Tower Claims
Climate Right
For GOP Win

AUSTIN (AP) — Republicans can capture the presidency in 1968 "if the political climate stays as it is," U. S. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., told the state's GOP leaders Saturday.

Tower's speech was the highlight of a day-long routing business meeting of the Texas Republican Executive Committee. Warning that Democrats will work together at election time despite their differences, Tower said the GOP "should subordinate its intra-party disputes and come before the American public as a united party in 1968."

HALLELUJAH

"If the political climate stays as it is, I can predict we will elect a Republican president in 1968—and, hallelujah, a Republican congress," Tower said.

Tower said the party in Texas is stronger than ever and "the two-party system is a reality."

Referring to his own victory over Waggoner Carr in the general election, Tower said there "was no end of effort from Washington (to defeat him). It has even been reported to us that there were some 'phone calls made from Manila to some labor leaders. . . to enlist their good offices among the working people of the state to defeat John Tower."

LABOR LEADERS

This was an apparent reference to President Johnson's trip to Asia just before the election. Organized labor took no official stand in favor of either Tower or Carr, but there were reports that some leading unionists were working actively for Tower.

"The labor leaders never yielded to pressure," Tower said. He did not name them.

Tower also revealed the countries he will tour on his previously announced Jan. 28-Feb. 15 trip to Asia. He said he will visit South Korea, Formosa (Nationalist China), Hong Kong, Thailand and South Vietnam.

CHANGING TIMES

"The situation is changing there and I want to keep abreast of it," he said.

He also said the GOP should enlist "our fine Latin American friends" in party political efforts. Several speakers said the Latin American vote for Tower was higher than it usually is for GOP candidates.

The four GOP legislators, Sen. Henry Grover, Houston, and Reps. Frank Cahoon, Midland; Malouf Abraham, Canadian, and Charles Scoggins, Corpus Christi, gave brief talks.

BIKE BANDIT SPILLS MOST OF $15,000

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — Police said a holdup man fleeing on a stolen bicycle with $15,000 loot was caught Saturday when he wobbled and fell—spilling cash all over the street.

Police Sgt. Mike Fisher, hustling toward the robbed supermarket, saw the spill and the cash. He stopped and arrested a man identified as Charlie Larrea.

Sgt. Fisher said Larrea had a pistol stuck in his belt and carried the cash in a paper sack.

Reviewing The

Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

It's getting that time of the year when you should do something about protecting your right to vote. Approximately 5,200 have qualified so far by applying for their (free) registration, but there are that many more who need to act. With your certificate, you have a sovereign voice; without it you are just another belly-acher.

Tragedy struck at Colorado City Thursday, one of those things that can't happen but did. Adam O. Alvarez, 44, working near the hydraulic press of the cotton compress, slipped and fell into the unit. He was crushed instantly to death.

Two members of the Webb AFB were regularly honored last week. M. Sgt. Bobby D. Eiland was named the Airman of the Year at the base, and Saturday night at the Chamber of Commerce banquet (where the Eilands were recognized). Capt. Henry Hill was revealed as winner of the Jaycees Distinguished Service Award.

Happy Principals — Before Or After(?)

who served up a neat charade for dessert. More than 400 heard him at the Big Spring Country Club at the chamber's annual banquet. (Photo by Danny Valdes)

C-C Speaker Gives Banquet
Tense, Explosive Climax

For most of half an hour Dr. Geoffrey Bray, director of the Great Britain Travel and Culture Agency, entertained more than 400 people Saturday evening at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet with a picture sense of humor, flavored with British accent.

This, however, was but the prelude to as hairy a finish as the venerable community get-together will ever have.

Gradually, the doctor began needling American customs and institutions, then intimated that U.S. democracy wasn't so democratic after all.

INCONSISTENT U.S.

America had done a switch on Castro after he came to power in Cuba. He chided the U.S. as a champion of self-determination, for being in Vietnam. And, as the silence deepened, he lambasted this nation for opposing China a seal in the U.N. because in a world teetering on the brink of nuclear annihilation, "dialogue is the most important thing in the world."

He paused for questions. Jack Little had one. He wanted to know if the doctor's period of study in Moscow had influenced his political philosophy and demanded if he were a communist.

"I am a guest and will take my seat," said the doctor.

UNMASKS "IMPOSTER"

Aghast, the audience watched as Little strode to the rostrum, demanding an opportunity to say a few things of his own. What he had to say was that Dr. Geoffrey Bray wasn't a Britisher after all—but a red-blooded American, Cactus Jack Pryor of Austin. Cactus had pulled the audience's collective leg—but good.

"I think this demonstrates one of the things which makes America great," he said, "the power to laugh at ourselves. We have a deep sense of patriotism and pride, but we can laugh."

Earlier in the evening R. H. Weaver, who had his own hot flash trying to make peace when Little hurled his challenge and stalked to the platform, had presented more than a score of guests from Abilene, Andrews, Coahoma, Lampasas, Lubbock, Midland, Stanton, Sweetwater, Snyder and Slaton. He took occasion to regret that Earle A. Read, who was the first child born in Big Spring, had sustained a stroke and could not attend. He also lauded the chamber staff of Manager Carroll Davidson, Edith Gay and Mrs. Anne Belew.

THANKS FROM CURRIE

John Currie, retiring president, expressed appreciation to all who helped, particularly the Ambassadors Club. He cited Larry Crow, as a director who had made almost every one of the chamber's committee sessions during the year.

His successor, Dr. Lee O. Rogers, reviewed the city's background—the things that influenced its character—and said he was dismayed with a feeling some things couldn't be attempted because it was a bad time to ask for money.

"If you've got a job to do," he said, "I believe the thing to do is to go out and do it." If his year has a theme, he indicated, it is get the lead out. Other recognitions were for M. Sgt. Bobby D. Eiland, who Thursday was named Airman of the Year at Webb AFB; and 14 Allied officers training at Webb.

Hill, Swartz, Glickman
Win Honors Saturday

Capt. Henry (Hank) Hill, training officer for the 3561st Student Squadron at Webb AFB, was named the Outstanding Young Man of the Year by the Jaycees during the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce Saturday evening.

Adolph Swartz, president of Downtown Big Spring Inc., received a special award for his work in the downtown rehabilitation program, and Oscar Glickman was once again named "salesman of the year" for enrolling new chamber members.

Richard Hughes, president of the Big Spring Jaycees, in announcing the selection of Capt. Hill, pointed out that the Distinguished Service Award is presented at the local level for the outstanding young man between the ages of 21-36, who has made contributions to his community, and made personal progress.

Capt. Hill is a native of Milam County, where he attended public schools before attending and graduating from Texas A&M in 1956. He entered the Air Force after graduation and has lived in Big Spring the past three years.

He is his Sunday School president, a member of the finance committee and serves on the board of the First Methodist Church.

In the Toastmaster organization, he has been local education vice president, secretary-treasurer, president; and is area governor of District 44. He is an active member of the base-community council, a director of the United Fund, past president of the Big Spring A&M Club, and is active in the Air Force Association.

In the local Jaycee organization, he has served as a director and is currently state director. As a Jaycee, he has won the Spoke Award for outstanding first year participation; was named the Outstanding Jaycee for 1965; has been chosen Jaycee of the Month several times, and received the First Time Award at the first convention he attended.

He has worked for better relations between Webb AFB and Big Spring by securing young officers for membership in the Jaycees, Hughes pointed out.

Capt. Hill originally came to Webb in the 356th Pilot Training Squadron, where he served nine months before moving to his present post. His fast rise to the grade of captain is being capped by his promotion to major at the end of the current fiscal year.

Capt. and Mrs. Hill have three children: Steven 7½; Catherine 5½; and Henry 3.

"We can't let the heart of our city die," said John Currie, outgoing president, in commending the work of Downtown Big Spring Inc. and Swartz. In bringing about the modernization of Main Street, between Second and Third Streets, plus the new parking lot, he pointed to the many hours and talents of Swartz in making the program a success.

Swartz said the 80 people who comprise the downtown organization were solely responsible for the success of the program, which would not have been possible without the financial support and help of those "who got behind it."

He gave special recognition for assistance from former Mayor George Zachariah, Mayor Arnold Marshall, City Manager Larry Crow, and members of the City Commission.

In making the award to Glickman, Currie called him a "tireless worker for the chamber of commerce." He pointed out that Glickman had sold 79 memberships in 1962; over 100 in 1963; 19 in 1964; 26 in 1965; and 29 in 1966 for a total of more than 250.

"In the past few years," he pointed out, "Glickman has been helping others sell, which cut into his own totals." He explained the top salesman has also served last year as chairman of the chamber's retail committee.

Freak Accident
Claims Woman

BELTON, Tex. (AP) — Victoria Bowen, 23, of Killeen, Tex., was killed Saturday in a freak accident just north of Belton.

Police said the car in which Mrs. Bowen was a passenger hit a road sign which broke off and plunged through the top of the convertible. The road sign hit the victim in the head and killed her.

Commie China

said Saturday forces loyal to Mao Tse-tung dealt new blows to their foes both in army and civilian life. But Japanese reports from the Chinese capital declared that supporters of President Liu Shao-chi fought back in the continuing power struggle gripping Communist China.

According to the broadcast, Marshall Yeh Chien-yang, a member of the Politburo, said the Mao forces had launched "an all-out total offensive against bourgeois reactionaries" and that they have begun "to score a great victory." He conceded that a handful of "those within the party who are in authority and a small number of diehards" are offering resistance, but claimed they "have begun to fall on all fronts."

SCORES CAPTURED

A Japanese reporter in Peking said that Red army troops stormed a hideout of pro-Liu army officers in the western China city of Lanchow and captured scores of dissidents. The correspondent quoted a wall poster as saying the raid occurred last Tuesday in the Yellow River city 700 miles west of Peking.

Peking radio said the pro-Mao forces had gained the upper hand in Shanghai, where earlier in the month there were reports of labor unrest and clashes between workers and the Red Guards.

PROPAGANDA

Japanese correspondents for Yomiuri, Sankei and the Japanese Broadcasting Co. all filed reports from Peking saying President Liu was demanding a retraction of his alleged "self-criticism" given wide publication last month.

They quoted the wall posters which were being used apparently by both factions as a major propaganda device.

Soviet Court
Allows Yank
To Post Bail

MOSCOW (AP)—In a concession holding possible significance for U.S.-Soviet relations, Buel Ray Wortham Jr., was released on bail Saturday from a Leningrad prison, pending appeal of his three-year sentence to Soviet labor camp.

The $22,222.22 bail was raised in his home town of North Little Rock, Ark. The former U.S. Army officer was convicted of stealing an antique statue of a bear from his Leningrad hotel, and on three counts of exchanging money on the black market. He will live at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow until the higher court in the Soviet capital hears the appeal, sometime during the next three weeks. No date was fixed.

RETURNS HOME

Wortham, 25, was convicted in Leningrad Dec. 21, along with his traveling companion, Craddock M. Gilmour Jr. of Salt Lake City, Utah. Gilmour, charged only with a single count of illegal currency exchange, was fined $1,111. He has returned home.

Wortham was released after American warnings that congressional action to expand East-West trade hinged on the treatment he received.

The Soviet Union wants more trade with the United States. President Johnson also has expressed interest in promoting trade with all the Communist countries of Eastern Europe.

MUST APPEAR

It was impossible to tell here whether the warnings had any effect on the decision of the Leningrad court to grant bail or whether the warnings might influence the appeal.

In releasing Wortham, the Leningrad court specified only that he appear at the appeal hearing in Moscow before the Supreme Court of the Soviet Federated Republic.

The Soviet news agency Tass reported that bail had been granted so Wortham could attend the hearing. It quoted him as having said he wanted to "denounce the crimes he had committed" and to plead for leniency.

A U.S. spokesman disclosed that Wortham would live at the embassy until the appeal is heard. Although the court order did not restrict him from leaving the Soviet Union, departure would still need police permission, required of all foreigners.

TRADE BILL WARNING

Wortham had been in prison since he and Gilmour were arrested last Oct. 1. The two were touring after release from Army duty in Germany.

Shortly before the trial a group of touring American congressmen warned the Soviet Foreign Trade Ministry in Moscow that it would be difficult to get a new East-West trade bill through Congress if the two Americans were harshly treated.

The congressmen pointed out that the chairman of the U.S. House of Representatives Committee controlling the bill was Wilbur D. Mills, an Arkansas Democrat whose district includes North Little Rock.

Mills said Thursday that it was not "beyond the realm of possibility" that he would delay hearings on the bill to liberalize trade regulations on Communist countries until Wortham was released.

LAWMAKERS TALK TAXES

Barnes-Smith Feud
Captures Spotlight

AUSTIN (AP) — The Barnes-Smith imbroglio over conference committee rules and speculation on Gov. John Connally's tax proposals preoccupied lawmakers as the first week of the 60th Legislature came to an end.

Whether to hold the usually freewheeling, powerful conference committees within strictly defined limits now lies squarely with the senate, over which Lt. Gov. Preston Smith presides. The House passed the rule Thursday.

Smith says the only change he thinks desirable is to let newsmen into meetings of the 10 powerful conferees picked anew for each bill sent to conference. Otherwise, he thinks present rules, if enforced, guard against abuses.

DEADLOCKS LOOM

The prospect of an impasse in conference between House members, who now are bound by rigid instructions not to take up new material, and senators could hamper Connally's program.

The governor will announce his recommendations to the legislature Wednesday, the day after his inauguration.

Some think the feud over rules, and the prospect of deadlocks in conference, could scuttling the output of the legislature that the 1968 Democratic ticket in Texas could suffer.

These observers are reminded of the period during the 1965 session when conferees could not get together on whether to submit constitutional amendments doubling House terms and expanding the Senate. For several weeks, Senate action on House bills slowed to a standstill and some house members wanted to retaliate in kind.

There are accusations among those who favor the proposal to curb conference committees that Smith opposes it only because Speaker Ben Barnes wants it. Both have been mentioned as possible opponents in a governor's race.

House sources say privately that Barnes even considered announcing for a third term as speaker to convince Smith he is not a political rival and to persuade Smith to accept the proposed rules.

Smith has considerable support in the Senate for his stand. "CLOSE-MOUTHED" "I'm not for anything that will tie the hands of the Senate in conference," said one senator. Taxes and appropriations are one area in which conference committees are expected to write the final bills.

Connally has dropped no hints what he would recommend in the way of new taxes to finance the $65-million imbalance between his budget and expected revenue.

All he has said is that he does not want to raise the sales tax or remove exemptions unless absolutely necessary.

"He's awfully close-mouthed," a House member said.

Speculation among lawmakers centers on selective sales taxes, such as bringing beer under the general sales levy and raising the gasoline tax a penny.

A few lawmakers think Connally might advocate public sales of liquor by the drink, with a tax on each drink. Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio is ready with a 10-cent per drink tax bill.

FARMERS WARNED

Also mentioned are a college tuition increase, recommended by the college coordinating board and removal of the sales tax exemption for farm machinery.

"I've told the farmers in my district to brace themselves for a tax on farm machinery," an influential House member said. But, another legislator said, much more money will be needed if the Texas State Teachers Association succeeds in getting another pay raise for public school teachers.

The TSTA wants raises totaling $138 million from state taxes in the coming two-year fiscal period.

"If we do that, the only thing I can see is to raise the sales tax to three per cent," the lawmaker said.

New Assault
In South Viet Feared By U.S.

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — A suspicion that Hanoi had moved in battalions for another attempt to overrun South Vietnamese northern provinces led to a B52 bombardment Saturday of their likely rendezvous, less than a mile below the border demilitarized zone.

Tons of bombs from the eight-engine U.S. Stratofortresses churned up that sector of jungled Quang Tri Province, where U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops turned back two heavy incursions of the enemy regulars last year.

Ground action generally picked up somewhat, and the American Marines, still on watch for North Vietnamese infiltrators and their Viet Cong allies in the northern provinces, said they had killed 74 of the enemy in a series of light skirmishes.

PEASANTS AID REDS

U.S. fighter-bombers flew 41 sorties Friday against a Communist base camp in Darlac Province, in the central highlands 300 miles south of the border. Pilots said the bombing and strafing had killed 14 to 20 enemy soldiers at this camp, reportedly supplied by the round about Ho Chi Minh trail through eastern Laos.

U.S. and Vietnamese troops pressed ahead against little resistance in Operation Cedar Falls, a massive drive to clear the Iron Triangle 20 to 30 miles north of Saigon of the Viet Cong and the peasants who, voluntarily or under pressure, helped support the enemy forces.

455 MEN LOST

The guerrillas were reported to have lost 455 men in the week-old drive—286 killed, 64 captured and 105 switching sides. Tactical squadrons pounded remaining Communist zones in the triangle with 79 single-plane strikes, raising the number for the week to 699.

Operations elsewhere were marked by the loss of three U.S. planes, boosting to 603 the acknowledged toll of such fixed-wing craft in combat over the last six years, and the sinking of a U.S. Navy minesweeping boat in a collision with a Norwegian motor ship.

SEVEN MISSING

Briefing officers announced the details: —A Marine jet fighter-bomber was shot down and an Air Force F100 Super Sabre pilot is missing. The list of planes acknowledged lost in the combat in South Vietnam rose to 146.

—Communist gunners downed a Navy A4 Skyhawk on one of 73 strike missions over North Vietnam Friday, and the pilot is missing. This was the 457th plane announced as lost in the air offensive north of the border.

—The Navy boat was towing its minesweeping rig on the Long Tau River 30 miles southeast of Saigon when it was in collision with the Norwegian motorship Mui Finn. The boat sank in 30 feet of water. Three of its seven crewmen are missing and presumed drowned. Two of the four who were rescued were injured. Salvage crews were assembled to recover the boat. The cause of the collision was undetermined.

'Wets' Chalk Up
Slaton Victory

SLATON, Tex. (AP)— All but some 250 of an estimated 2,800 qualified voters turned out Saturday to hand the "wets" a victory in a local option election for off-premise sale of liquor in the southeast corner of Lubbock County.

The wet forces got 1,567 votes, to 1,009 who wanted to return Justice Precinct 2 to a dry standard.

The absentee vote was 549. The election means that liquor and beer can be sold for off-premise consumption in an area around Slaton. The city, however, voted itself dry in an earlier municipal election.

A Standout Among Freshmen

Texas Bob Eckhardt has stood out among freshman Democratic House members this week because of his bright red bow tie. He also stands out because, unlike most of the other 72 new members, he is an unabashed liberal and supporter of the Great Society. Eckhardt is from Houston. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Five Cited At Colorado City Chamber's Annual Banquet

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Citizens went to five Colorado City leaders Friday night at the 58th annual Chamber of Commerce banquet.

At the same time, Dr. Arthur A. Smith, senior vice president and economist of the First National Bank of Dallas, cast a gloomy eye on federal money policies.

He predicted that minimum wages of $3.50, $4 and $5 per hour will come, but he asked: "What kind of dollars will they be? They'll be dollars that will buy bread at $1 a loaf."

George Womack, 35, vice president and chairman of the bond committee of the City National Bank, was named winner of the Jaycee's Distinguished Service Award. To Mrs. Witt (Mattie) Hines went the first annual award of the Business and Professional Women's Club to the Woman of the Year. The A. K. McCarty Jr. family of Buford won the annual Outstanding Mitchell County Farm Family award. A special recognition was given Police Chief Leon Yeager, who is critically ill in Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene.

For the second consecutive year, Gus Chesney, executive vice president of the City National Bank, was selected as the outstanding Chamber of Commerce member. Chesney just completed a term as a director and served as oil and gas chairman.

Installed as chamber president was Frank Derogibus. Other officers named were James F. Kelley, first vice president; Trevlyn Kelley, second vice president; Mrs. E. B. Craddock, treasurer; and Eddie Piant, secretary. A. C. Benson is the retiring president. New directors introduced were Truman Bodine, Jim Harrison, Trevlyn Kelley, and Sefton Pickens. Those retiring from the board were Joe Bill, Henry Bilberry, Gus Chesney and Tandy Curlee. District Judge Austin McCloud presided.

Sgt. Lyons Wins Medal In Thailand

M. Sgt. Edward Lyons last week received the Commendation Medal for meritorious service in Southeast Asia. He returned to Webb in October after 13 months overseas.

The sergeant is working at the same job at Webb that he had held since October, 1960 until his SEA assignment. He is NCOIC of materiel control section.

The citation accompanying the award of the Air Force Commendation Medal read in part: "... distinguished himself by meritorious service as Non-commissioned Officer in Charge, Base Supply Management and Procedures Branch, while assigned to the 631st Combat Support Group, Don Muang Royal Thai Air Base, Thailand, from Sept. 6, 1965 to Sept. 2, 1966. During this period, Sgt. Lyons' outstanding professional skill, job knowledge, and leadership aided immeasurably in identifying problem areas in the field of supply and in developing and implementing procedures capable of solving these problems."

Sgt. Lyons recalled that he and his group of men were sent to Don Muang to set up a base supply. They had 20 days in which to set it up. "In 20 years of service time, mostly in supply, it was the first time ever for me to work in base supply," he said. "But, altogether it was a good tour of duty."

In his years of service, Sgt. Lyons has seen duty in the Philippines, the Azores, Libya, Italy, Germany, Formosa and Japan, as well as at various state-side bases. "I'm oriental - oriented," the sergeant laughed. "And I much prefer service in the East. During this tour I saw a great deal of Thailand, and had the opportunity to visit the Philippines, where I saw my father-in-law for the first time in 17 years."

Sgt. Lyons' family remained in Big Spring during his SEA duty. He and his wife have six children: William, twins John and Helen, Richard, Patricia and Lisa.

