Dirksen of Illinois predicted it will be the overriding issue in the 1961 session. Dirksen and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the House minority leader, agreed to meet weekly with four colleagues from each house to map Republican strategy. Dirksen indicated that Eisenhower will be called on for advice when Kennedy suggests changes in the defense budget. The former president submitted the bill to Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, and others will be called in when issues come up with which they are familiar. Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, the Republican national chairman, will serve the conference as its staff officer. The Senate leader teed off on the Kennedy program by listing what Maurice Stans, Eisenhower's budget director, figured up as the task force reports to Kennedy. Dirksen said that if recommendations in these were approved by Congress there would be an increase of $3 billion dollars in spending in the year beginning July 1 on housing and urban renewal, regulatory agencies, aid to education, health and Social Security and area development. As the programs developed, Dirksen said, the increase in spending over present levels in these fields would amount to $5.6 billion yearly.

Floors Returning As Part Of Decor

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeature

Floors and walls, areas of the home that have been taken for granted in the past, have come into their own. Floors are enhanced with brilliant rugs, planters and decorative cushions. Walls lend their space to masses of art and objects that relate to the decor.

But, if you'd take advantage of the new emphasis on floors, be sure that you prepare your floors for the drama, says Patricia Harvey, member of the American Institute of Decorators.

"If your floor needs attention to make it an asset, then go to work with sander, sealer and wax. Many floors could be beautiful if attention were given to refinishing them. The 'old world' look in wood floors, embodying the antique browns and darker shades is the trend now," she points out.

New floors may be prepared more easily, and given a mellow patina with frequent applications of paste wax, she says. This gives concentrated protection and, in time, will give that handsome old finish that may be desired.

"An area rug must have purpose, not used simply as a rug on the floor," Miss Harvey advises. "The area rug on a polished floor should be used to highlight the beauty of the wood and to anchor a furniture group or emphasize the color plan in the room."

Popular than plain colors and many fringed rugs are shown. Carved rugs are popular and add a note of elegance to a modern setting. But floors must be in good shape to take the splendor of these rugs," she says.

Patterned area rugs are more popular than plain colors and many fringed rugs are shown. Carved rugs are popular and add a note of elegance to a modern setting. But floors must be in good shape to take the splendor of these rugs," she says.

More subdued colors are used for traditional decor. American copies of the elegant Aubusson rugs are available and we are importing area rugs with a deep pile from Japan.

If you are the type who likes wide patterns, be sure to use rugs in small doses or the rugs may overpower your decorating plan, Miss Harvey says, advising too that you avoid using small rugs in too high a pile as heels may get tangled and the floor covering may slide, causing a bad spill.

"The floor is the first thing you see when you enter a room," she says. "So it should be as smooth as wax and regular care can make it. In these days of area rugs, when they can be removed for easy cleaning, there is no reason for a rug not to be a complement to the floor and decor."

Original rugs are getting a big play now among leading decorators, she says, because of the current interest in floors, and their usefulness in either modern or traditional settings.

"If you have one rolled up in the attic, now is the time to make use of it. If it fits into your room scheme, but floors must be in good shape to take the splendor of these rugs," she says.

4-H Training School Held Here Sat.

A training school for 4-H Junior Leaders was held in the County Extension Office on Saturday morning. The 4-H clubs are beginning a three month period of work on the use of the electrical appliances in the home. Those clubs having junior leaders were expected to have leaders present to attend the training school in preparation for demonstrations to be given by junior leaders through March.

Miss Ruby Butts, County Home Demonstration Agent gave training in the use of the blender and waffle baker, on the selection of a lamp for the study table and in making a lamp from a bottle or vase.

"If you plan to buy a waffle baker," Miss Butts told the girls, "look at several brands before you buy. Some have removable waffle grids that are replaceable with smooth grill grids. This means your appliance has wider use. Some are round, some oblong, some square. They come in larger and smaller sizes. Let the amount of waffle or grill space you will need help you to determine what size to select. Some have automatic controls that tell you when the baker is preheated and when the food is done. Some are heated by "conduction" and some by "radiant" heat. (Contact means heat is brought into the grids through something they touch; Radiant means heat is radiated or thrown out from the source of heat to heat the food.) Watch for handles that will not heat, for heat controls that maintain the desired temperature, for ease of changing from waffle grids to grill grids, for safety features."

"When you buy any electrical appliance," Miss Butts said, "Be sure it has a tag stating that it is approved by the Underwriters' Laboratory. This is one of your best safe guards for good electrical wiring and safety."

Girls attending the training school were Gwen Landrum and Janie Gleghorn of Fluvanna 4-H Club, Denise Welch, Virginia Jackson and Mary Ellen Amworth of Snyder Jr. Sr. High 4-H Club, and Linda Schattel of Plainview 4-H Club.

Cheese Casserole

For the tastiest of all cheese casseroles, preheat the oven to 325 degrees. Heat 1 1/2 cups milk over a low flame. (Keep flame low and milk won't stick to pan.) Add 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon cayenne to the milk. Grease a 2-quart casserole and add 1 cup finely chopped onion and 2 cups grated cheese. Beat 2 eggs slightly, add to the seasoned hot milk, then pour it over the onion and cheese in the casserole. Sprinkle a cup of crushed corn chips over all and bake for 30 minutes or until it is the consistency of custard. Serve 3 to 4.

Breezy Look Fashions Open Paris Spring Fashions Today

By NADEANE WALKER
PARIS (AP)—The Paris spring fashion season got off to a devil-may-care start this morning with two collections that tried to outdo each other in breeziness.

The window look just covered the knees and usually left the waistline only semifitted.

Jacques Esterel's saucy show was full of drapes and fresh, frank colors, while Jacques Griffe got a similar effect with loose, middy blouses, pleated skirts, and wrist-length jackets.

Esterel owes his sudden emergence as a crowd-drawing dressmaker largely to Brigitte Bardot, who popularized his clothes. But he made a good try for sophistication, saving the curvy models for his "misses' dresses. Young girls, he says, want "everything to be seen at once."

Two-tone outfits are a great thing in the Esterel show. White jackets over printed or black skirts, matching jackets and blouses with contrasting skirts, and skirts with a deep hem band of contrasting material are some of the changes he brings.

He revives such old favorites as jabots, in a nontrivial version of two big loops of silk at the neckline; corset waists, halo hats, apron panels, weskit or vest tops, and V-backed dresses with a back-to-front look.

Esterel's waists are high, low, hardly there at all or fitted like a glove. Jackets run the same gamut from short bolero length to midhip to bottom of the thigh. Sleeves, mostly three-quarter or elbow-length tubes, are sometimes kimono-cut with the bodice and sometimes actually puffed. The sleeveless sheaths survive, but barely.

Esterel achieves a loose, free-and-easy general effect without actually being baggy anywhere. His high, glove-fitted waists have puffy bosoms, while his low waists have puffy backs.

Spring fashions will be a breeze according to Griffe. He opened his collection with a fluted draped line he calls "puff of wind."

His first models were breezy enough in tight ankle-length pants, patent leather flats and flat caps.

What's For Lunch?

Tunaburgers are sure to make a hit when appetites are ravenous. Preheat the oven to 350 degrees. Mix 1 cup chopped celery, 1/2 cup diced process American cheese, 2 scallions chopped fine and 1/4 cup mayonnaise with a 7-ounce can of tuna. Season with salt and pepper. Split and butter 6 hamburger buns and fill with the tuna mixture. Place the filled buns in a baking pan, cover with foil and bake in the preheated oven for 15 minutes. Serve with milk and fresh fruit.

Cleaning the lint trap on your clothes dryer after every use is a good habit to get into. This helps the dryer "breathe" fresh air and operate more efficiently.

You'll notice a difference in cleanliness and you'll have plenty of hot water for additional loads, because the recovery rate is fast when you heat water with gas.

There's Still A Breath Of Life Left In The Theater

BY INEZ ROBB

One of the distinguishing marks of New York City is the fact that you can see real, live actors on the stage, providing you have a note from your bank—preferably one for a hundred dollars. Oh, well, let's not exaggerate. Fifty will get you a couple of good seats on the aisle.

Come now, tell the truth. You can get a pair for around twenty, if you have luck at the box office. Or for much less if you are young, have rubber legs and can stand on a stage door. I would be swooning for Richard Burton, who plays King Arthur. A sigh guy.

From the very beginning, too, I cheered for "All the Way Home," which didn't have a critic's chance and was slated to close at the end of its first week. But word-of-mouth advertising kept it alive until this beautifully acted drama caught on with the public. It is still going strong.

It is heartening to have a drama on Broadway that doesn't have to depend on sadism, a golden-hearted tart, a drug addict, a homosexual or a manager of repulsive neurotics to pull the customers in to the theatre.

Then, "Little Moon of Alban" may not have been the greatest play in the world, but Julie Harris played as if it were. But even her lyric performance couldn't keep the play alive, although it ought to get her some consideration when the various critics' organizations begin handing around their "best" awards late in the spring.

As a disenfranchised theatre-goer I also would like to cast my vote, nonetheless, for the best actor award. In the opinion of this theatre buff it ought to go by acclamation to Zero Mostel for a most extraordinary bit of acting legerdemain.

Eight times each week, Mostel turns into a rhinoceros before the eyes of astounded, alarmed and fascinated audiences. Without a steady prop to aid him in the transformation, Mostel nevertheless becomes a rhinoceros—snorting, belching and charging about the stage in a manner to raise the armor plate on the back of a real rhino's neck.

It is one of the finest pieces of bravura acting I have seen in a life of devoted theatre-going. All this takes place in the Ionesco play, "Rhinoceros". No one should ever be permitted to play the role but Mostel. I'd like to see him turned loose in a zoo. I'll bet all the other rhinos would be mad for him!

(Copyright, 1961, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Something else, too: Robert Goulet, as Lancelot, is supposed to be the biggest matinee type to come along since John Barrymore. Malinee ladies supposedly choke on their dietetic chocolates. But if I were the age and type to stand outside a stage door, I would be swooning for Richard Burton, who plays King Arthur. A sigh guy.

City Needs Efficient Government

(AN EDITORIAL)

The city manager form of government, which would be destroyed in Snyder by amendments coming up for a vote next Tuesday, is something that generally cities and towns are moving "toward" rather than "from."

Most cities and towns which have adopted a city manager form of government have simply found it more efficient and more economical than other types. These cities have learned that their municipal government functions well when it is patterned after their school system—and that is an apt comparison.

Our schools, as in all districts of Texas, are governed by a board of trustees which serves without pay. The board sets policies, adopts rules and regulations, and then hires an experienced educator to administer the school program. School superintendents, as well as teachers and subordinate administrators, must meet certain qualifications established by the state.

Cities which operate under the city manager form of government follow a similar system. In Snyder, for example, the city council and the mayor or presiding officer, serve without pay. In turn, they set policies, pass on ordinances and other regulations, pertaining to city government, and then hire a professional administrator to carry out the program.

The city manager has duties which are similar in many respects to a school superintendent. He hires subordinate personnel, subject to approval of the council, or people's representatives, just as the school superintendent hires principals and department heads, subject to approval of the board of trustees, or people's representatives.

It would be an awkward situation, and extravagant indeed, if a school district should be organized so that its principals would be elected as the polls and would serve without any responsibility to the board of trustees, except for budgetary purposes. It would be even more awkward if the president of the board of trustees should serve as superintendent, yet have no control over the principals and only token responsibility to the council.

Such a situation would exist in our city government if the proposed amendments should be adopted.

Again we urge Snyder citizens to "scratch" the "yes" column and thereby vote "no" on the amendments to the city charter. We believe that Snyder is best served by the efficient and economical city manager form of government it has experienced during the past eight years.

Dr. Oscar J. Becker, medical school professor at the University of Illinois, said at a medical meeting Tuesday that the most popular noses of the past among plastic surgeons patients have been those of Myrna Loy, Hedy Lamarr, Grace Kelly and Elizabeth Taylor.

"But now," he said, "the young women are asking for a profile like that of the President's wife."

Conley Gives Up Coaching Reins Here

Accepts Position At Texas Tech College

Snyder head coach John F. Conley resigned his post here last night in order to assume the position of offensive line coach at Texas Technological College in Lubbock. He will report to the school February 1, and represents the final addition to the coaching staff of J. T. King, who took over the reins at the school following the resignation of DeWitt Weaver in November.

Conley's appointment is the fifth made by King in the past month, with the other assistants as chosen being Bert Huffman, a former Tech mentor who had been in private business; Merrill Green from Arkansas; and Willie Zapalac and Matt Lair, recently of Texas A&M.

Conley has been head coach here in Snyder the past seven seasons following his appointment on December 22, 1953, at which time he succeeded Speedy Moffett in the post. During that span he has compiled an enviable record at the school, with 46 wins, 24 losses, and 2 ties to his credit.

