Year's Coldest Blizzard Stuns Northern States

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A paralyzing blizzard that swept across northern sections of the Midwest moved into Canada today as the coldest weather of the year spread eastward and southward from the Great Plains.

With huge drifts of snow blocking streets and highways, the blizzard closed schools and curtailed motor and air travel.

The mercury plunged to lower than 30 degrees below zero across the north central border regions.

The Weather Bureau issued cold wave warnings for a vast area from the Canadian border southward to Kentucky, western Tennessee, Oklahoma and northwestern Texas and eastward across the Midwest to westrn New York.

Minneapolis and St. Paul had a wind-chill reading today of 62 degrees below zero. The Weather Bureau's wind-chill index takes into consideration both temperature and wind velocity. The area had a temperature reading of -20 and a wind velocity of 17 miles an hour from the northwest.

The blizzard, packing wind gusts up to 70 miles an hour, swept from the northern Plains into Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan. Blizzard warnings were posted for northeastern Iowa.

Winds of 40 to 60 m.p.h. whipped the snow through the air, halting snow-clearing operations on highways in Minnesota. Some cities reported visibility Monday dropped at times to zero.

At least three storm-related deaths were reported. Two men died in Minnesota while shoveling snow and a woman in South Dakota was crushed to death when a trailer blew over in a trailer court.

As the storm roared into Michigan's Upper Peninsula Monday night, winds of 50 m.p.h. whipped the snow, halting travel on many highways. Four inches of snow fell in a six-hour period during the night at Marquette, making a total of four feet on the ground near Lake Superior.

There were at least five school buses stranded in western and southern Minnesota. Six men roping themselves together marchd abreast on a road for 3½ miles to lead a bulldozer-plow to a bus with 30 school children, near Chokio, Minn.

Five passengers suffered cuts and bruises when a Greyhound bus bound from Minneapolis to Chicago overturned near Tomah, Wis. All commercial buses were called off Minnesota highways Monday afternoon and were not to resume travel until today.

Snow moved in with the cold weather along the eastern slopes of the Rockies and in the adjacent high plains. Three inches of snow fell at Colorado Springs.

Skies were generally clear in much of the southern half of the nation and along the Atlantic Coast.

Early morning readings ranged from 28 below zero at International Falls, Minn., to 69 at Key West, Fla.

Pledge Renewed By Governor Connally

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally appealed to fellow Texans today to "dream the dreams and attempt the deeds of uncommon men" in reaching for the future greatness of the state.

"We must keep the door open to human adventure, and reinforce the daring of the individual," Connally said in an inauguration address minutes after taking office for a third term as governor.

"...We must be free to develop our own style and to reach for the moon so long as we do not tread on our neighbor's lawn."

Connally stressed that Texans "must at all costs avoid imposed conformity."

The governor made no specific mention of his long-awaited speech to the legislature Wednesday in which he will recommend new forms of taxation to finance his ambitious budget for 1968-69.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, in his inauguration speech, stressed the legislative need for economy —"an old-fashioned word rarely heard any more in politics and government."

Smith said taxpayers already are "paying the barren taxes of inflation and we know there is a limit, somewhere, to the taxpayer's patient and his ability to pay. So far he has tightened his belt and paid. It is high time for us in government to tighten ours."

Connally said the essence of being free men is "to be free to experiment . . . "When experimentation and aspiration are stultified by the heavy hand of government, the very vitality of our people is destroyed."

Connally looked up at the towering arches of the old pink, granite Capitol and noted that "Here on these hallowed grounds, we are in the shadow of glories of strong men of another day. All around us stand majestically the tributes to the courage and dreams of Texans before us. But there are no monuments here to mediocrity.

"They are monuments to the will of man to shape his own destiny to dream his own dreams, to reach for his own stars.

"As we resume the journey here together today, they stand as inspiration to us in our own undertakings. Let us resolve as we begin our work once again to measure up to the daring and to the vision of these great Texans before us. Let us dream the dreams and attempt the deeds of uncommon man," Connally said.

Realtors Urged To Oppose 'Title IV'

"A man ought to have the right to control his own property."

This message was brought to the Snyder Board of Realtors Monday night by Wayland Holt, district attorney, at a meeting in the Steak House. The occasion was the annual installation of new officers.

Holt, the main speaker, called "Title 4 of the Civil Rights Act" the most obnoxious piece of legislation introduced in Congress. This bill, which was defeated, would prevent realtors from refusing to sell, rent or lease proterty to anyone because of their race, religion or number of children.

The District Attorney said the bill is a denial of the civil rights of realtors. Ultimately, it would result in a lowering or destruction of property values.

By way of illustration, he observed that, in his opinion, it would be destructive of property values to rent a two-bedroom house to a family with six children.

This bill, if passed, would be used to force realtors to rent property when they had a legitimate reason for not wanting to, according to Holt.

He pointed out that, although only three Texas Congressmen voted for the bill, it is not a dead issue. He urged local realtors to support their elected officals in their opposition to the bill.

Holt also observed that the local Chamber of Commerce board of directors passed a resolution condemning the proposed law. He declared the National Real Estate Board perhaps had done more "to kill this bill" than any other oranization in the country.

Holt interspersed his remarks with anecdotes and jokes. "I hear there's a bill in Congress," he said, "which would make it unlawful to have more housing inspectors than there are realtors."

In conclusion, the district attorney observed that concerted efforts by individuals can tip the scales "in favor of what is right."

Brud Boren was installed by L. A. McClanahan as the new president of the local board. Other officers are Virginia Eime, secretary, and Wilson Bright, vice president. McClanahan is the outgoing president, Boren is the outgoing vice president, and Mrs. Merle Newton is the outgoing secrtary.

Boren, in making his acceptance speech, urged snyder realtors to support the Code of Ethics and to remian active in civic work.

Don Browning, minister of the East Side Church of Christ, gave the invocation.

Judge Rules Baker Must Face Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Judge Oliver Gasch today denied defense motions to dismiss charges against Bobby Baker because of "bugging" incidents.

Baker, former secretary to the Democratic majority of the Senate, is on trial on multiple charges, including income tax evasion and converting to his own use $80,000 intended as senatorial campaign contributions.

Defense attorney Edward Bennett Williams, in moving for the suppression of certain evidence and dismissal of charges, alleged that the Justice Department violated Baker's constitutional rights by electronic eavesdrpping.

For one thing, he noted that the government equipped Wayne L. Bromely with an electronic transmitter and sent him to a conference in 1965 with Baker at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel in Los Angeles.

Bromley, former lobbyist and former Baker associate, is now testifying for the government at the trial.

Chest X-Ray Film Lost

The West Texas Tuberculosis Association today announced the dismaying news that certain of its x-ray films have been lost -- an apparent result of the Christmas Season rush.

Tracers have been put on the film, but since they have not yet been located, persons holding recipts numbered A - 4742 through A - 5116 are asked to bring their receipts to the mobile x-ray unit for a new -ray. The cost of these repeat x-rays will be borne by the WTTA, and contributions will not be necessary.

Since this is a "first" for the Association, Executive Director Mrs. Clifford Sharp siad she was hopeful the public would be understanding of this "most embarrassing predicament."

It was reported that some of the lost film was taken in Snyder.

More GIs Due In South Vietnam

By BOB HORTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ten thousand more GIs will go to South Vietnam this month, boosting the U.S. force there to 405,000, Pentagon sources said today.

These officials predicted that by the end of the year the United States will be supporting a force of 475,000 in the Southeast Asian country.

At present there are 395,000 American servicemen in South Vietnam. The over-all Southeast Asian commitment stands at nearly 500,000, including 50,000 to 60,000 Navy men aboard ships of the 7th Fleet off Vietnam plus around 30,000 men, mostly Air Force, based in neighboring Thailand.

