East Elementary School logged the most visitors during Texas Public Schools Week, which closed last week, in the Snyder School System.

Figures released by Supt. Bill J. Hood show that 140 guests register during the four-day special observance at East Elementary, where Frank Weaver is the principal.

The "week" lasted only the four days, since school personnel were away on Friday attending the District XIV District meeting of the Texas State Teachers Association in Abilene.

East Elementary School's visitation report represents 40 per cent of the parents, based on the current enrollment there of 347 pupils. Over the entire system, 13 per cent were represented by 483 registered visitors.

West Elementary, only other school to break the 100 mark, logged 115. Travis Junior High tripled Lamar's visitation record with 24 visitors compared with only 8 signing at Lamar.

A medical school in West Texas might help solve a regional problem, some doctors believe. A shortage of doctors, especially outside metropolitan areas, shows no signs of letting up, and West Texas feels it particularly, maybe for the simple reason that it is difficult to interest medical school graduates who have been reared and attended school in the East or South in trying to establish careers in the wide open spaces.

I had a conversation with a local doctor the other day concerning this situation and he reminded that right here in Snyder the "youngest" doctors have reached that plateau commonly referred to as "middle-age." Having come here from another region, he recalled that he was advised against coming to West Texas by some well-meaning friends, and that it took some deliberation to make up his mind to settle in Snyder. He believes that a medical school in the area might enable smaller cities and towns of West Texas to attract some young doctors. — WACIL McNAIR

Firing Erupts Along Canal

TEL AVIV (AP) — Light-arms fire broke out along the Suez Canal today and Israeli and Jordanian forces traded fire in the Jordan Valley.

The Israeli army in Tel Aviv said the Egyptians started the new round of hostilities along the canal with sniper fire. Israeli troops fired back, the army said.

Israeli soldiers fired in the air to quell a schoolboys' riot in the occupied Gaza Strip. Officials said 500 schoolboys charged an Israeli halftrack, throwing stones and chanting curses and Palestine slogans.

Three artillery duels along the 103-mile canal—two last weekend and a four-hour exchange Tuesday—cost the Israelis five soldiers killed and 25 wounded, the army said. It denied Egyptian claims that Arab forces inflicted "enormous damage" on the Israeli side of the canal.

But Israeli sources feared the Egyptians really believe their own propaganda and might try to cross into the Sianai Desert in force.

"The Egyptians are really in deep mud on the other side of the canal and who knows what they may try to do," said one highly placed military informant.

U.N. observers blamed the Arabs for starting all three artillery battles. The duels Saturday and Sunday cost Egypt the life of its army chief of staff and extensive damage to its oil refinery in Port Suez.

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban arrived in Washington Tuesday night, saying he had come to "find out the policy" of the new U.S. administration. He was to confer today with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Secretary of State William P. Rogers, and will meet with President Nixon on Thursday.

Italy Plagued By Additional Walkouts

ROME (AP) — Thousands of civil servants, biologists, chemists and farm workers went on strike today, adding their protest to the series of walkouts plaguing Italy.

About 30,000 civil servants went on a four-day strike demanding higher wages and equal pay for persons doing the same work.

Snow Ends Over Texas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow flurries have ended in the Texas Panhandle and skies are beginning to clear, but over most of the rest of the state, skies are cloudy, accompanied by rain and drizzle.

A few snow flakes fell in north central portions of the state Tuesday night but not in the proportions that had been predicted.

Instead, skies over most of the state were mostly cloudy with some rain and drizzle early this morning. At 5 a.m., temperatures varied from a very cold 16 degrees at Dalhart in the Panhandle to 43 degrees at Brownsville.

Skies over the northwest and southwest portions of Texas were mostly clear today. The Weather Bureau said some warming is expected over the northwest portions today and over southern Texas Thursday.

However, a new surge of cooler air will be pushing toward Texas by Thursday.

The Weather Bureau said any sleet that might fall in the heartland of the state would be light.

Light rain was scattered along the coastal plains this morning. Brownsville measured .05 of an inch over a six-hour period.

Crisis Threatens LA Public Schools

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Let's strike now!" cried the Negro teen-agers. They rampaged outside or through 11 public schools, cursing as they smashed windows and overturned furniture. Fires broke out in four schools.

Mayor Sam Yorty, at a news conference, blamed "troublemakers who are running around from school to school intimidating students and parents."

Alvia Barfield, president of the Association of Classroom Teachers in Los Angeles, sent a telegram to Gov. Ronald Reagan asking him to intervene. The telegram said "the schools in Los Angeles are in their gravest hour."

A general walkout hit Los Angeles High Tuesday and in other Negro-area schools attendance fell as low as 23 per cent for the second day.

The leaders, mostly bearded young things, vowed a paralyzing citywide schools strike until certain demands were met. They want Negro officials for Negro schools and black studies in them all.

The springboard came last Friday when police cleared away 200 children from a hallway at Carver Junior High School. The pupils staged the sit-in to protest removal of a visiting college member of the black students union who had refused school demands to leave.

Several girls were hurt slightly trampled by other students, said police, but word of "police brutality" and even "battle" spread through south central Los Angeles.

AFTER CRIPPLING STRIKE

DeGaulle Ready To Talk

By CARL HARTMAN
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — Both President Charles de Gaulle's government and French labor unions were ready today for new wage negotiations after a general strike that crippled the country for 24 hours.

Gold prices, which rose last week in part because of a threat to the stability of the franc, declined in various European trading centers. There were reports South Africa may have sold some of its gold reserves on the free market or that arrangements are being made for such sales.

Information Minister Joel le Theule told newsmen after a Cabinet meeting the government is eager for talks with business and labor. At the same time, he insisted on the government's position: no more than a 4 per cent wage increase.

The unions want 10 to 12 per cent.

Maurice Schumann, minister for social affairs, said the strike had hit nationalized industry much more heavily than private industry.

The country was pretty well back at work today.

Millions of workers were off the job Tuesday and there was a massive march in Paris by a throng estimated to total from 60,000 to 100,000. For many it was a day of cold water shaves and hitchhiking to work.

De Gaulle in a broadcast Tuesday night stood firm, warning that France is just starting to recover from the crippling effects of last spring's student-labor turmoil. He said strikers would not be allowed to threaten the franc with devaluation and throw the country into chaos again.

The 78-year-old French leader accused the labor bosses of unleashing "a new offensive . . . threatening to bring down the currency the economy and the republic.

"Do I need to declare they will be firmly defended?" he asked.

The wage negotiations deadlocked when the government insisted anything beyond a 4 per cent wage increase would result in inflation and might force devaluation of the franc.

French unions call strikes for only limited periods, usually 24 hours, because they do not have the funds to pay their members strike pay as American unions do. The wage demands and the strike announcement spurred a new gold rush last week in European bullion markets on the theory the franc might be devalued. But gold prices dropped in Tuesday's trading.

The demonstration in Paris produced a clash between chanting strikers and police, who charged with truncheons and tear gas to clear the Boulevard du Temple after some youths started to dig up paving stones for a barricade. About 230 demonstrators were arrested, at least one was hospitalized and police said 12 officers were hurt.

The strike was taken in stride by Frenchmen. For most of the 11.3 million schoolchildren it was a holiday because teachers' unions supported the walkout. Commuters hitched rides into Paris on military vehicles mobilized by the government.

Public transportation was cut to a trickle, electricity and gas supplies were at a fraction of their nornal levels, newspaper presses stopped, and many public services and private industries closed for the day.

No Trouble As Wiley Is Reopened

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — Wiley College, closed since Feb. 25 amid student demonstrations and boycotts, reopened today without incident.

Dormitories at the all-Negro school were opened at 6 p.m. Tuesday and students began arriving then to resume their interruped studies.

Academic Dean Benedict Njoku said many students were absent Wednesday. He said the missing students are "apparently awaiting assurance the campus will remain open."

The Methodist school had about 750 students when it closed.

Some students barricaded doors and campus roadways at the height of the demonstrations.

Several meetings of the college's trustees, student leaders, faculty and community leaders were conducted during the two weeks.

Among decisions made as a result of the meetings was for faculty participation in policy making and more academic freedom and reducing the centralized powers of the college president said Njoku.

