County Budget And Tax Rate Are To Be Set

Members of the Hall County Commissioners Court have been called to meet in Memphis Friday, August 20, to adopt the county budget and to set the county and precinct tax rates, Judge M. O. Goodpasture, chairman of the court, stated Wednesday.

Judge Goodpasture intimated that there is a possibility the county tax rate may be set at a slightly lower figure for next year than is now in effect. At least one precinct, however, will see a slight raise, he predicted. The current county tax rate is 89 cents.

Taxpayers of the county are invited to attend the tax meeting, Judge Goodpasture said.

VISITORS TAKE OVER NET MEET

Local No. 1 Team Eliminated From Tourney; Childress Racquetters Advance

Childress netters are all but taking control of the Memphis invitation tennis tournament this week, with two Childress teams in the finals of the first-flight doubles and several Childress players looking impressive in the singles.

Smith and Stanmeyer of Childress pulled a surprise Tuesday night when they eliminated Memphis' first-ranking doubles team in three sets. The Memphis team, composed of Malone Hagan and W. S. Bennett, had the contest at match point several times in the second set; but the Childress youths rallied and stroked out a victory. Fletcher and Woodrow Carter, the Childress No. 1 team, will meet Smith and Stanmeyer in the doubles finals Thursday night or Friday night.

The first-flight singles matches have not progressed very far, but the outstanding players are conceded to be Woodrow and Fletcher Carter of Childress, Malone Hagan of Memphis, and Sheffy Mahan of Childress.

The second-flight doubles championship game will be played between Billy Kinslow and Cearley Read Kinard and Ray Childress and Jack Norman, all of Memphis. Chief contenders for the second-flight singles are Kinard, Clay Crow, Childress, and Harry Delaney.

The tourney is being held on the lighted Memphis Country Club courts each night, and a large gallery has been present all week.

John Deaver Gives Address At Rotary

District Attorney John Deaver was the principal speaker Tuesday noon at the regular weekly luncheon of the Memphis Rotary Club in the dining room of the First Christian Church.

Mr. Deaver used "the search for the holy grail" in mythology as the basis of his talk. He told of Sir Lancelot spending the greater part of his life looking in foreign countries for the holy cup before finding it just outside his own gates. He compared this to people of today who seek their pleasure and conquests afar when they could do as well at home.

Several guests were present at the Rotary luncheon from Fort Worth, Amarillo, and Childress.

TWO BALES OF COTTON GINNED HERE MONDAY

M. M. Monzingo And M. M. Shirley Are First Producers

M. M. Shirley of Plaska and M. M. Monzingo of Memphis brought the first bales of Hall County cotton for the 1937 season into Memphis last Monday afternoon and had them ginned.

Mr. Shirley, who farms on the Walker place near Plaska, would have won undisputed the honor of ginning the first bale of 1937 cotton but for the fact that the cotton caught fire while being ginned.

While the blaze was being put out and the gin cleaned, Mr. Monzingo brought his bale, grown east of the city, in and had it ginned at another gin. Thus, the race for the first bale honors was said to have ended in a dead heat.

The Shirley bale weighed 430 pounds after being ginned from over 1,800 pounds of "snap" cotton. The Monzingo bale of 447 pounds was ginned from 1,830 pounds of "snap" cotton. The staple of both bales was short.

Mr. Shirley's cotton was ginned at the Harrison Gin, and Mr. Monzingo's cotton was ginned at the Co-op Gin. T. T. Harrison and Coleman White, the ginners, bought the first two bales of cotton, paying 10 cents a pound and giving the ginning free.

Memphis merchants this week made up a purse of $50 to be divided between the two cotton producers.

Webster advanced to the finals by defeating Richardson of Pampa, Hoffman of Shamrock, and Holmes of Shamrock.

Coach Harold Walker, although now of Clarendon, played with the Memphis club and won the third flight. R. S. Greene, Ed Foxhall, Jack Norman, Bill D. Hart, and Ed Cudd, other members of the Memphis team, lost their first rounds of match play.

