that night, Mrs. Nixon will wear a turquoise silk gown embroidered with very fine diamonds and pearls traced in silver threads.

Details of Mrs. Nixon's daytime and nighttime inaugural attire were released Wednesday by the White House.

Mrs. Nixon's inaugural-ball gown was designed especially for the occasion by Adele Simpson of New York, who is the first lady's preferred designer for several years. It is princess-style in turquoise blue silk organza over turquoise and silver silk lame.

The dress for Mrs. Nixon's size-9 figure has a v-neckline and long sleeves. In addition to the jeweled embroidery, the neckline, sleeves and hem are outlined with sparkling jewels.

For the inaugural balls, Mrs. Nixon will also wear a white Emba jasmine mink jacket designed by Leo Ritter of Ritter Bros. and Ben Thylan. It is just above waist length with horizontal bands of mink skimming the body.

Mrs. Nixon's daytime costume will be the all-wool green coachman coat designed by Jeremy Wren of New York. She will wear a light all-wool crepe dress dyed to match the coat. The dress, with a fitted waist and soft gathers, has long sleeves and a soft rolled collar.

Mrs. Nixon's shoes for the daytime event will be dark brown brushed suede pumps with a flat bow designed by Beth Levine. She also will carry a maching brown suede bag by Morris Moscowitz and will wear dark brown kidskin gloves.

The first lady's shoes for the inaugural balls also were designed by Beth Levine and will match her dress. She will carry a small turquoise peau de soie bag and will wear white kid gloves.

Tricia Nixon Cox has chosen a strawberry silk satin gown for the inaugural ball and her [illegible], one of white satin.

Garden Club Elects Officers

Mrs. Clyde Key was elected president of the Twilight Garden Club when the club met recently in the home of Mrs. Key, 2807 Denison. Other new leaders include Mmes. Clyde Brown, first vice president; Bill Williams, treasurer and corresponding secretary; W.E. McMillan, reporting secretary; Edgar Carpenter, parliamentarian; and James Neill, reporter.

Th program, "Table Beauty," was presented by Mmes. Carpenter and Borwn. It reminded members that guidelines have all but disappeared, but a keener appraisal is needed.

The art of making tablecloths at home gave attention to fabrics, seams and measuring round, rectangular and square surfaces. The hem of the cloth should be two inches above the chair. Not just any cloth is used for meals. When seated at the table, the cloth can be floor-length.

Plates of a different pattern harmonizing in color and texture may be used alternately. Fine china may be combined with pottery or earthenwear. For extra space at a buffet, cups and saucers may be stacked, but only three to a stack and spoons may be stacked on forks. Glassware in many colors may be used for a change. For versatility, make a collection in sets of eight or more of glasses in rainbow colors.

Sterling, plate and chrome ware may be used in the setting of a table.

Collections To Show Monday

By ALISON LERRICK
AP Fashion Writer

PARIS (AP) — The couture collections for next spring and summer open Monday and the designers say women better keep their eyes on their waists.

For day, the look is the shirtdress, "but not one of those three-button, shirt-cuff things," explains Hubert de Givenchy.

His shirtdresses are created as an extension of a tie at the neck.

Dior's have a huge waistband, a little tie belt "and no fussy details," says designer Marc Bohan.

Some dresses are of shantung, either natural or printed, others of canvas or linen. The colors are classics: beige, white, navy and red, with a few pastel tones of apricot, pink, turquoise, almond green and yellow.

"Spring will be a very light and clean season," says Bohan.

If women insist on wearing pants, they may have to do their shopping outside the gilt salons.

"Pants are pretty, but frankly are they new?" shrugs the Dior designer.

"I did a few pairs anyway. Women have become so accustomed to pants," says Michel Goma of Jean Patou.

His pants often stop at the knee and come with cardigan jackets. At night, in black shantung, they go with embroidered tops.

At Givenchy, the pants are still wide with a pleat at the waist.

"You simply have to have a good body," says Givenchy. "Many women do."

As for the suit, most designers prefer an unmatching jacket and skirt of flannel or light wool, or the dress and jacket.

The skirt is pleated or straight and calls for sheer stockings and higher-heeled pumps than ever.

"A straight skirt as part of a suit must look very young. It gives another style to women. As a 30s look, the straight skirt is terribly elegant. As a 50s look, it's vulgar and sexy," says Goma.

"A straight skirt has always been hard on the hips. Of course, in fashion, anything is hard to wear," says Bohan.

Clark Discusses Highway Safety

The Art Guild Study Club met Tuesday at the Martha Ann Woman's Club for its regular meeting. Mary Starnes was in charge of the program for the evening.

Guest speaker was Bob Clark who is with the State Highway Department. He gave a report entitled "Safety on the Highways." He explained about traffic laws, warning tickets, signaling correctly when passing and turning and gave information on how to drive on ice. The speaker sated that bicycles have the same laws as autos. He told about the signs being changed around Snyder and said that in the near future, all countries will have the same signs. Clark reminded the group kind of law every day and stated that a good thought for safer highways is "Anytime you drive, be alert and drive friendly."

Mrs. Ben Thorpe, hostess, served refreshments to 16 members and one guest.

