AT LEAST 12 KILLED

Sleeping Volcano Wakes

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — The U.S. Army rushed helicopters and other aid to Costa Rica today after a volcano silent for five centuries erupted and killed at least 12 persons, injured hundreds and threatened a number of villages.

The government ordered the evacuation of some 4,000 persons from the villages of Pueblo Nuevo and Tabacon after nearby Mt. Arenal began erupting Monday.

A state of emergency was declared by the legislative assembly. It authorized emergency expenditures to help those affected.

Many of those driven from their homes were badly burned. Heavy rains hampered rescue operations. Refugees were taken to churches, schools and private homes outside the danger zone.

Huge quantities of lava and rock spewed from the volcano's cone, and eight inches of volcanic ash covered the central part of the rich ranching region 45 miles northwest of San Jose.

Grazing land, rice and cotton crops were ruined.

The volcano, which is 5,249 feet high, continued to throw out burning stones and lava through the night. The ashes, rock and lava dammed rivers and brooks in the area, and many of these overflowed, adding to the damage.

Bazooka And Bayonets Halt Mexican Disorder

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A bazooka shell blast and a bayonet charge by steel-helmeted police and paratroopers routed hundreds of young demonstrators early today from the National University's No. 1 preparatory school, where they had held out against tear gas in Mexico City's worst student disorders in 20 years.

The bazooka shell tore through the wooden doors of the school to open the way for quelling the students, who had been rioting for more than five hours after demonstrations over the weekend. Army tanks backed up the government forces.

The disorders by dawn had left at least one student dead and nearly 400 injured—100 seriously police said. It was estimated 300 were arrested.

The stern counteraction could backfire, opening the way for wider participation by giving students a cause to which almost all might rally: violation of the university's traditional right to autonomy.

The majority of the city's students have so far not joined the outbreak, some voicing concern for the image such actions would give the world just three months before it is invited to attend the Olympic Games of 1968, a year Mexico has termed "The Year of Peace."

Until the bazooka was fired, isolated groups of students from the eight main preparatory schools of the university had been rallying to little more than a charge of police brutality. This developed from police action in putting down fighting which broke out Friday night during a demonstration to celebrate the 15th anniversary of Fidel Castro's Cuban revolutionary movement, an abortive attack at Santiago de Cuba in 1963.

Police blamed that demonstration on Communist agitators. They said they arrested 76. They later singled out 16 of these, among them U.S. folksinger Pete Seeger's daughter Mika, 20, as the hard core of agitators.

Intervention of the armed forces indicates the seriousness with which it was viewed by the Mexican government. The National University, and its dependent preparatory schools, are considered to be autonomous and free from government intervention.

Paratroopers Move In

Mexican paratrooper slams rifle butt onto hand of student demonstrator last night in Mexico City. Thousands of young Mexicans battled riot troops in the capital's worst disturbance in years. Hundreds were injured as the students demanded removal of the chief of police and riot troop commander. Students charged the two officials with brutality toward pro-Castro demonstrators last weekend.

UNANIMOUS

Burleson Wins Seat On Ways, Means Panel

Rep. Omar Burleson of the 17th congressional district of Texas formally was named to the powerful House Ways and Means Committee at a caucus of House Democrats in Washington this morning.

Burleson, who once before lost in a bid for this committee spot, was the only candidate today and his election was unanimous.

Burleson's name was placed in nomination by Rep. Wright Patman, dean of the Texas delegation in the House, and was seconded by Rep. Thomas Morgan of Pennsylvania and Rep. B. F. Sisk of California.

Friendly Meeting

"It was a very amicable meeting, and everybody was friendly," Burleson told The Herald this morning.

He immediately wrote letters of resignation as a member of other House committees (required, since Ways and Means puts such demands on its members) and planned to attend the first meeting of Ways and Means at 2 p.m. today.

Burleson, a veteran of 22 years in the House, has been chairman of the House Administration Committee, and was on the Joint Committee on Printing and the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Burleson particularly had sought the Ways and Means post because he wanted Texas to have a Democratic representative there. The state for years was so represented, but has not been in recent years. George Bush of Houston is a Republican member.

Plans Visit Here

The congressman, incidentally, plans to return to his district for visits during the congressional recess for party conventions, and plans to be in Big Spring on Aug. 13. He is scheduled to address the Rotary Club, and club guests at noon that day.

Reds Launch 234th

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union announced it launched today another unmanned space satellite, the 234th in its Cosmos series.

Orbital information indicated it was the type used in space docking experiments and other tests preparatory to a manned flight.

Accident Ruled

STANTON — Accidental death was ruled by Justice of the Peace Martin Gibson in the case of Eugene Holloway, 19, who was fatally wounded by a gunshot here Sunday noon.

The justice said that investigation showed young Holloway was holding the .22 caliber pistol as he sat in a car talking to his girl friend Kathy Therwanger, 18, also of Stanton.

The youth was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital.

Services for Holloway were held at 2 p.m. today and burial was in Trinity Memorial Park in Big Spring. Gilbreath Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

He is survived by his parents, one sister, and his grandparents. He was a lifetime resident of this community and had graduated recently from the Stanton High School.

GOP Platform Leaves War Plank Open For Campaign

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Chances for a dramatic Republican platform proposal to end the Vietnam war dimmed today as former President Dwight D. Eisenhower opposed any "camouflaged surrender."

Eisenhower's special message to the platform committee accompanied the testimony of a nonpartisan committee, of which he is a member, ruling out both pullout and massive escalation of the fighting.

STRENGTHENED

It strengthened the sentiment apparently already held by a majority of the committee for a broadly worded statement that would leave the party's presidential candidate free to develop his position during the campaign. Such a plank fits the mood of supporters of Richard M. Nixon, who are saying their man will be nominated on the first or second ballot.

But even some sympathizers of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller agreed that the plank on the overriding international issue cannot be too specific.

Eisenhower urged the campaign document writers to "make it clear to Hanoi that we do not seek nor will we accept a camouflaged surrender which would inevitably result in the United States writing off Southeast Asia for the foreseeable future."

Eisenhower's appeal—addressed to both parties—was taken to the Republican platform hearings by representatives of the Citzens Committee for Peace with Freedom in Vietnam.

Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, a Rockefeller supporter on the platform committee, told a reporter he expects the Eisenhower statement to have considerable weight in the drafting.

Sen. John G. Tower of Texas, a Nixon stalwart serving on the committee, said a majority of the group is "Nixon-disposed." He added: "It is logical to expect that the platform will reflect that sentiment."

Nixon has not spelled out his proposals for handling the Vietnam problem, but he may have more to say later in the week by way of statements in his behalf to the platform committee.

Rockefeller has proposed a four-stage peace plan featuring use of an international military force as a buffer. One of his adherents on the platform committee, Rep. Silvio Conte of Massachusetts, said he would like to see a platform plank along these lines.

Eisenhower's statement accompanied a more detailed message from the Citizens Committee, which made four principal points:

1. "The Citizens Committee is unswervingly opposed to unilateral withdrawal of American forces."

OPPOSED

2. "The Committee is opposed to any further concessions by the United States in de-escalating the conflict without reciprocal concessions from the other side."

3. "We believe that under no circumstances should the United States exert pressure on South Vietnam to accept a coalition government."

4. "We are opposed to sharply escalating our military effort in search of a quick victory."

Nixon Strength Slipping, Losses Higher Than Gains

WASHINGTON (AP) — One week from the opening of the Republican national convention, Richard M. Nixon slipped slightly Monday in terms of delegates who are committed or have stated a first ballot choice, but he made up much of what he dropped one place by registering gains elsewhere.

The former vice president's principal losses, in an Associated Press tabulation of first ballot votes based on primary results, pledges and replies in an AP poll, were a dozen in North Carolina and five in Washington state.

New head counts in other delegations, however, left him at 542, down a net of six since last week and well ahead of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller who gained six and had 202. Nomination requires 667.

The Democrats finished over the weekend the allotment of their convention votes and Vice President Hubert H. Hunphrey at 792½ moved farther in front of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy who had 423½.

Setbacks In Two Ground Battles Reported By U.S.

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. forces suffered setbacks in two ground battles reported today in which 24 Americans were killed and only five enemy bodies were found. In the air a U.S. Navy pilot downed an enemy MIG17 jet fighter in a five-minute dogfight over North Vietnam.

SETBACKS

One of the setbacks was dealt U.S. Marines from the 7th Regiments in a day-long battle about 25 miles south of Da Nang, one of several areas in which enemy troops have been reported massing, presumably for the countrywide Communist offensive expected in the next two months.

About 200 North Vietnamese troops cut into the Marines with heavy machine-gun fire in what appeared to be an ambush. When the North Vietnamese finally pulled back under heavy air and artillery attack 20 Marines were dead and another 40 were wounded.

In what appeared to be another ambush Monday, North Vietnamese troops hiding in a wooded area opened up with heavy machine guns, small arms and mortars on U.S. air cavalrymen probing enemy base camps deep in the mountains 35 miles northwest of Hue.

The fighting at times was at grenade range. Helicopter gunships swooped in to help drive off the enemy.

North Vietnam meanwhile sent some of its MIG air force south of the 19th parallel Monday to challenge raiding American warplanes.

Four F8 Crusaders from the carrier Bon Homme Richard, flying protective cover for attack planes, engaged four MIGs 18 miles north of Vinh. It was the largest group of MIGs reported below the 19th parallel in three weeks.

5 MINUTES

The dogfight lasted for five minutes as the Crusaders, which can fly at more than 1,000 miles an hour, fired missiles and bursts from their 20mm cannon. The U.S. Command said Lt. Cdr. Guy Cane of New York City blasted a MIG17, a model of Korean War vintage, from the skies.

Police Officers Hurt In Racial Violence

By The Associated Press

Policemen were wounded in racial violence in Peoria, Ill., and Seattle, Wash., during the night and police at Gary, Ind., silenced snipers with return gunfire and arrested 64 persons.

Six policemen were shot and wounded in downtown Peoria after an outbreak of rock-and brick-throwing turned into gunfire. None was believed in serious condition.

ROCKS, BRICKS

Police said the trouble began when Negro youths started throwing rocks and bricks at vehicles stopping for a traffic signal near a housing project.

The shooting broke out shortly after an officer and representative of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People went to the city jail to check on the welfare of a Negro girl arrested earlier at the scene of the rock-throwing.

Police said the shooting appeared to come from a nearby housing project.

In Seattle, a sniper fired through the roof of a police car, wounding two policemen, and firebombing and rock-throwing swept the city's predominantly Negro central area.

Three other officers were injured and three civilians were wounded by gunfire. Police said they did not return the fire.

The violence came after the arrest of two members of the militant Black Panther party. They were charged with suspicion of larceny at a rally at which a Panther leader told 150 Negroes, "If you have a gun and don't plan to use it, give it to someone who will."

Police at Gary silenced snipers with return gunfire, but no one was injured in the third straight night of disorder.

The disorders were on the perimeter of the central district. Sniper fire shattered the windshield of a police car less than an hour after Mayor Richard G. Hatcher re-imposed a 9 p.m. curfew.

In Muncie, Ind., gasoline bombs were hurled at five businesses in the city's predominantly Negro East Side. Little damage was reported and police said there was no looting.

In Shreveport, La., the president of the Fraternal Order of Police, John Herrington of Philadelphia, Pa., called for a national two-day police walkout.

He said the walkout would be in protest of what policemen consider a lack of support in dealing with racial violence.

"When police are being shot like fish in a barrel, it's time we do something," Herrington declared.

He said a conference to consider such a walkout will be held in September, although no date or place has been determined.

PICKUP OF VICTIM
Wreck claimed Cosden man

J. F. Brooks Dies Of Wreck Injuries

A traffic mishap involving three pickup trucks cost the life of a pioneer Cosden employe at 2:55 p.m. Monday.

Dead is Jessie Fay Brooks, 51, Coahoma, who had worked at the refinery 26 years, was foreman of the laboratory. He died in a local hospital at 8:28 p.m.

Bill Robinson, highway patrolman who investigated the mishap, said that Brooks was the driver of one of three pickups involved in the crash, which occurred near Sand Springs on IS 20.

TOWING TRUCK

Robinson said that Leonard H. Long, 61, Westbrook, was driving a 1966 model pickup and towing a 1968 truck, travelling west in the right hand lane of the highway.

Brooks, in the 1968 model pickup, was going west in the same lane. His truck rammed into the rear of the pickup being towed by the Westbrook man. All three vehicles were damaged, but that of Brooks was the most seriously wrecked.

Robinson said that Brooks complained of chest pains when he was removed from the pickup and he was taken to the Hall - Bennett Memorial Hospital. Long was not injured.

Mr. Brooks' death was the fifth rural road fatality of the current year.

Services will be at 3 p.m. Wednesday at the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel, with the Rev. Darrell Robinson, Amarillo, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Mac Robinson, Forsan Baptist Church. Burial will be in the Salem Cemetery.

Pallbearers are to be Knox Chadd, Jimmy Taylor, J. W. Broughton, Jack Cauble, Jack Smith, Wendell Shive, T. A. Harris, Charles Wolf, J. L. Baugh and Ray Echols.