Golfers were entered in the annual tourney from Stratford, Pampa, Lefors, Shamrock, Hedley, Memphis, and Clarendon.

Light Rains Are Received In Hall County This Week

Temperatures ranging well over the 100-degree mark were lowered by cooling showers in Memphis and in spotted areas over the county Tuesday night and Wednesday afternoon.

Memphis and vicinity received a light sprinkle Tuesday night, and on Wednesday afternoon the precipitation ranged from a tenth of an inch to .21 of an inch in Memphis. The official weather gauge in the western part of the city registered .10 of an inch, but a gauge in the eastern section showed .21 of an inch.

The rainfall to date since January 1, 1937, has measured 9.76 inches.

A half-inch rain was reported in the Brice sector Tuesday night, with the moisture being received as far south as Red River. Lesley received a good shower, and other showers in that vicinity were reported Wednesday afternoon. A heavy shower was reported in the Parnell area. General showers were reported at Plaska, with a small strip receiving a good rain.

The light rains will aid the cotton crops over the county to some extent, but most farms are needing additional rains.

Announcement was made Wednesday that Eugene Sanderson, chosen on "Little All-America" last fall from Howard Payne, had been named coach at Estelline.

nutt resigned several months ago to take an Oklahoma job, and Bob Clark of Lakeview has resigned to finish his college degree.

Prospects for a winning team at Lakeview are none too promising at the present time, it is said; but 10 lettermen are returning at Estelline, and everything is in readiness for fall training to begin.

Farm Purchase Act Is Explained By Rural Resettlement Administration

DALLAS.—Tenant farmers from every corner of Texas and Oklahoma are writing to the Resettlement Administration, and some are coming long distances in person to make applications for loans to buy farms under the recently enacted Bankhead-Jones bill, but Paul V. Maris, acting for the Regional Director of the Resettlement Administration, said this week that no agency has yet been designated to handle the new activity.

"It is useless for farmers to write or call upon the Resettlement Administration at this time," Maris said. "The bill provides for a Farmers Home Corporation to carry out the provisions of the act. Until this corporation is set up and has established its own personnel or has designated some agency of the Department of Agriculture to execute this program, it will be impossible to refer farmers to anyone who has authority to give them any information."

The organization placed in charge must then set up county committees, Maris said. These committees will examine applications of persons desiring to finance home ownership through one of these loans and also examine and appraise the farms. Until these committees have actually been appointed and are functioning, no applications can be approved at any place. Organization of the machinery will start with naming the three members of the board of directors of the Farmers Home Corporation, then proceed all the way down through regional or state or district to county headquarters. The bill states that all applications must be made through a county representative who shall be either the county agent or someone else chosen by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Loans will be made only for farms large enough to constitute an efficient farm management unit, which will enable a diligent farm family to carry on successfully the type of farming best suited to the locality. Only farm tenants, farm laborers, sharecroppers, and other individuals who earn or recently earned the major portion of their income from farming operations are eligible.

Precedence is to be given to persons who are married or who have dependent families, and wherever practical, to persons who are able to make an initial down payment. Farmers who have been thrifty enough to become owners of livestock and farm implements necessary to run the farm are also to be given general preference, where other considerations are equal.

The county committee must certify that they believe the applicant will be successful in carrying out the provisions of the agreement. The committee must also certify to the reasonable value of the farm.

Size of the farms shall be determined according to local conditions, but shall in no instance exceed the amount the county committee believes is the honest value of the land. Loans must be paid within an agreed period of time not to exceed forty years, and the interest rate will be three per cent per annum on all unpaid balances. A surplus above the average annual payment will be collected in periods of above normal production or price. Reduced payments will be allowed when farm income is substandard. The farmer may pay out and take a clear title at any time he is able. However, he cannot make final payment or the government's interest be released prior to five years from the making of the loan, except with the consent of the Secretary.

Loans are to be distributed throughout the 48 states, and Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, on the basis of farm population and the prevalence of tenancy. The bill leaves the apportioning of money to the Secretary of Agriculture, rather than specifying for any state or territory.

