Two-Year-Old Child Falls From 2nd Story, Lamesa Courthouse

World War Veteran Is Facing Recurrence Of Nervous Breakdown After Attempt To Catch Lad; Child Brought Here

DOYLE Whitmore, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. K. Whitmore, of Lamesa, was seriously injured Monday afternoon about 12:30 o'clock when he fell headlong from the second floor of the Dawson county court house.

Frank Morris, world war veteran and a sufferer of nervous breakdown, last night was near a recurrence of his illness as a result of his sensational attempt to save the child. The fall of the boy, witnesses stated, was unsuccessful in his efforts to catch the boy, witnesses stated that he no doubt saved him from death in breaking the force of his fall and diverting the impact to the body instead of his head.

Young Whitmore was brought to the Lubbock sanitarium early last night for medical attention. Physicians stated that while his injuries are very serious he is expected to recover. He suffered possible internal injuries, a broken arm and severe bruises.

Morris had started in the court house when he saw the child start his descent. He ran to catch him but succeeded only in deflecting his fall.

"When I picked him up," Morris explained, "it seemed that his face and shoulder were washed. I did not know whose child he was. I started for a hospital and not until I had gone a full block did I notice any breathing."

Woman Aids 2 Men In Escape After Noon Robbery

CLARENDON, June 23. — Two unmasked bandits armed with pistols entered the Donkey County State bank this afternoon and after locking the employees in the vault escaped with more than $7,500 in cash.

The men entered the bank during the noon hour lull. Approaching the cashier, they flourished firearms and ordered him, together with the others, to raise their hands. The cashier turned and started to walk off, but a threat to kill him brought his hands up.

Command Obeyed
One of the robbers then entered the cashier's cage and ordered the cashier, Holman Kennedy, to gather up the money. After getting the loose money from the cage, one of the robbers ordered Kennedy to open the vault and bring out the gold and other money. Cashier Kennedy protested but with the bandit's gun in his back finally obeyed the command.

There were two sacks of gold on a shelf in the vault, one containing $2,000 and the other $4,000. Kennedy gave the smaller sack to the men, and they overtook the larger.

Woman In Case
The employees were made to lie on the vault floor as the robbers fled to their automobile from a side door of the bank. A woman was awaiting them in the car, and a quick getaway was made. The automobile was a sport coupe with an Oklahoma license number.

No clue was found several hours after the robbery. State and county officials began work on the case and hoped to make an arrest soon.

Youth Robs Houston Theater of $1,650

Houston, June 23. (P) — A young well dressed youth robbed a leading main street theater, the Metropolitan, of $1,650 this afternoon. Hurrying to get away he overlooked $1,700 that he might have had, and he likewise dropped a pouch containing $150 at a side entrance to the building.

The youth walked into the theater office on the pretext of wanting to talk to Assistant Manager Russell West, who was retained. With his hand in his pocket, he pointed what West believed to be a pistol and ordered the official to turn over the money.

Officers Find Hold-Up Clue

Fingerprints Are Found Here After Lone Masked Bandit Robs Filling Station of $15 in Cash Saturday

Lubbock officers last night were hot on the trail of the lone masked bandit who Saturday held up Bill West, night employe of the Gasoline Alley filling station, 1613 Main, with a pistol and looted the cash drawer of $15 in cash.

The fingerprint expert of the local police department discovered clearly visible fingerprints of the robber and officers were concentrated on that clue yesterday.

The robbery was committed about 11 o'clock Saturday night.

While passing autoists and pedestrians were unmindful of the incident, the culprit fled aloft after obtaining the loot.

"I had not noticed any one around the station that would arouse suspicion before the robbery," said West. "The fellow entered the office and demanded 'hands up' before I had seen him approach." After the robbery he ordered me to stay where I was or it would be too bad."

RECLAMATION PLANNED

Hope to Save Valuable Land By Sinking Lake Water

Senate Okehs War Veterans Act by 66 to 6

Solons Disregard Wishes of President Hoover and Pass Bill in Face of Almost Certain Veto by Executive

Stand Is Deplored

Republicans and Democrats Join in Denouncing Hoover for Attitude; Measure Is Approved Overwhelmingly

WASHINGTON, June 23. — Disregarding again the wishes of President Hoover and in the face of an almost certain veto, the senate late today passed by the overwhelming vote of 66 to 6 the modified house bill liberalizing provisions of the World War veterans act of 1924.

