Answerline

Q. Where did the homecoming traditions we enjoy today originate?
A. The University of Missouri and Coach Chester Brewer have been sanctioned by the NCAA as the originator of homecoming. It was at the university in 1911 where Mizzou's Athletic Director Brewer asked alumni of the school to help inaugurate the new location of their football field by "coming home" to attend the annual game against the University of Kansas. A celebration of parades, parties and a pep rally was planned. More than 10,000 alumni and fans attended.

Budget, tax rate set by MCHD directors

The Mitchell County Hospital District Board of Directors met last week to hold a public hearing, approve the budget for the upcoming fiscal year and set the tax rate which will help fund the budget.

Thomas Moore was the only citizen to speak during the public hearing. He urged the board to not go below the effective rate, as he sees the need to continue bringing in enough tax money to fund life-saving equipment purchases as well as supplying jobs to the 280-plus employees of the hospital district.

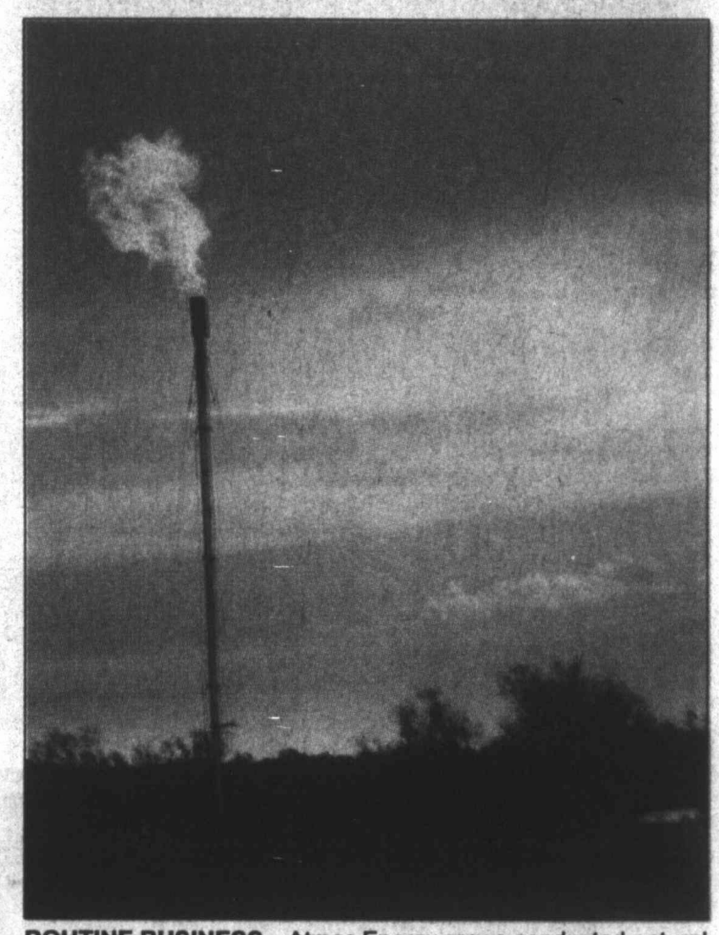

"I know it's not always the popular choice, but I think it's a very important choice," Moore said about choosing the tax rate that will bring in the same funds as last year. "I think not going with the effective tax rate and losing that equipment and the advantage that we have would be a very big mistake."

Hospital board members must have agreed with Moore, because they went on to set the tax rate at the effective rate of .395711 cents per $100 property value. The total rate is composed of two rates, the Maintenance and Operations rate of .323938 and Interest and Sinking rate of .071773.

The total revenue the tax rate will generate is $3,187,341.21, which will balance the budget, according to MCHD Administrator Robbie Dewberry.

Dewberry said that hospital officials had cut as much as $200,000 from the budget since

Atmos flarings are result of routine maintenance

Atmos Energy crews and contractors have been overseeing natural gas flarings at various times on property west of Colorado City. The company has been performing maintenance on a section of natural gas pipeline in the area as part of normal, routine maintenance operations.

"Flaring" is a standard industry practice to safely burn natural gas that must be removed from a specific section of pipeline so that employees can work on the pipe. It is a process often used when a large amount of gas needs to be removed from a high-pressure

Hunters' ed course to be held Saturday

According to TPWD Game Warden Dillan Conley, there has been a great response to the hunters' education course that will be held in Westbrook on Saturday, September 24th. Because many have already signed up, more educational materials have been ordered allowing for more spots for the class.

Everyone born after September 1st, 1971, must take the course, and those 9 to 17 years old must do so in a classroom setting. Conley said that eight year olds that will turn nine on or before November 15th are also eligible to take the course.

The class will be held on Saturday, September 24th, from 8 a.m. until 3 p.m. at Covenant Ranch Ministry at 302 Hughes in Westbrook. Cost is $15 per hunter, and lunch will be provided.

Wes Seibold will teach hunters about safety, meat processing and touch on some of the newer legal regulations. Warden Conley will also be giving a presentation during the course.

