

Small Nations Protest Geneva Talk Stalemate

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER GENEVA (AP)—Frustrated small nations revolved briefly today against the big power stalemate at the Geneva disarmament conference and several of them intend to take a hand in trying to break the deadlock.

However, the deadlock deepened because the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union failed completely to find any basis on which they could agree to negotiate for a nuclear weapons test ban treaty.

There was a two-hour and 40-minute meeting of delegations of the three atomic powers this afternoon to discuss a test ban.

Sir Michael Wright of Britain then told reporters, "We shall report (to the 17-nation conference) that we have reached no agreement."

Soviet Delegate Semyon Tsarapkin said: "We have reached a complete stalemate. We have found it impossible to agree."

A formal session of the full conference had produced the brief but potentially significant revolt of the small nations, sparked by moves by British Foreign Secretary Lord Home, it seemed to be directed chiefly against Russia.

The talks were arranged at an informal meeting of high level experts of the two countries following an exchange of friendly letters between President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev.

U.N. diplomats were elated over the apparent willingness of the two super powers to take steps toward cooperation on space projects.

Khrushchev, in replying to a proposal by the President for space cooperation, said the time was ripe to go ahead in several fields.

The Soviet Premier mentioned satellites for weather forecasting and long-range communications, mapping of the earth's magnetic fields, space law and medicine, and the organization of search and rescue for astronauts who make accidental landings.

But Khrushchev said that an agreement would have to be reached on disarmament before the two nations can go far on joint travel to the planets.

Kennedy told his news conference in Washington Wednesday that he welcomed Khrushchev's offer and expressed hope that the basis has been laid for practical cooperation in the exploitation of space.

U.S. officials are hoping mad about his attitude. A reliable source whose name cannot be disclosed says Washington considers that Phoumi is dragging his feet.

Whether he will acknowledge it or not, informed sources say W. Averell Harriman, U. S. assistant secretary of state for Far East Affairs, has gone to Bangkok to see whether he can get Thailand's prime minister, Marshal Sarit Thanarat, to alter Phoumi's attitude. Besides being close politically, Sarit and Phoumi are cousins.

The United States already has put so far ineffectual pressure on Phoumi by withholding $6 million in aid to Phoumi's government.

Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev agreed at Vienna that the country should be neutralized.

With this agreement in mind, the Geneva conference, which Harriman attended, hammered out an apparently workable formula for a neutral government.

All it needed was the consent of the three hostile Laotian princes—Boun Oum, propped up by Phoumi, Souvanna Phouma and Communist-leaning Souphanouvong.

Judging of the animals will begin at 8 p. m. and the judging events are due to be completed by noon, when a barbecue luncheon will be served.

The annual auction sale is scheduled for 1:30 p. m. This year, the auction sale has been limited to 60 animals. Entered in the auction will be a maximum of 10 steers, 20 barrows and 30 lambs.

Water service will be interrupted for about two hours tonight in North Snyder, the city water department reports this morning.

Beginning at 10 p. m. the water will be turned off in an area from Fourth Street northward along Avenue S and in the area west of Avenue S and north of Fourth Street.

The interruption of service is necessary to make some connections concerning relocation of water mains on the new U. S. Highway 60 right-of-way. City officials said.

which the smaller Western Allies particularly consider responsible for planning its work.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko are co-chairmen of the conference, with responsibility for planning its work.

Manuel Tello of Mexico, this morning the co-chairman had failed to agree on how to organize the work and suggested that there be no meeting of the 17 this afternoon. In effect they were asking more time to dicker.

At that point, informants later reported, Lord Home said sharply, "Let's get on with it."

This bid for an afternoon meeting, contrary to the recommendation of the conference leaders, was immediately supported by Italy and Canada. Like Britain, they are close U.S. allies and would probably not have acted without some word to Rusk about their plans.

Diplomats who were informed on the closed meeting said that the brief discussion by Foreign Secretary Howard C. Green of Canada and Carlo Russo, Italian undersecretary of state, was bluntly to the point of big power failure and insisted on action by the rest of the conference membership.

Tello then ordered the informal afternoon meeting, saying that was the sense of the conference. Of the nuclear test breakdown, Tsarapkin said on leaving the meeting at the Palace of Nations that no agreement is possible except on the basis of national control.

"Any kind of international control is out of the question," he asserted. Gromyko insisted that the Soviet Union's proposed plan for total disarmament in four years should be accepted as the basis for the conference negotiations. Rusk demanded that the Western proposal for a start on disarmament, with thorough control measures, have equal priority with the Soviet plan.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and several advisers met with Gromyko and a number of top Soviet diplomats at the Russians' villa.

Informants reported afterward that they made no progress whatever toward reconciling differences of any of the issues. They said Gromyko stressed particularly that the Soviet Union is standing firm on its demands for a change in the status of West Berlin, for Western acceptance of East Germany, and for separate peace treaties with East and West Germany.

Foreign Minister Lothar Bolz of East Germany arrived in Geneva to consult with Gromyko. He called for a nonaggression treaty between East and West Germany and for a non-nuclear zone covering all of Germany.

Barring some unexpected change in Soviet policy, the Big Three foreign ministers seemed determined to leave Geneva next week with nothing accomplished to improve East-West relations.

Since the West had indicated readiness to make concessions on a number of points, Western officials were puzzled by the Soviet hard stand on all major issues.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday for Mr. W. L. Lewellen, 75, of 2711 Avenue X.

Other survivors include a stepson, Howell Scott of Snyder; four sisters, Mrs. Ida Colclazer of Vernon, Mrs. Carrie Jennings of Arizona, Mrs. Elmyra Waters and Mrs. Cordie Rogers, both of Redwater, Tex.; one brother, Walter Lewellen of Vernon.

The funeral services will be conducted at the Green Hill Baptist Church with the Rev. Alan Carriere officiating. Burial will be in Snyder Cemetery under the direction of Bolger Funeral Home.

Palbearers will be Robert Colclazer, R. V. Colclazer, J. R. Brown, Leroy Brown, Dean Smith and G. N. Greer.

Well Servicing Exempt From Tax

AUSTIN (AP)—State Comptroller Robert Carver ruled today that oil and gas well service is exempt from the state sales tax.

Charges of services rendered at an oil, gas, water disposal or injection well site are not subject to the tax, Carver said.

He said, however, any tangible property used by a person in the performance of such service is subject to the tax.

All process licenses are intangible items and the fee paid by the service company to the holder of the patents are non-taxable. Also, charges by the company for transportation are not taxable where there is a service only.