Njoku, who has been with the school 18 years, said he feels that most of the student demands are "very intelligent and souund." He said a number of the faculty have expressed similar ideas to those listed by the students during the recent demonstrations.

NEW SCHOOL CALENDAR ADOPTED

Building Plan Talks Revived

Snyder School Trustees last night adopted a calendar for the 1969-70 school term, set the stage for moving another step toward a building program and clarified several items in the school policy book.

Next term's school calendar will be substantially the same as that of this year, except that a full week's vacation is provided at Easter. Orientation workshops for faculty and other personnel are set for Aug. 25-26, with the first day of school set for Aug. 27.

Thanksgiving holidays will be Nov. 27-28, while Christmas holidays are from Dec. 22 through Jan. 2. However, since a weekend ties into both the beginning and ending dates of the Christmas holiday period, there will be more actual time. Classes will dismiss at 2 p.m. Friday, Dec. 19 and resume on Monday, Jan. 5.

The schedule calls for 176 teaching days, with the second semester to end on May 27. All board members voted for the schedule as proposed by Supt. Bill J. Hood, except Board member Dan Cotton, who said he preferred a shorter vacation period at Easter.

Possible building plans came back into the discussion when plans for the occupational training program for next school year encountered problems. A space problem for the boys occupational training will be felt in the coming year, and in the entire program year after next. After some discussion, the superintendent was instructed to proceed with a "stopgap" plan for the boys OT program the coming year, preferrably an earlier start in the day's schedule. At the same time, the superintendent was instructed to confer with the architect, J. D. Hinton, and bring cost estimates on preliminary plans for a possible building program to the next meeting. An increasing need for vocational training is anticipated and this will be a major factor of consideration in

Gold Prices Hold Steady

LONDON (AP) — Gold prices held steady on the London market today and the pound gained in foreign exchange trading.

The two key international monetary indicators were stable following more than a week of jitters that had depressed the pound and boosted gold to record levels.

Gold opened at $42.975 an ounce in quiet trading, down slightly from $43.05 at Tuesday's closing. The metal had reachetl a record $43.825 Monday.

The pound opened at $2.3911, up from $2.3897 Tuesday. Expectations of favorable British monthly foreign trade figures Thursday was believed one factor buoying the pound.

Pressure on gold eased Tuesday amid growing confidence that France could resolve its economic difficulties without devaluing the franc.

Splashdown Time, Location Changed

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Flight controllers today delayed Thursday's Apollo 9 landing by one orbit—90 minutes—to escape storm-lashed seas southwest of Bermuda.

By circling the globe an extra time, the astronauts will land 480 miles south of the main splashdown area, near Grand Turk Island in the Bahamas, where weather conditions are expected to be excellent.

The new splashdown time is 11:56 a.m. EST.

Before making the decision, flight director Eugene Kranz weighed such things as how fast the recovery ship, the carrier Guadalcanal, could reach the new touchdown point, tracking facilities for the new re-entry [illegible] and seven hours [illegible] and if it had to make emergency use of jet controls to come home an orbit or two later.

Astronauts James A. McDivitt, David R. Scott and Russell L. Schweickart favored the alternate landing plan.

When astronaut Stuart Roosa, the capsule communicator, reported the forecast for the Bermuda area was "grim"—10 miles visibility, 23 knot winds, waves six to eight feet and swells 10 to 12 feet, McDivit commented: "Visibility's good."

Hearing that the prediction for the Grand Turk area for Thursday was 10 miles visibility, winds light and variable, waves two to three feet and swells six to seven feet, the Apollo 9 commander exclaimed [illegible] there.

DEAR ABBY: In response to all those people who are disgusted with the unsolicited filth they receive in the mails:

Why are they so shook over pornography when the learned men on our Supreme court are clearly in favor of it?

You may print this and use my name, and I hope you send a copy of it to CONGRESS.

Very truly yours,
RALPH J. STURTRIDGE
KANSAS CITY, KAS.

DEAR MR. STURTRIDGE: The SUPREME COURT is not "clearly in favor" of pornography. They are understandably concerned with the kind of censorship which would deny the individual the right to decide for himself what he may or may not read. And in a free society WHO shall make those decisions? It is not as simple as it appears. The "medicine" — however well - intended — is sometimes worse than the disease.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Last Christmas I gave Cindy an engagement ring, and later on we decided that marriage was not for us, so we called the whole thing off. Both Cindy and I are over 25, and I can honestly say that there are no broken hearts.

Cindy and I picked out the ring together. She likes it very much and wants to keep it as she has another boy friend who is willing to take over the payments.

My question: Would it be ungentlemanly of me to suggest that he also reimburse me for the down payment?

GERRY

DEAR GERRY: No. Go ahead and ask him. All you have to lose is the down payment.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband pointed out a letter in your column from the man who wanted his wife to doll up and put on something sexy, revealing, and provocative once in a while — just for him.

I didn't need to read that in your column, Abby. I've been doing it for years.

It's a well-known fact that a woman with nothing on isn't nearly as sexy as one who wears a flimsy little something. If a man sees the whole show at once, what's left for guessing?

Maybe you ought to let MEN in on that secret. Believe me, there's nothing sexy about a 51-year-old fat boy in the nude. So sock it to 'em, Abby, and tell husbands to cover up a little, too.

FIFTY-ONE AND STILL SEXY

* * *

DEAR ABBY: This is in regard to a "CONFIDENTIAL" you had in your column not long ago.

Your words were: "It is a common and tragic misconception that people who threaten to commit suicide never do. Nearly everyone who has committed suicide has warned others of his intentions."

I don't know for whom this message was intended, but I want to thank you for printing it. When I told them I was going to try suicide, no one believed me, and I ended up doing just that. As you can see, I am still here. Now I am glad that I didn't succeed, and I'm getting the help I needed all along. God bless you, Abby, and thanks a million.

GLAD TO BE ALIVE

any building proposal that is ultimately presented to tax-paying voters.

Board President Ted Crenwelge said he believed that a definite decision on the junior high situation must be reached promptly if a building program is to be instituted. Rough estimates indicate that additional facilities at Lamar and Senior High would cost some $300,000 if facilities should be provided at Lamar to accommodate the 7th and 8th grades for the entire system, with the 9th grade moving into the senior high. However, it is feared that a completely new heating system and electrical wiring system, along with extensive roof repairs will be necessary within a short time if the Travis Junior High main building is continued in service. Speculation at this time is that such repairs could run well over a quarter of a million dollars.

Policies on professional growth study and the "six - year" program were discussed and some of the requirements were clarified. Also discussed was the district's sick leave policy, but no changes were made. A policy providing up to two days of leave per year for "Legal Commitments and Transaction" was changed to "Business and Legal Commitments."

Approved was a policy change in custodial fee charges for non-profit organizations which use school facilities as meeting places. The custodial fee of $10 will be charged henceforth "when it is necessary as determined by the principal" of the building involved. It was noted that full compliance with the policy as previously recorded would require the $10 charge from such organizations as the P-TA, 4-H club meetings, etc.

The board authorized a request to accept bids on five school buses for delivery by Sept. 1. The district proposes to trade in a 1956 model bus and other 1960 and 1961 model vehicles.

The textbook committee's report, selecting texts from the state list was approved unanimously.

Guest atending the meeting included R. E. Patterson, Vernon Rannefeld, Mrs. Wilton N. Jones, Mrs. S. L. Morris, Mrs. Billie Hartsfield, Bill Vestal, John Short, Roy Carter, the Rev. J. R. Reedy, who gave the invocation, and the Rev. John Bollinger, a candidate for a school board post in the April 5 election.

STILL SKIING AT EIGHTY-TWO — The snow got so deep on Leonard Cushin's farm near Malott, Wash., in north-central part of state, that he made a pair of skis like he did when he was a boy, in order to reach his livestock. He said, "I don't mind falling, but the hard part is getting up." (AP Wirephoto)

Sharp Drop In V'Cong Shelling

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong's rocket and mortar attacks dropped off sharply today, but American officers said it might be only a pause in the enemy's 18-day-old spring offensive.

U.S. sources pointed out that the Communist command still has thousands of troops it has not committed to the offensive yet. They said a new wave of attacks could come any day and that the rest of this week is a critical period.

Allied spokesmen reported 20 rocket and mortar attacks on allied bases and towns during the night, compared to about 60 the night before. U.S. headquarters said casualties were light.

