County Commissioners Order 10-Cent Increase In Tax Rat

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

Wheat and oats may be selling at the lowest prices in 40 years, cotton prices are away down and nearly everything the farmer has to sell may be away down, but has the farmer quit? We'll tell the world he hasn't. The farmer never quits. He has worked harder this summer and produced larger crops of nearly everything he can raise than ever before. If he can't get money for what he has raised he's stacking and storing it away for the future—to feed himself and family or to feed his livestock.

This newspaper has never printed so many items about the activities of farmers and their families than within the last few months. The exchanges are full of such items. The farmers themselves are interested as never before in better and more efficient and economical methods of production. Their wives and sons and daughters are working as never before to save and preserve the products that are raised on the farm. Never before have they made such full use of the things that can be raised on the farm. Never in many years has the farm family drawn so much of its living out of the farm itself.

There may not be much money in farming right now, but the people who live on farms have got to live and they appear to have decided they are going to make the best kind of living they can without a great deal of money. In this they are setting an example for the rest of the population. This thing of living, after all, is more important than making a lot of money.

Paving has been completed on highway 30 between Haskell and Stamford and the new stretch of paved highway will be opened for traffic about Sept. 1. Work is proceeding on other parts of the highway in Haskell county. If Haskell or Stamford celebrates the opening of this pavement Wichita Falls will want to join.

Bob's hotel at Bowie has been razed and is no more. It had stood for more than 40 years the symbol of hospitality. It was established by Bob Meyer who brought with him the best traditions of inn-keeping from Switzerland. Uncle Bob, as he was known familiarly and affectionately, died several years ago and after his death the hotel was abandoned and the building has been unoccupied, according to the Bowie Blade. Uncle Bob is dead, his hotel is razed but the memory of his kindly hospitality will long live with many who enjoyed it.

The time for planting fall gardens is near at hand. The season appears favorable for turnips and other crops that can be grown here in the fall. A reader who is intersterd in welfare work telephones in the suggestion that city teams be used to plow up vacant tracts in the city and the ground harrowed for the planting of fall gardens. The suggestion appears to be a good and practical one. Fall vegetables have a succulence that is even greater than those grown in the springtime. With the use of vacant tracts, the city's teams, some free seed and a little supervision a considerable quantity of vegetables might be grown. And there is no better form of charity than that which helps people help themselves.

With the announcement that bids will be received up to Sept. 21 for the contract for the new federal building in Wichita Falls it appears that we can expect work to be started on this building before the end of the year. We are glad, in a way, that work on this building has not been started, for starting late in the year it will afford employment to many who have managed to get along through the spring and summer months and who will need employment more in midwinter and in the spring than now.

Governor Sterling's martial law proclamation and the order of General Wolters putting it into effect leave nothing for those who have wanted drastic action in the oil fields to complain about. With the flush oil pools of Texas and Oklahoma shut down under martial law and production in California under the regulation of civil law and agreement of oil operators we shall soon see whether such regulation will raise the price of oil. Harry Sinclair declared upon learning of Governor Murray's shut down order that martial law would not raise the price of oil one cent a barrel. There is an almost universal hope that developments will prove Mr. Sinclair a poor prophet.

LEVY FOR NEW YEAR PLACED AT 85 CENTS

Increase Necessary to Pay Bond Debts, Officials Here Declare

ASSESSMENTS SLICED

Decrease in Value of Oil Properties Brings Revenue Loss

Wichita county's tax rate was increased to 85 cents for 1931 by the commissioners court in its weekly session Monday, the 10-cent advance in rate having been made imperative by decreased property valuations and a reduction in the percentage of taxes collected, according to members of the court.

Values Shrink

Additional revenue sought through the avenue of a higher tax rate must be obtained in order to maintain the county's schedule of payments on interest and principal on outstanding bond issues, it was explained. Commissioners pointed out that valuations in the county were reduced by the court in 1928 by $10,000,000, and that valuations have lost another $10,000,000 during the past three years, principally because of the collapse of the oil industry. Property in this county was valued at about $62,000,000 for the 1930 taxes, and for 1931, a total valuation of approximately $53,000,000 recently was announced.

In the distribution of the county's tax rate, three individual levies were altered by the court's action Monday. The levy for road and bridge fund is now 15 cents, and is to be reduced to 10 cents for 1931. The five cents is to be transferred, however, to the refunding road and bridge bond issue No. 1, which is consequently raised from six to 11 cents. The five-cent increase in the levy for the refunding project is designed by the commissioners to provide sufficient funds for maintaining the interest and sinking fund on that issue.

Road Bonds

The 10-cent increase represented in the announced rate is applied directly to the levy for special road bond issue No. 2. For 1930 the levy was 15 cents. For 1931 it will be 25 cents.

Pointing out that reduced property valuations in other oil producing areas have made necessary marked revisions in tax rates, the commissioners cited the action of Wilbarger county in raising its county rate recently by 35 cents. The commissioners of Stephens county a few days ago announced an advance from $1.21 to $1.66 in the county tax rate.

STATE HOPES OIL HIKE WILL PREVENT INCREASE

AUSTIN, Aug. 17. (AP)—Gov. Ross S. Sterling intimated today that the state property tax rate would not be set until after he had a chance to see if martial law in the East Texas oil fields was going to increase the price of crude.

Since oil is a source of revenue and is taxed on a percentage of value basis, its price has a materail effect on the ad valorem tax rate.

With oil at its present low price, members of the automatic tax board did not see how they could keep from raising the property tax for general revenue purposes from 27 cents to its constitutional limit of 35 cents per $100. However, for the last month, they had been casting about for some way of preventing an increase.

George H. Sheppard, state comptroller, explained today he was just as much opposed to a tax increase as the governor and treasurer, the other members of the board. He pointed out, however, that the law made it mandatory for the board to increase the levy to its maximum if necessary to avoid a deficit. He said he was still hoping some way might be found to avoid an increase.

Black Ink Boom Seen In Offing

NEW YORK, Aug. 17. (AP)—Business soon will be dipping its pen into black ink instead of red, Hubert T. Parson, president of F. W. Woolworth company, said today on his return from Europe.

He noted a steady improvement in business conditions in Europe, he said, adding "you still hear pessimistic talk from the bankers but I am convinced the turn has come and that the rank and file of business is encouraged. This is true in Germany, England and, especially, France."

He backed his opinions with figures from the experience of his own company. The company's English branches, he said, were 10.28 per cent ahead of the 1930 figure on June 1 and 12.37 per cent ahead on Aug. 1. The German figures were 26.5 per cent ahead June 1 and 35 per cent ahead Aug. 1.

The law will permit the state game, fish and oyster commission to condemn the animals for state use.

Present plans are for the herd to be kept on the ranch. A meeting will be held at Goodnight, Sept. 7 to seek funds to buy the ranch for a state preserve.

The pen with which the bill was made a law will be sent to the Panhandle-Plains Historical society.

Jimmy Walker Adopts Asectic Health Regime

CARLSBAD, Czecho - Slovakia, Aug. 17. (US)—Taking to heart an ancient adage about being "early to bed and early to rise," James J. Walker today began the rigorous regime that, physicians of this former health resort predict, will send him back to New York a healthy mayor.

The first thing "Jimmy" learned was that it's two cigarets a day henceforth instead of the customary package. The three physicians who pounded and thumped his lithe figure found him organically sound, but recommended that he cut down on his meat eating.

LAWTON, Okla., Aug. 17.—Officers in all cities of Southwest Oklahoma and Northern Texas have been notified to assist in the capture of nine prisoners who escaped from the Comanche county jail early Monday morning by sawing through two steel bars of the upper cage and a bar of the outside window, sliding to the ground by the aid of blankets tied together.

Escape is believed to have been made shortly before 2 o'clock as inspection at 1 o'clock was made.

Eight men are being held at Altus, having been apprehended by officers there when the early morning train arrived. All were in a box car and descriptions answer those of escaped prisoners. Two deputy sheriffs left for Altus to make identification.

The following prisoners were awaiting trial; Sly Gibson, subsequent prohibition; Clarence Jones, Bill and Homer Edwards, burglary; John Evans, larceny of auto; Leonard Wilson, E. R. May and Red Yeager were awaiting trial on larceny charges; Walter Carroll was a federal prisoner. The two prisoners who escaped last Thursday night, through the jail roof, have not been apprehended.

INDEPENDENTS FIGHT AIRMAIL 'MONOPOLIES'

Lines Claim 90 Per Cent Of Subsidy Goes to Four Companies

PROBE IS DEMANDED

Individuals Charge Extension Plan Closes Bids To Little Man

By FULTON LEWIS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17. (US)—Independent air-transport operators throughout the country will carry a bitter fight to the next congress for a probe of the present air mail administration of the postoffice department, Universal Service learned tonight.

With 90 per cent of the nation's domestic air mail subsidy now going to four companies and virtually all of the foreign air mail payments going to one other company, the independent operators contend, it is learned, that it is impossible for them to break through the alleged monopoly.

They point out that since the passage of the McNary-Watres act, in which the postmaster general at his own request was given the authority to "extend" existing routes at his own discretion without offering them for bids, all new routes have gone to the present operators as such "extensions," and that the independents have not had an opportunity to bid on a domestic air mail route in more than nine months.

Offers Lower

In several instances, it is known, the postoffice department has received offers from independents to carry the air mail—or part of it—over existing routes for one-third of the price being paid to the present contractor, or less.

In view of the widely advertised efforts of Postmaster General Brown to reduce the immense deficit in his department, it is understood that these offers have presented the air mail administration with a highly embarrassing situation. The department, however, has either left these offers unanswered, or refused them, on the ground that it would be breaking faith with the present contractors to cancel their certificates at this time, Superintendent of Air Mail Wadsworth explained to Universal Service:

"We can't desert the present contractors, just because some independent comes along with a cut price. These independents are losing a great deal of money. The whole industry told them in the beginning they couldn't make any profit out of passengers alone. Now they're howling."

It was further explained that, although the McNary-Watres act does not provide for the granting of exclusive contracts over any routes, the postoffice department

Mme. Soong, who knew the old China but lived through the revolution to see her sons and daughters reach posts of influence, reared all six in the Christian religion, to which she subscribed all her life.