Remodeling Old Piano Is Good Winter Project

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Looking for a project for long winter nights? How about remodeling the old piano?

The piano may be one of the few objects in a home that has remained pretty much the same in appearance. Somehow the old upright seldom finds its decorating groove in any furniture era.

As Werner Field points out in his book, "How to Decorate Your Old Piano ..." lots of people sell their pianos to rid themselves of a monster with yellowing teeth, alligatored paint and chipped veneer. A piano has nowhere to go but down, and it may be hidden in the recesses of a cellar, not even accessible to the piano player of the family.

Field, who earned a master's degree at Stevens Institute of Technology, is a production engineer who likes to play piano and he was not about to have his piano stashed away.

He employs a sense of humor to get across his message — what if Leopold Mozart had deprived son Wolfgang ... are you providing reasons for your offspring to slip into the life of a hippie for need of a piano ... And if you don't own a piano, in his opinion, you are more or less underprivileged — there are lots of good-looking inexpensive pianos on the used market, "if it is a mere question of economy." His wife paid $25 for their upright.

And you don't need an engineering degree to remodel a piano, he observes in the book. At the start he couldn't even change a washer on a faucet without turning off a valve.

Piano bargains may be passed up, he surmises, because some people are more interested in style and appearance than the works of the piano. Every piano is four elements: strings, sound board, action and supporting structure. Ignore the box and concentrate on the works, is his advice. The old piano may be out of tune but the tone may satisfy you. Listen to the sound. Books that can help in that respect include "Piano Tuning and Allied Arts" by Dr. William B. White.

Supply houses have all sorts of piano goodies including ivory polishing kits which include scraper, materials, instructions. You can even learn to recover keys, even black keys (or have them recovered). Discolored ivories may be masked by lacquers.

In giving directions for rebuilding the front of the piano, he suggests refinishing it if that is all it needs, perhaps adding cosmetic touches — plastic laminate, mirrors, natural wood inlay borders, decoupage. He didn't want such "pedestrian schemes."

One note of caution — in disassembling parts, screws should be put in individual containers labeled with their origin.

There are a great many facets to the work of remodeling a piece as he did it, stripping the outer section, but the most important consideration seemed to be making sure the front panel would clear the action of its mechanism.

After disassembling the supporting structure, he built a new front panel from keyboard to top frame, cementing two pieces of cane on either side of one-quarter-inch walnut plywood.

He removed toe boards and truss (the parts that seem to hold up the old-fashioned piano) putting square legs in their place, only to decide that removing the toe boards and truss permanently would give the keyboard a stunning effect. It did, he says, after he cut away the old key slip and built a new one (the part around the keys, and below the fallboard).

The bottom frame needed only a little window dressing. He covered it with cane, cementing it for adhesion and stapling the ends of the cane to the inside where he had wrapped it over. Over this he used a center panel of one-quarter-inch walnut plywood, staining the cut edge walnut. This panel overlaps the caning by about one inch and is cemented into place.

He did many bold things that caused him at times to operate with his "heart in his throat." But in the end, he explains, he noticed no material deterioration in the sound. At least for Sunday pianists like himself.

Books on remodeling pianos may be available in public libraries and some telephone directories have listings in their yellow pages for "pianos, supplies and parts" which may lead you to parts, specialized tools and books, he explains.

A big help, he says, is Constantinte's Illustrated Wood Catalog. "How to Redecorate Your Old Piano ..." is published by Shirin Music Studios. The distributor, Davidson's, 6727 Metcalf, Shawnee Mission, Kan. 66204, can advise where the book can be obtained in your area if you have been unable to locate it.

Big Companies Offering Small Investors Shares

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 100 large corporations, many of them considered blue-chips, now are offering direct purchase of their shares to some of the small investors whose business was scorned by brokers as unprofitable.

In the process, the companies offering the shares actually save time, money and a lot of paper work. And purchasers acquire their stock at a lower price than if they had gone to a broker.

The plans, which are offered only to current shareholders or new owners who purchase on the open market, are catching on strongly and may turn out to be the successors to the once popular monthly or quarterly investment plans offered by brokers.

As now constituted, most plans offer investors the opportunity to automatically reinvest their dividends in the company's stock. The money so earmarked is pooled and the shares usually bought at better prices and lower commissions than if transactions were handled individually.

In addition, shareholders may have the option of adding to their investments through voluntary cash payments that, under some plans, may range from $10 a month to a maximum of $1,000.

The advantages seem to accrue in both direction: the individual is assured of a regular investment program that takes advantage of low charges, and the company is spared the inconvenience of processing mail dividend checks.

The plans appear to be most advantageous to holders of shares in what are termed investment-grade companies, or those companies that are large, well known, mature and with records of fairly liberal dividend payments.

A casual examination of the list of companies offering plans reveals such well known names as American Brands, American Telephone & Telegraph, Dow Chemical, Grance & Co., Gulf Oil Pepsi Co. Inc., Quaker Oats and Union Carbide.

AT&T alone has about 225,000 of its three million shareholders enrolled, and the company estimates that 200,000 shares are purchased each quarter under the plan, thus helping to finance the company and support the price of its stock. Some observers maintain that such reinvestment plans may be the route to people's capitalism, once strongly promoted by brokers and stock exchanges.

