Big Springers dreaming of white Thanksgiving

Howard County residents are beginning to wonder what kind of a winter the area is in for.

Winter doesn't officially arrive for nearly another month but the country has already been visited by its third snowfall.

Light rain began falling shortly after dusk Monday and it turned to snow before daybreak.

Official measurements at the U.S. Experiment Station here shows the combined rain and snow up through 11 a.m., today had a moisture content of a .36 of an inch, which brings the year's total to 30.03 inches. That is nearly 12 inches above normal.

This marks only the fifth time in recorded history that Howard County's official rainfall pass the 30-inch mark. The other 'wet' years came in 1905, when 30.73 inches fell; 1919, 34.01; 1932, 34.25; and 1941, 31.62.

Most of the county's rainfall was concentrated in September and came too late to hold the area cotton crop. The moisture did, however, serve to bring to an end a record heat spell.

The roads in and out of Big Spring remained passable all morning but drivers were being cautioned to drive with extreme care.

A winter storm assaulted the Texas Panhandle and South Plains today, with winds whipping record snowfalls into drifts and making travel extremely dangerous.

At 9 a.m. the 8.2 inches on snow on the ground at Lubbock broke the record for November. It brought the total snow fall for the month to 19 inches, surpassing the old mark of 16.8 inches in February 1956.

The South Plains at midmorning had from four to nine inches with drifts to near two feet in places. The snow continued to fall.

The Department of Public Safety and local law enforcement agencies recommended that only necessary travel be attempted.

Rain fell in South Texas and Central Texas with skies mostly cloudy in North Central Texas. Northeast Texas was clear.

Early morning temperatures were in the 20s and 30s in West Texas with others reporting readings in the 40s.

The rain was expected to move east into North Central Texas and change to freezing rain or snow after dark.

Travelers warnings are in effect for tonight in the snow and rain areas.

Verdict is expected today in Gonzalez murder trial

By DON WOODS
Jurors in the 118th District Court murder trial of Abe Gonzalez will retire after hearing final arguments today to consider evidence from time-consuming testimony presented by both sides.

Final arguments were presented by District Attorney Rick Hamby and Co-Defense Council Roger Brown. Jurors were not seated Monday while points included in the charge were being discussed. The charge is the court's definition of the laws pertaining to the facts of the case.

Brown asked jurors during final arguments to decide if Gonzalez had a conscious intent to kill shotgun victim Ronald Dean Jeter.

The defense attorneys' contention is that Gonzalez was attempting to break up fighting in BJ's Country Lounge Feb. 15 when he entered the bar with a sawed off shotgun and shot Jeter.

Hamby points to threats made by Gonzalez on two occasions against Jeter's life. Both occurred about two weeks before the shooting.

One occurred at the bar when Gonzalez told the bar's proprietor, "There's only one biker I want," allegedly referring to Jeter.

The other was a comment he allegedly made to Jeter's fiancée, whom Gonzalez had also been intimate with. Gonzalez had allegedly said, "If I can't have you no one can."

"You have the state's case warts and all. You have some warts on it," said Hamby.

He referred to discrepancies in state's testimony. "We don't put testimony in their mouths. All we can do is let them tell their story the way they saw it."

He called the shotgun used in the shooting, "this most obscene of weapons."

Hamby pointed to the witnesses that had heard Jeter say, "There'll be no fighting in here tonight," indicating Jeter's peaceful mood.

He said the defense "throws the skunk in here," to imply the "meanness" of the victim, without producing any evidence.

Defense attorney Brown accused Hamby of trying to intimidate the jury — and apologized to jurors for Hamby.

Brown asked the jury to disregard Hamby's attempt to lower the importance of the self defense aspect of the case.

Brown reviewed the jury on terminology used in the charge and the spectrum of possible verdicts they could return.

Unidentified gunman fires into Jewish-owned agency

PARIS (AP) — An unidentified gunman fired into a Jewish-owned travel agency here today, killing the owner's wife and wounding the owner and another employee, police said.

Jewish sources said travel agency staff claimed the attacker was "obviously an Arab" who used a sub-machine gun in the attack.

Police refused to speculate immediately on whether the attack may have been Arab and had political motives.

In addition to an attack on a synagogue Oct. 3 that killed four people, there have been numerous other attacks on Jewish establishments in France in recent months in a surge of anti-Semitism. The attacks prompted mass demonstrations in defense of the Jews.

The Jewish sources said the latest victims were Mrs. Michelle Douek, fatally wounded, her husband Edwin, wounded in the head, and an woman employee with minor wounds.

They said that since the Egyptian-Israeli peace treaty, the agency had started organizing trips taking tourists to both countries, and had advertised in French newspapers.

Consumer prices up one percent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Led by surging mortgage rates, consumer prices in October climbed another full percentage point for a 12.6 percent compound annual rate, the government said today.

October's 1.0 percent increase in the Consumer Price Index matched September's rise, the Labor Department said. For the first 10 months of 1980, inflation at the consumer level accelerated at a compound, seasonally adjusted 12.2 percent annual rate.

Last year's inflation rate was 13.3 percent.

The persistent, double-digit inflation rate helped to further erode a worker's pay check in October. The Labor Department reported that real spendable earnings — after deducting Social Security and federal income taxes — decreased 0.6 percent.

Over the year, average take-home pay, after seasonal adjustments, is down 6 percent, the department said. The inflation report said about three-fifths of October's price jump was due to spiraling housing costs, which increased 1.3 percent after three months of virtually no change.

Food prices, the big villain in recent months, rose by far less in October — 0.7 percent, compared with 1.6 percent in September. But that masks a strong upward trend that will continue through the next six to nine months, said Labor Department economist Patrick Jackman.

The Agriculture Department predicted last week that Americans will pay 10 percent to 15 percent more for food in 1981, particularly for beef, pork and poultry products.

"Energy will be the real key to whether inflation remains high or becomes intolerable," Jackman said. "Nobody has a real hand on it because it's more political than economic."

The Consumer Price Index in October stood at 253.9 before seasonal adjustment. This means that a marketbasket of goods and services that cost $100 in the 1967 base period sold for $253.90 last month.

The index is 12.6 percent higher than it was in October 1979.

Another troublesome inflation signal was posted Monday when the Federal Reserve Board reported that the money supply category including cash in circulation and checking deposits at commercial banks grew $1.8 billion in the week ended Nov. 12, from a revised $388.4 billion to a seasonally adjusted $390.2 billion.

And the board said the money supply figure that also includes checking-type deposits at other financial institutions expanded $2.4 billion in the period, from a revised $413.1 billion to a seasonally adjusted $415.5 billion.

In addition, the board also increased sharply its money supply figures for the week ending Nov. 5.

"This strongly confirms the possibility that (1980) money supply targets will be exceeded," said David Jones, an analyst for Aubrey G. Lanston & Co. in New York.

"That is precisely why the Fed is tightening aggressively in recent weeks — out of fear the growing money supply will lead to a renewal of inflation," Jones added. "I think we'll see the Fed going all out to cool money growth rates for the rest of the year."

And, in an apparent reaction to the Federal Reserve's money-tightening moves, interest rates on short-term Treasury securities climbed Monday to their highest levels since early April.

Six factories shut down in Polish worker protests

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Polish workers today interrupted commuter service in Warsaw and the Baltic port of Gdansk, shut down six factories around the capital and staged a slowdown at nine coal mines in the southern province of Katowice.

Leaders of the Warsaw local of Solidarity, Poland's biggest independent trade union, threatened meanwhile to call widespread strikes unless a government commission agrees to negotiate new demands, including release of prisoners charged with anti-socialist crimes.

Zbigniew Bujak, Warsaw chapter president, said the proposal was approved by the local presidium and would be offered to a conference of delegates Wednesday.

The Polish news agency PAP said the railway workers from Solidarity temporarily shut down service on commuter lines in Warsaw and Gdansk. The union staged a two-hour warning strike on the lines Monday and said the stoppage would be extended to four hours today.

The action came as union and government negotiators began their second day of wage negotiations in the locomotive roundhouse in Wroclaw, southwest Poland, PAP said. The Wroclaw Solidarity local is demanding the government accept their formula for distributing pay raises worth $6.3 million rather than one worked out with a rival, state-controlled union.

Solidarity's Warsaw local announced work stoppages today at six plants around the capital to demand the release of Jan Narozniak, a printer arrested in connection with the theft of a classified court document.

The shutdown of the six plants, including electronics and machine works, follows similar action at the Ursus factory, where workers shut down the assembly line Monday to demand Narozniak's release.

Dissident sources said Narozniak had been served with a 90-day detention order pending possible charges of revealing state secrets. If convicted, he could receive a prison term from six months to five years.

The solicitor general's office announced that one of its employees in the printing shop had been arrested and charged with leaking the document to Solidarity.

Workers at nine coal mines in Katowice delayed entry into the pits for two hours today to press demands for an extra dollar a day payment for underground workers, PAP reported.

"It was a wildcat strike," a Solidarity spokesman said. "We heard about it last night. We feel deep anxiety about the strikes."

Solidarity has clashed with the communist regime on-and-off since it was created in September following six weeks of crippling nationwide strikes. The union recently won an appeal over the wording of its founding charter when the Supreme Court ruled the charter did not have to assert the party's supremacy.

Representatives of state-controlled trade unions appealed in a meeting Monday with Premier Jozef Pankowski for restoration "of order" in the union movement, PAP reported.

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Car, cycle crashes

Q. There seems to be an alarming number of accidents involving automobiles and motorcycles. Does rash driving on the part of either principal contribute to the high total in such wrecks?

A. In some instances, maybe, but records show that in most cases motorists claim they didn't see the cyclists at all or until it was too late to avoid a collision. Street intersections are the worst danger zones. Cyclists and motorists alike should never commit themselves until they know it's safe to turn or proceed through an intersection. Make sure the other traffic sees you.

Movie gangster George Raft dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — George Raft, the dapper veteran of 105 films whose underlying air of menace made him a natural for such roles as the coin-flipping gangster in "Scarface," has died at 85 after a lengthy bout with emphysema.

The aging actor, who also was linked with underworld figures in real life, was admitted to New Hospital one week ago and died Monday afternoon, said hospital spokeswoman Susan Lindquist. She said he had been in and out of a coma.

Raft recently had developed an "unusual blood condition" which might have been considered "pre-leukemia," said Dr. Rexford Kennamer, who had treated the actor for 20 years.

He said Raft had no living relatives, but hospital officials said a friend was nearby when the 50-year movie veteran died.

"I was sorry to hear the news. I've known this good man for 40 years and I loved every minute of our friendship," said Frank Sinatra.

