Spirited Robert Lee Game Ends In 14-14 Tie Score

Fighting all the way here last Friday night, the Eldorado Eagles and the Robert Lee Steers wound up with a 14 to 14 score, and had the crowd on its feet in the last 2 minutes of play when both sides tried desperately to break the tie—and almost did.

The game got under way with the Eagles receiving the kick off. They came up with two first-downs and then lost the ball on a fumble. There was a period of ineffective play while the ball went to the Steers; the Eagles and back to the Steers. A 15-yard penalty for unnecessary roughness was called on the Eagles and it moved the ball up into pay dirt for the Steers. Sawyer of Robert Lee ran 12 yards for the first touchdown, and ran the extra point.

In the second quarter the Eagles piled up plenty of first downs, but they were sent back on a 15-yard penalty, and it took time to work their way back to a scoring position. Kerr finally went 8 yards for the Eagles' first score and Stockton kicked the extra point—which tied the 7-7 at the half.

Second Half

Stockton got off a long kick which put the Steers far back in their own territory, and they promptly lost the ball on downs. Along about here the notes on the Eagles show: penalty — 1st down — 1st down — fumble. Steers recover, but they don't go anywhere, and it's the Eagles ball again. They were marching downfield with three first downs as the 3rd quarter ended.

Immediately in opening of the fourth quarter Kerr goes 8 yards for a TD and Stockton keeps up his end of the job by kicking the extra point—making it 14 to 7 in the Eagles favor.

Here again there followed an awful lot of hard work that didn't get anywhere on either side. The Steers lost the ball on downs. Eagles take over and get penalized 15 yards but go on for several first downs. There was a 5-yard penalty on the Steers and another 15-yard penalty on the Eagles. On a fourth down Stockton drops back into punting position—fumbles the ball when it comes to him and then is smothered by Steers. From this new position Sammie Duncan of Robert Lee goes 30 yards for a touchdown, and Godwin runs the extra point—tying the 14-14.

The Last Minute

The Steers kick off, the Eagles receive, and its 1st and 10 to go

Post Script

The problems of foreign civilian employees sometimes aren't so small! Kenneth Doyle and his family needed a few items from the States—they were unable to buy them in Benghazi, where he is employed by American Oil. To send one shirt, for Kenneth, one trouser, also for him, and one pair of child's shoes for Joan cost a total of $18.80 for mailing alone! Readers of the Eldorado Success will remember that Kenneth's family joined him, recently in Africa. They write that Joan is the only third grader in the school she attends, that they have taken some sightseeing trips visiting old ruins, and that they have seen lots of wild camels.

Eldorado Wins Invitational Meet, Goes Into Bi-District Polo Game

Eldorado, playing three games in two days, won the San Angelo Invitational Polo tournament, last week thereby adding additional laurels for themselves as they continue a successful season.

The first game was with Jacksboro Saturday afternoon; this was won by Eldorado 15-9. Eldorado played against top players from Jacksboro, Weatherford, and Fort Worth, the game starting at 2:00 p. m. At 8:00 that evening Eldorado was pitted against San Angelo and won by a score of 7 to 5. This was one of the fastest and best games of the meet.

Sunday at 4:00 p. m. Eldorado played Sterling City for the final game of the meet, winning 7 to 3. This was also a good fast game, with the high point of the game coming when Curtis Short of Eldorado, making a two-pointer, put the game on ice for Eldorado.

Eldorado was presented with two trophies after the game; one for the meet and the other for being District 15 champions. These two trophies were added to the others and can be seen at Shaw's Drug.

Teams in the meet were Eldorado, Sterling City, Jacksboro, San Angelo and Barnhart. Sterling was presented with a trophy as second place winner, and Barnhart was awarded a trophy for third.

On To Spur

Eldorado will go to Spur Sunday October 14th for the final game with Dickens County (Spur) team to decide the winner of the Western States Palmetto Polo Assn. The trophy for this will be presented at the convention of the American Assn. of Sheriff Poses and Riding Clubs, to be held some time in the future.

MRS. A. E. KENT OBSERVES HER 80th BIRTHDAY RECENTLY

Eight children and their families were in Eldorado to assist Mrs. A. E. Kent with the celebration of her eightieth birthday on September 28.