Wildlife Fared Well

AUSTIN (AP) — Wildlife may have fared better than domestic animals during the recent cold spell, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department said today.

"While thousands of Panhandle cattle died in the snow and ice, deer, quail and other wildlife appeared to be holding their own," said a report.

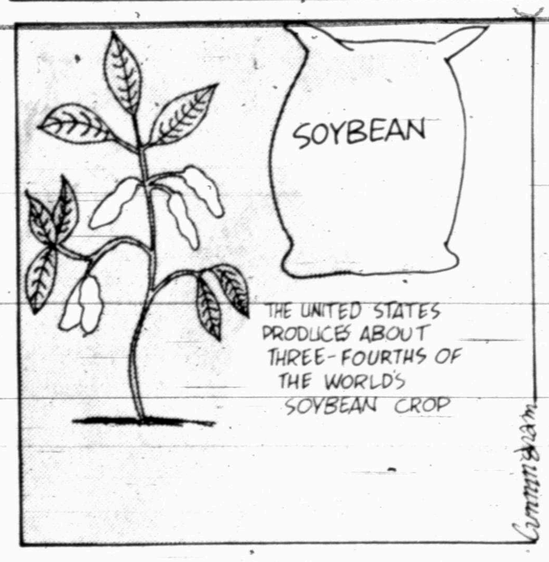

Officials said some deer in West Texas died during the cold but they said it was no more than the "natural" winter die-off and not critical.

An import from warmer climates, the nutria, which some now consider a pest, suffered considerably. Dead nutria were found on the San Saba, Colorado and Llano Rivers and along Lake Nasworthy at San Angelo.

In Galveston Bay, large numbers of sand trout near Texas City and speckled trout and a few redfish in Galveston harbor were affected by the cold. Biologists are still trying to determine the overall extend of the kill.

Exotic game suffered also. Losses of blackbuck, nilgai and aoudad were reported on ranches in the Edwards Plateau.

Junior Editors' Quiz on SOYBEANS

QUESTION: What is a soybean?

* * *

ANSWER: The soybean comes from the Orient and is one of the oldest crops grown by man. It has always been prized for its nutritive and medicinal values. The Chinese considered the soybean one of the five sacred grains necessary for living. In the 1600s they were introduced into Europe and in the 1800s were first cultivated in the United States. They are now a prominent crop in many parts of the world.

The soybean plant, originally a wild Asiatic plant, is an annual of the legume family which includes beans, peas, alfalfa and clover. The plant grows to 3 1/2 feet high or more and, after flowering, produces bean pods. It prefers a mild climate, but new hardier strains have been developed. It is a fine food, rich in protein, calcium, a certain kind of fat, vitamins, minerals and acids. It is used as a substitute for milk and is important as food for cattle and poultry. Soups, puddings, candy and breads contain soy meal. The oil of the soybean is found in some margarines and other shortenings. Chemists are finding more uses for soybeans daily.

Die In Crash

DALLAS (AP) — A man and his young son were killed Thursday in a fiery collision of their car and a truck on a Trinity River bridge here.

They were Donald Morgan, 25, and his son Donald Ray Morgan, 4.

The child died in the flaming wreckage and his father a few hours later in a hospital.

Worthwhile Things In Life

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things that make life worth living:

A full moon caught in the lacy boughs of an ice-coated tree on a clear winter night ... a thrill in silver.

Getting over a cold or the flu.

Finding one more cigar in your pocket when you thought they were all gone.

Seeing a topless waitress with the hivas.

Reading poetry that gives you goose pimples.

Listening to ghost stories around a campfire on an owl-haunted evening.

The dreams of glory in the head of a young boy back in 1920 when a favorite uncle gave him a whole dollar to spend.

Opening the first letter of your life sealed with the lipstick print of a girl's kiss.

Tacking in the wind on a summer day glorious for sailing.

Discovering after years of struggle that you can now eat a raw oyster without a struggle and with some pleasure.

Chasing a country tomboy through a summer meadow knee-high with whispering grass and loud with bees.

Signing a huge bill with your employer's name as his guest at his country club.

Pumping up a new basketball for a bunch of waiting kids.

The joy of coming back from an war, still pretty much in one piece.

Lolling in bed until noon on the first day of a long-awaited vacation.

Meeting a lovely smile in a sea of vacuous faces — like a flower in a garden gone to weeds.

Panting in victory after jogging a full mile in your 1973 physical rehabilitation program.

Checking up on yourself a month after you made your 12 New Year resolutions — and finding you've kept at least three of them.

The salty surprise of tasting your own blood after a buddy bops you on the nose during a friendly boxing bout.

Nudging your small child toward key piece that will help her complete her jigsaw puzzle.

Taking an immediate liking to someone new you hope will be a friend, your lifetime through.

The mystic summons, the throbbing feeling of being part and parcel of everything on earth, the kinship to all, you get when standing alone on a hill on a starlit night.

For these and other benisons of being, we thank Thee. Amen.

