Vogeler Freed By Hungary

Thin and Stammering, He Reveals Torture Of Pre-Trial Coercion

VIENNA, Austria, April 28. (AP) — Robert A. Vogeler, pale and shaken from 17 months in the hands of Hungary's Communist police, got his bartered release today and stammered that mental and physical coercion attended his confession to being an American spy.

"I am sorry I did not perhaps live up to the American tradition under pressure," he murmured to reporters at the gate of his home.

"I think there was some truth in my testimony, which I read last night for the first time," he told a later news conference. "But I think under the law any testimony obtained by mental or physical pressure is not legal and is coerced."

The 39-year-old assistant vice president of International Telephone and Telegraph Company was brought this morning to the Austrian border at Nickelsdorf.

MEETS WIFE, SONS

He was taken at once to his home here, where his young Belgian-born wife, Lucille, and their two sons, Bobby, 11, and Billy, 9, received him in their arms. They were all too overcome to say a word.

Afterward, the Hungarian and United States governments announced that the young businessman had been released on these conditions:

1. The Hungarian consulates in New York and Cleveland, O., closed following Vogeler's arrest Nov. 18, 1949, will be allowed to reopen.

2. The United States also will rescind its ban on American travelers to Hungary.

3. Changes made in the frequency of the Voice of America broadcasts so they will not interfere with Hungarian broadcasts.

4. The U. S. will facilitate the return of all Hungarian goods in the U. S. Zone of Germany which had been looted by the Nazis.

The State Department said Hungary had been informed this property does not include the return of the Crown of Saint Stefan, the nearly 1,000-year-old religious relic and symbol of sovereignty and power in Hungary

Vogeler, who was sentenced to 15 years imprisonment after trial before a People's Court in Budapest in February, 1950, said he was feeling well.

But Col. Grant William, Austrian representative of IT&T, said "He is very nervous. I have seen shell shocked men who are not so nervous."

He told reporters he was not given any injections of drugs to make him confess.

Big Four Tight In Deadlock As Crisis Spreads

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
(Associated Press Staff)

The Big Four deputy foreign ministers (America, Britain, France and Russia) who have been engaged in a dog - fight in Paris since March 5, remain deadlocked in their efforts to arrange an agenda for a foreign ministers meeting.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko from the outset adopted the role of tough guy. He has blocked work of the conference by raucous variations of the charge that the Western powers, mainly America, are to blame for the Korean war.

Moscow wants the United Nations to withdraw from Korea. This would leave the South Koreans alone to face the Russian equipped Red divisions from the North.

Of course this farcical proceeding in the deputies' conference is not surprising. It is merely history repeating itself, since obstruction is the fixed strategy of the Russans for all conferences involving the democracies.

NO DELUSIONS

Britain, France and America had no optimistic delusions as they embarked on the Paris conference. Dr. Philip C. Jessup, chief U. S. delegate, summed the position up like this:

"We want to be shown Past experience does not make us very hopeful."

Since Soviet obstruction represents a choronic condition, the question naturally arises why the great powers persist in stating international conferences involving the Reds and the Democracies. What is to be gained?

Well, the fact is that most countries, and especially the small ones, want the way kept open to that peace of which we dream but never seem to approach. The idea is that so long as the great powers are talking they won't act.

There has been a lot of discussion at one time or another about disbanding the harrassed United Nations. This would eliminate the obstructive communist bloc. However, the decision always has been not to take such drastic action, on the ground that the Russians someday might change their ways.

Plow Field For Friend In Hospital

These farmers and farm hands put their 27 tractors and a pickup truck into operation Friday morning and plowed 150 acres for a neighboring farmer, Fred Cotton, who was ill in the Root Memorial Hospital, Colorado City. Cotton, who suffered a heart attack last Sunday, did not know about the good deed until it was done. "It took us only two hours and 15 minutes, and we enjoyed it," one of the farmers said.—(LaWayne Hulse Photograph.)

Neighbors Turn Out To Plow Fields For Man In Hospital

Short Time Taken To Do Work One Man Would Have Spent Week On

Some of the farm worries of Fred Cotton, who lives three miles east of Dunn, were disposed of by neighbors who brought 27 tractors to his farm Friday morning and plowed 150 acres for him.

Cotton, who was taken to the Root Memorial Hospital in Colorado City after a heart attack last Sunday, was unaware of the intentions of the neighbors. He had been worrying about getting his plowing done, the men said when they finished.

"It would have taken one man nearly a week," one of the farmers commented, "but this way it only took a little more than three hours, and it was something worthwhile done for a good neighbor."

The group met at the farm about 8 o'clock, according to Cotton's son-in-law, Bill Bayless, a vocational agriculture instructor, "and they were through plowing at 10:15."

Elmo Herring, who furnished a pickup truck and hauled water for the others, said "It was such a small amount of time and such a trifling expense to each man that none of us suffered, but we all feel good that we were able to help a friend."

John Soto, a Latin - American working for Houston Cotton, said, "I've worked on farms all over the United States for the past 15 years, and this is the first time I've ever seen this done—I like the idea."

"This sort of thing isn't practiced in many communities, but it has always been a custom in this country," Doin Pitchford said.

Legislature Still Faced By 3 Problems

AUSTIN, April 28. (AP) — Three of its original four major problems were still undecided issues as the 52nd Legislature wound up its 16th week.

They were taxes, appropriations, and civil defense.

House - Senate conferees were either still at work or mum on any progress made in their studies of taxation and how much to appropriate. Thus the colleges and state departments are still in the dark on what final spending figures will be submitted in the session's closing days, and taxation remained as a question mark.

It appeared that these two vital questions would have to be decided in a last minute rush or they could bring about prolonged argument that would delay the end of the session.

DEFENSE BILLS READY

The constitution suggests that general sessions last for 120 days. The 120th is just 10 calendar days hence.

Civil defense should not offer much of a problem.

The office of Gov. Allan Shivers announced late this week that bills making double - barrelled provision for defense are being written and will be introduced Monday.

One would authorize the Governor to establish and coordinate a civil defense system, and set up a financial plan.

The other would authorize compacts between the states and their political subdivisions for mutual aid in time of calamity.

They apparently are very broad measures in effect delegating the heavy responsibility of emergency action in the executive branch. No appropriation figure has yet been revealed.

With time within the 120 - day limit growing short, several highly controversial questions could embroil the lawmakers.

LOCAL BILLS PASSED

One of these is the Senate-approved bill by George Parkhouse of Dallas, making violation of the right-to-work or anti - closed shop bill punishable under strict terms of the anti - trust statutes. House opponents successfully stalled off action on it all last week.

The next round of the railroad-truck battle will come on the floor of the House. The on-the - spot unloading bill has gone to the governor, but the proposal to up the gross weight load limit from 48,000 pounds to 58,420 has just been approved by House committee after Senate passage. The next stop is House floor consideration.

New Beef Cost Control Plan Is Announced

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP) —The government today announced a new beef price control program calling for almost a dime-a-pound rollback at the butcher shop by Oct. 1.

The program provides for progressively reduced ceilings for live cattle starting next month.

Retail prices will remain about the same for the time being. They will be placed under specific dollars-and-cents ceilings. But the announcement said they will be reduced from four to five cents a pound on Aug. 1, and again by the same amount on Oct. 1.

The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) said that annual savings to the American public will be about $700 million.

The new ceilings, OPS said, will put beef prices by fall back to about where they were when the Korean war began. Retail prices then are to average 10 per cent lower than now. Farmers' prices for cattle will be about 18 per cent less.

OPS Director Michael V. DiSalle said it was impossible to order immediate retail price reductions because livestock prices, uncontrolled until now, have squeezed wholesalers and retailers whose price levels have been frozen since January.

That is the reason for lowering livestock prices first, before the August and October retail price cuts go into effect. It will also give producers a chance to unload their high cost animals.

"Meat," said DiSalle, in a speech tonight at Bridgeport, Conn., "has joined bread in the importance it occupies as the average American housewife plans and prepares a balanced diet she feels is necessary for the health of her family."

OPS officials contended the new program is fair to the industry and should allow continued full beef production.

OPS said the new regulations affect practically every family in America as well as some 300,000 meat retailers and 25,000 packers, slaughterers and other meat wholesalers. Beef accounts for 44 per cent of the nation's meat diet.

The new regulations do not apply to veal and certain beef products which still remain under the January price freeze. Nor do they apply to pork sausage, lamb, or mutton. OPS officials said they are working on pork regulations. These are the steps DiSalle ordered on beef prices:

1. A 10 per cent cut in prices which slaughterers may pay the farmer for cattle. This goes into effect for accounting periods beginning on or after May 20.

2. Dollar and cents ceilings are fixed for wholesalers and retailers for the first time. The wholesaler ceilings go into effect May 9, the retail ceilings on May 14. Butcher shops must post retail ceiling price charts, by grade and cut, by June 4.

3. Prices slaughterers may pay for cattle are to be reduced an additional four and one-half per cent on Aug. 1 and by the same amount on Oct. 1.

4. On the same Aug. 1 and Oct. 1 dates, retail beef price cuts of from four to five cents a pound will go into effect — for a total cut of about nine cents a pound according to type of store and also according to area, depending on distances from packing centers.

