Gals To Pilot AF Jets

By DIANE ROWLAND
Associated Press Writer

WILLIAMS AIR FORCE BASE, Ariz. (AP)—Women have been trading in their aprons for attache cases and hard hats for some years, but this September will be the first time they can don the green U.S.Air Force flight suit.

With it they'll get extra flight pay and the chance to be the first women Air Force jet pilots to soar into "the wild blue yonder."

But it won't be any powder puff derby, say officials at Williams Air Force Base, the site selected to train the Air Force's first women jet pilots.

"They'll be treated exactly like the guys, will have to meet the same standards and do the same work," said Capt. Royetta Marconi, an officer in the base mental health center who has her private pilot's license and has been assigned as liaison officer for the first 10 female pilot trainees.

That liaison post is one of the few special preparations being made at Williams for the female fliers. Other preparations, Capt. Marconi said, include cutting down to size flight suits, gloves and helmets, "but that's about it."

The first 10 women scheduled to begin the 11-month course Sept. 29 will be limited to officers already on active duty but that restriction probably will be removed later, said Maj. Robert Lake, Williams public information officer.

Another 10 women will begin pilot training Feb. 14, 1977, and six will be accepted for navigator classes in March 1977.

Some of the 30-40 men entering basic flight training currently are active duty officers, Lake said, but many come straight to pilot school from college.

The Air Force move toward "full integration of women in the picture" began in 1972, when the draft ended and the need for volunteers increased, Lake said. Since then, there have been female airplane mechanics and fuel chiefs, as well as military policewomen, nurses, and secretaries.

But never pilots, except during World War 11, when the Women's Auxiliary Pilots flew noncombat missions.

The Navy has been training women pilots for about one year but only in propeller aircraft, Capt. Marconi said.

"And the Navy women pilots I've talked to all say the same thing: They need to be treated exactly like the guys."

There will be one distinction. The women will not be qualified to fly combat aircraft, since women still are prohibited by law from combat missions, Col. Carl Baily, deputy commander for operations at Williams, said.

To get in the program, the women will have to meet the men's minimum physical requirements, including not more than 27½ years old or less than 5-feet-4 in height. Once training begins, they'll have to keep up with the daily running workouts, the ground school academics and in-the-air acrobatics. If not, they'll "wash out," just like the men.

Baily acknowleges there will be increased pressure on the first women because none want to be the first to fail.

The program's organizers say the women will have the entire base pulling for them.

"Everybody is excited and talking positive about it," said Capt. Marconi. "Most of the Air Force women here think it's about time."

Private Schools Can Not Refuse Black Children

By W. DALE NELSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today that private schools may not refuse black children because of their race and said whites as well as blacks are protected under the law aginst discrimination in private employment.

The court made the rulings in separate opinions. It was split 7 to 2 in deciding the private schools case. It ruled unanimously, but for two partial dissents, in the employment case involving so-called reverse discrimination.

In its opinion on private schools by Justice Potter Stewart, the court said such racial exclusionary policies are "a classsic violation" of federal civil rights law.

The court also rejected the argument that the application of civil rights law to school admissions is an unconstitutional invasion of the privacy of families.

In the private employment ruling, the court said the 1964 Civil Rights Act is "not limited to discrimination against members of any particular race." The court said the act "prohibits racial discrimination against the white petitioners in this case upon the same standards as would be applicable were they Negroes."

Justices Byron R. White and William H. Rehnquist dissented in the private schools opinion, saying that the decision was a "political task" which the court should not undertake.

The case involved Fairfax-Brewster School in Bailey's Crossroads, Va. and Bobbe's Private School in Arlington, Va., both in the Washington suburbs.

Fairfax-Brewster was established in 1954, the year the Supreme Court outlawed official segregation of public schools. Bobbe's was established four years later.

The Justice Department filed a brief in the case supporting the proposition the racial discrimination by private schools should be outlawed.

President Ford, however, said recently that while he personally disapproves of the practice, he believed private schools have a right to reject students because of their race.

Today's decision upheld a 4 to 3 ruling by the U.S. Circuit Court in Richmond, Va., that the schools had discriminated illegally on the basis of race.

The case revolved around an act passed after the Civil War guaranteeing all persons the right to "make and enforce contracts," among other things, on an equal basis.

Bobbe's School and Fairfax-Brewster argued that sending a child to school is not the kind of contract which the act was intended to cover.

The court, however, said the law was just as applicable to the school situation as to real estate transactions, which it ruled in 1968 were covered by the post-Civil War law.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justices William J. Brennan Jr., Thurgood Marshall, Harry A. Blacmun, Lewis F. Powell Jr. an John Paul Stevens joined Stewart in the majority opinion.

The dissenters said the 1866 Act was not designed to cover private contracts such as those made between parents and private schools.

Texas Areas Flooded

By The Associated Press

Flash flooding hit low areas along some streams as rains measuring nearly 5 inches coursed across Texas from west to east today.

The latest round of moderate to heavy showers and thunderstorms started during the night and swept all the way from the Lower Pecos River Valley in West Texas through the state's central and eastern sections.

Word of almost 5 inches of rain around Stonewall which put the Pedernales River on a sharp rise was relayed by the National Weather Service. A downpour gauged unofficially at close to 4 inches soaked the Junction area between 1 and 4 a.m.

Rainfall was nearly as heavy elsewhere from the Central Texas Hill Country northwest of Austin to around Waco, where the National Weather Service reported more than 2.5 inches.

The same cool front responsible for wet and turbulent weather the past two days drew the blame again.

ON EASTERN EUROPE

US Foreign Policy Defined

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger served notice today on the Soviet Union that the United States intends to deal with the nations of Eastern Europe on an independent basis.

"We recognize no spheres of influence and no pretensions to hegemony," Kissinger said in a major foreign policy address.

He also acknowledged that European unity cannot be built "to an American prescription" and said American leaders have a special responsibility to "overcome the traumas of the recent period."

Kissinger's assertion of a renewed commitment to the independence of Soviet Bloc countries and Yugoslavia countered allegations that the United States yielded to Moscow by signing the Helsinki agreement last year.