In carrying out the provisions of these loans, the Secretary is to avoid expansion in production, especially where it might tend to defeat the policy of Congress as set forth in provisions of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment act and amendments. The Secretary is also instructed to assist farmers who are borrowing from this corporation to become established upon lands now in cultivation. He is to avoid encouraging them to settle on land yet to be broken, except in instances where this is deemed particularly advisable.

Congressman Marvin Jones has been quoted as saying this act is merely a beginning. It provides for an appropriation not to exceed ten million dollars for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1938. Administrative expenses must not exceed five per cent of the sum actually appropriated. An appropriation of twenty-five million dollars was authorized for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1939, and appropriations not to exceed fifty millions dollars for each fiscal year thereafter, with no limit as to the number of years.

This act also empowers the President to allot money out of relief appropriations for rehabilitation loans, for purchase of livestock, farm equipment, supplies, and other minor needs including the re-financing of indebtedness. This year twenty-five million dollars has been appropriated for this purpose. In succeeding years the President is to allocate such sums as he believes necessary.

Included in this provision is a section authorizing the continuation of debt adjustment activities.

New Tax Law Becomes Effective

From August 21st to August 31st, 1937, inclusive, past state taxes can be budgeted and paid off in ten equal installments of 60 days apart.

By paying one-tenth down within the ten days (August 1st to 10th inclusive) and one-tenth each sixty days thereafter, past due taxes are liquidated within twenty months.

This is the first law ever passed in the history of Texas to make it so easy on the tax payer. If made use of, no doubt the law will die. In other words, this is an experiment not to be re-enacted unless it serves the needs of the people.

Every one who needs it should tie on to this service without delay.

By using this method, $10.00 every two months saved on tax collector will retire a $100.00 tax debt within twenty months easier than trying to plank down the whole hundred dollars at once.

DIZZY SPELLS

How To Help The Passing of Women's Most Critical Years —40 to 50

"I suffered from dizziness for years and decided to try Kruschen. Of course I knew it is my age that is the cause of it all. I am 47 but I have been told this and that would help me so I tried all I could but still had the same old dizziness. Now I'm on my 3rd jar of Kruschen and don't get dizzy nearly so often. I used to get so muddled at times. Now I feel different—altogether much clearer. There must be hundreds of women like me. They must stick to Kruschen every morning." Mrs. L. B. N., August 24, 1936

Kruschen Salts is sold the world over—millions of jars a year. If you want to help avoid headaches, dizziness, smothering spells, weakness, fits of depression—if you want to keep feeling more healthy and happy—up and about your work—take a third teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water first thing every morning.

Needy Families to Be Dropped Until Cotton Is Picked

Some strong hints that relief clients in Texas can take their choice of picking cotton or shifting for themselves appeared this week.

Adam Johnson, director for the Texas Relief Commission, advised them to "get out and make a living."

"We're cutting them all off (the rolls) now until the cotton crop is picked. I can't say what will happen after that, but I've lived in Texas all my life and I have never seen conditions in the state any better," he said.

"It seems to me it's time for these people to get out of the notion that the government owes them a living."

In San Antonio 1,000 families on relief were cut off and told to head for the Rio Grande Valley to pick cotton if they wanted aid later on. The Valley and other South Texas areas sorely need pickers.

H. K. McBath, state district director, said there was nothing mandatory about the suggestion, but that no further assistance would be forthcoming if clients rejected the opportunity to pick cotton this fall.

SWINE RAISING OFFERS FARMER MEAT AND CASH

Price Trend Good;
Balanced Ration
Needed For Gain

(This is the second of a series of short, authentic articles on livestock production and feeding, published as a service to farmers and stockmen.)

With hog prices at new highs for recent years and the price outlook for fall and winter favorable, pork production offers an opportunity for Southern farmers to supply their own meat and to market their feed crops profitably through pork.