Five more ground fights Tuesday were reported, resulting in the deaths of 126 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese and 10 Americans.

U.S. headquarters reported 76 men of the enemy were killed in an abortive ambush of a 50-truck convoy 43 miles northwest of Saigon. Spokesmen said the only American casualties were eight men wounded, and one truck loaded with beer was slightly damaged.

The North Vietnamese battalion, about 400 troops, apparently tried to spring the trap too soon or too late.

"We were laying for them," said a spokesman for the U.S. 25th Infantry Division. "We knew they've been wanting to ambush one of our convoys."

The 25th Division had about 150 infantrymen and a column of armored personnel carriers equipped with .50-caliber machine guns and flame throwers reconnoitering the highway between the division headquarters at Cu Chi and a supply base at Dau Tieng.

The supply trucks, carrying ammunition and general cargo, were within three miles of Dau Tieng when the foward reconnaissance troops ran into the rear guard of the enemy lying in wait.

"They started a fire fight," said the 25th Division spokesman, "and the enemy's main ambush force got excited."

The American convoy was in three sections. One section already had passed the ambush site.

"The third section of the convoy just barrelled on through," the spokesman said, while the armored personnel carriers turned flamethrowers on the enemy positions.

WOMEN

Scandinavian Apple Cake

1-3 cup butter
3 tablespoons sugar
2 egg yolks
Grated rind of ½ lemon
¾ cup unsifted regular flour, stir to aerate before measuring
1-3 cup grated blanched almonds (use rotary-cone hand-operated device of electric blender)
½ cup apricot jam
Cooked Apples, see below
Meringue, see below

Prepare apples by directions below. Cream butter and sugar; beat in yolks and lemon rind; blend in flour and almonds. Spread over bottom of a 9-inch oven-glass pie plate. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until edges are lightly browned —15 minutes. Spread jam over base. Arrange Cooked Apples, cut side down over jam. Spread Meringue over jam. Return to 350-degree oven until meringue is tinged with brown — 18 to 20 minutes. Serve warm.

Cooked Apples: Pare, halve and core 6 small apples—choose ones that retain their shape during cooking. Turn into a 10-inch skillet with ½ cup sugar and juice of ½ lemon. Cover and cook over moderate heat, turning as necessary to cook evenly, until apples are tender but still hold their shape — 10 to 20 minutes. Remove from syrup with slotted spoon.

Meringue: Beat 4 egg whites until they hold soft peaks; beat in ½ cup superfine sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time, until sugar is dissolved and meringue is very stiff.

Sweet Potatoes

"What's for supper, Mom?

"Little links in blankets, that's what."

Those little links, of course, are pork sausages. The blankets are sweet potatoes or yams, mashed and seasoned, used for covering pairs of the sausage. They have flavor harmony and are quickly made.

Cook the pork sausages in a frying-pan first, then cover each pair of sausages with a blanket of the sweet potatoes and bake to heat.

Sausage With Sweet Potato Blankets

1 pound pork sausage links.
1 can (16 ounces) sweet potatoes or yams
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup commercial bread crumbs

Place sausage links in frying-pan, add 3 tablespoons water, cover tightly and cook 5 minutes. Remove cover and cook slowly until lightly browned. Drain sweet potatoes, mash and season with salt. Place sausage links in pairs in lightly greased roasting pan. Cover each pair with a rounded tablespoonful of mashed potatoes. Mix crumbs with butter or margarine. Sprinkle buttered crumbs over mashed potatoes and bake in a moderate oven (350 degree F.) about 15 minutes, or until F.) about 15 minutes, or until heated through. 4 to 6 servings.

1½ cups dry red wine
½ cup sugar
6 very large seedless oranges

Into a glass or ceramic serving bowl (about 2 quarts) turn the wine and sugar. Stir until some of the sugar dissolves. Cut rind away from oranges so no white membranes remain; slice thin, discarding ends. Add to wine and sugar; cover and refrigerate for a few hours or overnight. Serve in dessert bowls with desset spoons. Makes 6 servings.

Emily's Etiquette And Today's

REPLICA EDITION of First Edition of Etiquette (1922) By Emily Post.

EMILY POST'S ETIQUETTE 12th revised edition. By Elizabeth L. Post.

Nearly 50 years have passed since Emily Post's first published guide to good manners but her basic world of etiquette and the underlying reasons for it, live on. It's not the same etiquette to be sure — the bewildering world of valets, footman, chaperones, fingerbowls and PPC cards and the rules associated with them have disappeared as times have changed.

What has remained is the idea that etiquette is good manners, "A goal that can be achieved only by making consideration and unselfishness an integral part of your behavior."

Comparing the index of Emily Post's first edition which appeared in 1922 with the 12th revised edition, updated in 1969 by Elizabeth Post (the wife of Emily's grandson) shows how informal American living has become. In the original, the opic- "Informal Entertaining" is not even included in the index; the only mention along this line is to a "House Party in Camp." In contrast, 79 pages of the current edition are devoted to "Informal Entertaining," including cocktail parties, picnics, showers, buffets, etc.

No longer are we concerned with the rules for bowing: the sole reference to bowing deals with "bowing to the President of the United States." Today two pages are devoted to butlers; the 1922 edition contained 12 pages on butlers and three on footmen.

It's particularly amusing to compare the Posts' pronouncements on the correct way to treat social situations of the day:

MONEY MATTERS

"Everyone has at some time been subjected to the awkward moment when the waiter presents the check to the host. . . to avoid this transaction people who have not charge accounts should order the meal ahead, and at the same time pay for it in advance, including the waiter's tip." 1st edition.

"When everyone has finished his meal, the host catches the eyes of the waiter or headwaiter and says, 'The check please.' He looks at it, checks it quickly for mistakes and returns it to the plate with the necessary money. . ." 12th edition.

LADIES' TRAVELING

"On a railroad train, if a stranger happens to offer to open a window for her, it does not give him the right to more than a civil 'thank you.' If in spite of etiquette she should on a long journey drift into conversation with an obviously well-behaved youth, she should remember that talking with him at all is contrary to the proprieties." 1st edition.

"On a long journey if you happen to sit next to or near the same person on the dining car for a number of meals, it is extremely unfriendly to sit in wooden silence." 12th edition.

CHAPERONS

"The conventions of propriety demand that every young woman must be protected by a chaperon, because otherwise she will be misjudged. A young girl never goes even to an unmarried doctor's or a clergyman's (unless the later is very elderly) without a chaperon who in this instance may be a semi elderly maid.' 1st edition.

"From an ethical standpoint the only chaperon worth having in the present day is a young girl's own efficiency in chaperoning herself. The girl who has been taught to appraise every person and situation she meets needs no one to sit beside her and tell her what to do." 12th edition.

To many people, particularly to the younger generation, even the 12th edition may seem a bit stilted and formal. Because of Elizabeth Post's reluctance to leave anything out, the modern edition, too, becomes amusing.

For instance under the heading "Smoking in Public" we are told that it is taboo to smoke on the dance floor.