Cities Share Same Problems

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Zoned and non-zoned cities develop similarly and share the same problems, but in zoned cities, citizens have a "court of appeal," a University of Houston professor observed at a recent Texas A&M University seminar.

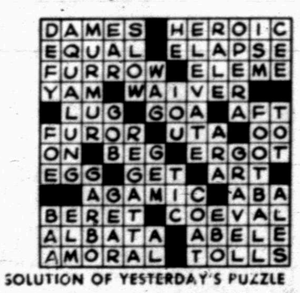

John Mixon said what is necessary now is not so much urban zoning but land resource management planning on the local, county, state and national levels.

Because the earth's population is doubling every 30 years, a corresponding decrease in agricultural land will become evident, Mixon said.

Unless land resource management planning becomes a cooperative effort on all levels, the earth will be unable to provide food for large segments of the population in the not too distant future, he predicted.

Zoning ordinances are not obsolete, Mixon said, but they are insignificant in relation to the overall problem facing the nation today.

Glover Gets Grid Award

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Nebraska's Rich Glover, who fearlessly gunned won enemy runners during two All-American seasons, felt he had a tougher assignment Thursdaynight—accepting the third annual Vince Lombardi Award.

"I was thinking 'wow this is great but now I've got to make a speech,'" the drowsy-eyed 235-pound middle guard said. "I like to talk but for something like that I get nervous."

Glover, who rose from the obscurity of a second-string defensive tackle to the most decorated middle guard in the nation, should be getting the hang of accepting awards. He already has the Outland Trophy as the top interior lineman in the nation.

During his three-year career, Glover made 221 tackles, dropped opposing runners 27 times for 131 yards in losses, played on two national championships and two Orange Bowl winners. And winning the Lombardi Award as the nation's top lineman put the cork on it all.

"This award means the most," Glover said.

Lamar 9th Beats Toros

BIG SPRING—Lamar Junior High split a couple of basketball games here last night with the 9th grade beating the Toros 48-45 and the 8th grade losing to Goliad 42-20.

The 9th grade game was tied up 10-10 after one period, but the Toros had a 27-26 lead at halftime. Lamar went ahead 39-37 in the third quarater and managed to hang onto the lead. Randy Gressett sparked the Lamar attack with 20 points. Ray scored 20 for the Toros.

Goliad took a 12-4 lead in the opening stanza boosted it to 23-8 at halftime, and still led 32-16 after three periods. MacCarmack was high point man for Lamar with 5 points. Wildee and Arericicia scored 6 each for Goliad.

Tigers Move Up To AAAA Tonight

The Snyder Tigers tangle with Lubbock High at 8 o'clock tonight in the first District 4-AAAA contest of the season. The program begins at 4:30 p.m. with the sophs of both schools meeting followed by a junior varsity contest at 6:15 p.m.

Snyder is 15-7 for the season and the Lubbock Westerners are 4-17.

Coach Bob Moore of the Tigers pointed out that past records don't mean anything. It's the district games that count towards the championship, he maintained. He's hoping the Tigers can maintain the momentum they set last week when they defeated defending state Class AA champion Morton.

The Tigers probably will be without the services of 6-3 senior Moell Blalock tonight. He has a bad case of bronchitis and has missed workouts this week.

Coach Moore said probable starters for the Tigers tonight would be Jerry and Gary Brooks, 6-3 seniors; Fred Liner, 6-2 senior; Kevin Jones, 6-4 senior; and Welton Cobb, 6-0 sophomore. The Brooks boys will be on the wing, Liner will be at guard, and Jones and Cobb will be at post.

The Tigers have several lads who could help out in a reserve role. They include senior Charlie Anderson, juniors Tim Jones, Richard Gorman, V.T. Roberson and Larry Mosier, and sophomore Larry Johns. Jimmy Don Dyess, a 6-2 senior letterman, also is expected to see plenty of action. He will be the No. 1 substitute.

The Westerners will go with Eric Felton 6-0, Chuck Harjes 6-2, David Rogers, 6-1, David Lusk 6-3, and Jesse Mojica 5-10. Mojica will be playing in only his second varsity game. He won a starting berth in a tilt with Clovis.

Last season, the Tigers went to regional in District 3-AAA. They will be competing in District 4-AAAA for the first time. Coach Moore points out that the competition is stiffer in the Class AAAA district.

"We had two or three good teams in AAA," he said, "But there will be five or six good teams in our AAAA district," he said.

Ira Wins 2 Cage Contests

ROBY—Ira's Bulldogs won two tilts here last night with the boys taking a 45-42 decision and the girls prevailing, 79-54.

In the boys game, it was tied 8-8 after one period, but Ira took a 22-15 lead at halftime and coasted to victory. Kirby Serling led Ira with 13 points, but Roby's Mark Kiser captured scoring honors with 19.

Ira's girls overcame an 18-23 first period deficit to lead 45-36 at halftime and 61-42 after three periods. Jan Kruse roped 37 points for Ira while Susie Hester and Paula Sterling each meshed 16. Rhonda Teel put in 10 points. Terri Posey and Sheree Thompson posted 25 and 19 pointsrepsectively for Roby, and Gennie Terry netted 10.