The avalanche of votes for the measure was roared out by the senate to the last minute protest voiced by Mr. Hoover who quoted Secretary Mellon as saying the legislation would necessitate a certain increase in taxation next year.

Stand Deplored
Through seven long hours of debate both republicans and democrats deplored the president's stand. A substitute by Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, which he brought from a White House conference, was shouted down without a record vote. Another substitute by Senator Bingham, republican, Connecticut, embodying the original program of the American Legion for veterans relief met a similar fate after Senator Watson, of Indiana, the republican leader, had pleaded for it.

The bill which extends compensation up to a maximum of $100 a month to disabled veterans now goes back to the house where quick approval of the senate amendments.

Mr. Phares stated that he had just completed a tour over the state, most of the way driven at night for the purpose of checking up on night driving conditions. He declared that in many instances he witnessed vehicles with improper lighting devices. All drivers are urged to get lights tested, be sure there are two headlights and a tail light. CONGRATULATIONS FROM 2 HEMISPHERES GREET YOUNG "LINDY," NAMED CHARLES

NEW YORK, June 23. — Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh and the son who was born to her and the "flying colonel" yesterday were resting comfortably tonight, as messages of congratulations from both hemispheres poured in on them at the Morrow home.

While the country eagerly awaited the name of the baby whose birth it has tumultuously acclaimed, a number of the housewives of the family had decided to call him Charles.

but whether to call him Charles Dwight or Charles Augustus, Jr., was not settled.

Despite scenes of excited interest enacted by the residents of Englewood and the country at large, no further statements concerning the first baby of the land were forthcoming from the Morrow home, where the customary reserve attending events in the family, was preserved.

Englewood, proud of its latest addition, bowed with excitement.

Seven Die In Heat Wave In Chicago Area

Hot Blasts from Southwest Drive Thermometer to New High Records Throughout Middle Western Section

CHICAGO, June 23. — Hot blasts from the southwest today drove the thermometer in Chicago to a record height for this day of the year and caused seven persons to die.

Relief from the wave, which started its scorching march over the Middle West yesterday, was promised for tonight with the forecast of showers.

Near June Record
Chicago's temperature late this afternoon stood at 97, bettering by two degrees the record for June 23 set in 1923 and coming within two degrees of equalling the record for any month of June. It also was the hottest day thus far this year.

Early reports from many other points in the central portion of the country indicated the fall of heat records may be made more or less general. Centralia, Illinois, which yesterday registered a temperature of 105, started today sweltering at 96.

Two Identified
Two of the dead in the city were unidentified. One, a laborer, was found suffering a heat stroke in the case of a vacant apartment building. He died on the way to a hospital. Another walked into a dentist's office, asked to have his aching tooth treated and collapsed in the dentist's chair.

Mrs. Fannie Rothenthal, 46, died at her home, and Herman Beusch, 58, succumbed while waiting in his automobile. Both died of heart failure superinduced by the heat.

Thermometers in Lincoln, Neb., reached 102 today, the highest mark since June 16, 1918.

Defendant Convicted of Slaying W. R. Billingsley May 1 at Sparenberg; McKee Shows No Reaction as Verdict Is Returned; Sister Faints; Counsel to Appeal

LAMESA, June 23. — Ira McKee stood in 100th district court here tonight and heard a Dawson county jury pronounce him guilty of murdering W. R. Billingsley and assess his punishment at death in the electric chair. The verdict was reached on the first ballot in fifteen minutes after the jurors retire dawn returned to the court at 10:50 o'clock, about thirty minutes after the final arguments closed.

Defendant Shows No Emotion
The defendant showed no signs of emotion when his fate was made known. He remained sullen, only once a change being noted—a slight smile which crept across his face. His sister, Mrs. E. L. Sherwood, fainted when the verdict was read.

McKee was guarded by four state rangers and twelve other officers. No sign of demonstration was made by the some two hundred spectators in the courtroom at the time.

Defense To Appeal
Defense counsel announced attention to appeal.

The verdict tonight brought to a close one of the most sensational trials in the history of Dawson county. Crowds packed the courtroom daily and each spectator was searched for possible firearms as a precaution against the high feeling reported against McKee.