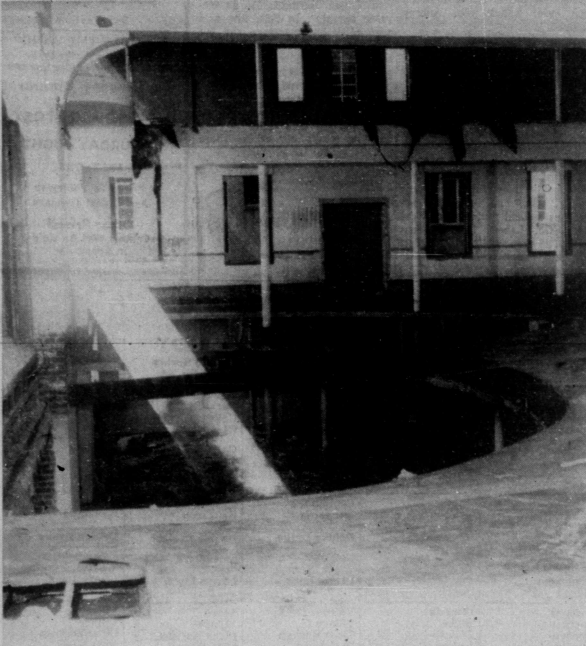

Handling charges are taxable if they are part of the sale price and if the materials handled are otherwise taxable.

Strike Grips Algiers Today

ALGIERS (AP)—A general strike by European workers demonstrating their resistance to Algerian independence shut down practically all activity in Algiers today.

Railroad service, plane traffic and city transportation halted. Water, gas and electric supplies were cut. Garages and filling stations refused to sell gasoline. Shops closed at noon when the order for the strike was issued. No time limit was set on the walkout.

Employees at the air terminal grounded traffic by demanding that passengers produce passes from the European Secret Army Organization, which is fighting to keep Algeria French.

Labor unions gave the strike order in protest against the arrest Wednesday night of the secretary general of the Railway Union Federation. But the movement appeared to be part of the secret army campaign to paralyze economic activity.

Old Church Building Is Being Razed

A 49-year-old landmark is being razed here as workmen dismantle the old First Methodist Church building at the intersection of Twenty-seventh Street and Avenue R.

The aged brick structure is being removed from its corner adjacent to the modern new church plant which the First Methodist congregation occupied last fall.

It was the second building in Snyder to be used by the church, the first having been located on the same site after the church was moved to Snyder from the Ennis Creek community, site of its founding in 1853.

The building now being torn down was erected in 1913, largely through the efforts of J. W. Hunt, who later became the first president of McMurry College in Abilene.

The corner occupied by the old building will be developed into additional parking space with some landscaping planned to enhance the appearance of the new church plant.

Simultaneous with the razing of the old building, First Methodist young people have launched a sale of souvenir bricks from the structure. They are now taking orders for these.

Discussion Of Joint Space Effort Slated

By MAX HARRELSON UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union begin detailed discussions Tuesday on how they can work together in developing a series of far-reaching outer space projects.

The talks were arranged at an informal meeting of high level experts of the two countries following an exchange of friendly letters between President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev.

U.N. diplomats were elated over the apparent willingness of the two super powers to take steps toward cooperation on space projects.

"OUT OF SERVICE"—Shown above on the city's parking lot is the Snyder Police patrol car which was wrecked early this morning about 3 miles east of Snyder on the Sweetwater highway. Officer Jesse Browning received only minor injuries. The car he was pursuing was caught in Roscoe by Sweetwater officers.

Patrol Car Flips During Chase Here

A high speed chase by a Snyder City Police officer resulted in a one-car accident which severely damaged the patrol car.

Patrolman Jesse Browning noted a 1959 Chevrolet run a red light at Avenue E and the East Highway at 4:40 a. m. this morning. The patrol car was headed west, the car, east.

The pursuit covered several blocks in the Avenue A through Avenue D area south of the highway. When the patrol car came to the new road construction area, either a freshly oiled spot or loose gravel caused a loss of control and the vehicle tipped first on its roof and then back to the wheels.

Norden testified that a sheriff's deputy and a district attorney and a highway patrol unit went to the scene. Officer Browning took the chief's car back to the hospital where he was treated for lacerations and released. Chief of Police Simons and the highway patrolman continued on toward Roscoe, Sweetwater City Police officers who had been alerted, had set up a roadblock there.

Officers said the speeding car was stopped there some 20 minutes after it left the Snyder city limits. The driver, Charles Allen Newman, 18, of Snyder was taken into custody by the Sweetwater officers. He was returned to Snyder by Chief Simons.

Officer Browning was given further medical examinations this morning including x-ray, but other than the relatively minor lacerations he is not believed to have suffered any injuries.

Damage to the patrol car is estimated at $1,000 to $1,200.

Eichmann Appeal Is Argued Today

By GAVIN HUDGINS
 JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann's lawyers appealed to the Israeli Supreme Court today to set aside the death sentence against the former Gestapo officer on the grounds that Eichmann was brought to Israel illegally and tried under an invalid law.

Dr. Robert Servatius, Eichmann's West German defense counsel, also asked to be allowed to introduce new evidence and to summon new witnesses, including a high official of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government.

Servatius asked the five-judge Supreme Court to summon Dr. Hans Globke, a government counselor in Hitler's Interior Ministry, as an expert witness on the workings of Nazi racial laws.

Eichmann, condemned to the gallows as a major figure in the Nazi slaughter of six million European Jews, claimed during his trial he was only carrying out orders and had pointed a finger at Globke.

Eichmann charged that Globke was directly involved in working out the legal framework for deporting the Jews and confiscating their property—the job he himself was accused of carrying out as chief of the Gestapo's Jewish affairs section. He did not ask during the trial, however, for Globke to be called as a witness.

Adenauer has repeatedly defended Globke, who claimed that while serving in the Hitler regime he saved Jews' lives even at the risk of his own.

Rain, Snow Logged In West Areas

By The Associated Press
 Rain and snow fell in many sections in the West and in a few spots in the eastern half of the nation today. Dry weather prevailed in most of the Midwest where rising rivers have caused some flooding.

The rain fell in the West coast, the central and northern Pacific Coast areas, with showers and snow flurries in the northern Plateau and Rocky Mountain regions. Two inches of snow was reported in Burns, Ore. Snow flurries continued in the northern Plains and southern Rockies.

Rain and drizzle dampened areas in the upper Ohio Valley and eastward into the north and middle Atlantic Coast states and in central sections of Tennessee. Tributaries of the upper Mississippi and lower Missouri rivers spilled over their banks in parts of Missouri and Illinois. More than a score of families left their homes in the Libersville, Ill., area north of Chicago as the Des Plaines River overflowed.