CHINA ENTERS MARKET FOR U. S. WHEAT

Farm Board Queried On Credit Terms to Aid Flood Victims

COTTON PLAN LOST

Two More Governors Frown on Scheme to Cut Down Crop

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17. (AP)—The Chinese government today began negotiations looking toward the purchase of farm board wheat for the relief of flood sufferers in the Yangtse river valley.

An informal inquiry was addressed to the state department to learn the amount of wheat available on credit terms. No definite proposition was included, however, either as to terms or quantity.

The communication, forwarded here by the American consulate at Nanking, was sent on to the farm board. The board controls more than 200,000,000 bushels of wheat.

Cotton Plan Doomed

Meanwhile, two more rejections of its cotton destruction plan were received by the board. They came from the governors of Arkansas and Oklahoma who submitted counter proposals to the suggestion of plowing under every third row of standing cotton as a means of reducing supplies and increasing prices. At least seven of the 14 governors have now rejected the plan.

In view of Chairman Stone's indication that 10 of the largest cotton states must agree, abandonment of the plan now appears certain.

While the board has had no opportunity to consider the informal inquiry of the Chinese government, Stone recalled today he had held informal discussions with Minister Wu before the latter's resignation in which he outlined the terms acceptable to the board for wheat purchases.

"Business" Offer

State department officials described the Chinese suggestion as having been on a "business basis," contemplating buying the undetermined quantity of wheat on credit. The grain stabilization corporation has sold several million bushels in the Orient since spring.

The farm board, in answer to demands from the mid-western grain regions, agreed to limit sales of stabilization wheat this year to 60,000,000 bushels unless an unforeseen emergency arises in some foreign country. It said it was willing to deal with any responsible government on reasonable credit basis.

LONG'S PLAN APPROVED

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 17. (AP)—Gov. Huey P. Long said tonight approval of his plan to induce the legislatures of the cotton states to pass statutes regulating production of cotton had been "overwhelming."

The executive said the conference to discuss the enactment of cotton regulatory laws in the various states would be held as planned in New Orleans Friday at 10 a. m. He said he could not say at this time who would be there.

Bastrop Judge Opens Defense In House Excess Fee Probe

AUSTIN, Aug. 17. (AP)—Presentation of defense testimony was started today in the investigation of J. B. Price of Bastrop, judge of the 21st district.

Approval by Judge Price of claims of officers of his district for fees and mileage in criminal cases is under fire in the house, state prosecutors contending Judge Price was negligent and incompetent in approving the accounts and unlawfully approved the claims. Should the house vote charges against Judge Price articles of impeachment will be preferred and he will be tried by the senate.

M. C. Jeffrey of Lockhart, judge of the 22nd district court was the first defense witness. He testified to the general good reputation and character of Judge Price. He said he knew nothing of his method of approving accounts.

Accounts of Sheriff Townsend were read to the house today. T. N. Markham, assistant state auditor, testified a check of the accounts revealed Townsend had made a charge of subpoenaing a witness in one part of the county and made another charge for subpoenaing the same witness by giving his residence in another section of the county.

W. O. Beall, chief of the sheriff's division of the comptroller's office, testified he returned an account of Townsend for the June, 1931, term because he believed it contained charges for duplicate issuance of subpoenas and duplicate mileage for serving summons. Beall testified there "has been quite a decline in the amount of the accounts filed in the past few months."

The presidential train maintained full head of steam on the siding here, but the arrival of senate President Clemente Vazquezbello, like the president a native of Santa Clara province, lent strength to the apparently authentic information that the president's return would be postponed.

Several brushes between infantry and insurgents occurred over the province today.

All roads are carefully watched. Neither news nor rumor could be had of Col. Roberto Mendez Penate and Col. Aurelio Hevia, two leaders in the uprising who are said to be operating in this section.

e two per cent gross production tax, he said.

Governor Sterling had no doubt about the shut down bringing an increase in the crude oil price in the mid-continent area and many oil operators heartily agreed with him. Others were not certain what the effect would be.

Among the state legislators a strong sentiment in favor of the governor's action seemed to predominate. Representative Pat Adam of Jasper said the move was necessary until the new conservation law can be put into effect.

"Harry Sinclair would drain thousands of barrels of oil from the field within the next 10 days if allowed to do so," he said. "It is one of the best moves the governor has made."

Representative Bailey Hardy of Breckenridge severely criticized the governor, saying Sterling had let the matter hang fire while the legislature was in session. Hardy said the governor appeared to be trying to do with military force what the people, through the legislature, denied him the right to do.

Authority Questioned

Representative E. H. Lasseter of Henderson questioned the constitutional authority of the martial law order.

General Wolters said he would have about 1,000 men in the field by tomorrow. He posted shut down orders throughout the district and took every possible step to insure widespread knowledge of its provisions.

He toured the entire field this afternoon, conferring with county and city officials at various points and organizing support for his regime.

The principal note sounded in his conferences with civic officials was that the guardsmen came to the East Texas field as friends to aid in settling a difficult situation.

Martial law became effective at a. m. today. Guardsmen were loaded into motor buses at Tyler early this morning and moved to Kilgore, Gladewater, Overton and other strategic points.

Average daily production in the East Texas field has claimed as high as 750,000 barrels daily recently. Producers exerted every effort to operate their wells at capacity in the brief period before the new conservation law would curtail production.

General Wolters is a general attorney for the Texas corporation in private life. For years he has been their lobbyist at Austin.

Gas Waste Figured

Governor Sterling said East Texas operators had been destroying $225,000 worth of gas daily to get $105,000 worth of oil out of their wells. He was figuring on the casing head gasoline content of the 00,000,000 cubic feet of gas which he said had been burned daily.

That tremendous quantities of gas were being consumed in the field was attested today by the many gas fires at wells where excess was being burned.

W. R. Boyd Jr., of New York, executive vice president of the American Petroleum Institute lauded Governor Sterling's action in ordering a forced production shut down in the East Texas oil field.

"The action of Governor Sterling is that of a statesman and he is to be congratulated upon his courageous action in declaring martial law and sending the militia to East Texas to prevent violation of the Texas laws respecting the waste of oil and gas," Boyd said at Dallas.

Boyd said if the railroad commission fixed and enforced an allowable production for East Texas "there is no reason why there should not be a prompt upward reaction in price."

E. B. Reeser, president of the American Petroleum Institutes, said at Tulsa today Governor Sterling exhibited true courage in shutting down the East Texas field. He said the martial law declaration would be commended by a large number of petroleum and banking leaders.

The East Texas shut down was believed to have been largely responsible for an increase of five cents a barrel in the price of Pennsylvania grade crude oil.

Kansas producers are preparing to demand state action unless the low crude price is raised. The state public service commissions' threat that unless crude prices are raised to at least 60 cents a barrel it would order a hearing to determine the nature and extent of a shut down order in the state, had caused but one concern, the Derby Oil company, to raise prices. Derby announced Saturday it would pay 60 cents a barrel for Kansas crude of 44 gravity and above.

The Oklahoma oil well shut down has already caused slight increases, and the impetus given by halting East Texas production is expected to further boost the price level.

Magnolia responded to the demand for higher prices by offering 25 cents a barrel, an increase of 5 cents a barrel. Sinclair Oil and Gas company met this price for East Texas crude, effective Saturday.

New Record Output

The shut down order will not interfere with pipe line operators or the transfer of oil by rain.

The average daily production in the East Texas field last week was 738,000 barrels, considered an all time record.

At Longview in a meeting with operators General Wolters stood with folded arms and delivered a terse ultimatum that unless all production ceases by noon tomorrow "it's jail for those who haven't quit."

"I didn't realize, gentlemen," Wolters told about 50 operators, "what a job it will be, but we are going to put it over. There is no objection to your continuing drilling a well or even bringing one in, but immediately after you bring it in you must shut it down."

"Tell operators these shut down orders are assumed to be known and ignorance of the law is no excuse. After tomorrow noon we will be very much disposed to take no excuses but rather to set examples.

"There is insurrection in East Texas, so the governor declares, and that declaration is beyond the power of the courts. If men violate our orders we will arrest them and hold them until martial law is lifted. Of course it would be folly to release prisoners of war and let them go back to the firing line.

"We will not permit anything that would be a subterfuge," General Wolters emphasized.

TEXAS, OKLAHOMA AND KANSAS TO PLAN CURB

TOPEKA, Aug. 17. (AP)—Filing of a complaint with the Kansas public service commission seeking a shutdown of oil wells in the state as a retaliatory measure against current low prices was predicted late today in official circles.

Thurman Hill, member of the public service commission, said a complaint "will be filed within the next 24 hours," and said it would seek a hearing on the extent of the proposed shutdown, "if any."

Commissioner Hill said the expected complaint would be set for hearing even though increased prices for Kansas crude are announced meanwhile. He predicted increases would be announced by additional purchasers by tomorrow noon.

"We don't want producers to believe," he said, "that because of the Texas and Oklahoma shutdown they can come into Kansas and open up new production."

Without attempting to fix a price which should be paid for Kansas crude, the commission, Hill said today, had expressed belief that producers in the state should be paid on a basis of prices in the Texas field, plus cost of transportation and minus the difference in expense of gathering. This, he said, would be between 60 and 70 cents a barrel, on a basis of current prices.

Commissioner Hill announced tonight the Texas railroad commission had, through its chairman, C. V. Terrell, joined with the Oklahoma corporation commission in promising to be represented at a conference suggested by the Kansas commissioner for the purpose of working out uniform curtailment measures.

The conference, Hill said, would be at Oklahoma City, Sept. 11.

Fort Worth-Roswell Road Group Names Heads in Roswell Meet

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, Texas, Aug. 17.—The Fort Worth-Roswell Airline Highway association held its annual meeting in Stamford today with 40 representatives from 12 towns along the route in attendance. Dr. J. S. B. Woolford of Roswell, N. M., was elected president, succeeding Judge W. W. Price of Brownfield, who was elected as vice president. J. E. Shelton of Brownfield was made secretary and H. W. Davis of Clairmont treasurer.

This organization for five years has sponsored the road from Fort Worth to Roswell, N. M., via Stamford, Post and Brownfield. Work for U. S. designation of this strip for past three years culminated in designation as U. S. highway No. 380 for the strip extending from Fort Worth to Roswell and west to Sorocco, N. M., where it connects with another federally designated road to Los Angeles.

As the result of the designated highways from Fort Worth on to the Pacific coast the organization changed its name to the Fort Worth-Roswell-Los Angeles Highway association. An extensive program for advertising campaign will be launched under direction of the new officers, each town along the route to elect a director. The first project is to complete a 175 mile strip, the only unpaved section of the 1,500-mile route.