The steadily expanding buildup was signaled Monday by Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who told a Pentagon news conference there has been no change in President Johnson's policy stated in 1965.

That policy, he said, is that Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in South Vietnam, will be supplied the men and materials he needs.

Published reports have said that the Joint Chiefs of Staff disagree with what was described as an administration-set ceiling of 460,000 to 480,000 men in Vietnam.

Wheeler said Gen. Westmoreland does not differ with Washington officials over what force is needed in South Vietnam.

Wheeler, a four-star general, said he would "stick his neck out" by saying flatly the Communists have lost any chance they once may have had for a military victory in South Vietnam.

Does this mean the United States is bound to win, Wheeler was asked.

"I think so," he replied, declining to pick a date when the moment of victory will come.

Sukarno Advised To Step Down

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik disclosed today he has asked President Sukarno to step down "in the interest of the nation."

Malik told newsmen after meeting Sukarno at his palace he advised the president to make this move before he was brought down in dishonor.

Testimony at various treason trials has tended to connect Sukarno with the attempted Communist coup Oct. 1, 1965. But in a statement last week to Congress, Sukarno denied he had anyhing to do with it.

After the coup, the army cracked down on the Indonesian Communists and gradually took away Sukarno's powers. Since last March, when Gen. Suharto took over as the actual head of Indonesia, Sukarno has been little more than a figurehead.

Malik gave no indication what Sukarno's reaction was to his request.

He asked Sukarno to dissociate himself from everything connected with the presidency he said.

Elaborating on a meting with Sukarno during a ceremony at the Foreign Office, Malik said if necessary Sukarno should appoint someone else until general elections scheduled for 1968 ar held.

Speaking to Sukarno "as a comrade in arms for tens of years in the past" he told the president they needed his help to maintain peace in Indonesia.

Malik warned that if Sukarno faced the present situation without "a clear head and greatness of spirit" he would face serious issues.

Chaos Reported Subsiding With Mao Holding Reins

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP) — Mao Tse-tung and his faction appear to have gained the upper hand in Communist China's power struggle and there are signs the threat of violence in Peking and other major cities is dissipating, the Peking correspondent of the Tokyo newspaper Yomiuri reported today.

The Japanese correspondent said the chaotic situation on the mainland appears to have "passed its peak and the tense situation prevailing over Peking, Shanghai, Nanking and other major cities appears to be subsiding following Mao's personal leadership of the purge."

Wall newspapers in Peking last week reported Mao had returned to the capital, quoting Premier Chou En-lai and other high Communist party officials.

"There is no doubt Mao's appearance played a decisive role to turn the tide of the crisis," the Yomiuri report said but added that the 73-year-old party chairman has not made any public appearances.

He reported that 30,000 anti-Mao workers left their jobs in Shanghai and set out for Peking but were intercepted and persuaded to return.

"Hundreds of thousands of workers had poured into Peking, creating tension last week," the dispatch continued, "but disappeared from the streets after Mao's support to an urgent appeal from Shanghai revolutionary pro-Mao rebels was reported in the People's Daily Thursday."

Earlier Mao's faction had hinted at divisions in its ranks with a call on all pro-Mao organizations to rally around the Red Chinese army.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Last summer I fell in love with a swell guy. He was on leave (I thought) from the service, but he seemed to be staying around for an awfully long time. Then it turned out he was A.W.O.L. I told him if he didn't go right back we were thru. He went back and faced the ordeal which wasn't as bad as I had expected for being A.W.O.L. for 58 days.

To make a long story short, five days after he squared himself for his first A.W.O.L., he went A.W.O.L. again and now he is in the stockade at Fort Bragg, N. C. I understand he will be there for quite a while.

We planned on getting married as soon as he gets out of service. Abby, My problem is should I go thru with those plans? He is really a swell guy.

GOING TO PIECES

DEAR GOING: Wait until this "swell guy" gets out of the stockade, out of service, and into civilian life again and then take a good, hard look at him. You have plenty of time before making a decision.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: On Thanksgiving day you published your favorite blessing to be said before meals. It was the most meaningful "grace" I had ever read, so I clipped it and said it before our Thanksgiving dinner. All of our guests agreed that it was wonderful, and they asked for a copy. A question arose, however, about which there was a difference of opinion. In the line, "May these remembrances STILL us to service," Abby, by "still us" did you mean to "instill in us"? Or did you mean "steel," to make hard or resolute? Thank you.

BOSTON FAN

DEAR BOSTON: Neither. It was a typographical error. The line should have read, "May these remembrances STIR us to service, that thy gifts to us may be used for others. Amen."

• • •

DEAR ABBY: You will never know what marvelous relief and fond memories were revived when I read about the bride who received a silver candle snuffer and wrote to thank the giver for "the darling little gravy dipper."

When my husband and I were married, he was a struggling medical student who worked after school for a distinguished radiologist. For our wedding gift, this man and his wife sent us an elegant sterling silver angel food cake slicer and server. Being unaccustomed to such luxurious items, neither my husband nor I could figure out what this utensil was supposed to be used for. We finally agreed, and I wrote to thank them for the lovely meat tenderizing tool.

Many months later, to my horror and humiliation, I saw a similar "meat tenderizing tool" being used to serve cake at a Christmas party. The lovely lady never mentioned my faux pas, and I hopefully told myself that she probably thought I got my gift cards mixed up when I wrote my thank-you notes.

On Dec. 16, the Division of Corporations, State of California, issued a permit approving said acquisition.

On May 1, 1965, Platt and several other stockholders in Worldwide Petroleum Corporation, an Oklahoma Corporation, sold approximately 80 per cent of the issued and outstanding stock in Worldwide Petroleum Corporation to Consolidated Oil & Gas, Inc., a company on the American and Pacific Coast Stock Exchanges, for a sum in excess of $1,000,000. Biggest Catch This Year Is White Tail

DENISON, Tex. (AP)—Texoma has had its biggest catch of 1967—a 120 pound white tail deer.

It was caught on a trotline at Sand Point, 15 miles north of Denison on Lake Texoma, set out by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Krick of Durant, Okla.

Oklahoma Game Warden Bruce Oakley was called by Krick, and he came to the scene and found an eight-point buck deer struggling valiantly to keep its head above water despite a broken leg.

Oakley surmised that the deer had been flushed by an animal which chased him into the water, where he became tangled in the trotline. The buck was one of the deer released by the state in the Texoma area to increase the deer population after hunters had thinned it out.

"I've heard of catching a lot of unusual things on a trotline," Oakley said, "but never a deer. There have been ducks and raccoons in the past that I know of."

Oakley said the frightened animal was alive when he got it ashore, but it died shortly afterward. Because of the unusual cause of its death, he had the carcass buried instead of giving it to schools for use in their lunchroom programs.

Charcoaled Hamburgers Best In Test

Hamburgers cooked outside on a grill using hardwood charcoal are the best eating, according to an evaluation study made recently by two associate professors in the college of agriculture and home economics, University of Arkansas.

A trained taste panel of 10 members was used in the study. They compared similar hamburger patties roasted in an electric oven and broiled on an outdoor gas grill with those charcoal grilled.

P. K. Lewis, Jr., and T. L. Goodwin, directors of the study, presented the findings at the 58th annual meeting of the American Society of Animal Science last August at Rutgers University.

First in 8 Tests

Charcoal grilled hamburgers scored first in 8 of the 10 taste tests. In texture and cooked color electric roasted hamburgers scored highest. Cooking losses were lowest in hamburgers cooked on the gas grill and highest in those cooked in the electric oven.