All hunters born after September 1st, 1971, are required by law to have proof of hunters' education. The course is offered online. Younger hunters, from 9 to 17 years old, are required to complete the course in a classroom setting, like this class being offered.

For more information or to check availability, call Conley at 325-242-0012.

Council approves fees for Fisher Park

The city council approved fees for Fisher Park at Champion Creek Reservoir which were suggested by Ty Wood during the meeting last week. He and his wife Amie have created a corporation which will be performing major renovations at the park in an effort to return it to a place which can be used by the public for various types of recreation.

The two plan to complete the biggest part of the renovations over the winter, so the park will be ready for visitors by next summer.

Anyone planning to use Fisher Park should be aware that a recreation permit must be purchased in order to have access to the park. An annual vehicle permit will cost $70 and will cover all who ride in that vehicle. Annual permits will be valid from May 1st of the year issued through April 30th of the following year.

An annual boat permit will be available for $20 and will be good for the same time period, no matter how many times the boat is put in the water. No boat permits will be required for canoes, kayaks or other watercrafts powered solely by wind or muscular power.

For those who wish to visit the park less often, daily permits will be available. Daily permits will be issued at a cost of $4 per individual, and daily boat permits will cost $3 per watercraft.

Once the renovations are completed, there will be campsites with water, electricity and sewer available for RVs and campers at a cost of $35 daily or $150 weekly. Campsites with electricity and water will rent for $20 daily or $120 weekly.

Campsites with water only will be available for $15 per day or $90 per week. For the nature enthusiasts, there will be primitive hike-in campsites available for $8 per day.

Children under 12 and senior citizens 65 and over will be exempt from the fees. Also, fees will be waived for all law enforcement officers and their families, including Colorado City Police Department, Mitchell County Sheriff's Office, and the TPWD Game Warden.

Thanks to the Woods, Fisher Park will become a place to take your family, enjoy some lake activities like swimming, boating and fishing, and enjoy summer recreation right here in Mitchell County. Watch the Record for more information on Fisher Park and its renovations as it becomes available.

OPINION & COMMENTARY

TUMBLEWEED SMITH

My favorite news story

I did radio and television news for nine years when I was just out of the Army and getting ready to start a life. One Friday morning in November of 1961 Bruce Frazier, the farm broadcaster at the station where I worked, told me he had heard that a woman was coming to Big Spring the next day to launch a hot air balloon. Like any novice reporter, I put it on the air, not really knowing if it was a joke or a real story. Saturday morning the San Angelo newspaper carried a story that said, "There's a report that a balloon is going to be launched from Big Spring but we have contacted the FAA and it has no knowledge of any balloon flight."

Well, now I had to prove that I was right. I called Cecil Hamilton at his flying field where the launch was to take place. He told me the lady with the balloon had arrived at 3 a.m. and was in a local motel. I called the motel and did a phone interview with Constance Wolf, the lady balloonist. She asked me if I could take her out to Hamilton Field. I, of course, said yes.

She is the most fascinating woman I have ever known. She was a technical adviser for the movie AROUND THE WORLD IN 80 DAYS and her balloon was the vehicle that took Cantinflas and David Niven on their journey. She was the first woman to balloon over the Alps. She and her husband Abby Wolf started the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association. They lived on an estate called Wingover at Blue Bell, Pennsylvania near Philadelphia. They were known in social circles as an exciting and romantic couple famous for their parties. Attendees had to arrive by plane and sometimes there would be 150 private planes parked on their runway.

When I met Mrs. Wolf she was dressed in a flight suit and wearing a thin mesh veil. She said the veil was to hold her head on. She was 56 years old, the epitome of grace and daring. She was launching her balloon to take away some of the attention the Soviets were getting after Yuri Gargarin became the first man in space. Besides that, a Russian woman had set an endurance record for staying up in a balloon 34 hours. Mrs. Wolf wanted to set her own record.

When her balloon took off just after midnight on Sunday, November 19, a huge crowd had gathered at Hamilton Field. People cheered and horns honked. I traveled with the ground crew and sent reports back. The whole nation followed the flight. When she landed at 4 p.m. in Boley, Oklahoma she set 15 records for women's balloon flight. She covered 1,500 miles and had been aloft for 40 hours and eight minutes, soaring up to 13,597 feet. We were sitting in a truck stop at Boley after her flight and she had calls from major news organizations all over the country.

I was a young reporter at the time Mrs. Wolf and I became friends. When Susan and I got married, she was among the very first to send us a gift and good wishes. We kept in contact and I treasure her letters written on a circular piece of stationery. She passed away in 1994 at the age of 89.

Worth mentioning....

By Record Staff

Times are changing and today's youth interpret the things they see with a different perspective than the generations before them. A quick trip to the bathroom by a man who had come to service the ATM on the Western Texas College campus set off a chain of events that saw the campus locked down last Thursday.