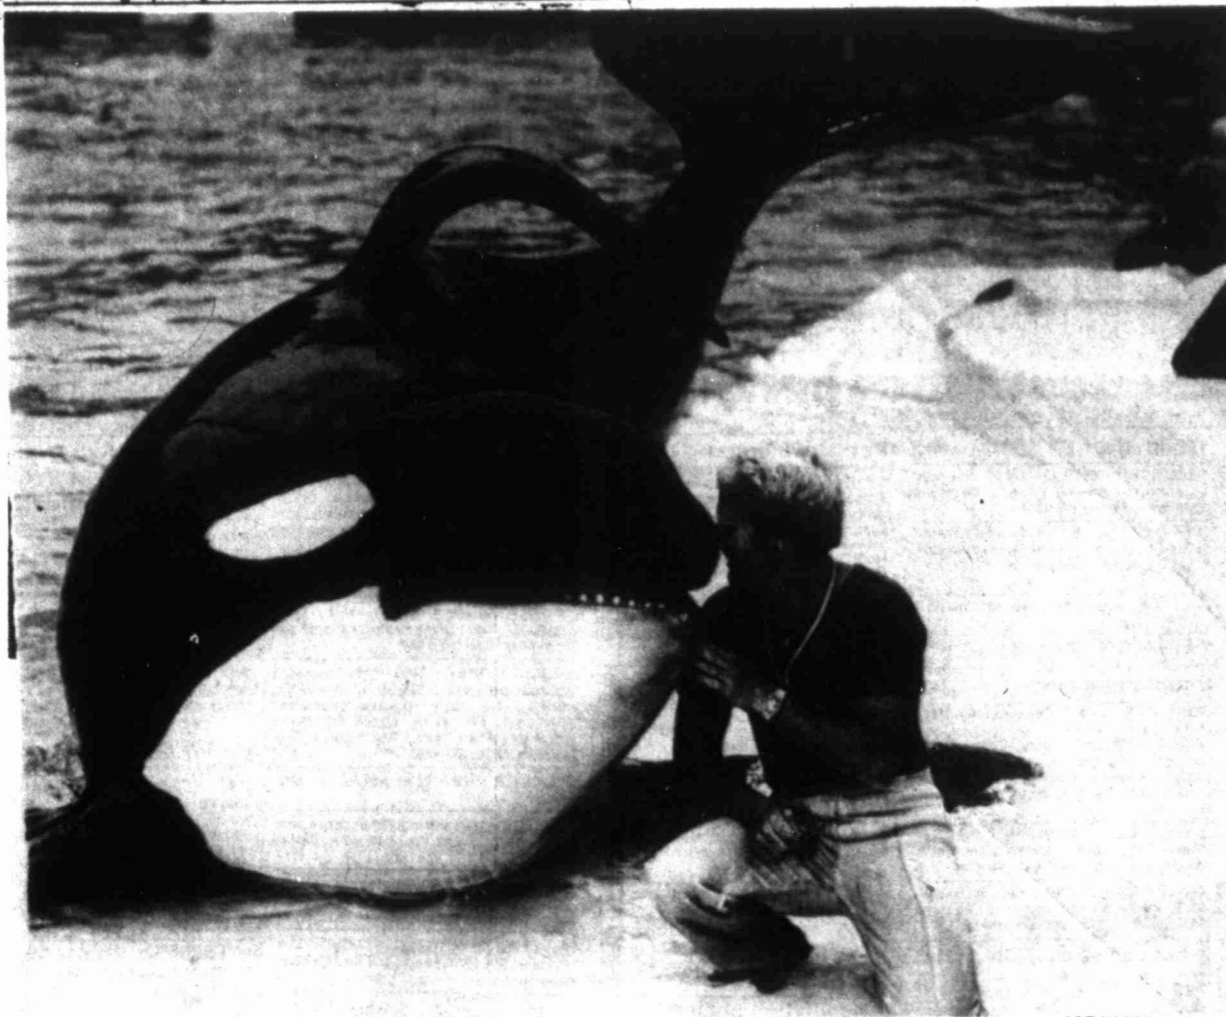

Raft had been inactive professionally in recent years, although he made a cameo appearance as a gangster in the spoof "The Man With Bogart's Face" this year.

It was his performance as the cool killer in "Scarface" in 1933 that brought the dark-haired actor stardom and set off his career as a movie gangster. In his most famous scene, he flipped a half-dollar as he was gunned down by Paul Muni.

In the 1930s and 1940s he was one of Hollywood's highest-paid stars. He was in "Souls at Sea" with Gary Cooper, "Each Dawn I Die" and "Invisible Stripes."

Reagan's son marries

NEW YORK (AP) — Ronald P. Reagan, the 22-year-old dancer son of the president-elect, married his live-in girlfriend Monday without telling his parents in advance, a friend of the couple said.

Reagan and Doria Palmieri, were married in a civil ceremony, said the friend, who asked not to be identified. The couple had lived together in Greenwich Village since January.

President-elect Ronald Reagan and his wife, Nancy, were not told of the marriage in advance, the friend said, terming the marriage an "elopement." He said no honeymoon or celebration was planned and that "it will just be business as usual."

Average Texas home may cost $134,000 in 1990

COLLEGE STATION — A study prepared by the Texas Real Estate Research Center at Texas A&M University reports the average Texas home could cost $134,000 in 1990, more than double the cost of $67,000 in 1976, more foreign investors will be snapping up Texas real estate and despite rising costs the single-family, detached home is here to stay.

Compiled by university researchers, the figures show the average sale price of a single-family home in Texas at the beginning of 1980 was $54,900. This is a 12 percent per year increase since 1976 when compounded annually. The average Texas home four years ago sold for $34,700.

The TRERC report lists several factors which contributed to the increase. These include the increased demand due to the rapid rise in household formations and a growing desire for home ownership, and the continuing increase in the costs of construction materials, labor, financing and land.

The study shows material and labor costs rose by more than 40 percent from 1973 to 1978.

Another factor affecting housing costs will be innovations in lending procedures, the researchers said. Designed to satisfy homebuyers' demand for mortgage money, these innovations include alternative instruments, relaxed usury ceilings, greater liquidity for lenders and use of ground leases on single-family homes.

Despite rising costs and the growing number of apartments and condominiums, the detached, single-family home is here to stay, according to the report entitled, "Texas Real Estate: 1990."

"Household heads between the ages of 35 and 50 with families will prefer the detached-living units," said Dr. Arthur Wright, a principal contributor to the report, "while young couples and empty nesters will tend to select more communal-type units."

Among the advantages cited in the report for a detached, single-family home are privacy and freedom. As Wright put it, "If real income rises in the future, people will not have to sacrifice privacy and independence — even if they might be forced to give up some floor space or plush carpets."

While home sizes declined from an average of 1,692 square feet in 1974 to 1,600 square feet in 1978, the report suggests the average Texas home may be reduced to 1,400 square feet by 1990 without decreasing the average space per person. That's because the size of the average Texas household has been dropping as well, down from 2.80 persons in 1976 to a predicted 2.55 persons in 1990.

The researchers also predict foreign investment in Texas real estate will accelerate.

The report suggests legislation will be introduced in the 1980s to monitor, but not necessarily restrict, all foreign investment in U.S. real estate.

The data gathered from this monitoring will be used to estimate economic effects such as the balance of payments and land use and to note any concentrations of ownership that may be perceived as harmful to state or national interests.

These predictions follow on the heels of worldwide political uncertainty and inflation in the 1970s which motivated a wave of foreign investment in U.S. real estate. Foreign investors include financial institutions such as banks, pension funds, life insurance companies, industrial companies, real estate developers and syndicators.

Workers at nine coal mines in Katowice delayed entry into the pits for two hours today to press demands for an extra dollar a day payment for underground workers, PAP reported.

The action came as union and government negotiators began their second day of wage negotiations in the locomotive roundhouse in Wroclaw, southwest Poland, PAP said. The Wroclaw Solidarity local is demanding the government accept their formula for distributing pay raises worth $6.3 million rather than one worked out with a rival, state-controlled union.

"It was a wildcat strike," a Solidarity spokesman said. "We heard about it last night. We feel deep anxiety about the strikes."

Solidarity's Warsaw local announced work stoppages today at six plants around the capital to demand the release of Jan Narozniak, a printer arrested in connection with the theft of a classified court document.

Solidarity has clashed with the communist regime on and off since it was created in September following six weeks of crippling nationwide strikes. The union recently won an appeal over the wording of its founding charter when the Supreme Court ruled the charter did not have to assert the party's supremacy.

Representatives of state-controlled trade unions appealed in a meeting Monday with Premier Jozef Pankowski for restoration "of order" in the union movement, PAP reported.

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Car, cycle crashes

Q. There seems to be an alarming number of accidents involving automobiles and motorcycles. Does rash driving on the part of either principal contribute to the high total in such wrecks?

A. In some instances, maybe, but records show that in most cases motorists claim they didn't see the cyclists at all or until it was too late to avoid a collision. Street intersections are the worst danger zones. Cyclists and motorists alike should never commit themselves until they know it's safe to turn or proceed through an intersection. Make sure the other traffic sees you.

Big Springers dreaming of white Thanksgiving

Howard County residents are beginning to wonder what kind of a winter the area is in for.

Winter doesn't officially arrive for nearly another month but the country has already been visited by its third snowfall.

Light rain began falling shortly after dusk Monday and it turned to snow before daybreak.

Official measurements at the U.S. Experiment Station here shows the combined rain and snow up through 11 a.m., today had a moisture content of a .36 of an inch, which brings the year's total to 30.03 inches. That is nearly 12 inches above normal.

This marks only the fifth time in recorded history that Howard County's official rainfall pass the 30-inch mark. The other 'wet' years came in 1905, when 30.73 inches fell; 1919, 34.01; 1932, 34.25; and 1941, 31.62.

Most of the county's rainfall was concentrated in September and came too late to hold the area cotton crop. The moisture did, however, serve to bring to an end a record heat spell.

The roads in and out of Big Spring remained passable all morning but drivers were being cautioned to drive with extreme care.

A winter storm assaulted the Texas Panhandle and South Plains today, with winds whipping record snowfalls into drifts and making travel extremely dangerous.

At 9 a.m. the 8.2 inches on snow on the ground at Lubbock broke the record for November. It brought the total snow fall for the month to 19 inches, surpassing the old mark of 16.8 inches in February 1956.

The South Plains at midmorning had from four to nine inches with drifts to near two feet in places. The snow continued to fall.

The Department of Public Safety and local law enforcement agencies recommended that only necessary travel be attempted.

Rain fell in South Texas and Central Texas with skies mostly cloudy in North Central Texas. Northeast Texas was clear.

Early morning temperatures were in the 20s and 30s in West Texas with others reporting readings in the 40s.

The rain was expected to move east into North Central Texas and change to freezing rain or snow after dark.

Travelers warnings are in effect for tonight in the snow and rain areas.

Verdict is expected today in Gonzalez murder trial

By DON WOODS
Jurors in the 118th District Court murder trial of Abe Gonzalez will retire after hearing final arguments today to consider evidence from time-consuming testimony presented by both sides.

Final arguments were presented by District Attorney Rick Hamby and Co-Defense Council Roger Brown. Jurors were not seated Monday while points included in the charge were being discussed. The charge is the court's definition of the laws pertaining to the facts of the case.

Brown asked jurors during final arguments to decide if Gonzalez had a conscious intent to kill shotgun victim Ronald Dean Jeter.

The defense attorneys' contention is that Gonzalez was attempting to break up fighting in BJ's Country Lounge Feb. 15 when he entered the bar with a sawed off shotgun and shot Jeter.

Hamby points to threats made by Gonzalez on two occasions against Jeter's life. Both occurred about two weeks before the shooting.

One occurred at the bar when Gonzalez told the bar's proprietor: "There's only one biker I want," allegedly referring to Jeter.

The other was a comment he allegedly made to Jeter's fiance, whom Gonzalez had also been intimate with. Gonzalez had allegedly said, "If I can't have you no one can."

"You have the state's case warts and all. You have some warts on it," said Hamby.

He referred to discrepancies in state's testimony. "We don't put testimony in their mouths. All we can do is let them tell their story the way they saw it."

He called the shotgun used in the shooting, "this most obscene of weapons."

Hamby pointed to the witnesses that had heard Jeter say, "There'll be no fighting in here tonight," indicating Jeter's peaceful mood.

He said the defense "throws the skunk in here," to imply the "meanness" of the victim, without producing any evidence.

Defense attorney Brown accused Hamby of trying to intimidate the jury — and apologized to jurors for Hamby.

Brown asked the jury to disregard Hamby's attempt to lower the importance of the self defense aspect of the case.

Brown reviewed the jury on terminology used in the charge and the spectrum of possible verdicts they could return.

Unidentified gunman fires into Jewish-owned agency

PARIS (AP) — An unidentified gunman fired into a Jewish-owned travel agency here today, killing the owner's wife and wounding the owner and another employee, police said.

Jewish sources said travel agency staff claimed the attacker was "obviously an Arab" who used a sub-machine gun in the attack.

Police refused to speculate immediately on whether the attack may have been Arab and had political motives.

In addition to an attack on a synagogue Oct. 3 that killed four people, there have been numerous other attacks on Jewish establishments in France in recent months in a surge of anti-Semitism. The attacks prompted mass demonstrations in defense of the Jews.

The Jewish sources said the latest victims were Mrs. Michelle Douek, fatally wounded, her husband Edwin, wounded in the head, and an woman employee with minor wounds.

They said that since the Egyptian-Israeli peace treaty, the agency had started organizing trips taking tourists to both countries, and had advertised in French newspapers.

Movie gangster George Raft dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — George Raft, the dapper veteran of 105 films whose underlying air of menace made him a natural for such roles as the coin-flipping gangster in "Scarface," has died at 85 after a lengthy bout with emphysema.

The aging actor, who also was linked with underworld figures in real life, was admitted to New Hospital one week ago and died Monday afternoon, said hospital spokeswoman Susan Lindquist. She said he had been in and out of a coma.