The overall evaluation showed charcoal grilling to be 21 per cent better than electric roasting and nearly 13 per cent better than gas grilling.

Tests in which charcoal grilled hamburgers scored highest were aroma, intensity of aroma, flavor, intensity of flavor, tenderness, juiciness, doneness and charcoal flavor.

How They Scored

Each member of the taste panel rated the samples as 5 for very good, 4 for good, 3 for medium, 2 for fair and 1 as unacceptable. On this basis charcoal's overall evaluation was 3.32 as compared to 2.93 for gas and 2.74 for electric.

Temperatures for the beginning of the test were 177 degrees C in the oven, 235 degrees C on the gas grill surface and 368 degrees C on the charcoal grill surface. The hamburgers were cooked on the grills for two minutes on one side and one minute on the other side. Those cooked in the electric oven were given 20 minutes and 10 minutes.

School Heads Speak To Travis P-TA

Travis Parent-Teachers Association met in regular session Monday evening. Mrs. Fino Crowder, president, presided. After the opening prayer by Mrs. B. J. Bartels, Mrs. Crowder turned the program over to Mr. Pat Falls, Mr. Ben Brock and Mr. V. V. Shearburn.

Mr. Falls, assistant superintendent of Schools gave a great deal of information on "New Resources for Better Learning" and told of a "teaching machine" in California that an IBM Co. has, and has extended an invitation to Dr. Robert Clinton to come to Calif. to examine and see the operation of the machine, at the IBM company expense.

Mr. Brock, high school principal, gave an informative review of the requirements for entering high school and the wide selection of courses available for Snyder students.

Mr. Shearburn, counselor, told of the efforts being made to keep young people interested in school and various phases of help available to students. All three men answered questions asked by parents.

Following the program, Mrs. Kenneth Smith read the minutes and Mrs. James Beckham gave the treasurer's report. Refreshments were served to approximately 35 persons.

Texas Democrats Begin Festive Inauguration Day

By JACK KEEVER

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. John Connally jokingly called it "the only inauguration without a governor."

Posing for photographers Monday in her long, white, inaugural gown, Mrs. Connally mentioned the governor was upstairs in bed, ill with a virus the day before his third inauguration.

He was on his feet, however, to join thousands of other Democrats Monday night at a $25-a-plate "victory dinner" in the Municipal Auditorium.

That was the beginning of a two-night, one-day Democratic celebration, honoring Connally and Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, who have held their jobs since January 1963.

Tuesday, inaugural day, was to be festive, with the program caling primarily for an outdoor affair.

But the U. S. Weather Bureau advised Austin visitors to hold their hats and button their coats, because of predicted 50-degree temperature, winds up to 30 miles an hour out of the north and a slight chance of rain. If the weather gets too bad the inaugural was to be moved to the House of Representatives chamber.

Receptions, starting throughout the old Capitol at 9 a.m. were to give brief glimpses of such rooms as the secretary of state's outer office—where there are an awful lot of pretty girls—the vault in the State Treasury and the governor's office.

A concert on the lawn by the University of Texas band was set for 11 a.m., 20 minutes before the line of march assembled for the high noon inaugural ceremony and 42 minutes before it moved to the inaugural platform at the south entrance to the Capitol.

Connally and Smith were to attend a 1 p.m. luncheon given by the National Guard Association at the downtown Stephen F. Austin Hotel and a 3 p.m. parade from Municipal Auditorium across Town Lake to 11th Street, which fronts the Capitol's south door.

Color guards, military units—including 11 Austin units of the National Guard—floats and at least 20 high school bands were ready to march the 2-mile long route.

Connally and Smith were the only two officials to speak Monday night to a $25-a-plate banquet at the Austin Memorial Auditorium.

Connally, who said "I've seldom felt worse" because of a sore throat and virus, told the dinner gathering the Texas Democratic Party owed much to the courage and statesmanship of its legislators.

"I anticipate one of the most productive legislative sessions in the history of Texas," he said. "There will be difficulties, there will be controversies, but hopefully we will be able to lay out a challenging program of progress for our wonderful state."

The governor told the gathering, "I am proud to be a partisan Democrat because of the progressive attitude of those who seek and hold office under the Democratic banner."

Smith said:

"I am sorry the Democratic committee was not able to get the main speaker of their choice tonight. We had hoped to bring in the well known fiction write., Mr. William Manchester. but he could not come, he was too busy working on his next book—A new history of Texas, to be entitled: 'Santa Anna Was Right'."

Smith Jests About Book

AUSTIN (AP) — Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, speaking to a group of Texas Democrats celebrating his and Gov. John Connally's new terms, Monday night referred to author William Manchester as "The well-known fiction writer."

Smith, joking to a $25-a-plate dinner crowd, said the author of "The Death of a President" was the Democratic committee's first choice for a speaker.

"We had hoped to bring in the well known fiction writer, Mr. William Manchester," Smith said, "but he could not come. He was too busy working on his next book—a new history of Texas, to be entitled 'Santa Anna Was Right'."

Santa Anna was the leader of the Mexican Army when Texas won its independence.

Manchester's book, commissioned by Mrs. Jacqueline Kennerly was what was intended to be a historical work, is highly critical of Gov. Connally.

American Jailed For Taking A Turtle

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — An American who spent the weekend in jail for stealing a turtle is free on $150 appeal bond today.

Mark William Lavelly, 21, of Columbus, Ohio, and an Australian, Joseph E. Cooke, 24, were sentenced to a month in jail. Cooke was trying to raise his bail.

The two said they took the turtle as a prank. At the court's order Saturday the turtle was returned to the tank of a tortoise shell manufacturer from where it was taken.

Mrs. Gandhi Carries Bid To India's Illiterate Millions

AP SPOTLIGHT

By JOE MCGOWAN JR

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — With a mounting tide of voices predicting her defeat, Prime Minister Indira Gandhi has turned her back on the politicians and is carrying her determined bid for re-election to the illiterate millions in India's dusty villages and squalid townships.

Mrs. Gandhi completes her first year in office Jan. 24, and heads toward general elections next month. The political pundits have all but written her off.

But the daughter of Jawaharlal Nehru is ignoring them and is campaigning as though there isn't the slightest doubt that she will be back to guide this troubled nation through a full 5-year term.

Mrs. Gandhi's campaign will take her to every corner of India. She will travel in a gleaming new jet airliner given by the Soviets, in automobiles, in jeeps. To get to villages where vehicular access is impossible she will campaign on foot.

She will not be campaigning for her own individual seat in Parliament — its victory is virtually assured — but she must drive for a better-than-expected showing by her ruling Congress party if she is to remain prime minister.

The people will only elect Mrs. Gandhi to a seat in Parliament. This election will take place in Rae Bareli, a small constituency in Uttar Pradesh State.

Then, after all the elections are over, it will be up to the Congress party hierarchy whether Mrs. Gandhi will form the government to run India until 1972.

It's relatively easy to get a bet that she will not be the next prime minister, although the odds now are about even either way.

What has happened to the political stock of the 49-year-old widow who one year ago made a smashing victory in the race for a successor to Lal Bahadur Shastri? After all, she had the aura of the Nehru name, she had youth, ample political background and a good deal of personal magnetism.

Mrs. Gandhi enjoyed the usual cease-fire during a political leaders first 100 days in office. After that, things went sour, partly through her own action and partly through natural calamity or the mistakes of her predecessors, including her father.

Another year of drought and the subsequent food shortages and dependence upon foreign aid were not of Mrs. Gandhi's doing, but they fostered wide public unrest and civil strife.