On Thursday, September 15th, Scurry County Dispatch received a call at 8:52 a.m. from a caller at WTC. The caller reported that a suspicious man wearing a bullet-proof vest had been seen in the college's library.

After the campus was locked down for about an hour, law enforcement officials determined that the armed man was there to work on the campus' ATM.

It's a sign of the times. There have been so many public shootings, especially shootings at schools, students automatically assume that someone wearing a bullet-proof vest and a gun is a threat. In years past, students might have assumed that person to be a law enforcement officer.

Thanks to escalating gun violence, that is not the case anymore.

The student that saw the man in the library reported it to the Dean of Student Services Ralph Ramon. The dean called 911 and began the process of notifying students, faculty and staff in an effort to get them to locations of safety.

The whole campus was put on lockdown, and when no person matching the man's description was found, law enforcement officials entered one of the school's dormitories to look for the suspect. By 9:50 a.m., the incident was confirmed as a false alarm and the lockdown was suspended.

WTC President Dr. Barb Beebe was proud of the way the incident was handled. She wasn't on campus at that time, because she was attending a meeting in Lubbock. Everyone involved has said that the incident has shown that WTC is prepared to deal with such a threat.

Unfortunately, all schools these days need to be prepared. Dean Ramon said that the response from law enforcement was good and the students were protected, even though there was no active shooter.

Constitution Week celebrated this week

By Teresa Beckmeyer

It didn't just happen overnight. It took 180 years, from 1607 with the beginning of Jamestown until the signing of the Constitution of the United States on September 17, 1787, for the remarkable formula, which allowed the United States to become the first free nation of modern times, to come into existence. Once this formula was finally settled into place, it ignited the fires of freedom all over the world. Nothing like it had ever existed and at the center of it all was the constitution, our constitution, The Constitution of the United States of America.

It took 55 men, who came together in Philadelphia in 1787 who wanted to think their way out of the morass of ideological confusion which prevailed among the political philosophy of the time, working together to develop and put into place a completely new basis for the government of human beings. These men came from varied backgrounds and represented a cross section of the most capable in the country. They took great care and proceeded with patience in their endeavor to make sure that each man present was satisfied with what was settled upon. While striving for consensus, they entered a time of crisis during deliberations in which Benjamin Franklin made a famous plea for prayer which had a sobering effect on the quarreling participants and made them even more determined to finish the task before them.

After four long months of tedious work they created a foundation, which upheld their beliefs in the sovereignty of the individual, family as the most important unit of organized society, the community's responsibility to provide services necessary for life and protection and the development of an outline for the basic structure of county and state government which contained distinct lines of demarcation.

It was a foundation for society based upon freedom, prosperity and peace which sprang from their knowledge and study of writings that had spanned the past 25 centuries. These studied writings contained the classics of the Greeks and Romans, European and English History and the Bible in which they discovered the ancient principles of governance. It was to these "ancient principles" that Thomas Jefferson emphasized the need to return. Once these men had fleshed out their ideas and desires in their work and agreed to it, they knew that what they had created was special and that it would change the world. James Iredell who was a signer of the constitution stated, "This is a spectacle so great, that, if it should succeed, this must be considered the greatest country under heaven; for there is no instance of any such deliberate change of government in any other nation that ever existed."

This foundation was not to be a system of tyranny nor of anarchy but one of balance where three branches of government would come together to hold each other in check while none would hold more importance than the other. The governance was to come from the bottom up, as George Washington recognized when he stated, "The power under the constitution will always be the people" and those who led were to be held in check and were to take their instruction from those who chose them to do so. An in depth study of this formula always leaves me in awe of the reasoning ability of these men and the almost omniscient way in which they planned for circumstances beyond their knowledge that would come about.

Once this foundation was set, this document, based on some 28 principles, became the guardian of freedom and liberty in a structure of government based on ideals out of which was born a constitutional republic that has lasted longer, 229 years to be exact, than any other similar type in the history of the world. Let us recognize a sampling of some of these principles.

One such principle, the separation of powers, was put into place to guard against the corruption that comes with the centralization of power and the basic frailty of mankind to falter. They knew that the separation of power must remain in place because without it, there would be no hindrance to the corruption that would follow. Thomas Jefferson noted, "When all government, domestic and foreign, in little as in great things, shall be drawn to Washington as the center of all power, it will render powerless the checks provided of one government on another and will become as venal and oppressive as the government from which we separated."

Having people and leaders of virtuous, moral character and the freedom to worship as one chose, were principles the founders spoke of often. People of such character, would, because of their virtuous and religious beliefs, uphold the tenants of the constitution without it having to be forced upon them. Benjamin Franklin said, "Only a virtuous people are capable of freedom. As nations become corrupt and vicious, they have more need of masters." John Adams specifically referenced the constitution when he said, "Our constitution was made only for a moral and religious people. It is wholly inadequate to the government of any other."