Mr. Brooks was born Aug. 9, 1916 in Potosi, Tex. He was married to Miss Stella Walker, Sept. 9, 1939, in Howard County.

WITH COSDEN

He began work with Cosden in 1942, and also operated a farm near Coahoma. He was a long-time member of the First Baptist Church of Coahoma and was a deacon.

Friday would have been his 26th anniversary with Cosden. It was also slated to be the wedding night of his daughter, Diane.

He is survived by his wife; two sons, Rodney and Marty Brooks, both of Coahoma; three daughters, Diane and Iva Jo Brooks, both of Coahoma, and Mrs. Judy Anderson, Big Spring; four brothers, Stephen Brooks, Arlington, Va., Donald Brooks, Big Spring, Wayne and Reid Brooks, both of Pampa; four sisters, Mrs. Seldon Snow, Winslow, Ariz., Mrs. A. L. Fuller, Towell, Wyo., Mrs. Walter Blackburn, Abilene, and Mrs. Gussie Plummer, Odessa.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Herb's Feed Service of Braymer, Mo., was fined $10 for carrying an 870-pound overload on a truck.

The small fine was levied Monday by Magistrate Margaret Young, she said, after the owner explained that part of the weight included in the overload was a 325-pound friend who had asked for a ride.

MRS. LOUIE D. GAMMEL

Wedding Held In O'Donnell

Miss Wanda Lee Lawhon and Louie Derwood Gammel were married Saturday evening in the First Baptist Church of O'Donnell with the Rev. Calvin Partain officiating for the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Lawhon of O'Donnell, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Odis Gammel of Montrose, Ark. The bridegroom is stationed with the Air Force at Webb Air Force Base.

Miss Lawhon graduated from O'Donnell High School, and Gammel is a graduate of Portland High School.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal white silk taffeta gown with Empire bodice of peau de ange lace, the sleeves forming petal points over the hands. The neckline and bodice front were trimmed with sequins and pearls, while a small flat bow marked the Empire line. The A-line skirt featured a wide band of French scalloped lace which was repeated on the border of the chapel train. Her full-length veil of silk illusion fell from a forward crown of petals and lace, and her bridal bouquet was a cascade of lily of the valley, centered with a white orchid. The bouquet was carried atop a white Bible.

ATTENDANTS

The altar was graced with baskets of white gladioli flanking candelabra arranged with net, white satin bows and ivy. At the center was a kneeling bench, and church windows were accented with blue camellias, white candles and satin bows.

Miss Linda Vestal sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "Always," accompanied by Mrs. Carr Spraberry, organist.

The feminine attendants wore identical gowns of blue voille designed with scooped necklines and Empire waists marked with tiny bows. Blue bows, briefly veiled, formed their headpieces, and each carried a long-stemmed white rose. A similar gown was worn by Janet Mires, who was assisted by Troy Mires in lighting the altar candles.

RECEPTION

The reception was held in the fellowship hall where Beth Franklin registered guests. Others assisting were Joylene Anderson, Susan Tunnell, Beverly Hall and Mrs. Cleon Eason.

Utensils Stay Cool In Electron Ovens

A housewife will soon be able to roast a three pound chicken in 30 minutes, bake a cake in four, and fry bacon strips in 50 seconds, thanks to a newly developed electron tube, being offered to oven manufacturers.

The new microwave tube makes use of the same electronic principles utilized in military applications.

The speed of cooking by this method retains natural juices and enhances food flavor.

The same dishes may be used for both cooking and serving. In fact, paper plates can be placed in the oven.

Only the food gets hot; the oven and utensils remain cool.

A LOVELIER YOU

Diversified Fashions Suit Every Woman

By MARY SUE MILLER

Delicate voile dresses, midi and ruffled, are in this summer's fashion mood. But then so is a sturdy linen mini, cut on the straight and narrow. It seems that anything goes.

Fashion has never been as diversified. Nor has there been a like freedom of choice. Why, you can get real confused selecting clothes, not to mention pulling them together once you've got them. For instance:

Will you go for the soft, romance fashions and a mass of curls, or for contemporary lines and colors and a freeform haircut? No fashion law states that you cannot adopt both looks or any of the many going.

It would be an untruth to say that a single look is the look. More than ever, dressing is an individual matter. Becomingness, more than ever, marks individuality.

Your clothes must look as though they belong to you — express your personality. This goes for everything you wear: your fun, work, street and date clothes. Even Miss Teen's fun-fad clothes. It is no good unless it's your thing.

Carrying a fashion idea too far and beating it to death is no good, either. As witness a pretty with long earrings tangling with her long hair and runners in her black pantie hose. A person who looks like a fashion paragon is out, too. She who can't handle fashion is never in.

M. A. Raineys Mark Wedding Anniversary

Our years together have been sweet — yet marked with some sadness, reflected Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Rainey, 1604 Donley, as they quietly observed their 68th wedding anniversary Monday.

"I recall that it was between 9 and 10 o'clock in the morning that we were married," said Mrs. Rainey. The ceremony was held in the home of her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Minchew of Murchison. Mrs. Rainey was the former Miss Emma Minchew.

Their courtship lasted from January to July, and they were married on the fifth Sunday of the month, July 29, 1900.

The evening of their marriage, they moved to Corsicana, where Mr. Rainey was employed in a bakery. At Christmastime of that same year, the couple moved back to Murchison where they remained for twelve years.

It was in 1923 that the Raineys moved to Coahoma, and in 1935, they moved to their present home in Big Spring. Mr. Rainey worked for the Big Spring Public School system for 13 years.

Mrs. Rainey has devoted her life to being a mother, homemaker and wife. The Raineys are the parents of six children. Two of their daughters are deceased, and their remaining children are Mrs. Stella Hull, Bakersfield, Calif.; Ernest Rainey, Elmer Rainey and Emrie Rainey, all of Big Spring.

They have 13 grandchildren, 30 great-grandchildren and one great-great grandchild. They are longtime members of the East Fourth Baptist Church.

Record Social Security Benefits Paid Out Here

A record $253,353 was paid out in Social Security cash benefits to 3,344 residents of Howard County in February, (latest month for which figures are available) according to Erven Fisher, Big Spring Social Security District Manager, an increase of $39,595 over the amount paid out for December, 1966.

"February, 1968 was the first month in which increased benefit rates provided by the 1967 Amendments to the Social Security Act were payable," Fisher noted.

Nationally, the amount of monthly benefits exceeds $2 billion, an increase of more than $360 million above the December, 1966 figure. More than 24 million men, women, and children, or nearly one out of every eight Americans, are now receiving some type of monthly benefit.

About 18.4 million of those receiving benefits at the end of February were 62 or older. An additional 2.2 million were disabled workers under 62 and their young dependents.

About 3.4 million Social Security beneficiaries were young widowed mothers and their children, the district manager said, noting that a total of about $19 billion has been paid to orphaned children and their mothers since January, 1940, when monthly survivors benefits first became payable.

In the past six years alone, benefit payments to this "younger group" have amounted to 1¼ times as much as the amount paid out in this category during the preceding 21 years.

Many younger people also receive benefits due to disability. More than $2.2 million is being paid each month to disabled workers and their dependents — a rate that is 10 per cent higher than that of December, 1966.

"Most of the changes in the 1967 Social Security amendments provided more protection for younger people," Fisher noted. For instance, some 175,000 children are now eligible for benefits based upon the earnings of a mother who had died retirement benefits. Previously, women needed to have worked for at least one and a half of the last three years. However, that requirement has been removed. Payments can now be made to the children of a woman worker who has died, become disabled, or retired if she has enough work credits — earned at any time — to be "fully insured."

Another change made 100,000 younger persons — disabled workers and their dependents — eligible for benefits. The amount of Social Security work credits required for the payment of benefits to workers who become totally disabled before they reach 31 years of age has been reduced substantially — for those below 24 years of age, to as little as a year and a half of coverage.

Some 65,000 widows, unable to work because of severe disability, were able to get monthly benefits as early as age 50. Dependent disabled widowers also became eligible for payments, and in some cases, so did divorced wives of deceased workers.

Dear Abby

Brotherly Kindness

DEAR ABBY: I am 11 years old and my brother is eight. Our mother and father are split up, and Dad is married to another lady now. Mom is going to marry another man in September. Her new husband has a boy who is nine years old. After Mom marries this man his kid is going to live with us and be our "brother" because his own Mom is dead. He don't know how to hold a fork, he walks like a girl and talks like a baby and we don't like him at all. What should we do? TWO BOYS

DEAR BOYS: You and your brother should be extra nice to this motherless nine-year-old boy. Maybe he is a slow-learner, but he has feelings. Be patient with him, and try to teach him. People who are the "hardest" to love, usually need love the most.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are planning to go to his hometown next month to attend his sister's wedding. We would stay with his parents, which is the problem.

His mother is a thrice-committed paranoid schizophrenic, and sudden violent outbursts are symptomatic of her condition.

My husband and I can look after ourselves, but should we take our six-month-old baby?

I have seen my mother-in-law turn on innocent people with every-thing from golf clubs to knives. She has been normal for over a year (with constant medication) but that doesn't mean she might not have another outburst.

We could leave our baby at home with my mother, but I hate to deprive my mother-in-law of her grandmotherly pleasures. But if she asked to bathe the baby, for example, I would climb the walls.

Maybe I am a natural worry wart, but I can't help it. I've lost sleep worrying about this problem ever since the wedding date was set two weeks ago.

Please tell me what to do. My husband agrees to go along with your advice. WORRY WART

DEAR W.W.: Under the circumstances, as long as you can't take your baby with a free and untroubled mind, you'd be better off to leave it at home with your mother.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Every now and then, some troubled Mom writes to complain that Pop has been showing signs of creeping senility. (He smiles at lovely young things, and imagines himself to be a swinger.)

"What," asks the anguished wife, "can I do to bring the old fool to his senses?"

The columnist, (usually a female with more mileage than she cares to admit) takes Mom's part and proceeds to explain that "when a man gets past middle-age he is apt to develop strange symptoms, often stemming from the knowledge that youth is no longer with him."

This inaccuracy has been repeated so often that many people actually believe it.

If we lay aside the psychological gibberish and check the facts, we will see that the old man is acting as he always has, though in some cases, his wife is not.

I am past 60, and am as ready to look at a pretty face as is my 20-year-old grandson. I don't perform in any role with the zest and vigor I once possessed, but my instincts are the same.

If Mom has lost pace in an effort to maintain a youthful state of mind, she might try accepting this fact, instead of trying to transfer her problem to Pop. Up to now, someone has been prescribing the right treatment for the wrong patient. A LATIN FROM MANHATTAN BEACH

Sen. Fulbright Faces Big Test In Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, seeking renomination in today's Democratic primary election, said his oppostiion to the Vietnam war is aimed at "stopping the killing of our men and to bring them home to their families where they belong."

In a statewide television appeal for votes Monday night, the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee also said the war has cost billions of dollars that could have been used to solve domestic problems.

Jim Johnson, Fulbright's most serious challenger, and his two other opponents all have criticized Fulbright's opposition to the war.

An estimated 480,000 Arkansans are expected to vote in the primaries including 30,000 in the Republican primary where Winthrop Rockefeller, the state's first GOP governor since Reconstruction, is heavily favored to defeat Sidney C. Roberts, an unemployed salesman from Little Rock.

The polls open at 9 a.m. EDT and close at 8:30 p.m.

One of the six candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination is Jim Johnson's wife Virginia, the first woman to seek the state's highest office.

Others in the race are former state Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennette of El Dorado, attorney Ted Boswell of Bryant, state Rep. Marion Crank of Foreman, former state Sen. Clyde Byrd of Little Rock and insurance executive Frank Whitbeck of Little Rock.

Eight men, including Henry D. Akins of Wynne, a Negro high school principal, are seeking the Democratic nomination in the 1st Congressional District. Rep. E. C. "Took" Gathings is retiring from the post after 30 years in Congress.

Charles Bernard of Earle, a farmer, is unopposed for the GOP Senate nomination.

Sparkman Says Fat Cut From Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has been told there's no fat left to trim from President Johnson's foreign - aid request now more than $1 billion under what he asked and the lowest in the program's 21-year history.

Acting Chairman John Sparkman, D-Ala., of the Foreign Relations Committee said the $1.94-billion level set by the committee "represents the absolute minimum necessary if we are to sustain our over-all foreign policy."

TIMETABLE

Johnson's original request for $2.96 billion was slashed repeatedly in its progress through the House Foreign Affairs Committee, the House and the Senate foreign relations committees.

The aid bill was called up in the Senate Monday night, with developments limited to Sparkman's opening statement.

The Senate timetable calls for completing action on the authorization measure by Friday, when Congress will adjourn for the national political conventions.

Reviewing decreases made up to this point, Sparkman said "the simple fact is that there is just no fat left for us to trim from the foreign assistance bill."

DOLLAR DRAIN

"We have in every case made the maximum cuts possible without jeopardizing the whole program and our entire foreign policy," he said.

In an apparent effort to anticipate objections to the measure, Sparkman said one critic had estimated that U.S. foreign aid since World War II totaled $170 billion He termed that a mythical total.

The actual figure is about $40.5 billion, Sparkman said.