"In the first half of the 1937-38 hog marketing year," says the Department of Agriculture, "the number of hogs slaughtered will be smaller than in the corresponding period of 1936-37. With prospects fairly favorable for continuation of the present relatively strong consumer demand for meats, hog prices next fall and winter will probably average as high as, or perhaps higher than in the fall and winter of 1936-37."

Require More Protein
Hog production offers many advantages for farmers, efficient livestock farming, requiring a relatively small investment, and producing gains more rapidly and efficiently than other classes of stock. Important, also, is the fact that pigs can be marketed at a wide range of weights, giving the feeder comparative freedom to take advantage of a good market by selling early or to feed to heavier weights for later marketing.

Because of the rapid growth of swine, and of the fact that they consume relatively little roughage, the supplying of adequate amounts of protein is of major importance in the economical feeding of hogs. Pigs need rations containing liberal proportions of protein. Unless this is supplied, they will make slow and expensive gains.

Self-Feeders Useful
Self-feeders, which enable the hog to balance his own ration, save time and labor for the hog raiser. In the South, where pastures are available much of the year, the use of self-feeders on pastures or forage crops is rapidly gaining in popularity.

Protein supplements in the self-fed increase both the gain and rate of gain. A half-and-half mixture of cottonseed meal and tankage, fish meal or shrimp bran, is the standard protein supplement on many farms. The price and availability usually determines the choice of grain used in the self-feeder. Plenty of water and a mineral mixture of equal parts of ground limestone or oyster shells, bone meal and salt, should be available at all times.

The half-and-half mixture of cottonseed meal and tankage, fish meal or shrimp bran is widely used, also, to supply essential protein for swine "hogging down" or "hogging off" corn fields.

A Well-Balanced Ration
Other feeders prefer to mix the grain and protein supplements, rather than using a self-feeder. The following ration is excellent for feeding pigs from the time that they weigh about 75 pounds until ready for market at a weight of about 250 pounds. It may be fed either with green pasture or in the dry lot, and offers a wide choice of grains to be used.

Sheeled corn; or milo, kafir or feterita; or finely ground barley or coarsely ground wheat, 87 pounds; cottonseed meal 9 pounds; tankage 4 pounds; limestone, or oyster shell flour, bone meal or wood ashes 1 pound; salt one-half pound.

When hand-fed, pigs should receive all of the mixture that they will clean up quickly twice daily. This may be fed dry or as slop.—From Educational Service of the National Cottonseed Products Association. (Adv.)

NEW RATE EFFECTIVE NOW!

Requiring usage of the modernized, speedier, and cleaner type of cookery provided by the Electric Range, a new, comprehensive rate, conducive to greater use of Electric Service, becomes effective with this month's payment of bills. Under its provisions ALL OVER 50 kilowatt-hours of electric current used each month costs only 2 1/2 cents per kilowatt-hour. The basis for the reduction is the proven theory that "the more you use, the less it costs."

This reduction, amounting to 16 2/3 per cent, is designed to make Electric Cookery as practical, from the standpoint of fuel, as any other type. The fact that there is no combustion makes Electric Cookery cleaner. A greatly improved flattened calrod heats almost instantaneously and hugs the bottom of utensils to prevent escape of heat. There is no flame to burn up oxygen, thus making air fresher and cooler in the kitchen. It is automatic, thus making it easier. Cleaner! Cooler! Easier! And this new, low rate makes Electric Cookery just as cheap or, in many instances, cheaper. Add faster. It's another reason for switching to Electric Cookery.

Lowers Cost of Lighting, Refrigeration And All Other Residential Usage Over 50 K.W.H. per Month

Many, many homes already use over 50 kilowatt-hours of electric current each month. By adding the electric range to kitchen equipment (it has proven itself the most valuable of all Electric Servants) you secure a rate of 2 1/2 cents per kilowatt-hour on ALL current used over 50 K.W.H. used monthly.

This means that when you reach the higher usage brackets for light, refrigeration, and all other domestic purposes, your electric bill is calculated at a rate which actually amounts to a saving. It permits increased usage at no additional cost. Best of all, it permits Electric Cookery to enter homes which heretofore considered it "too high."