Intensified agitation for a nationwide ban on cow slaughter, which reached a peak with rioting in New Delhi Nov. 7, could at best be termed election year opportunism by opposition groups. As agitation intensified, Mrs. Gandhi herself asked, "Why is it such interest in the welfare of cows happens only every five years?"

She meant election periods.

Mrs. Gandhi also could not be blamed (although she was) for devaluation of the rupee. She could be criticized for failing to carry out devaluation with regulations and fiscal measures preventing further price rises and weakening of the rupee.

In her political maneuvering and her international relations Mrs. Gandhi has shown at various times a poor sense of timing, a seeming tendency to act without regard to the consequences, and an inability to keep some of her key political associates on her side.

Last July before leaving New Delhi on a state visit to the United Arab Republic, Yugoslavia and the U.S.S.R., Mrs. Gandhi issued a broad new initiative for a peaceful settlement in Vietnam. She did so in such a way as to indicate a big move by India, but unfortunately she included no proposals that hadn't already been rejected in Washington or Hanoi, and she made no direct followup. In fact, at her next stop, Cairo, she didn't even succeed in getting Vietnam in the final communique with President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Her leaning to Washington in the matter of devaluation, foreign investment and private sector ownership chilled Moscow's attitude. Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin put off a scheduled state visit to India.

But Mrs. Gandhi didn't reap any benefits from the United States, because she kept irritating Washington with repeated demands for cessation of bombing of North Vietnam, coupled with a lack of censure for the Viet Cong and Hanoi forces.

Against this background, Mrs. Gandhi is taking to the countryside, much in the same manner as her illustrious father, hoping to charm the peasants into casting their ballots for the only party which has ruled since independence.

She may, but it will be an uphill battle.

Are Your Pockets Jingling? Don't Take It For Granted!

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP) — You may take for granted the change jingling in your pockets but the Treasury Department doesn't — at least not anymore.

It took two acts of Congress, round-the-clock operations of the nation's mints for more than two years and some rummaging through warehouses and museums for spare machinery to lick a coin shortage which plagued the nation for more than three years.

The work isn't finished yet.

There are plenty of pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters — in fact, the Treasury now has a backlog of five million pieces — but there still is a nagging shortage of half dollars. However, Robert A. Wallace, assistant secretary of the Treasury who led the government's assault on the coin shortage, figures that half dollars should be circulating in everyday commerce within a few months.

What caused the shortage?

Treasury officials blamed the huge expansion of the vending machine industry, a growing population and a sizeable jump in general commercial activity.

They pointed also to toll roads, pay telephones, parking meters and even sales taxes. Coins can lie in a vending machine for days or even a week before collection. The corner storekeeper pushes money back into circulation within minutes after receiving it.

The reasons behind the half-dollar shortage are related to this with one important difference.

After the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in 1963, Congress voted to change the likeness on the half dollar from Benjamin Franklin to Kennedy. The coins immediately were gobbled up as mementoes.

Adding to the crisis, Treasury officials said, was hoarding by speculators and even by businessmen who feared they wouldn't have enough coins to carry on their operations.

A spotty shortage was felt first during the 1962 Christmas shopping season. During 1963, the Treasury asked and received authority from Congress to build a new mint at Philadelphia as a long-range solution to the problem. It put the existing mints at Philadelphia and Denver on overtime that fall to produce enough coins for the Christmas season.

In early 1964, however, the substantial flowback of coins to banks which normally occurs after Christmas failed to develop. By June the department had announced a crash program to alleviate what was developing into a serious shortage. It put the Philadelphia and Denver mints on a seven-day week and opened the San Francisco assay office to make blanks which could be turned into coins by the mints.

The department scoured the countryside for coin presses and even reactivated one which had been placed in a Carson City, Nev., museum. Congress gave the Treasury authority to continue using the 1964 date on all coins, thus pulling the rug on speculators.

Then a new problem arose. The department's silver supply faced depletion because of the stepped-up production. Dimes, quarters and halves at the time contained 90 per cent silver. Congress approved the Coinage Act of 1965 which took silver out of all dimes and quarters and reduced the amount in half dollars to 40 per cent. A copper-nickel alloy was substituted.

That act also permitted the department to produce coins at San Francisco and to date coins 1965 as long as necessary. It came none too soon.

By Oct. 31, 1965, the government's inventory of quarters had shrunk to 15 million but on Nov. 1 another 200 million cupro-nickel quarters were pumped into the system. The inventory of quarters now exceeds one billion.

With the silver problem ended, the mints working round-the-clock and the Treasury buying metal strip as fast as industry could produce it, the coin shortage eased and by last July was officially declared ended, except for half dollars.

On July 6, the department announced it would mint 1966 coins beginning Aug. 1 and would resume annual dating of all coins on Jan. 1. The mints returned to a five-day week around Thanksgiving.

During the year which ended June 30, 1961, coin production reached a record, up to that time, of almost 3.06 billion pieces. But during 1966 production reached 9.5 billion pieces.

What about hoarding of old coins for their silver content?

Wallace doesn't think this makes sense. The coins are too numerous to have any numismatic value and their silver content can never reach face value as long as the department maintains the price of silver at $1.29 an ounce which it intends to do.

The price of silver would have to rise to $1.38 an ounce before the silver in the old halves, quarters and dimes would be worth face value of the coins.

New Ruling Against Estes

AMARILLO (AP) — A federal judge has entered a $2 million judgment against Billie Sol Estes on a claim by one of the loan firms involved in Estes' collapsed financial empire.

Estes, the former Texas farm promoter from Pecos, is serving a 15-year federal prison term at Sandstone, Minn., on a fraud conviction.

U. S. Dist. Judge Sarah T. Hughes entered the judgment Monday. It directs that Estes pay $2,035,354 to Pacific Finance Corp. of Los Angeles.

Estes has been adjudged bankrupt. His family is said to be living comfortably in Abilene.

Pacific originally sought $4.3 million from 19 individuals and four firms. Subsequent court actions disposed of all but the Estes case.

The suit was filed in federal district court here shortly after Estes was arrested at Pecos in March of 1962.

Judge Hughes' order stated Estes should pay 6 per cent interest to Pacific until the full amount is paid.

Role Of Silver Is Changing

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Silver is at the crossroads in its historic but fast diminishing role as a storehouse of U. S. monetary value.

But Treasury officials are convinced enough silver is available to carry the nation through to late 1968, expected end of the transition period for the new copper-nickel coins.

And officials have some aces in the hole to make sure the silver supply will be sufficient.

Future government policy on silver is in the hands of a 24-man commission on the coinage set up by Congress in 1965 when it took all silver out of dimes and quarters and reduced the silver content of half dollars from 90 to 40 per cent, thus averting a silver crisis.

That commission — all its members have not yet been named — will look into the time and circumstances when the Treasury should stop maintaining the price of silver, future policy and other silver matters.

The mining industry foresees an increase in price — now maintained by the Treasury at $1.29 an ounce — as inevitable.

The nation is using more silver, especially for industrial purposes, than it produces and imports. The Treasury fills the gap by selling its stocks to private industry.

Booming industrial uses range from rockets to photography to batteries. Industrial and artistic use last year totaled about 150 million ounces compared with 110 million ounces in 1962.

Of the total Treasury stock of about 591 million ounces, about 438 million ounces back paper money — the outstanding silver certificates issued after June 30, 1929. This leaves about 153 million ounces for other uses.

Many of the silver certificates undoubtedly have been destroyed by fire, flood, ship sinkings and other disasters. By declaring some of them lost or destroyed, the Treasury could free possibly millions of ounces of silver for industrial use.

Another step to free more silver could be to place a deadline on redemption of silver certificates. After the deadline, a person would be unable to obtain silver for them but would receive other currency or coins.