He also underlined a requirement that at least 90 per cent of commodities financed by the aid program be purchased in this country. This was an apparent attempt to rebut criticism that foreign aid contributes to the dollar drain.

Better Go Slow On This

There was an attempt in 1967 regular session of the Texas Legislature to make cities, as municipal incorporations, subject to civil suits for negligence damage (torts) in governmental operations, as they now are in what are called proprietary functions. As an interim study of the issue is now going on, the question will surely face the next regular session in 1969.

Cities' liability for personal or property damage wrought by wrongful acts in proprietary activities is well established in Texas law. Proprietary functions are such things as operating transit systems, providing public utilities (gas, water, electricity), and other activities not intrinsically governmental.

However, except in some instances of inexcusable negligence, Texas cities are not so liable in performing purely governmental duties. That includes fighting fires, policing crime and building and maintaining public facilities. And to make them broadly liable for torts in governmental functions would open up a Pandora's box of legal and financial problems.

A good example of the issue was a recent Houston case. A 14¼-inch, three-day rain overloaded a city culvert to flood a 27-acre area where several hundreds of private cars were stored. The Texas Supreme Court held narrowly that municipal negligence was not established as matter of law as the "invasion of water" was unintentional.

But what if the Legislature broadened the city torts liability? What if property damage resulted from poor drainage caused by voters' refusal to vote storm-sewer bonds? A city budget could be wrecked if it were vulnerable to such civil actions. The possibilities of civil suits in firefighting and police work and the like pose disturbing prospects of financial grabs and harassment of city agencies.

The interim study on this question should be thorough and throughtful, and the Legislature should move most cautiously in this field. Citizens and property should be protected, but the interest of taxpayers should be kept strongly in mind.

Action Now Desirable

It seems unlikely that the Senate will fail to ratify the treaty curbing the spread of nuclear weapons, a hard-won agreement with the Soviet Union which is an important step toward eventual worldwide nuclear arms limitation and control. Yet there is a possibility, given the current drive for adjournment before the GOP national convention Aug. 5, that approval will not be reached at this session.

Such an outcome would be most unfortunate, giving currency to the idea — a false and mischievous idea — that the United States government is not truly interested in moving toward effective arms control. The non-proliferation agreement is of the greatest significance, despite the abstention of France and the fact that Communist China is not included in the pact. Delay would be unwise and could be tragic.

President Johnson's message urging swift Senate consent to ratification of the treaty contains some vital home truths. The alternative to a curb on the spread of nuclear weapons capability is suggested in this passage: "By 1985 the world's peaceful nuclear power stations will probably be turning out enough by-product plutonium for the production of tons of nuclear bombs every day."

Without firm international agreement, this is undoubtedly what would happen: Countries not now producing nuclear weapons would begin to turn plutonium from power reactors into the means of mass destruction. As the President noted, under these circumstances "energy designed to light the world would plunge it into darkness." That must not happen. The Senate can play a part in seeing that it does not happen by promptly ratifying the treaty. The matter has been fully discussed pro and con over the past several years. The pros clearly have it. There is not valid reason for delay.

Exciting Television In Moscow

You would think that being in Moscow during the Soviet-Czech crisis I would be very informed about what was going on. But the truth of the matter is I didn't even know there was a Soviet-Czech crisis until I left the country. I blame the Soviet television network for this.

For some reason, which I'll never understand, Soviet TV just isn't doing the job when it comes to informing the public. I know this because I had a television set in my room at the hotel, and I watched it constantly to see if the Soviets were doing any better with their electronics media than we were doing with ours.

IT WOULD BE unfair to say Soviet television is better than American television — it's just different.

The first time I turned on the set I hit it lucky. There was an exciting film on, showing how trucks were assembled in a Soviet factory. Not only did the program feature the trucks being put together by loyal and patriotic workers, but it showed them being greased and tested as well.

This program was followed by a visit to a Soviet stone quarry. For two hours I sat glued to the set watching giant machines tear into a mountain and chew up stones until they were turned into gravel.

DURING A LULL in the program I decided to change channels (Moscow is supposed to have four), and lo and behold, there was a panel show with a moderator who looked just like David Susskind. Seated around the table were a welder, a dam builder, a woman lumberjack and the minister of canal barges.

My Russian wasn't good enough to understand what they were saying, but, as in America, the fellow who looked like David Susskind was doing all the talking.

I SWITCHED to a third channel and got a beautiful test pattern. The fourth channel didn't seem to be working, so I went back to the first channel where the stone quarry program had just ended. It was followed by a visit to a pipeline workers' congress being held in Byelorussia.

By this time my wife wanted to go sightseeing, but I was so grabbed by the speeches I told her to wait. She could see the Kremlin any time, but how often could she see a pipeline workers' congress on television?

TWO HOURS later I watched steel being made in a large foundry outside Moscow, and this program was followed by an interview with a professor of Siberian tree transplants. I turned the channel and the panel was still in session, with the fellow who looked like David Susskind still doing the talking.

My wife kept insisting we leave the room but I decided to have one more go at the third channel, and I'm glad I did.

INSTEAD OF featuring a test pattern the third channel was now showing a feature film on sheep-shearing in Mongolia. Even in black and white it was the highlight of Soviet TV that week.

By this time my wife was getting pretty angry so I reluctantly turned off the set and went out sightseeing with her. When we got back to the room eight hours later I immediately turned on the set. Two of the three channels were showing test patterns, but the David Susskind-type panel was still going on, and the guy who looked like Susskind was still doing the talking.

Billy Graham

Will you please explain what Christ meant when He said that He was the Son of man? H.B.

In view of the fact that we find this phrase used over 80 times in the Gospel records, it must be of unusual significance. There were probably many reasons why Christ so designated Himself. He was truly God but He was also truly man, and He came to identify Himself with mankind and their needs. Also, while it was true that He was the promised Son of David, He wished to make it abundantly clear that He had come to save men of every nation and race. In using the name, "Son of Man," he thereby declared the universality of His offer of salvation—that He came to redeem all who will accept Him as Savior. It is impossible for the finite mind to grasp all the implications of the incarnation—God coming into the world in human form—but it is a glorious fact and in this act of God's love and mercy salvation is free to all who will accept it.

'I'M OVER HERE IN RUSSIA, MINDING MY OWN BUSINESS'

Jack Lefler

Extend Helping Hand To Negroes

NEW YORK (AP) — A group devoted to helping Negroes move upward into management and executive jobs has been formed by Negroes who won top jobs in the retail industry.

"Twenty years ago it was considered beneath the Negro in a responsible position to extend a helping hand to those less fortunate," Walter W. Branford said. "This is no longer true."

BRANFORD is a Negro in a responsible position who not only decided to extend his own hand but to get others to extend theirs as well.

"It's what's happening today," the tall, 40-year-old founder and chairman of the National Negro Retail Advisory Group said with an easy smile.

A marine engineer who moved into business after deciding "engineering wasn't my stick," Branford is assistant public relations director for W.T. Grant Co., a junior department store chain with about 1,100 outlets across the nation.

Branford said he decided to form the advisory group after "it became obvious to me that there was a need for a line of communication between the black community and the retail industry, and the best way to do this was to utilize those people involved in both — Negroes in retailing."

HE SAID "there were three people at our first meeting last November. Now there are about 75. They are all Negroes and they all are in responsible jobs in retailing."

The group has several major goals. These include "getting the retail industry to open jobs for qualified Negroes and other minorities on the management and executive levels initially and then working down to the middle supervisory and basic sales jobs. Finding job openings and finding the people to fill them. Interesting young people in jobs in retailing. Counseling retailors on how to develop communications with the black community in which they have a vested interest. And, working with the hard-core unemployed programs to bring about an increase in the upgrading of hard-core people."

BRANFORD SAID the group used word of mouth, lectures, and brochures to deliver its message.

He said the group wanted to "develop a positive image of the retail industry among Negroes. We ask them to take a look at this man because we want to see that he gets a chance to move.

"We make no attempt to intimidate. An enlightened management, if made aware of the situation, will do something about it. If nothing happens, then we try to bring our person to the attention of someone who will recognize his abilities.

"What it boils down to is this: The American black man wants the same things the American white man wants."

Tennis Anyone? Not This Newshen

NEW YORK (AP) — I'm all up in the air about a new physical fitness system called aerobics.

It's an exercise program developed by Dr. Kenneth H. Cooper, major in the U.S. Air Force, whereby certain activities are worth varying numbers of points. To keep in top condition all you have to do is acquire 30 points a week.

I'VE BEEN keeping track of my track record, and it turns out I'm not only bursting with physical fitness but at the end of every week Dr. Cooper owes me at least 15 points.

He offers five points for such feats as running a mile in less than eight minutes; swimming 24 laps in under 15 minutes; cycling five miles in less than 20 minutes, and playing handball for 35 minutes.

Even 18 holes of golf is a three-point pastime and three sets of tennis bring in 4½ points.

BUT NOWHERE in his book can I find an evaluation of my daily calisthenics program, so I'll just have to set up my own scorecard.

For instance, there's the exercise of getting through revolving doors. With someone in front and someone behind both doing their fair share of pushing it's still worth at least one point. If some lazy opportunist gets through on my push it's only fair to award me two points.

BUT I'LL be perfectly honest about the whole thing—if I can manage to make it through on somebody else's burst of energy I won't charge the doctor at all.

Then there's the matter of catching a bus. If just plain walking is a point-producer in the good major's ground rules, surely running for the commuter special should put a tidy three points in the bank.

Stationary running for only 12½ minutes is a five-point item under the aerobics plan. I run all day long and never get anywhere, so I should earn unlimited rewards in that category.

I DON'T GO in much for rope-skipping, roller-skating or squash playing, but I do maneuver a grocery cart through Saturday store traffic. Counting doing the broad jump over small children lying on the floor opening cereal boxes, that excursion should put me well over my week's quota.

Tennis, anyone? Not me.

Stroke Victim Gains And Loses

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

(This is the first in a series of three.)

Dear Dr. Molner: A year ago my husband suffered a stroke which left his right side paralyzed to such an extent that he was unable to walk or use his right hand at all for several weeks.

He can now walk with some difficulty and uses his hands some. He is real good at times, then seems to go into spells when he can hardly get around, and has spells of nervousness and deep depression.

He has seen several doctors who give him medication, but it doesn't help too much, and none of them has explained his condition to him or me satisfactorily.

Please give me some information about strokes and how to try to overcome them. I know there are some exercises and treatment to help him. — Mrs. L.B.S.

Let's start with an explanation of exactly what a stroke is. It is a disruption of blood flow in some part of the brain. It may be a blockage in one of the blood vessels or it may be the rupture, large or small, of a vessel.

Either way the brain tissue is damaged. It may be minor, as a "little stroke," or may be major and cause damage that is beyond our ability, or the body's, to repair.

In general, when a stroke is severe enough to be recognized as such, we must learn to accept the probability that some of the damage will be pretty much permanent. In most cases, except massive strokes, some degree of recovery, however, is to be expected.

Since the brain, and its associated system of nerves, controls all our actions, damage to parts of the brain can cause paralysis in varying degrees.

If a leg, or side, is paralyzed by a stroke, that does not mean the leg has been damaged in any way. Instead, the paralysis means that the appropriate portion of the brain no longer can send its signals, via the nerve tracks, instructing the muscles to act. That is why the leg is paralyzed.

This you must understand if you are to deal effectively with a stroke. You may ask, perhaps, why surgery is not possible to correct the damage.

Well, in very rare instances it is. But the damage may not be in a part of the brain which is accessible to surgery. Or the trauma of the operation may do more harm than the possible good.

And finally, as we grow older, the blood vessels may become brittle, or become hardened or clogged to some extent, so that little if any good can be promised.

In young people it sometimes is otherwise: I have in mind a small girl who had a stroke, and in her case (her arteries were young and supple) brain surgery did indeed overcome some of her paralysis.

But in general such a resourse is not possible or feasible, and we must then decide what else we can do that will help — which I'll discuss in tomorrow's column.

Around The Rim

Every Man Has A Story

When I was a very young and callow cub reporter, just trying my hand at this weird business of gathering and writing that mysterious and intangible product known as news, it was my good fortune to work for one of the toughest, meanest and most talented managing editors I have ever known.

HE HAD learned his business on the old Denver Post, which was about the roughest and most callous newspaper this country has ever produced.

He had fallen on hard times in middle age and when I ran into him he was the head man on a small and rather ineffectual daily paper in Southwestern Oklahoma.

Since I had taken the job under what might be called false pretenses, I was perhaps even more nervous in his presence than would otherwise have been the case. At the ripe age of 17 I was wise enough to shun this man whenever possible.

HOWEVER, the few months I worked with Joe Willetts were most helpful to me later. And when I saw him in action as a newspaperman, it was like seeing a star actor perform in an absorbing drama.

Willetts was not only able to make other scribblers write decent copy, he could turn out masterly prose himself if occasion arose for him to cover a story. The speed with which he worked, the material he gathered in record time and his uncanny sense of news values was a marvel to me then, and I have not seen his equal since.

ONE DAY he called me to the desk and pointing a stubby finger at the pedestrians walking along the sidewalk in front of the newspaper office, said:

"Kid, every blankety-blank person out there on the street has a story, and that story is one that newspaper readers want to read.

