FLIERS HAVE 390 HOURS TO CREDIT TODAY

CRASH IS FATAL TO ONE IN MINNESOTA ENDURANCE SHIP

(By Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 29.—Dale (Red) Jackson and Forest O'Brien, fliers of the "St. Louis Robin," had completed 390 hours in the air at 1:17 p. m., today and had exceeded the endurance record of "The Angeleno" by 144 hours, or six full days.

The pilots kept the Robin in its usually wide circles as they added approximately $2 a minute for their time aloft.

No indication of when the motor would croon its swan song was apparent as the airmen went into their seventeenth day. According to Major William B. Robertson of the Curtiss Robertson company sponsoring the flight, body troubles have not bothered the fliers although the Angelenio and the City of Cleveland were forced down by such causes. He attributed that to the use of welded metal tubing and alloys in the wing ribs and propeller.

Crowds Watch Plane

Officials of the field estimated a total of 60,000 watched the plane during yesterday, 10,000 more than last Sunday, previous to the breaking of the record. There were other attractions, including an airplane race, parachute jumps, and an exhibition of "balloon busting" by breaking toy balloons.

Art Goebel, California to Hawaii flier, was one of the visitors yesterday and sent aloft a note, "go to it boys, you are certainly doing a wonderful job. Another great step in aviation. Kindest regards."

Jackson's father, Henry "Pa" Jackson, returned to his dairy and poultry farm at Faribault, Minn., yesterday to "look after things." He expects to return Friday.

PRISON RIOT BREAKS OUT

CONVICTS LEAD 1,700 IN REVOLT; FOUR ESCAPE; 2 DIE

(By Associated Press)

AUBURN, N. Y., July 29.—Fifty long-term convicts at Auburn state prison yesterday led a revolt of the 1,700 inmates, captured the prison arsenal with its stock of approximately 50 rifles and four machine guns, stormed the main gates, fired several prison shops, with an estimated loss of $500,000 and shot four guards, one seriously.

Four convicts escaped from the prison in the first rush, two of the mutineers were killed by the fire of the guards, and a third was wounded seriously.

Guards Unaware

A mere handful of guards, two thirds of the staff being off duty because it was Sunday, beat back the first attack. Then reinforced by the remaining guards, hastily recalled, and by state troopers, they held a yelling, surging mob of convicts at bay until the outbreak spent its force and quiet was restored.

The four convicts who escaped, were. George Small, serving 12 years for robbery. Joseph Caprico, serving

MAN KILLS WIFE AND DAUGHTER

PORTALES, N. M., July 29 (AP)—Walking into a hotel room where his wife was visiting his daughter, Mrs. Ed Barker, B. F. Bouldin, a Portales valley farmer, shot both women to death. No reason could be assigned for the slayings.

Bouldin was arrested immediately after the shooting. A coroner's inquest was to be held today.

Bouldin is the father of Maurice Bouldin, assistant cashier of the First National bank of Portales.

Half A Million Workers Strike

MANCHESTER, England, July 29.—Half a million cotton trade workers struck this morning, closing down 1,500 mills, when employers refused to recede from their intention to cut wages 12 1-2 percent.

The strike was automatic, having been decided upon Saturday. It affected almost the entire Lancashire cotton industry with the exception of a few plants outside the employers federation which were still operating.

It was the outgrowth of continued depression in the textile trade which three weeks ago led to an announcement by employers that a 12 1-2 per cent reduction in wages would be effective Saturday.

Nearly every city and town in Lancashire is affected by the strike, which is expected to cause a loss in wages of about L1,000,000 (about $5,000,000) weekly.

Mills whose owners are not members of the Masters' federation announced they could continue paying the old wage rate temporarily. They employ only a few thousand workers.

Based on Piece Work

The Lancashire wage scales are based on piece work with complicated lists.

There was some feeling some sort of government action still could save the day and prevent the misery and financial depression which inevitably follows British trade disputes. In this event the operating spinning section probably would ask for resumption of negotiations on their own account. It is expected the mill owners would meet them half way.

Among the mills remaining working were those of the Broadhurst Lee company at Manchester, employing 1,000 hands, and another of the same firm at Bolton, employing 2,000 hands. There were 17 mills working at Bolton, two at Preston, and several at Radcliffe and Rosendale.

EFFECT OF PRICE OF COTTON IS FEARED

LIVERPOOL, July 29. (AP)—The lockout in the Lancashire cotton industry today caused an uncertain and apprehensive atmosphere in the Liverpool cotton market, members fearing that its effect would be quickly felt on prices.

If the dispute is prolonged it will affect workers on the River Mersey

NATION HIT BY TERRIFIC HOT WEATHER

SCORES REPORTED DEAD AT POINTS OVER U. S. SUNDAY

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 29.—The country lay under a heat wave today.

In various sections Sunday temperatures approached the century mark. The highest point for the day was 98 degrees, which was reported from such widespread points as Albany, N. Y., Baltimore, Phoenix, Ariz., St. Louis, and Washington. The mercury stood at 92 in Montreal Boston, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Detroit, Philadelphia, Portland, Ore., and San Antonio, Texas.

Seven Persons Drowned

New York City, where the temperature was 92, was deserted by about 3,000,000 people who sought comfort by jamming nearby beaches and filling highways leaving the city. Seven persons were drowned in the metropolitan area.

The drought, which has been virtually unbroken for a month, gave further cause for alarm to farmers

LEAHY APPEAL TO BE FILED

HABEAS CORPUS WRIT TO BE SOUGHT IN APPEALS COURT

(By Associated Press)

GEORGETOWN, July 29.—Harry J. Leahy, who for nearly three years has fought doggedly to escape punishment for the torture murder of Dr. J. A. Ramsey of Mathis, prepared today to go, through counsel before one more court with his scheduled electrocution but four days away.

Leahy's lawyers announced appeal from the verdict of a jury here Saturday holding the convicted slayer sane. Just what form their action would take remained undisclosed, but it was believed here that they would seek a writ of habeas corpus from the court of Criminal Appeals in view of the fact that a direct regular appeal of the finding is impossible under Texas law.

OFFICIALS ASK STAY FOR JUAN FLORES

AUSTIN, July 29. (AP)—Juan Flores, the most reprieved occupant of the death cell at Huntsville prison, is likely to draw another stay of execution or a commutation of sentence by Governor Moody, His electrocution is set for shortly after midnight.

Officials who had a part in the prosecution of Flores have petitioned the governor to grant the stay expressing the belief that another party committed the crime.

Two Killed Today In Crash Of Plane

ST. ROOM CROWDED WITH VISITORS AS I. C. C. MEET IS OPENED

(By Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, July 29.—The meeting room was crowded with rail officials and other visitors today for the Interstate Commerce Commission hearing at which proposed rail extensions into the Panhandle and Plains territory will be considered. The hearing began at 10 a. m.

Arrangements were made to accommodate more than 300 persons.

No Competition

From the general run of conversation, it was indicated that the hearing would not lack for competition and genuine interest of the parties concerned. Besides the officials and legal representatives of the two railroads whose applications to build rail extensions into the North Plains and Panhandle sections of Texas, there were a number of Chamber of Commerce officials and others who expected to speak for towns whihc would be affected by the new roads. The applications are being made by the Fort Worth and Denver Northern and the Frisco and Rock Island railways.

MOODY AWAITS VOTE COUNT

AUSTIN, July 29 (AP)—Governor Moody has made up his mind on appointees to the supreme court under the contstitutional amendment proposing an increase from three to nine members, he said today.

"Looks like everybody in Texas wants to get on the supreme court bench," he said, as he pointed to a stack of letters urging the appointment of lawyers and jurists from all sections of Texas.

"I have already decided who to appoint, but of course I will not release their names until it has been determined definitely the amendment was authorized."

Doubt that the amendment had carried was growing in the state capitol as returns collected by private individuals showed that both the supreme court change and the governor's salary increase were apparently beaten

DR. ECKENER ORDERS DEPARTURE FOR WEDNESDAY

(By Associated Press)

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, July 29—Feverish activity prevailed today in the Zeppelin Company works tomake the big airship Graf Zeppelin ready for her second flight over the Atlantic to America Wednesday morning.

Dr. Hugo Eckner, commander of the dirigible, advanced the date for its departure after yesterday's successful test flight over Southern Germany showed all the new motors were working satisfactorily. Failure of the motors spoiled the attempt of the Graf Zeppelin to fly to America in May.

A large part of the freight was stowed away this morning. It included a Rubens painting, a grand piano and several gorillas instead of the one on the unsuccessful voyage. There also was a bust of the late Baron Von Huenefeld, one of the aviators on the German trans-Atlantic airplane Bremen.

Warning Issued On Livestock Hauling

Citing a law providing fine for transportation of livestock or fowls without a permit, Sheriff Wade Hardy and Chief of Police John Lemond issued warnings today that arrests will be made when violators of the law are found on highways of the county or in streets of the city.

The new act, passed by the 41st legislature, requires drivers of trucks, automobiles and other vehicles to have and exhibit to peace officers upon demand a written permit covering movements of livestock and domestic fowls contained therein or to make written statement in the absence of said permit.

Violation of the law subjects one to a fine not less than $25 and not more than $200.

French Woman Is Claiming Record

LE BOURGET, France, July 29 (AP)—Mlle. Maryse Bastie, French woman aviator, landing her plane early today claimed to have made a new endurance record, remaining aloft 26 hours and 46 minutes. This she claimed was 22 minutes more than the mark held by Elinor Smith.

Mlle. Sastie landed this morning after a night in the for and five hours of rain.

WAREHOUSE PILFERED OF CIGARETTES

THIRTY-FIVE CASES ARE TAKEN DURING ROBBERY

Enough cigarettes to supply the smoking population of Lubbock for one week were stolen some time Sunday night when burglars trucked away 320,000 "smokes," valued at $2,000, from the Davis and Humphrey warehouse, 901 Avenue F.

Entrance was gained to the building by prying open a window to the office, from where the door was broken into the warehouse. Door to the warehouse was then opened and the loot, composed of 35 cases of cigarets, was hauled away.

Only Articles Taken

A thorough inspection of stock early today indicated that cigarets were the only merchandise stolen.

The Davis and Humphrey warehouse is located in the wholesale district, where no night watchman is employed by the city, according to J. T. Inmon, judge of the city corporation court. When questioned this morning by a Daily Journal reporter, Judge Inmon made no announcement of the incident, explaining later by telephone that he had received no report from night watchmen.

No clues developed in investigation today.

The plane plunged into the old concrete automobile racing track encircling the field just five minutes after the ground crew had picked up a message from the fliers saying "everything is going fine."

Preparing Refueling

Preparations for making another refueling contact were under way by the ground crew before the ship went into a spin.

Crichton was instantly killed and Haughland was rushed to a hospital.

The plane had been in the air 154 hours, 40 minutes.

The ground crew was unable to ascribe any reason for the crash. Some witnesses believed that the fliers sacrificed too much flying speed to drop what was their last message. They were up only 200 feet when the plane went into a spin.

Sixth Attempt

It was Hauglandʼs sixth attempt to set an endurance record, and Crichton's first. At 12:12 a. m. today "The Minnesota" had passed the previous mark of 149 hours achieved by Haugland and Thorwald Johnson last June. On that flight Haugland and Johnson were forced down by motor trouble.

Previously, Haugland and Gene Shank had attempted four times to set an endurance record.

Haugland was taken to Ft. Snelling hospital. Doctors after a hurried examination said he apparently had a skull fracture and possibly a fractured jaw. His condition was critical.

health and sanitary conditions.

The communications are from South Dakota, Idaho, California, Wyoming, Utah, New Hampshire, Iowa, Oklahoma, Nevada, Colorado, South Carolina, Minnesota, Kansas, Indiana, Georgia, Rhode Island, New Mexico, New York, Virginia, the eastern and western state prisons of Pennsylvania, the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., and several houses of correction.

