Colorado City, Loraine & Westbrook

Answerline

Q. Just exactly how big is the State of Texas?

A. At 268,601 square miles, Texas is the largest state in the contiguous United States and is the second biggest state in the U.S. (only Alaska is bigger). Texas is larger than many nations of the world, including every country in Europe. If it were a country, it would be the 40th largest country in the world, after Chile and Zambia.

Sanchez named head coach at Loraine ISD for next year

According to Loraine Superintendent Brandon McDowell, Eric Sanchez has been promoted and will serve as the district's head coach next year.

Sanchez has been an assistant coach and the boys' basketball coach for the past three years. McDowell said he thinks the new position will be a good fit.

Coach
Eric Sanchez

"I think it will be good for him and good for the kids," McDowell said Tuesday.

Sanchez is already quite familiar with the sports program in Loraine, as he has been a part of all the boys' sports.

McDowell said that he will be looking for another assistant coach to add to the school's staff or possibly a head basketball coach, depending on the applicants.

Former head coach Kyle Hauk and his wife, Monica who served as assistant coach, resigned amidst controversy last month. Students and parents were in an uproar about the Hauks leaving LISD, and a few students even held a protest.

It had been said that the Hauks were fired, but McDowell See COACH, page 5

Behind the Door Tour to be held Saturday

Have you ever wondered about some of the buildings downtown? Have you ever wanted to go into some of those buildings to see what is rarely seen? If you answered yes, Main Street has an event to satisfy those yearnings.

The Main Street Behind the Door Tour will take place on Saturday, May 21st from 6 to 8 p.m., and everyone is encouraged to come out and take the tour to see and learn some of the history about them.

The event will be a walking tour of downtown buildings with historic stories. A reception will be held at the last stop, which is the residence of Ty and Amie Wood. The residence was once a livery stable, a firehouse and more.

Hundreds of motorcycles to ride through during Run for the Wall

The sound of rolling thunder will fill the air on Saturday, May 21st, as hundreds of motorcycle riders will come to Colorado City for a Run for the Wall ceremony. The annual event brings a large crowd to the Railroad Building for lunch, and local veterans, their families and all the community are invited to attend. Riders go across the nation from California to the Vietnam Memorial Wall in the ride that is known as Run for the Wall. With a new route added last year, Colorado City is a stop along the southern route.

The air will be filled with exceptional patriotism, as those gathered will remember, honor and celebrate those who gave so much for freedom. There are 58,267 names now listed on the Vietnam Memorial Wall in the nation's capital, including three sets of fathers and sons on the See WALL, page 5

Runoff Election early voting underway

Early voting in the Texas Primary Runoff Election began Monday, May 16th and continues through Friday, May 20th. According to County Clerk Debby Carlock, 110 votes had been cast as of Tuesday at 2:30 p.m.

Carlock said that 67 Republican votes had been cast in person and 22 by mail. Zero Democratic votes had been cast in person, but 21 had been received by mail.

The county clerk clarified an issue about the runoff election. She said if a voter voted in the Primary Election on March 1st (Republican or Democratic), then the voter must vote the same party's ballot in the runoff. If a voter did not vote in the Primary Election on March 1st, then the voter may vote in either party's runoff election.

There's only one local race to be decided by the runoff. Kenney See VOTING, page 5

AN EVENING OUT - (l-r) Paul, Margaret and Susan Barr enjoying platters of crawfish, shrimp, sausage, potatoes and corn before settling in to hear some fabulous jazz music performed on the Colorado City Opera House stage. The dinner and a show was a fundraiser for the opera house.

C-CITY HURLER - Lady Wolves pitcher sophomore Tamren Pierce limited Early to six hits and got nine strikeouts in game two and struck out nine Lady Longhorns in game one to do her part to assist the Lady Wolves in their two-game sweep last week. The girls will face Shallowater in Seminole on Friday and Saturday in the Regional Semifinals.

Lady Wolves face Mustangs in play-offs

The Lady Wolves, fresh off a two game sweep of Early Lady Longhorns, head north to do battle with the Shallowater Lady Mustangs in the Regional Semifinals State Softball Class 3-A playoffs.

Game one is set for 6:30 p.m. in Seminole on Friday with game two set for 11 a.m. on Saturday, and game three, if necessary, to follow game 2. The winner of this contest will play the winner of the Clyde - Kermit game for the Regional Championship and a trip to the state softball tournament.

Two more victories and the Lady Wolves head to state! Shallowater is 29-5-1 while the Lady Wolves sport a 28-7 record.