Children and their families who were present were Mrs. Raymond Alsop, San Antonio, Tom Kent of Midland, Mrs. Truett Stanford, Eldorado, Mrs. Alvis Waldrup, Melvin, Edwin L. of Monahans, L. A. of Tyler, Mrs. W. B. Means of Houston and Mrs. W. T. May of San Antonio. Included in the big Kent family were a large number of grandchildren and some greats.

The gathering was a happy occasion for Mrs. Kent, but she has known sorrows too. Besides losing her husband while her children were small, Mrs. Kent lost two children. Albert, the first baby, died in Houston County at the age of one month and two days. A daughter Mrs. Albertine Foster, mother of three children and wife of Dr. D. R. Foster, died in 1933, at Penelope.

Her Life

Carrie Cummings Hill was born in Leon County, near Jewett, the daughter of Captain and Mrs. A. M. Hill. Her father was a captain during the Civil War and was also a Baptist minister.

The family moved to Madison County, near Madisonville and there the young girl received her schooling. On August 9, 1899, she was married to A. E. Kent of Houston County, at Dalys, and the young couple started housekeeping in the groom's home neighborhood.

After two years of residence on the farm, they moved to Crockett County, then in 1909 to Schleicher County. Here they lived for a time on the D. C. Hill place, then in 1917 they bought a place—they made that deal in January, and in August Mr. Kent died!

The young widow was left with a brood of children, the four or five youngest of whom were so young that they do not even remember their father. She sold the farm and in 1921 she bought a place at Eldorado, and has lived here continuously since that time.

At that time, the country surrounding her house known as the Keeney home place, was open, and from her porch she could count 150 cattle and lots of sheep. Sometimes the lakes in the neighborhood would receive so much water from the rains that they would meet—and chickens and turkeys had a field day wading in the water and catching crawfish and other food. On lots on which the W. T. Parker house is located there was a showy field of bluebonnets, and there were many other wild flowers.

The family grew lots of garden truck, fruit and poultry, and the actual feeding of the big family was not too much of a problem. The boys rented acreage in the locality for crops, and in some way the brood passed through a happy childhood, grew up, and left the family home, Mrs. Kent is often complimented on the fine family she reared, and the success they have made in the world.

Today Mrs. Kent has close neighbors. The Keeneys, working with the city, had the land taken in to the city as the Keeney Addition—and at a big public sale, with barbecue and lots of fanfare, lots were sold on which to locate homes. Some of the streets in the neighborhood were named after the Keeney children.

Mrs. Kent is contented in her home. Her greatest interest is the collection of flowers and shrubs which surround the house—though she has been handicapped in keeping up her yard by the drouth.

A Baptist all of her life, she taught a Sunday school class 21 years. Also between the years of 1923 to '33 she was treasurer of Schleicher County.

The above picture was taken in her back yard against greenery which separates the back from the front yard.

ANY CROP LAND MAY BE USED FOR CON. RESERVE

Any farm land regularly used in the production of crops including tame hay may be included in the Soil Bank's Conservation Reserve, advises Henry Moore, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee. Land which is not eligible under the program includes pasture land, land that is designated for the Acreage Reserve, and land owned by the Federal Government.

For the farmer to get started in the Conservation Reserve program for 1956, he must have been in compliance with all requirements for eligibility for 1955. Thus, he must not have exceeded acreage allotments or the Soil Bank corn base acreage established for his farm, he must sign up before October 15, he must follow specifications in establishing and carrying out the conservation practice, and he must not have grazed or harvested a crop from the designated acres in 1955. If he does these things and conforms to the basic purpose of the Soil Bank program—agrees to make a corresponding reduction in the acreage of marketable crops—he will qualify for payment. Payments will be made as soon as practices can be checked to determine that they conform to Soil Bank and conservation practice requirements. The farmer also must agree to maintain the practice for a period of 5 to 10 years where grass cover must be established.

To qualify for payment, the farmer must reduce the prior 2-year average acreage for crops harvested on his farm by the number of acres he places in the Conservation Reserve.

When an approved practice is carried out on land designated for the Conservation Reserve, the farmer will receive a payment varying by practices but which may represent up to 80 per cent of the cost of establishing the practice. He will also receive an annual payment, including the first year, based on a rate for the county of $9 per acre.

Practices mentioned above include cost of seed and seeding up to 80% of cost in complying with requirements of the contract to establish and maintain cover on the area contracted. The conservation reserve contract specifies that vegetative cover must be established and maintained on the area contracted but details of the aid to be offered and the grasses and legumes acceptable as cover has not been definitely determined.