"A good newspaperman," he added, "can dig that story out and write it.

"NEVER FORGET, kid, what makes news is the peculiar and inexplainable curiosity that everyone has to know what his fellow man is doing or has done or what he may think about something."

I looked at the folk straggling along. There went a whiskered tenant farmer in faded overalls. Trailing him was his wife, with weatherbeaten face and faded dress.

An Indian and his squaw, wrapped in gaudy blankets plodded past, the Indian two long steps ahead of his woman.

A CARPENTER in bib overalls was next and back of him, in a neat gray suit, was a man whom I recognized as the cashier of the town's bank.

I couldn't for the life of me figure out how these folk could have a story that other people would want to know about. And I further couldn't figure out how in the devil it would be possible for me to dig out a story one of these persons had unless I knew more about them than I knew then.

I HAVE BEEN a newsman for a long time now. I have become disillusioned about many facets of my profession; I have unlearned many things that I was told were basic and inevitably true.

But I have not forgotten that admonition of my first managing editor. I thought he was crazy when he told me that every man had a story if you could only find out what it was.

Now I know he wasn't crazy; he was correct. —SAM BLACKBURN

A First Nighter In Sovietland

MOSCOW — No sooner did we break into Soviet air space, just west of Riga, and an hour later landed at the Moscow airport, than I began to look about for some rocks to throw at communism.

I WAS ENTITLED, wasn't I, to cast the first stone, so long as my Americanism was perfect? Just wait till these Russians pulled something raw.

But we had flown deep into Soviet-land, and no MIGS zoomed up to buzz our Boeing 707, the first U.S. commercial flight ever to enter Russia. It seemed strange that we weren't molested. Still, nothing untoward took place. Even the instructions coming into the plane from the Moscow control tower were in measured, polite, professional English.

KNOWING HOW immigration-and-customs officers of all nations like to harass incoming tourists, I felt positive I'd soon get my chance to pelt Communist institutions and performances. Sure enough, we were met at the ramp by stolid KGB agents and cynically-smirking Soviet bureaucrats. We were forced to surrender our passports and visas, and were herded into a closely guarded room. Obviously, the time was at hand when I could mentally hurl projectiles of invective. But then we were poured cool fruit juices and sweet wine. The worst to happen was that we were held captive for a half-hour and made to listen to speeches of welcome from the Aeroflot officials and to addresses of acknowledgment by the American counterparts, including a fluent one by Ambassador Bohlen, given in two languages.

EVEN WITH a predisposition to be churlish toward communism, I didn't get much chance until later in the evening. We were all taken by bus to another hotel. There we attended a sumptuous caviar-to-ice cream banquet, with vodka, with red and white wine, with champagne, all these served in exquisite cut-glass goblets.

But now, the long-awaited moment. The banquet over, some of us decided to walk the mile or so back to our own hotel and put Moscow on the spot. In Washington, or New York, you wouldn't dare try such a journey after 8 p.m., but a mugging here in Moscow would show up this Communist police state. If we got jumped here, it would prove that too much social restraint is just as bad as too much freedom.

HOW WE EVER made it across Red Square I'll never know. The plaza was simply swarming with Communists. It was amazing to see all those atheists, boys and girls together, reverently walking up to pay their respect to Lenin's Tomb, almost like those Americans who pay visits to President Kennedy's grave.

It was troublesome for a just-arrived American nationalist not to be able to cast stones of derision in this hotbed of atheistic communism. If only the Russians had hijacked our plane. Or hadn't been so hospitable. Or had roughed us up in Red Square.

But I was just too woozy from an 11-hour jet flight to figure it out before I went to sleep this first night in Russia.

Rocky's Whirlwind Campaign

CAMPAIGNING WITH ROCKEFELLER — This is an extraordinary venture. Win, lose or draw Nelson Rockefeller is making political history. He is defying the conventional wisdom that says it is all done through carefully calculated arrangements plotted years in advance and brought to the inevitable climax before the chosen few in convention assembled.

SO MUCH has been made of the money being poured into this political hurricane that the output of energy has been obscured. Granted that Rockefeller has a special set of adrenal glands which are essential equipment for anyone who moves up into this turbulent stratosphere. Nevertheless, the Rockefeller output is in the long experience of this observer a phenomenon with few parallels.

And what makes Nelson run? Especially when the cautious pros, the delegate counters, the cold-eyed score keepers, rule him out? It must be more than personal ambition, since he himself in an earlier calculating mood had determined that the presidency was a capstone he would happily forgo.

THERE IS IN him something of the evangelist, an inheritance from his Baptist grandfather that complemented the enormous fortune old John D. put together.

Here is no tub thumper, no salvation shouting hymn singer. With the delegates in Kansas City, Toledo, Providence, San Antonio, he is understated, quiet, modest by a confession of his own immodesty. The word they come away with is sincere, he's so sincere.

HE PREACHES the faith of the two-party system and the imperative need for the Republicans to win in November. Gently he leads into this sermon, suggesting that even in the halcyon Eisenhower-Nixon years far too little was done to build the strength of the party.

So, in order to win, the Republican candidate must attract the votes of Democrats and independents. We can't win with just 27 per cent, he says with great earnestness. Then he makes the case that, as he has done in New York State to win election three times, he can draw voters outside the tight little Republican preserve and no other candidate can.

IT IS A subtle performance intended to shake the allegiance of enough committed delegates to prevent a Nixon nomination on the first ballot at Miami Beach. Rockefeller says that Nixon will be at least 100 votes short of the required 667 on that first ballot. And he speaks with such persuasiveness, so much faith, often with smiling self-deprecation, that the contagion of uncertainty just could take hold.

The question for the skeptical observing these delegates — the affluent, complacent guardians of the Republican preserve who in state after state have come down for Nixon — is whether they want to win. Or, rather, whether they want to win if it means appealing to all those outsiders, the unblessed and even the unwashed.

THE ROCKEFELLER strategists see it this way. Their man is shaking the delegates at one end of the political spectrum. At the other end — at the conservative, Southern end — Ronald Reagan is chipping at the Nixon bloc. The process of erosion will accelerate. Stopped on a second ballot the Nixon strength will rapidly fall away. Because he can win in November, a massive shift of delegate votes will put over Rockefeller on the fourth or fifth round. That is the vision sustaining a fierce drive enlivening an otherwise flat, dull pre-convention campaign.

Bill To Impose U.S. Poultry Check In States Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill that would let the federal government impose poultry inspection in any state failing to adopt an adequate inspection system of its own has passed the Senate and been sent to conference committee with the House.

Each state would have two years to develop its own system before the Agriculture Department, which already inspects meat shipped interstate, could apply its own inspection to products that do not cross state lines.

FEDERAL AID

The measure is similar to the Red-meat Inspection Act that passed earlier this year and, like that measure, would provide federal aid for up to half the cost of the state inspection systems.

Before passing it 73-0 Monday, the Senate rejected 52-19 an amendment that would have substituted state inspections, which meet federal standards, for the present federal interstate inspections.

In other congressional action Monday:

—A bill authorizing 1,500 more miles of the interstate highway system and extending the system's completion date two years to 1974 was passed by the Senate and sent to President Johnson.

The measure authorizes $21 billion for the program which also includes federal aid for primary, secondary and urban roads and for special types of highways, parks, public forests, Indian reservations and other such areas.

MONEY BILLS

—The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill intended to improve operations of government aid programs and smooth federal-state relations in the handling of aid projects.

It authorizes to make up to $5,000 of the difference for people forced to sell their homes between the sale price and cost of a new home.

—The Senate passed and sent to conference committee a $2-billion appropriations measure to finance the State, Justice and Commerce Departments and related agencies. The measure is $206 million more than the House approved, but $291 less than President Johnson asked. It is $82.5 million less than appropriated last year.

—The House passed and sent to the Senate a $1.7-billion military construction appropriation after beating back an attempt to strike funds for the controversial sentinel antiballistic missile system.

Foreign Trade Balance Pains Still Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. foreign trade balance shows Americans are on an international spending spree and the Commerce Department says the outlook is "far from reassuring."

The department reported Monday the value of imports topped exports in June, the third month this year in which the nation has bought more goods from foreigners than it has sold to them.

The June deficit was given as $87.2 million on a seasonally adjusted basis. For government officials it was a jolting followup to May's $32.2 million deficit.

With the year half over, the department said, imports figured on an annual rate are running 20 per cent above the 1967 level while exports are showing a 6 per cent increase.

The January-to-June exports, adjusted for seasonal variation, totaled $16.4 billion and imports $16.1 billion. The difference, $318 million, goes on the "good" side of the ledger but leaves virtually no hope that the year as a whole will produce another $4.1 billion surplus to match 1967.

What pains government officials most is that the Johnson administration looked on that 1967 surplus as a springboard to an even better 1968. The administration was shooting for a $500 million improvement over last year but is now faced with an uphill fight just to match the 1967 performance.

Bids Asked For Trainer Aid

The base procurement office this week announced an invitation to bidders for the construction of a swing landing trainer aid at the base.

The work will consist of furnishing and erecting a structural steel frame, complete with wood platform, stairs, rails, pulley hardward and wire and nylon rope. The contract also includes the installation of a gravel pit with retaining concrete curb; and the demolition and removal of the existing trainer.

Bids will be received in the procurement office until Aug. 27, although bid sets must be requested before Aug. 20. Work on the contract will start within 10 days after receipt of notice to proceed, and the successful bidder will be required to complete the work within 120 days.

Old Age Pensions Hike Promised By Wallace

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — George Wallace ended a four-day Florida tour Monday night with a vow to concentrate federal spending in public works, the space program and "raising old age pensions" if elected president.

He told a foot-stomping, overflow crowd of 8,000 or more Monday night that he would halt foreign aid to unfriendly governments and "bring home the guideline-writers" to redirect the federal money flow.

"I'm not against spending money," declared the third party presidential candidate. "I'm not against spending for roads and bridges, harbors and docks, and hospitals and schools."

SPACE DEFENSE

Wallace said he would continue the space program, an important influence in central Florida's economy, because it was "tied directly" with the defense of the nation. The candidate did not elaborate on his proposal to increase old age assistance.

Wallace delivered a low-key speech to a $25 dinner attended by 800 persons. There he was endorsed by retired Florida National Guard Lt. Gen. Sumter Lowry.

Lowry said Wallace "speaks the truth and has the guts to stand up and tell it" and is an "intelligent, dedicated, sincere man, and in addition to that is a Christian."

REBEL FLAGS

The large rally crowd welcomed Wallace with a roar and the waving of rebel flags.

"I'm sorry for those who can't get in," said Wallace.

"But they're sure shaking the eye-teeth of the liberals in both parties now!"

He contended support for his campaign had upset both Republican and Democratic party leaders so much that "they're running a fit and have gone up into orbit."

The candidate repeated his vow to be on every state's ballot by November. He said he had met qualifications or had been certified to run in 39 states and will qualify in several more within a few weeks.

"I would like to be loved and a lot of people would like us to run around like a poodle dog so folks could pat us on the head," he said. "But if we can't get them to love us, we're going to get them to respect us."

New Staffers At Base Hospital

Two new members were added to the 3560th USAF Hospital staff at Webb AFB recently. Capt. Larry G. McLain has assumed the position of chief of pediatrics while Capt. Clyde T. Steapp has taken over as dental officer.

Capt. McLain, native of Belvidere, Ill., was graduated from Lake Forest College and attended the University of Illinois Medical School. He served an internship and one year's residency at Children's Memorial Hospital, Chicago, and another year of residency at the University of Colorado's Medical Center, Denver.

Capt. Steapp is a native of Corpus Christi. He attended Del Mar College for two years, then completed his college at Southwest Texas State in San Marcos. He received his doctor of medical dentistry degree from the Louisville School of Dentistry, Ky.

Income Tax Delays Up Budget Deficit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top government officials reported today the budget deficit in the fiscal year that closed June 30 was $25.4 billion — $5.6 billion above the administration's estimate in January and $3.1 billion above the revised estimate of March 31.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler and Charles J. Zwick, director of the Bureau of the Budget, said in a statement that congressional delays in enacting the 10 per cent income tax surcharge were partly responsible.

SPENDING

Receipts fell $2.3 billion short of what had been estimated in January because the surcharge did not go onto the books in time to bring in the revenue anticipated, they said.

Spending was $3.3 billion higher than estimated in January, they said. They noted however that spending for Vietnam was only $800 million above what President Johnson outlined when he spelled out the revisions on March 31.

FOURTH HIGHEST

The deficit ranks as the fourth highest in history, exceeded only by those in the war years 1943, 1944 and 1945, when deficits above 150 billions a year were incurred.

When the budget went to Congress in January the deficit was figured at about $19.9 billion but the estimate had been substantially increased by the end of March.

Fowler and Zwick reported receipts of $152.5 billion and outlays of $176.9 billion during fiscal year 1968.

Vietnam spending was estimated in the budget in January at $24.5 billion but President Johnson later revised this upward to about $27 billion.

Pinned Down

Police officers are shown in this picture crouched behind a squad car pinned down by sniper fire. In the upper left is the glow of a fire set by a Negro youth group. The violence erupted early this morning in a public housing unit on Peoria's near northside. Six officers were wounded by shotgun pellets.