Raft recently had developed an "unusual blood condition" which might have been considered "pre-leukemia," said Dr. Rexford Kennamer, who had treated the actor for 20 years.

He said Raft had no living relatives, but hospital officials said a friend was nearby when the 50-year movie veteran died.

"I was sorry to hear the news. I've known this good man for 40 years and I loved every minute of our friendship," said Frank Sinatra.

Raft had been inactive professionally in recent years, although he made a cameo appearance as a gangster in the spoof "The Man With Bogart's Face" this year.

It was his performance as the cool killer in "Scarface" in 1933 that brought the dark-haired actor stardom and set off his career as a movie gangster. In his most famous scene, he flipped a half-dollar as he was gunned down by Paul Muni.

In the 1930s and 1940s he was one of Hollywood's highest-paid stars. He was in "Souls at Sea" with Gary Cooper, "Each Dawn I Die" and "Invisible Stripes."

Chrysler to offer rebate

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. says it will offer rebates of between $750 and $1,200 toward the purchase of new 1981 and 1982 model cars to owners of defective Plymouth Volares and Dodge Aspens.

The announcement Monday came in response to an agreement with the Federal Trade Commission involving some 200,000 of the 1976 and 1977 model Volares and Aspens, marked for replacement of rusted fenders. The FTC had ruled that Chrysler produced about 1 million Aspens and Volares with fenders that trapped moisture and hindered application of protective coatings.

Chrysler opted to seek alternatives to replacing the defective fenders because such a program would have cost more than $45 million.

Mysterious mist in Florida

FLAGLER BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Environmental authorities are puzzled by a mysterious mist that has plagued Florida's eastern coast for the past two weekends, irritating the eyes, noses and throats of bathers.

From Marineland south to New Smyrna Beach, people reported eye, nose and throat discomfort Saturday night and Sunday. Similar complaints were heard last week.

Ed Barber of the Department of Environmental Regulation in Jacksonville said Monday that the problem could have been rain being contaminated as it dropped through an acidic cloud formed by industrial pollution.

Surviving twin critical

PIQUA, Ohio (AP) — Five-month-old Natalie Wackler, the surviving Siamese twin daughter of a Piqua couple, was in critical condition due to an infection, according to a spokeswoman for Children's Medical Center in Dayton.

Meanwhile, a funeral for her sister, Valerie, was held Monday. Valerie, who died Friday, had suffered brain death prior to the operation on Nov. 14 to separate the infants.

The girls, daughters of Randy and Rebecca Wackler of Piqua, were born prematurely June 17, joined at the base of the spine.

Contract killer sentenced

BALTIMORE (AP) — David Robertson, found guilty earlier this month in the contract killings of two women, has been sentenced to two consecutive life prison terms.

The 19-year-old Robertson was also sentenced Monday to two concurrent life terms for conspiracy to commit murder. Robertson maintained his innocence and wept as he heard the sentence.

Robertson was found guilty of participating in the murder-for-hire slayings of 83-year-old Maria Zisser and her 23-year-old granddaughter Mary Thompson on Nov. 24, 1979. A former high school class president, Michael Schindler, earlier pleaded guilty to murder charges in the case.

Fire cripples plant

CHILDRESS, Texas (AP) — Officials of Lancer Homes ordered double shifts and studied other ways to keep layoffs at a minimum today after a fire crippled a production facility at Childress County's largest employer.

Keith Finley, general manager of the mobile and modular home builder, said a fire roared through a large steel and metal siding building where mobile homes were built Monday.

The blaze destroyed production equipment and ten homes that were under construction, Finley said.

Finley said the plant's 420 employees would go to double shifts in the modular home building which was not affected by the fire. He said the company hoped to keep layoffs at a minimum.

Lancer Homes is a division of Brinkcraft, Inc., of Wichita Falls.

The fire was discovered about 2:30 a.m. by a plant security guard. There was speculation the fire started from an electrical short, Finley said.

J.A. Anderson, 1715 Yale, reported a diamond ring valued at $900 missing. He does not know when or where the ring was stolen or lost.

A yard fence was damaged at the residence of Irene Maynard, 1609 Cardinal. The damage was believed to have been done with a shovel.

Cabinet work shelved

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ronald Reagan, shelving the job of picking a Cabinet for a few days, flies today to a ranch outside Santa Barbara to spend the Thanksgiving holiday.

The president-elect met for 2½ hours Monday with his closest advisers to discuss names on their lists of prospective Cabinet secretaries, but no one would say if any decisions were reached.

Reagan spent the rest of Monday receiving three Thanksgiving turkeys from an industry group, sitting for an artist's sketches and visiting his allergist.

After his visit to the doctor, Reagan told reporters during an informal curbside news conference that "we're just narrowing down (the Cabinet list), and I don't want to talk about it until we're actually ready to announce" the appointees.

Reagan said he wasn't sure if any Cabinet officers will be announced before his next visit to Washington Dec. 8.

"I don't know whether we'll be ready by then (Dec. 8) or not," he said. "We haven't decided (to make the announcements) as we decide on some or whether to wait until we're ready with all of them."

Heavy snows halt cotton harvesting

Cotton harvesting came to a halt this week, according to B.B. Manly, Jr. of the USDA Cotton Marketing Services Office in Abilene. Heavy snows covered the entire area, and cotton in all areas has been killed and will be ready for harvest when the fields dry out.

Around 17,000 samples were classed during the week, bringing the season total to 41,000.

Local prices show little change from last week. Grades below 42, staple 30 are not in strong demand and sell for 28 to 31 cents over CCC loan values. Grades 42 or higher, staple 31 and longer bring 35 to 37 cents above loan values, and the demand is moderate. Mixed lots bring 70 to 79 cents per pound. Quality 5229 with premium mike brings around 67 cents per pound, while 4232 would bring around 80 cents per pound.

Cottonseed prices range from $110 to $120 per ton paid to producers.

The quality of cotton classed during the week ending November 20 shows some changes. Grade 42 was predominant at 41 percent, followed by Grade 43 at 21 percent. Grades 52 and 41 accounted for 14 and 6 percent each.

Fiber length showed little change with staple 31 predominant at 34 percent, followed by staple 30 at 25 percent. Around 10 percent were reduced in grade because of bark or grass content. Micronaire readings continue good with 93 percent within the 35 to 49 range, and 6 percent above 49.

It was decided it would be best from an economic basis to close the Monday Office until harvesting operations start again, and M. Waters, officer in charge, came back to Abilene. It will re-open when harvesting resumes.

Death toll rises to 3,000 in Italy's worst earthquake

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — The Italian Military Rescue Command estimated the death toll in Sunday's earthquake at more than 3,000 today, making it Italy's worst quake in 65 years.

The director of relief operations, Giuseppe Zamberletti, said 1,750 people were known killed, 570 missing with little hope of finding them alive, and 1,879 injured. But the rescue command's office in Naples said it estimated at least 3,132 dead on the basis of reports from previously isolated villages in the mountains behind Naples and Salerno.

The Interior Ministry said there were 100,000 homeless, and seismologists reported that more than 40 aftershocks shook the region since the initial quake Sunday night. They said a new tremor in Avellino, east of Naples, knocked down buildings damaged in the first jolt.

The Italian military announced that 500 soldiers and 150 pieces of equipment left the northern city of Milan to reinforce the 10,000 soldiers and 1,500 firemen already in the zone digging for survivors.

Residents of Laviano, Santomenna and other towns dug through the ruins with their hands in search of husbands, wives, children or other loved ones.

Exhausted rescue workers were short of bulldozers and other equipment to clear the rubble. It was difficult to get the large vehicles available up the narrow roads in the impoverished region.

"I couldn't even get a chain saw to save my wife who was trapped under a pile of logs," said Alfonso Mignone, a lawyer in Sant' Angelo dei Lombardi. "I had to work with my fingernails."

Fragmentary reports indicated hundreds more dead were still to be counted in Teora, San Mango, Lioni, Laviano and Calabritto.

In Lioni, 10 search dogs helped find survivors beneath the rubble.

Teora, a town of 3,000 was reported leveled, but there was no casualty report from it yet.

Bodies were collected in schools or on sidewalks. Blankets covered them until coffins could be brought in.

Pope John Paul II planned to tour the stricken region by helicopter today.

State Rep. Agnich's stepdaughter kidnapped

DALLAS (AP) — The stepdaughter of State Rep. Fred Agnich of Dallas was kidnapped Monday by a man who boarded her car as she was stopped at a red light, police said.

Annette Willie Gilger, 24, told Hopkins Co. sheriff's deputies that a man got into her car in Dallas about 4 p.m. and forced her to drive to Sulphur Springs, where she was released unharmed about 7 p.m.

Sheriff John Tittle said Mrs. Gilger was "very, very upset" when a deputy discovered her parked by the side of Interstate 30 one mile west of Sulphur Springs. Her kidnapper had left the car.

Tittle said Mrs. Gilger told investigators the man showed no weapon, but kept his hand in his pocket during the drive, leading her to believe he had a gun.

Colorado City man, his nine children sue medical center

ABILENE — A Colorado City man, Manual Hull, and his nine children have filed a civil suit against Humana Inc., doing business as West Texas Medical Center of Abilene, in connection with the death of Mrs. Hull. The family is seeking an unspecified amount in damages.

The suit alleges that Mrs. Hull, then 57, died May 25, 1979, as the result of drugs she received after her admission to the medical facility.

She was being treated for acute respiratory failure and other maladies.

The Hull children range in age from 41 to 16.

Wind-pushed fires destroy homes in Southern California

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Six fires pushed by winds up to 90 mph roared out of control over 30,500 acres of timberland today after burning nearly 240 homes and forcing about 10,000 people to flee, authorities said.

One blaze was headed "over the hill" north of San Bernardino 75 miles east of Los Angeles into the mountains toward several towns. Part of southern Crestline was being evacuated early today, said Jimmy Jews, spokesman for the San Bernardino Fire Department.

Jews said at one point Monday night more than 100 homes in a 10-square-block residential area of northern San Bernardino were in flames, and one entire city block of homes in the $80,000 to $100,000 range was destroyed.

The two major roads into the mountains, Highways 18 and 330, were closed as the fire jumped Highway 18 and threatened the tiny exclusive community of Arrowhead Heights.

Another swiftly moving brushfire that broke out early today in the Malibu Canyon area of Los Angeles County was whipping south toward the Pacific Coast Highway after burning 2,000 acres within two hours.

Some residents in Malibu Canyon, about 30 miles west of Los Angeles, were being evacuated, and two major area roads were immediately closed, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Still another fire threatened an entire village in the Angeles National Forest, and three blazes were out of control in Riverside County.

More than 1,200 firefighters were battling the six fires, and six firefighters were injured, including two who suffered broken legs in falls down steep terrain.

No other injuries were reported.

Many residents stayed at their homes until the last minute, hosing down houses in attempts to save them from the blaze.

The largest fire, the Panorama blaze that officials said was set by arsonists, began Monday morning in a canyon north of San Bernardino, 60 miles east of Los Angeles.

It was fanned by hot, gusty winds as it burned some 10,400 acres in San Bernardino and the nearby Sycamore Canyon.

"It was blacker than hell outside," said Stanley Hunter of San Bernardino, who escaped to an evacuation center with his wife, Lucille, and their 9-year-old daughter.

Hunter later returned to find every house on his block burned and his $75,000 home destroyed.

Fire officials were unable to predict when the fire would be contained.

A second fire was threatening an entire mountain village near the summit of Mount Baldy in Angeles National Forest, 15 miles northeast of Los Angeles. It had destroyed more than 9,000 acres and damaged three buildings by late Monday night.

Firefighters were able to establish a fire line south of Mount Baldy Village. Shifting winds were "blowing the fire into Bear Canyon, which runs northwest up from the village, where there are hundreds of recreational cabins," said Gene Knight of the U.S. Forest Service.

FIGHT FLAMES — An unidentified resident of San Bernardino, Calif., pauses to cover his face as he is engulfed by smoke as he waters down the roof of his house Monday. At least 100 homes were lost, scores of others damaged as Santa Ana winds swept flames from the mountains north of the city southward.

Hobby not optimistic about some proposals

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby says the 1981 Legislature will spend $280 million for two new prisons but will resist major elements of Gov. Bill Clements' program.