From the information furnished, the Texas commission hopes to solve the problem of financial drain which the state penitentiary has caused, to train convicts for useful occupations and to prevent escapes which have been numerous at prison farms.

RAIL HEARING

granting of a permit to the road means the most to our city," he said. "Of all the railroad connections in West Texas we are particularly interested in the application of the Denver for their proposed extension will give us direct connection with rich trade territory that we do not now touch. I expect to go on record at the earliest possible moment in the hearing in the interest of the Denver."

Pawkett Present

U. S. Pawkett, secretary and traffic manager of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce, announced he would represent the interests of the Gulf and West Texas railroad in the hearing. His efforts will be backed up by R. L. McLennan, traffic manager for the Corpus Christi Chamber of Commerce.

The two railroads will present the following proposals

The Fort Worth and Denver Northern—extension of their lines from Childress to Pampa.

Frisco and Rock Island—extension of Rock Island from Shamrock southeast to a point in Wilbarger county to join with the Frisco, the Frisco to build from Vernon to Seymour, where it would connect with Gulf, Texas and Western. The Frisco will ask to buy the Gulf, Texas and Western, running to Jacksboro, where connection would be made into Fort Worth.

In a recent hearing before the Ft. Worth association of commerce, representatives of the Frisco and the Rock Island lines stated officials of that road would not be interested in making their proposed extensions should the I. C. C. grant both roads permits to build. The Denver would build its extension whether it alone or both roads are given permission, representatives of that road declared.

The Nanking government will spend nearly $1,500,000 in erecting residential buildings in Nanking, China.

TO TRY AGAIN

TACOMA, Wash., July 29 (AP).—Lieut. Harold Bromley, above, whose specially constructed monoplane was wrecked here yesterday when he attempted to take off on a non-stop flight to Tokyo, expects to try it again within 60 days.

Heavily loaded, the low-slung plane sped down a specially built ramp and whirled into a "ground loop" after had been blinded by gasoline spray from the craft's fully loaded tanks.

CRIMINAL CASES GIVEN TRANSFERS

Eleven criminal cases previously docketed for trial this week have been transferred to week beginning August 12, County Judge Robert H. Bean announced today.

Cases scheduled are: State of Texas vs. H. L. McCandless, charged with carrying a pistol; Clinton Nobles, charged with carrying a pistol; A. V. Turner, charged with carrying a pistol; A. A. Young, charged with violation of the sanitary plumbing code; Ernest Driver, charged aggravated assault and battery; Jesse Jones, charged with aggravated assault and battery; T. M. Nowlin, charged with simple assault; Bill Tomerlin, charged with carrying a pistol; A. H. Cholson, charged with aggravated assault; Jim Means, charged with aggravated assault and battery; James Green, charged with procuring.

HEAT WAVE

and brought to Canada a forest fire situation which Dominion officials believe to be the most serious since 1923. While crops were wilting throughout the Atlantic seaboard states and eastern Canada, and the wheat crop of western Canada was reported hopelessly scorched, produce farmers in the metropolitan district faced ruin unless the drought ended speedily.

MIDWEST WAITS FOR RELIEF FROM HEAT

CHICAGO, July 29. (AP)—The midwest waited hopefully today for the relief promised by government weather forecasters from the torrid temperatures of the past few days. The relief, however, was expected to be slight and brief.

Beaches and highways were crowded over the week-end by hundreds of thousands of persons seeking temporary respite from the uncomfortable weather. In Chicago alone, approximately 350,000 bathers crowded the beaches yesterday, while Milwaukee and other lake cities reported large crowds.

Drownings Great

The week-end holidays, recorded their customary toll of death. Highway accidents were few, but drownings were greater in number than in any recent previous week-end. Twenty persons were reported drowned in Michigan and nearby points.

Thirty-five men were overcome by the heat while marching in an American Legion parade at Decatur, Ill. Several of them were in a serious condition today.

Fifteen deaths while swimming were reported in Illinois and Wisconsin yesterday. Six deaths due to automobile accidents also were reported.

TEXAS HAS NO UNUSUAL HIGH TEMPERATURES

DALLAS, July 29. (AP)—No unusual high temperatures for the season prevailed in Texas during the past 24 hours, the United States weather bureau reported today. The forecast for the next such period called for partly cloudy weather for the entire state, with the exception of the extreme western part where local showers were predicted. No higher temperatures were lookd for.

The following maximum temperatures were registered yesterday: Abilene 94, Amarillo 90, Austin 92; Brownsville 96; Corpus Christi 88; Dallas 94; Fort Worth 95; and Del Rio 90.

OFFICERS STAGE RAIDS NEAR POOL

The Tumble-N swimming pool, owned and operated by the city, became the objective of a raid conducted by Chief of Police John Lemond last night, in response to a telephone call requesting officers to halt gambling and indecent conduct.

Officers announced this morning that there was no evidence of gambling, but Chief Lemond issued an emphatic warning today to the effect that arrests will be made in connection with "improper" use of the territory surrounding the pool. "Several young men are using the swings around the pool, while children are denied mediums for play, and benches are being used by the youths while the older persons have no place to rest," said Chief Lemond. "This pool is being operated to afford a recreational center, and we are going to police the territory to assure wholesome entertainment."

According to some testimony reaching the police station, the territory around the pool has been used as a retreat by "spooning and necking" parties.

Thousands Witness Jump In Parachute

One thousand persons lined Plains field, three miles north of this city, Sunday afternoon to see Percy Miller of California make his 1300th parachute jump from a 2000 foot altitude.

The ship from which Miller leaped was piloted by Carl Jones.

The heavy wind caused the parachte jumper to drift about one mile, more than the length of the field. The stunt flier came down with such force that his one leg would not support weight of his body, and he fell to the ground when he reached the earth, but was unhurt.

Jimmy Cole, local airman, gave the crowd several thrills in a stunt flying program which concluded the afternoon's performances.

When Modern Women Run a Bank

How the Two Westropp Sisters Proved That a 100% Feminine Financial Institution Can Succeed Without Advice From Men Who Know All About Money

No Boudoir of Finance is Cleveland's Women's Savings and Loan Company, the world's only bank organized and managed entirely by women. . . . Its interior is traditionally formal, its resources are nearing the magic million mark.

Pioneer women bank directors at a meeting of the board. . . . Not by covered wagons nor log cabins, but by borrowed funeral chairs may posterity remember their courageous journey into the wilderness of finance . . . the first women to make it alone.

Astute Bank Organizer and President Lillian Westropp. . . "We had to sell ourselves twice . . . once as women, and again as an organization," she says.

By EDNA ROBB WEBSTER

WOMEN now hold responsible executive positions with many large banks. Some banks have women's departments staffed and operated solely by members of the sex to which they cater. But the Women's Savings and Loan Company of Cleveland is unique in having had its inception in the ambition of one woman, Miss Lillian M. Westropp, to do that which women had never before undertaken—the independent organization of a women's financial institution.

Not a bank for women alone, but a bank of and by women for the general public.

Now after nearly eight years of successful bank management President Westropp looks back over the difficult path that has been traveled and points out this significant handicap which, in her opinion, was the most difficult of all to overcome:

"We had to sell ourselves twice. Once as an organization, and again as women."

Going back further in the history of women in business, Miss Westropp says:

"When I first started in business 20 years ago there were no such opportunities for women as there are today. You could be a good stenographer, and if you were a good one—you remained a stenographer.

"A man might [illegible] you in business college and become a stenographer, and if he was a good one, he would soon be in some other executive position. While the woman who was a good stenographer—stayed there.

"There were a few exceptions, of course; but on the whole, a woman was afforded very little opportunity for advancement in business. One never saw a woman at the executive desk in an office.

"So I took up the study of law. Fifteen years ago, a woman lawyer was not accepted by the profession. She just had to hang out her shingle and get business if she could."

THIS courage aided this pioneering woman in good stead when she later ventured into the unbroken field of finance. Her effort to interest enough women to obtain a charter for the project was not easy; but she finally obtained the support of 15 competent women and in November, 1921, secured a charter.

Everywhere they turned, they met with opposition, with lack of confidence, trust, faith—in women as financiers. Neither men nor women were keen for it. Only a few. Some influential women who were skeptical suggested that if they could get a real strong group of men, with good business judgment, to serve as an advisory committee, it would give confidence and stability to the project.

So, rather dubiously, the board obtained the consent of six prominent men to serve them in an advisory capacity. Each one bought a little stock—most of them a very little. Time passed, and they displayed waning interest in the activities.

Miss Westropp became impatient and called a meeting of the board with the advisory committee. Whether the gentlemen deemed the summons of little importance, or had nothing to advise, is not known—but they left the ladies waiting at the round table. Just one appeared.

"Well," said Miss Westropp, "if we have an advisory committee, I think they should advise." So they forthwith abandoned all business relations with men in their organization and proceeded as they had started—cautiously but confidently and 100 per cent feminine.

"WOMEN are as good financiers as men—or better. They are more conservative. They are not the plungers that men are, and never will be," Miss Westropp declares.

"You will notice in the jury system in trials of suits for damages, that women jurors are more conservative in their verdicts than men are. Lawyers seldom get unreasonably large verdicts from a jury with women on it. Consequently, the attorney for the defense usually likes to see women on the jury.

"Until recently, women have not earned large salaries—and even now, in each city are only a few women who command large salaries. Therefore, women do their saving on modest incomes; yet contrive to save something. Married women who do not have a salary of their own save from their husbands' incomes or their personal allowance.

"When a woman earns money herself, she invariably saves more because she is more conservative about spending it, having earned it. A very large per cent of all the savings in the country represent economy on the part of someone—and once you economize to put money in the bank, you give more thought to it before spending it.

"Women are the financiers of the world, the savers. Nearly two-thirds of the savings in the country are in women's names. Much of this may be money earned by husbands, but it is largely the wives who save.

"Until the past three years, all the women on our board of directors have been business women, but we now have several who represent the home point of view. I think that is necessary, too.

"All the money placed on deposit with our company is loaned out to home owners or to people who are acquiring and building their own homes. So it is well to make loans from the viewpoint of the home woman. Each type of woman has something to contribute to our institution.

Capable Secretary and Treasurer Clara Westropp. Says Sister Lillian: "Clara is a better salesman than I. . . . She sold the stock after we incorporated."

"ON February 1, 1922, we started business in a small office building. My sister, Miss Clara Westropp, who is the secretary and manager of the company and a better saleswoman than I, sold the stock after we were incorporated.

"We were very economical, and for two years the officers and directors worksd without fees, but so genuine was their interest that the directors' meetings averaged 12 present, and often all 15 were there. One prominent club woman who was keenly interested in our project wrote an amusing editorial around the fact that our directors' meetings were held in the basement and we sat on funeral chairs which an obliging friend sent in for our use. 'How many men would have saved the expense of comfortable swivel chairs and a sumptuous conference room?' she asked.

"When our capital was still less than $100,000 we had saved $10,000 and had outgrown our quarters, so we moved to a better location. We have twice moved for more space and our ambition is to have our own building.

"Perhaps we have made slow progress, but it has taken these years just to lay the foundation and inspire confidence in women as bankers. We have succeeded in that and are accepted today as a progressive and prosperous institution.

"We have practically no real estate on our books, whereas most companies have from 25 to 50 per cent of their capital tied up in real estate. We have had a very small per cent of foreclosures. Our capital is now a half million and our resources rapidly nearing the first million, with the figures over the $800,000 mark.

"OUR object in starting this business was not to declare a prejudice toward men nor a disapproval of their methods—but to prove to women, womep's equal ability.

"Until this new era, women have not worked together. Rather, they have been competitors, rivals—for the favor of men. Formerly, woman's only ambition was matrimony, in which she was every other woman's rival. That inherent antagonism will have to be outgrown gradually.

