Hair Code Is Changed

A compromise was reached in regards to length of hair that boys may wear in Olton schools, when the board of trustees met with a group of parents, Friday, Aug. 23 at 8 p.m.

A meeting of parents and board members gave both parties an opportunity for open discussion of problems dealing with the hair length. A number of high school boys were sent to barber shops the first day of school because the school authorities didn't think the boys' hair length met the standards as stated in the handbooks.

Following a meeting Friday morning with Superintendent Joe Turner, a group met that night with the board. Pros and cons of the issue were discussed and the board retired to the board room to make its decision.

Parents asked that the length of the hair be allowed to the bottom of the ear lobe. After discussing the difficulties of youngsters keeping hair well groomed during school activities, the board agreed to compromise and set the hair length at midway the ear.

Voting for the proposal were Burley Faver, Elmo Bryant, Don Muller and Garland DePrang. Voting against were Uil Gunter and Floyd Prentice.

Pigskin Predicting Game Begins

Pigskin predicting time has arrived again with the beginning of the ever-popular Enterprise football contest.

Sixteen games are featured in the sponsors' ads on the contest page plus the tie-breaker clash between the Mustangs and Tulia Hornets. Best predictor of the week will claim the first place win of five dollars. Second and third place winners will receive $3 and $2, respectively.

Contestant who compiles the most correct guesses throughout the contest's run will claim the grand prize of two tickets to the Cotton Bowl classic New Year's plus a check for $25. Runner-up in season standings will receive two tickets to the Sun Bowl game.

Anyone may enter the contest but only one entry per person is allowed. An entire family may enter and compete against each other. Only sponsors of the contest, their families and members of the Enterprise staff are ineligible.

It's easy and it's fun. Football "know-how" is not a requirement. Lucky guesses can play an important part as favored teams are sometimes upset. Leads of several points can be overcome when "slumps" or "lucky streaks" hit contestants.

Turn to the contest page in this issue. Select the team you think will win in each of the 16 ads. Circle that team's number on the official entry blank. Predict the score of the Mustangs-Hornet tilt and fill in the entry blank. Deposit entry blanks with any sponsoring merchant before 4 p.m. Friday.

Sponsoring merchants make the contest possible. If you find the contest fun, tell those people you appreciate their efforts. Shop with them when you take your entry in, they'll appreciate your business.

Check Ups Being Offered

Pre-testing for four year olds who have mental defects will be conducted by Olton schools. Parents who have children who are four years old before Sept. 1, 1974 who may have a mental defect are asked to contact H.P. Webb Elementary Principal Ray Kinnison.

Parents wishing to check with the school concerning these pre-tests may contact Kinnison any weekday from 1 to 4 p.m.

Residents Reminded Child Must Attend School

Superintendent Joe Turner reminds residents that Texas law requires that every child in the state who is as much as seven years of age and not more than 17 years of age is required to attend public school.

Each child must attend the school in the district of his residence or in some other district to which he may be transferred as provided or authorized by law. The law further states that the child must attend a minimum of 165 days of the regular school term of the district in which he resides or to which he has been transferred.

Persons in Olton Independent School District who know of any school age child that is not in school should call the superintendent's office, 285-2641.

Articula 299 Codigo penal. Asistencia obligtoria (ACTS 1969, Legislatura LXI).

"Cualquier padre o persona de relación paternal con conviccion o culpa voluntaria a cumplir con los leyes de asistencia obligatoria recibira por la primera ofensa una multa de $5 a $25, y con la segunda conviccion un multa de $10 a $50, y con conviccion subsecuente una multa de $25 a $100. Cada dia que dicho hijo de edad escolar no asiste a dicha escuela despues de dicha escritura o despues de que se ha ordenado a asistir a la escuela por la Corte juvenil constituya una ofensa distinta."

Parents Get Opportunity 'To Go To School' Again

Parent Orientation Night will launch a new year for Olton Parent-Teacher Association at 8 p.m. Thursday in the school cafeteria. Robert Sivley, OHS principal, is program chairman for the meeting.

Parents will be taken through an imaginary day at Olton schools in an effort to better acquaint them with the acitivities of their children.