Male Jurors Favor 'Topless' Dancers

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—An all-male jury took five minutes Friday to find two women innocent of charges of indecent exposure while dancing "topless style."

Wanda Joyce Newsom, 20, mother of one, and Edith Hinkley, 28, mother of four, had been charged after a Nov. 15 dance at a local club.

MOISTURE NEEDED

Texas Stockmen Increase Feeding

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Feed room doors banged and hay bales tied popped across Texas as stockmen increased livestock feeding in their fight to maintain the condition of their herds and flocks. Continuing cold and the general lack of moisture is causing concern over much of the state, said John E. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Land preparation also is being curtailed by the dry soil. Small grains are suffering and dry grass is now about the only grazing available for livestock, the director added.

SNOWS HELP

Snows in South, Southwest and Far West Texas will help some, he added, but general moisture in sizable amounts is needed. Stock water is getting short in some areas.

Soil moisture in the Panhandle district is very short and this, coupled with below average temperatures, is putting real stress on wheat. Cattle are being moved from dryland wheat, and irrigated fields are providing only fair grazing.

MOISTURE NEEDED

A need for moisture has spread through the South Plains not only for wheat but also to put land in condition for plowing. Farmers were bedding land and putting down fertilizers and herbicides in preparation for irrigation.

Moisture is badly needed throughout the Rolling Plains area for small grains, ranges and stock water. Small grains are dying, apparently from the lack of moisture, but some cold damage also has been noted. Very little grazing is available and livestock feeding is general. Stock water is low in some counties.

Only three North Central Texas counties are reporting adequate moisture, all others are extremely dry and small grains are suffering. Small grains have been grazed short and most livestock has been removed from the fields. Ranges and pastures are providing fair dry grass grazing but heavy

John Edwin Myers Again Misses Date With Chair

The fantastic luck of John Edwin Myers, admitted killer of four, continues to hold. Once again he has avoided the electric chair.

The latest evasion was by the narrowest margin he has had in his often - interrupted date with the public executioner.

It was brought about only by a quirk of fate.

The Illinois Supreme Court on Sept. 23 had upheld a death sentence imposed on Myers for murder of Carole Ballard, 10-year-old girl at Engle Lake, Ill. in 1961. His attorney asked the U.S. Supreme Court for a hearing, but on the very same day last week that the court refused the hearing, the Illinois Supreme Court had granted Myers a stay of execution so he could appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

MORE MOVES The stay of execution is "indefinite," which means a new date must be set. However, this does not necessarily mean that Myers will die on that date. He and his attorney, Marvin Gold-

Mrs. Rayburn Rites Monday

Services will be Monday at 3 p.m. in the River-Welch Funeral Home chapel for Mrs. Jewell (Effie) Rayburn, 58. The Rev. Claude Cravens of Trinity Baptist Church will officiate and burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Mrs. Rayburn, wife of W. E. Rayburn, died in Medical Arts Hospital on Friday at 7:53 p.m. after an illness of two days.

She was a member of the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge, and the Ladies Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

She was born in Greenville, Oct. 3, 1908, and had lived in Big Spring since 1939. Her home address was 1906 Nolan.

Survivors in addition to her husband, are one son, Fred H. Clark, Kansas City; one daughter, Mrs. Billie Doris Amidon, Los Angeles; one brother, J. A. Shields, Greenville; three sisters, Mrs. C. A. Baety and Mrs. J. E. Osborn, both of Los Angeles; and Mrs. Bertha Cothron, Washington. There are two grandchildren.

Glasscock Has Show Monday

GARDEN CITY (SC)—Everything is ready for the 30th annual Glasscock County Junior Livestock Show here Monday.

County Agent Oliver West is still counting on 90 fat lambs, a dozen pigs and three steers as competition. W. M. (Dub) Day, Upton County agent, will start the placings at 8 a.m. Immediately after lunch, Tommy Maricle, Colorado City, will auction about a third of the lambs, all the steers and most of the pigs.

Barbecue lunch will be served by Newsom's catering service from Big Spring, and a concession for coffee, cake and pie will be operated. The show will be in the old gymnasium building.

Texas Supreme Court set aside a conviction and a death sentence. He had been tried in Rusk on a charge of venue from this county. DeKraai was an itinerant plumber who had accepted a ride with Myers and Myers' 13-year-old girlfriend, Donna Marie Stone. He was killed because Myers and the girl thought he had some money. Ironically, he had none.

Actually, even if Illinois fails to put the man to death for the killing of 10-year-old Carole Ballard, Myers could still be tried for three other murders.

The case against him here is still on the docket.

OTHER KILLINGS

A second case of murder in Belleville, Ill., has not been settled. George Ballard, father of Carole, was shot to death at the same time his child was slain. And Missouri has a charge of murder against Myers, a former dishwasher, charging him with killing Margaret Wernicker, 39, Miss Wernicker, kidnapped by Myers and the Stone

Everything is in readiness for the Tuesday evening "Mother's March," which gets started at 6 p.m. Big Spring will be canvassed by mothers of the various P-TA groups in waging the battle against birth defects. Shown here are Mrs. Don Farley, Washington Place; Mrs. Glenn Griswold, Marcy; and Mrs. Jesse Majors, Boydston. The mothers will explain the details of the fight against birth defects, as well as accept contributions toward winning the battle. (Photo by Danny Valdes)

Mothers Preparing March For Dimes Tuesday Evening

One of the first "main events" of the annual March of Dimes campaign is coming Tuesday, when the mothers of the area make a general canvass to inform residents of the dangers of birth defects and accept contributions toward battling this crippling of children.

The mothers will begin their annual effort at 6 p.m. and hope to wind it up at an early hour. Residents are urged to take this opportunity to hear the inside story of this problem facing a growing nation, according to Mrs. Roy Watkins and Mrs. R. E. Ray, co-chairmen of the drive.

Area chairmen of the effort include Mrs. Fred Blalack, Gay Hill; Mrs. Leon Pettitt, Park Hill; Mrs. A. W. Gerhart, College Heights; Mrs. Edward Jacobs, Lakeview; Mrs. Don Farley, Washington Place; Mrs. Glenn Griswold, Marcy; Mrs. Jesse Majors, Boydston; Mrs. Dorothy Earp, Airport; Mrs. George Smith, Cedar Crest; Mrs. Ray Vess, Kentwood; and Mrs. Tom Harris, Sand Springs. At Coahoma, Mrs. Harold L. Fraser, president of the Mary Jane Club, and Mrs. A. C. Hale, president of the Home Demonstration Club, are chairing the Mother's March, with the help of the Homemaking classes of Coahoma High School.

Meanwhile, other campaign plans are reporting progress. The television will be broadcast on KWAB-TV, featuring Dale Robertson of the movies and television, as well as local talent. Bob Galbraith, manager of the station, said he has had a large number of individuals and groups audition to appear on the

Coahoma Campaign

Mrs. Harold L. Fraser, president of the Mary Jane Club, and Mrs. A. C. Hale, president of the Home Demonstration Club, are getting things ready for the Coahoma "Mother's March" against birth defects. The mothers will march Tuesday evening, in a door-to-door effort to help the county campaign. The homemaking girls of Coahoma High School will also help in the drive.

show, and expects Big Spring to be ably represented. This major feature of the campaign is scheduled for Jan. 21-22. Last week, Big Spring policemen placed coin collectors in a large number of local restaurants, where residents may contribute to the campaign, headed by Assistant Chief Leo Hull. Informational programs are being offered to service clubs and women's clubs, as well as a color film on the problems of birth defects. The National Foundation adopted this area of service after the former cripple of children — polio — was largely eliminated due to the successful vaccines.

Mrs. Frances Glenn, who annually chairs a bowling tournament, is doing so again. An air-lift at Howard County Airport is in the planning stages.

The popular Penny Parade, conducted by Bruce Frazier on KWAB-TV, is being planned, in addition to the auction. Miss Bessie Love, chairman of the Garden Club Council, is planning a coffee to benefit the campaign.

from Lt. Gen. Sam Maddux, ATC commander, the officers received a letter from Gen. B. K. Holloway, USAF vice chief of staff. The letter pointed out that, "... the critical importance of supply assignments to the combat readiness and economical operation of the Air Force makes it mandatory that the officers best qualified to perform them be appropriately recognized and clearly identified."

Gen. Maddux, in his letter, stated that the officers "can be proud of their selection as Outstanding Supply Officers. This designation recognizes their demonstrated outstanding competency in supply work. Continued achievement in this field is encouraged."

Receipt of these awards followed the naming of Webb's Base Supply for the Air Training Command Outstanding Supply Award Trophy for 1966. Announcement of that honor was made in December.

CARRIES BID TO ILLITERATES

Mrs. Gandhi Ignores Political Pundits

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — With a mounting tide of voices predicting her defeat, Prime Minister Indira Gandhi has turned her back on the politicians and is carrying her determined bid for re-election to the illiterate millions in India's dusty villages and squalid townships.

Mrs. Gandhi completes her first year in office Jan. 24, and heads toward general elections next month. The political pundits have all but written her off. But the daughter of Jawaharlal Nehru is ignoring them and is campaigning as though there isn't the slightest doubt that she will be back to guide this troubled nation through a full 5-year term.

FOOT CAMPAIGN

Mrs. Gandhi's campaign will take her to every corner of India. She will travel in a gleaming new jet airliner given by the Soviets, in automobiles, in jeeps. To get to villages where vehicular access is impossible she will campaign on foot.

She will not be campaigning for her own individual seat in Parliament — its victory is virtually assured — but she must drive for a better-than-expected showing by her ruling Congress party if she is to remain prime minister.

The people will only elect Mrs. Gandhi to a seat in Parliament. This election will take place in Rae Bareilly, a small constituency in Uttar Pradesh State.

UP TO CONGRESS

Then, after all the elections are over, it will be up to the Congress party hierarchy whether Mrs. Gandhi will form the government to run India until 1972.

It's relatively easy to get a bet that she will not be the next prime minister, although the odds now are about even either way.

What has happened to the political stock of the 49-year-old widow who one year ago made a smashing victory in the race for a successor to Lal Bahadur Shastri? After all, she had the aura of the Nehru name, she had youth, ample political background and a good deal of personal magnetism.

THINGS GO SOUR

Mrs. Gandhi enjoyed the usual cease-fire during a political leader's first 100 days in office. After that, things went sour, partly through her own action and partly through natural calamity or the mistakes of her predecessors, including her father.

Another year of drought and the subsequent food shortages and dependence upon foreign aid were not of Mrs. Gandhi's doing, but they fostered wide public unrest and civil strife.

Intensified agitation for a nationwide ban on cow slaughter, which reached a peak with rioting in New Delhi Nov. 7, could at best be termed election year opportunism by opposition groups. As agitation intensified, Mrs. Gandhi herself asked, "Why is it such interest in the welfare of cows happens only every five years?"

POOR TIMING

She meant election periods. Mrs. Gandhi also could not be blamed (although she was) for devaluation of the rupee. She could be criticized for failing to carry out devaluation with regulations and fiscal measures preventing further price rises and weakening of the rupee.

In her political maneuvering and her international relations, Mrs. Gandhi has shown at various times a poor sense of timing, a seeming tendency to act without regard to the consequences, and an inability to keep some of her key political associates on her side.

UPHILL BATTLE

Last July before leaving New Delhi on a state visit to the United Arab Republic, Yugoslavia and the U.S.S.R., Mrs. Gandhi issued a broad new initiative for a peaceful settlement in Vietnam. She did so in such a way as to indicate a big move by India, but unfortunately she included no proposals that hadn't already been rejected in Washington or Hanoi, and she made no direct followup. In fact, at her next stop, Cairo, she didn't even succeed in getting Vietnam in the final communiqué with President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Her leaning to Washington in the matter of devaluation, foreign investment and private sector ownership chilled Moscow's attitude. Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin put off a scheduled state visit to India.

But Mrs. Gandhi didn't reap any benefits from the United States, because she kept irritating Washington with repeated demands for cessation of bombing of North Vietnam, coupled with a lack of censure for the Viet Cong and Hanoi forces.

Against this background, Mrs. Gandhi is taking to the countryside, much in the same manner as her illustrious father, hoping to charm the peasants into casting their ballots for the only party which has ruled since independence.

She may, but it will be an uphill battle.

Pappy Hale Closes Career In City Fire Department

R. T. "Pappy" Hale had about 24 years service with the Big Spring Fire Department when he retired at the end of December.

He originally signed onto the force Sept. 1, 1942, but later left, only to return in December, 1944, to make it a career. As do all firemen, he began as a hoseman, moving up to the rank of driver in about a year, then becoming a lieutenant in 1956, and a captain in 1958.

Primarily, he was assigned to the Central Fire Station during his tenure, but he also worked out of the North Side Station and briefly at the Eighteenth and Main Street station.

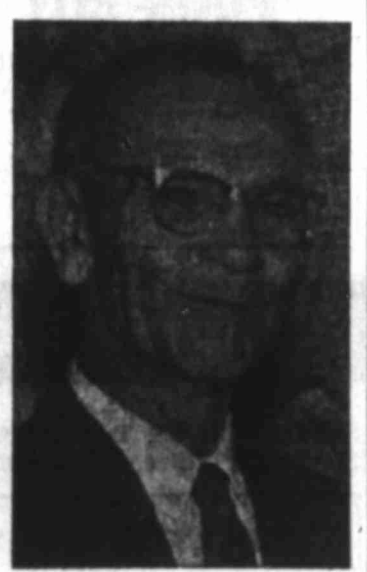

When Pappy Hale joined the department, firemen received the handsome pay of $115 per month, and there were only three trucks in the department. There was a relatively new 1942 Ford, on which he "cut his teeth," and two ancient Sea-graves trucks.

"We have a lot better equipment these days than we had back then," he recalled, and "the men are given better training."

Capt. Hale moved to Howard County in 1929, from his native Thurber, in Erath County to work for an oil company.

He and his wife were married at Stephenville June 7, 1919. They have six children: Boyce Hale, Borger; Mrs. Betsy Watson, Beaumont; Raymond Hale, Del Rio; Charlie Hale, El Paso; Mrs. Patsy Chapman, Baytown; and Mrs. Barbara Blizard, Sterling Route.

And if 14 grandchildren are not enough to keep him busy, Pappy Hale plans to do some hunting and fishing, and take care of his yard. He has a pickup camper he figures will come in handy for fishing and hunting trips.

Capt. and Mrs. Hale live at 711 San Antonio and attend The Church of God at Fourth and Galveston.

WINGS

Light Week At Airport

Activity at the Howard County Airport was relatively slow last week. Only a handful of pilots took to the air, despite good flying conditions most of the week.

Tim Travis and Jerry Jordan were the only pilots up in the airplanes of Big Spring Aircraft. However, Howard Loyd, owner - operator of the firm, made a couple of charter flights.

As FAA flight inspector, he also gave two check rides — to Carl Norton and Richard Glenney, both of whom passed with flying colors.

Four pilots were up in the planes of the Big Spring Flying Club. They were Wayne Bartlett, Hunka Stewart, Ray Grandbury, and Ralph McLaughlin.

Four members were also up in the Howard County Flying Club planes. They were Sam Dennis (2), Byron Orand, Keith Swim and Mike Moore.

Ad Director

Edmund R. Borgan has been named director of advertising, sales promotions and public relations for Shop Rite Foods, Inc., and subsidiary corporations. These include the Piggy Wiggly system with stores in Big Spring. Borgan's appointment was announced by J. S. Reinhardt, president of the Shop Rite Foods, Inc. Piggy Wiggly, and is establishing his home in Lubbock. Borgan has served as advertising director for Purity Stores, Inc., in San Francisco, Handy Andy Inc. in San Antonio and Consolidated Foods Corporation in Chicago. He was also advertising and public relations executive for United Artists Corporation and Universal-International Pictures Corporation in New York.

Webb Supply Men Are Commended

Three Webb officers last week received awards as Outstanding Supply Officers for 1966. They are Lt. Col. Lewis J. Brittain, chief of supply; Maj. Frank E. Huff, supplies management and procedures officer; and 1st Lt. Bruce W. Burrows, items accounting branch officer.

A fourth officer, CWO George R. King, former equipment management branch officer, was cited for the award which will be presented to him at his overseas station. Mr. King left Webb in October.

Col. Chester J. Butcher, wing commander, and Mrs. Gregory H. Perron, deputy commander for materiel, presented the awards. The certificates, signed by Gen. J. P. McConnell, chief of staff, recognized the officers as "having demonstrated outstanding proficiency in fulfilling supply responsibilities."

Along with a letter of commendation and congratulations from Lt. Gen. Sam Maddux, ATC commander, the officers received a letter from Gen. B. K. Holloway, USAF vice chief of staff. The letter pointed out that, "... the critical importance of supply assignments to the combat readiness and economical operation of the Air Force makes it mandatory that the officers best qualified to perform them be appropriately recognized and clearly identified."

Gen. Maddux, in his letter, stated that the officers "can be proud of their selection as Outstanding Supply Officers. This designation recognizes their demonstrated outstanding competency in supply work. Continued achievement in this field is encouraged."

Receipt of these awards followed the naming of Webb's Base Supply for the Air Training Command Outstanding Supply Award Trophy for 1966. Announcement of that honor was made in December.

FCC Bracing For Criticism By Collegians

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communications Commission is bracing for an expected flood of criticism from collegians over a government proposal that might shut down scores of small radio stations on campuses.

An FCC official said Thursday the commission has received fewer than 100 letters so far on the matter but this is mid-year examination time at many colleges—and the deadline for filing comments isn't until Feb. 13.

He said, however, that the sides appear to be drawn: Students and campus radio station faculty advisers on one side, regional and state education associations on the other.

The dispute centers about an FCC request last Nov. 14 for comments on the possibility of rearranging its 20 FM radio channels reserved for noncommercial educational use.

The FCC said it wants to provide for a number of powerful FM stations that would cover large areas so state and regional educational broadcasters could set up networks of stations.

It would set aside other channels for local communities, with the number of stations to be based on the population. They would range from five stations for communities with more than one million residents to one station for those with fewer than 50,000 inhabitants.

But in reassessing these frequencies, the FCC also would largely eliminate the very-low power FM broadcast stations—those with powers of 10 watts or less.

COLLEGE CAMPUSES
There were 158 such stations among 314 educational FM stations authorized as of last September. Most are on college campuses, but some are at high schools.

None is allowed to accept advertising. At the colleges they are financed by the school or by student fees.

Under the FCC's 10-watts-or-less rules, operation does not require expensive engineering staffs, and technical standards are somewhat less stringent than they are for more powerful stations.

An FCC official said the move to eliminate most of the 10-watt stations started because of a "feeling that this is a horribly inefficient use of the spectrum. These stations only serve out a couple of miles—and at the same time just because they are so low-powered you have to protect them from interference by putting other stations so far away."

STUDENT TRAINING
He admitted there also had been unofficial discussions with educational broadcast associations which wanted space on the radio spectrum to set up powerful regional networks.

It was then that the FCC sent out its notice of inquiry. The plan has met with favor among education officials where regional networks are planned: Minnesota, Oregon and Florida.

Most of the letters, though, are from student directors of the low-power stations, faculty advisers and administrators of high schools where the small stations operate. All oppose the FCC proposal.

Most cited their own programming as reason enough for continuing the lives of the low-power stations. Others said the stations provide valuable educational experiences for the students, since the stations are student-run.

J. S. Gibson Jr., an instructor of speech and English at Plainview Baptist College in Plainview, Tex., wrote: "The loss of our 10-watt operation would ultimately destroy an embryonic curriculum in broadcast education."

Marshal Shot In Oklahoma

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—Officers threw up roadblocks across the Texas Panhandle Saturday seeking three men believed to have shot or been with the man who shot the Chanute, Okla., city marshal during the night.

However, police at Pampa said they believed the group was headed for California and quickly would be out of Texas.

Shot twice in the chest was Marshal Gerald Kupka, 37, and his condition was fair. He said he was shot when he stopped the men with a pistol shot on Interstate 40.

They took his car-ambulance and it was found abandoned at Hammon, 20 miles northwest of Chanute, and another car stolen. The Hammon car was found at 9:30 a.m. 10 miles east of Canadian by the highway patrol. But a Miami, Tex., man later said he had seen it abandoned at 7:50 a.m.

There were no immediate reports of another car being taken to replace the one found near Canadian.

Nine Named To Y Board, Membership Effort Opens

Nine individuals will take their place on the YMCA board of directors at the Tuesday meeting.

They were named in balloting concluded last week, which was characterized by extremely close finish. Only about half a dozen votes separated the last three named and the top three who barely missed a spot on the board.

Listed alphabetically, the directors beginning three-year terms are Tito Arencibia, Mrs.

James Duncan, Don Farley, Rev. Leo K. Gee, Mrs. R. L. Heith, W. J. (Bill) Sheppard, C. W. (Wes) Shouse, Jimmy Taylor and Dr. Charles O. Warren.

One item of business for the board Tuesday is the election of officers for 1967.

Other activities coming up immediately are the annual membership enrollment. The sustaining division, headed by Edna Womack, kicks off Monday, while the participation division under Frank Hardesty takes to the field Jan. 23.

The annual banquet is set for Feb. 25. Ben Barnes, speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, will make the featured address.

Queens Fire Probe Begins

NEW YORK (AP) — Investigations were under way on several fronts today to determine if negligence led to Friday's gas explosion and fire that leveled a Queens residential area.

City, state and county agencies began looking into statements by residents who said they were brushed off when they complained about gas odors last week to the Department of Health and the Brooklyn Union Gas Co., which services the area.