Chairman Moore advises that the closing date for signing up in the Conservation Reserve program for 1956 is October 15. Contracts beginning in 1957 will be accepted through March 15, 1957.

Mr and Mrs Lawton Brevard and two children of Andrews spent from Friday to Sunday with Mrs. Brevard's parents Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Carr. While here the family celebrated the Brevards' son Vic's fourth birthday with a birthday party at the home, seven children attending. Birthday cake and other party food was served.

Austin—W. Lee O'Daniel is back in the saddle again, riding the range for votes. This time it's a big bus and the Hillbilly Boys.

Twice refused a place on the general election ballot, "Pappy" is campaigning as a write-in candidate for Governor. He reports receipt of thousands of letters asking instructions as to how to vote "the write-in way."

First big bomb to be tossed by the former Democratic Governor was his endorsement of Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower for re-election as President of the United States. Proof that O'Daniel means business is evidenced by the fact that he is advertising consistently by press and radio, statewide.

Other Campaigners: Texas strategists for Ike and Adlai will send fresh recruits into the field this week as campaigns enter the final month. For Adlai, a "Democratic Victory Van" loaded with buttons, literature and speakers, was launched from Austin over the week end. It will make a 30-day, 10,000 mile trek "to the forks of the creek."

Democrats for Eisenhower added a one-time Stevenson supporter to their crew. He is Johnston Murray, former Democratic governor of Oklahoma, now a Fort Worth businessman. Murray, a long-time friend of Gov. Allen Shivers, speaks Spanish fluently, and will make speeches mostly in South Texas.

Resignations: James H. Blundell of Dallas, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee for less than a month, has resigned. His reasons were both personal and business. Succeeding Blundell is Jim Lindsey, former speaker of the House of Representatives and State Representative from Texas. Now head of the Texas Good Roads Association.

L. C. Page of Tyler, also a member of the committee, has resigned. He gave as his reason Stevenson's statement that he favored an end to the draft.

Business Record In Doubt

Economic experts are backing off from earlier predictions that Texas business in 1956 will top the 1955 record. Retail merchants entered the fall months with the sales index off 8 per cent from a year ago. Automobile sales lagged 20 per cent.

Overall business activity for 1956 still is slightly higher than '55, says the UT Bureau of Business Research. But if the downward trends continue, hopes for a new record may be too optimistic. Credit tightening has slowed, but not "seriously affected" Texas' rapid industrial expansion, says Dr. John Stockton, head of the research bureau. Many Texas merchants look to a big holiday boom to bring up the year's average.

The murder trial of Harry L. Washburn will have to be tried again. Texas' court of criminal appeals has reversed and remanded the Waco conviction. Defense attorneys contended the state prejudiced the jury with "fact-laden questions" to a witness who claimed 5th Amendment immunity.

Washburn said he hoped for a new trial in his home town, Houston.

Mrs. Jimmie West was hostess to the Wednesday Bridge Club last week with a luncheon, three tables attending. Mrs. Luke Thompson won high and Mrs. Paul Page traveling.

Truman Biggs, who has been in Alaska, and who received his discharge from service early this fall, is now a student at Hardin Simmons, at Abilene, where he is playing football while attending college. Before going into service he had two years of college work at the University.

Mrs. Jody Whitten of Abilene and her children are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lum Burk.

They were accompanied to Eldorado by Mrs. Whitten's sister Mrs. Louise McRae, who had been visiting them.

The H. W. Scotts drove to Tuscola with Mr. Scott's mother, Mrs. L. C. Scott, who had been visiting here last week. On Sunday they drove to their farm at Evant.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

Cotton root rot is caused by a soil-borne fungus that affects many other plants in the Southwest other than cotton. It is most prevalent in blackland soils and is present in calcareous and alkaline soils. Root rot becomes active in cotton fields about 2 to 3 months after planting.

For this area and especially after irrigation wells have been developed, the root rot disease has been given serious consideration. Besides crop rotation here are some of the practices that will help:

1. Follow pre-planting irrigation. Water can be stored in the soil during cool weather when the evaporation is less. It is better to get the soil moisture into the ground ahead of planting rather than try to catch up during the growing season.
2. Flat break or list as deep as possible and as early as possible. This gives the sun and winter cold weather a chance to check root rot organisms.
3. Obtain a soil test and use as much nitrogen as needed but do not exceed the phosphorus recommendations.
4. Three or four stalks per foot should not be exceeded on root rot land as root rot has a tendency to be worse if cotton is planted excessively thick.
5. A good practice is to use four bells, they bring back the ancient American rhythms in an appearing picture of life on a reservation.

in and four out method, then the four rows out should be plowed deep during the summer and then the sets of four in and four out rows exchange for next year.