Hobby made the predictions at a Monday news conference where he made it official that he will seek reelection in 1982.

Hobby, 48, has been lieutenant governor since 1973. If he is re-elected and serves his full term, he will have held the office 14 years — longer than any of his predecessors.

He said he was announcing 15 months before the filing deadline because "I like to get it done early to discourage a few who might try otherwise."

Hobby said in his prepared statement that a major state problem is overcrowding in the prison system, which has some 28,000 inmates, many of them sleeping three to a one-man cell.

He said he was sure the Legislature would approve the Texas Department of Corrections' request for two new prisons costing $280 million.

Asked if he believed new prisons, rather than relaxed parole policies and other innovations, were the way to relieve overcrowding, Hobby said he did.

Among those mentioned as possible contenders for the job are Sens. Peyton McKnight, D-Tyler, and Bill Meier, D-Eules, who led the Democrats and Independents for Reagan organization this year.

Hobby, who presides over the Senate, said he would be able to wield legislative power more effectively as a candidate for another term than as a lame duck.

The Legislature convenes Jan. 13 for a 140-day regular session.

Hobby opposes Clements' wiretapping and initiative, and referendum proposals and said he also thinks there is no need for another part of Clements' program — tax relief.

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy and continued cold most sections through the latter part of the week. Highs in the 30s north to the upper 40s southeast and 50s. Big Bend valleys. Lows in teens north to the 20s south.

reading in snowy Amarillo to a balmy 62 in Brownsville, which reported fog. The Texas Hill Country, where it was cold and blustery, braced for a winter storm.

The forecast called for cloudy, cold weather across much of the state, with snow predicted for the northwest and rain expected in the south.

WEATHER FORECAST — The National Weather Service forecasts rain in portions of the southeastern coastal states ranging from Texas to Florida. Snow is expected in parts of Texas east through Alabama.

Howard County Spelling Bee books available at Herald

Although the 1981 Howard County Spelling Bee is about four months away, spelling books have arrived at the Herald and are available to students at cost — 45 cents each.

The Herald annually sponsors the event, which is open to elementary and junior high school students in Howard County.

The winner here gets an expenses-paid trip to Lubbock, where the Regional Bee will be held. The champion there qualifies for an expenses-paid trip to the National Bee in Washington, D.C. The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal sponsors the Regional Bee.

Chrysler shows profit for first time in two years

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. recorded a profit last month for the first time in two years, but Chairman Lee A. Iacocca says the quarter will not be profitable unless sales pick up.

"It all hinges" on dealers taking the three weeks of production scheduled for December, Iacocca said in an interview published Monday in Automotive News.

He did not disclose the earnings figures for October. Chrysler, like most corporations, does not report monthly results.

Earlier this year, the No. 3 automaker projected a profit for the final three months of 1980, but Wall Street and government analysts say the company will not make it.

The last profitable quarter was the final three months of 1978, when $4.8 million was recorded. Chrysler has lost nearly $2.6 billion since.

Estimates of a $300 million loss for the present quarter are too high, however, Iacocca said, adding that "the roof would really have to fall in" for Chrysler to lose that much.

Extremists get their point across

Extremists in other countries keep trying to promote their causes with acts of terrorism, and Americans keep getting in the way.

Perhaps it is because Americans can be found in ever increasing numbers around the world or perhaps the revolutionaries know that getting Americans involved in their acts of mischief, even in remote ways, always commands attention in the America news media.

The bombing of that convention of American travel agents in Manila not long ago is a prime example. Although the explosive brought the convention to a sudden halt, the visiting travel professionals were not the targets — the government of Philippine president Ferdinand Marcos was.

IT WAS ONE of a series of bomb incidents planned by a group which calls itself the April 6 Liberation Movement. It did not come without warning. The extremists had noised it about that the convention might be made the occasion for an anti-Marcos movement. The Marcos people reacted by tightening security measures and guaranteeing the travel agents that they could meet in safety. So much for promises, when there are so many radicals willing to lay down their lives to further a cause.

This country, of course, has had its share of disruptive demonstrations planned by people disenchanted with the policies of those in power. The confrontations between students at Kent State University and the National Guard is an example. Then there was Mayor Richard Daley's show of force against protestors of the Vietnam War at the National Democratic Convention in Chicago in 1968. To put it simply, Daley believed he could control the situation by breaking a few heads. The swelling has gone away but the bitterness remains among people who think Daley should have been more conciliatory.

Marcos' position in the Philippines may be not unlike that of the late Shah's in Iran. Each believed in suppression of those who took issue with their methods. The Shah, in time, was toppled. Marcos, no doubt, will be, in time. He is simply dealing with a problem with a Fourth Century mentality.

THE TERRORISTS achieved what they set out to do in Manila, defying government edicts and thumbing their noses at the government's show of force. Quite probably, they will step up their demonstrations for the benefit of visiting delegations like the travel agents.

There was a time, following WW II, when Filipino democracy appeared to be developing into an ideal state, a showcase for the remainder of the world to admire and emulate. Then Marcos came along, resolute in his conviction that his countrymen had to be rebroken and trained to adhere to his political philosophy. He has ruled by martial law for the past eight years. If Washington has not applauded his efforts, it certainly has done nothing to discourage him.

Fewer and fewer groups are apt to plan conventions in Manila in the future, something that will delight the extremists. What better way to get a point across than reminding the principals that the potential for violence is always there?

Sharing blame

Around the rim

Richard Horn

I have to admit, my first reaction to the acquittal of the KKK members in North Carolina was one of outrage (I threw half a soggy pancake at Walter Cronkite when he told me the news). All of my ill feelings about the Klan came bursting forth, and I felt sure that somehow they had bought the judge and the jury and the bailiff and even Walter Cronkite, or any one else who had anything to do with the trial.

AFTER AWHILE, however, I calmed down and began to feel a little stupid for making such a mess of my TV set. In the following days, news reports and interviews with the jurors convinced me that no one had been bought, that, in fact, all involved had weighed the evidence and made their decision without regard to politics or ideology. They did what they thought was best, in line with justice. It was not a bunch of rednecks letting the Klan go because they felt it really was time to clean up America.

Self defense was the Klan's excuse for the killing. The fact that it was members of the Communist Workers Party that ended up dead refutes the claim that the Klan was a bunch of innocents merely out to practice free speech. But the evidence showed that it was the CWP that fired the first shot. It is true that when both sides are clearly guilty, you cannot just sentence one side. My only problem with that is no matter who fired the first shot, the KKK purposely tries to provoke fighting with hate and accusations. They are very clever to make the other side get angry and attack out of rage.

I have no enthusiasm for the Communist Workers Party. Neither do I have any for the Ku Klux Klan. The CWP is an increasingly small and fractured group; the majority of people just do not believe communism holds any answers, despite many right wing claims that Communists are going to control the country. The Klan, on the other hand is growing and mighty proud of it. Many of them are taking their sheets off and facing the public which is an improvement. I suppose, over their cowardly ways of the past. Many of the leaders are appearing on news shows on TV and advertising their peaceful new ways. Still, their tactics and attitudes have more in line with the Soviet Union, which they profess to hate, than with America, which they profess to love so much.

AMERICA HAS TAKEN a right turn on red in the last year. That has prompted many liberals to claim that the U.S. is driving down the road to fascism, and they use the North Carolina trial as their evidence, as well as the political 'hit groups' like the National Conservative Political Action Committee. It is silly to say that fascism could never happen in this country, but it is dangerous to make accusations any time something happens that seems in the least conservative.

I'm not sure how to feel about the trial results. The issue is far from over. I'm afraid, I don't believe the jury intended to say that what the KKK did was right, they only meant that both sides were wrong.

Walking wounded

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — You see them all over Washington these days. Bright young men and women in their best clothes, carrying their resumes in their briefcases, going from one private office to another hoping to land a job.

They are the walking wounded of the Carter defeat, which not only brought down a president but a Democratic Senate. There are thousands of them, hired without the protection of the Civil Service and now bright Republicans are going to get their jobs. Some of the wounded are qualified for the private sector and others, unfortunately, are not.

"Mr. Walcott, I've been reading your resume. But I'm not too clear on exactly what you did for the government."

"I was in planning and statistics and dealt mostly with credibility discrepancies and shortfalls in the oversight department."

"I see. Could you be a little more specific?"

"MY DEPARTMENT made reports and studies involving budgetary problems that were outside long-term outlay ratios. We would assess the impact of these problems and then make recommendations on whether to pass them up the line to the seventh floor or send them back to the third floor for further clarification."

"Then your office was above the third floor?"

"Yes, sir, I was on the fifth floor with windows overlooking the Washington Monument. The people on the third floor reported to me and I reported to my superior who reported to the people on the seventh floor."

"That's very interesting. Could you tell me exactly what your day was like?"

"The first thing we did in the morning was to have a meeting on the fifth floor to discuss discretionary input policy. Then we broke up, and I went to my office and wrote a memorandum concerning the meeting, which I classified and then submitted to all those concerned, keeping a copy for myself just in case someone called me on it at a later date."

"Could you give me a more specific example of exactly the services you rendered?"

"Of course. Let's say that at the meeting we discussed a restructuring of the infrastructure of the department. My superior wanted to know what grievance response mechanisms had to be built into the program for it to succeed, and how we could move the staff around without endangering the efficiency of his department by adopting the reforms. We didn't want to send a rocket up in the building that would crash down on our heads."

"Correct me if I'm wrong, but it seems to me that one of your many functions was to protect your superior's job."

"I NEVER THOUGHT of it that way, but now that you mention it I guess that was what I was doing. You have to understand how the department worked. The seventh floor kept sending down memos that they were getting flak from the eighth floor to cut out the fat in the agency. The seventh floor said they had no fat to cut, and it was up to fifth floor to enact a cost-saving program. We passed on their demands to the third floor for suggestions. But the third floor was very uncooperative and kept sending back memos insisting that any major savings in running the department could only be made on the upper floors. Obviously, we had to protect our own turf."

Tired blood: What does it mean?

Paul G. Donohue, M.D.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Before I get on with my subject, I want to tell you how much I enjoy your column, and I think you resemble Rex Harrison (the actor). Now to get on to the subject. I wish in this modern age of medicine something could be done for tired or weak blood, so that I would not have to have transfusions every three months. This has been going on for a year. The doctor said it's just something I'll have to live with. I am getting discouraged. I am 73, am not a big eater, and look healthy except for when I need another transfusion. I will be anxiously awaiting your reply in the paper. — Mrs. W.F.

I am sorry to hear you have a problem that requires regular blood transfusions. Tired red blood cells is a descriptive way to explain certain blood conditions. Normally, red blood cells last 120 days. The bone marrow replaces them as they are worn out daily. In some people, the red blood cells don't last 120 days, so the marrow cannot keep up the replacement. The person may need transfusions. In other people the bone marrow itself may be tired and just not making enough replacement cells. Again, transfusions may be needed.

I can appreciate how vexing it is to have to go through this every three months. Don't be discouraged. Those transfusions are keeping you sharper than most of us are who have full red blood cell production. It certainly hasn't affected your keen sense of observation. And who knows, by the time your grandchildren are your age there may be a way to regenerate such failing red blood cell production.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Having read with interest your description of hiatal hernia, I have a related question. I am 77 and have recently been told I have a small hiatal hernia. Are sit-ups harmful with this condition? I do this and a few other limbering up exercises every morning in bed (on a hard mattress). It always causes burping. — Mrs. A.R.

Your sit-ups should not make the actual hiatal hernia worse. They could cause stomach acid to be squeezed upward into the esophagus. You will know that is happening if you have heartburn. If you do, then I would not do the sit-ups. If you are only burping, I would not let that bother me. You have put me to shame. If you can exercise on waking up in the morning, and at your age, I'd better start, too. The booklet "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It" may give you a better notion of the problem. For a copy, write me care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 50 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Could you please tell me what the Epstein-Barr virus is? How is it treated? Why is there no medicine for it? — Mrs. M.S.

The Epstein-Barr virus causes infectious mononucleosis and is associated with a few rarer conditions. By adulthood almost 95 percent of us have come into contact with this virus whether or not we have ever had symptoms of mono.