No one was injured in the fire which demolished nine frame homes and badly damaged eight others in a drab working-class neighborhood of Jamaica, Queens, about two miles north of John F. Kennedy International Airport.

Mayor John V. Lindsay ordered James Marcus, commissioner of water supply, gas and electricity, to investigate the charges. The city fire marshal's office, the State Public Service Commission and detectives from the Queens district attorney's office also were conducting separate probes.

"It is difficult to determine if serious complaints were made to the gas company in advance of the explosion and fire," Lindsay said.

About 300 people were driven from their homes.

Togo's New Chief Faces Conflicts

LOME, Togo (AP) — Togo's new military chief began his authoritarian rule today faced with the same conflicts which he says crippled the civil regime the army overthrew Friday.

In an interview with The Associated Press Lt. Col. Etienne Guassingbe Eyadema said it was "in the superior interest of the nation that I took over power" in the bloodless coup.

He said deposed President Nicolas Grunitzky was in accord with the move because of "the situation which presently prevails."

The West Virginia-sized country, with a population of 1.6 million, is split with tribal rivalries, conflict between young and old, and disagreement between technicians and intellectuals.

Horsemen MOD Benefit Jan. 22

The Howard County Youth Horseman benefit affair for the March of Dimes is set for next Sunday, not today.

Officials of the organization said that date for the Play Day at the rodeo arena had been announced erroneously.

The public is invited to make voluntary contributions to the March of Dimes as they enter, and this is the only sort of admission.

Events starting at 1:30 p.m. will be open only to members of the Horseman's Club.

There's A Catch

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Fish in the chilly waters of the Los Angeles coastal area no longer have to swim south for the winter.

A scientist for the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power says two steam-powered electric plants heat up a 2½-mile stretch of water at the mouth of the San Gabriel River and the warmth extends half a mile into the sea. He said the area has become a wintertime haven for fish.

There's a catch: fishermen have discovered the resort, too, he said.

Thirty-two bulls averaged $445 and four heifers averaged $250. The top selling bull was Golden Superior C4, year-old son of Golden Superior 33 and Blanche Mischief 305, consigned by the Pied Piper Farms of Hamlin. Golden Superior C4 was the grand champion of the sale group in Friday morning's judging and sold for $1,350 to Patterson Brothers (Malcolm and Morris) of Big Spring. Frank Jordan, Mason, judged the 36 head of purebred stock.

The top selling heifer was Gratia 38, from Noble Lamp 140 and Gratia 19, consigned by S. F. Buchanan of Big Spring. Gratia 38 was the grand champion heifer in Friday morning's judging and sold for $300 to Joe Blackard, Colorado City.

The reserve champion bull was Dual Domino 8, son of Noble Lamp Jr. 126 and Dixie Diamond 4, consigned by Leland Wallace, Big Spring. The reserve champion heifer was Winnie Lamplight T33, from Royal Anxiety C 48 and Lamplighter Winnie B., consigned by Sam Thompson, Colorado City.

The best group consigned was a group of four bulls consigned by Charles Creighton, Big Spring.

Top buyer was Honaker and Son of Fort Stockton, who paid $2,125 for five bulls and two heifers.

Copper Thieves Silence Phones

AUSTIN (AP)—Six towns in Central Texas were without long distance telephone service for four and a half hours early Saturday in an act of vandalism or copper theft.

Two spans of copper cable were severed between Austin and Elgin at 11:30 p.m. Friday night. Service was restored about 4 a.m.

Towns with disrupted service were Elgin, Bastrop, Smithville, McDade, Page and Rocky Creek. A spokesman for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. said the wire cutting was either an act of vandalism or the work of copper thieves. Authorities were investigating.

Mart Volume Near-Record

NEW YORK (AP)—The great 1967 stock market rally now has finished its second week and has piled up near-record volume.

Turnover this week was 33,369,210 shares compared with 27,418,470 shares in the preceding holiday-shortened four-day trading week. This week's total was the greatest since the record weekly volume of 53.5 million shares in the week ended last April 16.

The Dow Jones industrial average this week advanced 26.39 points to 835.13, smashing through the "triple top" formed at around the 820 level—a barrier to three various attempts at advance past that line.

The penetration of the 820 line was, in the mind of wall street theorists, a bull market signal, especially since the Dow Jones' rally averages already had topped a previous high.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks this week advanced 8.5 points to 399.7, a huge advance but below the 10-point rise of the previous week.

Of 1,396 issues traded, 1,293 issues rose and 229 fell.

President Johnson's State of the Union address Tuesday night was the dominant event for Wall Street which had been betting the President would not recommend a tax increase.

The President's request for a six per cent surcharge on corporate and individual income taxes caught the stock market by surprise. The market plunged Wednesday morning, taking a loss of 11.47 points in the Dow Industrials within a half hour of the opening bell.

Thereafter bargain hunters swarmed into the market and picked up stocks at relatively cheap prices. As response to Johnson's speech indicated Congress would be in no hurry to pass his tax request—if approved it at all—the stock market gathered even further strength.

Stocks were boosted also by the President's references to the need for lower interest rates and easier credit, specifically in the savings and loan industry.

As the week ended, the market had rung up a string of nine straight daily gains.

Candy Spent $1 Million?

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—State Atty. Richard Gerstein says he wanted Melvin Lane Powers indicted separately by the grand jury in the death of Candace Mossler's wealthy husband.

Gerstein said Friday he never doubted Mrs. Mossler's guilt but he said he wanted to try Powers, Mrs. Mossler's nephew, first. Gerstein said he hoped that Powers, if convicted, then would become a state's witness against his aunt.

Mrs. Mossler and Powers were indicted for first-degree murder in the 1964 stabbing of her husband, Jacques. They were acquitted.

Speaking to Florida's Court of Record judges, Gerstein said the defense had spent more than $1 million in the trial.

Martin County Junior Stock Show Termed Best In Years

STANTON — Martin County's Annual Junior Livestock Show, staged here Saturday, was a successful in many years by veteran observers.

Forty lambs, 35 barrows, 20 gilts, 14 steers and one heifer were entered in the competition. Brenda Holloway won the grand championship for steers, nosing out her sister, Debra, who took reserve honors. Debra evened things up for the Holloway family however—she was adjudged champion steer showman.

Young Steve Fryar of Lomax won the grand championship for barrows with his 220-pound Hampshire which he sold for $146 at the sale which followed the show. Marlene Long was reserve champion.

Champion gilt was shown by G. P. Harrell Jr. and reserve gilt by Roy Kelley.

Rickie Mims was declared the swine master showman.

Champion heifer—there was only one entry—was shown by Gary Crouch.

Freddie Newman, also of Lomax, won the grand championship in medium fine wool lambs. He also was declared champion showman for the lamb division. Reserve champion in the medium fine wool went to Johnny McIntyre. McIntyre won the champion rosette in fine wool cross bred lambs and Doris Howard the reserve championship. Fine wool champion was shown by Bill Huff, with the reserve championship going to Stanley Louder.

Paul Gross, Howard County farm agent, was judge of the show.

Mothers' March For Dimes Blocked

AUSTIN (AP)—The state Supreme Court has upheld the Fort Worth City Council's refusal to permit a mothers' march for dimes to combat birth defects.

The court's two-part decision Friday dissolved a restraining order issued by Dist. Judge Harold Craik against the city and forbade the judge to grant "any further injunctive relief" to the National Foundation.

steers and barrows, and Mike Livingston of Fort Stockton judged the lambs.

Bill Reager, Martin County farm agent and superintendent of the show, said that the exceptionally fine sale was largely due to the cooperation of many Big Spring business men. He said that the contribution they made to the event was largely responsible for its fine success.

Gun Blast Kills 15-Year-Old Lad

MANSFIELD, Tex. (AP)—A .410 gauge shotgun accidentally discharged Saturday as two 15-year-old boys prepared to go on a crow hunt, killing Robert Lee Wilkinson of Mansfield.

Deputy medical examiner Dr. Felix Gwozdz ruled the death accidental.

Authorities said a 15-year-old friend of Wilkinson's loaded the shotgun as he sat across the bedroom from the victim. The gun, accidentally discharged, striking Wilkinson in the chest.

Negro Heads Bahama Isles

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Lynden O. Pindling, a London-educated lawyer, was designated Saturday to become the first Negro chief executive in the history of the Bahamas Islands.

The governor of the British-owned Negro country, Sir Ralph Grey, asked Pindling to form a government, climaxing four days of political stalemate that followed Tuesday's election.

"He is the member of the assembly who is best able to command the confidence of a majority of that chamber," Sir Ralph said.

The formal appointment of the 36-year-old Pindling as premier was set for Monday. The governor said he then will recognize outgoing Premier Sir Roland Symonette as opposition leader.

Pindling, who claimed in his campaign that the government was being run for the benefit of white businessmen, once became so infuriated during a House of Assembly debate that he hurled the speaker's 300-year-old golden mace of office out the window.

His Negro-dominated Progressive Liberal party won a surprising vote in the elections, usually dominated by the incumbents. But he will rule with a squeaky 19-18 majority. His party and the defeated United Bahamian party, which had long ruled, hold 15 House of Assembly seats each.

Laborite Randol Fawkes promised to support Pindling for the deciding vote. The only other assemblyman, independent Alvin Braynen, is to become speaker. The speaker, votes only in case of ties.

Pindling will be the second premier of the Bahamas. Sir Roland was the first premier, taking the post after home rule was granted the Bahamas two years ago. During the previous 300 years, British-appointed governors were the ruling officials.

Two Brothers Perish In Fire

NEW YORK (AP)—Two brothers were killed in a fire that swept the family's Coney Island apartment Friday night while the mother was shopping. The boys' two younger sisters were seriously injured.

The dead were identified as Wade Reese, 5, and his brother, Robert, 4.

Their sisters, Geraldine, 2, and Lorette, 6 months, were reported in serious condition at Coney Island Hospital, suffering from smoke inhalation.

The mother, Norma Reese, 20, told police that the fire broke out while she was out to buy milk. She said she had left her children for about 20 minutes.

Recommendation On Rail Service To Be Protested

If the Texas Railroad Commission approves the recommendation of its examiner, the last railroad passenger service between Fort Worth and El Paso is doomed.

But Big Spring, along with other West Texas points served by Texas and Pacific trains 26 and 27, isn't giving up.

Roger Brown, attorney who has spearheaded the attack on the T&P application to withdraw the service, said Saturday: "We must certainly file our objections."

He indicated that he will take a new line of attack.

"HOW?"

"In the hearings, E. E. Spencer (passenger agent for T&P), testified that the remaining trains weren't designed for passenger service," said Brown. "How in the world can T&P expect a reasonable return on its investment in a service when it admittedly didn't design its equipment and operation to provide decent service?"

There will be other points which he will attack in his brief, which must be filed within 30 days, he said. However, the main thrust will be against the T&P's failure to provide a service which would merit support, Brown added.

Walter G. Wendlandt, who conducted the hearings, has approved the railroad's application. Notice of his findings was served on all interested parties this week and they have 30 days.

Jeff Brown, immediate past president of the Big Spring Board of Realtors, is attending the annual meeting of the Texas Real Estate Association this weekend in Austin.

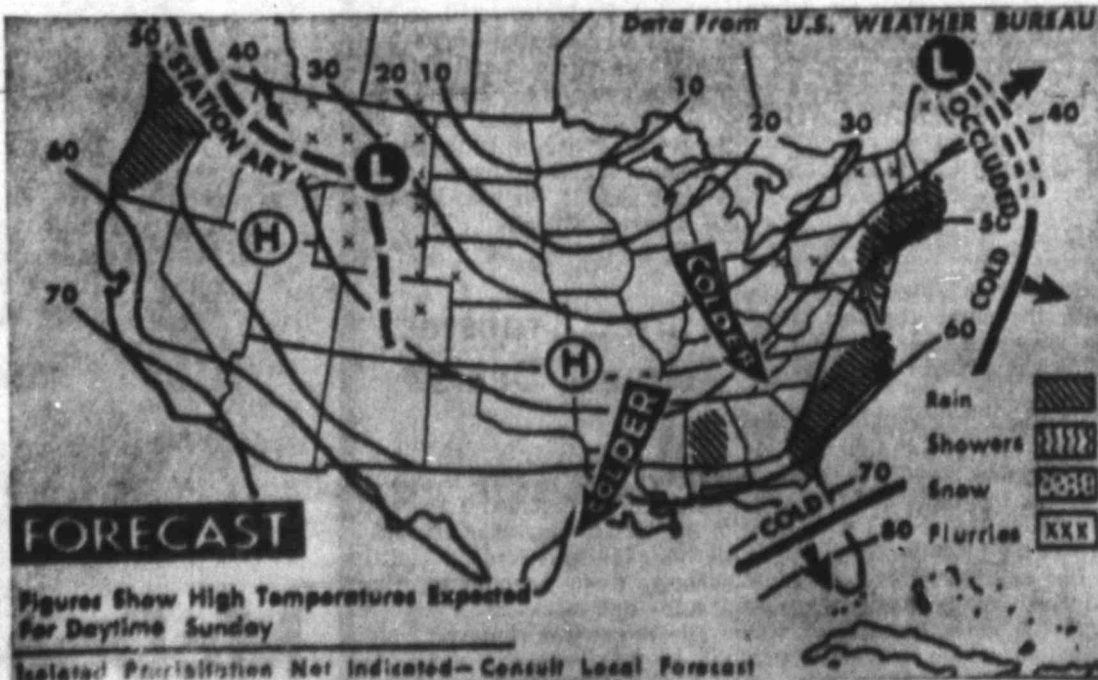

Brown is a member of the board of directors and will participate in the ceremonies installing officers. He serves on the TREA membership committee, and Bill Crocker, Big Spring, is on the insurance committee.

'Bama's Wallace For President?

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Outgoing Gov. George C. Wallace said Saturday the odds are better than even that he will run for president in 1968, but not as a white backlash candidate.

"There isn't any white backlash that I know anything about; that's just a newspaper term," Wallace insisted in an interview as he prepared to turn over his walnut-paneled office and its powers to his wife, Lurleen, the incoming governor.

"There is a strong backlash among the voters all across the country," he continued, "but it isn't against anyone because of race. It is against the idea of a big federal government trying to solve problems that should be solved on the local level."

WASHINGTON MORONS

"It is a backlash against the liberals, the theoreticians, the intellectual morons in Washington who want to control every phase of the people's lives, who think they know better a thousand miles away how to run our affairs than we do."

Wallace, whose wife takes office as his successor Monday, will remain active in the management of the state's affairs. Later this year, he said, he will announce unequivocally whether he plans to be a candidate for president again, as he was in 1964.

BLONDE GOVERNOR

The blonde 40-year-old First Lady will become Alabama's first woman governor.

When she is sworn in at ceremonies planned for 3:30 p.m., she will stand on the enshrined spot on the state Capitol portico where, 106 years ago, Jefferson Davis became president of the Confederacy.

Her hand will rest on the Bible Davis used; beneath it will be ger train operations and seems to have lost any enthusiasm for this part of its business."

The real problem, he said, has been the loss of revenue that went with passenger service, primarily the handling of mail, that the post office has diverted from trains to trucks.

"On the one hand the federal government is spending $90 million for a study alone on how to save the passenger train business in the Eastern United States, while embarking on a questionable economic policy which can have no other result than to kill passenger train service in the Southwest," Wendlandt said.

Wendlandt blamed the federal government for the destruction of railroad passenger service in the El Paso area. His report said the Texas and Railway Co. "aggressively promoted its passenger train business. This was probably a matter of pride and public relations, rather than an actual profit."

He said passenger trains have lost money since World War II and "railroad management has grown more critical of passen-

BALL CANCELED

In deference to fighting men abroad, the new governor and her husband have canceled the traditional inaugural ball. They said the merrymaking at such an event would be inappropriate.

After she takes over her new duties as the state's $25,000-a-year chief executive, Mrs. Wallace plans to put her husband to work as her No. 1 adviser at $1 a year.

Regardless of his own future plans, the outgoing governor said he is convinced the states rights movement has grown strong enough to have a decisive influence on the presidential election.

THE WEEK

200 youngsters, and the Neighborhood Youth (high school and college work grants) are continued.

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District fixed water rates for member cities last week, and Big Spring got about a cent hike. This was expected, however, because Big Spring had a larger percentage of total consumption last year, hence must take a corresponding bite of the fixed charges.

However, this washes out over the long haul. Rates might have been modified a bit more, but the district has to increase its annual bond requirement coverage from 1.25 to 1.35 since the new dam and pipeline project.

The grand jury urged upon the city commission last week the addition of another man to the city's detective staff. Probably a good idea, but means more money. Since this involves preparation principally for trials in District Court should the city be expected to bear this burden alone?

School trustees took an important step toward a new school service center last week when they voted to buy the Barr Studio property across from the high school. The school already owned much of the same block. The central location should be ideal.

Bill Pollard was elected president of the Big Spring Industrial Foundation, an organization which is going quietly about the business of seeking to interest more industry in locating here. Besides the 200 acres held at the edge of the eastern industrial complex, the foundation may seek more acreage in another location.

Alton Marwitz was elected vice president at State National Bank last week as a highlight of the first of the annual bank meetings. Other banks hold their meetings subsequently.

That's a precious 10 tons of metal which arrived at the tax collector-assessor's office. It happens to be pressed into 1967 automobile plates worth a potential of three-quarters of a million dollars. Come Feb. 1, you will be privileged to contribute your share.

Another Clear Fork wildcat oil test was staked northeast of town last week, the second announced within a fortnight. It will be C. D. Wiley No. 1. Bolinger. If for no other reason, most of us would devoutly hope that it hits because of Cliff Wiley.

Big Spring slipped out of its tie for the district basketball lead Friday night in dropping a four-overtime contest to Midland by two points. At the same time, Abilene rallied to beat Odessa by two points. What a difference those little points make.

Five Coahomans To Enter Show

COAHOMA — Five members of the Coahoma FFA chapter are to enter steers in the Junior Commercial Steer Division of the Houston Livestock Show to be held Feb. 22 through March 5.

Those who have notified the show they will compete are Terry Denton, Eddie Read, Mike Duke and Pete Wisener.

Exhibitors in this division of the show will be competing for $5000 in premiums paid by the Houston show and will be the guests of Armour & Company at a banquet on Wednesday, March 1. The steers are graded according to actual U.S. market grades and premiums are paid accordingly.

This is one of the most practical parts of the entire show, as these animals are not halter broken, and are fed under normal conditions that would exist in feed lots and ranches in this part of the country.

The purpose of the Junior Commercial Steer Show is to encourage more 4-H Club members and Future Farmers to participate in a practical beef production program. Emphasis on economy in the feeding operation is not only recommended but is a prerequisite for entry in this show.

4-H Club members and Future Farmers who are residents of Texas are eligible to show in this division, and they may show purebred, grade or crossbred steers of any of the beef breeds.

SUNDAY
GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is a Sunday when your spiritual life can be greatly satisfied and enhanced by the services or studies that bring you the greatest amount of solace, and by which you can best plan the future so that you have the insight to live by the Golden Rule and other fine precepts in which you truly believe.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Meditation can reveal to you how to be more attuned to the infinite Power of health, success and harmony. Go about your work in a most quiet and knowing fashion. Show that you have charity in your heart as well.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Your companions have the right key to more success in social activities, so be sure to contact them. Get out socially and meet interesting, worthwhile personalities. Come to a very good understanding.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) This is a good day to contact higher-ups for ideas that will help you to get a new start toward greater things in the new week. Approach them diplomatically. You can better both credit and career.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You have to try a new tack if you want to clear up existing problems intelligently. You have fine intuitive flashes that are most helpful. This is also a great day for helping the needy forward in your career.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You know what must be done to achieve greater happiness or success with mate, so don't be lazy and let things pile up. Get a chair. Romantic life can improve greatly, also. Show that you have both vitality and wisdom.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Concern yourself with being helpful to biweekly around you and you get excellent results. Tell others how you feel about them. You will find that they will then work together to improve.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) An ideal day to make your home more charming, neat and to show others that you are very efficient. Planning week ahead is good so that you are in a position to assist others in their needs.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Follow your own inclinations today and find respite from worries that are bothering you. Be with congenial people. Dining at a fine restaurant could be very pleasant with some person you admire very much.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You want to improve conditions, but you must be sure to do this quietly and without loss of temper. You have very perplexities, clarified with little trouble. This can be a very productive day and night.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Getting out to services of your choice can be most inspiring and give you incentive you need for this new year. Contact very interesting personalities later. Have a most fascinating time.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Don't be blind to all the fine chances around you to gain greater abundance. This will give you an opportunity to help others more. A conference with one who has practical ideas is good.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You can reach personal aims and have a marvelous time as well. This Sunday, New personalities come into your existence that are very worthwhile. Buzzing around socially will just work wonders for you.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he, or she, will be one of those intelligent persons who know just what the goals are for the future and even how to reach them, but there is a tendency to be a much anti-social. So be sure to have playmates around very early in life in order to learn how to deal with others successfully. Then the child could become very successful instead of just an intellectual one.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: One of your best days to make a fresh start to gain the advanced course that is essential to your progress and development. You can easily make big headway in exploring a course that will bring you much more to your heart's desires and ambitions and can see the future with real clarity.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Have no fears and carry through with whatever plans of a constructive nature you have made and you get desired results, returns. Making new allies via the social path is good in p.m. Be a little more aggressive.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Confer with experts privately can open up a new and more successful vista for you in the weeks ahead. Several such are within easy reach. Get busy and set up appointment—keep it on time.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Good friends who really understand your position and have your interests at heart are your best bet for support you need now. Social avenues are good for advancement, too. Keep busy and be happier.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Permit that biweekly you know to assist you with problems you do not seem able to cope with. Improve your career. Make excellent contacts tonight socially. Be charming.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you follow good suggestions of individuals whose background has been different from yours, you can advance more quickly now. Studying with them in a positive fashion.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You carry through with agreements to the letter without those around you interfering so much. Then you get ahead as you want to. Be sure to pay important bills. Be harmonious with mate in the new week.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Clever associates will give you suggestions which, if understood correctly, can be most helpful. You need new allies, also, but be sure they are the right ones. Know exactly what their motives are.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) With all that work ahead of you, be sure you start early and carry through with energetic enthusiasm. Avoid complicated methods. You get excellent results if you stick over certain operations with fellow workers.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) If gifted properly to your planets, you begin new week feeling that you can do almost anything you set your mind to, and your recreation time can be ideal. You have excellent skill. Use it wisely.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Concentrating on what you can do to get home life far more successful and harmonious will pay big dividends in the near future. See to time payments that give you interest in the home instead of going out so much.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) First have to plan what you are going to do and then act decisively. Sit down with partners and discuss what should be done. Then combine efforts wisely.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You must have a far more practical outlook if you are to take advantage of greater opportunities all around you now. Listen to what a successful person has to say. Then use approximately the same methods.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow . . . he, or she, will be one of those brilliant youngsters who can get ahead by own ingenuity and natural inclination. There is also the ability to take established businesses, ideas, and modernize them sufficiently to extract far greater profits, and this will be recognized and appreciated by higher-ups quickly. Be sure to teach early to complete whatever has once been started.