6. Use a two or three year rotation of cotton with winter legumes, sorghums or small grains, where possible.

The Junior 4-H Club with John McGregor studied hazards around the farm and ranch. Each member was asked to find 62 hazards on a chart and show what should be done to correct each hazard.

Growth and development of plants are influenced by many factors. These are soil texture, fertility and the acidity or alkalinity of the soil. If any of the above mentioned factors are unfavorable, results will be unsatisfactory.

Soil reaction to plants is called pH. For instance a soil with a pH reaction of 4.5 is extremely acid. A pH reaction of 7.0 is neutral. Over 7.0 you have a alkaline soil. The average Schleicher Co. soil has pH reaction of 7.8 or mildly alkaline.

Limestone is added to acid soil to increase the pH. Copperas, sulphur, and leaf mold is added to alkaline soil to decrease the pH. All plants have a pH tolerance—some a wide tolerance as abelia, apple and apricots. Others have a narrow tolerance such as the potato and pepper.

You have a tremendous advantage over the person who slanders you or does you a wilful injustice; you have it within your power to forgive that person.

Two of the newspaper family made their regular trip to the Texas State Fair at Dallas, and returned home late Sunday evening well pleased with their visit. Press, Radio, and T-V day traditionally comes on the opening day.

A few exhibits and demonstrations which were outstanding included the International Center in the General Exhibits building where suave gentlemen and charming ladies are in charge of exhibits from their home countries. A demonstration of electronic cooking is worth taking in—it's in the front of the Women's Building. The exhibit of portraits of all of the Presidents, with some cartoons and posters, is interesting; it is found in the museum of fine arts.

In many buildings are exhibits of modern kitchens which are worth a lot of time if you want to go home feeling dissatisfied with your own!

The major shows are, as usual, outstanding. Damn Yankees, played to a full house Saturday in the auditorium, brought the house down. Ice Capades was gorgeous, as it always is. The Joie Chitwood Thrill show got a lot of applause, as the grandstand was packed with youth, Saturday being Rural Youth Day, and the show is a thriller anyway. The Planetarium, in the Health Museum where it is now permanently located, is worth seeing—and is a rest for those tired feet). Down in the Midway there is a pretty show, entirely done with water which a person should take in, especially if you haven't seen that type of thing.

One disappointment: the Monorail, which we had looked forward to riding, was not completed when we were there.

For Food: most convenient dinner is the boxed chicken, with milk from the near by Borden's building. (Elsie wasn't there this year—she and her calf are always popular attractions). Best buy: a 20-cent ride around the grounds on a "bus" drawn by tractor—it's most restful.

Our first look at Cinerama was enjoyed Friday afternoon. The extra-wide screen production of Seven Wonders of the World has to be seen to be believed.

Friday night the Dallas professional chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, journalism fraternity, was host to newspaper people with a buffet supper in the beautiful new Statler Hilton hotel. We took that in and enjoyed visiting with other newspaper folks from over the state.

—PS—

This being Fire Prevention Week, the attention of the county has been focused on the school, where children have been hard at work on their fire prevention posters. The first prize winner receives $5; other prizes are $3 and $2. Winners will be entered in the district contest.

Judging on the posters was done Wednesday by the fire department, with a judging team in charge. Winners—their identities are very hush hush right now—will be announced at grade school assembly at 2:00 Thursday afternoon, today.

Entering the contest were 31 primaries, 10 intermediates, and one high school student.

The posters, on display in the business district, attracted quite a lot of attention this week.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Woodward were Mr. Woodward's aunt, Mrs. Nora Woodward and daughter Peggy and two children of Los Angeles, California.

Fire Prevention Week Ends This Saturday

College Station—"Don't give fire a place to start" has become the theme for National Fire Prevention Week which ends this Saturday. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council says this can be done if farm residents will take the time to do a little checking around the farm especially about the house and other buildings.

Spot and mark for elimination all fire hazards and don't stop the job until everything has been put in shape, says the Council. During the last 10 years, farm fire losses in the nation amounted to almost a billion and a half dollars or the equivalent of 134,600 houses or barns valued at $10,000 each.