The Ira boys' record in District 10-B now is 5-3 while the girls are 7-0. Ira will host Loraine at 7 o'clock Saturday night.

IRA BOYS (45)—K. Sterling 6-1-13; Sellars 3-2-8; Sallee 1-3-5; R. Daves 1-0-2; T. Daves 3-2-8; Kruse 0-1-1; Wiggins 3-0-6; totals 17-9-45.

ROBY BOYS (42)—Beauchamp 1-0-2; Don Stephens 0-1; 11; Kiser 6-7-19; Evers 4-0-8; David Stephens 1-0-2; Morgan 2-0-4; Reed 2-2-6; totals 16-10-42.

Proctor Joins Memphis Staff

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Bobby Proctor is leaving Vanderbilt to join Coach Fred Pancoast's Memphis Tigers coaching staff.

"We've hired the best man to coach the position which means the most in winning football games," Pancoast said Thursday in disclosing that Proctor will take charge of the defensive secondary.

"The secondary is the most difficult position to coach, but it's so vitally important," Pancoast said, noting that Proctor's Commodores secondary led the nation in pass defense last season and ranked eighth nationally in 1971.

Proctor, 41, spent six seasons at Vandy. He is a native of Wynne, Ark., and coached at Arkansas, Tennessee, Georgia and Mississiipi State before joining the Commodores.

He was the blocking back and captain of the 1954 Arkansas team that won the Southwest Conference championship.

Lamesa Beats Travis Twice

LAMESA—Lamesa 8th and 9th grade won a couple of basketball tilts here last night with the 9th graders turning back Travis 9th 81-69 and the 8th graders winning over Travis 8th 46-15.

The 9th grade game was a 16-16 standoff in the first quarter, but Lamesa outscored Travis 29-14 in the second quarter to take a commanding lead. Flenniken, Hughes and Hawkins roped 32, 21 and 14 points respectively for Lamesa. For Travis, Chester Cobb scored 22, Earnest Brandon posted 16, and Dub Phipps posted 14 points.

Lamesa 8th took a 17-5 lead in the first quarter and coasted to victory with Blake and Spencer sparking the attack. They scored 16 and 15 points respectively. For Lamar, Phil Banks was high with 4 points.

Travis will host San Angelo Lee Monday.

TRAVIS 9TH (69)—Cobb 10-2-22; Brandon 7-2-16; Eicke 2-4-8; Phipps 7-0-14; Arnold 2-1-5; Rodriguez 1-0-2; James 1-0-2; totals 30-9-69.

Exhibition Set

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Raiders and Dallas Cowboys, the teams with the best records over the last six National Football League seasons, will meet here the night of Aug. 11 in an exhibition game.

The Raiders have a winning percentage of better than .800 for the last six seasons and the Cowboys a .759 mark.

Western Defeats Broncos, 96-84

ROSWELL, N.M.—Western Texas College started off on a slow pace here last night but picked up momentum and scored a 96-84 decision over New Mexico Military Institute in a Western Junior College Athletic Conference basketball tilt.

The Westerners started off in a zone, but were slow, so they changed into a man-to-man defense, which was more effective.

Steve Sparks was outstanding for the Westerners. He hit 8 of 10 floor shots in the first half and finished the night with a total of 32 points. He hit 12 of 16 free throws, including 12 straight late in the ball game when the Broncos tried to rally. Harold Ward sunk 9 of 12 from the floor, and he led in rebounds with 15.

The Westerners hit 37 of 73 floor shots for a .506 average and 22 of 30 for .783 from the line.

Three other Westerners also were in double figures. Harold Ward scored 19 points, Walter Hanibal meshed 12, and Danny McDaniel put in 11. For the Broncos, Mike Pick was high point man with 24 points. He hit 8 floor shots in the first half, but a tight defense by Johnny Neff kept him under control in the second half. Ed Bandenbout tallied 19 points and Jim Sivilli posted 11.

The Broncos tied it up at 68-68 and Western maintained a one to four point lead until the last four minutes. Then, they went into a stall. The Broncos tried to get the ball and fouled Sparks several times and he was able to ice down the game on free throws.

The Westners led 45-41 at halftime.

The victory leaves the Westerners with a 9-6 season record and a 3-3 conference mark. NMMI is 1-12 for the season and 0-6 in conference play.

The Westerners host Howard County Junior College Monday night in the Scurry County Coliseum.

Apollo 17 Crew Carried 36 Souvenirs To Moon

By PAUL RECER
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — In a move resulting from the Apollo 15 stamps-to-the-moon scandal, the space agency Thursday announced that the Apollo 17 astronauts carried 34 pieces of jewelry, a watch and a $20 gold piece to the moon as souvenirs.

The Apollo 17 crew, Eugene A. Cernan, Ronald E. Evans and Dr. Harrison H. Schmitt, were permitted to carry only 12 items, just a fraction of the hundreds of articles carried by previous moon crews.

Listed for Cernan were two Apollo 17 pins, a lunar module tie pin, a wedding ring, a moon flag pin, a personal jewelry piece, a $20 gold piece, a religious momento, three Apollo 17 gold commemorative medals and a momento from Gemini 9 and Apollo 10, Cernan's previous space flights.