Billingsley, Sparenberg merchant, was shot and fatally wounded on the night of May 1 when he attempted to interfere with the robbery of a filling station across the street from his place of business. Mrs. Mary Bryce, widow, and her son, Jack, owners of the station, had been held up and the cash drawer robbed of about $2.50 when Billingsley appeared on the scene with a shotgun. The hi-jacker, armed with a pistol, was struck down by Billingsley using his gun as a club. In the fight that ensued, the merchant was shot three times. He died the next day.

A. M. "Buck" Bennett, chief deputy sheriff under Mrs. Joe L. Ray, took charge of the investigation. A farmer, at whose house a man, a woman and a little girl had spent the night of the murder, reported this fact to Mrs. Ray. About this time it was learned that a man named McKee was reported as having left Breckenridge and Ranger with a woman and a girl in an elopement of some kind.

Tip Received
On Saturday, May 3, a tip was received that the suspect and the woman were headed for Ranger. Officers were notified. G. J. Wolf, a policeman, saw a motor car and ordered the man driver to stop. It was near the home of parents of the woman suspected to be in the car.

A gun battle between the officer and the man followed, neither being hit. The man got away. A short time later, Mrs. Emma Mayhall was found at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pace. She was from Breckenridge and admitted having been with a man named Ira McKee, who fled.

Monday Sheriff G. B. Abernathy of Palo Pinto county, and other officers, went into the cedar brakes 15 miles south of Palo Pinto and found Ray Estes, who admitted Ira McKee had spent Sunday and Sunday night in his tent. The man got away.

The grand jury met and indicated McKee and Mrs. Mayhall. A strong net was spread over all of West Texas.

Legion Planning July 4th Picnic

While definite plans have not been outlined, officials of the Allen Brothers post, American Legion, announced yesterday that July 4 will be observed by the post with a picnic and ball game for all ex-service men and their wives or sweethearts.

A committee in charge of general arrangements for the affair has been appointed. This committee is composed of O. B. Conley and Alex McDonald.

Former plans had been laid to have the affair at Johnson's ranch, 15 miles southeast of Lubbock, but due to the three-day old artillery reunion on July 3, 4 and 5, to be held at that place, the Legion affair will necessarily look for other grounds.

Seville Is in Grip of Strike

Many Strikers Injured and Two Score Jailed as Police Resort to Firearms in Effort to Quell Disorders

SEVILLE, Spain, June 23. — Seville today itself in the grip of a sudden general strike in which the police, hard put to quell demonstrations, used firearms with injury to many strikers.

Tonight, with order restored, many of the victims were in hospitals, their condition critical. Two score of others were imprisoned, while large numbers of police battalions the city's principal streets.

The death of a woman office worker, Antonia Vargas Bravo, laid to police who suppressed a partial strike Saturday, precipitated today's labor crisis. The strike was sudden and virtually complete. Workers thronged the streets and started to assemble in various quarters.

The governor of Seville issued a statement that the woman had died June 21 in childbirth in a Seville hospital and that she had no part in Saturday's strike without strike. He said he had been advised the strike had been planned.

Kiwanis Bats Are Silenced as ABC Nine Wins Second Game of Civic Club Series, 6 to 2

In a five-inning tussle devoid of the laughs and thrills that usually accompany inter-club combats, the A. B. C. Primer Boys turned back the heralded Kiwanis Sluggers at Merrill Park Monday afternoon behind the effective hurling of Charles (Junior) Watson. The final score was 6 to 2.

Displaying a neat assortment of fast ones, slow ones and curves, the former sensation from the Baylor college for females stood the opposing swatsmiths on their well-known backs, many on the same order as he was accustomed to doing the fair Baylor co-ed.

Recognized as a dealer as well as a specialist in "curves," Watson's crowning feat of the afternoon occurred in the fifth inning, when he struck out C. W. (Gene Ruth) Raliff for the third straight time. The hunky Kiwanis center fielder played his usual brilliant game in the field but fanned the breezes all afternoon in his attempts to connect with one of Watson's fast ones.