Two bridges across the swollen Illinois River in Peoria held firm against the battering of several barges which broke loose from their moorings Tuesday. River workers captured and moored seven of the 24 barges, mostly grain carriers of 40,000 bushel capacity. Authorities estimated damage to the bridges at $200,000.

Below freezing temperatures this morning were confined to northern areas in New England, the Great Lakes region and Mississippi Valley and in parts of Montana southward into eastern Utah and western Colorado.

Early Ruling On CRMWD's Petition Due

A decision on the petition of the Colorado River Municipal Water District to have oil operators in the Sharon Ridge oil field stop disposing of salt water in this may be reached within a month or six weeks.

The hearing of the appeal is expected to take a week. The high court then will retire, probably in a month, to consider its ruling.

In addition to Globke, the defense sought permission to call as witnesses two Israeli Airline officials—U.S.-born pilot Zvi Tavor and former operations manager Jack Shimony—who allegedly took part in bringing Eichmann from Argentina. The trial court had rejected a defense request to summon them.

The hearing of the appeal is expected to take a week. The high court then will retire, probably in a month, to consider its ruling.

Labeling Dispute Heads For Court

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
 WASHINGTON (AP) — A legal dispute revolving around a labeling provision of the 1950 Internal Security Act may be headed for the Supreme Court.

The provision requires that publications mailed by, or on behalf of, Communist organizations must be labeled: "Disseminated by (blank), a Communist organization."

On March 9, James E. Jackson, editor of the Worker, was sentenced to six months in jail for contempt of court after refusing to answer questions before a federal grand jury in Washington about publishing Communist party activities.

The Worker is a Communist paper which was once a daily but is now published twice a week in New York. It does not identify itself by its masthead as being linked with the Communist party.

On March 12, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia postponed the jailing of Jackson indefinitely—until it announces further action in the case.

The court acted after hearing charges—and denials—that the questioning of Jackson was in violation of the guarantee of a free press, as set forth in the First Amendment of the Constitution.

Among the questions put to Jackson were: Does the editorial policy of the Worker reflect the viewpoint of the Communist party? Does the party dictate the policy of the paper?

Jackson refused to answer, one of his grounds being the Fifth Amendment guarantee that a person shall not be compelled to incriminate himself.

When he was granted immunity from prosecution for his answers, he still refused to answer. His lawyer, Joseph Forer, said there was "an unprecedented point in this case—an action against a newspaper editor who refuses to answer questions about the policy and finances of his newspaper."

Forer said that to compel "a disseminating newspaper" to answer such questions would violate the First Amendment.

Nevertheless, U.S. Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff held Jackson

Adm. Anderson On Inspection Tour

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Adm. George W. Anderson, chief of naval operations, arrived Wednesday night for a two-day inspection tour and said any Cuban invasion of Guantanamo naval base "would be very foolish."

Anderson said the United States "is in Cuba at Guantanamo by means of a treaty and we intend to stay there."

The admiral said he doubted that Fidel Castro would carry through any threats against the base. He said the Cubans have enough trouble trying to make their economy work.

Revenues Of CRMWD Show Gain

Increased revenues from 611 companies for repressuring have put Colorado River Municipal Water District receipts substantially ahead for the first two months of the year.

Water revenues for February amounted to $342,723 ($218,452 from the member cities of Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder and $124,270 from the oil companies), making the total so far in 1962 come to $342,723.46. The same period last year showed $286,812.15. Recreational revenues came to $2,166 in February, making a two-month figure of $3,261.85, down slightly from the $2,583 for January and February of 1961.

Total operational expenses for February stood at $40,269.22, making $96,456 for the two months or just under the $99,853.06 for the same period a year ago. This left $134,533 in February and $368,796 for the first two months to be transferred to the new revenue fund for payment of bonds' interest and for other indebtedness purposes.

Disbursements for the month include $107.36 for supervision labor $300 for operation labor, $143.34 for repairs and supplies, $106.80 for maintenance labor, $1,024.64 for general maintenance, $3,614 for water purchases, $441.16 auto-expense, $21,957 pumping expense from the lake, $5,265.10 administrative and general expense, and $3,731.36 recreational operation costs.

President Is Threatened

OPELIKA, Ala. (AP) — Secret Service agents say Audrey Chappell sent a letter to President Kennedy which read:

"Dear Sir: I will come to Washington and put a bullet between your eyes. Thank you, Audrey Chappell."

The envelope bore a Lanett, Ala. postmark dated March 10, 1962. There was no return address.

Chappell was arraigned Wednesday on a charge of using U.S. mails to threaten the life of the President. He waived a preliminary hearing and was taken to jail in Montgomery in lieu of $25,000 bond.

Chappell lives in Chambers County, Ala., and listed his address as a rural route out of West Point, in Chambers County, is adjacent to West Point, separated by the Alabama-Georgia state line.

 7:00 CBS "Frontier Circus" A highwire artist collapses in the middle of her act and C.O. Conroy Casey Thompson discovers that the circus' entire meat supply has been poisoned. Dick York and Dan Duryea are guest stars in "The Shaggy Kings."
 8:30 CBS "Gertrude Berg" suspects her sister of matchmaking when she sends a prosperous businessman from Florida to pay her a visit. She isn't interested in the visitor as a prospective husband but is related to someone who is eagerly shopping around for a good catch.

Kennedy Proves Himself As An Excellent Traffic Cop

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy was a traffic cop, there'd be no head-on crashes at his corner, at least head on into him.

After 14 months in office he's a firm believer that a soft answer turneth away wrath and that grievous words stir up anger.

He uses the soft, and avoids the grievous, particularly with people whom he has to keep on doing business.

In this year alone a number of people have headed straight for him, but he has managed to detour them without using a black-jack.

One was New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller who, like the very conservative Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, is a possible Republican presidential candidate in 1964.

Rockefeller accused Kennedy of political fakery when the President said he'd like to have a Negro, Robert C. Weaver, head up a proposed department of urban affairs and housing.

Kennedy was asked about the governor's crack at his next news conference. He could have gotten into a shouting match with the governor. But he brushed him aside. He said he had heard nobody could get to the right of Goldwater but now he doubted it.

Next came the highly conservative Sen. Strom Thurmond, South Carolina Democrat, who went after the Kennedy administration for censoring military officers' speeches and forced a Senate investigation.

It was just at the time Kennedy was rejecting Soviet Premier Khrushchev's bid for a summit meeting at the disarmament conference, said things ought to be worked out first at a lower level by foreign ministers.

At his next news conference a reporter noting it was Valentine's Day, asked Kennedy about having a "heart-to-heart" talk with Thurmond who had called his foreign policy defeat.