The rule of law, not rule by men, was a principle that these men held in high esteem. They understood that if the rule of law was not followed, then the rule of men or of kings is what would be left. As these men recently had come out from under a government which was ruled by kings that were thought to have been placed in their role by God, they understood the importance of all men, including those chosen as leaders, to be bound by the same laws and rules as the people. The rule of law gives society a stable frame of reference so that citizens can feel secure in their lives and future. The founders believe that true liberty could not exist without the protection of law. Adams stated, "No man will contend that a nation can be free that is not governed by fixed laws. All other government than that of permanent known laws is government of mere will and pleasure."

Finally, perhaps one of the single most important principles that the founders adhered to was that of the right to own property. The founders believed that the right to private property came from God and that as such must be protected. Throughout history it has been proven that anarchy reigns when private property is allowed to be taken by those more powerful and oppression reigns when the government gathers up property for itself. In regards to this point, John Adams stated, "The moment the idea is admitted into society that property is not as sacred as the laws of God, and that there is not a force of law and public justice to protect it, anarchy and tyranny commence." Private property is an essential element of a free society and the framers believed that private property and liberty were intertwined and that one could not continue without the other.

Our constitution can only survive as long as we, you and I, are vigilant and watchful of those who lead us. As we go forward, let us do everything in our power to make sure that those who we choose to lead us, in whatever level of government, be it city, county, state or federal, understand what our founders intended when they crafted the constitution and will strive to follow and protect it. Let us look for men and women of principle, not whims, who will uphold these ideals and not govern based upon agendas or their own stubborn desires. The power of the constitution lies in the people----in us. Let us be diligent in giving our attention to make sure that the following warning by Daniel Webster does not come true in our lifetime nor of those of our children or grandchildren.

"Other misfortunes may be borne, or their effects overcome. If disastrous war should sweep our commerce from the ocean, another generation may renew it; if it exhaust our treasury, future industry may replenish it; if it desolate and lay waste our fields, still, under a new cultivation, they will grow green again and ripen to future harvests. It were but a trifle if the walls of yonder capitol were to crumble, if its lofty pillars should fall, and its gorgeous decorations be all covered by the dust of the valley. All these might be rebuilt. But who shall reconstruct the fabric of demolished government? Who shall frame together the skillful architecture which unites national sovereignty with the state rights, individual security, and public property? No, if these columns fall, they will be raised not again. Like the Coliseum and the Parthenon, they will be destined to a mournful, a melancholy immortality. Bitterer tears, however, will flow over them, than were ever shed over the monuments of Roman or Grecian art; for they will be the remnants of a more glorious edifice than Greece or Rome ever saw, the edifice of constitutional American liberty."

The responsibility is ours.

TxDOT

20 people had been in to talk with the TxDOT reps about their concerns regarding the interstate. A computer was set up to give people the opportunity to take a nine-question survey as well.

Mary Belle Turner, Public Information Officer for the Abilene District, explained to citizens that the meetings was a first step in developing a 10-year plan for the district. There are 160 miles of Interstate 20 in the Abilene District, and meeting have been held along the highway from Baird to Big Spring.

Large maps were out on tables with markers, so that those attending could mark the areas of concern. Engineers were present to talk specifics with citizens attending. Each map denoted the location of fatal accidents that had occurred on the interstate in this area in the last five years.

In 2014, average annual daily traffic on I-20 near Colorado City numbered around 16,000 vehicles. That number is projected to increase to 24,400 by 2034. In Loraine, 2014 traffic averaged at about 16,150 vehicles traveling on I-20 per day. That number is also projected to increase to about 24,000 by 2034.

According to Turner, all input received from the meetings will be considered as the agency plans for future development. While the study is specific to I-20, representatives were interested in hearing all safety concerns from the public.

As the study progresses, specific areas for further study will be identified, such as environmental impacts.

"We want to work with the local public to make sure we are meeting their needs," Turner said.

Anyone who was unable to make it to the meeting can still complete the survey to give their input. The short survey asks about categories of travel, reasons for using I-20, the frequency of travel, and areas of concern. It is a unanimous format and can be filled out by all residents who live in towns along I-20 in the Abilene District.

To access the study online, go to www.txdot.gov and search Abilene I-20. The study survey will appear in the search results.

According to the TxDOT website, Interstate 20 was designated in 1959 as part of the Interstate Highway System. It provides direct access to the energy sector west of Abilene and was designed to be re-designated as an evacuation route in an emergency.

The goals of the study aim to identify short-term and long-term needs along the corridor. Personnel will evaluate options to enhance safety, reduce traffic congestion and preserve the roadway itself. Future development goals include identifying ways to facilitate freight and alternative transportation more effectively.

Part of the goals of the study includes researching available methods of funding future improvements, along with prioritizing projects that can be implemented

A short business meeting will be held at 11:15 a.m., and a State of the Association address will be given by Barbara McGee and Hackfeld. Some of the items up for discussion include membership, finances, paid memberships, the newsletter, lifetime memberships and the five scholarships which were awarded in May.