All parents are urged to attend the meeting and represent their children. Teachers who have the largest representation of parents at the meeting will receive a monetary award to be used for some need in their room.

Executive meeting of PTA officers is slated for 2 p.m. Monday in the school cafeteria.

Reserve Football Tickets To Be Offered To Public

Football tickets are presently on sale in the school business office, according to Joe Turner, superintendent.

Option to buy reserved seats held in past years is still being offered former occupants. Unless purchased by Friday, Sept. 6, such seats will be offered to the public.

Get Acquainted Coffees Scheduled By Olton PTA

The annual get acquainted coffees for teachers and parents will get under way Monday, September 2. Sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association, the coffees were slated for 9 a.m. daily in the school cafeteria.

Monday's coffee is for parents and teachers of first grade and kindergarten; Tuesday, second grade; Wednesday, third grade; Thursday, fourth grade; and Friday, Fifth grade. Junior High and Senior High coffees are scheduled to be held September 9 and 10.

Committee members will be on hand at the coffes to accept membership dues for P-TA, according to Membership Secretary, Mrs. Don Nafgzer. Mothers and fathers of all Olton students are urged to join and participate in the organization.

Persons interested in joining, who will not be able to attend the coffees are asked to contact any member of the P-TA.

Gift Shop Owners Say:

'Learned The Hard Way'

A portion of the name is all that remains 'north' of the gift shop originally opened by Mrs. R.H. Thomas at 202 Main Street in 1953.

During a visit to California, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas had been impressed with ceramic ware being made by Thomas' sister. They brought selections home with the idea of offering them for sale locally.

Northside Gift Shop, housed in a frame building measuring fifteen by eighteen feet, opened to display these ceramic gift items and Olton shoppers approved. When supplies dwindled replenishments became available through a firm located in Clovis, N.M.

Entrance to the gift shop, which sat to the side front of the Thomas residence, was electrically wired so that any passage through the opening rang a bell within the home, summoning the shop keeper to come forward.

When Mrs. Thomas was required to spend more and more time answering the insistent bell, she began to cast about for other things to offer for sale.

Infant's clothing was her first addition, and within a year the size of the building had to be doubled to house her wares. Children's lingerie and clothing up to size 14 soon filled the enlarged shop to overflowing.

Mrs. Curtis Scruggs, who helped her mother with sales by this time, remembers that the brands handled became very popular and patrons came from a wide area for these articles which could be sold at that time for a modest price...and every brand they carried was made in Texas.

In November, 1967, Mrs. Kenneth (Jeanette) Ray, newly approved cosmetician, had established quarters for her recently acquired line of Merle Norman beauty supplies at 602 Main Street.

With room to spare she eyed the flourishing Northside Gift Shop as a desirable complementary business. Jeanette solicited the interest of her longtime friend, Mrs. W.B. (Billie) Dickenson, as a partner in the endeavor.

Mrs. Thomas after fourteen years was wearied of her task, so the transaction was made. The two totally inexperienced young matrons moved the contents of Northside Gift to a more southerly location July 4, 1968....but they retained the name.

Once settled in, they continued to build the inventory of infant-wear and children's clothing, at the same time adding other pottery, dishes and gift items.

A fire in Wayne's Print Shop in the adjoining building in 1969 caused extensive smoke and water damage to merchandise and made complete redecoration necessary. No sooner had repairs been completed than the building was sold to hospital owners who had expansion in mind.

Again, July 4, 1970, 'Northside' moved south, this time to its present location.

Clothing for teenagers was added to the fast growing inventories of children's wear and gift items. Again the stock seemed to outgrow the facilities. All clothing lines, except infant wear, were sold to another duo of young business women and became the basis for a new store in the city, Miss Charmin', November, 1971.

With clothing stocks removed, Jeanette and Billie rearranged the decorative gift items so as to present one of the most attractive stores of its kind in the entire area. Brides were attracted to Northside to make choices for their prospective new homes from the many selections of pottery, china, glassware, and stainless steel. Other homemakers were tempted with linens, table accessories and household decor available.

