Probers Told Klan Records Were Burned

WASHINGTON (AP) — A witness before the House Committee on un-American Activities testified today that he burned records and documents so they wouldn't fall into the hands of the enemy.

John D. Swenson of Bossier City, La., was called as a witness in the committee's probe of the Ku Klux Klan.

Swenson refused to reply to questions as to whether he was a member of the Klan, citing constitutional protection against self-incrimination. He was identified in other testimony as grand dragon of the old, original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

When asked whether he had brought records and documents as requested by the committee, he consulted for some time with his attorney, then told the committee:

"Sir, the records you're referring to I don't know what you... but any records or documents that I had...this all was burned, destroyed completely."

Asked who burned them, Swenson replied, "I did."

"Why?"

"So they wouldn't get into the hands of the enemy."

"Who is the enemy?"

"The Communists."

Committee investigators have little hope that actual Klan leaders will break the chain of "I respectfully decline to answer" responses they have gotten from previous Klan witnesses who invoked the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution.

But they hope to come up with some cooperative witnesses in the new series of hearings. Some already have been heard in executive session, it was learned, but are fearful of being openly identified as anti-Klan.

ROOSEVELT DAM'S FLOODGATES OPEN—For the first time since 1941, spillway gates of Roosevelt Dam in the mountains northeast of Phoenix, Ariz., are opened, sending about 37,000 cubic feet of water per second into the populous Phoenix area. Release of the water was ordered to prevent possible damage to the dam and potential disaster following record rains and melting snow. (AP Wirephoto)

Northwest Strafed By Snow, Strong Winds

Snow, rain and strong winds strafed the Far Northwest today.

Biting cold hung on in Montana.

Rain doused an area from north central California into Washington and snow swept across the higher elevations through Idaho and Montana. Southern Montana was to get from 3 to 5 inches of snow during the day.

East of the Continental Divide in Montana the mercury remained below zero for more than 24 hours. The temperature ranged from 15 to 20 below zero in Cut Bank, Mont., since noon Monday. Great Falls, Mont., recorded 19 below this morning, while in Missoula—200 miles to the west—the reading was 39 degrees.

A storm which loosed rain, sleet and snow on many sections of New England Monday, eased off and only a few snow flurries drifted across the area.

Showers were scattered along the Gulf Coast from Texas to Florida, but sunny skies prevailed from Southern California to the Ohio Valley.

Heavy snow warnings were in effect for Montana and Idaho, with three to six inches from northern Idaho across most of western and southern Montana. Snow was indicated across northern sections of New England.

Oregon was hit by rain and snow which caused small floods and the evacuation of at least a dozen families. Heavy snow fell on the Cascade Mountains east of the Willmette Valley. The series of recent snow storms has increased the snow pack rapidly in the Cascades. The depth at Stampede Pass, east of Seattle, measured more than six feet.

A severe snow sterm swept the Yakima Valley in central Washington Monday, closing the Yakima Junior College, many schools and the city's airport. Eight inches of snow fell in Yakima, making a covering of more than a foot. Snow also hit parts of eastern and western Washington and on all Cascade Mountain passes.

Heavy snow also fell in northern and eastern Montana and the mercury Monday failed to rise above zero in some northern cities. The day's high mark at Cut Bank was 15 below. Mild weather for the season-temperatures in the 30s — was reported in the southwest part of the state, but wind gusts up to 80 m.p.h. lashed the area.

Warmer weather was in prospect from northern Texas to the Great Lakes region and continued seasonably cold in the East and in southern areas except warm in Florida.

Street-Highway Project Sought

The Snyder City Council purchased a pickup truck, named two streets and made plans to push for a new street-highway project at its meeting last night.

The city plans to send a delegation to appear before the Texas Highway Commission in Austin on Jan. 19 to request improvements for Texas 208 (Avenue S) from Thirteenth Street to Huffman, the north city limits. The proposed project is a continuation of efforts to improve approaches to the downtown area from major highways.

The section of State 208 would be widened and curb and gutter would be installed under the proposal. The city and county would provide the curb and gutter, while the Texas Highway Department would widen and pave the street at a total cost estimated at about $200,000.

The council bought a pickup truck for the water department from Wilson Motors, local Ford dealer. The net bid was $1,294.06, including a trade-in allowance of $250 for a jeep and $50 for an old Cadillac ambulance owned by the fire department. The only other bid received was from Les Francis Chevrolet, which submitted a net proposal of $1,500.90.

Sam McLeod and Roy Valentine Jr. appeared before the council in behalf of a petition submitted to the council concerning livestock south of Thirty-seventh Street and east of Avenue U. They said the livestock caused objectionable odor, attracted flies and that they believed a health hazard existed. The city manager was instructed to confer with the health officer and report back to the council. A petition with 22 signatures had been presented to the council concerning the livestock.

Three bids for an exclusive taxicab franchise were submitted to the council, but action was delayed until the February meeting. Bids were submitted by T. A. Roberts, Roland Bell and Frank R. Barders. Roberts and Bell have been operating cab companies here and Barders operates a cab company at Ballinger. The council expressed a desire for more detailed bids, and particularly urged that better equipment be specified.

The council approved an ordinance naming the road system in Towle Memorial Park. It will be known officially as "Towle Park Road." The action was requested by residents on the south side of the park and had been approved by county commissioners. The county owns the park. The council also voted to change the name of "East Drive" to "KSNY Drive." The street runs from US Highway 180 to the radio station and residents there had petitioned for the name change, noting that the name "East Drive" caused confusion because it is in the extreme west part of the city.

The city manager was authorized to advertise for bids on a year's supply of gasoline, oil, alum and chlorine to be received at the February meeting.

Also authorized was the issuance of formal notices under the city's hazardous building ordinance to owners of six structures. The authorization is a continuation of the city's clean-up and beautification program.

Wilson Plans Peace Appeal To Kosygin

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson is planning a personal appeal to Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin for a joint initiative toward peace in Viet Nam, political sources said today.

The appeal's precise nature and timing were not yet known. But the sources stressed that Wilson remains convinced that a conference similar to the 1954 Geneva meeting which ended the French war in Indochina is the best way to a settlement for Viet Nam.

Britain and the Soviet Union were cochairmen of that conference. The United States, France and Communist China were among the other participants.

Vladillen Vasev, Soviet charge d'affaires in London, was given advance notice of the message to Kosygin in a 20-minute meeting with the prime minister Monday, the sources said.

SO REDS MAY RECONSIDER—

Peace Drive, Bomb Lull Continue

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson was expected today to continue his Vietnamese peace offensive, including the pause in bombing the north, long enough to give North Viet Nam what officials here call ample time to decide for or against entering peace negotiations.

Public denunciations of the peace drive as "deceitful and hypocritical" which came from Hanoi Monday are so far not regarded by the U.S. policy makers as decisive. The United States is still awaiting some more official kind of response which presumably would come from the Hanoi goverament either in a public declaration or through diplomatic channels.

The suspension of air strikes against North Viet Nam is now in its twelfth day, having begun with the Christmas truce. So far as can be determined no date has been set for resumption.

The whole situation, including the progress of the U.S. peace offensive, is said to be under a daily review by President Johnson and his top advisers with developments measured against the general guideline of allowing ample time for the leaders in North Viet Nam to decide how they want to handle the situation.

Policy makers here are said to be convinced that there is a division in Hanoi between those who would like to find some way to bring the fighting to a close and in effect transfer the struggle for control of South Viet Nam to the conference table and those who favor continuing the war at any cost.

It is also widely believed in Washington that Communist China is putting heavy pressure on the Hanoi government to continue the fight while Soviet policy, so far as it can be brought to bear in Hanoi, is believed to favor a negotiated solution.

Alexander N. Shelepin, top Communist Party official in Moscow, is due in Hanoi late this week for talks with North Vietnamese government. His apparent purpose will be to discuss Soviet military and economic assistance to North Viet Nam. Whether he will try to exert an influence for peace is said to be unknown in Washington but U.S. officials are obviously hopeful.

Last February Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin visited Hanoi. His arrival coincided with the start of U.S. bombing attacks on North Viet Nam. This coincidence created difficulties in relations between Washington and Moscow until the United States finally persuaded the Russians that the bombing was not undertaken deliberately to embarrass Kosygin.

Against the background of this experience it appeared unlikely that Shelepin's visit would be disturbed by a resumption of U.S. air strikes in the North.

'Cong Forces Launch Offensive Near Coast

By THOMAS A. REEDY

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Large Viet Cong forces struck back tonight at South Korean marines and Vietnamese paratroopers on a search-and-destroy mission near the coastal city of Tuy Hoa, 240 miles northeast of Saigon.

A U.S. spokesman said the allied force, supported by artillery, killed eight guerrillas and captured eight, while taking light casualties. This raised the number of Communists claimed killed in the operation to 180.

The outbreak of fighting shifted attention from the big U.S. paratroop push into the Mekon Delta west of Saigon. The 173rd Airborne Briade sloshed through the swamps around Bao Trai, 20 miles west of Saigon, but did not come in contact with the main guerrilla elements in the area. One brief skirmish, however, produced casualties on both sides, U.S. spokesmen said.

The guerrillas gave a demonstration of their tactics and knowledge of the canal-laced terrain by slipping between the brigade's command post at Bao Trai and Saigon and blowing up the main bridge over a canal on the rod to the capital.

The only other road to Saigon has been abandoned for two years and now is impossible. Officers expected the bridge to be repaired soon but noted how quickly the elusive guerrillas can blunt heavily armed conventional forces. The brigade went into battle with artillery and some tanks.

The suspension of U.S. air raids on North Viet Nam continued for the 12th day with no indication when orders would come from Washington to resume the attacks. U.S. planes last attacked the Communist north just before the start of the 30-hour Christmas cease-fire on Dec. 24.

A U.S. spokesman commented: "There still is no change. There are still no bombings of North Viet Nam."

As air attacks continued in the south, a Navy Skyraider supporting the 173rd Brigade was shot down by ground fire. The pilot bailed out and was picked up by an Army helicopter, a spokesman said.

The spokesman also reported that the wreckage of a Navy A4 Skyhawk jet from the carrier Enterprise was sighted along the coast between Qui Nhon and Da Nang. The plane was lost two days ago on a mission against targets in South Viet Nam. Communist ground fire drove off recovery planes seeking to pick up the pilot's body.

The Viet Cong made two small probes in Bien Hoa Province 20 miles northeast of Saigon, overruning one squad-sized government outpost. The government defenders at another outpost beat off the Viet Cong and took two prisoners.

In the coastal fighting 12 miles south of Tuy Hoa, both sides used chemical warfare. The Koreans employed non-lethal tear gas twice and the Viet Cong attacked with flamethrowers, the spokesman said.

The battle erupted on the fourth day of a joint Korean-Vietnamese sweep dubbed Operation Jefferson.

The Koreans lobbed tear gas into a cave 1,500 yards in a rocky hillside and flushed out 27 suspects Monday. Tear gas was used again today when gas grenades were dropped from light planes in an area where viet cong were holed up.

23 Launch C-C Drive Here Today

Twenty - three persons this morning kicked off a four - day membership drive for the Snyder Chamber of Commerce.

The group met at 7:15 a.m. at the 66 Cafe and heard the objectives of the campaign outlined by Derrell Parrish, chairman for the drive.

Using the slogan, "It takes two — your Chamber of Commerce and you," the group immediately began making calls. All are due to make their first reports at the end of the day. The drive will continue through Friday.