ABC Club Looks At Big Jobs

American Business Club members heard about two big projects at their meeting Friday at the Settles Hotel.

The first is the state ABC Club convention which comes here in April. Jim Lewis gave a run down on plans for this event.

The other major undertaking is the National Junior College basketball tournament here in 1968, and Buddy Travis, coach at Howard County Junior College, discussed some of the problems for this undertaking. The Jaycees have taken about a $3,000 bite on this one, but they plan to bid again this year for designation as the 1969 site also.

Dr. Harold Smith gave a report on the club-sponsored bingo party at the Big Spring State Hospital. Guests included Royce Scott and J. R. Adair. Morris Robertson, president, presided at the meeting.

Adult Education Project Pondered

LAMESA (SC)—An educational program for adults is being considered by the Community Action Program of Dawson County for the Lamesa and Dawson County area, according to Hal Boyd, coordinator for the local group. Boyd said the decision to approach local agencies on formation of an adult education program would be based on recent surveys.

If such a project is undertaken it would consist of 120 hours instruction in English and non-English speaking classes and courses in vocational training, Boyd said.

DEAR ABBY

Nobody's Business

DEAR ABBY: My wife's widowed mother has made her home with us for the past 22 years. She was not a built-in babysitter for our children, neither was she a servant. (Fortunately we have always had help.) I will not say my wife and her mother got along "famously" — they had their differences, but my wife always deferred out of respect. I never interfered.

Lately my mother-in-law's mind has been affected, and her health is falling. She has made such a madhouse out of our home that our teenage children can no longer have their friends over. My wife and I have discussed putting her mother in a fine rest home, but my wife's only worry is, "What will people say if I send my own mother away to be cared for by strangers?" If you have a comment on this, I would like to see it in print.

SILENT IN EUGENE
DEAR SILENT: Elderly people who pose a problem in the homes of their children, should, for their own sake as well as for their children's, be cared for in a rest home, if possible. Of all the reasons for refusing to send her, "What will people say" is by far the poorest.

DEAR ABBY: I am the secretary of a man who employs 22 people. He planned a dinner party at his home to honor a retiring employee and he set the date for Friday. One woman spoke up and said if the party were to be on a Friday he should postpone it until after

Jayhawks Win Two Events At Lubbock

LUBBOCK — Howard County Junior College entries won two of three events in the JC division of the Lubbock Indoor Track and Field Meet here Saturday night.

Sophomore Jimmy Jasper won the 60-yard dash in the good time of 6.2, beating out another Jayhawk entry, William Walker, by a tenth of a second. Walker got off to a relatively slow start but recovered well and was pressing Jasper at the end.

Mike Collins, Odessa, was third in 6.4 while Steve Mack, Lubbock Christian, finished fourth in 6.5.

In the mile relay, HCJC's combination of Dee Fletcher, Jasper, Robert Lindsey and Walker raced to a relatively easy win in 3:31.0, considered very good for this time of year, especially since the athletes were running on the boards.

Fletcher trailed Odessa's Bill Harris slightly on his leg but Jasper took the baton and fled to the fore. Lindsey held the advantage gained by Jasper and Walker ran a sizzling 50.8 to pull away from second place Odessa, which was caught in 3:35.7.

Running behind Harris on the Odessa team were Calvin Edwards, Gerardo Velezquez and Shayne Slavacek.

Lubbock Christian's combination of Jimmy Joyce, Harry Tate, Hubert Jones and Randy Allen was third in the event with a 3:40.0 clocking.

In the 500-yard race, LCC's Allen won in 60.3, beating Odessa's Slavacek. Third was LCC's Jones while Lindsey of HCJC was fourth and Fletcher, another Jayhawk, was fifth.

The Jayhawk team will not return to action until the outdoor meet begins.

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Olympian Ralph Boston broke one record and tied another to take the spotlight in the fifth Lubbock Indoor Track Meet Saturday night before 4,000 fans.

Boston, the world record holder in the broad jump, took that event with a 26-foot 3/4-inch effort, breaking his old mark of 25-7, and he took the 60-yard high hurdles in 7.0, tying the mark set by Don Styrone of Northeast Louisiana.

Boston was named the outstanding athlete of the meet. George Scott of New Mexico shattered the two mile record with a 9:02.6 clocking, beating the old record by almost 18 seconds. Pat Clobessy of Houston held the mark at 9:20.2.

Randy Matson won the shot put, but the Texas Aggie didn't come close to his record with an effort of 62 feet 8 1/2 inches. Another Olympian, Parry O'Brien was second with a 60-6 1/2 toss.

Other records were set in the mile relay by Abilene Christian College (3:23.1), in the 1,000-yard run by Pat Cox of New Mexico (2:14.5), in the 600-yard run by Tony Pickett of Houston (1:14.0), in the mile by John Baker, unattached, 4:12.2, and in the Devil's mile by Adrian Dewindt of New Mexico, 4:21.4.

Ponies Roll; Aggies Lose

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist, after a 52 per cent shooting average from the field in the first half, relied on free throws in the second half and defeated Rice 84 — 76 Saturday night in a Southwest Conference basketball game.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Wally Freeman's free throw with 10 seconds remaining Saturday night gave Arkansas a 47-46 Southwest Conference basketball victory over Texas A&M.

Packers, Chiefs Gun For Gold And Glory

By JACK HAND
By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bart Starr's passing and a ball-hawking defense make the experienced Green Bay Packers the solid favorites over the explosive Kansas City Chiefs Sunday in the first clash of champions of the National and American football leagues in the Super Bowl.

Ever since the two leagues decided to merge last June, this test of strength has been awaited with great interest. However, it appeared that there would be no sellout of the vast Memorial Coliseum. A crowd of about 70,000 is expected in the 93,000-seat arena.

SOME RESISTANCE

Resistance to the television blackout in the Los Angeles area and the prices of some of the less desirable tickets, plus the fact that there is no home team involved, were given as some of the reasons for the failure to sell out.

The game will start at 3:05 p.m. CST. It will be beamed across the nation on television and radio by both the Columbia Broadcasting System and the National Broadcasting Co. who are paying a total of $2 million for the rights.

The Packers and Chiefs will be shooting for the biggest payoff in the history of team competition with $15,000 guaranteed for each member of the winning team and $7,500 for each loser. As the Packers already have won approximately $8,500 for beating Dallas in the NFL title game, 34-27, they can take home $23,500 each by winning as expected.

Kansas City's share for beating Buffalo in the AFL title game 31-7 was $5,308.39 so each Chief could pocket more than $20,300. The highest payoff for a World Series winner was $12,794 by the 1963 Los Angeles Dodgers.

Green Bay's solid defense and Starr's brilliantly directed attack took the Packers through the regular NFL season with a 12-2 record. They capped this with a victory over Dallas on four TD passes by Starr to four different receivers and then shut off a late Cowboy threat with an interception by Tom Brown with 24 seconds to go.

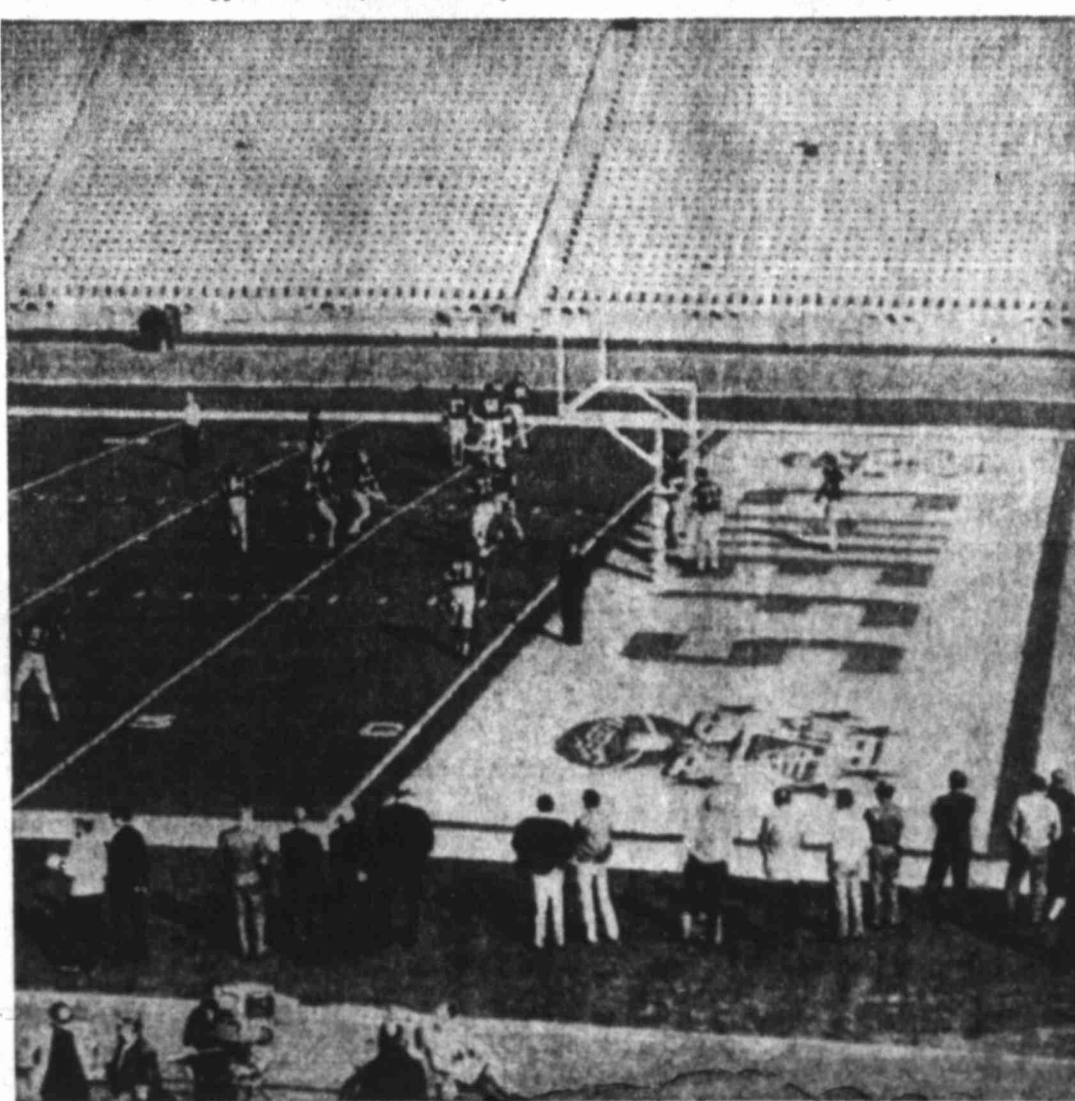

The Packers, who have won four NFL titles in eight years under Coach Vince Lombardi, feature a well-balanced offense that leans more heavily than usual on Starr's passes to Carroll Dale, Boyd Dowler, Jim Taylor, Elijah Pitts and Marv Fleming.

The running game, less effective than in past years, still has a blockbuster in fullback Taylor and a speedy threat in Pitts. Pitts took over Paul Hornung's old job when the Golden Boy was forced out of action with a pinched nerve in his neck.

It is doubtful if Hornung will be an important factor, except possibly as a pass receiver, although Coach Lombardi insists he is ready for duty.

Bob Goalby Leads Meet By 5 Shots

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The new Bob Goalby, with a safety valve on his explosive temper, shot a poised 68 Saturday for a 13-under-par 200 and zoomed into a five-stroke lead over his collapsing challengers in the third round of the $66,000 San Diego Open Golf Tournament.

The 48-year-old Tommy Bolt, after a strong early charge, bogied three holes on the incoming nine for a 70, which placed him in a three-way tie with Doug Sanders and Al Geiberger, who had third round 67s.

Sanders went six under par through the first 11 holes but lost his chipping edge on the 17th and 18th for costly bogies.

Geiberger, the reigning PGA champion, meanwhile, had an almost flawless round with no bogies and four birdies.

BOB GOALBY

Golf's 1966 pro of the year and the defending champion in this event, Bill Casper, played his best round of the tournament — a 68 — but found himself mired well down in the field of 209.

The muscular, 35-year-old Goalby, without a major victory since 1962, played the outgoing nine of the third round in 34, one under par, for 166 through 45 holes.

Bolt, meanwhile, the 48-year-old reformed club thrower who won the National Open crown in 1958, sank an 80-foot putt on the third hole, added two more birdies and made the run in 32 for 167.

Sanders, with four birdies and no bogies, was tied at 169 with Randy Glover, who shared the 36-hole lead with Goalby at 152.

Glover, obviously nervous, sprayed his shots and soared two over par for a front-nine 37.

Art Wall Jr., 43-year-old former Masters champion and player of the year, was in third place with a steady 34 for 170.

Two other late charges in addition to those of Bolt and Sanders came from former Open champion Gene Littler, playing in his home town, and Frank Beard.

Littler was out in 33 and Beard in 32 for 171 through 45 holes, which ties them with gangling Al Geiberger, the reigning PGA champion, dark horse Chris Blocker and Ronnie Reif, a club professional from Rialto, Calif.

Leader Posts 3044 In Meet

Bar-B-Cue House gave the field something to shoot at in team competition in the annual Big Spring Women's Bowling tournament at the Bowl-A-Rama Saturday with a score of 3044.

Runner-up after the first round of activity was Pinkie's, with a score of 2987; while the Riots were third, in at 2972.

In doubles competition, Locky Beach and Louise Hill were setting the pace with a 1249.

Clarice Roundtree was out front in singles with a 643.

In all-events, Myrtle Lee Ray led the handicapped division with a 1917 while Frances Glenn was first in scratch with a 1620.

Action resumes at 1 p.m. today, with doubles and singles activity scheduled at that hour and again at 8:30 p.m. Team competition is down for 3:30 and 8:30 p.m.

To Quit Ring

MANILA (AP) — Flash Elorde, the onetime bootblack who became a millionaire through his ring earnings and investments, said Saturday he definitely will retire from boxing this year.

Big Spring's 200-yard freestyle relay team of Devore, Bortner, Bob Bunn and Tyldesley wound up second.

Although the Big Spring boys swam as a high school team, their points were totaled in the same group with those of Aquatic clubs.

Five Big Spring High School boys took part in the meet.

Bob Tyldesley of the Steers grabbed a second place in the 100-yard freestyle, then took third in the 100-yard backstroke and fourth in the 200-yard freestyle.

Jim Devore placed second in the 100-yard backstroke and third in the 200-yard individual

Acquiring Staff Major Problem

STARKVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Getting a staff is the biggest problem facing Mississippi State's new head football coach, Charles N. Shira.

That's what Shira said Friday when he met sports writers and sportscasters following his arrival here to assume his new post.

Shira had no names to offer as potential assistants.

"I basically believe in a ball control offense and a strong defense," said Shira. "But this depends on what kind of people you have."

Shira, 40, was selected Wednesday to replace Wade Walker as athletic director and Paul Davis as head football coach. Walker and Davis were fired Dec. 10.

Shira, a Texas native who played football for Texas A&M and Army, smoothly fielded

Terrell Goes To Fight Site Mon., Feb. 6

HOUSTON — World Boxing Association Champ Ernie Terrell comes to Houston Monday to continue his training for the undisputed heavyweight boxing match with Champ Muhammad Ali (Cassius Clay) on Monday, Feb. 6 in the Astrodome.

The arrival of Terrell, who has been chopping wood in a New Jersey woods for the past four weeks as part of his training, thus sets the stage for the title fight which will end with only one champion.

Terrell is expected to arrive in Houston late Monday morning and go directly to a press luncheon at the Astrodome. Then later in the day or on Tuesday he'll start his training in the same ring where Muhammad Ali has been working out since last Wednesday.

For Ali, however, the workouts in a special training site in Astrodome, the huge exhibition hall across the street from the Astrodome, have been the first serious exercises since the Cleveland Williams fight, Nov. 14 in the Astrodome and a six-round sparring session with Jimmy Ellis in Hawaii a week or so later.

The training facilities have been rated by veteran fight personalities as the best ever prepared anywhere. A new ring was prepared with a separate ring for punching the heavy bag and the speed bag.

The training room, 200 by 50 feet with a 20-foot ceiling, is brightly illuminated with seats for more than 1,000 viewers and news media representatives.

It was in this room that Ali had his press conference last Tuesday when he publicly apologized to Terrell for calling him an "Uncle Tom" at an earlier press conference in New York.

Ernie Terrell ain't no Uncle Tom and I shouldn't have called him that, but I'm still going to give him a good whipping for calling me Cassius Clay," Ali said.

Uncle Tom is a derogatory name, bearing connotations of slavery or subservience.

Ali admitted that there is little love lost between the two champs, and as usual, he had his little poem about the upcoming spectacle.

At the sound of the bell,
I will be dead on Terrell,
Ernie Terrell thinks he is a champion fighter,
But when he meets me, he will fall some 20 pounds lighter.

He may come into the ring looking cool and neat,
But if he don't watch it, he will carry him out by his feet.
He's going around claiming to be the original heavyweight champ,
But after he meets me, he will only be a tramp.

Now I'm not saying this just to be funny,
But I'm fighting Ernie because he needs the money,
I decided to let him make a little bread,
But the catch is, I must whip his head.

Now I don't want to be a drag and I didn't come here to brag,
But it's Terrell's law I'm out to tag,
I understand he wants to stand toe to toe, and with me trade blow for blow,
But if he's hip, he'll take a dip, because I'm out to bust his lip.

Now if you come to the Astrodome and you're late, don't run,
I claim this fight will last over one,
And after the fight, he will know he's been in a scuffle,
Because he couldn't master the ALI SHUFFLE.

Brown's Retirement Is Soon Forgotten

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Back in July, Blanton Collier looked outside at the Cleveland Browns' summer training camp and said:

"It's cloudy today, but the sun will shine again." The Browns' coach wasn't just talking about the weather. Jim Brown, his big fullback, had retired the day before.

Collier moved Ernie Green to Brown's position, but needed a replacement to fill a gaping hole in the backfield.

Collier didn't have to look far. Waiting in the wings was his punt and kickoff return specialist—Leroy Kelly.

"This is the opportunity I've been waiting for," said the former Morgan State halfback, starting his third year. "I think I'm ready."

Others weren't so sure. Some were saying the Browns' relentless rushing game, once led by Brown, would become a passing attack and the heat would be on quarterback Frank Ryan. Another theory was that split end Paul Warfield was the Browns' best hope to repeat as Eastern Division champs.

Backfield coach Dub Jones wasn't convinced.

"Don't worry about the running," Jones said before the season. "If we don't win the title it won't be because we can't run with the football. We have a pair of running backs who rate with the best in our division." He was wrong. They rate with the best in the league.

Kelly took over where Brown left off. Green, no longer playing a supporting role, came on strong to give the Browns a balanced backfield punch.

As the NFL punt return leader in 1965 (265 yards), the 6-foot, 200-pound Kelly quickly displayed a leaping, broken field style running that won roaring approval from the fans. Green carried the ball more, and he did it well.

One newspaper headline put it this way:

"New Color In Old Browns—Kelly Green."

Kelly, 24, an eighth round draft choice, jumped into the lead as the NFL's top rusher. The Browns established themselves as a team that could score from a distance on the ground.

Average-wise Kelly was the NFL's best rusher, averaging 5.5 yards on 209 carries. He led the league in touchdowns with 16, all but one on rushes. His 96 points tied him for sixth place and those ahead of him were all field goal kickers. His 1,141 yards gained were second to league leader Gale Sayers of the Chicago Bears.

After the second game of the season, a disappointing 21-20 loss to Green Bay, Kelly said, "I haven't had too much practice carrying the football the last three years. I think I'll get better." He did.