Lady Wolves sophomore pitcher Tamren Pierce was the winning pitcher in the Lady Wolves' 28 victories this season.

Opera House crawfish fundraiser a big success

By any standards, last Friday's Crawfish and Jazz Show was a successful event!

Hundreds of pounds of crawfish, shrimp, sausage, potatoes and corn were boiled to perfection by Patrick Partin and Royce Clay, and hungry crowds ate it until it was gone. Then local entertainers, along with former CHS Jazz Band students, rocked the stage at the Colorado City Opera House to rave reviews.

Organizers of the event said the fundraiser for the opera house brought in over $1,400, all of which will be used for maintenance and stage light bulbs for the facility. According to board member Jan Lemons, there are no big renovation projects on the schedule, but monthly maintenance is key to keeping the facility ready for use.

The Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce and City

National Bank supplied the food for the meal, drastically cutting the overhead for the event. Colorado ISD and CNB provided the tables and chairs necessary to seat about 70 people backstage.

An offender work crew from the Wallace/Ware prison complex came into the opera house to make preparations for the setup, which was a big job. Couches and other large furniture had to be moved out of the way, and those putting on the event were grateful for the help.

In order for the entertainers to be able to take the stage, bandstands at the aging facility were rebuilt by TDCJ offenders and installed with the help of Juan Lopez and Domingo DeLaPaz. Lillie Funderburg and Raydene Brown were also instrumental in the event, as they took and sold tickets for all those attending.

LOCAL NEWS

Loraine one bright spot for county sale tax

Sales tax allocations were recently handed down by Texas Comptroller Glen Hegar. While most cities are still seeing decreases in payments when compared to a year ago, some places are seeing sales tax rebates getting closer to totals seen in 2015.

The City of Loraine is a particularly bright spot in the area regarding rebate payments. May's allocation of $4,450.50 is more than an 8% increase from the $4,100 received last year at this time.

City officials in Loraine don't have an explanation as to why the rebate total has gone up. City Secretary Jamie Muñoz said there have been a couple of new water connections lately, but there's no new businesses in town.

Muñoz said that she hopes the trend will continue, as more money for the city means better services for citizens. Overall, Loraine's rebates have decreased from 2015 totals by about 15%.

Colorado City's May sales tax allocation is down by nearly 10% when compared to May's payment in 2015. While that's not good, it's still better than what many city officials could have dreamed of a few months ago.

City Manager David Hoover said at the last city council meeting that the rebate revenue should be taking an upswing, as the new motels go into business. So far in 2016, Colorado City has received payments totaling over $44,000 less than last year's rebates at this time.

Westbrook's May payment of $1,175.23 is more than 30% less than the nearly $1,700 received in May of 2015. The news doesn't get any better for the year either. Last year in May, Westbrook had received over $34,128.68 from the comptroller's office. This year, only a little over $8,000 has been sent to Westbrook from Hegar's office.

Mitchell County saw an increase in the rebate payment for the first time in many months. The county's May payment was very close to the same amount as the payment made at this time last year. With May's rebate looking good, county officials are hoping to see more increases in the future.

In 2016, the county has received nearly $47,500 less when compared to the first three months of 2015.

May sales tax payments are based on sales made in March or during the first quarter of 2016 for companies who pay on a quarterly basis. The quarterly payments may account for some of the slight increases.

Hegar sent citizens, counties, transit systems and special purpose taxing districts $767.7 million in local sales tax allocations for May, 1.1 percent more than in May 2015.

"The citizens of Dallas, San Antonio, El Paso and Fort Worth saw noticeable increases in sales tax allocations," Hegar said. "Energy-centric cities such as Houston, Odessa and Midland continue to see decreases in sales tax allocations."

Memorial day events planned at state park

Lake Colorado City State Park Superintendent Kyle O'Haver has a couple of programs planned to memorialize veterans while providing family fun over the Memorial Day weekend. The programs will give people a way to enjoy their freedoms and honor those who lost their lives protecting those freedoms.

The activities will kick off at 9 a.m. on Saturday, May 28th, with a morning bird hike. The guided hike will last about two hours and should be finishing up around 11 a.m.

Join our morning guided bird hike as we first will give thanks to those that have served and lost their lives with a moment of silence under the American Flag," O'Haver said recently.

After paying respect to the brave, hikers will take off around the park to visit various habitats and learn about the birds found along the way. Anyone planning to attend should bring binoculars, scopes and cameras if possible to help enhance the program.