Separate sets of ceilings were ordered for superstores, for independent and small chain stores, and for small independent stores.

Mattress No Deal, It Spews Fortune

WINDEMERE, England, April 28. (AP) — The auctioneer couldn't raise even a shilling bid for a tattered old mattress up for sale with other household odd lots.

A porter started to carry it away. The mattress burst open . . . out spilled 3,000 pounds (8,400) in notes and gold sovereigns.

One Bid Made And Accepted In School Bond Sale Friday

A joint offer of 14 bond investment companies to buy $2,950,000 in school bonds for the new high school project at an effective interest rate of 2½ per cent was accepted Friday afternoon by the school board.

The offer was made through C. M. Smith, of the Central Investment Co. of Texas, one of the 14 buyers, after competitive bids had been sought from more than 500 bond firms in the nation.

No other bid was presented. A week earlier—the first date set for opening bids—no bids had been presented. The date for opening bids was then postponed a week, and advertising was done again.

Smith, who had been employed by the board to handle legal proceedings of bond issues and the calling for and presenting of bids, said advertisment had been made through three nationally circulated investment company journals, including the Wall Street Journal, and that about 500 companies had been notified individually.

GOVERNMENT BLAMED

The bond market's changing, due to government restrictions, was blamed for the lack of competitive bidding. "These restrictions, and others, are forcing firms to demand higher interest rates," Smith said, "in the government's attempt to raise the value of the dollar." He added that he thought the market change, in the long run, was of economic benefit to the nation but that all investment companies would suffer some now because of bonds on hand.

The net interest cost to the school district on these bonds will be $627,509.15. The bonds, in denominations of $1,000, will mature at various dates during the next 15 years. The effective interest rate is 2.4992 per cent.

PARTICIPANTS

Companies buying the bonds are: Central Investment Co., Dallas; Underwood - Newhaus & Co., Houston; Rauscher - Pierce & Co., San Antonio; Fridley & Hess, Houston; Columbian Securities Corp., San Antonio; Dittmar & Co., San Antonio; William N. Edwards & Co., Fort Worth; M. E. Allison & Co., San Antonio; Eddleman-Pollok & Co., Houston; R. J. Edwards, Inc, Dallas; Lovett-Abercrombie & Co., Houston; Roe & Co., San Antonio; Rowles, Winston & Co., Houston; and F. S. Smithers & Co., New York.

Also present at the meeting were James Kerley and J M. Barker, of the Central Investment Co.; Don Otis, of Raucher - Pierce & Co., and D. T. Richardson, of the Underwood - Newhaus & Co.

Jaywalking Hound Tossed Into Clink

His carelessness, the irate cops said, caused a collision between a streetcar and a truck. The two vehicles jammed together and traffic was held up a half hour until they were separated.

Kefauver Angered By 'Leak'

Pleads With Press To Await Release of The 'Official' Report

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP) — The Senate Crime Committee today labored on what was termed a hard-hitting report and Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn) deplored publication of advance reports of what will be in it.

Kefauver declared the report of the underworld and its relation to politics was still being revised.

Kefauver had intended to make the formal report Monday on the sensational year-long inquiry that probed into much of the nation's crime and corruption. He said today printing difficulties would delay it until Tuesday.

"PULL NO PUNCHES"

The senator took note of the fact that a number of versions have already appeared in various newspapers and said in a statement:

"I deplore the circulation of what purports to be the final report of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee. The committee report has not been approved. It is even now in the process of extensive revision.

"We hope that the press will await the release of the committee's actual final report before making any statements about persons supposed to have been mentioned in a purported draft of the report."

Another committee source told a reporter earlier today that the final report will "pull no punches" and would use some "strong language" about William O'Dwyer, former mayor of New York and now ambassador to Mexico.

O'DWYER INVESTIGATED

During the committee's New York investigation, O'Dwyer appeared as a volunteer witness and spent grueling sessions on the stand. Also during the New York hearings, a firemen's union official testified he once handed O'Dwyer a $10,000 gift as "evidence of our support" and gave $55,000 to James J. Moran, a long-time O'Dwyer aide. Both O'Dwyer and Moran denied the story.

Before returning to his diplomatic duties, O'Dwyer declared he strongly favored such investigations as the Kefauver Committee undertook, even though this one gave "a distortion of my work."

Texas Sheep, Goat Raisers' Future Bright

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP) — Agriculture department experts say Texas sheep and goat raisers face a bright outlook, judging by prospective demand and current prices of wool and mohair.

With this government committed to building up a strong military force, coupled with aid to expanding North Atlantic Pact allied nations, they say there appears little prospect of a let - up in demand.

The Agriculture Department's Office of Foreign Agricultural Relations has just issued a report with this summary of the world production picture

Sheep numbers of all major producing nations at the beginning of 1951 were estimated at 762,000,000 head compared with 734,000,000 head a year earlier.

The livestock branch of the Department's Production and Marketing Administration reports that the U. S. sheep population shared in the increase, reversing a downward trend that has been steady since 1942.

SHEEP CROP UP

The U. S. sheep population on Jan. 1, 1951 was 28,065,000 (M) head, compared with a record low for recent history of 27,099,000 on Jan. 1, 1950. The record high for the nation was 49,000,000 in 1942.

Figures for Texas were 7,036,000 on Jan. 1, 1951; 6,638,000 a year earlier, and 10,332,000 in 1942. The Texas peak year was 10,539,000 in 1943, and the 1940 - 1949 average was 9,079,000.

The average sheep yields about 8 pounds, greasy weight, of wool annually.

Department officials, noting that the U. S. normally produces about one - third of the wool it consumes, reported that last year only about 25 per cent of the wool used here was domestically grown.

MILITARY BUYING HEAVY

Total U. S. consumption in 1950 was approximately 429,000,000 (M) pounds, of which about 115,000,000 was American clip.

By far the greatest U. S. consumption last year was for civilian goods, a departmet wool specialist said, but the 1951 ratio should

Governor Shivers Says: Congratulations, Snyder

Snyder Daily News, Snyder, Tex.

"My congratulations to the people of Snyder on the formation of the Snyder Baseball League and my sincere best wishes for its success. Certainly it is appropriate that America's greatest sport should have a prominent part in the community life of a great and growing community like Snyder. Please extend my best wishes to the officials and players. I wish I could join with the many baseball fans who will be present on opening night and participate in the ceremonies.

Allan Shivers, Governor of Texas."

Short Program At Dam Site Set For 3 This Afternoon

People of all west Texas will gather today in the Colorado River bottom to celebrate the new method used by three cities to solve their mutual water problems.

The triangular get together will take place about 17 miles southwest of Snyder in the river bottom where a dam is being built to form a lake to furnish water to Snyder, Big Spring, an Odessa.

To open the ceremonies, high school bands from the three member cities will play selections in rotation in a concert starting at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

At 3:30 the Star Spangled Banner will be jointly played by the three bands.

The Rev. Ronald Hubbard, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Snyder will give the invocation. The short program follows.

Not only will people of the three towns get their first view of what will soon be West Texas largest body of water, but they will be introduced to directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, the organization which is building the lake and pipelines with which to furnish water to the three towns.

Just as each city will share in the cost of building the dam and pipelines and cost of the lake basin, they share its board of directors.

Snyder's directors are: Lyle Deffebach, R. A. Schooling, James Rosser, and W. J. Ely. The four directors from Big Spring are: Robert T. Piner, George Mims, George G. White, and R. L. Cook. Odessa's directors on the board are: Charles Perry, J. L. Rhoades, P. C. Harbour, and W. E. Bruce.

Officers are: Piner, president; Perry, vice - president; Joe Pickle, of Big Spring, secretary - treasurer; and E. V. Spence, of Big Spring, general manager.

Houston Crump of Odessa will be master of ceremonies at today's ground breaking.

THOMAS INTRODUCED

Crump will introduce J. B. Thomas, Fort Worth, who first dreamed of a multi-city water supply for growing West Texas cities.

Thomas is president and general manager of Texas Electric Service Company, and has been one of the leaders of civic life in Fort Worth and West Texas for many years.

As early as 1945, he envisioned need for development of municipal water supplies in West Texas, feeling such was essential to the growth of the towns. On December 11, 1945, he wrote E. V. Spence, then chairman of the State Board of Water Engineers, asking about studies which later led to centralization of efforts on the Colorado River project. Thomas piloted the CRMWD program from this inception and has been a front-line worker in all phases of the organization; financing, legal work, egineering, and all the rest.

MAIN SPEAKER

Main speaker for the occasion is Guy C. Jackson, of Anahauc, president of the Texas Water Conservation Association.

One of the biggest problems facing people who are to attend today's ceremonies is how to get to the dam site.

Two routes are open to Snyderites, but CRMWD officials have asked that people from Snyder use the route west of town rather than the route through Ira, because traffic from Big Spring and Odessa will be using the Ira route.

The west route and all others will be clearly marked and easy to follow. (A map on page three gives directions.)

The other route to the south leaves the Big Spring road at Ira and goes west and north west along a marked road to the dam site.

An alternative route has also been marked for Big Spring and Odessa traffic. It leaves the Big Spring - Snyder road at Vincent and goes straight north for 10 miles to the Murphy school, then east six miles to Knapp.