GOPs Begin Fund-Raising; Demos Wait And See

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Republicans are off and running in fund-raising for the 1968 campaign but Democrats are waiting to see what trends Congress takes before starting their drive.

Sen. George Murphy of California, newly elected chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said he is beginning to deploy GOP "fresh faces" across the country for what he hopes will be an uninterrupted appeal for votes up to election day next year.

But Sen. Warren G. Magnuson of Washington, chairman of Democratic senatorial campaigners, took the position in a separate interview that it's too early to get excited about an election so far away.

Under the party custom, Magnuson must be replaced as chairman because his own seat is at stake in 1968. But he said Democrats decided to postpone any decision on a successor "until things shake down."

Reports to the clerk of the House show that Magnuson's committee spent little more than half what its counterpart GOP group spent in the 1966 campaign: Democrats $356,457, Republicans $639,640.

Murphy said congressional Republicans are staging a $500-a-plate March dinner in Washington to honor the party's new members of the House and Senate. Magnuson said Democratic dinners are only in the preliminary planning stage.

Most of the GOP dinner money will be spent nationally. Murphy said the five new GOP senators elected last November and the 11 whose seats will be at stake next year will be asked to fill speaking engagements at fund-raising dinners across the country.

Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois took on such an assignment Monday night when he told a Republican "victory" dinner in Harrisburg, Pa., that Congress should not abandon humanitarian programs by escalation of the Vietnam war in search of "total victory."

Percy, Sen. Clifford P. Hansen, R-Wyo., and four new House members participated in a party telecast Monday night over the CBS network.

Another Wordy Deluge Due About The War In Vietnam

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—A year passes. The questions and answers about Vietnam begin again. The same voices speak. They sound sometimes like an old record with the needle stuck — nothing has changed much.

That is, nothing has changed much in the arguments or the ones making them. There have been changes.

The United States has more troops in Vietnam, about 385,000 now to about 180,000 a year ago. More than 6,630 U.S. military men have been killed in Vietnam since 1961, over 5,000 of them in the last year.

In fact, more American military men have been killed in Vienam than in the Revolutionary War, the War of 1812, the Mexican War, or the Spanish-American War.

And the longer the war the more the damage to President Johnsons popularity and the greater the number of his critics. The war itself looks no nearer an end than it did this time last year.

But the talking goes on, like the bombing of North Vietnam.

Behind closed doors Monday Secretary of State Dean Rusk spent four hours testifying about the war before the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee whose chairman, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, is one of Johnson's most persistent critics.

Next Monday Rusk will face the same committee in public. Last year he did the same. At that time Fulbright said the war did not involve the national interest of the United States.

He said it was the kind of war that keeps on escalating, hardly a prophetic statement since the war has been getting bigger year by year.

Monday, Fulbright, sounding exactly like himself of a year ago, said the fundamental issue is whether the war is in "our national interest." Many things have happened in a year but Fulbright still makes that the basic issue.

But the claim that American national interest and security are the main reasons for this country's involvement in the war has been the Johnson administration's basic position from the beginning.

After talking privately to the committee Monday, Rusk talked to newsmen and said U.S. bombing of the north must continue while this country keeps trying "to find out" whether stopping the bombing would be a move toward peace.

If the north stops trying to seize South Vietnam by force, Rusk said, peace can come very quickly.

A year ago he said if the armed attack against South Vietnam is brought to an end, peace can come very quickly.

Thus the position of the Johnson administration is what it was a year ago, just as there is nothing in Fulbright's view in 1967 that seems different from his view in 1966.

The North Vietnamese in recent weeks have let some American newsmen visit them and talk with their top officials. At one time they might sound more inclined to talk peace than another but then again they don't.

So, apparently the position of North Vietnam has not changed. It continues to ignore the American position that if it wants the bombing stopped it must give evidence it will stop its attack on South Vietnam.

In the past year millions of words have been written and spoken in this country for and against the war. At the rate things are going there will be another wordy deluge this year.

Junior Editors Quiz on CLOUDS

QUESTION: Why are there different kinds of clouds?

• • •

ANSWER: The air always contains some amount of water in the form of tiny droplets of water vapor. On a clear day, these are invisible. But if the air is cooled to a certain extent, these droplets condense or become visible—becoming clouds. There are 10 main types of clouds, caused by different conditions of temperature and wind. We haven't space to list them all, but a good way to get acquainted with them is to learn about the four kinds we show, for the others are combinations of these. Cirrus are feathery wispy clouds very high in the sky. They are composed of ice crystals: wind often follows their appearance. Cumulus clouds, puffy shaped like cauliflowers, often drift lazily across the summer sky, and are signs of good weather. When they gather and pile up high into thunderheads, however, watch out—a thunderstorm or squall may be on the way. Stratus is low and sheet-like; it is like fog. When this becomes nimbostratus, however, which look darker, with rain streaks coming down, it's best to head for home. Rain may come, with strong wind as well.

Trip Through Twilight Zone Of Carbons

By GORDON BEARD

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — I'm not eligible for medicare yet, and it's just as well. I can't even understand the simple form to be filled out for a routine acident case.

This is not a complaint about hospitals or their employes. After all, a gash on my little finger, left hand — self-inflicted with a knife while looking for a midnight snack — was sewn up quickly and without fuss.

It was those preliminaries, in the twilight zone of the carbon copies, where I lost contact with reality.

Actually, it all started when I walked into a hospital emergency room about 1 a.m., my bandaged finger held aloft and my right hand cutting off the flow of blood.

"May we help you?" was the first question. I should have known what was to follow.

"What seems to be the trouble?" the nurse asked, reaching for the duplicate form.

"What's your last name?"

"Beard."

"B-e-a-r-d?"

"Yes," I answered, squeezing my finger a bit tighter.

"First name?"

"Gordon."

"Middle initial?"

"Well, actually, my middle name is Gordon." Now, she didn't know what to do with the "r," my first initial.

"What's your mailing address?" Presumably, in case I kept bleeding and they needed help in finishing the form.

"201 1st Street, Greenwood Acres."

"Let's see, did I spell 'Acres' right?"

"What was your birth date?" Hurry up, I may not have another one.

"Are you married?" They must have a lot of domestic quarrels around here.

"How did you cut the finger?" Boy, they really have specialists in this hospital.

"What time did it happen?"

"Twelve twenty-seven and one half." She didn't record the one-half.

"Who brought you here?" Now they think I'm a member of a gang.

"Who's your family doctor?" They're still trying to trap the rest of the mob.

Suddenly I realized it was all legitimate. The next question brought me back to reality.

"Do you have insurance?"

Week Shows Drop In Production

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Production of domestic crude and lease condensate declined slightly last week, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

For the week the average was 8,528,750 barrels daily, down 1,940 from the previous week.

A sharp decline in Oklahoma was offset by an increase in Kansas. Oklahoma production averaged 610,330 barrels a day, down 10,855 for the week, and Kansas averaged 276,730, up 19,900.

Figures were unchanged for Texas at 2,958,150, Louisiana at 1,985,000 and New Mexico at 355,700.

Thieves Due Letdown

BRILON, Germany (AP) — Thieves who stole a heavy truck Monday night with beer advertisements painted on its side are due for a letdown, police reported today. The truck contained no beer — just 200 sacks of salt.

Book's Changes Involved Children

By GEORGE ESPER

NEW YORK (AP)—Many changes made in settling the Kennedy book controversy out of court with Harper & Row involved what the late president's two children said and did in the immediate period following his assassination, it was learned today.

A source close to the Kennedy family said that in all roughly 6,000 to 8,000 words figured in the changes in William Manchester's book, "The Death of a President."

