Teachers To Conduct Meeting Here Today

More Than 2,000 Expected To Attend Annual Convention; Schools Closed

FINAL arrangements were completed Thursday afternoon for the annual convention of the West Texas Teachers association to be held in Lubbock today, according to Floyd Honey, president.

Teachers from twenty-seven counties and the Colorado school district will gather in Lubbock for this annual convention of district four of the Texas State Teachers association.

Between 2,200 and 2,400 teachers were expected to be in Lubbock for the convention.

Schools To Close

Counties to be represented include: Andrews, Bailey, Borden, Cochran, Colorado Independent School district, Cottle, Crosby, Dawson, Dickens, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Glasscock, Hale, Hockley, Howard, Kent, King, Lamb, Ector, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Midland, Motley, Stonewall, Terry and Yoakum.

Schools in these districts are to be dismissed for the day so that teachers may attend the convention, with the exception of Lubbock City schools, where regular classes will be held until 12 o'clock and then dismissed for the afternoon.

Speakers On Program

According to Honey, new officers of the convention will be nominated and elected at a meeting of the House of Delegates at 3:30 this afternoon. Other officers for this convention are: W. A. Miles, Odessa, vice president; Clarence Guffee, Floydada, treasurer; Mrs. W. O. Low, Big Spring, secretary; and O. J. Laas, Plainview, chairman of the membership committee.

Highlights of the convention will be addresses by two nationally famous educators. Dr. A. J. Stoddard, superintendent of schools in Philadelphia, will address the convention at the first general session at 1:15 this afternoon in the Senior High school auditorium.

At the second general session at 7:45 o'clock tonight, Willard E. Goslin, president of the American Association of School Administrators and superintendent of schools in Minneapolis, will address the teachers of this region. In addition, Charles Tennyson, a

Two Persons Die, Damage High In Cold

THE icy grip which a late winter storm clamped on Lubbock and the South Plains was due to continue today, although in somewhat milder degree after temperatures dropped to a near-record of two degrees early Thursday morning.

Officials at the Weather bureau north of the city said at midnight that readings of from 10 to 15 degrees could be expected early today with the maximum for the afternoon probably around 40 degrees.

The mercury at 12:30 a. m. stood at 16 degrees, the Weatherman reported, the temperature skidded again last night after reaching a high of 30 degrees at 4:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Two Persons Dead

The state counted at least two dead as a result of the vicious cold blast which swept down from the Rockies Tuesday. Also that crop and livestock losses over the state would be heavy as a result of the paralyzing weather and frigid winds.

No immediate relief was seen from the cold, although clear, weather and Weather bureau promised readings down in the lower twenties for tonight. The forecast for Saturday held hope of much warmer weather, with partly cloudy and readings to 55 degrees predicted.

At least one death in the South Plains area was caused by the cold wave. William P. Anderson, 60, of Tahoka, was found frozen to death about mid-morning Thursday in a field. His car had become stuck in the sand.

The other victim was Porter Adams, 57, a negro, who burned to death in his Dallas home yesterday when his clothing caught fire from a wood stove.

Some Schools Closed

At no time Thursday did the mercury go above freezing, hitting two degrees between 6:30 and 7:30 a. m. Until noon Thursday the temperature was no higher than 17 degrees.

Similar conditions were reported over the rest of the state, according to the Associated Press.

All major industries and schools in five north Texas cities on the Lone Star Gas company's system were without gas. Chester L. May, vice president, said Lone Star

Tahoka Man Is Frozen To Death

TAHOKA, March 11 (Special)—Funeral services for William P. (Bill) Anderson, 60, Tahoka cotton buyer, who was found frozen to death in a field early today, will be conducted at the Church of Christ here Friday afternoon.

Exact time of the funeral had not been set tonight pending arrival of a son from Washington, D. C. Rev. Luther Norman, pastor of the church, will officiate. Burial will be in Tahoka cemetery.

Found In Field

Anderson had been a resident of Tahoka for 21 years, and had lived in Lubbock from 1918 to 1927.

His body was found about 10:30 a. m. today behind a terrace in a field, near the place where his car was stuck in a sandbed.

Sheriff Sam Floyd of Tahoka said Mr. Anderson had been missing since 9:15 p. m. Tuesday, when he left in his car for his farm about six miles northeast of Tahoka. The farm is operated by a son, Pete Anderson.

A dog riding in the car with Mr. Anderson went to the Pete Anderson farm at noon Wednesday and a search was started.

The car was found, but Mr. Anderson could not be located.

Relatives decided Mr. Anderson had caught a ride back to Tahoka. Failing to find him there, it was theorized he had gone on business to Lubbock.

Dowell, Woody To Seek Posts

G. C. (Mule) Dowell, sales manager of a local auto company, and Glenn W. Woody, owner of a tire firm here, late Thursday announced their candidacies for election as trustees to the Lubbock Independent School board, the second and third candidates to announce for the April 3 election.

Dr. G. G. Porter, local osteopath, announced his intention of seeking a place on the board on Saturday, Feb. 28.

Dawell, who has one child in school and another under school age, is a former backfield star gridder at Texas Technological college, and served for a time after his release from the Navy as assistant football coach at Tech. He now is sales manager for Fenner Tubbs Auto company.

Statement Is Issued

Woody, owner of Woody Tire company, is the father of three children, one of school age. He is a former president of the Lubbock Jaycees and is active in civic affairs in the city.

In making his statement of intention to seek a position as trustee, Dowell said:

"Certain individuals and groups in the city have asked me to become a candidate for election to the school board because they feel that such a person as myself, with a background in athletics, should be represented on the school board. I believe that it is an obligation on my part to conform to their requests, and to do all in my power to live up to their expectations if elected."

Filing Deadline March 24

Woody, in making his announcement, stated:

"I will be a candidate for election to the school board because many Lubbock citizens have requested that I run for the position. I feel that it is an obligation and

Senate Group Votes To Lower Goal On Income Tax Cut Plan

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 11. — The Senate Finance Committee voted 10 to 1 tonight to cut income taxes $4,700,000,000.

The House already has passed a $6,500,000,000 tax cut bill.

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo) of the committee declined to give the vote division.

Shortly before the final ballot, the committee defeated 7 to 6, on a party line vote, a Democratic proposal to hold the tax cut to $4,000,000,000.

One Major Change

Then it adopted by a vote of 9 to 3 an amendment by Millikin which cut the House $6,500,000,000 figure to $4,772,600,000.

The only major change the Senate committee made in the House measure is in a section setting up percentage tax reductions.

The House bill provides for cuts ranging from 30 per cent for the lowest income brackets, 20 per cent for the middle brackets and 10 per cent for the highest.

The Senate bill cuts range from 12.6 per cent for those with the lowest income, 7.4 per cent for the middle brackets and 5 per cent for the highest.

Would Be Retroactive

Both the Senate and House bills provide for making the tax cut effective as of last Jan. 1.

Both bills also:

1. Increase the personel exemption for each taxpayer and each dependent to $600. The present exemption is $500.
2. Permit husbands and

COMMISSIONERS HIT LAXITY

Closer Check On Overtime Parking In City Ordered

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

THOSE who have been careless about feeding nickels to parking meters had better be careful today and in the future. Otherwise they're liable to find themselves with overtime parking tickets, the standard fine for which is $1 each.

This bad news for overtime parkers was produced during the semi-monthly meeting of the city commission Thursday afternoon when members criticized the police department as being negligent in checking up on cars which have over-stayed their time in metered spaces.

Closer Checking Asked

As result of the discussion, City Manager Marlin R. Smith, jr., was directed to instruct Police Chief Lewis Kittrell to "do something about it." That means closer checking to make sure that no one gets more than a nickel's worth of parking for a nickel.

Only Commissioners J. Ray Dickey, who presided as mayor protempore, and Fred Childress and John Spikes attended the meeting. Mayor C. A. Bestwick and Commissioner W. B. Price were out of the city.

Each of those present told of personal experiences in not getting tickets for overtime parking. Commissioner Childress said he had parked his car in the same space all morning for several mornings as an "experiment," and did not get a single ticket. Dickey and Spikes said they had been "noticing" that a lot of cars which were overparked had not been tagged by police.

Police Cars Purchased

The commissioners were unanimous in the opinion that a more careful checking by police will ease the downtown parking situation by causing a more frequent turnover of over-parked cars in the metered spaces.

Following their good humored criticisms, the commission approved the purchase of three new Stylemaster 4-door Chevrolet sedans for police from the Kuykendall Chevrolet motor company for a net total price of $3,225. An allowance of $275 each was made on three police car trade-ins. The bid was the lowest of three submitted.

Traffic Study Approved

The commission also ordered meters installed along the south side of Broadway between Avenues L and M, bordering Lubbock General hospital, as soon as the gadgets are available.

Earth Tremor Jars Major Portion Of Texas Panhandle

AMARILLO, March 11 (AP)—A five-city area in the Texas Panhandle felt a slight earth tremor about 10:31 p. m. (CST).

No injuries were reported in the winter-bound area.

The quake was felt in Dalhart, Borger, Clarendon, Adrian and Memphis.

It rattled doors and windows and shook the bars in the Potter county jail here.

Jack Roberts of radio station KHUZ in Borger said Sheriff Hugh Anderson reported the tremor rattled bottles of photographic fluid in his office.

Anderson said there was no report of an explosion.

TREMOR APPARENTLY IS NOT FELT HERE

The earth tremor in the Panhandle apparently was not felt as far south as Lubbock last night as no reports were received from residents here.

Dr. Leroy T. Patton, head of the geology department at Texas Technological college, said he had received no report of the tremors being felt locally.

Dr. Patton added that installation of seimosgraphic equipment at the college, in co-operation with the U. S. Geodetic Survey, is awaiting completion of a building to house the equipment.

$55 Millions In Emergency Funds Asked

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 11 — President Truman asked Congress today, in the light of recent Communist gains in Europe, for $55,000,000 to tide western Europe over until the Marshall plan can be put into effect.

At the same time he said it was a matter of "extreme urgency" that the $5,300,000,000 Marshall program itself be approved at the earliest possible moment.

A State department spokesman said the $55,000,000 would represent an advance installment of the funds western European countries would get under the Marshall plan —that it, is would come out of the $5,300,000,000.

Senate Works Overtime

The President's appeal came as Republican members of the House Foreign Affairs committee gave serious thought to U. S. military backing for any country in the world which is threatened by Communist pressure.

This worldwide extension of the "Truman doctrine" — which will be one year old tomorrow — was proposed at a meeting to seek quick action on the European recovery program (ERP) known as the Marshall plan.

The Senate went on an overtime schedule so as to reach a final vote on ERP by Saturday night.

GOP Seeks Ceiling

About 20 Senate Republicans, including Senator Taft (R-Ohio), were pressing—without predicting success—for a $4,000,000,000 ceiling. The bill being debated authorizes up to $5,300,000,000 for the first year of the program.

The background was one of open concern over the state of world affairs. "The world is on the verge of war," Rep. McDowell (R-Pa) told the House in announcing he has changed his mind and will support a peacetime draft.

Truman Urges Funds

Mr. Truman told House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) in a letter asking stopgap aid, on the top of the $522,000,000 voted for three western European countries last December:

"Events which have taken place in Europe during recent weeks do not permit us with safety or pru-

Truman Brands Pearson 'Liar'

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—President Truman branded as "a lie out of the whole cloth" today a columnist's report that he once said New York Jews "were disloyal."

Mr. Truman volunteered his remarks at a news conference and authorized direct quotation. Usual news conference rules are 'that his remarks may not be put in direct quotes.

Pearson Issues Statement

The President did not name the columnist he said had won "another liar's star." But Columnist Drew Pearson later issued this statement:

"I regret to say that my quotation of the conversation between President Truman and the New York publisher was all too accurate, but I am glad the President has now reconsidered his intemperate words."

Reporters heard Mr. Truman say the column was published in a New York "gossip paper." He told them to read The New York Mirror to find out about it.

But the reference to "gossip" was deleted when the White House

Aid For Europe Now -- Or Else!

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, March 11 — William L. Clayton, advisor to Secretary of State George Marshall, said, in effect, here today: "Aid Europe now - - - or else!"

Clayton, tall, grey, former undersecretary of state who calls Houston home, addressed 700 North Texas business leaders at a luncheon of the Salesmanship club. Supporting the Marshall Plan for reconstructing western Europe, he warned:

"Blackout" Is Warning

"If we should refuse help, it is almost certain every country in western Europe will lose its independence. It is almost certain the iron curtain would move at least as far west as the English channel. In event of such a European blackout, the United States would face such radical changes in its economy that it is possible our system of free enterprise would be unable to survive."

He added:

"The United States is a strong nation but the pages of history are full of strong nations which have come and gone. It is wonderful to be strong — it is more wonderful to stay strong.

"If we would keep our strength, we must share it. The United States cannot be the only free-enterprise country in the world. If we would remain strong and prosperous, we must get some company and we must get it soon. Time is running out."

Clayton, 68, once a foremost cotton buyer of the world, stated that "restoration of confidence in money is almost the number one 'must' of western Europe."

"One hears people say: Of course I am willing to help but not until Europe goes back to work.'

Europeans Work

"After five months in Europe last year, I think I can say Europeans are just as hard-working and serious as we are in the United States. They will always work if they have something to work with and if they can get paid for their work.

"If you or I were farmer or a factory worker in Europe, we might be a little reluctant to exchange our labor for paper money which would not buy the things we needed. We might work less hard - - - we might divert our labor into something we could consume ourselves.

"People out of work, walking the streets, with factories closed, cannot reconstruct their own shattered economies."

Recovery Program Given

Clayton believes the Marshall plan will work if the following steps are taken, as contemplated:

"The European recipient countries should make defi-

HST Hopes Anderson To Stay In Cabinet

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—President Truman said today he hopes Secretary of Agriculture Anderson will remain in his cabinet.

He gave this reply when asked whether Anderson might resign to run for the Senate in New Mexico.

Mr. Truman said Anderson has done an excellent job in the agriculture post.

Anderson has considered running for the seat now held by Senator Hatch (D-NM). Hatch has said he will not seek another term. He expects an appointment to a federal district judgeship.

The President said he had not talked with Anderson, but expected to see him at tomorrow's weekly cabinet meeting.

He added that he might have something to say after the cabinet meeting.

Anderson has said he will be guided by the wishes of his wife and Mr. Truman.

Final Touches To Be Put On Western European Pact

BRUSSELS, Belgium, March 11 (AP)—The delegates of France, Britain and the Benelux countries expect to put the finishing touches tomorrow to the completed draft of a pact binding them to united action for 50 years.

Except for the approval of two minor points and the formal signing, the dream of British Foreign Secretary Bevin and Belgian Premier Paul Henri Spaak of a western European union balancing the bloc is a reality.

The Luxembourg delegate, Pierre Elvinger, said he considered the treaty "completed for all practical purposes" and announced he was leaving for home tonight.

Truman Says Peace Hopes Are 'Shaken'

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 11 — President Truman declared today that his faith in the attainment of world peace has been somewhat shaken.

But he said he still believes that peace can be achieved because the world can not afford the destruction of another war.

Later Secretary of State Marshall declared that "the world is in the midst of a great crisis, inflamed by propaganda, misunderstanding, anger and fear."

Still Holding Hopes

Neither spoke words of despair, however.

Marshall, in a talk prepared for delivery in stately Washington cathedral, said this is a time—the most important of all times—for "cool judgment."

A few hours earlier, Mr. Truman asked Congress to advance western European countries $55,000,000 of the funds they may get under the Marshall plan. They need the money now to tide them over until the $5,300,000,000 Marshal plan bill is passed, he said.

Again, the President referred to what has happened in Europe. He meant, obviously, the Communist seizure of power in Czechoslovakia and Russia's insistence on an alliance with Finland.

Congress should pass the Marshall Plan bill itself, Mr. Truman said, at the earliest possible moment.

Taft Seeks Slash

And Congress reacted variously to this suggestion

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) introduced an amendment to reduce the first-year outlay from $5,300,000,000 to $4,000,000,000. About 20 Republican senators backed him, but defeat of the amendment was widely predicted. The vote probably will come tomorrow.

Republican members of the House Foreign Affairs committee added military aid for China to the bill their committee is writing —a step that presumably will slow, rather than hasten, House action on assistance to Europe.

The President had something to say about China.

In one of the most sweeping denunciations he has ever voiced

Voting Strength In Texas Heavy

(By The Associated Press)

Texans will vote in heavy numbers this year, if they flock to the polling places the way they trooped in to pay their poll taxes and claim their exemptions.

This was indicated today by a check of 16 counties.

In those 16, there are at least 844,123 qualified voters—maybe more. Four counties did not report the number of exemptions claimed. Some others estimated that the country vote might add from 1,500 to 5,000 to the known total.

Harris County Strongest

Three counties—Harris, Dallas, and Lubbock—reported all-time voting strength records.

The 13 others reported high totals.

In Harris county, the state's biggest population center with Houston as the hub, there are at least 210,843 people who can vote this year. Of these, 186,540 paid poll taxes, 24,303 claimed exemptions. Harris county's previous record was set in 1944, when there were 154,888 eligible voters.

There are 140,592 Dallas county people who can enter the election booths. Taxes were paid by 121,629 of them, and 18,963 were exempt.

Lubbock County Sets Record

Lubbock county's all-time voting strength is estimated at 21,665. It's subject to slight change, but there's no doubt it's a record. The county issued 18,675 poll tax receipts, 2,990 exemptions.

However, Lubbock county ranks

Church Folks Pray For Rain To Cease

(By The Associated Press)

STATESBORO, Ga., March 11—A group of church folks today prayed for the cessation of rains which have fallen on south Georgia almost daily since November.

"Dear God," prayed Elder P. H. Byrd, "cause the clouds to banish and the sunshine to break forth and the warm breezes to blow over and dry off the earth and spring to come."

Even as he and others prayed, lightning crackled through the pines, thunder rolled in and rain beat hard on the roof of the little white Bethlehem Primitive Baptist church.

It is the section's worst wet spell in 40 years.

Farm work, which should be at its height, is at a standstill. Plowing is weeks behind. Livestock is dying of pneumonia.

Soviets Threaten Walk If Jews And Arabs Invited To Talks

NEW YORK, March 11. (AP)—Russia threatened today to walk out of four-power talks on Palestine if Jews and Arabs take part.

The Russian declaration at the third closed session of the four powers dashed American hopes for conciliation by bringing Jewish and Arab leaders into the consultations.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister, said the views of the Jewish agency for Palestine and the Arab higher committee already were well known. He said he could not take part in any big four meeting to which they were invited.

Czech Official Of Former Anti-Communist Party Kills Self In Jail After 'Confession' Of Plot

By A. I. GOLDBERG
Associated Press Staff Writer

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, March 11—District police at Moravsko-Ostrava announced tonight that an official of a former anti-Communist party had committed suicide in a jail cell.

Police said Josef Herot, local secretary of the National Socialist party, took his life after confessing he participated in a plot against the government.

Following the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia two weeks ago, the National Socialist party was purged of many old members and changed its name to the Czech Socialist party. Police said Herot's confession involved high officials of the old party.

Herot died as black banners and tricolors flew at half staff throughout Czechoslovakia in memory of Jan Masaryk, the foreign minister, whose death plunge from his apartment window yesterday remained as big a mystery as ever.

Meanwhile, a smoothly functioning parliament, with 67 of its members absent, gave Premier Klement Gottwald the go-ahead signal on his Communist program and proceeded to reorganize the assembly into a Communist-controlled body.

The parliament began by giving Gottwald a vote of confidence.

The unanimous vote was in effect approval of Gottwald's sweeping Communist program and signalled that his new "popular peoples democracy" was in full motion along the road of other Communist states in eastern Europe.

The deputies showed they knew how to vote. After two organizers of the Cominform, Communists Rudolf Slansky and Stefan Bastovansky, had spoken, Chairman Josef David called for the vote for the government.

Every hand was raised.

He called for opposing votes.

Demos To Strike Back At Critics

By J. W. DAVIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 11 — Democratic chairman McGrath said today the party is under vicious attack, and must strike back hard.

He told a rally of Democratic leaders that critics have centered on President Truman and have "a super effort under way to discourage Democrats."

"It is being viciously pursued," he added.

McGrath's words at the closed session were relayed to newsmen by Publicity Director John M. Redding. He said McGrath, in naming sources of opposition, was referring to Communists and Republicans, not southern Democrats.

Civil Rights Discussed

Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh and Frank McHale of Indianapolis reported there was "some discussion" of the President's civil rights program, which has angered many in the South.

Also, Mrs. Lennard Thomas of Montgomery, Ala., told a reporter she expects "to bring it up for full discussion later."

JURY MAY GET CASE TODAY

Federal Judge Rejects Meyers' Plea For Acquittal In Trial

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—A federal judge today rejected Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers' plea for a court-directed acquittal of a charge that he talked a former business associate into lying to a Senate subcommittee.

Defense and prosecution attorneys marshalled their final arguments. The case of the Air Force's No. 2 wartime purchasing officer is expected to go to the jury tomorrow after Judge Alexander Holtzoff's instructions.

Doesn't Take Stand

Meyers didn't take the stand himself and called no witnesses. His attorney's chief defense effort was the plea for acquittal by the court. It was based on a contention that the war investigating subcommittee before which Meyers and his one-time associate, Bleriot H. Lamarre, testified last fall was not formally established by the parent Senate committee. Meyers' lawyer argued that perjury could not be committed before an illegally organized subcommittee.

Lamarre previously pleaded guilty to perjuring himself and is awaiting sentence.

Two Charges Still Hanging

Meyers has two more charges hanging over him: That he, too, lied to the investigating group, and that he tried to defraud the government on his income tax returns.

The Senate Investigating group poked deeply into Meyers' wartime business dealings. Lamarre has admitted that he lied to the committee in denying the Meyers received $150,000 from a wartime subcontracting firm, the Aviation Electric Corp. of Dayton, Ohio.

Lamarre said Meyers really owned the firm and directed its operations. He himself was only the "dummy" president, he added, and had to kick back most of his salary to Meyers.

Milk Producers Hit Program To Slash Tax On Margarine

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—A spokesman for milk producers said today that any tampering with margarine laws might wreck this nation's dairy industry.

Charles W. Holman, secretary of the National Cooperative Milk Producers' federation, told the House Agriculture committee:

"Weakening or repealing these laws would undoubtedly result in great damage to dairy farmers of the country. . . . It would wreck havoc upon the dairy industry."

18 Bills Under Study

The committee is considering 18 separate bills to kill special taxes and restrictions on margarine.

People favoring removal of the taxes were heard the first three days of this week. Holman was the first of the witnesses to testify the taxes are necessary.

Holman said any change in the present laws would effect many persons who aren't butter-makers or even farmers.

"These federal laws," he said, "reduce to a minimum for opportunities of those who produce and distribute oleomargarine from practicing fraud upon the consumer."

Previous witnesses have called the milk producers a "butter trust" and claimed that the taxes put a special hardship on consumers.

One Injured In Four Collisions

One injury resulted from an automobile collision yesterday, and tickets were given in three other collisions in the city, according to police last night.

Howard Rogers, 20, of 2612 Twenty-second street, suffered slight shock when his car collided with a car driven by Theron Turner Lee, 21, a Tech student. The accident occurred at Fourteenth and College Ave., police said, as Lee's car 'went dead' and Roger's car collided with it from the rear. Rogers was taken home by a passerby and received no medical attention.

Truck Hits Car

Three cars, which had stopped in a line at the intersection of Nineteenth and Ave. M, were jarred when a truck bumped the rear car, causing a three-way impact, police said. The truck driver was given a negligent collision ticket.

Another automobile backing from a parked position in the 1000 block of Fourteenth, struck the right front fender of a car going east on Fourteenth. The driver of the backing car was given a negligent collision ticket, records showed.

At the intersection of Fifteenth street and Ave. U a motorist failed to give right of way, police said. A car going north on Ave. U was hit on the right rear fender by another automobile going west on Fifteenth street.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., March 11 (U.P.)—A cat preparing to cross the border from Mexico into the United States is in for a tough time.

That was the experience of Conchita, black and white pet of Mr. and Mrs. William Madsen, Stanford University archaeology students. The Madsens and Conchita were detained at the border for three days filling out six sets of official papers in duplicate and triplicate.

The purpose of the documents was to guarantee Conchita's freedom from hoof and mouth disease, while her master and mistress were completing the forms, Conchita was relaxing in a cool shower —of disinfections.

Chemists Try To Determine If Cattle Died From Lead Poison

ABILENE, March 11 (U.P.) — Chemists at Hardin-Simmons University are working with the San Angelo City Health Department to determine if the deaths of several head of livestock was caused by lead poisoning.

Hiram R. Arrant, professor of chemistry, said data on analysis of contents of some of the animals' stomachs have been sent the San Angelo department, but did not reveal the findings.

Songwriter Doubts Broadway Musical Will Play In Texas, Despite Big 'Cast Force'

By HENRIETTA LEITH
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 11—Songwriter Hugh Martin doesn't think the Broadway musical "Look, Ma, I'm Dancing" will ever play Texas.

And the Texans can blame it on the Army, not on Martin.

The reason the show will avoid the Lone Star State is just one song. But it happens to be the hit tune of the show. And its title happens to be "I'm Tired of Texas."

The bitterness in the song, doesn't come, says Martin, from a "timorous tunesmith who is allergic to vigor. . . . ness."—even if Texas Gov. Beauford Jester so in.. he heard the song.

Non-Texans Liked Song

It comes, says Martin, from the soul of a tired, lonesome buck private who had just finished 17 weeks of basic training and was so "burned up at the Army" he had to put some of it down on paper.

"I would have written it about any state I happened to take basic in," said the songwriter.

"I'm tired of Texas" was written in 1944, on target paper, while private Martin was on maneuvers from Camp Hood, Texas. His buddies — the non-Texan ones—liked it so much they decided to build a soldier show around it.

But the day before the show went into rehearsals, Martin was shipped overseas.

"It had been sitting around in my trunk ever since," said Martin. "I never used it in any of the Army shows I worked in because in the Army was always so full of Texans, and they were always such big guys."