Nominations will be taken for directors, and a vote will be held to elect. The floor will be opened for comments and discussion. Don't forget three drawings for those gift cards. That will happen just before the members of the class of 1966 are introduced. Those attending should then remain seated, as meals will be served at the tables.

People in the area have noticed a large, controlled flame and moderate noise throughout the flaring process. Citizens may also notice Atmos employees near the flaring sites with fire extinguishers, protective gear and equipment; all steps taken to ensure the safety of citizens.

The flaring process is legal and not prohibited by any environmental agencies. Though flaring is safe, it is often a time-consuming process, sometimes taking four to eight hours to complete.

The Colorado City fire and police departments, Mitchell County sheriff department, city officials, and 911 operators were advised of the flaring.

the last budget workshop held August 30th. There were a couple of additions made to the capital expenditure budget as well.

When bids were received for paving the MCHD and Mitchell County Nursing & Rehabilitation Center's parking lots, company officials told Dewberry that the paving could last up to 15 to 20 years if it is maintained properly. Part of that maintenance means seal coating after the first year and again every five years. Seal coating was added to the budget at a cost of approximately $40,000.

New IV pumps were also added to the capital expenditures portion of the budget, with a total cost of $26,810. Dewberry said that purchasing the poles may not be necessary, as leasing contracts can sometimes be the best option for hospitals because of service agreements.

The IV poles being used now came from the old hospital and are estimated to be about 15 years old.

"This budget was a tough one to work through," Dewberry said. "I know it's been a tough year for citizens with (mineral) values decreasing, but this is what we have to have to continue to provide quality healthcare for the citizens of Mitchell County.

The 33 minute meeting was adjourned after both the budget and tax rate were approved by unanimous votes.

Officers elected for local group

The Mitchell County Retired School Personnel met last Tuesday, September 13th for the first meeting of the 2016-17 school year. Officers were elected and the District 18 president was present to give the group an update.

To give the year a good start, the group enjoys a meal together for the first meeting. This year was no different, and members and guests enjoyed a meal catered by David Stubblefield and the Gas 'n' Grub crew.

Officers were elected for the Mitchell County chapter. They are: President Susan Farr, 1st Vice President Sonja Hanks, 2nd Vice President Leslie Geiger, Treasurer Joan Lemons and Secretary Martha Anderson. District 18 President Rick Chandler officially installed the officers.

Chandler then informed the group about what's going on at the district level. Farr welcomed all to the meeting and presented information about a memorial. Phil Anderson led the invocation.

The next meeting is set for October 11th at La Fe's, with a program by Wayne Byrd, District 18 Legislative Chairman. He will be talking about what the group can expect out of the upcoming Texas legislative session that begins in January.

Texas Legislature creates Economic Stabilization Fund

In 1988, in the wake of a recession caused by slumping energy prices, the Texas Legislature created the Economic Stabilization Fund (ESF) as a cushion for state budget writers to fall back on in lean times.

The ESF – commonly called the "Rainy Day Fund" – has grown from less than $20 million to $9.7 billion at the end of fiscal 2016. Deriving most of its revenues from the state's oil and gas production taxes, Texas' rainy day fund is the largest of its kind in the nation.

In the latest issue of Fiscal Notes, the Comptroller's office examines the rainy day fund and how it's been used over the years.

"Sound fiscal management, conservative budgeting and responsible stewardship of the rainy day fund have allowed Texas to weather previous budgetary challenges, address pressing infrastructure needs and avoid short-term borrowing to close cash flow gaps," Texas Comptroller Glenn Hegar said. "While our state faces a more challenging fiscal climate than in recent biennia, our rainy day fund remains an essential and robust backstop to help Texas through times of economic adversity."

Fiscal Notes is an extension of the Comptroller's constitutional responsibilities to monitor the state's economy and estimate state government revenues. It has been published periodically since 1975, featuring in-depth analysis concerning state finances and original research by subject-matter experts in the Comptroller's office.

Published monthly, Fiscal Notes is online at comptroller.texas.gov/fiscalnotes, and can also be received by subscribing via the Comptroller's website.

Baker Hotel looking for Halloween decorators

The Baker Haunted Hotel is set to be held again this year on October 29th and 31st, but only if there are enough volunteers to make the fright happen.

Groups and individuals are needed to take charge of rooms and make them scary. The museum has donated parts of a mannequin or two and other supplies may be available, but volunteers are a necessity.

Also, any businesses interested in having giant spiders put up on their buildings in October should call the Colorado City Main Street office. Cost is $20.

Homecoming week full for Loraine Bulldogs

This is Loraine ISD's homecoming week, and there are a variety of activities and themes planned for students and alumni. There will be a parade, pep rally with pinning ceremony, and bonfire on Thursday, not to mention the Bulldog's game on Friday night.

A theme has been announced for each day this week for students in LISD. Monday was pajama day, Tuesday was superhero day and Wednesday was western day. Thursday will see students dressing in 70s style for Throwback Thursday, and Friday is the day for student to deck themselves out in black and gold.