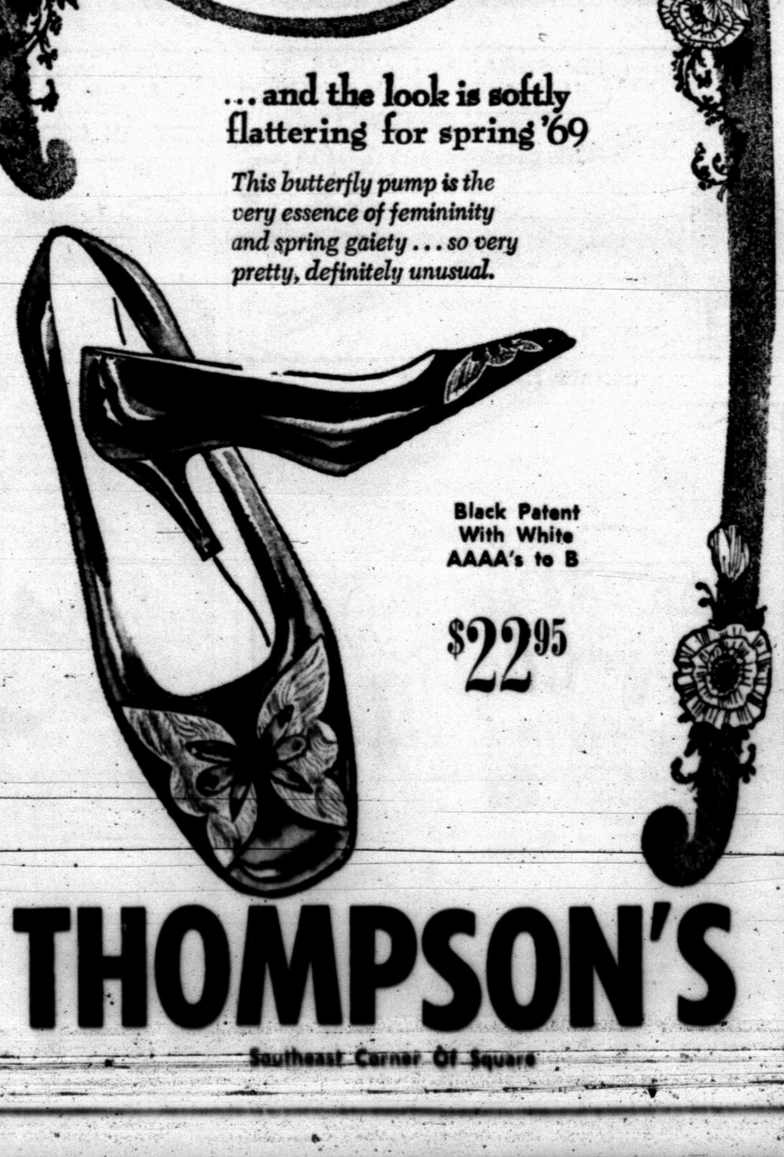

"Not only does it look unattractive but there is a very real danger of burning your partner or his or her clothes." Really, isn't this just common sense? That's what etiquette is all about.

Mount Washburn, 10,243 feet high, in Yellowstone National Park, displays on its slopes volcanic deposits which formed there almost 60 million years ago.

Will Foreign Investment Limits Soon Be Abolished?

By LISA CRONIN
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Just about everyone in government and industry would like to see the end of controls on foreign direct investment, but few can agree on when or by how much the controls can be dismantled.

The House subcommittee on Foreign Economic Policy will begin hearings in a few weeks on a resolution introduced by Rep. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., urging abolition of the controls.

Business leaders are expected to argue that the limits on capital spending of American businesses abroad hurt rather than help our balance of payments.

"Most everyone has come around to the idea that these controls have got to go and now it's just a matter of time," said Judd Polk, director of program and studies for the U.S. Council of the International Chamber of Commerce.

Voluntary limits on direct foreign investment have been in effect since 1965, but in January 1968, President Johnson established a set of mandatory controls, attempting to bolster the U.S. balance of payments position by limiting the amount of money invested overseas.

Mandatory controls were also intended as a psychological move, to prove to the rest of the world that Americans were willing to take strong action to improve the balance of payments.

Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans has promised that the Nixon administration is moving toward exempting "many hundreds" of small companies from the controls.

Stans has also promised some form of relief for large corporations.

Those who urge caution in removing controls say that pentup demand for capital funds abroad would open a floodgates for American investment abroad, seriously damaging the U.S. balance of payments position.

Proponents of controls also urge that payback on U.S. investment abroad is slow, that production abroad competes with exports and also involves huge exports of technology that weakens America's competitive lead.

Junior Editors Quiz on FLOWERS

QUESTION: When did the first flowers begin to appear?

* * * *

ANSWER: People who study the earth's history tell us that plants with true seeds began to spread about 200 million years ago. The seeds of trees related to pines fell out of cones. Such plants are called gymnosperms, good examples being our evergreen coniferous trees of today. But these are not true flowering plants, for true flowers lead to seeds enclosed in little pods or cases; such plants are the angiosperms. About 63 million years ago, there was a change in North America. The land rose, the flat swamps drained away and the climate became cooler. The huge reptiles called dinosaurs could not survive and became extinct. The first forests of primitive trees were submerged and formed beds of coal. And somewhere around this time a new kind of plant began to appear: the angiosperm, the plant which bore true flowers, such as the one we see growing at lower left. This is a humble little plant, a kind of magnolia. Yet great things were to come from the new angiosperm plants: the flower-bearing, broad-leaf trees and all the host of flowers which give us so much pleasure today.

Not All Our Daydreams Come True

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things sure would be different if everybody's daydreams came true.

For example, it might be a far better world, or at least a more interesting one, if—

People got pensions at birth but had to settle down and go to work at 65.

All mortgages were self-liquidating.

Anyone who hogged the same parking space more than two weeks in a row had to pay an inheritance tax on it.

Cats barked and dogs mewed.

Comedians who told jokes about how dumb their mothers-in-law were would be exiled to Timbuktu with their mothers-in-law.

The year's heaviest snowfall always fell on the 15th of July.

Money was as common as credit.

Children went into hibernation at 12 and awoke, yawning, at 20—thus escaping teen-age problems altogether.

Every major city had at least five strolling German bands which walked through the streets every day making cheerful sounds.

Professional football had a 52-week season and Congress a two-week one.

Caviar tasted as good as hash and was twice as cheap.

Winners of beauty contests were appointed baseball umpires and performed their chores in grass skirts.

National political campaigns were permitted to be conducted only during eclipses of the sun.

Nickel beer and the five-cent cup of coffee made a comeback.

Business firms gave automatic merit raises to employes the first and 15th of every other months.

Downtown city streets were given over to the pedestrians and autos restricted to the sidewalks.

Anyone too tired to build his own love nest would be given one free by the government.

Slums were inhabited only by the people who really deserved to live in them.

When commercials on a television program exceeded a normal sound level the station that sent them out would explode into 10,000 pieces.

The Joneses had to worry about keeping up with us.

It would be illegal for a manufacturer to turn out any product unless it was guaranteed to last at least 10 years after it was paid for.

The more you ate the slimmer you got.

Yep, anyone can dream up a better world. But making the dream come true is what takes the doing.

US Losses Down In Second Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Preliminary reports from Saigon indicate that fewer than 350 American soldiers died in the second week of the enemy offensive in South Vietnam, which ended last Saturday, Pentagon sources report.

The figure is about 100 lower than the first week, but still heavier than in any other comparable period since late August.

President Nixon has linked U.S. casualties to a possible response to the enemy shelling of cities and U.S. bases in Vietnam.

"We will not tolerate attacks which result in heavier casualties to our men at a time that we are honestly trying to seek peace at the conference table in Paris," he told a news conference March 4.

When the new official casualty total is released Thursday, it is expected to bring U.S. losses in more than eight years of Vietnam fighting to within 1,000 of ths country's Korean war battle deaths.

According to official statistics, 33,629 Americans died in battle in Korea between June 1950 and July 1953.

The Puritans who founded the Massachusetts Bay Colony came mostly from East Anglia, a flat expanse of land north of the Thames estuary in England.

Cities Service Ups Crude Oil Prices

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP) —Cities Service Oil Co. joined other companies Tuesday in raising its posted price for crude oil.

Cities Service announced a boost of 10 to 20 cents a barrel in Oklahoma, Kansas, Texas, New Mexico, Arkansas and Louisiana.

The price hike covers about 200,000 barrels daily, including about 24,000 in Oklahoma. The increase was to go into effect at 7 a.m. today.

Approximately 535,000 of the 620,000 barrels of oil produced daily in Oklahoma now are going for higher prices than before.

Volleyball Team Rips Sweetwater

Snyder High School volleyball girls were victorious over Sweetwater here last night with both the varsity and B-teams winning.

The varsity scores were 15-5 and 15-5 with Becky Austin and Mina Emerson tying for high point scores with 8 each.

The B team won the first game 17-15, lost the second 13-15, but emerged victorious in the third 15-4. High point girl was Ada Newsome with 15 points.

Next competition for the teams will be the Caprock Tournament this Friday and Saturday at Big Spring. Then the teams will meet Brownfield here on Tuesday night and will travel to the district tournament in Sweetwater on the 22nd of March.

The Snyder volleyball girls have defeated all their district competition so far.