The following week he ripped off three touchdowns against St. Louis, including a 57 yard run. For an encore he raced 138 yards on 20 carries against New York on Oct. 2.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

McDonald Deserves Honor

By TOMMY HART

There should be no doubt but that Don McDonald of Big Spring is the Coach of the Year in 2-AAAA basketball play . . . McDonald has taken a team that had only one regular back from last season and given the local school one of its finest clubs in history . . . Prospects should continue to improve next year, too, with three regulars returning and Claude (Snake) Tucker due to come into his own . . . The athletic teams at Lubbock's new Estacado High School will be known as the Matadors . . . Coach Jack Woodley at Garden City is seeking an Oct. 13 home game to complete his 1967 football schedule . . . Woodley made radical changes in the Bearcats' grid alignment, dropping Comstock, Bula and Marathon . . . The Kats will open in an eleven-man game with the Robert Lee B team Sept. 9 at Garden City and play Loop, Klondike, Union and Rocksprings before turning to conference games . . . Pro football is now encroaching upon pro golf's TV time . . . Addition of the Super Bowl game to the schedule moved the AFL and NFL All-Star games back a week, conflicting with the telecasts of the Bing Crosby telecasts from Pebble Beach, Calif. . . The NFL game at Miami recently between Baltimore and Philadelphia could rightfully have been called the Gravy Bowl . . . There is no purpose for such a game, other than the fact that the proceeds benefit the players' pension fund—and now the players want to add an all-star game between the leagues for the same reason . . . Why not cool it by surrendering the air lanes to other sports for a while? . . . The late Young Stribling's brother, Babe, died—the last member of Georgia's famed boxing family to pass on to his reward . . . Babe, 59, was a veteran of 268 fights but never gained the prominence of his older brother . . . Both boys were handled by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stribling.

Jimmy Wetsel, who formerly helped his father operate the Municipal Golf course here, went to work last Monday as one of the assistant pros at the Colonial Country Club in Fort Worth, where another ex-Big Springer, Bobby Maxwell, is first assistant pro . . . Don Maynard, the former Colorado City grid great, caught a total of 48 passes for the New York Jets in AFL play the past season, going for gains of 840 yards and five touchdowns . . . His longest gain was for 55 yards . . . Benny Kirkland, the ex-Big Springer now at East Texas State, had a .358 pass completion record for the Lions the past fall, making good on 38 of 108 aials . . . Benny ran for six touchdowns and passed for three more . . . One of Kirkland's team-mates, Tim Smith, who also played high school ball here, made 15 tackles and assisted on 49 others over the year while David McKay of Colorado City, whose father now works here, intercepted one pass, made 31 tackles and had 45 assists for the Commerce team . . . He also broke up eight pass plays . . . The prize money in this year's New Orleans game will probably go to $125,000, with the end yet in sight . . . Former New York Giant baseballer Hank Thompson, freed from prison in this state last Dec. 23, has repaired to Fresno, Calif., where he'll toil for the Fresno Recreation Dept. . . . Thompson was originally sentenced to prison for armed robbery . . . Football buffs who venture to the game site via automobile for today's Super Bowl Game in Los Angeles may find they will be paying more for parking space than for the ducats themselves . . . The cost of some of the parking stalls offered by nearby property owners has peaked to $12 . . . Oklahoma State now pays its head football coach, Phil McCutchen, $22,000 per annum and its veteran basketball mentor, Hank Iba, $21,200 . . . If Andrews school officials are going to use coaching aides to officiate junior high school basketball games, they should at least teach them to be a little more charitable toward visiting contingents.

Six-Man Game Started Curt Toward Top

NEW YORK (AP) — The first time Curt Gowdy did a radio broadcast of a football game it was from a soap box at midfield on a bitterly cold day while two high school teams battled in Cheyenne for the six-man championship of eastern Wyoming.

"I'll never forget it," says Gowdy. "It was between St. Mary's of Cheyenne and Pine Bluffs High on a lot four blocks from my house."

"An icy wind swept the field, the temperature was about zero and about 15 spectators, relatives of the players I guess, shivered as they watched."

That was 23 years ago. Gowdy has come a long way since then. On Sunday, the former University of Wyoming basketball star and his football broadcasting teammate, Paul Christman, will handle the commentary of NBC's telecast of the Super Bowl game between the Green Bay Packers and the Kansas City Chiefs from the Los Angeles Coliseum.

The handsome Wyoming native has enjoyed many thrills in broadcasting most of the great spectacles in sports, but he says just the thought of describing the Super Bowl game for the largest American sports audience ever "gives me a big bang."

"I've covered the AFL games for five years now and I've seen it progress and grow each year with new stars added. Now we have the inevitable — the battle of champions. You have to feel it."

"As former athletes, Paul and I know how players react in certain situations and we try to impart that to our audience. On radio you have to keep talking and try and give the listener a picture of what's going on so they'll feel they are on the scene."

"On television you have to try to keep from talking too much. The fans resent it. If I talk too much please let me know."

"To get set for a game, I'll put in days of preparation. I'll read the sports pages and magazines, watch films and talk to the players and coaches. The night before a game I'll lock myself in a room for two to three hours and memorize the numbers of the players until I have them down pat. I like to call the key plays instantly."

Some 75 million may watch the NBC and CBS telecasts of the championship.

Texas Edges Tech In 70-68 Thriller

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas defeated Texas Tech 70-68 Saturday in a thriller that was a last minute stall when Gary Overbeck scored with two seconds to play and the Longhorns dethe second half. The victory was Texas' third in four Southwest Conference basketball games. Tech is 1-3.

The score was tied four times and the lead changed hands nine times in the first half and Texas took only a 35-34 edge into half-time.

Noel Stout, who got only one basket and two free throws in the first half, was the big factor in Texas' victory by scoring 18 points in the second half. He led all scorers with 22 points.

Baskets by Dale Dotson and Mike Gammon gave the Longhorns a 68-64 lead with about two minutes to play. Then Tech's Billy Tapp and Paul responded with field goals.

Texas made 45 per cent of its field goals and Tech hit 44 per cent.

Longhorns Shade Four Opponents

Dan Lewis' Big Spring Steers scored their second straight victory at the Country Club here Saturday, defeating representatives from four other schools.

Under rules of the matches, a school could enter six players and use the scores of the four lowest boys.

The Longhorns had an aggregate score of 301 and furnished the medalist in Mike Hall, who had a one-over par 72. Randy Nicholson, Ronnie Broadrick and Tom Wilson were others who figured in on the scoring for Big Spring.

Abilene Cooper finished four strokes off Big Spring's pace, at 305, while Midland was third with 309, Snyder fourth with 314 and Abilene High fifth with 337.

Cooper had two boys tie for runner-up honors in individual scoring, each with a 74. They were Meadows and Pfaff.

Near perfect golfing conditions existed during the match. Next competition for the Steers is scheduled Friday, Jan. 27, in San Angelo but Lewis may arrange a practice test for his charges before that time.

Frank Robinson Inks $100,000 Contract

BALTIMORE (AP) — Frank Robinson, the American League

most valuable player and the 1966 World Series hero, signed a $100,000 contract Saturday with the Baltimore Orioles. Robinson was paid an estimated $65,000 last season.

The 31-year-old slugger conferred only five minutes with Harry Dalton, the club's director of player personnel, before joining a select list of superstars who have reached the six-figure salary bracket. After a brief chat, the two negotiators wrote on separate slips of paper a figure each had in mind for Robinson's 1967 salary.

Robinson said the suggestion by Dalton that they exchange the notes took him by surprise, so he deliberately overstated his own figure.

"I felt I was on the defensive," Robinson said. "So I wanted to be near or above Harry's offer. I didn't want to short change myself."

As a result, Robinson and Dalton were about $25,000 apart on the note exchange. But after Dalton explained his offer, Robinson said, "Where do I sign?"

In his first American League season, after the Orioles obtained him in an interleague deal with the Cincinnati Reds, Robinson won the triple crown of batting with a .316 average, 49 home runs and 122 runs batted in.

Robinson was selected the American League's most valuable player — the first player ever to win the award in both leagues — and then was voted the outstanding player in the World Series, when he hit two homers which contributed to half of Baltimore's four consecutive victories over the Dodgers.

"Frank was given a great raise in keeping with his great year," Dalton said. "He seemed quite pleased, and I'm pleased also."

HOUSTON (AP) — Frank Robinson the Baltimore Oriole who practically made a clean sweep of American League batting honors in 1966, will receive the Rogers Hornsby Award at Houston's major league baseball dinner Jan. 24.

Trio Ineligible In 2-3A League

ODESSA — Two Odessa Ector athletes, Clarence Redic and Harold Stuart, have been declared ineligible for high school sports for an expenses-paid trip to the University of Oklahoma campus recently.

Redic and Stuart transferred from Odessa Blackshear to Ector this school year. Redic was named to the Class AAA All-State team as a quarterback by the Texas Sports Writers Association.

He also played basketball and baseball for the Eagles. Stuart had planned to participate in track this spring.

Also declared ineligible for the same reason was Jerry Sims of Kermit, a linebacker in football. Kermit had to forfeit its basketball victory over Pecos the past week because Sims played in the game.

Sands Shades Dragon Quint

FLOWER GROVE — Sands boys won their second straight conference test and ran their season's record to 11-4 by subduing Flower Grove, 74-46, here Friday night.

Flower Grove's girls, however, turned back Sands, 54-31, by making good use of free throws.

In the boys' game, Oren Lancaster had 18 points and Lynn Maxwell 17 for Sands while Jimmy Walker led the Dragons with 14.

Cindy Dykes waxed warm for the Flower Grove girls, tossing in 29 points.

The Sands teams host Gall Tuesday night.

The Flower Grove girls now boast a 13-8 record and are 1-1 in conference, having lost to Gall by five points at Gall.

Doing tremendous work in the backcourts for Flower Grove were Diane Massengale, Carol Ann Pribyla and Neta Hightower.

The Flower Grove teams play host to Loop Tuesday.

Bigger Role For Women In Athletics Sought

HOUSTON (AP) — An expanded program of intercollegiate athletics which would include competition for women is favored by the new president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

"There is a tendency toward spectatorship," says Marcus L. Plant, who feels that participation in athletics provides a needed character building force in young people. "Every student should be encouraged in some sport."

"I think the collegiate athletic program should not be confined to men," he says, adding that the NCAA should encourage more championship events.

"There should be no discrimination against women in sports."

"Women are short-changed at most universities in facilities and athletic opportunities. I think there is a great deal of room for improvement in physical education."

Plant, married and the father of four children, says the NCAA has talked of the role of women in intercollegiate athletics but has taken no action.

The 55-year-old University of Michigan law school professor, elected president of the 582-member NCAA at its 61st convention here last week, laughs about his own athletic career which never advanced beyond the sandlot level. "I think what I lack is coordination."

"I thought I was a great pitcher at one time — but my coaches did not agree. I was interested in athletics from boyhood."

Plant, who prefers being called Marc rather than Marcus or by a more formal academic title, plays golf — "I never got below 100" — swims for recreation and fishes—"fishing is not too good in many parts of Michigan any more."

Wrestling Class Starts At Webb

The Youth Activities Council at Webb AFB Tuesday begins a five-weeks course of instruction in wrestling for boys eight to 13 years of age.

The program will be held twice weekly and will be climaxed with a Feb. 18 tournament.

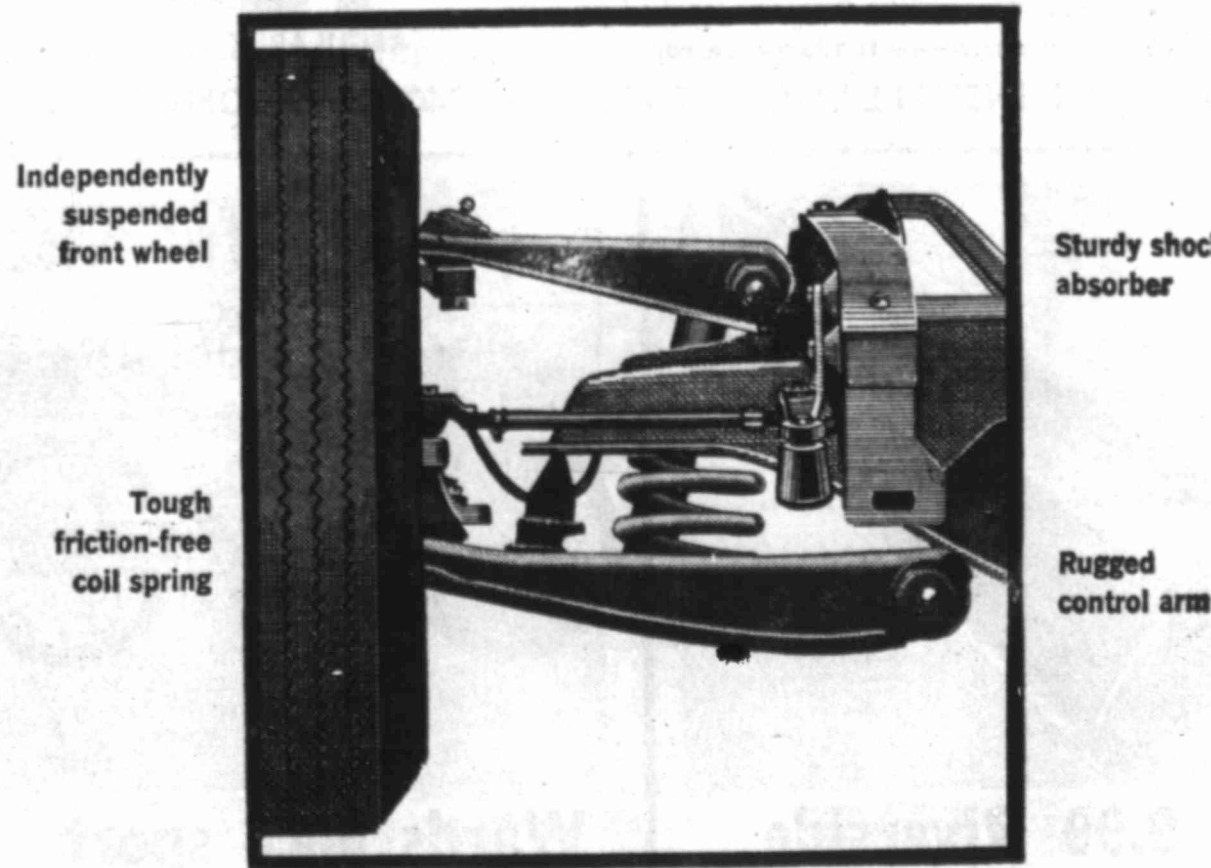

Lt. Terry Isaacson, former star footballer and All-American wrestler for the Air Force Academy, and Lt. Richard Flechsig will serve as instructors.

Levelland Grabs Fifth In Row

LEVELLAND — Levelland's Lobos won its fifth straight district 3-AAA basketball decision by upending San Angelo Lake View, 75-53, here Friday night. Mike Dukes led the Levelland onslaught, scoring 23 points.

NAIA Indoor Boasts Tremendous Talent

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The second annual NAIA indoor track championships here Saturday includes long-time NAIA powers like Southern U. (La.) and Texas Southern in the team title race, plus an open division loaded with top foreign and domestic talent.

Southern is led by Willie Davent, one of the world's best hurdlers. He reached 13.4 in the 120-yard high last year and set a Municipal Auditorium record of 7.1 for the 60-yard high in the NAIA meet here.

Texas Southern has John Hartfield, a consistent 7-foot high jumper with a best leap of 7-2.

Among the United States entries in the outstanding open division are Adolph Plummer, world record holder in the 440-yard dash, and Clarence Robinson, 26-9 long jumper, both of the Albuquerque, N.M., track club; Wichita's Fred Burton, 16-6 pole vaulter; shot putters Gene Crews, ex-Missouri, and George Woods, ex-Southern Illinois; two-miler George Scott of New Mexico and miler John Camien, ex-Emporia, Kan., State.

The foreign talent includes Bodo Tummler, European 1,500-meter champion, and Franz Josef Kemper, European 800-meter record holder, both of West Germany; Australian distance star Tony Benson; and Dave Sirl of New Zealand, who has reached 3:58.6 in the mile, outdoors.

The mile race on the auditorium's 12-lap board saucer could be one of the best of the young indoor season. Tummler has reached 3:56.7, and Camien 4:00.1, both outdoors. The auditorium record is 3:59.6 by Jim Ryun of Kansas.

The meet could produce the first 7-foot high jump and the first sub-9-minute two-mile in auditorium history. Benson will duel Scott in the open two-mile. The NAIA division two-mile could be even faster, however, with Van Nelson of St. Cloud, Minn., State, who ran 8:54.5 last week at San Francisco. Nelson's 13:29.2 three-mile and 28:48 six-mile rank him among the nation's all-time top 10 individuals in both events. Plummer will run the open 60, because no open 440 is scheduled. Robinson will battle Freddie Fox, McMurtry, Tex., with a best of 26-2. Burton will be pushed by three other 16-foot vaulters.

The NAIA sprint field is led by Texas Southern's James Hines, who ran a 9.3 in the 100 last month in the Bluebonnet invitational and shares the meet 60-yard dash record of six seconds flat.

LBJ's Message Included Bitter Pill For Petroleum Industry

By MAX B. SKELTON
Associated Press Oil Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The proposed tax hike came as no surprise but President Lyndon B. Johnson's State of the Union message included one other bitter pill for the petroleum industry.

The message indicated White House approval of a proposal that the Federal Power Commission (FPC) be authorized to set safety standards for interstate gas pipelines.

"We should take steps . . . to assure safety in the pipelines that carry natural gas across America," the President said.

PIPELINE SAFETY

The FPC has been seeking legislative authority to regulate gas pipeline safety since 1950. Such authority to regulate oil pipeline safety was delegated by Congress in 1965 to the Interstate Commerce Commission and later turned over to the new cabinet-level Department of Transportation.

The early FPC pleas received little support but interest jumped after a March 4, 1965, natural gas pipeline explosion and fire killed 17 people at Natchitoches, La.

DIES IN COMMITTEE
Many observers thought Congress would approve the FPC request last year but a bill introduced by Senator Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., died in the Senate Commerce Committee. Lee C. White, FPC chairman, testified before the committee, but Congress adjourned before industry representatives could do so.

Natural gas pipelines contend they already abide by an excellent safety code developed by the American Standards Association and that regulation by private industry and the individual states is the best way to attain maximum efficiency.

GOOD RECORD

White told the Senate committee the interstate gas lines have a good safety record but that the burden of safety is too heavy to be borne by private companies. He also said the American Standards code is inadequate in that it is voluntary. He said the states are not in a position to handle the matter effectively because only 27 states have adopted safety codes.

John W. Partridge, president of the Independent Natural Gas Association of America, said recently the pipelers are making plans to place their case before Congress. The association represents most of the major interstate pipelines.

BLANK CHECK

"If a battles does develop in Congress, we'll use our ammunition," said Partridge, president of the Columbia Gas System Inc., New York City.

Partridge suggested the FPC adopt the industry's standards. "But what the FPC is asking is that Congress give them a blank check," he said. "Let's not have a bunch of codes."

W. A. Strauss the association's 1966 president said the industry should be permitted to keep its hands free to develop

"FIRST FAMILIES"

By JO BRIGHT

Among the "first" families to boost Big Spring as a better place to live — and the last to look at her faults as incurable—are those of officers and directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

Presented at Saturday evening's banquet at Big Spring Country Club were Dr. Lee O. Rogers, president; George Zachariah, vice president; and Clyde Hollingsworth, treasurer. Serving with them on the executive committee are Clyde McMahon Sr., Horace Garrett and John Currie.

Introduced as new three-year directors were

Dr. Robert Johnson, Billy Jones, Harry Sawyer, Don Womack and Dr. M. W. Talbot. One-year directors are Joe Price, George True and Harold Canning.

Holdover members of the board, under a rotation system, are Dr. John H. Fish, Guilford Jones, George McAlister, Bill Pollard, R. J. Ream, Jack Cook, Larry Crow, Clyde McMahon Jr., Paul Meek and Jerry Worthy.

Pictured today are new officers and directors for 1967 and their wives.

Bridge - playing Mrs. B. B. Badger had a few of the girls over Saturday evening for bridge and to enjoy one of her Mexican dinners. Mrs. Anne Hardy, an ex-Big Springer, was the honored guest. Not sure, but Harvey Williamson might have joined them for the games and to celebrate his birthday. Mrs. Williamson is in Amarillo visiting friends.

Mrs. Mary E. Brown, who saw most of Europe last summer, has been on the go again but stayed in the state this time. She was in Longview where she saw her daughter and family, the Calvin R. Clarks, and in Fort Worth where she was a guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brown. While there, she had a call from another son, Wendell, who is making his home in London, England, these days.

A little traveling music, too, for Mrs. Don Essex of Stuttgart, Ark., who explained for Hawaii from Midland Thursday. Mrs. Essex, who was named "Mother of the Year" in Arkansas, has been here with her daughter and son-in-law, the Don Farleys. In Hawaii, she will be with another daughter and her family, Capt. and Mrs. Gordon T. Denton. He works in communications for the Air Force and will be leaving for a tour of duty in Southeast Asia.

Other flyers are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McMahon Sr. who flew their plane to Dallas and took a commercial line to New York City. . . . and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Alexander who left Dallas for Puerto Rico. Understand her dad is staying with the youngsters.

That happy voice you hear on the switchboard at Cosden probably belongs to Mrs. Jane Simunovic whose husband, John, is expected home from Vietnam Jan. 19. Anxious to see their dad are young Cami and Shirley.