The Stamford Chamber of Commerce was host at dinner at Stamford Inn. J. J. Brady, mayor, was toastmaster.

U. S.–ASIA AIR MAIL PROPOSED

Alaskan to Introduce Bill In Congress

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17. (INS)—The successful flights of the Lindberghs and Post and Gatty in blazing air trails between the United States and Asia may be followed by a congressional investigation of the feasibility of joining the two continents by air mail, it was disclosed today.

Reports that Lindbergh is mapping a new air mail route are scouted here but James Wickersham, delegate to congress from the territory of Alaska, said he is considering the introduction of a bill for the establishment of such a route.

This, he declared, would be the first step in what he believes a certain development in aviation in the future. Wickersham plans to ask congressional committees to invite Lindbergh, Post and Gatty to appear next winter and outline their experiences in Asiatic flying.

Mr. Morgan will continue his duties as sanitary inspector and quarantine officer with the city health and sanitation department, it was said.

AIRMAIL TRUST PROBE SOUGHT

Independents Claim Four Lines Hog Subsidy

has decided to "support only one contractor on each route."

$15,046,676 Spent

The four companies which at present receive 90.5 per cent of the domestic air mail payments are United Aircraft, which alone receives 50 per cent of the total; Transcontinental and Western Air Express; American Airways, owned by the Aviation corporation of Delaware; and Eastern Air Transport corporation, owned by North American Aviation.

Postoffice figures for the first 11 months of the last fiscal year—all that are available at this time—show that for this period the postoffice department paid a total of $15,046,676.53 for domestic air mail. Of the total, the four concerns drew, either directly or through subsidiaries, $13,631,462.75. The remaining $1,415,213.78 was divided between all independents.

In the foreign air mail picture, the department is paying about $6,200,000 annually, but gives only the totals of payments, miles flown, and pounds carried. One postal official, who declined to be quoted, explained to Universal Service that the reason for this is that "the public might not understand, in view of the size of the payments compared with the actual bulk of mail carried."

Foreign Routes

Commerce department figures, however, reveal that there are now 11,298 miles of foreign air mail routes, and that of this total 10,512 miles is operated by Pan American Airways; 572 miles by American Airways (one of the big domestic contractors); and a total of 214 miles is divided by two other independent operators.

The chief grievance of the independents involves the "extension" policy which the department has adopted, in expanding the air mail service.

They point out that no domestic contract has been offered for bids by the department for nearly a year and that with the favored four companies holding 90 per cent of the present contracts, the extension policy is constantly increasing the alleged monopoly which they hold, as all new routes must go to them.

In numerous recent cases, records show, the department has granted as "extensions" contracts for air mail routes on which the contractor has never operated, but on which independents have been operating passenger service for months.

It was understood that proponents of the immediate construction of the building are anxious to have the concrete poured before cold weather.

Long-Awaited Dempsey Divorce Suit Filed

RENO, Nev., Aug. 17. (INS)—Jack Dempsey started his long expected divorce action against Estelle Taylor, screen actress, here today.

Charging mental cruelty, the action was filed at 10 a. m. today by his attorney Robert Burns.

Whether the filing of the suit will result in a bitter contest with his wife remained to be seen.

Attorney Burns said he was still awaiting word from Los Angeles as to whether Miss Taylor had accepted the latest offer made by Dempsey as to a proper settlement.

"We are hopeful there will be no contest and that every thing will be smoothed out shortly," the attorney said.

DISEASE ADDS TO FLOOD TOLL

Chinese River Reaches All-Time Crest

HANKOW, Hupeh Province, China, Aug. 17. (AP)—After rising steadily for the past week, the waters of the Yangtse river tonight apparently had reached a stationary level at a mark of 53 feet, just two feet, seven inces, above the level of the river in the floods of 1870, the most disastrous flood on record until now.

Upriver points reported the waters were falling, giving rise to hope the crest had at last been reached.

This was small comfort, however, for Hankow's refugee hordes, most of whom were forced yesterday and today to flee from their last points of safety, the railway embankment. The flood waters finally topped even these, resulting in terrible scenes of panic, abject misery and the further loss of scores of lives.

Chinese reports asserted the death toll among the refugees was mounting hourly as cholera, typhoid, starvation and exposure to the merciless midsummer sun claimed their victims.

Other scores and possibly hundreds of deaths in recent days have resulted in the native city of Hankow from the collapse of houses, hurling their helpless and apathetic denizens into the flood.

SOLONS FAVOR FEE ABOLITION

Poll Shows 60 Per Cent Want Change

By S. RAYMOND BROOKS
Record News Correspondent

AUSTIN, Aug. 17.—A poll by Representative I. J. Burns of Brady has shown that over 80 per cent of the Texas house of representatives is in favor of abolishing free compensation of local officials outright now, without electing another two-year set and waiting for 1935 before the reform can be made.

A widespread public demand, reflected in the fee inquiry, sheriffs' and local officers fee abuses and Judge J. B. Price's impeachment hearing's real cause, is known to support them.

As a result, abolishing the fee system of paying officers, its attendant huge waste of taxpayers' money, besides its abuses, frauds and temptations, probably will be submitted at the special session now foreseen for December or January to afford tax relief.

Special Tax Committee

Speaker Fred H. Minor is to appoint four house members on a joint tax committee that has been instructed to write definite bills for relief, and to have the bills ready to report back to a special session within a few months. The fee abolition, as one of the best tax reforms possible, a means of sharply reducing local taxes, logically and probably will be one of the bills written.

Representatives E. M. Barron and R. E. Morse were authors of the amendment requiring definite bills to be brought in. Senator Ben G. Oneal, Wichita Falls, is author of the resolution for the most far-reaching step in tax reform, supplementing and validating his split-tax plan, ever yet advanced.

Representatives F. C. Weinert and Barron are sure to be included on the tax committee with Senator Oneal and two other house members and two other senators. Representative A. P. Johnson of Carrizo Springs, proponent of delinquent tax reforms, is a probable appointee, with Representative Morse or Representative Dewey Young, revenue and taxation chairman, other possible selections.

Many Applications

Speaker Fred H. Minor had received over 40 applications for the four places, from members pressed by a hot public demand in their districts to do something tangible about tax reforms and do it in a hurry before the next political campaign comes on.

Representative Burns' poll showed that the members believe the fee payment system should be abolished now, in response to an unquestioned public sentiment and official sentiment.

Cities Service Company Lists 724,718 Shareholders

NEW YORK, Aug. 17. (UP)—The Cities Service company has, with one exception—the American Telephone and Telegraph company—more stockholders than any other corporation in the world, according to a survey completed today by the United Press.

Those stockholders now number approximately 724,718 and their holdings worth almost a billion dollars. Exclusive of all its subsidiaries, the parent company alone on July 15 had 478,548 common shareholders.

A survey of the geographical distribution of the company's stockholders in the United States as of March 14, 1931, shows the largest number, 118,679, located in New York. Ohio had 83,027, while Illinois was third with a total of 52,881. Pennsylvania comes fourth with 48,472. Next in the order named are Colorado, Missouri, Minnesota and Kansas, all with more than 30,000.

U. S. Stands Pat on Early Closing Of Texas Border Town Bridges

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17. (AP)—The treasury department intends to continue in force its order closing the Texas border to Mexican travel at night.

Acting Secretary Lowman reiterated today the closing was put into effect only after vigorous protests had been received from citizens in Texas against gambling across the border.

Recommendations of Roy Campbell, collector of customs in the Texas district, that bridges be opened where gambling had stopped have been rejected.

"When the peace authorities directed attention of customs to the moral and financial degradation of the border towns because of gambling, smuggling, thievery and other lawbreaking which it was claimed as directly the result of all night opening of the border an investigation was made of the situation," Lowman said, adding:

"It was found that practically all of the traffic on the bridges after 9 p. m., and before 7 a. m., was connected with sports or pleasure and that the legitimate business across the border could very well be transacted between the hours of 7 a. m. and 9 p. m.

"That was the reason those hours were fixed upon.

"Assurances were made before the all-night service was established last March that open gambling and other illicit attractions would be suppressed. This was accomplished for a while, but later public gambling casinos and other resorts were opened on the Mexican side and this resulted in a general protest on the part of public authorities in American towns as well as from hundreds of citizens on the border.

"Six p. m. was urged as the proper hour for closing the bridges, but public convenience and necessity caused us to fix 9 p. m., as the hour for closing."

NICHOLS DROPS UTILITY PLAN

No Change in Oklahoma Gas Company Lineup Due

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 17. (UP)—A proposal made by John B. Nichlos, major owner in the Chickasha gas field, to gain control of the Oklahoma Natural Gas company will not be carried through, Judge Richard C. Allen, the utility company's general counsel, said today.

Judge Allen said Nichlos made the proposal to G. L. Ohrstrom & Co., New York bankers behind the Oklahoma natural.

"I was in New York when the plan was discussed but it was seen to be impractical and I think Nichlos realizes now it would not work. There will be no change in management of the Oklahoma natural," Allen said.

At Chickasha today, Nichlos said he had nothing additional to say concerning his offer to buy the Oklahoma natural and institute a uniform 45-cent gas rate throughout the state.

Allen said he was certain the new 45-cent rate accepted by the corporation commission Saturday would satisfy Nichlos, a major owner of Oklahoma natural, as it would insure him an outlet for his gas.

The Oklahoma natural voluntarily reduced rates from the previous slash to 50 cents to a maximum rate of 45 cents. The reduction was made before completion of an exhaustive rate survey ordered by the commission. As a condition of the slash, the state rested its investigation of the company.

Chairman Paul Walker of the commission said the commission was turning its attention toward forcing other gas companies to conform with the lower rate levels. Action against the Lone Star Gas company and other smaller concerns was expected soon, he said.

Son Brings Theft Charges Against His Dead Father

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 17. (UP)—Initials in the corner of a leather wallet were pointed out today in substantiation of a son's accusation of robbery made against his dead father.

In November, 1920, Fred L. Davis was a chauffeur for Henry C. Flower when jewelry valued at $20,000 disappeared. The case was never cleared up.

Davis' father, George E. Davis, visited the son about the time of the robbery. Recently he died in Marion, Ind. Among his personal effects forwarded to the son was the wallet, inscribed with the initials H. F.