The lake, to impound 204,000 acre feet of water when completed, will be bigger than any other lake in West Texas, and will cover much of the ground on which today's ceremony will be held.

J. W. Moorman & Son are contractors.

Texas Reserve Units To Camps in Groups

AUSTIN, April 28. (AP) — For the first time Texas' 170 army organized reserve units will move to summer camp as units.

The Texas Military District announced Friday units will assemble at their home stations and move to Camp Polk, La., under command of their own offices.

The units will train in relays during June, July and August.

New Plan for Tax Depletion Oil Allowance Being Sifted

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP) — The Treasury Department is reported to have come out with a new proposal involving the tax depletion allowance for the oil industry—that the present 27½ per cent figure be retained for stripper wells with the allowance reduced to 15 per cent for flush wells.

Several members of Congress from oil states, said today they had been informed of the proposal, but there was no confirmation from the Treasury or the House Ways and Means Committee. The Committee has been holding closed - door sessions to consider a new general tax bill.

Earlier, at an open hearing, the Treasury had recommended a flat reduction to 15 per cent of the tax depletion allowance on oil income.

One Congressman, who declined to be named, said he doubted there were enough votes in the committee to aprove any change in the present rate. He pointed out that any differential between classes of wells would complicate the bookkeeping of oil companies.

PLANE GAS NEEDS UP

A $10 million program for expansion of alkylate capacity has been approved by the House and sent to the Senate. Alkylates are used in production of aviation gasoline.

The proposal is contained in a defense supplemental appropriation bill.

The munitions Board wants the funds voted before the end of this fiscal year, June 30, so it can get an early start in helping to rehabilitate some existing alkylation plants and to build additions to others.

Rear Admiral Burton B. Biggs, Chief of the Munitions Board's Office of Petroleum programs, told a House appropriations subcommittee at a hearing on the bill that indicated requirements would

UN Continues Withdrawal To The South

Short Lull Noticed On Western Front In Six-Day Offensive of Red's

TOKYO, Sunday, April 29, (AP) — Allied troops withdrew to a new defense perimeter four miles north of apparently doomed Seoul today. Vanguards of 300,000 Chinese Communists poured through Uijongbu, gateway to the South Korean capital.

United Nations forces — still intact and full of fight after six days of intense combat — abandoned Uijongbu Saturday night without a fight. That road and rail junction is 11 miles by air north of Seoul.

Rearguard Allied elements stemmed the Communist advance until the main body of UN troops could move into their new defense lines north of the Han River.

WEST IN LULL

From the Western front, AP Correspondent John Randolph said Saturday night that a short lull appeared to have set in after six days of intense Chinese offensive.

The fall of Seoul, however, appeared close at hand. Of political value only, it is considered a death trap for anyone who tries to defend it. The Reds have twice captured and twice lost it since last June.

The Red stab at Seoul with at least 41 divisions remained the most serious threat on the front. Heavy artillery and equipment moved from Seoul to the south bank of the Han Rived.

Columns of troops and Korean bearers marched down roads in endless streams.

Others ate C rations beside the road.

The new line runs from the West coast to the Pukham River, along the Pukhan to the Choyang River, then east to a point south of Yongpo on the East-Central front. It continued southeast of the Inje-Hyon Road and then across the 38th Parallel to the East Coast.

EAST HAS FIGHT

South Korean units on the Far East coast, with Allied warships providing artillery support, engaged about two battalions of Reds near Yangyang, about eight miles inside North Korea.

Bad weather throughout Saturday held Allied warplanes to only 29 sorties — the lowest number since mid-March.

The Chinese and their North Korean allies did not press their advance. Field dispatches described them as licking their wounds, and drawing up reserves for a later renewal of the fight.

Eighth Army estimates of casualties inflicted on the Reds from Sunday night through Friday night exceeded 42,000—the heaviest yet in so short a period.

Crash Tanker Captain Fights Ouster Order

MOBILE, Ala., April 28. (AP) — A veteran ship master convicted of negligence in a tanker collision which killed 39 seamen planned today to fight a coast guard order barring him from sea duty for life.

"Oh, My God, I've lost my livlihood," sobbed Capt. Edwin C. Geick of Bayonne, N. J., when the findings of an examiner were announced Friday. "I've never done anything but go to sea."

Coast Guard Examiner Daniel H. Grace permanently revoked Geick's sailing license. Grace suspended the license of Third Mate Jesse A. McLean for three months.

Grace ruled that negligence of the two officers contributed to the collision of their tanker, the Esso Suez, and the Esso Greensboro. The Greensboro, loaded with 140,000 gallons of crude oil, burst into flames.

The tankers smashed together in the gulf off the Louisiana coast April 20 in foggy pre - dawn darkness. Only five members of the 42-man Greensboro crew survived.

Grace said the Suez master failed to reduce speed of his engines when entering a fog area, and failed to navigate with caution when another ship had been spotted on his radar.

City Set To Hail Baseball

A host of baseball fans are set to hail the opening of Snyder's baseball season here tomorrow night.

Congratulations from Texas Governor Allan Shivers have come in lauding Snyder for its interest in the great American sport.

Mayor Forest G. Sears of Snyder will highlight tomorrow night's opener by tossing the first ball into the playing field.

Not of the same proportions as the opening of the major league seasons in the northeast, but just as important to local fans, the baseball activity here has already received much fan fare.

Plans are in the making to have the Snyder high school band out at Memorial Park to play for the opening game, but no confirmation of this was received yesterday, because the band was on a trip to Brownwood to play in the regional band competition.

Baseball advocates and others are also trying to organize a parade through Snyder to hail the opening of the season.

Two softball games will be played five nights each week, and one baseball game will be played each Sunday afternoon during the season.

Priests' Bodies Found in Well

PUSAN, Korea, April 27. (Delayed) (AP) — The bodies of an unknown number of Catholic priests were found recently in a well in the South Korean province of Chungchon - Namdo.

Huh Chung, Minister of Social Affairs, said the priests were victims of communist atrocities last year. He said the exact number of bodies would not be known until all have been removed.

A number of the victims may have been captured in Taejon.

Father Hugh C. Creig of Minneapolis said 12 French and a number of Irish priests were in Taejon when it was captured by the Reds last year. Three Irish priests were sent from Taejon to Mokpo in Cholla - Namdo Province.

Father Creig said the Catholic Church has lost 75 priests and six bishops to the communists.

Snyder Girls In Accident At Colorado City Friday Night

Two Snyder teen-age girls were among six persons injured, one fatally, in a two-car wreck in Colorado City about 11 o'clock Friday night.

The Snyder girls were Patsy Riley, 15, daughter of Mrs. Gwendolyn Allen, and Lora Garretson, about 15, whose parents operate the E & H Cafe.

Fatally injured was Paula Mahurin, 17, Colorado City high school senior and, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mahurin, who live 18 miles southwest of Colorado City.

Miss Mahurin was a passenger in a car driven by Shirley Hutchings, also 17, of Colorado City. The Hutchings girl was injured but not seriously.

The Snyder girls were passengers in a car driven by Frank Wilson, about 17, of the Hyman community. Also a passenger in the Wilson car was Roland Davis, about 19.

A district court charge of murder without malice was filed against Wilson, according to Eldon Mahon, district attorney, who said the charge alleged the youth was driving while intoxicated, had no driver's license, and disregarded a stop sign at the intersection.

He was released on appearance bond of $2,000, Mahon said, and was bound over to the grand jury which will convene there May 21.

The accident occurred at the corner of Oak and Fifth Streets, four blocks north of U. S. Highway 80. Police officers reported the 1951 Henry J in which the two Colorado City girls were riding was traveling south on Oak Street, and the other car, a 1947 Ford, was traveling east on Fifth Street.

Funeral services for Miss Mahurin are to be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the First Baptist Church of Wingate, where the family formerly lived.

Man Injured Near Here In Crash Saturday

Eugene A. Noser, 40, Houston, is a patient in the Snyder Hospital Clinic, with several fractured ribs, fractured right shoulder blade, injured right arm and a severe laceration above the right eye, according to E. W. Green, highway patrolman, and Homer Whisnand, deputy sheriff.

Noser, an electrical engineer, driving a 1951 Chevrolet sedan from Midland to the Lion properties, about 8:15 o'clock yesterday morning was in collision with the truck, driven by John B. Buford, 28, of Snyder, six miles southwest of Ira, according to the officers who investigated the accident.

The two vehicles met head-on, said Green, but the Noser car only collided with the wheels of the trailer to the truck. Noser was thrown out of the sedan by the impact.

Noser was picked up from the road by J. A. Cox, of Snyder, who witnessed the crash, and brought to the Hospital here. Cox is employed by the Kolar Motor Company here.

The trailer - truck is owned by Younger Bros., and J. M. English Truck Lines.

At the hospital, attendants said Noser's condition was not considered critical.

Trucks Collide West Of Snyder Saturday

Two heavy trucks collided in West Snyder about 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon causing extensive damage to the vehicles, but no one was injured.

A Frank Montgomery Dirt Contractor truck struck the real wheels of a truck driven by Alvin Koonsman of Route No. 2, Snyder, according to E. W. Green, highway patrolman.

Charles H. Wright, who lives in the Birdwell Trailer Court in northwest Snyder, was driver of the Frank Montgomery truck.