There is no medicine available to fight this virus, which is why rest alone is so important for mono. Medicines are available for only a few virus infections. Here we are at about the stage we were with bacterial infections prior to World War II, before penicillin and other drugs became available to fight various bacteria. The day is not far off, I hope and am sure, when we will have a host of drugs to use similarly against various viral infections.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I understand that those of us trying to eliminate red meat from our diet may be lacking in vitamin B-12. Please advise as to what B-12 is? Does it contain iron? I am supposed to limit my iron intake. — Mrs. R.G.

A vitamin is a substance the body cannot make but which it needs in very small amounts to keep all of its cells working. It is the spark of a combustion engine. Vitamin B-12 is one of these substances and is needed, specifically, for production of red blood cells and nerve cells. It is not nor does it contain iron. The best sources of B-12 are meats and animal organs. However, there are sufficient amounts in eggs and dairy products to prevent a deficiency if meat-eating has been eschewed.

What can vitamins really do for you — and what can't they do? In his new booklet, Dr. Paul Donohue separates the common sense from the nonsense about this controversial health aid. For your copy of "Vitamins: Facts You Need to Know" send 50 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Donohue in care of the Big Spring Herald.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I want to know when it would be safe for me to have sexual intercourse without using birth control pills. I usually have my period anywhere from the end of the month to the beginning of the next month and it usually lasts around four days. A friend has hers from the 5th. Could you also tell me if there is any over-the-counter birth control pill we can buy? — Miss L.H.

You both may be sadly disappointed if you try to gauge your fertility days according to the days of the calendar month. It's far more complicated than that, having to do with ovulation and body temperature changes. I can't begin to explain it all in this brief space. You need to find some literature on this subject. (I will discuss the rhythm method in a subsequent article). No, there are no birth control pills available without prescription. Both you and your girlfriend apparently need to fill in some very large gaps in your knowledge of your bodies.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I read one of your answers recently about Jesus being fully God as well as fully man. I'm not sure I can agree with this. Why is the divinity of Jesus such an important thing anyway? — O.D.M.

DEAR O.D.M.: Yes, I know it is hard for you to understand how Jesus could be both God and man. But this is the consistent teaching of the New Testament, and by faith I believe it to be true. I think the problem you have with this may be because you do not understand how any man could become God. But it isn't that the man Jesus somehow became God. It is that God became man. The Bible says, "The Word was God. And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us" (John 1:1, 14).

Why is it important that Jesus was God as well as man? First, only God can really know our problems. He knows us far better than we know ourselves, and he also knows what is best for us (which we often do not know). The Bible says that Jesus "knew what was in man" (John 2:25). Also, only if Jesus was fully God (as well as fully man) could he tell us about God. The religious leaders and philosophers of the world have only been able to tell us their ideas about God. Only Christ reveals God himself. "No man has ever seen God, but God the only Son, who is at the Father's side, has made him known" (John 1:18, New International Version).

Perhaps most important, only a divine Savior could really save us. Our sin is so great that no one can save himself, much less save others. Only the sinless Son of God could save us, and this he did by dying on the Cross for you and me. The Bible tells, "Christ died for your sins once for all, the righteous for the unrighteous, to bring you to God" (1 Peter 3:18, NIV).

The fact that God came down in human form to save us is the greatest proof of his love. He loves you, and he wants you to come to real faith in him.

Evans, Novak

WASHINGTON — Turmoil within President-elect Reagan's national security transition, which now begins to threaten his policy goals, erupted Nov. 17 in the sudden resignation of an exasperated Lawrence Silberman as leader of the CIA transition team.

The proximate cause was the exclusion of Silberman, considered a possibility to be Reagan's director of Central Intelligence, from CIA briefings for the president-elect. Silberman decided to use a policy reason for quitting. "I don't have the time to deal with the complications," said Silberman, a San Francisco banker. Whatever the true causes, a shock-wave of paranoia was felt through the national security community.

Silberman, who stood up to then-Secretary of State Henry Kissinger as ambassador to Yugoslavia in 1975-77, is a tough-minded realist whose permanent loss would be a serious blow for anti-dentist Republicans. His departure deepens fears among like-minded members of Reagan's transition organization that they are losing during the interregnum the vital defense issues that Ronald Reagan promoted during the campaign.

IF SILBERMAN IS GONE, there are fears that William Van Cleave's days are numbered. Van Cleave, a former SALT negotiator and a steadfast critic of Kissinger-style diplomacy, is under intense attack as leader of Reagan's national defense transition team. The reason given by his transition superiors is personal style ("Bill just comes over too hard"). But the overriding cause is Van Cleave's insistence on radically halting spending to restore the depleted U.S. defense posture.

Van Cleave's team members see an anti-defense spending crunch inspired by Nixon-Ford administration retreats directed through William Timmons, a former Nixon-Ford deputy director of transition. Behind Timmons, they see the menacing specter of Henry Kissinger, resurrected in influence thought not in person.

Much more pressure has been directed against Van Cleave than Silberman. But tough-talking Larry Silberman does not stand for much nonsense — such as dismissal from the Senate intelligence committee's Republican staff of three aides because they joined Silberman's transition team. Silberman was not pleased when this abrupt action by the committee's senior Republican member, Sen. Barry Goldwater, was backed by his superior in the sprawling Reagan transition bureaucracy: national security group director David Abshire.

Abshire, a former assistant secretary of state, is chairman of Georgetown University's Center of Strategic and International Studies where Kissinger has an office. Silberman was not enchanted by the requirement of constant transition reports to Abshire. Nor did he get much help from above in confronting lame-duck CIA Director Stansfield Turner's non-cooperation. The last straw came when Silberman was barred from the CIA briefing.

Silberman's resignation was a shock to Reagan's senior echelon, which would welcome a similar departure by Van Cleave. While Van Cleave's brusque personality is stressed as the source of his troubles, he never has been forgiven for telling the hard truth during the campaign: defense spending increases exceeding 7 percent a year will be needed to restore the nation's defenses.

In current discussions at the Pentagon, Van Cleave's team members are laying out the tough requirements: strengthening the Minuteman missile, accelerating the MX mobile missile program, reviving the B-1 bomber. That angers Timmons, who contends the transition team has no such mission, and worries Reagan's economizing budget-makers out in California (led by Casper Weinberger).

VAN CLEAVE'S men have found common cause with Pentagon officials who silently endured the last four tragic years of defense decay. But they have outraged lame-duck Defense Secretary Harold Brown, who presided over those years. Brown has complained, through White House channels, about the size and persistence of Van Cleave's team and the presence on it of a congressman — Rep. Robin Beard of Tennessee.

Beard was removed from the team, and the impression was given that Brown's complaints received a sympathetic ear from Reagan transition leaders. Van Cleave and Co., accustomed to defeat in years of struggle for a stronger defense, have felt a Kissingerian cloud rolling over them.

That may explain an ugly exchange between Van Cleave and Abshire's deputy, defense consultant John Lehman. Although Lehman's hard-line defense credentials and courage in fighting SALT concessions equal Van Cleave's, he is a former Kissinger aide and present Kissinger friend. Consequently, Van Cleave rejected four additions to his team proposed by Lehman, stigmatizing them as the invasion of the "Gucci-loafer set."

Big Spring Herald

Mailbag

Dear Editor:

In a recent syndicate column appearing in your newspaper, Rowland Evans and Robert Novak reported that I was "quietly passing word to colleagues to resist at all costs" the predictable effort of Appropriations Committee Republicans to boost the defense appropriations bill. "This is a fabrication that cannot go unchallenged. Not only had I not discussed defense spending with a single member of the Appropriations Committee, I had not discussed it with any member of my staff nor any official in the Defense Department. I cannot believe that Evans and Novak manufactured this groundless assertion from whole cloth, so I can only assume that it was based on false statements made by persons unknown to me. A simple phone call would have put the matter right, but of course that would have killed the column.

I, for one, will continue to judge the merits of increased defense spending on a case-by-case basis and will cooperate fully with the incoming Republican administration whenever possible. I can only hope that Messrs. Evans and Novak will in the future let the facts dictate their opinions rather than vice versa.

NEWLYWEDS — Ronald P. Reagan, son of the president-elect, stands close to his new bride, the former Doria Palmieri, Monday, after being married in a civil ceremony in New York. Reagan, 22, is a dancer with the Joffrey II Dancers, a training troupe for the Joffrey Ballet and Mrs. Reagan, 29, is a researcher.

Bride wore red boots Reagan's son weds roomie

NEW YORK (AP) — The bride wore red cowboy boots and the bridegroom sported tennis shoes when the son of President-elect Ronald Reagan tied the knot with a young literary researcher in a civil ceremony.

The wedding of 22-year-old Ronald P. Reagan and 29-year-old Doria Palmieri was celebrated Monday in the chambers of Judge Lester Evans. The couple took out a license earlier in the day and Evans waived the requirement for a 24-hour waiting period.

Plans for the wedding apparently were kept from all but the couple's closest friends.

The president-elect, reached in Los Angeles, said he was happily surprised at the news.

"It was kind of an elopement," Reagan added.

His wife, Nancy Reagan, said in Pacific Palisades, Calif., that she was "very happy."

She said her son is a member of the Joffrey II Dancers, and his long-time companion wanted a simple wedding.

"His father and I had a small wedding," said Mrs. Reagan. "The main thing is that Ron is happy."

The only witnesses to the wedding were Calvin Willford of Pinol, Calif., a long-time friend of the groom, and Lane McNitt, a Secret Service agent.

Miss Palmieri wore red boots, a black sweater and black slacks. Reagan wore a red sweatshirt, blue jeans and sneakers.

After the ceremony, the bride accompanied her husband to a rehearsal. No honeymoon was planned and Reagan's mother said the couple would not be joining her and the president-elect for Thanksgiving in California.

The couple had been sharing a Greenwich Village apartment since January.

They were said to have met at the Stanley Holden School in Los Angeles about two years ago.

The younger Reagan is a dancer with the training troupe of the Joffrey Ballet.

Major renovations at YMCA approved

The Big Spring YMCA board of directors approved recently a major renovation and repair program for the YMCA facility, located at 801 Owens.

In the areas of replacement, work will begin on changing the lighting in the swimming pool. Mercury vapor lights will replace current conventional fixtures. Other areas of change will include installation of a pool heater for the swimming pool, and steam generator for the Health Center steam room.

A new circulation pump and motor was installed this past summer for the large swimming pool.

Many major items of renovations and cosmetic projects are also planned. These include replacing ceiling tile in preschool pool, painting the exterior of the building, installing a control desk in the lobby, repair lights in gym, and whirlpool in the Health Center.

Other items still being considered are sandblasting and painting the large swimming pool, repumbing selected areas in the facility, upgrading front walls, of two courts, painting and carpeting selected areas of the building.

The process of upgrading the YMCA is planned to take 10 to 12 months.

Lamesa killed in car wreck

LAMESA — Bruce Savage, 27, of Lamesa was killed in a one-car accident ten miles north of here on US 87 early Sunday.

He was pronounced dead at the scene by Dawson County Justice of Peace Fred Vera.

According to a Texas Department of Public Safety spokesman, Savage lost control of his auto when he attempted to pass a truck. The pickup truck he was driving turned over twice, according to the DPS report.

ENCORE, A SHOP FULL OF RESALE CLOTHING... come by and see their wide selection

Encore: Resale shop for budget-minded

At a time of continuing inflation, Encore is an idea that is right for Howard County.

Open since August, Encore has a large inventory of both boys and girls' "nearly new" fashions. Many of the items have never been worn; others are so gently and exclusively worn they still look and feel new.

Junior sizes, of all ages, will find beautiful dresses, sweaters, pants, blouses and even a selection of long dresses, available at unbelievably low prices.

Resale shops have long been a 'must' in large cities. Encore will be a service to the Big Spring community not only in helping the budget-minded shopper, but also by taking items on consignment.

Come by and see the good selection, or bring in your gently worn clothing and accessories.

Encore is located at 601 Main Street, south of the Big Spring Post Office. The phone number is 263-0992. Owners Pat Rutledge and Carol Hunter will assist you in selecting the perfect clothing for your family or yourself.

With money in short supply all around, shopping at Encore is a wise way of managing money in an intelligent way.