It is important that hikers wear weather-appropriate clothing and good footwear for hiking. As the morning progresses, hikers will carpool to a few spots and hike all around within the park. Terrain is expected to be easy to modest.

Later that evening, gather with visitors and staff All Around the Campfire as they pay respects in honor of Memorial Day with a moment of silence.

"As the wood crackles and the smoke rises, we will remember those we have lost while they served our country protecting the freedom we have to gather in this manner," O'Haver said.

All Around the Campfire will be held from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Stories will be told as everyone enjoys the setting sun.

A few packs of hotdogs, buns and marshmallows have been graciously donated for the event, so those attending can bring anything else to go with hotdogs and s'mores. Cooking will proceed over the fire as darkness sets in.

After dark, a portion of the camping trail will be hiked by all who are up for the adventure. The lone walk will be held with no flashlights to cap off the night.

For more information about this program or any others, follow Lake Colorado City State Park on Facebook. Also, any changes or updates on the day of the program will be posted there.

There is no cost for the program. Only the daily entrance fee of $4 per adult and children over 12 must be paid. Children 12 and younger get in free. Also, if you have a valid Texas State Park Pass, there is no charge.

For additional information or to reserve your spot in the program, call the park office at 325-728-3931.

MUD BUGS FOR ALL AGES — Hailey Hulme, a senior at CHS, served crawfish, shrimp, sausage, potatoes and corn to a table full of young boys during the opera house fundraiser, Crawfish and Jazz Show. Organizers were quite pleased with the turnout, as they served the meal until they ran out of food.

OPINION & COMMENTARY

TUMBLEWEED SMITH Another movie from Big Spring

Big Spring has made some movie history. The city has produced two movie stars: Jean Porter, who was popular in the 1940s and Betty Buckley, who had a career in movies and television.

The opening scenes of Midnight Cowboy, starring Jon Voight (his first movie) and Dustin Hoffman (his second movie), were filmed in Big Spring. Jon Voight was a popular figure around town and the moviemakers dropped a lot of cash in local stores.

Hangar 18, a movie about a spacecraft crashing to earth, was also filmed in Big Spring and starred Gary Collins, Robert Vaughn and James Hampton. A bunch of local 25-year olds made a movie in the 90's about reincarnation titled Hell is Texas. You can buy a DVD copy on Amazon for three dollars.

The latest movie from Big Spring is titled Project Mone't. It is about the enthusiasm of youth (applies to the filmmakers, both in their 30's) and the power of art (applies to the girl who is the subject of the movie). Desiree Mone't Ripple was born into a fractured family and was physically and sexually abused. She became homeless at age 14 and stayed in school for one reason; she could get food. She worked hard and graduated from Brewer High School in White Settlement at the age of 16. Within a few years she had left a bad marriage, had two kids and lived in a pickup. Suddenly things began to change. "When my daughter got sick, I was angry at God for the horrible life I was living," she says. "I told him if he would spare my child's life I would give him mine." She moved to Big Spring and enrolled in welding classes at Howard College. One night she had a dream that gave her explicit instructions on how to create a metal sculpture. Using scraps of metal from junkyards and dumps, she carefully fused the pieces together, each one representing a terrible incident in her life. When the work was finished, she felt a great sense of relief. She decided to tell her story in hopes it would help someone who was having difficulties. She put a notice on Facebook asking for a videographer to record her story and put it on the social network.

James Fite and Brandon Johnson, two Big Spring young men with aspirations of doing action movies, contacted Desi and interviewed her for five hours. Both men decided her story deserved more than just a video of an interview on Facebook. They spent a year making the movie at their own expense. It premiered a couple of weeks ago to a packed house. When the movie ended, there was stunned silence. The music, narration, interview and images of Desi making the sculpture formed a moving documentary. Project Mone't is a story that is told well. Desi now has a good job, a boyfriend, lives in a real home with her two children, and has an education and a bright future as an artist. At the premiere, Desi was dressed in a formal gown and looked like a movie star. She couldn't believe the attention she was getting. The lobby had a display of some of her artwork. Before the film started, she broke down in tears and told a friend, "Not too long ago I was homeless, getting food from a dumpster." The movie has been submitted for entry in 43 film festivals.

A sparrow on the church roof The ultimate sadness

By Monte Wike

This time, it was the Assembly of God in Colorado City, Texas, where I am the pastor/caretaker. The original building was built of cement block, and later a united was added to the side to make a "T-shaped" building.