"I like to deal equally well with men and women. Women require a different approach, but once one understands them, to deal with them is a pleasure. Women are more loyal, will make greater sacrifices to meet obligations and work much harder than men do. Men do not go into things as women do—the way women have to do to hold their jobs.

"If women get anywhere they have to apply themselves so much more closely to gain attention. This, together with woman's innate conservative nature, makes women's organizations successful. All women should be given equal opportunities with men."

Miss Clara Westropp, the secretary and manager of the company, holds the same opinions regarding the difficulty of women to establish their equality.

"The chief trouble is that women have to win the confidence of their own sex," she declares. "Men have confidence in us—they know there is nothing that women cannot do, that all we require is experience and training. When women will accept us on an equality with men, we shall be able to accomplish more in teamwork, rather than separately. We are now only duplicating our activities.

"IN the smaller units: the family, society and in politics, teamwork is used to the best advantage of all—and it should be so in business. When we have developed far enough to work constructively together, rather than in competition, we shall make more rapid progress."

"Women who are in sympathy with business women," President Westropp further observes, "are strong for women, are happy to co-operate with them and prefer them to men as business associates; for they have been in a position to appreciate that women have not had an equal opportunity with men, at the same time that they have realized their equal capability.

"Of course, we do business with men. We have many men customers who are sincerely interested in seeing our organization a success. Ninety-five per cent of our loans are made to men as home owners, and many of our depositors are men. Some of our largest depositors in the beginning were transferred from men's banks by men—deposits as high as $10,000.

"We are building up a savings plan in several of the large department stores, with a railway company and in factories where many girls are employed. They save by a special system, one to five dollars per week. One of the employes collects the savings, of which accounts we have over 200, running into the thousands. After all, our savings accounts are from the working people, not from the wealthy whose money is invested more speculatively."

WHEN women borrow money, for what do they usually use it?

"We loan money only on real estate first mortgages," says Miss Lillian, "but when women are forced to borrow money on their stock or savings, it is usually to pay for an operation or an illness, to meet financial reverses or trouble in the family."

What are the most common mistakes which women are liable to make in banking and in the handling of money?

Miss Westropp's keen brown eyes snapped decisively, "the most common mistake women make is in not using their own judgment.

"A woman usually solicits another's advice instead of relying on her own judgment. For instance, at the time we organized, we approached a woman who had been left an independent fortune by her husband—a fortune which it seemed impossible that one could lose with any ordinary judgment—it ran into millions. She happened to have a man adviser and he would not consent to her placing one penny with us. In less than five years, she had lost every cent and is now helping to support herself and living with her daughter.

"A similar case was that of a prominent woman who had a very large salary and who was advised not to invest with us. At that time there was an organization which most of the men in town were boosting, which was paying 12 per cent. Incidentally, it was discovered that they were paying some of this from the capital.

"Anyway, she invested her life's savings with that company—as did many school teachers and other thrifty women who were comfortably situated, but who were afraid to go in with us. They not only lost all, but have been sued on the stock with its double liability. A number have said to me, 'If I had only gone in with you! My life's savings are gone!'"

Miss Westropp does not relate these instances with the smirking air of one who boasts, "It served them right!" but rather with regret that her persuasive powers could not have reached a shade deeper to have saved these people from their tragic losses.

THEN there is that happier company of women who entered confidently into the venture with her and kept faith through the years when doubt and despair might have weakened less valiant pioneers of feminine independence.

Miss Westropp is so graciously feminine, so deliberately judicious and at the same time so efficiently alert that one does not marvel upon how she has managed to succeed in everything she has undertaken. She has practiced law in Cleveland for 14 years, was the first woman member to be elected to the executive committee of the Cleveland Bar Association and is now an assistant county prosecuting attorney. Besides serving as president of the Women's Savings & Loan Company, she is president of a mortgage company.

She, with her sister and 13 other capable women—seven of whom are unmarried, three are widows and five are married women who live with their husbands—comprise the board of directors. Of these, three are home women.

The others are: a secretary and vice president of a large abstract company, president and secretary of a large realty company, secretary and treasurer of a machine manufacturing company, a director of Americanization work, a chief woman's probation officer, a secretary of a lawyers' association, an expert accountant, treasurer of a mortgage company, a former educational expert and the secretary of a big paving company.

AND what do women bank directors talk about at their meetings?

"I find that women have a tendency to talk of things not to the point—clubs, social functions, clothes and other things—but this rests largely with the leader of such a meeting. So I have made it a point to stick very rigidly to business," Miss Lillian says.

"We meet once a month and the meeting rarely lasts more than an hour. We make them snappy, for the procedure has been carefully outlined. We approve the bills, pass on the loans; and early in the year we pass on the advertising and go over the budget, which has been carefully worked out—for we operate on a budget system. Other questions arise the same as in other similar organizations."

The funeral chairs have now been replaced by graceful Windsor archairs and the conference room is no longer in the basement. But there are no frivolous features in this women's institution which would place upon it a stamp of femininity.

In the words of the aggressive woman who has fired a new beacon light to illumine the obscure way for other women in the world of finance:

"We are building, not so much for ourselves—for we shall never realize any fortune—but to render service, honestly and efficiently, and to serve as an inspiration for the women of the future—to blaze the trail for those who will carry on and those others who will co-operate with them by faith in womankind."

C.-P. NINE WINS FROM ABERNATHY

Dee Puckett's Carpenter-Painters of the Lubbock City League presented a formidable lineup at Merrill Park Sunday afternoon and handed the fast Abernathy aggregation a 5 to 3 beating.

Hinson held the visiting sluggers in check while his mates were pounding out a decision in one of the fastest games seen here this season.

Several members of the Hubber nine which returned from Amarillo late Saturday night appeared with the Tradesmen and helped along the local cause.

Brothers in left. Ater at shortstop and Waller in center field played a leading role in the Carpenter-Painters' victory.

Caraway Brothers Battle In Match

Tol and Sid Caraway battled to a draw in Sunday's trap shoot at the Lubbock Gun club grounds with the result that a shoot-off was necessary before the former won out for this second successive victory.

Both turned in 44's in their official shoots.

It was the second straight Sunday that Tol Caraway emerged the victor. He needs only to win next Sunday, to be awarded the gun which is to be given by the club to the gunner who wins three successive legs.

Old Pictures New To Baseball Star

PARIS, July 29 (AP).—Ty Cobb has been voted the most rabid movie fan Paris has ever seen.

Ty has been in Paris for several weeks and in spite of the hot evenings, the former champion batsman of the American league has not missed a single night at the movies.

"You see for 24 years I did not dare to attend the movies for fear of injuring my batting eye." Ty explained to some friends the other day. "My family tells me that some of the films I have gone to see in Paris were thrown on the screen in America some years back but all are new to me."

Kid Chocolate, featherweight fighter, gives his age as 22. His true age, it is said is 19.

SIXTY-FOUR TO COMPETE IN CONTESTS

BOB PECK IS FAVORITE AFTER SCORING LOW FOR MEDALIST

Thirty-seven Lubbock golfers failed Sunday to beat the 75 turned in by Bob Peck on the previous day and as a result Peck emerged low medalist at the end of qualifying play in the City Open Golf tournament.

The outstanding performance of Sunday's activities was turned in by Jack May, who traversed the 18 holes in 77, five above par, to rank third in the field of 64 that qualified for the tourney. May's score was identical with that of E. T. Daniels, who was credited with the runner-up position having made his score before May.

Peck-Jennings First

Match play begins today with Bob Peck, the medalist, matched with V. O. Jennings, ninth ranking player of the first flight.

In addition to the trophy won by the medalist, awards are to be made to the winner of each flight and the runner up in the first.

The Pairings

The pairings, first flight:

Bob Peck and V. O. Jennings; J. K. Bradshaw and D. A. Dowell; J. O. Smith and Hal Arnett; Jack May and R. Henderson; Grady Higginbotham and Melvin Dow; Henry McLarty and Buster Fluke; Bill Yager and Ross McWhorter; E. T. Daniels and John Edmisson.

Second flight: W. D. Girand and Edgar Daughtery; Leonard Pearson and W. B. Powell; H. M. McFarland and J. D. Shaw; Jimmie Alls and C. M. Hewitt; N. R. Carter and O. J. Pelty; E. W. Wade and J. C. Gelin; C. J. Norton and Max Morris; J. C. Clayborne and E. C. Patton.

Bracey Should Use Crouch For Starts

HOUSTON, July 29 (AP).—What Claude Bracey needs to make him the greatest sprinter of all times is a bit of stream-lining believes Gaylord Johnson, Rice Institute business manager, who accompanied the Owl flash on his trip through the east and middle west.

He attributed Bracey's failure to beat Eddie Tolan, Michigan star, to the 38-mile wind the runners breasted at Denver.

"Bracey is much broader and taller than Tolan, and he runs straight up. It is natural he would have more resistance to fight than a smaller man who runs crouched over," Johnson said.

Bracey's latest worry is whether he will be allowed to play football this fall. Both Jack Meagher, Rice grid coach, and the school's business office want to get him into uniform, but there is objection from his track tutors.

INVITATIONS OUT

AUSTIN, July 29—(Special)—Approximately one hundred invitations are being made ready for mailing at the athletic office of the University of Texas in preparation for September 10, which marks the beginning of the 1929 football training season.

Scouts To Receive Honor Court Awards

Shallowater and Anton boy scouts will unite for advancement and receipt of awards at a court of honor to be conducted Tuesday night at Anton.

Rev. L. G. H. Williams, president of the South Plains Area council, and George Eaton, deputy commissioner, both of this city, will conduct the court, which will be the first to be held in Anton.

HERMAN TERROR OF BUSH LEAGUES, MENACING MAJORS

YANKS GIVEN OWN MEDICINE

BITTER DEFEAT PILL BEING HANDED CLUB; CUBS CLIMB UP

By HERBERT BARKER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The New York Yankees, whose runaway victories in the American League were the despair of all rivals, are getting a taste of their own medicine these days and it's doubtful if they like it.

Through the enforced idleness of the Athletics, the Yanks found an opportunity to whittle away a little of the A's lead yesterday. It took a home run by the one and only George Herman Ruth to enable the Yankees to down the St. Louis Browns, 7 to 6, in 12 innings and cut the Athletics' lead to ten games. With the score tied at 6-all in the 12th, Ruth, the first man at bat, drove the ball into the bleachers for his 24th homer of the season. Lou Gehrig had hit his 25th homer in the first inning with one on.

Indians Best Senators

A four run rally in the ninth gave Cleveland a 9 to 6 triumph over Washington. It was the Indians' third in a row over the Senators.

Aided by a home run and two singles by Marty McManus, Detroit's rookie pitcher, Kyle Graham won his first game in the American League, beating the Boston Red Sox, 5-3. Graham gave up only nine hits and blanked the Sox after the third inning.

In the National League the Chicago Cubs increased their lead over Pittsburgh to two and a half games by trouncing the Phillies again, 7 to 2, for their seventh successive victory. Guy Bush won his 14th game of the season against a single defeat, giving the Phils six hits.

John McGraw's New York Giants pounded Alexander, Frankhouse and Hallahan for 19 hits and beat St. Louis, 10-5. Mel Ott got his 28th homer of the season.

Cincinnati ran its winning streak to five by beating Brooklyn in both ends of a double bill, 4-3, and 7-5. The Reds bunched their five hits off William Watson Clark to good advantage in the first game. In the second Dazzy Vance was hit hard and retired for a pinch batsman after pitching the first seven innings.

Big Spring Schools Open September 5

BIG SPRING, July 29 (Spscial)—The city schools will open September 3, according to Supt. W. C. Blankenship. A preliminary teachers meeting will be held on August 31, at which time teachers will receive instructions and guides for year's work. The teachers institute usually held at the beginning of school will be dispensed with and held later in the year. The school will open with sixty teachers and an increased enrollment over that of last year.