Parrish, who presided at the kickoff meeting, reminded the group that the Chamber of Commerce is a voluntary organization made up of people interested in promoting the economic, civic and cultural welfare of their community. They accomplish most by combining and coordinating their efforts through the chamber, he emphasized.

The Chamber of Commerce is hoping to increase its membership this year by at least 85 and to increase its budget by $5,000. This would enable the organization to carry on an ambitious program of work without any special assessments for major projects.

Williams Arrives In Dar Es Salaam

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — U.S. assistant secretary of state G. Mennen Williams arrived in Dar Es Salaam early today to explain American's policy in Viet Nam to President Julius Nyerere of Tanzania.

Nyerere is one of the few leaders in Africa who has both north Vietnamese and Communist Chinese embassies as well as those of the Soviet Union and the United States in his country.

BIG HOLE YIELDS SHARK'S TEETH—Aubrey (Pete) Henley, geologist for Matson-Johnson & Associates examines a piece of limestone containing fossil shark's teeth in a giant hole in downtown Dallas, Texas. The shark's teeth and shellfish remains were discovered in a formation of Austin chalk limestone during excavation for a new commercial building complex. Consulting geologists said approximate age of the fossil was 70-75 million years. (AP Wirephoto)

Talks Show No Progress

By CONRAD FINK

TASHKENT, U.S.S.R. (AP) — The leaders of India and Pakistan offered each other a no-war pact today but there appeared to be no prospect either offer would be accepted.

The stumbling block was the two nations' bitter quarrel over possession of Kashmir, the Himalayan state which has had the two nations at war twice since 1949.

President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan offered a no-war pact "once the basic problems facing us are resolved." That was his way of saying Kashmir must be settled first.

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri of India, whose government has repeatedly refused to countenance anything but Indian control of Kashmir repeated his offer of a no-war pact "to improve the totality" of relations with Pakistan. He made no reference to Kashmir.

Ayub and Shastri met for the first time since the India-Pakistan war in September at a villa on the outskirts of this Soviet central Asian city. Premier Alexei N. Kosygin of the Soviet Union arranged the summit conference and was its host.

Shastri declared:

"The question which we have both to face is whether we should think of force as a method of solving (disputes), or whether we should decide and declare that force will never be used."

Ayub said Pakistan's aims is "to compose our differences with India." Prosperity in both countries depends upon peace — "for us peace is vital." But "underlying problems" must be attacked for "a semblance of peace is no substitute for peace."

The tall, handsome Pakistani leader, dressed in a dark business suit and wool Pakistani cap, walked over to Shastri as he arrived at the villa and extended his hand.

Shastri, wearing a sheet-like dhoti and coat, shook hands.

Soviet security was so tight that newsmen could not get within a mile of the meeting place.

Premier Kosygin led the delegations to a second-floor conference room, an Indian source said, and seated them at a large circular table.

With Kosygin were Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and Defense Minister Marshal Rodion Malinovsky. Ayub was accompanied by Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhuttd and Shastri by the Indian ambassador to Moscow, T. N. Kaul, and other aides.

The first meeting this morning lasted 40 minutes and a Soviet spokesman would say only that issues between India and Pakistan "were discussed in a preliminary way."

'Head Start' To Begin On Jan. 17

The Snyder Public Schools will begin the Head Start Child Development Program Jan. 17. Under a grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity, a preschool kindergarten will be offered for five year olds. For the first time, last summer the Snyder Schools ran a seven weeks program for entering first grade students. From evaluative reports, the program was successful.

The program this spring will begin Jan. 17 and run until June 30. Students eligible for the program must be six years of age on or before September 1, 1966. The program is designed for students whose parents annual income is approximately $3000 or below.

There will be a meeting to organize a Policy Advisory Committee at Central Elementary on Monday evening, Jan. 10, at 7:30 p.m. All parents of eligible students are urged to attend as well as all interested citizens.

On Wednesday, Jan. 12, students may register for the program at Central Elementary School.

The program is designed for six classes of approximately 15 students each. The classes will meet at Central Elementary for three and one-half hours each day. The purposes of the program are: (1) to improve the ability of the children to speak English and develop other communication skills so they will be better prepared for the formal school environment when entering the first grade in September, 1966; (2) to develop reading readiness in the children; (3) to reduce retentions and eliminate retardation of two or three grades; (4) to help parents understand the importance of education through self-involvement; (5) to have medical and dental examinations for each child and, where necessary, to take corrective measures; (6) to help the children develop an appreciation for social skills.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the hostess who resented her guests' well - meaning insistence on pitching in to help her clean up the kitchen after dinner reminded me that I once had that problem. But no more. I found a little poem by Susan Sawyer, which I now have pasted on my kitchen wall. When anyone offers to "help" me, I point to that poem. It says:

Please stay away from my kitchen
From my dishwashing, cooking and such;
You were kind to have offered to pitch in
But thanks, no, thank you so much!
Please don't think me ungracious
When I ask that you leave me alone;
For my kitchen's not any too spacious
And my routine is strictly my own.
Tell you what: You stay, out of my kitchen
With its sodden, hot, lackluster hues—
When you're here, stay out of my kitchen
And I promise to stay out of yours!"

Sincerely,
MARTHA

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I detest cards. Is there something wrong with me? Don't get the idea that I don't have the brains to play cards because I played an excellent game of contract bridge at one time. (My parents were tournament bridge players.) A few years ago I made up my mind that cards were a stupid waste of time and energy and I gave up the game. My husband says I am being foolish, that being able to play a good game of bridge is a social asset, and I should take it up again. I was recently talked into being a "fourth" and I couldn't wait until the game was over. Am I stubborn, selfish and inconsiderate? My husband says I am.

DETESTS CARDS

DEAR DETESTS: Anyone who "detests" cards as much as you apparently do, wouldn't add much sociability to a card party, so I say, stick to your original decision and pass.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am past middle age, unmarried and have many free evenings, so I baby-sit for mothers in my neighborhood. I don't need the money as I have a good daytime job.

My troubles started when some of the women began comparing notes and learned that I don't charge them all the same price. For instance, there is a young mother who works part - time in the evenings. Her husband has been sick and unable to work, and I know they have to watch their pennies, so I charge her half of what I charge women in better circumstances. I have made many exceptions, and varied my prices quite a lot. I've been criticized for this. Do you think I am being fair or not?

CRITICIZED

DEAR CRITICIZED: Your system makes sense to me, and it should to the inquiring mothers. Tell them.

Smathers Tells Plans To Retire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George A. Smathers, who once said he had never been forced to do anything "except by my sweet wife, Rosemary, and the U.S. Marines" will leave the Senate in 1968 — on doctors' orders.

Smathers, 52, a Florida Democrat, is the third senator to announce his retirement. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., and Maurine Neuberger, D-Ore., are bowing out this year. Wide open scrambles for all three seats are expected.

The start of the 1966 election year is already producing candidates for other offices, too. Former Republican congressman Robert Taft jr. says he will seek an Ohio seat in Congress this fall, and actor Ronald Reagan is due to announce today that he will battle for the Republican nomination for governor of California.

Smathers plans to stay in the Senate until his term expires but said he was announcing his intention to retire because his doctors' orders would not permit him to prepare a re-election campaign.

He did not disclose the nature of his illness, but said he had been advised to enter the hospital within a week.

Smathers was elected to the Senate in 1950 after serving in the House and holds high-ranking positions on two legislative committees as well as a part leadership post as secretary of the Democratic Conference.

Rep. Charles E. Bennett, a Jacksonville, Fla., Democrat who has served 18 years in the House, immediately announced his intention to try for Smathers' seat. He is expected to have plenty of competition before 1968 rolls around.

Funeral Services Slated For Famed Lady Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The trail blonde was a familiar figure on the front lines during the Korean War, usually dressed in slacks, shirt, tennis shoes and a fatigue cap.

"I'm not working in Korea as a woman," war correspondent Marguerite Higgins told a general who ordered her out of the war zone. "I am there as a war correspondent."

She got her way and her subsequent frontline reporting earned her a Pulitzer Prize for international reporting in 1951.

Miss Higgins, 45, who died Monday in Walter Reed Army Hospital after a two-month illness, usually traveled light in the war zones — limiting herself to a toothbrush, a towel and lipstick.

"Maggie wears mud like other women wear makeup," a newspaper colleague said of her during the Korean War.

Doctors attributed her death to complications apparently resulting from a tropical parasite. Miss Higgins returned last fall from a visit to Viet Nam, India and Pakistan.

She began her career in 1942 as a summer reporter on the Vallejo (Calif.) Times-Herald. The next year she joined the New York Herald Tribune.

The Herald Tribune sent her to London in 1944. Within months, she was slogging along the Austrian front with the 7th U.S. Army.

Dispatches detailing what she saw at the liberated Buchenwald and Dachau concentration camps helped her to earn the New York Newspaper Women's Club award as the best foreign correspondent of 1945.

After World War II, Miss Higgins, then 21, was named the Berlin correspondent for the Herald Tribune. She was transferred to Tokyo and it was from there that she raced into Korea to begin her prize-winning reporting.

She later served in Moscow and Washington for the paper. In 1963 she was sent to Viet Nam two times for on-the-spot reports.

Miss Higgins then joined the Long Island (N.Y.) newspaper Newsday and began writing a syndicated daily column. She authored six books, most dealing with American foreign policy.

Miss Higgins was born in Hong Kong and got her early education in France and England. She is survived by her husband, retired Air Force Lt. Gen. William E. Hall; two children, Lawrence, 7, and Linda, 6, and her mother Marguerite Higgins, Oakland, Calif.

Funeral services will be held Friday with burial in Arlington National Cemetery.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Attorneys in a civil suit in Judge John Snell Jr.'s state district court agreed on one of the prospective jurors: Mrs. John Snell Jr.

Involved were cars of Ronnie L. Cook, Big Spring, and Walter Joe Greenway, 313 Twenty-ninth. Damage to Cook's 1964 Model Plymouth was estimated at $40, and damage to the other vehicle, a 1964 Model Chevrolet pickup, was set at $10.

Strikers' Chief May Face Jail

NEW YORK AP — A state court judge told Michael J. Quill, head of the striking transit workers, to get the city's buses and subways running again today or go to jail.

In any case the day holds another harrowing experience for the 3.5 million New Yorkers who have to get to work.

For them it means a second day of traffic jams, packed railroad terminals, lost business, missed sleep and ragged nerves.

Supreme Court Justice Abraham N. Geller found Quill and eight other union officials guilty of civil contempt Monday in ordering the 34,400 transit employes off the job New Year's Day in defiance of a court injunction.

Quill has said he would "rot in jail" before he would end the crippling bus and subway strike. Union lawyers said they would appeal the contempt verdict.

Adding to the burden today will be the fact that the city's public and parochial elementary schools and some colleges will be open. The schools were closed Monday.

After eight hours of hearing and deliberation Justice Geller said he would send the labor leaders to jail until they instruct "in good faith" all members of their unions to return to work.

He stayed execution of the order until 11 a.m. today.

Contract negotiations - which marked time Monday during the contempt hearing - resume today.

The Transport Workers Union, headed by Quill, and the Amalgamated Transit Union, both AFL-CIO, are demanding more pay, shorter hours and other benefits. Although trimmed by what Quill said was 80 per cent, the Transit Authority estimates the two year package would cost $216 million.