In the front where the two units joined, was a nice front porch, but for some reason, the trim boards did not completely cover the walls of the old building, and there was a small gap there about an inch wide. One day I notice bird droppings running down the side of the building from that hole, and realized that some sparrows had built a nest. Every time I came and went I noticed this mess right by the front doors, and a Saturday came when I said, "That's it! I'll take care of those birds right now!"

So, I got some tin, hammer and nails, and white paint and covered that unsightly mess, good and proper!

That evening I came back to finish the sermon preparation for Sunday. As I approached the church, I noticed one lone sparrow pacing up and down on the roof. I felt kind of bad, but sure did not want them messing on the walls and porch floor any more.

When I got to the study, the sight that lonely sparrow kept coming back to me. So I got out the trusty Concordance and looked up "sparrow." There one of the two references stared me in the face:

"Yea, the sparrow hath found an house, and the swallow a nest for herself, where she may lay her young, even thine altars, O LORD of hosts, my King, and my God. Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be still praising thee. Selah." Psalm 84:3-4.

Sparrows like to build nests in church buildings! They have been at it for years! I remembered the Scripture, but had never applied it to the mess at the front door.

But I was not ready for the next discovery, the only other reference to "sparrow" in the Old Testament:

"My heart is smitten, and withered like grass; so that I forget to eat my bread. By reason of the voice of my groaning my bones cleave to my skin. I am like a pelican of the wilderness: I am like an owl of the desert. I watch, and am as a sparrow alone upon the house top." Psalm 104:3-7

The perfect picture of abject loneliness! I had shut up the sparrow's mate and she must have died! And the babies! What had I done? Without hesitation, and not even thinking of my clean clothes, I got out the ladder and hammer and took off that tin, and wished that it were daylight so I could see the sparrow.

I do not know what happened to him, but he never returned, and no other sparrow built a nest in that hole, although I never covered it again.

When I went back to the study, I prayed for forgiveness for what I had done. I was thinking of my own needs/views, and not considering that God must have enjoyed the little birds fluttering back and forth! And still my heart ached, so back to the Concordance I went to discover that the singular word "sparrow" is not used in the New Testament, just the plural. And it is repeated in Matthew and Luke so we would not miss it:

"Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? And one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father. But the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear ye not therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows." Matthew 10:29-31

God cared for the little sparrows, and they did not die without His notice. But He also took notice of me, and of my needs, that I wanted the church to look neat and presentable, so I had not sinned. But I had learned the same valuable lesson that Saint Francis of Assisi had learned: the worth of all creatures.

So, now, as sort of a compensation, we buy bird feed by the 50-pound bag, and feed the sparrows, and all their friends!

Organizers are preparing for over 600 people, and the Kiwanis cooks will be feeding everyone steak and chicken, with all the trimmings. Everyone is welcome, but a special invitation is extended to all local veterans, veterans' families and Texas Department of Criminal Justice employees.

The motorcycles will roar into town around noon, and citizens are encouraged to line Hickory and 2nd Streets to welcome them to Colorado City. Then, all will gather at the Railhead Building for the meal and a special program put on each year by Colorado Middle School students.

According to the event's founder, Mark Merrell, the Snyder American Legion always participates in the event, as does the Sweetwater Municipal Band. Over the years, students have developed approximately 400 display boards, which go along with a CMS program "Real History, Real Heroes". The boards will be on display for all to see.

Stories of sacrifices made will humble those in attendance, and celebrations of freedom will ring in the Railhead Building on May 21st. The luncheon will provide an opportunity for all to learn about what has been given and what continues to be given for the freedom U.S. citizens enjoy. So, make plans to attend and, if you're able, contact the Colorado Middle School to volunteer at 325-728-2673.

McMullen is excited to say that several building owners have agreed to include their property in the tour, including Carrousel Antiques, Palace Theater, Tommy Wright's place, Desert Rain, Copper Press, Ramage Furniture & Appliance, Sparks Trading Post, Colorado City Opera

Everyone will meet at the Baker Hotel just before 6 p.m. where the tour will begin. Cost is a suggested donation of $20, and those planning to attend should RSVP to McMullen by calling 325-728-2072 by Thursday, May 19th.

Those attending are sure to see things most have never seen and hear stories few have heard before, so make plans now to support the Main Street program and enjoy the Behind the Door Tour.

VOTING

Gillespie is up against incumbent Jesse Muñoz for the office of Precinct 3 Mitchell County Commissioner. The candidate winning the runoff will run unopposed in the General Election in November and go on to fulfill the duties of office beginning January 1st, 2017.