Houston Fight Gets Green Light

HOUSTON (AP) — The state of Texas has sanctioned the April 5 heavyweight fight between champion Joe Frazier and Dave Zyglewicz as a title match

Texas Labor Commissioner Tommy Smith approved the title bout Tuesday.

Frazier, recognized in five states as world champion, will meet the Texas heavyweight champ, in a scheduled 15-round match in Sam Houston Coliseum.

Frazier, a Philadelphia fighter, and his manager, Yancey Durham, will be in Houston next week for a news conference, said Earl Gilliam, Texas Boxing Enterprises promoter.

Gilliam estimated the live gate may approach $165,000. He said the fight will be carried live over ABC's Wide World of Sports with the Houston area blacked out.

Frazier, who has a 22-0 record, will defend his crown for the third time since winning the title last March as champion of Maine, Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois. Zyglewicz is 28-1.

Snyder Chosen

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Youthful Brad Snyder, an interim coach who made the most of a six-game trial, is Northwestern University's new head basketball coach.

Snyder, 30, Wildcat cage captain eight seasons ago, was named Tuesday to replace Larry Glass, whose sudden resignation in Feb. gave his erstwhile assistant a chance to direct Northwestern in the final six games of the Big Ten season.

Skins Sign Cross

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins announced today the signing of flanker Ed Cross, a 6-foot-3, 205-pounder from Arkansas AM&N College.

Cross, 23, was the Redskins' second choice, although he was selected on the third round. He was his college's leading scorer and pass receiver last year with 40 receptions for 570 yards and seven touchdowns.

SHE'S A WINNER — Jockey Diane Crump holds photo of herself riding in race at Florida Downs where she scored her first win on Mary Calumet's Bridle 'N Bit. Diane, the first girl to ride against men, said she is not anxious for a lot of other girls to become jockeys. "Let one girl without too much experience take a spill and you blow the whole show," she said. (AP Wirephoto)

TRIBE NEEDS HITTERS

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Alvin Dark has a brand new five-year contract as manager of the Cleveland Indians and the dream that somewhere lurking about on his roster are the hitters who can give him a pennant four years before it runs out.

"We've got pitching and defense," sayd Dark. "That's what we've got. It's just a question of how many runs we can score."

Last season, the Indians scored fewer runs than everybody in the American League except Chicago and California. Thus, their third-place finish bears witness to just what kind of pitching and defensive play they are able to come up with.

One of the biggest problems Dark faces is coping with the rest of the clubs in the powerful East Division of the American League, which contains the top five finishers in the circuit last year with only the Washington Senators as patsies.

"We're in a tough division, no question about it," says Dark. "I like challenges anyhow."

Dark has to figure he has as reliable a set of starting pitchers as any club in the game: Luis Tiant, 21-9 with a 1.60 ERA last year; Sam McDowell, 16-8, Stan Williams, 13-10, and Sonny Siebert, 12-10 with a 2.98 ERA.

Similarly, catching is well provided for on the Indians. Joe Azcue, who hit .280 last year, and Duke Sims, who hit 11 homers, will divide the time behind the plate as they did last year.

In the infield, Tony Horton is set at first and Max Alvis at third, both hoping to recover from their worst years in their careers at the plate last year. Horton dipped from a 1967 mark of .284 to .249, while Alvis fell all the way to .223.

Zoilo Versalles, another victim of the misfortunes that befell hitters generally last year, now finds himself in a battle with Larry Brown for the regular shortstop spot. Versalles hit a wretched .196 last year with the Los Angeles Dodgers, while Brown hit .234 with the Indians, about normal for him.

Second base is another question mark as Dave Nelson and Vern Fuller may end up sharing the duty there unless one of them can provide some steady muscle at the plate.

In the outfield, only center fielder Jose Cardenal, who drove in 44 runs and hit .257, is safe. According to Dark, Lou Johnson, Lee Maye, Russ Snyder, Jimmie Hall, Rich Scheinblum and Russ Nagelson all have a chance at left and right.

The Indians bolstered their bullpen during the off-season by acquiring Jack Hamilton from California. Vicente Romo, who posted a 1.62 ERA last year, and Horacio Pina, who had a mark of 1.72 in 31 innings at the end of the season, figure to be the other stoppers.

'Stengelese' Blooms Again At Baseball Training Camp

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The wind whistled across the New York Mets' lavish new complex on the outskirts of town and Casey Stengel huddled with an audience of newsmen and fans.

"The wind is a little bad here," he said, "or I'd show you my operation."

Stengel recently underwent surgery for a stomach ulcer and still was a bit pale and thin when he showed up for his annual visit to the spring home of the Mets, the team he managed from 1962 to 1965. His wife, Edna, accompanied him. She remained in the shelter of the clubhouse while Old Case mingled with the people.

In a few mumbled leaps he jumped from praise for the Montreal Expos' business manager, John McHale, to the growth of baseball interest in Arizona ("at one time they had to bring in Joe E. Brown, the comedian, to get a crowd") to criticism of the few baseball writers who didn't vote for Stan Musial for the Hall of Fame.

"What about Ted Williams?," a fellow asked.

"He is going to be all right. He never let anyone confuse him at the plate. They said he couldn't hit to left field but why hit bad pitches?

"He never wasted any time atacking the pitcher. You'd see him out in front of the Kenmore Hotel swinging a newspaper like a bat. I don't know if he was swinging at the writers he didn't like. But I never saw him fight an umpire. Those writers up in Boston were mad as hell when he went into the service twice. For two or three years they didn't have anything to write about.

"I know he played great against us and not just hitting. If you hit the ball to left field he'd take it off the wall and get your guy going to second base He did amazing things.

Ron Swoboda, a Stengel favorite in his days as Met manager, broke through the crowd to shake hands with Doctor.

"I see you use a glove now," Casey said, pointing to the golf glove Swoboda was carrying.

"It helps with the blisters," said Ron, who is now known as a great glove man.

"Oh, I thought you was going to field with it," said Casey.

After Swoboda left, the subject of Mickey Hantle's retirement came up.

"I didn't think he was going to do it," joked Stengel. "I thought he'd hold out 200 days and then sign for $100,000. You have to give him credit. He said he didn't see the ball as good any more. He never blamed anybody.

"Now he talks a little. He used to follow Whitey Ford around. Just like Yogi (Berra). Yogi would let you do the talking and he'd take half the money."

Billy Martin, a Stengel pet in his Yankee days and the new manager of the Minnesota Twins, was next on the agenda.

"Martin is going to be all right," said Casey. "He could execute all the plays. Mantle and Ford liked to be with him. He had bad luck making money. He did a good job as a coach and went to the minors to learn about managing. I hope he gets in the annuity plan. He missed a half-year last season.

Let the Drake Bulldogs beware.

Hardly anyone gives Texas A&M of the Southwest Conference a chance against the Bulldogs of the Missouri Valley Conference in the NCAA postseason basketball championship tourney Thursday.

Drake, 23-4 and boasting a 10-game winning streak, meet the Aggies 18-7 in the NCAA Midwest Regional at Manhattan, Kan., and on paper seem a shoo-in.

But the same situation prevailed in the Midwest Regionals last season and the year before. On each occasion the SWC representative upset the dope. Last year Texas Christian beat Kansas State 77-72. In 1967 Southern Methodist astounded Louisville 83-81.

So when Shelby Metcalf, Texas A&M coach, declares, "We've got to stop their fast break and I dont think thats been done," let Drake take fair warning.

The game is one of eight regional NCAA games which, along with the opening of the NIT tourney in New York, highlights Thursday's program.

Colorado and Colorado State U. meet in the other Midwest NCAA Regional at Manhattan.

In the East Regional at College Park, it's St. John's, N.Y., vs. Davidson and Duquesne vs. North Carolina. At Madison, Wis. in the Mideast Regional, it's Kentucky vs. Marquette and Purdue vs. Miami of Ohio. At Los Angeles in the West Regional, it's Santa Clara vs. Weber State and New Mexico State vs. UCLA.

Florida is pitted against Temple and St. Peter's, N.J., against Tulsa in the opening first-round doubleheader of the NIT.

While the big boys are waiting offstage, the small college teams take the spotlight today.

The quarter-finals of the NCAA college division are scheduled at Evansville, Ind.

Kentucky Wesleyan, the defending champion, meets Oglethorpe and Ashland, Ohio No. 1 in The Associated Press final poll, goes after Illinois State in a night doubleheader.