Other Numbers Hits

When Martin got out of the Army he got the song out of his trunk.

"A song writer never wastes anything," explained Martin.

The 28-year-old Alabaman, who studied at Birmingham Southern college and Birmingham Conservatory, was a singer ("Hooray for What!") before he teamed up with Ralph Blane to write songs.

He has been the vocal arranger for some of Broadway's biggest musical successes—"Streets of Paris," "One For The Money," "Boys From Syracuse," "Louisiana Purchase" and "Too Many Girls."

He composed the music for "Best Foot Forward" and the movie "Meet Me In St. Louis," and made the hit parade with his "Trolley Song."

And he's not so timorous as Gov. Jester thinks, although it's unlikely the show will go to Texas, if it does—"We have a pretty big cast if it came to a fight."

King Gustav Leaves Paris For Holiday Visit At Nice

PARIS, March 11 (AP)—King Gustav V of Sweden left Paris by train tonight for a holiday at Nice.

His royal car is attached to an express due in Nice late tomorrow morning.

Earlier today rumors spread through Sweden that the 89-year-old monarch died aboard the train taking him to Paris.

Centenarian Celebrates His 100th Birthday Twice In Row

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y. March 11 — When Benjamin Franklin Potter celebrated his 100th birthday anniversary, it was for the second straight year.

After the first celebration, family records showed Potter was born in Belfast, Alleghany County, N. Y., a year later than he thought.

Potter has outlived five wives and has had 16 children.

He doesn't worry much about dying. "I have friends in both places," he said.

Young Hunters Take Big Load Off Unscathed Rabbit's Mind

RHINELANDER, Wis. March (U.P.)—Two boys came home from their rabbit hunt with most of the pellets in their legs.

Neil Pence, 12, lined up a cottontail in his sights and pulled the trigger. A dozen pellets lodged in the legs of Duane Freund, 16.

The shock caused Duane to pull the trigger, and five pellets went into Neil's legs.

They gave up shooting rabbits for the time being.

Explorer Claims Soviet Gaining Upper Hand In Fight For Arctic

By PHIL AULT
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 11—In the Greenwich Village section of New York, on a street where the trucks haul cargo down to the Hudson River docks, stands a dreary red brick apartment building covered with grime. Ashcans line the sidewalk and baby carriages clutter its entrance.

Inside, one flight up, the eminent Arctic explorer Vilhjalmur Stefansson sits among his 20,000 polar books and documents. From his cramped quarters he watches the Soviet Union and the North American powers maneuver for position in the vast area above the Arctic Circle where he spent a great many of his 68 years.

He sees the Soviet Union far surpassing the United States and Canada in developing its Arctic resources.

Strategically, he feels the Arctic Sea is the most important body of water on earth. The Russians, he contends, are giving their far northern defenses a broad base through intensive colonization. The United States and Canada are failing to do so.

Russia Doing More

"We of North America are told that among our present weaknesses is the tremendous size of our cities and the top-heavy grouping of our industries around a few centers," Stefansson said. "There is the same talk in the Moscow press and on their radio. The difference is that they are doing more about it than we are.

"Believing that eventually there would be an attack on the Soviet from the east and west, they began building industrial centers in Siberia.

"Now that they are beginning to visualize an attack from North America, they have an added tendency to move their colonization north, this time on the basis of being ready to counterattack in an air war."

The explorer, born in Canada of Icelandic parents, is the most prominent American protagonist of the view that the Far North is habitable. "The friendly Arctic," he calls it. His explorations of Arctic Canada, Alaska, Greenland and Iceland since the beginning of the century have stressed scientific investigation of living conditions.

Pioneering Revived

His weather-beaten face beneath abundant white hair, and his blue Nordic eyes, accustomed to focusing on distances, look oddly incongruous in his tiny office at the end of a hallway stacked so deep with books that visitors must file through it in single line.

It is his belief that Russia is making great strides in the Arctic because the Soviet peoples possess the same pioneering spirit that drove Americans across the prairies 100 years ago. The Soviet government is fostering this expansionist spirit in the Arctic because it sees the economic and military rewards.

"There are as many Soviet cities of 30,000 and 40,000 in the Far North as we have villages of 300 and 400," Stefansson said.

As an example of what the Soviets are doing, he cited Vorkuta, a city of 30,000 which stands 70 miles north of the Arctic Circle and 800 miles east of Murmansk in the Pechora coal basin.

When it was decided to exploit the coal resources there, the Soviet government moved in construction crews, built housing and other urban facilities and then constructed a 700-mile railroad southward to bring out the coal.

Arctic Earth Yields

To help feed the miners, the government established the Vorkuta agricultural station. Twelve state farms produce vegetables and dairy products for the city. Experiments have been made to develop frost-resisting types. The Arctic earth now is yielding rye, barley and potatoes during the brief but warm summer.

At Ukhta, an oil producing center south of Vorkuta, standing slightly below the Arctic Circle, there is a similar story. This city has grown to 40,000 population and had an eleven-fold increase in oil production between 1940 and 1945.

"Vorkuta and Ukhta together equal the 70,000 total population in all Alaska," the explorer pointed out.

"In America we have lost the pioneering spirit," he said. "Instead of seeking new places to colonize, we have reversed the nineteenth century trend and are migrating to places like Southern California where the climate is easy. We don't have to worry about creating the necessities of life for ourselves. Modern transportation and our highly developed economy bring them to us."

In 1905 some serious-minded observers believed the limits of success had been reached in flying.

Patter Of Little Bachelor Feet In Writer's Home Results In Some Classifications

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 11—What is home without a bachelor?

I have no idea. For ten years my household has rung with the patter of little bachelor feet.

About twice a week one or another of these refugees from a wedding ring calls me up at work and says:

"Hey Boyle—she's puttin' the big pot in the little one. Come home early tonight."

By home they refer to the place where I live. "Putting the big pot in the little one" means Frances is cooking a particularly good dinner. And they want me home only so they can get at the grub sooner.

Wife Now Disillusioned

It has been that way ever since we were married. Our home always has been a kind of feeding and repair station for unattached males who are desperately anxious either to attain or to escape matrimony. At first they were the pals of my bachelor days. Then the pals of my pals. And now the pals of the pals of my pals.

I think they came originally because they were lonely and homesick for a home-cooked meal. Frances gave them sympathy, fed them and helped a number of them to find wives.

Through the years Frances has grown pleasantly disillousioned about bachelors. It began when she learned that one of her favorites, who praised her cooking as the best he had ever known, was dishing out exactly the same line to two other wives.

It increased as she learned how seldom it was she found a bachelor who was any help around the house. If one did turn up who could fix a light plug, dry dishes, or build a bookcase, he usually was around only a short time until he got married himself.

Bachelors Are Typed

"I am just training husbands for other girls," Frances decided despondently.

Bachelors that come our way seem to break into the following types:

(1) Chronic bachelors — These are the confirmed haters of connubial life. They brag about their own cooking and sniff at your wife's housekeeping.

(2) Life-is-hopeless bachelors—These are the fellows who have been rejected in love. They caterwaul briefly and then marry another dame.

(3) First-aid bachelors—"Please, can you help me find a girl and a job, and while I'm waiting would you mind sewing on this button for me?"

(4) Throw-rug bachelors—These eat your food, drink your wine, then lie on the floor absorbing all the heat from the fireplace while they groan about the international situation.

Most of our bachelors are this comfortable "throw rug" type.

In the 13 years just preceding World War II, American expenditures for purchase and care of clothing averaged $9 billion a year.

A Weak, Run-Down Feeling Is Often A Warning

That The Red-Blood Is Getting Low

If you do not feel like your real self, do not have the urge to be up and doing, why not check-up on your blood strength? Look at the palms of your hands, your fingernails, your lips, the lobes of your ears—are they pale and off color?

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that S.S.S. Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the S.S.S. Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, S.S.S. Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on S.S.S. Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. S.S.S. Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health. Adv.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Take Off Ugly Fat With Grape Fruit Juice Recipe

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy — no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of Liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active. Adv

MOVIE FOR CHILDREN

In order to prove to themselves that children care for movies other than the shoot'em up and gangster types and as a project in the Christian home phase of Christian social relations, the Woman's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist church is sponsoring a free picture show Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Hub Lee Tire company.

The picture, in color, will be on life among the Navajo Indians.

That night the film will be shown to negro children at the community center in Carver Heights and to Mexican children at the Mexican Methodist church.

If the films meet with success, it is planned to continue them through the spring, according to Mrs. C. C. Coffee, chairman of the home phase department.

Someone suggested that children wouldn't care for the educational type of movies. The women, many of whom are mothers of young children or can remember the interests of their sons and daughters of a few years ago, believe differently. Saturday's experiment will show.

CHIFFON CAKE

MRS. S. D. MARTIN of Slaton writes that she wishes we would print the recipe for chiffon cake which was mentioned in the column several days ago. We're happy to do so this morning. In the meantime, the Woman's Angle baked the cake and found it to be all that its sponsors had claimed for it.

It is called the first completely new-type cake to have been created in 100 years and 400 tests were made before the sponsors thought they were ready to give the easy-to-follow recipe. It is a combination of the two basic cakes, butter and sponge, including the best features of each.

Step 1. Measure (level measurements) and sift together into mixing bowl: One and one-eighth cups (one cup plus 2 tablespoons) cake flour, spooning lightly in the cup and being careful to avoid packing, three-fourths cup sugar, one and one-half teaspoons double-action baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt.

Make a "well" and add in order: one-fourth cup cooking (salad) oil, 2 egg yolks, 1 tablespoon grated rind of oranges, juice of 1 orange plus water to make three-eighths cup (1-4 cup plus two tablespoons). Beat with spoon until smooth.

Step 2. Measure into large mixing bowl one-half cup (four egg whites), 1 one-fourth teaspoon cream of tarter.

Whip until whites form very stiff peaks. They should be much stiffer than for angel food or meringue. Do not underbeat.

Step 3. Pour egg yolk mixture gradually over whipped egg whites, gently folding with rubber scraper just until blended. Do not stir! Pour into ungreased pan immediately, using 8x8x2-in or 9x9x2-in. in square pan or 9-in. tube pan and bake thirty minutes in moderate oven (350 degrees, Fahrenheit) if square pan; 50 minutes if tube pan.

Immediately turn pan upside down, placing tube part over neck of funnel or bottle, or resting edges of square pan on two other pans. Let hang, free of table, until cold. Loosen from sides and tube with spatula. Turn pan over and hit edge sharply on table to loosen.

Serve with whipped cream, berries, a dessert sauce or serve unIced.

It may startle you for a moment to notice that the pan is to be ungreased, but that's right and you won't have any trouble with a cake sticking to the pan, either. This cake will serve few people. Double ingrediants for larger cake.

ADMIRED WOMEN

ACCORDING to a Gallop poll taken for a national women's magazine, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is the most admired woman in the United States. At least her name led all the rest in the census, when people in all walks of life were asked "What woman living today in any part of the yorld that you have heard or read about do you most admire?"

Sister Kenny was next; Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, third, followed by Clare Booth Luce; then Helen Keller, the Duchess of Edinburgh (Princess Elizabeth, remember?) Dorothy Thompson, Kate Smith, Mrs. Harry S. Truman, Queen Wilhemlina and six women tied for eleventh place: Queen Elizabeth of England; Marian Anderson, Actress Betty Grable, Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas, Margaret Truman and the Duchess of Windsor.

The leading choices of men interviewed were identical, with those of the women polled, indicating that when a woman has praiseworthy qualities she is admired equally by men and women.

The sterling silver that graces your dinner table most likely was made in the United States, but the chances are it had its start in Mexico. Since the 16th Century, Mexico has mined about 5½ billion ounces of silver, more than a third of the world's total output.

Scouts Celebrate Anniversary At Afternoon Party

Intermediate Girl Scouts of Lubbock, along with more than a million girls in every state and territory, will celebrate the 6th birthday of Girl Scouting today. The Lubbock celebration will be in the form of a party to be given this afternoon from 3:45 to 5 o'clock at the Little House, 2600 Ave. P.

Without any organized backing, Juliette Gordon Low brought the idea of Girl Scouting to 12 girls of Savannah, Ga., 36 years ago. Mrs. Low, who was no longer young and who had limited personal funds, telephoned her friend, Nina Pape, on March 12, 1912, saying, "I've got something for the girls of Savannah and of America and of the whole world and we're going to start it tonight."

Then, as now, girls welcomed Girl Scouting. Juliette Low's problem was to find leaders and advisers among her adult friends. At her death in 1927, Girl Scouting had spread from coast to coast but there were always more girls waiting to join; in spite of its continued growth, thousands are waiting today.

Are Good Citizens

Girl Scouts are not merely the wives and citizens of tomorrow, they are good citizens today, serving churches, libraries, schools and welfare agencies. They are part of a world organization that works for better understanding among peoples of all nations. Scouts need more grown-up friends who will follow the pattern set by a woman who was not too busy or too tired to hear the voices of the girls of America. The Girl Scouts of Lubbock need women to volunteer two or three hours a week as troop leaders and need men and women to share hobbies with troops or serve on local committees. Any person interested in helping Scouts is asked to contact the Girl Scout office at 2600 Ave. P.

A Brownie birthday party planned for Thursday afternoon has been postponed until Saturday morning from 10 until 11:30 o'clock at the Little House.

Maladjustments Are Discussed By Women

Avoiding some of the common maladjustments was subject for discussions at a meeting of AAUW Child Study Unit 2 Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Lennis Baker, 1710 Thirty-first, with Mrs. H. J. Steinhoff as hostess.

Mrs. Gordon Deering, in discussing "Fear," suggested that "fear breeds fear and a child who has never been frightened will not be afraid to sleep alone in a dark room with the door closed." "Ridicule and scarcasm will never help a child to be brave," she warned.

Mrs. Paul Cates, whose topic was "Shyness," said this trait, "which is often mistaken for stupidity in a child, may be thought of as coyness in an adult who may overcome the difficult because he has a more selective friendship than children."

"The show-off stage" was discussed by Mrs. Otis Fincher who said that "personality is made by man." "You can mould your child as a piece of clay; he will become what you make him—happy and well adjusted or a psychological failure."

Mrs. Frank L. Todd summarized the talks.

Mesdames Bob Elam and Frank Wilson were guests and other members present were Mesdames N. A. Cox, Bill Rogers, Belverd Needles, Eugene Knox, C. M. Neel, D. C. Casey and R. H. Canaday.

Boys Become Members Of Mary-Emma Club

Eight senior high boys were received into membership at a meeting of Mary-Emma club, home economic organization, at a meeting at the school Thursday noon. They were Kent Wright, Paul Farris, Kenneth Cox, Bob D'Spain, Ray Hensley, Norman Dean, Lloyd Willis and Horace Henley.

Tom Cleveland, Tech student whose parents are missionaries in Africa, spoke on "Woman's Life in Africa."

At a called meeting of the club Tuesday, Janie Sale was elected delegate to the state meeting of the Texas Association of Future Homemakers of America to be held in Galveston April 23-24.

P-TA Officers Are Elected Thursday

Mrs. Marshall Howard was elected president of East Broadway Parent-Teacher association at a meeting held Thursday afternoon at the school. Other officers for 1948-49 are Mrs. John Musler, vice-president; Mrs. J. M. Manly, secretary; and Mrs. E. Y. Gibbs, treasurer.

Preceding the program, first grade pupils of Mrs. George Evans and Mrs. Keese presented a musical program.

Mrs. D. L. Jones presided.

Memorial Service Is For Mrs. W. Brown

Each member of Pioneer Needle club who met with Mrs. Clara Abney, 2113 Main, Wednesday afternoon, wore a white carnation corsage in memory of the late Mrs. Willie Brown, a charter member of the club and its immediate past president.

A memorial service for Mrs. Brown was held with Mrs. Abney presiding. Mis Mae Murfee paid tribute to Mrs. Brown as a pioneer citizen, a good teacher, business woman, faithful mother and church woman. Mrs. Mary Hinton led a prayer and appropriate songs were sung with Mrs. H. O. Waters at the piano. Others participating in the service were Mrs. George R. Bean and Mrs. W. C. Rylander.

Mrs. Abney and Miss Murfee, hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Ernest Conley and Miss Elizabeth Easter served refreshments.

Flower Show Plans Discussed By Club

Eighteen members of Lubbock Garden club attended a called meeting held in the home of Mrs. O. A. Terry at 2111 Twenty-ninth Thursday afternoon.

Plans for a flower placement show to be held April 22 were discussed and flower arrangements were made.

ON FURNITURE

A program on furniture was presented Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of Southwest Home Demonstration club with Mrs. C. B. Allen. Miss Clara Pratt talked on period furniture and gave a demonstration on furniture construction.

Twelve members attended. The club will meet March 23 with Miss Marie Gooch.

It's Calendar Day!

The Sunday Social calendar is compiled today; therefore, club reporters are asked to notify the Society desk about next week's meetings by 12 noon today. The meetings will be on the third Monday through Saturday or March 15-20.

Deadline for Sunday Society pictures is 6 p. m. Thursday and deadline for Sunday Society stories is 12 noon Saturday.

Presentation Dance To Be Held Tonight

Sub-Deb social club will entertain with its fifteenth annual presentation dance tonight at 9 o'clock at Hilton hotel ballroom. Jay Denton's orchestra will furnish music. New members, the club president and the club sweetheart are to be presented.

Marriage Of Shirley Franklin, Mr. Fralin Is Read At First Methodist Church Here

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ingram are announcing the marriage of Miss Shirley Franklin, to Arvle A. Fralin, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Fralin of Morton, which took place at First Methodist church Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Dr. H. I. Robinson officiated and Mrs. Mamie I. Neal played traditional wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. Charles Moeser as she sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

Given in marriage by Mr. Ingram, the bride wore a white slipper satin gown styled with a fitted bodice and an imported English lace yoke. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a halo of flowers and she carried a white prayer book topped with gardenias and white satin streamers. For something old, she wore a gold bracelet which had belonged to her mother and for something borrowed she wore a lavaliere belonging to Mrs. Robert A. Sanders, matron of honor.

Attendant Wears Blue

The attendant wore an ice blue gown identical to the bride's. She wore a shoulder length veil of blue and carried a bouquet of gladioli. Mr. Sanders served as best man and Harvey Tubbs and Burel Taylor were ushers.

A reception was given in the Ingram home, 2209 Twenty-ninth, following the ceremony. Assisting with hospitalities were members of the wedding party, parents of the bridegroom and Mrs. D. D. Doyle. The bride's table was laid with a white imported cloth and centered with a two tiered pink wedding cake, surrounded by net and roses. Topping the cake were a miniature bride and bridegroom.

For a wedding trip to San Antonio, the bride wore a charmeen gabardine suit with brown accessories and a gardenia corsage. The couple will be at home in Lubbock where the bridegroom attends Texas Technological college.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Ingram of Clovis, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Evans of Floydada, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Butler of Littlefield and parents of the bridegroom.

U. S. Claimed To Have Priority On Disputed Antarctic Territory

By LEO DOTOLO
Associated Press Staff Writer

STONINGTON, Conn. Mar. 11 Folks in this little fishing village are at a loss to explain why the U. S. Government does not take official claim on the Antarctic region. They say it was discovered by a Stonington sea captain, Nathaniel B. Palmer of the sloop Hero in 1821 while on a seal hunting expedition in the South Shetland Islands.

Chile recently set up two military bases in the disputed territory and the British Government, taking exception to the Chilean claim, has dispatched a cruiser to the area to "show the flag." The second Chilean claim was made on the peninsula known to Chile as O'Higgins Land and to Great Britain as Graham Land.

Some atlases refer to this region as Palmer Land, with such areas as Palmer Peninsula and Palmer Archipelago.

Discovery Old Stuff

Stonington folks, particularly those who trace their ancestry to the famous sea captain, say that it belongs to the United States and that this country should assert itself. The discovery of the Antarctic is "old stuff" in this community.

An exploration vessel for a fleet of eight ships searching for new rookeries, the Hero under Captain Palmer set out from Yankee Harbor in the South Shetlands, January 14, 1821, in search for still more seal islands.

After sailing 70 miles, the northerly extension of the Antarctic Continent, upon which the volcanic Mount Hope is located, was found. The newly discovered land was very mountainous and desolate looking with its heavy load of ice and snow even in the southern midsummer. Feasible landing places were few on that frigid shore populated only by sea leopards, gray and black petrels and white cape pigeons.

Believed To Be Islands

Palmer never knew that he discovered a continent. He presumed that it was a large island or a chain of islands linked together by ice.

Accounts current here say that as the Hero was returning north, a dense fog set in. The Hero was hove to to await clearing weather. When the fog lifted two Russian war ships appeared, and a party from the fleet immediately boarded the American sloop. After a short visit Capt. F. G. Von Bellingshausen, later the honored Admiral Von Bellingshausen, asked to see the ship's log and charts. They were examined in silence. Then the Russian captain arose and exclaimed, "What do I see, what do I hear from a boy in his teens?

"That he is commander of a tiny boat the size of the launch of my frigate, in which he has pushed his way to the pole through storm and ice; has sought and found the point I, in command of one of the best appointed fleets at the disposal of my august master, have for three long years searched day and night for." Then placing his hand on Palmer's head he continued: "What shall I say to my master? What will he think of me? But, be that as it may, my grief is your joy. Wear your laurels with my sincere prayers for your welfare. I name the land you have discovered in your honor, noble boy, 'Palmer Land'."

ANTARCTIC CLAIMS MADE FOR RUSSIA

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet newspaper Tadjikistan Communist says Russian sailors discovered a large part of the Antarctic mainland.

Reviewing the activities of the Soviet whaling fleet, now in the Antarctic, the article stated:

"Soviet ships are now sailing in the same place where more than 100 years ago (1819-1821) Russian ships, under the command of Bellingshausen and Lazarev, for the first time in history, discovered a significant part of the Antarctic mainland.

"Even now maps honor the memory of their discovery and bear the names of the islands 'Peter the Great,' 'Alexander the First' and 'Bellinghausen Sea' which remind everyone of the deeds of Russian sailors."

Athens Facing Shortage Of Water; Warning Is Issued

ATHENS, March 11 (AP)—Athens, swollen to 1,500,000 persons, faces a critical water shortage.

Private residences have running water only three hours every other day. Hotels, jammed full of Americans, British and French, have constant running water. They've been warned, however, that if their consumption is not reduced 40 per cent, water will be apportioned them on a par with that to private residences.

Athens gets its water chiefly from the Marathon dam northwest of the city. Due to the recent drought and current consumption the dam has been nearly emptied.

A tunnel and aqueduct to connect the Kakosalesi torrent, 14 miles northwest of Marathon, with the reservoir is expected to be completed by the fall of 1949. The American Mission for aid to Greece is financing the project.

Plans For British Royalty's Tours Cancelled For Awhile

LONDON, March 11 (AP)—Official court sources say all plans for future royal tours of the British commonwealth have been shelved for the time being because of the nation's economic troubles.

The success of the South African trip early last year promoted suggestions that the royal family visit Australia and New Zealand in 1948. A Buckingham palace spokesman said it was decided to wait for a more favorable time.

Earlier Princess Elizabeth announced that she and Prince Philip planned no travels abroad this year.

Snails are regarded by Frenchmen as the greatest of all delicacies and appear on the menu of every Parisian restaurant.

ON SALE OF CAR
Salesman's Story Brings Low Prices

LISBON, March 11 (AP)—An automobile salesman in Oporto told the truth. As a result, prices for automobiles have been cut nearly 50 per cent in Portugal.

The story is that Daniel Vieira Barbosa, minister of economy, went to the Oporto showroom to buy a new car. The salesman, recognizing his customer, said he would sell him a car at a special low rate.

Surprised at the price, the minister said: "But I don't want you to lose your profit."

"Oh, that's all right," the salesman replied. "Even so I make a very big profit, you know."

The official bought his car and a few weeks later the country learned that after thorough investigation the government decided that motor salesmen were making exaggerated profits.

The price of luxury cars was cut as much as 50 per cent.

South Texas C-C Will Award Press Member For Service

SAN ANTONIO, March 11 (U.P.)—An award for the most outstanding "community service" performed during the past year by a newspaper member of the South Texas Press Association will again be made by the South Texas Chamber of Commerce, Colonel Ray Leeman, executive vice president, has announced.

The annual award of a plaque will be made at the April convention of the press association in San Antonio.

Mrs. W. A. Salter, Kerrville, chairman of the contest committee of the press association, which promulgates rules and judges entries, wrote Colonel Leeman that the community service award of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce is the most coveted trophy and the competition for it is most keen.

Last year's winner was George H. Atkins' Beeville Bee-Picayune. Preceding that Ar. Kowert's Fredericksburg Standard received the award.

Enormous Repair Bill Seen For U. S. In '48

NEW YORK, March 11 (AP)—Repairs for U. S. non-farm homes are expected to cost $2,600,000,000 to $3,300,000,000 in 1948, says a survey of the Tile Council of America. The survey indicates that of every 100 homes:

Thirty will be painted either inside or out.

Twelve will be re-roofed.

Ten will have heating equipment replaced or rebuilt.

Nine will have major plumbing work done.

Six will have carpentry work done.

Painting and heating work will each take a quarter of the repair money. Fifteen per cent will go for roofs, seven per cent for carpentry and about six per cent for plumbing.

Formula To Estimate Number Of Rats On Farm Perfected

EAST LANSING, Mich., March 11 (U.P.)—A formula by which farmers can estimate how many rats live on their farms is offered by Michigan State college extension specialists:

If you never see rats, but see signs of rats and damage, there are 1 to 100 rats on the farm.

If you see rats now and then at night, there are 100 to 500.

If you see rats every night and occasionally in daytime, there are from 500 to 1,000.

If you see lots of rats at night and several every day, you are probably host to from 1,000 to 5,000.

Gets Arthritis Relief With Mertox, Says Fort Worth Man

"I have found that Mertox Compound is a wonderful remedy," writes Mr. Ephraim E. Jones, Erath Street, Fort Worth, Texas. "I have been constipated and in a rundown condition for years; also I have been troubled with arthritis for over 14 months."