All voters have the opportunity to cast a ballot, due to several state races being decided by the runoff election. However, only Precinct 3 voters will be voting on their choice for commissioner.

The election is set for Tuesday, May 24th.

A low voter turnout is expected due to only one local contested race, so Precincts 025 and 046 will be consolidated with Precinct 1 at the new polling location of 22nd & Austin Street Church of Christ, located at 2239 Austin St., just west of Pizza Hut.

Precinct 2 voters will cast their ballots at the Westbrook Community Building located at 302 West Thorne St. in Westbrook, and Precinct 3 will vote in the Mitchell County Courthouse lobby at 349 Oak Street. Voters in Precinct 4 will vote at the First Baptist Church in Loraine, located at 503 Lightfoot St., and they are asked to enter through the door between the church and annex at the back of the church. All voters should be aware that a photo ID is required to vote, both early and on Election Day.

Linda Clay secured the evening's entertainment. She invited former jazz band members and other entertainers to perform on stage, including a 1980 graduate of Colorado High. Everyone attending rocked the night away, complimenting the show at every turn.

Lemons said the opera house board was super pleased with the show, and even more pleased with the big turnout for the event. Because of the good response, entertainers are talking about the possibility of putting on another jazz show in December.

Postponed astronomy event

Park offers chance to see the stars

Though Saturday, May 14th was the National Day of Astronomy, the event to celebrate the day at Lake Colorado City State Park was postponed due to stormy weather. On Friday and Saturday, May 20th and 21st, a park volunteer and amateur astronomer will be at the state park with his high-powered telescope set up, giving everyone a chance to see stars, planets and a few galaxies in space.

According to Park Superintendent Kyle O'Haver, Bill Downhour, park volunteer and amateur astronomer, will be camping in the park and invites anyone interested in the stars and planets to stop by, as he will have his telescope set up all weekend.

"During the day we can observe the sun and sunspots. After sunset, Jupiter will be in a good position for observing. We will also be able to see a number of galaxies, globular clusters and nebula. If sky conditions are not too bad, we might be able to see comet 9P/Tempel and comet Panstarrs. About midnight, Mars and Saturn will be in a position for good viewing," Downhour said.

O'Haver will not close the gates to the state park until 10 p.m. on Friday and Saturday to make things easy for visitors after dark. Those coming out after 4:30 p.m. will need to use the self-pay station.

Anyone planning to camp out so they can check out the stars late at night should call the park to reserve a camping spot soon.

Only the park's daily entrance fee of $4 per adult and children over 12 must be paid. Children 12 and younger get in free. Also, if you have a valid Texas State Park Pass, there is no charge.

For additional information or to reserve your spot in the program, call the park office at 325-728-3931.

Retired school personnel meet

The Mitchell County Retired School Personnel met May 10th at La Fe's Restaurant at noon with President Susan Farr presiding. Correspondence was shared from some of the 2nd, 3rd and 4th grade students in the county that received books from the group last fall.

Janet Mayo and Sonja Hanks attended the Texas Retired Teachers Association State Session of the Texas House of Representatives and Senate. Mayo spoke to the group's members about possible legislative actions that will affect some of the retired school personnel, especially regarding healthcare.

There was also a report given by the five people who attended the District Leadership Meetings in Midland. Those attending and reporting were Mayo, Hanks, Barbara Hammond, Karen Riley and Susan Farr.

Other topics were also discussed during the meeting. It was decided to keep the group meeting on the second Tuesday of each month of the school year at La Fe's at noon.

The next meeting will be held September 13th. It will be a dinner meeting at 6 p.m. at the fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church in Colorado City, and David Stubblefield, owner of Gas 'n Grub, will cater the kickoff meeting.

MCRSP doesn't meet in the summer, but members invite all soon-to-be retired school personnel to plan on joining the group for the September 13th dinner. The meal will be free, and they will be invited to join.

WALK AROUND THE TOWN

By Ginny Harmon

Hi, I am so late doing this but I fell six weeks ago at church. I hit a car, the car next to me with my head and arm. The stitches are out, black and blue on my face and neck are gone. I fractured my arm, so it's hard to write. Falling is so bad and hurts so bad. Never thought I would be a faller.

We have lots of our friends that have passed. Wanda Applin, she's with Leon now. I will miss them so. You know all of the others. I will miss them.

Glenda and Bill Stinson are on a cruise. Lucky guys! I saw a picture, they look so happy.

We all had a picnic here last Sunday. It was fun!

No more Fullers. It's time to move on. Lowe's will be great. We need changes in our town. New places to eat at with good food.