Two of those years—1955 and 1956—his team copped undisputed district championships, with the 1956 team rolling to the most impressive mark with 10-1 season. The only loss that year was in a district, where the Tigers were defeated by Graham, 7-6. The 1955 season was 9-2, with Garland ending them a bi-district digit that year, 18-13.

Since then the Tigers have come through to win tri-championships the past two seasons, with Lamesa gaining the nod to represent the district in the playoff picture in 1959 and Snyder winning the loss the season just ended. Brownwood, the eventual 3A state champ, defeated the Tigers in bi-district the past season by 29-20.

Conley, 37, is a native Texan and a lifetime "transplanted Kansan." He was born in Leavenworth and resided in Texas until the age of 14, at which time he and his parents moved to Eldorado, Kansas. He played his high school football there and went on to attend Kansas State, where he was a center.

S'water 8th Meet Slated To Begin

With a watchful eye toward the snarled weather picture, the Sweetwater 8th Grade Basketball Tournament of tomorrow, Friday, and Saturday makes plans for its initial Thursday firing.

If the tourney goes off as scheduled, Snyder's Travis 8th will meet Reagan of Sweetwater tomorrow evening at 7:45 in a first rounder. The first game of the meet is slated to precede that one at 6:30, and will match Cooper and Lincoln, both of Abilene.

Lamar 8th of Snyder is set to open lower bracket play at 6:30 p.m. Friday against Colorado City, that game to be followed by the Jefferson (Abilene) and Franklin (Abilene) clash at 7:45.

All second round contests are scheduled for Saturday, at which time the tourney will be played through to the finals.

Tors, Wolves In 3-3A Wins

District 3-3A cage teams "followed the script" in action last night, as Lamesa and Colorado City each came through as expected to ring up victories.

Lamesa bounced back from a 37-38 halftime deficit to whip Sweetwater by 70-41 and gain undisputed possession of first place in the conference race with a 3-0 record. Bruce Ashton led the winning barrage with 19, although he was forced to relinquish high point honors for the game to Mustang Billy Belser, who garnered 23.

The Colorado City Wolves took a successful jaunt to San Angelo, where they blasted Lake View's Chiefs, 55-38, in other action of the evening. Buddy Compton was top man in the victory with 15 points, while the Chiefs failed to have a man hitting in twin figures.

ter on the college's grid teams of 1946-48. He graduated in 1947 with a BS in physical education, but later returned to the school in order to receive his Master's degree in education.

He served as head coach at Ellwood (Kansas) High School from 1949 through 1953. During his tenure there his teams won 35, 10, 9, and tied 2, with his final 1953 season being one in which he went through an undefeated season.

He is a veteran of Marine service from 1942 through 1945, and served in the South Pacific. He is married to the former Ruth Bohrer of Eldorado, and they have one son, John F., 12.

Conley is a member of the First Methodist Church here and also of the local Lions Club.

No salary terms of any kind were disclosed by either Conley or Tech officials following the acceptance.

His resignation brings to three the number of head coaches lost to the district during recent weeks following the removal of Elwood Turner and Bill Davis from their respective positions at Sweetwater and Lamesa.

Sincere regret at the prospect of leaving the city for Texas Tech in Lubbock keyed his comments. Snyder's loss will be great, however, as the personable coach has proven to be one of the most popular and likeable figures to ever come out of the city.

Developments in his proposed move have come with lightning swiftness over the past day. The appointment came as a seeming surprise to Conley himself, who had dismissed the possibility.

"I talked to Coach (J. T.) King only briefly on it last month when I called to get confirmation on whether he could fill the speaking date (Quarterback Club Banquet) following the departure of DeWitt Weaver as head coach," Conley commented here this morning.

"I have always desired to sometime coach college ball, and told him (King) that if he was considering the addition of a high school coach that I would like to be considered.

"Not another word was said about it, not even Thursday night at the banquet when King was here," he said, "so I had completely forgotten about it until I got the call Monday afternoon asking if I could come up and talk to them."

The whirlwind resignation of Coach John Conley as head coach at Snyder High was met with understandable "mixed emotions" by superintendent of school T. E. McCollum early today.

These feelings centered around his well-wishing for the popular coach in his new capacity at Texas Tech, along with his regretting his loss to the local system.

"We hate to lose Mr. Conley," McCollum stated this morning. "He's been a very fine coach and a fine worker with the boys. We think we've been very fortunate to have him work here in Snyder," he continued, "and wish him all the success and happiness in his new job."

Due to the expediency with which the resignation took place, no speculation is "in the mill" as yet to a possible successor.

He made the trip to Lubbock yesterday morning, but confirmation as to the appointment wasn't made until early last night.

"I'm to report up there (Lubbock) February 1," he added, and stated that he would be rushed and "don't know if I can even get that (fieldhouse) office of mine cleaned out by then."

An unmistakable tinge of remorse on leaving Snyder was foremost throughout his comments. "We sure do hate to leave," he said. "That's the bad part about it. I hope it works out for the best. You never know 'till you 'get your feet wet', though, do you?"

"I think the most important thing, though, is all the fine players we've had here in helping to make our program a good one. The parents have always cooperated with us in what we're trying to do with the boys," and then he added with a chuckle, "I don't like to call them 'boys'. There's no place for boys out there (on the football field) 'ere (in the town) men instead."

The hard work, cooperation and loyalty of the whole coaching staff—both high school and junior high—has helped immensely. We have the finest bunch of coaches, collectively, of any school, I'd put them up against anybody.

"Without the full support of every one who has been on the (school) board the past seven years, the school administrators and the faculty, I don't think we would've been able to do any good at all. They have all worked together and aided us greatly."

"All the fine things that the newspaper and radio have helped us with in the past have been a great help.

"Also, one of the most important things I would like to mention is the fact that we have fans here who are loyal and have gone with us through our 'ups and downs'. I just don't see how we can ever have anything but a strong system so long as they (the fans) support the teams here in the spirit in which they have up until now."

"Believe me, under any other circumstances, this (Snyder) is the place where we'd like to live and raise our boy. My wife and boy are both real upset about the thing, in having to leave. Living here has been one of the greatest experiences of my life, and if the people will let us, we'll be coming back occasionally."

There's no question about it—he's one man who'll always be welcome at any time.

Attending as guests were Allen Ilfrey, Mr. and Mrs. Tinsley Rainwater, C. D. Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. James Sellers, Mitchell Duke, Paul Baker, Albert Rainwater, James West, Jesse Allen, Eddie Watson, John Hucksaby, Johnny Griggs, Foy Dennis, Kelton Pinkerton, Lawson Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Holley, Roland Key, Harold Wilton, Arnold Wallace, and Russell Stevens.

Formal acceptance of the resignation by the School Board is still forthcoming. "I'll see (Mr.) Stevenson (board president) sometime today, and if he wants to call a hurried meeting in order to take action on it, then it'll be up to him," McCollum added.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 24 (AP)—There's a good chance that you can beat the Philadelphia Warriors.

The St. Louis Hawks did that Tuesday night—limiting Wilt to 16 points—and emerged with a 114-112 victory over Philadelphia. The triumph was the Hawks' 11th straight at home while the loss was the Warriors' sixth in a row on their current road trip.

Elgin Baylor clicked for 36 points—his highest output at home since the Lakers moved to Los Angeles—as the Lakers turned back the Syracuse Nats 116-107. In other games the Boston Celtics whipped the New York Knicks 125-112 and the Detroit Pistons edged the Cincinnati Royals 106-104.

Tech's Offer To Conley Was An Unexpected One

Humility, thankfulness, and straight-forwardness were the traits evident in Coach John Conley's demeanor here this morning during an interview with the immensely popular head coach of the Snyder Tigers over the past seven years.

KC TRADING POST Lane Makes Initial 'Deal'

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Trader Frank Lane has turned to the Baltimore Orioles and come up with five players in an effort to strengthen the Kansas City Athletics at shortstop and catcher.

In his first deal as the A's general manager, Lane shuffled outfielders Russ Snyder and Whitey Herzog off to Baltimore.

The A's got catcher Clint Courtney, outfielder Al Pilarcik, first baseman Bob Boyd, pitcher Jim Archer and infielder Wayne Causey.

In addition, Lane said, the A's will option an unnamed player to the Orioles' farm club at Rochester in the Class AAA International League.

This is the type of deal we need to make in order to start spring training respectfully," Lane said.

Prior to the deal, the Athletics had only one shortstop, Dick Howser, a rookie who played last season with Shreveport of the Southern Association. As catchers, they had Haywood Sullivan, with limited and undistinguished major league experience, and Bill Bryan, a rookie up from Class D.

Lane expressed hope that Causey, 34, will push Howser for the shortstop job. As a bonus player, Causey spent 1955 and 1956 with the Orioles. He has been in the minors since then because of weak hitting.

Courtney, 33, has been in the majors eight years. He batted .228 in 1954 times at bat last season as second string to Gus Triandopoulos of the Orioles.

Of the other three obtained by the A's, Pilarcik, 30, is the only one conceded a chance to play regularly. He batted .247 in 194 trips last season.

Lee MacPhail, president-general manager of the Orioles, said his main problem has been the outfield "and we acquired two fairly young outfielders who could help our ball club. I had both of them in the Yankee chain and have a great deal of respect for their ability and desire to play."

Snyder, 26, is one of the fastest runners in the league. He hit .313 in 1959 but fell off to .260 last year. Herzog, 29, was benched by an operation for a leg injury last Aug. 17, but his physician has said the operation was a success. Despite intense pain he batted .266.

Three movies were shown on the subjects of safety, a custom car show, and on the 1957 Nationals. Light refreshments were served, and Jerry Rainwater and his band played for the benefit of those in attendance.

Club members present for the gathering included Ronnie Anderson, Hillman Bearden, Tony Bearden, Finis Calvert, Pooch Hatter, Edwin Isabel, Joe King, Jerry Maxwell, Lane McKinney, Jerry Rainwater, Jimmy Sellers, Morris Smith, Windell Smith, Morris Surratt, Doyle Sharp, David Ilfrey, Bobby Brown and Charles Hicks.

Formal acceptance of the resignation by the School Board is still forthcoming. "I'll see (Mr.) Stevenson (board president) sometime today, and if he wants to call a hurried meeting in order to take action on it, then it'll be up to him," McCollum added.

Piracy Hints At Bold Adventure

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Every red-blooded American boy at one time dreams of being a big bold pirate. So, in our opinion, does every red-blooded middle-aged American man.

The seizure in the Caribbean this week of the Portuguese luxury liner Santa Maria by 70 passengers inimical to Portuguese Premier Salazar started the world.

It held special interest to students of pirate lore because it took place in the same waters once scourged by Blackbeard, perhaps the most villainous freebooter of them all.

But, on closer examination of this rebellion at sea, we must admit to a feeling of personal let-down. After all, it was a political act, done by a group for a political purpose.

It holds none of the high adventure promised by our own fabled daydream—which is to hold up the giant Cunard liner Queen Mary single-handed with a carved wooden gun. (We insist on a wooden gun as the sight of blood shakes us faint, particularly if it is our own.)

Over the years we've met dozens of other people who yearned to rob the Queen Mary, but most of them are lazy.

"They haven't taken the trouble to think up a foolproof plan. We have. Here it is:

"We board the great liner as a passenger and when it reaches a certain point at sea we surprise the captain in his cabin with our trusty little wooden gun and hold him hostage.

"Then we have the captain summon all his officers to the cabin and lock them in. Next, we ax all the radio equipment so no alarm can be spread.

"It is now time to rifle the ship's strong box, and we figure it ought to hold three—maybe five—million bucks.

"Later, we are lowered into a launch, holding the captain as hostage, and speed to the horizon where a hidden submarine awaits us. We board the submarine, and leave the captain free to return to his ship in his launch.

"The submarine sails off to a remote South Seas island, where we found a dynasty, build a palace, and live happily and wealthy ever after with a harem of 45 native girls.

There is only one reason this daydream has never come true: Our wife refuses to lend us the money to rent a used submarine. Every time we ask her, she says: "No, I won't. What in heaven's name do you want to hire a submarine for?"

Think we could tell her the truth? Of course not. She'd blab it all over the community by nightfall, and then half our neighbors would want to get into the act—and share the loot.

That won't do. Either we're going to pull this job single-handed—or we're not going to do it at all.

Bawdy Houses Are Next On DA List

BEAUMONT (AP)—The district attorney's office indicated Tuesday that houses of prostitution go on the firing line next as lawmakers attempt to curb flourishing vice conditions in the Beaumont-Port Arthur area.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Jim Vollers said he has been instructed to gather information for enjoining the activities of any establishment "we can prove is operating or has been operated in the past as a bawdy house."