2 Austin Women Strip Men Victims

AUSTIN (AP) — Two Austin women accused in local holdups of leaving their men victims practically naked on country roads were charged with robbery by assault.

The charges were filed late Monday against Jacqueline Lee Lawrence, 18, and Verna Lee Byrd, 19, before Justice of Peace Bob Kuhn.

Henry Hernandez, 26, told officers he was working in a service station about 2 a.m. Monday when two women drove up. One stuck a metal object behind his ear and ordered him to empty the cash register in a paper bag. He said they then locked him in the trunk of their car and drove him north to Austin. He said they made him remove his clothes then drove off.

About an hour later, Clarence Wilson, night attendant at the Cross Country Inn on the northeast edge of Austin, said a woman walked into his office with her hand in a purse and demanded money from the cash register. Wilson said two women locked him in the trunk of their car and drove him to a nearby country road where he was stripped and left.

The two women were arrested about 4 a.m. on a street corner in East Austin.

Sand Springs Lad Fighting For Life

Bobby Glenn Lepard, young Sand Springs lad who under went a kidney transplant operation in Denver earlier this month is now fighting to recover from a second major surgery performed last Saturday night.

Lepard had been making satisfactory recovery after the kidney transplant, according to his father, Glenn Lepard, when he developed an intestinal block. This became so grave that surgeons had to reoperate last Saturday night.

This second operation coming so soon after the first has weakened the boy and while hope continues to be held out for him, his condition is serious. He be being fed intravenously and is in intensive care.

Bobby Glenn is the victim of a rare kidney disease which had imparied both kidneys. At Denver, where he had been taken for a transplant with Mrs. Lepard planning to donate one of her kidneys, it developed that a 10-year old child was killed in a traffic accident. The child's parents agreed to donate one of its kidney's to Bobby. The transplant was a success and the second difficulty developed later.

Lepard is leaving Thursday for Denver to rejoin Mrs. Lepard who is at the boy's bedside.

Police Leaders Propose 2-Day National Walkout

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — A national two-day police walkout has been proposed by police leaders embittered by what they consider lack of support in dealing with racial violence.

"When police are being shot like fish in a barrel, it's time we do something," said John Herrington of Philadelphia, national president of the 137,000-member Fraternal Order of Police.

A conference will be held in September to consider the walkout, Herrington said today. No date or place has been set.

Delegates will include representatives of the order and such city police groups as New York's Patrolmen's Benevolent Association and the Detroit Police Association, Herrington said.

CIVIL RIGHTS

The walkout was first proposed, he said, at a meeting of police leaders from several large cities after they attended the funeral for three Cleveland officers slain by snipers.

"They think people ought to find out what it would be like if there were no police departments," said Herrington.

Herrington said the date for the "seminar" on the proposed walkout will be set at the meeting of the Fraternal Order of Police national boards in St. Louis Aug. 18-20.

Cities represented at the Cleveland meeting included New York, Boston, Detroit, Philadelphia, Birmingham, Ala., and Gary, Ind., he said.

"You take Cleveland," Herrington said. "Nobody's concerned about the man lying there paralyzed with a bullet in his spine. Nobody's concerned about three officers in their grave. Nobody's concerned about their widows and orphans. What they are concerned about is the civil rights of Evans."

YES OR NO

He referred to one Fred Ahmed Evans, a black nationalist quoted by police as saying he led a group of 17 men in the attack.

Speaking here at the annual convention of the Louisiana Fraternal Order of Police, Herrington told 500 delegates Monday night that the police are "a football for anybody with civil rights complaints."

"The police don't own the schools," he said, "but when there are civil rights problems in the schools they riot. Neither do we own the houses, but they riot when they're not happy with housing. When they get poor pay they riot, too—and they don't work for us.

"The people have to make their minds up—do they want us to protect them or don't they?"

A burglar who broke into St. Thomas Catholic Church at 506 N. Main Monday and took a change box must have had a conscience.

Police said that someone entered the church through a south window and took a change box from the wall. The box was found outside by the window, unopened and the lock still on it.

In another theft report police said a transmission was taken from Big Spring Transmission Exchange at 403 S. Gregg, Monday, or from an El Camino pickup parked across the street. Officers are investigating.

Sheriff's officers are investigating the burglary of the James Robertson residence in the Forsan community. Stolen from the house, according to the owner, were four fishing rods and a metal tackle box.

Czech, Soviet Bosses Talk, No Indication Of Outcome

PRAGUE (AP) — A Czechoslovak general opposed to the country's new democratic reforms today was reported in contact with Soviet Army officers as the leaders of the Soviet and Czechoslovak Communist parties resumed their showdown meeting close to the Soviet border.

Prague Radio reported that the two party delegations had gone back into session at Cierna but gave no details.

The summit meeting between the Soviet Politburo and the Czechoslovak party's Presidium was expected to conclude today after a thorough debate on the liberalization program launched by Prague's new leaders. But so far there has been no word on the likely outcome of the talks.

Meanwhile, the trade union newspaper Prace reported that Gen. Samuel Kodaj, who warned early this month against "counterrevolutionary" tendencies in the country, met at Strecno, in Slovakia, with the "Soviet Army staff which is operating on our territory."

Prace said Kodaj and other Czechoslovak officers met with the chief of the Soviet Army staff, a Gen. Mayorov, and other Soviet officers "to exchange views on the present situation."

"Counterrevolutionary" was the chief charge made against the Czechoslovak party leadership by the Soviet Union, East Germany, Poland, Bulgaria and Hungary at a meeting in Warsaw early this month.

There was no new word today on the talks between the Soviet and Czechoslovak political leaders which began Monday close to the Soviet border.

Usually reliable sources said planes were waiting for the Czechoslovak party presidium at Kosice, nearest airport to the frontier village of Cierna where the Communist leaders met for 12 hours Monday in a dilapidated movie theater.

"The two delegations exchanged views and standpoints," the Czechoslovak news agency CTK reported.

Czechoslovak Communist sources have said that the meeting probably would produce no dramatic developments.

Heart Meeting Delegates Named

Miss Bo Bowen, director of Nursing at the Veterans Hospital here, was named president of the Howard County Heart Association at a meeting Monday of the association's directors.

Miss Bowen and Mrs. James Nelson were named as delegates to the Texas Heart Association meeting in San Antonio in October. Mrs. Bill Conger and Kathrine Spano will serve as alternates.

Future meetings of the Heart Association will be held in the Howard County Medical Rehabilitation Center.

Rusk Attacks 'Blank Wall'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today that the United States cannot further curtail bombing in North Vietnam until that country makes a "realistic response" to U.S. moves for peace.

At a news conference Rusk declared, "we need something better than a blank wall" before further progress can be made.

Rusk denied reports that North Vietnam has been displaying restraint.

He said the United States and its allies must know from some responsible source in North Vietnam—either directly or indirectly—what would happen if the United States were to halt the remainder of the bombing of North Vietnam

He said it is known that about 30 per cent of the trucks North Vietnam sends with supplies for South Vietnam are destroyed or damaged on the way by air attack. "We know that if we stop the bombing 100 per cent of the trucks would arrive," he said.

"No one has told us what would happen if we stopped bombing. We feel we and our allies are entitled to an answer to that question.

NO JOB IS TOO SMALL FOR BYRON'S STORAGE & TRANSFER
Byron's handles all sizes and kinds of moving, storage jobs

Byron's Lightens Load By Careful Handling

Is moving worrying you? If it is, there is easy solution to your problem. Call 263-7351 and let Byron's Storage and Transfer Inc. do the work for you.

Whether you are moving across town or to some distant point in the United States, it can be a major operation. It involves long hours of sorting and packing and then straightening after the move.

Big Spring has a moving company which can take the big load off your shoulders, Byron's Storage and Transfer, 106 E. 1st. It has the facilities and the men to move anywhere in the country, even overseas if you are going that far.

All you need to do is tell Byron's three things: When you plan to move out, when you want your furniture in the new house, and how you want it arranged.

The next step is to pack a suitcase and turn the job over to Byron's.

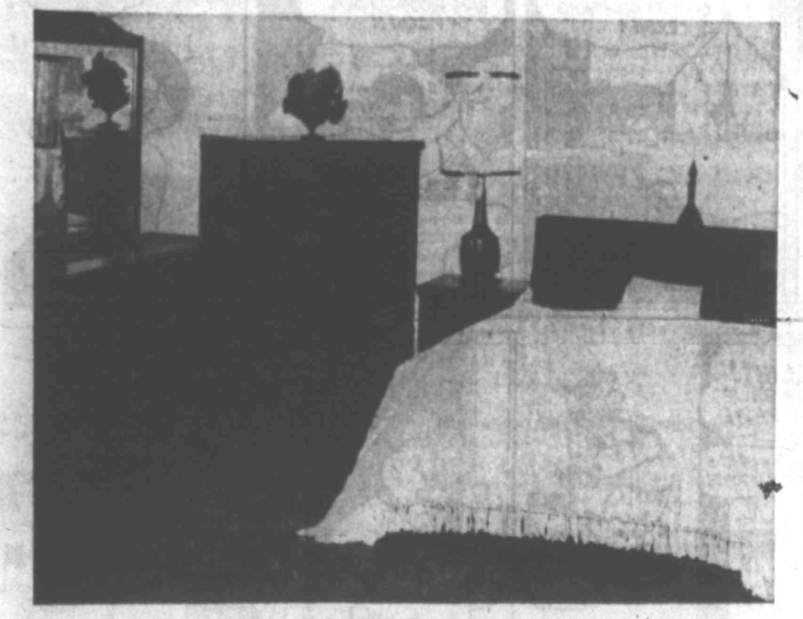

Packing is done carefully and securely. Glassware, mirrors, pictures, lamps, china and all fragile items are wrapped, labeled for identification and packed to insure safe arrival at the destination.

Unpacking is done just as carefully as the packing, and furniture as well as decorative items are placed according to your instructions.

If you should not need your furniture for weeks or even months, Byron's has the facilities for storing household goods. Storage is fireproof and furniture will come from Byron's storeroom as clean — or cleaner — than when it left your home.

Byron's Storage and Transfer Inc. is agent for United Van Lines, world-wide movers. The connection with United gives Byron's personal representation throughout the United States and all foreign countries.

T. A. Camp, manager, and his trained staff can help you. Call them with your moving problems and be assured that Byron's will handle your furniture with great care.

Big Spring Furniture Boasts Large Stock

Big Spring Furniture, 110 Main, has a large stock of new furniture for the entire house, as well as a large selection of used items for the furniture buyer's consideration.

Frank Gibson, manager, reminds that the company is interested in trading for used furniture in order that an adequate supply can be kept up for the "bargain basement." Terms can be arranged when purchasing furniture at Big Spring Furniture, whether new, used or a combination of both.

For people buying their first furniture, Big Spring Furniture has a special priced group which contains all the necessary items for a three-room apartment or small house. Terms are also available for the purchaser of this group.

Many living room suites or pieces are available at Big Spring Furniture, but one of the most popular selections is a Spanish style by Fox. Furniture by Fox may be had in suites or by pieces, and it comes in a large variety of colors to mix or match.

The cushions are reversible and double the life of the piece. They are all made from "Scotchgard" treated material which is washable, pre-shrunk and fast colored. When the cushion is soiled the outer covering zips off for easy cleaning. Should you desire to change the color of the cushions later, you can have them covered easily even by an amateur seamstress.

Spanish style living room furniture by Fox is made from solid pecan. The solid wood construction makes the furniture almost indestructible. The pecan woods blend with others should you wish to mix the woods in your living room.

Fox is only one of the famous name brands carried by Big Spring Furniture. Whether you are furnishing the living room, bedroom or dining room, there is a famous name furniture designer in stock for your selections.

Furniture makes a wonderful gift, particularly if it is a chair. Look over the stock at Big Spring Furniture for a chair to fit every need and every decor from rockers and recliners to the most modern of design.

Bank Robbery Suspect Jailed

ROSWELL, N. M. (AP)—U.S. Commissioner W. E. Thompson set bond at $25,000 Monday for a Texas man arrested in Hobbs Sunday night on an outstanding federal complaint charging bank robbery.

FBI agents in Albuquerque said that Roy Linton Welch, 34, of Seymour, Tex., was charged with the July 25 robbery of the Woodson State Bank at Woodson, Tex., in which $17,070 was taken.

The agents said a considerable amount of money was in Welch's possession Sunday when he was arrested by Lea County deputy sheriffs as he stepped off a charter flight from Waco, Tex.

Thompson said Welch had not waived extradition and that a hearing would be held for him soon.

Down The Line

Bud Harrelson of the New York Mets races for first as his sixth inning hit rips past Orlando Cepeda, St. Louis Cardinals' first baseman, in game at Shea Stadium, New York City, Monday night. Harrelson wound up at second on the smash and later made it to home on a single by Cleon Jones. Even so, the Mets lost, 5-1.

George Culver Hurls No-Hitter At Phils

By The Associated Press

Now George Culver knows how to act.

"I really got nervous in the seventh," the Cincinnati pitcher said Monday night.

"I'd never even come close to pitching a no-hitter before in my life. I didn't know how to act."

Two innings later, the former relief specialist had a 6-1, no-hit victory over the Philadelphia Phillies and he was acting completely normal under the circumstances.