I am going out of town for a few days to Bridgeport by Fort Worth. Donna and her husband Greg bought the most beautiful home on the lake. I get to sit and look at the water and be happy.

I saw Betty Fuller and her hubby at the hospital walking through. She had had back surgery. She looked so good. I have always thought she was so pretty, and she hasn't changed at all.

I got Linda Baum a new cat scratcher. She took one whiff of it and her nose went in the air, and she never played with it again. Vickie said she is such a good girl. Oh, I miss her so.

Doree "Terror Dog" has become her best friend. She hangs her head if I tell her I have to go somewhere.

I know you all need to keep your house and car doors locked, day and night. Our little town is not so safe anymore. Seniors hide your purses! Always keep being aware of who is around you. I don't take my purse with me anymore.

How proud I am of my town, my church, my friends, Doctor Scott, nurse Alice, Delores and the girls who work at the front desk at the clinic. The girl who sets up the x-rays at the clinic is such a sweet girl. Hospital, Integrecare, my home nurse Terry and Orita all help me. I'm full of love today. Thank you Lord, I am so lucky.

I miss Ed but it's okay. I have his ashes that will be put with mine.

MAKING SENSE OF INVESTING

The wind was blowing so hard, I didn't go to New Life Bible Ministries. I hate to miss. I miss more than I'm there. Bro, James Williams doesn't give up on me. Tommie, his wife, and Bro. James came to see me. Thank you to them.

What's going on at the Colorado City Senior Apts on 10th St? We have a new person moving in. Ellen Potts has moved in and is now all done. She is a very sweet person and welcome here by everyone.

Jim Bo Morgan is still making me laugh. He is so funny.

Susie Barr, Kay Odom, Janet Free, Ella Riggs, Clint Grissom (our manager), Mary Riley, Fran Trotter, and Connie Rodriguez all have our coffee at 9:30 on Wednesday. We enjoy getting together and visiting. Judy Bell is really helping with coffee and cleaning up after. We all try to walk around the complex together. Our dogs love it. I know I am not afraid living here. I am happy.

Gutierrez's slam powers C-City to sweep of Early

WAY TO GO! Miranda Goswick tied for 3rd place and went home with a bronze medal from the Class 1A State Track Meet. The Westbrook Lady Cat finished with a jump of 5' in the high jump to earn the medal. She is the daughter of Raymond and Stacie Goswick and is a freshman at Westbrook High School.

ABILENE — Madie Gutierrez may not have driven in the game-winning run on Saturday afternoon in the Colorado High School Lady Wolves' regional quarterfinal victory over the Early Lady Longhorns. What the senior catcher did do was put an exclamation point on the whole weekend.

Gutierrez highlighted a game-clinching 8-run seventh inning by blasting a grand slam off the scoreboard in the left field at Abilene Christian's University's Wells Field. Her home run cemented a resounding 11-1 victory that gave C-City a two-game sweep of their series with Early and launched the Lady Wolves' into their third straight trip to the regional semifinals.