Amos Howard set the Primer crew down in order in the opening frame, but in the second the youngsters tied the count at 1 all. The winners counted two more in the third while the Kiwanians were aiding one more. Three unearned runs in the fourth while Davis and Standler were on the mound gave the victors a safe lead.

The next game of the civic club series will probably be between the Rotary club and the A. B. C's.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

Let your conversation be without ostentation, and be content with such things as ye have; for he hath little that he will never leave him, nor forsake them. So that we may boldly say: The Lord is with us, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me.—Hebrews, xiii, 5, 6.

HISTORY REPEATS

PRESIDENT Hoover has made the new tariff bill a law with his signature. It is a betrayal of pledges made by him and his party. It is assailed by spokesmen of business, industry, finance and the public as economically unwise, politically damaging and internationally dangerous...

The main burden for the consumer is placed upon the common necessities of life, including food, cheap clothing, household goods and furnishings, while the higher grade and so-called luxury articles go by with little or no additional burden... Upon this end ground, it is contended, can President Hoover defend approval of a measure thus denounced by the interests which are its ostensible beneficiaries...

But experience shows that no reliance is to be placed on this method. A similar plea was made for the Fordney-McCumber bill of 1922. Yet in only 30 days were changes made, and in 10 of them the revision was upward... Now the 1932 average of rates, 34.61 per cent, has been boosted to more than 41 per cent, and again the public is assured that it is protected by the power of the president and the Tariff Commission to correct excessive allowances...

STRENGTHENING OF POWER COMMISSION PROVIDED IN SENATOR COUZENS' BILL IS PLAN OF COMMISSION'S SOLICITOR BY CHAS. F. STEWART Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Senator Charles A. Russell of the federal power commission is the practical expert back of Senator Couzens' plan to reorganize the commission—to make it, in its time, an even more important commission than the interstate commerce commission is today—but to save it from the handicap under which the interstate commerce commission has struggled for upwards of 40 years, and is not rid of, yet.

Considering the rate at which all industry's dependence on power is increasing, it does not strain the imagination to envision an era when its importance will, indeed, overshadow the railroads—when it simply will include the transportation industry among its dependents, in fact, of course the body which regulates it (the reorganized federal power commission of the Couzens plan) will be correspondingly important.

But the handicap—which has hampered the interstate commerce commission for so long—which Senator Russell considers it so vital for the power commission to escape. The essential part of the interstate commerce commission's job is, and always has been, to fix railroad rates. These rates have to be based on the amount of money invested in the railroads—high enough to enable the people who put it in to get a reasonable percentage in dividends; not so high as to stultify the railroad customers unreasonably.

The popular viewpoint in the 1920's and thus far in the 1930's has been that the generalist may not be a leg to stand on, but people who think so may change their minds presently. They have changed theirs once already, though nearly everyone seems to have forgotten it. In the early 1890's money was not cheap. It was dear, meaning that prices were very low. Twenty-five cents was a nice thing, then, for a man with a family.

Your Health

By DR. MORRIS FISHER Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine. It has been known for years that the organisms of undulant fever appear in milk. The fact has been demonstrated by investigators in various ways. Formerly the disease did not concern greatly the inhabitants of our own country, since its distribution was largely foreign and since but very few cases were seen in this country. More recently cases have been found in practically all of the states in which there is a dairy or a packing industry, and it is now known the germs which infect man come from many different sources.

Seventy Friends Pay Tribute Sunday To "Grandmother" Sames Of Dimmit In Celebration Of Her 98th Birthday

(Special To The Avalanche)
DIMMIT, June 23.—Radiant with almost a century of observations, Mrs. Nancy Juliann Sames, honored by 70 friends and relatives at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Smith in the Easter community, 12 miles northwest of here, celebrated her 98th birthday Sunday.

Enhancing the pleasure of the day by recalling experiences which date back as far as 1840, Mrs. Sames humorously compared the old and new.

Has Cheerful Attitude
"Grandmother Sames," as she is popularly known, maintains a cheerful attitude on life and is always found smiling, although barely able to walk with the aid of support.

Grandmother Sames was born in 1832 in Blountville, Sullivan county, Tennessee. Her nearly five-score years have been filled with many events. After her marriage in 1853, war clouds hovered over the Southland and her husband was called into the strife between the states. She remained at home on the little farm in East Tennessee with her three small children, the oldest not old enough to hold up a walking stick during the entire war and then took care of her sick husband after the conflict. Upon recovery, the family moved to Kentucky in 1867 and then in 1870 answered the call of the pioneer and came to Texas.