Davis told police his father had deserted his mother when the son was but a child, and had made vague threats when young Davis left home to make his own way. The father was described as an eccentric man—musician, acrobat, fine dresser.

"They're out—so they can't be in!"

Every LUCKY STRIKE is made of the finest tobacco leaves the world can offer—the finest from Turkey—the finest from Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia and the Carolinas—the Cream of many crops throughout the world. But all tobacco leaves, regardless of price and kind, as nature produces them, contain harsh irritants. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds, who use them as a base in making sheep-dip*, as well as a powerful spraying solution for trees, flowers and shrubs—enough to permit the daily dipping of over 50,000 sheep or the daily spraying of many thousands of trees. Thus, you are sure these irritants, naturally present in all tobacco leaves, are not in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't be in!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

Good Wheat Plan

SUGGESTIONS that long-term credits be arranged so that a part of the United States' vast wheat surplus can be used to relieve famine conditions in China have been advanced recently by men in charge of the famine relief work.

One authority has estimated that at least 5,000,000 bushels would be used each month for half a year under such an arrangement.

There is a good deal to recommend the plan. In the first place, severe floods have put 10,000,000 Chinese in danger of starvation. In the second place, the surplus wheat is doing no one any good as long as it lies in the elevators, and any long-term credit arrangement that could be devised to move part of it would help to relieve a bad situation. Last, but not least, the project might help to open up a new market for American wheat growers that would have a salutary effect on the export trade of the near future.

Seconding Gene Howe's Motion

GENE HOWE, editor of the Amarillo Globe-News, has started a campaign to have the proposed ZRSS-5, sister ship of the navy's new Akron, christened "Amarillo." The Record News will heap some coals upon the thinning hair of the Amarillo editor's head who has recently been having some fun at the expense of Wichita Falls by seconding the nomination.

The frame of these dirigibles is of steel and the covering of a rubber composition. That is the reason the first of the big ships was christened "Akron." But the Akron, mightiest ship of the air, couldn't leave the ground with safety but for the helium gas with which it is filled. Helium gas for the Akron and all the dirigibles of the army and navy comes from the Panhandle gas fields. What could be more appropriate than that the sister ship of the Akron be christened "Amarillo?"

Telling Officials

A MASSACHUSETTS motorcycle patrolman recently managed to get rid of a dictum on speeding motorists that contains a whole lot of sound sense.

This officer chased and stopped an automobile going at rather a snappy rate—and discovered, when he had it stopped, that it contained the governor of the state.

There were explanations all around, and the governor went on his way; but before he went, the officer made this final remark:

"You're just as likely to hit somebody or something as anybody else."

To government officials everywhere, who seem to feel that their position entitles them to a lofty disregard of all speed laws, this remark is earnestly commended.

The Heart of a Boy

THERE is something extremely appealing about that recent news dispatch which told how a boy in Orange, N. J., let all of the dogs out of the city pound.

The sponsor of this "jail delivery" was caught by the police and taken to court. There he explained why he had given the dogs their liberty, and the judge—who, one gathers, knows something about boys—let him go after a mild reprimand.

A dog pound, of course, is a necessary institution. Nevertheless it is not hard to sympathize with this boy's attitude. No boy is ever able to understand why a dog must be kept locked up. Is it surprising that this one decided to take the law into his own hands?

Depression

My lips he avidly used to seek,
Now he barely pecks at my cheek.

He used to speak volumes with his eyes
Which now look vacant as he wearily sighs.

His topics were only on love's sweet confession,
Now they dwell solely on market depression.

His life he avowed belonged to me,
Now it starts at 10 and ends at 3.

A caveman and sweetheart—magnificent lover,
Now cries like a babe for stocks to recover.

The bears are my downfall, the bulls my salvation,
Oh bring back the bulls and my lover's elation!

"Hey!" yelled the soda-jerker, "why the hell are you counting?"

"Thirty-two-thirty-three," continued the customer, "I'm a slide trombone player in the Philharmonic Symphony orchestra across the street and I've got 51 beats of rest—so long—39-40-41-42 . . ."

The Squelch Swelegant

Charles Hughes passes along this Dorothy Parker anecdote. It was at a Hollywood party, and a well-known dramatic actress was plastered again.

She started abusing the guests—and wound up making personal cracks, bawling out servants, throwing food, breaking glasses and insulting the hostess. She finished by staggering out of the place, but not until she thumbed her nose at the disgusted crowd.

Dorothy Parker was the only guest who wasn't unnerved. As the low-life of the party staggered to the door, Dorothy merely raised her eyes from her drink and sweetly chirped: "What? Whistler's mother leaving so soon?"

A Form of Criticism

On the beach the other humiday Frank Scally and a pal were trying to figure out where their meal was coming from when a gorgeous blonde ankled by in a bathing suit that would have made a nudist blush.

Frank nudged his companion as she passed closely. The pal said, (so she could hear him.) "Some doll. What a chassis!"

The eyeful turned slowly around, looked at the two fellows as if they were the sand beneath her, and in her best Vassar tone flipped: "I wonder who left those dirty bathing suits on the beach."

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE MAN WHO READS WITH HIS TONGUE—In June, 1906, when Mr. William McPherson was 40 years of age, he was working in a Colorado stone quarry drilling and placing dynamite. A premature explosion injured him to such an extent that he lost both arms and his eyesight, thus depriving him of the ability to read with his fingers the raised letters used by the blind. However, he set to work resolutely learning to read Braille and Moontype letters with tip of his tongue, having his teacher trace each character on the bare skin of his back between his shoulder blades—one of the most sensitive parts of the body. Today he not only reads with ease, but can turn the pages of the book with his tongue. Mr. McPherson, recently interviewed at his home, 1918 East Seventy-first street, Kansas City, Mo., says he is the happiest of men, and the physical darkness does not prevent him from being spiritually bright. This suggestion was submitted by Rev. D. T. Lauderdale of Lexington, Va., who won first prize in the recent $5,000 "Believe It or Not" radio contest—the Rev. Lauderdale in turn sharing his prize with Mr. McPherson.

"MARY FAITH"

by Beatrice Burton

COPYRIGHT, 1931, BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

Mary Faith, comely, young orphan, is secretary to Mark Nesbit, wealthy business man. She gives up her position to marry Kimberly Farrell, shiftless, young lawyer. Mary Faith believes that loving a man hard enough will make everything come out all right in the end. It was this confidence that enabled her to marry Kim after he had once broken their engagement. She realizes he has an eye for every girl, but hopes that married life will sober him and make him successful in his profession. Instead, Kim is annoyed at Mary Faith's "Puritanism," and his jazzy friends, Clair and Jack Maldon, find her a dull companion. Learning that she is to become a mother, Mary Faith, for the first time, visits Kim's office. Kim is furious when Mary Faith finds him flirting with his blond secretary. That night, he informs his mother and Mary Faith that he is leaving. Mary Faith, heartbroken at this turn of affairs, decides not to tell Kim of her coming motherhood. She and Mrs. Farrell decide to struggle to keep the home for the coming baby. Mary Faith obtains a position as typist. She refuses to accede to Kim's request for a divorce and asks him to wait six months before carrying out his desire.

As the bells are ringing in the New Year, Mary Faith's son is born. Kim, informed of this event, returns home and becomes, for a time, a proud and happy father.

CHAPTER XXVI

Every night Kim came home between 5 and 6 so that he could see Mary Faith bathe the boy and tuck him into the warm blankets of his bed.

On Easter Saturday he brought home a chocolate rabbit for him, to the enormous amusement of Mary Faith and the horror of Mrs. Farrell. And he bundled him up and took him for an airing on the seat of his car.

"Our life is just the way I always pictured it," Mary Faith said to him that night as they sat in the living room waiting for the Maldons to come over and play bridge with them. "Long before we were married I used to dream of the time when we'd have a home and a baby and friends to come in to spend the evening with us once in a while—and now it's all come true——"

"You'd better rap on wood," Mrs. Farrell spoke up from her chair beside the window. "I always think it's tempting Providence to tell yourself how lucky you are."

Mary Faith laughed. "You're worse than a rainy day, Mother Farrell," she said cheerfully. "Kim and I have had all our bad luck."

She got up and sat on the arm of his chair, rumpling up his hair and twisting it somehow so that he looked utterly unlike himself for a second.

"Haven't we had all our bad luck and all our bad times?" she asked him, her arms around him. "Haven't we come out on the sunny side, and aren't we most—terribly—frightfully happy?" She kissed him between each word and he looked as if he liked it.

They were as much in love with each other these days as they had been during the first year of their engagement, when Kim had wanted no one but her.

He wanted no one but her now. Sometimes the Maldons called up and said that they were coming over to play a few hands of bridge and he would frown and look gloomy when Mary Faith announced the news to him.

"Why don't they stay at home once in a while?" he would ask. "Gosh, I never saw such a pair as those two birds!—In all the time I stayed at their house I never knew them to spend a quiet evening. They were always calling somebody up to come over and make 'hoopla' with them or getting dressed to go to somebody's house for the evening or to some place to dance and have dinner . . . It was Claire's fault—Jack's pretty quiet and steady. She drags him around after her like a kid with a teddy bear."

The Maldons never made much "hoopla" when they came to the flat to spend the evening. For one thing the baby was asleep and they had to keep quiet. And for another Mrs. Farrell always sat in the room and looked over the evening paper while the other four played cards, frowning at them every now and then.

"I don't care very much for the Maldon girl," she told Mary Faith the morning after one of the Maldons' visits. "She gives me the jitters, the way she's always wriggling her shoulders and singing under her breath . . . And I wonder if she thinks her face looks pretty, all painted up like a signboard!—No, I don't like her."

About a week later Clarie popped in one afternoon on her way home from downtown. "Popped in" was the only way to describe the way she came rushing into the flat with her bracelets jingling and the white-tipped tails of her silver fox scarf swaying.

"I can't stay two minutes," she said breathlessly. "I just wanted to bring the baby in a little present. It's a cup and I had his name engraved on it. There's been enough argument about naming him so his Aunt Claire just settled it by having 'Kim' put on the cup."

There had been a great deal of discussion about the baby's name. Mary Faith and Mrs. Farrell wanted him named Kimberley, of course. Every boy ought to have his father's name, they maintained. But Kim was for something plain and short and solid, like John or Bill.