"Actually after the game I was crying," he said. "Winning is important, but doing it by pitching a no-hitter, that's the greatest."

Culver's gem gave Cincinnati a sweep of the twi-night doubleheader—the Reds winning the first game 7-6.

CARDS ON TOP

St. Louis beat the New York Mets 5-1, Pittsburgh edged Atlanta 3-2, Houston blanked Los Angeles 2-0 and San Francisco topped the Chicago Cubs 4-1 in other National League action.

In the American League, the New York Yankees defeated Detroit 7-2, Boston swept Baltimore 3-2 in 10 innings and 8-3, Cleveland downed Washington 4-2, California nipped Minnesota 2-1 and the Chicago White Sox beat Oakland 7-2 in 13 innings.

Culver, who worked out of the Cleveland bullpen last year and was obtained by the Reds in a winter trade, ran his record to 9-9 with his third complete game of the season.

CAN QUALIFY NOW

Golfers Await City Tourney

Entries are now being accepted for the 1968 City Golf tournament, match play in which will be started Aug. 9. Entry fee is $5.

Players can qualify through next Sunday. Pairings will be released by the middle of next week, according to Charley Brantley, Muny pro.

Donald Lovelady is the defending titlist and will be on hand to try and claim his second crown in a row.

Brantley said entries would have two weeks in which to complete all their matches. Each flight will consist of 16 players, where possible.

A large turnout of players is anticipated, because of the modest entry fee and the merchandise awards which will be made to winners, runners-up and consolation round winners in each flight.

Those shooting for medal honors must qualify either Saturday or Sunday. The medalist's prize will be a dozen golf balls.

Charles Bailey and Farris Hammond are co-chairmen of the tournament committee.

A junior tournament will be held in conjunction with the City meet. Entry fee will be $5 and players will be seeking trophies.

Age limits are 12 to 18 years. Those 18 can play provided they still have high school eligibility left.

Play in the junior tournament must be completed by Aug. 18, Brantley stated.

Steers Ceded Sixth Place In District

FORT WORTH — Big Spring was picked no higher than sixth in the nine-team District 3-AAAA football races in a poll of coaches announced at the Texas Coaches Association school here Monday.

Odessa Permian and Abilene Cooper were fingered as the top teams in the circuit, with the edge going to Permian.

Following Cooper in the poll were San Angelo, Abilene High and Midland High while Odessa High, Midland Lee and Odessa Ector were tabbed to wind up behind the Steers.

Amarillo Tascosa was the choice to win it all in District 4-AAAA and meet with 3-AAAA titlist in bi-district competition.

San Angelo, with 16 lettermen returning, was given an outside chance to bold into the throne room.

Roy Lee Warren of Big Spring and Travis Wright of Permian were declared the top backs in the district while ends Kent Finley of Cooper and Garland Childers of Permian and guard Angel Aguirre of Abilene High were tabbed as the best linemen.

Five of the head coaches in the district picked Permian as the top club while three others went with Cooper. Still another head mentor forecast a tie for the top spot between the two clubs.

David McWilliams, head coach at Abilene High, was the 2-AAAA spokesman in the interview.

Although the coaches said defending champion Austin Reagan would be tough again, a definite threat looms in the west, citadel of schoolboy power in the state.

Other potential powerhouses include Pasadena, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth Dunbar, Dallas South Oak Cliff and Galveston Ball.

The Class AAAA race shapes up as one of the most hectic in recent years.

Here is how the coaches, looking into their crystal balls, picked the favorites in the various AAAA districts:

1—El Paso Irvin; 2-El Paso Bel Air; 3-Odessa Permian; 4-Amarillo Tascosa; 5-Wichita Falls; 6-Arlington; 7-South Garland; 8-Richardson; 9-Fort Worth Dunbar; 10-Arlington Heights; 11-Dallas Jefferson; 12-Dallas Oak Cliff; 13-Lufkin; 14-Temple; 15-North Shore; 16-Houston Spring Branch; 17-Houston Sam Houston; 18-Houston Jones; 19-Houston Lee; 20-Houston Bellaire; 21-Beaumont Hebert; 22-Port Arthur Jefferson; 23-Pasadena; 24-Galveston Ball; 25-Corpus Christi Miller; 26-Alice; 27-Austin Reagan 28-San Marcos; 29-San Antonio Sam Houston; 30-San Antonio Jefferson; 31-Brackenridge; 32-San Antonio Kennedy.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Coaches at the Texas Coaches School figure Brownwood can roll again to the Class AAA and that's a big IF.

The mighty Lions, 12-1-1 last year, face a tremendous threat from Wichita Falls Hirschi in Dist...4. Brownwood is in the South Zone and Hirschi in the North.

A meeting between the two teams ended in a tie last season. It should be a dilly of a battle this season if and when they collide for the district title.

Mission, Refugio, and Waco Moore are longshot darkhorses.

The coaches said the 16-districts should shape up like this:

1—Perryton; 2—Kermit; 3—Sweetwater; 4—Brownwood; 5—Fort Worth Carter-Riverside; 6—Bonham; 7—Hendrson; 8—Ennis; 9—Bridge City; 19—La Grange; 11—Angleton; 12—Alvin; 13—Belton; 14—Refugio; 15—Del Rio 16—Mission.

Local Teams In District

LAMESA — The field for the Aug. 2-3 ASA District Softball tournament here will consist of two Lamesa clubs and as many entries from Big Spring, commissioner D. A. Miller has announced.

The top two teams in the meet become eligible to take part in the State tournament at Brownwood.

First round games Friday night send Furr's of Lamesa against Webb AFB of Big Spring at 7 p.m. and the Lamesa merchants against Austin Enco, champion of the Big Spring City league, at 8:30 p.m.

The losers come back to play at 10 p.m. Friday.

The tournament resumes at 7 p.m. Saturday, at which time the winners in the first two contests see action against each other.

A second contest is booked for 8:30 p.m. Saturday while the title would be decided in a 10 p.m. engagement.

If the second game is needed to determine the championship, it will start about 11:30 p.m.

Texans Win Spot In Sectional Play

It's on to Abilene and the Little League Sectional round for Ruben Billalba and his Big Spring Texans.

Donald Walker of the Pecos All-Stars muffled the Texans' vaunted power here in Sub-Sectional finals Monday night but Thomas (Chato) Gonzales hurled shutout ball in leading the locals to an impressive 1-0 victory.

The Big Springers catch Lubbock's champion in first round play at 5:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Winner of the four-team meet advances to the State tournament at San Antonio.

Gonzales fanned 13 in the six-inning bout while allowing only one hit. That was a fifth inning single by center fielder Ken Johnson. Big Spring committed two errors.

Walker whiffed ten of the Texans. He surrendered five safeties to the Big Spring team.

Fernie Paredez accounted for Big Spring's lone run in the fifth when he doubled home Albert Smith, after two men had been retired. Smith has reached base on a hit. He dropped a fly ball just beyond the first baseman's reach.

Paredez had a double and a single during the contest. John Rodriquez connected for a two-out single between third and short in the opening inning for the Texans. In the second, Gonzales singled with no one out but could not advance beyond second. In the third, Paredez got his first hit after two mates had been retired.

Rodriquez got Gonzalez out of a possible jam in the fifth when he threw out D. Herod at third base from his left gield position.

The run scored by Smith was the first Pecos had yielded in four playoff games.

Rams Eliminate Baseball Team

SAN ANGELO—Angelo State College has eliminated baseball from its competitive athletic program and will concentrate more on track, golf and tennis.

Van Brocklin Vetoes Idea Of Scrimmage

CHICAGO (AP) — Coach Norm Van Brocklin isn't called the Dutchman for nothing. He calls the shots and makes his own decisions.

As a result, when Van Brocklin takes his College All-Stars up against the Green Bay Packers in Soldier Field Friday night, not a single member of the 50-man squad will be suffering from anything as much as a hangnail.

Throughout the previous years, coaches have attacked the task of putting a team together in three weeks with work, work and more work. Contact and scrimmages used to be the byword.

Not so under the Dutchman. From the very outset it was apparent the Stars would not be involved in numerous scrimmages.

In the last several years, the All-Stars would pack up the week before the game and journey to Rensselaer, Ind., to scrimmage the Chicago Bears.

Van Brocklin ruled out the scrimmage, explaining he was preparing his team to meet the Packers and nothing else was important.

In the past, the All-Stars have held their final full-scale scrimmage on the Monday before the game. On Monday, the Dutchman put them through a limited contact session and announced "that concludes the rough work. The rest of time will be spent in review."

The Dutchman then really capped it all by calling off the usual light workout which always was held in Soldier Field two nights before the game to give the players a feel of things.

Van Brocklin's reasoning: "It is of no benefit to the players."

Van Brocklin, who starred for the Los Angeles Rams and Philadelphia Eagles before coaching the Minnesota Vikings, recently announced he will call every play in the game from the bench.

"We can pinpoint our attack a lot better by sending in the plays," he said. "It will take the mental pressure off the quarterbacks. After all, I know the Packers much better than they do."

Van Brocklin has promised a wide-open game with plenty of passing in an effort to get the first All-Star triumph over the professional champions since the 20-17 victory over Green Bay in 1963.

Since then, the All-Stars have lost to the Chicago Bears, Cleveland Browns and have been blanked by the Packers the last two seasons.

Cheaper in the long run.

Gas will never cost you much. (You'll get about 27 miles to the gallon.)

And the amount of oil you use is like a drop in the bucket. (It only takes 2.7 quarts and almost never needs more between changes.)

And the engine is air-cooled, so you don't have to spend a red cent for anti-freeze or rust inhibitors.

And you get more than your money's worth out of a set of tires (around 40,000 miles).

But don't think buying a new Volkswagen is just another get-rich-quick scheme.

You have to wait until the second set of tires wear out.

PLANNED FOR DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

Tight Round-The-Clock Security

CHICAGO (AP) — Fifteen thousand soldiers, police and federal agents will turn the site of the Democratic National Convention into an armed camp next month in a giant security operation.

The security arrangements could turn the convention—normally a horn-blowing spectacular—into an austere exercise in martial order.

RACIAL TENSIONS

Racial tensions in the city and the crowds of demonstrators and hippies who plan to come to Chicago will compound the job of keeping order and protecting President Johnson and the candidates.

Deployed round-the-clock at Chicago International Amphitheatre, and at hotels and motels housing delegates, will be some 8,000 uniformed and undercover policemen, 5,500 riot-trained National Guardsmen and at least 1,000 federal agents.

More men will be available on short notice from the Cook County sheriff's office, state police, the Coast Guard and the FBI. The remainder of Chicago's 12,000-man police department, including a mobile 600-man task force, will be on standby.

All security procedures are being coordinated by the Secret Service, charged with protecting the president, vice president and political candidates.

The Secret Service has 580 agents across the country and most will be in Chicago during convention week, Aug. 5-10.

SEALED OFF

Though plans are under tight wraps, it presumably was the Secret Service which ordered two Air Force reconnaissance jets to make low passes over Chicago last week to photograph the Amphitheatre and surrounding terrain.

Security measures are being taken on the Amphitheatre grounds, which sprawl across the eastern edge of the Union Stockyards on the racially tense South Side. Fences are going up and heliports being constructed, reportedly for air-lifting candidates to and from the hall.

The Amphitheatre, with 585,000 square feet of floor space under a single roof, will be sealed off within roughly an eight-square-block buffer zone.

To penetrate the perimeter, both pedestrians and vehicles will be required to display Democratic National Committee credentials. Inside, checkpoints will be established where guards reportedly will tear off perforated sections of the passes, good for only one day.

DEMONSTRATIONS

Traffic court will be closed Aug. 17-30, freeing 23 magistrates to process large numbers of prisoners in the event of a disturbance.

Each magistrate could hear well over 200 civil disorder cases a day.

The whole operation, both in scope and magnitude, appears to have taken on the aspect of a military movement.

Said one high police department source, "the security is the most elaborate ever devised for a convention anywhere."

The number of persons expected to converge on the city for antiwar and civil rights demonstrations ranges in the thousands.

The National Mobilization Committee, organizer of a march on the Pentagon by war protestors, has promised "the largest demonstrations in American history" at the Amphitheatre Aug. 27, President Johnson's birthday, and Aug. 28, the day of the nomination. They also plan a march through the Loop on the 28th.

The Free City Survival Committee, a hippie group, hopes to bring 50,000 youths to the city for a pop-music festival and "un-convention." They say they will live in the parks, but have not received permission for the camp-in.

Allard Lowenstein, an engineer of the dump-Johnson movement last fall, said his Coalition for an Open Convention will stage a mass rally on convention eve. So far, however, the city has refused to grant him a meeting place.

Also planning to come are the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, with a small delegation of the poor, and the Mississippi Freedom party. They will be seeking convention seats.

All the groups guarantee orderly, nonviolent demonstrations. "It's foolish to think we're going to break police lines . . . or disrupt the convention," said Rennie Davis of the National Mobilization Committee.

Chicago officials have not indicated whether demonstrators will be allowed to approach the front of the Amphitheatre or be kept blocks away.

John M. Bailey, Democratic national chairman, said outside performers will be barred from the hall and there will be no demonstrations except by delegates and alternates.