Wright said that something in the steering mechanism of the truck he was driving broke causing him to lose control of the truck.

Present usable alkylate capacity is about 127,000 barrels daily in the U. S., the committee was told.

"The program envisaged in relation to the $10,000,000 requested amounts to approximately 4,000 barrels a day of alkylate capacity," said a statement filed by defense officials.

TIDELANDS DECISION NEAR

"It should be nited that all but 20 per cent and soon practically all the 127,000 barrels per day capacity will be utilized to meet current requirements with the possible exception of some capacity involving extremely high transportation costs."

Present capacity, the statement said, represents less than 50 per cent of the capacity which would be needed, on the basis of present estimates, in event of all - out war.

It said the program is intended to begin "a properly phased increase of alkylation capacity to parallel the increase in consumption of aviation gasoline to be expected from approved aircraft programs."

Admiral Biggs testified the navy wants $3,000,000 and the air force $7,000,000 before June 30.

The Senate Interior Committee now is expected to act next Tuesday on the bill to provide for interim operation of offshore oil operations by the Federal government pending settlement of the Federal-State controversy over the so-called tidelands.

The committee failed to reach a vote last Tuesday because of discussion of amendments.

Late in 1950 the armed forces placed heavy mill orders that are just now being turned out and will continue indefinitely.

Prices soared with the placing of the military orders, both here and in Europe. In March the U. S. Armed Forces, having exhausted available funds on a sharply rising market, dropped out of the buying field and prices declined somewhat.

AUSTRALIAN TYPES UP

A popular Australian type wool which averaged $2.48 per clean pound December 15, the department said, opened at $3.13 in mid-January and increased to $3.52 before Easter. A drop of about 25 per cent from pre-Easter level has left the market still above pre-Christmas, to average about $2.85 at the Sydney Auction April 9-12.

On the Boston market a high of $3.75 to $3.85 cents per clean pound was reached between March 15 and March 30; on April 13 the same wools sold for $3.25. (Australian wools brought into this country are assessed a 25 cents per pound tariff for the grades most in demand, plus transportation charges.)

In World War One the highest price wool brought on the U. S. markets was $2 per pound; in World War II price control held the price at $1.18 cents.

A department official who declined to be quoted said that the only likely cause for any appreciable decline in wool prices would be a heavy consumer resistance.

NO DROP SEEN

In view of the large military orders, he added, there appears little chance that the civilian demand will drop enough to depress the market to any considerable extent.

He said it may be many months yet before the soaring wool prices will be reflected in the consumer goods the housewife buys at the retail store, in the form of suits, blankets and the like.

While price ceilings are still being formulated, he noted, they are expected to permit increases so that merchants can make the same profit margin prevailing before controls.

These figures were on hand for mohair:

1950 production (U. S.) of 14,561,000 brought an average of 75.9 cents per pound, grease basis; the 1949 yield was 14,600,000 pounds, which brought 45.3 cents. Sales in Texas on March 16 brought $1.90 per pound for adult hair, $2.25 for kid. A drop of about 20 per cent from that level has been reported since, but with little activity in the market in this country at the present.

Store Sales In Buying Slump

DALLAS, April 28. (AP) — Department store sales in Texas continue at an unimpressive pace. Some merchants are having difficulty carrying present heavy inventories.

"This lull in consumer buying," the Federal Reserve Bank said today in its monthly business review, "is largely a reaction from the extremely heavy buying prevailing in the summer and last few weeks of 1950 and the early weeks of this year.

"Although department store stocks were up noticeably in March, inventory buying appears to have halted. In fact, some merchants are having difficulty carrying present heavy inventories in the face of a tightening credit situation, and efforts to reduce inventories have become evident."

The review said nonfarm employment in Texas is up, and wage rates also continue to rise. The value of construction contract work in March, although down from the February peak was the second highest peacetime total on record.

Banks report a slight decline in loans and also in demand deposits. Banks liquidated holdings of Treasury bills and notes and drew down reserve balances in order to meet deposit withdrawals.

Oil Field Worker Badly Injured Early Saturday

Arthur Miller, 38 years old, who lives at 2508 Avenue W, in Snyder, was seriously injured in an oil field accident yesterday morning on the Fuller lease north of Snyder.

Miller suffered a fractured back and other injuries when a ladder swung around and struck him in the back at a tank battery on the lease.

He was brought to Snyder Hospital by a Dennis Funeral Home ambulance.

Hospital attendants said Miller's condition was serious, but not critical late yesterday afternoon.

Stock Market Closes Mixed

NEW YORK, April 28. (AP) — An increasing number of losses cropped up on the stock market late today and the trend turned from an advance to a mixture of gains and declines.

Many traders believed profit taking after two goods days of definite advances was responsible for most of the softening.

Oils, however, remained strong with Cities Service ahead about $2 at one time and Standard Oil (NJ), Socony - Vacuum and Texas Co., up by lesser amounts.

The volumne ran around 900,000 shares, which is up with the best of the short Saturday sessions of the year.

Railroad stocks were inclined to slip a bit from their best figures of the day and New York Central slipped to a minor loss.

U. S. Steel joined Bethlehem and Youngstown sheet on the advancing list by a few cents.

General Motors and Chrysler slipped a few cents. Kennecott Copper and American Smelting dropped a few cents while Anaconda and Phelps Dodge pushed ahead an equally small margin.

Other advances included Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, Commonwealth Edison, Du Pont, Southern Railway and Distillers Corp.

Among the declines were Montgomery Ward, Admiral Corpl, Zenith, American Woolen, International Paper, Paramount and Baltimore and Ohio.

Prices on the curb exchange were steady to a few cents higher.

Grain Sorghum Costs Scanned

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP) — Gus F. Geissler, president of the Commodity Credit Corporation, said Friday grain sorghum price supports are being reexamined.

He made his statement at a meeting of Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas Congressmen. The meeting was called by Reps. Mahon (D-Tex.) and Hope (R-Kas.).

Hope said the grain sorghum support price is 65 per cent of parity compared with a maximum of 90 per cent for corn. Geissler said he doubted the sorghum figure could be raised anywhere near 90 per cent of parity because of a danger of pricing the product out of the market.

State Representative Writes Open Letter To Three Cities

Dear Citizen:

It is with renewed faith in mankind and the basic principles of democratic government that I write this open letter to the citizens of Big Spring, Odessa, Snyder and West Texas upon the signal occasion of the initial construction of the Colorado River Municipal Water District Dam which will impound a permanent source of water for these three cities. West Texas has shown the way to the rest of the state for many years and once again we are bearing the torch of progress.

However, the solution of a vital water problem is not the only accomplishment exhibited in this pioneer movement. In an era of our nation's history when Federal Assistance is synonomous with public construction of every type and fashion, I think the wide-awake and ingenius citizenry of these West Texas communities are to be complimented and commended for their raw - boned will and determination to undertake a project of this magnitude saying, in essence, "Uncle Sam, we don't need your financial aid; save it for others who are less fortunate and not endowed with the intestinal fortitude of forefathers who were willing to settle and carve out their destiny in the free and semi-arid climate of greater West Texas!"

We are constantly aware of the socialistic tendencies of the Washington Bureaucrats, their encroachment upon state's rights and the constant criticism of a Federal Government that, seemingly, is set upon a course of nationalization of all governmental functions. We deplore and condemn Federal Subsidation but our philosophy as a nation has been to criticize the government and hurry to the front of the line to get "our share" as long as they are giving it away. So many have falsely believed that this condition should be corrected from within the government but the solution lies only in the people——people with the dogged determination and unconquerable spirit of our area.

The Colorado River Municipal Water District's effect and significance, therefore, is not corralled and confined to our section of the state, but the principle involved stands as a beacon to the entire nation, lighting the way and exhibiting to all the fallacy of Federal Assistance. This is another example of the strength of our breed brought up free and courageous in the incomparable sunshine and perfect climate of West Texas, nourished on the keen competion that is fostered from a never-say-die Texas spirit and endowed with the heritage and intestinal fortitude of the greatest forefathers and pioneers a new frontier has ever known. We have accepted the challenge, our convictions have been exemplified in our actions——the solution of the problem is virtually assured. The values of good government were crystal clear to Stephen F. Austin, Sam Houston and the founding fathers of this State, and it is evident that some of that clearness has become perceptible to the citizenry of these progressive and wide-awake West Texas communities. Congratulations, Big Spring, Snyder and Odessa ——the hat of the State of Texas is "off to you!"

Sincerely yours,
R. E. Peppy Blount

Loyalty Day Fetes Urged

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP) — Major James J. Mackin, a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, said today he has asked governors and mayors throughout the country to arrange Loyalty Day programs for May 1.

The idea, he said, is to make that day, usually associated with communist demonstrations, an occasion for a demonstration of American patriotism, "in contrast to the termites of the Kremlin."

Mackin, now on the Justice Department's legal staff, formerly headed a VFW post in Brooklyn and was chairman of the first U. S. Loyalty Day parade held there May 1, 1949.

Idaho Ban On Texas Sheep

SAN ANGELO, April 28. (AP) — Idaho has joined California in banning imports of Texas sheep unless they have been dipped twice in a lime and sulphur solution.