FACULTY NUMBERS 211

AUSTIN, July 29 (Special)—The faculty for the first term of the University of Texas summer school numbered 211, including professors, associate professors, adjuncts and instructors, compared to an enrollment of 2,958 students.

BALL ROVER FINALLY GETS CHANCE TO PROVE WORTH

By JACK SORDS
Sports Cartoonist Writer for Central Press

It was a peculiar twist of fate that brought Floyd (Babe) Herman, who threatens to lead the National league batters this season, to the Brooklyn Dodgers. Herman, now only 26 years old, had played in almost every prominent minor league in the country, landing with Seattle in 1925. The same year Spencer Abbott, a Brooklyn scout, was sent to the coast league to look over Emmett McCann, who later went to the Red Sox. The first batter hit to Herman and Abbott never took his eyes off of Babe until the Dodgers signed him.

Herman was sent to Minneapolis in a trade, but fortunately for Brooklyn the Millers couldn't use him and he came back as a regular with the Dodgers in 1926. He hit .319 that year.

Although he led or almost won the batting championship of every minor circuit in which he played, this is the first time Herman has brought himself to the front as a contender for the National league crown, and unless some drastic measures are taken by the opposing pitchers he is going to be a difficult man for the other sluggers to pass.

Herman has played the outfield and first base in the north, east, south and west. He made his professional debut with Edmonton of the Western Canada league in 1921. He had a trial with the Detroit Tigers in 1922 and one with the Boston Red Sox in 1923.

Before coming to the Brooklyns Babe was the terror of the minor leagues. He lashed the ball at a .336 clip in the Western Canada league, smashed the sphere for a .339 in the Southern league, ruined pitchers hopes with a .416 in the Western league, hammered out a .349 for Texas league fans to stare at, and batted out a hefty .316 in the Pacific Coast outfit.

The Buffalo Babe, who is a left-hander, is built along the generous lines of a skyscraper, all of which helps him to reach for those wide ones and send them whistling by the outfielders' ears.

County Coffers Are Enriched by $228.20

County coffers were enriched $228.20 this morning when 14 persons paid fines for week end violations.

County officers frustrated a "crap" game Sunday night when the "sevens and elevens" became audible through a brick wall and six paid fines on charges of gaming today in the court of Justice of Peace W. S. Clark.

Two were fined on charges of drunkenness and one was fined on a charge of drunkenness and disturbance of peace in Justice of Peace G. R. Scott's court.

W. W. Harvey, charged with theft of auto parts, was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to one day in jail in County Judge Robert H. Bean's court, after entering a plea of guilty. Another man, charged with disturbance of peace, was fined $1 and court costs.

The Cubs have had six different catchers this season.

MANDEL TO AVOID JINX

CHAMPIONS ARE GIVEN BEATINGS RECENTLY; TITLE AT STAKE

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 29.—Plastic champions have been having a tough time of it in recent weeks but Sammy Mandell, king of the lightweights believes he can avoid the current jinx when, crown on head, he steps into the ring against Tony Canzoneri at Chicago Friday night.

Fate has been unkind to champions recently, no fewer than four having bit the dust last week. Joe Dundee dropped his welterweight crown to Jackie Fields at Detroit; Al Singer knocked out Andre Routis, featherweight champion, in an overweight fight; Mushy Callahan junior welterweight title-holder, was soundly beaten by Jack Berg in another non-titular battle, and Al Brown, New York state's nominee for the bantamweight title, was outpointed in a non-championship bout by Bat Battalino.

W. L. (Young) Stribling, Macon heavyweight, meets Babe Hunt of Ponca City, Okla., at Tulsa tonight at about the same time Johnny Risko, Cleveland rubber man, is striving for vengeance in a 12-round return meeting with Emmett Rocco, pride of Elwood City, Pa., at Cleveland.

FIGHTERS GO INTO FINAL PREPARATION

CHICAGO, July 29 (AP).—Sammy Mandell, king of lightweights, and Tony Canzoneri, challenger for the Rockford Sheik's title, today went into the final stages of preparation for their championship bout at Chicago stadium Friday night.

Mandell faced the job of shedding three pounds by weighing in time, but was unworried. He said he did not plan to be more than an ounce or two under the division limit of 135 pounds when he climbed on the scales Friday.

Tony Wants Speed

Canzoneri is concentrating on speed, the question of weight causing him no trouble. He plans to weigh in at 133 pounds and is confident he will be at the peak of condition.

Both boxers will take their final hard workouts Wednesday.

Mandell, who was a 2-to-1 favorite over Canzoneri when the match was made and two days ago had slipped to a 7 to 5 choice, today was back to 2 to 1. Since his layoff last Thursday the champion has shown all of his brilliant speed and greater punching power than ever.

Shortstop Is Worry To Bucky Harris

DETROIT, July 29 (AP).—That shortstop situation in Detroit is one of the things the boys are talking about.

Bucky Harris started the season with Heinie Schuble. Then Richardson took the job. He failed and Marty McManus played there a few games. Young Westling was brought in from the Pacific coast but also petered out, so Bucky went back to his original choice and put Heinie back in the short field.

LAMESA STILL IN AMARILLO BALL TOURNEY

CLUB PLAYS PAMPA IN GAME THIS MORNING FOR FINAL

(Special To The Avalanche)

AMARILLO, July 29.—Pitcher Caldwell whiffed nine batsmen and allowed but two hits here Sunday afternoon but the strong Wellington club handed the Tactless Texans of Amarillo their first defeat of the tournament, 3 to 2.

A home run by McMahan, Wellington shortstop, on the first ball pitched turned out to be the deciding plow of the contest. Three bobbles in a row and a ticket to first base accounted for the other two Wildcat scores.

Bunte Is Stingy

The Texans got to Bunte for four singles and two earned runs but could not overcome the advantage held by the Wildcats.

Pampa was leading Lamesa in the fourth inning of teh second game when a young cloudburst swept over Metro Park and called a halt to activities. This game was played over this morning, starting at 10 o'clock.

Beginning at 1:30 this afternoon, the winner of the Pampa-Lamesa game and Amarillo-Wellington will take part in today's double header. A third contest may be necessary and this will be played Tuesday.

Yesterday's games still leaves four teams in the running. Wellington has won three and lost none. The Amarillo Tacks have won three and lost one. Pampa has won two and lost one. Lamesa has won three and lost one.

THEY WILL SPEAK UP

Unusual as the case may be, the New York sport writers are starting to ride the Giants. It has been the complaint of some editors and newspaper trade journals at frequent times in the past that the New York sport writers were subsidized into silence by the baseball and boxing fellows.

Here, however, are some pieces of evidence to the contrary, culled from the comment of several high ranking New York scribes:

"Once the ball game starts it would not do the Giants a bit of harm to treat every visiting player as though he were trying to take $5,000 in world series money away from each and every one of them. Save this kidding around with Bottomley until after the game."

HERE'S ANOTHER

"The sleepers in front of the Giants' dugout wouldn't move even when Hogan charged in among them to make a difficult catch of Haines' foul. They should have pillows to sleep on."

AND ANOTHER

"When McMillan, the Cubs' third baseman was hit on the head the Cubs swarmed out of their dugout to take care of him. When Jackson was hurt the sleepers on the Giant bench never even moved. That's the spirit. Don't disturb yourselves, boys."

LOOK OUT, NOMAN!

Another paragraph tells how McMillan was hurt, as mentioned in the preceding paragraph:

"Joe McCarthy got a terrible shock in the sixth inning when McMillan lost a foul in the sun in front of the boxes behind third base. The ball cracked McMillan on the top of the head and bounced into the stands as the player went down in a heap. Norman shook off his dizziness, however, returned to his job and two innings later had the Giants dizzy with a spectacular stop. That's the spirit the Cubs have."

MY GOODNESS, ROGERS!

Even the brightest of the boys pull their boners. In a recent game between the Giants and the Cubs, Hornsby and Grimm of the Chicagos were fagging themselves ou ttrying to run down Cohen between first and second and Andy was having a swell time keeping them working. Umpire Hart finally stopped the fun. He went out and told Mr. Hornsby that the batter had been given a base on balls and that Mr. Cohen was entitled to second base without molestation.

OH, THOSE FUNNY BROOKLYNS

The Brooklyns pulled one a few days ago that made the umpires laugh. The Brooklyns, however, can be expected to do those things. In fact, the customers lay their money on the line to see the Brooklyns do these things.

The Brooklyns and the Cards were playing and Babe Herman was on second base. The Brooklyns needed a run badly and the Babe was out there to get it, he figured.

Bressler, the batter, flied out to Orsatti. When the ball left the bat the Babe, who is a fast base runner, dashed back and put his toe on the bag.

As soon as the ball smacked into Orsatti's glove the Babe tore down to third and went into third with a great slide.

GETS DEGREE

DENVER, July 29 (AP).—A college student in fistiana's ranks hardly can be clasified as unusual in this day and age, but Eddie Mack, above, kingpin of Rocky Mountain lightweights, has fought his way to a degree, proving that now and then a boxer goes to college for more than advertising purposes.

Mack just has been awarded the degree of bachelor of philosophy at Regis college. He now has another goal. It is law.

Next September Mack will enoll in the law school at Loyola university, Chicago. He has been promised bouts in the Windy City, but if he doesn't get them he can complete his course in the law school, for he has been a crowd attraction for several years in this region and has established a modest fortune.

Mack has fought several top-notchers and made good showings.

FRANCE WINS TENNIS CUP

COCHET'S BRILLIANCE IS DECIDING FACTOR FOR VICTORY

(By Associated Press)

PARIS, July 29.—Thanks chiefly to that little tennis machine, Henri Cochet, the Davis cup, emblem of world team supremacy will remain in France for another year.

The pick of United States' talent, hopeful of recapturing the cup lost to the tri-color in 1927, stormed the French tennis ramparts when they appeared weakest, only to fall back, defeated almost single-handed by Cochet's mastery.

Cochet Wins Twice

In a challenge round decided by three matches to two, Cochet accounted for two of the three French victories and walked off the courts of Roland Garros stadium the undisputed hero of the series.

With the score standing two matches to one against them, the Americans had no more than an outside chance to pull the series out of the fire when the final day's play began yesterday.

Tilden Beats Borotra

Big Bill Tilden, himself a heroic figure in many a Davis cup combat, came through in gallant fashion, trouncing Jean Borotra, weaker half of the French team, 4—6, 6—1, 6—4, 7—5.

The tall Philadelphian's victory squared the series and left the issue to be decided in the final singles between Cochet and George Lott, 24-year-old star from the University of Chicago, playing in his first Davis cup challenge round.

In a crisis like this, Cochet was unbeatable. He stormed his way through Lott's defenses for a 6-1, 3-6, 6-0, 6-3, triumph.

American supporters obtained their chief thrill, perhaps, on Saturday when they saw the young Americans, Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, Wimbledon champions, trounce Cochet and Borotra in the doubles in straight sets.

With Lott, Allison, Van Ryn and other youngsters improving rapidly, some American experts have hopes that the cup will return to the United States within the next few years. But the chances are that France will do little worrying for some time to come—not at least as long as they have Cochet, Borotra, Rene LaCoste and others to depend upon.

Sam Rice has been with the Senators since 1915, the year he broke into the majors.

GALLOWAYMEN LEADING WITH 2 FULL GAMES

RHEM BRINGS HOUSTON THROUGH WITH HIS FIRST VICTORY

By GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Wichita Falls and Houston, the clubs that scrapped to the death for last year's Texas League pennant apparently have settled down to fight it out between themselves for honors in the current heat and the right to meet the Steers in a play-off.