The most common causes of building fires are smoking and matches, electrical and defective or overheated heating and cooking equipment. A complete check of the wiring system on every farm is in order. In the early days of farm electrification, electrical systems were installed to take care of the situation which existed at that time but present day work loads on the systems have caused overloading and real danger.

To correct this problem, the Council suggests that wherever new electrical wiring is needed to carry the increased load that it be installed without delay. It is time also to check the stoves or heating system. Leaks or partially stopped fuel lines can cause trouble but make sure the controls and thermostats on heating systems are functioning properly before cold weather arrives.

Since the possibility of fires cannot be removed entirely, regardless of how effective the check and repair program, plans should be made for getting family members out of a building in case of fire.

The Council urges all families to devise a plan and to always have equipment handy for fighting a fire should one start. But the councilmen believe that if a good prevention program is carried out on every farm, little use will ever be had for the equipment.

Starts Apprenticeship

Ralph Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Taylor, will start work on the 15th as telegraph apprentice for the Santa Fe. This will be his status for a year—he will then be assigned as an extra to fill in for other operators until he works up enough seniority to receive a permanent assignment.

He has been working since his graduation from high school for Clovis' Station in Eldorado. He and his wife, who have been occupying a Taylor rent house, are moving to Crowell, where he will serve his apprenticeship.

A. D. Harvey's pickup was damaged in an accident when his trailer loaded with cattle lost a wheel and turned the pickup over. He was on his way to his ranch with the cattle. Both Harvey and his cattle were uninjured.

Tony Cheatham, who is working at Grandfalls, and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Sanders, also of Grandfalls, spent the weekend here with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cheatham.

Ike Can't Make It Rain, But He's Still Best Man

The other day I asked a farmer if it was dry out his way. He said it sure was. "Looks like we just can't get any rain," he said. "Why, when Noah had his 40-day flood, we didn't get over half an inch."

There's no mistake about it, Texas is having itself a real drouth. Some of the farmers and ranchers in our county are in such bad shape that they may vote for Stevenson.

Old Man Jones, from across the river, said he wasn't going to go to any such extreme. He said he needed rain as bad as anybody else. He claimed water was so scarce in his community that the preacher was baptizing new members with a wet handkerchief. But he was holding out awhile longer, anyway.

"I may be stubborn," said Old Man Jones, "but I just ain't been convinced that President Eisenhower is keeping it from raining."

He said he knew that Stevenson and Kefauver acted like they thought so, and they had a right to their opinion. Lyndon Johnson, he figured, knew better, but he was sticking with Adlai and Estes for the sake of unity. He said he didn't figure Mr. Sam Rayburn had known whether it was raining or not for the last 25 years.

DISTRICT LEGION MEETING SCHEDULED AT BANDERA

I thought For The Week Ministerial Alliance

"Are you able to drink of the cup that I drink, or to be Baptized with the Baptism with which I am baptized?" Mark 10:38.

Our Lord asked this question of James and John when they asked Jesus to make them first in His Kingdom. Out of the selfish desire to be first in God's eyes they sought favor of Jesus. Thereby they missed the point and meaning of discipleship. Jesus asked them if they were able to drink of the cup he drank and if they were able to be baptized with his baptism in order to help them realize the cost of discipleship. He drank the cup of suffering to the last drop and He was baptized by the fire of death on the Cross. His action was not taken to gain fame. His was an action of Love whereby he demonstrated to all men the depth of God's Love for them.

Can a disciple do any less than his leader? No, the cost of following Jesus is to drink of His cup and be baptized with His Baptism. The task of the disciple then is to serve—to give himself for his fellows—the mark of the disciple is compassion—to have mercy on all men in the name of Jesus the Christ. We, as disciples, are to serve as the eyes, ears and mouths of God. We are the vessels through which God's everlasting love shines out to all men. Yes, each of us, you and I, are points of God's Revelation. Christ is known to others today through us.

Like James and John the cost of discipleship is our life—our life lived in active service of God; being doers of His Will and being Compassionate beacons of God's Light and Love to every man we meet. —The Rev. Alanson Brown, Box 1013, Sonora, Texas.

who keeps up with which way the wind is blowing, generally speaking, it's Stevenson, Kefauver and Johnson."