Neither state specifically names Texas. But both apply the rule to states known to have flocks infested with sheep scabs. Texas is out of those states.

The Idaho action was announced by Pierce Hoggett of Kerrville, scab inspector for the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission.

Hoggett said the move by Idaho Livestock Sanitary officials will have little direct effect in Texas because only a limited number of Texas sheep move to that state. He expressed fear, however, that other states might issue simliar bans.

Only one Texas flock, of about 4,400 head, remains to get the double dipping, Hoggett said. These sheep are in Culberson County, about 40 miles north of Van Horn. The dipping there will start Tuesday.

Mineral Rights Confuse Farm Values, Survey Reveals Here

The rising values of farm property and other real estate over the past several years has been considered general over the nation, but the shrinkage of the dollar has been doubly noticeable in Scurry County.

Farm real estate values showed a steady increase here over the past decade, rising more steeply than ever since the discovery of oil, according to reords available at the county clerk's office.

Before the oil boom,farmland with all royalty could be purchased for prices ranging from $125 to $145 an acre. With only half the mineral rights, land now is selling in an average range of $115 to $135; and with no mineral rights at all, the average current value ranges from $37 to $75 an acre.

Very little farm land is being sold in the county now, according to Pat Johnston, county clerk, who estimated the average increase in farm land values during the boom at about 20 per cent.

This estimate is not indicative of the increase from pre-boom days until now, however, he explained, but only since the boom was well under way. It would be difficult to determine how much of the increase was due to the boom since the values were rising before the oil discovery.

In the past 15 years, most farm property has gone up about 280 per cent in market value, it was estimated. Comparisons over this period, however, cannot accurately be made because of the variance in royalty values today, whereas royalty 15 years ago was not so much considered.

One Scurry County farm of 320 acres with all mineral rights sold in 1935 for $5,623. This same farm was sold several times since then, each time for a little more, and in November 1949, it was sold with an additional 13 acres but with only half the royalty on the entire 333 acres for $13,320.

Violators Of School Bus Safety Laws Get Stiff Fines In Court

A crackdown on motorists who violate the state's school bus safety law in Scurry County is being made by the two highway patrolmen in this area, W. E. Green and B. F. Zimmerman.

"There have been several violations of this particular law in this county, and the motorists brought before W. C. Davidson, justice of the peace have been assessed stiff fines," said Zimmerman.

It was pointed out by the highway patrolman that the maximum fine for violation of the state's school bus safety law is $213.

"When a motorist meets or follows a school bus, he should come to a complete halt when the bus is loading or discharging passengers," said Zimmerman. Adding, he said, "If after a thorough check has shown that it is safe to proceed, the motorist may pass the bus at a speed not exceeding 10 miles per hour."

That Greenish Scum, Now, You Want to Know What It's 'Really'

AUSTIN, April 28. (AP) — That greenish scum you've seen on ponds and lakes is undergoing a study that may dish it up for your Sunday dinner.

At best, however, it is foreseen only as an emergency food or as a substitute for fats and oils — not as a variation from spinach, broccoli or turnips greens.

Dr. Jack E. Myers, zoology professor at the University of Texas, has taken one of the biggest steps toward the food-production dream. He has supervised laboratory development of a commercial method for mass producing of the algae plants — long known in the scientific world as the most nutritious, prolific and simplest-formed plants in nature.

Up to now, it has taken about 100,000 gallons of water to produce a pound of algae. Production on that basis, to say the least, offered little encouragement for searching out major uses for the plants.

SPECULATION SPURRED

Now the Myers process will turn out one-half pound of algae per gallon of water.

The process has given the go-ahead to all sorts of speculation.

University scientists credit the practical process with "possibilities" as a wartime asset in the Far East and a defense against bacteriological warfare.

It could possibly feed a blockaded Japan and provide emergency food in case of bacteriological attack on this nation's regular resources, they say.

Dr. Myers is cautious, however, in predicting immediate results from his project.

WON'T REPLACE FOOD

He emphasized there is no possibility that algae will replace normal food sources. He knows of no algae fed to humans on a scientifically experimental basis.

The university scientists grows the algae — chorella species — in a water solution in a quarter-inch space between two glass tubes, one inside the other. The outside tube in each system is three inches in diamter and approximatly three feet high.

Carbon dioxide is passed through the solution. Sunlight and a small amount of added minerals produce the phenominal growth.

The American Research and Development Corporation of Boston is considering a plan to build a $500,000 pilot plant to study the Myers process.

Most of Texas Solons' Wives At Mac Sl e

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP) — Most of the Texas congressmen's wives witnessed Gen. Douglas MacArthur's dramatic appearance before congress.

Probably never before has there been such a turnout of congressional wives.

The comment of Mrs. Omar Burleson of Anson probably was typical.

"It was an event I wouldn't, don't mind giving up my s a joint session such as those held when the President speaks. He will be back. But this is a different situation."

Each member of Congress was allowed one ticket to the spectat or's galleries, as is the custom when the President gives his state-of-the union address or when a foreign dignitary speaks.

ALL TURN OUT

On hand on each of these occasions are most of the wives of the newer members of Congress and a sprinkling of the wives of the older members. After they have seen one or two such joint sessions, the initial thrill is gone.

But the MacArthur session was different. All wanted to hear and see him.

An 8-year-old Texas girl got one of the biggest surprises — and thrills — on MacArthur day. Helen Louise Pickett, daughter of Rep. Tom Pickett of Palestine, was waiting with her mother for an elevator in the House wing when General MacArthur arrived. He smiled and shook hands with the astonished and happy young lady.

"I was so surprised," she later confided, "I don't think I said anything."

Fluvanna School Set-Up Same For Next Year

The Fluvanna school board re-newed all their teachers' contracts for another school year at a meeting last week, Mrs. Mable Glass, a member of the County Superintendent's office here, said yesterday.

No changes and no additions were made at the meeting of the board which administers the 150-student school.

J. M. Glass was re-named as superintendent; and Lacy R. Turner, as principal. The remainder of the seven-member teaching staff re-named are: Mrs. Prentice L. Glass, wife of the superintendent; Mrs. Mary Att Norton, Miss Marybelle Weathersbee, Miss Eleanor Norton, daughter of Mrs. Norton; and James Charles Chorn.

Banquet For Employers In Education Plan

About 65 people, distributive education students and their employers, held a banquet in the central elementary school cafeteria Friday night.

Distributive education heads for this part of the state were at the banquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Morey McGlasson of Odessa were among the guests. McGlasson is D. E. co-ordinator at Odessa.

Main speaker for the event was Dr Mize, a professor at Texas Technological College, Lubbock. With Dr. Mize was Dr. Welsen also a professor at Texas Tech.

The banquet was given by the DE students here to honor their employers on the first anniversary of the local organization.

Otis Snead, winner of the University of Houston D. E. scholarship this year, was master of ceremonies.

Scientists Rip Smog Crop Ill

LOS ANGELES, April 28. (AP)—Scientists say they have found the element in smog which causes crop damage and may cause eye-smarting.

Gordon P. Larson, County Smog Control Director, said that the guilty part is an unsaturated hydrocarbon molecule. It is formed in the atmosphere by the joining of carbon with hydrogen atoms under the influence of ozone and sunlight.

Larson says the offending molecules are believed to come from evaporated gases lost in storing oil products, processing petroleum, hauling and marketing gasoline and oils, and motor exhausts.

UH molecules applied to growing plants in tests at the California Institute of Technology burned the leaves and stunted growth, says Larson.

Tests will be made to determine if these molecules are causing eye-irritation, he added.

AEC Will Continue To Use Nevada Site

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 28. (AP) —The Atomic Energy Commission indicated today that its Atomic testing range near here will be used for further experiments.

There have been published reports that the government would make no further use of the testing range.

AEC representatives said they will open bids here next Monday for more than $1,000,000 worth of buildings and insallations at Frenchman's Flat, in the range area. Other bids will be opened for constructing more roads into the area.

Students Seeking Deferment Must Take Qualifying Tests

Selective service registrants who are now in college and plan to ask an occupational deferment may now apply through any selective service board for college qualification tests.

The first of a series of three of these qualification tests will be given May 26, with the two remaining tests to be given on June 16 and June 30. To be eligible for the test, the registrant must be satisfactorily enrolled in a full-time college course leading to a degree and under 26 years of age.

The score which the registrant makes on the test will not determine eligibility for deferment. The scores are forwarded to the board with which the man is registered, together with evidence of scholastic standing in college. His local board will use this information in studying his application for deferment.

FIRST YEAR STUDENTS

High school graduates and others who are candidates for admission to their first year of college are not eligible for qualification tests until they have entered on their first year of college work.

Registrants who wish to apply for the test must first obtain a post card application form from a selective service board. The registrant is to designate the testing center at which he would prefer to take the test. He will be notified of the date on which he is to appear there for his test and should he failed to appear on the assigned date he can not substitute a later date.

Each applicant is allowed to take the qualification test only once.

SEVERAL NEAR HERE

In this immediate area, qualification tests will be given at Abilene Christian College and Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, San Angelo College, Midland high school and Texas Technological College in Lubbock. The selective service board has a complete list of testing centers available.

The test was prepared by the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, N.J., and is intended primarily to examine the ability to read with understanding and solve new problems through the use of general knowledge. It is very similar to the entrance or orientation examinations given most first year college students, and are intended to be completed within about three and one-half hours.