We invite you to come in so that we may show you the latest models in Electric Ranges. We believe you will approve of Electric Cookery—and the new rate that permits you to use the switch.

desert" colors woven into attractive patterns of delicate gossamer shawls and gorgeous Navajo blankets. After swiftly descending along the rock-base road for nearly a mile, he reaches the floor of the canyon and views the Palo Duro Canyon becomes emerges into Red River) bordered with green trees that make a beautiful scene, imparting a feeling of peace to the beholder.

He can drive for five or six miles along winding roads, and scene after scene of splendor greet the eye until the mind becomes addled and cannot fully grasp the panorama—God-made, not a human's painting.

The park is just an entering wedge to the canyon. For some 30 or 40 miles east the canyon grows larger and deeper until it finally emerges into the valleys of Red River and Mulberry only a few miles west of the Hall County border.

Texas and the National Government should take steps to get the thousands of square miles within the canyon walls embraced into a state and national park reserve. The beauty is not excelled by even the Grand Canyon, and it is one of a very few places in Texas that was certainly endowed by the Creator for man's uplift and pleasure.

The Palo Duro highway should be put through at the very earliest possible time. Texas appropriated several million dollars to the Centennial last year, and was more than repaid in the sale of gasoline to visitors. Texas could build the canyon road and it would soon be paid for by the visitors making trips purposely to see the canyon.

The State Park board should look after the Texas parks and promote them first instead of turning aside like they did last week to see the New Mexico show place—Carlsbad Caverns. When the Palo Duro Canyon becomes the state and national park (and it will be some day) sight-seeing visitors will travel from far and near to look upon its beauty and will not be disappointed.

Hon. Harry Hines, one of the State Highway Commissioners, has expressed himself as being highly in favor of a state highway through the canyon. It is hoped that he will see to it that such a road is completed before he retires from the commission to become Governor of Texas. If he will, the people of the Panhandle and West Texas will rise up and "call him blessed."

Bill Phlegler of West Main street says the difference between Hell and taxes is that Hell doesn't get worse every time Congress meets. . . . He says his electric clock on his car gets warm and he has disconnected it for that reason, and is thinking about disconnecting the motor for the same reason.

Earnest E. convention and the first time the paper had been entered in competition with West Texas papers, and getting such marked recognition was quite an honor.

In judging a paper in such a contest, several things are considered, such as general appearance, news and news value, makeup, typography, advertisements, all combined to make a well-balanced paper. No effort had been made to produce a prize-winning paper, for it was not decided to enter the paper until last Thursday, and the placement was an agreeable surprise to the entire Democrat force.

Hard times, depression and drought have no terrors for the people of Wellington and Collingsworth County. PALO DURO STATE PARK IGNORED

CLYDE WARWICK, editor of the Canyon News and a veteran of political wars, has protested to the State Park Board for cancelling its advertised trip to the Palo Duro State Park last week-end, claiming that the park board snubbed the park again.

The group was on a tour over the state visiting the various state parks. They visited at Lubbock, but then decided to go from there to see the Carlsbad Cavern instead of visiting the Palo Duro State Park as had been planned. This in spite of the fact that two national park officials were waiting for them at Palo Duro.

Mr. Warwick, who formerly was a state representative and who knows the political ropes, says the park is ignored because of its geographical and political location. The Amarillo News quoted him as declaring that Governor Allred had promised to give this region an appointment on the park board but had not come anywhere nearer than Lubbock with his appointments. He said the Lubbock man was naturally little interested in Palo Duro Park.

We have known Clyde for years and years, and we know that he knows what he is talking about. The state discriminates against Palo Duro Park, although the park is held in high regard by the National Park Service.

The Palo Duro State Park is not over a three-hour drive from Memphis, and scores of citizens from this vicinity visit it annually. The Editor of The Democrat visited it Sunday. Another member of The Democrat family spent his honeymoon there.

The Palo Duro Park is very impressive. Its beauty cannot be described; it's very little short of the Grand Canyon. And if the down-state politicians want to ignore this section, we can do a little ignoring ourselves when we go to the polls.