Galloway's hard hitting Spuds took a two-game lead on the field with yesterday's twin killing at Shreveport, 7 to 3 and 8 to 7. Houston, witr Flint Rhem supplying a three-hit game in his initial start, swept both ends of their double bill with the Indians, 3 to 2 and 2 to 1, to hurdle the Cubs and go into the runner-up position.

Finish-Whirlwind

A whirlwind finish in which they drove Cooper from the hill and scored six runs in the last two frames, enabled the Oilers to take the first game of their Louisiana bargain bill. In the second tilt the north countrymen reversed the procedure, slugging out eight runs in the first three innings off as many Sport flingers. Red Bennett, the league's leading clouter, hit .500 for the day.

Old Paulio Wachted gave the Buffs the jump on the Indians when his spitter set Newman's warriors down with five blows in the first game. His mates rapped Andy Messenger hard and often but did not squeeze over the deciding runs until the eighth.

Steers and Cats Split

The day's two other double bills wer split. The Steers made it two out of three in their series with Fort Worth when they rallied late in the second tilt to win, 7 to 5, using up four Cat pitchers on the way. Buzz Phillips set the first half champs down with six hits to lick them 5 to 2, in the first game. Joe Bonowitz, Cat gardener, wrecked Dallas hopes in the opener with a homer and two singles.

The clubs hop over to Fort Worth today for a series. Lil Stoner, whose blinding speed won 27 games for Fort Worth back in 1928, was expected to make his first start for the Cats since that eventual year. For that reason, a banner crowd was expected at Pantherville.

Harris Is Find

Bill Harris, willowy young right-hander who is beginning to look like one of the real finds of the season, held the Exporters to three blows as the Cubs won the starter, 2 to 1, from Robertson's hopefuls. A home run by Lyman Lamb in the first inning gave the Shippers their only tally. The Cub star, who was sold by Dallas early in the season, struck out five batters. Tom Vaughn, the rookie from Muleshoe, gave up only five hits and pitched eight scoreless innings.

Tink Riviere had one of his good days in the second game, giving up only seven hits and winning in a walk, 9 to 2, as his mates sent Thurman to the showers and continued the attack on Dumovitch. Three Exporters homered.

Dave Shade may get a title fight with champion Mickey Walker.

WHEAT IS BIG AID TO BANK DEPOSITS IN STATE

DECLINES IN OTHER AREAS EXPERIENCED

DALLAS FEDERAL BANK DISTRICT HAS THE LARGEST CROP

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, July 29—A remarkable recovery of the wheat market coincident with harvesting of one of the district's largest crops of that cereal was an outstanding development during the past 30 days, said the monthly business review of the Dallas Federal Reserve bank, eleventh district, issued today. Throughout the wheat belt there was liquidation of indebtedness, a sharp rise in bank deposits, and an active demand or commerce paper and bankers' acceptances. The district, as a whole however, showed a further seasonal decline in deposits.

Building Declines

The business mortality rate reflected a marked improvement, demand for merchandise, wholesale and retail, was generally quiet, and construction activity evidenced a further decline, the value of building permits at principal centers being 25 per cent less during June than in May and 15 per cent smaller than in June, 1928, the review said.

"While the indicated yield of corn is considerably smaller than in 1928," the report continues, "it will be sufficient in most instances to take care of farmers needs during th coming year. Other feed crops promis satisfactory yields.

Conditions Favorable

"Weather conditions generally have been favorable for the growth and cultivation of cotton and late reports indicate that the crop is now in a good state of cultivation. It should be borne in mind, however, that the condition of the crop is very spotty as a large percentage is much later than usual and the stand of the older cotton was damaged somewhat in ridding the fields of grass caused by the May rains. While the hot, dry weather, checked activity of bolwi weevils over a large portion of the district, their presence in large numbers, togegether with the large perpentage of young cotton, renders the crop susceptible to the depredations of this insect. Furthermore, the persistence of showery weather since the first of July in South-Central and South Texas has increased weevil activity to some extent. In other sections of the district rain at this time would be beneficial to the crop.

Ranges Decline

"Due to the absence of rains during the past month over most of the district's range territory, the condition of grazing ranges showed a marked decline, but livestock generally held up well. Rains which have fallen over a large area since July, however, have been very beneficial and in many areas grasses have begun to greep again. Late reports indicate that pastures are drying out rapidly in portions of New Mexico and while some rain has fallen in Southeastern Arizona more is needed to revive range grass. Cattle in southeastern Arizona and postions of western New Mexico are in poor to only fair condition.

Sheep-Goats Fair

"While sheep and goats have suffered more from dry weather than cattle, their condition is fair to good. Calf, lamb and kid crops in most sections are above the average and the young animals are strong and healthy.

"A further moderate increase was shown in production of crude oil in the district in June. Total output amounted to 25,422,150 barrels, which was 120,300 barrels greater than in May and 4290,250 barrels above the output in June last year. Field work, as shown by the number of completed wells, declined in all areas with but one exception; however, the search for pay sands was more successful than in the previous month. Completion in June numbered 604 of which 315 were producers of oil, yielding 160,023 barrels of new products as compared to 760 completions in May of which 362 were successful with an initial flow of 184,547 barrels.

Crude Yield Rises

"The daily average yield of Texas rose from 780,788 barrels in May to 811,140 in June, increases being shown in all fields except the Texas costal region. Activity increased further in Gray county of North Texas, total output having doubled during the past five weeks. Production in Pecos county, Central-West Texas, increased while the yield in Winkler county showed a recession. A decline was noted in the output of Salt Flat field in Southwest Texas from the high level which was reached the previous month. Output of oil in North Louisiana totalled 1,087,980 barrels, representing a decline of 9,450 barrels in total production, but an increase of 865 barrels in the daily average yield, due to the shorter month."

The review places the condition of the Texas rice crop at 82 per cent of normal on July 1, compared to 90 per cent on that date a year ago. Estimated production is shown as 5,845,000 bushels compared to 7,308,00 bushels in 19280.

Fruit crops in Texas promise a larger yield than a year ago, the report says. Production of pine lumber declined from 93 per cent of normal in May to 75 per cent in June and shipments dropped from 85 per cent to 72 per cent.

Club Girls Lay Down Ten Laws For Finances

COLLEGE STATION, July 29. (AP)—Ten financial commandments were laid down here today to girls attending the farmers short course at A. and M. college by Mrs. Lily Pearl Chamberlain of North Texas Agricultural college. They were: work and earn, make a budget, record expenditures, have a bank account, carry life insurance, make a will, own your own home, invest in reliable securities, pay your bills promptly and share with others.

This care of the "nest egg," she said, would financially hatch into a comfortable competency.

The meeting was held in the basement of the New First Baptist church building, recently completed. J. M. Edwards, conducted the choir services.

AGRICULTURE STRESSED IN SPUR SCHOOL

BALANCED PROGRAM OF FARMING IS SOUGHT FOR COUNTY

SPUR, July 28.—Joe Williams, instructor in vocational agriculture, Spur High school, has just returned from A. and M. college, where he has been making some special studies in dairying and poultry. Last year Mr. Williams outlined a three year plan of teaching vocational agriculture in this community, the first year covered the selection and feeding of livestock and poultry, also the selection and improvement of plants. This year the program will cover plant and animal diseases and terracing, with special emphasis on diseases of poultry and dairy animals.

The state high school division has just granted one and one-half units of affiliation in vocational agriculture, and a request will be made at the close of the '29-'30 school year for an additional amount of credit equal to the affiliation granted for the first years work. Mr. Williams will spend his time from now untill the fall term begins in visiting projects, closing up last years projects, and in securing new pupils for his classes.

Working with the county agent and chamber of commerce, Mr. Williams will organize at least five evening schools to be taught in the communities adjoining Spur. Each community that wishes to secure the evening schools will have the privilege of selecting the subject, and the phase of it that they wish to study, that is if a community wishes to study the feeding of poultry, Mr. Williams will give them the instruction that comes naerest meeting their needs. It will be the policy of the department of vocational agriculture in the Spur school to assist in building up, through boys projects and evening schools, a balanced program of ferming for Dickens county.

The Journal is an independent Democratic newspaper, supporting in its editorial columns the principles which it believes to be right and opposing those questions which it believes to be wrong regardless of party politics; publishing the news fairly and impartially at all times.

Thought For Today

And the king said to him, How many times shall I adjure thee that thou say nothing but the truth to me in the name of the Lord?—II Chronicles 1:15.

I have seldom known any one who deserted truth in trifles that could be trusted in matters importance.—Paley.

Democracy

Japan, like the United States, has its "self-made men"—financial and industrial magnates who started without money or prospects and finished with great wealth and power.

William Philip Simms, American journalist, who has been touring the island kingdom, has interviewed a number of these men recently. He finds that there is the same spirit of optimism and determination abroad in Japan that there is in the United States; and he adds:

"That, I believe, is the secret of Japan's rapid progress. For just as is the case in America, Japanese young people make the sky the limit, however, humble or poor they may be today."

It is a good many years since young men were advised to hitch their wagons to stars. But that advice is still good. What a man becomes depends chiefly on what he wants to become; and when we say that a nation is full of opportunities we really mean that its conditions are such that they inspire very young men to determine on the best.

And that, after all, is what has made America a land of promise ever since its birth.

There was a new set-up in this new nation. A peculiar combination of political freedom and unexploited natural resources made America a land where ambition thrived. Any man could look for anything he wanted here, with a reasonable chance of getting it. The cities and towns were new, ready for new ventures; the back country was limitless, waiting for men who could take its open spaces and turn them into cash.

Thus democracy came to mean two things. Not only could any poor boy aspire to the presidency when he grew up; he could also aspire to greatness in financial or industrial fields. There were no checks on any kind of ambition. And, in consequence, America became, and still is, the promised land for the energetic.

Today the old situation has changed. No longer are there vast stretches of good farm land awaiting settlers, mighty forests ready for the first industrious timber dealer, rich mines full of ore for the ready prospector. The natural resources have been largely exploited. The field is nearly closed.

Yet the opportunities remain, nevertheless. The great corporations that rule industry and commerce need brains and energy in ever-increasing quantities. The young man who enters their service can be sure that he will have every chance he needs to display his worth. The temper of the times still permits every man to "make the sky the limit."

As long as those conditions last we need not worry about our democracy. It is safe. And, by the same token, if that state of affairs holds good today in Japan—then Japan, too, is becoming a real democrary, even if the nation is only three-quarters of a century from feudalism.

The Chief Recants

The American flapper, apparently, has a certain dauntlessness before which even the determination of a chief of police is as nothing.

The police chief of a small Illinois city the other day, stirred by the outrages his modesty suffered whenever he walked down the street, announced that the girls must wear stockings. Any girl, he declared, who appeared on the street bare-legged would be taken to the city jail. Then he sat back and waited for developments.

They came rapidly. The girls who had been going stockingless continued to do so, and defied the chief to arrest them. And, presently, the chief wilted. He rescinded his edict; more, he announced that he had never issued it, and said that anyone who said he had, lied blackly.

And there the matter stands. Evidently it takes a strong man to defy the American flapper.

THE PLAINSMAN Says

That Girl on Broadway says even a barber loses money by cutting acquaintances.

"By the Associated Press."

"It's just a line of type—smaller than the type in which the story accompanying it is set—to some people. But to others, including the workers of the craft, that line means "accuracy and reliability." It means "public trust and respect." It means "the acme of all news services" and, further, it means that the paper in which it appears is offering its readers the best and the staunchest in news reports.

The Plainsman has meant to write about the Associated Press for a long time but somehow or another something else always stepped in to postpone it. A study of a recent night report—all the news ground from events of the day the world throughout — however, brought about today's column. The Associated Press, its myriad and intricate workings, is worthy of space in this or any other column.