"Many changes involved the children and their reaction in the period of the assassination and what they said and did," the source said. "It was nothing embarrassing, but it was very sensitive and could be difficult for the children in the future."

An official of Harper & Row said that the changes involve a cumulative total of about 8 pages out of 654.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy's lawsuit to block publication of the book was withdrawn Monday when Harper & Row and Manchester agreed to delete or modify certain personal passages of concern to President Kennedy's widow.

The settlement, which came after nearly a month of negotiations, clears the way for Harper & Row to go ahead with its scheduled publication of a hardcover edition in April and a paperback edition to be published by Dell Books at least a year later.

"In settling the current controversy, a few personal passages of concern to Mrs. Kennedy have been deleted or modified by mutual agreement of all parties," said Cass Canfield chairman of the executive committee of Harper & Row.

"The changes that have been made involving a cumulative total of some 8 pages in a book of 654 pages of text have affected neither its historical interest nor its narrative power," Canfield said in a statement.

"In our opinion, the book as we will publish it in April based upon acess to unique sources will proudly stand as a dramatic account of the fateful days from November 20 to 22, 1963," Canfield said.

Manchester said "out-of-court settlements" are often called 'compromises.'

"In this case," he continued, "a more accurate description would be 'a resolution of misunderstandings.'"

Galveston's Application Was Tardy

AUSTIN (AP)— Poverty war officials in Galveston County did not get their application in on time and that's why they have no money yet for their programs, says a spokesman for the poverty war's Southwest regional office.

The executive director of the Galveston Community Action Council, Miss Irene Randolph, charged Monday there was a need for "less paper shuffling and more action."

The regional office spokesman said applications for funds must be filed 75 days before money is needed to assure timely approval. The Galveston application was received on Dec. 5, he said.

Also, the application failed to comply with other requirements, he said. The regional office had to ask for additional material, he said, and while this might be paper-shuffling to some it is "protection of the taxpayer's money" to others.

The regional office needs 75 days, he said, because its small staff must process applications from more than 180 such community action agencies.

The Galveston application is in the final stages of review, he said, and action is expected soon.

Three More Texans Among Casualties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Texans were listed by the Defense Department Monday among 64 victims of hostile action in the Vietnam War.

The Texas victims included two Army men, Cpl. John D. Burns Jr., of Broaddus and Pfc. Bobby Goldhagen of Waco, and Marine Corps Pfc. Paul R. Nicholas Jr., of Clayton.

Burns was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Burns, general delivery, Broaddus, Goldhagen son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Goldhagen of Waco, Nicholas the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Patterson of Clayton.

America's third President, Thomas Jefferson, had a sure-fire cure for indigestion — a few miles ride on a spirited horse.

Fluvanna Young Farmers Win Two State Awards

A sizeable delegation of Young Farmers from the Fluvanna Chapter attended the annual state convention of the State Association of Young Farmers Jan. 12-14 in Corpus Christi, and they returned home with two outstanding awards.

The Fluvanna Chapter received recognition as the runnerup Outstanding Young Farmer chapter in the state. Don Jones accepted the award on behalf of the chapter. Advisor to the chapter is Bill Jennings.

A second place trophy for Chapter Publicity also was presented to the young farmers from Fluvanna.

The program, which was held in the Corpus Christi coliseum, featured an address by Louie Freeman, editor of the Polled Hereford World.

Outstanding state officer award went to Billy Paul Russell of Pittsburgh. Stanley White of Stephenville, and a former resident of Klondike, received the outstanding area officer award.

The Brenham Chapter won first place in the Outstanding Young Farmer Chapter contest, and the Parker County Chapter was judged best in state publicity. West Brazos was recognized as the outstanding new chapter.

The Star Young Farmer award went to Lee J. Fazzino of Bryan, and the runnerup trophy was presented to Donald Hancock of Terry County. Hancock, 30, owns and operates 650 acres of cropland, most of which is irrigated. In addition, he leases 400 acres. His principal crops are cotton, soybeans and milo. He has $53,500 invested in farm machinery and equipment with a total farming investment of $288,840.

Ben Long, Jr. of Weatherford was elected first vice president, and Calvin Baker of Gonzales was installed as the new state president.

Other speakers included Dr. Harvey C. Hahn of Dayton, Ohio, a representative of General Motors; and Lewis R. Timberlake, employe of Western Republic Life Insurance Co.

Contest Set By Lone Wolf Cooperative

All expense paid trips to the nation's capitol city will be awarded to winners of an oratorical contest was announced this week by James Hull, manager of Lane Wofe Electric Cooperative.

The contest is open to any boy or girl at least 16 years of age prior to Sept. 1, 1967, Hull said Winners will join winners of similar contests sponsored by other electric cooperatives across Texas on the third annual Texas Electric Cooperative Government-in-Action Youth Tour to Washington, D. C. All expenses of the 13 day trip beginning June 8, will be paid by Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative, Hull said.

Each entrant will be required to give a 5 to 8 minute talk on the subject "A Youth Looks at His Community." Also each entrant will be required to answer 1 or more of 50 questions asked by the judges

The oratorical contest will be judged on the basis of (1) knowledge of the subject - 40 per cent; (2) speaking ability - 30 per cent; (3) poise - 10 per cent; (4) personality 10 per cent; (5) appearance - 10 per cent.

Interested young people may obtain an official entry blank from their school or the offices of Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative. The deadline for submitting entries will be February 17, according to Mr. Hull.

As participants in the Texas Electric Cooperative Youth Tour, local contest winners will travel by chartered bus to Washington, D. C., where they will spend four days visiting places of historical interest and seeing the nation's government in action.

Republicans Reply With Budget-Cutting Demands

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican rebuttal to President Johnson's State of the Union message will demand a budget cutting drive to avert the 6 per cent surtax on most incomes that Johnson has proposed.

But while opposing the surtax, the GOP will endorse the U S position in Vietnam which, in part, is causing the need for additional income. At the same time, it will accuse the administration of foreign policy blunders elsewhere in the world.

The Republican leaders of Congress, Sen. Everett M Dirksen and Rep. Gerald R. Ford will outline their view of the State of the Union Thursday night in a 30-minute nationally televised report from the Capitol's old Supreme Court chamber.

Their speeches are still in preparation, and all the decisions have not yet been made. But a Senate source familiar with the GOP's basic points provided an advance account today.

Dirksen will deal with foreign policy, reaffirming GOP support of the President's course in Vietnam. But his report also will raise critical questions about policy elsewhere, the source said.

Dirksen will criticize administration handling of the Alliance for Progress programs in Latin America and also complain of disarray in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

In addition, the source said, Dirksen will have critical words about U.S. policy in Africa and the Middle East.

There will be criticism, too, of American trade policies, alleging that they have caused harm to some U.S. industries, the source said.

Ford, who will be in charge of domestic questions, already has promised a Republican effort to cut domestic spending and scrap the proposed 6 per cent surtax.

Ford advocates an 8 per cent increase in Social Security payments, far less than the 20 per cent Johnson proposed. He said Republicans want future Social Security increases triggered whenever the cost of living climbs 3 per cent, contending this would provide increased benefits with no boost in Social Security taxes.

Ford will advocate steps to prepare the United States for possible deployment of an anti-ballistic missile system to counter one said to be under construction in the Soviet Union.

Ford will declare that Johnson has not used appropriations voted by past Congresses to begin advance work on an anti-ballistic missile system.

Johnson, in his address, did not recommend deployment of such a missile defense network.

Ford also will propose a program to split a share of federal tax revenues with the states and cities—scaling down some current federal aid programs to provide more money for the unrestricted grants.