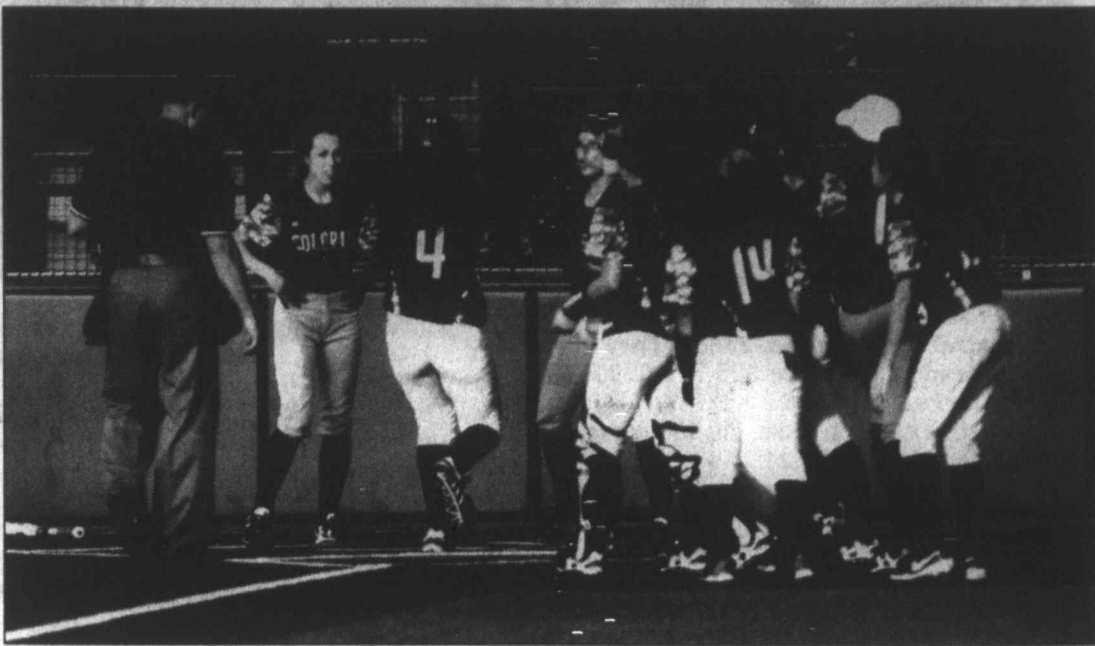

Colorado City, now 28-7 overall, will face off with Shallowater this Friday and Saturday in a best-of-3 Class 3A regional semifinal series. Shallowater defeated Amarillo River Road in their series.

Gutierrez made sure C-City rolled into the fourth round of the state softball playoffs with plenty of momentum. Her fourth homer of the season — and first since pre-district play — capped a 22-run performance by the Lady Wolves' offense in their two-game sweep of Early.

"I wasn't really surprised to see her do that," said Coach Liz White. "She was due. She had been struggling a little at the plate, but she is a very good offensive player. It was just a matter of time before it happened. Luckily for us, it happened today."

Clinging to a 3-1 lead heading at the end of the sixth inning, the Lady Wolves managed to rough up Early starter Michaela DeLeon in the seventh. As a team, they sent 11 batters to the plate in the frame, registering five hits and a pair of walks.

Gutierrez led off the CHS seventh by legging out an infield single. Following a walk to Makaylah Rivera, Taylor Epperson opened the floodgates with a single that plated Gutierrez. Rivera came home moments later on a two-out sacrifice by Ramsey Alvarez.

The Lady Wolves' were far from through tormenting DeLeon. After Alexa Garza and Baylie Lindsey had drawn back-to-back walks, Chloe Castillo lined a run-scoring single to left. Moments later, Brittany Munoz beat out an infield single to load the bases for Gutierrez.

It didn't take Gutierrez long to turn the lights out on the Lady Longhorns' season by lining a shot that shattered the Action Zone sign on the ACU scoreboard.

"I knew (it was gone) when I hit it," said Gutierrez. "I could just feel it was going out."

Tamren Pierce did the rest. The CHS hurler closed out the series in the bottom of the seventh by retiring three of the four batters she faced, including the last one with a strikeout.

Pierce, who gave the C-City offense time to find its groove with a sensational outing in the pitcher's circle, limited Early to just six hits and finished with nine strikeouts.

"She's been playing fantastic," said White. "She goes out and doesn't let much affect her. She really helped us."

Neither Colorado City nor Early managed much offense in the early innings. The two teams combined for just four hits — three by Early — in the initial three innings. The Lady Wolves' lone hit of the opening three frames was an infield single by Gutierrez.

The Lady Wolves finally managed to get to DeLeon in the fourth. Garza delivered a clutch two-out single to left that pushed Epperson home with the game's first run. Epperson had opened the inning by reaching base via walk.

Early rallied back to tie the game in the bottom of the fourth by scoring a run.

Colorado City regained the upper hand in the top of the sixth by pushing home two runs.

Garza sparked the Lady Wolves' outburst by doubling off the wall in left with two outs. Lindsey followed with a run-scoring single, and then raced home with the second run on a hit off the bat of Castillo.

As a team, the Lady Wolves finished the contest with 10 hits — eight of which came in the sixth and seventh innings.

"They adjusted pretty well," said White of her players. "She (DeLeon) came out and threw a great game for them, but I kept telling our players to keep adjusting and the ball would eventually fall."