A WIDE SELECTION OF UNIQUE GIFTS
Iris McGlothlin, Sylvia Speaker, and Roy Peet stand with the merchandise at Inland Port 213

Christmas is coming to Inland Port 213

With the coming of the Christmas shopping season, you may be interested in finding an alternative to the more usual gifts that end up under the tree. If so, Inland Port 213, at 213 Main St. may give you some truly unique gifts this year.

They have one of the finest selections of turquoise jewelry in West Texas. They also have selections in brass from India and other parts of the world.

They feature selections in Early American and wooden accessories in walnut, money pod, and other unique wood. They also have a very unique selection of gifts from the Orient.

Roy Peet (the man responsible for bringing the gifts here), truly has an eye for the unusual and the interesting. His selections of gifts from around the world is certain to make Christmas shopping easy and fun.

From Switzerland, Inland Port has Cuckoo Clocks, always a good gift. From Germany, you can find Music Boxes with Hamamel Figurines.

If you think music boxes aren't interesting enough, how about a musical peppermint. Inland Port has several with different designs that will interest anyone.

Their selection of crystal is outstanding and includes beautiful bowls, vases, dishes, and other pieces.

Inland Port must have the best selection of candles in town, as well as all kinds of party decorations that will add an interesting flavor to any holiday party.

Their selection of brass and copper will keep shoppers busy for hours just looking and enjoying them. They have dozens of brass sculptors and crystal figures. Inland Port also has the kind of selection of wood carvings that is hard to find anywhere else.

If you know someone who is just beginning to fix up a new home or apartment of their own, begin looking for gifts from them at Inland Port 213. They have a selection of large planters and other home items that will delight any homemaker.

They will be more than happy for you to come in and browse and look at their selections.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, NOV. 26, 1980

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You could find confusion and muddled thinking exists due to planetary reasons and this could be a nonproductive day unless you channel your energies in constructive outlets.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Make sure your regular activities are wisely scheduled and then carry through in a sensible manner. Be logical.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Obtain important information for a project you are interested in before you go ahead with definite plans. Be wise.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you handle routine duties in a modern manner, you gain benefits. Study a new plan before making any changes.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Don't neglect important work early in the day. Try to cooperate more with co-workers. Strive for harmony.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Be sure you don't take on any heavy expenditures of money in the evening. Allow time to engage in creative activity.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Postpone going ahead with a new interest you have in mind. Wait until a better time. Evening is fine for recreation.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Improve the foundation of your life so you can have more abundance in the days ahead. Get rid of annoying conditions.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Iron out any problems with others in a quiet and tactful manner. Seek the company of congenials in the evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have to use careful thought in handling monetary affairs today. Use your intuitive faculties for best results.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Use a different attitude in handling a puzzling situation and you get better results. Seek the company of friends tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have hidden desires that need more study before you pursue them. Strive for increased happiness.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Some of your friends may have problems so be sure to give a helping hand. Show others you have practical wisdom.

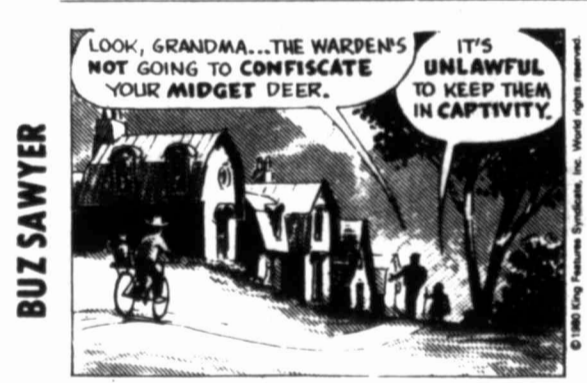

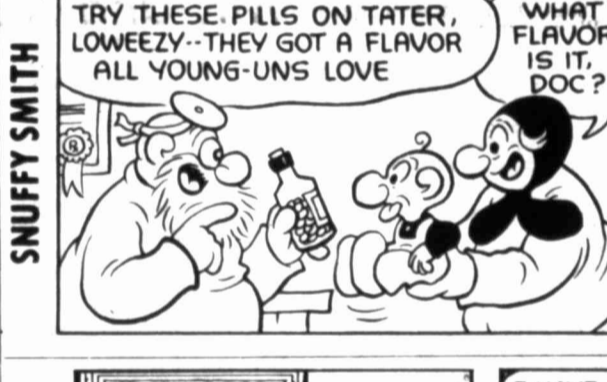

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one who comprehends the problems of others and knows instinctively how to solve them. Be sure to give the best education you can afford to bring out this ability. A good life in this chart.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Dear Abby

Family Totem Pole Has Slippery Sides

DEAR ABBY: CURIOUS asked, "Which is the hardest? Being the youngest, middle or eldest child?" You replied, "It all depends where you're coming from."

Well, I'm the youngest, and I think being the youngest is an advantage. Sure, I got plenty of hand-me-downs, but they were mostly good as new and I was always the best-dressed kid in my class.

Since I was the last one to leave home, I was treated like an only child and got plenty of attention and love. Because my folks were much better off financially after my brothers and sisters left home, they were able to do more for me than they did for the others.

Also, I had plenty of examples to follow. My parents were more relaxed and made fewer mistakes raising me than raising the older ones. I honestly can't think of any disadvantages in being the youngest.

LUCKY IN NEW CASTLE.

DEAR ABBY: I think being the oldest child is definitely the hardest — especially when there are only two in the family and they're both boys.

I'm the oldest, and when a fight breaks out between me and my brother, I'm always blamed. They say, "You're older and you should know better."

Being the oldest means that you start out being an only child, then all of a sudden you've got to share your parents and divide everything with another child. And the baby gets more attention just because he's little and cute and helpless. It's only normal to be jealous of him.

Being older means having more responsibility, like looking after my little brother. My parents give me the job, but they don't give me the authority to do any hitting.

If I could choose, I would be the youngest.

RICKY IN KANSAS CITY

DEAR ABBY: The middle child definitely gets the worst of it. If the oldest accomplishes something, it's a big deal because it's the first time. Same with the youngest, because "the baby is growing up."

When the middle does it — nothing. It's neither the first nor the last.

The middle child is second in everything. Never first. Do you know what it feels like to be introduced by your parents? It goes something like this: "This is our oldest. And this is our youngest. And the other one is Kathy." You feel like nothing.

I'm sure parents don't realize they do this. Maybe this will help.

A MIDDLE NOTHING

DEAR ABBY: I'm the youngest in a family of five children. When our mother died at 77, she left a houseful of lovely antique furniture, plus enough silver, linen and china to open a store. She also left some valuable heirloom jewelry. She didn't leave a will, but guess who got first crack at everything?

Mother's first-born daughter, of course.

GYPPED IN JOPLIN, MO.

DEAR ABBY: You ask, "Is it better to be the youngest, middle or eldest child?" Strange you should ask.

I have three sisters and two brothers — all older, married and living lives of their own. I've never been married and probably never will be.

I'm home caring for my mother who is 88 and has been an invalid for 19 years, and my father who is 90 and blind. You may sign me, "The youngest," or...

Community concerts Altrusa program topic

The Altrusa Club of Big Spring met Nov. 13, with Doris Guy, president, presiding over the 17 members and two guests.

The Altrusa Blessing and pledge to the flag were repeated in unison.

Minutes were read by Deloris Albert, secretary, and approved. The treasurer's report was given by Pat Highley. Dori Mitchell donated the joker gift and Frances Hendrick bought it. Mrs. Albert received the joker this week and will bring the gift next meeting.

Thanksgiving dinner will be held at the Holiday Inn today at 6:30 p.m. The Big Spring State Hospital party will be Dec. 16.

Dora Roberts Center is being renovated for members of the Big Spring Alliance Clubs. The Christmas party is being planned and it was agreed that gifts of no more than $5 value will be exchanged by the number system.

Mrs. Hendrick introduced the speaker, Mrs. Jean Kuykendall, Community Concert Chairman. Mrs. Kuykendall explained how the concert association plans and contracts entertainment for the year.

"It is necessary to plan more than a year in advance," she said, "and the concerts are by membership only. No tickets are available at the door."

Mother-to-be is honored

A baby shower honoring Mrs. Clyde McKimney was held recently in the home of Royce Cox, 2607 Larry. Mrs. Howard Stewart and Mrs. Cecil Stephens were co-hostesses.

A yellow corsage was presented to the honoree. Guests were served tea breads and pastries from a refreshment table covered with a cutwork cloth centered with a pastel accented centerpiece. Silver and crystal appointments were used. Miniature booties were used as nutcrackers.

Women educators initiated

The Beta Kappa chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, professional organization for women educators, met Nov. 15 at the Big Spring Country Club for a luncheon.

The annual initiation ceremony was performed prior to the meal for six outstanding teachers of local schools: Averil Bradford, Marcy; Shirley Burgess, Kentwood; Betty Conley and Connie Gary, Runnels; Mary Ellen Proctor, Collette Heights and Dorothy Stephens, Goliad.

Chapter colors of red and gold were incorporated in organization symbols and the ceremonial cloth. Each new member was presented a long-stemmed red rose by her sponsor.

A cornucopia of fresh fruits and vegetables centered the head table with adjoining tables featuring symbols of harvest. Chicken crepes and a fruit and melon medley were served.

Following a short business meeting the 55 members attending were reminded of the Dec. 5 Christmas dinner where donations will be taken for the March of Dimes and Big Spring State Hospital funds.

Council hosts breakfast

The Big Spring Council of Exceptional Children hosted a breakfast Nov. 21 at 8 a.m. for Region 18 members at the Holiday Inn.

Bobbie Duncan, former Texas State Teacher's Association president, was among the 33 guests present. The group decided by vote that the president of the host school district of CEC for 1981-82 will chair the TSTA meeting.

Carla Warrington, sign language specialist with the Southwest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf, spoke. Warrington stated that thousands of hearing impaired post graduate students will need services in the next 10 years due to the rubella epidemic in the 1960's from a nine-state area.

"The land, facilities and equipment given for development of the school were a 'Godsend,'" Ms. Warrington said, "with the development process starting from scratch. Exciting things are happening in all areas. The best thing is, perhaps, the opportunity to offer training in allied medical services."

Ms. Warrington answered questions from educators attending the meeting. Particular interest was shown in locations close to their residences where they can learn sign language.

PREMIERE PARTY — Actress Lee Remick and her husband, Kip Gowans, arrive at New York's tower Suite Sunday night for a party following the premiere of "The Competition," a film starring Remick, Richard Dreyfuss and Amy Irving.

Health fields to be subjected to review

"Sunset Review" and what it means to the future of Texas medicine was the subject of the Permian Basin Medical Auxiliary's recent guest speaker, Mrs. Robert Hamblen, San Angelo.

Mrs. Hamblen, the Texas Medical Association Auxiliary's District 10 Legislative chairwoman, presented the local group's Nov. 20 program in the home of Mrs. Robert Rember.

"Sunset Review" refers to the Texas Sunset Act of 1977 which each 12 years automatically terminates every state agency not positively recreated by the Texas Legislature, explained Mrs. Hamblen.

Auxiliary members were reminded that 1981 will be the year agencies governing health related fields are subjected to scrutiny. These include more than a dozen state agencies which license physicians, nurses, veterinarians, dentists, pharmacists and other health professionals.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson announce son's birth

Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Dee Anderson, Aspermont, announce the birth of their first child, a son, Jason Kenneth, on Nov. 4 at 12:30 p.m. in Hendrix Memorial Hospital, Abilene. Jason made his debut weighing 7 pounds 6 1/2 ounces and measuring 18 inches in length.

The new arrival's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Winford White, Lamesa. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Anderson, Ackerly.

Tween 12 and 20 — How teens feel about girls calling boys

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Connie, 16, from Joliet, Ill., has a friend who is a boy and she occasionally calls him on the telephone. Her mom thinks that it is not ladylike for a girl to call a boy, so Connie is asking for teen advice. Jon Hersh, 16, from Colorado Springs, Colo., and Mary Rosa, 16, who lives in Merced, Calif., will have the honor.

Dr. Wallace: I'm 15 and have a good friend named Dave. We date occasionally and during the school year study together a lot because we had the same classes. There are times that I call him on the telephone (he also calls me), but my mother always has a "cat fit." She thinks that it is trashy for a girl to telephone a boy. Naturally, I disagree. I'd like to hear what you and your guest writers have to say about this. — Connie, Joliet, Ill.