Your passport to the world

Your telephone can carry your voice to almost any corner of the globe at the speed of light. Pretty amazing when you stop to think about it. Fact is, you can reach 97 percent of the telephones in the world by Long Distance. And closer to home, you can call more people and more places in Texas than ever before. That's just one way your telephone service has grown in value over the years.

Another way is in transmission quality. Today's phone users can talk as though they were four feet apart. Back in the early 1930's, it was 35 feet. And the low cost of telephone service makes it a real bargain. Today you can make a three-minute, station-to-station call to any point in the continental United States (except Alaska) for $1 or less after 8 p.m. or all day Sunday. Better service to more places at lower cost. We think that's a winning combination.

Small Grain Crops Poor

AUSTIN (AP) — The U. S. Department of Agriculture says small grain conditions west and south of the Texas Blacklands are "very poor."

In its weekly crop-weather report, the department said grain conditions generally are poor across the state, although rains improved conditions along the Gulf Coast and in East Texas.

There is increasing wind erosion in the Panhandle, with some damage to wheat.

No effective moisture has been received by the High Plains dryland wheat crop since planting, the department said, and it's condition is poor.

Oat conditions also continue poor, and flax planting continues slow, "far behind last year's schedule."

Freezing rain, sleet and snow curtailed vegetable harvest in the Lower Rio Grande Valley last week. Growth was slowed, but moisture received was beneficial. Cabbage, Carrots, Lettuce, spinach, broccoli, cauliflower, celery and assorted greens were available. Citrus continues to move in good volume.

Range and livestock conditions continued depressed because of low temperatures and drought conditions.

South America's feathered hoatzins are hatched with claws on their wings. The strange birds use the claws as extra legs to climb through tangled underbrush.

Sweetwater Invades Bengal Gym Tonight

Sweetwater brings it's 2 - 3 mark to Tiger gym tonight for the final basketball contest in the first round for Coach Ned Underwood's Snyder Tigers. Tipoff is at 8:15 p.m., following a tussle between the "B" teams of both schools.

The Bengals will not return to action until Jan. 24 when Lamesa invades the Bengal den to get second round action underway.

The Mustangs lost five lettermen through graduation, but Coach Truett Mobley has three returning: Gary Ruffin 5-11, Bobby Powell 6-0, and David Green 5-10. Two of these lettermen—Powell and Green—have been beaten out for starting assignments by talented newcomers.

Joining Ruffin on the firing line are Randy Feagan 5 - 10, Sidney Green 6-4, Bill Donnelly 6-0, Albert Russell 5-10, and Howard Johnson 5-11.

Coaches Underwood and Bill Hartsfield of the Tigers can counter with a 3-2 district mark. Probable starters will include Bobby Clardy, Eldon Woodward, Mickey Almond, Tommy Bullard and Langston Powell or Frankie Grimmett.

Against Brownfield last week, the Tigers were hotter than a pistol, sinking well over 50 per cent of their shots. They have the home court advantage against Levelland and Lamesa in the second round and their momentum could carry them into a share of the crown.

However, an old foe stands in the way tonight, and you can throw away the book on past performances when these two teams collide. Any prediction on the outcome would be a gamble.

Coach Tyrone listed probable "B" team starters as Benny Ward, Mitch Rambin, Jerry January, Jodi Williamson and Jimmy Ramage.

Virginia Grove, student council sponsor, has planned an interesting halftime show. The East Elementary choir will sing under the direction of Mrs. Mary Beth Vestal. They also will present a "bamboo pole hop."

Tickets are 25 cents for students and 75 cents for adults.

Lamesa Wins Two Games Over Lamar

LAMESA — Lamesa belted Snyder Lamar in 8th and 9th grade basketball games Monday night.

The Lamesans triumphed over the Lamar 8th graders by 44-23, and Lamesa 9th took a 41-30 decision from Lamar 9th.

Jeff Stewart and Glenn Rambin scored 5 points each for Lamar 8th, while Steve Dillaha had 4 points, Max Falls 3, Mike Shearburn, Bid Cooper and Bill Wilson 2 each.

Davis scored 17 points to pace Lamesa 8th. The Lamesa 8th grade team held a 29-12 lead at the half.

Lamesa's 9th graders leaped out to a 16-5 lead in the first period, and although Lamar played on even terms for the remainder of the game, Lamesa 9th was able to thwart all attempts at a Lamar rally.

Lee McNair paced the Lamar scorers with 21 points, while Billy Bowden had 4, Larry Greene 3 and Randy Levens and Phil Ator 1 each. Floyd Jenkins was top scorer for Lamesa 9th with 18 points.

WIRE FINISH — Joe Davis, 16-year-old sprinter from Bowie High School, finds an unusual hurdle in form of a barbed wire fence on the newly built oval track at the school. Coach Bobby Rexrode makes it a little easier by stretching the wire for the runner to pass through. The fence was erected over a portion of the track by a citizen who claimed the fenced plot was not in the land that he sold to the school. (AP Wirephoto)

Vols Win, 'Cats Fall

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tennessee upset 10th-ranked Florida and Georgia upset sinking Kentucky, but Adolph Rupp of the Wildcats was more upset than anyone Monday night. And another defeat was not the reason.

"If I had 13,500 seats, I'd try to fill them," said the Kentucky Baron, whose Wildcats lost 49-40 after Georgia's stalling tactics left Kentucky leading 8-6 at the half.

Rupp pointed out that the fans normally object to low-scoring games, then added cuttingly, "Of course, it looks like they outsmarted us. After all Ken Rosemond won. He's the fair-haired boy and I'm just the old man."

"I now the fans don't like it," said Rosemond, whose Bulldogs beat Kentucky for the first time since 1950, "but you can't let the fans dictate how you play the game.

"Our kids realize their limitations, and it wasn't hard to convince them we had to do something. Our game plan was to hold them the first half and play them the second, and it worked perfectly."

Rosemond, whose team has won only six of 12 games, is in his second year at Georgia.

Kentucky, a regular college basketball power with a 572-152 record entering its 38th season under Rupp, fell to 5-7. A preseason pick for the Top Ten after finishing second in the NCAA playoffs last March, the Wildcats are on their way to possibly their worst season under Rupp.

Rosemond said Kentucky should have been forced to try to break up the stall under rules that require a team to have two men out forcing the action on defense if it is behind or the score is tied.

However, Rupp retorted, "The team with the ball should be forced to play. How can you expect the team without the ball to start the action?"

Tennessee moved faster than Florida, but still relied on a deliberate game to upend the Gators 66-53 and tumble them out of first place in the Southeastern Conference.

Ron Widby had 18 points and Tom Hendrix and Phil Justus 16 each as the Vols took a 36-27 halftime lead and fought off a Florida challenge that carried it within 38-35.

Vanderbilt took the lead in the SEC by riding Bob Warren's 18 points to its 13th victory in 15 starts, 71-65 over Auburn.

In a duel between two small college giants, top-ranked Southern Illinois nipped runner-up Kentucky Wesleyan 52-51.

Walt Frazier, who had 18 points, tied the game for SIU at 49-49 on a basket with 1:25 left and added another at 1:03. Chuck Benson's free throw made it 52-49 with 17 seconds left before Wesleyan scored with eight seconds remaining.

SIU is 10-2 and Wesleyan 9-1.

Chief Fans Are Solid

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs, Super Bowl losers, were greeted by about 3,000 enthusiastic fans in windy, subfreezing weather at Mid-Continent International Airport Monday night.

Owner Lamar Hunt, coach Hank Stram and general manager Jack Steadman expressed gratitude for the turnout and vowed they would be back in the world title game next year.

Their words were partially drowned out by the roar of the chartered jet's engines, but each sentence was punctuated by a roar from the crowd. Stram introduced 15 players and his coaching staff. Each received a loud cheer. Hunt said he was sorry many of the players had to stay behind to play in the AFL All-Star game.