* * *

The date lines fairly tumble from the automatic printer machines in the offices of the Daily Journal, day after day. "Stamboul," "Constantinople," "Shanghai," "Harbin," "Moscow," and from other far off corners of the world they read. "New York," "New Orleans," "Chicago', and Kalamazoo," "Borger," "Hearne," Georgetown," "Port Arthur"—"Buenos Aires," "Austin," "Houston" and "Dallas"—city after city, in many nations and states, pour forth their news to Associated Press members scattered the globe over. And it happens every day and every night right here in Lubbock.

The Associated Press is something infinitely more than "just another news service." Oldest and largest, proudest and most successful. The Associated Press is just what it says—an association of newspapers everywhere. Not every paper can secure Associated Press dispatches. No one can "buy" it. Associated Press service comes to a newspaper as lodge or church membership comes to the individual. A paper must be a "member paper" must be voted into membership by the board of directors, before the service can be started. Money is not the prime object and Associated Press pays no dividends. It is a co-operative organization in the most successful sense of the word, where members everywhere benefit by other members everywhere else.

"Remember the Associated Press! The Other Fellow May Want that story Too," is the watchword which appears in the news room of every Associated Press newspaper. That Watchword has become the slogan of a wide-awake craft and to forget the Associated Press—if any newspaper man worthy of the name ever does!—would be a disgrace. All over the world are wide-awake hustlers who, 24 hours every day, are remembering the Associated Press that the readers of the Daily Journal and all the other Associated Press papers may receive the news of the world speedily—and accurately.

Because it was the first member paper on the South Plains, the Daily Journal is particularly proud of its connection with the Associated Press. It has become a tradition in this office that every man jack on the staff feels himself an integral part of the great news service which serves his paper's clientele. "Remember the Associated" is drilled into the minds of everybody and when a story of importance "breaks" in Lubbock or on the South Plains not many minutes elapse before it is on the wire of that great organization.

That Man on Avenue Q says a woman is known by the company she snubs.

Hey, boy! Page Mr. Carnegy. Here's a little story about a brave little man:

Two little boys came into the dentist's office. One said to the dentist, "I want a tooth took out and I don't want no gas because I'm in a hurry."

Dentist—That's a brave little boy. Which tooth is it?

Little Boy—Show him your tooth, Albert.

The certificate of membership in the Associated Press is one of the dearest and most zealously guarded possessions this newspaper has for through that great medium of news gathering this newspaper feels the readers of the South Plains can and do take confidence in the news which is laid before them and realize that through the Associated Press the Journal is offering the best available anywhere.

According to the terms of the Journal's membership this newspaper is responsible for protecting the Associated Press in only a thirty mile radius with Lubbock as a center. But mileage has never proved a deterrant to the Journal whenever it could serve a parent organization. Stories from West Texas points within a radius of 150 miles have been reported to the Associated Press by this newspaper and the practice will continue. That is the only apparent method the Journal has in showing the Associated Press how much it values the membership.

"Without-Or-With, Offense To Friends Or Foes, We Sketch Your World Exactly As It Goes"—Byron

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Few if any goats have ever risen to the international renown of the goat William Hamilton Bones. Perhaps that is because Washington correspondents, who have contrived the fame of William Hamilton Bones, would rather write about a goat any day than a politician. Although, if the capital were full of goats, one might also eventually weary of writing about goats.

William Hamilton Bones probably would not now be within our gates had it not been for the widely credited report that he was the personal goat of Secretary of State Henry L Stimson. Not even the department of agriculture, which feared that William Hamilton Bones might have foot and mouth disease, surra, surra, rinderpest or pleuropneumonia, could hold out forever against the secretary of state's own personal goat.

As a matter of fact, William Hamilton Bones is and was the own personal goat of Capt. Eugene Regnier, the secretary's military aide. One hesitates to suggest just how much culpability attaches to Capt. Regnier for letting the story get out that it was the secretary's goat—a story which so immensely strengthened the position of William Hamilton Bones.

A Very Lucky Goat

Probably William Hamilton Bones does not know his luck, for this government has barred in recent years a count and a countess, the Rarolyis, and a member of the British parliament, Shapurji Saklatvala, for less. These and others who were kept out were never suspected of hoof and mouth disease or rinderpest.

Now that he's here the citizenship of William Hamilton Bones will be taken for granted. He will not have to promise a judge, as Mrs. Rosika Schwimmer and Martha Garber refused to promise, to fight our enemies. William Hamilton Bones is willing—nay, pleased—to butt anybody and at all times.

The fact is that William Hamilton Bones, the world's most famous goat and probably the world's most widely traveled goat, has always had extraordinary luck. Once he was a poor orphan in the hills of Hawaii, bleating piteously and barely old enough to wobble. Then he was taken to live in a palace. Now he is an American! There are few success stories to beat that. It has all happened to William Hamilton Bones in two short years.

Some goat hunters killed his mother in Hawaii and it was there that Capt. Regnier adopted him at the age of eight or ten days. Two quarts of milk the captain fed him every day, at first through a rubber nipple. Two quarts of milk he nuzzled every day until the time Regnier left his leather riding gloves on a chair near William Hamilton Bones and returned to find them vanished except for the two buttons. He was then put on a general diet.

At the age of six months, William Hamilton Bones went to Manila with Capt. Regnier, who became Stimson's aide. Stimson was governor general of the Philippines and so William Hamilton Bones moved to the Malacan palace, the governor general's mansion: With fastidious tastes and an eye for color, he went on a diet of roses, hibiscuses, chrysanthemums and delphiniums and remained on that diet until Mrs. Stimson discovered what was happening to her flower beds.

A Name Out of a Book

When he came to Manila, this goat's name was only William. Miss Candace Stimson, the governor general's sister, came from a tour in the Orient with a number of Edgar Wallace's books, which she had picked up in Shanghai. One was a yarn of African adventure in which William Hamilton Bones was the name of a native infant who had been rescued from the jungle by a British army officer. Miss Stimson saw the similarity. Thus a goat came to be called William Hamilton Bones.

It was at Malacan palace that William Hamilton Bones became acquainted with the Old Soak, the world famous Stimson parrot, and a warm friendship began. Soon parrot and goat were bleating back and forth to each other.

After Mrs. Stimson had decided that she liked flowers better than goats, William Hamilton Bones was staked out at the Manila Polo club, where he became the team's mascot. He replaced in that capacity a 40 year old mule named Saruso, once the progerty of Governor General Forbes, who had become too old and infirm to travel about with the polo ponies. At the polo club William Hamilton Bones developed his appetite. He has an especial fondness for cigarets, but refuses to accept them when lighted. Neither does he eat tin or glass, but he is not be trusted with anything else. Also at the Poto club William Hamilton Bones butted many local famous posteriors, though never viciously and always in a gentle spirit. Once he went into a main highway and refused to permit traffic to pass until a squad of men was sent to remove him.

It must be remembered that William Hamilton Bones is not as other goats. He was born a wild goat resembles in figure more an antelope or an ibex or something. It is as a wild goat, in fact, that he is finally admitted to America after two months aboard ship in San Francisco harbor.

Has a Military Bearing

William Hamilton Bones, through contact with soldiers and sailors, has a military and naval background. He stands on his hind legs and begs. He makes sounds like a person talking, though the words are indistinguishable.

The state, war, navy and agriculture departments were all in on the business of admitting William Hamilton Bones, for the navy radio was used to get the assurance from Manila that he had not been exposed to rinderpest, etc.

After his official reception in Washington he probably will be taken for a time to Capt. Regnier's shack down the Potomac river, to graze on wild flowers. When winter comes he may be stalled out at the Wardman park saddle club, along with Senator Borah's horse and other aristocratic animals.

As Brought Over Associated Press Wires Today

(By Associated Press)

Ice Man Wins

NEW YORK—Some $9,000 in wagers has changed hands as the result of a decision of a committee of the Bronx Chamber of Commerce that an ice dealer went around the world faster than an automobile mechanic. The winner's time was 34 days 2 hours and 5 minutes as against the other's 39 days 19 hours. The dispute arose over time out for stopovers.

Recovers Part

HOBOKEN, N. J.—Six persons have been arrested because the $5,000 savings of romantic Sime Susberrich, railroad fireman, vanished. Sime planned to use the money to elope with Mrs. Sophie Radulic. At the rendezvous, so he says, she demanded the cash, and was reenforced by a club-swinging husband. Sime called in the police and they recovered $4,500.

Head Responsible

HAZELTON, Pa.—The head of Rightfielder Layden of Binghamton in the Penn League has been responsible for a home run by Roseberry of Hazelton. As Layden was chasing a fly the ball hit him on the head and bounced over the fence.

Wear Light Clothes

KAZAN, U. S. S. R.—In the country of the Volga boatmen visiting American merchants have been wearing linen blouses and white trousers. The women in their party have tried to keep cool in light homespun peasant dresses and sandals.

Cheap Alcohol

BARI, Italy—All industrial Italy has centered its attention on this olive-growing section as a result of experiments in the extraction of alcohol from hitherto useless vegetable water left over in the manufacture of olive oil. From 594 gallons of this water, Domenico Massimeo, engineer, has obtained 22 gallons of alcohol at an expense of 15 cents a gallon.

New York night clubs are said to be waning in popularity. What is needed is a raid or two to get a little publicity.

Isn't it about time we'd be hearing of a woman with twelve great-grandchildren staying up in a plane 300 hours?

THE WEATHER

Partly cloudy

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday, local thunder showers in extreme west portion.

EAST TEXAS: Partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday. Light to moderate southerly winds on coast.

OKLAHOMA: Partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday.

ARKANSAS: Partly cloudy to unsettled tonight and Tuesday.

Going Places With Swan

HOLLYWOOD, July 29—Manhattan's famous Tin Pan Alley now scatters from Santa Monica canyon to Hollywood Boulevard and back.

And in this process of wide distribution it has lost its romance and color. Its piano thumping brood now parades along the boulevard or rushes into a studio "huddle." There are no picturesque little coops wherein song pluggers gather, while inspiration runs at white heat, and syncopation comes out by the yard.

The creation of the movie theme song has brought about a strange metamorphosis, both in the method of production and in the medium of composition. No longer does the song writer produce his wares from ideas worked out in his song-shop. Something of the factory output idea has slid into his daily life—pardon me, while I brush away a tear!

Since theme songs are being hummed from one end of the continent to the other and since they are likely to go on being hummed, whether or not I like it, it might interest someone-or-other to learn how they are being made.

To begin with, the boys of Tin Pan Alley are as thick as midgets in the old Hippodrome basement. Like the children of the old lady in the shoe, there are so many of them here they don't know what to do. The movie concerns, in their almost hysterical convolutions—produced by the talking pictures—have grabbed helter-skelter, hit-or-miss; picking up playwrights, gagwrights, poets and heaven knows what. As I have had occasion to remark at one time or another before, there is a temperature of at least 104, with the patient often becoming delirious.

Even in the few months of its infancy, the process of elimination has already made its appearance and many of those who were grabbed up as nurses at birth are now wandering back to Broadway. There will be many more doing the same before the leaves turn red and the fall rains turn the burned California hills back to green.

To return to theme songs, however—each film lot of any consequence has something like a score of Tin Pan Alley expatriates. At one place you may find Gus Edwards or Fred Fisher, of "Japanese Sandman" fame, or Nacio Brown or Vincent Bryant. At another you'll find De Sylva, Henderson and Brown. And so it goes.

Anyhow, when it's theme time out in Hollywood—there I go, doing it myself—they send out a call for all the Tin Panners on the lot. At that particular moment, the composer may or may not have had the slightest idea of what he was going to do next. And they go into a huddle concerning a certain picture. Soon thereafter, the bright young songsters are taken to see the picture in its silent form.

"Now boys," they are told, when they sit down, "get some bright idea from watching this picture and run back and write a song to go with it."

The songs, by the way, are fitted into the picture after it has been made—that is, in all instances I have observed to date! For instance, the other day the picture revealed the fact that some young boob had dodged women most of his life, until along came Joan Crawford. When the writers were turned loose they all rushed to their inspiration chambers and someone came out with a number entitled, "I've Waited So Long for You"—or something like that.