PUBLICIZING COUNTY FINANCE

A FEW MONTHS AGO THE DEMOCRAT carried an editorial stating in effect that the publishing of counties' receipts and expenses would go far in curtailing the expenses. Other newspapers showed their approval of the idea by re-printing the editorial.

Now the Fort Worth Star-Telegram comes out with an editorial on "Defect of County Government," in which views are expressed similar to those held by The Democrat.

Speaking of counties generally and quoting Senator J. Manley Head of Stephenville, the Star-Telegram stated: "When a taxpayer studies his tax receipt closely, he will find that a large proportion of his tax is paid to the county. Just how much money is collected and just where and how it is disbursed is never known to the average taxpayer, except during election years, when opponents of office holders begin heated discussions, and the public is always in doubt as to what to believe and what not to believe. It is my thought that a quarterly or semi-annual publication of the receipt and disbursement of all moneys collected by the county government would be an enlightenment to the public. There is no doubt that much money is wasted and much money is spent which, if under constant scrutiny of the taxpayers, would be saved. Too many special funds are dipped into and depleted, not in keeping with the law itself, and the white light of publicity would be a tremendous brake on extravagances now practised."

SOCIAL SECURITY AMENDMENTS

IN AN EFFORT to place Texas in line with the broad security program enacted by the 75th Congress, the two proposed Constitutional amendments for the needy blind and for dependent children will be placed before the voters on Monday, August 23. Figures secured from the State Board of Control show that it will be far cheaper for the state to support these two classes of needy in their own homes, and in a home environment, than to place them in institutions.

Institutional care costs not less than $25 per person. Aid to the needy blind will cost the state not more than $15 per month per person. Aid to dependent and destitute children, under the terms of the proposed amendment, will cost the state not more than $8 per month for one child in the family nor more than $12 per month for a family of two or more children.

THE NEW TAX LAW

A NEW DELINQUENT TAX LAW becomes effective Saturday that should help the taxpayer as well as the state. The law is one of the first ever passed by the Texas Legislature to benefit the man paying the taxes. It should prove an aid to the taxpayer because it calls for the budgeting and paying of taxes in regular installments.

Paying on the installment plan is something the average citizen can understand, and tax obligations can be paid off this way the same as can automobiles, radios, houses, or engagement rings.

You simply pay one-tenth of your tax debt, and then pay the rest in equal installments coming due every two months. This is easier for most persons than raising all the money at once.

The partial-payment tax plan has the endorsement of County Tax Collector J. M. Ferrel, County Judge M. O. Goodpasture, and the Hall County Commissioners Court.

Panhandled Panhandle Paragraphs

Culled From The Democrat Exchanges

Gonda Biggers of The Prairie of WTSC writes: "The Memphis Democrat says that 'Irate Farmers Keep Guns Near for Wild Dogs.' It looks to me like the wild dogs would be dangerous enough without the guns." A very clever play on words. Gracie Allen also uses this style effectively.

The Plainview Evening Herald informs us through courtesy of the Fort Worth Livestock Reporter that if you want to find out what kind of weather we will have at any time just recall how the weather was 23 years ago. The weather travels in a 23-year cycle, according to the Smithsonian Institution. If you have trouble in remembering the kind of weather that was had on a certain date 23 years ago, ask your wife what dress she wore on that day. The dress should make her remember the weather.

Terse, And to the Point

Mrs. Art Barnett decided to write some stories for the Groom News. Here is the first one carried by the Groom paper: A man killed a dog belonging to another man. The son of the man whose dog was killed proceeded to whip the man who killed the dog of the man he was the son of. The man who was the son of the man whose dog was killed was arrested on complaint of the man who was assaulted by the son of the man whose dog the man who was assaulted had killed.

No one has any right to hunt or fish on any land other than his own without the consent of the owner, we are informed by the McLean News. It is not necessary to post land, as the law protects the land owner against trespassers of any kind. Hunters who trespass are subject to punishment, and it is only necessary to report them to the game warden of the district to get quick action, the News states.