"There should be no room for misconceptions about U.S. policy," Kissinger said. "We are determined to deal with Eastern Europe on the basis of the sovereignty and independence of each of its countries."

A controversy arose after one of Kissinger's chief advisers said it was in American interests to encourage Eastern Europe to develop a more natural and organic relationship with the Soviet Union.

Helmut A. Sonnenfeldt's remarks last December before U.S. ambassadors to Europe were revealed earlier this year in a leaked summary. He later affirmed U.S. support for Eastern Europe's independence, but noted "the Soviet Union is a great power nearby and that cannot be changed."

Kissinger's speech was prepared as a tribute to Alastair Buchan, the late founder of the international Institute for Strategic Studies.

He said the United States will persist in seeking economic ties and "will continue to pursue measures to improve the lives of the people in Eastern Europe in basic human terms."

These, he said, include freer emigration, the reunification of families, greater flow of information and more travel opportunities.

"We will raise no expectations that we cannot fulfill," Kissinger said. "But we will never cease to assert our traditional principles of human liberty and national self-determination."

The secretary came to England after talks with South African Prime Minister John Vorster in West Germany.

Kissinger told a news conference in Munich on Thursday the talks convinced him "the process is in motion" for eventual peaceful transition to black rule in southern Africa.

He said the problem was whether sufficient guarantees could be arranged to make the change to majority rule bearable for the white minorities.

Jimmy Carter Cinches Democratic Nomination

By EVANS WITT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jimmy Carter has now collected enough committed convention delegates to give him the Democratic presidential nomination, an Associated Press survey shows.

Carter, who never trailed any other contender in his bid for the necessary 1,505 delegates, pushed over the majority barrier Thursday, exactly four months after he won the opening primary in New Hampshire.

With the convention still 17 days away, Carter's total edged up to 1,510, the AP delegate survey found.

The survey counts only delegates who are legally committed or who have publicly declared their preference for one candidate. It does not include any delegate who is leaning toward a candidate, nor does it count delegate votes simply on the statement of a party leader.

Carter's nomination became virtually certain when the primaries ended June 8 and his victory in the Ohio primary boosted his delegate total to 1,125. Democratic leaders and former opponents rushed to endorse him.

George Wallace endorsed Carter June 9, and many of Wallace's delegates followed the Alabama governor's lead, providing nearly a third of the 380 votes Carter needed to go over the majority mark. Another third came from the ranks of the uncommitted delegates.

The 380 delegates were scattered all over the country.

Carter also picked up some support from those who backed Rep. Morris Udall and Sens. Henry Jackson and Frank Church.

Carter, who met Thursday with Democratic congressional leaders in Washington, said he welcomed the AP survey finding.

"I'm glad to hear it," he said. "We've got a very good certainty of a first ballot victory."

Carter called the AP survey "a very conservative count."

"Our confidential delegate count is approaching 1,800," he said.

Carter has delegate support in every state, except North Dakota, where the 13 delegates will be picked today.

From the time he picked up 19 delegates in New Hampshire's Feb. 24 primary through four months of primaries, state conventions and caucuses, Carter never fell behind any other contender in committed delegates.

By the opening of the convention in New York, Carter is expected to pick up many more delegates from among those released by his onetime opponents and from among the 477 uncommitted delegates.

A spokesman for California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr., Carter's only remaining active challenger, said there would be no official reaction to the results. Brown admitted last week that Carter has the nomination "in hand" barring any unforeseen events, the spokesman said.

Five Injured In Explosion Here

An explosion and ensuing fire at Go International Inc. on the Big Spring Highway sent five men to Cogdell Memorial Hospital Thursday afternoon.

The Snyder Police Department said the explosion occurred in a trash barrel behind the office when some workmen were burning primacord, a substance which can be explosive.

A spokesman for Go International said the cause of the explosion is not yet known and declined to make further comment. The police department said that the primacord had been soaked in water before being burned, which is the usual procedure for destroying primacord.

Debris from the explosion sent shrapnel flying through one wall of the building and also hit a truck parked near by.

Fifteen firemen from two fire units answered the alarm at 4:35 p.m. and battled the ensuing blaze for 25 minutes before extinguishing it.

Of the five men injured, four remain in Cogdell Memorial Hospital. Russell Parnell 32, of Snyder, is listed in good condition following surgery for lacerations and internal injuries. Carl Wright Bacon, of Colorado City; Alejandro Gonzales, 28, of Snyder; and Eddie Kirby, 30, of Snyder, were each being held for observation. Pat Morris, 24, of Snyder, was treated and released Thursday.

A spokesman for Go International Inc. stated that the plant had shut down operations pending an investigation.

WTC Receives Library Grant

WASHINGTON — Congressman Omar Burleson announced the approval of a $3,930 Library Resources Program grant to Western Texas College.

This fund must be used to acquire academic library materials such as, books, perodicals, magnetic tapes, photograph records, audio visual material and other related library materials.

It is anticipated that the award documents will be forwarded to the college today.

TRUCK MISHAP—A 1975 Peterbuilt Truck with a cattle trailer overturned about 4:30 a.m. today approximately 6 miles south of Snyder on U.S. 84, Highway patrolmen reported. Some 15 to 20 head of cattle were killed. The driver of the truck, Kent Carlisle of Hereford, was not injured. The surviving cattle have been temporarily penned and another truck is scheduled to pick them up.

TOOL THAT WON THE WEST—This single row planter, on loan by James Beaver, is currently being displayed at the Heritage Park on the north side of the Scurry County Coliseum. The park is scheduled to be dedicated July 3.

Fountain Dedicated In Albany

ALBANY, Tex. (AP) — An 11-foot high limestone fountain now serves as a monument in this West Central Texas town today to a battalion of Georgia volunteers who died for Texas in its fight for independence from Mexico.

The fountain was dedicated Thursday with Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson among the dignitaries.