Kennedy, instead of giving Thurmond what-for, grinned and suggested a meeting with the senator should first be arranged at a "lower level." Not long afterward Thurmond excitement about censorship melted away.

This week the President and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who bumped heads in the 1960 presidential race, tangled again. Nixon started the laughing. In his new book Nixon said he got angry at Kennedy in 1960 for calling for action against Fidel Castro after being briefed by the Eisenhower administration that a Cuban invasion was being prepared.

Kennedy avoided a direct clash with Nixon. Instead of answering the Californian himself, he had the White House issue a statement that he had not been told about the invasion plans until briefings after the election.

The President was supported in this by Allen W. Dulles who, as head of the Central Intelligence Agency in 1960, was the one who briefed Kennedy. He said he had never told him about the invasion plans during the campaign.

At Wednesday's news conference a reporter went fishing with a question about Nixon. It was a good chance for Kennedy to cut loose on his former rival. Instead, he said the White House statement had finished the business.

"One of the wonders of Washington is how Kennedy can retrain from going after both the Republicans and his own Democrats who try to massacre his programs.

He may feel he wants to avoid conflict with Democrats in the belief some of them can be won over later if no ill will is created. He can hardly feel, however, he can do the same with the Republicans.

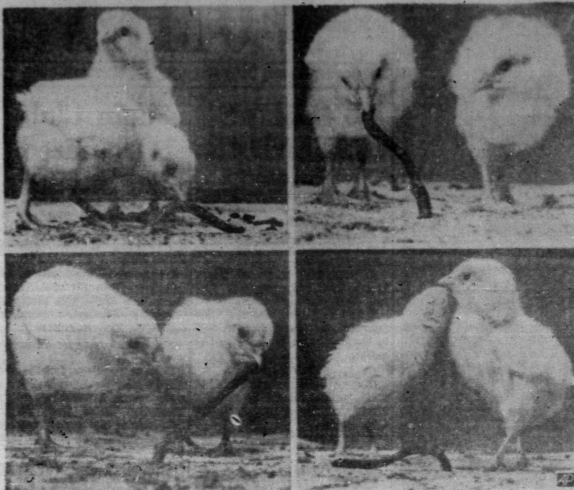

The prime example of letting an opponent off the hook without tearing his pants also came Wednesday in the case of Rep. Carl Vinson, Georgia Democrat and powerful chairman of the House Armed Services Committee.

Vinson not only wanted Kennedy to spend far more money on the B50 bomber than the President thinks necessary but, in his enthusiasm, wanted the House to direct the President to do so.

If the House did, it would have meant Congress was interfering with the President's authority. Kennedy said he'd restudy the problem but the word "direct" must come out. Vinson backed down, defeated.

Kennedy must do business with Vinson many times in the future. At his news conference Wednesday he tried to save face for the Georgian. He said there was "no winner and no loser" in their fight.

TV Programming System Debated

CHICAGO (AP)—The ideal television programming, a string of witnesses at a FCC hearing indicate, might be 24 hours a day of Marcel Marceau, the French pantomimist.

He does not speak, so he could not possibly say Jay and offend the Japanese.

His face is too white to be mistaken for a real white man, a Negro, a Polynesian or a Chinese.

His costume, tights and a hat with a single flower, in no way resembles the $250 custom-tailored suits and pearl gray fedoras worn by gangsters with Italian names.

A close examination of his performance discloses no symbolism for or against Christians, Jews, Moslems, atheists or agnostics.

The little flower on the hat may have to go. The people promoting "say it with candy" may want equal time.

Since Monday witnesses have appeared in force before a Federal Communications Commission examiner in the U.S. Courthouse and told mostly what's wrong with locally produced Chicago television programs. A few had some nice things to say, but their time saying it was far from equal.

The television people will have their turn in April.

The proceeding, unprecedented in FCC annals, recalled a classic remark by the late Franklin P. Adams, newspaper columnist and radio panelist.

"You tell a joke about a mauling shark," Adams said, "and the sharkskin suit manufacturers association wants your scalp."

Some of the points raised by witnesses included:

A spokesman for Japanese-Americans protested vintage movies on the late, late shows. They are propaganda films left over from World War II and misrepresent his people, he said.

An Italo-American leader told of only limited success in getting television to disassociate his people and the underworld.

A Negro representative said all Chicago commercial stations had made time available to his organization but these were passed over from other fields had been invited and little, if anything, was accomplished in developing interest in racial understanding.

A Roman Catholic Church official declared time allotted to his faith for religious programs consisted of undesirable hours.

IT Publication Ruling Defended

AUSTIN (AP)—The director of the University of Texas Journalism department defended Wednesday a recent change in the selection of the school newspaper's editor was partly to guarantee freedom of expression.

Dewitt C. Reddick said any concern the contrary is unfounded and results from misconception.

Sam Kincer Jr. was named editor of the "Daily Texan" by the student publications board May 13 after regents of the university changed the position from an elective to an appointive one.

Reddick issued this statement:

"The recent action in changing the selection of the editor of the Daily Texan from an elective to an appointive process has raised concern on the part of some Texas workers of former years related to the continued freedom of expression in this college daily. Such fears are unfounded and rest upon misconceptions about the present situation.

"A guarantee of continued freedom under the same rules and regulations as now exist was a significant part of the proposal making the editor appointive, as approved by the regents.

"Changing to the appointive system was one of a program of changes designed to strengthen the Texas staff. Other parts of the proposal include:

"Giving preference to graduate or post-graduate students for editor and managing editor; increasing the salaries of the editor and managing editor by approximately $100 a month in order to compensate for requiring that students in these positions take only half-time school work; increasing salaries in eight key Texas positions; and 'strategic' to attract the most skilled seniors into the jobs; setting up opportunities for more advanced planning for reporting in depth of significant events; providing opportunities for experimenting with new methods of news writing and presentation as a part of the educational process of preparing young men and women for news work of the future.

"The elective system was established when the University of Texas had about 3,000 students and the Daily Texan contained four pages. Now the enrollment is above 20,000, the campus is scattered over 300 acres, the Daily Texan publication is as complex a professional job as editing a daily in a town of 20,000.

"The editor, who has long staff authority over both news and editorial decisions, is not a political figure but must have professional competence. A board of five students and four faculty members can judge the professional qualifications of potential editors better, than can the 20,000 students, many of whom are disinterested in student elections.

"The appointive system should give to the Texas an editor free of political commitments, select more for professional competence than for personality, more advanced in his school work, receiving a larger salary, having more time to devote to his Texas work, and guaranteed the same freedom that elected editors have had in the past."