"There ought to be a law against hanging names like Kimberley and Livingston and Percival on boys," he had told them. "When I was a kid I used to have to fight in the schoolyard about once a week with somebody or other who'd make fun of my name."

Mary Faith took the cup out of its white pasteboard box as soon as Claire had gone. It was made of hammered silver and it had two little round handles. On one side of it was engraved: "For little Kim from Aunt Claire."

"I wonder where his Uncle Jack comes in," Mrs. Farrell said dryly, as she looked at it. "I suppose he just pays the bill, eh?"

That night at dinner she told Kim about the cup.

"Your friend, Mrs. Maldon, brought the baby a present today," she said, making a face as if the beef broth she was drinking was very bitter. "She brought him a cup—and he not able to hold his own bottle yet! Why didn't she bring him a carriage cover or something useful, I'd like to know . . . My, but I do dislike that woman!"

"I saw a cup the other day that I'd have liked to buy for the baby, myself," said Kim. "It had two handles, to make it easy to hold, and the silver that it was made of was hammered so that it wouldn't show any dents even if the baby did throw it on the floor. . . ."

Neither Mary Faith nor his mother answered him. They were staring at each other across the table. Kim looked from one to the other of them.

"What's the matter with you two?" he asked.

Mary Faith got up and opened the top drawer of the sideboard. From it she took the white box. She set it down before him on the table and opened it. Within it was the little two-handled cup of hammered silver.

She lifted it out without saying a word and set it on the tablecloth.

He began to laugh. "Well, I'll be doggoned," he said. "You've got me with the goods this time, haven't you? Let me tell you both what happened; I was walking down Spring street the other day and whom should I run into but Claire. She was on her way to the Pig'n' Whistle to get a bite of lunch and so was I. So we went there together, and afterward we were looking into Armbruster's window and we saw this little cup. She must have gone in after I left her and bought it."

He picked it up and put it back into the box.

"I suppose I ought to have said something about it," his voice ran on, "but I forgot all about it. After all it wasn't anything to remember, was it? Having lunch with the wife of one of your friends? We thought Jack might join us there. He eats lunch there himself almost every day."

He raised his eyes and looked across the table at Mary Faith.

"You aren't sore, are you?"

"Why, of course not, Kim. Why would I be angry? You have a perfect right to have lunch with Claire if you want to."

And then they began to talk about something else and the matter of the cup was forgotten.

But the next morning Mrs. Farrell brought it up again while she watched Mary Faith washing out the baby's little flannels in the bathroom bowl.

"I wouldn't trust that Mrs. Maldon any farther than I could throw an elephant by the tail," she remarked from her seat on the rim of the bath tub. "I wouldn't be surprised to find out that she had asked Kimberley to take her to lunch. You take a woman like that, who has a lot of time on her hands, and nine times out of ten she's just the kind that goes around having love affairs with her husband's friends or with any other good looking man that she takes a fancy to."

Mary Faith shook her dark glossy head as she wrung the baby's little nightgowns out of the fluffy soap suds.

"I'm not worrying about Claire Maldon, Farrell," she answered, "or about any other woman these days. Why Kim's home before 6 almost every night and he's as settled and as sober as a judge lately. I don't believe he has anything but business on his mind."

On the first of April the firm gave him a salary raise of $10 a week.

"Seventy smackers now for you two to throw around every week of your lives!" he told his mother and Mary Faith when he came home with the news. "That ought to buy the baby shoes every now and then, eh what?" He twinkled with satisfaction and pride.

"Or some new clothes for me and Mary Faith," said his mother. "We are like a couple of scarecrows."

"Yes, but we hardly ever go out—and when we do we go in the car and nobody sees us. It's Kim who needs new clothes right now. His spring overcoat is faded and worn around the cuffs and pockets—and appearance is everything to a man. He must look successful or he never gets anywhere in his work," Mary Faith put in. "So I think Kim ought to get himself a new overcoat before the rest of us even think of new clothes."

Mrs. Richard Davis Hostess At Manuscript Club Meeting

Mrs. Sam Kruger, who has just returned from the Writers conference in Boulder, Colo., featured the program of members of the Manuscript club held at the home of Mrs. Richard E. Davis on Avenue J Monday morning. Notes taken by Mrs. Kruger were full of interest and led to an animated discussion. Her stories of personal contact with well known writers were full of human interest and she showed photographs that had been presented to her by several present, among them Robert Frost and Zona Gale, nationally known poet and novelist, E. C. Spraggins and Anne Cameron, Saturday Evening Post writers, and Thomas Hornsby Ferril of Denver, who has won several magnificent poetry prizes and whom Mrs. Kruger described as the most interesting of the Denver group.

Mrs. Davis read a feature story from the Sunday Dallas News written by Mesdames W. M. Cason and Ben G. Oneal and a group of her own lovely poems, and Miss Ollie Roediger gave a group of her verses.

A delicious breakfast was served at a table lovely with a center of roses in a great brass bowl and shining with hobnail crystal. Covers were laid for Mesdames Mary C. Hindman, H. B. Van Emden, W. B. Whiting, Claude Williamson, Sam Kruger, James P. Bowen, C. R. Yauger, Miss Ollie Roediger and the charming hostess, Mrs. Davis.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

We are one with those who respect the views of Mahatma Gandhi but who would feel a deeper sympathy if we didn't know his picture. We read a quotation from a talk of his not long ago, "I was not born to be ornamental," and thoroughly agree.

But we read also the creed which is his guide for living and if all men could be guided by the eight small phrases that serve for his 10 commandments, the world would certainly be a much better place.

Brief, to the point, applicable to every day's work and play, they are ideals worth quoting. "Truth, love, chastity, fearlessness, neighborliness, belief in mankind, belief in religion and belief in the worthiness of labor."

Truth is one of the noblest ideals of mankind. Not simply the words that are spoken, but truth in living, truth in appearance, truth that must be coupled with fearlessness to walk boldly before the world. Not many people are fearless enough to speak the truth in all things.

Love, in the broad sense of Gandhi's meaning is not the love of sex; love of fellow beings has been a beautiful thing as he has practiced it and we know no other since the time of Christ who has shown such love for all classes of people.

Chastity means more than its common definition; there is chastity of mind and of soul. Minds that ache at unclean thoughts and souls that are miserable over the degradation of their generation are more chaste than that woman who calls herself chaste because she has never been tempted and whose tongue is scorpion tipped against an erring sister.

Fearlessness is a magnificent trait. It is the one that is unanimously admired. Men say, "I do not agree with him, but he does not hesitate to say what he believes and I honor him for it."

Neighborliness used to mean being sociable with the people next door or just around the corner, but it has a broader meaning now. It is akin to love. It is a part of the next phrase in Gandhi's creed, "belief in mankind." And that phrase of itself is one that should be studied and practiced in an age of what men call "changing morals." Time seems to move in cycles and man is just as worthy as he was in his grandfather's boyhood. Each generation must be fitted to its time.

There are few people who do not have some sort of religion. Even those who profess no doctrinal theories can hardly see the changing seasons, the starry skies, hear the winds rising and not feel there is a power behind these things.

And more and more each year, the world is growing into belief in the worthiness of labor. There's a restlessness and an unsatisfied spirit that drives the idle. There is a dignity and a beauty about any work that is well known—even if it is baking bread or digging ditches. Yes, even though Mahatma Gandhi is not ornamental to look upon, he is one to be revered.

Eczema and Psoriasis

When the body is sufficiently toxic, an attack of Eczema may be brought on by contact with any irritation of the outer skin. In some people the wearing of woolen or flannel materials may be sufficient. In others a chemical or mechanical irritation may be responsible, such as the various "trade" Eczemas common to cooks, bakers, chocolate dippers, etc.

Babies have Eczema quite frequently. Often it affects the hair, sometimes known as a "milk scurf." I have received so many inquiries about this trouble that I have prepared a special article on the subject of "Babies' Eczema," which I will be glad to send to any mother who is interested and will send me a large self-addressed, stamped envelope with her request.

The causes of eczema and Psoriasis are probably the same as the cure depends on exactly the same treatment for both. These diseases are apparently due to irritants in the fluids of the body which seek an outlet through the skin and mucous membrane. Such skin troubles undoubtedly arise from toxemia which is produced by the use of wrong food combinations over a course of years and by the use of an excessive amount of such heating foods as sugars and starches. The two foods which are likely to cause the greatest troubles in those who are susceptible are oatmeal and buckwheat cereals.

A short fruit fast is always an advantage in the beginning of dieting for these conditions. In the after diet it is important to omit sugars and starches for a long time until the skin is clear, being sure to use plenty of the alkaline-forming foods and vegetables.

The use of sun baths or local treatments over the affected area with ultra-violet light is often helpful. When the scalp is affected, it is advisable to cut the hair short so that the rays can penetrate the scalp without interference. The local effect is often rapidly improved with a correct diet when the ultra-violet light is used; the action of the sun is a little slower. It should be remembered that these diseases can never be entirely cured until the systematic causes are removed. Local treatments to the skin are only helpful to the skin inasmuch as they improve the skin action, promote cleanliness, and allay irritation.

Here are some articles which I will be glad to send to any of my readers who will send me a large, self-addressed envelope and a two-cent stamp for each article desired: Skin Disorders, Babies' Eczema, Cleansing Diet, Sun Baths, and Food Combinations.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Polypi

Question—Mrs. B. asks: "Would any kind of diet help to discourage the growth of polypi? They have been removed surgically several times, but always grow again."

Answer—A diet taken to cure catarrhal trouble will often reduce nasal polypi through removing the irritating discharge from the nasal passages. Such a treatment should be combined with ultra-violet light treatments directly to the polypi.

Mono Diet

Question—B. L. D. asks: "Would any benefit be dervide from the use of only one kind of food at a meal."

Answer—All of our study about food combinations would be unnecessary if we could be satisfied to live on a mono diet. Under this plan one would eat only one kind of food at a time and as much as desired. The time for meals would be irregular, depending entirely upon the return of hunger. This is the way most of the wild animals eat, and it seems to be the natural way, but does not fit in with our hurry-up age when all of our hours must be regulated. Under our present plan of living it seems almost necessary to plan for having meals at certain times, and those who try the mono diet plan soon return to using a mixed diet. Centuries of habits are hard to overcome quickly, and a reformer is liable to lose all of his friends if he changes to too radical a mode of living.

Excessive Perspiration

Question—M. Y. asks: "What measures would be most beneficial to one troubled with excessive perspiration, especially in the armpits?"