Tobacco Crop Failure

For the first time in four years, P. A. Buntin, only tobacco raiser in this section of the state, will have a crop failure. The aged Clarendon citizen reported planting tobacco here at his home four years ago, and each year since has raised a bumper crop, enough for his own use and to give his friends. However, his crop was planted this year approximately two months ago, just after the good rains. Hot weather was too much for the tender plants, and his crop is blighted.—Clarendon News.

Her Face Red?

This from the Miami Chief: A farmer brought some produce to town and sold it. Thinking that he would surprise his wife, bought a new suit of clothes, a hat, and a pair of shoes and placed them under the back seat of his car. On the way home he stopped at the river, and, taking off his clothes, threw them in. Then he reached under the seat for his new outfit. It was gone. Finally he got in his car and said, "Oh well, I'll surprise her anyway."

Mr. Advertiser: We're Happy to Announce

The Democrat

Is Winner In West Texas Press Contest

(Held in Connection With 11th Annual Convention in Sweetwater Last Week)

WINNING ADVERTISEMENTS

According to accomplished and un-interested newspaper publishers and editors from various parts of Texas, who acted as judges of weekly newspapers at the West Texas Press Association's annual convention at Sweetwater last week-end, the MEMPHIS DEMOCRAT is the third best weekly newspaper in West Texas. Considering the fact that there are hundreds of newspapers published in this great section of Texas . . . the DEMOCRAT is highly honored with the placement.

The judges made their decision on several major points: General make-up, typography, head styles, neatness of advertisements, and individual page attractiveness.

Of the DEMOCRAT one of the judges said, "The Democrat is an honor to any city the size of Memphis. Merchants of the town could not wish for a better advertising medium, for in the publication are the neatest and best set advertisements to be found in any newspaper in West Texas. The paper is showing improvement so fast that it is likely to go far in the great State Press Association contest next year."

The publication's aim has been to serve the advertiser better by giving the readers a better all-around newspaper . . . our accomplishments in victory has only been extra fun!

Only two cities in this great expanse, West Texas, can claim better home-town papers than Memphis . . . Pecos and Snyder, in the order named. No other paper in this immediate territory offers the merchants a better advertising medium. A winning newspaper with winning advertisements . . . to the rescue of Memphis merchants.

"Neatest and Best Advertisements in West Texas"

REDUCTION IN ELECTRIC RATE IS ANNOUNCED FOR MEMPHIS

The West Texas Utilities Company this week ignored the rising cost of living when it announced a reduction of 16 2-3 per cent in electric rates for Memphis.

A new low rate of 2 1-2 cents per kilowatt-hour for all current over 50 kilowatt-hours used monthly in homes equipped with electric ranges was announced by E. M. Wilson, local manager. The reduction makes electricity as practical as any other fuel for cooking purposes, he said.

The 2 1-2 cent rate is effective with this month's bills. Only customers using electric cooking will benefit by reduction. It is based on the theory that "the more you use, the less it costs," Mr. Wilson said.

Where the electric range is installed, all current over 50 kilowatt-hours used each month will take the lower rate. It is a step in the "incentive rate schedule" which provides low-cost current for refrigeration, lights, and other domestic purposes inasmuch as these are included in the high-usage bracket.

Popularity of the electric range was credited with making the reduction possible. The spread of electric cooking to hundreds of homes formerly using old-fashioned methods makes a lower rate practical, Mr. Wilson said.

"The reduction is in keeping with the company's policy of lowering rates as fast as increased usage permits," he added. "Although the cost of living in general has risen and taxation has reached an unprecedented height, we believe it wise to encourage home modernization by making electric service as cheap and efficient as possible."

New District Deputy School Man in Visit To County this Week

John Beard, former county superintendent of Coleman County and now the new deputy state school superintendent, was in Memphis Wednesday morning visiting his new territory. He was accompanied by Claude Crosslin, county school superintendent at Childress.