Brazilian Critical Of U. S. Press

By MIKE ENGLEMAN
DALLAS (AP)—Brazil's former president Juscelino Kubitschek accused U.S. newsmen Wednesday night of falsely picturing his nation's chief executive as a Communist.

He also leveled a charge that the press fosters a bad image of Brazil in the public opinion of this country.

Kubitschek made the accusations in replying to questions from the audience after he addressed the Dallas Council of Public Affairs.

"The press in the United States has often spread the concept that President Juscelino Kubitschek is a Communist," he charged. "This fear is in your country now."

"The press in this country is badly informed about Brazil and Latin America. They are spreading some kind of poison about our country," he said.

Kubitschek served five years as Brazil's president. Since his term ended in 1960, he has been a member of the Brazilian Senate.

"Latin America is on the brink of a dilemma," he said. "Either it industrializes or it will give up on democracy."

Brazilians are hard-working lovers of freedom but "democracy is sustained by faith," he said. "The time is ripe to revive our faith and try to give it new spirit."

He repeatedly emphasized foreign investments in rapidly growing Brazilian industry would slam the door shut on Communism.

Kubitschek twice received standing ovations during the address. During the short question-answer period he spoke with greater ease in Portuguese.

He said foreign investment is safe in Brazil.

"During my administration, $2 billion came to Brazil," he said. "This money helped our industrial growth and the return to investors is great."

Veronica Plain Connie Now

By ANDREW MEISELS
NEW YORK (AP)—Remember Veronica Lake, the "peek-a-boo" girl of the 1940s?
Today she waits on tables and serves as a part-time hostess in the cocktail lounge of a Manhattan hotel.
Once one of Hollywood's most glittering stars, she appeared in dozens of films. Her face and figure were featured in scores of magazines and newspapers.
Two decades and three husbands later, she lives at the Martha Washington Hotel for women and works for tips and her meals at the Colonnade Room downstairs.
Miss Lake now goes by the name of Connie DeToth. Connie is her real first name. DeToth is the name of her second husband, film director Andrew DeToth. She was divorced about two years ago from her third husband, public publisher Joseph A. McCarthy.
She looks older now, of course, and her long blond hair—once combed so that it fell over her right eye—is swept back. She is still an attractive woman.

Miss Lake—or Connie—moved into the hotel about five months ago after living for a time with friends. Most of the tenants are unmarried career women or students or widows.
The former actress, who was awarded $65 a week temporary alimony when she divorced McCarthy, pays $7 a day for her room. She began working at the lounge downstairs about three months ago because, she said, "I like people. I like to talk to them."
Connie wasn't working Wednesday night. An old ankle injury has been bothering her recently, and she came to the cocktail lounge on crutches, sat down in a booth and propped up her left foot on the seat.
From time to time, somebody would come over and sit down with the former star.
A man sat down and asked her if she'd be interested in a part in a play. Connie changed the subject.

Later, she said, "Everybody wants to manage me. I can't stand being managed."
She said she doesn't need the money. She talked of taking a part "sometime" or maybe investing in a business.
Joe Rantzi, owner of the Colonnade Room, came over and said there was a call for her from a man connected with a television show.
"Please, honey," she said, "I just don't feel like talking to night."
Rantzi shrugged and walked off. "She's a good girl," he later told a reporter, "but she's had a bad time. Did you know she has three kids? Oldest one's a girl of 20. Talks about them all the time."

Some nights, when the television set in the cocktail lounge is turned on, Connie DeToth can see Veronica Lake in an old movie. There were three of them telecast locally this week—"Star Spangled Rhythm," "Blue Dahlia" and "Sullivan's Travels."
The attractive waitress watched the glamor girl on the screen for a while.
Then she turned away and said: "I don't believe anybody was ever that young."

Nine-Year-Olds Train For Space

ELGIN, ILL. (AP)—Two boys, 9 years old, who told the head of America's space agency they "did something brave" so they could become astronauts, have disclosed their training technique. "I laid at the bottom of a hill on the other side of a pile of snow," Tom Wickles said Wednesday night, "and my friend, Matt Fischer, went across me on his sled."

"That took a lot of courage," the two boys said in a letter which found its way to the desk of James E. Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Washington.

Kennedy Has Own Shelter Problem

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, who is urging a nationwide fallout shelter program, has a shelter problem right next door.

NASA officials said that among the thousands of letters received since the orbital flight of Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. Feb. 20, none has expressed greater determination.
The two Elgin fourth graders wrote Webb: "We will both take any training that is to be done. 'Must we prove we have guts? We just did today."
"Matt and I did something brave. I laid down at the bottom of a hill, and my best friend, Matt, rode over me."
The boys neglected to mention in the letter that Matt rode a sled.
"I think it took more courage to go over me," Tom said.
"It was more difficult for Tom," young Fischer assured a reporter.
"I could feel the blades, that's all," said Tom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter R. Wickles. "I told my mother about the letter, and she just laughed."
"He's always writing letters, and I didn't pay any attention," Mrs. Wickles said. "They're mostly to book publishers and people who advertise in magazines."
Matt said his folks, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Fischer, thought the idea was "pretty good."
"I didn't tell them about the sled ride yet," Matt confided to a newsman.
Webb said he had answered the boys' letter and told them that while it takes courage to orbit the earth, it takes book learning, too.
Tom and Matt, who performed their feat of courage last Saturday, said they haven't received Webb's letter yet but they have been just as busy with book reading as they have with sled deriding.

Pat Beene Appointed To Fannin Office

Pat Beene, former Snyder attorney who has been engaged in farming and ranching in Fannin County, was recently appointed to fill an unexpired term.
Beene was appointed as district attorney for the 6th Judicial District composed of Fannin and Lamar Counties, and as county attorney for Fannin County. Beene is a candidate for reelection to the post. He is reportedly unopposed in the race.

"When I declared 'not my sin, My body wasted away...'"
Psalms 32:3
Doctors say that much physical illness today is due to anxiety. There are many causes for anxiety in modern man and it is no wonder that so many people are sick. But there is one particular cause of anxiety according to the Christian faith, and that is unrepented sin. By this I mean not just sin in general or a sinful quality to all of life; but rather sins in particular. Many people have done this thing or that; have been unfaithful here, untrustworthy there, and so on. These sins lay heavy on the conscience and cause anxiety and guilt emotions. And these in turn cause all sorts of physical and mental illness.
The only way back to health is by painful acknowledgment of these sins, by confession, repentance, restitution (where possible) and the amendment of life for a fresh start.

Tiger Cindermen Win Big Spring Five-Way

BIG SPRING—Senior speedsters Bax Callaway and Mike Morris led their Snyder Tiger track team to a convincing victory in a five-way track and field meet here Wednesday, as Snyder won eight of the 14 events staged for 117 points to host Big Spring's 56.