Evans carried a personal wristwatch, a wedding ring, set, a gold broach set, a ring, three wedding diamonds, a moonstone gemi, an identification bracelet and three Apollo 17 gold commemorative medals.

Schmitt listed these items: eight moon pins, tourquoise beads, a family momento set, and two Apollo 17 silver commemorative medals.

Prior to the flight, both Cernan and Evans indicated the strict new rules meant they would have to disappoint some friends and relatives.

"Twelve items," said Cernan, "when you have many friends, when you have many personal things for the family, is not very many."

"I have a lot of relatives who are not going to get anything because I can't carry anything," said Evans. "I have a lot of friends who are not going to get anything because I wasn't able to carry some little things for them."

Since the rules were instituted after Apollo 16, the last Apollo became the only moon mission affected by them.

Cernan's wife, and others, though there was a measure of unfairness in this effect.

"When you get the brunt of anything, you don't like it," said Mrs. Cernan. "You feel it's unfair."

She said before the mission Cernan had to carefully pick items, several of which he had carried on his two previous missions. Some of these had to be left out of Apollo 17.

Astronauts in the past were permitted to stuff their personal preference kits with items, mostly jewelry. Usually, upon their return, the trinkets were given as gifts not only to friends and relatives, but also as a morale-boosting gesture to fellow space workers.

The spacemen, until Apollo 17, were permitted to keep secret a description of the items they carried in their kits.

But Apollo 15 changed that.

According to a space agency investigation, Apollo 15 Commander David R. Scott boarded his spacecraft for the 1971 moon mission with about 400 unauthorized stamp covers. The stamped envelopes were later canceled and signed by Scott and his crewmates.

About 100 of them were later sold by a German stamp dealer for about $1,500 each. The investigation showed that Scott and astronauts Alfred M. Worden and James B. Irwin planned to receive about $7,000 each for their part in the stamp caper. They later declined the money and surrendered the rest of the stamps to space agency officials.

Following a congressional hearing on astronaut profiteering, the space agency instituted the new astronaut rules.

A space agency spokesman said the rules will apply to the crews of Skylab, three earth-orbiting missions later this year, and to all future American space flights.

ON CORONA VERDICT

Holdout Juror Still Has Doubts

By DOUG WILLIS
Associated Press Writer

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (AP) — The holdout juror who cast the final guilty vote says she still has doubts and thinks Juan Corona — convicted of murdering 25 men — deserves another trial. The jury foreman says the first ballot taken was 7 to 5 for acquittal.

Corona, a 38-year-old farm labor contractor, was found guilty Thursday of 25 counts of first-degree murder. The jury of 10 men and two women reached the verdict after 46 hours of deliberation stretched over eight days.

Corona was accused of killing 25 transient farm workers whose hacked and stabbed bodies were discovered in 1971 in makeshift orchard graves 100 miles northeast of San Francisco along the banks of the Feather River.

It was the biggest mass murder charge in the nation's history. The trial lasted 14 weeks.

Corona's attorney, Richard Hawk, immediately moved for a new trial, and a hearing on his motion was scheduled Jan. 29.

Judge Richard E. Patton delayed sentencing until after the hearing. Under California law, Corona could receive a maximum sentence of 25 consecutive life terms.

The 12 jurors each individually affirmed the guilty verdicts in a dramatic conclusion to the four-month trial. The separate reading, affirmation and recording of the 25 individual "guilty of murder of the first degree" verdicts stretched 28 minutes in the crowded, hushed courtroom.

But juror Naomi Underwood said in an interview at her home later that "I do feel Juan Corona deserves another trial."

"I have doubts yet," said Mrs. Underwood, a 61-year-old widow. "I don't think they had enough evidence. I still doubt I made the right decision."

Mrs. Underwood also said "the pressure was pretty great" on her in jury deliberations. The jury stood at 11 to 1 for conviction for two days before Mrs. Underwood changed her vote Thursday morning.

Jury foreman Ernest Phillips, 53, said the first ballot the jury took eight days ago was 7 to 5 for acquittal. He said about 15 secret ballots were taken before the guilty verdict was reached.

Corona sat silently through the monotonous repeating of the verdicts without an outward sign of emotion except to grip tightly the edge of the table before him.

Corona's wife, Gloria, and about 20 relatives, including his four small daughters, sat silently.

Mrs. Corona restrained tears until the 15th guilty verdict was read, and then sobbed quietly through the reading of the remaining verdicts. One of Corona's daughters was hospitalized after the session for treatment of shock.

Labor Leaders, Shultz Talk

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top labor and business leaders developing a new voluntary wage standard for the nation's workers have held a "good, strong, searching discussion" with Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz but reached no decisions.

Unlike some of the earlier sessions of the now-defunct Pay Board, the first meeting of the Labor-Management Advisory Committee appeared to go off smoothly Thursday. Shultz described it as constructive.

The panel was appointed by President Nixon a week ago to work out a new standard that will guide Americans in how much pay they can get from their employers under the voluntary Phase 3 economic program. The current standard is 5.5 per cent.

Shultz announced that the next session will be Jan. 31. "What will take place then remains to be seen," he said. "I don't want to create any sense of anticipation."