Thus it goes on. A couple of dozen lyricists and music writers rush away, fresh from a showing of the picture, and go into the silence and try to grab an idea out of the air. Out of the bunch some one, or more, happens upon a bright idea. The rest are scrapped. Now and then a couple of ideas are worked together in the same song. The first consideration is for a title—"Redskin, Why Are You Blue?" or "Murder, Why Will You Out?" After that, everything seems relatively easy. The wrting boys dash off their tunes and out of the scramble one emerges which finally finds its way to the recording room, and thence across the nation.

SALT TAKEN IN EXCESS OFTEN PROVES IRRITANT TO THE BLOOD VESSELS

Salt and Reducing

"Dear Doctor: I have carefully followed the instructions in your reducing pamphlet, and in about nine weeks I have lost 20 pounds, and am almost down to normal weight. Thank you so much for your help.

"Will you please explain in the column why you say in your pamphlet, 'Eat very little salt'? I have heard this before, but do not understand how salt can make one fat.

"MRS. P."

I advise very little salt, Mrs. P., first, because most of us take four or five times as much as is actually needed, and salt in an excess is an irritant to the kidneys and blood vessels; and second, salt and salty foods cause a retention of water so the tissue fluids and blood won't be too concentrated (you know how thirsty you are after taking salty foods); and, of course, if too much is taken it always keeps the weight higher on account of the excess water. There is no calorie value in salt, so it isn't 'fattening' in itself.

"I have had a prune stone in my throat for years. It never gave me trouble until recently, when my throat has begun to feel very sore. I think it is from the stone. Is there a way to have it out without an operation? M."

Yes, it may come out eventually by ulceration, M., and before this happens, many complications may occur; and when it does happen, such a hemorrhage that you certainly will be sorry you were so foolish to defer going to a surgeon and having it removed by an operation. Probably the operation will be a very simple affair.

Are you sure it is a prune stone?

"I had my urine analyzed and the reports show it to be neutral, whereas acid should be normal. Why is this, and what should be eaten to remedy the condition? MRS. B."

The reaction of the urine is normally usually slightly acid, but it may also be neutral when the diet contains little acid ash foods and liberal amounts of water are taken. In fact, this neutral reaction is desirable.

Those whose diet consists mostly of breads, cereals, flesh foods—all acid in their final reaction—may have a urine highly acid, sometimes 100 times as acid as normal (Kellogg). This high acidity is an indication that the alkalinity of the blood is lowered and a condition known as acidosis exists. This is a great factor in lowering the resistance to disease, and fatigue.

During the summer, or under conditions of prolonged perspiration, the urine is concentrated and scant, and then it will be more acid normally. This is the reason liberal amounts of water should be drunk during perspiring weather.

I imagine you have had your examination made without a doctor's directions. Examinations made by commercial laboratories are more apt to cause anxiety than good. If you have symptoms that disturb you, you should have a physical examination by a competent physician and he will interpret the urinalysis for you.

EFFORTS TO RESTRICT ENTRY OF MEXICANS TO BE CONTINUED

BY JOHN C. BOX, Congressman From Texas

(John Calvin Box was born in Houston county, Tex., March 28, 1871. He was educated in the district schools and Alexander institute. Being the practice of law at Lufkin, Texas, in 1893, he removed to Jacksonville four years later. He served as county court judge two terms and mayor of Jacksonville two terms. He was elected to congress in 1919 and has been returned each term since.)

I am informed that the provisions of the immigration laws governing the visaing of the immigrant's passports by American consuls are being much more effectively applied now, than heretofore, showing results in the drastic number of passports issued to immigrants from Mexico. It is reported to me that in March, 1928, 6,000 such visas were issued, and that only 1,800 such visas were issued during March of 1929. During April, 1928, there were 6,500 such passports visaed and during April of this year only 2,500 such visas were attached. I am advised that this reduction is continuing.

One feature which figures in the situation on the Mexican border consists of a measure for which I and other restrictionists, have been working for years. That is a measure making it a felony offense for an alien to enter the country illegally. This law has been several times reported by the house committee on immigration, with my active support and has passed the house more than once, but failed to get any consideration in the senate. It was included with so many other provisions relating to the deportation of aliens that its effects upon thousands of Mexicans who enter Texas, California, New Mexico, and Arizona in violation of the immigration laws, and from thence scatter themselves over the country, was not generally recognized.

Toward the end of the 70th congress, this provision was included in a bill which passed the senate and was quickly reported by the house committee, passed by the house, and approved by the president. Thousands of aliens who have entered the country in violatioon of law, among which Mexicans are most numerous, may be arrested, convicted, fined and imprisoned and, after serving their sentence, deported. This act, and another one, and the efforts at better enforcement generally, seem to be the chief causes of deportation of many Mexican aliens, and the precipitate departure of many others.

Already, it is claimed that a 65 per cent reduction of Mexican immigration is being accomplished. It is undoubtedly true that the number is being reduced, and that many undesirables are being driven out of the country, but I seriously doubt that these measures are at all adequate for the protection of the country against this rush of Mexican infiltration, and I shall continue to insist upon the enactment of something like a quota law in Mexico.

STATUES WOULD UNITE FEELING

NORFOLK, Va., July 29. (AP)—Abolition of the last faint traces of sectional feeling between the north and the south is the goal of Senator Lee S. Overman of North Carolina.

His plan is for statues with the bridge now being built across the Potomac river.

Served 26 Years

Senator Overman is 75 years old and has served his state in the senate for 26 years. As a conception worthy of the wisdom of his years as well as the traditional culture of his beloved "old south" his suggestion has received attention of the memorial bridge commission, and a report will be made at the next session of congress.

The bridge, itself a symbol of a nation no longer divided, will lead to the Lincoln memorial on the Washington side and touch Arlington cemetery in Virginia.

Senator Overman has suggested that two sculptural female figures typifying the north and the south should be erected in the center of the bridge. At the northern end he would place a figure of General Grant looking south and on the other side a figure of General Lee looking north.

And to stress the idea of absolute unity between the two sections Senator Overman's plan stipulates that the figures of the two famous fighters be posed in attitudes and facial expressions of peace and understanding as they look toward the lands which they once wished to conquer.

NOTICE OF FIRST MEETING OF CREDITORS

In the District Court of the United States for the Northern District of Texas in Bankruptcy, Lubbock, Texas, in the matter of Wylie Elbert Boyle, Bankrupt, No. 26 in Bankruptcy.

OFFICE OF REFEREE
Lubbock, Texas, July 26, 1929.

To the Creditors of Wylie Elbert Boyle of Plainview county of Hale and District aforesaid, a bankrupt. Notice is hereby given that on the 26th day of July, A. D., 1929, the said Wylie Elbert Boyle, was duly adjudged bankrupt, and that the first meeting of his creditors will be held at my office in the City of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, on the 9th day of August, A. D., 1929, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

W. D. GIRAND,
Referee In Bankruptcy.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS
(Paving)

Sealed proposals addressed to the Hon. Mayor and City Commission of Lubbock, Texas, will be received at the office of W. H. Rodgers, City Secretary, City Hall, Lubbock, Texas, until 1:30 p. m., August 8, 1929, and thereupon publicly opened, read and considered by the City Commission, for furnishing all necessary materials, labor and equipment for the paving of certain streets in the City of Lubbock, Texas. Approximate quantities as follows:

34,000 sq. yds. paving.
14,100 lin. ft. curb and gutter.
12,700 cu. yds. excavation.

The City of Lubbock reserves the right to reject any and all bids to waive formalities and to accept the bid which seems to be most advantageous to the City's interest.

Instructions to bidders, proposal forms, plans and specifications may be obtained at the offices of W. H. Rodgers, City Secretary, and M. R. Smith Jr., City Engineer, City Hall, Lubbock, Texas.

(SEAL) H. D. WOOD, Mayor.
W. H. RODGERS,
City Secretary.

WE WISH to thank our many friends for their kind deeds and words of sympathy during the long illness and death of our dear husband and father. Also for the many beautiful floral offerings.

REACTIONS ON STOCKS FELT

PRICE TENDENCIES ON OPENING IN WALL STREET DOWN

NEW YORK, July 29 (AP)—Reactionary price tendencies again predominated at the opening of today's stock market. Westinghouse Electric dropped 3 points, Union Carbide 2 and Baltimore and Ohio, Electric Auto Lite and several other popular industrials yielded fractionally. Chesapeake and Ohio and Radio each opened about a point higher.

The prevailing bearish sentiment was generally attributed to the widespread uneasiness over the tight credit situation. Wall Street had expected a marked relaxation in credit rates in connection with the financing of crop movements, but to date there has been little evidence of any easing in the Federal Reserve credit policy.

Losses Felt

Reports that heavy distribution was taking place in some of the recent speculative favorites also had a disturbing effect. American Telephone fell back 3 points and Union Pacific, Bendix Aviation and Allied Chemical quickly yielded 2 points or more. Early losses of a point or so were registered by New York Central, Northern Pacific, Bethlehem Steel, U. S. Steel, common, American Can, General Electric, Consolidated Gas and B-Products Coke.

Wheeling & Lake Erie, common, soared 10 1-4 points to a new high at 110, placing it on a parity with the preferred stock of that road. Atchison was quickly bid up more than 3 points.

Motors, which have been under rather steady selling pressure for several weeks, developed strong rallying tendencies, with Studebaker and Chrysler in the vanguard of the advance. Frank G. Shattuck jumped nearly 4 points. Eastman Kodak 3 and R. H. Macy and Michigan Steel recorded early gains of a point each.

Foreign exchanges opened firm.

"IT IS THE BEST MEDICINE IN THE WORLD, HE SAYS

"I Suffered 12 Years But Orgatone Has Given Me Health," Says Lubbock Man

"At last I am on the road to perfic health again. After I have spent lots of money trying to get relief from my troubses," said T. J. Teal of Lubbock, Texas, who is in the poultry business here, and has been a resident of this city for a number of years.

"I got to the place where nearly had to live on nothing, for I couldn't eat anything but what would disagree with me, and cause me to suffer terribly. All of the food I ate, would cause gas to form on my stomach, until at times, I would feel so puffed up and dave such a bloated feeling I thought I would burst. No matter what I tried in the way of medicine nothing helped me a bit and it seemed as if there were no relief for me.

"My kidneys were in a very bad condition, and I would have intense, sharp shooting pains in my back and sides. I had a bad case of constipation and was very nervous and couldn't sleep at night. I was extremely restless at night and would roll and toss and couldn't get enough sleep, always felt tired and wornout.

"When a man has been in the shape I have, it sure seems wonderful to be able to eat anything he wants and have no trouble from it, that's just what I can do since taking Orgatone. I began to pick up in a durry after I started using it have been getting better ever since. I am now a well man and am feeling stronger every day. All of my troubles are gone, and I eat things now I haven't for years. I sleep fine at night and all the pains in my back and sides have disappeared.

"I'm sure glad I got hold of Orgatone when I did and there's nothing I could say for it that would be too much. I hope mf case will be the cause of others who have the same trouble finding tde same relief as I have. I sincereIf think it is the best medicine in the world."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowen's Drug Store who are direct laboratory agents. Adv.

EASIER TONE ON COTTON IS FELT

NEW ORLEANS, July 29 (AP)—The Lancashire mill strike and unfavorable weather in the western belt influenced an easier tone in early trading in the cotton market today. First trades showed losses of 9 to 11 points in sympathy with lower Liverpool cables than due and prices continued to decline until active positions showed losses of nearly $1 a bale from Saturday's close.

October traded off to 18.38, December 18.57 and January, or 17 to 19 points net down. At the end of the first hour the market was slightly steadier but prices were at or near the lows.