"So far I have only taken two bottles of Mertox Compound and am getting better all the time. My constipation is gone and the arthritis is greatly improved. I have found Mertox to be a wonderful remedy because it seems to get right down to the cause of the trouble, removes poisonous waste from the body and at the same time restores energy so that I now feel like myself again."

Many, many people are reporting amazing results with this splendid medicine and many druggists report constantly mounting demand. Why not ask your druggist today for Mertox Compound? But be sure you get the genuine Mertox—don't be "switched."

County Agents And Farm Leaders Attend Tractor School At Tech

County agents, club leaders, farmers and implement dealers from 21 counties of the Panhandle-Plains area closed out a two-day tractor maintenance school at Texas Technological college Thursday afternoon.

Purpose of the school was to give information to 4-H club leaders and agents on methods of taking better care of farm tractors, with the hope that they will pass the information on to 4-H club members and farmers in their various communities.

Other Schools Planned

A. R. Johnson, a representative of Standard Oil and Gas company; and C. N. Hinkle, also of Standard Oil, directed classroom instructions. Willie L. Ulich, agricultural engineer; W. N. Williamson, district agent; and Dave Sherrill, Lubbock county agent, of the Extension Service, conducted the school.

Tractors were furnished by Lubbock implement dealers.

The school was one of five to be conducted in Texas during the next three weeks. Bad weather cut attendance and sessions had to be held inside the stock judging pavilion.

Agents Attend Meeting

Attending the school were:

County agents—E. L. Dysart, Channing; D. F. Eaton, jr., Amherst; Jack Cleveland, Brownfield; W. R. Kimbrough, Crosbyton; Charles Reed, Claude; C. W. Wilhoit, Archer City; Roy L. McClung, Seymour; W. B. Hoosier, Memphis; V. E. Hofner, Childress; John Neilson, Stinnett; George K. Veteto, Vernon E. Goule, Stratford; Artie Forehand, Levelland; W. L. Trice, Plainview; Art Bralley, Amarillo; J. B. Waide, jr., Dumas; George S. Blackburn, Throckmorton; Ray Stockard, Quanah; W. B. Griffin, Tahoka; Manuel W. Ayers, Plainview; and Leroy Colgan and George Elliott, Lubbock.

Club leaders attending included: A. A. Miller, Brownfield; L. F. Head, Lorenzo; Herbert Hunt, Claude; C. W. Fails, Megargel; Lamar West, Memphis; John Carter, Childress; S. L. Weatherford, Stinnett; Walter Obenhaus, Vernon; C. E. Roach, Texhoma, Okla.; Albert Koenig, Amarillo; V. H. Stovall, Hartley; W. H. Ham, Channing; G. C. Laney, Vera; Walter S. Timmons, Throckmorton; Therle Wall, Quanah; Alvin Davis, Post; A. E. Hagens, Wilson.

Implement dealers attending the sessions were: C. H. Routh, H. V. Woodward, D. R. Carpenter, all of Dallas; A. R. Johnson, Fort Worth; C. T. McClanahan, Plainview; and Otis Larna, R. L. Elms, L. R. Ragland, Oscar Nislar, jr., and C. H. Scales, all of Lubbock.

AT TRACTOR MAINTENANCE SCHOOL—Approximately 50 farmers, county agents, 4-H club leaders and implement dealers attended a two-day maintenance school conducted Wednesday and Thursday at Texas Technological college. The group is shown in the top picture. In the bottom picture, D. F. Eaton, jr., Lamb county agent, is removing the front wheel of a tractor in a demonstration conducted during the school. Others in the picture, left to right, are: Alvin Davis, Garza county club leader; Bill Griffin, Lynn county agent; J. B. Waide, jr., Moore county agent; John Neilson, Hutchinson county agent; and R. C. Middleton, Lubbock county farmer. The school closed Thursday afternoon. (Staff Photos).

Fake Telephone Call Opens Doors Of Saloon To Thieves

CHICAGO, Mar. 11 (U.P.)—Somebody who said he was Stacey Carter's friend got Carter into a lot of trouble.

He called Carter, a porter at the Grand Ritz Grill. "If a man comes after closing time with a package for me, take care of it," he said.

When Stacey opened the door for two men with a bundle, they produced pistols, put $900, the day's receipts, into the bundle and went away.

Possibility Of Arson In Fire At Houston Is Investigated

HOUSTON, March 11 (U.P.) — Arson Investigator S. A. Greer said today a $4,000 apartment fire looked "mighty suspicious" as he pointed out that burglars looted nearby homes during the blaze.

Greer said the fire department was checking the possibility of arson.

The fire was believed to have started in a rear bedroom after occupants of the apartment left. Investigators discovered that a burglar had attempted to cut his way into the building through a rear door.

R. J. Ressel, owner of the duplex apartment estimated damage to the building at $1,000. Damage to furniture was estimated at about $3,000.

The loot in nearby homes included two wrist watches valued at $150, a government check and other valuables.

PRODUCTION INCREASED

DETROIT, March 11 (AP)—Motorcar production in the United States this week will total 107,332 units, the trade paper Automotive News estimated today. This compares with an estimated output last week of 102,578 units.

NAMED TO POST

SAN ANTONIO, March 11 (AP)—Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright retired Army hero of Corregidor and Bataan, has been named president of the San Antonio Social Welfare and Legal Aid bureau, an organization which gives free legal aid to the indigent.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Man Had Poor Chance Of Escape From Jail If 'Key' Had Worked

HOUSTON, March 11 (U.P.)—Percy Robinson, 39-year-old negro, almost found himself in double trouble when he used a spoon as a key in an attempt to open a jail door.

Robinson was arrested and charged with burglary and felony theft yesterday when he was found walking down the street with two money bags containing $75.

Officers said the negro used a spoon from the jail's utensil supply as a key on a cell door. But it didn't work.

If Robinson had opened his cell door and two others in his path to freedom he would have been standing in the middle of the jail office.

Anonymous Threat On Life Of Churchill Said Work Of Crank

LONDON, March 11 (U.P.)—An anonymous threat against the life of Winston Churchill was checked off by Scotland Yard today as the work of a crank.

The yard put a special guard on Churchill after police received a call last night in which they were told that he would be "murdered at midday."

Midday passed and there was no sign of anything untoward. A spokesman for the yard said the precautions would be maintained for the time being.

Publisher Of Corpus Christi Newpaper Dies In Hospital

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 11 (AP)—Frank B. Harrison, founder and publisher of the Corpus Christi Press and former managing editor of newspapers in Houston and Beaumont, died in a hospital here today.

Harrison was a life member of the National Editorial association, the Texas Press association and South Texas Press association.

Funeral services have been tentatively set for tomorrow afternoon.

READY FOR DUTY AGAIN NURSE PRAISES RETONGA

"I Felt Like I Needed A Nurse Myself," Declares Mrs. Stephens, "But Thanks To Retonga I Now Go About My Work Singing Instead Of Grunting," Tells Happy Experience.

"I have been a practical nurse for twenty years and from the relief Retonga gave in my own case Retonga proved it is far ahead of anything in my experience," declares Mrs. O. R. Stephens, well-known resident of 115 McCaskill St., San Antonio, Tex.

"I got to where everything I ate seemed to disagree with me," stated Mrs. Stephens. "Food seemed to sour almost as soon as I swallowed it. I would belch up undigested particles after every meal and I often felt bloated before I left the table. Gas pressure was so strong at night I had difficulty in sleeping. I had to take a powerful laxative practically every day for several years. I had splitting headaches, and I felt worn-out continually.

"In just three days on Retonga I began to notice decided relief. Now I enjoy my meals without discomfort afterward. The sourness, gas, constipation, and headaches are fully relieved, and I go about my housework singing instead of grunting. I used to feel like I needed a nurse myself, but I feel so much better since taking Retonga I may go back to nursing again. Retonga is grand."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at Mark Halsey Drug Stores and all other good drug stores.

LaVern Roach Will Face His Big Test In Fight With Marcel Cerdan Tonight

Frenchman, Who Hasn't Lost A Fight In U. S., 11-5 Favorite

NEW YORK, March 11 (AP)—Give LaVern Roach, 22-year-old Texas ring rookie, a solid chance to upset the 11 to 5 favored Marcel Cerdan of France tomorrow night in the Madison Square garden battle pit.

This is the big one for the ex-Marine from Plainview with a possible middleweight title bout at stake for the winner. It also is boxing's big opportunity to uncover one bright new face to relieve the monotony of revived oldtimers. Unfortunately, all are not as well-preserved as Gus Lesnevich.

Roach Has Advantage

Roach has a 10-year youth advantage over the European champ who never has lost in this country. Going into the 10-round bout, Marcel has won 32 fights in a row, four in North America. The Texan, improving with each start and yet to reach his peak, has won his last 19 starts.

The Roach-Cerdan fight from Madison Square Garden will be carried over the American Broadcasting Company and locally by KFYO. The Don Dunphy-Bill Corum broadcast is due to begin at approximately 9 p. m. Lubbock time.

Although the trade has established the veteran Cerdan as a stick out choice, the truth of the matter is that both are doubtful factors on the big time. Despite European success, Marcel just squeaked past Georgia Abrams, knocked out Harold Green and Billy Walker and barely decisioned Anton Raadik. In fact Raadik, the hard-punching Estonian floored the Frenchman three times in the last round at Chicago.

The Texan's real class has yet to be proved, despite his impressive performance against a fading Tony Janiro in January. Manager Johnny Abood, assisted by Chris Dundee, has brought him along slowly. He's lost only to Artie Towne, an obscure battler, in 25 fights. The Janiro show proved Nat Fleischer was right when he called him "rookie of the year for 1947."

Gate May Exceed $70,000

LaVern's handlers had to guarantee Janiro $15,000 to get him into the ring with him. After paying off, they wound up with only $3,900 as their share of the purse. This time it's 30 per cent for Cerdan and 25 for Roach with the Garden predicting a crowd of 15,000 and a gate of more than $70,000.

Over on Second avenue in an obscure gym, Manager Abood has been giving Roach some private instructions. No secret stuff but just a little quiet advice away from the "buttinsky's" around Stillman's.

There is little question about Roach's style. He has to get inside to get his man. A forceful body puncher with a good left hand, he realizes he must carry the fight to the flurrying Cerdan from the start. Abrams, who has sparred with Roach, thinks he has a good chance.

Marcel, always busy and banking heavily on his ability to get the jump on his opponent with his furious attack, also figures to come out swinging. It has all the earmarks of one of the best fights of the winter. At least it has attracted much more talk among the managers and hangers on than any other. Roach expects to weigh 156, Cerdan 159.

Roach Being Rushed?

Abood and Dundee have been criticized freely for rushing Roach. Some think he is not ready for a vet like Cerdan. Actually, he almost ditched this Cerdan fight when it was in the negotiating stage to take the Washington nontitle shot at Rocky Graziano in April. Now Sonny Horne is signed for that one.

Roach, who has engaged in more than 125 bouts (amateur and professional) despite his tender age, is all set—physically and mentally—for the Cerdan joust. He says that he just hopes "all the folks back home will keep their fingers crossed for me—because I'm going to do my best."

Texas will be well represented at ringside. The newspaper publisher from Plainview, H. S. Hilburn, Roach's girl friend, Evelyn Winkels, and a party of 24 other friends will be here.

A smashing win for either fighter would put the New York State commission in an embarrassing position. The middleweight crown, worn by Graziano in many states, is "in abeyance" here. Some action, possibly a bout between the winner and Tony Zale, could result. As for now, Commissioner Eddie Eagan is standing pat, refusing to take any definite stand other than "in abeyance."

Seven KO's Highlight Boxing Show At Lockney

LOCKNEY, March 11 (Special)—Seven knockouts and one technical knockout featured a 17-bout boxing card presented here tonight, with Lockney High school leather slingers taking nine of 13 bouts from Tahoka High school boxers. Four exhibition settoes climaxed the fight night.

Coach Curtis Kelley's mittmen again proved to be the class of local high school boxing circles in piling up a decisive margin over Coach Jim Foust's Tahoka boys. The matches, put on in the Lockney High school gym before a capacity crowd, featured plenty of glove action and several good rounds.

Witt Scores KO

James Witt of Lubbock, fighting at 170 pounds, scored a knockout over James Adams of Lockney at 1:30 of the first round in one of the featured gos, but Calvin Pyle of Lockney scored the quickest kayo. He ousted Frank Lofton of Wayland college in 35 seconds of the first canto.

The Lockney fighters will entertain Amarillo fighters here on March 25.

The results tonight:

Billy Bybee, Lockney, (128), decisioned Wayne Petty, Wayland.

Calvin Pyle, Lockney (160), knocked out Frank Lofton, Wayland, 0:35 of first round.

James Witt, Lubbock, (170), knocked out Jack Adams, Lockney, 1:30 of first round.

John Adams, Bishee, Ariz., Wayland college, (175), decisioned Bob Quinnenberry, Lockney.

Twenty Boxers On Boys Fight Program Today

Ten bouts will be unreeled tonight at the Lubbock Boys club, featuring the club's outstanding mitt slingers.

Tonight's melees will be the club's fifth ring show for the current season. A sixth and final show for the season will be held March 19.

Boxers To Get Awards

Following is the schedule of fights for tonight: Hugh Carlen, 83, vs. Wendell Spence, 81; Dean Fawcett, 72, vs. James Pritchard, 79; Jerry Shipp, 111, vs. Barry Wickliffe, 120; Cotton Lawson, 108, vs. Ray Thorton, 111; Ben L. Northam, 76, vs. Don Pendergrass, 82; Bobby Tyner, 85, vs. Bill Wilson, 83; Wayne Pendergrass, 80, vs. Darrell Fletcher, 76; Cecil Ray Thompson, 105, vs. Robert L. Hampton, 107; Billy Hampton, 80, vs. Henry Roy, 78, and "Cricket" Sherley, 65, vs. Zack Tannery, 63.

Club Coach C. L. Tomlinson said letters will be awarded to club fighters who have participated in at least four bouts this season and/or won at least two fights.

Sexton Will Referee

Lubbock Rotary club members will be special guests tonight. The club will furnish Bon Blon, Kyle Rattseau and P. J. Minter as judges, Rex Webster as announcer and Floyd Lebow as timekeeper. O. J. "Bo" Sexton will be referee.

Each boy in tonight's fights will receive a free ticket to the Optimist-sponsored Clyde Bros. circus here, in addition to an appropriately-marked T-shirt.

Two Lubbock Quints Score Tourney Wins

EARTH, March 11 (Special)—Two Lubbock quintets, Ray's Grocery and Texas Tech Independents, chalked up impressive victories in the first round of the Earth Independent cage tournament here tonight.

The Tech Independents, featuring Don Grove, Jay Kerr, Jiggs Jackson, Gene Gibson and Ardis Barton, defeated a surprising Spade five, 54-41, in one of the feature games of the program. Grove tallied 13 points to top the Tech scorers and Hull chalked up 12 for the Spade crew.

Ray's Grocery, sparked by Virgil Johnson's 19-point scoring offensive, nosed by the Dimmitt Independents, 48-46, in the most exciting tussle of the card. The Dimmitt quint led, 20-16, at halftime, but the Lubbock five deadlocked the count at 38-38 late in the third quarter.

The Hub city cagers forged ahead in the final stanza, but Dimmitt tied the score at 46-46 with only seconds remaining. Then Johnson sank a field goal just before the gun to give the Grocerymen the triumph.

Burbank Routs Podunk, 136-14

HOUSTON, March 11 (U.P.)—Scorekeepers at the Houston press Basketball tournament just about needed an adding machine to compute tallies made by Harold Clayton, all-city junior high star.

Playing with Burbank, he racked up a new individual scoring mark by sinking 88 points in an opening round game yesterday.

The Burbank Juniors walloped Podunk, 136-14.

BASEBALL GAME POSTPONED

COLLEGE STATION, March 11 (AP)—Hardin-Simmons university's baseball team arrived here today for a series with Texas A. and M. which the Aggies had called off because of the cold. The Aggies announced early today that the games—scheduled tomorrow and Saturday—had been called off. The college's public relations department said attempts to reach the Hardin-Simmons team enroute were unsuccessful.

Eight AA Teams In Track Show

Invitational Meet Set For Saturday

ABILENE, March 11 (Special)—At least eight West Texas schoolboy track teams will battle for championship honors in the first annual Abilene Invitational meet Saturday at the McMurry college oval, with the host Abilene Eagles, Breckenridge and Lubbock holding the favored spots in meet predictions.

Several additional Class AA squads, including San Angelo, Big Spring and Odessa, are expected to be on hand for the first preliminary event at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, but their entry blanks had not been received late tonight. Teams entered, other than Abilene, Breckenridge and Lubbock, are Childress, Roscoe, Albany, DeLeon, Colorado City and Water Valley.

The Abilene squad will depend on sprinters Bill Rogers and Bob Carter to spark a drive for the meet title, but the mile relay quartet of Bobby Ester, Marvin Mayfield, James Eddington and Bill Rogers has turned in some good performances. The chief Abilene weight threat is George Lively.

The meet spotlight will be on the highly-rated Lubbock Westerner squad, which will be featured by a group of speedy dash entries and crack 440 and mile relay teams. Charles Curry, who has tossed the shot 44 feet this season, is certain to be one of the top favorites in the weight event.

Little is known of Breckenridge and Childress squads, but both groups have made good showings in practice meets. Roscoe, Albany and Colorado City reportedly will field some individual performers with championship possibilities.

Indiana University Line Coach Takes Job With Pro Grid Team

DETROIT, March 11 (AP)—C. A. "Timmy" Temerario, Indiana university line coach, today accepted an offer from Detroit Lions General Manager Bo McMillan to become line coach of the Detroit team.

McMillan resigned several weeks ago as head coach at Indiana and the appointment of Temerario was one of his major moves to strengthen the coaching staff of the Detroit National Football league entry.

Most players in the American Hockey league have a unique insurance plan that pays them $5 a stitch for cuts received in games.

Seven Techsans Led Cage Race

Seven members of the Texas Tech basketball squad, which closed its season with a 54-52 defeat at the hands of Texas Wesleyan Saturday night in the NAIB tourney at Fort Worth, scored 100 points or more during the regular 26-game season.

The high-scoring Techsans were led by towering pivot man Don Grove of Monument, N. M., who hit 129 buckets and 93 charity tosses for a total of 320 points. He added 27 tallies in the two-game Fort Worth series against Abilene Christian college and Texas Wesleyan.

Barton Places Second

Well behind Grove, but still high in the scoring parade, came Guard Ardis Barton. The junior from Earth, who hit 72 baskets and 54 free throws for 198 points. He also added 27 points during the Fort Worth shooting.

The five other century blasters include Billy "Whistle" Banks of Vernon with 166; Gene Gibson of Lakeview with 163; Chester "Jiggs" Jackson of Monument with 162; James "Wimpy" Hill of Amarillo with 132; and Jay Kerr of Odessa with 109.

Gibson, who led the nation in free throw conversions for colleges in Tech's classification, dunked 35 of 43 charity attempts through the hoops for an .814 percentage.

Collected 1,372 Points

Ernest Hawkins of Lamesa, a substitute, actually took charity line honors with 1.000 per cent on two completions in two attempts. But among the regulars, Gibson was followed by Jackson, who netted 22 of 29 attempts for a .759 percentage. And Gilbert McAlister of Portales, N. M., also a sub, hit six of seven attempts for an .857 percentage.

Texas Tech's Red Raiders won 15 and lost 11 during the regular season, while winning one and losing one in post-season competition. During the regular year Tech amassed 1,372 points on 544 field goals and 284 free throws out of 488 attempts.

The Raider opponents scored 1,203 points on 466 field goals and 271 of 486 charity attempts.

Won 10, Lost Six

Texas Tech finished second in the Border Conference race with a record of 10 victories and six defeats, only Arizona, with whom Tech split during the season, finishing with a better loop record.

Baylor Quintet Favored To Win NCAA Playoffs

DALLAS, March 11 (AP)—Baylor's Bears and Arizona's Wildcats open an unprecedented series here tomorrow night to decide the southwest's entry in the National Collegiate Athletic association western regional basketball tournament at Kansas City.

A sell-out crowd of 2,800 is indicated for the first game at Southern Methodist university's Perkins gymnasium. The teams meet again Saturday night and if a third game is needed will clash Monday night.

Close Battle Seen

Baylor is favored to win the play-off on the basis of a better season record and a stronger defense but the fact that Arizona licked the Bears in early season and boasts one of the top offensive records of the country have brought predictions of close battles all the way.

Arizona is champion of the Border conference, Baylor is kingpin of the Southwest conference. In the past the district's team has been selected without a play-off with the honor always going to the Southwest conference. But this year, the records of the teams called for the Border conference to get its chance to furnish the representative in the NCAA tournament.

Over the season route Baylor won 19 and lost 5. Arizona won 19 and lost 8.

KIRK SCORES TOURNEY WIN

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 11 (AP)—Peggy Kirk of Findlay, Ohio, scored a decisive 6 and 5 victory over Margaret Gunther of Memphis, Tenn., in second round matches of the Florida East Coast Women's golf tournament today. Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Texas, co-medalist with Miss Kirk in the qualifying test, advanced by default over Bee Sellers of Abilene, Texas.

Roach Might Accept Offer To Appear In Bout Here In July

Virtual assurance that LaVern Roach of Plainview, a leading contender for the middleweight boxing crown, would be seen in Lubbock this summer, probably in July, was given sport fans of the South Plains yesterday.

John Abood and Chris Dundee, managers of Roach, yesterday sent the following wire to Joe Kelly, sports editor of the Avalanche-Journal:

"Conference with Bert Kahn in reference to LaVern Roach boxing in Lubbock July with suitable opponent. Nothing definite due to pending fight with Cerdan. We are certain we will all come to a satisfactory agreement. Regards."

The wire was signed "Managers of LaVern Roach, John Abood and Chris Dundee."

Kahn currently is in New York for the Roach-Cerdan fight tonight, while attempting to secure Roach for an exhibition here in Lubbock this summer. Kahn already has signed Wild Bill McDowell of Dallas as an opponent, but he may be withdrawn if Roach's managers object to him.

A guarantee of $7,500 and travel fare had been offered Roach in February to stage a June bout, after which Kahn left for New York to negotiate personally. The site of the proposed bout still is undecided.

Heart Of The Plains Club To Meet Here Sunday Afternoon

The Heart of The Plains Kennel club will meet at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon on the mezzanine of the Hotel Lubbock.

Kelly Nail will speak on the raising of a dog, procedure in the show ring, and points used for judging. W. C. Boyd, club president, will preside.

Any person interested in the club is invited to attend the meeting. Dog ownership is not a requirement for club membership, although most of the members do own one or more dogs.

Tyler In Semifinal Of Cage Tournament

AMARILLO, March 11 (AP)—The No. 1 seeded Murray State Aggies and Tyler's tall Apaches advanced to semifinal berths of the Southwestern Regional Junior College tournament here today.

The Oklahomans spanked Lon Morris junior college of Jacksonville with a convincing display of offensive fireworks, 75-50. Tyler had some trouble but subdued the Eastern Oklahoma Aggie Mountaineers of Wilburton, 49-37.

The Apaches held a 26-17 lead at halftime.

Tyler's Acker Hanks with 14 points was high scorer. Gerald Blankenship's dozen tallies was the top scoring effort of the losers.

RED OLYMPIC PLANS

Harris Adopts A Wait And See Policy Toward Yankee Players

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 11 (AP)—The world champion New York Yankees probably are behind the other clubs in their baseball training chores, but that doesn't worry Manager Bucky Harris a bit.

Harris has adopted a wait-and-see policy about his veterans and the doubtful players. In some cases, he can't avoid it, but Bucky figures that fellows like Joe DiMaggio and Charley Keller can be relied upon to set their own training pace. The only ones he's driving hard are those who reported overweight, notably Spec Shea, Bill Bevens and Yogi Berra.

Keller Is Improving

Keller is one of the team's question marks. He underwent a spinal operation late last season, after playing in only 45 games. He reported his back gave him no pain after working out the first week here, but he hasn't done any real hard running or hitting. "He is not right yet," says Harris, "but he's showing tremendous improvement."

DiMaggio, who had some chips removed from his elbow last fall, hasn't tested his arm with any hard throwing and says it still is a trifle stiff. Nevertheless Harris is counting on him and Tommy Henrich as two of the regular outfielders. Keller or Johnny Lindell may be the third. Cliff Mapes and Ed Stewart, both from Kansas City, will be the reserves.

Then there's the question of first base. George McQuinn—last year's regular, was late reporting and Bobby Brown, who also will be tried at first, was due today. Meantime, Steve Souchok from the Kansas City farm has looked a bit better than Joe Collins from Newark.

Gus Niarhos and Larry (Yogi) Berra are running one-two among the five catchers left, now that Aaron Robinson is gone. Niarhos hit .321 for Kansas City last season. Berra "will be a lot more polished before we leave here," says Harris. Commenting on his pitching staff, Harris remarked: "Spud Chandler looks good. If he's right, he'll be one of the starters." Spud wasn't right a great part of the 1947 season.

Syracuse's boxing team has won the Eastern intercollegiate crown eight out of the last 14 times they've competed.

Training Camp Notes

LAKELAND, Fla., March 11 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers sent 16 men to bat in a 12-run outburst in the fifth inning as they mauled the Cincinnati Reds 15 to 3 in an exhibition game here today.

The American leaguers put together eight hits, four walks and two National league errors to get the dozen runs across the plate. Rookie Outfielded John Groth drove in three runs with a homer and Right Fielder Vic Wertz knocked in three more with a triple.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 11 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 4 to 2 today in their first meeting against a National league team this exhibition season.

Kirby Higbe, who started for the Pirates, was touched for four hits, including a home run with two on by Eddie Waitkus in the third. Andy Pafko homered for the Cubs in the fourth.

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 11 (AP)—Staging a four-run rally in the ninth inning, the New York Giants today defeated the Oakland Oaks of the Pacific Coast league, 4-3.

The contest was a benefit affair for the Phoenix club of the Arizona-Texas league.

Lloyd Christopher sent a solo home run over the left field fence for the Pacific coast crew in the sixth.