Popular brands in infant toggery continued to attract many young mothers, not only from this community but from neighboring towns.

The pleasant fragrance that greets all comers to Northside has become a mark of distinction for the shop. The owners say that is simply an admixture formed by the colorful scented candles, imported soaps and French and Hawaiian perfumes.

Jeanette and Billie, who hand-pick every item placed on their shelves, both admit that this is the hardest part of their task.

Sad commentary on the changing processes of our nation is found in the fact that today practically all gift items on the market are imported, in contrast to the Texas made products handled by the original owner.

"The Dallas market is huge," Mrs. Ray commented, "It has become known as the World Trade Center, surpassing that of New York or California. We search diligently for products made in America, but few are to be had. Our most exclusive decorator items come from other countries, as any shopper will notice when they examine merchandise. California made candles, really, and Pennsylvania made pewter, are our most popular American made gift and decorator items..."

"Hand blown glassware comes to us from Israel; clocks, music boxes, porcelain and China figurines from Italy; brass objects from Taiwan, and innumerable things from Japan. These things are beautifully designed, well made and cheaper than anything we are able to find with the 'made in America' brand."

"And," Mrs. Dickenson spoke out, "We spend hours searching out the inexpensive gifts our patrons have come to expect to find, too. And we always try to point them out to the shopper. We maintain a corner in the store designed to please the taste of our school age patrons, especially for the exchange of gifts among friends."

Northside has recently completed a summer clearance sale, held especially to make room for big shipments of fall and Christmas merchandise now beginning to arrive.

"We have the biggest inventory of large pieces coming in now that we have

COW POKES By Ace Reid

"Wul, don't untie him yet, he went crazy tryin' to figure out if the cow markets goin' up 'er comin' down!'

Editorially Speaking

We want to express our gratitude to the board on behalf of our youngsters at Olton Schools, who were granted permission to wear their hair in more current styles.

Not that we go along with absolute LONG hair on the guys! Heaven forbid! But, we think that the board did the right thing in compromising with the boys because, after all, who is wearing any style that they wore five or ten years ago?

We were 100 per cent behind the board back several months ago when they voted to keep the hair code as it was, after three of the high school student council members appeared and asked that the length be lowered to the bottom of the earlobe.

In our work of photography, we are very often asked to take pictures at other schoolsand we have made pictures of boys that we would not want our boys looking like. Thereby, the decision to keep the hair code met with our approval.

However, after the disruption of school came because of the hair styles this year, we were compelled to "go along with the kids." We feel that the boys will honor their promise to keep their hair groomed and that everybody will be much better satisfied and we can get on with this thing called "Education."

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

BY MOZELLE TROTTER

We're having a very important happening in the Trotter family - a milestone that brings happiness and the promise of even more as the years unfold.

A daughter! We're getting a daughter!

Not a child of our own flesh and blood but a lovely young woman who's endeared herself to us and made her own special place in our hearts as she totally captured the heart of our first-born son.

Marsha. Even her name belongs. Mike and Marsha; Marsha and Mike. The sound of their names linked together seems natural and right.

Pledging vows to each other in the ceremony which will link them as man and wife is an event which we too have anticipated with joy. But with the anticipation has also come some measure of anxiety.

Will I be the legendary "mother-in-law" - the woman who, knowingly or unknowingly, imposes her way and will upon the young woman who now holds first place in that special young man's heart?

Can I keep back the unsought words of advice? The admonitions of how things should be done? Will she forgive me if I fail?

That tall young man is not always six feet tall in his mama's memories. He's twenty-four but yet he's still my little boy - the toddler with a wisp of red hair and a bump on the head!

Will she understand if frequently I forget that the time he was loaned to me is past? He was mine for a while - a time when I could spoil and spank to cuddle and correct.

With God's help and Gene's remindings maybe I can be the kind of mother-in-law my own has been and the kind my mother is to Gene.

Meddle, I may. Blunder, I might. But love her, already, I do.

HOUSE GUESTS

VIOLA RUIZ

Cook Of The Week

Sharing recipes of her Mexican American culture this week is Viola Ruiz, a native of Lockney who has lived in Olton 12 years.