San Francisco State met American International and Montclair, N.J., State faced Southwest Missouri in an afternoon twin bill.

Second round games in the NAIA tourney at Kansas City included top-seeded Fairmont, W. Va., State against Washburn, fourth-seeded High Point against Whittier and sixth-seeded Gannon against Henderson.

Fairmont rolled over Indiana Central 93-75, High Point downed Missouri-St. Louis 102-90 and Gannon crushed Jackson, Miss. State 81-58 as the field was cut to 16 Tuesday.

In other NAIA games Tuesday, Henderson edged St. John's Minn., 78-76, Maryland State overcame Wartburg 99-90, Whittier downed Corpus Christi 77-66, Eastern Michigan took Georgetown, Ky., 87-85, and Central Washington defeated New Haven 92-82.

Big Mat Card Set Here Friday

Wrestling returns to Snyder at the Scurry County Coliseum at 8:15 p.m. Friday with another giant wrestling card.

The main event will be a Texas Death Match. Handsome Harley Race will be going against Grisley Smith. This match stemmed from the matches here three weeks ago when Harley Race, on the verge of defeat, jerked a foreign object from his trunks and hit the Lawman, cutting his right eyebrow seriously; then, in the last match of the night, he also used a foreign object on Grisley Smith, cutting him badly, also. This will be fought under Texas Death Match rules. The rules are no disqualification, no time limit, no holds barred, anything legal, no stopping the match because of blood. Falls do not count — 1 or 100 — and the last man standing is the winner. When the 7-foot, 410-pound Grisley Smith meets the tough Harley Race Friday night this could be the wildest match ever seen in the state of Texas.

The semi-final will be a tag team. Mr. Ito and Chati Yokou chi will be going against the Lawman and Ricky Romero.

The special event will be Jerry Kozak meeting Gorgeous George, Jr. Like his father, Gorgeous George, Jr. wears thousand dollar robes and has long curly, blond hair. George Jr. is a "mean, tough" wrestler who will "do anything to win a match," promoters said. But when he meets Jerry Kozak he will be up against the fastest man in wrestling today.

The opening match will be Chief Little Eagle going against Buddy Colt, the North American champion.

For advance reservations, call or go by the Scurry County Coliseum. The telephone number is 573-9811. Ringside tickets cost $2, general admission $1.50, and the children under 12 will be admitted for $1.

Michigan State football coach Duffy Daugherty has been re-elected a trustee of the National Football Coaches Association for 1969.

Rockefeller To Receive Views Of South Americans

By CHARLES DUMAS
Associated Press Writer

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said today he will go to South America as the ears of the White House —to receive views of national leaders "on whatever subjects they wish to discuss."

Accordingly, the New York governor said, he will make no effort during a series of forthcoming trips to promote a new "Good Neighbor" policy he drafted last year when he was competing with Richard M. Nixon for the presidency.

The policy was set forth in a 3,000-word paper saying that if nominated and elected Rockefeller would propose among other things:

—Establishing a "small peace-keeping force" under the Organization of American States (OAS) "for use in disputes among members or, more importantly, in cases where elements alien to the hemisphere threaten the security of any member."

—Bringing Canada into the OAS on the ground that "our northern neighbor has a major contribution to make to Western hemisphere relations."

—Strengthening the OAS by establishing "a constituent body made up of parliamentary representatives from the American republics.

—Establishing a Latin American common market and encouraging creation of a hemisphere free trade area.

—Opening the East Andean jungles to development and harnessing South America's "vast water potential" by creating seven huge artificial lakes with low-level dams at an estimated cost of $500 million. Rockefeller did not pinpoint the sites.

—Undertaking cooperative efforts to establish regional universities, solve urban problems and "mobilize the youth of the hemisphere for social progress."

At the time, Rockefeller voiced strong concern about deterioration of Latin American relations—the very reason that Nixon has requested him to undertake the special mission.

Albany, Rockefeller, take 2: mission."

Rockefeller was an architect of he original "Good Neighbor" policy of the early 1940's, while serving as assistant secretary of state for American republic affairs in the Roosevelt administration.

When Rockefeller was asked whether he stood by the proposals in the campaign paper, his office responded with this statement by the governor:

"The President has asked me to go to Latin America as his emissary to listen to the leaders of the other American Republics and, on the basis of consultations with them, to make recommendations to him regarding United States policies concerning Latin America which will best reflect our common interests.

"Since the President has specifically asked me to consult with and consider the views of the leaders of the other American Republics on whatever subjects they wish to discuss, I am undertaking the mission on that basis.

"Therefore, the proposals made in my campaign statement of July 2, 1968, will not be raised."

A spokesman said this did not mean Rockefeller was repudiating his campaign position but only that he would not seek to press those views on others.

Rockefeller told an Albany news conference Tuesday that he would begin a series of trips to Latin America shortly after the State Legislature ends its 1969 session. The legislature is aiming for adjournment by Easter.

Bill Alters Divorce Laws

AUSTIN (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee has sent a bill to subcommittee that would take "fault" out of Texas divorce proceedings.

Actually, a person could still allege fault—adultery, abandonment, cruelty or imprisonment for a felony—but few would be likely to do so if they could accomplish the same result by pleading conflict of personalities.

There are now only two nonfault grounds for divorce in Texas: living apart and confinement in a mental hospital.

A bill by Rep. R. H. Cory, Victoria, would add "insupportability." It would permit a divorce upon a showing that the marriage "has become insupportable because of discord or conflict of personalities that destroys the legitimate ends of the marriage relationship and prevents any reasonable expedtation of reconciliation."

Cory's bill is the first section of a proposed Texas Family Code. The code would overhaul Texas laws relating to husband and wife. The first section is the product of three years' work by a Texas Bar committee.

Among those testifying for it were Dean Angus McSwain of the Baylor Law School and SMU law professor Joseph McKnight. The bill was automatically sent to a subcommittee.

The bill originally proposed to abolish common law marriages after Jan. 1, 1970, but still recognize those contracted prior to that date. Cory asked that this section be eliminated until the enactment of Title II of the code, which will include a provision protecting children born after 1970 from unions that would be common law marriages under present law.

Other provisions of the code would:

—Prohibit remarriage within six months after divorce.

—Lower the age for marriage by men without parental consent from 21 to 19.

—Reduce the period of abandonment that justifies divorce from three years to one year.

—Repeal adultery as a defense to a charge of adultery.

The judiciary committee approved a bill that would suspend a lawyer's license pending his appeal of a conviction for a felony involving moral turpitude or a misdemeanor involving the unlawful acquisition of property. Some lawyers now in prison still are qualified to practice law. The bill now goes to the House floor for action.

The committee approved a bill that would permit a notary public to notarize instruments in two contiguous counties. It referred to a subcommittee a bill that would permit district court reporters to take a law school entrance examination after five years.

CAREER CORNER

By F. J. LAIN

Miss Lain awards a Mercury portable, courtesy of the Royal Typewriter Co., to Marlene Cox, Cincinnati, Ohio, for her letter:

"I'm a junior in high school, and do not know what I want to be when I finish college. I receive 'A's' in English and have thought of a field in it, but I've heard the only career choices are teaching, writing and editing. I'm not interested in any of these."

A. — You've ruled out the three most obvious career paths for English majors, which suggests: (a) a career in English isn't your bag, (b) you may not be fully aware of the scope of occupations in which the study of English is necessary or useful, or (c) you may wish to minor in English; there's a close connection between good language skills and mental prowess. To illustrate the last point, an important one . . .

SNOW JOB. While attending a public meeting recently, I overheard a man in the audience put down an obscure, pompous speaker: "I think he uses those hundred - dollar words because he's afraid that if we knew what he was talking about, we'd know he doesn't know what he's talking about."

WHY BOTHER? That critic wasn't too far off base. He had learned to be discerning about communication — the transfer of information. That's just one of the fringe benefits we gain with a strong command of language. The study of English covers a lot more ground than the mechanics of grammar, punctuation, spelling and pronunciation. It helps sharpen our minds through . . .

(1) Critical reading — telling fact from opinion,

(2) Speech — emphasizing oral reporting and group discussion,

(3) Straight thinking — reasoning logically, writing clearly, and

(4) Composition — training to give form to thoughts and organize material effectively.