Rallying in the ninth the Giants put across their scores on three singles, a home run by Newt Grasso and a game-winning double by Bobby Thomson.

ST PETERSBURG, Fla., March 11 (AP)—The world champion New York Yankees shut out the St. Louis Cardinals today for the second straight day and won their third exhibition game without a loss. The score was 1 to 0.

The Cards made only three hits—one each off Red Embree, Frank Hiller and Don Johnson.

Second Baseman Vernal Jones' fumble of Cliff Mapes' roller in the fourth developed into the only run. Mapes went to second as Yogi Berra grounded out and scored on a single by Joe Collins, rookie first baseman.

The Yankees collected four hits, two of them off starter Murry Dickson, who was charged with the defeat.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 11 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics will open a three-game series with Washington here tomorrow.

Manager Connie Mack said three rookies will have a chance to display their wares in the A's first test against outside competition.

As might be expected against a club predominantly left-handed in power, Mack will use his two new southpaws, Alex Keliner and Lou Brissie. The third rookie, Bill Connelly, will get his turn in Sunday's game.

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, D. R., March 11 (AP)—A two-run ninth inning home run by Pitcher Paul Minner gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a 4-3 victory over team of local all-stars today.

Umpire Frank Dascoli of the International league provoked a mild uprising when he called Preston Ward, running for Jackie Robinson, safe at home with the tying Dodger run in the eighth.

Bowling Scores

Lions club keglers retained the top spot in the Civic Bowling be defeating the American Legion team in three games Thursday night at Lubbock Bowling club.

The Jaycees turned back the Veterans of Foreign Wars in two of three games. Optimist club bowlers won two of three tilts from the Exchange club, and Kiwanis keglers swept three games from the American Business club to complete the card.

Individual leaders for the night included Barney Blagner, Jaycees, 196-551; Kenneth Kimball, Optimist, 191-561; Sam Hitch, Lions, 204-550; Jack Welch, 224-546; Doyle Vannoy, Lions, 194-543; and Rufus Rush, Jaycees, 184-530.

The league standings:

Teams	Won	Lost
Lions	49	23
Jaycees	44	28
V. F. W.	39	33
Optimists	37	35
American Legion	33	39
Kiwanis	34	38

HAMLINE WINS NAIB GAME

KANSAS CITY, March 11 (AP)—The Hamline Pied Pipers from St. Paul ousted Manhattan college, 60-51, tonight in the first quarter-finals game of the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball tournament.

Weather Again Delays Hubber Club Workouts

DALLAS, March 11 (Special)—Cold weather again played havoc with the Spring training camp of the Dallas Rebels and the Lubbock Hubbers here today, so Rebel President George Schepps moved his 75 chattels into the local ice hockey arena for conditioning exercises.

The move brought a lot of chuckles from spectators, who could not help noting the comparison between the weather and the arena that was chosen for the workout. Despite the good-natured ribbing, Rebel Manager Jimmy Adair did not lose the day entirely, for some work was accomplished.

Ticket Sales Slow

The workout was designed primarily to loosen muscles and to keep partially awakened muscles in shape, so that the inclement weather would not undo what has been accomplished to date. It was impossible for the squads to do more than limber up and the two-day hiatus in practice knocks out the tentative intra-squad game scheduled for Sunday.

Meanwhile in Lubbock, Hubber officials announced that reserved seats for the season were not selling as rapidly as planned—or hoped—and emphasized that the offer would last for a limited time only.

Season reserved tickets, which may be purchased at the Hub Clothiers' office, are selling for $50, or less than general admission tickets. Reserved seat tickets will be good for all 70 home games and preference will be given holders on all exhibition games.

36,000 Keglers Begin Games In Bowling Congress Tournament

DETROIT, March 11 (AP)—Indoor sport's biggest marathon—the 80-day American Bowling Congress championships—got under way tonight in the fairgrounds coliseum's 40-alley arena.

Some of the records being shot at have stood for as long as 18 years. All have been unmarred for at least 10 years.

Tournament officials are confident some of the all-time marks will fall before the onslaught of a record field of more than 36,000 keglers.

Greatest depth of the Pacific ocean is 35,400 feet.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

W. C. O. Harris, Plainview's wily head grid mentor, replied Thursday night to rumors that he had been offered a college coaching position by announcing, "I have not been contacted by any college official and as far as I am concerned the rumors are just so much talk. I want to emphasize that I am very happy here and I am not planning any move."

Last summer Texas Technological college officials reportedly offered Harris a Raider post, but the aroused Plainview fans countered with an offer too tempting for "Dub" to refuse. So it would not be surprising if other schools tried to secure Harris' services for vacant coaching jobs. Harris took over the reins at Plainview during the war at a low ebb in the Bulldogs' athletic setup, then built up a series of strong grid and cage teams that have been among the best in the district for the last three years. Part of Harris' popularity in Plainview no doubt is a result of a series of victories over the Lubbock Westerners on the gridiron, (too many of 'em for Lubbock fans to even think about). But Harris said in his best gloomy style Thursday night that "I guess we've about reached the end of the string."

The canny Dub was referring to the fact that he will have only three men—two guards and a tackle—returning from his 1947 squad. Harris will be without the services of the stellar players that sparked the eleven for the last two years, including Donnie Meyers, Bob Bogle and Bill Howton. "It looks like a mighty rough year for the Bulldogs," Harris said.

Harris is strongly opposed to the new Interscholastic league ban on spring football practice, but thinks the eight-semester ruling is wise. Harris said that a move is underway in the state AA schools to have a new poll taken on the spring training question, now that the "Big City" schools have formed their own league. Harris is also in favor of restricting the vote to AA schools. "Why should schools with six-man football vote on regulations pertaining to AA classification elevens?" Harris asks.

The Plainview track squad has started workouts, but, like every other school in West Texas, has been hampered by bad weather. Only two boys on the squad, Bill Howton and Tommy Tolliver, have had real track experience, but Bill Blair, Marland Miller and Bill Pemberton are some of the top prospects. Howton is rated as one of the best hurdlers in the area and Tolliver is a mile specialist. Personable Henry Loter will serve as mentor for the cinder squad.

Thomas Tinkers In State TAAF Playoff Today

PORT ARTHUR, March 11 (Special)—Second-seeded Thomas Tinkers quint of Lubbock is scheduled to clash with Barnes Grocery of Bullock at 11:30 o'clock Friday morning in the first round of the Texas Amateur Athletic federation basketball tournament.

The Tinkers won 51 victories in 56 starts this season, to give them the runner-up spot in the rankings under favored Cade Lumber of Tyler.

Other first round tilts will include Johnson Bakery of Austin vs, San Antonio entry and Consolidated-Vultee of Fort Worth vs. Gulf Oilers of Port Arthur.

1-AA Officials To Map Baseball Plan

C. A. Cryer of Borger, chairman of District 1-AA of the Texas Interscholastic league, has called a meeting of district officials for 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning at the Amarillo Hotel in Amarillo.

Principal Floyd Honey and Coach C. R. Pattison of Lubbock High school will attend the meeting.

District officials Saturday hope to devise a 1-AA baseball schedule, provided representative high schools vote at that time in favor of inter-school play. In previous years the district has not sponsored a high school baseball schedule.

KENTUCKY DOWNS LA SALLE

NEW YORK, March 11 (AP)—Favored Western Kentucky rolled into the semifinals of the National Invitation Basketball tournament tonight with a 68-61 victory over LaSalle of Philadelphia before a sellout crowd at Madison Square Garden.

BASEBALL MEETING SLATED

DALLAS, March 11 (AP)—The Big State league will meet here Sunday to revise its constitution and correct discrepancies in the schedule, President J. Walter Morris announced today.

Morris said the meeting would be at 1 p. m. at the Jefferson hotel.

Africa consists of 11,500,000 square miles.

ALEXANDER LEADS TOURNEY

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 11 (AP)—Skip Alexander, six foot two inch Lexington, N. Independent Oil Men In Session

CORPUS CHRISTI,, March 11 (AP)—Independent oil men have an important role to play in development of current world affairs, the president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners association said today.

H. J. (Jack) Porter, here for the association's second annual convention, said "the independent, more and more, is aware he must do a large portion of development and exploration for new sources of oil.

"Texas independent producers must give serious consideration to the nation's national defense plans," Porter added.

To Discuss National Defense

National defense will figure prominently in tomorrow's general sessions of the three-day convention, he said.

Lieut. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, vice-president of the Hughes Tool company, Houston, and former chief of staff of the Army Air Forces, is to speak on "national security" at a dinner tomorrow night.

The convention opened today with a series of committee meetings for drafting of resolutions to be considered tomorrow morning. Proposals expected to be presented include enlarging the association's executive committee to two vice-presidents, instead of one, from each railroad commission district; advocating legislation calling for a uniform measurement for a cubic foot of natural gas and endorsement of the Rizley bill which would amend the natural gas act and limit the authority of the federal power commission.

Others are expected to pertain to steel and tubular goods shortages, synthetic oil, and a unitization bill scheduled to be presented to the next session of the legislature.

Committee chairmen elected today include Walter A. Henshaw, San Antonio, nominations; Gaylord H. Chizum, Fort Worth, resolutions; Vernon W. Frost, Houston, budget and finance, and J. E. Price, Houston, constitution and by-laws.

Overtime Parking

hour meters by 20-minute devices on the west side of Texas avenue from Broadway south to the alley was taken under advisement.

City Manager Smith's suggestion that a study of traffic problems and remedies on Nineteenth street should be made as soon as possible received the commission's approval. The problem for that entire street must be treated as a whole rather than piecemeal if it ever is to be solved satisfactorily, he said.

Meanwhile, the commission granted a 25-foot loading zone to the American Laundry and Cleaners at 2224 Nineteenth and a 50-foot no parking zone at the entrance to the new Veterans administration building on the same thoroughfare.

Petitions requesting street lights on Thirteenth street from Avenue U to College avenue and at Seventh street and Avenue S were taken under advisement.

Request Rejected

An ordinance extending the city limits to include Cooper addition and adjacent areas was passed on final reading. The area is bounded by Thirtieth and Thirty-fourth streets and Polk and Tyler avenues.

Also approved on final reading was an ordinance closing the alley between Broadway and Thirteenth street from Avenue V westward on the site for the projected million dollar plant of the First Baptist church.

The commission rejected the request of the Kuykendall Chevrolet company, 1903 Texas avenue, for a narrow strip of land adjacent to that plant which would tend to narrow an alley. The commission directed, however, that the action not be made a matter of record pending efforts to adjust it.

Equipment Purchased

Action was postponed on the request of the recreation department to buy a motion picture projector, microphone and record player. Bids submitted to supply the equipment were those of the Sound Photo Equipment Co., $541.53, and the H. & R. Supply Co., $589.65.

Numerous other purchases authorized, each from the lowest bidder, included:

A chemical feed pump for the city electric plant from Milton Roy Co., $928; venetian blinds for the new fire department substation on South Texas avenue from Tontine Shade shop, $540, conditional upon the merchandise measuring up to specifications; 25 fire hydrants from the Well Machinery & Supply Co., $2,871.90; a 1½ ton Chevrolet truck for the water department from Kuykendall Chevrolet Co., $1,552.50; 600 "curb stops," a water control device, from Morrison Supply Co., $1,173; supplies of various size water gate valves from the Well Machinery and Supply Co., for $1,006.66; 200 corporation stops from the same company for $276, and 400 service clamps from the Rohan Co., for $456.

Good Crowds Attend Musical Show Of 'Alice In Wonderland'

The musical adaptation of 'Alice in Wonderland,' famous children's story by Lewis Carrol, was presented in performances at 4 p. m. and 8 p. m. yesterday. Approximately 1,200 persons attended the first performance and about 500 the second one.

Regrets were expressed by the sponsors, the Lubbock Association for Childhood Education, that the 20-foot caterpillar could not be shown. It was damaged in a wreck and had to be sent to New York for repair, it was reported.

Penthouse Productions of New York gave the performance. Miss Evelyn Jones is president of A. C. E. and Mrs. J. T. Shaver was general manager of the presentation.

nite commitments to carry out the programs formulated, particularly the following:

"Restore production to, and in some cases above, pre-war levels, with stated annual goals.

"Make money sound again.

"Lower trade barriers.

Clayton stated that "historically, one of the most fruitful breeders of war has been the destruction of independence of small countries by some international bully.

New Technique Described

"Throughout Europe today there is deep fear. Country after country in eastern Europe has already surrendered. Country after country in western Europe is still struggling desperately to maintain its independence and integrity.

"If an enemy were pounding at their gates, we would understand perfectly well what is going on. But that's the old-fashioned way. The new technique is to bore from within. That is done; it is the cheapest way and it will not bring help from powerful allies."

In an interview earlier, Clayton had said he did not think there would be a shooting war between the United States and Russia "in the very near future."

U. S. Must Act Now

"One hears the view expressed that we're already too late," Clayton said in his address. "I have patience, with almost any argument against the Marshall plan but that one.

"That is what Hitler hoped we would believe in 1940 and 1941. It is what the Communists hope we will believe today.

"If we act now, with courage and intelligence, to assist in the efforts of the countries of western Europe to restore their economies, the independence and integrity of these countries can still be preserved."

well below some counties which did not report records.

Bexar county, whose population strength is in San Antonio, is third, behind Dallas. There were 87,000 taxes paid, 20,000 exemptions—a total of 107,000.

Other Counties Listed

Tarrant county, with Fort Worth the big city; is next: 72,82 taxes paid, 15,000 exemptions—total 90,000, counting in estimated exemptions in rural areas.

Jefferson county, in which Beaumont is the seat, has a known total of 52,693 voters—47,202 qualified by paying the tax, 5,491 by exemption.

Here's the way the other counties stack up in order:

Travis, 43,557; McClennan, 38,719; Galveston, 31,394; El Paso, 30,382; Hidalgo, 23,713; Cameron, 19,347; Tom Green, 13,718; Hunt, 10,100; Starr, 5,299, and Willacy, 4,100.

Contract With Textile Company Is Renewed

Renewal of the contract between Texas Technological college and the Chicopee Manufacturing corporation of Chicopee Falls, Mass. which provides for the maintainance of the company's research laboratories in the textile engineering department, has been announced by Pres. W. M. Whyburn.

The laboratories were established at Texas Tech in 1945 and contracts have been renewed annually since that time. Research is confined exclusively to cotton and different types of cotton from different areas of the Southwest are used and tested for their spinning values. George W. Pfeiffenberger is supervisor of the laboratories.

Both the college and the Chicopee company expressed a great deal of satisfaction with the agreement and with the success of the project up to this time. "Close work and relationship with a great textile manufacturing company is of much benefit to the progress of instruction and research in the textile field and bridges the gap, for the student, between instruction and the textile industry," Dr. Whyburn stated.

New Officers Named By ROA At Meeting

New officers were elected by the Reserve Officers association at a joint meeting with the 469th Composite group held in Lubbock county courthouse last night.

Officers are: James Morris, president; Marvin Hilburn, vice president; Robert Lively, secretary; and Douglas Adams, public relations. Retiring officers include Robert Howard, president and Jack Klein, secretary. Morris was elevated by the election from the vice presidency.

A training lecture was given by Lively on U. S. foreign policy, and the ROA recorded approval of a reserve officers retirement bill being prepared for introduction in Congress.

Other matters included a vote to sponsor a dance at Lubbock Army Air field officers club March 20. Approximately 50 officers attended the meeting. The next meeting will be held April 8.

duty to accept, regardless of my personal desires on the subject."

Present occupants of the two places on the board of trustees to be filled are Hubert L. Allen, board president, and Paul Hardwick, both of whom have stated that they do not wish to seek re-election.

Deadline for filing in the race is March 24, according to A. C. Jackson, schools business manager.

GROUP OKAYS CANDIDACY OF DOWELL AND WOODY

The Lubbock School Improvement association, meeting last night at the Hilton hotel, endorsed the candidacy of both G. C. (Mule) Dowell and Glenn Woody for trusteeships on the Lubbock Independent School board, following a talk on the two candidates' qualifications by Dr. F. B. Malone.

Members of the association have been seeking candidates for some time and it is known that Malone, representing himself as spokesman for the group, asked at least two other individuals to offer as candidates.

Program Is Read

The organization, composed for the most part of people who have children in school, has as its purpose, it was stated, "to further continuous progression in Lubbock schools' by studying school problems and making recommendations and suggestions to the members of the school board.

At last night's meeting, a 10-point program or platform for the association was read by Mrs. A. W. Young, secretary. The program includes such things as adequate teacher salaries, health and safety programs for the schools, building programs and co-operation between the school board and citizen committees.

Approximately 50 members present for the meeting were in agreement that all schools in the city should be represented in the association, including representatives from Mexican and negro schools.

W. A. Pettey, optometrist, president of the association, presided over a general discussion by members on the future policies and activities of the group.

The President's reference to European developments followed Secretary of State Marshall's comment yesterday that the world situation is "very, very serious." Marshall referred particularly to the Communist seizure of power in Czechoslovakia.

Demos To Retaliate

"civil rights have been a part of and if we're going to hold ourself up to the rest of the world, it's full time we did something about it."

An anti-Truman bill born of the civil rights arguments may be approved by the Virginia general assembly tomorrow. It would permit Virginia Democrats to hold the constitution for a long time, back the state's 11 electoral votes as a negotiating tool for a stronger place in party councils.

Chairman Leon Henderson of Americans for Democratic Action urged meanwhile that there be no soft pedaling of the civil rights program.

Speed Urged On European Aid

on Communism, Mr. Truman told a news conference that the United States does not want a Communist government in China or anywhere else in the world.

With respect to China specifically, the President emphatically declared that American policy does not call for inclusion of any Communists in the Chinese government.

The chief executive discussed the world situation in response to a series of rapid fire questions from reporters. These began when a newsman told the President that a year ago tomorrow he proclaimed the Truman doctrine for helping free nations fight Soviet-Communist aggression. The President was asked whether that policy, first applied to Greece and Turkey, should now be expanded.

Quick Action Urged

Mr. Truman said the policy does not need expansion. It is part of the foreign policy of the United States, he explained, and he considers that it is preliminary to the European recovery program.

If the recovery program is carried out promptly, he said, it can accomplish the aims (of holding the line against Communism) which the Truman doctrine originally set forth.

When the President was asked whether the key word in that remark was the "promptly" he said that was correct.

Mr. Truman was then reminded that last December as on many previous occasions, he had expressed confidence in the eventual attainment of general world peace; did he still hold that same confidence?

The President's reply, although he immediately modified it, was probably the most pessimistic statement he has ever made publicly on the outlook for peace. His confidence, he said, has been somewhat shaken. He did not give the reasons for this. Then he added that he still believes the world can get peace because it must have it.

The world cannot afford the destruction of another world war, the chief executive emphatically asserted.

China Policy Discussed

The question of American policy on China arose just 24 hours after Secretary of State Marshall discussed this at a news conference. Marshall said that the United States policy favoring a broadening of the base of the Chinese government still stands.

That policy was first announced formally in December, 1945, shortly before Marshall went to China to try to work out a plan by which the Chinese Communists would have a voice in the Chinese government and China thereby be unified.

Marshall was asked specifically yesterday whether broadening the Chinese government meant including the Chinese communists. He was understood by some reporters to have replied yes, but that the trouble is that the Communists are now in open rebellion against the government. Therefore, he said, the matter is one for the Chinese government to decide and not one for the United States to dictate.

Today the State department issued a restatement of Marshall's reply on this point. The statement covered his reference to the Communists being in rebellion and that the decision is up to the Chinese government.

It contained no reference to Marshall saying that American policy still formally favors inclusion of the Communists in the government.

Mr. Truman's comments on China policy went far beyond those of his Secretary of State. He said that he did not know it had ever been the policy of the American government to include Communists in the government of China. If so, he added, it was news to him.

Woman Lone Survivor Of Crash Of Plane Near Chicago Field

CHICAGO, March 11. (AP)—A badly burned 33-year-old mother—the lone survivor—remained in critical condition today unaware her son met flaming death in the crash of a Miami-bound airliner that killed 12 persons.

The Delta airline's DC-4 plane, carrying some of its nine passengers to a Florida vacation, plunged from a few hundred feet and burned explosively last night one minute after it took off from the Chicago municipal airport.

Badly burned and both her arms and legs fractured, Mrs. Tripolino Meo, of suburban Oak Lawn, has not been told her nine year old son, Alfred Jr., perished in the crash.

Solons May Not Get Usual Easter Holiday

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—Members of Congress may have to display their Easter finery on Capitol Hill instead of at home.

House Majority Leader Halleck (R-Ind) broke the news to his colleagues today in these words:

"In view of certain matters of extreme importance which might be ready for floor action at that time, I can only say there can be no assurance of the traditional Easter recess."

Georgia Merchants Come Up With 'Leave Us Alone' Week

DOUGLAS, Ga., March 11 (AP)—Merchants in this South Georgia tobacco growing center have officially set aside April 1-8 as "leave us alone week."

They acted after counting up the different drives for funds in the past month. These totaled an even dozen.

representative of the Texas Teachers association, is scheduled to speak at the evening session on "Texas Tidelands."

A special demonstration of lighting of school classrooms has been arranged for visiting teachers and any patrons who wish to see it in room 102 at Dupre school. According to A. C. Jackson, Lubbock school business manager, the new lighting is of the flourescent type and is part of an experiment being conducted by the Lubbock schools in bringing old school buildings of Lubbock on a par with the new buildings of the system.

Sectional Meetings Set

Following the first general session teachers will go to sectional meetings at 3:30 this afternoon. At the meeting of the teachers in the intermediate section Robert Hornbuckle, personal counselor from the regional office of the Veterans' administration, will speak on "Principles of Psychotherapy Applied to Classroom Teaching."

Three speakers are scheduled for meeting of commercial teachers, Joy Oglesby, Mrs. Ethel Terrell, and Omer Bantz. Elementary school principals will hear talks by Mrs. Ruth Carter, Dean Bennett of Big Spring, and Mrs. Ivy Savage. Thomas F. Murray, director of elementary education in the Lubbock schools will preside over this meeting.

Annual Luncheon Planned

Speakers at the session of homemaking teachers will be Mrs. Kathryn Bullock, Mrs. Ima Dora Hale, Mrs. Zoe Carter, Miss Margaret Barrett, Miss Denise Cummings, and Mrs. Lucille Ayers. Miss Ruth Huey, state supervisor of homemaking education will also speak at this meeting.

Vocational teachers will meet at 6 p. m. for a dinner in the Yucca room at the Hilton Hotel and will hear talks by Robert A. Manire, state director of vocational agricultural education and Miss Huey.

School administrators will hold their annual luncheon at 11:30 today at the Lubbock Hotel to hear an address by Dr. Stoddard. H. P. Clemons, superintendent of schools at Whiteface, will preside at this luncheon.

Industrial arts teachers are to hear a speech by C. H. King, jr., field representation of apprentice training service from the U. S. Department of Labor, at their sectional meeting. Primary teachers will see a demonstration of rhythmic activities by the second grade student in Highland school, Plainview. Teachers who will take part on the program are: Mrs. H. M. Hamilton, Mrs. Lee Nowlin, Miss Mattie Devin, from Plainview, and Misses Trula Maud Jetton, Ruby Lee Waller, Mrs. Pearl Metcalfe and Mrs. Sadie Hazelwood.

Charles A. Guy, editor of the Avalanche-Journal, and Dr. C. D. Eaves, professor of history in Texas Tech, will report on conditions in Europe and Japan at the sectional meeting of social science teachers to be held in the Asbury Methodist church. Speakers for the speech teachers will be Miss Annah Jo Pendleton, president of the Texas Speech association, Miss Verna Harris from Midland High school, and Bill Adams of Odessa Senior High school. D. M. Howell of Lubbock will preside for this section.

New $500,000 School Building Is Dedicated At Whiteface

WHITEFACE, March 11 (Special)—Dedication services were held here tonight for the new Whiteface High school and elementary school building which cost approximately $500,000.

Supt. H. P. Clemons presided, and Dr. A. J. Stoddard, superintendent of schools at Philadelphia, Pa., was main speaker. Others on the program included E. H. Boulter, of Lubbock, deputy state superintendent; Dr. R. E. Garlin, professor of education and psychology at Texas Technological college, and Mrs. H. G. Stinnett of Plainview, first vice president of the state Congress of Parents and Teachers.

News Briefs

Rev. Jeff D. Welch, pastor of Central Baptist church, has announced that the regular community sing-song will be held from 2 to 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the church, 1311 Eighteenth. The public is invited.

A colored film, "Cub Scouting", will be shown tonight at the regular monthly meeting of Cub Scout Pack 3 in the George R. Bean school. Dads, mothers and Cubs are invited to attend the meeting, at which time awards for the month will be made. Jake Salser is Cubmaster of Pack 3.

E. C. McDaniel, of Lubbock, was charged yesterday with check law violation, according to the district attorney's office. He allegedly passed a worthless check of $175 to Hemphill-Wells company. Woodrow C. Cobb of Hemphill-Wells signed the complaint.

City firemen answered an alarm about 5:20 p. m. yesterday at a residence at 1828 Ave. B. Minor damage was reported after the building caught fire from an overheated flue. The house was occupied by Cortie Taylor.

Cold Wave

shut off gas to the industries and schools Thursday, but probably would start service again by noon today, the Associated Press said.

The norther had moved out of the state to the southeast, but bitter temperatures hung on last night. Freezing weather was forecast for the entire state. Some sections expected temperatures even lower than those which broke records for the season and the month in many places Wednesday night.

Sheep ranchers near San Angelo and farmers in the Rio Grande valley and Houston area feared a second night of sub-freezing weather would send their money losses even higher.

Lone Star Gas stopped serving schools in Bonham, Paris,, Sherman, Denison and McKinney. The shutoff order affected all industries on entire Lone Star system, from Sulpher Springs to Colorado City, and from Roundrock, Tex., to Purcell, Okla.

The cold also threatened citrus blossoms, which budded out two weeks ago. A heavy loss of blossoms might make serious inroads into next fall's grapefruit and orange crops.

In the Houston area, fig, peach and truck crops were harmed. A low of 22 degrees was forecast this morning.