Connie: Over 20 years ago when I was a teen, a certain girl used to call me and my mother always felt the girl was bold and that it was improper for her to call me.

I thought it was perfectly natural for her to call and my philosophy hasn't changed. I see no reason why a girl should not telephone a boy. — Dr. Wallace

Hi Connie: I have a boyfriend and would you believe my mother will not allow me to phone him? We are Italian and my parents say that Italian girls do not telephone boys.

I don't agree with them but to keep peace in the house I never call him when a parent is home. But if I'm alone, I'll call him if I want to talk to him.

I think parents who think that girls should not call boys are really out of it, mine included. — Mary, Merced, Calif.

Hi Connie: My mother is constantly calling my father at work (we own a restaurant). If it is all right for married females to call their mates then why should it be wrong for single girls to telephone single boys? My sister spends more time calling her boyfriend than she does seeing him. — Jon, Colorado Springs, Colo.

Dr. Wallace: I'm 12 and have a big problem. My parents smoke marijuana at home.

I tell them that it is bad for them but they only tell me to mind my own business.

ness. What should I do? — A.F., San Diego, Calif.

A.F.: Let's face it. There is not much that you can do to make your parents stop smoking marijuana.

But you can learn from their mistakes. It's sad that you must learn this way but it can make you a better person.

By the way, you don't have a problem, your parents do.

If you would like to be a guest teen writer, please write to me in care of this newspaper stating your sex and age.

Steers press past Sweetwater in opener

By NATHAN POSS
Sports Editor

The name of the game was press, and the Big Spring Steers boys basketball team did just that here Monday night in their season opener, taking a 66-54 win over the Sweetwater Mustangs.

The Steers, a small team with plenty of quick guards that displayed a proficiency for excellent outside shooting, actually handled the Mustangs much more easily than the 12-point margin would indicate.

After taking a slim early lead, the Steers, behind four long range bombs from senior Dickie Wrightsill, exploded in the final minute of the opening stanza to take an 18-8 advantage.

The full court press and the tough man-to-man defense continued in the second stanza, with the Steers riding 10 points from another senior guard, James Doss, to increase their margin at the intermission to 37-22.

It was increased to as much as 20 points on many instances in the second half, but Sweetwater repeatedly refused to completely fold.

This, coupled with the fact that Steer Coach Ed Haller played all 12 performers suited up at least three minutes in the contest helped keep the score down.

The Steers rugged defense stifled the Sweetwater attack throughout, but in another sense, allowed the Mustangs to remain in the contest. Sweetwater connected on 14 free throws in the first half, and ended the game with 24 successful charity tosses in 40 attempts.

Big Spring, meanwhile, was 10 of 17 from the free throw line.

Doss led the Steers in their season opening win with 20 points, with Wrightsill adding 14 and Blake Rosson 12. All three of the Big Spring scoring leaders were deadly from the outside in their shooting.

The somewhat small Big Spring team relied on the rebounding of Fletcher Johnson and Bobby Earl Williams to also help control the game.

Williams, just out from the football team, where he led 5-A-A-A-A-A in rushing, also had four blocked shots.

Sweetwater was paced in the scoring column by the versatile Rodney Griggs, who canned 18 points.

The Steers had a scheduled game tonight with Lubbock Coronado, but it has been postponed. The two teams are now set to play at 4:00 p.m. Friday, with a JV game set for 2:00 p.m.

Big Spring also won the JV contest last night, taking a 55-47 triumph. The Shorthorns jumped off to a 16-7 lead in the first quarter and then held off their Sweetwater foes the remainder of the way.

Terry Spears and Jody Dawdy led the Big Spring JVs in the contest, scoring 19 and 16 points, respectively.

Cisco edges Hawks on shot at buzzer, 70-68

CISCO — Troy Woods sank a desperation shot at the buzzer to propel the Cisco Wranglers to an exciting 70-68 win over the Howard College Hawks in a men's non-conference basketball game here Monday night.

The loss continued the Howard College Hawks frustration against Cisco. The Hawks, now 5-3 on the year, have lost all three of their decisions to Cisco, coached by former Big Spring Steer mentor Tommy Collins.

The game could have gone either way, as the Hawks twice had chances to win the tilt in the final minute, only to miss short shots.

The final chance came with eight seconds left when the Hawks top scorer, John Corker, let an eight-foot jumper go amidst heavy traffic. It missed, and Cisco rebounded and got the ball up court to their outside shooting ace Woods, who did not miss.

Despite the loss, Howard College Coach Harold Wilder was happy with the effort and performance his team displayed. "We played real good," said Wilder. "It was probably our best game of the year. We just didn't get the breaks at the end that we needed in order to win."

The Hawks had jumped out to a 39-36 lead at the intermission, but neither team could mount a sizeable lead in the second half.

Sophomore Kenneth Jones led the Hawks in the scoring column with 23 points, with Jeff Faubion adding 14 and Corker 13. Ron Atkins, who averaged 20 points per game last year, connected on only eight, but garnered many rebounds.

Mark Priest led Cisco with 22 points, with the deadly Woods finishing with 17. The Hawks take the rest of the week off from any outside competition, but will be working hard toward their conference opener next Monday against a powerful Amarillo team. That contest will be played in Big Spring.

HOWARD COLLEGE (68) — Atkins 4; Corker 13; Jones 23; Faubion 14; Loving 3; Word 2; Word 2; TOTALS 68.

CISCO (70) — Robinson 5; Woods 17; Brown 10; Houston 8; Priest 10; Martin 4; McKamcy 7; Brooks 3; TOTALS 70.

Halftime Score: Howard 39, Cisco 36.

Hawk Queens blitz Cisco

CISCO — The Howard College Hawk Queens raced to a sizeable lead in the first half and then held off a furious second half rally to take an 83-72 win over the Cisco Lady Wranglers here Monday night. The contest was a non-conference affair.

The win was the ninth in 10 starts for the red-hot Hawk Queens, who are fresh from winning their own tournament the past weekend.

The Howard College women jumped off to an early 8-0 lead, only to see Cisco rally and even things out. But the Queens, behind Kelly Lyons and Cynthia Robinson, exploded in the remainder of the half to take a 45-24 intermission advantage.

But Cisco came back in the second half and couldn't miss. They quickly rallied to within 10 points, but that would be as close as the Hawk Queens would allow.

"It was just another great game by Kelly Lyons," said Hawk Queen Coach Don Stevens of his 6'3" sophomore. "Besides her 24 points, she also had 20 rebounds."

Stevens also praised the play of freshman guard Robinson, who produced 17 points. "It was her best game of the season," said

Stevens. Carrie Lee Lutrick had 17 for the Hawk Queens, with Carol Wasserman adding 12 and Jill Floyd 10.

Peggy Taylor led the Cisco fems with 19 points.

The Hawk Queens take the rest of the week off, and resume action in their conference opener at Frank Phillips on December 4.

HOWARD COLLEGE (83) — Westbrook 9; White 10; Floyd 10; Floyd Wasserman 12; Lutrick 17; Lyons 9; Luna 0; Hill 0; Robinson 17; Mull 1; Bell 1; TOTALS 83.

CISCO (72) — Winters 4; Brooks 5; Henderson 2; Taylor 19; TOTALS 72.

Halftime Score: Howard College 45, Cisco 24.

Steer fems rout Lamesa

The Big Spring Steer girls basketball team improved their season mark to 2-4 here Monday in convincing fashion, taking a 61-28 win over the Lamesa Lady Tornados. The contest was played in Poverty Pavilion.

The Steer fems controlled the game from the start, and continued to make strides of improvement for district play, which begins in early January.

Sissy Doss paced the Steer girls with a 20-point effort, with Shell Rutledge adding 11 and Sylvia Randle 10. A big third quarter in which the Big Spring girls outscored their foe 17-1 all but iced the contest.

T. Payton led Lamesa with nine points.

Big Spring Coach Sandra Brown praised the play of her team in the win. "It was probably our best game all year. I was very proud in that we look to be improving each week," she said.

In the junior varsity game, Big Spring took a 40-34 win. Debra Rubio paced the Shortorns girls with 17 points while Tracey Williams and Leslie Overman added seven and six points, respectively.

Both the Steer girls varsity and JV team travel to Sweetwater tonight.

BIG SPRING (61) — Doss 20; Rutledge 10; Randle 10; White 11; Wheat 4; Dixon 1; Wise 3; Randle 5; TOTALS 61.

Notre Dame hires high school legend

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Gerry Faust of Moeller High School in Cincinnati will travel a few miles up the road to become head football coach at Notre Dame, a destination that seems like a second home.

"I'm a strong believer in tradition and discipline in educating young people," Faust said Monday after being named to replace Dan Devine, who announced before the start of the season that this was his last year at Notre Dame.

"I don't believe there is a university in the country that combines these two items along with academic and athletic excellence better than Notre Dame does," added Faust, 45, who was to be introduced at a news conference today as the school's 24th head football coach.

Faust has been head coach at Moeller since 1963, during which time his teams have posted a 174-17-2 record. On Sunday, Moeller crushed Massillon 30-7 to win the Ohio Division I championship for the fifth time in the last six years.

Moeller finished the season with a 13-0 record, has won 33 straight and 70 of the last 71 games. Moeller also captured 12 greater Cincinnati football championships and three mythical national titles.

While some might not consider a high school program — even a fantastically successful one like Moeller's — sufficient training for a major college job, Faust's organizational skills and his program rival those already in place at many colleges. Consider the following:

—At Moeller, Faust had 18 assistant coaches, 15 of them working full-time. The program also had 25 student managers.

—From the sophomore class up, some 210 players participate in the program out of a total enrollment of just more than 1,000

Duran vows for knockout in heralded rematch tonight

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Roberto Duran, a brawler who learned his craft in the streets of Panama City, defends his World Boxing Council welterweight championship tonight against Sugar Ray Leonard, the gym-trained boxing tactician he beat to claim the crown five months ago.

The bout in the Louisiana Superdome headlines a worldwide closed-circuit telecast which includes two other championship fights.

After Leonard-Duran, the Superdome crowd will watch Marvin Camel defend his WBC cruiserweight crown against Carlos "Sugar" DeLeon. The closed-circuit opener, beamed from London, will show Maurice Hope defending the WBC super welterweight title against Carlos Herrera.

But the match which holds center stage is Duran-Leonard, a fight of contrasting styles matching the champion, a crowd-pleasing, swarming, slugger against the challenger, a classic fighter who depends on speed and guile.

Just four points separated these two boxers on the three official cards in their first match June 20 in Montreal when Duran wrested the title from Leonard by a unanimous decision in a close, fiercely fought battle. For a while, it seemed there might be no rematch.

Leonard, active in commercials, television and other areas, talked of retirement. He was discouraged after the loss and considered going in other directions. But the lure of regaining the title was too much to overcome.

"I enjoy boxing," said Leonard, who had won his first 27 fights before losing to Duran. "Most of all, I enjoyed being champion. Being the challenger this time has given me an extra boost. I've worked harder. I would like to wear the championship belt home again."

Duran, of course, has other ideas.

The fiercely proud Panamanian has vowed to knock Leonard out this time. He has the punch to do it with 55 KOs in his 72 victories. He has lost only once — eight years ago to Esteban DeJesus, a man he later knocked out twice. Leonard, on the other hand, said "Duran is so stubborn, I would settle for a decision."

"I don't like Leonard," Duran said. "I don't like any of my opponents. If I liked them, I'd lose." In this fight the dislike is real and mutual. Leonard has said he would move if he had Duran as a neighbor.

Both men will have expert advisors in their corners. Ray Arcel, who has worked with 19 world champions, and Freddie Brown, perhaps the best cut man in boxing history, train Duran. Angelo Dundee, who masterminded Muhammad Ali's career, and Janks Morton work with Leonard.

Brown says Duran's piercing eyes tell the story. "Roberto Duran's got them eyes," said Brown. "Like an animal. Like he wants to kill you. It doesn't matter who fights him, they gotta fear him."

Before their first meeting in Montreal, there was a brief scare when an electro cardiogram of Duran, apparently incorrectly, showed some heart irregularity.

"That's impossible," snorted Arcel at the time. "He doesn't have a heart."

Dundee won't testify about Duran's heart, but he knows about his head. And he thinks he uses it too much.