The monument honors Georgia's old 48th Infantry Battalion, which fought with Col. James Fannin at Goliad in South Texas in March 1836. They were all killed in battle or executed after surrendering to the Mexican general.

City officials and several hundred townspeople joined Mrs. Johnson and her daughter, Lynda Johnson Robb, in the dedication of the 7,000-pound limestone boulder placed in a park in downtown Albany.

Brig. Gen. Raymond Grant represented Georgia Gov. George Busbee at the dedication. He called upon the audience to "rededicate ourselves to the spirit, the soul, and the heart of those men who gaves their lives here 140 years ago."

Representing Gov. Dolph Briscoe was Brig. Gen. Otto Sherz, base unit commander of the Texas National Guard who represented Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Grant, who presently commands the descendants of that volunteer unit and said that he felt a natural kinship with the men who came to the Lone Star state and gave their lives.

The fountain project is the Bicentennial effort undertaken after Albany School Supt. Harry Holder learned in a graduate history course that Texas had never paid Georgia for the arms and volunteers sent to help in the war.

The town also is named after Albany, Ga.

Research showed that more than 100 years ago Texas was excused from a claim by Georgia for its aid on the condition that it erect a memorial to those Georgians who died.

Texas agreed but it was never done until now.

Grant said in his remarks that the young men of Georgia had brought with them a spirit and yearning for freedom and that their sacrifice not only has been repeated but will continue to be repeated.

"Our freedom has been maintained because those in the present are willing to make the sacrifice like those of the past," he said.

Sherz presented Grant with a new Georgia flag which a Dyess Air Force Base (Abilene) honor guard raised beside the Texas and U.S. flags.

A lone trumpeter blew taps while the flags were lowered to half staff.

Texas Drug Ad Law Ruled Illegal

DALLAS (AP) — A state district court judge says Texas' law forbidding the advertisment of prescription drug prices is unconstitutional because of a recent U.S. Supreme Court decision knocking down a similar law in Virginia.

Judge James McCarthy ruled Thursday after a hearing on an injunctive suit bought by The Texas Board of Pharmacy against Page Super Drugs.

Judge McCarthy, at the request of the state board, had issued a temporary restraining order against the drug chain last week after it advertised prescription drugs in Dallas newspapers June 13. The ads listed the prices of the 25 most frequently used prescription drugs.

Albert Hopkins, president of the pharmacy board, said the six-member board will meet Monday to decide whether to appeal McCarthy's ruling.

Jack Evans, president of Page Drugs, said he and other Page executives would decide today on whether to place any more ads in Dallas newspapers. The chain has about 20 stores in the Dallas area.

The pharmacy board contended the Texas law banning the advertising of prescription drugs was still effective even after the U.S. Supreme Court recently struck down the Virginia law.

Bob Gauss, a state assistant attorney general representing the state board, argued that the Texas law is basically different from the Virginia law.

"Our legislature has required that the consumer be informed in a meaningful manner," he told the court.

Pharmacies are required by state law to post the maximum prices for the 100 most frequently prescribed drugs.

Gauss said the Virginia law was unconstitutional because it prohibits all advertising. He contended the Supreme Court said advertising can be regulated.

McCarthy said, however, that the posted prices are not advertising as defined by Webster's dictionary and therefore they are not a regulation of advertising.

Joe Arnett, executive director of the pharmacy board, testified Thursday that prescription drug prices in Texas vary from five to 15 per cent, but added that such percentages do not represent a "great deal" of variation in drug prices.

Viking Photos Are Challenging

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Far from solving Martian mysteries, fresh photos from Viking 1 are instead challenging scientists to explain a landscape that grows more puzzling day by day.

On one count, however, pictures received at Jet Propulsion Laboratory early Thursday were reassuring: they seemed to show there will be enough hazard-free terrain for a safe Viking landing July 4.

"There is an enormous variety of terrain; some looks catastrophic but some looks just fine," said Dr. Harold Masursky, landing site team leader.

Another scientist described the newest pictures taken by the orbiting Viking spacecraft as "comforting" and expressed increasing optimism that the landing site chosen long before the mission started would prove feasible.

The photos, the second batch received since photography from orbit began on Tuesday, again showed channels and numerous other features carved on the surface by natural forces.

A peppering of large and small craters was seen again, some of them now being viewed as the mouths of young volcanoes. Some cratered areas are much like regions at the moon, it was reported.

The photos also showed several thin, bright lines which scientists were at a loss to explain.

"We don't have the vaguest clue of what this feature is," said Masursky as he pointed out one of the lines that led to the base of a volcanic crater, continued on the other side and went on to touch two distant craters.

Because of so much past speculation about intelligent life on Mars, Masursky in jest referred to the feature as a road, and even got a small rise out of a colleague — Dr. B. Gentry Lee — by calling it "Gentry's Freeway." It was a joke precisely because the idea of artificial structures on Mars was discarded long ago.

The landing area, called Chryse, lies on a low plain etched by a number of winding channels. The area is thought to have been shaped by water in the distant past, but Masursky and other scientists are somewhat at odds over how this happened.

Dr. Michael Carr, leader of the team that studies photographs from the orbiting Viking, said that subject has developed into a "quite a wide controversy."

Ben Franklin said, "Great good nature without prudence is a great misfortune."

Use bran in cooking

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I have had troublesome bowels all my life and for the past few years have tried including some roughage in my daily diet, very much like bran muffins but I wonder if the roughage effect of the bran is lost when it is in the form of muffins. Is it?.

DEAR READER—No. One important way of increasing the cereal fiber in your diet is to use real whole-wheat bread and baked products containing bran. Watch out for some of the commercial breads claiming to be whole-wheat. Read the label carefully as much whole-wheat bread is made with about half white flour and then artificially colored.