The Transit Authority on the eve of the strike offered a $25-million settlement.

Hourly wages for the transit workers currently range from $2.75 for a change booth clerk to $3.46 for a motorman.

Mayor John V. Lindsay inherited the transit crisis when he took office New Year's Day. At 5 a.m. the transit workers struck, bringing the buses and subways in the nation's largest city to a halt.

Dallas Records First Traffic Fatality

DALLAS (AP)—Raymond McLaughlin, 41, died Monday night when his car jumped a curb and hit two trees. The crash occurred a few yards from his home in North Dallas.

WOMEN

Hootenanny Anywhere!

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Some young people would be willing to bet they could hold a dance in a telephone booth. Or maybe it only looks that way when you see them packed in for a rock and roll session.

Youngsters in Cannondale, Conn., have a hootenanny centered around the guitar interest of one of their number, Dickie Scribner, who has graduated from their ranks. But Dickie still plays for the young people who gather in the barn.

The barn was about to fall down years ago, when the crowd decided they had to have some place to hear Dickie, so they got together and fixed it up. Upper walls are covered with Beatle paper, lower section is painted bright blue. They repaired the warped floor and leaky roof, and put in an oil stove.

When there is a hootenanny, Dickie is at the mike with his guitar, Butch Schneider with drums, sister Shirley Schneider on the maracus. Sometimes Dickie's sister, Barbara, plays the tambourine or bongo drums.

"It's always almost all rock 'n roll," says Barbara.

While Dickie giyes out at the mike, the crowd—20 to 25 strong — pound away at the frug, monkey, swim and twist. The group includes pre - teeners, teenagers, and older-thans.

The signal for a blast-off at the barn is some special day—holidays and birthdays. But they don't need an excuse. When one is in the mood, something is likely to happen. A phone call does it.

If one just bellows out "Help," everyone comes a running, but not to put out a fire. They're there to get a song off the ground and they can be heard near and far.

The old barn was loaded with old stuff that was moved elsewhere or discarded when the kids took over. Why let a potentially good hootenanny barn go to waste?

The barn has a couch and chairs and a folding pool table is moved in for a change of pace.

Rosy Relish

Fresh cranberries
1 can (16 ounces) applesauce
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
½ cup sugar
1-3 cup slivered toasted blanched almonds

Put enough of the cranberries through the fine blade of the food chopper to make 1 cup; mix with applesauce, orange rind and sugar. Cover tightly and chill for several hours or overnight so flavors will blend. At serving time, sprinkle with almonds. Makes about 3 cups.

Bittersweet Chocolate Sauce

2 squared (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate
1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
¼ cup heavy cream
2 tablespoons butter

Into the top of a double boiler, turn the chocolate, confectioners sugar, cream and butter. Cook over simmering water, stirring occasionally, until smooth and thick — about 10 minutes. Serve at once. Makes about ¾ cup.

What If Our Men Set The Style Trends?

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP — Men, or at least the red-blooded, enthusiastic girl watcher kind — prefer to believe that women choose their clothes specifically to be ogled by the connoisseurs of femininity.

But are wardrobes created by American designers today for the hopefully watchable really worth looking at? Yes and No.

Four of the world's best known girl watchers recently slipped into the audience of a Fashion Group sponsored ready - to - wear show to ocular test this spring's style offerings for the American female.

There was Don Sauer, author of a handbook for girl - watching, whose scientific contribution to the art includes such classifications as High Stepping Hatbox Toter, Clockwatching Bosssucker, Blue Jeaned Ranchwrecker, and Rosy Cheeked Prom-hopper, all of which are self descriptive.

And there was chairman of the board of the now nationally organized American Society for Girl Watchers, hairy - chinned orchestra leader Skitch Henderson, as well as two other high ranking officers, Ray Bauer and Cop Collins.

At the end of the 100-garment show when they at last laid down their score cards these truths were self - evident:

The most watchable woman's wardrobe from the masculine viewpoint is somewhat conservative in soft, touchable, nonpatterned, pastel fabrics which are figure revealing but not too much so.

The most watchable models are curvy, with tummies tucked in, shoulders squared, and hair long and curly.

If men were in complete control of the women's apparel industry, change would be almost as gradual as it is currently in the menswear field.

Specifically, the testing committee offered its stamp of approval generally to sheaths: A-lines; sportswear with tailored (but not boyish) simplicity; pleated skirts, smock dresses in soft fabrics and for evening floaty chiffons.

They condemned as "too suggestive" a halter necklined dress by Rudi Gernreich. They rejected horizontal striped Max Sennett bathing suits as attention - demanding but too kooky to be pleasing to men. They, in fact, were negative about stripes combined with checks as well as vivid art nouveau prints; indeed anything that insists upon being seen.

Slithering females in seemingly congealed gowns of twinkling sequins and sparkling beads were dubbed "good to look at but with the warning that you must not touch."

The critical jury did not agree among themselves about skirt lengths. Skitch Henderson approved of more knee show than the other three men. Some men applauded the clear plastic raincoats for their purity in line, objectively ignoring the fact that they could see bikini-clad figures of the models underneath. A few saved their handclapping for misty rainwear that clouded the view a little anyway.

If a designer of a sexy sequinned bra-top and a hip-slung skirt thought he had the male vote, he was mistaken entirely.

The girl watchers also turned eyes down on bell-bottom pants, all except Cop Collins whose objectivity was tampered by a teen - age daughter. And chintz hostess pajamas were tagged "too chintzy."

Frankly, the highly skilled observers of the female sex were delighted over their disagreements. Divergency of opinion is just as healthy as divergence of opinion about women.

Moreover, even though most of the male girl watchers would consciously put the brakes on the trend toward far-out fashions for women, they not at all subconsciously wish that their own designers would be at least a little more adventurous so that they would have at least a little more variety from which to choose.

Avanelle's Sauce

¾ cup butter
1½ tablespoons lemon juice
3 egg yolks, well beaten
⅛ teaspoon salt and a dash of cayenne
1 teaspoon ground tarragon
1 teaspoon minced parsley
1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar

Into the top part of a small double boiler, put 1-3 of the butter; add lemon juice and egg yolks. Beating constantly with a wire whisk, cook over hot (not boiling) water until butter melts; add another 1-3 of the butter continuing to whisk constantly; as sauce thickens, whisk in the last 1-3 of the butter and continue cooking and whisking until thick. Remove from over water at once and stir in remaining ingredients. Serve at once. Enough sauce for 6 servings (2 pounds) cooked fresh broccoli.

Cocktail Sauce

1 cup tomato catchup
¼ cup chili sauce
2 teaspoons bottled horseradish
4 teaspoons lemon juice
Tabasco sauce to taste

Thoroughly stir together all the ingredients. Makes 1 1-3 cups. Serve as an accompaniment to cooked shrimp on salad greens.

Frills Take Limelight

By SALLY RYAN

NEW YORK (AP) — This is one of the most feminine, frilly winters ever.

The man looking for a little bit of not much for the woman in his life will find black lace jumpsuits, saucy pale nude lace-trimmed sleep chemises, shocking pink gowns draped over one shoulder, turquoise togas slit to the waist, and lots and lots of maribou and ostrich feathers.

There has been a revolution in the lingerie industry.

"Women used to put on an old robe in the morning and hate themselves," said William Burston, manager of the National Retail Merchants Association merchandising division. "Now they look like prima donnas. They become different people when they are wearing them."

"It's a rebellion against ready-to-wear," said Miss Josephine Keegan, lingerie buyer at Lord & Taylor's. "Women have to express themselves somehow — with clothes so kookie."

The rebellion is expected to give a big boost to lingerie sales. Burston estimated they would run $1 billion this year, and shoot up 10 to 15 per cent next year.

"The business had been standing still," he said. "Women were just doing a replacement job. There wasn't enough excitement. Now the industry has added a fashion note, and things definitely are beginning to stir.

"Sexiness is an added stimulus," he said.

Once straight-laced panty girdles now come in mondrian squares, muted red plaids, splashy yellow daisies and pop art — a hamburger on one side and a bottle of ketchup on the other, or a pair of big blue eyes. There may be a polka-dotted ruffle around the leg.

Robes look like evening coats, with mandarin collars, feathers or fur, velvet or brocade.

Steel Industry Cautious After Government Notice

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under notice that the government won't do business with the price-boosters, the bulk of the nation's steelmakers showed wariness today about joining the Bethlehem Steel Corp. in its structural steel price increase.

A matching $5 a ton increase by Inland Steel Corp. took effect today, four days after Bethlehem's announcement on price boosts for structural steel framings. A small producer, Colorado Fuel & Iron Corp., posted a $3 increase.

But this was hardly a price parade. Other companies said they were "studying" the question, and giant United States Steel Corp. said that "it may be some time" before it decides what to do.

In an attempt to dissuade the doubtful firms — and thus perhaps to force price rollbacks by Bethlehem and Inland — top military and civilian officials issued orders calling, in effect, for a government boycott of the higher-priced steel.

There was every indication of a concerted drive by the administration and its key supporters in Congress. This raised speculation whether President Johnson was not risking his remarkably durable popularity with business leaders.

But Johnson himself was silent. And the most sensitive index of business psychology, the stock market, reflected neither hysteria nor loss of confidence.

After Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara ordered Monday that military contracts for future structural steel delivery be shifted to firms which have not boosted prices, steel shares declined a bit — but this was in a market which already was moving irregularly down.

When Inland Steel announced its price rise, Chairman Gardner Ackley of the President's Council of Economic Advisers described this move as unwarranted and inflationary — the same criticism he had made of Bethlehem's.

Neither servicemen fighting in Viet Nam nor businessmen building new factories and buildings at home will be made happy by the price rise, Ackley said.

Administration officials have denied emphatically any intention to impose price controls. The new orders which went out to purchasing officers actually were no more than strong directives to buy where the government gets the best price.

This could be a powerful weapon, however, for the government directly or indirectly consumes about one-fourth of the nation's output of structural steel framing.

Following McNamara's lead, Undersecretary of Commerce LeRoy Collins directed buying offices in his department "to purchase structural steel at the lowest possible price." Like McNamara, he instructed them to see that prime contractors impose the same policy on their subcontractors.

The General Services Administration, which manages public buildings construction, used similar language in an order affecting not only direct and indirect government outlays but also any building financed by federal grants-in-aid.

The federal highway administrator, Rex M. Whitton, spelled out the new rules in telegrams to field offices of the Bureau of Public Roads.

"Until further notice," he said, the officers are not to concur in contract awards by states of federal-aid projects unless the state highway departments and the bidders show that the prices for furnishing structural and reinforced steel "are not greater than prices prevailing prior to Jan. 1, 1966."

Federally aided bridge and highway construction represents the bulk of the government's consumption of structural types of steel. The Jan. 1 freeze date fixed by Whitton would bar from such business Bethlehem and the companies which followed its price leadership.

None of the orders mentioned Bethlehem or the other companies by name, but economist Ackley said his statement was made in response to requests for comment on Inland's price boost.

Cattle Attached In Pratt Feedlot

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—About 2,000 cattle at a feed lot in Pratt, Kan., have been attached by a United States marshal in a civil suit seeking $955,474.

The suit was brought by the Albuquerque Livestock Auction, Inc., and Dwayne Luce, president of the corporation.

Defendants are John Blackshere of Algodones, N.M.; the First National Bank of Pratt; George Chandler, president of the bank, and the Pratt Feed Lot, Inc.