Answer—Take at least two sponge baths daily. Rub the skin briskly with a coarse towel each time, also increase elimination of toxins through the lungs, kidneys and bowels.

Business Leader Sees Better Times

Special to The Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., Aug. 17.—Predictions of increased retail business this fall were made by J. D. Curreathers of the Curreathers Department store here. Mr. Curreathers is president of the American Retailers association, and spoke before the annual convention in session in St. Louis this week.

Mr. Curreathers says, "during the past year retail business has found more leaks and short cuts and made greater strides toward putting its house in order than for many years. Consumers are understocked on nearly all commodities, and will buy just as soon as work in different lines is started."

S. J. BARNETT OF EASTLAND MEDALIST IN ELECTRA TOURNEY

COUNTRY CLUB PLAY OPENED

Strong Field Shows Up In Qualifying Round

By FRED THOMPSON
Record News Sports Editor

ELECTRA, Texas, Aug. 17.—Not satisfied with a perfect par 36 on the first nine, S. J. Barnett, the Eastland, Texas, sharpshooter, swung around the back nine in 34, two under par, to win medalist honors in the second annual invitation golf tournament of the Electra Country club here today.

Barnett led a strong field in the qualifying round, which started Sunday. An unprecedented number of entries included some of the outstanding sharks of the links in this section, and Electra is host to the most successful tournament ever sponsored here. Eighty-three entered.

Barnett, who defeated James Smith in a match that went four extra holes, to win the recent Coleman Country club tournament, and who also was medalist in the West Texas Golf association's tournament at Lubbock recently, sunk three birdies on the back nine today.

His card:

Par	434	454	543—36
In	433	544	544—36
Out	435	354	433—34—70

Smith Shoots 74

Smith, who hails from Ranger, was close on Barnett's heels today with a 74, but he was not alone in the 74 class. James Parr, Electra; Bill Wright, Mineral Wells, and George Meredith, Eastland, defending champion of the Electra club, shot the same score. A 74 last year won medalist honors for Jack Parr, brother of James, and who also lives in Electra.

Billie Holmes of Electra trailed these giants with a 75, and 10 others stayed in the 70 class, an indication of the great brand of golf displayed in the medal rounds.

Barnett's sensational medal score was equalled today, but the feat was accomplished by a pro, Phil Hessler, professional of the Wichita Falls Golf and Country club. Hessler shot a 35 on each nine, one under par, for a 70, but his professional ranking barred him from participation.

10 Wichitans Enter

Ten other Wichitans entered the tournament, including among their number several threats. L. T. (Bobby) Burns, who won the third flight championship at the Glen Garden Country club tournament in Fort Worth recently; and Bob Peck, who took second flight honors in the same tournament, are expected to give Meredith the most trouble. Burns former West Texas champion, shot a 78 and Peck a 76 today.

In the driving contest held late today, John Marriott of Electra was first with an aggregate of 667 yards in three shots. George Meredith was second with 657 yards.

Match play will start early Tuesday morning. There will be two flights of 32 players each, and one flight of 16 players.

Tonight the golfers were guests at a barbecue and a stag smoker, and the Calcutta pool was held.

BUCS TAKE EARLY LEAD

Spree Nets Five Runs In First Frame

Special to The Record News.

GALVESTON, Aug. 17.—Bouncing Marvin Ferrell and Dick Florrid in the early innings, the Galveston Pirates went on a rampage here tonight to defeat the Wichita Falls Spudders, 7 to 6.

They scored five runs in the first inning to take a commanding lead.

The victory gave the Pirates a game edge in the series, the teams having divided a double-header on Sunday.

After Allday's center field single had had to suffice in the first inning for Wichita Falls, and after Marvin Ferrell had walked Ballew and fanned Speer and Cox, Beau Bell hit a neat left field double to score Ballew and this seemed to send the young pitcher off his equilibrium. McGhee singled to left scoring Bell. Ferrell walked the next two men, and with the bases drunk and two balls on Wilson, Florrid relieved Ferrell and finished walking Wilson, scoring McGhee. Cromer got to first—believe it or not—on an interference by the catcher and Molesworth scored. Florrid walked Ballew, (Ballew's second walk of the inning), and April tallied. White relieved Florrid and fanned Speer to retire the side.

Fuss Gets Single

Fuss' hit had to satisfy the Spudders in the second. In the Buc's half Cox singled to right but Bell hit into a double play. McGhee singled to right and went to second on Allday's wild throw to first. Molesworth doubled down the third base line, scoring McGhee. April fanned to end the frame.

The Spuds scored two in the third. White singled, Gerken singled, Allday walked and Stanton walked, scoring White. Badgro singled to right, scoring Gerken and Allday was thrown out at home on the same play. Pipkin relieved Cromer and fanned Hungling and caused Fuss to roll out. Galveston also scored in this frame when Ballew walked after Wilson had rolled and Speer doubled to deep left center to score Ballew. Cox rolled out to retire the side.

Spuds Score Again

In the fourth, Scharein walked, Euller struck out, White walked and Gerken singled to center to score Scharein. Allday's center field single failed to add a tally. Buck Stanton struck out. Badgro walked, scoring White. Hungling singled to left, scoring Gerken but Allday was thrown out at the plate on the same play, Cox to April. At last a Galveston half inning passed with only a walk and a stolen base, both belonging to Molesworth, to interrupt the procession of outs. In the fifth the Spuds went out in order, Euller fanning again. So did the Buccaneers.

The sixth found the Spudders out in order again. Both teams seemed fatigued from their early innings dissipation, for Galveston also took three fast outs.

In the seventh, after Stanton had flied out to left, Badgro beat out a short infield hit and went to second on Pipkin's wild throw to first. He went to third on Hungling's infield out to retire the side. The Bucs took three straight fly-outs.

Euller's single started the eighth. White fouled out to Wilson, Gerken rolled out and so did Allday.

In Galveston's half, Ballew's speed gave him an infield hit and a stolen base after two were out, but Speer fouled out to left to end things.

Stanton's single started the ninth. Badgro singled to the same area, Stanton going to second. Hungling bunted a fluke hit down the third base line, Seidler relieved Pipkin. Fuss' short roller was used by Seidler to throw Stanton out at home. Bloxsom went to run for Hungling at second. Scharein's foul fly was gobbled up by McGhee. Euller rolled out, Ballew to McGhee to end the game.

CUBS WHIP BRAVES TWICE

Chicago in Second Place After Twin Win

BOSTON, Aug. 17. (AP)—The Cubs moved into second place in the National league race today by taking their second double-header from the Braves in two days, 6 to 1, and 3 to 2. Pat Malone had little trouble with the Tribal bats in the first game. Randy Moore figured prominently in the second game. His triple in the eighth sent in two runs to tie the score while his wild throw in the 10th undid the good work by giving Grimm a life. Charley scored later on Bell's single. Scores:

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Aug. 17. (AP)—Cotton was lower today under liquidation or reselling by buyers of late last week.

December contracts sold off to 7.12 or 25 points net lower and closed at 7.18 with the general market closing steady at net declines of 18 to 22 points.

There was some covering and trade buying which absorbed initial offerings but prices worked gradually lower and the market was comparatively quiet with prices responding to correspondingly small orders.

The action of the stock market probably encouraged some selling of cotton through Wall street and local sources, and there was some New Orleans selling here during the day, although very little hedging was reported in the local market. A tropical storm to be central this morning between Porto Rico and St. Croix moving northwestward, was reported to be of small diameter and evidently caused no apprehension.

Liverpool and the continent both were credited with selling here during the early trading. Liverpool cables said the decline in that market had been due to local and Bombay liquidation but that the demand for cotton cloths from China was maintained. Port receipts today 6,744 bales. U. S. port stocks 2,733,434. Exports today 23,685, making 83,396 so far this season.

Futures closed steady, 18 to 22 points lower; spot quiet; middling 6.85.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 17. (AP)—Cotton worked toward lower levels in today's moderate trading. Cables were much lower than due, the decline abroad being attributed to fresh political disturbances in India.

To poor cables were added an easier stock market and liquidation by recent buyers. Following an opening decline of 15 to 17 points, prices continued to ease off until around midsession they showed losses compared with the previous close of 27 to 28 points. After midsession, the market was slightly steadier on the appearance of a storm in the southwest Gulf of Mexico which it was thought would bring considerable rain. The market fluctuated narrowly within the earlier range most of the afternoon and appeared to be without definite incentive in either direction. The close was steady, the general market showing net declines for the day of 23 to 24 points.

Liverpool came in 11 to 12 penny points worse than due and private cables reported that there was local and Bombay selling as well as hedging. Manchester cabled the cloth demand from China was being maintained.

Port receipts 6,500; for week 12,259; for season 44,368; last season 229,970. Exports 15,620; for week 25,795; for season 79,326; last season 119,607. Port stocks 2,728,434; last year 1,631,428. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 31,542; last year 32,081. Spot sales at southern markets 6,882; last year 20,074.

Futures closed steady at net declines of 23 to 24 points.

Wool goods were in moderate demand, silk goods were in better call for the day from the cutting trades. Burlaps were steady.

Double-Barreled Dose of Adverse News Influences Market Reaction

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Aug. 17. (US)—The stock market suffered a reaction today which was brought about, first, by the too-rapid advance in the latter stages of last week's advance and, secondly, by the nervousness inspired by the closing of several important mid-western banks. Even the constructive forces had been anticipating a reaction as far back as Friday, and Saturday's market was somewhat of a disappointment in that it reflected largely aggressive pool activity which seemingly was carrying prices ahead at an unwarranted pace.

No uninterrupted upturn is to be expected under prevailing conditions and anything which tends to disrupt the technical position of the market will provide ample reason for a setback.

The bank news came as a surprise and perhaps shock to a large part of the general public, and this brought in considerable selling. However, the banking community has been aware of the situation and of others, and had taken means of preventing widespread repercussions of serious nature. There is no mystery attached to the frozen status of banks in various parts of the country, and in this respect, the banking situation is less threatening than might be the case if large-scale and entirely unexpected trouble were to develop.

The British situation remained virtually unchanged and commodities took their cue from stocks.

Volume for the day, 1,300,000 shares, evidenced only a normal amount of liquidation, and there were signs that short-selling had been renewed on relatively sizeable scale. However, such selling currently reflects the sudden shift of sentiment in the trading community and because of this is less significant than it might be under different circumstances. Then, too, the better-organized and managed bull pools have been anticipating a sizeable reaction and had prepared for any emergencies. Certainly, the selling which developed today was not by concerted bear groups.