Vollers said he acted on the instruction of Dist. Atty. Rarnie Griffin.

Vollers Tuesday filed six of seven injunction suits against 18 persons allegedly operating or employing of seven clubs in Jefferson County hit in gambling raids last month.

Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, in a surprise move, filed the seventh suit against an operator of the Pen-Yan Club.

The crackdown on vice conditions was set off by a probe earlier this month by the Texas House General Investigating Committee.

The committee heard testimony about gambling, prostitution and illicit liquor sales, and about huge amounts of cash mysteriously given certain Port Arthur and Beaumont officers.

Gordon Cass, chief of the anti-trust division of the attorney general's office, filed the state suit against Ray Edward Thompson, the Pen-Yan operator.

All were raided last month by Texas Rangers, intelligence agents of the Department of Public Safety, and representatives of the House committee.

In other grand jury action, Jefferson County Grand Jury, meeting in special session, heard evidence in felony cases filed against a total of 24 persons in connection with the Dec. 3 raids and other raids carried out during the vice probe.

Alley Cat In White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House had another new resident today—a cat of undetermined age and dubious background.

The latest addition to the executive mansion was introduced to the press Tuesday.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger, badgered for more news at his press conference, finally let the cat out of the bag by declaring that "Tom Kitten" had moved in.

Newsmen were not satisfied with just the facts: Tom is the pet of the Kennedy's daughter, Caroline, 3; he is gray with yellow eyes, of the alley variety and has been living at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, Mrs. Kennedy's step-father and mother, in nearby McLean, Va. Then Pamela Turnure, Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary, turned up with the cat. They were surrounded quickly by photographers. The Kennedys have another pet, Welsh terrier named Charlie, who has not moved into the White house.

Also still to move in are Caroline and her baby brother, John, who are in Palm Beach, Fla.

Judge Criticizes Judicial System

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—An alleged theft case, involving a $5.59 sports cap, has caused Judge Logan L. Lewis of Allegheny County Criminal Court to criticize the judicial system.

Judge Lewis threw out the case Tuesday by lack of evidence.

"This case clearly indicates that there is something radically wrong with a judicial system that permits cases of this kind to get into our criminal courts," he declared.

This case involved the alleged theft of a hat worth $1.59. Court costs alone will total at least $17 to say nothing of the $40.25 if defendant had to pay for bond.

Insects May Have Superior Heads

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A superior head, heavenly dust and tons of earthly reports engage scientists' attention: Heady Title

An insect's head is better than man's in many ways. It is better than man's, suggests Dr. R. E. Snodgrass of the Smithsonian Institution.

The insect head has a variety of feeding apparatus that can be changed to bite, chew, suck, or pierce, depending on what it is feeding on. It has both simple and compound eyes, antennae that are super-sensitive to touch, smell, and sometimes sound.

Unlike man, the insect doesn't have to bite into something to see if it likes the taste. Taste organs are located outside the mouth, sometimes on the feet.

Root of Behavior
There is new evidence how our senses — our perception of the world around us — greatly influence our behavior.

Unusual behavior has been produced in cats by severing nerve bundles in the brain, in effect disconnecting the senses from the thinking part of the brain.

These cats have poor attention, little or no aggressive or defensive actions when challenged, no response to pleasurable stimulation. They are mute, lack facial expression, and show a sort of super-exploratory activity — continually wandering, sniffing and searching — as though they were having hallucinations.

The effect, say University of Pennsylvania researchers, is due to sensory deprivation and has a relationship to the effects of sensory isolation in humans.

Heavenly Dust
There may be a dense belt of dust circling the earth about 4,000 miles above sea level, a physicist suggests.

The dust belt may be responsible for sweeping away some of the heavy atomic particles — protons — from the radiation belt in that area, says Prof. S. Fred Singer of the University of Maryland.

Sonar Medicine
Sonar — the ultrasonic device that helps locate submarines hidden in ocean depths — now is being used to spot hidden tumors or other foreign masses in the human body.

An ultrasonoscope using high frequency sound to detect conditions such as a detached retina or other disorders has been developed by an electronics firm, General Precision Equipment Corp.

It also designed an electronic device which accurately measures the tiny movements of the pupil of the eye.

Harvest
Scientists are still reaping the harvest of the International Geophysical Year, digesting tons of facts about the earth, sea, air and space. They'll be at it for years to come.

Reports from the Antarctic alone now total more than 15 tons. Some 30,000 scientists from 66 nations cooperated in the 18-month "year."

Transfusion Is Opposed

CHICAGO (AP)—Physicians say blood transfusions are not necessary immediately for a 3-day-old boy whose parents oppose such treatment because of their religious tenets.

Basil Shearrod, termed in medical circles an "RH baby" because he showed traces of incompatible factors which led to a blood condition, was born Sunday morning in his parents' apartment on the near West Side.

Doctors summoned by neighbors said the baby probably would need extensive transfusions to save his life. But his father, Benjamin, 31, an unemployed railroad freight handler, said he and his wife, Rosie Lee, are members of the Church of God and do not believe in transfusions, operations or other medical matters.

Asst. State's Attorney Richard L. Samuels and Ass't. Corporation Counsel Maurice Handelman said they were ready to seek a court order for the transfusion. But they took no action after Grant Hospital officials said tests showed a transfusion was not needed immediately.

Shearrod, who came to Chicago two years ago from Cotton Plant, Ark., with his wife and five other children, gave permission for the tests, but not the transfusions.

The Shearrods are Negroes.

Wright Has No Labels

AUSTIN (AP)—Senatorial candidate Jim Wright says he is running as a friend of Vice President Lyndon Johnson but he is not implying that he has Johnson's endorsement.

The 37-year-old Fort Worth congressman was the 18th candidate to pay his $50 filing fee Tuesday for the April 4 special election to pick Johnson's successor.

"I am a friend of Vice President Johnson," Wright told a press conference. "I don't want to put him on the spot. I don't want to embarrass him. I am not implying his endorsement. I hope I have his good will."

"I don't expect to win any campaign with any kind of label," he said. "You can't label a man like a can of peas."

Wright was asked if he thought the investigation of alleged vice conditions in the Beaumont and Port Arthur area would become a campaign issue.

"I never engage in a mud-slinging campaign," he replied. "If this does become an issue it will be made an issue by some one else, not me."

Adult Courses Slated Here

An organizational meeting for night courses at Snyder High School during the coming semester will be held Thursday night.

The courses are arranged for adults who desire to take courses during the winter months.

The organizational meeting is set for 7 p.m. in the high school choir room. Fifteen members are required for each class, and each 15-week course requires a tuition fee of $15.

Classes will be conducted on Monday and Thursday nights each week, from 7 to 9 p.m. Courses offered include bookkeeping, short hand, typing, shop and industrial arts.

Involved in addition to the Pen-Yan are the Texas Club, the Bowtie Club, the Yukon Club, the Commodore Club, Rich's Club, and Liberal Club.

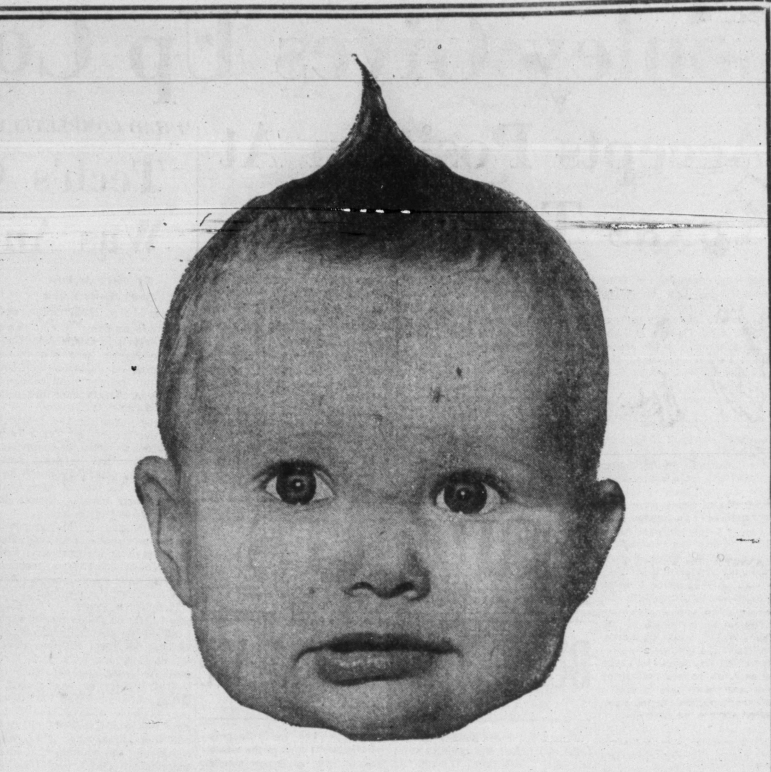

All were raided last month by Texas Rangers, intelligence agents of the Department of Public Safety, and representatives of the House committee.

In other grand jury action, Jefferson County Grand Jury, meeting in special session, heard evidence in felony cases filed against a total of 24 persons in connection with the Dec. 3 raids and other raids carried out during the vice probe.

Carrier Operation Impresses Newsman

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A Brazilian newsmen who had just seen for the first time the launching and landing of planes on an aircraft carrier, was asked his impression of the operation.

Gilson Campos, reporter-photographer for the Daily News and Daily Correio in Rio de Janeiro, replied: "It was like being aboard a floating insane asylum on which all the lunatics were surprisingly well-behaved and well-trained."

Junior Editors Quiz on ANIMALS

QUESTION: Are ground hogs the same as woodchucks?

ANSWER: The woodchuck is a small, coarse-haired North American animal related to rats. It usually lives in a burrow at the edge of some woods. Woodchucks eat a lot toward the end of summer. This makes them fat so that they do not need to eat while they sleep through the winter in their burrows. Ground hog is a name commonly used for the woodchuck. There is a legend about the animal which centers around Ground Hog Day. It is said that the groundhog comes out of his burrow on that day, the second of February, to observe the weather. If he sees his shadow, he decides that spring is still six weeks away and crawls back to sleep. If he doesn't see his shadow, he comes out and springs right away. But this is just a legend and not really true.

FOR YOU TO DO: Perhaps your father knows where he can find a live woodchuck for you to see. If not, look for one in a book at the library.

Castro Support In Venezuela Lagging

Editor's note—AP News analyst William L. Ryan is on a swing through Latin America to report on the effects of Castroism and communism at this critical time when a new U.S. administration is evolving its policies. This is another dispatch from Venezuela. Other reports by Ryan will appear in this newspaper from time to time in the next few weeks.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst
CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Signs reading "Cuba, yes — Yankee, no," are beginning to have an old and faded look. Occasionally one sees the slogan scratched out, and in its place is scrawled something like "Venezuela, yes, Castro no."

Castroism still has support in Venezuela's cities. This metropolis of 1,200,000 has painful contrasts between abundance and poverty. Caracas' modern areas show prospering evidence of what U.S. purchases of Latin America's raw materials can mean. But in many areas thousands of persons live in shacks, and there Castro remains a symbol of defiance toward the rich uncle in the north.

Many a young man in the university and high schools blames everything on the United States, considers Venezuela's oil riches a curse rather than a blessing, believes the oil has meant domination from the north and benefits only the few who prospered under the fallen dictatorship of Perez Jimenez.

The young men are impatient for change. But today, even in the university, Castro and the Communists seem to be losing ground. The Communist party has 35,000 to 50,000 card-carrying members, a large number for a country of 7 million. To a large extent they are disciplined and obey party orders.

Castroism is represented in the extreme leftist MIR—Movimiento de Izquierda Revolucionaria or Movement of the Revolutionary Left—a group that broke off from President Romulo Betancourt's Accion Democratica party.

The Communist party's main drive has been toward the labor movement and youth. And in the labor movement President Betancourt, a shrewd politician, outwitted and defeated the Communists.

Paradoxically, Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro helped the anti-Communists and anti-Castroists. When Castro announced the arrest of labor leader David Salvador in Havana, it was evident to many in the Venezuelan Labor Federation that a free labor movement in Cuba had disappeared.

In December the Communists gambled in an attempt against the Betancourt government. They called for a general strike, it failed. Accion Democratica's line hardened. Betancourt supporters took charge of the labor federation. The Betancourt forces became together with each defeat of a Communist thrust. During the December violence, a number of MIR and Communist leaders were arrested. The extreme left was caught amid confusion and bickering, and in the rest of the labor movement there remained little doubt that Castroism had lost much of its appeal.

"I never thought I'd see the day," commented a U.S. businessman in Caracas, "when I'd be praying that Romulo Betancourt would remain in the presidency of Venezuela."