The action charges that between June 4 and Dec. 3, 1965, the Albuquerque Livestock Auction sold and delivered to Blackshere a large number of cattle, paid for with drafts from the First National Bank of Pratt.

The suit further alleges that after Luce had been assured by Chandler, in person and by telephone, that Blackshere was honest and solvent, the bank failed to honor, or returned as insufficient, checks totaling $105,474.

In addition the plaintiffs charge that during the time of the transaction the Pratt bank obtained a purported chattel mortgage covering cattle its personnel knew had been paid for by dishonoring drafts.

They charge that the acts were willful and designed to defraud the auction firm.

An added $600,000 is asked by the plaintiff for damage to the solvency of the auction, to their credit rating and to their reputation. Also sought is $150,000 in punitive damages.

"Blackshere is a rancher and cattle buyer in New Mexico who had a borrowing account with our bank," Chandler said.

"I agreed to lend him two-thirds of the value of the cattle he shipped to the feed lot at Pratt. The money was deposited in his account for him to make payment for cattle purchased. When the money was spent the account was closed.

"There simply weren't cattle in the feed lot at Pratt to cover the checks we returned to the auction corporation.

"As for the mortgage, it was quite legal," he continued. "According to New Mexico law the title to cattle passes when the cattle are delivered. If the person selling them has reason to believe the payment cannot be counted on, he should either demand cash or refuse to deliver."

Insurance Suits Are Dismissed

AUSTIN (AP)—A suit by two Texas AFL-CIO officials attacking higher auto insurance rates imposed in July was dismissed Monday by Dist. Judge Charles Betts.

He granted a state motion for a summary judgment, which in effect found no merit in the suit by AFL-CIO President H. S. Brown and Secretary-treasurer Roy Evans.

Counsel for the two labor leaders gave notice the decision would be appealed.

Betts dismissed in August a similar suit by Dallas lawyer Bert Bader, who has not appealed.

Both suits contended the State Board of Insurance acted illegally in increasing the average cost of all categories of auto insurance by 13.4 per cent.

The suits maintained the board should have considered insurance companies' income from investments as well as premium income.

Klansman To Begin Prison Term

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., 22, a Ku Klux Klansman linked with the slaying of Viola Gregg Liuzzo, begins serving a one-year federal prison term today for violating his probation.

Wilkins, permitted by a federal judge to spend the Christmas holidays with his family in suburban Fairfield, was to be turned over to the U.S. Marshal's office.

On Dec. 20, U.S. Dist. Judge Clarence W. Allgood ruled that Wilkins had violated probation provisions in connection with his plea of guilty in November 1964, on a charge of possession of a sawed-off shotgun — a federal offense.

Allgood sentenced Wilkins to serve one year and a day in federal prison.

Wilkins was one of three Ku Klux Klansmen arrested last March by FBI agents and charged with the fatal shooting of Mrs. Liuzzo, a white housewife from Detroit who came to Alabama as a civil rights volunteer.

The mother of four was killed March 25 when hit by bullets from a passing car as she drove a Negro youth, Leroy Moton, on U.S. 80 from Selma to Montgomery following a march on the state Capitol.

Wilkins was acquitted in state court on Oct. 22 of the murder charge. The two other Klansmen, William O. Eaton, 41, and Eugene Thomas, 42, still await trial. No date has been set.

On Dec. 3 a federal court jury in Montgomery convicted the three men of conspiring to violate the constitutional rights of civil rights workers in the Selma area and they were given 10-year sentences. They have appealed.

In the past 80 years Texas farmers have grown 280 million bales of cotton worth about $27 billion, the Cotton Research Committee of Texas reports.

Inservice Workshop Started For New Teachers In Schools

Inservice workshops started Monday, Jan. 3 for nine new teachers and eight teacher-aides at the School Administration Building. The inservice program is for teachers recently employed to work in the Head Start Kindergarten Program and the Reading Improvement Program approved under the Title I, Elementary-Secondary Education Act.

For the spring semester, reading improvement centers will be opened at Travis Junior High, Central, North, and Northeast Elementary Schools. The project will concentrate on the improvement of language skills and reading ability.

Many things contribute to the lack of language skills—some students come from non-English speaking homes, a number of parents have low educational goals for their children, and some children have no place to study. It is hoped by sending these children to special reading teachers some of these barriers may be overcome. The special reading teachers will have the opportunity to spend more time with each individual student. At the same time, the regular classroom teacher will be able to spend more time with the average or above-average student.

The program this spring is definitely experimental. Some of the objectives are:

(1) To improve the pupil's command of the English language by using modern audio-lingual methods when necessary.

(2) To improve pupil's reading skills through use of new teaching techniques and instructional materials.

(3) To improve the pupil's listening ability through the use of record players, tape recorders, film - strips, and more individual attention by the teacher.

(4) To improve the pupil's attitude and school attendance through the use of counselors and coordinating teacher.

(5) To strengthen home-school relationships by providing home visits by classroom teachers, counselors, and coordinating teacher.

(6) To increase the services of the Special Education Department in order to serve more pupils who need this specialized help.

Mr. Jim Erwin, Elementary Counselor for the schools, is in charge of the inservice program.

Pork Slaughter Supplies Are Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reflecting smaller hog production, slaughter supplies of pork for 11 months of last year were down 9 per cent from a year earlier.

The Agriculture Department reports pork production at 9.9 billion pounds compared with 10.9 billion in 1964.

Beef production totaled 16.7 billion pounds, up 2 per cent from the year earlier quantity of 16.5 billion pounds.

Thirty Feared Killed In Butane Explosion In France

LYON, France (AP) — An estimated 30 persons were feared dead or missing today after five big butane gas tanks exploded at a refinery and storage farm 12 miles south of Lyon.

At least 75 persons with burns were admitted to Lyon hospitals.

Officials evacuated residents of the area, fearing that three other nearby storage tanks would be set off by the searing heat.

The Ministry of Interior in Paris said two engineers and five firemen were reported missing.

A Lyon photographer said he had been about 100 yards from the first tank when it exploded. He was severely burned about the face and hands. He said that a number of firemen and employes of the plant had been ahead of him when the explosion occurred.

The Ministry of Interior in Paris said that the fire was apparently under control, but officials said that the remaining three storage tanks were endangered by heat and flames that could pass along underground pipes.

The fire broke out in the Feyzin Refinery early today and spread quickly to a storage tank.

Security officials attempted to control the blaze and called on fire departments from Lyon and two nearby villages. Fire hoses were directed on the burning tank, but suddenly a second tank caught fire and exploded, apparently due to heat from the first.

Three other tanks exploded.

The explosion shattered windows in a radius of 300 yards. Walls of some homes were cracked.

The refinery is owned by the Union Generale Des Petroles. It went into operation in June 1964, and is one of the most modern in Europe.

Heavy smoke, mixed with fog and steam, hung over the area. Residents were evacuated from homes near the refinery and storage farm. Inhabitants of the village of Feyzin, 500 yards from the refinery, also were moved from their homes.

Two companies of firemen — about 100 men — were dispatched by plane from Paris to help forces assigned from the Lyon area. Special equipment for fighting petroleum fires was dispatched from Paris by highway with a motorcycle escort. Reinforcements also were sent from Saint Etienne and Marseille.

Indians Ask Corpsmen To Return

RED CLIFF, Wis. (AP) — The Red Cliff Indians have invited back the two Peace Corps workers they cast off this remote reservation in a war over antipoverty programs.

The 5-2 vote by the Tribal Council Monday night brought little peace however, to the month-long feud over the Volunteers in Service to America — VISTA — program.

The council was asked in a petition to expel from the ruling body two Indian elders who had opposed VISTA. The elders were unidentified.

The wife of one elder threatened to write President Johnson saying the reservation's income had risen to the point that it no longer needed antipoverty aid because of increased employment.

"We need help," answered Alex Roye, a former tribal chairman of the 300-member band of Chippewas nestled on the Red Cliff reservation on the wintery shores of Lake Superior.

The two VISTA coeds, Judy Rathman, 20, University City, Mo., and Jill Hunt 22 Kewanee Ill. were barred in December in a dispute over the value and nature of their work. Indian spectators expressed sympathy and support Monday night as they jammed the council meeting room.

VISTA officials said last month the two sociology students might be returned if the council reversed its original vote.

Negro Takes Mayor's Oath

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Robert C. Henry, a Negro, became mayor of Springfield Monday night and called it a great moment for his race.

The City Commission, like Springfield's population four-fifths white, unanimously installed Henry, 44, as its presiding officer — mayor — for the next two years.

Outgoing Mayor M. K. Baach, now a private citizen, predicted that Henry "will do a most adequate job."

Henry, a funeral director, was winding up a four-year term on the five-member commission last November when re-elected. He received the largest vote of any candidate for the three commission seats at stake. He is a Republican but municipal elections are nonpartisan.

With the city under a commission-city manager government, Henry's duties as mayor are chiefly ceremonial.

In Atlanta, Ga., the first Negro elected to the Atlanta Aldermanic Board in modern times has taken his seat on the 1966 board.

Democrats Or Republicans, Farm Prices Hold Steady

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) —Democrats have held the general level of farm prices during their tenure since 1961 to just about the same average which marked the preceding Republican regime.

The average for the five years of the Kennedy-Johnson administration is 242 per cent of the 1910-14 base average. This compared with an average of about 241 per cent for the eight Republican years under Dwight D. Eisenhower.

But prices under the Democrats have not quite measured up to the Republican record when matched against the parity price goal of federal farm-aid programs. At the close of the Eisenhower administration, prices reflected an average of 80.7 per cent of parity, compared with 78 per cent under the Kennedy-Johnson administrations.

Parity prices reflect a relationship between prices received by farmers and prices paid by them. When prices received by farmers go up without a corresponding increase in prices paid by them, the parity level rises, and vice versa.

The difference in the parity levels of the two administrations was due mainly to the fact that prices paid by farmers for the costs of farm production and family living increased more under the Democrats than under the Republicans.

Farm prices during 1965 averaged 248 per cent of the 1910-14 average. This compared with 238 per cent during 1960, the last Eisenhower year. But prices paid by farmers during 1965 averaged a record high of 321 per cent of the 1910-14 average compared with an average of 299 per cent in 1960, the last GOP year.

Areas in which farm production costs have risen the most during the five years of the Democrats included farm wage rates, interest and taxes.

USDA Holds Line On Wheat Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has been able to stem advances in wheat prices in recent weeks without selling any appreciable quantity of its stocks.

Several weeks ago, the department said it was offering government wheat at designated prices to prevent advances which could lead to higher flour and bread prices. The mere announcement that government grain was available served to bring on price declines in the markets.

Midwest Electric Sponsors Contest

Midwest Electric Cooperative will award expense paid trips to the nation's capitol to winners of an oratorical contest they are sponsoring. This announcement was made by Don Waddell, Member Service Director for the Roby based cooperative.

The contest is open to any boy or girl at least 16 years of age but not 18 years of age prior to Sept. 1, 1966, Waddell said. The winners of this contest will join winners of similar contests sponsored by other electric cooperatives across Texas on the second annual Texas Electric Cooperative Government - In - Action Youth Tour to Washington, D. C. All expenses of the 13 day trip beginning June 2 will be paid by Midwest Electric Cooperative, Waddell said.