He said the labor leaders and business executives got down to the key question of "how to describe responsible wage behavior in 1973." Asked if this might focus on a general statement rather than a set figure, such as 5.5 per cent, Shultz told reporters:

"I wouldn't try to characterize the discussion. It was a good, strong, searching discussion."

He said the panel, in another move indicating that things went smoothly, agreed there should be only one spokesman until a final statement is drafted. That will be either Shultz or John Dunlop, newly named director of the Cost of Living Council.

This self-imposed silence on the part of labor and management also is a departure from what happened when Phase 2 controls were set up. George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, lambasted the controls and eventually he and three other labor members walked off the Pay Board.

Shultz said the committee agreed to establish a procedure within the Cost of Living Council to settle the remaining wage cases still pending before the Pay Board.

Prices were not discussed at the first meeting, but Treasury officials said they could be a subject of future meetings.

AT&T Settles On Job Discrimination

WASHINGTON (AP) — The largest job-discrimination settlement in the nation's history, a $38-million pact providing lump-sum payments and promises of quick advancement, has been signed by the largest U.S. conglomerate, the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

The agreement signed Thursday with the Department of Labor and the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission provides that AT&T and 24 of its operating companies make payments totaling $15 million to some 15,000 blacks, Spanish-surnamed employes and women.

The EEOC, intervening in the case before the Federal Communications Commission where AT&T was seeking a rate hike, had charged the giant organization with "pervasive and systematic" discrimination.

In addition to the $15 million, another $23 million will go into wage adjustments aimed at elevating women and minority men to equal job standings with whites.

The pact calls also for hiring more men as operators and clerks and more women in outside craft jobs.

The Labor Department termed the settlement dramatic and historic, one which "will probably constitute a model for civil-rights agreements for many years to come."

David K. Easlick, AT&T vice president, said "all parties should be pleased." The agreement notes that "the Bell companies deny that they have engaged in any discriminatory employment practices" but nonetheless want to resolve the charges originally brought by the EEOC in late 1970.

Joseph A. Beirne, president of the Communications Workers of America, characterized the settlement as hollow and said he had messaged President Nixon that it ignores and disrupts the union's contract relationship with the firm. He asked Nixon to block it.

The National Organization for Women said the $15-million back-pay provision was "chicken feed" compared to the $4 billion that NOW claims the Bell System owes its women employes in retroactivity. NOW said, however, that the measures "represent significant progress" over previous settlements by other employers."

Martin, Rowan Folding 'Laugh-In'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Dick Martin and Dan Rowan are folding "Laugh-In," the brash, irreverent comedy show, but plan to team up for a new show next fall.

"We finally put it to bed," Martin said Thursday in reporting that he and Rowan had taped the final show, the 142nd, on Wednesday night.

Martin said he and his partner had wanted to kill the show this season, but than NBC had asked them to stay on because the advertising spots had been sold in advance.

"Laugh-In," which once held the No. 1 position in the ratings, had dropped to 35th in December.

"And these things write we unto you, that your joy may be full." 1 John 1:4.

Enthusiasm is ever a definite cure
For all feelings of doubt or being unsure.
It emanates eagerness, warmth, and zeal
Makes joy in living invariably real
With interest in nature—the sea or the sod—
And turns man ardently in search of his God.

WILL CURTIS

For centuries, sugar remained a luxury of royalty and the rich. In 14th-century England, two pounds of sugar were worth one stout pig.

ATTENDS CONFERENCE--Morris Light (right) of Snyder, President of the Scurry County Farm Bureau, attended the second annual conference for new county Farm Bureau presidents Jan. 15-16 at the Waco Plaza In in Waco. Shown with him is J.T. (Red) Woodson, president of the 137,000-member Texas Farm Bureau. Main purpose of the conference was to provide new county leaders with an opportunity to discuss relationship between the state farm organization and county units.

Rumor Center Closing

SEATTLE (AP) — The Seattle Rumor Center is closing. It has run out of rumors.

The Rev. Everett J. Jensen, president of the four-year-old center, called a news conference for today to announce the decision.

"I imagine we are different, being able to say when a job has been done and when it ought to go," the 54-year-old Lutheran pastor said in an interview.

"We have plenty of funds, plenty of backing from the city and county, but we just don't get any rumors any more," he added.

The center was set up in 1968 when the city was plagued with racial unrest, student troubles and unemployment.

At its peak the center handled upwards of 400 calls a day from the worried public.

"Now we're down to only about six a day," the Rev. Mr. Jensen said. "And they only amount to somebody asking if it was true that a baby was baked in an oven because the babysitter was out. We don't feel that this is the kind of service the city ought to provide."

Why the decline in calls?

"Tensions are very much reduced now," the Rev. Mr. Jensen explained.

"There is no longer that air of crisis like back in 1968 and 1969. Since then the public has more access to the police, to public agencies and even to schools which conduct rumor clinics."

The center spent about $15,000 a year with a full-time staff of four. Volunteers often helped out, as well.

The parsonage committee will meet at the parsonage at 7:30 p.m. Thusday.