Mr. Beard succeeds J. D. Wilson as deputy state school superintendent of District 3, which includes Hall and 13 other counties. Mr. Wilson recently resigned his position to accept a place as city school superintendent at Paducah.

Memphis Woman To Get College Degree

DENTON, August 18.—Miss Esta McElrath of Memphis, a senior at the North Texas State Teachers College here, has made application to receive the bachelor of science degree at the college's forty-eighth annual summer commencement on the evening of August 20, according to word from the office of the dean. If the weather permits, the record graduating class of approximately 500, including 42 candidates for the master's degree, will receive their diplomas out of doors in the college's athletic stadium.

Former Senator Robert H. Stuart of Fort Worth, president of the Board of Regents of the Texas State Teachers College, will deliver the commencement address. The College Orchestra will furnish special music, and the degrees will be conferred by Dr. William Joseph McConnell, president of the college.

first held by the flood control men since their appointment some time ago by Gov. James V. Allred. Intimations were given at the meeting that another meeting will probably be held in the near future to take up problems of the Red River flood control area.

State Representative Bob Alexander of Childress attended the meeting held in the First State Bank building here last week and presided until the election of officers was completed. All directors attended except Mr. Rice of Quitaque.

A motion was carried by the board that a copy of the act creating the district be mailed to Hon. Marvin Jones, Hon. Morris Sheppard, and Hon. Tom Connally, United States Congressmen from Texas, and an invitation be extended to each of them to meet with the board when the Congressmen can conveniently do so.

The Red River flood control and irrigation district in Hall, Briscoe, and Childress counties was created by an act of the state legislature, through a bill sponsored by Representative Bob Alexander of this district. An appropriation of $2,000 was made by the legislature to investigate the possibilities of such a project. Preliminary work is under way that includes plans for state and federal aid to construct a dam across Red River to aid in flood control along the lower reaches of the river and to provide water for irrigation purposes. Plans are to be discussed soon for contacting government army engineers to secure more thorough surveys of the proposed dam in the western part of Hall County.

Warner Baxter and Wallace Beery to Star in 'Slave Ship' at Palace Theatre

Storming in epic sweep over half the world as the last slaver sails on its last desperate voyage, "Slave Ship" opens with the Saturday night prevue at the Palace Theatre, giving the screen a new claimant for the title of mightiest of all the sea sagas.

Twentieth Century-Fox's most spectacular production of the year, "Slave Ship" co-stars Warner Baxter and Wallace Beery in a pulsing tale of the slave-trading era, with Elizabeth Allan and Mickey Rooney among those on the boat as, with decks reddened by mutiny, it roams the seas on its final fury-racked voyage.

In the most colorful role of a colorful career, Warner Baxter plays Captain Jim Lovett, romantic scourge of two seas, who defies the navies of the world, and fights at last for love in the greatest sea adventure of them all.

Wallace Beery, whose long list of shipboard roles reads like a veritable history of the salt-water cinema, sinks his teeth into a meaty role that presents him as the villainous mate of the slaver—big-fisted, bull-headed, genial and treacherous to his dying breath, one minute a roaring beast, the next, a gentle child, friend and foe alike to the captain he serves—and betrays.

"Slave Ship" traces the tempestuous career of a swift bark engaged in the slave trade, and its courageous captain, Warner Baxter, who planned to retire from "blackbirding" to settle down to a new life with his young bride, Elizabeth Allan.

TRY OUR LAUNDRY

We arranged the Community Service Laundry to make your work as convenient and comfortable as possible.

You will find nothing on the floor to trip over, neither will you find anything over head to interfere, as all drains, steam lines and power lines are located under a concrete floor.

The boiler and hot water heaters are located in a separate room, therefore, you will find this the coolest laundry in town.

You will also find plenty of hot water with steam, and soft water both in the washers and the rinse.

All machines are the very latest in Maytags with the new improved wringers.

With your first washing, we give you a 25c credit slip to apply on a future visit.

Come wash with us and we believe you will appreciate the effort we have put forth to make washing easier.

Ask your neighbor about their visit.

We have plenty of lines and parking space.