A tea-cup of All-Bran or Bran Buds or two tea-cups of Bran Flakes will meet your daily needs for cereal fiber. There is more to preventing bowel problems than just bran. I am sending you The Health Letter number 2-1. Spastic or Irritable Colon and Constipation, to help you. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped self-addressed envelope for mailing. Address your letter to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Is there such a thing as a lump in the throat due to a nervous condition. It causes dizziness and confusion. There is a rise in my blood pressure. I am taking blood pressure medicine and tranquilizers but they do not seem to be much help. The lump, or what appears to be so, still exists. I had this same problem years ago and it led to a peptic ulcer. It again is causing indigestion. I don't have any emotional problems but I have always been a very nervous person. I would appreciate any information you can give me on this. I am 65 years of age.

DEAR READER—For the benefit of others let me say at the outset that anyone who develops any difficulty in swallowing must consult a physician at once. Sometimes difficulty in swallowing is associated with a cancer of the esophagus. Early detection can lead to a cure in many cases-so don't delav. Let your doctor decide if it's a nervous condition or something more serious.

Since you have already seen a doctor I am certain that he has already ruled out those problems. In specific answer to your question, yes, you can have a feeling of a lump in the throat from a nervous condition. Doctors call this lump in the throat problem "globus hystericus." It is associated with anxiety. I would presume that the anxiety and problem that you are having is really responsible for the dizziness and confusion as well as the lump in your throat. It may also be contributing to your rise in blood pressure. Excess nervousness or tension and anxiety is sometimes associated with peptic ulcers. It is an underlying cause in many cases. The anxiety produces a sensation of a lump in the throat by causing improper contractions of the normal muscles in the esophagus and throat area responsible for swallowing.

You may need to ask your doctor to see if he can refer you to a psychiatrist for some evaluation of the emotional conflict that you must have even though you may not be aware of it. It's possible that a professional could help you enough that it would also improve your symptoms of dizziness, confusion and help to decrease the significance of your blood pressure problems. At least you are on the right track.

Queen Buys Estate For Princess Anne

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II has bought a 200-year-old country estate for her daughter, Princess Anne, and son-in-law, Capt. Mark Phillips, Buckingham Palace says.

Local farmers and land appraisers said the estate in Gloucestershire could have cost $1.3 million. It belonged to Lord Butler, a former British home secretary.

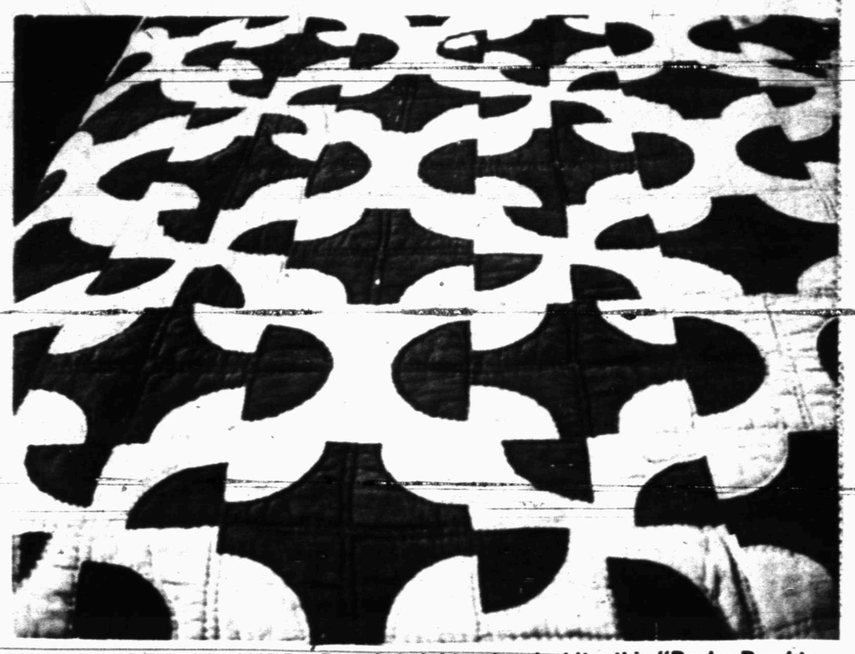

Some left-wing lawmakers protested the purchase, which was announced Wednesday. Laborite Ron Thomas said, "I find this example of the flaunting of wealth appalling and, indeed, almost obscene."

Hearing Tests Set For Senior Citizens

Snyder —Electronic hearing tests will be given at the Beltone Hearing Aid Service office on Thursday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Factory-trained Hearing Aid Specialists will be at our office at Wallace Bldg. in Snyder to perform the tests.

Anyone who has trouble hearing or understanding is welcome to have a test using the latest electronic equipment to determine if his loss is one which can be helped. Some of the causes of hearing loss will be explained, and diagrams of how the ear works will be shown.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year if there is any trouble at all hearing clearly. Even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told nothing could be done for them should have a hearing test and find out whether the latest methods of hearing correction can help them hear better.

The free hearing tests will be given Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at 2425 College, The Wallace Bldg., Snyder. If you can't get there on Thursday or Friday and Saturday call 573-0301 and arrange for an appointment at another time. In-home testing is also available.

'Oz' Comes Alive On Stage At WTC

The Western Texas College Children's Theatre production of "The Wizard of Oz" opened a three-day matinee run today in the WTC Fine Arts Theatre, and it reaped considerable acclaim before its first public performance.

Director Charles Holland opened two full-fledged dress rehearsals to special groups, who sat spellbound when they were not applauding. A senior citizens group saw one rehearsal and girls enrolled in the basketball camp on the WTC campus were treated to a special performance Thursday, which also was attended by a group from Rotan who made the trip to Snyder thinking that the first public performance had been set for Thursday.

Those who have seen the famous motion picture starring Judy Garland (and who hasn't) will find the script to be a familiar one, of coure, but the adaptation to the stage is something else. And anyone who has seen a stage presentation of "Oz" will see some new wrinkles. The "live" cyclones, who appear at the outset, generate the proper atmosphere to launch the one-hour play, and the ingenuity continues through such highlights as the Wicked Witch of the West appearing to literally melt before the eyes of the audience and the climax when Dorothy is whisked away into the sky to return to her beloved Kansas farm.