The comment reflects a dramatic shift of opinion among North Americans. High-powered public relations campaigns in the United States, financed by such enemies of Betancourt as Perez Jimenez and dictator Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic, have been attempting to place the brand of Communist in Venezuela's president.

Betancourt once was a Communist, about a quarter century ago, but today he is among the men most hated by the Communist party in Latin America.

At one time Betancourt also was a supporter of Castro's revolution in Cuba, and Castro had other ardent admirers in Venezuela. Today, relations between Cuba and Venezuela are tense.

"In a sense," said one high Betancourt government official, "I suppose we owe Fidel Castro a debt of gratitude. What happened in Cuba centered United States attention on the affairs of Latin America. Castro so far overreached himself and became so ensnared by the Communists that the eyes of others who might have looked upon him as a symbol of a new Latin America were opened."

Venezuela's own revolution, overthrowing the cruel and wasteful dictatorship of Perez Jimenez, antedated Castro's accession to power by a year. Then free elections elected Betancourt three weeks before Castro took over in Havana.

Today there is a good chance Venezuela will demonstrate that its revolution can accomplish what Cuba's might have done, had it taken a different direction.

"What we need, principally," says one of Betancourt's aides, "is understanding from the United States that this is Venezuela and that we cannot attack our problems by North American standards. We must show that we can work out our problems in our own way and that we can do it without being accused of being under Yankee domination. We need help from the United States, but we also need a calm appraisal. We want the United States in short, to be truly a good neighbor and not to identify itself solely with big U.S. industry here in Venezuela."

Americans smoke 470,000 million cigarettes and 6,000 million cigars in 1958.

U. N. Facing Debate On Kasavubu Charges

By WILLIAM N. OATIS UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council faces a new Congo debate on a charge by President Joseph Kasavubu that the United Arab Republic is interfering in the Congo's internal affairs.

The debate, however, may not come until February. Kasavubu cabled what he called an urgent complaint Tuesday to the Security Council president.

The conference is to convene in Elisabethville next month. Diplomats speculated Kasavubu hedged on the date to insure that the U.A.R. delegate would not be in the chair during the debate.

Lumumba troops were reported Tuesday to have invaded Equatorial Province, which is Kasavubu's territory. Western diplomats in Leopoldville have reported Soviet-made planes from the U.A.R. apparently have been airlifting arms to the rebels and landing them at airports in Equator guarded by U.A.R. troops with the U.N. force.

Two more nations supporting Lumumba informed Hammarskjold they were withdrawing their troops from the Congo. Morocco said it would withdraw its 3,139 men before Jan. 31, and Indonesia sent word its 1,151 men would be pulled out not later than February.

The U.A.R. asked Hammarskjold Monday to send home its 497 troops before Feb. 1. Authoritative sources reported Guinea's 738 would move out next month.

All schools in Scurry County were closed today. icy roads and highways prompted school officials to announce suspension of classes Tuesday afternoon.

Traffic was slowed to a crawl in most instances. Snyder streets were coated with ice by mid-afternoon Tuesday. The situation had worsened by this morning.

Although most highways over West Texas were reported open today, extreme caution was urged because of heavy icing. Highway travel, except for absolute necessity, was discouraged.

The icing here came in the form of rain which began freezing on automobile windshields early Tuesday afternoon. Freezing rain, sleet and some light snow continued intermittently.

Snyder had received an official 64 inch of moisture since Tuesday morning's reading, making a total of 48.5 for the period.

Tax Study Panel Anxious To Work

By DAVE CHEAVENS AUSTIN (AP) — A tax policy study committee wants to get on with its job of clarifying and bolstering the laws on which assessments and collections are made by thousands of Texas governing agencies.

The Texas Commission on State and Local Tax Policy asked Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey and Speaker James Turman to fill several vacancies on the panel so that its investigations can go on without interruption.

The commission, made up of laymen and legislators, using the Texas Research League as its technical staff, was authorized by the legislature. It will report finally two years from now.

One of its top long range goals is to determine whether the property tax is able to keep on financing local government and, if not, what steps should be taken to shore up their dwindling financial resources.

In its preliminary report Tuesday, the commission said so far it has found these major defects in the property tax law: unclear definition of the tax base; uncertain legal powers of the assessor-collector; no clear definition of the rights of the taxpayer in many cases.

The commission says it hopes to undertake a full re-statement and re-evaluation of the property tax law for possible legislative action.

It reported that property taxes provide 48 per cent of all state revenue.

Freezing weather has put dampers on the usual last week poll tax rush, according to Tax Assessor - Collector G. R. Greene who reported 1,826 polls sold and 728 exemptions with only 5 days until the Jan. 31 deadline.

Non-election year figures usually run about 4,000 in Scurry County, Greene said, with sales running closely in parallel with this year's figures, half being bought before the last week in January and the rest the final week.

However, heavy rains and freezing weather have sharply curtailed sales and Greene doubts that the 4,000 mark will be reached. At this time last year, 3,223 had been sold and 820 exemptions had been issued.

Dirksen of Illinois predicted it will be the overriding issue in the 1961 session.

Reading Here Plunges To 10 Degrees

Snyderites shivered today in the coldest weather of the season as a sheath of ice brought many community activities to a halt.

The cold wave, which descended upon the area at mid-day Tuesday brought some welcome moisture, but sent the thermometer plunging to 10 degrees.

The reading was not expected to go as high as 30 degrees during the day, and forecasts indicated that another 10-degree night is in store for most of West Texas.

All schools in Scurry County were closed today. icy roads and highways prompted school officials to announce suspension of classes Tuesday afternoon.

Traffic was slowed to a crawl in most instances. Snyder streets were coated with ice by mid-afternoon Tuesday. The situation had worsened by this morning.

Snyder had received an official 64 inch of moisture since Tuesday morning's reading, making a total of 48.5 for the period.

The Weather Bureau indicated that cold weather would continue for the next five days. Temperatures in this area are expected to average 10 to 14 degrees below normal during the five-day period.

The Weather Bureau said a slight warming trend was expected by the end of the week, but more cold weather is expected early next week.

Washington, D.C. (AP)—The next White House physician may be a woman, Dr. Janet G. Travell of New York.

Peddler's Ordinance Ruled Out

AUSTIN (AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals today declared a Marshall ordinance void and reversed two more "sit-in" convictions.

The court, in an opinion by presiding Judge K. K. Woodley, ordered prosecution dismissed in the convictions of Joel Rucker and Pearl Crossley.

Rucker was fined $200 after being found guilty of violating a city ordinance making it unlawful for any peddler, salesman, solicitor or any other person who goes on the premises of another to remain after he has been ordered by the lawful occupant to leave.

Rucker was ordered out of the bus center cafe March 30, 1960. The high court said a state law provides a fine of $1 to $25 for any peddler or salesman who refuses to leave someone's premises.

Woodley pointed out that the maximum fine would be $25 for a peddler but $200 for "any other person." The opinion said this amounted to unequal treatment prohibited by the constitution.

The court reversed the conviction, dismissed the case and declared the city's ordinance illegal.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Tuesday Kennedy's choice for personal physician would not be from the armed forces. He refused to comment further.

It has been almost 40 years since a president has selected a nonservice doctor as White House physician. There never has been a woman in the post.

Dr. Travell is credited with curing Kennedy of severe back trouble which bothered him for a number of years.

She reportedly discovered Kennedy's left leg is slightly shorter than his right and that this contributed to the back trouble. It was corrected with a lift in the left shoe.

A graduate of Cornell University Medical School, Dr. Travell has practiced in New York City since 1926. She is married to John Powell, an investment counselor. They have two married daughters.

PIRACY ON HIGH SEAS—Cross indicates reported Tuesday position of the Portuguese cruise ship, Santa Maria, which was high-jacked in the Caribbean. The ship was taken over by a band of 70 armed men, and apparently was being rerouted to Brazil. Armed men boarded the ship at Curacao and La Guaira. Wounded seamen were put ashore at St. Lucia. The ship was enroute to Port Everglades, Fla., before the incident. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Planes Seek Position Of Stolen Ship

By SAUL PETT SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—U.S. Navy planes circled in today on the reported position of a mystery ship in tropical Atlantic waters and Portuguese authorities said the capsized liner Santa Maria has been located.

American confirmation of this was lacking, with Navy men saying they will not consider the Santa Maria located until it has been sighted and identified.

But the Portuguese seemed convinced that the vessel trawled by monitoring of its radio is the Santa Maria. Rear Adm. Sarmiento Rodrigues declared in Lisbon the liner "will be sighted within a few hours."

The Portuguese frigate Pedro Escobar put to sea and a standby order went out to all Portuguese naval commands in the West African colony of Angola, the Azores, the Cape Verde Islands and Mozambique—all areas controlled from Lisbon.

The 20,906-ton liner was seized Sunday by members of the Salazar regime in Portugal. At the time the vessel was between Venezuela and Florida, on a course to set some of its 600 passengers ashore at Port Everglades, Fla., Tuesday.

Four twin-engine Neptunes of the U.S. Navy circled over a 100-mile radius centered 400 miles east of Guadeloupe, a French possession in the Leeward Islands.

Portugals navy gave approximately the same position. They said the Santa Maria was located 550 miles east of the Windward Islands, southern neighbors of the Leewards.

Steel Industry Set For Congress

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Representatives from some of the country's biggest steel mills and heavy industries will attend the third national congress of the steel industry to be held at Monterrey on Monday.

The congress will take place March 19-22.

The expansion occurred about 6:30 a.m. and the fire was controlled two hours later.

A spokesman for Lone Star Gas Co. in Dallas said no service interruption occurred and none was expected. The fire was in the dehydration part of the operation and that phase can be bypassed and gas sent on to consumers.

The plant, 12 miles north of here, processes raw gas from the gas fields for use by consumers.

Meanwhile, both houses continued preparation of bills and proposed constitution charges that committees will study and report back for floor debate.

Sen. Grady Hazelwood, Amarillo, offered a bill providing higher only if a motorist is convicted of one of 14 traffic violations. Hazelwood, who has been an outspoken critic of the present so-called safe driving insurance plan, wants speeding made a penalty only if a motorist is going more than 15 miles an hour above the speed limit. No premium penalty could be assessed on any moving traffic violations or accidents that occurred before Jan. 1, 1960. At present, the penalties extend back three years.

Two teachers pay bills appeared in the House. Rep. DeWitt Hale, Corpus Christi, had more than 30 co-sponsors on a bill that would increase teachers' salaries $300 a year. Aikin is author of a similar bill in the Senate. Rep. Maco Stewart, Galveston, offered a bill putting teachers salaries on a cost of living basis. Stewart, who favors the $300 immediate raise, wants annual adjustments in the minimum salary schedule based on the increase or decrease in the cost of living reported by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Under the proposed bills, the State Board of Insurance would prescribe minimum standard coverages which must be in every policy, but companies would be permitted to offer broader coverage. The board would continue to supervise rates and forms.

"Monopoly, whether it be state or private, rebounds to the disadvantage of the customer because of the elimination of competition and incentive," said the bill authors. Sen. Jarrard Seibert and Rep. C. W. Peary Jr., both of Temple. They also criticized sharply the Texas safe driver insurance plan and said their bill would make the plan optional to motorists.

Taxpayers would have their say if a bill introduced by Rep. Wesley Roberts of Seminole is passed to become effective before April.

Blast Rips Gas Plant

CISCO, Tex. (AP)—An explosion followed by fire erupted today at the Pueblo gas compressor plant of Lone Star Gas Co. near here but caused no interruption of service to households.

Joe Moore of Moran, one of three men working in the plant, was knocked down but suffered no injury.

The explosion occurred about 6:30 a.m. and the fire was controlled two hours later.

Bills For Competitive Auto Insurance Ratings Submitted

By ED OVERHOLSER AUSTIN (AP)—Sponsors of the competitive rating plan for automobile insurance introduced their legislation today in both the House and Senate.

Past sessions have soundly defeated the plan to force competition among insurance companies in the sale of automobile and other coverages.

Under the proposed bills, the State Board of Insurance would prescribe minimum standard coverages which must be in every policy, but companies would be permitted to offer broader coverage. The board would continue to supervise rates and forms.

JFK Preparing Somber Talk

By JACK BELL WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy was reported today to be preparing a somber recital of world and domestic conditions in a State of the Union message he will deliver to Congress Monday.

Associates said the President feels Congress and the country should be given what he regards as a realistic appraisal of turbulent global conditions and a hesitating economy at home.

Democratic leaders with whom Kennedy discussed the message at a White House conference Tuesday say they expect him to cover the Congo, Laos and other mounting trouble spots and to discuss mounting unemployment at home.

Messages outlining specific legislative proposals and suggesting changes in the $80-billion budget former President Dwight D. Eisenhower sent Congress Jan. 18. An economic message will deal broadly with business conditions and might suggest some tax changes. If it is not included in this, a separate message may recommend early action on a measure to aid depressed areas of chronic unemployment. It was believed possible the President might link this with a request for funds to bolster unemployment compensation payments.