The homecoming parade is set to begin at 5 p.m. Thursday evening. Anyone planning to be in the parade needs to meet at the LISD Bus Barn on School Way no later than 4:15 p.m. There will be floats, fire trucks and beautiful queen candidates with candy to throw to parade spectators.

Immediately following the parade, a pep rally and pinning ceremony will be held at the intersection of Pacific and Main.

Nolan's on Pacific Avenue is welcoming all community members to come out and eat before the bonfire Thursday evening from 6 to 7:30 p.m. A special of $5 burger meals will be available, and all proceeds will go to LISD. If you would like to be a community partner for this event or plan to eat the meal, call the school to RSVP for a head count.

Finally, the night will finish with a bonfire in the lot across the street from the old co-op gin at about 8 p.m.

Westbrook junior class to hold fundraiser dinner, dance

The junior class of Westbrook ISD is raising money for their class trip they will take next year, and students are hoping the community will come out and support them by enjoying a meal and attending a dance with them.

A catfish supper is planned for Saturday, October 1st, followed by a homecoming dance, and everyone is welcome to join in the fun.

Catfish plates will be served from 5 to 7 p.m. that evening and will include delicious fried catfish, fries, hush puppies and coleslaw. Cost is $10 for adults and $7 for kids for the meal only.

Dance tickets can be purchased for $5 each, or for those planning to participate in both events, there is a discounted price. Meal+dance tickets will be available for $13 for adults and $10 for kids.

Tickets are available for pre-order at the school, or they can be purchased at the door. For more information, see Schelli White.

Wolves' offense, defense electrify TLCA

Colorado City head coach Dan Gainey knew the offense would finally hit stride at some point this season. On Saturday, in front of a homecoming crowd, it did.

The Colorado City Wolves, who have played well defensively all season, shook the 0-fer monkey off their backs in grand style by pounding out a decisive 40-0 rout of the Texas Leadership Charter Academy (TLCA) in a non-conference showdown that was moved back a day due to lightning and heavy rain. In the contest, the C-City offense outgained the winless Eagles by a staggering 334-67 margin. And, in the category that matters most – touchdowns scored, the Wolves owned a 6-0 edge.

Colorado City was the one electrifying the atmosphere early on Saturday. The Wolves punched their way into the end zone midway through the first quarter and never looked back en route to notching its first shutout since a 27-0 whitewashing of Coleman on Nov. 9, 2012.

Sophomore Markis Monroe got the C-City barrage started by capping a Wolves' drive with a 6-yard scoring jaunt that put Colorado City on top, 6-0, with 7:08 left in the opening frame.

The news got even worse for TLCA in the second. The Wolves blew the game wide open by hammerong out three touchdowns in the final 6 minutes of the first half.

Quarterback Tommy James delivered the first blow of the second quarter with 5:48 left in the period by breaking free on a 22-yard run. The first of Josh Salazar's four PAT kicks upped the CHS lead to 13-0.

Less than 3 minutes later, Monroe inflated the Wolves' lead. He notched his team-leading fourth rushing TD of the season by taking a handoff from James and plowing into the Eagles' end zone. His second TD of the half gave Colorado City a 20-0 cushion with 2:58 left in the half.

Monroe closed out the contest with 70 of Colorado's 277 rushing yards. He carried the ball just 13 times in the matchup.

Reid Harris got into the scoring act moments later. The sophomore wideout hauled in a 24-yard pass from james with 55 seconds remaining in the second quarter and pushed the Wolves' lead to 27-0.

James amassed 164 all-purpose yards in the affair – including 107 rushing yards on 11 attempts, completed three of his seven attempts. Two of his three completions went for scores.

While the CHS offense was moving almost at will, the Wolves' defense was manhandling the TLCA offense. The Eagles, who were harassed into four turnovers, managed just four first downs and only 117 total yards.

Colorado City, now 1-3 heading into Friday's showdown with Iraan, continued to torture the TLCA defense in the initial 12 minutes of the second half. The Wolves reeled off a pair of touchdowns in the third and upped their lead to a commanding 40-0 cushion.

Koby Miller struck the first blow of the second half quickly. The CHS defensive back ended the Eagles' first series of the third quarter by stepping in front of a Martin Trevino pass and returning it 32 yards for a touchdown.

How quickly did Miller's punch hit? He posted Colorado City's fifth touchdown of the game just 41 seconds into the second half.

Silva and Harris both finished as C-City's top receivers in the game. They both had one reception for 24 yards and a TD.

Colton Forbes also turned in a strong outing for CHS. He gained 54 yards rushing on 15 carries. Marcus Gutierrez added 27 yards rushing.

Defenisvely, the Wolves' Erick Hernandez had two interceptions.

Coach Dan Gainey said that it was nice to get a win, but he thinks it took a bit for the Wolves to settle down.

"I thought we started a little slow and made too many mistakes and had too many penalties," Gainey said. "Once we settled down, we were fine. I think our guys up front did a good job of controlling the line of scrimmage on both sides of the ball, and that gave our skilled guys some opportunities to make some plays," he said.