A 1974 graduate of Olton High School, Viola is employed in the meat department of Leon's Grocery Store.

Dancing is the favorite pastime of our cook. She loves music and her favorite sport is volleyball.

Viola is a member of St. Peter's Catholic Church.

Mexican foods are not every day dishes for Mexican American people, Viola says, but are prepared as special foods. She shares her ways of preparing enchiladas, chalupas and quacamole salad.

A lid from an old wood burning iron range is used by Viola's family as a grill for cooking home made tortillas. Tortillas can be made by pressing dough out with a rolling pin or by hand but a press turns out much more uniform tortillas.

ENCHILADAS

1 lb. ground beef
½ t. ground comino (Viola grinds her own)
salt and pepper to taste
clove of garlic, minced
chili powder to taste

Cook ground meat and seasonings in small amount of water till tender and excess water has been cooked away. Place chopped onion on tortilla, add small amount of chili and grated cheese. Roll and place in baking dish. Cover with enchilada sauce and grated cheese and heat in oven till cheese is melted.

To prepared sauce: As in making gravy, place small amount shortening, about 2 T. in pan or skillet. Melt and stir in about 2 T. flour and brown. Add water (about 2 cups) and 2 T. chili powder (more or less, according to taste), ½ t. comino and clove of garlic, minced. Simmer till thickened.

CHALUPAS

Fry tortillas till crisp. Heat re-fried beans and chili together, stirring until thick. Place bean-chili mixture on fried tortilla, top with chopped lettuce and tomato and grated cheese. Heat in oven till cheese is melted. (Make your own refried beans by frying cooked pinto beans. Mash with potato masher. Use with or without chili.)

GUACAMOLE SALAD

1 avocado
tomato
jalopeno pepper
lemon juice
onion, chopped

Mince pepper. Mash avocado and tomato and blend with pepper and lemon juice, to taste.

Charles Gallaways Feted On Silver Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gallaway were honored Sunday, Aug. 25, on the occasion of their twenty fifth wedding anniversary.

The reception, held in Party Room of Production Credit Association building, was hosted by sons, Jimmy and Kenny Gallaway, and sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Art Tollett of Hart and Mr. and Mrs. Stan Parker of Amarillo.

The party table was laid with a white cloth, overlaid with white lace. Centering the table was an arrangement of silver and white, featuring white roses and white tapers. The two tiered anniversary cake, frosted in white was touched with silver. Silver and crystal were used by Mrs. Stan Parker and the two sons to serve the cake and red reception punch.

Mr. and Mrs. Gallaway were married Aug. 21, 1949, in St. Alice Catholic Church in Plainview. They had met in Channing where he was manager of Matador Land and Cattle Company and she was teaching in the local school system.

They later moved to Olton where Gallaway farms southwest of the city, and Mrs. Gallaway teaches first grade.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Langley, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Langley, Andy and Kathy, of Lockney; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Covington, Daugherty; Mr. and Mrs. A.O. Wines, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Higdon, Mary, Leslie and Theresa, Mr. and Mrs. James Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Les Wright, Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Plays A Part In Your Child's Education!

- PLAYING IN THE SCHOOL BAND

- TAKING PART IN CONCERTS
- LEARNING THE PLEASURE OF MUSIC

Apart from its cultural benefits, music helps boys and girls develop the discipline, poise and self-confidence necessary to grow emotionally, mentally, and socially.

No other group activity, including athletics, can do this as well. And tests prove children active in school bands and orchestras usually earn high grades in other courses, too.

We are proud to have had the opportunity to serve the Olton community for the past 26 years, and are looking forward to many more years of service to you.

Boys Ranch Rodeo Set For Labor Day Weekend

The 30th annual Boys Ranch Rodeo will be held over the Labor Day weekend, Sept. 1 and 2.

Approximately 10,000 friends of the boys are expected to attend the two performances of the rodeo at 2:30 on Sunday and Monday afternoons. The only rodeo of its kind in the nation in which the only contestants are boys riding professional rodeo animals, the event is also a reunion for the more than 3,000 boys who have lived at the Ranch since 1939.