Sometimes I'm envious of these travelers—but not of Mrs. George Dawson. On a recent trip which she took with her mother, Mrs. C. F. Huling, and her daughter, Catherine Anne, their steering cable snapped when she was driving at a pretty good clip, and left her with something to think about for awhile. They were returning from Louisville, Ky., where they were guests of her brother, A. K. Huling, and his children. My joy (and sometimes despair) Mrs. L. D. Jenkins didn't have a thing to fuss at me about yesterday when she called to say the family was having a reunion this weekend. Here to see their mother are her brothers, Eddie Morgan of North Hollywood, Calif., and James Morgan of Corsicana. They were joined by another sister, Mrs. Kathleen Williams, last night in celebrating the birthday of young Richard Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jenkins.

New Slate To Guide Panhellenic

Mrs. Jerry Grimes was elected president of the Panhellenic Forum at the Thursday luncheon meeting in the Blue Room of Cosden Country Club.

Other officers named were Mrs. M. W. Talbot, vice president, and Mrs. William Koehler, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Dee Jon Davis and Mrs. Luin King were appointed to the telephone committee.

During the business session, members discussed the annual spring tea honoring local high school seniors, and the coffee to be held in the summer for local girls who have pledged sororities.

The next meeting will be Feb. 7. All local women who have been affiliated with a national sorority and who desire membership in the Panhellenic Forum are requested to call Mrs. Grimes or Mrs. Koehler.

Gavel Club Sends Birthday Cards

The Past Matrons Gavel Club of Laura B. Hart Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, has adopted a project of sending birthday cards to elderly residents of the OES home in Arlington. The plans were made when the club held a dinner meeting Thursday at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant.

Mrs. Jimmie Felts presided, and Mrs. Gordan Hughes gave the devotion.

February hostesses will be Mrs. John Puckett and Mrs. Dick Mitchell, and Mrs. Puckett will serve as card chairman for the month.

The place for the Feb. 9 meeting is to be announced.

come and gone, the memory lingers on for several Webb families who want to say thanks to Walt Davis for being the jolly old gent for their children. Expressing appreciation are the families of Alton Sissel, Bill Pemberton, Don Bruce, Fred Pappas and Roger Wadleigh.

TIDBITS: Miss Caroline Miller, Marvin's daughter, and Mrs. Al Moore, John Coffey's daughter, were here for a busy time but are back in Dallas now, I think. . . . The Bill Crookers were at Camino Real in Juarez over the holidays, and the Orville Shaplands celebrated the New Year at La Flesia in the same city. . . . Epsilon Sigma Alpha is having district meeting in Odessa today with several from here attending. . . . Tickets are on sale for the concert slated Feb. 2 by all three local school bands and it should be a good one. . . . Capt. and Mrs. Jerry Grimes spent the holiday moving since their temporary home was purchased by a church. . . . Mr. S. P. Jones, who had surgery Tuesday, is getting lots of attention from his family and friends at Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital. More Monday. Call me?

Miss Nora O'Bannon Honored At Shower

a corsage of white carnations as was her mother, Mrs. Robert Smart.

The bridal theme decorations were in the honoree's chosen colors of white and blue. A white lace cloth covered the refreshment table where the centerpiece was an arrangement of candles and a miniature bride. The white cake was decorated with white roses and wedding bells and inscribed with the engaged couple's names.

Mrs. Stevens presided at the register, and the hostesses presented Miss O'Bannon with an electric skillet.

MRS. LOWELL N. JONES

Shortly after coming to Big Spring in 1963, Mrs. Lowell N. Jones vacationed in Europe, stopping in London, Paris, Venice, Florence, Rome and Madrid. One of the greatest pleasures she received during the trip was seeing the famous works of art in Venice and Florence, some of which suffered extensive or irreparable damage during the recent floods in Italy.

Mrs. Jones is secretary-receptionist in the administration building of W. R. Grace and Company, doing secretarial work for the plant manager, production manager and technical engineer. Adding interest and flavor to the routine work are the visitors she meets from distant cities or foreign countries who have business with the company.

Mrs. Jones and her husband, manager of the Coca-Cola Bottling Plant, live at 1212 W. 16th and are parents of two daughters and one son. Judy is a junior at Texas Tech and Carol is married to Eugene Hixenbaugh and resides in Santa Barbara, Calif. Barry and his wife live with their four children in Phoenix, Ariz. The Joneses are affiliated with the First Methodist Church and very much interested in its activities.

A graduate of the high school in Ranger, Mrs. Jones attended business school in Abilene, recalling that her first job was secretary to Ben J. Dean, district attorney in Breckenridge. She worked for him until her marriage in 1938 when she went to live in Denver, Colo. "Since then," said Mrs. Jones, "we have lived in Salem, Ore., Detroit, Mich., and Los Angeles and Santa Barbara, Calif. In Santa Barbara, I worked for The National Cash Register Company and was fascinated with the intricacy of the machines — from simple registers to complex computers."

While in the Los Angeles area, she was secretary to a school principal, gaining a deeper appreciation of the work of a school teacher.

For recreation, Mrs. Jones prefers golf and bridge.

Given in marriage by her uncle, J. Q. Clawson of Baytown, the bride chose a gown of white satin trimmed with lace. The dress was fashioned with an Empire waist, flared elbow-length sleeves and a portait neckline. The A-line skirt was formal length, and her veil of white illusion cascaded from a white satin bow trimmed with lace and seed pearls. She wore a pearl necklace and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Nita Wilkinson, Baytown, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She was attired in an emerald green velvet dress, designed with a scooped neckline and bell-shaped skirt. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Richie Craig of Baytown was the organist and Gary Wayne Burroughs acted as best man. The altar tapers were lighted by Miss Linda Sanders and Miss Nita Wilkinson.

Mrs. Archer is a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School and attended Howard County Junior College. She is presently employed by the Houston Bank for Co-Operatives in Houston. Archer graduated from Big Spring Senior High School and Howard County Junior College.

Miss Mary Foreman Stresses Counseling

The College Heights Parent-Teacher Association, meeting Thursday afternoon at the school, was told that the Big Spring Independent School District was a pioneer in elementary counseling in the State of Texas.

Miss Mary Foreman, local elementary counselor, told of the system's efforts in guiding the child — to help him become a person who can be comfortable about himself and meet the demands of society. She stated that I.Q. tests alone are inconclusive, but can be used along with other means, to gain valuable information about the child.

A case was given where a fifth grader, who was a potential drop-out, was given guidance and is now an honor student in the high school. She also told of a group experiment, to begin here the second semester, which will endeavor to help students with a definite reading problem.

Mrs. A. W. Gerhart presided and named a committee to recommend a Life Membership Recipient. Serving on the committee are Mrs. Joe Hedleston, Mrs. Billy Plew, Mrs. Reagan Easley and Mrs. Charlie Shanks. Members were encouraged to participate in the Mother's March Jan. 17.

The poems, "My Resolution" and "Begin Today" were given as the devotion by Mrs. J. E. Swindell. Jim Beam, principal, announced students will have a holiday Jan. 20, and school pictures will be taken Feb. 9.

The next meeting will be held in the Goliad cafeteria Feb. 8 when the program will feature the sixth grade music students under direction of Mrs. Joe Frey.

S. M. Anderson Speaks To P-TA

S. M. Anderson, superintendent of schools, spoke on "The Individual Learner" during the 7:30 p.m. Thursday meeting of the Cedar Crest Parent-Teacher Association.

Mrs. George Smith presided, and the devotion was by Mrs.

Vivafaye Newman. Mrs. Smith asked for volunteers to help with the Mother's March of Dimes scheduled Tuesday.

Mrs. J. W. Speegle received the attendance prize, and the room count award went to the fourth and fifth grade classes of Mrs. V. L. Perkins.

Twenty-five attended and were reminded that the next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., Feb. 9.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

One of Big Spring's real old-timers is going to terminate her residence of 51 years in this city when she leaves Tuesday to make her home in Wichita, Kan. She is MRS. JOE FISHER who came to Big Spring as a bride in 1915.

The Fishers were married on Oct. 20, 1915, in Lafayette, Ind., and after a honeymoon trip to Chicago they came to Big Spring where Mr. Fisher was associated with his father, uncle and brother in the operation of the J. & W. Fisher Co., the largest mercantile store for miles around.

The couple made their home at the Cole Hotel until the house was built at 707 Scurry. Here Mrs. Fisher lived for 50 years until she moved to the Ponderosa Apartments last year. Her husband passed away several years ago.

In Wichita she will be near her daughter, MRS. JEROME A. FISHER, and Mr. Fisher, and also near her first great-grandson, Joe Fisher, a namesake of his great-grandfather. The baby is the son of MR. and MRS. JAN DAVID FISHER.

Mrs. Fisher has many memories of her long-time home to take with her. She recalled coming from the city to the little prairie town that had no pavement. The closest thing to it was a crossing from one side of Main Street to the other. She had to wait some months to see a rain, but when it came the whole of Main Street was mud which took care of any help a concrete crossing might have offered.

During her many years here, Mrs. Fisher was active in social and cultural affairs and took part in parent activities while her daughter, BETTIE JEAN, was in school.

In Wichita the new home will be at Parklane Apartments, Apt. 5-E, and the ZIP Code is 67218.

Some time soon CARROLL DAVIDSON is to be in Wichita on a business matter and he plans to drive Mrs. Fisher's car to Kansas for her. She will make the trip from here to Kansas by air . . . in quite a lot less time than she made the first trip out to Big Spring. All of us wish her a happy residence in her new home.

When I see all the wigs and wiglets being set and dried at the beauty shops I can't help thinking what fancy scalps the long - ago Indians would think we moderns are getting.

Two of MRS. LAMAR GREEN'S sisters, both former Big Spring residents, came Thursday to be on hand for the opening of the new steak house on IS 20. They are MRS. D. H. THOMAS of Tucumcari, N. M., and MRS. EVELYN McDOUGAL, Amarillo. The family will add another to its gathering this week with the arrival of a brother, HENRY BUGG, who also lives in Tucumcari.

If the plans of MR. and MRS. LEONARD COKER have not been changed they expect to leave Tuesday for San Diego, Calif., where their son, DON, is finishing boot training with the U.S. Marines.

MRS. ROY F. BROOM JR.

(Brookshire Studio)

Miss Joanne Neill Is Married Saturday

Miss Theda Joanne Neill and Roy F. Broom Jr. were united in marriage Saturday evening in a candlelight ceremony held in Grace Baptist Church. The Rev. Roy E. Honea, pastor, officiated for the double ring rite and was assisted by the Rev. E. G. Newcomer.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Theda Neill, 1614 Cardinal and Ralph Neill Sr., 1209 Mulberry. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy F. Broom Sr. of Bowie.

The vows were exchanged before an altar graced with an arch of greenery flanked by candelabra holding white tapers. The pianist, Mrs. Johnny Billings, played traditional selections and accompanied Miss Patsy Thompson as she sang "More," "The Twelfth of Never" and "O Promise Me." The organist was Miss Kathy Eggleston.

WHITE GOWN

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal gown of peau de soie, the scalloped neckline enhanced with lace, sequins and seed pearls. Lace appliques covered the molded bodice and were repeated on the slender skirt, and the sleeves ended in petal points at the wrists. The gown was fashioned with a cathedral train which swept from a wide bow at the back waistline. Her crystal tiara held a shoulder-length veil of illusion, and she carried atop a white Bible, an orchid encircled with Frenched carnations and tied with satin streamers.

Miss Brenda Mize attended the bride as maid of honor and wore a sleeveless yellow brocade floor-length gown with scooped neckline and butterfly bow at the back waistline. Her matching circle hat was veiled with tulle, and she carried a single long-stemmed yellow carnation.

Bridesmaids were Miss Lou Anna Misk and Miss Vicki Cofer. Their gowns were pink and blue, respectively, and were styled identically to that of the maid of honor. Each carried a long-stemmed carnation to match her gown.

Jimmy Lockhart served as best man and groomsmen were Skipper Neill, the bride's brother, and Don Watts. Ushers were Cohostesses with Mrs. Wilkerson were Mrs. George True and Mrs. Billy Land. They presented Mrs. Bailey with a baby swing and corsage of yellow socks.

A white cloth with baby motifs covered the table which was centered with a bassinet holding a baby doll and toys. Cupcakes were topped with miniature bottles and cradles.

Duane Murphee, cousin of the bride, and Gene Lockhart of Coahoma. The flower girl, Monica Woods, was attired in a floor-length yellow brocade dress fashioned in the Empire manner with cap sleeves.

RECEPTION

The reception was held in the bride's home where guests were registered by Mrs. Harry Saylor, and members of the house party were Mrs. Earl Reid, Mrs. Loyd Murphee, Mrs. Elsie Woods and Miss Wanda Ford, all aunts of the bride; Mrs. Charles Hodges of Snyder; Mrs. L. V. Misk and Mrs. Roy Tubb. Those who served were Mrs. Skipper Neill, Miss Karon West and Mrs. Mildred Owens.

A floor-length white organdy cloth covered the refreshment table which was centered with the bride's bouquet. Milk glass appointments were used, and the three-tiered wedding cake was separated with columns and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

WEDDING TRIP

For a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, Mrs. Broom chose a yellow wool suit which she wore with white accessories and the orchid corsage from her bouquet. The couple plans to reside in Memphis where Broom is employed by KBGH Radio Station.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School where she was a member of the choir and Bible Club. Broom, a graduate of Bowie High School, served in the U.S. Navy.

An out-of-town guest for the wedding and reception was Jerry Ford of San Angelo.

Altrusans Install Member

Mrs. Tom Phillips was installed as a new member during the Thursday luncheon meeting held by the Altrusa Club at Coker's Restaurant. The installation was conducted by Mrs. G. C. Broughton and Mrs. Homer Petty.

During the business session, Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, president, named a nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Broughton, Mrs. Coy Nalley and Mrs. A. C. Bass. They are to report the first meeting in February and voting will take place during the first meeting in March.

Mrs. H. D. Cowden, who is State Hospital chairman as well as Golden Anniversary chairman, reported that the club assisted with the hospital's Christmas party and had acquired 50 hours of volunteer service there which is a goal of the Altrusa anniversary year. The Golden Anniversary banquet for members and guests is scheduled April 11.

Members were requested to fill out and return the self-evaluation sheets, which were in the Altrusa bulletin, for use by the program chairman. Also, Mrs. LeFevre announced that the installation of two more members is planned for Jan. 26 during the program luncheon at Coker's Restaurant.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Quick, Easier Way Of Freezing Beef

Dear Heloise:

The following is my method of freezing ground beef:

I put one pound of ground beef inside a large plastic bag (the kind that comes in a roll) and pound it flat with the palm of my hand.

Then I take my rolling pin and roll it until the meat fills the area of the bag to about two inches from the opening. I fold over the flap to seal it and place it in the freezer on a flat surface.

The advantages are:

It freezes very quickly, being wafer-thin, and retains its fresh red color. Also, it will thaw equally fast and as much or as little as is required can be broken off easily.

Several pounds can be stored this way in thin layers.

Try it, it's better than freezing ground beef in the pound chunks . . . Irma M. Brilliant

Dear Heloise:

To cut a pattern from a sewn garment, flatten sections of the garment on paper and make pinpricks around the sections with a pin or needle.

Then use the perforations in the paper for a cutting guide. . . . Marie M. King

Dear Marie:

Your idea is great but I think I can give you one better.

For years I've been using aluminum foil!

Just lay the foil on a rug.

Place the section of your garment over it and using your fingernail (if you have any that is), an orange stick, or a dried-up ball point pen and press along each seam. Remove garment and you'll have a perfect pattern without ripping a seam. I copy all my favorite garments this way . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I carry extra bobby pins loose in my pocketbook and always had to "dig" for them.

By accident, I dropped a small magnet in my pocketbook. When I found all the hairpins collected on it I was excited over what a time saver this little gem was . . . Evelyn Webster

Dear Heloise:

My husband and I like to eat out, but many times we don't want to get dressed up. So we choose a restaurant with curb service.

When we do this, my husband always complains about having his food scattered over the car . . . lap, dashboard, glove compartment door, etc.

I finally hit upon the idea of detaching the folding legs from our TV trays and taking the trays along to put in our laps.

We can put all we've ordered on it and if something is dropped it falls on the tray . . . Judith Reeves

Dear Heloise:

I have an extra-long, heavy-duty, extension cord which I attach to my vacuum cleaner cord. With this, I do not have to plug and unplug the cord each time I move to another room.

Sure saves stooping and energy . . . M. M.

Dear Teenagers:

If you carry a hairbrush in your purse, take a felt-tipped pen and mark your name on the back of the brush instead of on the handle.

This way your name will not rub off.

And, little ladies, it's a good idea to always label your hairbrush. This way it won't be getting mixed up with others, especially at slumber parties, or when freshening up in the school restroom . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Each day the members of my big family require a certain amount of change as they leave the house. The children need milk or lunch money, bus fares, etc., and I must have nickels and dimes for the parking meter.

I never had enough of the right coins on hand until I hit upon the idea of using a toy coin changer which my son no longer played with.

I hung this on a rod in my kitchen broom closet and every day we contribute our coins. Now, each morning we are all properly supplied with the correct change immediately.

It's really great . . . Systematic

Dear Heloise:

To clean the number plate under the dial of the telephone, dip a cotton swab in alcohol and wipe over the plate.

It comes sparkling clean . . . While you are at it, go over the whole telephone (including the mouthpiece), as the alcohol helps kill the germs, remove odors and also shines the telephone beautifully . . . Marian

Dear Heloise:

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible. Walter Widger Talks To Fora Study Club

Walter Widger, chief of social services at the Big Spring State Hospital and instructor in marriage and the family at Howard County Junior College, was guest speaker at the Tuesday meeting of the Spoudazio Fora Study Club in the home of Mrs. J. M. Hill, 2303 Allendale. Mrs. Ennis Cochran served as co-hostess.

In his talk, Widger spoke on the relationship of the child within the family and stressed the need for competent counseling in the schools. He discussed the child's environment in his unique community, whether it be rural or urban. He pointed out that although Big Spring is rated as a city, from a psychological standpoint, it is rated as semi-rural and has the social structure of kinship, which is absent in most urban areas.

Widger further discussed his field of marriage counseling and told of his experiences in the mental health field and public service.

Mrs. Don Farley introduced her mother, Mrs. Don Essex of Stuttgart, Ark., as a guest. Refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be Jan. 24 in the home of Mrs. Bill C. Coleman, 1100 Lloyd, with Mrs. Jo Bright as cohostess.

Methodist Circle Hears Program

Donna Guinn gave the program, "Together for Society's Sake," when Mrs. George Sutton, 3803 Connally, hosted the Tuesday meeting of the Lalla Baird Circle, Wesley Methodist Church.

Mrs. W. B. Morris gave the devotion, and prayers were by Mrs. Howard Berry and Mrs. W. D. Lovelace.

Refreshments were served to nine members, and Mrs. Berry announced as hostess for the next Tuesday meeting.

BY MIDLAND-ODESSA SYMPHONY-CHORALE

Premiere Of 'Lost' Bach Work Will Be Given Here Saturday

Probably the most ambitious work yet undertaken by the Midland-Odesa Symphony Orchestra and Chorale will be the featured offering of those groups when they appear in Big Spring Saturday night.

The program, to be at the municipal auditorium, is a highlight of the current Civic Concert Association series and is open, of course, only to subscription members.

The local organization has endeavored for several years to work out arrangement with the Midland-Odesa group (which includes many talented performers from Big Spring, as well as other West Texas cities) to appear here. It was finally worked out last fall.

Meanwhile, the musicians under the direction of Dr. Lara Hoggard have been steadily at work on their major offering—The St. Mark Passion by Johann Sebastian Bach.

This has quite a history, and the upshot of it is that the St. Mark Passion (although incomplete) will be having western hemisphere performances in Odessa, Midland and Big Spring.

According to the program notes:

"It is believed that Johann Sebastian Bach wrote five Passion scores. Of these, two only—the one according to St. John and the one according to St. Matthew—remain in complete form today. Of a third Passion, the St. Mark, neither the original score nor a copy of it has survived. A part of the music and the draft of the libretto have nevertheless been handed down to us.

BETSY ROE

JEAN ANN WOLBERT

"After almost thirty years of meticulous research by Dr. D. Hellmann of Mainz, with the cooperation of several German musicologists from Gutenberg University (Mainz) and the Bach Institute (Göttingen), fragments of this great work were finally assembled. New manuscripts were made of these sections and, two years ago in Stuttgart, the St. Mark Passion (albeit incomplete) was heard for the first time in over two hundred years. (Composed in 1731, it is thought that the complete work may have been last performed under the direction of Bach in 1742.) The newly printed edition of the incomplete St. Mark Passion, shipped from Stuttgart to New York last October, is being used for the first time in the Western Hemisphere premiere performances in Odessa, Midland, and Big Spring.

"The Passion story is taken from the Gospel according to Mark, chapters 14 and 15. It must be assumed, however, that the music Bach composed for the biblical text employed in the Evangelist's story is irretrievably lost.

"The St. John, St. Matthew and St. Mark Passions are alike in the distribution of the biblical text between the reporting Evangelist, the soloists taking part in the action, the chorus of the disciples, and the chorus of the crowd. The three Passions are also similar in their use of the non-Gospel texts which are confined to the opening Lament and the final chorus, the contemplative arias and in the hymn verses employed in the several chorales.

"Even though large sections of the St. Mark Passion no longer exist, there is no doubt that this cantata must be included among the most significant of Bach's works."

Dr. Hoggard's driving interest in better music for West Texas brought about the premieres in this area. Even the Midland-Odesa Symphony and Chorale scores were not complete, and much transcribing has been done during rehearsals.