"Duran's a very heady fighter," Dundee said. "His biggest weapon is his head." Throughout the days before the fight, Dundee complained about Duran's tactics in the first bout. Earlier, he demanded that Duran's beard be trimmed.

One day, Leonard's entire entourage showed up for a workout wearing fake beards. Some observers thought it all was psychological warfare, an attempt by Dundee to intimidate the intimidator.

On Monday, the WBC rules committee said the beard was acceptable, but added that it would be checked at the weight-in to make sure it could not be used as a cushion.

Duran's people would rather concentrate on the fight. Arcel says his man is in better condition for this bout than he was for his first meeting with Leonard.

"He's ready to go," the 81-year-old trainer said. "He's been a champion for nine years. He knows more about the business. Sugar Ray Leonard is just a graduate of the amateurs."

Leonard, of course, is more than that. He made his first impact on the public as an Olympic champion in 1976. That was four years after Duran had won the world lightweight championship.

But Duran's people know that Leonard is a quality fighter.

"He's very capable," Arcel said of the challenger. "We can't underrate anyone and overrate ourselves."

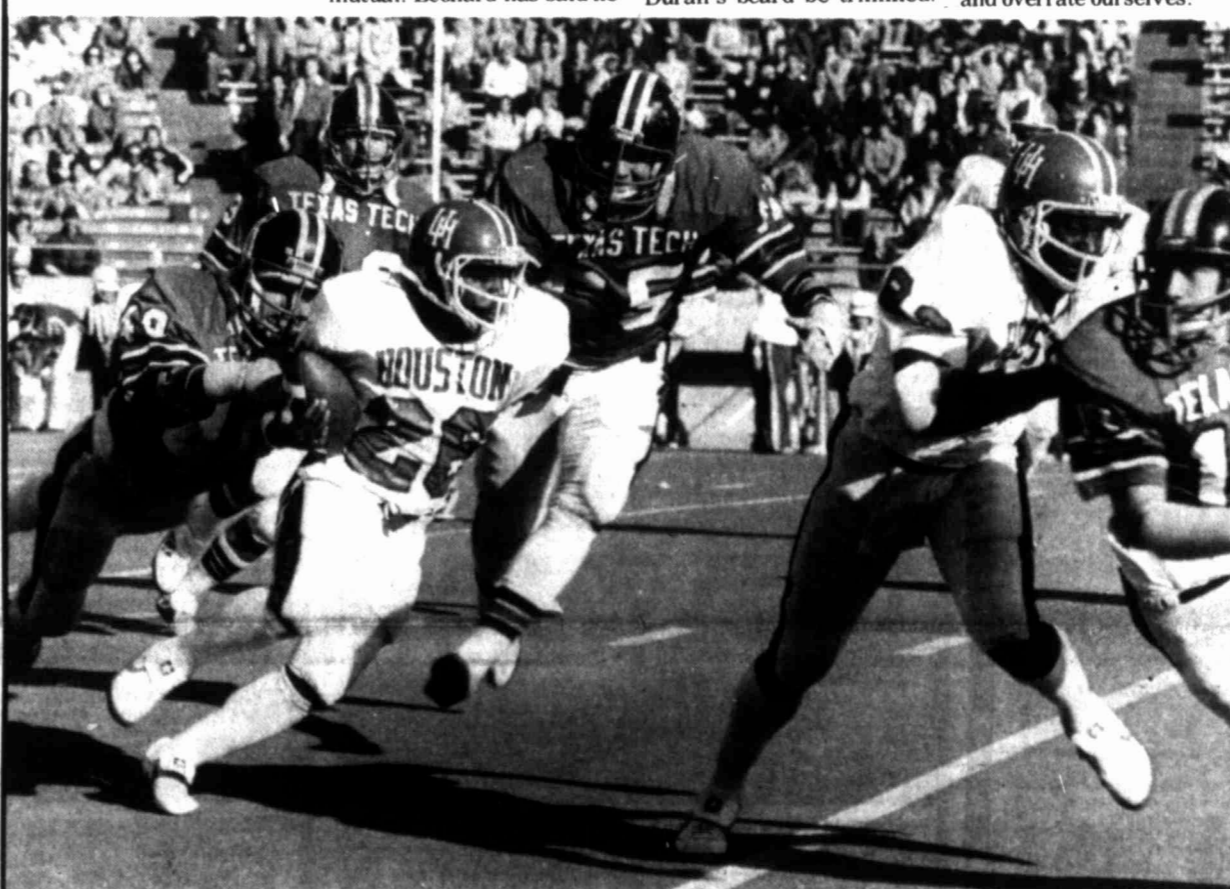

As for Leonard, he believes he learned his lesson in the first fight with Duran. He tried to slug it out with the Panamanian that time and lost. He says he will rely on his vast ring skills this time and win.

"This will be Sugar Ray Leonard's fight," he said. "The fight is up to me. I know what I must do. I know I can beat Duran and I want to for my own glory and my own pride. The way I feel, the title is guaranteed."

Camel carries a 36-2-2 record into his first defense of the cruiserweight crown which he won March 31 from Mate Parlov. DeLeon is 27-1-1. Hope, 29-2-1, will be making his second super welterweight title defense this year. Herrera is 35-4.

Also on the Superdome card are Mark Holmes, younger brother of heavyweight champion Larry Holmes, and Roger Leonard, Sugar Ray's older brother. Mark Holmes will fight a six-round middleweight fight against Bruce Calloway of New Orleans.

The Don King-Facility Enterprises promotion carries a reported $15 million split for Duran and Leonard with the champion getting $8 million and the challenger $7 million.

COUGAR ROMP... University of Houston running back Terald Clark (26) rolls for yardage during his team's 34-7 win over Texas Tech last Saturday in Lubbock. Pursuing Clark are Red Raiders Stan Williams (40), and Dane Kerms (65), while Clark's teammate, Lonnell Phea (right) blocks on an unidentified Red Raider. Houston closes out the regular season against cross-town rival Rice on regional television, while Tech travels to meet Arkansas.

Top college teams stay on course

Georgia and Notre Dame, Sugar Bowl opponents on Jan. 1, held onto the top two spots today in The Associated Press college football poll, while Florida State remained in third place.

Behind the top three, however, there was plenty of shuffling. Nebraska and Ohio State dropped to fourth and fifth last week 10th and 11th, respectively, while Pitt and Penn State, who tangle on Friday, moved up to challenge the leaders.

Also posting dramatic jumps this week were Oklahoma, Michigan and Baylor.

Georgia, the nation's only unbeaten and untied team, was idle last weekend. The Bulldogs, who will be seeking to nail down their first perfect regular season since 1946 when they meet Georgia Tech on Saturday, received 59 of 66 first-place votes and 1,311 of a possible 1,320 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

Notre Dame received three first-place votes and 1,222 points after defeating Air Force 24-10. The Irish have a 9-0-1 record and are the only other undefeated team besides Georgia. They were tied 3-3 by Georgia Tech earlier this month.

Florida State, which hasn't played since Nov. 8, winds up its regular season against No. 18 Florida on Dec. 6. The 9-1 Seminoles received the other four first-place ballots and 1,206 points.

Pitt and Penn State, both 9-1, also had last weekend off. Pitt climbed from sixth to fourth with 1,079 points while Penn State shot from seventh to fifth with 990 points.

Critical games await Oilers

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oilers have proven several times this season they are capable of playing superior football — if there is a knife at their throats.

But when they are up against a team of lowly record like the New York

Jets, they also are capable of slitting their own throats, as they did Sunday in a 31-28 overtime loss to the Jets.

Oiler Coach Bum Phillips says such behavior only proves that pro football players are human after all.

"I think all of us do better when we have to," Phillips said at his regular weekly news conference Monday. "People have the ability to go out and get something done if it has to be done. I think a lot of teams play good against us because it's a challenge to them."

The Oilers should have seen the challenge. The loss dropped them to an 8-4 record and into a tie with Cleveland in the American Football Conference's Central Division.

But the challenge, Phillips said, must have belonged to the Jets, 3-9 following the upset victory.

"They have the challenge of trying to stop Earl and if you're a team that doesn't have a good record, it can make your whole season," Phillips said. "I remember back in 1974, '75 and '76, we played much harder against the top rated teams."

As a result of Sunday's loss, the Oilers must play two home games in a five-day span against Cleveland on Sunday and Pittsburgh Dec. 4 with a chance of dropping into third place in the division.

Saints stay winless in loss to LA

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Dick Nolan knows the ax is a little sharper after his New Orleans Saints bowed 27-7 to the Los Angeles Rams, but somebody else will have to swing it.

"I will not resign," Nolan said after the Monday night game that left the Saints 0-12 in the National Football League this season. "John Mecom (team owner) and I spoke briefly after the game, but I will not comment on the conversation."

The Rams, 8-4, administered an old fashioned country whipping to the Saints Monday night, outgaining New Orleans 393 yards to 96, sacking the quarterback eight times and allowing the Saints past midfield only twice.

The victory kept the Rams one game back of Atlanta in the NFC West.

"The whole idea in football is to dominate the line of scrimmage," said Rams defensive end Fred Dryer. "If you can do that, you're going to win the football game."

Nolan agreed with Dryer's assessment.

BSA investigates claim scouts taught killing

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston-area council of the Boy Scouts of America says it will investigate allegations that high-school-age youths in its Explorer program were taught military techniques of killing at what was to have been a survival camp.

Several parents of Explorers and Civil Air Patrol cadets charged that their children were taught to fire semi-automatic weapons, strangle people and decapitate people with machetes at the paramilitary camp run by at least one Ku Klux Klan member.

One mother said Monday she thought her son was going on a camping trip, but when he returned "he told us he had been taught to shoot a carbine."

"I had known this, he wouldn't have gone," said the woman, who asked that her name not be used. "I don't think we will ever let him go back."

Ricardo Lopez, 18, said he learned survival skills, how to fire the AR-15 rifle and that communism "wasn't good."

Camp leaders denied that the youths, age 14 to 21, were taught how to kill at the camp, run by John Bryant, who was convicted last year of illegal sale of automatic weapons, and Joe Bogart, a former Marine who is a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

"It is not an individual's job to teach anybody how to kill," Bogart said. "To teach people how to protect themselves, such as in judo, is right."

The investigatory panel will be made of members of the executive board of the Sam Houston Council of the Boy Scouts of America. It will review the charter granted to Bryant's troop Oct. 20.

About 12 to 30 youths, both Explorers and CAP cadets, took part in the weekend training sessions.

Chambers County authorities said no efforts were being made to close the paramilitary facility, which also is used by such groups as the John Birch Society.

Bullock files 12,443 tax

liens against corporations

AUSTIN — State Comptroller Bob Bullock Friday said he has filed 12,443 tax liens against corporations in Texas who are delinquent in paying franchise taxes.

The liens will prevent the corporation from selling assets until the delinquent taxes are paid and is one of the final legal steps necessary to revoke a company's corporate charter.

The delinquent companies represent a small percentage of more than 243,000 corporations doing business in Texas, he said.

of a company's real property.

Bullock said the corporations being filed on for back taxes have been notified of the delinquency and told that the company's right to do business in Texas has been forfeited.

No estimate of the tax owed the state has been made, Bullock said, because the delinquent companies have not filed returns from which to make an assessment.

Corporate franchise tax receipts during the state's last fiscal year totaled $340.8 million. The tax is levied at a rate of $4.25 on each $1,000 of stated capital, surplus and undivided profits of corporations doing business in Texas or $4.25 on each $1,000

YMCA swimming classes listed

The Big Spring YMCA will begin its final term of swim instruction classes for the year on Monday, Dec. 1. The YMCA Progressive classes, Polliwog through Shark will meet from 4:45-5:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday for three weeks. The term will end on Friday, Dec. 19.

Fee for the classes will be $5 for YMCA members, $15 for non-YMCA members.

For additional information on these or any YMCA activities, call 267-8234.

2 Reasons Why You Should See Your Travel Agent.

1. THEY KNOW THE ROPES!
Just tell your travel agent where you want to go, when, and how much you want to spend. He or she handles everything. Reservations & air tickets, itineraries, tour program. And won't take very long, because remember that your travel agent is planning trips every day, not just every year.

2. THEY CAN SAVE YOU MONEY!
Did you know that in certain cases the difference between leaving one day or the next can mean a savings of up to $40? Your travel agent knows how you can get more for your travel dollar.