More than 150 boys will be riding calves, steers, Brahma bulls and bucking broncs. Older boys compete for the title of Senior All-Around Cowboy and a Junior All-Around Cowboy is named from the younger boys. All of the boys will have some part in the rodeo, either as contestants or working in the many behind-the-scenes activities.

The Boys Ranch Band will provide the music for the rodeo, while other boys operate concessions for barbecue beef and other refreshments. Reserve box seat tickets for $2.50 are available at the Boys Ranch office, 600 West 11th Street in Amarillo, or can be obtained by writing to Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, P.O. Box 1890, Amarillo, Texas, 79105. General admission will be $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children.

DON'T SHORT-CUT SAFETY WHEN MOWING THE GRASS

By Dr. Bill Daniel
Consultant to Lawn-Boy

Power mowers are designed not only to cut your grass but to trim the time it takes to do so.

Unfortunately, almost 60 thousand persons annually try to short-cut their lawn mowing chores by side-stepping simple safety procedures. Carelessness undermines efforts by most manufacturers to meet stringent safety standards set by the not-for-profit Outdoor Power Equipment Institute.

Today's power mower is safer to operate than ever before. It features design improvements ranging from smaller discharge openings to flexible shields that deflect rocks downward and away from the operator.

But the operator still mans the controls. So the best way to reduce accidents is to avoid injury by adopting the following common-sense safety routine:

- Never wear loose fitting clothes that could get caught in moving parts. Never mow in bare feet. Wear sturdy leather-soled shoes or boots instead of sandals or sneakers, which give poor footing.
- Gasoline demands respect so refuel before mowing and never while the mower is hot to avoid sparking an explosion. Refuel your mower out-of-doors to guard against combustible fumes.
- Clear the yard of foreign objects. A rock, toy or dog bone, if left hidden in the grass, can become a dangerous missile when in the path of a whirling blade.
- Fill in any holes in your lawn for safer cutting and to diminish the chance of sprained ankles or falls. Avoid mowing in early morning because dew can cause your feet to slip. Push, never pull, your mower to avoid losing control of it.
- Start the engine with feet and hands away from the blade or any rotating parts. While mowing, stay away from the discharge side of the machine.
- Mow across steep slopes with a walk-behind mower to assure maximum stability. Riding mower operators should mow slopes up and down (rather than across) to avoid tipping. Avoid sharp turns, not only because they are hard on grass, but because you can slip.
- Before removing the grass catcher or unclogging the chute, shut the engine off and wait until the blade comes to a complete stop. Stop the engine before going across roads, driveways or walks, or anytime you leave the mower.
- Never allow small children or anyone under 14 years old to operate a power mower. Strength, stature and maturity are vital safety ingredients. Make certain nobody is in the yard while you are mowing.
- Always stop the engine and disconnect the spark plug before making repairs. Otherwise, the blade can be started accidently by hand. The best place to check the mechanical functioning of your mower is on the sidewalk, because leaking gas and oil can kill grass.

(Editor's note: Dr. Bill Daniel is responsible for turf research at Purdue University and is a consultant to Lawn-Boy. He is a member of the American Society of Agronomy and is executive secretary of the Midwest Regional Turf Foundation).

Feminine View Of Football

By Joy Stiller

I admit I still don't know all the finer points of the game but as a captive audience for televised football every weekend I am nevertheless in a position to offer my observations, conclusions and suggestions. I now feel qualified not only to comment on gridiron activity as presently conducted, but also to give advise on how its quality and safety can be improved and, especially, how to speed it up. Although playing time is supposed to be only one hour, I have never seen a game completed in less than two.

First of all it's asking too much for all the boys to play with just one ball. Giving each side its own would cut down considerably on all the dangerous pushing and shoving that goes on when everybody fights for the only available ball. Then the players themselves should come to firm decision about which way they want to go instead of chasing halfway down the field and then suddenly deciding they prefer to move in the opposite direction after all. They should also quit changing their minds about whether they even want to play, rather than to keep running back and forth from the sidelines onto the field every few minutes.