Scurry FB Head Attends Session

Morris Light of Snyder, President of the Scurry County Farm Bureau, attended a two-day conference for newly-elected county Presidents Jan. 15-16 in Waco. The second annual orientation session was conducted by the Texas Farm Bureau.

A feature of the conference was a discussion of Farm Bureau structure and the relationships between the state and county units. State staff members also outlined the various programs and activities currently carried on by the state's largest general farm group.

The county leaders visited the TFB's new $2.7 million headquarters building which is nearing completion. They also toured the present office facility in downtown Waco. The TFB and its affiliated service companies have 360 employees, 260 of them in Waco.

There are 207 organized county Farm Bureaus in Texas. Membership now totals over 137,000. The TFB, fourth largest state Farm Bureau in the nation, is affiliated with the American Farm Bureau Federation which has more than two million members.

Young Gets Probated Sentence

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — Fred F. Young Jr., 22, has been assessed a second probated sentence for killings last January during the robbery of a Kountze antique store.

A jury here found Young guilty Thursday of the murder of 3-year-old Leslie Bowman and assessed him a 10-year-sentence. Young previously was given a five-year probated sentence for the killing of the Bowman child's grandmother, Mrs. Mabel McCormick during the robbery of her shop.

Young testified during the trial that he only loaded furniture into a rented truck and knew nothing of the killings, which he said were done by his companion, Dennis Ray Anderson.

Anderson previously pleaded guilty to the murder of Mrs. McCormick and was assessed a life sentence. He is charged also with the death of the child and will be tried.

The Young trial was held in Tyler on a change of venue.

The jury here reached a verdict Thursday morning, after receiving the case shortly after mid afternoon Wednesday.

In his charge to the jury, state District Court Judge Galloway Calhoun said Young's mere presence at the scene of the crimes was insufficient evidence for conviction.

Young now will be returned to Hardin County in Southeast Texas to await trial on theft charges.

Hayley Mills Has A Son

LONDON (AP) — Hayley Mills, the 26-year-old British movie actress, has given birth to an 8-pound, 12-ounce son at Queen Charlotte Hospital.

"I'm happy to say he looks remarkably like Hayley," Roy Boulting, the 59-year-old husband of Miss Mills said following the birth Thursday night.

Boulting, a producer and director, and Miss Mills were married in May 1971.

Adamses Given Custody Of Victor

HOUSTON (AP) — A black man said today he never lost confidence in his fight to gain permanent custody of a 6-year-old Mexican-American foster child.

A juvenile court judge awarded James E. Adams and his wife permanent custody of Victor Wilkerson Thursday after a three-day hearing.

The boy was not in court when Judge Robery Lowry announced his ruling.

"This court has considered all the evidence submitted by the child welfare unit and that submitted by attorneys for the aunt and uncle and the foster parents," Lowry said. "The court rules that permanent custody should be given to the Adamses."

Lowry had given the black couple temporary custody of the child in December pending the outcome of the permanent custody hearing.

The adoption was opposed by the Harris County Welfare Unit which contended the Adams couple's age might be harmful to the boy's rearing, and by an aunt and uncle, Linda and Elias Lopez, who also sought custody of the child.

Adams, 54, and Mrs. Adams, 55, claimed that the only reason the welfare unit opposed the adoption was because they are black and Victor is Mexican-American. Victor has been in the Adams home since he was about a year old. He had been placed with the Adams couple as a neglected child.

The Lopez', Victor's maternal aunt and uncle, testified they had not submitted formal adoption application to the welfare unit for custody of Victor but felt he belonged to them because they are his family. They declined comment on the judge's ruling.

"All I want to do now is go home to my baby, take him in my arms and tell him that nothing will ever threaten to separate us again," a tearful Mrs. Adams said after the ruling.

Adams, a roofer, said he "always felt God was on our side."

Friends of the Adamses, who regularly attended the hearings, cried openly when the judge read his decision.

The Adamses have two grown children living in another state and one other adopted son, Hal, 14, who lives with them.

Day Center Board Meet Set Feb. 12

The annual meeting of the board of directors of the Snyder Child Day Care Center will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Feb. 12.

This was announced by the chairman, the Rev. Henry J. Hartman, at a meeting of the executive committee this week.

A church or participating organization may have two representatives.

The offices of chairman, vice chairman, corresponding secretary, recording secretary and treasurer will be filled. Reports from the chairman, director of the center and the treasurer will be presented at the annual meeting.

The executive committee will submit a proposed budget for 1973 to the directors.

The committee also emphasized that the fee for taking care of a child at the center is determined by the ability to pay. The public is invited to visit the center at Thirty-fourth Street and Avenue K.

My Plight

Could it be the accident of birth that 'caved-in' her world? Does God discriminate between His people?

Could it be that her home located 'across-the-track' determines her plight??? An empty bowl, sure, but a compassionate heart. Almost despondent that's what she is. If you are one of those who has plenty and haven't yet given... then, maybe you are partially responsible for the situation we find here. God may take from your store-house the 'just' amount. He said, inasmuch as you have done it to the least of one of these little ones, so have you done it to me. Her plight may be our responsibility. May we see that she has the opportunity to attend church regularly for we are, our brother's keeper.