The market ruled quiet during the greater part of the morning keeping within the earlier range. Towards mid-session reports of too much rain in parts of South and Central Texas stimulated some support as did advices of increasing weevil activity. October rallied to 18.52 and December 18.70, or 14 to 15 points up from the lows and to within 4 to 5 points of Saturday's close. At mid-session the market was steady and at the highs.

DECLINE IN NEW YORK IS FROM 7 TO 15

NEW YORK, July 29 .—The cotton market opened easy today at a decline of 7 to 15 points in response to lower Liverpool cables and the Lancashire labor troubles. October sold off to 18.48 and January to 18.70 during the early trading, or about 13 to 16 points net lower but there was considerable trade buying at the decline and after the initial offerings had been absorbed prices steadied on covering.

A private report was issued placing the condition of the crop at 70.9 per cent against a report of 72.7 a month ago.

Cable advices from Liverpool sale the market there was lower under London, Manchester and continental liquidation, promoted by favorable weather reports from the south but that business in cotton yarns and cloths was practically at a standstill owing to the stoppage of the Lancashier mills.

The market was very quiet later in the morning. The buying which developed as December approached 18 3-4 cents caused rallies of 8 or 9 points from the lowest but the demand soon tapered off and prices sagged. At midday December was ruling around 18.79, with the general list showing net losses of 11 to 15 points.

"COMMISSION" FORM OF GOVERNMENT IS HOLDING SWAY IN TEXAS NOW; FOUR PROBLEMS BEING CLOSELY STUDIED

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, July 29 (AP)—It could be said that Texas just now has a "commission" form of government. For, as a result, of action of the legislature, the state has no less than four commissions at work on problems of government.

Most important, no doubt, is the commission of 18 to study the penitentiary situation with a view of picking a site for relocation and reorganization. The nine members of the Prison Board, all appointees of Governor Moody, supplemented by four senators and five members of the House, will start its work in earnest at a meeting to be held in Houston next Thursday.

Investigate Matters

Other commissions are those to settle boundary disputes between Texas and Oklahoma and Texas and New Mexico, and one to make an investigation of the fee system to determine the remuneration county officers receive.

Everybody is interested in the penitentiary "problem" and it is virtually certain to be the inspiration for a fourth special session of the 41st legislature early next year, when findings and recommendations of the commission will be considered and acted on.

Two Factions

There are distinctly two factions in the legislature, one convinced that concentration can be better effected on some lands now owned by the state, and the other insistent that a modern plant should be constructed on some centrally located site. The two groups are almost evenly divided—so close in numbers that it has been difficult for the legislature to reach an agreement towards solution of the penitentiary question.

All are agreed that something should be done to concentrate the men and property, since they are now strewn from Red River to the Gulf of Mexico over 12 farms. Farming is the principal, and one might say sole, occupation of the prisoners at this time. Gov. Moody and others have conceived the idea that the men should be put to other work in a centrally located and modern plant with farming as a side issue. It has been proposed that clothing used by inmates of state institutions be manuactured by the prisoners and probably the state's printing and bookbinding done by them to some extent.

Governor Moody is anxious to start centralization towards realization before his term of office ends in 1931.

Not to Be "Sneezed At"

The fee system commission is not to be "sneezed at", to employ language of the sports editor. Senator Pink L. Parrish of Lubbock, instigator of the investigation to find out how much money county officers are drawing down, is chairman of the commission of five. He tried to get a bill through the legislature setting the limit on income from whatever source of county officers at $10,000 annually, but lost by a narrow margin. He succeeded in bringing to the capitol a formidable lobby of county officers. Senator Parrish is earnest in his belief that $10,000 a year is enough money for any county officer to receive. He said an investigation would reveal $25,000 and $30,000 annual salaries are common among some officeholders. The Parrish report will be ready for the special session.

The two boundary commissions are at work and will also suggest solutions of the controversies. The Oklahoma controversy has about been settled. Oklahoma wants to retain some 28,000 acres thrown into Texas by fixing the 100th meridian as the boundary between the Sooner State and the Texas Panhandle. Texas is willing for Oklahoma to keep the strip and an agreement between the states as to remuneration and certain rights is to be reached and ratified by the respective legislatures.

SLATON BOYS ATTEND

SLATON, July 29 (Special)—Four Slaton 4-H club boys, Ralph Dickson, Casey Fine, Irvin Reed and Jack Stalcup, are attending the annual farmers short course at A. and M. college this week. Erpenses of three of the boys are being paid by the Slaton Rotary club, according to W. H. Smith, president.

Edison says he once went 174 hours without sleep. He knows how it is then to live next door to a guy with a cornet.

Oklahoma Agent Was Right In His Chance For Life

BOSTON, July 29 (AP)—Before Carl B. Cowan, 28 years old, Oklahoma travelling shoe salesman, entered the city hospital for a serious operation a week ago, he appraised his chance of recovery as one in 100,000. Accordingly he introduced himself to a Roxbury undertaker to whom he gave the necessary instructions.

His guess proved right and today his body was enroute to his Oklahoma home.

Cowan spent his first four days in the hospital writing letters. Most of them were farewells, addressed to family and friends, but one was sent to Governor Dan Moody of Texas. In it Cowan asked that a brother be paroled long enough to attend the funeral, if he died.

Death came on the fifth day, and yesterday the undertaker carried out Cowan's last instructions.

Turkey Sales Day Proves Successful

(Special To The Journal)

TURKEY, July 29—Turkey's Third Trades Day, held Saturday was by the largest and best so far, says J. M. Edwards, secretary of the chamber of commerce, who was in charge of the official activities.

As has been customary the cow, the sow, and a trio of fine chickens were given away, and a big auction sale, free of charge was held.

The trades days are made possible by the support of 46 merchants, the next trades day will be held the first Saturday in September, in connection with the Community Fair which will be held September 6 and 7th.

Between 400 and 500 automobiles lined the business streets and parking room could hardly be found, other than several blocks from the business district.

LOCAL MEN WILL ATTEND CONFAB

Headed by R. J. Murray, members of the highway committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and other good roads boosters will attend a meeting in Morton tomorrow to discuss the best possible highway route from Lubbock to Portales and Elida, N. M.

Seconding an invitation broadcast by the Morton Chamber of Commerce, the Lubbock organization has distributed invitations for all cities along the planned route to have representatives present at the meeting.

Other members of the local highway committee are J. H. Hankins, Ray Grisham, E. J. Parsons and Richard Douglas.

Proponents of the highway claim that the new route will shorten the distance from this city to Farwell by 45 miles. After the route is decided upon an effort will be made to have it designated as a state highway.

The Saffa Swiss exposition of women's work, the first of its kind in Switzerland, was recently held, and was attended from all parts of the country.

Your Ford dealer offers solid values in

USED CARS

WHAT do we mean by "solid values"? Simply this: When you buy a used car from us you pay just what that car is worth. There has been no inflation in the resale price to take care of an unreasonable trade-in allowance. The price of the new Ford is very low, and the value high; there is no leeway for excessive trade-in allowances. That is why you can buy a used car from us knowing the price you pay is for the service that car will give, and nothing else. Our used-car department is based on a spirit of fair-dealing. We would hardly care to risk our reputation by acting otherwise.

Come in today and see some of our bargains in unused transportation. There are several makes now on display. Model T Fords are thoroughly reconditioned, and carry a guarantee.

THE TINYMITES

BY RAL COCHRAN

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tinies watched the circus men run 'round about and back again. It seemed they all were busy. There was heaps and heaps to do. "I'll bet," said Scouty, "they will be so fagged out they can hardly see. No wonder circus people like to sleep when they are through."

Just then they heard a gruff voice shout, "Hey there, you Tinymites. Turn out and help us pitch this monstrous tent. It's quite a puzzling task. You're small, but you can help a bit. Grab stakes and try to make them fit down in the ground real snugly. Hurry now. That's all we ask!"

"Sure thing," yelled Scouty. "We will aid, and show that we are not afraid of good hard work. Bring on the stakes. We'll stick them in the ground." Some men then brought the stakes nearby. Wee Clowny looked on with a sigh. Oh my, he thought, it's my bad luck when work like this is found.

But everyone picked up an axe and gave the stakes some good hard whacks. Down in the ground they slowly went, until the job was done. Poor Clowny sat down in a heap. Said he, "why, I could almost weep. Here we have run right into work. I thought it would be fun."

"Don't knick so much,' another cried. "You wail at everything that's tried. If we stay with this circus we will have to do our share. At real hard work's where we belong. Just think, 'twill make us good and strong. There's nothing quite as healthy as the good, fresh, open air."

So all the bunch worked on some more. In fact, until their arms felt sore. And then they sat down on the ground and watched the tent rise high. "Oh, gee," cried Carpy, "it's immense. I love to see such great big tents. It looks just like a great big cloud of white out of the sky."

BIG UTILITY COMBINATION IS ORGANIZED

RECAPITALIZATION OF FIRMS PLANNED IN GIANT WAY

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 29 30.—Plans for a sweeping recapitalization of the Middle West Utilities company, one of the largest holding concerns in the public utilities field, were announced last night by the directors. The company is an Insull organization.

The plan involves a $63,000,000 "melon" for stock holders in the form of stock purchasing rights and a stock split-up.

Submitted in September

The recapitalization plan will be submitted to the stockholders in September, when their permission be sought for revision of the charter in accordance with the new scheme.

Principal features of the program are:

Liquidation all funded debts.

Can Buy Common

Privilege of stock holders to buy one new share of common stock for $200 for each four shares of all classes of stock now held.

Issuance of rights to holders of prior lien and preferred stocks, which will be called in, to purchase $55,000,000 in new six per cent preferred stock on which dividends will be paid in cash or common stock.

A split on a ten to one basis of common stock paying dividends in stock at the rate of eight per cent annually on the number of shares held, after foregoing rights have been exercised.

Shares Active

Announcement of the proposed recapitalization scheme followed several active days for the stock on the Chicago exchange. Last week it sold as high as 370, closing Satuday at 364, recording a net gain of 55 points for the week.

Earlier this year it sold for as low as 158 and in 1920 could be had as low as 12 and 13.

Upon completion of the program the company will have no funded debt and will be capitalized by 550,000 shares of $6 preferred stock and 13,445,000 shares of common stock.

The company directs the Central and Southwest Utilities company, the National Electric Power company, the Searboard Public Service company and the New England Public Service company. The Middle West Utilities company itself has outlets in 11 states.

SCOUTS WILL MEET PRINCE OF WALES IN BIG WORLD JAMBOREE IN ENGLAND

BIRKENHEAD, Eng, July 29 (AP)—Fifty thousand Boy Scouts from all parts of the world will meet the Prince of Wales here August 1 when he flies up from London to participate in their international jamboree.

The jamboree is scheduled to open July 31 in celebration of the twenty-first anniversary of the birth of scouting.

The prince will spend the night in camp with the scouts and the next day will witness a grand rally from the dais in front of the grand stand in Arrows park.

In this international rally he will be greeted by boys from half a hundred countries. At a given signal the boys will raise the "Scouts' howl" and dash in camp formation toward the dais. At another signal they will come to a standstill in a semicircle round the prince and listen to what he has to say.

After which the prince will fly back to London and 50,000 boys will gloat over the prospect of saying to their pals when they reach home again:

"What? The Prince of Wales? Sure, I know him."

State School Aid Is More In Big Spring

(Special To The Journal)

BIG SPRING, July 29.—The Big Spring city schools will receive $32,032 state money for the 1929-30 term which is an increase of $16,387 over that received last year, the sum received for the 1928-29 session being $21,645. This net increase in state apportionment is equal to $1,638,387 in valuation of property. The scholastic enrollment of city schools for 1929-30 as approved by the state department is 2,377 over 1,433 of last year, an increase of 944 scholastics. The state apportionment amount being $16.00 per capita, an increase of one dollar over former years.