SHOOTING THE GAP - Sophomore running back Markis Monroe scores late in the second quarter. Monroe scored two touchdowns last Saturday including a run up the middle.

Wolves face Braves Friday in Iraan

Colorado City will travel to Iraan Friday night to battle the Braves in a non-district contest.

The Wolves are coming off a 40-0 victory over TLCA last week. The Braves (3-0) were to play Stanton last week, but the game was canceled due to the weather.

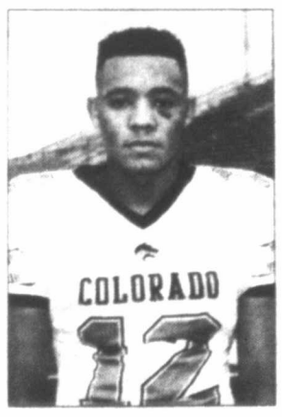

Iraan is a perennial Class 2A powerhouse football team and returns the bulk of its lineup from last year's state quarterfinalist team. Quarterback Clayton Kent and defensive end Canon Andrews are both pre-season offensive and defensive MVPs.

The Braves have been ranked in the top five this year and are on the same caliber as Albany. The Wolves were able to empty the bench last week, as a lot of youngsters had the opportunity to play.

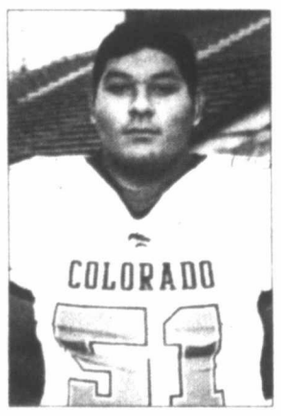

Iraan is in District 5 2A DII, along with Van Horn, Wink, Menard and Irion County.

Next week, the Wolves will host Reagan County in the last non-district game of the 2016 season.

Bulldogs continue winning with victory over Southland

The Loraine Bulldogs continued their winning ways last week with a 60-46 victory over Southland. The win runs the Bulldog record to a perfect 4-0 in advance of this week's homecoming clash with Paint Creek.

The Bulldogs scored often, and it all started with 3 first quarter touchdowns.

Sonny Benivamondez had a hand in all three, scoring twice on runs of 14 and 11 yards and completing a 24 yard pass to William Smith for a touchdown. Oscar Gonzales was good on one PAT kick, leaving the score at the end of quarter at 20-14.

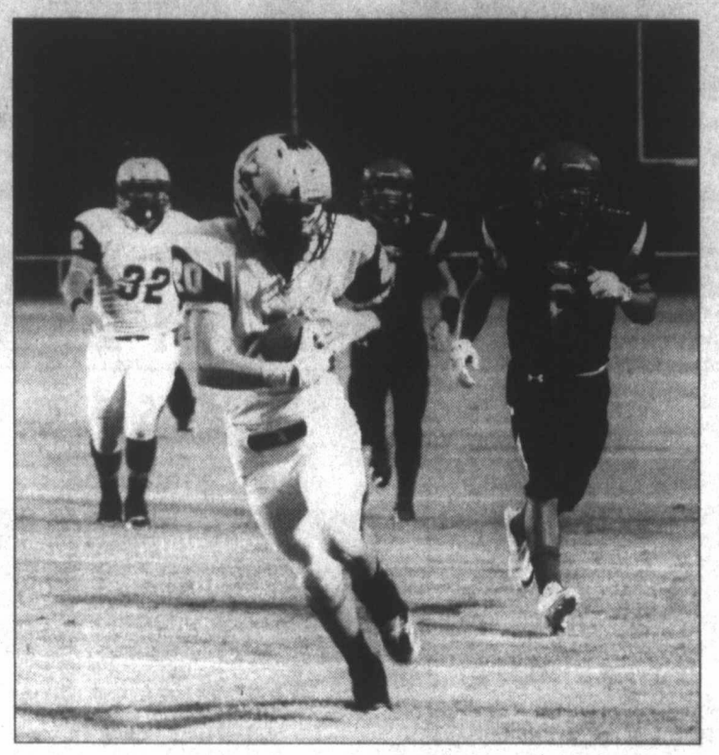

The Bulldogs then added 20 more points in the second quarter as Dakota Smith hit S. Benivamondez with a five yard touchdown pass and JT Cooper hit Royce Angel with another five yard pass for a touchdown. The Bulldogs added their third touchdown in the second quarter when S. Benivamondez lateralled to D. Smith on a kick return and Smith raced 48 yards for the touchdown.

Southland was also able to put two touchdowns on the board in the second quarter, leaving the half time score at 40-26.

D. Smith added a third quarter touchdown with a 45 yard punt return. Southland responded with two touchdowns and the score was 46-39.

The Bulldogs ended the fourth quarter with a score of 60-46 after scoring two touchdowns. Cooper hit D. Smith on a 15 yard pass and Smith ended the scoring with a 48 yard run. Walthall was good on the PAT kick.