Only a few issues were exempt from the weakness and the greatest declines naturally developed in those stocks which had proved leaders of last week's upturn. Case closed 5½ points net lower, American Can four, Steel 3½.

Although some of the weaker pools may have become somewhat overloaded the greater number of such operations are still intact and undoubtedly will make further efforts to extend their gains of last week. Although trade news over the week-end showed little improvement it is widely recognized that the basis for any further improvement in the market exists primarily in its technical condition and on hopes for betterment in business news to develop over the next month or so.

Railroad shares were particularly weak and their decline was of different nature than that which was witnessed in industrials and utilities, where substantial gains in many instances had unsettled their price structure. Rails were under liquidation and confirmed opinion frequently expressed that investment buying is being delayed until decision is reached on the rate-wage questions. Then, too, one of the leading statistical organizations revised downward its estimate of 1931 earnings of principal roads.

The new estimates per-share follow: Atchison $9.60; Baltimore & Ohio $3.30; Canadian Pacific $1.60; C. & O. $4.10; Rock Island $2.60; Erie 50 cents; Illinois Central, nothing; Missouri Pacific $2.80; New York Central $4.50; New Haven $5.90; Pennsylvania $2.30; Southern Pacific $5.50; Southern railway, nothing; Union Pacific $13.20; Western Maryland 30 cents.

Maintenance of a sizeable short account in the market would provide basis for additional constructive operations pending more cheering trade developments. Steel common today commanded a premium of 1-32 for borrowing purposes. Electric Auto-Lite was particularly harmed by the Toledo bank suspensions notwithstanding its president's assertion that it had foreseen the difficulties. Control of Willys-Overland may be involved in the bank difficulties, according to report. Ludlum Steel company reported a net profit of $23,000 for the first half of 1931, compared with a loss of $95,000 in the same period last year; the stock closed unchanged.

Renewal of aggressive sponsorship for individual stocks will undoubtedly develop in the absence of any overwhelmingly unfavorable news. In this respect, it was reported that Radio corporation common was exceedingly well-bought. The stock is speculative, but it has always enjoyed highly aggressive sponsorship whenever the general market permits, and of late there has been most persistent demand for the stock, especially on reasonably moderate setback in price.

Public utility shares were also reported impressively taken on reactions. These stocks as a group enjoy reasonable stability of earnings as an argument in their favor and certainly, if the uptrend is to be maintained, the utilities must participate. Consolidated Gas, Electric Power, Louisville Gas & Electric, were reported among the more favored issues in the group.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Aug. 17. (AP)—Demand was steady for grains on the cash grain market today. Prices were unchanged to slightly lower.

Exporters were bidding 47¼@48¼c for wheat delivered at Galveston. Milling wheat, basis delivery at Galveston, ranged as follows: No. 1 ordinary hard 49¼@51¼c; No. 1 hard 14 per cent protein 50¾@52¼c; No. 1 hard 15 per cent protein 51¾@53¼c; No. 1 hard 16 per cent protein 52¾@54¼c.

Quotations on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads f. o. b. Texas shipping points.

Corn—No. 2 mixed 41@43c; No. 2 white 43@45c; No. 2 yellow 43@45c.

Oats—No. 2 red 15½@16½c.

Barley—No. 2 20@23c.

Sorghums—No. 2 yellow milo 47@52c per 100 pounds; No. 2 kaffir 45@50c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 17. (AP)—Adversely affected by Toledo bank failures and by stock market unsettlement, prices of all grains turned downward today. Wheat was also weighed upon by 3,006,000 bushels increase of the United States wheat visible supply, making a new all time peak total, 223,949,000 bushels against 175,020,000 a year ago. Persistent liquidating sales carried September corn down to a fresh bottom for the season.

Wheat closed nervous ¼@1 cent lower than Saturday's finish, corn ⅝@⅞c down, oats ¼@½c off, and provisions varying from two cents decline to five cents advance.

Until grain traders' attention focused on Toledo bank failures, the general tendency both of wheat and corn was higher. We weather in Europe pointing to a crop deterioration and to harvest delay was a bullish factor, and there was continued notice of possible discontinuance of food rationing in Russia, implying likelihood of enlarged export demand for wheat from North America.

Corn and oats dipped with wheat despite the fact that corn primary receipts were only 849,000 bushels compared with 1,503,000 a year ago and notwithstanding renewal of drouth complaints from various sections of the corn belt.

Provisions were governed mainly by the course of hog values.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Aug. 17. (AP)—Sentiment in wool market is fairly confident, even though business is slower than in July. Wool men are inclined to welcome the slack in trading because it will give them opportunity to get caught up on rading and deliveries of wools, sold during the recent movement. Receipts of domestic wool at Boston for week ending August 14 amounted to 5,193,600 pounds as compared with 9,126,700 pounds during previous week.

KATY RAILROAD SLICES WAGES

Employes Accept Temporary Salary Cuts

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 17. (INS)—A general reduction in salaries of officers and employes of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad went into effect Saturday, it was announced at the railroad's offices here today. The reductions range from 10 to 20 per cent. The new wage rates are not permanent and former levels are to be restored whenever conditions warrant, the announcement stated.

In an effort to prevent further curtailment of employment, officers and those in supervisory capacities earning more than $5,000 a year have accepted the largest decreases ranging up to 20 per cent and those earning below $5,000 10 per cent, according to the announcement.

The new wage policy will not affect those workers whose wages are covered by agreements with organizations of which they are members, nor will it cause any reduction in the wages of organized clerks and others who for some months have been working five days a week and receiving pay on a five-day week basis, it was said.

The general business depression as reflected in decreased car loadings and diminishing revenues necessitated the reductions, the statement said. One of the causes for the new wage policy given was the low price of wheat, which it was explained, is having a tendency to hold up a large part of the grain movement, which had been counted on to offset much of the loss in tonnage due to veneral conditions.

It was pointed out that a reduction in salaries would be preferable to any further reduction in working force and thus adding to the unemployment.

MINE DEATH TRIALS SET

30 Murder Charges on Kentucky Docket

HARLAN, Ky., Aug. 17. (AP)—Opening of the August term of Harlan circuit court here today paved the way for a long legal fight in prospect over whether more than 30 men shall die in the electric chair as a result of mine labor troubles in the Harlan county coal fields.

Murder indictments against most of the men grew out of a clash near Evarts last May 5 in which two deputy sheriffs, a mine commissary clerk and a miner were fatally shot. Another murder indictment is faced by William N. Burnett, miner, charged with the fatal shooting of Deputy Sheriff Jess Pace several days before the Evarts shooting. The murder indictments top the docket of 335 cases.

Many of the other indictments, most of them resulting from a special grand jury's investigation at the time state troops were sent into the coal fields, charge offenses including robbery, banding and confederating and criminal syndicalism.

Mexican Masons Deny Charge Against Governor

DURANGO CITY, Mexico, Aug. 17. (AP)—The Masonic lodge of Durango today sent a message to all other Masonic organizations in Mexico denying charges that Gov. Jose Ramon Valdes had permitted violations of the religious laws by the Catholic clergy and attributing efforts to depose him to political intrigue.

The lodge announced its full support of Governor Valdes and termed the action of the federal congress, in trying to oust him, a violation of the state's sovereignty.

TEXT OF ETEX OIL SHUTDOWN

Governor Cites Perils Of Insurrection

AUSTIN, Aug. 17. (AP)—Governor Ross S. Sterling declared martial law for the East Texas oil field at 6 a. m. with the following proclamation:

"Whereas, section 39-A article 16 of the constitution of the state of Texas declares that the preservation, conservation and development of all of the natural resources of this state are each and all public rights and duties and;

"Whereas, the legislature in the act effective Aug. 12, 1931, declared the law of Texas to be: 'Neither natural gas nor crude petroleum shall be produced, transported, stored or used in such manner or under such conditions as to constitute waste'; and

"Whereas, crude petroleum oil and natural gas are natural resources of this state; and

"Whereas, from facts presented to me by many responsible citizens including resolutions adopted at a meeting of producers and royalty owners of East Texas oil field Aug. 14, 1931, and representations made by a committee of citizens who called upon me and submitted facts as to the conditions that obtained in said East Texas oil field, it is evident that:

State of Insurrection

"There exists an organized and entrenched group of crude petroleum oil and natural gas producers in said East Texas oil field, covering areas within the counties of Upshur, Rusk, Gregg and Smith who are in a state of insurrection against the conservation laws of the state relating to the prevention of waste of crude petroleum oil and natural gas, and are in open rebellion against the efforts of the constituted civil authorities of this state to enforce such laws; and that,

"As evidenced by a telegram in my hands from the sheriff of Rusk county, the sheriffs of the counties in the district defined have not a sufficient force, and under the very nature of our government could not have a sufficient force to compel operators and producers of crude petroleum oil and natural gas to obey said law, it being utterly impossible with the forces at the command of the sheriffs or other civil authorities to enforce either the orders of the railroad commission of Texas or the laws pertaining to the waste of crude petroleum oil or natural gas against an entrenched group of insurrectionists such as are violating the law in the territory defined; and that.

Resources Wasted

"The first called session of the 42nd legislature enacted a new conservation law amending existing statutes; and in order to give the railroad commission of Texas sufficient time to have hearings and promulgate proper orders providing for the conservation of crude petroleum oil and natural gas in the district above defined during which time without the presence of protecting authority the crude petroleum oil and natural gas in said district are being unlawfully dissipated and wasted and the land owners and royalty owners being robbed of their royalties by unscrupulous and lawless producers, transporters and operators; and that

"By reason of the reckless, unlawful and criminal handling of producing wells in said district, water is being rapidly drawn into the oil sands, thereby creating enormous physical waste of crude petroleum oil and more than 1,000,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas, rich in gasoline content, are being wasted, all of which causes a great loss of revenue to this state, and does, and will affect the welfare of our educational institutions, including our common schools, eleemosynary institutions, and each and every state department of the state government and will increase the burdens of taxation upon our people generally; and that

"The existing condition has brought about a state of public feeling on the part of citizens, that if the state government can not or fails to protect the public interest and the interest of the land and royalty owners they will attempt to take the law into their own hands, and by force of arms shut down the producing oil wells in said defined district until the state can and will enforce the conservation laws: and that

"In at least one instance, as reported to me, an oil company operating in said defined district has ordered representatives of the oil and gas division of the railroad commission of Texas who were performing their lawful and official duties from their leases; and

"Whereas this condition has caused threats or acts of violence on the part of indignant and responsible citizens against those who openly, flagrantly and rebelliously violate the laws and defy the constitutional civil authorities of this state; and,

"Whereas, a state of insurrection, tumult, riot and breach of the peace does exist in the defined area; and

"Whereas, in addition to the insurrection, tumult, riot and breach of the peace that does now exist in the said defined area, there is now imminent danger of said insurrection, tumult, riot and breach of the peace threatening serious danger to citizens and their property being extended in the territory heretofore described, but in other areas of this state where oil and natural gas is being produced by operators who are obeying the laws relating to the conservation of crude petroleum oil and natural gas; and.