Militant black nationalists may demonstrate in the convention area. Mayor Richard J. Daley's relations with the black community have been crumbling.

The convention will be staged on the largely Negro South Side and practically on the "turf" of the Blackstone Rangers street gang.

An aide close to Mayor Daley said, "We're hoping for the best, but preparing for the worst."

South might have given his partner some voice, during the auction regarding choice of a final contract, by jumping to three hearts over North's one no trump rebid. The three heart call is, of course, unconditionally forcing to game. If North decides to rebid three no trump, South's holding will make a suitable dummy. Nine top tricks were available at no trump.

West opened the eight of clubs against four hearts, East played the ace and returned the queen. South was about to cover, but then he paused for a moment to consider the consequences if he played the king.

If West started with a doubleton club, South would win the trick of course and, after trumps are drawn, he can clear the club suit with one more lead—thereby establishing dummy's long cards for a diamond sluff. A three-two club division assures declarer of an overtrick since he loses only the two clubs.

The thought that prompted South to hesitate, before playing to the second trick, was the possibility that West might have a singleton club and consequently ruff away the king. If it then developed that East had the king of diamonds, a diamond switch by West would establish a trick in that suit for the defense, and East could cash the jack of clubs when he gets in to defeat the contract.

Declarer was quite willing to invest the price of a possible overtrick to assure his vulnerable game, and he ducked the queen of clubs—permitting East to hold the trick as West took a discard. A club was continued and West ruffed away South's king. The shift was to a diamond; however, declarer was now in position to take full charge of the proceedings.

He put up the ace of diamonds, cashed the ace and queen of hearts and then led a fourth round of clubs from dummy—ruffing away East's ten and establishing North's nine of clubs for a sluff. The king of hearts drew the last trump, dummy was reentered with a high spade and South discarded his diamond loser on the good club.

Woman-To-Woman Heart Switch Surgery

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A 49-year-old grandmother is the world's newest heart transplant patient, and she was reported in satisfactory condition today at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital.

Beth White Brunk, a Houston housewife, received the heart of a Corsicana, Tex., woman, Monday night in the first woman-to-woman heart transplant.

EIGHT SWAPS

The donor was Betty O'Neal, 40, who entered the hospital Monday after suffering a brain hemorrhage.

Surgeons led by Dr. Denton A. Cooley performed the operation in about two hours, a spokesman said. Cooley has supervised eight human heart transplants here.

Mrs. Brunk, wife of a commercial pilot, was admitted to St. Luke's July 22, a day before surgeons performed their seventh heart transfer in Houston.

The recipient had a blood clot in her lungs that would have killed her in 24 hours, said a daughter, Gladys Smith of Bryan, Tex.

'DOING WELL'

Mrs. Brunk has four children, four stepchildren and nine grandchildren. She first talked with Dr. Cooley last Friday, Mrs. Smith said.

"She was very enthusiastic about heart transplants," the daughter said. "She kept up with them in the paper and talked about them all the time."

The donor's physician, Dr. Robert D. Bone of Corsicana, said Mrs. O'Neal had a brain tumor. An autopsy was planned to determine the type of growth.

Mrs. O'Neal was in a coma 24 hours before a three-man team of doctors declared her dead about 8 p.m., the spokesman said.

The operation began minutes later and Mrs. Brunk was listed as "doing well" shortly after it was completed.

Buck Sergeant Wins Plaudits

A "buck" sergeant was named the Supply Squadron's (Supron) non-commissioned officer of the month for July recently at Webb AFB. Sgt. Billy J. Nixon, who conducts classes in standard supply system and who works in the squadron's training section, is the first "buck" sergeant" to be so honored by Supron.

Originally from Whitney, Sgt. Nixon attended Navarro Junior College in Corsicana, and received his bachelor's degree in marketing from Baylor University.

In his off-duty hours, he is active in the Foreign Training Program, a member of the Marcy P-TA, and the First Baptist Church. The sergeant married the former Sandra J. Clancy of Mexia.

Gov. Connally Not About To Release Delegation

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. John B. Connally may comment today on Vice President Hubert Humphrey's release of delegates bound to him at the Democratic National Convention.

Connally would not comment Monday night in Abilene when asked about Humphrey's action, which apparently took the Texan by surprise.

The governor said, however, that after he familiarized himself with Humphrey's statement and action, he might have something to say, possibly today.

Earlier, one of Connally's press aides said the Humphrey release of delegates would have no effect on Texas delegates, pledged to the Governor's "favorite son" candidacy.

Under the embattled unit rule, the Texas Democratic delegation is bound to Connally, who last week talked with Humphrey about his choice for vice president.

Mentioned frequently himself as a possible Humphrey running mate, Connally told Humphrey he should get a second man on the ticket "with more moderate views than you have."

The statement was regarded at the time as a barb at Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., but Kennedy later removed himself from contention with a "not this year" declaration.

Asked if Connally would follow Humphrey's action and release the Texas delegation, press aide Kyle Thompson answered, "Not a chance."

TEXANS AT WAR

Maj. Sweeney, Now At Webb, Won Silver Star

By The Associated Press

MAJ. DAVID F. SWEENEY

"Everything looked peaceful below. I thought it was just a bunch of people harvesting rice in a paddy," said Maj. David F. Sweeney of Austin. He was recalling the quiet start of one of his toughest flights over Vietnam.

Sweeney, 33, who has been promoted to major since he returned from Vietnam, is now Assistant Flight Commander of Air Base Group at Webb AFB, 3560th Pilot Training Squadron. He has been stationed at Webb since Jan. 15.

He and his wife, the former Martha Hornung of McAllen, and two children, are making their home at 514 Washington Blvd.

On the flight, Maj. Sweeney, a Texan at war, earned an Air Force Silver Star for gallantry.

He was a forward air controller making a routine Sunday reconnaissance flight in a Super Skymaster when he got a radio call from ground troops.

"They said 200 to 300 enemy troops were moving through the rice paddy and asked me to take a look. I flew over and saw nothing. There weren't many people in the field and I saw no weapons, nothing suspicious," he said.

"So I circled around and the ground troops radioed me again and told me they were moving again in the paddy.

"I guess the troops in the paddy thought I'd spotted them the first time, because when I dropped down the second time they opened up at me from the tree line.

"You never saw so much firing in your life! At first I thought it was one of my two engines backfiring. I got up and away from there quick," he said.

Sweeney, whose plane was short on fuel, stayed in the area—despite threats from darkness, a heavy rainstorm and enemy ground fire—and directed jets that came in to bomb the area.

"They would come in through the gloom—and when they hit the target, it was beautiful," Sweeney said. "I guess we stopped them, because there wasn't anything more from that area during the ground operation those troops were on."

He is the son of a colonel. Sweeney was graduated from Mississippi Southern in 1960.

NUMBER TWO ON THE BALLOT (SJR11)

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 51-a of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended, and the same is hereby amended, so as to read as follows:

"Section 51-a. The Legislature shall have the power, by General Laws, to provide, subject to limitations herein contained, and such other limitations, restrictions and regulations as may by the Legislature be deemed expedient, for assistance to and/or medical care for, and for rehabilitation and any other services included in the Federal legislation providing matching funds to help such families and individuals attain or retain capability for independence or self-care, and for the payment of assistance to and/or medical care for, and for rehabilitation and other services for:

"(1) Needy aged persons who are citizens of the United States or noncitizens who shall have resided within the boundaries of the United States for at least twenty-five (25) years and are over the age of sixty-five (65) years;

"(2) Needy individuals who are citizens of the United States who shall have passed their eighteenth (18th) birthday but have not passed their sixty-fifth (65th) birthday and who are totally and permanently disabled by reason of a mental or physical handicap or a combination of physical and mental handicaps;

"(3) Needy blind persons who are citizens of the United States and who are over the age of eighteen (18) years;

"(4) Needy children who are citizens of the United States and who are under the age of twenty-one (21) years, and to the caretakers of such children.

"The Legislature may define the residence requirements, if any, for participation in these programs.

"The Legislature shall have authority to enact appropriate legislation which will enable the State of Texas to cooperate with the Government of the United States in providing assistance to and/or medical care on behalf of needy persons, and in providing rehabilitation and any other services included in the Federal legislation providing matching funds to help such families and individuals attain or retain capability for independence or self-care and to accept and expend funds from the Government of the United States for such purposes in accordance with the laws of the United States as they now are or as they may hereafter be amended, and to make appropriations out of state funds for such purposes; provided that the maximum amount paid out of any individual recipient shall not exceed the amount that is matchable out of Federal funds; provided that the total amount of such assistance payments and/or medical assistance payments out of state funds on behalf of such recipients shall not exceed the amount that is matchable out of Federal funds; provided that if the limitations and restrictions herein contained are found to be in conflict with the provisions of appropriate Federal Statutes as they now are or as they may be amended, to the extent that Federal matching money is not available to the state for these purposes, then and in that event the Legislature is specifically authorized and empowered to prescribe such limitations and restrictions and enact such laws as may be necessary in order that such Federal matching money will be available for assistance and/or medical care for or on behalf of needy persons; and provided further, that the total amount of money to be expended per fiscal year out of state funds for assistance payments only to recipients of Old Age Assistance, Aid to the Permanently and Totally Disabled, Aid to the Blind, and Aid to Families with Dependent Children shall never exceed Seventy-five Million Dollars ($75,000,000).

"Nothing in this Section shall be construed to amend, modify or repeal Section 31 of Article XVI of this Constitution; provided further, however, that such medical care, services or assistance shall also include the employment of objective or subjective means, without the use of drugs, for the purpose of ascertaining and measuring the powers of vision of the human eye, and fitting lenses or prisms to correct or remedy any defect or abnormal condition of vision. Nothing herein shall be construed to permit optometrists to treat the eyes for any defect whatsoever in any manner nor to administer nor to prescribe any drug or physical treatment whatsoever, unless such optometrist is a regularly licensed physician or surgeon under the laws of this state."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November 1968, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"FOR the Constitutional Amendment raising the limit on the amount that may be expended in any one year out of state funds for Public Assistance payments only to Seventy-five Million Dollars ($75,000,000)."

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment raising the limit on the amount that may be expended in any one year out of state funds for Public Assistance payments only to Seventy-five Million Dollars ($75,000,000)."

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT (SJR39)

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 39 proposing an amendment to Subsection (a) of Section 62, Article XVI of the Constitution of Texas, relating to establishment of a retirement, disability and death compensation fund for officers and employees of the state, so as to create as an agency of the State of Texas the Employees Retirement System of Texas, vesting the general administration and responsibility of the proper operation of said system in a state board of trustees to be known as the State Board of Trustees of the Employees Retirement System of Texas, authorizing said Board to invest assets of said system in various obligations and subjects of investment, subject to certain restrictions stated therein and such other restrictions as may hereafter be provided by law; providing that contributions of members and the state shall not exceed at any time six per centum (6%) of the compensation paid to each such person by the state; providing that such Amendment shall be self-enacting; providing for the necessary election, form of ballot, proclamation, and publication; and declaring legislative intent that the adoption of this Joint Resolution shall constitute repeal of Senate Joint Resolution No. 3, previously adopted by this the 60th Legislature, so that the proposition as set forth in this Resolution may be submitted to the voters of this state in lieu of the proposition contained in Senate Joint Resolution No. 3.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Subsection (a) of Section 62, Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read hereafter as follows:

"Section 62. (a) The Legislature shall have the authority to levy taxes to provide a State Retirement, Disability and Death Compensation Fund for the officers and employees of the state, and may make such reasonable inclusions, exclusions, or classifications of officers and employees of this state as it deems advisable. The Legislature may also include officers and employees of judicial districts of the state who are or have been compensated in whole or in part directly or indirectly by the state, and may make such other reasonable inclusions, exclusions, or classification of officers and employees of judicial districts of this state as it deems advisable. Persons participating in a retirement system created pursuant to Section 1-a of Article V of this Constitution shall not be eligible to participate in the Fund authorized in this subsection; and persons participating in a retirement system created pursuant to Section 48-a of Article III of this Constitution shall not be eligible to participate in the Fund authorized in this subsection except as permitted by Section 63 of Article XVI of this Constitution. Provided, however, any officer or employee of a county as provided for in Article XVI, Section 62, Subsection (b) of this Constitution, shall not be eligible to participate in the Fund authorized in this subsection, except as otherwise provided herein. The amount contributed by the state to such Fund shall equal the amount paid for the same purpose from the income of each such person, and shall not exceed at any time six per centum (6%) of the compensation paid to each such person by the state.