CMS football schedule changes

A few changes have been made to the junior high football teams' schedules this week. Because Iraan only fields one junior high team, the 8th graders will be playing against Levelland. Details of the changes follow.

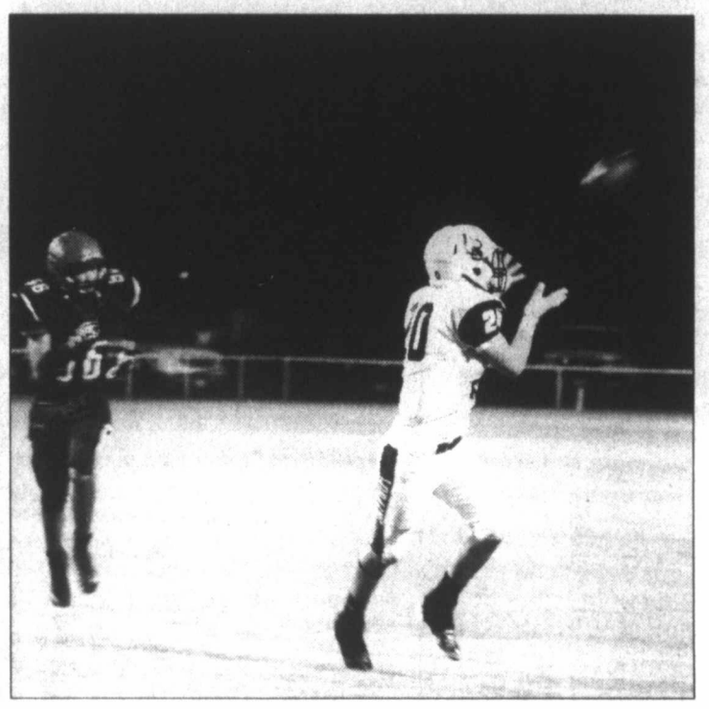

The 7th grade Wolves will play Iraan at home at Wolf Stadium on Thursday, September 22nd, with kick-off set for 5 p.m. The JV Wolves' game will immediately follow.

The 8th grade Wolves will travel to Snyder to take on Levelland at Tiger Stadium beginning at 8:15 p.m. on Thursday, September 22nd, as well.

JV Bulldogs win over Southland

The Loraine Junior Varsity Bulldogs beat Southland 31-18 last week. G. Benivamondez scored on a 13 yard run, a 47 yard run, and also completed two passes for touchdowns.

C. Walthall caught one 25 yard touchdown pass and Williams scored on a 9 yard touchdown pass.

LOCAL NEWS

CHS ROYALTY – Jordan Smith was crowned homecoming queen during halftime of the Wolves' football game Saturday afternoon. She was escorted by her dad, Paul Smith.

HOMECOMING KING – Don Guazo was crowned King Flame during the Colorado High homecoming pep rally last week. Homecoming King is elected each year by the student body.

See You the Pole to be held at schools Sept. 28

Since 1990, teenagers from across the nation and around the globe have set aside the 4th Wednesday of September to observe the Global Day of Student Prayer or See You at the Pole (SYATP), as it is more commonly known. Student-organized and student-led, SYATP is simply a prayer gathering.

The idea was hatched that every school campus has a flagpole, and this year will mark the 27th year that middle school and high school students will gather around their school flagpoles to pray. More information about this annual observance can be found at www.SYATP.com.

SYATP will be observed locally this year on Wednesday, September 28th. The prayer event will begin at Colorado Middle School at 7 a.m., Colorado High School at 7:45 a.m. and Wallace Accelerated High School at 8:45 a.m. Students will gather for prayer at Loraine ISD at 7 a.m. and Westbrook ISD at 7:30 a.m.

Since SYATP is student-led, parents and other interested adults are encouraged to provide "prayer cover" across the street from these campuses or in the parking lots. To celebrate the morning's events, local churches are hosting the annual county-wide Saw You at the Pole rally at the 3M Palace Theater in downtown Colorado City beginning at 6 p.m. that Wednesday evening.

All 6th through 12th grade students in the county are invited to this free event. The rally will begin at 6 p.m. with music, giveaways and a hamburger supper block party style outside the front of the theater on Walnut Street.

At 7 p.m., the action will move inside the theater for a viewing of the local See You at the Pole video footage shown on the big movie screen and worship led by Nick Morales, Youth Minister at Calvary Baptist Church with help from students from local churches.

The special guest speaker for the event will be Daryl "Superman" Williams of Abilene. He is currently the principal at Wallace Accelerated High School in Colorado City. He will use his physical strength as part of his testimony to share the message of Jesus Christ with the students.

All Mitchell County 6th-12th graders are invited to attend the Saw You at the Pole rally. If you have any questions, contact Lori Dockrey at First Baptist Church by calling 728-3442 or Nick Morales at Calvary Baptist Church by calling 728-2262.