"I remember the trip to Texas said yesterday as she told of portions of her interesting life. "We came through in a wagon, Hillsboro being the first town of any importance we came to. I remember well driving up to the little store and there just across the way stood the log jail with a large tree nearby. Under the tree was a man handcuffed and guarded by two men with guns. He had killed a man. I tell you, Texas was a pretty bad place in those days."

She recalled their visit to Dallas, then only a little town on the Trinity river and how they forded the river at the edge of the town, there being no bridge.

"Belton Right Smart Place"
"Belton, near where we settled, was a right smart place at that time." Mrs. Sames recalled. They began farming in Bell county between Temple and Belton and lived there until 1876 when they moved to Hill county. In 1900 they moved to Cyril, Oklahoma, and for the past five years she has been a resident of Castro county.

In spite of her age, Mrs. Sames is still able to read and can do her own sewing. She proudly displayed a little cap which she had only recently made. She also likes to do "patching." She eats plain food, no meat and an abundance of vegetables. Her greatest joy is to read the Bible. She still has her family Bible published in 1850.

Making clothes is quite different nowadays than when she was a girl, Mrs. Sames recalled. She told of how she spent many hours at the spinning wheel and loom in making clothes for the family.

"Girls in my time could laugh a lot at the modern girls if they had to make their clothes as they did then," she said smiling.

"No tiffin" what'll happen next," she answered in a query as to the progress of modern times. She views the radio, airplane, talking pictures and other modern inventions as great marvels but is content to sit in her chair by the window and look over the broad prairie of Castro county and hear of their activities rather than to take part in them. She has seen one motion picture and declared she "didn't like it." The radio doesn't interest her so much and as far as airplanes are concerned, she doesn't believe she could get much "thrill" out of a ride in one of them.

She doesn't think bobbed hair becoming to womanhood and has no use for the smoking habit. "Women smoking is no modern thing," she declared, recalling days when the cob pipe was a household commodity. Her only smoking was done in "tryin' to light my mother-in-law's pipe."

For Prohibition
"Prohibition? I'm for it," she declared in answer to a query on it. "There's always been a fight against drink and there always will be," she said.

"I've been a democrat all my life, though I've never voted," she said. Her son-in-law brought a chuckle from her as he announced that he was going to takes her to the polls this year so that she could vote for Mrs. Ferguson.

Four children were born into her home, only one of them being alive at the present. Her two oldest boys, Theodore Allen and Stacey were murdered by highwaymen in Hill county. James Preston, another boy, died while Mrs. Smith is the only surviving child. Her husband died in Hillsboro in 1880.

Has Seen Five Wars
Mrs. Sames has seen the United States in five wars, the Civil, Spanish-American, Mexican, Texas Revolution and World War.

Those present at the dinner included: Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Smith and children, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Smith and children, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Allen and children, Mrs. J. N. Casion, Mrs. D. E. Briton and children, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Corn and children, Mrs. C. A. Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Chandler and children, Mr. and Mrs. M. Stemmert, Mr. and Mrs. George Chambliss and children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walton, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Brakley and children, Mr. E. Jones, Mrs. Carl Frye and children, Effie Lee and Mavis Whitfield, George and H. L. Hamilton, Gilbert White, Lois and Floyce Link, Mozelle

Whitfield, Mr. and Mrs. George Millard all of the Easter community and Mrs. Pebble Talley and C. W. Ratliff of Lubbock.

Lubbock Shoe Shop Will Hold Opening

Announcement is made this morning of the opening of the Lubbock Shoe Shop, 1119 Avenue J, by R. L. Ewing and son, Ted, owners.

The new shop has been established in spacious quarters with neat fixtures. All woodwork is of oak while inlaid linoleum covers the floor space. Entrance to the building is laid off with a vestibule and office. A large waiting room is a distinct feature with tables, settees and large upholstered chairs and floor lamps. All machinery to be used is of the latest type.

"We feel that Lubbock is large enough to support such an establishment as we have opened," said Mr. Ewing. "We believe that we have one of the finest shoe shops in West Texas and will cater to the best."