Each entrant will be required to give a 5 to 8 minute talk on the subject "What Local Ownership or Rural Electric Cooperative Means to Our Community" and answer several questions which will be asked by the judges.

The oratorical contest will be judged on the basis of (1) knowledge of subject 40 percent; (2) speaking ability - 30 percent; (3) poise - 10 percent; (4) personality - 10 percent; (5) appearance - 10 percent.

Interested young people may obtain an official entry blank from their school or the offices of Midwest Electric Cooperative in Roby or Snyder. The deadline for submitting entries will be Feb. 11, 1966, Waddell said.

As participants in the Texas Electric Cooperative Youth Tour, local contest winners will travel by chartered bus to Washington, D. C., where they will spend four days visiting places of historical interest and seeing the nation's government in action.

On Wednesday, June 8, the Texas group will meet more than 800 students from other states for a program sponsored by the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association and the Rural Electrification Administration. The program will feature presentations by officials of these organizations and other Washington personalities and possibly the presidential staff.

The eventful day will end with a charter cruise down the Potomac which will include entertainment and refreshments.

Also included on the 13 day agenda will be visits to the following: George Washington's Mount Vernon home, Arlington National Cemetery, the U. S. House and Senate, The Department of Agriculture, The Smithsonian Institution, the Lincoln Memorial, and other places of interest.

Blaze Damages Rio Grande School

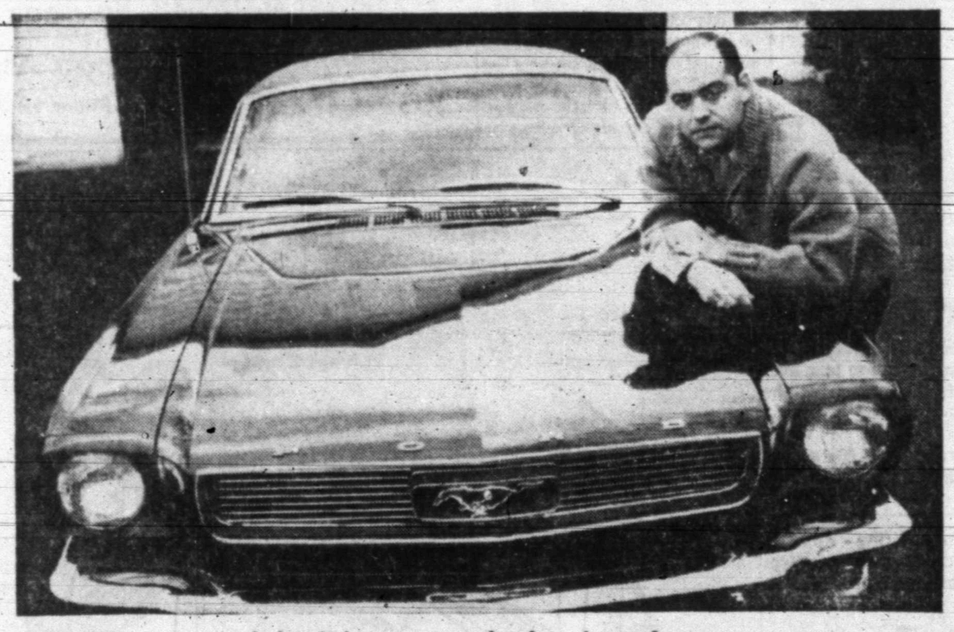

RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex. (AP)—Fire destroyed the modern auditorium on the Rio Grande High School campus Monday night. A fire department spokesman estimated the loss at $250,000.

The building was empty when the blaze broke out about 9:45 p.m. Students attending classes next door turned in the alarm.

Firemen from McAllen, Mission, Roma and Zapata helped extinguish the flames. It took nearly three hours.

The high school occupies the site of old Ft. Ringgold, which housed U.S. cavalry troops in the early days of Texas statehood. It is just a few miles from the Texas-Mexico border.

Horse Sense—and the Mustang Six

I don't know much about engines.
If mine's smooth, powerful and gives great gas mileage, I'm satisfied.
That's why I got a Mustang Six.

You don't have to be an engineer to appreciate the Mustang Six. Just get comfortable in one of those deep-foam bucket seats, fire up that husky 200-cu. in. powerplant . . . and let yourself go.

Nor do you have to be an investment banker to realize you've made a great buy. Standard Mustang Six luxury includes: all vinyl upholstery; plush wall-to-wall carpeting; padded instrument panel and many other extras at no extra cost.

Sound sweet? Mustang makes lots of nice sounds. Optional stereo sonic tape is one. Another is money jingling in your pocket, thanks to Mustang Six's meager appetite for gasoline.

Chiefs Host Tigers

Both Teams Seek First District Win

The Snyder Tigers and the Lake View Chiefs, after suffering district opening losses last week, will seek to get on the comeback trail tonight in the second 3-AAA outing for both teams. The "B" game begins at 6:15 p.m., followed by the varsity clash on the Chiefs' court.

Lake View was a pre-season choice in some circles to win the district basketball crown. There's no doubt the Chiefs have the Indians. Four starters return from last years team: Jim Hamilton, Rocky Woods, Don Williams and Rudy Zamarippa. The fifth man is Ricky Dale. Coach Ben Norton says Woods is All-State timber, and he likes the man-to-man defense.

The Tigers probably would welcome something different. Using an impenetrable zone defense, Lamesa whacked the locals 65-30 last Friday. Lake View didn't fare much better as the Chiefs were upset, 67-61, at Sweetwater.

Both teams have met once previously with the Chiefs copping a 56-46 decision on a neutral court. Based on past performances and the edge in depth and experience, Lake View rates at least a 10-point favorite.

But the Chiefs can be had. Sweetwater proved that. And Snyder's youthful enthusiasm could propel them to an upset. In Bill Blum and Tom Bullard, the Tigers have two fast, talented young guards. Center Ronnie Laster is coming along well and may be able to jump with the best of them before the campaign ends.

Coach Ned Underwood said he also probably would start Eldon Woodward and Bobby Clardy as forwards. If the Tigers can get off more shots and find the range better than they have in the past, then they could develop into the role of district spoiler.

At times Snyder looks smooth and impressive, but they have not been consistent with superior performances. The Bengals will take a 5-7 record into the affray while Lake View will counter with a 7-6 reading.

Coach Bill Hartsfield listed "B" team probable starters as follows: O. L. Cooper, Craig Bell, Frankie Grimmett, Drake Snyder and Gus Tovar.

Elsewhere in the district Sweetwater invades Levelland while Littlefield hosts Brownfield.

TIGER ON THE REBOUND — Princeton's Robinson Brown (40) comes down with a rebound under Mississippi State basket at Charlotte, N.C., invitational tourney. Seeking control, too, is State's Herb Biggs, right. In background are State's Tom Payne (33) and Buddy Walden (31). At far right is Princeton's Edward Hummer (34). Princeton won, 69-67. Teamwise, the Bengals are averaging 56.6 points per tilt, compared with 61.7 points per game for the opposition. In 12 games, the Tigers have tallied 681 points while their foes have found the range for 741.

Royals Whip St. Louis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — St. Louis' National Basketball Association home away from home is becoming a depressed area for the low-flying Hawks.

The Cincinnati Royals, sparked by Oscar Robertson, Jerry Lucas and super-sub Happy Hairston, whipped St. Louis 130-114 in Monday night's lone NBA game, giving the Hawks an 0-3 record at Memphis, where they'll play eight home games this season.

The loss dropped St. Louis six games under .500 at 15-21 and into a fourth place tie with San Francisco in the league's Western Division. Cincinnati climbed within two games of Boston's Eastern Division leaders with its third victory in four season meetings with the Hawks.

Hairston, an unsung second-year pro who has been making a habit of coming off the Cincinnati bench to ignite rallies, threw in nine straight points in the final minutes of the first half, giving the Royals a 59-50 lead they never relinquished. The 6-foot-7 New York University alumnus finished with 20 points.

Robertson scored 37 points, including 18 in Cincinnati's 40-point third quarter, while Lucas collected 22 points and 19 rebounds.

The Royals, however, lost center Wayne Embry early in the game. The muscular pivotman suffered an eye injury in a collision with St. Louis' rookie Jim Washington and was taken to a Memphis hospital for treatment.

Cliff Hagan netted 30 points and Zelmo Beaty 21 for St. Louis, which fell behind 35-19 in the first quarter, then rallied for a 45-40 lead before Hairston and the Royals took charge.

Lamar Junior Squads Win Two Tilts

STAMFORD—Snyder Lamar Junior High Basketball teams resumed activity after the holidays here Monday night by sweeping two games from Stamford teams.

The 9th grade Texans walloped Stamford's 9th grade team, 70-41, after the Lamar 8th graders had romped to a 58-27 decision over Stamford 8th.

The Lamar 9th graders made their big surge after the intermission. They were as "cold" as the weather outside in the first half, holding a lead of 24-19 after two quarters of play. They quickly increased their margin to 10 points early in the third quarter and then steadily lengthened their advantage as their shooters warmed up.

Mitch Rambin canned 19 points to pace the 9th grade Texans, while Leland Herod, Jodie Williamson and Jerry January joined the double-figure brigade with 12 points each. Steve Holder had 8 points, Richie Thompson 5 and Joe Bass 2.

In the 8th grade game, the Stamford team took a 2-0 lead which was quickly erased by Lamar and the Texans kept increasing it through the remainder of the game.

Lee McNair led the Lamar 8th grade scorers with 23 points, while Larry Greene had 16, Phil Ator 7, Howard Shifflett 4, and Randy Levens, Ronnie Watkins, Billy Bowden and Steve Boydstun 2 each.

All members of the traveling squads of both the Lamar 9th and 8th grade teams saw considerable action as coaches John Gary and Tommy Echols substituted frequently in the second half of their respective games.

Trojan Assistant Accepts Ute Offer

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Mike Giddings, assistant football coach at the University of Southern California, has accepted the head coaching job at the University of Utah.

Giddings, 32, was chosen Monday after a list of 114 prospects had been narrowed to five finalists.

He succeeds Ray Nagel, who resigned last month to take over as head football coach at the University of Iowa.

Giddings received a three-year contract at $16,000 a year — the same as Nagel had been getting.

The Kansas City Athletics have reduced their farm system from six teams to five for 1966.

Travis 5's Rip Lamesa

Travis' 8th and 9th grade basketball teams lost none of their pre-holiday form here Monday night as they scored respective 34 - 29 and 66 - 50 decisions over visiting Lamesa.

In each game, the Snyder coaches were able to sweep the bench.

Larry Roberts' 9th graders were as sharp as Annie Oakley, popping the nets for a 15-4 first period advantage. They increased the lead to 34-19 at halftime and 52-35 after three quarters with the reserves seeing plenty of action. Ken Sehested, with 28 points, and Benny Ward with 15, led the way to victory. The Snyder boys outscored their foes, 27-13, on field shots, but saw the visitors dunk in 24 of 33 from the free throw line. Terry Vaughn was high point man for Lamesa with 18 points. Harris sunk 11.

Jerry McLeod's 8th graders held leads of 11-8, 18-15, and 30-19 in each of the first three quarters of their contest. The Lamesans were able to gain ground after Snyder sent in its substitutes, but were never able to close the gap.

Wesley Bishop captured scoring laurels for the 8th graders with 16 points while Paulk put in 11 for Lamesa.

Saban Hears College Call

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Lou Saban was back coaching college football at Maryland today even though it pays less than professional because "above all, it has the right spirit of the sport in mind."