Eastern music experts reportedly have lifted eyebrows at the idea of the Bach number being offered by a remote, small-scale musical organization. Their interest in how West Texas talent will fare with it has resulted in plans by reviewers—possibly including those from Life magazine—to audition the performances here, in Midland and in Odessa.

If work and devotion to perfection will pay off, then this correspondent can predict that listeners will be due an inspiring treat. Your writer sat in on a rehearsal session last week as instrumentalists and vocalists worked with the Bach passages, under the constant urging of Dr. Hoggard. All are determined that this will be a prize effort.

The St. Mark Passion will feature Betsy Roe of the Texas Tech Music Department, soprano; Jean Ann Wolbert, a professional who has been with the Fred Waring organization, alto; and Ira Schantz, formerly of Big Spring and now of Fort Worth, tenor. There will also be special instruments: Ray Lynch, lute-guitar; Irma Greve Kluck, harpsichord; and C. Allison Salley, organ.

The Midland-Odesa group, as is well known, is distinctive in that it is comprised of talented people from all over West Texas who travel hundreds of miles for rehearsals and appearance, sheerly for the love of doing good music. They respond, of course, to the intense directorial talents of Dr. Hoggard, who is a practicing proponent of the view that good talent is available anywhere, and can be put to productive use if given the inspiration and guidance.

The remainder of the Saturday night program will include Beethoven's Fantasia in C Minor, featuring Jack Hendrix of Odessa and formerly of Big Spring, at the piano.

The group will also do a highly popular "The Song of America," a musical saga of the nation's earlier history; and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

In the opening presentation of the national anthem, students from Big Spring High School music groups will participate. They will include Dale Pless and Morgan Martin on drums; Steve Stinson, Glenn Matlock, Sally Miller and Margaret Cooper, trumpets; and Dell Elrod, John Deats, Tommy Polk, Wayne Murphy, Bobby Polk and Charles Macklin, with the colors.

OFF BEATEN TRAIL

Raider Quantrell May Have Been In Bonham

Whether patriot or renegade, few in Blue or Gray struck more Kansas-Missouri Civil War terror than guerrilla-fighting "Colonel" William Quantrell. Recently asked here: Did he ever ride south, far as Texas?

"Yes," answers Paris' Ann Marburger, quoting late fellow-townsmen A. W. Neville, until a decade ago, historian-editor of the Paris News. She borrows the Neville pen ("Red River Valley - Then and Now"), suggesting the border raider once shot the feathers off the weathervane arrow atop the then courthouse in Bonham.

Historian Neville painted controversial Quantrell's troopers with restraint: "A Sherman man described them as quiet and civil in appearance. Quantrell had a refined look and was dubbed 'parson' by some of his men. He was said to be a one-time schoolteacher but, because of outrages by Kansas Jayhawkers on his Missouri family, he showed no quarter throughout the war.

"Quantrell once camped south of Bonham. Coming into town one day and feeling frisky, he and his men rode around the courthouse . . . he drew his six-shooter and began to fire at the arrow weathervane on the cupola of the courthouse. He later said if there was a hole in the feathered end, he made it. Otherwise, he'd deny the shot.

WHICH ONES

Some claim he was no Confederate but pure renegade—Gray or Blue with whatever opportunity. Comments Houston's Mrs. G. C.: "In April, 1864, Texan General Henry McCulloch reported: 'Many thefts and murders have been committed (along Red River Valley) by men with Federal overcoats . . . traced to Captain Quantrell's company . . . a curse to our cause.'

"He was in Sherman, November, 1863, right after the bloody sack of Lawrence, Kansas (Federal-held). Because of Sherman's uneasiness, Gen. McCulloch ordered him to headquarters in Bonham . . . tried to arrest him . . . couldn't hold him."

Here, the Texas Quantrell Blue-Gray speculation dims. Supposedly, he shot up courthouse square, galloped away and escaped over the Red River with McCulloch's Texan troopers in pursuit.

And the old weathervane? Hear Historian Neville once more:

"Years passed. The commissioners decided the old courthouse must (give way) to a new one. When the arrow was removed during the wrecking, there was a hole through the feathered end . . . plainly not made by a woodpecker . . . a tale for what it's worth."

Which leaves us Quantrell in Texas, but still guessing his uniform.

The weathervane? Maybe your family recollects when it came down.

My Confederate wife thinks she had a forebear saddled up in that outfit.

TEXAS TUNNELS

Killeen's J. G.: "Passing through your Hill Country recently recalled the abandoned old shortline Fredericksburg and Northern, covering 24 miles through rugged country (and forgotten little stations like Cain City, Bankersmith, Mt. Alamo), in junction with Southern Pacific near Comfort. Checking, I learned that line once boasted a tunnel.

"Where? How long? Also, where's the other railroad tunnel in Texas?"

MEDICINE SHOWS

Phoenix, Arizona's P. B. Creekmore: "Can OBT's readers recollect the old Medicine Shows? Probably not important in 'The Great Scheme of Things,' but part of our heritage, they were . . . horsedrawn shows which perennially made their slow way from one little village to another (particularly in East Texas) dispensing worthless remedies but good entertainment."

Airman Of The Year

M. Sgt. Bobby D. Eiland has been selected as the Airman of the Year at Webb AFB.

To appreciate this honor, one must realize how intense was the competition for it involved hundreds and hundreds of men for the entire base.

In addition to unusual proficiency and initiative, Sgt. Eiland has shown pride in his work. Moreover, he and his wife have been active in the community.

It makes us happy to see folk like this recognized, and we share a sense of pride in the record Sgt. Eiland has achieved. Moreover, all Big Spring wishes him well as he becomes the Webb representative in the competition to find the Air Training Command's Airman of the Year.

Time To Revive Project

If the weather events of the past year had lulled us into a sense of being in the pine tree belt, the masterful sandstorm of a week ago should have jarred us back to reality.

We are in a semi-arid country and on the perimeter of the nation's belt of aridity. This presents perennial and serious moisture and soil problems. Much, much more basic research is needed to penetrate some of the riddles and thus to reveal courses of action which may either help control or mitigate the situation, or even to better adapt to the situation.

And that brings us to the United States Experiment Station here. Last year initial efforts were made to establish a case for up-grading the station into the status of a research center. There are many things to commend this step, and one of them is that we are on the southwest anchor of the farming belt and on the edge of the semi-desert areas. Experience has shown that this is the spawning ground for a good portion of the severe sandstorms and dusts. Within a radius of 100 miles are virtually all the soil types and conditions which need to be studied intensively by highly trained researchers.

Now that Congress is back in session, the time is at hand to pursue this problem further. We should not wait, as we did last year, until the end of the session is taking shape.

William S. White Yellow Journalism Renewed

(For Marquis Childs, who is on vacation).

WASHINGTON—Now that the Kennedy family-sponsored book on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy is at last appearing in reasonably responsible form—in type, at any rate, rather than in selected and anonymous leaks—some conclusions can be drawn.

The book so long heralded as "beautiful" and "sensitive" and a major work of American literature turns out to be a pedestrian, if incomparably savage, exercise by author William Manchester in the sort of yellow journalism that was a great social problem 50 years ago.

THE PRINCIPAL victim of installment No. 1 is not Lyndon B. Johnson, though Manchester does take preliminary cuts at the President. Rather it is Dallas, the scene of the tragedy. Manchester levels at the entire city an emotionalized indictment; it is a place seething with "presidential hate" with a "history of political violence."

The factual basis for this, so far as there may be one, rests upon two incidents. In the first of these, about two dozen right-wing extremists—in a city of three quarters of a million people—jeered and jostled the Lyndon Johnsons in a Dallas hotel in the 1960 presidential campaign. In the second, a handful of hysterical women spat at the late Adlai Stevenson.

THERE IS nothing new on this. Though the assassin of President Kennedy, Lee Oswald, was neither a Texan nor a right-winger but in established fact a Marxist indoctrinated both in Moscow and Castro Cuba, the more extreme among the Kennedy cultists have long sought to embed in folklore the idea that some ultra-conservative "climate" in Dallas was anyhow responsible for this ghastly tragedy.

ON THE ASSUMPTION that most Americans will really not accept it that night is day simply because the cultists say it is, it can be supposed

Billy Graham

I used to be under the control of Satan, and I was severely criticized by the so-called good people of the community. Two years ago, I gave my heart to Christ, and I work just as hard for the Lord as I did the devil. My problem is this: these same people who criticized me for being a sinner, now look down their noses at me for being such a zealous Christian. Is there any way to win?

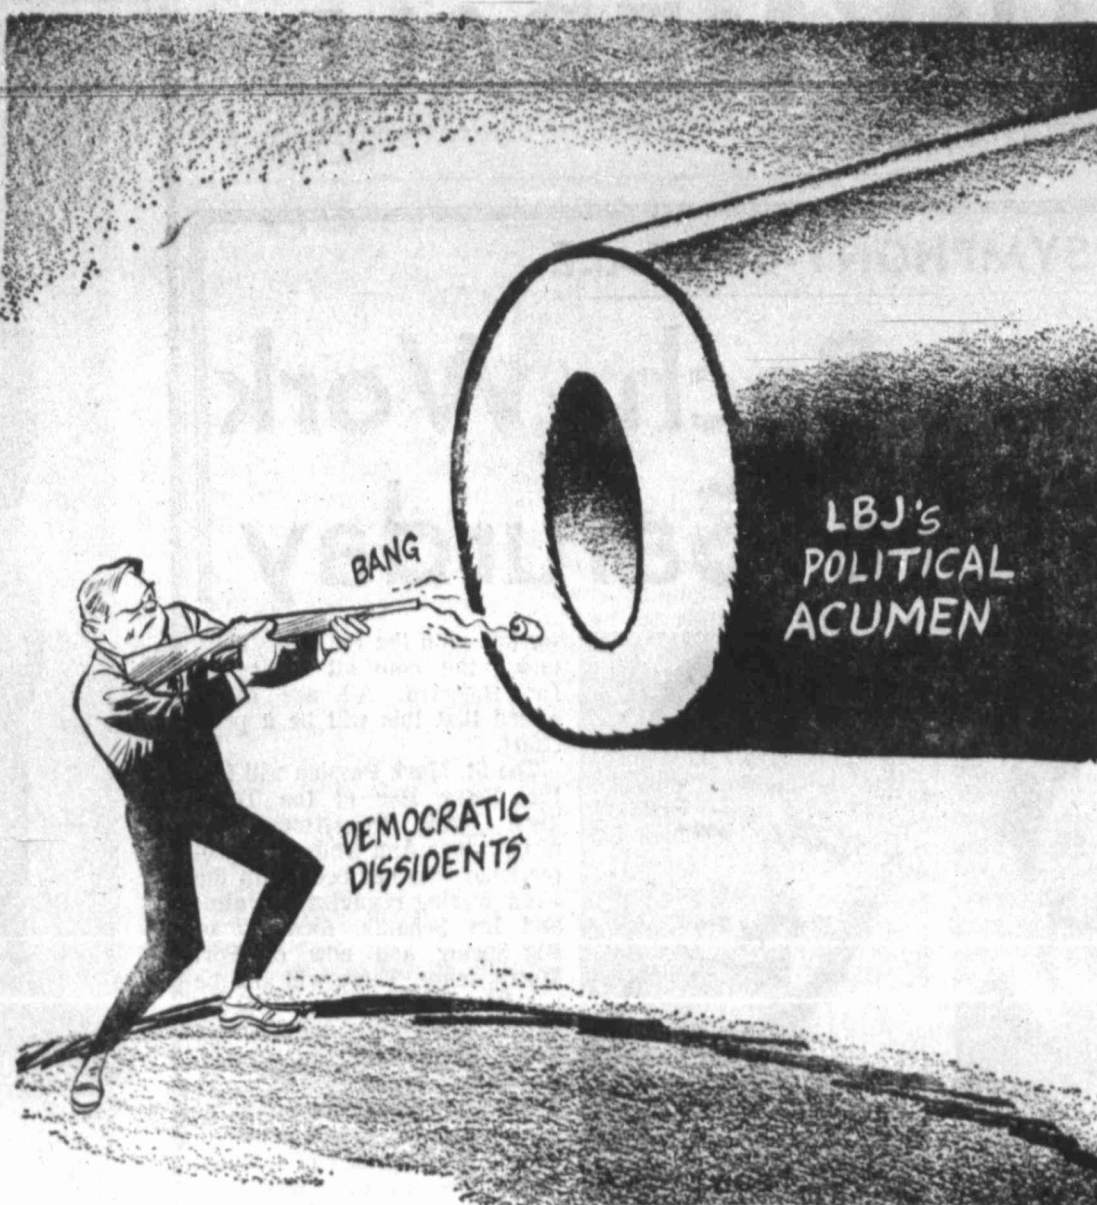

B. H.

You are a victim of modern mediocrity which curses you if you don't, and curses you if you do. How can you win? You've already won—with Christ. The seekers of a comfortable, sterile religion, would like to make you in their own image, but Christ's man is often an object of ridicule. The Bible says, "All that live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution." (2 Tim. 3:12). If you would avoid criticism from your contemporaries, be a lukewarm, cold, ineffective religious person. No one will criticize you for this—not even the devil. In fact, he encourages people to be religious, just so long as they don't go "all-out" for Christ.

Be sure to study the Scriptures so that your zeal is not without knowledge. However, D. L. Moody once said: "I'd rather have a man with much zeal and little knowledge than a man with much knowledge and little zeal."

SPEAKING OF NO-WIN WARS

Jack Lefler Tax Hike Proposal Surprises Business

NEW YORK (AP)—President Johnson surprised the business and financial world during the week by proposing a six per cent surcharge on income taxes.

The general opinion had been that he would not seek higher taxes at this time.

The reaction was swift and, in the case of the stock market, turbulent.

In his State of the Union message, Johnson asked Congress to add six cents to each dollar owed in taxes to the government by individuals and corporations.

It was estimated this would give the government an additional $5.7 billion in revenue annually.

The proposed surcharge would last for two years "or for so long as the unusual expenditures associated with Vietnam continue."

LUKEWARM

The initial response of members of Congress to the proposal was lukewarm, but indications were that they would go along with the idea, to some degree, if the demands of the war continue to mount.

The reaction of businessmen was mixed. Some thought that the relatively moderate tax increase was preferable to a staggering federal budget deficit. Others felt that a bigger tax bite was badly timed and would trigger an already slowing economy into a recession.

STEEL GOES UP

Many companies, including U.S. Steel Corp., the No. 1 steel producer, followed the lead of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. in boosting the price of tubular products, which make up about 10 per cent of total shipments, by 2.7 per cent.

Phelps Dodge Corp., initiated an increase in the price of domestic copper, which is in short supply, to 38 cents a pound from 36 cents and other producers joined. The world copper price is about 54 cents a pound.

ALUMINUM CORP. OF AMERICA, the No. 1 producer, broke ranks and held its increase to 1/2 cent a pound. Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp. went along. Then Reynolds cut its boost back to 1/4 cent.

"UNTIMELY-UNNECESSARY" G. J. Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, called the price boosts "untimely and unnecessary in view of the industry's continually improved earnings."

General Electric Co. said it will lay off about 1,000 production workers for an indefinite period at its Louisville, Ky., appliance plant and that another 2,800 may face layoffs of up to six days in the next four weeks. GE also said it will furlough 300 persons at its television department in Portsmouth, Va. The company said the reductions were due to slackening demand for appliances.

Automobile production for the week was estimated at 165,400 passenger cars, up 13 per cent from 146,465 the previous week, when most plants worked only four days because of the New Year's holiday, but down 15 per cent from 194,712 a year earlier.

Steel production during the week totaled 2.35 million tons, up 7.2 per cent from 2.22 million the previous week.

To Your Good Health Sister Calls Her A Hypochondriac

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is hypochondria? My sister says I have it because I go to the doctor when I have pains. If I have it, what causes it and can it be cured? — MRS. N. S.

Hypochondria is excessive belief that one has some illness or other. In extreme cases it becomes a matter of emotional illness and requires psychiatric treatment.

It is much more common in smaller degree, though, and many folks are labeled hypochondriacs because they are a bit more than averagely worried about health. They go racing to the doctor with small aches or pains or minor symptoms which other folks would ignore.

I suppose that for every hypochondriac there is another person who is just the opposite, and puts off going to the doctor when he really should go.

If, repeatedly, you find the doctor telling you that there's nothing really wrong with you, then it's time to suspect yourself of thinking about yourself too much — and worrying.

Shifting your interest to making other people happy instead of worrying that something awful is happening to you is about as close as I can come to telling you what to do about it.

Dear Dr. Molner: Three months ago our 18-month-old son pulled a hot iron down on his face and sustained a third-degree burn. His face was left badly scarred. What results should we expect from a plastic surgeon? Should we consult one now or when he is older? How may we check the qualifications of a plastic surgeon? — MRS. W. S.

I'd consult a plastic surgeon now. If he chooses to delay, that is easily arranged. He can estimate the probable results after he sees the child.

The basic method of checking the qualifications of any specialist

Around The Rim Special Culture Corinn

DEAR RUFE:

Things has changed. Instead of tellin' you afterward what a blow we struck for culture, this time I want to tell you in advance that the biggest blow of all may be struck next Saturday night.

That's when there will be a lot of singin' and playin' — what they do is mix a big orchestra with a full-blown chorus — and you can bet it will be somethin' to hear.

FIRST OFF, the people in the show are our kind of folks; well, not exactly, they're the smarter kind, but leastways, they are our neighbors. They come from the towns around, and they put their selves together for just one thing—to give out music they enjoy.

Can tell you this, because the other night I snuck in on 'em while they was practicin' for the big appearance here. They didn't know I was there, or I probly would of been thrown out. But I stayed quiet and listened and watched.

THE PEOPLE have to do their work in a sort of a barn, but they done all right. All the singers—there are men and wimmen—sit up on circus seats at the back, and down in front is the orchestra, with all the little fiddles, medium size fiddles and big fiddles, as well as the planna, and the horns and the drums, and all the rest.

When you see 'em Rufe, they will be all dyked out in pretty suits and dresses, and the stage will look like a big dream cloud or somethin'.

BUT THE other night was a work night, so they was just in their sports shirts and slacks and jump suits, for all I know.

The feller that leads 'em — and I mean leads — is on his box down in front. You'll see him in his forked-tail coat, but he was working in sweater and slacks the other night. Good thing, too, because he worked.

They was practicin' a real cultured piece, somethin' that will move you inside, and I must tell you that they went over it and over it and over it until the notes on the music must have turned to spots before their eyes.

THE LEAD FELLER don't put up with nothin' less than first class. If one of the fiddles hit a b natural instead of a b sharp, the lead feller heard it like it was a siren blowin' outside; and he banged for a stop and went over the measure enough times till everybody knew it just had to be a b sharp.

When he called for the singers to fold down real soft, and one of them piped out a little high, bang came the feller's stick again, and he said, sort of, simmer down, and let's all sing this the same way.

HE TRIED to get the fiddlers to do a better job of trillin', and the way he worked with them people you'd think he was goin' to get into a shinin' my before he showed 'em just what a 'trill ought to be like.

Well, the musicians stayed with him, and they re-wrote their music, and they tried again and again until everybody got pretty close to pleased about it. All the time I thought it was soundin' good.

I'M NOT kiddin' you none, Rufe, when I say that great stuff can come right off the prairies same as in the big cities, and it's time some of us was realizin' this. Those people have the gift to sing and play, and the lead feller really brings it out of 'em. If you're really wantin' somethin' special in culture, I would say sneak in next Saturday night, even if you don't have a ticket.

(Bob Whipkey)

David Lawrence The President's Message

WASHINGTON—President Johnson made a big mistake in the handling of his message to Congress on the "state of the union." He kept advance copies away from the press until just about an hour before he started speaking. The document missed early editions throughout the country, and lots of newspapers were unable, because of the shortness of time, to arrange to include the full text.

FOR YEARS, presidential messages have been given to the press several hours in advance so that careful summaries could be prepared, as well as space allocated in all editions. The theory now evidently is that everybody listens to television or radio anyway. But a speech that is an hour and ten minutes long is not easy for the public to grasp merely by listening.

The President, of course, put too much in one speech.

The reaction of members of Congress will be gradually revealed. This correspondent's analysis may be summed up as follows:

1. THE INCREASE in taxes. Nobody likes such a proposal, but the majority opinion is that something has to be done to increase revenues. The "surcharge" formula is the least painful at this time.

2. The Vietnam war. The President rightly stated America's firm determination to continue the fight until the enemy recognizes the necessity for a peace agreement. The war has been unduly prolonged already by the pacifist and other groups which are openly advocating surrender by America.

3. IMPROVEMENT in Social Security payments. This will be welcomed by many people who realize that, as the purchasing power of the dollar has declined, it is necessary to help the recipients of Social Security by giving them substantial increases.

4. Civil rights. The President devoted only 44 words out of his 7,000-word message to this subject, and did not explain how "fair housing" could be obtained by legislation.

5. CRIME. The President talked forcefully about the importance of combating crime, but he passed the main responsibility to the states and cities. This is in contrast to his advocacy of a new "partnership" between local governments and the federal government in other matters.

6. Foreign policy. The President merely reiterated what his predecessors have said about international cooperation in Africa and Asia, particularly through foreign-aid programs.

WHILE the President mentioned many other subjects—such as air pollution, medical care, the draft and the importance of improving "the quality of life" in America, including beautification of our cities and towns—the message did not deal with the problem of fiscal soundness. Instead, the President indicated that the budget deficits will be held within what he called "prudent limits" — 9.7 billion dollars for the current year, and 8.1 billion dollars for the next fiscal year.