Without even waiting for Kennedy to lay down his proposals, congressional Republicans organized their Senate and House forces for a "battle of the budget," Senate Minority Leader Everett M.

Dirksen of Illinois predicted it will be the overriding issue in the 1961 session.

Dirksen and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the House minority leader, agreed to meet weekly with four colleagues from each house to map Republican strategy.

Dirksen indicated that Eisenhower will be called on for advice when Kennedy suggests changes in the defense budget the former president submitted. He said former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, and others will be called in when issues come up with which they are familiar. Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, the Republican national chairman, will serve the conference as its presiding officer.

The Senate leader took off on the Kennedy program by listing what Maurice Stans, Eisenhower's budget director, figured up as the added cost of five pre-inaugural tax forego reports to Kennedy.

Dirksen said that if recommendations in these were approved by Kennedy and adopted by Congress there would be an increase of $3 billion dollars in spending in the year—beginning July 1 on housing and urban renewal, regulatory agencies, aid to education, health and Social Security and area development.

As the programs developed, Dirksen said, the increase in spending over present levels in these fields would amount to $5.6 billion yearly.

Kennedy Slates First 'Live' News Conference Tonight

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy tonight holds his first news conference since taking office. It will be a precedent-setting session on live television and radio.

The U. S. Information Agency will provide special worldwide coverage, broadcasting recordings of the conference to reach peak listening hours around the globe.

The new President's question and answer meeting with newsmen will be carried nationwide on all major U. S. networks starting at 6 p. m. EST.

How long the conference lasts will be determined by the White House, said in the traditional manner by the senior wire service reporter when he decides it's time to end the session.

Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said the networks have indicated they intend to broadcast the entire conference this first time, no matter how long it lasts.

Newsmen are certain to seek the views of Kennedy, sworn into office only last Friday, on a wide variety of questions confronting the new administration.

They include dealing with the Communist threat to the free world, the business slump at home, mounting unemployment, the disturbing flow of gold out of the United States, expected revision of the Eisenhower regime's spending plans and enactment by Congress of legislative proposals Kennedy backed during the campaign.

In one major respect the formula at Kennedy news conferences will be the same as it has been since 1953 when President Franklin D. Roosevelt put the sessions on a wide open basis. There will be no questions barred and Kennedy won't know what they are until they are fired at him.

Kennedy will be setting precedent in these ways:

1. He is starting a policy of letting the TV and radio networks broadcast any or all of his news conferences on a live basis.
2. Kennedy is the first president to hold a formal news conference at night—and there will be more of them from time to time at evening hours. Generally, however, the conferences will be held during the day with the sessions alternating between morning and afternoon.
3. At Kennedy news conferences reporters will be permitted to quote the President directly and immediately.

Roosevelt and his successor, Harry S. Truman, permitted direct quotation only occasionally, and then generally only a sentence or two. Dwight D. Eisenhower could not be quoted until the White House had released an official transcript for publication—usually an hour or two after the conference.

Filling Stations In Space Studied

By BEM PRICE
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States takes its first tentative step today toward creation of cosmic filling stations for space ships.

In time, a series of these space platforms could become manned refueling points and way-side inns for astronauts bound on trips of exploration around the solar system—and possibly beyond.

Three Hurt In Houston Explosions

HOUSTON (AP)—A series of explosions and a flash fire at a refinery critically injured three persons—two of them young boys—and caused injuries to at least six other people here Tuesday night.

One of the injured, Gabriel Arthur Corder, 31, of Pasadena, Tex., was deeply burned over 90 per cent of his body.

The blasts at the Signal Oil & Refining Co. plant here rocked the industrialized Houston ship channel and homes in a nearby residential area. Corder was a pumpjack at the signal plant.

The cause of the explosions was not known. The blasts set a huge storage tank loaded with 37,000 barrels of gasoline on fire.

The three boys, Herman Holcomb, 12, Edward Leroy Von Kamp, 11, and Robert Lee Von Kamp, 11, were playing in a house near the Signal plant when they heard a boom outside and saw fire. They eagerly ran outside.

"Then something happened," Holcomb, the less seriously injured of the three, told nurses later.

Both the Von Kamp boys were in critical condition with burns.

J. J. Peters, a city fireman, was treated for smoke irritations to the lungs and eyes. John H. Folk, 33, was in fair condition with caustic irritations to his eyes, lungs and skin from gasoline and smoke. He worked for the company's fire brigade.

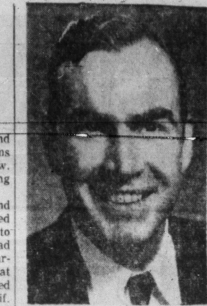

The flames that swept up from the tank were said to have kept the blaze for more than two hours before it was tapped out.

Several other large tanks—also loaded with gasoline—stood nearby. The flames licked in the other direction.

An explosion and fire at the same plant—then owned by the Eastern States Petroleum and Refining Corp.—2 1/2 miles away, killed two men last February. The Los Angeles based Signal company bought the plant in 1959.

The fire last year was the 65th reported at the plant since 1852.

A near neighbor, another large chemical and petroleum plant, People living and working in the area evacuated immediately after the explosion, although no formal evacuation notice was given.

Rep. Wright Will Speak Here Friday

Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth, Congressman from the 12th District and candidate for the U. S. Senate, will speak in Snyder Friday at a free barbecue to be held at noon in the arbor in Towle Memorial Park. Wright is one of 16 candidates for the Senate seat vacated by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Wright is expected to arrive in Snyder just before noon, Wright, accompanied by his wife, Mab, will go directly to the armory to greet area supporters.

The public is urged to attend the rally. Special invitations have been sent to Democrats in the surrounding area.

Delgado 'Soured' On Salazar Reign

LISBON (AP)—Gen. Humberto Delgado, the man behind the seizure of the Portuguese liner Santa Maria, says he soured on Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar's regime because he learned about democracy in Canada and the United States.

For 30 years he was an ardent supporter of Salazar. For 10 years he served the regime in Canada and in Washington, finally as Portugal's representative to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization military group in Washington.

"I learned what democracy meant there," he told foreign newsmen in 1958, when he ran unsuccessfully for the presidency against Salazar's candidate. Delgado polled a surprisingly high 25 per cent of the votes and claimed the election was stolen from him.

Salazar dismissed him from his post as chief of civil aviation. He claimed political asylum in the Brazilian Embassy Jan. 13, 1959, saying he was in danger of being arrested. Two months later he went to Brazil.

The general, 54, heavy-set and balding, comes from modest stock. His father was a professional noncommissioned soldier and the boy was brought up in military schools. He was a good student but showed a stormy personality from the start.

He was always interested in politics and threw in at the start with the military dictatorship of 1926 which led to the Salazar regime.

Then he switched to the air force and was trained in France. Like Capt. Henrique Malha Gálvao, who led the band that seized the Santa Maria, Delgado was considered in Lisbon to be a protégé of Salazar.

Delgado rose to become the highest ranking officer of the Portuguese air force and was sent on many important military missions. He was the principal negotiator for his government in the granting of bases in the Azores to Britain and the United States during World War II.

On returning from Washington to resume his post as director of civil aviation, he broke with Salazar and announced his candidacy in the 1958 presidential elections.

He returned to Europe from Brazil last November for a speechmaking tour against the Salazar regime. His trip was curtailed after a number of European governments refused to permit him to speak and he returned to Brazil.

Plastic Bag Helps Save Baby's Life

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP)—The plastic bag, killer of many children, has saved the life of one "My baby's turning blue," said Mrs. Robert Proctor in telephoning for an ambulance. "He's got a heart condition."

When driver Almur Stokes arrived he found his oxygen mask too large for the 6-week-old infant.

He asked for a plastic bag. Mrs. Proctor said she never kept one because of the child's age. She borrowed one from a neighbor.

Stokes placed the baby inside, filled the bag with oxygen and made it do as a tent until the baby reached a hospital.

Magazine Editor Plunges To Death

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Norman Siegel, West Coast editor of a movie fan magazine, dropped to his death from the roof garden of a 12-story building on Hollywood Boulevard Tuesday.

Police listed the death as a suicide.

Siegel, 54, was an editor of Photoplay. He had been a newspaperman and an assistant publicity director at Paramount and had coordinated appearances of movie stars at British royal command performances in 1946-48. He was married in 1956 and separated last year.

Hunting By Royalty Is Criticized

LONDON (AP)—Prince Philip's prowess as a tiger hunter during Queen Elizabeth's Indian tour drew a front-page blast against the royal family today from the Daily Mirror.

The royal family do not seem to have caught up with modern enlightened views on the killing of animals for pleasure," boomed the mammoth-circulation tabloid.

The prince shot his tiger Tuesday in the Rajasthan jungle near Jaipur at a shoot organized by the Maharajah of Jaipur. The prince's personal treasurer shot a tiger the day before.

The newspaper, devoting its entire front page to the blast, declared there was all the difference in the world between hunting down a man-eating tiger and Philip's shoot. It complained that live goats and bullocks as well as carcases were staked out as bait and 200 hunters were paid 60 cents a day "to go through the jungle yelling and banging tires to drive a tiger into Prince Philip's gun-sights."

The paper detailed the royal family's participation in blood sports: the queen's shooting her first stag in 1942, her deerstalking during Scottish holidays, Prince Philip's shooting of game birds in Britain and wild boar in Germany.

Princess Anne being taken to fox hunts and Prince Charles shooting his first woodcock recently.

"The royal family must realize that millions of British people do not regard the killing of animals and birds as sporting or manly," the Mirror declared. "They regard it with disgust."

Proxy Fight Shaping Up

WACO (AP)—A proxy battle for Amicable Life Insurance Co., which has $34 million worth of life insurance in force, erupted here Tuesday night.

President Franklin Smith wired more than 400 stockholders.

"Present management urges you to get all the true facts before signing a proxy mailed to you by K. H. Easley which would put him in one-man control."

Easley, a director who resigned as secretary of the board last September, met with some stockholders and friends.

Smith said Easley owns more than 10,000 shares of the 164,000 shares outstanding and slightly more than all the other eight board members hold.

Smith said the annual stockholders meeting is scheduled here March 14 and at the proxy deadline is Feb. 12. At stake in the fight, the president said, are the company's stock and cash dividend policies, and the size and makeup of the present board of directors.

Amicable Life was founded in 1871 and has been based here since that time. One of Waco's largest buildings is owned by the firm.

Bond Issue Okayed, But Tax Cut Fails

FORT WORTH (AP)—Voters approved $33.9 million in bonds Tuesday but apparently rejected by a margin of 16 votes a proposal to reduce the tax rate by 2 cents per $100 valuation and combine two agencies.

Complete unofficial returns compiled by the Star-Telegram showed a proposal to reduce the tax rate and combine the park and recreation departments defeated 8,794 to 8,778.

A $19 million dollar sanitary sewer issue carried by the largest margin, 9,707 to 6,971.

Other issues were $13,650,000 for streets and $125 million for construction of seven branch libraries.

Magic Box Exhibited

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A magic box that does everything but tell you to "say ah!" was demonstrated publicly for the first time Tuesday at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

It takes your pulse and temperature and listens to your heart with greater accuracy than the most skilled physician.

The gray box is an electronic digital computer. Frax wires taped to your skin it senses respiration rate, heart rate, vein pressure, artery pressure and temperature. It also senses and reports room temperature.

All these things are printed on a roll of paper and simultaneously displayed on a panel.

The machine has been used to monitor the physical condition of patients during heart surgery. A doctor will enable a nurse at his desk to maintain a constant check on as many as five patients in an after-surgery recovery room far down the hall.

Dr. Louis G. Fields, a physician, developed the machine.

Atlas Failure Is Object Of Study

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Air Force technicians today studied telemetry data in the hope of pinpointing the reason for the third straight failure of an improved Atlas intercontinental range missile.

The 82-004 rocket plunged into the Atlantic Ocean more than 100 miles offshore Tuesday when its main sustainer engine shut down three minutes after launch—two minutes before it was supposed to.

The two previous E rocket failures were traced to a faulty hydraulic system in the sustainer engine.

Eastern Half Of Nation Shivering

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The eastern half of the nation shivered through its seventh straight day of subzero cold today and a paralyzing storm smashed an icy path across Texas.

The Midwest, the East and the Northeast continued to suffer in the nation's longest and coldest winter spell.

The Texas storm covered much of the state with snow and ice and stretched to the southern tip of the state near Brownsville. Highways were covered with ice and freezing drizzle which continued through the night in some sections, crippled traffic and snapped power and phone lines. At least six deaths were attributed to the storm.