Preservation Move

"Whereas, it is necessary for the preservation of the crude petroleum oil and natural gas in the defined district that the reckless and illegal exploitation of the same be stopped until such time as the said resources may be properly conserved and developed under the protection of the civil authorities; and,

"Whereas, section 10 of article four of the constitution of the state of Texas makes it the duty of the governor of the state to 'cause the laws to be faithfully executed;' and,

"Whereas, section seven of article four of the constitution of the state of Texas makes the governor of this state the commander-in-chief of the military forces of this state, and gives him 'power to call forth the militia to execute the laws of this state;'

"Now therefore, I, R. S. Sterling, governor of the state of Texas, and commander-in-chief of the military forces of this state, do by virtue of the authority vested in me under the constitution and laws of this state declare that the conditions above described do exist and are clearly violative of the constitution and laws of this state, and that by reason of this the conditions contemplated in article 5889 of the revised civil statutes of Texas of 1925 exist in the following described territory, to-wit:

"The counties of Gregg, Upshur, Rusk and Smith in the state of Texas.

"And I do hereby declare martial law in said territory, effective at 6 a. m. the seventeenth day of August, A. D. 1931; and I hereby direct Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters to assume supreme command of the situation in the territory affected and without delay shut down each and every producing crude oil well and producing well of natural gas and to further take such steps as he may deem necessary to enforce and uphold the majesty of the law, subject to the order of the governor of Texas and commander-in-chief of the military forces of this state, as given through the adjutant general.

"Ross S. Sterling.
"Governor of Texas."

BENNETT BOUNCES

'Red' Released to Newark Nine by Fort Worth Officials

FORT WORTH, Aug. 17. (AP)—Release of Fred (Red) Bennett by Fort Worth to Newark of the International league was announced by Ted W. Robinson, president of the Panthers, this afternoon.

Arrangements under which Bennett went to Newark weren't announced, but, as he becomes a free agent at the end of the season, it makes little difference. He was sent to Fort Worth less than three weeks ago by the Pittsburgh Pirates. Lil Stoner was sent to the same team last week.

City Ordinance Reducing Gas Rate Passed on Second Reading by Council

Members of the city council Monday night carried forward the program inaugurated one week ago toward the establishment of lower domestic gas rates here, passing on its second reading the ordinance providing that a 50-cent rate become effective in Wichita Falls on Oct. 1, and adopting a resolution asking the aid of the state railroad commission in obtaining permanent reductions in prevailing rates.

The resolution, according to Mayor Walter Nelson Jr., is being adopted by almost 600 member cities of the Texas League of Municipalities. It cites the allegedly excessive rates now in effect in many cities, refers to the recent act of the 42nd legislature giving the railroad commission full power to determine just rates for utilities, and asks that the commission begin its investigations immediately. An appropriation of about $80,000 will be available on Aug. 22, it was explained, for the use of the railroad commission in prosecuting such a statewide investigation.

The ordinance providing for semi-annual payment of city taxes for 1931 was passed on its second reading, as was also the ordinance governing the use of electric fans or wire screen to keep flies out of fruit and vegetable markets.

The application of J. N. Hobbs for permission to establish a grocery business at the rear of 1322 North Eighth street will be advertised during this week, and will receive a public hearing at the meeting of the council next Monday night, it was voted.

City Manager R. V. Smitham was authorized to accept as surety from the First National bank, city depository, United States Liberty and Federal Land Bank bonds with a market value of 20 per cent in excess of the city's daily balance. It was stipulated that the bonds are to be deposited in the trust department of the First National bank, and that the city accept that department's receipt for the bonds.

Women Net Stars Win Opening Round

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 17. (AP)—The Moodys, the Nuthalls and the Jacobs of the women's tennis world had little difficulty sailing through the opening round of the 44th annual women's national championship at Forest Hills today.

Fifteen domestic and foreign seeded stars and as many lesser lights polished off their preliminary opposition during the afternoon, cutting the field to 32 players for second round tomorrow.

The lone seeded player to fall by the wayside was the Baroness Giacomo Levi of Rome and New York, who lost to Virginia Hilleary of Philadelphia 6-3, 6-4. Although she was unseeded, Miss Hilleary is at present ranked No. 4 in America.

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, six-time champion and favorite to lift the crown now worn by Betty Nuthall of England, led the parade through the first round with a 6-0, 6-0 triumph over Edith Sigourney of Boston. Only slightly less impressive was the 6-2, 6-1 victory scored by Miss Nuthall over Mrs. B. F. Stenz of Garden City.

Helen Jacobs, California's second bid for the title, chopped her way to an easy victory over Mae Ceurvorst of Wichita, Kan., 6-2, 6-2.

GRASSHOPPERS FED CHICKS

FLORENCE, Colo. (UP)—The big stockyards that utilize every part of the pig except the squeal have nothing on Florence farmers. Bothered by an invasion of grasshoppers, the farmers invented numerous contrivances to catch the pests in wholesale numbers, dried them in the sun, after which they made excellent chicken feed.

TEXAN ADMITS BANK HOLDUP

Prisoner Describes Robbery At Kirbyville

LUFKIN, Texas, Aug. 17. (AP)—Sheriff A. G. Maxwell, of Jasper, announced today that Claude Woods had made a full confession to robbing the state bank at Kirbyville of $6,000 Saturday.

Sheriff Maxwell passed through Lufkin today with Woods and Wayne Castor, who are under arrest in connection with the case.

Woods, Sheriff Maxwell said, told of robbing the bank with the aid of an accomplice and escaping in a stolen car. This car was left at the edge of town and Woods continued his flight in his own car.

Woods had $3,400 in a satchel when arrested. Castor had $215. Castor led officers to a place near Henderson where he had hidden $3,300 in a sack.

The bank claimed it lost but $6,000. The prisoners said the other money was their own.

VICTIMS MADE KNIFE TARGET

Assailants Hurl Blades Into Three New Yorkers

NEW YORK, Aug. 17. (AP)—Police today revealed details of what they called the most brutal murder in Brooklyn crime annals, the killing of three men who were made targets for knives in a speakeasy cellar.

The victims, Charles Maturo, Charles Simminelli and Joseph Barberi, were found dead in the cellar last Friday, their heads crushed and their bodies covered with knife wounds.

Police said today an eyewitness had told them how it happened. The man said two girls had been assaulted in the speakeasy and returned with six men friends, identifying Maturo, Simminelli and Barberi as the men who had attacked them.

One by one, the witness said, the accused men were taken to the cellar where they were made to sit on a chair while the six avengers hurled knives and stillettos. Each murder was committed with blackjacks.

The eyewitness said he happened to be in the place at the time and when he saw what was happening he slipped under a table and watched. Working on the information he gave, police expected to make arrests today.

Negro Boy Held For Theft of Prize Cats

The fondness of a 10-year-old negro boy for cats resulted in his being turned over to the county juvenile officer early Monday night after the boy had taken two prize kittens belonging to a cat fancier residing on Eleventh street.

The boy was taken into custody after the owner, a man who appeared to be in the 70's, issued a frantic call for police. When Officers A. L. Stubblefield and Bob Miller arrived on the scene, the negro boy had been captured and was being held by a white youth of similar age.

After an automobile ride of several blocks, the negro led the officers to his own home and to the home of a white youth. A kitten was recovered at each place.

Five complaints charging misdemeanors were filed Monday by County Attorney Louis V. Abernathy, he announced, and one defendant was fined $1 and given one day in jail on a plea of guilty before Judge Irvin J. Vogel in the county court at law on a charge of swindling by check.

Boasting of having stolen kisses from a local woman some weeks ago reacted unfavorably upon a Wichita Falls man when a complaint charging aggravated assault was filed. One man also was charged with violation of the narcotic law. Two men were charged with indecent exposure of the person, one of whom was alleged to have taken his swim au naturel near Burkburnett recently in a mixed crowd at an outing. The fifth complaint charges vagrancy.

Gasoline Blaze Burns Wichita Boy

Arthur Blanchard, 6, was severely burned at his home Monday morning when his clothes caught fire from burning gasoline. He was taken to the Wichita General hospital after the accident for treatment of injuries to his arms and legs.

The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Curley Blanchard, 301 Live Oak street. He and a small friend were playing in the home, it was said, when the playmate struck a match to a small quantity of gasoline that had been spilled on the floor. The sudden burst of flame from the gasoline ignited the child's clothing.

An aunt, Mrs. Ivy Wilson, extinguished the blazing clothing by quickly enveloping the boy in a blanket. The flames on the floor were extinguished before damage was caused.

The injured boy probably will be confined at the hospital for several days, attendants said.

Stepdaughter Strums Ukulele Over Body of Murdered Man

CAPTAINA, Ohio, Aug. 17. (UP)—Ottie Morris, 16-year-old hill girl, strummed the strings of a ukulele while her step-father's body, battered and blood-stained, stretched out on the ground in front of her, testifying to murder that had been committed because "he hung around her too much."

Ottie, her mother, Mrs. Laura Van Dyne, and her two uncles, Jess and Alvin Morris, were arrested today, as they read a week-old newspaper on the lean-to porch of their cabin a mile away.

They readily confessed, Sheriff Howard Duff said, to killing Elmer Van Dyne, 38, because "he hung around" his estranged wife "too much."

The victim's body was discovered by neighbors three hours after the brothers had taken it from their cabin and tossed it in the scrubbery yard of the widow's home. There it lay while Mrs. Van Dyne and her daughter went about their tasks, Ottie to strum the ukelele and the mother to perform the chores.