LaQuita Reaves carries the role of Dorothy and does it well. But she is surrounded by a remarkable trio---Donald Sellars as the Scarecrow, Lee Kirby as the Tin Man and Bill Martin as the Lion—who seem to thrive the physical dexterity demanded by their roles. They make it come alive.

Two other matinee performances are scheduled, at 2 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. The admission price is $1.—Wacil McNair.

Newcomers Club Welcomes Newcomers To Community

Two speakers opened the June 10 meeting of the Snyder Newcomers Club. Sue Jane Sullivan with the summer recreation program informed the members of the variety of acitivites being offered. Tennis is again being taught to adults at the park courts and also this year the program has an exercise class for ladies.

Dr. Thomas Scannicchio then addressed the club on the "Educational Goals Survey" for the Snyder schools. The survey was developed by a committee of parents, students, and school staff and is part of an evaluation of the instructional efforts of the School District. The members were each given a survey to take and turn in.

Following the program, Janet Moseley, president, brought the business portion of the meeting to order. Barbara Scannicchio, membership chairman, welcomed first time visitors Mmes. Judith Whipple, Billie Jo Roberts, Mildred Rhoton, Linda Jaap, Drue Birdwell, Linda Pate, Clara Miller, and Lupe Inestrosa.

Vicki Jones, activities chairman, announced the following agenda for the club. Macrame classes will begin June 17 and continue for a couple of weeks. There will be no salad luncheon in July and the next regular meeting will be July 8 at 10 a.m. at the Snyder Savings and Loan Building. A nursery is provided for the salad luncheons and for the meetings. The program for the July meeting will be presented by Jim Saunders on Drug Abuse.

GUEST SPEAKER—Janet Moseley, Snyder Newcomers Club President, talks with guest speaker, Dr. Thomas Scannicchio.

The president recognized Doris Gard as the new recording and correspondence secretary for the club due to the resignation of Janie Collum.

Hostess for the meeting was Vicki Jones and hostess for the nursery was Cindy Payne.,

Newcomers would like to encourage anyone new to Snyder to come to its monthly meetings and become better acquainted with the club and the community. The objectives of Newcomers is to promote congenial contacts for new citizens; thereby creating friendships and social groups to enable the newcomers to Snyder to adapt themselves to the business and social life of the community.

With my father away in Korea I had to learn bridge on my own. I did get a little long-range advice and in one letter he told me to try to learn single suit plays.

I don't think I know them all by now, but I didn't back then. One of the first I learned was the so-called "Obligatory finesse."

I learned it quite accidentally. It was that same tournament that I won with life master Phil Briggs when I was just starting.

The defense started with three rounds of clubs. I ruffed the third club and promptly led a heart to dummy. Maybe West would hop up with his ace and let me make what looked like an impossible contract. That didn't happen. He played low and I had to put up dummy's king.

I drew trumps, stopping in dummy, led back a heart toward my hand, went into a huddle and finally played a low heart. West had to play his ace and my rather poor contract had waltzed in.

Ask the Jacobys

We have been asked what an obligatory finesse is.

Today's article gives an example. The only way Jim Jacoby could make his contract after West held back his ace on the first heart lead was to play low and hope that the ace would have to be played. The play isn't really a finesse, but it certainly is obligatory.

Daley Lectures About Marriage

CHICAGO (AP) — Mayor Richard Daley has used his 40th wedding anniversary to lecture reporters about the virtues of marriage.

Daley, 74, said Wednesday that marriage "is as good today as ever — a good family relationship is what this whole country is based on."

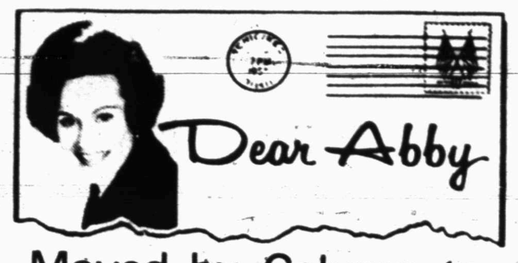

Politics and public office are bound to take a man away from his family, the mayor said. But he said that "from the very beginning we've always kept one day for the youngsters and the family."

Moved by Column to Carry Kidney Card

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Today in your column I read a letter from Mrs. R. D. Watt of Bloomington, Ind., whose son, David, was killed in an auto accident. She said her son had carried a signed UNIFORM DONOR CARD issued by the Kidney Foundation stating his wishes to donate his kidneys at death, but because his wallet had not been thoroughly examined at the scene of the accident, and they (his parents) were too grief-stricken at the time to think of it, David's wishes were not carried out.

I want Mrs. Watt to know that after reading her letter I called the Kidney Foundation and requested a donor card so I could be like David Watt, who signed such a card in hopes of saving someone's life.

FEELING BETTER IN YORK, PA.

DEAR FEELING BETTER: Your thoughtful gesture will not only comfort David's parents; there is no telling how many others will be inspired to follow your generous example. Bless you.

DEAR ABBY: Last Christmas I became engaged to a fine young man from Los Angeles. We planned a summer wedding. I was born on a farm in Iowa. My parents sold the farm and are now living in a retirement village near L.A.

My future in-laws are quite well-to-do and social. My fiance's mother announced our engagement in two newspapers. I couldn't believe my eyes when I read that I was "the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. So and So and a graduate of the University of Iowa!"

When I asked my fiance's mother why she did such a thing she said, "I couldn't very well have said you were a former waitress whose father had been a farmer!"

Abby, I'm not ashamed of being a former waitress OR a farmer's daughter. My parents saw the announcements and were humiliated. They think perhaps we should forego plans for a large wedding because his relatives and friends will be asking my father what kind of "doctor" he is and what I majored in in college.

I've always wanted a lovely wedding, but I hate to subject my parents to further humiliation. How can we handle this mess?

SPEECHLESS

DEAR SPEECHLESS: What mess? Why give up the kind of wedding you want because your fiance's mother is a liar and a snob? If questioned, tell the truth, and advise your parents to do the same. If there's any humiliation to be suffered, your future mother-in-law will be the one to suffer it.