"I left the pro ranks with one idea," said the surprising coach under whom the Buffalo Bills won two straight championships in the American Football League.

"I wanted to return to college coaching because I felt there I could contribute much, not from the point of coaching alone, but from the point of living.

"I am a firm believer in a few rules in life. I feel sports develop character and also develops the man.

"The emphasis on winning in the pro ranks is everything. I am sure it is not true on the college level."

Saban's contract for four years provides a starting salary of $22,500 a year and gradully rising to $25,000. He admitted it was less than he was paid at Buffalo, but said "I would rather not mention the amount involved." It was believed to be $30,000.

"I felt we had gone as far as we could in Buffalo and felt it time to leave," Saban said. "My associations there have always been splendid."

However, he said there ought to be more to football "than just drawing circles and squares" of play diagrams. With the pros, he said it "is strictly football and nothing outside of it."

He Was A Real Sport

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Lt. (j.g.) Donald C. MacLaughlin, a former All-America lacrosse player and 1963 recipient of the Naval Academy's highest athletic award, has been killed in action in Viet-Nam.

Dr. D.C. MacLaughlin Sr. of suburban Catonsville said Monday he had been advised by the Navy that his son's body had been spotted on a mountainside near the wreckage of his plane. The 24-year-old flier had been reported missing Sunday.

The elder MacLaughlin said a telegram from Vice Adm. B.J. Semmes Jr., chief of Naval personnel, reported the body had not been recovered "due to intense enemy ground fire."

At the Naval Academy, where he was a 1963 graduate, MacLaughlin was in the top 10 per cent of his class and as a senior was awarded the Naval Academy Athletic Association Sword for excellence in athletics. He was an All-America midfielder in lacrosse and also played college soccer.

Miners Are Ninth Best Cage Team

By The Associated Press

St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania, Providence, Texas Western and UCLA, each a winner of a holiday tournament last week, have gained considerable ground in the latest Associated Press major college basketball poll.

Duke remains a solid leader, while unbeaten Kentucky rushed up to take second place.

The Blue Devils from Durham, N.C., garnered 38 points, including 10 for each of the 34 first place votes they received in the balloting by a special panel of 42 regional experts.

Duke has won seven games in a row, including victories over Notre Dame and Wake Forest last week that lifted its record to 9-1.

Kentucky advanced from fifth to second after beating Notre Dame 103-69 for its eighth in a row. The Wildcats had five first-place votes and 299 points.

Vanderbilt is third. Then came St. Joseph's, Bradley, Providence, Iowa, Brigham Young, Texas Western and UCLA. The voting was based on games through last Saturday.

Vanderbilt, the runner-up a week ago, slipped to third after losing to Southern California in the Los Angeles Classic. It was the Commodores' first loss of the season.

St. Joseph's, winners of the Quaker City Tournament, climbed from eighth to fourth. The Hawks are 9-2. Bradley fell two places to fifth after losing to Indiana. Providence, the ECAC Holiday Festival champion, jumped from 10th to sixth.

Iowa, loser to Texas Western in the Sun Bowl final, dropped from fourth to seventh. The triumph helped Texas Western, 10-0, move into the No. 9 spot. The Miners were unranked last week.

Brigham Young slipped two notches to eighth after losing for the first time, 71-69 to LaSalle. UCLA, the 1964-65 NCAA champion, moved back into the rankings. The Bruins took over 10th place after winning the Los Angeles Classic.

Michigan, No. 7 a week ago, and Minnesota, No. 9, dropped out of the Top Ten. The Wolverines have lost four games and the Gophers three.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, records through games of Saturday, Jan. 1, and total points on a 10-9-8-7, etc. basis:

1. Duke 34	9-1	389
2. Kentucky 5	8-0	299
3. Vanderbilt 1	10-1	260
4. St. Joseph's, Pa. 9-2		197
5. Bradley 1	10-1	195
6. Providence 8-1		186

9. Texas Western 10-0		57
10. UCLA 7-3		47

City Slickers Lead Westerners

By The Associated Press

A trip of city slickers from New York have brought schoolyard basketball to cowboy country and nobody at Texas Western minds the infiltration.

The Miners rolled to their 11th straight victory Monday night, whipping Tulsa 63-54 at El Paso, as 5-foot-6 Willie Worsley led the attack with 18 points.

Worsley, reserve forward Willie Cager, and 6-foot-7 Nevil Shed, who says he's an inch taller and is the club's second best scorer, all learned their basketball on concrete courts in New York.

The ninth-ranked Miners started slowly but opened a 13-point lead by halftime and then coasted the rest of the way.

Three other ranked teams including Kentucky, the only other undefeated club, also won Monday night.

Adolph Rupp's Wildcats protected their No. 2 ranking with an 80-70 decision over St. Louis. Pat Riley and Louie Dampier paced Kentucky to its ninth straight, Riley scoring 24 and Dampier 20. Rich Parks led the visiting Billikens with 22.

Top-ranked Duke got 25 points from Jack Marin and 21 from Mike Lewis including 10 for 10 from the floor, and rapped Penn State 83-58, at Durham, N.C. The Nittany Lions, who won the Gator Bowl tourney last week, fell behind early and never recovered as Duke ran its record to 10-1.

Bradley, rated No. 5, scored its 11th victory in 12 starts with a 99-52 romp over St. Thomas of Minnesota. Ed Jackson with 21 points and Joe Allen with 20 led the Braves, who shot a sizzling 58 per cent on their home court at Peoria, Ill.

Dayton, 9-1, ripped Xavier 105-79 with sophomore Don May pumping in 45 points, second highest total in Flyer history. Henry Finkel, who scored 44 for Dayton last week, was held to nine, the second lowest total in his three-year varsity career.

Touring Syracuse ran into hot-shooting Creighton and bowed 103-87. Sophomore Wally Anderzunas led the winners with 23 including 10 of 14 field goal attempts. Syracuse's Dave Bing, averaging 31 points, managed just 20.

Dorrie Murray grabbed 32 rebounds and Lou Hyatt hit 22 points as Detroit whipped visiting West Texas State 68-57. Junior Gee's 20-foot jump shot with 20 seconds to play gave Miami an 88-87 thriller over Utah at Miami, Fla.

Crunching Crimson Tide Wins National Grid Crown

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Alabama's Crimson Tide, overwhelming victor over Nebraska in the Orange Bowl, was named the national collegiate football champion for the second straight year today in The Associated Press final poll of the season.

The verdict of a nationwide panel of 57 sports writers and sportscasters made it three titles in five years for Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant and gives 'Bama permanent possession of the big, silver AP trophy.

Ironically, when the Tide won last year, the poll was taken at the close of the regular season and 'Bama went on to lose to Texas in the Orange Bowl.

This year the final poll of the season was conducted after the New Year's bowl games — the first time it had been held until after the bowls — because the six top teams were in action New Year's Day.

And it was the unprecedented defeat of three hitherto unbeaten teams in the bowl games that vaulted Alabama to the national title.

Alabama, with an 8-1-1 record, was ranked fourth behind unbeaten Michigan State, Arkansas and Nebraska going into the New Year's games.

Top-ranked Michigan State was upset by UCLA 14-12 in the Rose Bowl, No. 2 Arkansas' 22-game winning string was halted 14-7 by Louisiana State in the Cotton Bowl and Alabama crushed No. 3 Nebraska 39-28 in the Orange Bowl.

Michigan State slipped to second and Arkansas to third in the final rankings. UCLA moved up from fifth to fourth and Nebraska dropped to fifth.

Following in order were Missouri, 20-18 winner over Florida in the Sugar Bowl, Tennessee, 27-6 winner over Tulsa in the Bluebonnet Bowl, LSU, Notre Dame and Southern California.

Texas Tech, ranked 10th at the end of the regular season but upset 31-21 by Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl, dropped out of the Top Ten and was replaced by Louisiana State.

Alabama polled 37 of the 57 first-place votes and piled up 537 points on the basis of 10 for a first-place vote, nine for second, eight for third, etc.

Michigan State collected 18 first-place votes and 479 points while Arkansas and UCLA both were named first on one ballot. Arkansas received 413 points, UCLA 391 and Nebraska 358.

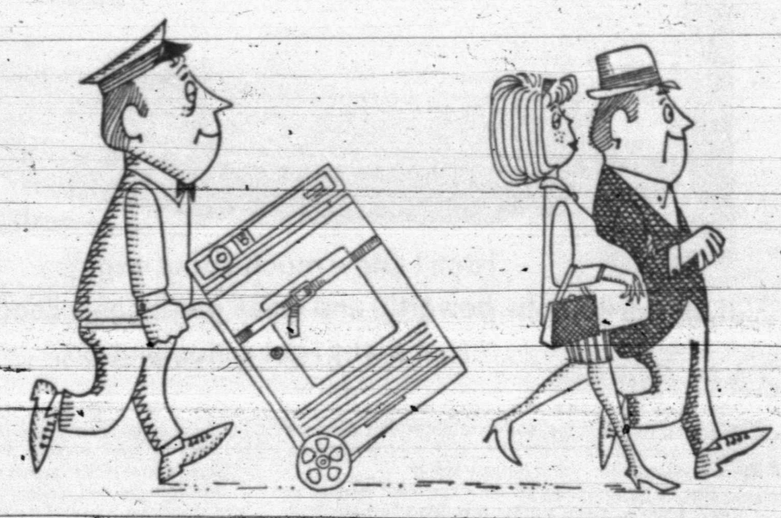

Alabama is the first team to win consecutive national titles since Oklahoma accomplished the feat in 1955 and 1956. 'Bama's two straight championships go with the 1961 title to make it three in five years for Bryant, who formerly coached at Texas A&M and Kentucky.

The three championships give Alabama permanent possession of the AP trophy, which goes to the first team to win three titles since the trophy has been up for competition. The trophy was put up for competition in 1957.

Another trophy will be put up next season.

The final Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records including bowl games, and total points on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, nine for second, eight for third, etc.:

1. Alabama 37	9-1-1	537
2. Michigan State 18	10-1	479
3. Arkansas 1	10-1	413
4. UCLA 1	8-2-1	391
5. Nebraska	10-1	358
6. Missouri	8-2-1	260
7. Tennessee	8-1-2	214
8. Louisiana State	8-3	149
9. Notre Dame	7-2-1	123
10. Southern California	7-2-1	88

US Is Strictly Spectator In Confab About Kashmir

By SPENCER DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States would be surprised if there were any quick agreement between India's Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri and Pakistan's President Mohammed Ayub Khan at the Soviet-sponsored peace talks beginning today in Tashkent.

U.S. officials closely following the situation were of the opinion that any tangible progress between the two nations in their dispute over the fate of Kashmir would have to be laboriously hammered out. Fighting, which broke out three months ago, has been suspended under a cease-fire agreement, although both sides have charged violations.

The official U.S. attitude is to wish the negotiators well, but to keep hands off and not raise expectations of any quick resumption of U.S. economic or military assistance to either disputant.

The United States has made known to both Ayub and Shastri that an agreement between the two countries which would begin to carry out the United Nations Security Council resolution calling for a withdrawal of the opposing forces from Kashmir would be necessary for further help.

This does no include the supply of American surplus food to India or Pakistan. Officials said that the United States would not use food to help speed a settlement of political differences when India is faced by a potential famine.

Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin personally arranged the Ayub-Shastri talks, in the central Asian city and it was agreed here that neither the United States nor the Soviet Union would like to see Chinese Communist influence increase in South Asia.

At the same time it was recognized that the Soviets would not mind seeing U.S. influence dashed in both India and Pakistan, and Washington would not be upset if the Soviet mediation effort tarnished the Russian image in both countries.

The United States has more to lose, it was conceded, than the Soviets because Pakistan has been a U.S. military ally on the southern frontier of the Soviet Union. The Russians have wooed Pakistan with the argument that if Pakistan no longer felt threatened by the Soviet Union, China or India, it would have no need for an alliance with the United States.

Thus it is realized that there are high diplomatic stakes being played in the Tashkent talks.

But while the United States is not present, the $345 million in economic assistance to India, in addition to food supplies, and the $250 million which the United States has been expected to provide to Pakistan for economic development, are powerful cards for Uncle Sam — the absent player at the conference table.

Transit Strike Leaves Executives Doing Own Chores

By PHILIP J. KEUPER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — New York City's transit strike is leaving thousands of "essential" executives alone at their desks sleeve-deep in paper work usually done by "unessential" secretaries and clerks who stayed home.

Mayor John V. Lindsay had appealed earlier to workers to stay out of the city unless they were "essential," but he didn't say who was essential.

In many offices Monday it was a strange picture: the boss opening his own mail, running errands, getting his own coffee.

It was enough, you might say, to make an executive wonder who was essential — he or the secretary. If he was, then what was he doing opening the mail?

"Usually you get hit with something like a snowstorm and the executives stay home," said one company official. "Looking around me, I see more executives than clerks."

This was the result of a selective effect. Much of the city's vast clerical population lives in Queens, the Bronx and other areas dependent upon buses and subways.

Their bosses, usually more affluent, often live in the suburbs from which trains and buses were running. Or else they live in fashionable East Side Manhattan areas within walking distance of the office.

New York Life Insurance Co. said 58 per cent of its 4,300 workers were out on the first business day of the strike — but that the great number of executive and managerial people were at their desks.

Equitable Life Assurance Society said about half its work force appeared.

"Where material has to go out, management people are rolling up their sleeves and doing clerical jobs," said a company spokesman. "Routine matters we just have to let ride."

Some banks opened late. Many said they were behind in processing checks.

Experts Plan For Comfort Of Spacemen

By RONALD THOMPSON

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — Astronauts look forward to the day they can stand and stretch in their spaceship, then sip on a good, hot morning cup of coffee before settling down to a busy day in space.

If man is to ever be comfortable in space, such little luxuries as hot coffee, hot food and sponge baths must be provided, says Dr. Charles A. Berry, the Gemini medical director.

Air Force Lt. Col. Frank Borman and Navy Cmdr. James A. Lovell Jr. returned from 14 days in space aboard Gemini 7 confident man can spent any length of time he desires in space — as long as he is comfortable.

"You have to provide the crew comforts so that people cannot only just stay up there — which really doesn't prove much — but to function up there," Borman said.

Berry echoed their feelings Monday at a news conference.

"They (Borman and Lovell) were able to get along with what they had," he said. "But now we should look at more things like being able to wash, more skin care and better food.

"For example, a hot cup of coffee in the morning. If we're going to make space a place to live and work in comfort, we're going to have to look at these things."

He spoke of a need for "larger type spacecraft where man can move around and look ahead to something like 30 days."

Borman and Lovell removed their spacesuits during their flight. Berry said he felt that if the suits had not been doffed a full 14-day flight would have been jeopardized.

Records Show LBJ Tried, But Peace Prospects Dim

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even if President Johnson succeeds in his spectacular efforts to get Vietnamese peace talks started — and there is no sign he will — prospects for any meaningful settlement are dim.

His efforts, if unsuccessful, at least will do much to mute criticism here and abroad about his administration's willingness to seek a peaceful settlement and halt the killing.

But it is hard to see how there could be any final agreement between the United States and the North Vietnamese Communists without one side or the other backing down and admitting defeat, even without saying so.

Last April Johnson said he was willing to have "unconditional discussions" with the Reds but he also said he intended to keep this country's "promise" to the South Vietnamese to preserve their independence.

He said, in explaining that the "appetite of aggression is never satisfied," that "we will not withdraw either openly or under the cloak of meaningless agreement."

He added that "peace demands an independent Viet Nam."

But the Communist answer to that was: The United States must withdraw its forces from South Viet Nam and let the people of both Viet Nams settle their internal affairs themselves."

President Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam has just repeated that position in the midst of Johnson's efforts of the past few days to get the Communists to a conference table.

If there should be agreement by the Communists now to discuss peace — or just to discuss ways to discuss peace — there might be a halt of some kind in the shooting for the time being.

But the anguished question is how could either side agree to a final settlement — in view of what each side has said its terms were — without retreating from the very conditions it said were necessary for peace?

If peace demands an independent South Viet Nam, as Johnson said, only a dreamer could imagine South Viet Nam remaining independent very long once American troops were withdrawn.

The Communists wouldn't have to invade from the north. Their arm, the Viet Cong, would still be in South Viet Nam, either under cover or in the open, ready to grab the South Viet Nam government when they could.

No one can reasonably say the Viet Cong would not already, and perhaps long ago, have seized all of Viet Nam if it had not been for the presence of American troops.

The South Vietnamese government was so incapable of defending itself the United States had to move into the war itself.

If the North Vietnamese agreed now that there could be a settlement without American withdrawal, they'd be backing down, since they have insisted there can be no withdrawal without the opposite happening.

The two sides have put themselves into such a box with their opposite statements and conditions that any real agreement is bound to look distant if not impossible any time soon.

Junior Editors Quiz on AUTOMOBILES

QUESTION: Are modern autos much like the first ones?

• • •

ANSWER: Our artist has lined a group of older cars up in a sequence which will give you an over-all idea of automobile development. The first gasoline-powered cars were originated in Europe in the 1860's. The first successful American gasoline car was the Duryea of 1893. It had wagon-type wheels and lights and was a true "hotseless carriage." The breakthrough of American car-making came in 1909, when Henry Ford's Model T, produced by mass production methods, began rolling in great numbers off the assembly line. This remarkably cheap but efficient car is said to have "put America on wheels." The Chevrolet of 1913 looks more modern, with its curved rear fenders. The Pontiac, in 1926, shows the closed-in sedan body with glass windows, but cars were still high and boxy looking. The Mercury of 1939 shows a decided streamlined trend, away from the box-like look. The Kaiser was modeling the longer, lower look around 1947. With the Edsel of 1958, cars were still lower and wider, but had larger windows. Cars of recent years have become very wide and flat, but a trend toward softening or rounding the lines seems observable in the latest models. In some of these, front lights are concealed, which adds to the streamlined look.

FOR YOU TO DO: Study car advertisements of the 1966 models and see if you can find out what makes them look different from the older models. 1-4

Boyle Says Walk Softly In New Year

by HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Don't throw bricks in '66. As best we can make it out, 1966 will be a poor year in which to rock the boat — and a good one in which to learn the art of walking on eggs.

The road signs say, "Go slow" and "Sharp curves ahead."

Economically speaking, the world outlook is mixed. This means that in most countries the rich will get more money and the poor will get more promises.

On the international front these possibilities cannot be overlooked:

Charles de Gaulle of France will offer to go to China to launch a worldwide peace offensive. The NATO nations will immediately offer him a rowboat in which to make the journey.

Moscow will claim new evidence to prove that the swivel chair, paper clip and bubble gum were originally invented by 18th century Russian scientists working in Minsk, Pinsk and Omsk.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Britain will announce to a startled Parliament that an elderly baronet on a bird-watching trip to Wales has sighted a grossbilled twithatch, a species believed extinct. Later, in an emergency apology broadcast over BBC, he will declare that fuller investigation has disclosed the bird in question was actually a grosstwitted hatchbill, a bird of quite a different feather.

The man in the moon will appeal to the United Nations for relief, asserting that the noise level of rocket-firing space craft are threatening to make his life unendurable.

In a peace move in the war over highway beautification, the billboard people will offer Lady Bird a post as their industry arbiter.

President Johnson will sign an executive order granting Vice President Humphrey an airlines credit card good for trips anywhere in the world. He will use 102 pens — a record — in signing the order.

In other fields look for:

Education — Harvard will award an honorary degree as doctor of literature to Cassius Clay "for inestimable contributions to the English language."

Sports — Some pro football team will sign a college quarterback for $50 a week plus room and board but insist that he pay for his own laundry.

Medicine — A new wonder pill will be developed that won't cure you of anything but will make the payment of doctor bills less painful. The American Medical Association will oppose it as another step to socialized medicine.

All in all, 1966 promises to be a busy, exciting year full of thrills. Just take it easy — and don't cross the streets in the middle of the block — and you make it safely to 1967.

An estimated $455 million will be spent by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in 1966 to combat and cure mental illness and retardation.

Actor Ronald Reagan Ready To Seek Nomination.

By BILL BOYARSKY

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Film star Ronald Reagan is ready to step onto California's hectic political stage today with the announcement that he will seek the Republican nomination for governor.

Reagan, at a news conference, is expected to spell out publicly what his aides have been saying privately — that he has decided to enter what is likely to be a bitter GOP primary race.

Time has been purchased on 16 television stations throughout California for a showing tonight of a half-hour film in which the 54-year-old star of the television series "Death Valley Days" will disclose his intentions.

His decision to run would pit Reagan against former Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco and Laughlin E. Waters, who has served in the Assembly and as U.S. attorney for Southern California. A San Rafael cosmetics manufacturer, William Patrick, who also has announced his candidacy, is little known in party circles.

Republicans who class themselves as moderates are backing Christopher and Waters. Reagan, 1964 cochairman of California Citizens for Goldwater-Miller, has the support of GOP conservatives.

Reagan, in using Hollywood fame to launch a political career, would be the second show business personality to try for high office in California. George Murphy, another Republican, was elected U.S. senator in 1964.

Reagan has been touring the state for months, attacking Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown — who is expected to run for a third term — and attempting to find out if "I am the man who can draw the backing of a broad cross section of our party."

Reagan, a registered Democrat until two years ago, won a reputation as a campaigner with a nationally televised speech for GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater in 1964.

He worked as a Democrat for Republican Richard M. Nixon in the 1960 presidential election and says he voted for Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956.

In films since the late 1930s, Reagan was president of the Screen Actors Guild from 1947 to 1952 and in 1959. He was twice chairman of the Motion Picture Industry Council, which represents union and management.

Amnesia Victim United With Family

SINTON, Tex. (AP)—Jimmie Kennedy, 16, was watching television at home in New Albany, Ind., the night of June 20 when the rest of his family went to bed.

Until Monday, when he greeted his father with a happy shout, the parents, threee brothers and two sisters had no idea what had become of him.

Police Chief Joe Garcia of Mathis, near here in South Texas, said Jimmie, an apparent amnesia patient, likewise appears to know nearly nothing about where he has been or what he has done in the intervening six months.

He is believed to have traveled part of the time with a carnival and may have figured in an auto accident.

Jimmie and his father were reunited at Memorial Medical Center in Corpus Christi, where the youth was taken for a physical checkup.

"Dad!" shouted Jimmie and darted down a corridor into the arms of the father, James H. Kennedy, a machinist.

"He recognized me immediately," said the elder Kennedy.