In the Panhandle, however, W. C. Goodwin of the agriculture office in Stinnett said the wheat crop has not been harmed by the extreme cold.

"The wheat outlook for Hutchinson county and the North Plains region is much brighter" because of about one inch of moisture from snow and rain in the last two weeks, Goodwin said.

MIDWEST IS BLASTED BY WORST BLIZZARD IN YEARS

KANSAS CITY, March 11 (AP)—The midwest's worst March blizzard swept eastward tonight into Ohio and Pennsylvania, racing on the frigid blasts of one of the winter's most severe cold waves.

The snowstorm was seasonally unexpected. Spring is only nine days away.

It hit Cleveland in full force. Cars were stalled by the hundreds there in snow nearly seven inches deep.

In other parts of Ohio the snow measured from six to 12 inches. The East Ohio Gas Co., stopped service to 600 industrial users.

A freak snow storm struck Chicago, leaving a blanket a foot deep in some parts of the south side lake front. Swirling snow swept into Pennsylvania from Ohio, moving across the northern section of the state. The snow was expected to spread over all of the state as high winds began to whip it about in drifts.

Tahoka Man Freezes

mately 60 men was organized this morning by the sheriff.

Leroy Knight and Sam Price, both of Lynn county, discovered the body behind the terrace—three-quarters mile from the car, and only a quarter-mile from the protection of the Pete Anderson residence.

His heavy coat had been pulled off, and lay beside the body.

The searching party had crisscrossed over the frozen field and over fields adjacent.

It was assumed by Sheriff Floyd and other members of the party that, when the car could not be driven out of the sand, Mr. Anderson began wandering in search of his son's house.

Temperatures—it was 32 degrees at 9:30 p. m. Tuesday—began a gradual sag of one to two degrees an hour. At 11:30 a. m. Wednesday, the reading was 11 degrees.

It was foggy.

It was theorized by Sheriff Floyd and the searching party that Mr. Anderson "wore himself out trying to find his way, and, possibly fell exhausted and died of cold and exposure."

Survivors include his wife; three daughters, Mrs. Belverd Needles of 1710 Thirtieth in Lubbock, Mrs. L. D. Hoover of Amarillo and Miss Laquita Anderson of Tahoka; three sons, Edgar Anderson of Lamesa, T-Sgt. R. B. Anderson, who is stationed in Washington, D. C., with the Army Air force, and Lloyd Anderson of east of Tahoka, and two sisters, Mrs. Laura Shipman, of Electra, and Mrs. Emma Kermo, of Healdton, Okla. The body is at Stanley Funeral home here.

Income Tax Slash

wives in all states to split their income for tax purposes. This "community property" program is in effect now in only 12 states.

3. Increase the maximum standard deduction for contributions, medical expense and certain other expenses to $1,000. The top deduction now is $500.

4. Make the exemption for blind persons $600, instead of $500 as at present.

5. Give persons 65 or older an extra $600 exemption.

6. Apply the income splitting principle to estate and gift taxes.

Here are the differences in the percentage reduction:

The House bill would give all individual income tax payers with a net income of $1,000 or less, after exemptions and deductions, a 30 per cent cut.

Persons with net incomes between $1,000 and $1,396 would get a 30 to 20 per cent cut, those with $1,395 to $4,000, a 20 per cent cut, and those with incomes over $4,000, 20 per cent for the first $4,000 and 10 per cent for the rest.

The Senate bill provides for 12.6 per cent reduction on net incomes up to $2,000; 7.4 per cent on from $2,000 to $136,719.10, and 5 percent on incomes over $136,719.10.

The strategy of the Republican members of the Senate committee in cutting the House figure is to try to win enough Democartic votes to override an expected presidential veto. That would require a two-thirds margin in both the Senate and House.

Asked whether he believes the Senate measure will woo the Democrats, Millikin replied:

"I think it will get very strong support, but I am not making any predictions about overriding a veto."

President Truman's veto killed two tax cut bills last year. He is opposed to any individual income tax reduction this year that is not offset by higher corporation taxes.

The Senate committee measure goes now to the Senate floor. Millikin said debate probably will start by next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Truman's Charges

issued an official version of his remarks. This said:

"First, I want to pay attention to a vicious statement that was made by a columnist in a New York paper, in which he said, I had made the statement here to an editor of a New York paper that the Jews in New York were disloyal.

"I had thought I wouldn't have to add another liar's star to that fellow's crown, but I will have to do it. That is just a lie out of the whole cloth. This is as emphatic as I can put it."

In his "Washington Merry-Go-Round" column Monday in the Mirror, Pearson wrote:

"President Truman was talking to a New York publisher about Palestine.

"Pounding his desk, he made remarks about 'The ..... New York Jews.'

" 'They're disloyal to their country. Disloyal!' he cried.

" 'Would you explain that further, Mr. President?' interrupted the publisher, whose wife happens to be Jewish.

" 'When you speak of New York Jews are you referring to such people as Bernard Baruch? Or are you referring to such New York Jews as my wife?'

"Truman glared, assured his visitor he did not mean to include Baruch or the publisher's wife—then abruptly changed the subject."

In New York, an executive of Bell Syndicate, which distributes Pearson's oclumn, said of the purported conversation quoted in the column:

"All I can say is I know the source of the story, which I can't disclose, and we consider it to be fairly reliable."

The executive asked that his name not be used.

Glenn Neville, executive editor of The New York Mirror, said he had no comment on Truman's description of the Mirror's "gossip paper," except that "we are delighted at any publicity Mr. Truman can give us."

Nine Claimed In Hospital Blaze

ASHEVILLE, N. C., March 11 (AP)—Nine women patients perished here early today in the blazing inferno of a mental hospital fire.

Seven of the victims were trapped helplessly on upper floors of the four-story central building of the Highland hospital for nervous diseases, Dr. B. T. Bennett, medical director, reported.

Two others were evacuated by firemen who dashed into the fiery structure but they died soon afterward.

The fire, discovered about midnight, started in the kitchen of the hospital's central building. It quickly spread to an elevator shaft and was licking the building's roof when firemen arrived.

Fire Spreads Quickly

Screams of trapped women rang out above the roaring conflagration as doctors, nurses, firemen and police ran through the blazing structure, risking their lives in an effort to save the 20 patients in the building.

They quickly huddled the rescued patients into another building where some sat silently and others yelled hysterically.

The death toll was announced by Dr. Bennett after he and hospital authorities checked the list of patients in the building.

Dr. Bennett said some of the hospital's most violent patients were in the destroyed building but they were among the first to be released.

The hospital, housed in several buildings, about three miles from the heart of Asheville, is a unit of Duke University hospital in Durham.

67 Members Absent

Tomorrow, the program calls for speedy adoption of legislation legalizing the activities of the action committees which paved the way for Gottwald's rise to power by purging parties, government departments, industries and every phase of Czechoslovak life.

There was no indication of the whereabouts of 67 absent from parliament.

In 20 days since the crisis broke, Gottwald thus demonstrated he had a parliament ready to do his bidding. He had a government of his own choice. The one important non-party man of the government, Masaryk was dead.

Masaryk will be laid to rest at a state funeral Saturday beside the grave of his father, Thomas G. Masaryk, first president of the republic.

The government's official account was that Foreign Minister Masaryk was ill, suffered from insomnia, became overwrought on reading reproachful messages from friends in England and America and finally threw himself out the window to his death.

SHOOTING IS DESCRIBED

Midland Woman Is Acquitted In Fatal Shooting Of Husband

MIDLAND, March 11 (AP)—Mrs. Mahotah Muldrow, 40, was acquitted today on a murder indictment in connection with the fatal shooting of her husband, Robert Muldrow, II.

A 70th district court jury returned its verdict at 6:30 p. m. It deliberated only 30 minutes.

Muldrow, an aerial photographer firm head, was killed the night of Sept. 7, 1947, on the lawn of his home.

Admits Firing Shots

Mrs. Muldrow, testifying in her defense today, admitted she fired the shots which killed her estranged husband, and claimed she shot in self defense.

She testified that her husband beat her and threatened several times to kill her. She said she struggled with Muldrow on the lawn at his home, before an automatic pistol in her right hand discharged.

Denies Asking Question

She denied on cross-examination that she had asked Policeman Hoyt Burris, when he arrested Muldrow on an assault complaint which she had signed, what would happen to her if she killed her husband.

She testified she had stopped "loving" her husband before she filed her first suit for divorce in July, 1946, and added that they had their first serious "difficulty" in 1935.

While being questioned by Percy Foreman of Houston, chief defense counsel, she described mistreatments which she said she suffered at the hands of her husband.

She said her husband drank "a great deal" and on the days she was beaten he had been drinking. After the first suit for divorce was dropped, she said, she lived with him from Dec., 1946, until Feb., 1947.

She told the jurors that her knowledge of pistols was gained from her husband who "enjoyed them as a hobby" and taught her "years ago" to shoot.

Pistol Is Shown

An automatic pistol was introduced by Dist. Atty. Martelle McDonald, and Mrs. Muldrow said it was similar to the gun she purchased last August in an Austin, Tex., gun store to keep in her car on night drives.

She said her sole purpose in driving to Muldrow's home the night of Sept. 7, 1947, after their son, Robert III had departed by train for Austin to enter the University of Texas, was to discuss with her estranged husband methods of financing the 17-year-old boy's education.

Mrs. Muldrow said her husband came to her car and insisted she come into his house. She declined and said he pulled her from the car and a struggle followed on the lawn.

While he was grabbing and pulling at her, she testified, she reached in the glove compartment of the car to get a tool to defend herself and grabbed the pistol which she said she had forgotten was there. She said she could not recall details of the struggle.

Was Afraid Of Husband

"I was terrifically afraid of Robert Muldrow," she told the jury. "At times he would go into rages like an insane person. I lived in fear as he seemed to have no control over himself and I was afraid he would kill me. He had threatened to kill me.

"I don't know how many shots were fired. We were struggling."

When the shots were fired he released her and ran, she testified, and fell to the ground in front of the house. She said she walked near him and almost fainted and the gun discharged again unintentionally.

"It must have been a reflex or reaction to what I saw," the jury was told. She said the discharge of the gun brought her back to "consciousness." She said she got in her car, drove to police headquarters and surrendered.

The defense rested its case at 11:15 a. m. after which cross-examination of the defendant began.

The courtroom was crowded and spectators stood in the aisles during the testimony.

Witnesses yesterday testified that they saw Muldrow beat Mrs. Muldrow during fits of anger.

Blonde Admits She Intended To Marry Rich Businessman

LOS ANGELES, March 11 (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Burks Stoner, a trim little blue-eyed blonde, testified today that she had intended to marry a wealthy manufacturer who is now suing her for the return of $100,000 in gifts.

Andrew Norman, 64, is asking the court to direct Mrs. Stoner, 28, to return a home and furnishings which cost approximately $75,000, an $18,350 diamond ring and other items.

Admits Marriage Plans

"Did you tell Mr. Norman in August of 1946 that when he got a divorce 'I'm going to take you right across the street and get married?' " asked Norman's attorney.

"Yes," replied Mrs. Stoner, now the wife of Earl Stoner, automobile distributor.

Mrs. Stoner testified earlier that she married Stoner Sept. 30, 1946, two weeks after they started going together. She said she did not tell Norman about this until the day before the marriage ceremony.

"Wasn't the home which was purchased for you intended as a future home for you and Mr. Norman?" asked the attorney.

"No," was the reply.

Not Engagement Ring

Mrs. Stoner testified that the ring Norman gave her was not considered an engagement ring.

"Didn't you tell Mr. Norman in connection with the ring that you wanted something to show your family that it was an above-board deal? She was asked.

"Yes," replied Mrs. Stoner.

Earlier, Mrs. Stoner said that Norman gave her checks totaling $58,940 during a five-months period before she married her present husband. She said she believed most of this money was used for furnishing the gift home which is still in her possession.

Department Store Owned By Customers Opens In Virginia

ARLINGTON, Va., March 11 (AP)—A customer-owned co-operative department store opened its doors for business here today.

It was described by store officials as the first of more than 100 expected to be established under a trust fund left by the late Edward A. Filene, Boston merchant.

Officials explained establishment of the store this way:

Local residents purchase shares on which they receive dividends. And, at the end of a year's operation, if surplus profits are realized they obtain—in addition to the dividends—patronage refunds.

Swiss Condemn Reds' Activity

LONDON, March 11 (AP) — The death plunge of Czechoslovak Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk and other events in his country had their effect all over Europe today.

The Swiss national assembly in Bern voted 187 to 7 for a resolution condemning Switzerland's Communists and recommending that the government act vigilantly "for the protection of the state."

Communists Oppose Plan

The resolution was supported by all parties except the Communists.

Dutch Justice Minister J. M. Naarseveen said at the Hague the government would announce within two days the formation of a special police force "to combat extremists activities from whatever side they may come."

In Paris French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault in a speech to the National Assembly mentioned Communist actions in recent months in Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Poland and Czechoslovakia. He declared they were "extremely similar" and had characteristics "that do not please us."

Several more Czechoslovak officials resigned abroad.

Repairs Rushed On Power Lines After Series Of Explosions

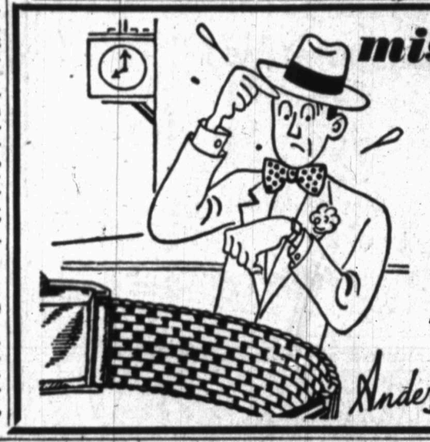

LONG BEACH, Calif., March 11 (AP)—Emergency crews rushed repairs today to the city's power supply, after a night of partial darkness during which all available police patrolled the streets.

A series of explosions, tentatively attributed to overloaded lines, rocked the business district late yesterday starting fires in electrical conduits. Several persons were slightly cut by flying glass. About 10 square blocks were affected by the blackout, but about a third of the area was restored this morning.

Manhole covers were blown skyward by the initial blast, and numerous windows were splintered.

Voters Favor Change In Charter To Make UN More Powerful Force

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., March 11—More than six out of ten American voters today favor a rewriting of the United Nations charter to make the organization a stronger force for peace.

Harold E. Stassen, contender for the Republican presidential nomination, has recommended that a convention of nations be held in 1950 to amend and rewrite the charter. He said a major objective would be the elimination of the single nation veto.

GALLUP

An Institute survey recently asked this question of representative voters in all secitons of the country:

"It has been suggested that a world convention of the United Nations be called in 1950 to amend and rewrite the U. N. Charter to make it a stronger organization. Do you approve or disapprove of this idea?"

The answers:

Hold Convention	63%
Don't Hold Convention	13
No Opinion	24

Previous surveys conducted by the Institute and its foreign affiliates have revealed a growing dissatisfaction with the progress of United Nations to date. However, despite their lack of enthusiasm over accomplishments this far, people both here and abroad show no sign of wanting to go backward by discarding the organization; instead they want to go forward and strengthen U. N. even to the point of making it in effect a world government.

Mr. Stassen's suggestion for a world convention is approved by almost eight out of ten American voters with a college education. Although proportionately fewer voters with less formal training approve the idea, the difference is accounted for by indecision rather than disapproval. This is shown in the following table:

	Hold Convention	Don't Hold Convention	No Opin.
College	78%	13%	9%
High School	64	14	22
Grammar	57	13	30

Geographically, there is considerable unanimity in voter opinion on the suggestion, with only the Western states giving it less support than the national average.

Main reasons in voters' minds for approving a convention are: U. N. should be made stronger; revision will be necessary by 1950; U. N. should be strong because of Russia's attitude, and veto power should be eliminated.

Those opposing a convention in 1950 say: the charter should be adhered to as it is; another meeting won't accomplish much; and a meeting should be held before 1950.

Mr. Stassen's recommendation has not been commented upon by Administration officials. The American Association for the United Nations this winter declared that it is not possible now to fix a date for a constitution to consider Charter revision. Problems facing the U. N. are not constitutional, according to the association, but political.

Services To Be Held Saturday For Brother Of County Auditor

A. B. Boyd, 71, of New Orleans, brother of County Auditor Joe Boyd of 2705 Twenty-second, died at 5:30 o'clock Thursday morning in a New Orleans hospital where he had been taken a week ago for treatment of a malignancy.

The New Orleans man was a retired businessman who had been ill several months. His condition caused the Lubbock brother to go there last October for a several-days visit.

Last rites of the church will be read Saturday afternoon. A Masonic ritual will be read at the graveside.

Other survivors are the widow, a son and daughter, all of New Orleans, a daughter of Chicago, and a sister of Whitney, Texas.

The county auditor will leave this morning for New Orleans.

Dobie Joins National Committee Backing Wallace For President

AUSTIN, March 11 (AP) — J. Frank Dobie, folklorist and former University of Texas professor, has accepted appointment to the national committee of the Wallace-for president organization, the Daily Texan, University of Texas student newspaper, said today.

The Texan quoted Dobie as saying he had received the request to join last January but had accepted only this week, adding:

"I think Wallace is thoroughly sincere and reasonably capable, and that he stands for principles which seem to be democratic."

Dobie was dropped from the university faculty last fall when he refused to meet classes after the administration declined to extend his leave of absence. He had been on leave without pay for four years previous.

A. L. Kornfeld To Report On Dallas Religious Conference

A. L. Kornfeld, president of Congregation Shaareth Israel, will report on the southwestern religious conference he attended about two weeks ago in Dallas at the Sabbath Eve service of the congregation at 8 o'clock tonight.

The sermon subject of Rabbi Julius Kerman will be "What Is Reform Judaism?" The topic was chosen to mark the observance of inauguration of the fourth president o fthe Hebrew Union college in Cincinnati, which trains rabbies for American reform Jewry. Dr. Nelson Glueck noted Bible archaeologist, will be installed as president Sunday.

WHY FEEL OLD AT 40, 60, OR MORE?

Why be the victim of the older years? If life apparently has lost its zest, you again may be able to enjoy life as you did in your youth. If added years have slowed down your vim, vitality and youthful pleasures, here is a method that may change your whole outlook on life. Why not try and regain the pleasures of living you once enjoyed? Why be discouraged—why not regain the verve and zest of a much younger man? Negro Appeals U. Of T. Case

AUSTIN, March 11 (AP)—A new hearing in the Third Court of Civil appeals was sought today by Heman Marion Sweatt of Houston, a negro mail carrier who seeks to enter the University of Texas law school.

The court recently upheld a trial court decision which denied the negro's application for a court order forcing the university to admit him.

Law School Established

Should the appellate court refuse Sweatt's motion for a new hearing, his next step would be to appeal to the State Supreme Court. He had indicated he will take the fight into the United States Supreme Court if necessary.

Sweatt's case has been in the courts since the spring of 1946 as a result of the university's refusal to enroll him as a law student.

The Texas State University for negroes at Houston has since been established at Houston. Its law branch at Austin, with University of Texas faculty members doing the teaching, has two students. Sweatt has not requested admission.

'Smokey Bear' Offers Prayer For People To Be Careful

AUSTIN, March 11 (AP)—"Smokey Bear," mythical character aiding the U. S. Forest service's forest fire prevention campaign, is asking with bowed head this year: "... and please make people careful, amen."

He appears on posters spurring the campaign in 11 southern states.

W. E. White, director of the Texas A. and M. college forest service, Texas co-sponsor with the U. S. Forest service, noted that last year's Texas fire losses totalled $1,392,346. An estimated 99 per cent of all such fires are said caused by carelessness.

Search Abandoned For Barge Missing In Gulf Of Mexico

TAMPICO, Mexico, March 11 (AP)—Search has been abandoned for a barge missing between here and Brownsville.

The port captain here, who said he understood six men were aboard the craft, stated aerial searches yesterday and Tuesday were fruitless.

The barge carried a cargo of caustic soda valued at $200,000. The soda was to have been used in the campaign against the foot and mouth disease.

Galveston Planning Western Welcome

British Family Arrives On Way To New Home In Texas

NEW ORLEANS, March 11 (AP)—A destitute English family, brought to the United States by generous Texans, arrived in New Orleans this morning enroute to Galveston, Tex.

The family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Payne and their three children, docked aboard the steamship Doctor Lykes after a voyage from London. A caravan of Texas cars immediately whisked them away, heading for the Lone Star state and the second installment of their Cinderella story.

It all started two years ago when Fred Jr. saw an American wild west thriller in a London theater.

Writes To Cowboy

He wrote a letter to a "Texas Cowboy, U. S. A." which fell into the hands of the Midland, Tex., newspaper.

Rancher Charles McClintic saw the story and invited Fred and his young brothers to visit him —all expenses paid.

Meanwhile another rancher, Glen Weber of Lamarque, Tex., also saw the story. A successful campaign to bring the whole family over from austerity-ridden England was launched.

Today, togged out in cowboy garb and snapping play pistols provided by McClintic, the three boys happily piled out of their stateroom, raced down the gangplank and into the waiting cars.

Going To Buy Candy

Behind them came Mr. and Mrs. Fred Payne, still finding the whole thing a little hard to believe.

"The first thing I'm going to do is buy the children some candy," beamed Mrs. Payne. "Imagine, no ration coupons. It's marvelous."

Payne, a five times wounded veteran of World War II, said the family would remain in America.

"People told us we shouldn't come," he said. "But it could not be any worse here than it is there. We're glad we are in this country and we are going to build a new life."

"Oh boy, we're going to see a real cowboy," Fred, Jr., 12, chortled to his two brothers, Len, 10, and Dennis, 9.

With that they scampered over to the Texas cars and the party left.

GALVESTON MAKING PLANS FOR WESTERN WELCOME

GALVESTON, March 11 (U.P.)—Galveston today was putting the finishing touches on a gala western-style welcome for a London family of five who were invited to come to the Lone Star state to make a new home.

Meanwhile, a special welcoming committee was waiting in New Orleans to bring the Fred Payne family from the ship which brought them over from England.

Galveston county Sheriff Frank L. Biaggne who is in charge of the rodeo on the greeting program, said more than 200 cowboys and cowgirls from the area were expected to be on hand tomorrow afternoon to show what Texas style ridin' and ropin' is really like.

Report On Ailments In Cattle Is Urged

TOPEKA, Kan., March 11 (U.P.)—Members of the Kansas Livestock association were urged today to report immediately to state and federal officials any signs of ailments in their herds giving suspicion of foot and mouth disease.

The suggestion was made to the association's 35th annual convention by Dr. M. R. Clarkson, chief of the disease control division of the bureau of animal industry.

Dr. Clarkson did not imply that there was any imminence of an outbreak in the United States. He did say there always was the possibility, and that only the prompt report of an outbreak would enable officials to stamp it out quickly at small cost and small inconvenience.

"If there is an outbreak of foot and mouth disease we must discover it and act quickly," he said.

Dr. Clarkson told the convention that U. S. efforts to stamp out the disease in Mexico had changed from an active offensive to a holding operation since the collapse of the slaughter program last fall.

"The matter of eradication is a hope ever present," he said, "and we intend to use every device to bring it about.

"But the eradication of the disease is not something that can be brought about soon."

Working With Explosives Is Reported Safer Than Farming

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. Mar. 11 Working with explosives apparently was the safest job in the nation last year.

Assistant Labor Secretary John Kmetz told the Hampden County Safety Council that the explosives industry had the lowest accident frequency rate of any industry in the nation in 1947.

The largest "killer," he said, was agriculture with 4,500 fatalities.

TEXAS TEACHERS

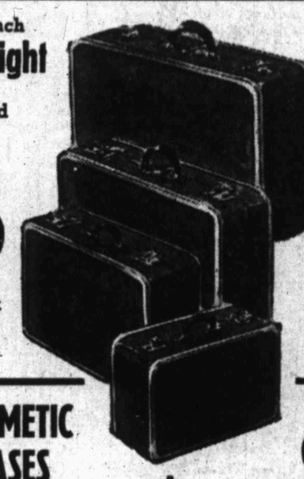

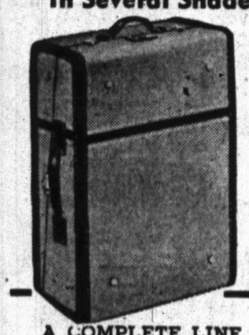

ABILENE, March 11 (U.P.)—The Texas State Teachers' Association will hold its annual convention here March 19-20 with Dr. L. D. Haskew, University of Texas, as the featured speaker.

Dr. Glenn E. Snow, president of the National Education Association and the Rev. W. H. Alexander, Oklahoma City pastor, will be speakers for the Saturday morning general sessions.

"Good" Grass Isn't Good Enough!

The output of our grasslands can be doubled!" Top experts of the U. S. Department of Agriculture will tell you that. So will many a far-sighted rancher and farmer out of his actual experience. So will students and teachers of land management everywhere ... In that bright possibility of range and pasture improvement lies one principal hope for more food for a hungry world. Not only more food, but better food. For proper grassland management will improve the fertility of the land, and the nutritive value of the foods coming off it. It will save the land, too, protecting the precious layer of topsoil from blowing away or washing off to sea. And it will increase the amount and value of hay for cash-crop or winter feeding.

The way is wide open for you to improve your grass. Strong and willing allies stand ready to help you. For advice and active help in planning your own grass-management program, there's your County Agent ... For technical, practical help in putting your program into operation, call on the Soil Conservation Service technician who lives in your district ... And for information on newest experimental developments, call on your State Agricultural College or experiment station.

The program of good management for your grassland which you work out together will probably consist of some—or perhaps all—of the following practices. If you're in the range country: (1) Livestock numbers balanced to the amount of grass you can produce. (2) A rotation schedule of seasonal grazing. (3) Water located conveniently. (4) Elimination of excessive brush. (5) Wider distribution of salt to prevent overgrazing near salt source. (6) Re-seeding of overused or abandoned range. (7) Introduction of improved native grasses and adapted new grasses. (8) Irrigation. (9) Protection against wind and water erosion. If yours is farm pasture land: (1) Liming. (2) Fertilization. (3) Seeding with pasture mixtures which stretch the grazing season at both ends. (4) Weed control by mowing or chemicals. (5) Rotation grazing. (6) Avoidance of over-grazing. (7) Irrigation.