Forsan was third with 21½, one jump ahead of Coahoma and its 20½. Flower Grove, with 13, was the fifth-place finisher.

Callaway, with 13 3/4 points, was high individual for the meet, while Morris was a mere point and a half behind with 12½. Callaway came home second to Morris' in the 100 and 220 dashes, and they both ran on the winning sprint relay-fourzone. Callaway in the initial leg and Morris anchoring. In addition, Callaway tied for first in the high jump with Beaver Ramsey of Flower Grove, both springing 5-11. The meet served as a prepper

LEADING THE WAY—Tigers Bax Callaway (standing) and Mike Morris reigned as the top two scorers in Wednesday's Big Spring five-way track meet. Due in a large part to their efforts, Snyder scored an easy victory, its 117 points more than doubling second-place Big Spring's 56. (Photo by Jackson)

Goobar Bowl Has Troubles

EASTLAND (AP)—The fact it's named Peanut Bowl wouldn't mean it doesn't have big ideas. This football game matching Ranger and Cisco Junior Colleges is mixed up in a controversy that rivals anything the big bowls can offer.

Presidents Ted Nicklick of Ranger and Grady Hogue of Cisco refused contracts offered by the Eastland Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the game, Wednesday night.

They said they want a larger share of the gate receipts and concessions, plus control of decisions on expenditures.

Dick Henderson, a regent of the Ranger school, also said the colleges claim prior right to the name "Peanut Bowl."

Grover Hallmark, president of the Eastland Junior Chamber of Commerce, said other colleges were being considered and the date of the game would be announced soon. It will be in late September, he said.

The Peanut Bowl has been held here the past two years.

Aggies Gain Split With Minnesota
COLLEGE STATION (AP)—John Burton's three-run homer and five-hit pitching by Ed Singley and Johnny Crain gained Texas A&M a 9-0 victory over Minnesota in the first game of a doubleheader Wednesday.

Minnesota took the nightcap 3-1 on back-to-back doubles by John Andersen and Steve Wally.

Tech's Harrison Continues Spree
LUBBOCK (AP)—College baseball's leading home run hitter, Chaeb Harrison, was at it again Wednesday.

His fourth homer in as many games powered Texas Tech to a 7-3 victory over the University of Denver. He also hit a triple as Tech finished sweeping a three-game series with Denver.

West Virginia will renew its football rivalry with the University of Virginia. The game is set for Richmond, Oct. 16, 1965.

Tigerettes Meet Denver City Tonight

Snyder's Tigerettes take a rest from district warfare tonight, but are slated to meet Denver City in an 8 o'clock volleyball battle here in Tiger Gym.

Prior to that the two B teams from the competing schools are to clash at 7 p.m.

The Tigerettes will close out their regular schedule next week against Sweetwater and district front-runner Lamesa. The Snyder girls are 3-1 in the 3-AAA campaign, with their only loss having been handed them by Lamesa Saturday.

UCLA Possible NCAA 'Sleeper'

By DON WEISS
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A team noted for its alertness, UCLA may turn out to be the sleeper in the National Collegiate (NCAA) basketball championships that move into the show-down stage at spacious Freedom Hall Friday night.

The Uclans (18-9) champions of the Far West regional eliminations, play defending national champion Cincinnati (27-2) in the second game of a semi-final doubleheader that opens with top-ranked Ohio State (25-1) meeting Wake Forest (21-8).

No one who remembers the way another West Coast sleeper, California, lost to the Bruins last year to win the national title the last time the championships were held in Louisville—in 1959—is overlooking the Bruins.

Their record? Forget it. They lost seven of their first 11 games. They've traveled at a 142 pace since.

Their lack of height, which shows 6-5, 230-pound Fred Slaughter as the over-all biggest man among the front liners? Forget that, too, in winning the Far West regional at Provo, Utah, they disposed of the biggest team in the NCAA tournament—Oregon State, with 7-1 Mel Counts—by the score of 88-69.

Their low national ranking? They were rated third best in the Big Five conference in pre-season estimates, yet here they are only two victories away from the national championship.

"I've never been so proud of a team in my life," Coach John Wooden said.

"They play well together now," said Coach Jack Gardner of Utah, which beat the Uclans 88-79 in the Los Angeles Classic last December while Wooden's team was developing.

Walt Hazard, another sophomore, joins Slaughter in the Uclans' starting lineup along with three seniors—Gary Cunningham, who is 6-6 but weighs only 150; 6-2 Johnny Green, and 6-5 Pete Blackman. Green is the top scorer with a 19.4 average, although his .337 field goal percentage is the poorest among the regulars.

Coach Ed Jucker of Cincinnati remembers too well what California did in the 1959 tournament—he was an assistant when unsung Cal beat the Bearcats in the national semifinals to underwrite any team that has come this far.

"I learned my lesson then," he said. "You don't underestimate any team at this stage."

As the nation's coaches began streaming into town for the games and the concurrent meetings, most were talking of an anticipated rematch of last year's championship—in which Cincinnati upset unbeaten Ohio State in overtime.

The Buckeyes and their great three-time All-American, Jerry Lucas, beat Wake Forest 84-62 at Lakewood in December and polished off UCLA 105-84 in the Los Angeles Classic a few days later.

But the Deacons, like UCLA, found themselves late—winning their last 12 after standing 9-3 at mid-season. In 6-3, 230-pound All-American Len Chappell, Wake Forest has one of the top big men in basketball.

"We had our days, but we kept battling back," said Coach Bones McKinney of the Deacons. "I think we've licked our troubles."

BRIGHT SPOTS IN ATTACK ALSO NOTED

Bengal Pitching, Hitting Encounters Rocky Stretch

The shock of three lopsided defeats having partially worn off by now (Snyder's Tigers have been beaten by Big Spring 13-3 and 7-0 and by Lubbock 17-2 in their last three outings), "between innings" here should serve as a good time for a quick analysis of the team's weak and strong points.

First off, the biggest sore spot has been in the area of pitching. Freddy Miller is the sole seasoned hurler on the staff, and he has yet to arrive at the form he succeeded in displaying last year.

(His 1961 earned run average was 2.64 for 77 innings of mound duty, while the current campaign has seen him churning 19 1/3 frames for a 4.71 average.)

None of the other moundmen has been able to stem the increasing tide of opposing base hits, so that Miller's 4.71 compares favorably with the rest of the staff.