Garcia said it seemed possible that the reunion might enable the youth to recall more details at a hearing today before juvenile judge Bill Smith.

"He's in good physical condition and wants to go home with me," the father said.

Garcia said police stopped Jimmie for questioning at a Mathis washateria last weekend and found he could not remember his name, where he lived or what he had been doing. He had a flashlight, a bicycle and a worn bedroll.

Officers asked him to write any name entering his mind and he scrawled "New Albany." They telephoned authorities there.

The inquiry brought Kennedy to identify his missing son. He and a friend, Melvin Townsend, drove 26 hours, stopping only for gasoline and food.

Garcia said no trace had been found of the family automobile in which the youth was believed to have left home.

"He can remember a lot of glass and he can recall trying to maneuver a steering wheel that would not turn," the police chief reported.

He carried a ticket stub indicating he traveled by bus from Manhattan, Kan., through Perry, Okla.

Officers found a saxophone belonging to Jimmie at Beeville, also in this area.

"He used to live and breathe that sax," his father said. "He doesn't even remember that horn now."

Jimmie asked about his mother after recognizing pictures of her with his brothers and sisters.

"I think when he gets in his own environment things will start falling into place," said the elder Kennedy.

Harvesting Delayed By Dampness

AUSTIN (AP)—Damp, foggy mornings last week delayed the Texas cotton harvest.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture said Monday about 92 per cent of the 1965 cotton crop has been gathered, compared with 97 per cent at this time a year ago.

One full week of cotton stripping without any delays would about wind up the 1965 crop, the department's weekly crop and weather report estimated.

Sorghum stubble plowing was completed on the Plains but wet soils held back land preparation in central and south Texas.

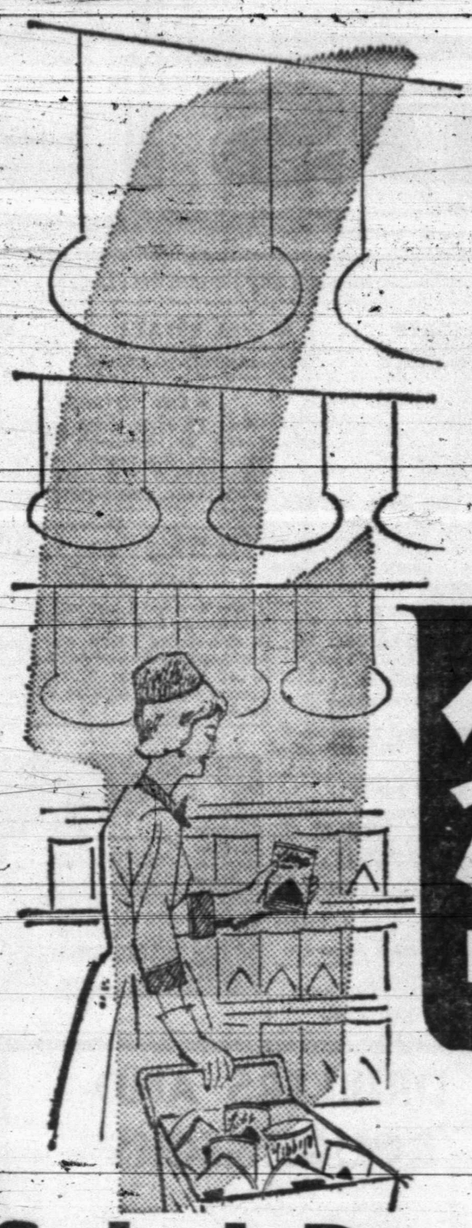

The Plains sector still needs a good, soaking rain to replenish soil moisture for wheat. Leaf rust is prevelant in nearly all of the state's wheat fields.

Oat prospects continued good and flax responded to warm temperatures, making good growth.

Clear weather in the Rio Grande Valley dried fields and permitted normal harvest of winter vegetables. Untimely rains in that area, however, have caused grapefruit to "size too rapidly, resulting in oversupply of large sized fruit," the department said.

Winter wheat on the High Plains furnished adequate grazing for livestock but dryland wheat is becoming short.

Since it was opened in 1955, some 50 million people have visited Disneyland, near Anaheim, Calif.

Federal Budget Plays Big Role

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — What actions of the government can foster inflation? What can the government do to halt or moderate a general rise in prices and loss of purchasing power by the dollar?

The cost of the Viet Nam War — how much money the government will pump into the economy through military spending — will play a big part in answering these questions.

A big Treasury deficit could have more effect on the course of inflation than isolated instances of price rises, such as Bethlehem Steel's $5 a ton boost in structural steel prices.

So right now, the talk about inflation centers most of all on what the new federal budget will hold. Will it be bigger spending, tax changes, a growing Treasury deficit? The new budget could do a lot to an expanding economy already pushing against the ceilings of production capacity and available skilled labor.

A budget deficit always can be a stimulant, mild or strong depending upon circumstances, to the economy. Some fear that a big Treasury deficit now might turn an expanding economy into an inflation-minded boom with prices getting out of hand and wage demands skyrocketing.

Another tax cut, as once hoped for in 1966, would give both the economy and the federal deficit a big boost — at the risk of triggering a boom and bust.

Increased taxes could hold down the size of the expected deficit and curb the threat of monetary inflation. But some fear that tax hikes also could halt economic growth and might even lead to a recession.

Holding down government spending, whether for the military or the growing demands of the "Great Society" programs, could keep the Treasury deficit in line and slow the rising national debt. But here, too, the risk is in halting the economic expansion that otherwise would soon be entering its sixth year.

If the fears of a minority of economists are realized and inflation really gets going, what are the ways to stop it?

Some old-school economists still favor what they call natural correction. This says that inflation will take care of itself if the government doesn't tinker with the money supply. When prices get too high, demand dries up and employment drops. When wages get too high, it is unprofitable to hire more men. So prices and wages get back into line.

At the other extreme are those who plug for direct wage and price controls. These are unpopular and unlikely short of all-out war conditions.

Then there are fringe controls. Curbs can be put on credit so that it's hard to find money to finance speculative ventures.

Ex-Policemen Now Deputies

DALLAS (AP)—Three of the six city policemen fired Sept. 23 for loafing in a cemetery have been employed as special deputies in the Dallas County sheriff's office.

Sheriff Bill Decker said Monday he also might employ another of the six patrolmen.

He said the three, each hired at $450 a month, will serve as bailiffs, escorting prisoners from the jail in the old courthouse to courtrooms in the new building.

"It is difficult to find men who know how to handcuff and move prisoners properly," Decker said.

The three men are Gillis Temple, J. M. Valentine and A. R. Brock.

Dallas To Vote On Flouridation

DALLAS (AP)— Residents of Dallas will vote Jan. 29 on whether to fluoridate city water.

City councilmen already had ordered this step last August. Opponents of the controversial move forced a special election, howinger, by filing petitions signed by the required five per cent of Dallas voters.

With little discussion, council members Monday adopted an ordinance to make use of any fluoride in city water illegal, leaving it up to voters to approve or reject the measure.

Man, Tuffy's Pad Is Nothing But Cool

PLAINVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Tuffy wanted to stay warm. But, man, when he went to his pad, he found it nothing but cool.

A Boston bulldog pet of the Dr. Ralph Thomas family, Tuffy received an electric heating pad as a Christmas present.

Comfortable nights in the dog house followed until last week, when the house caught fire. Dr. Thomas said apparently the pad shorted, igniting hay on the floor.

Firemen were called. The dog house was destroyed and about 10 feet of a fence damaged.

Tuffy moved indoors to sleep on his master's bed.

US Gives Green Light To Mohole

WASHINGTON (AP) — A full-speed-ahead order has been given to start building the huge ocean-going drill platform for "Project Mohole," it was learned today.

"Mohole" is a $108-million venture by the American government to drill a hole six miles deep through ocean and earth in man's deepest penetration of the planet.

The assault — expected to have a rich scientific pay-off — is scheduled to begin in late 1968 or early 1969, and take about three years.

The project is aimed at getting new knowledge of the earth's origin, structure and minerals — and of how Mother Earth brews her devastating earthquakes and volcanoes.

Geophysicist Gordon Lill, Mohole project manager for the National Science Foundation, told a reporter a go-ahead order, effective today, has been given the National Steel & Ship Building Co. of San Diego to proceed with the construction of the weird drill device whose floating platform will be bigger than a football field.

Lill said preliminary work on actual construction would include driving some huge pilings into the harbor floor, and tearing away part of a pier to make way for erection of the drill platform. Construction itself will take about two years.

When operational, it will be in effect, a giant, unanchored raft poised high above the sea and supported by six columns attached to submersible, submarine-like hulls. a 240-foot derrick will rise from the deck. The craft will be strong enough to withstand winds of hurricane force.

December Was Decade's Mildest

By The Associated Press

A long Indian summer that began in November continued through December in Texas to give winter one of its gentlest starts of the decade.

Property damage from violent weather was slight. One death and two injuries could be attributed to meteorological causes.

A man died in the San Antonio area Dec. 2 when his jeep was swept off a road by flood waters. Two persons were injured Dec. 11 when one of two tornadoes about five miles south of Marshall struck a home.

Thunderstorms rumbled across the eastern side of the South Plains on Dec. 23, dropping light hail in some sections and spawning a tornado about 15 miles south of Slaton. The tornado proved harmless.

North Texas basked mostly in sunshine and temperatures that averaged 4 to 6 degrees above normal. South Texas had it good, too, with temperatures 2 to 4 degrees above the medians.

Fort Worth experienced its warmest December in 32 years and the Beaumont-Port Arthur area with the warmest December since 1956.

During the first week of December, good rains fell along and southeast of a line linking Wichita Falls, Abilene and Del Rio. About the middle of the month good rains fell over the state.

The Beaumont-Port Arthur area, with subnormal rainfall all year, measured its best 1965 rains in December—69 inch above normal.

Despite the good rains, however, only southern, south central and southeastern sections had above normal precipitation for the month.

For the year, North Central, and South Central Texas, plus portions of the Panhandle received above normal rainfall. Elsewhere, Texas had subnormal precipitation.

December precipitation, normal for month, departure for month, cumulative precipitation for year, and percentage of normal for the year, respectively:

Charged In Baby's Death

WOODLAND, Calif. (AP)— A Durango, Colo., man awaits a preliminary hearing Friday on charges of murder in the fatal beating of an 18-month-old girl.

Police said Joe E. Ballard, 19, admitted spanking the baby, Brenda, but said she died from falls off a toilet seat, kitchen chair and bed.

The small body was found wrapped in a car floor mat and stuffed in a supermarket trash can.

Ballard and the child's mother, Linda Foster, 17, were arrested in Amarillo, Tex., on charges of vagrancy. She was turned over to juvenile authorities.

A coroner said the baby died of a cerebral hemorrhage.

University Celebrates

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — In a brief ceremony in Kirkpatrick Chapel, Gov. Richard J. Hughes signs a proclamation today officially marking the start of Rutgers University's bicentennial celebration.

The state university got its start on Nov. 10, 1766 — 10 years before the signing of the declaration of independence — under a charter granted by King George III.

It was the eighth college founded in the British-ruled colonies, but it took five years of fund raising before the tiny college opened its doors to students in what had been the sign of the Red Lion Tavern in downtown New Brunswick.

Today, Rutgers lists 24,936 students in credit courses in 16 colleges and divisions throughout the state, and almost that number again enrolled in extension courses.