Temperatures on the southern plains of Texas hovered near the 10-degree mark and winds up to 60 miles an hour lashed Floydada where nearly 2 1/2 inches of snow fell. Parts of Oklahoma and New Mexico also felt the fury of the storm.

Tuesday at Laredo, Tex., the mercury climbed to 70.

The frigid weather in the north, with temperatures far below zero, extended from the Plains to the Atlantic Coast. Readings ranged from zero to more than 20 below in Midwest areas and from zero to 10 below from the eastern upper Great Lakes to New England.

Cold wave warnings were in effect over most areas from the southern half of the Plains into Virginia and the Carolinas. Near-zero weather edged into Kentucky and northern Virginia. The freezing belt covered areas southward into the central Gulf. Southern Florida escaped the chilly weather.

No immediate general relief from the season's longest and coldest weather appeared likely. However, some moderation was

Floors Returning As Part Of Decor

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newswire

Floors and walls, areas of the home that have been taken for granted in the past, have come into their own. Floors are enhanced with brilliant rugs, planters and decorative cushions. Walls lend their space to masses of art and objects that relate to the decor.

But, if you'd take advantage of the new emphasis on floors, be sure that you prepare your floor for the drama, says Patricia Harvey of New York, member of the American Institute of Decorators.

"If your floor needs attention to make it an asset, then go to work with sander, sealer and wax. Many floors could be beautiful if attention were given to refinishing them. The 'old world' look in wood floors, embodying the antique browns and darker shades is the trend now," she points out.

New floors may be prepared more easily, and given a mellow patina with frequent applications of paste wax, she says. This gives concentrated protection and, in time, will give that handsome old finish that may be desired.

"An area rug must have purpose, not used simply as a rug on the floor," Miss Harvey advises. "The area rug on a polished floor should be used to highlight the beauty of the wood, and to anchor a furniture group or emphasize the color plan in the room."

Oriental rugs are getting a big play now among leading decorators, she says, because of the current interest in floors, and their usefulness in either modern or traditional settings.

"If you have one rolled up in the attic, now is the time to make use of it, if it fits into your room scheme. But floors must be in good shape to take the splendor of these rugs," she says.

Patterned area rugs are more popular than plain colors and many fringed rugs are shown. Carved rugs are popular and add a note of elegance to a modern setting. Hot reds, yellows and brilliant blues of the Spanish rugs are much liked in contemporary rooms.

More subdued colors are used for traditional decor. American copies of the elegant Aubusson rugs are available and we are importing area rugs with a deep pile from Japan.

If you are the type who likes wild patterns, be sure to use rugs in small doses or the rugs may overpower your decorating plan. Miss Harvey says, advising too that you avoid using small rugs in too high a pile as heels may get tangled and the floor covering may slide, causing a bad spill.

"The floor is the first thing you see when you enter a room," she says, "so it should be as smooth as wax and regular care can make it. In these days of area rugs, when they can be removed for easy cleaning, there is no reason for a rug not to be a complement to the floor and decor."

Cheese Casserole

For the tastiest of all cheese casseroles, preheat the oven to 325 degrees. Heat 1 1/2 cups milk over a low flame. (Keep flame low and milk won't stick to pan.) Add 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon cayenne to the milk. Grease a 2-quart casserole and add 1 cup finely chopped onion and 2 cups grated cheese. Beat 2 eggs slightly, add to the seasoned hot milk, then pour it over the onion and cheese in the casserole. Sprinkle a cup of crushed corn chips over all and bake for 20 minutes or until it is the consistency of custard. Serve with a fruit salad for lunch. Serves 3 to 4.

Breezy Look Fashions Open Paris Spring Fashions Today

By NADEANE WALKER
PARIS (AP)—The Paris spring fashion season got off to a devil-may-care start this morning with two collections that tried to outdo each other in breeziness.

The windblown look just covered the knees and usually left the waistline little semiffitted.

Jacques Esterel's saucy show was full of drapes and fresh, frank colors, while Jacques Griffe got a similar effect with loose, waddy blouses, pleated skirts, and wrist-length jackets.

Esterel owes his sudden emergence as a crowd-drawing dressmaker largely to Brigitte Bardot, who popularized his clothes. But he made a good try for sophistication, saving the curly models for his "misses" dresses. Young girls, he says, want "everything to be seen at once."

Two-tone outfits are a great thing in the Esterel show. White jackets over printed or black skirts, matching jackets and blouses with contrasting skirts, and skirts with a deep hem band of contrasting material are some of the changes he brings.

He revises such old favorites as jabots, in a nonfrilly version of two big loops of silk at the neckline, corset waistlines, halo hats, apron panels, veskit or vest tops, and V-backed dresses with a back-to-front look.

Esterel's waistlines are high, low, hardly there at all or fitted like a glove. Jackets run the same gamut from short bolero length to midhip to bottom of the thigh. Sleeves, mostly three-quarter or elbow-length tubes, are sometimes kimono-cut with the bodice and sometimes actually puffed. The sleeveless sheaths survive, but barely.

Esterel achieves a loose, free-and-easy general effect without actually being baggy anywhere. His high, glove-fitted waistlines have puffy bosoms, while his low waists have puffy backs.

Spring fashions will be a breeze according to Griffe. He opened his collection with a fluid draped line he calls "puff of wind."

His first models were breezy enough in tight ankle-length pants, patent leather flats and flat caps.

4-H Training School Held Here Sat.

A training school for 4-H Junior Leaders was held in the County Extension Office on Saturday morning. The 4-H clubs are beginning a three month period of work on the use of the electrical appliances in the home. Those clubs having junior leaders were expected to have leaders present to attend the training school in preparation for demonstrations to be given by junior leaders through March.

Miss Ruby Butts, County Home Demonstration Agent gave training in the use of the blender and waffle baker, on the selection of a lamp for the study table and in making a lamp from a bottle or vase.

"If you plan to buy a waffle baker," Miss Butts told the girls, "look at several brands before you buy. Some have removable waffle grids that are replaceable with smooth grill grids. This means your appliance has wider use. Some are round, some oblong, some square. They come in larger and smaller sizes. Let the amount of waffle or grill space you will need help you to determine what size to select. Some have automatic controls that tell you when the baker is preheated and when the food is done. Some are heated by "contact" and some by "radiant" heat. (Contact means heat is brought into the grids through something they touch; Radiant means heat is radiated or thrown out from the source of heat to heat the grids.) Watch for handles that will not heat, for heat controls that maintain the desired temperature, for ease of changing from waffle grids to grill grids, for safety features."

"When you buy any electrical appliance," Miss Butts said, "Be sure it has a tag stating that it is approved by the Underwriters' Laboratory. This is one of your best safe guards for good electrical wiring and safety."

Girls attending the training school were Gwen Landrum and Janie Gleghorn of Fluvanna 4-H Club, Denise Welch, Virginia Jackson and Mary Ellen Almsworth of Snyder Jr. Sr. High 4-H Club, and Linda Schattel of Plainview 4-H Club.

Most cereals double in quantity during cooking, so select a large saucepan at the start. Bring the water to a fast rolling boil over a high flame before adding the cereal. The rapid movement of the water prevents lumping. After the cereal is added, turn the flame back to simmer and cook according to the directions on the package. A tight fitting cover on the saucepan will prevent the formation of a crust on top of the cereal.

THE MERRY MORTICIAN

There's Still A Breath Of Life Left In The Theater

BY INEZ ROBB

One of the distinguishing marks of New York City is the fact that you can see real, live actors on the stage, providing you have a note from your bank—preferably one for a hundred dollars. Oh, well, let's not exaggerate. Fifty will get you a couple of good seats on the aisle.

Come now, tell the truth. You can get a pair for around twenty, if you have luck at the box office. Or for much less if you are young, have rubber legs and can stand. Or if Grandpa left you his binoculars, your hearing is good and you don't mind climbing.

For the first five years I was in New York, I sat so high up in the house I didn't even know there were seats called "orchestra" way down there on the floor. We sniffed oxygen between acts.

As for that, there are certain critics and patrons who feel a little oxygen here and there would improve the current season. But I just go on, year after year, loving square actors and what is poetically known as the living theater, always excepting Tennessee Williams and all those angry young men.

Angry young men, my eye! It's the audience that ought to be furious. All that whining and self-pitying and carrying-on! What those characters need is a good, swift kick in the rump, and a steady job with a pick and shovel that would keep them out in the open for about nine hours a day. And a shave. Yes, and an all-over bath wouldn't hurt, either.

But what I started out to say is that I have had a very fine time in the theatre this season. I'm the woman who likes "Camelot." We'll all but the last 12 minutes of it, and by that time even Betty Green would have had her money's worth.

Something else, too: Robert Goulet, as Lancelot, is supposed to be the biggest machine type to come along since John Barrymore. Matinee ladies especially choke on their dietetic chocolates. But if I were the age and type to stand outside a stage door, I would be swooning for Richard Burton, who plays King Arthur. A sigh guy.

From the very beginning, too, I cheered for "All the Way Home," which didn't have a critic's chance and was slated to close at the end of its first week. But word-of-mouth advertising kept it alive until this beautifully acted drama caught on with the public. It is still going strong.

It is heartening to have a drama on Broadway that doesn't have to depend on sadism, a golden-hearted tart, a drug addict, a homosexual or a manager of repulsive neurotics to pull the customers in to the theatre.

Then, "Little Moon of Alban" may not have been the greatest play in the world, but Julie Harris played as if it were. But even her heroic performance couldn't keep the play alive, although it ought to get her some consideration when the various critics' organizations begin handing around their "best" awards late in the spring.

As a disenfranchised theatre-goer I also would like to cast my vote, nonetheless, for the best actor award. In the opinion of this theatre buff it ought to go by acclamation to Roger Moore for a most extraordinary bit of acting legdemain.

Eight times each week, Mostel turns into a rhinoceros before the eyes of astounded, alarmed and fascinated audiences. Without a single prop to aid him in the transformation, Mostel nevertheless becomes a rhinoceros—a roaring, bellowing and charging about the

(AN EDITORIAL)

The city manager form of government, which would be destroyed in Snyder by amendments coming up for a vote next Tuesday, is something that generally cities and towns are moving "toward" rather than "from."

Most cities and towns which have adopted a city manager form of government have simply found it more efficient and more economical than other types. These cities have learned that their municipal government functions well when it is patterned after their school system—and that is an apt comparison.

Our schools, as in all districts of Texas, are governed by a board of trustees which serves without pay. The board sets policies, adopts rules and regulations, and then hires an experienced educator to administer the school program. School superintendents, as well as teachers and subordinate administrators, must meet certain qualifications established by the state.

Cities which operate under the city manager form of government follow a similar system. In Snyder, for example, the city council and the mayor, or presiding officer, serve without pay. In turn, they set policies, pass on ordinances and other regulations pertaining to city government, and then hire a professional administrator to carry out the program.

The city manager has duties which are similar in many respects to a school superintendent. He hires subordinate personnel, subject to approval of the council, or people's representatives, just as the school superintendent hires principals and department heads, subject to approval of the board of trustees, or people's representatives.

It would be an awkward situation, and extravagant indeed, if a school district should be organized so that its principals would be elected at the polls and would serve without any responsibility to the board of trustees, except for budgetary purposes. It would be even more awkward if the president of the board of trustees should serve as superintendent, yet have no control over the principals and only token responsibility to the council.

Such a situation would exist in our city government if the proposed amendments should be adopted.

Again we urge Snyder citizens to "scratch" the "yes" column and thereby vote "no" on the amendments to the city charter. We believe that Snyder will be served best by the efficient and economical city manager form of government it has experienced during the past eight years.

Girl Gets Aid On Examination

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A school girl called the Batesville Daily Guard and, in a low voice, asked a reporter to name members of the Arkansas congressional delegation.

The reporter had named all but one and was trying to come up with the final name when the girl said, "That's enough, I've got to hurry back to the classroom and finish my examination."

Launching Halted By High Winds

BALTIMORE (AP)—High winds prevented the launching Tuesday of the first freighter christened by Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, wife of the president.

The ship, SS Solon Turman, remained in its ways after being hit with the bolts of champagne.

Officials said it would be too dangerous to send the $10-million ship into the water because of winds at 25 miles an hour at Bethlehem's Sparrows Point shipyard.

Jacqueline Nose Becoming Popular

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Up to now, a doctor reports, women undergoing nasal plastic surgery usually have asked for a nose like a movie star's.

But now, he says, the first lady many of them think of is the First lady herself, Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

Dr. Oscar J. Becker, medical school professor at the University of Illinois, said at a medical meeting Tuesday that the most popular noses of the past among plastic surgery patients have been those of Myrna Loy, Hedy Lamarr, Grace Kelly and Elizabeth Taylor.

"But now," he said, "the young women are asking for a profile like that of the President's wife."