Applicants who do not receive notification of date and place to take the test are cautioned not to attempt to speed the process by filing a second application. Receipt of a second application form will disqualify the registrant from taking the test.

Speaking of distinctions, the 9-year-old son of W. N. (Dub) Furey, publisher of the Hillsboro Mirror came in for his share here last week.

While his mother and father had to confine their visiting in the House chamber to the press gallery and gallery for congressmen's friends, Young Bill watched a regular session of the House from one of the fine leather chairs on the floor.

He was taken past the doorkeeper by Rep. Olin Teague of College Station, who then led him directly to the rostrum and introduced him to Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham.

They shook hands, and the boy was turning away when the speaker stopped him.

GAVEL FOR SOUVENIR

"Here, you take this with you as a sourvenir," said Rayburn, handing young Furey the gavel he had used to rap the House into session that day.

In the press gallery, young Furey's father happened to sit next to a Finnish newspaperwoman who had just arrived in the United States for a four-month tour.

Before long, the Texas editor had told the Helsinki newspaperwoman, Miss Ella Jokela, all about the Lone Star State and promised her a real Texas welcome if she would visit Hillsboro.

Miss Jokela's tour is part of a good-will program sponsored by the U. S. government with money received from Finland's repayment of her World War 1 loan from his country.

Walter Henshel and Ellen Gibson, Braniff Airways employees from Dallas, were recent visitors here. Both saw Congress in action.

Other Texans recently here were W. H. Sandberg, president of the Texas City Terminal Railway Co., and a hero in the tragic blast which devastated the port there; and Homer Leonardo, Austin attorney for the Texas Brewers Institute.

Four Texans are among the 38 elected peace officers from 30 states, Cuba and Puerto Rico attending the current session of the FBI National Academy here.

The four enrolled in the 12-week course ending in June are William P. Gannaway, lieutenant of detectives, Dallas; Williamson County Sheriff S. Allen of Georgetown; Leonard Weldon Forrester, police detective at Lubbock; and Charles R. Hemingway, captain, Midland police department.

School Children Ask MacArthur for Visit

HOUSTON, April 28. (AP) — Hundreds of Houston school children are joining in efforts to have General MacArthur visit here.

The Houston Chronicle said petitions similar to one signed by students at the Pershing junior high school were being circulated in other schools in Harris County.

Maj. Gen. Courney Whitney, MacArthur's chief aide, indicated a trip to the southwest by the General was possible.

Top High Flier Lands in Court

LONGMIRE, Wash., April 28. (AP) —An intrepid air force pilot with a penchant for landing airplanes in high places like the top of Mount Rainier — landed in U. S. Commissioners Court.

His involuntary presence there Friday cost him a $350 fine and a suspended six - month jail sentence. Unless he appeals, First Lieut. John Hodgkin must put up the $350 by 3 p. m. next Wednesday.

Hodgkin, 41, from Selma, Calif. had a yen to land a plane and take off from a point higher than anybody else in the world. So on April 12 he landed his stripped-down, ski - equipped piper cub plane in the saddle atop 14,408-foot Mount Rainier. He spent the night there.

A rescue crew of Park Rangers toiled toward him. But Hodgkin glided the plane down - mountain to a frozen lake at the 3,000-foot level. Fuel was dropped to him. Then he flew to a small, snow-covered runway at Spanaway, near Tacoma, whence the odd flight started.

Commissioner Earl Clifford, in passing sentence, observed he did not intend to brand Hodgkin as a criminal, but said:

"You should straighten out your thinking."

Two Trucks Carry Big Tank

One of the largest truck loads to ever pass through Snyder went by the Daily News offices Friday morning. It was the second butane storage tank to be transported to the Lion Oil plant by two Younger Brother-J. M. English Trucking Co. trucks. Twenty-eight more such tanks and much heavy equipment are to be transported to the plant. The tank is 107 feet long and weighs 97,000 pounds.

Spring Comes to Texas' Old Red Granite Capitol Doors

By MARTHA COLE

AUSTIN, April 28. (AP) — Spring came to Texas' old red granite Capitol with the school kids and campers.

Just as the roses started blooming on the old pink brick around the grounds, the kids started streaming through the big barn-red Capitol doors.

Each 1,000 to 1,200 a day, the receptionist on the first floor declares.

When the Legislature is in session they clatter across the wooden floors of the galleries in the House and Senate.

That's when some Legislator sends up a note to the chair.

A WISEMAN

Rang goes the gavel, and then: "The chair wishes to recognize the seventh grade civics class from Pecan school. This is done at the request of your very able representative, Joe Blank.

"Will you please rise."

The kids in the gallery rise. Assembly Members applaud and Joe Blank's deskmate leans over and whispers with a knowing nod. "Private voters."

Sometimes their very able representative arranges for the kids to meet the Governor in the Governor's public reception room on the second floor.

The other day a whole rural school some 50 strong lined town to have their picture made with the Governor.

Gov. Allan Shivers knelt down on one knee in front of the line of the lower grades. The little boy right behind him poised his hand just a few inches above the Governor's shoulder. When the photographer asked, "ready?" the little boy clamped his hand on the Governor's shoulder.

DON'T BE BASHFUL

But the photographer didn't take the picture then. The boy jerked his hand away. Shivers turned his head and said, "that's all right, son, you put your hand on my shoulder."

Reassured, the boy did. And the boy beamed him took a deep breath and put his hand on the Governor's other shoulder.

Joann Strawbridge, a secretary, tells all visitors in the Governor's reception room about the huge mirror given to Texas in 1808 by the French government. At that time it was one of the seven perfect mirrors in the world. She explains about the flags in glass cases, the furniture made in Texas prisons a long time ago and answers questions.

GUIDES AVAILABLE

The most - asked question is "Where's the governor?" Gov. Shivers comes out to say hello and shake hands wherever he can.

Down at a desk in the rotunda on the first floor is the Capitol receptionist, Mrs. J. W. E. H. Beck. She has two guides at her disposal to take the groups around.

She tells groups first of all about the Capitol which cost three million acres of land. She has brochures she gives to a family. They tell historical facts about the Capitol and its physical features.

IT REALLY ECHOES

Portraits of the first Provisional Colonial Governor of Texas in 1835, of five presidents during the Republic of Texas and of every governor up to the late Beauford H. Jester line the walls of the rotunda on the first and second and part of the third floors.

Fifty - seven members of the Abilene Christian College band came up to Mrs. Beck's desk Friday afternoon. She gave them a brief history of the Capitol and said:

"Notice that the seals of the six nations under whose flags Texas has been are worked into the terrazza of the floor. In the center is the Lone Star of Texas. Once this floor was glass brick, but a man fell from scaffolding in the dome in 1922 and crashed through the glass brick. He lived about 20 minutes after the fall.

"You can stand in the middle of the star and hear your voice echo up to the dome."

About 12 band members tried it, and she was right.

15 Per Cent Credit On Fire Insurance Premiums Here

A 15 per cent credit on fire insurance is due property owners of Snyder again this year because of the good record shown in fire loss tabulations last year, N.W. Autry, fire chief, said yesterday.

This is the second year in a row that Snyder has received this credit, Autry said.

Autry received this year's fire insurance rating and other information from the State Board of Fire Insurance Commissioners last week.

Snyder, with a population of 12,012 had fire lossess totaling $34,100 last year, and the total amount of fire insurance premiums paid here was $149,484, the report showed.

The 15 per cent credit means simply that Snyder property owners will receive their insurance this year for the regular price of the premium less 15 per cent.

If the losses had been greater the credit would have been less, or if the losses were great enough an additional charge could be made by insurance companies, Autry said.

The Snyder fire department, with two paid firemen and 21 volunteers most of last year, set a good record, Autry said.

They fought 209 fires during the year which included fires both inside and outside the city limits, he said.

By comparison with other area towns, Snyder's record is about average, or a little higher than average.

Sweetwater probably had the area's best record last year. In that city of 13,590 people, fire losses for the year totaled only $13,281, but their total fire insurance premiums were lower than Snyder's—$123,971. Sweetwater, however had such small losses last year that they will get a 25 per cent fire insurance premium credit this year.

Their losses this year have been big enough to throw them to the opposite extreme next year and they will have to pay the extra 15 per cent, or maximum charge, Autry said. That will mean a difference of 40 per cent in their cost of insurance this year and next year, he said.

Sweetwater has 15 paid firemen, six volunteers, and eight trucks.

Big Spring, with a population of 17,258 last year, and net losses totaling almost as much as their net premiums. Their losses totaled $155,200, while the net premium payment totaled $158,279.

Big Spring has 21 paid firemen, no volunteers, and four pieces of fire fighting equipment.

Colorado City has a 25 per cent fire insurance credit this year because of low losses last year, Autry said. There, where the population last year was 6,709 they had fire losses totaling $17,664, while their total premiums totaled $71,262. Colorado City has one paid fireman, 20 volunteers, and two trucks.

"When we get our addition to the present fire station, and the new sub station built in southeast Snyder, our losses should decrease," Autry said, "unless we have some unexpectedly bad fires."

Delivery date for a new fire truck purchased by Snyder is supposed to be about May 13, but no definite information that the truck will be delivered then has arrived, Autry said.