The death of lefthanders—a big factor when it comes to "mixing up" the opposition—has also plagued the team effort this year as it has in the past. Of five pitchers on the club, only sophomore Rob Hall throws from the port side. One additional southpaw could enhance the outlook, were he a dependable performer. However, it's not possible to acquire such an individual out of the mail order catalogue—the TIL would never hear of it.

Experience isn't something that can be acquired with a minimum of effort, either. It has to be earned. The only hurlers outside of Miller who have seen any varsity action at all are Keith Moreland and Dalton Walton. Theirs has been skippy, however, with Moreland turning in 12 1/3 innings of duty during the 1961 season and Walton a total of 11.

In the hitting department the Tigers have been experiencing difficulty, with the team batting average currently standing at .205. Last year's team batting king—third baseman Spencer Dyer—was hitting the vicinity of .300, which is down considerably from the .417 he registered in '61. Miller, who led the team in district hitting percentage with .435 and ended the season with a .315 reading, is also off that commendable pace.

The most welcome showing to date has been turned in by Jerry Franks, the diminutive centerfielder of the team. His .321 plate average is tops on the club (he saw only part-time duty last year, hitting .171), and he has been playing his center field position like he owned it.

He is also the only Tiger who has been able to burn up the base-paths, having five plerifiers to his credit over the 11 games played. Dyer has also shown defensively while manning the always-hot third base position, possessing an arm like a whip and eating up the ground balls that come his way in practically flawless fashion. Steve Free at shortstop has also looked sharp, while lefthanded throwing Jim Wanslar—who moved here last year from Ranger—looks and acts the part of a first baseman.

Should the pitching corps reach that fine edge and the team as a whole start hitting with a little more authority, then the Tigers will be as tough as ever during the district race.

Instant Eggshells Needed For Modern Coffee Brewers

By INEZ ROBB

What this nation needs, in addition to a good five-cent nickel, is instant eggshells, a new industry crying aloud to be born for both the benefit of egg-and-chicken producers and coffee aficionados.

The need for this industry struck me forcefully a few moments ago when I read that great number of Americans still add cracked eggshells to a pot of brewing coffee. A survey of coffee-making habits among persons who "live modern" and "make coffee modern" reveals that half of them still mix eggshells with the java.

Until I scanned this report I had been living in the happy belief that the electric percolator, the silex, the chemex, the drip pot, and the espresso machine had outmoded the eggshell that Grandma slipped into the old-fashioned enamel coffee pot that always sat on the back of the wood-burning stove. Grandma added the eggshells to "clarify" the brew and "settle the grounds." When she poured coffee from the old pot, the liquid came forth clear as a mountain stream.

For years, I have been making coffee under the impression that updated pots banished the eggshell as archaic. But other citizens are not as trusting as I. Although 60 percent of the persons who answered the coffee survey use the latest percolators and another 37 percent (for a grand total of 97 percent) are drip exponents, half of the individuals questioned in the survey are eggshell devotees.

If this report proves anything, it is that Grandma knew best and that a new all-American industry, instant eggshells, is overdue. Everything is made easier for the housewife today. Is there not some exponent of free enterprise in this audience who will arise and lift from the shoulders of the American housewife the intolerable burden of busting an egg and emptying the shell every time she brews a pot of coffee?

A pinch of instant eggshell to achieve coffee just like Grandma used to make is what we need to ease the tedium of another household chore. Not only have I suggested a great new industry, but am throwing in the outline of a public promotion and advertising campaign to boot.

Now that I have read this survey, a pinch of eggshell in the coffee seems mandatory, although surely no kitchen in the world is more generously supplied with modern coffee-makers than mine.

Boyle Picks Companions For Insomnia

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Whom would you most enjoy sharing your insomnia with? Or being caught with in a traffic jam? It used to be a popular parlor conversational game—generations ago to discuss the question, "If you were a castaway on an island, what five persons in all history would you prefer to have as companions?"

Some time later a variant of this game developed: "What five living people would you choose last as companions on such an occasion?"

The fashionable wisecrack answer was: "Elsa Maxwell, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, and any two of their friends." The idea seemed to be that a modern Robinson Crusoe wouldn't find them of much real help in building up a desert island from scratch.

Well, even the island called Manhattan can be a bit lonely (if not downright uninhabitable) at times. Two of the dulliest times are when you have insomnia, or are stuck alone in a cab during a hopeless traffic jam.

The other evening, bored with sleeplessness during a bout with a large sore throat and a small fever, I fell to brooding over that old parlor game.

What five or ten people in all history would be most entertaining to have around in periods of boredom or insomnia?

Well, the choices are endlessly fascinating, and I made so many switches I was dazed before I had finished my list.

Naturally, I started off with my wife, Frances, and since two married couples make for better company, I promptly added Adam and Eve. Everyone is naturally curious about how life was in the old days, and I'd give anything to hear Eve's version of what happened in Eden.

Then I picked Helen of Troy and Cleopatra, the two feminine trouble-making beauties who have perhaps most stirred the men's dreams.

Next I decided on three trouble-making, civilization shakers—Julius Caesar, Napoleon Bonaparte and hated Adolf Hitler.

And to more than balance that warring trio, I added four of the wisest men who ever lived—Socrates, Jesus of Nazareth, Confucius and Voltaire, each of whom had a different insight into the human soul.

For further spice I put in Sam Johnson, the world's greatest conversationalist, and three moderns—poet Robert Frost, mystery writer Mickey Spillane, and Toots Shor, who could settle any arguments that might arise over Babe Ruth's batting records and similar high-level questions.

But no group is altogether congenial without some singers. So I tossed in three that entertained millions: John, McCormack, Enrico Caruso and Al Jolson.

Well, instead of five or ten, I wound up with a list of 19—and I still had left off a ragtime piano player, which you really need at any good informal get-together.

Junior Editors Quiz on FIRE

QUESTION: What makes a flame go out when you blow on it?

ANSWER: When you blow on a small flame, such as a match, you are suffocating it. Fire, like man, needs oxygen in order to survive. When you blow on the flame you are blowing carbon dioxide at it—your respiratory system has already removed the oxygen from the air you inhaled. With all of this carbon dioxide shot straight into it, the flame dies. Certain fire extinguishers are based upon this principle. There are some that simply shoot great amounts of carbon dioxide into the flame. Others spread thick layers of foam over the material that is burning. This cuts off the fire's oxygen. You have probably heard of quick-thinking rescuers wrapping a burning person in a heavy blanket or a rug. The thick material often cuts off the fire's supply of oxygen and the fire is extinguished. It is not very wise to depend upon blowing out a flame if the flame is much larger than that on a candle. If you blow on a much larger flame, it will do no good at all and will probably encourage the flame to grow still larger.