Conley Gives Up Coaching Reins Here

Accepts Position At Texas Tech College

Snyder head coach John F. Conley resigned his post here last night in order to assume the position of offensive line coach at Texas Technological College in Lubbock. He will report to the school February 1, and represents the final addition to the coaching staff of J. T. King, who took over the reins at the school following the resignation of DeWitt Weaver in November.

Conley's appointment is the fifth as made by King in the past month, with the other assistants as chosen being Bert Huffman, a former Tech man who had been in private business; Merrill Green from Arkansas; and Willie Zapalac and Matt Lair, recently of Texas A&M.

Conley has been head coach here in Snyder the past seven seasons following his appointment in December 22, 1953, at which time he succeeded Speedy Moffett in the post. During that span he has compiled an enviable record at the school, with 46 wins, 24 losses, and 2 ties to his credit.

Two of those years—1955 and 1956—his team copped undisputed district championships, with the 1956 team rolling to the most impressive mark with 10-1 season. The only loss that year was in the district, where the Tigers were felled by Graham, 7-6. The 1955 eleven was 9-2, with Garland handing them a bi-district edging that year, 18-13.

Since then the Tigers have come through to win tri-championships the past two seasons, with Lamesa gaining the nod to represent the district in the playoff picture in 1959 and Snyder winning the toss the season just ended. Brownwood, the eventual SA state champ, defeated the Tigers in bi-district the past season by 29-20.

Conley, 37, is a native Texan and a lifetime "transplanted Kansan." He was born in Hecia and resided in Texas until the age of 14, at which time he and his parents moved to Eldorado, Kansas. He played his high school football there and went on to attend Kansas State, where he was a center on the college's grid teams of 1946-48. He graduated in 1947 with a BS in physical education, but later returned to the school in order to receive his Master's degree in education.

He served as head coach at Ellwood (Kansas) High School from 1949 through 1953. During his tenure there his teams won 35, 30, 9, and tied 2, with his final 1963 season being one in which he went through an undefeated season.

He is a veteran of Marine service from 1942 through 1945, and served in the South Pacific. He is married to the former Ruth Borner of Eldorado, and they have one son, John F., 12.

Conley is a member of the First Methodist Church here and also of the local Lions Club.

No salary terms of any kind were disclosed by either Conley or Tech officials following the acceptance.

His resignation brings to three the number of head coaches lost to the district during recent weeks following the removal of Elwood Turner and Bill Davis from their respective positions at Sweetwater and Lamesa.

'I HAD COMPLETELY FORGOTTEN ABOUT IT ...'

Tech's Offer To Conley Was An Unexpected One

By Jerry Jackson
News Sports Editor

Humility, thankfulness, and straightforwardness were the traits evident in Coach John Conley's demeanor here this morning during an interview with the immensely popular head coach of the Snyder Tigers over the past seven years.

Sincere regret at the prospect of leaving the city for Texas Tech in Lubbock keyed his comments. Snyder's loss will be great, however, as the personable coach has proven to be one of the most popular and likeable figures to ever come out of the city.

Developments in his proposed move have come with lightning swiftness over the past day. The appointment came as a seeming surprise to Conley himself, who had dismissed the possibility.

"I talked to Coach (J. T.) King only briefly on his last month when I called to get confirmation on whether he could fill the speaking date (Quarterback Club Banquet) following the departure of DeWitt Weaver as head coach," Conley commented here this morning.

"I have always desired to sometime coach college ball, and told him (King) that if he was considering the addition of a high school coach that I would like to be considered."

"Not another word was said about it, not even Thursday night at the banquet when King was here," he said, "so I had completely forgotten about it until I got the call Monday afternoon asking if I could come up and talk to him."

JOHN CONLEY
A Reluctant 'So Long'

Regret Is Expressed By McCollum

The whirlwind resignation of Coach John Conley as head coach at Snyder High was met with understandable "mixed emotions" by superintendent of school T. E. McCollum early today.

These feelings centered around his well-wishing for the popular coach in his new capacity at Texas Tech, along with his regretting his loss to the local system.

"We hate to lose Mr. Conley," McCollum stated this morning, "He's been a very fine coach and a fine worker with the boys. We think we've been very fortunate to have him work here in Snyder," he continued, "and wish him all the success and happiness in his new job."

"Due to the expediency with which the resignation took place, no speculation is 'in the mill' as yet to a possible successor."

"John came in last night about 3:30 and discussed the resignation with me," McCollum stated further, "and that is the first that I had heard about it."

Formal acceptance of the resignation by the School Board is still forthcoming. "I'll see Mr. (Mal) Stevenson (board president) sometime today, and if he wants to call a hurried meeting in order to take action on it, then it'll be up to him," McCollum added.

Formula To Stop Philly-'Stop Wilt'

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Stop Wilt Chamberlain, and there's a good chance that you can beat the Philadelphia Warriors.

The St. Louis Hawks did that Tuesday night—limiting Wilt to 16 points—and emerged with a 114-112 victory over Philadelphia. The triumph was the Hawks' 11th straight at home while the loss was the Warriors' sixth in a row on their current road trip.

Elgin Baylor clicked for 56 points—his highest output at home since the Lakers moved to Los Angeles—as the Syracuse Nats 116-109. In other games the Boston Celtics whipped the New York Knicks 125-112 and the Detroit Pistons edged the Cincinnati Royals 106-104.

Chamberlain's production was his lowest in regular season play for a full game.

Guarded mainly by Clyde Lovellette and Woody Sauldsberry, Chamberlain collected four of his 14 points in the final moments as the Hawks avoided fouling him.

Bob Pettit's 37 points were high for the Hawks.

Baylor, who set the all-time NBA scoring record of 71 points earlier this season against New York, collected 41 points in the final quarter to break open a close game.

Bob Cousy connected for 19 of his 33 points in the third period to spark the Celtics to their success over the Knicks.

Detroit staffed off a late Cincinnati rally for the Pistons' sixth consecutive victory over the Royals. Jack Twyman scored 17 of his 37 points in the final period to trigger Cincinnati's futile surge.

KC TRADING POST

Lane Makes Initial 'Deal'

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Trader Frank Lane has turned to the Baltimore Orioles and come up with five players in an effort to strengthen the Kansas City Athletics at shortstop and catcher.

In his first deal as the A's general manager, Lane shuffled outfielders Russ Snyder and Whitey Herzog off to Baltimore.

The A's got catcher Clint Courtney, outfielder Al Piharcik, first baseman Bob Boyd, pitcher Jim Archer and infielder Wayne Causey.

In addition, Lane said, the A's will option an unnamed player to the Orioles' farm club at Rochester in the Class AAA International League.

"This is the type of deal we needed to make in order to start spring training respectably," Lane said.

Prior to the deal, the Athletics had only one shortstop, Dick Howser, a rookie who played last season with Shreveport of the Southern Association. As catchers, they had Haywood Sullivan, with limited and undistinguished major league experience, and Bill Bryan, a rookie up from Class D.

Lane expressed hope that Causey, 24, will push Howser for the shortstop job. As a bonus player, Causey spent 1955 and 1956 with the Orioles. He has been in the minors since then because of weak hitting.

Courtney, 33, has been in the majors eight years. He batted .228 in 154 times at bat last season as second string to Gus Triandos.

Of the other three obtained by the A's, Piharcik, 30, is the only one conceded a chance to play regularly. He batted .347 in 194 trips last season.

Lee MacPhail, president-general manager of the Orioles, said his main problem has been the outfield "and we acquired two fairly young outfielders who could help our ball club. I had both of them in the Yankee chain and have a great deal of respect for their ability and desire to play."

Snyder, 28, is one of the fastest runners in the league. He hit .313 in 1959 but fell off to .260 last year. Herzog, 29, was benched by an operation for a leg injury last Aug. 17, but his physician has said the operation was a success. Despite intense pain he batted .266.

Blasters Hold Meeting Here

The Blastars Auto Club held its regular weekly meeting Monday night at the Village Restaurant.

Guest speaker for the meeting was deputy M. L. Chandler, who gave a short talk on safety, then answered questions as posed to him by members concerning various laws and safety regulations.

Three movies were shown on the subjects of safety, a custom car show, and on the 1957 Nationals. Light refreshments were served, and Jerry Rainwater and his band played for the benefit of those in attendance.

Club members present for the gathering included Ronnie Anderson, Hillman Bearden, Tony Bearden, Finis Calvert, Pooch Hatter, Edwin Isabel, Joe King, Jerry Maxwell, Lane McKinney, Jerry Rainwater, Jimmy Sellers, Beverly Smith, Windell Smith, Morris Surratt, Doyle Sharp, David L. Hays, Bobby Brown and Charles Hicks.

Attending as guests were Allen Hfrey, Mr. and Mrs. Tinsley Rainwater, C. D. Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. James Sellers, Mitchell Duke, Paul Baker, Albert Rainwater, James West, Jesse Allen, Eddie Watson, John Hucksaby, Johnny Griggs, Foy Dennis, Kelton Pinkerton, Lawson Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Holroyd, Roland Key, Harold Wilson, Arnold Wallace, and Russell Stevens.

Between You And Me

By Jerry Jackson

As a boy I knew nothing of the Duke of Windsor and could've cared less. Now, the Duke of PADUCAH was something else. Everybody knew him. After all, he was a star of the Grand Old Opry (out of Nashville, Tennessee), and every Saturday night was necessarily one to be spent bide the radio listening to the likes of him, Mimmie Pearl, and all the rest.

Can you imagine? Television was unheard of at the time. But, as mentioned, the Duke of Windsor held little attraction in comparison. We Americans have never gone overboard for royalty, since we've never thought that it is as important who a fellow's mama and papa are as who he is himself. Never will, either.

That's why it was so heart-warming to hear of the stab which Mrs. Duke of Windsor (a girl duke is a duchess, so let's call her the "Duchess of Windsor") took at the whole purple setup as it now stands in England. A well-placed boot in the seat of the royal britches.

If you remember, the present Duke (of Windsor, not Paducah) gave up his throne back in 1936 in order to marry Mrs. Wallis Simpson, an American lady who had been divorced. She wasn't a Royal Somebody, of course, so all these factors worked against her to the point that King Edward VIII was given the prerogative of either (1) marrying this American Nobody, or (2) giving up his perch on the throne of England. He chose (1) and has seemingly had no regrets. From king to duke in one easy "I do" lesson. And they cheer for the Duchess on the manner in which she has retaliated at the pawns and puppets of feudal old England.

Cure-All Pill For Athletes Under Study

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Instant coffee, stretch socks and fumble-proof footballs—what limits, science?

They've come up with pills for black eyes. And for bruises, swellings, cuts, sprains and buristers.

It's simple. You get a bad knock on the head or a hard jolt to the thigh—a fracture or a sprain.

Don't be alarmed. Put a little white pill under your tongue. Let it dissolve, and you're back in action in no time.

The relatively new medical discovery has attracted the attention of coaches and trainers of athletic teams, who find that the loss of talent through injuries can be reduced sharply.

The drug (known as veridase) was tried by boxers in the 1960 olympics and also has been tested by members of the Boston Red Sox baseball team, the New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals football teams and the Cincinnati Royals basketball team.

Its use is expected to spread now that it is the subject of articles in medical journals and athletic magazines.

"This is by no means a cure-all," says Dr. Russell Cahoon of New York, who helped in the development of the drug, "but evidence is now in that shows that the drug affords prompt and dramatic improvement in athletes suffering bruises, cuts and other injuries."

The pill contains an enzyme known as streptokinase. In technical language, an area of inflammation is produced at the site of the injury and walled off by the unimpaired tissues by a limiting membrane.

The pills were used by 150 of the 294 boxers in the Olympic Games at Rome—sometimes before and sometimes after the fights. Dr. J. L. Blonstein of the Amateur International Boxing Association said injuries on the whole were remarkably low.

The drug did not require suturing, the doctor said, and black eyes, which ordinarily stay black a couple of weeks, cleared up in three days.

Dr. T. A. Lamphier, team physician of the Boston Red Sox, reported that he treated some 20 members of the team with the drug last year.

"The results were excellent," Dr. Lamphier said. "The number of out-of-play days was greatly reduced."

Frank Gifford, the Giants' star halfback, was hit by three Cardinal defenders and went down with torn ligaments of the right knee. The drug was administered by Dr. J. Sweeney, team physician, said normally Gifford would have been lost for three games. He was back in action the following week.

Tulane basketball coach Cliff Wells is in his 45th season as a coach mentor. This is his 16th at the New Orleans school.

S'water 8th Meet Slated To Begin

With a watchful eye toward the snarled weather picture, the Sweetwater 8th Grade Basketball Tournament of tomorrow, Friday, and Saturday makes plans for its initial Thursday night game.