"There is hereby created as an agency of the State of Texas the Employees Retirement System of Texas, the rights of membership in which, the retirement privileges and benefits thereunder, and the management and operations of which shall be governed by the provisions herein contained and by present or hereafter enacted Acts of the Legislature not inconsistent herewith. The general administration and responsibility for the proper operation of said system are hereby vested in a State Board of Trustees, to be known as the State Board of Trustees of the Employees Retirement System of Texas, which Board shall be constituted and shall serve as may now or hereafter be provided by the Legislature. Said Board shall exercise such powers as are herein provided together with such other powers and duties not inconsistent herewith as may be prescribed by the Legislature. All moneys from whatever source coming into the Fund and all other securities, moneys, and assets of the Employees Retirement System of Texas shall be administered by said Board and said Board shall be the trustees thereof. The Treasurer of the State of Texas shall be custodian of said moneys and securities. Said board is hereby authorized and empowered to acquire, hold, manage, purchase, sell, assign, trade, transfer, and dispose of any securities, evidences of debt, and other investments in which said securities, moneys, and assets have been or may hereafter be invested by said Board. Said Board is hereby authorized and empowered to invest and reinvest any of said moneys, securities, and assets, as well as the proceeds of any of such investments, in bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness issued, or assumed or guaranteed in whole or in part, by the United States or any agency of the United States, or by the State of Texas, or by any county, city, school district, municipal corporation, or other political subdivision of the State of Texas, both general and special obligations; or in home office facilities to be used in administering the Employees Retirement System including land, equipment, and office building; or in such corporation bonds, notes, other evidences of indebtedness, and corporation stocks, including common and preferred stocks, of any corporation created or existing under the laws of the United States or of any of the states of the United States, as said Board may deem to be proper investments; provided that in making each and all of such investments said Board shall exercise the judgment and care under the circumstances then prevailing which men of ordinary prudence, discretion, and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs, not in regard to speculation but in regard to the permanent disposition of their funds, considering the probable income therefrom as well as probable safety of their capital; and further provided, that a sufficient sum shall be kept on hand to meet payments as they become due each year under such retirement plan, as may now or hereafter be provided by law. Unless investments authorized herein are hereafter further restricted by an Act of the Legislature, no more than one per cent (1%) of the book value of the total assets of the Employees Retirement System shall be invested in the stock of any one (1) corporation, nor shall more than five per cent (5%) of the voting stock of any one (1) corporation be owned; and provided further, that stocks eligible for purchase shall be restricted to stocks of companies incorporated within the United States which have paid cash dividends for ten (10) consecutive years or longer immediately prior to the date of purchase and which, except for bank stocks and insurance stocks, are listed upon an exchange registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission or its successors; and provided further, that not less than twenty-five per cent (25%) at any one time of the book value of investments of said Fund shall be invested in Government and Municipal Securities as enumerated above. This Amendment shall be self-enacting and shall become effective immediately upon its adoption without any enabling legislation."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on November 5, 1968, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"FOR the Constitutional Amendment amending Subsection (a) of Section 62, Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas relating to the Employees Retirement Fund and the Employees Retirement System of Texas, revising provisions for investments of moneys and other assets of the Fund, and changing other existing provisions and making other new provisions with respect to the administration of the Employees Retirement System."

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment amending Subsection (a) of Section 62, Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas relating to the Employees Retirement Fund and the Employees Retirement System of Texas, revising provisions for investments of moneys and other assets of the Fund, and changing other existing provisions and making other new provisions with respect to the administration of the Employees Retirement System."

Sec. 3. The Governor of Texas shall issue the necessary Proclamation for the election and this Amendment shall be published in the manner and for the length of time required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Steel Union Locals Study Pay Package

PITTSBURGH (AP) — With the threat of a nationwide steel strike fading before a reported 78-cent offer, the stage is set today for the first big test of new power given the United Steelworkers Union rank and file.

It was reported the wage and benefits package, for three years, still is being negotiated and may be worth another 10 cents an hour before it is wrapped up

"They have an agreement," said Anthony Tomko, president of a 5,000-man local at McKeesport, Pa. "The problem now seems to be whether the union leaders can sell it to the members."

For the first time, the 600 local presidents have the power to ratify or reject a contract, or call a strike when the current agreement runs out at midnight Wednesday. They are organized into a group called the basic steel industry conference, meeting this afternoon.

Officially, the union wasn't even admitting Monday that a new offer from the industry was on the table, much less that it was acceptable to top negotiators.

But union sources passed the word that the industry had offered a 20-cent hourly wage increase immediately, with raises of 12 and 13 cents to follow in the second and third year of the contract—a total of 45 cents.

All workers not covered by incentive pay—the biggest issue in some plants—would get a 5 per cent bonus. Pensions would be raised from $5 to $6.50 a month per year of service for men with 30 years service, meaning they could get $195 a month instead of $150.

An extra paid holiday, for a total of eight, was thrown in, along with pay for widows whose husbands are killed on the job. An extra seven cents would be added to the job classifications spread, meaning that top classifications would get seven cents additional per hour by the time the three-year contract ended.

Provisions on other union demands, such as unemployment, insurance, severance and job training, could not be learned. But these contract improvements could push the total package up another 5 or 10 cents, to possibly 88 cents an hour.

One source who described the offer said the top union negotiators were pleased, except for the provision on incentive pay. They want 10 per cent instead of 5, he said.

Before the figures were bandied in hotel corridors Monday night, Joseph P. Molony, the union's international vice president, talked briefly to the industry conference, and made the strongest statement of the month-long negotiations.

"It looks encouraging," he said "Considerable progress has been made. Tomorrow or the day after we'll have an agreement without government intervention—I hope."

The right to approve contracts was given to the local presidents in answer to demands for more democracy in the union. It was approved at the same union convention where President I. W. Abel pushed through a proposal for a rank and file strike vote.

If the offer turns out to be worth 78 cents—the figures are always subject to different interpretations—it will hit the 6 per cent the union was demanding.

Steelworkers averaged $3.84 an hour in May, when checks were swollen by overtime, but normal earnings are closer to $3.70.

The contract would directly affect about 450,000 men in basic steel, and another 100,000 in closely allied industries.

But the negotiations involve only the 388,000 men who work for the 11 largest steel companies. The package then becomes the pattern for other companies.

RULING AGAINST BIRTH CONTROL

Key Catholics Reaction Mixed

By The Associated Press

Some Roman Catholics have reacted with dissent or indifference to Pope Paul VI's encyclical against birth control while others hailed the papal statement as refreshing and a reaffirmation of Christian truth.

The Pope, in a long-awaited pronouncement Monday, upheld the prohibition on all artificial means of contraception and appealed to leaders of civil governments everywhere to outlaw contraception, sterilization and abortion as means of limiting population.

SURPRISE

Most liberal Catholics who spoke out after the announcement took the view that those among the world's half billion Catholics who already use modern birth control methods would continue to do so based on the belief that sexual morality is a matter of conscience.

Gerald L. Fitzgerald, a Catholic layman and official of the Christian Family Movement, said in New York: "I suspect that Pope Paul and a lot of church authorities are going to be surprised by the lack of concern caused by the encyclical.

"If Pope Paul had come out with it four or three or even two years ago, it might have made a difference," he said. "But by now I think that most couples who have been struggling with the problem have made up their minds and settled their consciences."

TRUTH

Commonweal, a liberal weekly journal edited by Catholics, said in an editorial for publication this week: "For millions of lay people, the birth control question has been confronted, prayed over and settled—and not in the direction of the Pope's encyclical."

On another note, Triumph magazine, which voices a Conservative viewpoint, declared the papal statement was "a courageous reaffirmation of Christian truth" that "invites the world to return to moral sanity."

James Francis Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles, a conservative, found the Pope's statement "refreshing" and "in conformity with time-established principles of right reason and scientific research."

CASE CLOSED

A spokesman for Archbishop Terenece J. Cooke of New York said the papal decree was "an authoritative teaching on the part of the Pope that does require assent by Catholics."

"Rome has spoken," said Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston, "and for the time being the case is closed."

In Washington a group claiming to speak for 142 of the 1,223 clergymen in the archdiocese went on record against the anticipated ban last Saturday, saying in a letter to Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle:

"Many of your priests cannot in conscience follow this directive because it gives no room for either probable opinion regarding the practice of contraception or the right of conscience so clearly enunciated in the documents of Vatican II."

'I DON'T CARE'

Mary Louise Birmingham, a Catholic housewife and editor of Hackensack, N.J., said: "The papacy is an outmoded institution, something like the English monarchy. Catholics are paying less and less attention to it."

"I don't care what the Pope says," said Maryann Napolie, a young Manhattan housewife and mother of two. "I have the feeling the clergy are talking to themselves on this issue. I've made my decision, and couldn't care less about people at the Vatican who are designing another Galileo case."

Jewish and Protestant leaders and officials of population control organizations were generally critical of the Pope's stand as were some medical authorities.

Evangelist Billy Graham, arriving in New York from Paris, said: "In general I would disagree with it. Anyone who travels has seen we need some form of birth control."

NO SUCH SIN

Graham added: "Within the framework of marriage, there is no such sin as sex."

Outside the United States, there was also a good deal of negative reaction.

Anglican bishops attending the Lambeth Conference in London expressed fears that the encyclical would harm closer relations between Anglicans and Roman Catholics.

Belgians heard a Jesuit priest, Father Delepierre, declare over their national radio: "The Pope's encyclical is not the language that people expected. It appeals to a very high ideal but is too remote from the daily life of Catholics."

'Custer' Bites Dust, Limps Back To U.S. Living Rooms

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actors, like producers, writers and directors in network television, worry about critical notices and —even more—about ratings.

But while a short-lived series may be an embarrassing footnote to a career, there is considerable evidence that even an unmitigated disaster can help rather than hurt the victims trapped in the wreckage.

BIT THE DUST

A magnificent example of this is the impending debut of a young actor named Wayne Maunder in a new CBS series, "Lancer." A year ago, Maunder, a complete unknown, was about to emerge as a star, playing the title role in ABC's "Legend of Custer."

The Custer show, as it turned out, was the earliest and most spectacular derailment of the season. It outraged Indian organizations and historians, was lambasted by critics and tuned out by the audience.

But Maunder walked away unscathed and will return to living rooms in another Western series with costar status.

Similarly, Tony Franciosa had one unhappy season as a playboy in a limp comedy series a few years back but healed his scars quickly enough to be coming back as one of three costars of NBC's 90-minute "Name of the Game."

Phyllis Diller tried a situation comedy that didn't work. She returns this season as star of an NBC variety show.

SENSATION

There is the TV trail blazed by the Smothers Brothers; their one-season comedy-fantasy series didn't work, but their CBS variety hour has been a sensation.

Jack Lord's series about a rodeo rider didn't last long, but he will be the star of CBS' "Hawaii Five-O," a police story. Will Hutchins had a bad time with "Hey, Landlord" a couple of years back, but returns as Dagwood of CBS' "Blondie." His wife will be played by Patricia Harty whose "Occasional Wife" series was dropped after one season.

STONY SILENCE

Stony silence surrounds the sudden action of ABC late last week, notifying Quinn Martin that it was ending its relationship with the producer, except for his successful "FBI" series. Their contract had four more years to run, and Martin had just finished the first of three planned two-hour feature films for ABC.

Martin, who also produced "The Fugitive," would say merely that ABC "has sent us a telegram instructing us to cease all production except 'The FBI'. I can't say anything except there was no prior notice and I have turned the whole matter over to our attorneys."

An ABC spokesman in New York said there was no comment.

BIG JAM

The television networks for two seasons jostled and shoved each other to get their new season's product on the air first. This season NBC has scheduled most of its season premiere during the week of Sept. 15. There will be a big jam, however, the following week when both ABC and CBS start their new shows. One happy result of the timing—almost two weeks later than last season—is that rerun time next spring will be delayed a bit.

More People Than Ever Are Visiting This Year

AUSTIN — More people than ever before want to know what to see and do in Texas.

Most of them ask — and get the answer from — the Texas Highway Department.

In fact, 46 per cent more visitors were helped by the department in the first six months of this year than in the same period of 1967.

State Highway Engineer J. C. Dingwall reported today that travel services rendered to visitors from January through June this year were 502,326. In the first six months of last year, the total was 342,115.

This includes assistance to travelers given at Tourist Information Bureaus as well as inquiries answered by the Highway Department's Austin offices.

Altogether, nearly a million persons have requested and received travel services during the first half-year from the Texas Highway Department.

Comparatively, services rendered by the seven state-line Tourist Information Bureaus which were in operation in 1967 are up 30.4 per cent for the first half of 1968. Included are bureaus at Anthony, Denison, Gainesville, Orange, Texarkana, Waskom and Wichita Falls.

Two new bureaus opened this year at highway gateways in Amarillo and Laredo. The Highway Department also operates the Capitol Information Center in Austin and a special Hemis-Fair center in the Institute of Texan Cultures.

"Each of the department's 11 centers are operating at near-capacity now during the peak of the recreational travel season," Dingwall said.

Other services also emphasize that "highways are for people."

For example, approximately 1,100 safety rest areas, roadside parks and scenic turnouts are maintained on the state's 69-thousand-mile highway network.

New safety rest areas on Interstate Highways include comfort stations, drinking water and special Info-sites which call attention to historical, recreational and cultural resources nearby. Each Info-site also has a dispenser offering free maps to the visitor.

Job Placements Show Decline

Job placements for July by the Texas Employment Commission in Big Spring took a sharp dip below June figures, according to Leon Kinney, office manager.

The decline in assignments was due to large number of teenagers placed in June when schools closed for the summer, he said.

There were 244 non-agricultural placements and 412 agricultural placements from July 1-25, Kinney said. Of that group were included 102 youths placements in non-agricultural jobs and six youths in agriculture.

There were 323 unemployment claims filed, he said, but that figure continues to drop each month.