Green Bay whipped the Chiefs 35-10 in Sunday's big game and the club's plane was 45 minutes late, but the fans didn't mind.

KATHY WHITWORTH

Jal Gal Makes Good At Golf

JAL, N.M. (AP) — The Whitworths are proud about their daughter being named Female Athlete of the Year again, but they're the type of parents who "don't let me get carried away with myself."

So says 27-year-old golfer Kathy Whitworth, who was named The Associated Press top 1966 female athlete Monday by 428 sports writers and radio and television broadcasters who gave her 185 first-place votes and a 729-vote total.

It was the second straight year she won the honor.

"I'm thrilled of course," she said Monday, "but nothing can take the place of last year's first award. Last year I never even thought about winning and it came as a big surprise. This year I had some warning."

Miss Whitworth is the youngest of three daughters in the Morris Whitworth family in this small southeast New Mexico town. Her father owns a hardware store. She says her parents won't build up her national fame.

"They're great parents. They keep me on the right level."

Her 729 votes in the female athlete poll gave her a big edge against runner-up Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif, the Wimbledon singles tennis champion who finished with 521 points including 88 first-place votes.

Points were awarded on a basis of 3 for a first-place vote, 2 for a second and 1 on third.

Miss Whitworth repeated in 1966 as the leading money winner on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour. She won nine official tournaments in 1966, her eighth year on the pro tour. Her official earnings totaled $33,511.

Few Changes Foreseen

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The meeting of the nation's college football rules makers in Phoenix is distinctive. Nobody wants to fool with the substitution rule

It marks only the second time since 1942 that the National Collegiate Athletic Association Football Rules Committee hasn't tinkered with substitutions.

The committee, which opened its meeting Monday and hopes to wind up business Wednesday, has agreed on some points which could lead to rules changes.

A subcommittee headed by Jack Curtice, head coach at the University of California at Santa Barbara, submitted a list of several possible changes.

One would allow a coach to talk with one player on the sideline during a timeout and another would give officials authority to stop the clock when game is being delayed, as during the moving of sideline chains.

Others would eliminate the tackle eligible play, abolish the shifts designed to draw offensive players offside, prohibit a player signaling for a fair catch from clocking and eliminate offsetting penalties on interceptions.

In all, nine rules changes were recommended by Curtice's subcommittee, none of them considered major by delgates attending the rules session.

Lamar 7th Graders Win

The Lamar Red tripped the Travis Blue 43-30, and the Lamar Grey nudged the Travis White 44-42 in two exciting 7th grade basketball games unreeled on the Lamar court Monday.

Danny Andrews tossed in a 2-point shot in the final three seconds as Lamar Grey edged the scrappy Travis White crew.

The White team had led, 11-8, and 24-19, in the first two frames. They also held a 1-point margin, 34-33, going into the final quarter.

Travis Bunch was leading scorer for the Grey with 18 points. Other Grey boys who scored: Mike Line 12, W. T. Brice 12, and Danny Andrews 2.

White scorers: Jackie Murray 23; Gary Durst 6, Mike Glasscock 6, Kevin McGinnis 3, Melvin Cobb 2, and Randy Gillum 2.

Trailing 5-3 and 13-11 after two periods, the Lamar Red shot ahead, 24-22, in the third quarter to score a come-from-behind victory over the Travis Blue.

Leading scorers for the Red were David Thompson and Gary Langford with 11 points apiece. Other Red scorers: Terry Arnold 8, Bill Stokes 7, Mitch Butler 4, and Danny Reynolds 2.

Blue scorers: Don Durst 7, George Alderete 6, Kent Horsley 5, Billy Clayton 4, Louis Loyd 3, Butch Buchanan 2, George Hernandez 2, and David Davis 1.

Frog Cage Coach In Last Year

FORT WORTH (AP)—Buster Brannon, head basketball coach at Texas Christian University, will resign at the end of this season, the school's chancellor announced today.

Brannon's teams have won six Southwest Conference titles, exceeded only by the seven victories by Doc Hayes of Southern Methodist University.

Named to succeed him is his assistant, Johnny Swaim, who has been on the coaching staff since 1956.

Brannon 58, will become assistant to athletic director Abe Martin, assisting in many areas, particularly a new athletic scholarship program.

Baltimore Wins On Blocked Shot

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jumping Joe Caldwell had the Baltimore Bullets on the ropes, but lean LeRoy Ellis cornered him on the last leap.

Ellis, Baltimore's 6-foot-11 pivotman, blocked Caldwell's jump shot from the corner with four seconds to play, preserving the Bullets' 100-98 victory over the St. Louis Hawks at Tampa, Fla., in Monday night's only National Basketball Association action.

Ellis came up with the game-saving defensive play after the Hawks, led by the 6-foot-5 Caldwell, wiped out an eight-point deficit in the final two minutes. The spring-legged St. Louis forward scored 26 points, high for either team.

Ray Mears, a native of Dover, Ohio, is in his fifth season as Tennessee basketball coach.

Houston Moves Up To No. 3 Status

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Undefeated UCLA increased its lead and Princeton gained additional ground in The Associated Press' weekly major-college basketball poll today.

The Bruins were unanimous choices in the voting by a national panel of 40 sports writers and broadcasters. A week ago, they had all except one vote which went to runner-up Louisville.

Louisville held the No. 2 position this week followed by Houston, North Carolina, Princeton, Texas Western, Kansas, Florida, New Mexico and Providence in that order.

UCLA increased its record to 12-0 last week with victories over Washington, California and Stanford.

Louisville was beaten by Southern Illinois, but rebounded to defeat Bradley. The Cardinals, 14-1, collected 318 points in the balloting which was on a basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc. The voting was based on games through last Saturday.

New Mexico's setbacks by Wyoming and Denver dropped it from third to ninth place. Houston rushed up from fourth and grabbed the No. 3 spot after defeating West Texas 103-72. North Carolina also advanced a notch to fourth after edging North Carolina State 79-78.

Princeton, unranked two weeks ago, moved to seventh last week and to fifth in the latest poll. The Tigers whipped Harvard 90-46 and Dartmouth 116-42 last week for a 13-1 mark.

Texas Western, an 85-73 victor over West Texas, held sixth place. Kansas beat Missouri 70-60 and climbed from eighth to seventh. Florida, which downed Mississippi State 78-63 and Kentucky 89-72, zoomed from 10th to eighth.

Providence slipped one place to 10th despite victories over Oglethorpe and Duquesne. The victory over the Duquesne Dukes was by seven points.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points on a 10-9-etc. basis:

1.	UCLA (40)	400
2.	Louisville	318
3.	Houston	267
4.	North Carolina	263
5.	Princeton	182
6.	Texas Western	175
7.	Kansas	157
8.	Florida	120
9.	New Mexico	88
10.	Providence	60

Ponies Test Longhorns

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

While Texas Christian remains safely in its No. 1 spot, Texas and Southern Methodist continue their battle Tuesday night for sole ownership of the No. 2 position in the Southwest Conference basketball race.

The Southern Methodist Mustangs play Arkansas at Fayetteville while the Texas Longhorns Journey to College Station to play the Aggies.

The two Tuesday night tilts are the only conference games this week because of final examinations. Saturday night Texas Tech is host to New Mexico State in an intersectional affair.

Currently the Longhorns and Mustangs are tied for second place with 3-1 loop records while Texas Christian is the undisputed leader with a perfect 3-0 mark.

Arkansas is 2-2 in loop play, Baylor is 1-2 and Texas Tech, Rice and Texas A&M are in the cellar with 1-3 records.