We of Swift & Company have the same deep, basic interest that you have in range and pasture improvement. More and better grass is to our interest as it is to yours—and to the nation's. That's why we urge you to act, if you have not already done so, to increase the productiveness of your grasslands.

Martha Logan's Recipe for

SPRINGTIME PORK AND VEAL

(Yield: 5 to 6 servings)

½ pound pork shoulder
½ pound veal shoulder
½ cup diced rhubarb
1½ teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ cup water

Cut pork and veal into 1-inch cubes. Brown in heavy skillet. Add rhubarb. Cover and simmer 1 hour. Remove cover. Combine salt, flour, sugar, and water. Stir lightly into meat. Simmer 5 minutes to blend. Serve hot with or without toast.

Soda Bill sez:

... that flattery is soft soap—
and soft soap is mostly "lye."

Profit Comes from SAVING!

The story at the head of this page is about farmers and ranchers making the most of their grasslands. By good planning, managing well, and operating efficiently, they can grow more grass, produce more food for the world, and make more money. While writing that story, I was struck by a similarity in the Swift business. For it is careful planning and efficient operation that keep us in business, too. Like you with your grassland, we've got to make the most of what we have. We've got to practice efficiency. We, also, must cut costs, operate with economy. Not only the important economy of finding uses and markets for every possible by-product, but economy and efficiency all along the line.

Maybe you saw Swift's recent financial report for 1947. It showed that we earned $22,334,977 after provision of $12,000,000 for high cost additions to fixed assets. This earning represented one cent out of our average dollar of sales. That one cent was earned in large part by the savings we made. The operating figures of our business prove that statement. They show where the savings came from. New methods of doing things which save time and cost. Modern equipment replacing old, worn equipment. Better ways discovered by Swift research to produce, use and handle Swift products. A small saving here ... another there ... little economies pyramiding into big economies. Until, added together, the savings which we made last year in the actual day-by-day operation of the Swift business amounted to a considerable part of our earnings.

Careful planning, good management and efficient operation are "musts" in our business as in yours. "Little things" can often add up to the difference between a profit and a loss.

"Pitted" Pastures Produce More Grass

As reported by A. L. Nelson, Robert Lang and Oscar Barnes of Wyoming Archer Field Experiment Station

"Pitting" pastures has stepped up grazing capacity of range land by as much as one-third, according to the Archer Field Station in southwestern Wyoming. "Pitting" is a simple mechanical treatment. It can be done with a one-way Wheatland plow with alternate eccentric disks. These eccentric disks leave a waffle-like surface with pits about 16 inches apart. The pits trap water, help produce more grass.

The eccentric disks are 2 inches larger than the others, with the gang bolt hole 2 inches off center. In mounting the eccentrics, you start from the rear and replace every other disk with an eccentric. Mount the first eccentric with the long side up, the second with the long side to the rear, the third with the long side down, and the fourth with the long side to the front. Continue in the same rotation until all disks are mounted.

Best time to pit is early spring, before much plant growth has started. The cost runs from 50 cents to a dollar an acre.

"Weigh 'em to Swift!"

The pen gate opens and cattle crowd into the alley, headed for the scales. A cry rings out, "Weigh 'em to Swift!" Another lot of livestock has been sold to Swift & Company. That deal is a miniature of the business relationship between livestock producers and meat packers.

When this lot of steers was "finished," the producer sent them to the stockyards, consigned to a commission firm. In the "yards" livestock buyers came to look and make their competitive bids. Competition is always keen because 26,000 meat packers and other commercial slaughterers in the United States are active in livestock buying. Each buyer knows that unless he bids "the going price" for the animals he wants, some competitor will get them. Also, he knows that if he bids too high his company will take a loss.

Thus competition and the law of supply and demand set the prices all along the line. This load of steers went to Swift & Company because the Swift buyer offered more than other buyers. And the price he paid was based on his estimate of what the meat, hides, glands and other by-products would be worth to Swift & Company.

Economist From Texas Has Role Of Planner For Possible War

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—Preparing for World War III and hoping it doesn't come . . . that's the role of a quiet, unassuming 42-year-old Texan from San Marcos.

He is Ralph J. Watkins, coordinator of plans and programs for the National Security Resources Board.

Recognized as a top-notch economist, Watkins is on loan to the government, so to speak, from Dun & Bradstreet. He spends Mondays through Thursday here in his public role, and the rest of the week in New York at his private job—and with his family.

The Resources Board was created by Congress in the act merging the armed forces and setting up a Secretary of Defense.

Analyses Are Made

The board is composed of seven members, and one non-cabinet member who serves as chairman, Arthur M. Hill. Directly under Hill and in charge of its principal activities is Watkins.

The maximum compensation given men in positions like that of the Texan's is $35 per day and expenses. Some contribute their services.

The board advises the President as to the best and fastest way to coordinating the nation's military and industrial might in event of a war.

The idea is to have a complete knowledge of the picture immediately available, so as to prevent the year or more of delay that was required in getting our war effort going full speed the last time.

Boiled down, there are probably three main points the board keeps in mind: 1. Study and analysis of supplies of all critical materials; 2. Availability of manpower; 3. Industrial capacity, for supplying both civilian and military needs.

Watkins Texas Graduate

Born in San Marcos, Watkins received his Bachelor of Arts and Business Administration degrees from the University of Texas in 1921 and 1922. He did graduate work at Columbia University, obtaining a master of science degree in 1924 and a doctor of philosophy degree in 1927.

He has had more than 20 years experience in business and economic research at the University of Texas, Ohio State university, National Bureau of Economic research in New York and the University of Pittsburgh.

A soldier in the AEF in the first World War, he conducted a strategic aerial bombardment target survey for the Army Air Forces in World War Two, and in 1943 was chief of the Lend-Lease mission in North Africa.

"At a recent luncheon with the Texas congressional delegation Watkins recalled his introduction to Algiers, where he set up mission headquarters. He was reminded of the experience when he encountered at the luncheon a man who had sat beside him as their plane glided at dusk down over the North African harbor at the end of a flight from England.

His companion on that trip was Reiman Morin, now chief of the Washington bureau of the Associated Press, formerly head of the Paris AP bureau and in charge of news gathering in western Europe.

Fresh from the safety of America, Watkins peered out of their plane window and commented on the beauty of the rising moon and the harbor crowded with a convoy of ships. The experienced newsman Morin agreed it was pretty and a "perfect night for an air raid."

A few hours later the Germans came over and plastered the port. Although five years have elapsed, Watkins commented, he still can see the matter-of-fact expression on Morin's face as he casually predicted what turned out to be a terrific raid.

Returning to Washington in 1944, Watkins served with the War Production board for a few months and then joined Dun and Bradstreet.

He is a fellow of the American Statistical association, the American Economic association, Royal Economic society, Academy of Political Science, the University Club of New York and the Cosmos Club of Washington.

His wife is the former Willye Ward of San Marcos. They have two sons, Calvert Ward and John William.

'Maid Of Cotton' Plans Journey To European Cities

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—The South's "Maid of Cotton" prepared today for a European trip and a chance to display her all-cotton wardrobe to Schiaparelli, Dior and other continental fashion designers.

The "Maid," Matilda Nail, a beauteous, 19-year-old blonde from Fort Worth, Tex., will fly to Paris next Tuesday. From there she will go to Manchester, England, and then, after another brief stopover in Paris, return to this country.

Attends Fashion Show

Miss Nail was guest of honor last night at a fashion show and ball sponsored by the Texas, Mississippi and Tennessee state societies. Attorney General Tom Clark was master of ceremonies at the fashion show, "The Cotton States in Review."

Eighteen wives and daughters of southern congressmen served as models in the show, which was topped off by an "all-cotton" wedding procession. Miss Nail modeled some half-dozen gowns—all cotton.

Miss Nail will be on an ambassadorial mission of her own during her stay in Europe. Her aides said her chief job is to serve as "fashion ambassador" for the cotton industry.

While in France, she will deliver greetings from Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson to the French agriculture secretary, add a collection of French gowns to her wardrobe and visit Le Havre and Rouen, French cotton importing and weaving centers.

In Manchester, she will model her complete American wardrobe for the Manchester cotton board and be feted by the Lord Mayor.

Miss Nail is scheduled to resume her American tour in New York probably early next month.

The sea levels of both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans are rising. In the last 200 years, the average sea level has risen about three and one-half inches.

Communist Forces Feared Ready To Make Bid For Power In Italy

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Communists in Italy already have organized several hundred workers councils and are believed to have the arms with which to turn them into the same type of "action committee" which were used to help stage the coup in Czechoslovakia.

While the Marshall Plan and Western European union are being rushed to completion, the gravest question in the world for the moment is what will happen in Italy, before, during or after next month's elections.

Feared Setback At Polls

The Czech Communists are believed to have staged their coup in fear of defeat at the polls. Will the Italians do likewise?

Some observers think not. They believe the Communists are gaining rather than losing strength there, and that the election will give them more profit than a show of force which the government might be able to put down.

This same reasoning leads to a belief that the Communists intend to stick to the multi-party agreement against displays of force during the campaign and at the polls. But there is always the possibility that if they see things going against them they will call out the workers committees and well-armed partisan bands to force the ballot.

Workers Pose Threat

These workers committees have been formed in plants throughout the country ostensibly to participate in the management of industrial production and distribution. They are composed of 10 or 15 men in each plant. A brief strike, during which they and their followers could be armed would make them a powerful weapon.

The greatest anxiety regarding Italy, however, apparently is directed toward what may happen after an election in which the Communists show increased strength. Observers are saying that they may get as much as 40 per cent of the vote they got last time.

In that case the Communists would demand participation in the government, where they would begin the same process they have used to take over coalition governments in eastern Europe.

The Catholic church represents the main stay of Western Power hopes in the election. They also expect the timing of Congress' approval of the Marshall Plan to be an important factor. That is behind the State department's desperate efforts to have Congress act not later than a week before the election on April 18.

The question of a possible display of Allied military force in the Italian neighborhood has arisen. But Washington and Rome are both reported to feel that the Communists usually make capital out of such tactics.

Battleship Texas To Start Journey

NORFOLK, Va., March 11 (AP)—The Battleship Texas, 27,000-ton veteran of two world conflicts, will put out from Portsmouth Monday morning, three days after her 34th birthday.

The ship will go to Texas for an honorable retirement and a new career as a war memorial.

The Texas, which carried a war-time complement of 1,530 officers and enlisted men, will take only a remnant of her normal force on that last voyage. Commander Jack Seward, of Hilton village, Newport News, Va., will skipper the ship to Texas for its final resting place at San Jacinto battle ground. He will be accompanied by six other officers and a 66-man crew.

Arriving at the port within 10 days or two weeks, the ship will be delivered to the Texas State park at the battleground about April 1. The proud lady will be turned over formally to the State of Texas on April 21, Independence Day in that state.

Protesting Students Return To Desks At High School

HOUSTON, March 11 (AP) — Cedar Bayou high school students who remained away from classes yesterday in protest of the school board's actions against Principal C. M. Owens, were back at their desks today.

"Classes began promptly at 8 a. m. with most of the students on hand," R. W. Akridge, school superintendent, said.

700 ARE ARRESTED

ATHENS, March 11 (U.P.)—Security police swept through the central Athens area last night, arresting 700 persons in a roundup of guerrilla sympathizers. All except 135 were released after questioning.

Spitting Rights Of Oil Men At Odessa Contested By Women

By BOB WEDDLE
United Press Staff Writer

Yes sir, times have changed in the old West! Time was when a man could come to town, whittle on the public hitching post while chewing the fat with a fellow cowpoke and spit his tobacco juice on the sidewalk and nobody said a word about it.

But now the old days are gone, and with them a man's right to spit on the sidewalk. He no longer can whittle on the hitching post, because it has long since been replaced with a parking meter.

Spitting Rights Contest

And now it isn't the cowpoke come to town on Saturday who creates the expectorating spectacle in a public place. From Joe Basham of the Odessa American comes the report that it's his successor, the oil man, whose spitting rights are now being contested.

And it's the ladies' clubs that are doing the contesting in the West Texas cowtown-turned-oiltown.

The complaints are centered on the men's recreation clubs in Odessa's shopping district. Not that the ladies don't want the men to have recreation. They just don't hanker after the hazard of a flying stream of mule pouch.

Petition Drawn Up

Consequently one women's club already has drawn up a petition addressed to the mayor and the city council, and the other female organizations are circulating it.

The petition has it "resolved that the recreation clubs are a public nuisance and should be ordered removed from the heart of the shopping district . . . and that the practices of the persons who frequent the recreation clubs in spitting upon parked cars in front of said clubs and loitering in crowds in front of said clubs generally detract from any appearance of respectability and morality desirable upon the main streets of a city such as Odessa."

The ladies further allege that it is "highly unpleasant and sometimes unsafe for persons upon legitimate business to walk past the door of said clubs, especially when the persons are women and children."

Yes, gents, the old West has undergone a lot of changes.

Dean Stangel To Take Part In Feeder's Day Program

W. L. Stangel, dean of agriculture at Texas Technological college, has accepted an invitation to appear on the program of the fourteenth annual Lamb Feeder's Day to be held at the Garden City Experiment station, Garden City, Kansas, March 27, he announced Thursday.

"Feeding problems for the Plains Area," will probably be the subject of the address he will deliver at the function, Dean Stangel stated. The feeder's day is sponsored by the Kansas State College of Agriculture.

South Dakota Seeks Standard Policy On Parking Meters

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., March 11 (AP)—The city commission has undertaken to reconcile the operation of parking meters on holidays.

Originally, it was generally understood that parking meters were not operative on holidays. A new ordinance says that the meters needn't be fed coins on holidays—except Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays.

The idea is to head off further misunderstandings such as occurred on Lincoln's birthday. Police issued a batch of tickets that day to motorists who neglected to feed the meters. Then Municipal Judge Walter Conway dismissed all tickets issued that day.

The length of a day increases about a thousandth of a second every century.

Denial Of Cab Permits To Vets Causes Uproar In Pennsylvania

(By The United Press)

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 11—Perhaps no other decision of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission has raised a bigger furore than its denial of individual taxi-cab franchises to 96 former servicemen in Philadelphia.

In direct but severe criticism from Gov. James H. Duff and a flood of protests from individuals and veterans organizations followed the commission's announcement that after a two-year investigation it was rejecting the applications because "a lot of little companies" were difficult to regulate.

Duff put his dissatisfaction on the record less than an hour after the announcement.

"While the PUC is certainly an independent agency and while the governor has no right under the law to interfere," he said, "I have a very definite and positive feeling that the purpose of the commission is primarily to interpret the needs of the public and when it fails to do so, it certainly is not serving the full purposes for which its appointment was intended."

Frank C. Hilton, Pennsylvania department commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, made a speech in Allentown two days later, declaring that the decision "borders on the despotism of dictatorship."

"I charge the commission with making a mockery of the term 'free enterprise'," Hilton said.

Women Object

An organization of women's clubs condemned the PUC as acting "against the interests of Philadelphia residents."

Attorneys for the GI Taxicab Association, which sought unsuccessfully a year ago to obtain licenses as a unit, announced that the case would be appealed to the State Supreme Court.

"We were taken by surprise," said James J. Davis, Jr., counsel for the cabbies and son of the late U. S. senator from Pennsylvania.

Davis said the cab drivers had been led to believe their franchise applications would be approved and as a result bought a lot of new equipment, including $30,000 worth of meters.

GIRL CHARGED—Betty Jane Kroeger, 17-year-old brunette, was charged with murder in Eminence, Mo., after signing a statement that she shot and killed her father and mother last week. Threat Of Poisoned Food In Germany's Black Market Seen

BERLIN, March 11, (AP)—Black marketeers have fooled German housewives so often with their wares that chemical laboratories now test foodstuffs.

Police frequently warn housewives against buying from black marketeers.

In Cologne, police sent an urgent warning to residents against buying black market flour because 3,000 pounds of rat poison, which the thieves apparently had mistaken for flour, had been stolen from a freight yard.

One Berlin laboratory said it frequently found gypsum in flour. It also found vinegar which was half water, wine which was mostly water and beef that turned out to be a fat dog's leg.

So little power is carried by air waves of human speech that if 5,000,000 persons all talked at once, the power created would hardly light a small bulb.

Uncooperative Wife Costs Wisconsin Father $10 Fine

GREEN BAY, Wis, March 11 (U.P.)—Bertram C. Mason was tagged for speeding. He told the policeman he was hurrying home because one of his children was having a convulsion. The solicitous patrolman insisted on accompanying the father home.

Once inside the house, Mason shouted, "Who is sick, honey?"

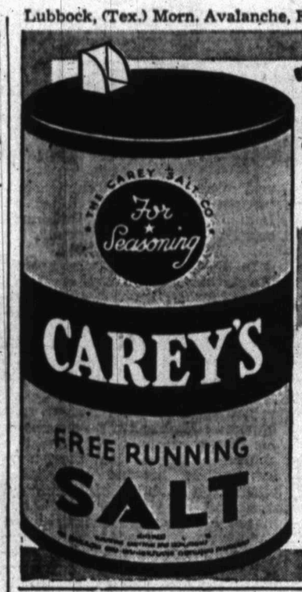

His wife, who was sitting calmly, said, "No one."

Mason was fined $10.

Normal Week Proves To Be Bizarre For News In Germany

MUNICH, March 11, (AP) — A normal week in Germany—

In Schoenberg, a shrewd one got 47 pounds of soap out of a slaughtered dog, a few pounds out of three cats.

In Trupolding a 13-year-old school girl left her diary on her desk. The teacher peeped, expecting calf love notes. He read about the swapping of eggs and butter for clothing and shoes on the black market.

In Unterditfurt, the land police arrested a priest for slaughtering a 200-pound pig without authority.

In Munich, Minister Alois Hundhammer submitted a school reform plan to military government and it was accepted. Think that's not news? It was the 14th he submitted.

In Koburg, a dairy announced that in the next rationing period it will have to wrap butter in "cigaret paper." Said the dairy with its sharp tongue in its fat cheek—

"There is no other paper available, nor is there any tobacco, so we shall take the little sheets of cigaret paper."

In Bavaria police seized 11 stills during January's road patrolling. In December the "take" was 17 stills. The moonshiners go free but lose their equipment.

In Nuernberg, city council planned another meeting to discuss what architectural plan would be followed in rebuilding the city. This has been going on for two years because the city fathers disagree. Some want to go modern, others want to preserve the old medieval style. Meanwhile houses have holes in them.

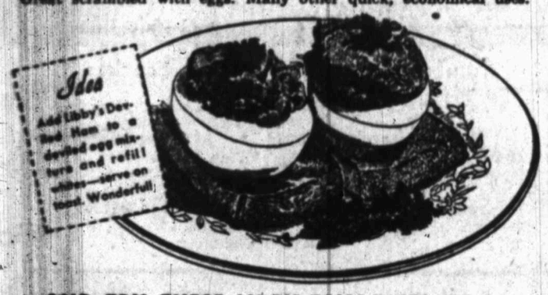

Poland's 9,000 Lawyers To Be Distributed Through Nation

WARSAW, Poland, March 11 (AP)—The 9,000 lawyers in Poland are going to be re-shuffled and distributed more evenly.

Under plans of the ministry of justice, districts short on lawyers will get a supply of legal talent from cities and towns having too much of it.

The ministry says barristers will be given a chance to choose their new place of abode but those who balk will face compulsory transfers.

Ex-Servicemen Form Groups To Oppose MacArthur Nomination

CHICAGO, March 11 (AP)—Former servicemen and students in five cities have announced formation of organizations "against MacArthur"—opposing the possible presidential candidacy of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

In Chicago, Paul Berger, 24, spokesman for the "veterans against MacArthur" club, said if the move gains enough impetus "a national non-political club will be founded. The five-star general announced in Tokyo Monday that he is available for nomination for the presidency.

Berger said 500 signatures had been obtained in Chicago on petitions opposing the supreme allied commander in Japan as a possible presidential candidate. He said members had urged friends in several other cities to circulate similar petitions. Cities included St. Louis, Denver, Boston, Pittsburgh and Dallas, Tex., Berger said.

Reasons Are Stated

In Boston, a "veterans against MacArthur" group was organized last night by several ex-GI students at Harvard, Boston university and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. A committee of three from the schools adopted a slogan of "give him a medal but not the White House."

The Chicago club, Berger said, opposes MacArthur's candidacy for these reasons: "MacArthur's general aloofness from the American public; his use of violence when troops under his command dispersed the veterans bonus march in 1932; the censorship of the press in MacArthur's command in Japan, indicating antidemocratic leanings, and, the inadvisability of having any military man—and especially General MacArthur—in the White House."

There are approximately 2000 daily newspapers in the United States.

Attempted Assassination Against Exalted Ruler Of Tibet Revealed In Unusual Story

By ROBERT CLURMAN
United Press Staff Writer

NANKING March 11.—Details of an attempted assassination and coup d'etat in Tibet, one of the rare revolts against the exalted power of the Dalai Lama, have come to light here. It was described by Tsipon Shakabpa, head of the Tibetan trade mission now visiting Nanking.

Vague rumors of the rebellion appeared in the Chinese press last spring, but concrete details have remained locked in the Himalayan fastness of the earth's most inaccessible region. This is the story as told by Shakabpa:

One morning last May a small sandolwood box with a sliding cover arrived at the Potala, fabulous palace at Lhasa of the 14-year-old Dalai Lama. It was addressed to the regent, Takdag Rim, who will rule Tibet until the Dalai Lama comes of age.

Takdag Rim, however, did not open the box himself. He gave it to one of his retinue. As the servant slid back the cover, a makeshift grenade exploded, seriously injuring him.

Plotters Rounded Up

A confession obtained from a member of the conspiracy enabled Takdag Rim to round up between 40 and 50 priests involved in the plot. Leader of the revolt was a monk named Rheting, a "malcontent" according to Shakabpa. The monk, he said, had stirred up opposition to Takdag Rim's regency in the hope of supplanting him as ruler of Tibet during the Dalai Lama's boyhood.

Shortly after Rheting's arrest, Shakabpa said, he died of "heart failure." Two other leaders of the conspiracy were sentenced to life imprisonment; the rest were given jail terms of varying lengths.

The plot against the regent did not include designs on the life of the Dalai Lama, whose sacred person is inviolate. The 14-year-old temporal and spiritual leader of the world's only theocracy is the son of an obscure Tibetan farmer. He was chosen by the high priests of Tibet to rule his country in 1937 after oracles had signed him out from Tibet's 4,000,000 inhabitants as the Delai Lama.

Search Begins

The Tibetans practice a form of Buddhism known as Lamarism in which reincarnation plays a major part. Thus, when the 13th Dalai Lama died in 1933, the search for his reincarnated spirit began. It would be found, according to tradition, in the body of a child born at the exact moment of the Dalai Lama's death.

The state oracle at Lhasa and the oracle at Sam-ye were consulted. Priests were dispatched to gaze into the great sacred lake at Namsto to seek for a portent of the identity and whereabouts of the 14th Dalai Lama. On the basis of the oracular pronouncements, and an image which appeared in the lake, the long search began.

It led through the green valleys and icy mountain passes of the ancient land, ending finally at the tiny village of Amdo in the northeast corner of Tibet, two months mule journey from Lhasa. There, in the person of a four-year-old child, the fourth son of a peasant named Takster, the Dalai Lama was found.

Put Through Tests

Shakabpa said the child was put through tests to establish his identity. He was handed two cups, for example, one of which he had often used during his "previous existance," and asked to choose between them.

He was asked to make a similar choice between pictures, articles of clothing and even persons known to him in his former life, questions were put to him to test his familiarity with details and incidents of his last reign on earth.

When the high priests were at last satisfied that the true Dalai Lama has been found, the child and his entire family were led back to Lhasa in worshipful procession. The boy was installed in the huge and magnificent Potala, where the high priests now minister to his needs and oversee his education. His peasant father, mother and three brothers were given a palace and large estate with a liberal income.

Most convalescents respond favorably to the Gift Treatment... remembrances in small doses to brighten the shut-in's day. Here are a few out-of-the-ordinary and easily administered suggestions that you might prescribe.

Boxed stationery takes on added utility with 3 cent stamps on each envelope. A newsy personal note is a gift that only you can give and one of the most appreciated. Greeting cards, which carry no printed sentiment, are good for all occasions and overcome the "putting off till tomorrow" habit.

A woman's morale hits sub-zero when the hairdresser or shampoo are out for the duration. An assortment of gaily colored hair ribbons sent in a cheering note puts more color in the cheeks as well as the hair.

Send bright, colorful handkerchiefs that just can't be overlooked and so don't prompt a game of blind-man's bluff by getting lost in the bed clothes.

Sure'n a look at the calendar tells you St. Patrick's Day is on its way. We've planned a special menu so even the family dinner will join in the wearin' of the green.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY DINNER
Corned Beef and Cabbage
Parsley Potatoes
*Shamrock Salad *Green Apples
*Recipe given

SHAMROCK SALAD
2 large or 3 medium bell peppers
3 packages cream cheese Cayenne pepper
Top milk or cream Salt
Mash cream cheese, thin slightly with top milk or cream and season. Remove top slice from green peppers, remove seeds and membranes and stuff tightly with cheese mixture. Chill until very firm. When ready to serve, slice in thin slices and arrange on lettuce. Garnish with salad dressing or mayonnaise and bits of pimento.

GREEN APPLES
6 medium apples ½ cup water 1 cup sugar
Green coloring Peppermint flavoring
Peel and core apples. Make syrup of sugar, water, flavoring and tint emerald green. Cook apples very slowly in the syrup, basting and turning if necessary, until they are tender and green. Cool in syrup, basting again once or twice. Serve cold with whipped cream and a sprinkle of nutmeats.

'People's Lobby' To Back Prison System Changes Is Urged

HOUSTON, March 11 (U.P.) — A "people's lobby" to support the $4,000,000 state prison system improvement plan was urged today by O. B. Ellis, new general manager, who spoke before the Rotary club.