Hose for the truck has arrived, however, he added.

Close calls the department has had were the fire in the Manhattan Hotel recently, and the fire in the ceiling of the D&D Auto Supply building earlier this spring, he said.

THE ADVENTURES OF PATSY

Odessa, Brady, Iraan Tops In Track, Field

(By The Associated Press)

Odessa, Brady and Iraan will be solid favorites to win divisional track and field championships this week when the State-Interscholastic League meet is held at Austin.

More than 400 athletes will participate in the big meet which holds preliminaries Friday morning, a scattering of finals in field events Friday afternoon and all other finals Saturday afternoon.

Lamar and Reagan of Houston are chief rivals of Odessa in the class AA division. But for a ruling that allows only one relay team from each region Lamar might beat out Odessa.

In the regional meet Lamar finished second in the 440 - yard relay because of a bad handoff after having the best qualifying time in the prelims — four-tenths of a second under what Baytown won the final in. Lamar did 43.5 in the Texas Relays — the fastest in the state this season.

But Lamar can not compete in the sprint relay because only one team qualifies for the state meet from the region. The relays count more than individual events.

Odessa is strong in both the 440 and mile relays and because of that fact and the presence of Joe Childress, its great dash man, should win the meet by about 15 points.

Brady's strongest competition is due from Pecos and Andrews.

In Class B Iraan appears to have an edge.

Texas Hunting, Fishing Eyed

AUSTIN, April 28. (AP) — Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, took stock today on proposals in the Legislature that will affect Texas hunting and fishing.

He knows that a law simplifying the present hunting license law is sure to go into effect because it already has the governor's signature.

The new law requires only one $2.15 feet for both large and small game hunting.

But the outlook on other wildlife legislation ranges from bright to cloudy.

Dodgen is optimistic about passage of a bill to permit Texas to take its share of the federal tax on fishing equipment. He estimates the funds would exceed $50,000 yearly. They would be used to improve fishing conditions.

"Uncertain" is the way Dodgen describes the possibilities of three other measures.

If passed, they would:

1. Provide on $1.65 license for both fresh and salt water fishing.

2. Give the commission more power in setting seasons.

3. Forbid commercial fishing in bays along the coast.

Wins Women's Golf Tourney

PINEHURST, N. C., April 28. (AP) — Pat O'Sullivan of Orange, Conn., won the North and South Women's Amateur Golf tournament today for the second successive year, defeating Mae Murray of Rutland, Vt., one up in the fine 18 - hole match.

The Connecticut girl raced into a four up lead after five holes and appeared headed for an easy victory. However, Muss Murray, taking advantage of Miss O'Sullivan's erratic play on the back side, drew even on the 11th hole and then went ahead with a par four on the 13th.

Miss O'Sullivan's birdie four on the 14th squared the match and they came to the 18th and last hole still even.

Each hit a good drive and Miss Murray hit a fine second shot to put the ball 25 feet from the pin. Miss Murray's bid for the long putt just missed and Pat sunk hers to win the match.

Smalley Hurt As Cubs Win

CHICAGO, April 28. (AP) — The Chicago Cubs defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 8 to 2, today, but lost the services of Shortstop Roy Smalley for at least four weeks.

Smalley suffered a broken left ankle when he stumbled while sliding into third base in the fifth inning of the game.

Dawson Well To Swab Again

Amerada Petroleum Corp. No. 1 Adcock, Central - North Dawson County wildcat, swabbed dry after perforating casing at 10,605-615 feet.

The swabbing did not develop any new oil. After swabbing, the hole was treated with 500 gallons of acid. It kicked off and flowed out 12 barrels of load oil with no new oil and the flow died.

Operator is now swabbing to recover the remainder of the load oil. The well is then to be swabbed again in an attempt to make it flow.

The No. 1 Adcock developed salt water in the Spraberry, got clean oil in the Mississippian lime and chert, and flowing oil in the Siluro-Devonian.

It is located four miles south of O'Donnell and in section 106, block 34, T-7-N, D&SE survey.

ST. LOUIS, April 28. (AP) —Home runs by Bob Kennedy, Larry Doby and Dale Mitchell —Mitchell's with bases full—gave the Cleveland Indians a 12 to 4 victory over the St. Louis Browns today.

Bob Lemon, behind briefly in the first inning, worked easily until the Browns got to him for three runs in the ninth; but by then Lemon's lead was too great for the St. Louis club to catch.

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

VOL. 1, NO. 300 — SNYDER, TEXAS, SUNDAY MORNING, APRIL 29, 1951 — SECTION TWO

Bruce Denny, shouts "Over" into the transmitter of the two-way radio constantly in service at the Sunray offices. The efficient transmitting system reaches all cars and vehicles away from the home camp at any time.

The Snyder Gasoline Plant is nearing completion, but slow shipment of some equipment will cause delay in the scheduled opening date. The plant will be completed and ready to start production some time in June, E. J. Mills, plant superintendent, said. The $6,800,000 plant will process flare gas from about 900 oil wells into gasoline, butane, propane and other products. (Staff photographs by Joe Dave Scott.)

Mrs. R. C. Waters, who has lived in Snyder more than five years, is a stenographer at the Sunray Oil Corp. office. Sunray Oil Corp. is to operate the Snyder gasoline plant.

Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Ford enjoy this spruce lawn and greenery flanking their new camp home. Mr. Ford is assistant to Mr. Mills in managing the big gasoline plant.

Mrs. H. H. Everett, left, and her dau ghter, Jayne Everett, and her mother, Mrs. Eula Ledbetter, form a three-generation g roup. Janes' Christmas doll completes the family picture posed in their home at the S nyder Gasoline Plant, several miles northwest of Snyder.

Bruce Denny, Sunray engineer, points out vast machinery of the plant, nearing completion, to J. R. Philp, chief clerk, and Bill Bridges, gas measurement engineer at the camp.

Mrs. Larry Hooker, who lives in one of the plant's new houses with her husband who is also a plant employee, reads and tabulates the charts which show the quantity of gas coming to the plant from each well.

Mrs. J. R. Philp, whose husband is also a plant employee, is clerk-secretary to E. J. Mills, plant superintendent. At left is Mrs. J. H. Harris, who lives in Snyder. She is receptionist at the Sunray offices. Mr. and Mrs. Philp moved to Snyder from Benton, La.

Pleasant Life Enjoyed By New Residents At Gasoline Plant

Construction of the Snyder Gasoline Plant is in the final stages, but the plant will not be opened until sometime in June, E. J. Mills, plant superintendent, said.

Slow shipment of some essential materials has caused delays in construction of the plant, he said.

It was originally scheduled to be opened early in May.

However, almost all of the heavy machinery and storage tanks have been installed.

The 138 - mile pipeline which will gather gas from about 900 oil wells in Scurry County is nearing completion. All the bigger pipe has been laid and most of the feeder lines. The whole network will be completed by the time the plant is ready to produce, Mills said.

12 RESIDENCES FILLED

Twelve of the 20 residences at the plant's attractive residential area are occupied, and permanent plant personnel will move into the remaining houses about May 1.

The $6,800,000 plant is considered a great adjunct to Texas' natural gas conservation system. It will process 70 million cubic feet of casinghead gas per day for a total liquid output of 547,000 gallons per day.

The plant, being built by more than 30 corporations, is under the supervision of the Sunray Oil Corporation both in the construction and operation periods.

From the woman's viewpoint, the immaculate white camp homes are blessings. "Due to necessary rapid construction, usual oil camp houses leave a lot to be desired as a real home," said one housewife, showing the reporter through her commodious kitchen area. "The house is so tight we haven't found one bit of dust sifting in around windows and doors, as I have so often seen it do!", added the lady contentedly.

Mrs. E. J. Mills, wife of the superintendent of the camp, has fashioned a comfortable, colorful living room for her family since her arrival late last year. A huge, well-stocked magazine rack reveals her husband and her son, Tommie's interest in reading matter. Thick green rye and Bermuda grass carpet the big front yard.

CARE FOR YARDS

Next door, as at most of the Sunray homes, a sprinkler system was on full force, and thoughtful care of the flourishing lawn was evident. Here live the L. N. Fores. Their small daughter, Mary Jo, goes into Snyder each day for kindergarden.Johnnie, their 20-month-old son takes to the sun outside his pleasant "country home".

Mrs. H. H. Everett's treatment of her Sunray home points up the versatility of the houses She has studded her hardwood floors with colorful hand-woven rugs, a personal hobby. Tapestry covers the backs of her handsome dining room suite. All the colors she has created blend well with her walls, she is grateful to discover.

As one Sunray housewife remarked, "We have never been more pleased with our camp homes, and, as much as we have moved about, that is quite something!"

Lawyer's Wives Meet At Mrs. Dulaney's Home

The lawyers' wives of the town were feted at their dinner meeting last night with an Italian spaghetti course, served by their hostess, Mrs. Gene Dulaney, 3717 Highland Drive.

The hostess had also prepared a green tossed salad and a frozen dessert to accompany the foreign dish, all served informally from her buffet, which was covered with a handmade lace cloth. Co-hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Bob Davie, Mrs. W. W. Park, and Mrs. Garland Armstrong.