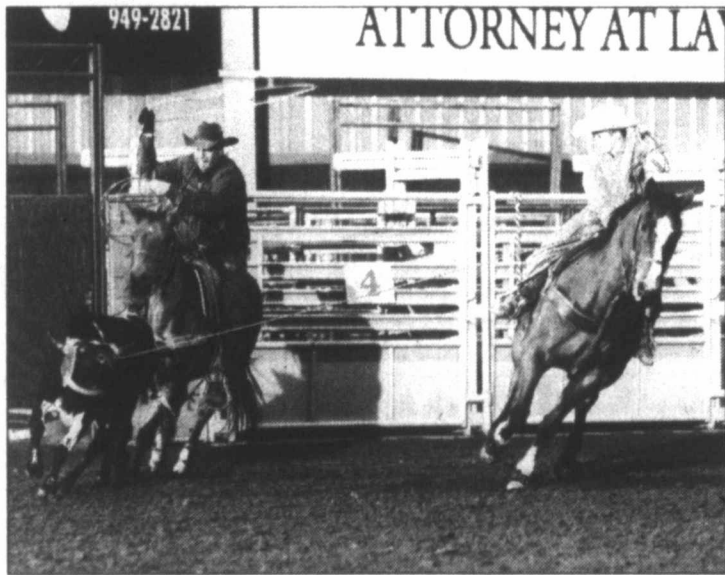

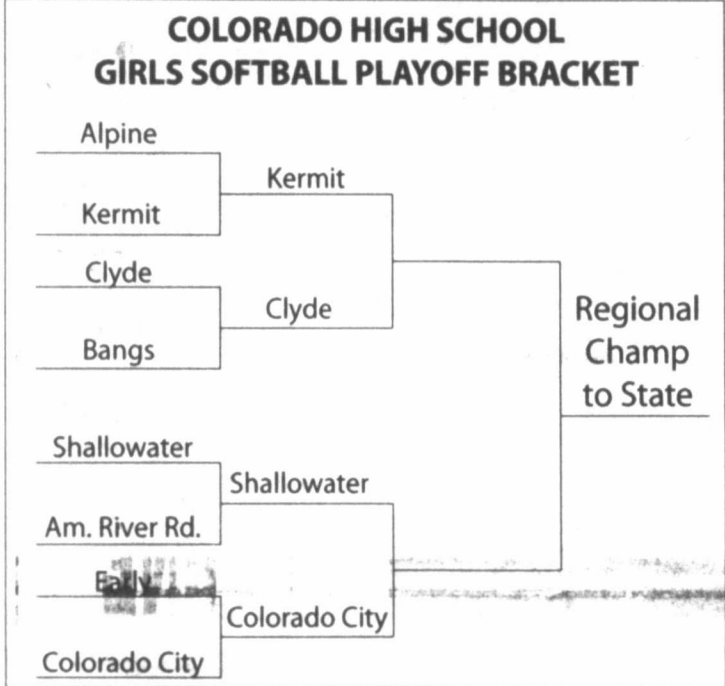

Gutierrez agreed. "We got a late start but it worked out," she said. "We knew what we had to do. We knew if we kept swinging we would start getting our hits. We all got together and did it."

C-City's offense was anything but cold to start the series. The Lady Wolves scored five runs in the bottom of the first inning on Friday and raced to an easy 11-1 victory in Game 1. Rivera, Epperson, Alexis Munoz, Alvarez, Garza and Lindsey all raced home with runs in the second inning and staked CHS to a commanding 5-0 advantage.

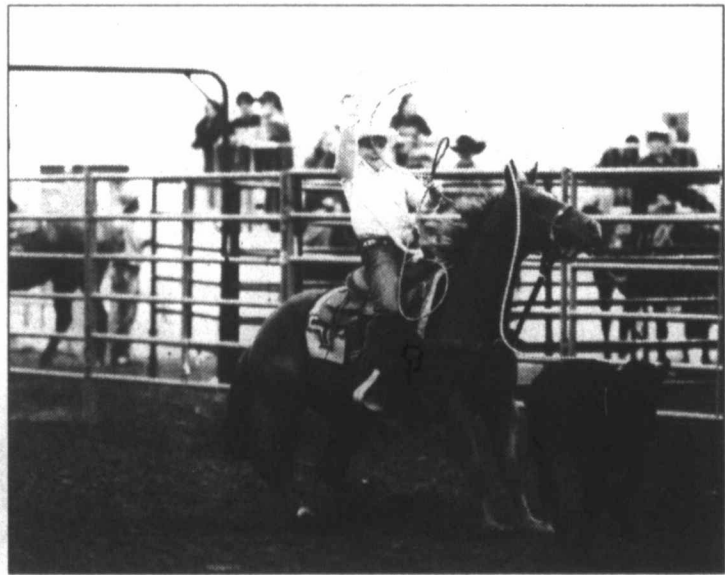

Early's only run of the game was in the top of the third.

The Lady Wolves closed out the contest via the 10-run rule from there, driving home two runs in the fourth, one in the fifth and three more in the sixth.