DEAR ABBY: GRANDMA makes a good point when she criticizes young housewives for buying only TV dinners, frozen chicken pies and boxes of mixes.

My bride used to dish up similar junk foods along with plenty of canned goods. One day I finally said to her, "Honey, why don't you make things from scratch like my mother used to?"

My dutiful wife high-tailed it down to the corner grocery store, walked up to the proprietor and asked, "Where do you keep the scratch?"

Tanner Rallies Over Unknown

By JEFF BRADLEY
Associated Press Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Hard-serving Roscoe Tanner, one of the United States' top hopes for the men's singles title at Wimbledon, gunned down little-known Carlos Kirmayr of Brazil in a third-round match today.

Tanner, from Lookout Mountain, Tenn., rallied after losing the first set for an 8-9, 9-8, 6-3, 6-2 victory.

Argentina's Guillermo Vilas, another strong contender for the title, also lost the first set of his third-round match, against Alex Metreveli of the Soviet Union, before overcoming the Russian 2-6, 7-5, 6-2, 6-4.

In an upset, Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico rallied from a two-set deficit and overcame highly regarded Adriano Panatta of Italy 8-9, 4-6, 6-4, 7-5, 6-4 in another third-round battle.

In the women's division, Olga Morozova of the Soviet Union moved through the fourth round with a hard-fought 6-4, 4-6, 6-1 triumph over countrywoman Natasha Chmyreva, and Rosemary Casals of San Francisco beat Terry Holladay of San Diego 6-4, 6-2 in a third-round match.

Tanner struggled through two tight sets with the scrappy Brazilian before his power and class began to tell, the 24-year-old American emerging the winner after a two-hour duel in the sun.

As usual for the man whose left-handed serve has been measured at 140 miles per hour, Tanner relied heavily on his service, hitting 28 clean aces and only two double-faults.

Yet it was a disputed call on one of Kirmayr's serves in the second set tie-breaker that turned the match.

Tanner had opportunities to break Kirmayr in several games of the first set, but his backhand returns were poor and he lost the tie-breaker 9-7 when the Brazilian struck a passing forehand winner to break American's serve.

Tanner also had break points in the second set but was unable to convert them, at one point throwing his racquet at the net after Kirmayr got off the hook.

With the tie-breaker at 2-2 and Kirmayr serving, Tanner disputed a linesman's decision calling a Kirmayr delivery in. The umpire asked Kirmayr to serve again, and he double-faulted, making it 3-2 in Tanner's favor. Tanner then held service and won the tie-breaker 7-4.

Tanner broke and went ahead 3-1 in the third set, and with the help of service aces, eased to victory. He broke the Brazilian in the first and third games of the final set and coasted to victory, hitting an ace on match point.

US Young Diver To Olympics

By MATT YANCEY
Associated Press Writer

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — At the beginning of the U.S. Olympic diving trials here earlier this week, 16-year-old Greg Louganis was considered one of the nation's top prospects for the 1980 Olympics.

But Thursday, the El Cajon, Calif., youth joined 17-year-old Jennifer Chandler, Lincoln, Ala., as the top U.S. contestants on the three-meter springboard in the 1976 Olympics at Montreal next month.

Louganis, a high school junior, finished the three-meter finals with 616.26 points, the second highest score in the history of American diving.

"He's the greatest ever at his age — men or women," 1964 and '68 Olympics Coach Dick Smith said earlier this week.

Air Force Capt. Phil Boggs, twice World Games gold medalist and the pretrials favorite, was second with 602.67. The third member of the U.S. men's springboard team at Montreal is Robert Cragg, Maple Glen, Penn., who finished with 570.24.

They defeated a field that included former Olympian Jim Henry, former NCAA champ Tim Morre and Tennessee's Jim Kennedy.

Miss Chandler, despite a bad leg bruise incurred in warm-ups, began the trend of youth over experience in taking first place in the women's springboard competition Wednesday.

The other two women on the U.S. springboard team are Cynthia Potter McIngvale, a member of the 1972 U.S. Olympic team, and Barbara Schaeffer Nejman, who had failed to make the team in three previous Olympic trials.

Three more women will be named to the team today after finals on the 10-meter platform.

Top qualifiers in Thursday's preliminaries on the platform were Deborah Wilson, Columbus, Ohio; Melissa Briley, San Antonio, Tex., and Janet Ely, Dallas, a member of the 1972 U.S. team at Munich.

The men's platform team will be decided Saturday after the field of 24 is reduced to eight finalists today.

Bobcats Trip Robins; Devils Topple Angels

In a high scoring, wide open ball game, the Bobcats tripped the Robins, 24-23, in girls' mini-minor league softball last night.

For the losers, Theresa Ashworth, Tami Robinson, Kelly Warren, Candy Shoemaker and Sherri Bobo picked up singles, while Ashworth grabbed a double. Jana Jackson and Lisa McNew had the birds' hottest bats. McNew smashed four singles and a double, going 4 for 4, and Jackson smacked two singles and two doubles for 4 for 5.

For the 'Cats, Lisa Welch, Keni Scott, Rachel Romero, Mary Warren and Kana Scott sliced singles. Renee Fulford slashed a double, and Susan Brim came up with two singles.

Mary Warren was awarded the victory, striking out five batters. Theresa Ashworth was charged with the loss.

Sherry Stewart blasted two singles and a home run to spark the Red Devils to a 13-10 win over the Blue Angels in major league girls' softball.

Stewart's roundtripper came in the third with no outs and broke a 2-2 deadlock. Suzie Fisher was ringing the bat, collecting a single and a double for the Devils. Josie Rios grabbed two singles, while Teresa Smith and Vicki Kincheloe grabbed one baggers.

For the Angels, Connie Weber led batters, picking up a single and two doubles. Jane Ann Billingsley and Anne Beverlein clubbed doubles while Roxie Shoemaker smashed a triple. Vicki Chandler, Sharon Halford and LaRonda Cain collected singles.

Suzie Fisher was credited with the win, fanning two and walking three. Anne Beverlein was handed the loss.