Then he went on to say that he realized the national farm program hadn't pleased everybody—including him. If he was in the White House, he would do things different, at least in our county. He allowed that the $61,000,000 spent by the Eisenhower administration for drought relief in Texas could have been doubled and still not made all the farmers happy and prosperous.

"But," said Old Man Jones, "I keep remembering that the main reason for our troubles, besides the drouth, is the fact that we are not at war. Now, if Adlai and Estes really want to jump on President Eisenhower, there is a real issue. They've sure got the goods on Ike in that respect. If he hadn't stopped that Korean War, farm prices would be higher, no doubt. I wonder why they never mention that."

Old Man Jones was kidding a little, of course, in his usual way, but I think he had something there. We have got to adjust to peace-time, which is taking awhile but President Eisenhower is working at it. And meanwhile our boys aren't fighting and dying on foreign soil. It's worth thinking about.

Yours truly,
Tex

Happy Swap

More and more farmers—who badly need hired help sometimes, but can't afford a full-time hand—are making deals with young town workers and the employers they work for.

For instance, young Hap Hooper now lives rent-free on Easy Roberts' farm. In return he works about 100 days a year for Easy—for a farmhand's pay.

The rest of the year Hap works for his "regular" boss . . . Buzz Ellis, the electrician. Buzz just speeds up his business when Hap's on hand—slows it down when he isn't—and, like Easy, pockets healthy savings in wages.

From where I sit, it's great how people with different backgrounds—and different viewpoints—can co-operate. How about more of us trying that? I live in a town—maybe you're a farmer. I'm partial to a good glass of beer—you may prefer coffee or milk. But we can make things pleasanter by ignoring differences and giving each other a "hand."

Young Couple Wed In Evening Ceremony In Williams Home

Miss Fayla Rae Blasdel of San Angelo and Tony Oliver Cheatham of Grandfalls were married Friday night at 7:00 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Williams of Eldorado, the Rev. Joe Dossett, pastor of the Eastside Baptist church, officiating with the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Blasdel of San Angelo and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cheatham of Eldorado.

The bride was attended by her sister Miss Bonnie Blasdel of San Angelo, and the groom was attended by the bride's cousin, Walter Ray Donaldson of Eldorado.

For the ceremony the bride wore a beige wool two-piece suit with brown accessories and her flowers were pink carnations. The bridesmaid wore a navy dress and her flowers were white carnations.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the Williams home for those attending the wedding, which included relatives of both of the young people and a few close friends of the bride. The table was decorated with yellow mums and greenery, and white candles in crystal candlesticks. Mrs. Clayton Sanders, sister of the groom, served the wedding cake, which was three tiered, with white frosting and pink decorations. Mrs. Patricia Cavins, of Brady, served the punch.

The bride was reared in Brady, attending the schools there until 1955, when she moved with the family to San Angelo and enrolled in Lakeview High school. The groom lived most of his life in Eldorado, where he attended school. He has been working in Grandfalls the past two months, and the couple have moved to an apartment in that city.

Tips On Social Security Given By Manager

To avoid losing social security payments there are three most important times for action, according to Ed Bowers, manager of the San Angelo district social security office.

First, when a worker dies his survivors should get in touch with the Social Security office or local representative.

Second, when a worker is between the age of 65 and 72 and retires, he should contact the Social Security representative, and Third, when he reaches age 72, regardless of retirement he should contact the social security representative. If a person delays more than 12 months after he could become entitled to payments, he will lose some monthly payments that might have been received.

Neil Tarvin, field representative of the San Angelo district office will be in Eldorado on Thursday, October 18, at 1:00 p. m., in the District Courtroom to assist with problems concerning rights and benefits under the social security law.

E. H. Topliffe, butane dealer, left Sunday by plane for Cleveland Ohio, to pick up a new heavy duty truck for their big transport.

Our Church School year began last Sunday with a new staff of teachers and workers. We made a fine start in attendance and in enthusiasm. All seem determined to do more about their Christianity. Five came into the church at the morning hour and received Holy Communion. Two were transfers from other churches, Mrs. Jack Owen from the First Presbyterian church of Tellihina, Okla., and Miss Janis Sofge from the Methodist church and three were on their profession of faith: Sammie Mayo, George Draper Jr., and Sylvia Thompson. All three received the sacrament of baptism. All except Mrs. Owen, who recently moved here, have been active in the church school several years.

The church council, composed of the heads of organizations of the church, met last night to complete plans for programs that will take us through the Christmas season.