If the tourney goes off as scheduled, Snyder's Travis 8th will meet Reagan of Sweetwater tomorrow evening at 7:45 in a first rounder. The first game of the meet is slated to precede the one at 6:30, and will match Cooper and Lincoln, both of Abilene.

Lamar 8th of Snyder is set to open lower bracket play at 6:30 p.m. Friday against Colorado City, that game to be followed by the Jefferson (Abilene) and Franklin (Abilene) clash at 7:45.

All second round contests are scheduled for Saturday, at which time the tourney will be played through to the finals.

Tors, Wolves In 3-3A Wins

District 3-3A cage teams "followed the script" in action last night, as Lamesa and Colorado City each came through as expected to ring up victories.

Lamesa bounced back to whip Sweetwater by 70-61 and gain undisputed possession of first place in the conference race, with a 3-0 record. Bruce Ashton led the winning barrage with 19, although he was forced to relinquish high point honors for the game to Mustang Billy Belue, who garnered 23.

The Colorado City Wolves took a successful jaunt to San Angelo, where they blasted Lake View's Chiefs, 55-38, in other action of the evening. Buddy Cornpton was top man in the victory with 15 points, while the Chiefs failed to have a man hitting in twin figures.

Friday firing will see Lamesa's rampaging Tornados here in Snyder to take on the Tigers, who are now tied for second with Sweetwater, each of whom have 2-1 marks. In the other game of the night Sweetwater will be in Colorado City to engage the fourth place Wolves of that city.

Weather Stymies Area Basketball Contests

Icy conditions reigned supreme on the area basketball front last night, as all three scheduled District 92-B games were forced into postponement.

Louis E. Wolfson's Harbor View Farm was the top money-winning stable in Maryland horse racing in 1960. The stable earned $139,305.

Insects May Have Superior Heads

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A superior head, heavenly dust and tons of earthly reports engage scientists' attention.

Heady Tale
An insect's head is better than none. In many ways it is better than man's, suggests Dr. R. E. Snodgrass of the Smithsonian Institution.

The insect head has a variety of feeding apparatus that can be changed to bite, chew, suck, or pierce, depending on what it is feeding on. It has both simple and compound eyes, antennae that are super-sensitive to touch, smell, and sometimes sound.

Unlike man, the insect doesn't have to bite into something to see if it likes the taste. Taste organs are located outside the mouth, sometimes on the feet.

Root of Behavior
There is new evidence how our senses — our perception of the world around us — greatly influence our behavior.

Unusual behavior has been produced in cats by severing nerve bundles in the brain, in effect disconnecting the senses from the thinking part of the brain.

These cats have poor attention, little or no aggressive or defensive actions when challenged, no response to pleasurable stimulation. They are mute, lack facial expression, and show a sort of super-exploratory activity — continually wandering, sniffing and searching — as though they were having hallucinations.

The effect, say University of Pennsylvania researchers, is due to sensory deprivation and has a relationship to the effects of sensory isolation in humans.

Heavenly Dust
There may be a dense belt of dust circling the earth about 4,000 miles above sea level, a physicist suggests.

The dust belt may be responsible for sweeping away some of the heavy atomic particles — produced from the radiation belt in that area, says Prof. S. Fred Singer of the University of Maryland.

Sonar Medicine
Sonar — the ultrasonic device that helps locate submarines hidden in ocean depths — now is being used to spot hidden tumors or other foreign masses in the human eye.

An ultrasonoscope using high frequency sound to detect corditis as a detached retina or other disorders has been designed by an electronics firm, General Precision Equipment Corp.

It also designed an electronic device which accurately measures the tiny movements of the pupil of the eye.

Harvest
Scientists are still reaping the harvest of the International Geophysical Year, digesting tons of facts about the earth, sea, air and space. They'll be at it for years to come.

Reports from the Antarctic alone now total more than 15 tons. Some 30,000 scientists from 66 nations cooperated in the 18-month "year."

Transfusion Is Opposed

CHICAGO (AP) — Physicians say blood transfusions are not necessary immediately for a 3-day-old boy whose parents oppose such treatment because of their religious tenets.

Basil Shearrod, termed in medical circles an "RH baby" because he showed traces of incompatible factors which led to a blood condition, was born Sunday morning in his parents' apartment on the near West Side.

Doctors summoned by neighbors said the baby probably would need extensive transfusions to save his life. But his father, Benjamin, 31, an unemployed railroad freight handler, said he and his wife, Rosie Lee, are members of the Church of God and do not believe in transfusions, operations or other medical matters.

Asst. State Attorney Richard L. Samuels and Ass't. Corporation Counsel Maurice Handelman said they were ready to seek a court order for the transfusion. But they took no action after Grant Hospital officials said tests showed a transfusion was not needed immediately.

Shearrod, who came to Chicago two years ago from Cotton Plant, Ark., with his wife and five other children, gave permission for the tests, but not the transfusions.

The Shearrods are Negroes.

Wright Has No Labels

AUSTIN (AP)—Senatorial candidate Jim Wright says he is running as a friend of Vice President Lyndon Johnson but he is not implying that he has Johnson's endorsement.

The 37-year-old Fort Worth congressman was the 16th candidate to pay his $50 filing fee Tuesday for the April 4 special election to pick Johnson's successor.

"I am a friend of Vice President Johnson," Wright told a press conference. "I don't want to put him on the spot. I don't want to embarrass him. I am not implying his endorsement. I hope I have his good will."

"I don't expect to win any campaign with any kind of label," he said. "You can't label a man like a can of peas."

Wright was asked if he thought the investigation of alleged vice conditions in the Beaumont and Port Arthur area would become a campaign issue.

"I never engage in a mud-slinging campaign," he replied. "If this does become an issue it will be made an issue by some one else, not me."

Adult Courses Slated Here

An organizational meeting for night courses at Snyder High School during the coming semester will be held Thursday night.

The courses are arranged for adults who desire to take courses during the winter months.

The organizational meeting is set for 7 p. m. in the high school choir room. Fifteen members are required for each class, and each 15-week course requires a tuition fee of $16.

Classes will be conducted on Monday and Thursday nights each week, from 7 to 9 p. m. Courses offered include bookkeeping, shorthand, typing, shop and industrial arts.

Carrier Operation Impresses Newsmen

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A Brazilian newsmen who had just seen for the first time the launching and landing of planes on an aircraft carrier, was asked his impression of the operation.

Gilson Campos, reporter-photographer for the Daily News and Daily Carioca in Rio de Janeiro, replied: "It was like being aboard a floating insane asylum on which all the lunatics were surprisingly well-behaved and well-trained."

Bawdy Houses Are Next On DA List

BEAUMONT (AP) — The district attorney's office indicated Tuesday that houses of prostitution go on the firing line next as lawmakers attempt to curb flourishing vice conditions in the Beaumont-Port Arthur area.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Jim Vollers said he has been instructed to gather information for enjoining the activities of any establishment "we can prove is operating or has been operated in the past as a bawdy house."

Vollers said he acted on the injunction of Dist. Atty. Ramie Griffin.

Vollers Tuesday filed six of seven injunction suits against 18 persons allegedly operating or employing of seven clubs in Jefferson County hit in gambling raids last month.

Alley Cat In White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House had another new resident today—a cat of undetermined age and dubious background.

The latest addition to the executive mansion was introduced to the press Tuesday.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger, badgered for more news at his press conference, finally let the cat out of the bag by declaring that "Tom Kitten" had moved in.

Newsmen were not satisfied with just the facts: Tom is the pet of the Kennedys' daughter, Caroline, 3; he is gray with yellow eyes, of the alley variety and has been living at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, Mrs. Kennedy's step-father and mother, in nearby McLean, Va.

Then Pamela Turnure, Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary, turned up with the cat. They were surrounded quickly by photographers.

The Kennedys have another pet, Welsh terrier named Charlie, so has not moved into the White House.

Who still to move in are Caroline and her baby brother, John, who are in Palm Beach, Fla.

IN CUSTODY—Mickey Covington, 33, of Cleburne, Tex., is escorted to jail at Fort Worth where police say he confessed to the November 1959 slaying of J. Homer Morrison, Fort Worth druggist, in an attempted holdup. Covington, described as a former mental patient, told police he later allowed a freight train to run over his right arm to punish himself for the crime. He quoted a passage from the Bible in explaining the self-mangling. (AP Wirephoto)

Piracy Hints At Bold Adventure

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Every red-blooded American boy at one time dreams of being a big bold pirate.

So, in our opinion, does every red-blooded middle-aged American man.

The seizure in the Caribbean this week of the Portuguese luxury liner Santa Maria by 79 passengers inimical to Portuguese Premier Salazar started the word.

It held special interest to students of pirate lore because it took place in the same waters once scourged by Blackbeard, perhaps the most villainous freebooter of them all.

But, on closer examination of this rebellion at sea, we must admit to a feeling of personal let-down. After all, it was a political case, done by a group for a political purpose.

It holds none of the high adventure promised by our own finest daydream — which is to hold up the giant Cunard liner Queen Mary single-handed with a carved wooden gun. (We insist on a wooden gun as the sight of blood makes us faint, particularly if it is our own.)

Over the years we've met dozens of other people who yearned to rob the Queen Mary, but most of them are lazy.

They haven't taken the trouble to think up a foolproof plan. We have. Here it is:

"We board the great liner as a passenger and when it reaches a certain point at sea we surprise the captain in his cabin with our trusty little wooden gun and hold him hostage."

"Then we have the captain surrender all his officers to the cabin and lock them in. Next, we ax all the radio equipment so no alarm can be spread."

"It is now time to rifle the ship's strong box, and we figure it ought to hold three—maybe five—million bucks."

"Later, we are lowered into a launch, holding the captain as hostage, and speed to the horizon where a hidden submarine awaits us. We board the submarine, and leave the captain free to return to his ship in his launch."

"The submarine sails off to a remote South Seas island, where we found a dynasty, build a palace, and live happily and wealthy ever, in something ridiculous."

"This case clearly indicates that there is something ridiculous about a judicial system that permits cases of this kind to get into our criminal courts," he declared.

"This case involved the allegation of a bad worth $150. Court costs alone will total at least $17 to say nothing of the $40.25 defendant had to pay for bond."

Judge Criticizes Judicial System

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — An alleged theft case, involving a $1.50 sports cap, has caused Judge Loran L. Lewis of Allegheny County Criminal Court to criticize the judicial system.

"Judge Lewis threw out the case Tuesday for lack of evidence. This case clearly indicates that there is something ridiculous about a judicial system that permits cases of this kind to get into our criminal courts," he declared.

"This case involved the allegation of a bad worth $150. Court costs alone will total at least $17 to say nothing of the $40.25 defendant had to pay for bond."

Junior Editors Quiz on ANIMALS

QUESTION: Are ground hogs the same as woodchucks?

ANSWER: The woodchuck is a small, coarse-haired North American animal related to rats. It usually lives in a burrow at the edge of some woods. Woodchucks eat a lot toward the end of summer. This makes them fat so that they do not need to eat while they sleep through the winter in their burrows.

Ground hog is a name commonly used for the woodchuck. There is a legend about the animal which centers around Ground Hog Day. It is said that the groundhog comes out of his burrow on that day, the second of February, to observe the weather. If he sees his shadow, he decides that spring is still six weeks away and crawls back to sleep. If he doesn't see his shadow, he comes out and spring starts right away. But this is just a legend and not really true.

FOR YOU TO DO: Perhaps your father knows where he can find a live woodchuck for you to see. If not, look for one in a book at the library.

Castro Support In Venezuela Lagging

Editor's note—AP News analyst William L. Ryan is on a swing through Latin America to report on the effects of Castroism and communism at this critical time when a new U.S. administration is evolving its policies. This is another dispatch from Venezuela. Other reports by Ryan will appear in this newspaper from time to time in the next few weeks.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN Associated Press News Analyst CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Signs reading "Cuba, yes—Yankee, no," are beginning to have an old and faded look.

Occasionally one sees the slogan scratched out, and in its place is scrawled something like: "Venezuela yes, Castro no."

Castroism still has support in Venezuela's cities. This metropolis of 1,200,000 has painful contrasts between abundance and poverty. Caracas' modern areas show prospecting evidence of what U.S. purchases of Latin America's raw materials can mean. But in many areas thousands of persons live in shacks, and there Castro remains a symbol of defiance toward the rich uncle in the north.

Many a young man in the university and high schools blames everything on the United States, considers Venezuela's oil riches a curse rather than blessing, believes the oil has meant domination from the north and benefits only the few who prospered under the fallen dictatorship of Perez Jimenez.

The young men are impatient for change. But today, even in the university, Castro and the Communists seem to be losing ground. The Communist party has 35,000 to 50,000 card-carrying members, a large number for a country of 7 million. To a large extent they are disciplined and obey party orders.