It is politically expedient to try to put the blame for this on the Vietnam war costs, but there was no intimation that the extravagance of the administration in domestic programs will be in any way modified. Without the proposed tax increase, the deficits would be even larger—and it is already being suggested that they will be much more than the President estimates now.

Art Buchwald China-Watching Is No Problem

WASHINGTON — It isn't easy to be a China-watcher these days. Not only do you have to watch what is going on there but you have to interpret the significance of the events instantly.

I went over to see a China-watcher friend of mine at the State Department. He was bleary-eyed and looked as if he hadn't slept for several nights.

"WATCHING CHINA isn't what it used to be," he said wearily. "All we had to do in the old days was read the Peking newspapers and see who was standing next to Mao Tse-tung; then we could take the rest of the afternoon off and play golf. But now being a China-watcher is a seven-day-a-week job and we still don't know if what we're watching is what is really happening there."

"Could you briefly sum up in your own words how you see the situation?" I asked.

"As far as I can tell, there seems to be some kind of power struggle going on between the anti-party Maoists and the anti-Mao partyists. It started with the purging of writers Wu Han and Kuo Mo-jo and then went on to party bosses Teng Ho and Li Chi. After that they took off on Peng Chen and Lu Ting-yi and Li Hsueh Feng, not to mention Chou En-lai."

"Who did?"

"LIN PIAO, Li Chin and Mrs. Mao."

"I always suspected they were up to no good," I said.

"Did I tell you about Liu Shao-chi?" he asked.

"I can't remember."

"Well, he was replaced by Lin Piao as Mao's heir apparent and denounced by Tao Chu. This was followed by Peng Teh-huai's arrest, and it didn't do Marshal Ho Lung any good, either."

"But why?" I demanded.

"BECAUSE, obviously, they were thinking un-Mao thoughts. You must try to understand that there is a power struggle going on between those who think Mao and those who don't think Mao. We think the leader of the think-Mao school is Ching."

"Who's he?"

"It's not a he. It's a she. Chiang Ching is the maiden name of Mrs. Mao Tse-tung. She seems to be running the show with Chou Po-ta."

"Who is she?"

"Chou Po-ta is a he, and he was responsible for the imprisonment of Chou Yang."

"POOR CHOU YANG," I said. "He deserved better than that. Let me ask you something. Whose side are we on?"

"Of course," he replied, "we're always anti-Mao, but at the same time it would be premature to be pro-Liu, Tao Peng, Teng, Peng and Ping."

"How about Chou?"

"I wouldn't trust him as far as I could throw Chou."

"You're down on Chou?"

"AS FAR AS I'm concerned Chen and Ching are the same thing."

"I'm glad I talked to you," I said. "You certainly cleared up everything for me."

"Don't mention it. The one trouble with watching Red Chinese politics is that you think you've had your fill of it, but an hour later you're hungry again."

fantastic future

Today, the earth. Tomorrow, the moon. What next? Even twenty years ago we would have found it hard to accept the idea of man going out into space—landing on the moon—consorting with the stars—hurtling around the earth. What will things be like twenty years from now, and what will we accept then?

Living on the threshold of the space age, it is easy to be carried away by the stranger-than-fiction events that happen every day. Because of this, we need more than ever the steady force of the Church in our lives. No matter what happens, we may be sure that the Church will continue to endure as it has through the centuries. God's House will be with us in all its majesty, as will His word.

Even the astronauts themselves have shown again and again that the Church is a deep part of their lives. Be sure to make and keep it a part of yours.

Local Clubbers To Enter Stock

Mark Barr, Maxwell Barr, Robert Haney, B. W. Jackson Jr., Brenda Jackson and Mike McClain of Howard County 4-H Club will have hereofers steers and Terry Hanson, Milton Lynn Kirby and Wayne Sturm, of Big Spring FFA, will have Hereford and Charolais steers competing in the Junior Show division of the 1967 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth Jan. 27-Feb. 5.

With entries still being counted, W. R. Watt, stock show president and manager, is cautiously optimistic about the possibility of the final total figure breaking the 1966 all-time entry record of over 11,000. Entries of poultry, rabbits and pigeons didn't close until Jan. 15, 1967.

Voter Sign-Up Is Increasing

Howard County voters continue to register in encouraging numbers, according to Zerah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector.

At 5 p.m. Friday, her office had registered 5,179 men and women. Registration is without fee.

Last year on Jan. 14 (when the poll tax was in effect) there had been 1,112 poll tax receipts issued and 1,015 exemption certificates for a total of 2,127.

It is possible, observers agree, that close to 12,000 voters may be qualified to vote in 1967 elections by deadline time Jan. 31.

The 5,179 total, she said, includes the registrations made at the substations and by Cliffa State, special deputy. It also includes numerous applications sent in by mail.

Mrs. LeFevre said that she is getting a considerable number of applications on blanks published last week in the Daily Herald. Such applications, she said, are being processed promptly and the registration certificates mailed back to the applicants.

ABILENE WORKSHOP

Press Club Plans Day-Long Meeting

ABILENE — "Unusual will be the calling card of the First Annual Communications Workshop of the Abilene Intercollegiate Press Club," says Lola Batts, president of the club.

Nineteen West Texas colleges will be invited to join the three Abilene colleges for a day-long workshop featuring facets of communications March 18 at Hardin - Simmons University in Abilene.

COMMUNICATIONS

Communications is the key to the program, according to Jim Bourne, program chairman. Photography, writing, layout, advertising, radio, television and public relations will all be represented on the program.

"Workshops will not be the ordinary," says Miss Batts. Some of the topics to be discussed include "Lay and Libel," "Staff Management," and public relations. More discussion topics will be released as plans progress.

SPECIAL SESSIONS

Special counselling sessions, newspaper and yearbook classes, and a career possibilities series will fill the day. Plans include a nationally known speaker to cap the program with an evening lecture open to the public.

Schools with special publication or communications problems will be given the opportunity to participate in counselling sessions with an expert in their field.

Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas is cooperating in the workshop by providing speakers for the yearbook division classes. Outstanding successful West Texas professionals are being scheduled for the workshop, according to Miss Batts.

HCJC Loses Six To Draft

Nineteen HCJC students became members of the Armed Forces during the fall semester of 1966.

Only six of these were draftees, none of whom were eligible for deferment.

A student must be a freshman enrolled in school or a sophomore who was ranked in the upper one-half of his freshman class to be eligible for deferment, said Mr. B. M. Keese, registrar at Howard County Junior College.

The Vietnam situation has probably been the main cause for the decrease in student enrollment from Webb Air Force Base which has been steadily declining during the last year, he said.

Exams End Fall Semester For Students At HCJC

By JEAN FANNIN

This past week at HCJC was the last week of classes for the fall semester. Semester exams will be given Monday through Friday with each test lasting three hours and two tests being given per day. Tests will be given 8-11 a.m. and 1-4 p.m.

LIBRARY FINES

Students having library fines will have to clear their records with the library before they will be permitted to take their final exams, Mr. Kenneth Roach, librarian, has announced.

Registration for the spring semester will take place Wednesday, Jan. 25, in the SUB.

The order of registration will be reversed this semester, according to Mr. B. M. Keese, registrar.

REGISTRATION

The schedule posted around the school lists registration for students whose last names begin with R-Z as being 8-10 a.m.; J-Q, 10-12 a.m.; D-I, 1-3 p.m.; and A-C 3-5 p.m.

He has appeared as guest soloist for the Los Angeles Symphony and starred on Radio City Music Hall in New York and on nationwide television shows such as the Ed Sullivan Show.

Artilo has not neglected his studies though. He received his high school diploma at age 10 and is now classified as a sophomore at the University of Tennessee.

The Athletic Banquet will be Jan. 21 at the Coahoma Grade School Cafeteria. Entertainment will be provided by the Border Brass Band. Max Bumgardner, San Angelo, will be guest speaker.

HCJC will not be affected by the proposed tuition hike recommended for state colleges by the Texas College Coordinating Board, according to local college officials.

The tuition proposal, on which the state legislature will have the last say, would change the flat $50 semester tuition for in-state residents to $7 per semester hour.

The board's recommendation also proposed a $20 semester hour fee at public institutions for non-Texas residents.

Black will receive about $11,082 a year as the Navy's counterpart to Sergeants Major of the Army and Marine Corps.

The balding, ruddy-faced 6-footer will be promoted from chief gunner's mate when the formal charter for the new post is drafted. He most recently served as chief master-at-arms at the fleet Anti-air Warfare Training Center, Dam Neck, Va.

"I made a decision when I was 14 to make the Navy a career," Black said. "I finished high school and enlisted when I turned 18."

He is a veteran of the bombing at Pearl Harbor and also saw action in Korea and Vietnam.

Marvin, Palance, Lancaster Starred

Violence, pillaging and banditry during the tumultuous period of the 1917 Mexican revolution sets the background of "The Professionals," an action-adventure story of suspense and intrigue opening Friday at the Ritz.

"The Professionals" stars Burt Lancaster, Lee Marvin, Claudia Cardinale, Robert Ryan, Jack Palance, Ralph Bellamy, Woody Strode, Rafael Bertrand and Maria Gomez. It is in Panavision and color, based on a novel by Frank O'Rourke.

Against a backdrop of the wastelands and mountainous terrain of northern Mexico, the story depicts the Herculean efforts of four professional soldiers-of-fortune who pit their knowledge and cunning in battle with a band of some 150 Mexican revolutionaries.

They have to traverse some of the roughest territory of the Mexican border region under difficult and trying conditions—almost impassable mountains, desert areas, sandstorms, over rugged salt flat beds. To simulate the rugged terrain of the Mexican border area, writers scouted many location sites, finally settling on famed Death

'THE PROFESSIONALS'

Valley (located in California and Nevada), the Valley of Fire State Park in Nevada, near Overton and the upper reaches of Lake Mead.

"The Professionals" captures the flavor of the Mexican revolution—men who fought for Pancho Villa, Carranza, Madero and Gen. Zapata abound. Also, women—the "soldaderas"—who battle alongside their men meld into the picture. The zealous fighting of these "soldaderas" sometimes turned the tide of battle.

Strains of revolutionary Mexican marching songs are in the music background. Guitars strum the folksongs of the Mexican peon—soldiers who are also brigands at heart.

with arms—rifle, shotgun and the .45 colt automatic. The man is a born leader, a follow-through type who holds to a contract.

Ryan stars as Hans Ehrenhard, a professional with horses—a former cavalryman, a lover of horseflesh whose devotion to these animals is exceeded only by his will to stay alive. Strode stars as Jacob "Jake" Sharp, expert tracker and bounty hunter whose excellence with the lariat, knife and bow-and-arrow has no peer.

These are the four soldiers-of-fortune, a group of desperate men on a mission fraught with the danger of certain death at every step of the way.

The man who sends them on the mission—Ralph Bellamy, who stars as J. W. Grant, an oil-rancher tycoon of the Southwest. Grant is an unscrupulous landlord whose every whim means personal satisfaction and personal gain who hires the four.

Biggest obstacle before "The Professionals" is Jack Palance, starring as Captain Raza, a crafty, dedicated Mexican revolutionary leader, a seasoned veteran of countless battle campaigns. He leads the 150 revolutionaries, crack veterans whose main desire is to trample anything, that constitutes oppression.

Claudia Cardinale, one of the fastest-rising beauties of the international film world, stars as Maria Gomez, wife of Bellamy and is the main prize to the conflicting forces. As Maria, Miss Cardinale portrays a woman whose heart is set in the ways of Old Mexico and who yearns for the return to the days when her father was a grandee don with vast lands and a magnificent hacienda.

Toss into this cauldron another woman in the person of Maria Gomez, a Spanish asset to the film-making industry who portrays Chiquita, a real "soldadera" of the revolution.

As for the background, Death Valley's limitless beauty and grisly elements also play a strong role in the story. Filming was on the valley's famed sand dunes (where the protagonists battle their way through a searing, blinding sandstorm), at the famed Devil's Golf Course (almost endless salt flat beds that stretch over the valley floor for miles). Then the company worked in some dead-end canyons, atop a mountain ridge overlooking the valley's desert salt bed span, and across a mesquite-ringed dry wash.

A total of some 63 vehicles were required to accomplish the work, which was done by some 160 members of the crew. At the same time, back at the Valley of Fire State Park, about 70 construction men were building an elaborate $200,000 "hacienda," which serves as the headquarters of Captain Raza and his men.

This latter work was being accomplished so that a smooth transition could take place when cast and crew moved into the Valley of Fire location.

Audrey Hepburn Returns In Wyler's Comedy Film

"How to Steal a Million" is director William Wyler's first comedy since his successful "Roman Holiday"—the film that brought stardom and an Oscar to Audrey Hepburn. It opens today at the Jet Theatre in Panavision and De Luxe color.

"When I began to think of another comedy," said Wyler, "I found that I just couldn't think of a better comedienne than the star of that earlier film, and so Miss Hepburn is the star of this one, too."

Audrey Hepburn achieved her first real success at the age of 22 after performing in her first role on the dramatic stage. The time was November 1951; the place, Broadway; and the occasion was her portrayal of the title role in "Gigi," a play adapted by Anita Loos from a short novel by Colette.

Twenty-one months after this triumph, Miss Hepburn was starred in her first American-made motion picture, Wyler's "Roman Holiday." Then she starred with William Holden and Humphrey Bogart in Billy Wilder's "Sabrina." She made her next Broadway appearance in "Ondine" in 1954 with Mel Ferrer and later that year the two were married.

Among her other starring films have been "War and Peace," "Funny Face," "Love in the Afternoon," "The Nun's Story," "Breakfast at Tiffany's," "The Children's Hour," "Paris When It Sizzles," "Charade" and of course, "My Fair Lady."

"How to Steal a Million" brings Audrey Hepburn and Peter O'Toole together for the first time. The romantic comedy, set and filmed in Paris, recounts the adventures of a family of art forgers who have been fleeing unsuspecting art dealers and collectors for three generations.

Dean Martin Back As Helm

Dean Martin, once again playing counter-espionage agent Matt Helm who exuded such "cool" in "The Silencers," teams up with sizzling Ann-Margret, for the fun team of the year in "Murderers' Row," second of the widely-read Donald Hamilton novels to reach the screen of the Ritz Theatre starting today. Karl Malden and Camilla Sparv are also starred in the new thriller that co-stars James Gregory and Beverly Adams.

Martin as Matt Helm reportedly is up to his old tricks and a lot of new ones as well. He's a very human super-sleuth who can't resist the pleasures of the world even when the old globe is on the verge of being blown up. That's the particular brand of hanky-panky resorted to by Helm's opposition, a terror ring which holds an internationally-renowned scientist and seeks to force him to make mincemeat of most of the world!

Of course, this is just the starting point for what is said to be a jet-propelled super-thriller that dizzily veers back and forth between mayhem and merriment, as well as the United States, England and France.

'FANTASTIC VOYAGE'
Raquel Welch and Stephen Boyd

Raquel Welch Has Found Stardom In Fantasy Story

Raquel Welch was virtually unknown to motion pictures when she was chosen the female star of the adventure drama, "Fantastic Voyage," in which she stars with Stephen Boyd, Edmond O'Brien, Donald Pleasence, Arthur O'Connell, William Redfield and Arthur Kennedy.

But now, even before the release of the CinemaScope - De Luxe color attraction, she has become the most sought after and publicized of the young stars of Hollywood. Time magazine gave her a spread in June, and when she went to Europe to make "One Million Years B.C." after completing "Fantastic Voyage," she became the cover girl of magazines all over the Continent.

After "One Million Years B.C.," which will be released early next year, she appeared with Vittorio De Sica in "The Biggest Bundle of Them All" to be followed by a comedy with Marcello Mastroianni. Most recently, she signed to star in "Fathom," a CinemaScope - De Luxe color action adventure drama.

Band Planning April Trip Into Mexico

The Big Spring Independent School District trustees have given their blessing to the high school band for a trip of international good will to Mexico. Bill Bradley, director, is working with Bruce Frazier on arrangements for 117 bandmen and as many parents as would like to go along. An entire train is due to be chartered from Ojinaga, Mexico, across from Presidio, to Topolobampo via Chihuahua City.

Dates are April 5-9, Bradley emphasized that this is not just a pleasure junket, but a trip designed to promote good will between the countries. For this reason, the train is due to stop midway between Ojinaga and Chihuahua City and play at a small village, which probably never before had a brass band perform there. At the capital of Chihuahua, the band will perform in the plaza and may give VIP concert. Then the band is due to give a marching demonstration on the city's soccer field (which will be marked off especially for the occasion). En route to the Pacific, the train may be halted at a Mennonite and Mormon communities to play, and possibly later on in the tropics near the great barancas to play for the Indians. Several concerts are due when the band reaches Topolobampo. On the return trip, the train will turn north at Chihuahua City and go to Juarez where buses will meet it to transport the occupants back to Big Spring.

Speaking of the band, the annual spring concert is just around the corner. The Senior High, Runnels Junior High and Goliad Junior High bands will give their program, which always includes a number for all three, at the Municipal Auditorium. The date is Feb. 2, so put that down on your calendar. The house ought to be packed for this.

Good news came out of Howard County Junior College last week. Martin Landers, head of the speech department, and Van Hale, head of the music department, said that HCJC would sponsor a Broadway musical. It will be either "Brigadoon" or "My Fair Lady," and outside talent will be welcomed. Thus, anyone who would like to sing or try for a part should contact either Hale or Landers. Dates have been set for March 20-21.

The HCJC choir has been invited to send 20 voices to the all-state junior college choir in Dallas Feb. 16-17-18, said Hale. This will be one of the highlights before the musical play, a series of club concerts, and finally the spring concert in early May.

When the Midland - Odessa Symphony comes here Saturday, youngsters will have a rare opportunity to hear this fine group. A special concert for the young folk is planned for Saturday afternoon, so see that your children have a chance to hear this program.

Speaking of something extraordinary, how about that great choir which performed Saturday evening at the Municipal Auditorium? There were 192 of the best voices in this region directed by Gene Kenney of Texas Tech, plus numbers by the BSHS and the San Angelo Central High School choirs.

The first annual art exhibition at the Ward County Coliseum at Monahans has been announced for Jan. 24-26. No entry fees are required, and work must be brought to the coliseum between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. Jan. 24, and picked up between 9 a.m. and 12 noon Jan. 27. Paintings must be framed and the exhibitor must provide an easel per entry. Cash prizes of $75, $50 and $25 will be given. Artists must be 18. All media are eligible and will be judged as one category but must be on a Sandhills theme.

Six Civil Cases Called For Trial During Week

Five—possibly six—civil suits have been announced ready for trial in 118th District Court during this week, Ralph Caton, judge, announced Saturday. He sounded the docket Friday, and six of the cases are to be ready.

A jury panel will report to the court at 10 a.m. Monday.

Judge Caton set two cases for trial on Monday. They are Liandro Valencia vs. Texas Employers Insurance Association, and W. A. Patterson vs. Industrial Underwriters Insurance Co. Both are compensation cases.

Anticipating that the disposition of either of these cases will take all of Monday and Tuesday, the court set the next cases for Wednesday.

Cases set for that date are T&T Supply Inc. vs. Fred's Transfer and Storage Inc., debt; Carol J. Smith vs. Noel D. Marsalis et al, damages; and John W. Anderson vs. Godfrey Chadd, damages.

Other cases announced tentatively as ready include West Texas Building and West Texas Building of Lubbock vs. South Mountain, Inc., mandamus, and D. C. Buchanan vs. Billy Ray White, et al, damages. There were 28 cases on the docket originally.

One week from Monday, the court will call three murder cases up for trial. A special venire is to be drawn for service in these cases.

Social Security Office Can Help With Medicare Forms

Older people in the Big Spring area who have paid doctor bills but have not yet claimed their medicare doctor bill insurance payments are invited to have their claims checked by the Big Spring Social Security Office at 1009 S. Gregg before mailing them to the medicare carrier, according to Erven Fisher, district manager.

"In the first six months of the medicare program some benefit payments were delayed because the applicants did not include all the necessary information with their claims," he said.

Fisher believes that most people will need this help only the first time they make a medical insurance claim.

The relatively simple Medicare Handbook, which is given to all beneficiaries, explains how to make the claims, he said, but most people can use some advice the first time they apply.

Fisher noted that the medicare claim may be made either by the patient or by the doctor, if he accepts assignment of the insurance. If the doctor applies for the medicare payment, he bills the patient only for any part of the $50 deductible that still remains to be paid and for 20 per cent of the bill over the $50 deductible.

Under the other method of payment, the doctor bills the patient, and the patient pays the bill, then sends the completed request for payment form to the medicare carrier. A statement from the doctor showing the treatment given and the charges already paid by the patient must be furnished either on the request for payment form or in a separate receipted bill.

In this area, medicare doctor bill insurance is handled by Blue Shield in Dallas.

If the beneficiary leaves out his medicare identification number, for example, it is impossible to verify that he is signed up for the doctor bill insurance, or how much of his deductible amount has been paid. Some elderly people with failing eyesight are unable to make legible entries. And some do not get adequately itemized receipts from their physicians, or forget to enclose the receipts with their claims.

If the request for payment form is incomplete or improperly filled out, the medicare carrier has to write back to the beneficiary, thus delaying the payment.

"The Social Security office does not make the decision or pay the claim," Fisher said. "The law requires that the payments be handled through the selected medicare carriers. But we can answer general questions about medicare and help people in the Big Spring area get their applications ready for review by the carrier." If an older person cannot visit the Social Security office in person, "but in this case, he should be able to send the forms by mail sure-to give his telephone number or by someone else," he said, "ber."