Ellis told the Rotarians and their guests that Texas can buy a decent prison system for a little more than $4,000,000. He said the project would result in a remodeled plant worth at least $8,000,000.

Would Train Men

A sizeable percentage of the men it would turn out would be prepared to earn a living as good citizens instead of being schooled for a return to a life of crime, he said.

He urged Rotarians to get behind a "people's lobby" to help get the plan through the next session of the state legislature.

The Ellis plan was adopted unanimously by the state prison board at the last meeting in Huntsville early this month.

Major elements of the improvement program include construction of an isolation unit at Huntsville to segregate incorrigible prisoners, and construction of individual cell units at the various farms. The cost of this work was estimated at $1,161,450.

An industrialization program designed to train men for jobs and also supply other state institutions with prison-made goods would cost almost $1,000,000.

Three Natives Survive Ordeal Of 57 Days Adrift In Boat

GUAM, Marianas Islands, March 11 (U.P.)—Three Gilbertese natives who survived a 57-day ordeal in an open boat have returned to their home island of Marinana, which they left last Sept. 1.

The long voyage started when four natives — Teitikai, Teburea, Beniamina and Tukeuta—set out in a 19-foot sail boat to take a doctor to Tarawa, 28 miles distant.

A storm struck them on their return trip and their craft became disabled, leaving them adrift. One of the foursome — Teitikai — became incoherent one night, jumped overboard and was lost.

The other three were finally rescued by natives of another tiny Pacific island when their badly battered boat drifted ashore.

LAREDO ROBBERY REPORTED

LAREDO, March 11 (AP)—The Western Union telegraph office was robbed here last night of an estimated $170 in cash. It was the second time the office had been robbed in a year.

Two Killed, Two Hurt When Ambulance And Truck Collide

SAN ANTONIO, March 11 (U.P.) —Two persons were killed and two others seriously injured late yesterday when an ambulance collided with a cattle truck eight miles from San Antonio.

Dead were E. V. Young, 32, owner of a Kingsville cleaning establishment, and Juan Cabrera, 22, ambulance driver. Critically injured were Rev. Howard T. Rich, pastor of a Kingsville Baptist church, and J. W. Nieper, 26, San Antonio, a passenger in the ambulance.

Hospital attendants said it was uncertain whether the two injured men would recover.

Sheriff Owney Kilday said the truck apparently attempted to negotiate a right turn on the highway and collided with the ambulance which was carrying Nieper from a Kingsville hospital to San Antonio for a major operation. Colpon L. Collins, Lytle, the truck driver, was not seriously hurt.

Strong National Oil Policy Directed By Civilians Urged

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—Harold L. Ickes called today for a strong national oil policy directed by civilian agencies.

The former Secretary of Interior told a House Armed Services subcommittee he thinks Congress has been neglectful in not declaring such a policy. The subcommittee is studying world oil supplies.

While Ickes was outlining his views, a Senate Oil subcommittee heard that many farmers face a critical shortage of tractor fuel this year. L. A. Taylor of the Southern States Cooperative, Inc., of Richmond, Va., described shortage prospects to senators.

Oily Policy Outlined

Taylor said his organization supplies petroleum needs of 16,000 farmers in Virginia, Maryland, Delaware and Kentucky. It has been unable to find a supplier after May 31, Taylor said. He added that "some of these farmers will be able to get supplies elsewhere, but some of them won't."

Ickes, wartime petroleum administrator, suggested this policy for oil:

1. Immediate exploration to find new fields which could be placed in reserve for a national emergency. He said new oil reserves in Wyoming should be roped off by the government and be kept for future emergencies.

2. Importation of as much oil as possible for storage, preferably in natural underground reservoirs. He suggested abandoned limestone quarries as one type of natural storage.

3. Full-speed-ahead development of synthetic liquid fuels.

4. Halting of waste in oil and gas fields.

When ice breaks off from a glacier and floats out to sea as icebergs, the glacier is said to be calving.

Texas, California Lead Nation With Radio Stations

WASHINGTON, March 11, (U.P.)—The ether over California and Texas is becoming crowded with radio signals.

Those two states lead the nation in the number of authorized broadcasting stations, according to a count by the Federal Communications Commission.

As of mid-February, the commission has granted authorizations for 3,119 standard, FM and television outlets in the continental United States and possessions. That includes stations on the air and those being constructed.

Of the total number of authorizations, California received 228 and Texas 223. Next in order are Pennsylvania with 184; New York, 178; North Carolina, 132, and Ohio, 128.

At present, 1,558 standard, 410 FM and 19 television stations are on the air. Under construction are 411 standard, 653 FM and 8 television outlets. Also 858 applicants are still waiting for the commission to decide whether they are qualified to operate broadcast facilities. Over 600 of the latter applications are for standard stations, while 115 are for FM and 119 for television.

Texas has the most standard authorizations with 153, followed by California with 129, Pennsylvania 98, New York 89 and North Carolina 86.

California tops the list for FM and television grants. Montana, Vermont, Hawaii and Alaska have no FM stations, while 18 states and the possessions are without television authorizations.

Railway Express Man Pleads Guilty To Federal Charge

SAN ANTONIO, March 11 (AP)—Benjamin B. Childs, 50, veteran train baggage master and railway express messenger, indicted by a federal grand jury on three counts charging he loosened the lock on a mail pouch, taking a letter from the pouch and removing $4 from the letter, entered a plea of guilty before federal Judge Ben H. Rice, jr., here last yesterday.

He is scheduled to be sentenced Monday.

At the time of his apprehension on Feb. 2 postal inspectors who preferred the charge said mail destined for delivery in the valley area had been reported missing over a period of years.

Two Persons Injured In Navy Plane Crash

NEW ORLEANS, March 11 (AP)—Two persons were injured when a navy transport plane carrying 19 persons crash-landed and burned on a fog-shrouded auxiliary airport near Donaldsonville, La., early today.

The naval air station said seaman first class G. M. Copeland, of Suffolk, Va., and seaman first class W. F. Robb, Bayonne, N. J., were suffering from shock. Copeland's condition was reported good but Robb is still under treatment.

Aboard the craft were five crew members and 14 passengers including a wave, a marine and a soldier.

The navy identified the pilot as Lt. J. L. Scoggin, USN., of Dallas, Tex. Co-pilots were Lt. John Rue, of St. Mary's county, Md., and ensign Joe LaBauche, Syracuse, N. Y. They are stationed at Patuxent, Md.

Crew members were high in their praise of wave chief specialist Rubinie Ppappan, 23, of Pasadena, Calif., chief stewardess aboard the plane.

As the plane rode toward the crash, they said, she awakened the men and, after the impact, maintained order in the passenger compartment as they got out. She then re-entered the blazing wreckage to make sure the pilot and co-pilots had escaped.

Navy headquarters here said the plane, a navy transport, was on a regular scheduled flight from Patuxent River, Md., to Corpus Christi, Tex. An R-5-D is comparable to the army C-54.

Some of the passengers, the navy said, were picked up in Washington while others were taken on at Pensacola, Fla.

Fire House Burns Up—So Do Firemen As Bad Luck Strikes

NESCOPECK, Pa., March 11 (U.P.)—The faces of the volunteer firemen of Nescopeck were red. Fire broke out in the town firehouse while nine firemen were in the building.

Prevented by thick smoke from entering the basement where the blaze was centered, they were forced to flee the building. To add insult to injury, when they rolled out the fire truck, they found the nearest fire plug frozen.

Resignedly they called in three fire companies from nearby Berwick.

Communists, Rightist Elements In France Stock Up On Weapons

By DUDLEY HARMON
United Press Staff Writer

PARIS, March 11—Nearly three years after the war's end, both Communists and right wing groups have "important" stocks of arms hidden throughout France, an authoritative source told the United Press.

The arms include such large-scale weapons as tanks and cannon. Many of the latter were part of the Normandy coast defenses. After the war the government sold them to "ironmongers" for melting down purposes, but part are believed to have found their way into the hands of political groups.

"We know that the Communists have stocks of arms and it is quite possible that right wing groups have also," the source said.

Caches Unearthed

Both Communists and extreme right wingers accuse the other of concealing weapons for a coup d'etat. The government has unearthed several caches, usually as the result of a denunciation by a member of the group hiding them. But it does not know how many remain, or if it does, is unwilling to reveal details.

A shortage of ammunition would make an uprising difficult, however, according to information available. Ammunition lags far behind the stocks of arms, chiefly because it deteriorates quickly and is difficult to manufacture outside a factory.

"Molotov cocktails" are about the only explosive which can be manufactured "in the home circle." During the strikes here earlier this winter, several workers at the Renault factory were injured when "cocktails" on which they were working blew up.

Today an unauthorized persons cannot buy arms, under French law. The clandestine stocks on hand come from three sources. Part were seized from Vichy and German sources by the underground. Others were parachuted into France by the British Royal Air Force.

A considerable number came from American soldiers who sold their weapons on the black market. Most are hidden in the country—some were found even in a convent.

Officials of the ministry of the interior deny that any arms are being parachuted into France today, despite frequent reports from peasants of "mysterious white lights" and "planes circling fields at two in the morning." They compare such stories to "those flying saucers."

Australian To Use Plane In Search For Water For Sheep

SYDNEY, March 11 (U.P.)—Using an airplane, W. Gall, an Australian sheepgrower, plans to follow birds to their secret water holes during droughts.

Gall's 60,000 acre property, Langawirra Station, is 60 miles northeast of Broken Hill, New South Wales. He says he will also search his huge property by air for new pastures when feed is scarce.

Australian water birds have puzzled many graziers during droughts.

While sheep died for want of water, swans and ducks have been seen overhead, flying to a secret water rendezvous. Because of the speed of the birds, graziers seldom were able to find the water.

Proposal To Decontrol Rents In Corsicana Is Rejected

WASHINGTON, March 11 (U.P.)—Housing expediter Tighe E. Woods today rejected a local rent advisory board recommendation to decontrol rents in the Corsicana, Tex., area.

Woods said the board submitted no evidence that the demand for rental housing had been reasonably met.

The area comprises Navarro, Ellis and Kaufman counties.

EISLER AND CANE—Carrying the walking stick he says he carries for protection Gerhart Eisler, who has been tagged the "No. 1 Communist in the United States," leaves the federal court building in New York after postponement of the hearing of appeal by five alleged alien Communists who have been denied writs of habeas corpus. All are awaiting deportation proceedings. Eisler says the cane is for protection against the "semi-fascist atmosphere" in Woodside, New York, where he lives. (AP Wirephoto).

Threat To Blow Out Brains Of Investigator Is Reported

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—A threat to blow out the brains of a congressional investigator was reported to the House today.

Rep. Canfield (R-NJ) reported the threat but did not say who made it.

The investigator is Robert Lee, who recently completed a study of the Internal Revenue bureau for a House Appropriations subcommittee which Canfield heads.

Canfield told colleagues that Lee received telephone calls both during and after the investigation "threatening to blow his brains out." Lee himself was not immediately available for comment.

The results of his investigation were made public Tuesday by the appropriations committee. In general, the investigator severely criticized the revenue bureau for laxity and inefficiency.

Democratic Leader To Fly With Jester To Washington Meeting

HILLSBORO, Tex., March 11 (AP)—R. W. Calvert, chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, said today he would fly to Washington tomorrow with Gov. Beauford H. Jester to attend a meeting of a committee of Southern governors.

The committee was set up recently by the governors after their group had expressed strong opposition to President Truman's proposed civil rights program. Calvert said the committee was expected to determine the attitude to be taken by Southern Democrats on party policies in the coming national convention.

Calvert planned to meet the governor in Dallas tomorrow morning.

Move Over, Mozart! Hillbilly Rhythm May Be On Its Way

AUSTIN, March 11 (AP)—Move over, Mozart; Mountain music may get top billing in the concert hall of the future.

Dr. Archie N. Jones is the authority for that prediction. The University of Texas music professor says the hillbilly ballad of today may be the great music of tomorrow.

Our great music of today was the folk music of a bygone era, Dr. Jones explains, and our present folk music was the popular music of the years past.

GROUP MAINTAINS LEAD

BUENOS AIRES, March 11 (AP)—Candidates supported by President Juan D. Peron maintained a wide lead tonight in the race for seats in the Argentine chamber of deputies.

Texas Republicans Organize To Support Taft Candidacy

FORT WORTH, March 11 (U.P.)—A Texas Taft-for-president committee was organized here today by state Republican leaders.

R. B. Creager of Brownsville was named chairman of the committee; Eugene Nolte of San Antonio, vice chairman, and Henry Zweifel of Fort Worth, secretary-treasurer.

A statement issued by the committee said Sen. Robert A. Taft's chances for election "are excellent unless the entire national political picture should change between now and the July convention."

"President Truman," the announcement added, "has created so much dissension and confusion in the Democratic party that there is no hope that the Democrats can re-elect him."

Jester Claims State's Rights Plan Would Help Demos Win Vote Test

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 11 —Gov. Beauford H. Jester today suggested what he thinks would be a winning national strategy for the Democratic party—a state's right platform.

The principles of civil rights he said would be held out as an objective to be attained by the states.

"Would this placate southern opposition to President Truman?" he was asked at his press conference. The governor said this was questionable.

Calvert To Make Trip

Jester announced that because his trip to Washington tomorrow involved party problems, state Democratic executive chairman Bob Calvert of Hillsboro would accompany him.

On the eve of his departure, Jester was sharply critical of the Democratic party's national strategy.

He would not suggest a possible replacement for Truman on the Democratic national ticket, nor would he guess the outcome of the national elections.

"That would be like predicting the result of a football game while it was still in progress" he said.

Drive Starts On Funds For Show

Over coffee and doughnuts Thursday morning at Hilton hotel, a drive for funds was started to guarantee premium prices on calves, pigs and sheep exhibited and auctioned in the South Plains Junior Fat Stock show here March 22-24.

Conducting the campaign are more than 100 members of the show's finance committee, headed by Homer Hunt, grain elevator executive. About 60 committeemen attended the rally. First reports were made at the chamber of commerce Thursday afternoon and will be made daily thereafter.

Rewards Are Guaranteed

Hunt, Vernice Ford, general chairman of the show, and M. D. Fanning, secretary, stressed that the success of the show depends more upon the "premium pool" than any other one factor. It guarantees a reward to every boy and girl who exhibits and auctions a calf, pig or lamb in the show, regardless of whether they share in the $800 prizes.

Entries will be accepted, Fanning explained, from 4-H club and Future Farmer of American members in 26 counties of the South Plains and Eastern New Mexico. The object of the drive, he continued, is to provide a bonus averaging two to three cents a pound above market prices on the animals sold, and totaling $2,500 to $3,000 to be distributed among the youthful exhibitors.

Hunt advised committee members to seek three types of pledges. One is an outright cash donation.

Another is a pledge to absorb the difference between prices paid at the show and the market price on one or more calves, pigs and lambs. These losses usually amount to a maximum of $25 on a calf, $15 on a pig and $7.50 on a lamb.

The third type of pledge is instructions to buy an animal for the purchaser's own use. Most of these instructions, officials explained, come from operators of eating places and owners of frozen food lockers. Meat packers usually will handle the slaughtering of such animals for the by-products, Fanning said.

ASKS STRIKE VOTE—O. A. Knight, president of Oil Workers International Union (CIO), has sent a nationwide strike vote to 10,000 employes of Sinclair Refining Co., after a breakdown of negotiations in New York. The union asked general wage increase of 30 cents per hour to oil workers, (affecting some 100,000 OWIU members throughout the nation.) Knight says he feels the Refining Co. will meet their demands and he doesn't anticipate a strike. However, he sent a letter to company officials, advising that present working agreement will terminate on July 1. (NEA Telephoto).

OPTIMIST CLUB SPONSORS SHOW

Clyde Bros. Circus To Present Opening Program Here Tonight

Everybody but the weatherman, who changes his mind pretty often, were set last night for the opening performance tonight at 8:15 o'clock of Clyde Bros. Circus, which opens a four-day engagement here under sponsorship of the Lubbock Optimist club.

The tent was being erected Thursday afternoon on a site at Nineteenth and Taylor avenue and workmen were to complete setting up activities for the opening performance today.

In the meantime, members of the Optimist club were hoping for warmer weather so that they will have good crowds for the show, which appears in winter tours under sponsorship of civic clubs, Shriners and other groups throughout the Southwest.

First of seven performances will get underway at 8:15 tonight. Other shows are scheduled at 2:45 and 8:15 p. m. Saturday; 3:45 and 8:15 p. m. Monday and Tuesday.

The Optimists' share of proceeds from the circus will go into the Junior Optimist club's building fund, a boys' club project supported by the Optimists in the 2400-block on Second street.

Thirty acts will be presented in three rings during the 2 hours and 15 minutes of each performance. Featured acts include acrobatic, dog and pony performances and the antics of Happy Kellems and the funniest troupe of clowns on the winter tour.

Capt. Jimmie Conners, king of the tight wire; Henry Dud, greatest of all slack wire artists; the sensational LeClairs, directly from [illegible], artists on the rolling globes; and Miss Gloria King and her canine revue.

Tickets for the show are $1:20 for adults and 60 cents for children, with no seats reserved. Pillows for sale at the performances by Junior Optimist club members

Wave Of Burglaries Investigated In City

Money, Property Taken At Stores

The sheriff's department and city police last night continued investigation of three burglaries reported yesterday and theft of $874.65 worth of property from Massey Motor company at 202 Broadway.

Burglaries were reported by the F. W. Woolworth company, 1013 Broadway, The Food Mart, at 1904 Nineteenth, and Benny's Repair Shop, at 244 Ave. H.

Two negroes, 20 and 28, were being questioned in connection with theft from the motor company of seven radios valued at $74.60 each, five fog lights valued at $12.65 each, nine spotlights valued at $17.20 each, six batteries valued at approximately $20 each, and two back-up lights valued at $7.20 each.

Charge Is Filed

The older, Clarence Bryant, was charged late yesterday with theft of seven automobile radios, assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr said. The charge will be investigated by a grand jury.

In a statement given to Pharr, Bryant said he had worked for the motor company 10 months and that he had been stealing from it since mid-January. He said he had received $20 for each of the radios stolen except one, for which he was given $25, and that he had taken as little as $5 each for the batteries. He admitted theft of other property there.

He admitted selling to various individuals, who paid him after they had resold the property.

Some of the transactions eventually involved as many as three or four persons, it was understood.

Deputies said they had been told where some of the stolen merchandise could be found. It had been sold several times, suspects allegedly said. Some other loot had been recovered.

Approximately $50 worth of property was taken from the Woolworth store. Seventeen billfolds, nine rings, 11 Boy Scout knives and a flashlight made up the loot, as estimated in a preliminary check. City Detective Lee Rice and Police Patrolmen George Hall and Pete Hubbard said.

Entrance was at a second floor window next a fire escape.

A 1939 Ford owned by Billy Ray Smith, a customer, was taken in connection with the burglary of Benny Cox's shop. Cox was repairing the machine, he said.

Radio Reported Sold

Floyd Massey, owner of the motor company, learned that a radio from his company had been sold to a man in Crosbyton. Deps. Sher-

Unemployment Shows Increase

Records in the office of the Texas Employment commission here show that current unemployment in Lubbock county is at the highest level since the time immediately following the close of the war.

Figures released Wednesday by James E. Marshall, office manager, showed that during February 5,319 persons contacted the office, compared with 4,507 in January, and 3,720 in February of last year. Of the 5,319 February applicants 647 were applying for the first time here.

Many Classes Included

The list of job seekers included many occupational classifications ranging from professional to unskilled. Many of them have had years of experience, Marshall's report said, and others are just out of schools and seeking their first jobs.

Reflecting the low level of job openings during February, only 629 of the 5,319 were referred to jobs, and 438 placed in employment.

Another indication of increasing unemployment, Marshall said, is the large number of claimants filing for unemployment compensation and servicemen's readjustment allowances. These nearly double during the short month, the report showing 827 such cases at the end of February, compared with 428 at the end of January.

Continues In March

The report showed also that the accelerated activity is continuing into March. During the first nine days of this month, 1,530 people had contacted the office looking for work. 241 had been referred to jobs, and 139 had been verified as hired.

Marshall believes that "with the cooperation of local employers this alarming increase in unemployment can be halted and the problem worked out in an orderly, systematic way for the benefit of the entire community."

He urged that all employers needing workers, whether in the factory, store, or kitchen, call the employment commission office and report their needs.

Health appraisals of 150,000 youths participating in the NYA relief programs in the '30s indicated 90 per cent had defects calling for medical attention.

Step Right Up And Swing A While--

Square Dances Hold Interest At School

By OPAL DIXON
Avalanche Staff Writer

"Nod your head and watch her smile,
Step right up and swing a while—"

Many residents of Lubbock and vicinity are doing just that—stepping right up and swinging a while—this week during annual Country Dance school at Texas Technological college.

Jimmy Clossin, noted cowboy square dance instructor from El Paso, is calling dances after calling them eight previous years in country dance schools at Texas Tech—and this year he is calling some which are new to the Lubbock square dancers and have attracted consider-

Good Turnout At School

Approximately 350 tickets were sold for the week's school, which opened Monday and will close tonight. Average attendance at the beginners session opening at 7 p. m. daily has been about 175 and at the advanced session at 8:30 p. m., about 150.

In addition, a morning class meets from 9 to 10 o'clock, with attendance largely of women. Classes meet in the gymnasium.

At the beginners sessions, more men than women usually attend. Ten to 15 college boys usually are sitting at the side for lack of partners.

Exhibition Is Planned

Unless cold weather interferes with plans, Grady Wilson of Amarillo will bring a group of children termed the "Babies" who have won in square dancing competition to present an exhibition tonight.

More have attended this week's school than any of the previous country dance schools conducted at Tech in spite of this week's low temperatures.

One of the women's physical education faculty members expressed her wonder at the large attendance Wednesday night, when the temperature was less than 10 degrees. "Listen, lady," said one dancer, "I've come 30 miles to this."

The school is sponsored by the Tech women's physical education department, the Women's Recreational association and the Major-Minor club.

Uses Loud Speaker

Clossin uses a loud speaker and plays records of music as he calls dances in the manner that suits Texas square dancers.

Most Texas square dancers do a fast two-step dance in their square dancing, which differs considerably from square dancing in some sections. In New England, for instance, the square dancers move more formally and slowly with "a slide."

Some of the callers for local square dance groups and some of the dancers themselves have requested copies of calls for four dances being called in the Tech school this year for the first time.

Nod your head and watch her smile,
Step right up and swing a while.
Now step right back and watch her grin
Step right up and swing her again.

Swing on the corner and make 'em laugh
Right to your own with a once and a half
Now corners again and don't you frown
Right to your own, go round and around.

Circle four with a lonesome two
A time and a half will do
Side couples right and left through Inside arch and outside under

Corners again and don't you blunder
A right to your own and go like thunder
Now corners again and don't you roam
A right to your own and balance home.

Two Couple Promenade The Outside Ring

First two couples balance and swing
And promenade around the outside ring,
Four in a line you stand
Forward-up eight and fall back eight.
Ring and left through two by two,
Right and left in the same old track
And two ladies chain across the way
And chain right back in the same old way.
Form two rings and around you go
And you bow and smile and do-si-do.
(Reap with side couples).

Rich Hand Pass

First two couples lead to the right
And around that couple with a right hand pass
Now back to the center, swing once and a half.
Circle four half way round
Two, four, six, eight, right and left through two by two
Circle four and around you go

Cooper Host For Show Saturday

COOPER, March 11 (Special)—Cooper chapter of Future Farmers of America will hold its annual Fat Stock show on Saturday, March 13, with judging starting at 1 p. m. on that day, H. E. Owen, Cooper vocational agriculture teacher, announced.

Exhibits will include beef calves, fat barrows, gilts, sows and litters, boars, lambs, ewes, rams, hens, broilers, crop exhibits and miscellaneous exhibits. Livestock will be housed in the Cooper school bus shed, and other exhibits will be placed in the vocational agriculture building.

Deadline Is Set

Calves and sheep must be entered, weighed and groomed Friday. Swine will be entered before 9 a. m. Saturday morning. Poultry, crops and other exhibits may be entered either day, but must be in place by 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

The show is conducted and financed entirely by members of the Cooper F.F.A. chapter. Marvin Kitten, chapter president, is general superintendent. Division superintendents are: Tommy Lemon, beef cattle; John B. Allen, sheep; Clyde Greene, swine; Gains Temple, crops; Gerald Mote, miscellaneous; and Eugene Forester, concessions.

Judging at the Fat Stock show will be done by L. M. Hargrove, agricultural education professor at Texas Technological college.

Two little ladies do-si-do.
Now one more change the promenade.
(Repeat with the side couples.)

Golden Slippers

First couple out and balance the swing
Down the center and split the rings.
And four in a line you stand
A forward four and fall back four
Sashay four to the right
Join hands and make it six.
Forward six 'fore it is too late.
Pick up two and fall back eight.
Forward eight when you all get fixed
Drop off two and fall bask six
Sasay four to the right
Now forward four and stand
And open the gate and two ladies chain
Chain right back in the same old track
Close the gate and four fall back
Sashay four to the right.
Join hands and make it six
Forward six 'fore it's too late
Pick up two and fall back eight
Forward eight when you get fixed
Drop off two and fall back six
Sashay four to the right
Forward four and form and ring
And make it go.
One more change and home you go
And promenade.

Confederate Veteran Finds Time To Recall Stories Of Other Days

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

BONHAM, Tex., March 11 — Time — plenty of time — brings all things. Hear these words from a confederate veteran:

"Some Yankees are a noble lot, quick to recognize a genuine soldier of the Confederacy and willing to understand the bravery of that little band of southern states that held out for four long years. The Yankees had some brave men, too, and I tell you, there's a feeling among brave men that nobody else understands.

Asks For Southern Flag

Joseph Haden Whitsett, 100 years old and one of Texas' 12 living Confederate veterans, sat on the side of his bed, reached for his afternoon toddy and shouted to Mrs. Zora Arledge, a relative by marriage who has looked after him 16 years:

"Bring me my Confederate flag, please."