One of the most obvious practices slowing down the game is their habit of doing so many things twice. They run, pass or kick and then they do exactly the same thing again only this time very, very slowly.

No wonder a 15-minute quarter lasts an hour!

There is another contributing factor, the stadium clock leaves a lot to be desired. They're always stopping and the participants have to hang around waiting until they get them started again. The players could speed the action a good deal if they'd hold the joke until later instead of gathering their pals together in a tight little knot to tell them the latest, right in the midst of the game.

Though my husband is always too intent on watching the action to further my education in the esoteric realm of pigskin parlance, I have on my own absorbed the idea that a screen pass is viewed on the television screen; an offside is a team that is having an off day; two quarterbacks make a halfback and two halfbacks make a fullback and a 220 pound safety man doesn't sound very safe to me.

My final bit of free counsel to those who would make football a better game is send in those men in striped shirts who are always hanging around the field, they are the fastest runners of all.

M&W Perfect Kern'l GRAIN DRYERS

UNMATCHED CAPACITY • UNBEATABLE ECONOMY
GRAIN QUALITY NO OTHER DRYER CAN TOUCH

HEATED AIR AND GRAIN FLOW IN THE SAME DIRECTION

These are the unchallenged champions of grain drying. Farmers all over the country have found out that nothing gives them the capacity, the economy and the grain quality they have to have to keep ahead in today's farming. Every kernel gets the same treatment. There's no overheating, no overdrying — no pockets of wet grain to invite spoilage. And they do the job faster and cheaper too!

Write In The Groove

BRYAN ALLCORN AND FREDDY STOCKDALE

From out of Olton's newly acquired swamps comes this week's version of "Wet In The Groove." We really ought to rename the column "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea." Now really farmers, we know you wanted rain, but enough's enough. This recent "water-wave" has led to the founding of a new business, "Noah Crawford's New and Used Ark Service." Now, you've heard all this mumbo-jumbo about "Let the Competition Beware." We say, "Poppycock!" We are not scared of any competition. (Mainly because there are no other Ark Service companies in the world). You choose your own terms. Rent for a day, forty days, or even a lifetime, if you can stand the smell. There are many arks to choose from such as our luxury model which is 40 cubits by 40 cubits by 40 cubits. This model includes power sails, automatic oars, and tinted portholes, all standard. "We'll even furnish free tile on the bottom, for easy cleaning and a years supply of "Scrubbing Bubbles." There are many colors to choose from such as: 1. two-by-two blue, basic brown (easy to clean) and hot-pink for all you weird arkers. Remember our mottos "Have Ark, Will Travel," and "When it rains, it pours, so please don't fret, just come to us, you won't regret. So, rent an ark, it costs a billion. Not worth it folks, but "Thanks a million."

America is a land of results. That's all America looks for, results, results, results. Johnny Sain, a major league pitching coach, once said, "America doesn't want to hear about the labor pains. It only wants to see the baby." Well, after the two week, two-a-days labor period, America got its first glimpse of Olton's 25 member, 3750 lb. brand spanking new team. Not really brand spanking new because most everybody is back from last years 5-5 squad. The new look is a winning look. If you saw only spectacular as, except for two long runs, they held the Chief's offense to almost no yardage. They also caused many turnovers, including Scotty Roberson's interception-touchdown.

The offense was a little sluggish at first, then they started picking up speed. Mark Stroebel was only brilliant as he completed nine passes for over 200 yards, including three touchdowns. The offense also picked up around 200 yards on the ground, which shows how balanced our attack is. We scrimmaged Ralls Thursday night and are in the process of preparing for Tulia, which is here next Friday night. Be sure and try to get out and see it. It should be a good one.

DARING DATING ADVENTURES OF RICKY DALE SMITH!!!

If you are familiar with the Senior Class of 1975, you will know that they do about anything. Well, they really did it this time. They set Richy Smith up with a date that drives any boy POCO LOCO. (A little lingo there from Spanish class.) Of course Ricky didn't know about this on the rainy afternoon of Friday the 23rd. He was worried about the treasure he was receiving but as the weekend lingered on, we kept telling him, COME MONDAY it'll be alright.