Rebels, Dodgers Winners In TL

Assisted by strong fielding, Tony Degrate twirled a two hitter to rally the Rebels past the Braves, 5-3, in Teenage League baseball last night.

Stealing hits for the warriors were Sid Everton and Shawn Ragland. Everton smashed a triple and Ragland clubbed a double.

For the Rebels, Toby Neves, Tony Degrate and Danny Ronquille cracked singles, while Hector Barbosa and Bobby Degrate smashed two one baggers.

Sid Everton was charged with the loss.

The Dodgers walloped the Bullets, 21-3, in the second game. The Bullets jumped out to an early 2-0 lead in the top of the first stanza, but a walk by Jeff Stewart started the Dodgers rolling, and they scored 18 runs in the inning. Before the game's close, the Dodgers chalked up three more and the Bullets managed one.

Billy Hall, Scott Crenwelge, Marty Hammond and Bryon Vincent, ripped off singles. Hall also came up with a double for the winners.

For the Bullets, Joe Garcia collected their sole hit, a single.

Pitching the one hitter was Jay Hammond. Hammond fanned three batters and walked nine.

Robert Bartlett was tagged with the loss.

Twenty athletes named "Martin" have played in the major leagues. The active Martin is Manager Billy Martin of the New York Yankees.

Ali, Inoki Weigh-In

TOKYO (AP) — After standing impassively in front of boxer Muhammad Ali's threatening jabs, wrestler Antonio Inoki shed his splendid robe, with its gold sun over Japan's symbolic Mt. Fuji, and beckoned.

With that showy gesture after their weigh-in Friday, Inoki joined in the mood of spectacle for their "World Martial Arts Championship" Saturday in which he is supposed to wrestle, Ali is supposed to box, and such actual martial arts as karate are mostly banned.

So far, Inoki had reacted to Ali by sitting with arms folded and putting on his most inscrutable face, as he did when Ali came in for the weigh-in shouting "Inoki, Inoki ..."

Except for muttering "ano baka" — "that idiot" — he left all the talking to the world heavyweight boxing champion.

And Ali brought howls of delight from Japanese newsmen when he went off shouting "mata ashita" — "I'll see you tomorrow." Ali didn't really follow through on his "sayonara," however. He circled back to block Inoki's exit, and that's when Inoki beckoned and Ali's handlers finally dragged Ali away as the boxer screamed, "Let me at him."

Inoki, whose main credentials are that he is president of New Japan Pro Wrestling Co., weighed in at 221½ pounds. Ali was 218¼.

The other formalities of the weigh-in ceremony were declarations by both fighters' doctors that they were in top condition. Dr. Sanzo Sato said Inoki's recent left shoulder injury had been cured.

Athletics, Yanks Win In LL

Jeff Wesson pitched the winning game and batted five for five at the plate as the Athletics stomped the White Sox, 19-5, in Little League baseball last night.

For the Athletics, William Cotton, Blinn Murphy, Curtis Stripe, Ralph Hernandez, Bart Moran, Richard Derrick and Tim Derryberry cracked singles. Tracy Chamblee clubbed two singles, and Wesson smashed five one baggers.

For the Sox, Scott Warren blasted a home run and a single. Gerald Don Hicks collected a single.

Wesson was handed the victory, giving up three hits, and yielding 11 walks.

Tommy Gressett struck out 15 batters, smashed a home run and a single and led the Yankees to a 9-3 victory over the Giants in the second game.

For the Yanks, Trey McWilliams hit two singles along with Gordon Gonzales. Jimmy Velasquez cracked a single. Paul Erwin slammed a homer and a double. Bobby Velasquez collected a single.

For the losers, Charlie Bollinger sliced a single, along with Fred Fleming. Neal Paige ripped off two singles, and Barry Davis knocked a home run.

Gressett was awarded the victory, and Neal Paige was charged with the loss.

Little League play tonight sees the Cubs battling with the Indians, and the Braves tangling with the Cardinals.

FL Athletics, Giants Winners

Jacob Rodriquez fired a one hitter to fuel the Athletics past the White Sox, 12-4, in Farm League baseball last night.

For the losers, Roger Pavlik picked up the lone hit, a first inning double.

For the Athletics, David Lopez, Robert Tovar and Jacob Rodriquez, nabbed singles while Rodriquez grabbed a double.

Roger Pavlik was given the loss.

The Giants toppled the Yankees, 14-7, in the second game.

The Giants jumped out to a 2-1 lead and never trailed.

Doyle Phipps was on the mound for the Giants, and James Jackson hurled for the losers.

Phipps was awarded the win and Jackson the loss.

Farm League play tonight features the Cubs taking on the Indians, and the Braves challenging the Cardinals.

Female Thinlies Take Honors

The Scurry County Summer Recreation tracksters journeyed to Odessa last Friday. Coaches Janice Rhodes and Vanessa Short accompanied the team.

Along with a fine team performance, Coach Rhodes turned in a women's long jump first place.

Lisa Cobb and Kelly Dryden paced the Snyder crew in the midget division. Lisa won the 50 and 100 yard dashs and competed in the junior division long jump.

Kelly snatched two ribbons, winning first in the high jump and long jump. Lisa Loyola took second in the long jump and fifth in the 100 yard dash. Lisa and Kelly ran on the midget 440 yard relay, winning first.

In the intermediate division, Dana Elrod and Sara Fagin represented Snyder. Sarah won a first in 80 yard low hurdles with a 11.5 run. She finished second in the 100 yard dash. Dana jumped 14' 10 to win the long jump. The intermediate 440 relay of Kerstin Selmon, Nettie Moss, Billie Jean James and Lisa Cobb placed fourth.

The female thinlies will run again this weekend at Kermit.

Blanche Gentry nabbed five hits, and Mary Brazil and Vanessa White came up with four hits.

Regina Lewis, Connie Pollard and Pam Rivers ripped off two hits. Beatrice Yamez chalked up a single.

Mary Brazil twirled the winning game, going five and a third innings. Regina Lewis was relief hurler.