FOR YOU TO DO: There are many different types of fire extinguishers. Find out what type is in your school. See how many ways you can learn of putting out small fires when there is no extinguisher handy.

(Robert Neal Smith of Norton, Kansas wins $10 for this question. Send your question on a postcard to Junior Editors, 9 care of this newspaper.)

Four Bodies Are Found In Wreckage

MENA, Ark. (AP)—Bodies of four members of a prominent Houston business family were found near here Wednesday in the wreckage of their private plane.

The dead:

Capt. William Parker Jr., 69, board chairman of Parker Bros. & Co., Inc., a building materials firm.

A brother, Capt. Eric Parker Sr., 58, president of the firm.

A son, Jack Parker, 31, a vice president.

A son-in-law, Glen Draper, 40, pilot.

The twin-engine plane disappeared Tuesday on a flight from Fort Smith, Ark., to Houston. The group had attended a funeral in Kansas City, Mo.

Wreckage of the plane was found about 20 miles west of here and 40 miles south of Fort Smith. State trooper Bill Ingram said it crashed about 100 feet below the crest of a mountain. All four bodies were in the wreckage.

Another son, C. T. Parker, said in Houston the group had refueled at Fort Smith on the return trip to Houston.

A Federal Aviation Agency spokesman said a squall line was reported in the Fort Smith area about the time the plane took off for Houston and tornado alerts had been broadcast.

The Civil Air Patrol said airport officials warned the party not to take off from Fort Smith because of the violent weather. They quoted Draper as saying he would fly around the disturbance.

The Parker family went to Kansas City for the funeral of Lloyd Leonard, traffic manager for the Soak City & New Orleans Barge Lines. It is one of 16 firms in which the Parkers held controlling interest.

The Parker firm, one of the largest producers of oyster shell for construction material, was founded by five brothers in 1925.

97 Per Cent Of Wildcats Are Failures

HOUSTON (AP)—More than 97 per cent of the nation's wildcat oil tests last year were failures, the American Association of Petroleum Geologists was told Wednesday.

This means that just one of every 47 attempts discovered enough oil or gas for profitable production. J. Ben-Carsey of Houston told the group.

Chairman made the report as part of the geologists' committee on exploratory drilling.

The report shows 10,992 exploratory holes were drilled last year, including rank wildcats, new field tests and outposts. Only 1,970 produced some oil or gas. Of 11,704 exploratory tests in 1960, only 2,189 found oil or gas.

Carsey's report said these statistics, coupled with a need for replacing oil and gas reserves as they are produced, demonstrate forcibly a necessity for the domestic industry's 27 1/2 per cent depletion tax allowance.

AT PRO-AMERICA EVENT—C. L. Kay, center, vice president in charge of public affairs at Lubbock Christian College, is greeted by C. O. Holder, head of the Scurry County Pro-America League, and Mrs. Thelma Ross. Kay was principal speaker last night at a public session of the local organization in the Lamar Junior High auditorium.

Ancestor Worship Doomed, Says Kay

Nearly 100 people were present at the Lamar Junior High auditorium last night to hear another in the series of programs presented by the Scurry County Pro-America League.

Featured speaker at last night's program was C. L. Kay, vice president in charge of public affairs at Lubbock Christian College. Kay is a much sought after speaker. The Snyder talk was the third which he had given yesterday, the other two being given to high school groups.

Kay said the youth of today are largely overlooked by those who are concerned with the country's future. But, said Kay, "Kids today are good, honest, and ready to go." He said however, that they are concerned with our country's survey of students which indicated that theirs is an age of confusion, of "gimme" complexes, and an age of suspicion and distrust.

The speaker challenged the adults of today to furnish the leadership that youth needs and demands. He pointed out that today's government debt plus future commitments totals almost one trillion dollars, or $22,000 for every family of four.

"We have effectively ended all chance of ancestor worship in this country," he said.

Kay pointed out to the audience that the reasons for a country's fall from prominence are political decay, economic decay, and moral decay. Encirclement of our country and its demoralization are the goals of world wide communism today. And the communists are working toward their goal 24 hours a day while we continue to talk more and do less, he said. Kay also reminded the group that the target date of 1973 for taking over the U.S. is now just 11 years away. And, he said, Cuba means that they mean business.

Never before, said the speaker, have the conflicting ideologies of warring nations been so clearly defined. America's lead over the regimented states will remain only so long as we remain free, he said.

Kay sees our greatest hope for the future in our youth of today. But, he said, they must be given the facts and the training by responsible adults today.

VFW Elects Officers

Lock; surgeon, Cliff Colium; three year trustee, Bill Lock. Four men were also elected to serve on the board of directors. They are: Ray Ashley, Cliff Colium, M. M. Mapes, Harold Spivey.

First Lady Given Pakistani Horse

By FRANCES LEWINE
LAHORE, Pakistan (AP)—Pakistan's President Mohammed Ayub Khan took America's horse-loving First Lady to one of the most colorful horse shows in the world today and then gave her a Pakistani thoroughbred to take home.

Delighted at the gift, Jacqueline Kennedy said she was worried about how the animal would get back to the United States. Officials told her the 10-year-old bay gelding, named Sardar or Chief, would travel by an American military plane.

The plane will also pick up the Independent Guild Defeated By Union

STRATFORD, Conn. (AP)—The Teamsters Union defeated the Independent Aircraft Guild by 367 votes Wednesday and became the bargaining agent for the 5,000 production and maintenance workers at Sikorsky Aircraft.

The Teamsters picked up 2,431 votes in the National Labor Relations board certification election to 2,064 for the IAG, a local union.

two tiger cubs she got in India Wednesday.

Mrs. Kennedy said she hoped the horse would not get airsick.

Pakistan was giving the U.S. First Lady royal treatment. It was a school and government office holiday Wednesday when she arrived from neutralist India to begin a 4½-day visit to this Asian ally of the United States. Officials declared another holiday today so children and workers could see her drive about the city.

Tens of thousands lined the flag-draped streets as she went to the stadium for the final day of the Lahore Horse and Cattle Show. There she joined Ayub Khan and West Pakistan Governor Malik Amir Mohammad Khan in a carriage escorted by 38 lancets of the presidential bodyguard.

Fifty-six trumpeters sounded a fanfare as the carriage entered the stadium. The crowd of 150,000 rose and cheered. The carriage circled the field and then drove to the reviewing stand.

Mrs. Kennedy and Ayub stood at attention as a massed band of bagpipes, drums and brasses from 48 regiments played the Pakistan national anthem.

GREETINGS—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy is greeted with a handshake by Pakistan President Mohammed Ayub Khan on arriving at Lahore airfield from New Delhi. She will spend four and a half days visiting the country. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Lahore)