That night Ricky came home anxious and worried. His mother notice his most mysterious mood and asked him if he was feeling bad. He only replied that it was the AIR THAT HE BREATHED.

Saturday came rolling around, and when Ricky went outside to get the morning paper, he noticed a slip of paper under the rubber band. He carefully opened it and it read 654-2306 and at the bottom was a little line that read, RICKY, DON'T LOSE THAT NUMBER. Oh, how slow that Saturday morning went. Ricky came home from WORKIN AT THE CARWASH BLUES and decided he had better call. She only told him to KEEP ON SMILIN.

Well, Ricky's father Billy, got furious and told him he had better watch what these boys were doing to him. Ricky's mother heard this and snapped back at Billy. "BILLY DON'T BE A HERO!"

Then while yelling at her for interferring, she turned around from walking away and said, "Don't yell at me now, I HAVEN'T GOT TIME FOR THE PAIN!"

Monday night finally came. Ricky found out where she lived and went to pick her up. When he arrived at the front door and having rung the doorbell, he remembered he still had his WILDWOOD WEED autographed by Jim Stafford in his mouth. He quickly threw it down and it landed in his Roy Rogers Dingo boot, and no one is just going to stand there and let his best pair of socks burn. So he started jumping around and about that time she answered the door. She couldn't help laughing and jokingly she said, "SAVE THE LAST DANCE FOR ME." What an embarrasing moment for Ricky.

They got in the car and overcome by her beauty, Ricky said, "I know I'm the KING OF NOTHING, and can't do the SHO 'NUFF BOOGIE, but would you PLEASE COME TO BOSTON WITH ME?"

Well, to make a long story short, they went to Boston. On an ocean cruise the Captain threw a honeymoon party for them but cautioned them, "DON'T ROCK THE BOAT." Ricky called home and his mother asked how they were getting along. Ricky's replay - "SHE'S ONE HELL OF A WOMAN."

At this time, W.I.T.G. would like to take this opportunity, on behalf of the entire student body, to express our thanks to the school board for the change in the hair code. Now it's up to the students and parents to be responsible and help enforce this change. If we try to push this they have no choice but to go back to the old code.

We'd like also to thank all of you beautiful parents and citizens who stood by your kids and joined together for one major goal.

That's about it for this week and remember 'Drive a little and Save a Lot.' Stop by and see Red and Ralph!

Needed: An Inflation-Proof Congress

Vote to end the shrinking dollar

Half of all living Americans were born before 1946. Since then the value of the dollar has shrunk 60 cents.

This shrinkage has taken only 28 years. At this rate, the 1946 dollar will be worth only 16¢ in another 28 years.

The main reason for this decline has been excessive federal spending—and particularly deficit spending.

If inflation continues and the dollar shrinks at the same rate for the next 28 years, what is in store for the average American?

What will you have to earn—or pay—in 16¢ dollars just to have the same purchasing power, in terms of today's 40¢ dollar?

- $7,200 in wages will have to be $18,000.
- $3,000 cars will cost $7,500.
- $25,000 homes—$62,500.
- $4,000 college tuition—$10,000.
- $300 television sets—$750.
- $125 suit of clothes—$312.
- $30 pair of shoes—$75.

At the same rate of inflation, a family's weekly budget will have to rise as follows:

- Food—from $61 to $152.
- Housing—from $56 to $140.
- Clothing and laundry—from $25 to $62.
- Transportation—from $20 to $50.

If inflation continues at the same rate and the Federal Government spends money to provide the same services that it provides today, in the next 28 years:

- Spending will rise from $305 billion to $762 billion.
- Federal debt will jump from $485 billion to $1,200 billion.

A continued decline in the dollar's value is not inevitable. You can do something about it—for 1974 is an election year.

Candidates for Congress will be asking for your vote. When they do, make certain you know how they stand on Congress taking the initiative in fighting inflation.

Ask them if they plan to keep the government's spending within its income. Or do they plan to continue deficit spending and assure a 16¢ dollar.

Your informed choice of candidates willing to make choices needed to halt the dollar's shrinkage is essential.