The Flames post a 6-1 season record and crank up again July 2-4 at the Roswell, N.M. tourney.

Kuhn Lifts Restrictions On A's Trio

By HANK LOWENKRON
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn went to bat again and took a swing at a pitch of Oakland A's owner Charles Finley.

If Kuhn thought he had hit a game-winning homer, he quickly learned there are more innings to be played before this game is over.

Kuhn announced Thursday he was directing Finley that Vida Blue, Rollie Fingers and Joe Rudi be allowed to rejoin the A's immediately.

Finley's next pitch was that Kuhn could expect a $10 million lawsuit today.

The ruling and Finley's reaction were the latest in a wild chain of events which began the night of June 15 when Finley sold the trio for a total of $3.5 million. Blue was sold to the New York Yankees for $1.5 million, while Rudi and Fingers were purchased by Boston for a million dollars each.

The sale of the players set off a storm of protest by owners and managers, with Minnesota Twins President Calvin Griffith calling it "a dark day for baseball."

Kuhn later held a hearing into the sales and shocked most people a week ago by rejecting them and ordering that the trio be kept on the Oakland roster.

Finley then threatened legal action and ordered A's Manager Chuck Tanner to not use the trio and not allow them to be with the team during its games.

Aggies-Hogs Game Televised

LITTLE ROCK (AP) The football game between Arkansas and Texas A&M Nov. 13 will be nationally televised, the Arkansas Gazette said today.

The date of the game will remain the same, Nov. 13, but the site will be changed from Fayetteville to Little Rock, the article said.

The report said the plan would be announced next week by the two schools, the American Broadcasting Co., and the television committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The ABC schedule for NCAA football on Nov. 13 calls for a kickoff of 3 p.m., the Gazette said.

The Fayetteville stadium does not have the lighting facilities needed for color telecasts of football, but the Little Rock stadium does, so the decision was made to change the site.

Connally Claims Competition Good

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (AP) — Competition between President Ford and challenger Ronald Reagan for the Republican presidential nomination has been beneficial for the party, says former Texas Gov. John B. Connally.

Connally, here Thursday for a Republican fund-raising dinner, said, "I rather subscribe to the view that debate within the party is good.

"I think that it's good we've had this competition, although I do think it can reach the point of being personally bitter," Connally said. "I hope it won't. If it does that, it's a mistake."

Connally was en route to address the opening session today of the Idaho State Republican Convention at Moscow.

Little Change On School Aid Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe's education finance director says his staff is preparing a school money bill for the 1977 legislature that will merely continue the existing state aid program, minus a few "burrs."

"The school districts don't want an entirely new bill," said John Poerner, who supervises Briscoe's collection of data on market value of taxable property in all Texas school districts.

The 1975 legislature passed a temporary law that began a transition to the use of market value as the only way for figuring a school district's need for state aid. It also provided some extra money for districts with an above average local taxing effort and raised teacher salaries.

"We'll present two numbers to the legislature on each district," Poerner said Thursday. "One will be the total market value of all property subject to taxation, he said. The other will be a figure that reflects the productive value—not the potential selling price—of farm, ranch and timber land."

Intangibles, such as bank deposits, stocks and bonds, will not be included in the figures, Poerner said.

"There is a possibility the leadership of the state would look with favor on reducing the reliance on the property tax if enough state funds are available," he added. That would involve raising the average ratio of state support of basic school costs from the present 80 per cent.

Rep. Dan Kubiak, D-Rockdale, says he plans to introduce a bill calling for full state support of public schools.

A number of school superintendents have complained that the current school finance law allows Briscoe and legislators the glory of "no new taxes" but is forcing local property tax increases.

Poerner said that while there are "some burrs on it, the people who are complaining are those who have had a very low tax effort in the past. The people whose efforts have been extraordinary are not complaining at all."

He predicted that the data his office has accumulated indicates "there are going to be many more budget balance districts"—those whose local wealth is enough to finance the minimum foundation program without state aid

Chiropractors And Doctors Cooperating

HOUSTON (AP) — The president of the American Chiropractic Association (ACA) says there is a relatively good working rapport between medical doctors and chiropractors on what he called a "one-to-one" basis.

Dr. William H. Dallas of Tacoma, Wash., told the ACA annual convention Thursday that full cooperation between medical doctors and chiropractors is near.

"Chiropractic is not a threat to medicine," he said. "There are more sick people than all professionals can handle. If we work together maybe we can all do what we do best for the benefit of the patient."

Smith Relates Johnson Remarks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Television commentator Howard K. Smith says President Lyndon B. Johnson once told him that President John F. Kennedy "was trying to get to Castro, but Castro got to him first."

Smith, on the "ABC Evening News" Thursday night, said he was relating the conversation because "enough doubt has been cast on the Warren report on John Kennedy's death to justify a new investigation that will leave no lead unfollowed."

Smith said that after Johnson made the statement "I begged for details. He refused, saying it will all come out one day."

The Senate Intelligence Committee said in a report Wednesday that officials of both the CIA and the FBI covered up crucial information in the course of investigating Kennedy's assassination.

"HAPPY NEW YEAR"

When you hear that phrase this year, think of it in regard to your country. America needs a happy new year. So, what must we do to be saved as a nation? One commentator recently stated that taking three steps would give America a new future: (1) Find a workable compromise between socialism and free enterprise (2) Create a form of government that will assure global order and peace (3) Reestablish the secular affairs of our nation on the religious foundation it once had.

The world's greatest statesmen would have to show superhuman wisdom in solving the first two problems. Freedom—without human need anywhere? Peace—by whose definition and at what price? But the third step to a new future will not and can not be the result of statesmanship or economics.

God is the giver of new futures. He specializes in that. Any reestablishing of human affairs on Christian foundations will come as a result of individuals. You and I must properly link our lives with our God and His purposes for us. A peaceful nation where compassion reigns is a nation where the man in the street repeats the Pledge of Allegiance with this emphasis: "This man or woman (myself), under God, indivisable (from Him) with liberty and justice to all."

Happy Birthday America—and through me, Happy New Year!