BROAD BASE. No business or career field works without words. Reading, writing, listening and speaking play some part in every job: a lawyer persuades the jury, a carpenter uses language to teach his apprentice, a businessman replies to customers by letter. So students, forgive me for sounding preachy, but if you ain't got no way with words, git it — or about the only way you'll get up in our quick-change world is in an airplane.

UNDERGRADUATE WORK in English is considered good basic training for graduate work in law, librarianship, political science, business and the ministry, to name a few possibilities.

WHICH WAY WITH WORDS? Jobs in which English is essential or helpful include: advertising copywriter . . . public relations worker . . . interviewer (marketing research) . . . editor . . . newspaper reporter . . . technical writer . . . photojournalist . . . proofreader . drama teacher (or any kind of teacher) . . singer . . . actor . . . actress . . . speech pathologist or audiologist . . court reporter . . . secretary . . . many occupations in government . . . announcer . . . television or film director, producer and editor . . . loan examiner . . . literary researcher . . . sales jobs . . . receptionist . . . airline stewardess . . . industrial press editor.

IF NONE of these alternatives appeal to you, keep reading this column and maybe you'll find one that does. Remember, according to the U. S. Department of Labor, there are more than 21 thousand different occupations to choose from today.

Paintings To Be Sold

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fifteen paintings hanging in the New York apartment of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy when he was assassinated have been offered for sale at the Washington Gallery of Art.

Price on the paintings is said to range from $900 to more than $6,000.

The largest, a beach scene in the south of France, hung in the master bedroom. A smaller scene, showing colorfully clad jockeys with their horses, still bears a typewritten notation from Ethel Kennedy with instructions to hang it on the wall over the bureau in one of the children's rooms.

One sailing scene shows a man at the helm of a sailboat who looks much like Robert Kennedy. The original price tag of $1,600 is still attached.

First Man On The Moon?

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — A Space Agency official says astronaut Edwin E. "Buzz" Aldrin Jr., will probably be the first man to step onto the surface of the moon.

But Dr. John W. Small, chief of the Space Agency's lunar surface projects office, said plans could still be changed before the Apollo 11 flight next summer.

The other astronaut who could step first on the moon is civilian Neil Armstrong. He and Aldrin, an Air Force colonel, will fly in the lunar module to the moon's surface.

The third crew member, Air Force Lt. Col. Michael Collins, will remain behind piloting the command module as it orbits the moon.

Girls Mourn Marriage Of Beatle

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Fourteen weeping girls kept an all-night vigil outside the home of Paul McCartney, mourning the marriage today of the last bachelor Beatle to an American divorcee.

McCartney, 26, is getting married at London's Marylebone Register Office to honey blonde Linda Eastman, 27-year-old daughter of a New York lawyer and mother of a 6-year-old girl.

On the white gateposts outside McCartney's London home, the slogan "Paul, we love you" was scrawled hundreds of times in chalk and lipstick. The pledges were crossed out Tuesday night, and the girls added "Not any more."

The outbursts of youthful grief were touched off by McCartney's announcement Tuesday that he would marry the young woman who has been living with him since November.

Just after Miss Eastman went into the house Tuesday afternoon carrying a bouquet of daffodils, three police cars pulled up outside. The teen-agers were clutching each other and sobbing against the high brick wall.

"My God, what's going on here?" asked one of the policemen.

"We're so unhappy," a girl walled. "We didn't want Paul to get married."

A girl in the headquarters of Apple, the Beatles' company, said: "I didn't think he would marry anyone. He didn't need to."

"It was bound to happen sooner or later," said McCartney, "and Linda made it sooner."

McCartney, whose face is plumper now than when the long-haired quartet shot to stardom six years ago, met his bride at a New York news conference she was covering as a photographer.

They met again in London last year just as McCartney's longtime romance with actress Jane Asher was breaking up. Linda's brother is the Beatles' chief legal counsel.

Vegas Cuties Kicking Up

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The shapely dancers of Las Vegas are kicking up a fuss over wages and threatened today to move the chorus line to the picket line.

Entertainers, led by Penny Singleton, who played "Blondie" in the movies and on the radio, met between shows Tuesday night and authorized the American Guild of Variety Artists to strike at midnight Thursday.

They reiterated a demand for $246 for a six-day week as opposed to the Nevada Resort Association offer of $230 for a seven-day week. The basic pay is now $193.

Cmdr. Bucher's Testimony Ends

By RICHARD E. MEYER
Associated Press Writer

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher wound up defense of his surrender of the USS Pueblo without a fight by saying he was guided most by instructions not to provoke an international incident.

"I really felt strongly about my orders about not provoking an international incident and I think this more than anything else guided my actions on this day," Bucher said Tuesday as the five admirals on a Navy court of inquiry asked their sharpest questions.

It was the Pueblo's skipper's final appearance before the court, in the closing days of an eight-week-old inquiry into the intelligence ship's seizure last year by North Koreans and the conduct of its crew during 11-months of captivity.

Bucher opened the hearing with a narrative of the ship's capture and the crew's subsequent torture by the North Korea. He returned a few weeks later to answer questions. His third appearance was at his own request to amplify questions he felt hadn't been fully answered during the inquiry.

"—My orders stated I would not uncover the guns until such a time that the ship was in danger of survival. Repelling boarders does not in my opinion come under this."

—"The information I had was the possibility there were U.S. aircraft arriving on the scene." He said he did not "want the ship disabled because if help did arrive I wanted to be able to get out of there."

—He did not continue steaming out to sea because the North Koreans could have shot out his steering gear, leaving the ship dead in the water.

He said he accepted full responsibility for loss of classified material to the North Koreans, but said the Navy could have sent him to sea with "better thought-out plans . . . for emergency destruction.

Soviets Tell Their Version

PARIS (AP) — The Soviet Union has launched an unprecedented campaign to put its version of the recent border clash with the Chinese Communists before major non-Communist governments.

Official sources reported that Soviet Ambassador Valerian Zorin called at the French Foreign Ministry Tuesday to tell the French government about the bloody clash in the Far East on March 2.

Similar meetings were held in Japan and West Germany, the Tokyo and Bonn governments reported.

Soviet newspapers reported today that 19 of the 31 Soviet troops killed in the island battle would have survived if the Chinese had not knifed, bayonetted or shot them as they lay wounded on the ground.

A possible way to attack insects is with juvabione, a hormonelike substance extracted from balsam trees. Juvabione keeps certain insects from developing into adults — the stage when they may cause damage.

43 Hurt In Bus Crash

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP) — Forty-three persons were injured Tuesday night when a bus went out of control and ran down a 60-foot embankment, authorities said.

The driver, Jorge Rosales Durazo, 21, said, "As we began to pick up speed on the downgrade, I stepped on the brake pedal and it caught. Then, suddenly, the pedal went all the way to the floor. I tried the hand brake but I couldn't stop the bus, so I tried to shift into low gear and I just couldn't do it . . . .

I began dodging oncoming cars and looking for a solid structure to crash against.

I hit a house corner, then dove down a cliff until we came to a stop. Screaming passengers rolled down on top of me and I saw many bleeding and crying for help.' "

The injured persons were taken to a nearby hospital. Officials there said none of the injuries was critical.

Backs Course On Narcotics For Youth

AUSTIN (AP) — "It's not the criminal-type kids using drugs, it's the leaders of the class," an attractive, brunette woman lawyer told the House Public Education Committee Tuesday.

Miss Barbara Kazen, niece of U.S. Rep. Abraham Kazen of Laredo, testified in favor of a bill that would give sixth-through twelfth-graders two hours of instruction on the dangers of narcotics and alcohol each week.

Sponsor is Rep. Joe Golman, Dallas, who served on an interim committee on juvenile crime and delinquency.

Miss Kazen said she was director of a San Antonio city wide committee on drugs before joining the University of Texas law faculty.

While bright, middle class kids are on drugs, she said, many now say they would not have started if they knew the dangers, such as possible schizophrenia and birth defects from LSD.

She had some bizzare tales to tell.

Some high school and junior high school kids are getting high on a combination of alcohol and sniffing heart medicine, Miss Kazen said, and "the doctors don't know how to treat it."

And there's a game, she said, called "bathroom roulette," where teen-agers dump their parents' pills in a hat, reach in, and take three at a time.