The big flag, on a pole, dominated a corner of the room. Mrs. Arledge fetched it for him. He could barely see it for he is almost blind, but he ran his fingers over it, lovingly, and thundered:

"This is the flag of the little band of states that held out against the whole world . . . for four long years. You'll notice a lot of white in the center — that was later changed to red. We never wanted to fool the Yankees into thinking we were surrendering."

Physical Condition Good

Whitsett never got into a Civil war battle but he was "rearin' to get into one" the whole war.

"The only thing that bothered me during the war," he said frankly, "was the itch. The itch and creepers. Did you ever see a body louse? Well, in those days we called them creepers."

Whitsett, a man of striking appearance, has fine white hair, blue eyes, a prominent nose, high forehead, large ears. He is five feet, eight inches tall but when queried about his weight, he said, explosively:

"I'll be damned if I know — or care."

He was a husky young man and time has brought him relatively little excess weight. He is almost deaf and for the past 20 years — ever since he fell off a hay wagon — he has gotten around on crutches. But his condition is good. His physician said of him:

"To leave this world, Mr. Whitsett will have to develop some ailment — he has none now. His heart is good, his pulse and blood pressure are normal. He had his eye on 100 years and now that he's made it, he's set his sight on 125."

"Why, 100 years isn't anything," said Whitsett, "a negro who comes to visit me is 104. I'll outlive him."

"How did you live to be 100?"

"Outdoor living," said Whitsett, adding with a sly grin, "and clean habits."

"Do you think you'll make 125?"

"I will if I behave myself," the Confederate veteran roared, slapping his knee vigorously.

Texas Spirit Defended

Whitsett was with Company E, the second Missouri cavalry, in Gen. J. O. Shelby's brigade. He is very anxious to learn whether any other man who served under Shelby still lives.

His only fight during the war was with a fellow soldier "who was ignorant enough to make the statement" that Texans wouldn't fight.

"I snatched out my sabre," Whitsett recalled, "and went after him. We dueled awhile and finally a fellow got on a horse and rode between us, knocking us both down. Then some other fellows grabbed us and we were told we would be court-martialed.

"But General Shelby came by and said: 'What they got you for, boy?' He always called me boy because I was just a boy in my teens. 'Why, General,' I said, 'that man said Texans wouldn't fight.' Then the general spoke up and said: 'We'll just forget all this—but if you want to fight, just follow me against the Yankees.' And I said, 'I'll follow you anywhere, General, - - - that's what I joined up for - - - to fight. I'm rearin' to fight'."

Whitsett remembers himself as "some fighter," in later years. Only once did a man get the best of him.

"I told him to put up his fists," the veteran recalls, "and he slapped me on the side of the head with a blackjack. Laid me out cold. I carried a bowie knife in my boot for 30 years after that, laying for him, but I never saw him again."

"He's probably dead now," the old man added scornfully.

Work Not Essential

Whitsett was born in Glassglow, Ky., Sept. 18, 1847, and was brought to Bonham at the age of five by his parents. His father was a wealthy physician and although Whitsett owned, at various times, a mercantile store and butcher shop in the neighboring community of Dodd City, he never found work essential.

Mrs. Arledge and Miss Lou Williams, his constant companions, feel that his pleasant life contributed immeasurably to his great age.

"He is a happy man," Mrs. Arledge said, "and I have never known him to worry about anything. Nobody at Bonham remembers Uncle Haden ever doing any real work. He was always one of the outstanding volunteer firemen and a fine checker player. And he loves to talk to people — during the last war he greatly enjoyed chatting with the young soldiers stationed in Bonham."

"Bring me my medals, please, Zora," Whitsett called.

She brought him eight or 10 of his medals, souvenir medals of the many Confederate reunions he has attended. Among them was one from the joint Union and Confederate reunion at Gettysburg in 1938 — an occasion when the Yankees at last "recognized the genuine soldiers of the Confederacy."

Reminders of the Civil war decorate Whitsett's bedroom. Many pictures of southern generals are on the walls, along with various official certificates testifying that Whitsett fought for the South.

Checker Champ Defeated

The town of Bonham is proud of its confederate veteran and turned out last September to attend his birthday party. He dressed up fit to kill and gave an exhibition of his checker prowess. At that time he could still see the checkers.

"I once beat the county champ two straight games," Whitsett remembers, "but I'll say this for him —I don't think he had his mind on the game. If a man doesn't have his mind on the game, he'd better stay away from a checkerboard because he's just asking for a licking."

Although he has resided in this area 95 years, Whitsett traveled extensively. He has been in Mexico and in almost every one of the 48 states.

He spends most of his time these days in bed or in his wheel chairs, delighting in receiving visitors and getting letters.

Tough Guy Not So Tough In Face Of Old Ring Opponent

MILWAUKEE, March 11 (U.P.)—When an ex-boxer made a pest of himself in a tavern, the bartender called police.

"Tell 'em to send 12 cops," shouted the man. "I'm tough."

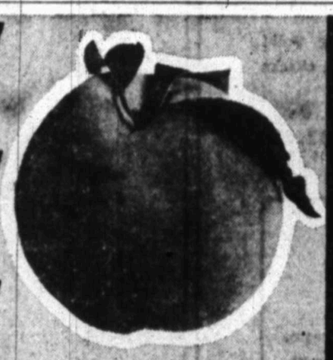

Two detectives arrived. The "tough" guy took a look at one of the officers.

"Johnny Teevan!" he muttered, and walked out quietly.

Spectators who were long-time ring fans remembered that the belligerent one had been knocked out by Teevan in the first round of a prize fight in 1923.

HITLER AGAIN

Silence Is Natural

THE Army's silence following the latest rumor that Adolf Hitler escaped Berlin in an airplane, and still lives, does not imply any official credence in the tale. It more likely indicates official sources do not intend to voice opinions about such rumors, which are likely to be recurrent for the next 40 to 50 years unless irrefutable proof is obtained that Hitler is alive or dead. Conclusive proof is lacking now.

The weight of official evidence and informed opinion supports the supposition that Hitler died by his own hand in the German Chancellory during the last days of Berlin. But it is possible he could be alive.

So rumors of this kind are likely to be investigated, if and when they occur. That may be frequently. Men claiming to be John Wilkes Booth, assassin of Abraham Lincoln, and Jesse James were "confessing" 50 years and longer after their reported deaths. Napoleon's commander, Marshal Ney, was reported in hiding in North Carolina after his reported execution. Supposed Adolf Hitlers are likely to be reported, and some probably will be "confessing" their identities until long after there could be any possibility he could be alive, even if he did survive the fall of Berlin.

If Hitler did escape and survives, the supposition is he will re-appear, or be apprehended, eventually. If that happens, authorities assure there will be no question as to establishing his identity beyond the possibility of question. But, on the basis of available evidence, the chances of it happening seem negligible in the extreme.

So Much Hooey

THE claim of Secret Service Chief James J. Maloney that his agency cannot provide adequate protection for the President, unless Congress boosts the $1,175,000 appropriation asked for the fiscal year starting July 1, has the ear-marks of a typical Washington money-grabbing maneuver.

A frequent practice of government agencies faced with cuts in appropriations has been to start their "economies" by curtailing their most essential duties. A notorious instance occurred about two years ago when Congress trimmed U. S. Customs Service appropriations. The agency promptly reduced its most essential personnel at principal seaports so sharply it could not pretend to perform its most important duty —protection against smuggling. It so obviously was a brazen attempt to use public opinion to browbeat Congress into greater liberality it failed speedily in its purpose.

The Secret Service would be in an even worse fix if it dared to economize on protections for the President. His safety is the agency's No. 1 duty. If he should be assassinated, or injured, the Secret Service would be on a red hot carpet instantly. A shakeup probably would occur such as has never been seen in any government agency in this country.

Maloney insulted American intelligence when he pretended the President's safety might suffer unless appropriations are increased. As long as he and other Secret Service men want their jobs, they won't take any chances with his security. If they have to economize, it will be on something else. Maloney's pretense otherwise can be written off instantly as an attempt to scare more money out of Congress for other purposes.

Down Memory Lane

A MAN'S love is a curious thing. It can possess him absolutely for moments. But it can never possess him altogether. It is never as strong in him as the urge to action, the challenge to combat which his work affords him.

And so Bob, who a moment before had been conscious only of his love for me, could now forget me so that even his thought for my safety was an afterthought. All his faculties, all his desire, all his driving energy were focused now on solving this case.

Meekly I got my things and followed him out to the police cruiser. We went down Sunset to La Brea and turned right. He had a bachelor apartment, just a living room, bedroom, bath and a kitchenette of sorts in an alcove. He took me in and showed me around and said he thought I'd be comfortable.

"Lock the door when I leave," he said. "And don't let anyone in until I come back."

That was hours later. After midnight—nearly one o'clock. In the meantime I had foraged in his ice box and found a chop and the makings of a salad and had napped fitfully on the wide studio couch in his living room. But mostly I had just sat and smoked and listened for his return and thought about him. The way his black hair swept up and back from his forehead, the way his gray eyes could be as hard as steel or as gentle and soft as a kitten. And the way his voice changed when he said my name, becoming at once deeper and intimate and warm.

I heard his footsteps at last and knew them even before he pressed the door buzzer. I sprang up and unlocked the door and let him in. He looked tired but triumphant. He looked at me and he smiled. His grin was a cocky, self-satisfied thing—as if he had done it all by himself. "You were right," he said. "Right on every score. Now—if she'll only fall into our trap."

HE threw his hat at a table and sat down and I got a cigaret and put it between his lips and lit it for him and sat down on the arm of his chair. I smoothed his rumpled hair. He looked up at me still grinning and asked, "Haven't you been in bed? Its late."

I shook my head. "No—I was waiting up for you."

He made the usual gesture then about sleeping on the couch in the living room while I used the bedroom and I said: "Nonsense. Neither of us can sleep tonight—and you know it."

He nodded. "I guess you're right. What about eating, then? I'm famished."

So I made coffee and Bob fried bacon and eggs and sliced pickles and onions and made some huge sandwiches and we ate and smoked and talked. We talked a lot about the case and about everything that had happened so far and about what we were praying would happen in the morning when we sprang our trap.

But we talked about ourselves, too. Bob told me how he had felt when he came back to consciousness in that hospital in France and found that his right hand was hopelessly mangled. "They told me that they could graft skin and make it look all right, but it wouldn't be much use to me.

"Look all right—the devil with that. What I had to do was paint with it. Paint the great, the poignant, the immortal pictures of World War II. All those hundreds of sketches I'd been making ever since I got in the Army, sketches of battles and men I'd seen. Made them on the spot so I'd never forget. . . . And then they told me I'd never paint again!

"THERE was only one thing I wanted to do then and that was to go back there and get a bullet in some place more vital than a man's right hand. But, of course, they wouldn't send me back into active service.

There happened to be one doctor in that hospital who had some sense. He saw what was happening to me. He knew if I didn't get action of some kind I'd go insane.

"He had influence and he pulled string and had me transferred to Intelligence. I could speak Italian pretty well; I'd grown up in an Italian part of our town. So they sent me down to Italy. My job was to find out from the civilians and the priests, non-combatants like that, what had happened to the airmen who were shot down behind the German and Italian lines. If they died when they crashed or if they lived and were hung or shot or tortured and if so who was responsible. I guess I was pretty good at it.

"I worked with another officer who had been on the Los Angeles police force here before the war. He told me to hunt him up after I got back if I ever wanted a police job—and here I am."

Daylight came and the hands of my watch crept around to seven o'clock. We had to break it up. Bob reached across the table and touched one of my cold hands. "Nervous?"

"What do you think?"

He smiled at me. Smiled deep into my eyes. He tried to pour courage into me. "Don't be," he said softly. "I've got a hunch it's going to work."

I tried to smile, too, but my lips were stiff. "What are your hunches worth?"

"They're worth a million dollars apiece. For instance. I had a hunch I was going to fall for you the first moment I saw you. I couldn't get you out of my head."

I tried to be flippant, too. "And did you?"

Bob came around the table then and took me in his arms and this time he kissed me. And his kisses weren't like cold water running over my lips.

(To Be Continued)

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

A THOUSAND hearts are already a flutter.

Ten thousand women are planning and hoping.

Ex-King Michael of Rumania is coming to the United States with his gentlemen-in-waiting and sundry other aides.

(Gentlemen-in-waiting is good. What are they waiting for?)

The announcement was hardly made when the Long Island set, and the Park Avenue set, and the "sets" of many other places began to make their plans.

His Majesty will be royally entertained. He will be wined and dined and curtsied to—by a thousand women who claim to believe in Democracy, by a thousand women whose ancestors rid themselves of royalty, by a thousand women whose husbands worked their way up from humble beginnings to financial prominence and who must now see their wives make fools of themselves, and pay for their folly.

It happens that I have met quite a lot of royalty and ex-royalty.

As a young newspaper reporter out in California I was assigned to "cover" the visit of King Albert of Belgium.

He was a regular fellow and so was his "gentlemen-in-waiting," who, if I remember correctly, was called the Duke of Brabant.

The Duke spoke English fluently, and one night we newspaper fellows sat with him in his room in the Hotel St. Francis, had a few drinks, and sang songs, of which he knew as many as we.

I asked him, among other things, what he thought of American women:

"Oh, they are swell," he replied, "but why on earth do they make so much fuss over us?"

I couldn't answer the question.

A FEW years ago I met Archduke Otto of Austria. We took him over to a newspaper exhibit my syndicate was having at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Otto was a shy fellow and if you had seen him in the street, dressed in his rather shabby clothes, you would not have given him a second look.

But you should have seen the women at that exhibit. They almost mobbed him, asked him for his autograph and all but kneeled before him.

He, too, had a gentleman-in-waiting, a bemonocled gentleman with run-down heels. But you should have seen his dignity!

And look what they are doing to poor Ex-King Edward! I met him at a Banshees' luncheon one time and there he sat, just as you and I, smoking his pipe and enjoying the same old jokes we did. He, too, would have gone completely unnoticed—and gladly so—if he didn't happen to be the Duke of Windsor.

Yes, poor ex-King Michael is coming.

Ex-king at home—but in America he'll still be King. (God save the King!)

ALLEN MAY CASH IN

Friendship Pays Off

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—"Georgie" Allen's latest get-rich-quick experiences demonstrate that it pays big dividends to have been the "funny man" for two Presidents of the United States.

The former hotel man from Booneville, Miss., whose broad humor and pantomiming enlivened the evenings of Senators, Cabinet members, F.D.R. and Harry S. Truman from 1933 to the present, has become, in effect, this nation's economic emissary to postwar South America. Recently while living at the home of American Ambassador James Bruce in Buenos Aires, he negotiated a potentially fabulous, two-way deal with the No. 2 Nazi of Argentina - Ricardo Staudt.

TUCKER

Less than a year ago, former Ambasador Spruille Braden was delivering Buenos Aires speeches, urging the defeat of President Peron as an anti-American dictator. He was soon recalled by President Truman, and his anti-Peron policy was scrapped overnight. Oddly, the first man to benefit from our new attitude toward the Peron regime is chubby, wisecracking George E. Allen.

ACTOR: Young Allen landed in Washington in 1919 as a breezy hotel clerk. He happened to get a job at a hostelry where the late Pat Harrison of Mississippi, former Senator Henry Ashurst, Chief Justice Fred Vinson, former Vice-President Henry A. Wallace, Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney and numerous other important figures lived.

He was attractive, audacious and an actor. He could have made a fine living on the vaudeville stage. Mr. Harrison, then a power introduced him to F.D.R., and he immediately laughed his way into a close relationship. As a reward, he was named to the sincere post of Commissioner of the District of Columbia. Naturally, he became a pal of Mr. Truman when the latter entered the White House and it was expected that he would become chief secretary.

Instead, to the amazement of everybody, he was named chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Senate hearings on his confirmation were transformed into a circus by his witticisms and clownings. A camera shot of him simpering and ducking behind his upraised palm was published by Life as the "picture of the week."

During the hearings, however, it developed that he represented several insurance companies, Aviation Corp. and other firms at total fees of almost $100,000 a year. He was confirmed on gales of friendly, senatorial laughter.

PARTNER: Mr. Allen had no liking for the R.F.C. job and did not remain long in that assignment. He seemed to have disappeared from the Washington scene and old friends wondered of his whereabouts until recently. They were afraid that the popular "Georgie" had suffered reverses.

They should have sat on their sympathy. Now it develops that, as representative of Cyrus S. Eaton of Cleveland, one of the Truman Administration's favorite industrialists, he has become a prospective partner in an Eaton-Allen-Staudt combination that expects to clean up millions in the export-import business as soon as Latin and North American trade conditions return to normal.

Ricardo Staudt is an exporter of food, hides, minerals and of almost every other product which Latin America produces. He has business and industrial and agricultural ramifications throughout the southern continent. He is a banker, manufacturer and public utility magnate.

The Eaton-Allen group will handle the Staudt shipments at this end. As an importer of machinery, railroad and utility equipment and all other kinds of manufacture, the Staudt interests will represent the Cleveland firm throughout South America.

ACTIVITIES: Ricardo Staudt figures prominently in the American Blue Book, which was published in February, 1946, by the State Department for information of South American governments seeking to prevent a restoration of Nazi power on the western continent. Five pages are devoted to Staudt's activities on behalf of Hitler Germany between World Wars I and II, and throughout the recent conflict.

The Blue Book was no mere academic review of the espionage and otherwise inimical activities of German Nazis during this period. It was designed to reveal their methods of intrigue and penetration so that they could not be duplicated in the future. Indeed, it contemplated a weakening of the ancient structure in this postwar period so that it could not be rebuilt on behalf of Germany or any other hostile power.

CRIMINAL: "Ricardo Staudt is an Argentine citizen of German birth. His activities in the last war resulted in his being designated a war criminal by the French government.

"His activities in the present war, both through his connections with the Siemens Trust and the partially German-owned Staudty Cia, with its subsidiaries, and through German political and economic and cultural organizations, have caused him to be regarded as a major element of enemy economic penetration not only in Argentine, but in all southern South America.

"The former German Ambassador, von Thermann, remarked in an interrogation that Staudt 'always said he was the man who wished to do the most in Argentina for Germany'."

Note: When Mr. Allen asked for State Department clearance on his proposed negotiations with Ricardo Staudt, he was informed that there was no legal bar or diplomatic objection to any deal he might make.

The little boy that can't name the members of the cabinet is pretty good on remembering the names of all the comic-strip characters.

Simile: As persistent as a barber in trying to put hair tonic on a customer's head.

Junior may not be good at figures but he can always remember the football scores.

A hick town is the one where the housing situation isn't critical.

Youth is that period when the most glamorous thing in the world is a huge poster advertising the coming of the circus.

"It is unlawful to enslave a housekeeper," rules a judge. It is, that is, unless one goes through the legal formality of marrying her.

"Ninety-five per cent of concerns that fail in business are non-advertisers," reports a statistician. If you don't advertise your business, the chances are that the sheriff will.

An old-timer is the one who can remember when Mama or Dad clipped the children's hair.

SOUTHERN 'REVOLT' MAY BACKFIRE

HST Accepts South's Chailenge

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The long-time significance of the recent word from the White House about President Truman's intentions lies rather in the pledge that he is standing firm on his civil rights program than that he would be a candidate for renomination.

The latter was expected, though it came perhaps a bit early because of circumstances.

By refusing compromise with the noisy professional southerners, the President has sided with the progressive wing of his party. And, contrary to opinion in many questions, this is not confined to East, North and West. It has many members in the South though they speak more softly and work more quietly than the currently squawking politicians.

STOKES

Faces Tough Battle

Mr. Truman's stand is important for the future. Odds are heavily against his re-election. But, if he loses, he goes down fighting for a principle and principles alone survive the vicissitudes of politics. They form a surer basis for reorganization of the now badly disrupted party than the shifting sands of perpetual compromise with the past.

They provide, too, the only proved basis for Democratic party success. Only as a progressive party have Democrats come to power on the two occasions in which they have won it in this century—under Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt. It is only as a Progressive party that it can return to power in case of defeat next November, which now seems almost certain.

After its defeat in 1920, the party went back into the hands of the customary out-of-season mortgage holders, meaning the southern wing of the party which has been the nucleus heretofore because of the one-party system in the South that keeps it alive in Congress. The nation's worst depression swept it back into power and a dynamic progressive leader with a program that appealed widely kept it in power. In fact, he created a new party temporarily.

But the party need not return to its former mortgage-holders in the South this time. Southern politicians, as distinguished from a great many people in the South, are now angrily walking out in default, and thus giving up openly any claim. This could very well be the last such silly spectacle, the last "revolt" of the southern professionals if progressives in the party take them at their word and move in promptly and act wisely.

They can go on about their little devices of keeping the President's name off the ballot and deprive the people of their right to vote for Mr. Truman. But only for so long. And that won't matter ultimately if the progressives under President Truman's leadership play their cards right.

South Also Progressive

The latter will find much to work with in the South. There is already a fine growth of progressivism there. It has come along slowly and may be expected to continue gradually. It has sprouted from seeds sown by the Roosevelt administration in a field always fertile, for the South has a history of progressivism that sometimes, as in its warm welcome once for populism reached the stage of radicalism.

The Roosevelt administration provided a way for people to act for themselves—by encouraging organization of labor unions; by promoting better living conditions in cities and on the farms; by broad-scale regional developments such as TVA.

All of these opened the eyes of people in the south to see that they can get things for themselves once the iron hand of control by vested interests is broken by progressive leadership in their traditional political party. They are becoming aware that it was progressive leadership in their party that gave them their opportunity, for the record of Congress shows them clearly that it was conservatives—those of their own and elsewhere—who tried to deny them these things. The record is clear.

President Truman is on the right track, politically. He is on the right side morally and historically, too. For a part of our country can no more continue very much longer to deny the basic principles of Democracy to a large part of its population than it could many years ago continue to hold that same part of its population in actual bondage. We have moved beyond that.

Group telephone conversations without the use of regular individual telephone sets are now possible through the use of an electronic device called a Jordaphone.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY
The Knights of Pythias Lodge is the owner of Lots Five (5) and Six (6) in Block 164, Original Town of Lubbock, 1400 Block on Avenue K on East side of street, dimensions 52 feet by 125 feet. The Lodge is interested in conveying the lots to a suitable party who is willing to erect a two-story building thereon free of all liens, and under an agreement giving the Lodge ownership of the second story to be used for Lodge purposes, and the remainder to be owned by the other party. It will probably cost between $50,000.00 and $60,000.00 to construct such building according to the Lodge's requirements. The estimated value of the lots at the present time is from $20,000.00 to $25,000.00. Anyone interested contact Hub Lee or Victor H. Lindsey.

Wall Street

MARKET HOLDS GROUND
NEW YORK, March 11. (AP)—For awhile today it looked like a bull market for stocks but the picture quickly clouded when commodities skidded.
Moving picture issues were in front on word from London of an Anglo-American film agreement.
Airerafts extended their Wednesday bulge at the start of talk of big government orders. They failed to hold after touching highs for the year.
Volume was 820,000 shares, compared with 730,000 the day before. Extreme gains running to a point or so were reduced in most cases and the minus column was widely populated at the close.
Buying by professionals again was attributed to the idea that list was due for a good spring revival in view of the lengthy retreat. Disturbing international affairs inspired some liquidation.
The Associated Press 60-stock composite was unchanged at 61.2. It was the broadest market in two weeks. Of 950 issues registering, 373 rose, 320 fell and 257 were unchanged.

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, March 11 (AP)—Cotton futures turned reactionary today following early gains which extended to $1.30 a bale. The market eased on scattered commission house and New Orleans selling which met indifferent trade support.
Mill buying was fairly active during the morning, with the market also helped by reports that the Senate will act on the Marshall foreign aid program this week.
Easiness in grains influenced some of the later selling.
Futures closed 55 cents a bale lower to 35 cents higher than the previous close.

iff Tom Cannon and Frank Mitchell went there to investigate and were told the name of the individual who had made the sale.
The man was questioned. He said he bought the radio from a negro. The negro, in turn, said he had bought it from another negro.
Sheriff's deputies and E. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney, were informed that the property had been sold to various individuals for a small fraction of its worth.
W. A. Everett, of 517 N. Madison street, informed police that tools valued at $25 had been stolen from an automobile at Tenth and Ave. M. The tools included drill bits and a 100-foot steel tape.

Outstanding Quarter Type Mare Is Added To Texas Tech Farm

An outstanding six year old quarter type mare has been received by Texas Technological college from Mr. John Lincoln of the Lincoln Cattle company of San Angelo, W. L. Stangel, dean of the agriculture division, announced Thursday.
This mare will be added to the string of brood mares being used by Tech to build up the quarter horse stud recently established on the college farm, Dean Stangel stated.

Demo Program

"Somebody else might make a worse fumble near the goal line than Truman did."
He said the President and his advisers were trying to woo the big negro vote of northern and eastern states through the civil rights proposals.
The governor thought President Truman has been badly-advised on this strategy.
"The president and the party leadership are trying to do what the Republicans always did—get the big negro vote of New York, Pennsylvannia and Illinois," Jester said.
"They did that until Franklin D. Roosevelt came along. He was for all those things (in the civil rights program) but he did not push them or put then into one plan."

Tickets may be purchased from Optimist club members or at booths to be open Friday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday at Wylie's Drug Store, Mark Halsey Drug No. 2, Clark's Drug store and the Varsity Book store.
For the benefit of downtown patrons without transportation, special buses will leave the city bus station at 7:40 and 7:55 o'clock each night of the four-day showing. Saturday afternoon buses will leave at 1:40 and 1:55 p. m. for the show grounds and Monday and Tuesday afternoons at 3:05 and 3:30 o'clock. Buses will also be on hand to provide for return transportation to town.

HOUSING SHORTAGE EASED

SEATTLE (U.P.)—A new peacetime record in Washington and Oregon lumber production during 1947 resulted in the greatest home-building year since 1925, West Coast Lumbermen's association officials announced. A cut of 7,694,150,000 board feet in 1,775 saw mills made possible the starting of 830,000 new homes.