After the meal the women played canasta and bridge and were later joined by their husbands, members of the Scurry County Bar Association.

Women present were Mrs. Lawrence W. Dumas, Mrs. Ross Hemphill, Mrs. George Killam, Mrs. Pat Beane, Mrs. Keith Merrick, Mrs. Frank Sentell, Mrs. Keith Merrick, and Mrs. Jack Kennedy.

TALK OF THE TOWN

BY FRANCES BROOKS

All dressed up and rather shaky was ERNEST SNEED, who Friday dropped his calling chores as busy superintendent of Lone Star Producing Co., and drove to Eastland for his only daughter's marriage in a large ceremony in the First Baptist Church there. Mrs. Sneed and the attractive Baylor University bride, Veda Myrl, had gone on earlier for parties and receptions her Eastland friends had showered upon her. A lavish gift tea at the Eastland Woman's Club last week had honored the bride-elect. According to nervous Mr. Sneed, who was to give the bride away, a big reception was to follow the wedding. Among Snyder residents attending were MRS. OLA B. LEATH and her daughter, FRANCES, who chummed with Veda at the Waco college. Veda's husband (since yesterday) is Pfc. Dan Amis and they will live near Sheppard Field, where he is enlisted.

MRS. JOHN KELLER holds abiding faith in Snyder soil, Snyder climate, for luscious roses. Hers climb, bloom, gambol, and radiate at her new address. She sunk them into the ground in early Fall, let them hibernate through our cold blasts of winter air, and now they are healthy and promise a galaxy of color for her grounds.

Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, April 28. (AP) —The romantically minded may get a thrill out of movie love scenes, but all Linda Darnell gets is a yawn.

"It's a bore, really," she declared. "How can there be any thrill when there are 50 people watching you go into the clinch?"

Linda has been pitching movie woo for nearly half of her life and should be expert.

"You can't get a thrill when you're not in love with the person you're playing opposite," she explained. "And I've never been in that condition."

As for script kisses "Nothing!" They are usually negotiated with the actress' lip caked with powder, so the lip goo won't come off on the leading man. "Nothing feels worse than having powder on your lips," Linda remarked. Lately she has been using a new substance that coats the lipstick like a shellac. Romantic? Not in the least.

Linda has gone in for all varieties of film love-making, but lately has been subjected to the more rugged type. She has recently co-starred with Paul Douglas, Richard Widmark and Stephen McNally, who aren't exactly the hand-holding type.

"I like the more gentle kind of romance," she remarked. "I bruise easily." She exhibited some bruises that McNally had inflicted during "The Lady Pays Off," her current film.

Brother And Sister Come Together After 32 Years

Mrs. J. E. Bishop of Denison and E. M. Johnson, her brother of Snyder, were brought together last week for the first time in 32 years. The pair had much to talk about during her short visit here.

When Mrs. J. E. Bishop of Denison came to Snyder to visit her brother, E. M. Johnson, 2511 Avenue Y, it was an occasion well worth remembering for both—their first meeting in 32 years.

Mrs. Bishop is now 68, her brother 72. Both have raised families since they were last together, and there are more stories to be told than there was time for visiting.

The long separation began when Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, who had just been married, moved to West Texas. They wanted to "grow up with the country," he said, and there have been enough changes to make them feel they really have.

KEEP IN TOUCH

Mrs. Bishop lived in Bells, Tex., when Mr. and Mrs. Johnson moved, and kept in touch with them by letter. The Johnson family lived in several parts of West Texas, finally settling in Snyder 20 years ago. Mrs. Bishop moved to Wichita Falls and later, to Denison, where she lives with her sister.

There just wasn't time to make trips during many of those years, Mrs. Bishop said. She had two children to raise, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson had 10. There were other things, too—illness in the family, business to be taken care of, and all the other matters that make the years pass so rapidly, she said.

MOVED TO DENISON

When Mrs. Bishop moved to Denison, she wrote Mr. and Mrs. Johnson again. This time, however, the letter came back unclaimed. That was at the height of the oil boom, and she thought perhaps a new carrier or postal clerk had just been unable to deliver the letter. She wrote again to the old address, and again the letter came back unclaimed.

Finally Mrs. Bishop learned that one of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson's daughters, Mrs. Beatrice Hill, was living in Guthrie, Okla. She contacted Mrs. Hill to learn her parent's address, and was surprised to learn that it was still the same.

She wrote them then, and began planning her visit here—just a few short days to look at the family pictures and discuss all the events of those years they were apart.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dodson, 2008 Avenue M, expect to move from Snyder by May 7, at which time Mr. Dodson will take over management of the Holder Truck Co. in Kermit. The Dodsons, who have lived in Snyder a year, were first associated with the Snyder Hospital, Mr. Dodson later taking over management of Kolar Motors.

Do You Really Want To Take Off That Ugly Fat?

Don't say it's your thyroid when reaching for the box of chocolates. Possibly one bulgy person in 100 has some glandular disturbance and that is truly a case for the physician. Never take any treatment for a gland condition without your doctor's advice. But for the other 99 per cent who are trying to fight the "battle of the bulge," common sense is the watchword. Don't overeat, but don't go hungry, either. Furthermore, it just doesn't make sense to go on a strenuous diet—take off weight and then, quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot continue a starvation diet over a protracted period. Within the last year or so several diet and vitamin "plans" have appeared on the market, which means cut down drastically on the food intake and fortify with vitamins. But as mentioned above, you can't keep this up very long and when you quit—back comes the fat.

An exhaustive survey recently made among Texas druggists showed one outstanding reducing aid is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan". It allows you to eat plenty. You eat all you want, but you eat LESS. Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. It definitely stops you from eating more than necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time it dehydrates and eliminates.

Nearly four million bottles of this preparation, called Barcentrate, have been sold in Texas in the past eight years.

You can get a four ounce bottle of Barcentrate from any Texas druggist. Mix with 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take just two tablespoonsful twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose that ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

25 Years Ago

(Taken from the files of the SCURRY COUNTY TIMES for April 29, 1926).

The big leasing deal that has been pending between Sid Johnson of this city and the Magnolia Petroleum Co. for several weeks was closed this week. Mr. Johnson leased his entire ranch, consisting of 7,443 acres lying about 10 miles northeast of Snyder and in this county, for $2.50 an acre. To be exact, Mr. Johnson received $18,600 from the Magnolia company, and it was one of the largest deals of its kind that has been made so far in Scurry County.

With land being leased by the large oil companies on practically every side of Snyder, it would naturally appear as if Scurry County might, in the course of time, become a big oil field and Snyder the center of activity.

• • •

After the waters of Deep Creek resided following last week's heavy rain, a Jersey cow was left hanging in a tree top on the Albert Johnson place in the Dunn community. Those who saw the cow declared that she was at least twenty-five feet above the ground. Deep Creek in that community was higher than the oldest residents had ever seen it before, and it did considerable damage to some bottom lands, expecially lands that had been plowed preparatory to planting.

O. P. Wolf, owner of Wolf Park at the north limit of this city, will begin in a few days the work of building a dance pavillion over Deep Creek just above the north bridge. He will also build a Pavillion there, 60' x 120 feet. The pavillion will be strictly modern with hardwood floors, stuccoed and will have walls 12 feet high.

It will be Mr. Wolf's intention to make his park a real beauty spot, and the plan now outlined will represent an outlay of something like $7,000.

Two Given Suspended Sentences Before District Judge Thorpe

Two persons, charged with felony offenses, entered pleas of guilty before Judge Ben F. Thorpe, in 132nd District Court Friday afternoon, and were given suspended sentences.

Wayne Fowler, 17, charged as an accomplice in the armed holdup of the Aztec Theatre on March 3, this year, when placed upon the witness stand admitted assisting in holding up of the theatre, and was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary, but the sentence was suspended for five years upon the good behavior of Fowler. The latter told the court that this was his first serious offense and that he had never before been convicted of a felony offense.

Fowler testified that he owned the .32 caliber pistol used in the robbery, but that the gun was used by Charles Everett Hill, 24, of Sulphur Springs. He testified that he, Hill and the latter's wife, Avis Hill, 19, had been drinking throughout the day prior to the robbery.

Mrs. Rea Orms Jordan, cashier of the theatre at the time of the holdup, testified that Fowler came to the box office window and asked for two tickets to the show; that as she turned to give Fowler the tickets, another man, later identified as Hill, poked a gun into her side and said "This is a holdup—give me all your money." Mrs. Jordan told the court that she turned over about $60 or $70 to the robbers.

Fowler, and Mrs. Hill were arrested here, and Hill at Sulphur Springs. The robbery complaints were filed by the police.

Hill and his wife are slated for trial later.

In the other case, R. B. Allen, 24, Negro, admitted forging a $15 check and attempted to cash it at a local bank. He was given a two-year suspended sentence by Judge Thorpe. Lloyd Merritt, sheriff, happened to be in the bank at the time the Negro tried to cash the forged instrument, and placed Allen under arrest after it was revealed by the bank officials that the signature to the check was forged.

Mrs. L. M. Chapman, formerly of El Paso, is a new employee at radio station KSNY. Mrs. Chapman was formerly associated with an El Paso station.

The first time a horse trotted in public for a stake was in 1818. That was a match against time for $1,000.