She said a narcotics course is needed because both teachers and pupils are ignorant on the subject.

"They (the pupils) are daily in temptation of this. It's all around them and they are daily in the turmoil of deciding whether 'it is as my peers say and there is really nothing wrong with the drugs,' " she said.

The bill went automatically to a subcommittee as did two other bills that would give teachers 45 minutes a day to prepare lessons and expanding the special education program for handicapped children.

George Washington was born Feb. 22, 1732, on his family's plantation overlooking the Potomac River near Wakefield, Va.

Dorm Named For Dean Of Nursing

DALLAS (AP) — The dean of the Texas Woman's University College of Nursing was honored Tuesday when the school's dormitory here was named for her.

The 7-story dormitory near Parkland Hospital will be known as Faye Pannell Hall.

Miss Pannell is now seriously ill and hospitalized at the M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston. She as been dean of the Dallas branch of TWU since 1953.

Members of her family, including her parents Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pannell of Lancaster, were present for the ceremonies at the Dallas Center. A tape recording of the ceremonies was made and will be played for her.

At the same time, friends and colleaguues of Dean Pannell gathered at TWU's Houston Center for a similar recognition of her contributions.

The resolution marking designation of the 7-story dormitory here in her honor was passed at a recent meeting of TWU regents.

It noted, in part, that she has "not only contributed significantly to the ongoing progress of the university through her highly productive labors as a leader in the important field of nursing education but (she) has in fact earned the respect and admiration of all people in all walks of life for her achievements in the profession of nursing and nursing education..."

Mrs. Lucille Petry Leone, associate dean of the College of Nursing in charge of the Dallas Center, said Tuesday that "no tribute could be great enough." Representatives of other major instituions in Dallas, physicians, colleagues, students, and friend gathered for the ceremonies Mrs. Leone added, "for the ere "only stand-ins," Mrs. Mrs. Leone added, "for the thousands who love her and rely upon her."

TWU president Dr. John A. Guin,, tracing the history of the founding of the College of Nursing and Miss Pannell's "great leadership," said the "people of Texas owe her a debt of gratitude" for her contributions.

Free Lunches Delayed

HOUSTON (AP) — The Public School Administration says plans to restore 4,000 needy children to a free lunch list will be delayed briefly until approved by the Texas Education Agency.

School board members voted Monday to transfer $100,000 from a summer school program to the lunch project as pickets marched outside the administration building, demanding the children be placed back on the list.

The pupils earlier were removed from the list for lack of lunch program funds, school officials said.

H. W. Elrod, superintendent for instruction and administration, said the change requires approval by the state agency in Austin because it involves federal money coming to the district in a package contract.

"It is a routine procedure and approvable so long as they file a statement that local efforts are not being lessened," a Texas Education Agency spokesman said. "It shouldn't take more than a couple of days."

Cambodia Frees Four US Flyers

By PETER O'LOUGHLIN

BANGKOK (AP) — Four American flyers captured in Cambodia a month ago were returned to freedom today as the result of a letter from President Nixon to ruling Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia.

The four men are Maj. Querin Herlik, Green Bay, Wis.; Laird Osburn, Webster, W.Va.; John Fisher, Gainesville, Fla., and Rob Pryor, Oak Ridge, Tenn.

Stationed in South Vietnam, they were captured on Feb. 12 after their L19 observation plane was shot down near the border between Cambodia and South Vietnam.

The airmen were held in a Cambodian naval barracks, and Sihanouk asked President Nixon to write him a letter asking for their release. Cambodia's Khmer Press Agency said Nixon wrote the Cambodian chief of state on March 8.

The prisoners were released to the Australian Embassy in Phnom Penh Tuesday and arrived in Bangkok today

No Romance For Female Guerrilla

By PETER ARNETT
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — A Viet Cong guerrilla girl is expected to share everything with her male counterpart except a bed.

If she does yield to temptation, and is caught, the penalty is harsh for both of them—anything from three to 10 years confinement in the bamboo cages that serve as jail cells in remote base areas.

This severe attitude to romance is being emphasized by the Viet Cong as more and more women and girls are brought into army ranks.

According to one captured top-level document, 4,000 female cadre are working with the Viet Cong. Many had "strikingly and fearlessly replaced the male sex in combat," the document added.

But one headquarters document complained: "The weaking points of women are that they are credulous and cannot resist love."

Another said, "In many cases indoctrination of women of the revolutionary concept towards sex relations was not carefully considered. Guidance of the relationship between male and female was not good. This gave way to several cases of illicit love."

The Communist party hierarchy that runs the Viet Cong is motivated less by puritanism than by discipline.

"When you join the party you in effect marry it, and she is a very jealous mistress," an American analyst of the Viet Cong commented.

The Communists have been preaching the "three postponements" to unmarried cadre. The first is to postpone falling in love. Those who cannot resist are asked to postpone getting married. If they go ahead and marry, anyway, they are asked to postpone having babies.

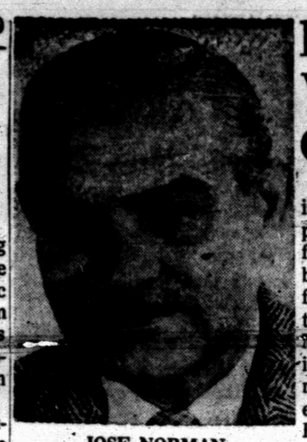

The party insists that it is helping women, not hindering them, by controlling their love life. Because of their romantic inclinations, "women are often not considered for various jobs and are slow in making progress," an instruction from headquarters declared.

Recent evidence from documents, defectors, and from the battlefield itself indicates that the Viet Cong are using more and more women. In the past the front-line duties of women were in mortar platoons or as bearers. Now women are deployed in assault platoons and one defector said 200 women accompanied his battalion part way down the Ho Chi Minh Trail, their mission to repair roads blasted by American bombers.

Then, he apparently knew he was confused and fled empty-handed. Larry R. Walton, 25, was arrested later Tuesday by friend's house and booked on suspicion of bank robbery.

KF To Hear Victim Of Castro

Jose Norman, who was born in England and who gave up a professional and very successful career in music to go to Cuba with his wife and young family to start a coffee farm in the jungles of the Sierra Maes Mountains which was looted and its building burned by Castro's rebels, will be the guest speaker to address the Knife and Fork club at its meeting at 7 p. m. Saturday at the Snyder Country Club.

It was in 1949 that Norman, whose family had moved to the United States from England and became American citizens, went to Cuba. His wife, a granddaughter of the famous Garcia of "Message to Garcia" fame had become owner of a sizeable acreage in Cuba and the Normans went there to oversee it.

Presently Norman is working diligently with anti-Castro forces here. He is considered one of the best informed Americans on Castro's efforts to seize Latin American countries through anarchy. Hence the title of his address "Communist Inspired Anarchy in Latin America."

Candace Files Suit

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Candace Mossler, 49, has filed an aggravated assault charge against the man she was tried with in the 1964 slaying of her millionaire husband, Jacques Mossler of Key Biscayne, Fla.

Mrs. Mossler charged Tuesday that her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, 32, struck her on the head last Saturday at her home in the wealthy River Oaks area.

Powers and Mrs. Mossler were found innocent March 6, 1966, after a seven-week trial in Miami. Her financier husband had been found stabbed to death in his apartment.

Mrs. Mossler told police she and Powers had trouble the past several weeks before she filed the aggravated assault charge.

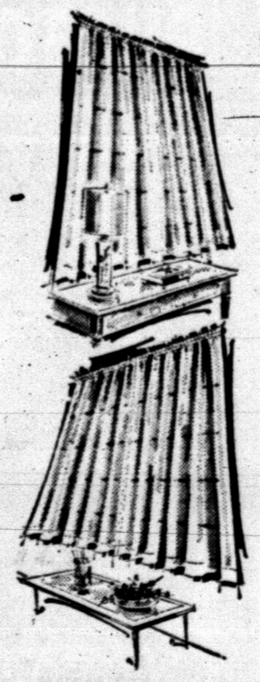

The misdemeanor carries a $25 to $1,000 fine or a county jail term from one month to two years.

Seventy per cent of British Columbia's 366,255 square miles — an area larger than Ohio, California, Oregon and Washington combined — is covered by forests.
