Oil Allowable Is Lowered For March

By JACK KEEVER

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission lowered the statewide oil allowable today for the second month in a row, reducing the March market demand factor to 35.7 per cent of potential.

That means Texas oilmeff will be able to produce a maximum of 3,147,541 barrels a day next month, compared to 3,193-233 barrels daily under February's 36.5 per cent factor.

The February percentage was the first decline after four consecutive monthly allowable hikes which reached a record 37.5 per cent in January and was reduced one full percentage point this month.

Last March Texas had a 33.2 per cent production factor, a a slight increase over February and the first time since 1961 the March allowable had been raised from February.

So, today's reduction from February to March was not unusual.

The Bureau of Mines had forecast a march demand for Texas crude oil of 2,860,000 barrels daily, a decrease of 90-000 from February.

Of the ten major purchasers nominating by percentage, nine asked for a March allowable lower than this month. Sinclair Refining Co. dropped its allowable request from last month but still was high with 36.5 per cent.

The four major purchasers who nominated by barrels only split. Two asked for reductions, one for a slight increase and one sought the same number of barrels daily as this month.

J. K. Moore of Shell Oil Co. said his company was "long on crude oil but not very successful in finding purchasers." He said Shell would have to go into storage with one million barrels of crude between February and March.

R. W. Pitcher of Pan American Petroleum Corp. said that "more spot crude oil seems to be available now than 30 to 60 days ago." Pan American reduced its written nomination of 300,000 barrels by 10,000.

Nominations by major purchasers in percentage and barrels daily:

36.5—Sinclair 107,000 barrels.

36—Sun 124,224.

35.5—Mobil 2680,800; and Standard of Texas 44,500.

35—Pure 51,965.

34.5—Atlantic-Richfield 77,500.

34—Cities Service 74,500.

33—Phillips 118,021; Gulf 210,-900; and Continental 37,000.

Humble asked for 430,000 barrels daily in March, a reduction of 5,000. Shell sought 173,800, an increase of 200.

Pan American lowered its request from 300,000 to 290,000. Texaco remained the same at 165,000.

Liz's Role Calls For 'Buff' Shot

LONDON (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor in the nude?

"Precisely," replied film director John Huston today, "strictly in the buff."

You mean that takes place in your new picture?

'Yes. Her role calls for her to strip completely. A magnificent actress, she strips very artistically."

How will you get away with this kind of movie?

'I can assure you the nude scene's done very tastefully," he answered.

And Marlon Brando playing a homosexual?

"Yes again," said Huston, "it'll be his most controversial part ever."

And what is this picture?

"Reflections in a Golden Eye, from Carson McCullers' novel about life in a big Army post in Georgia. I've just finished it and we've been pretty hush-hush about it."

The book was first published 26 years ago, the same year that Huston directed his first film — and the movie is Huston's 26th.

"It should hit the screens fairly soon," said Huston as he took off for his home in County Galway, Ireland. "Next week I go to Nyack, N.Y., to see Miss McCullers. She's ill, but I hope she will be well enough to visit us in Ireland this spring. She says she will.

11 Killed In Ammo Blast

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP)—A single 105 mm shell blew up, killing 11 and wounding many others at the Army's ammunition plant near here Wednesday night. A spokesman said some of the ammunition made there goes to Vietnam.

Eight persons required hospital care, and of this number, one succumbed to make the death toll 11. All but three others were discharged by today. A large number of other persons suffered minor injuries, a spokesman said.

Lt. Col. Duane Harris, commandant of the semisecret installation, said the explosion occurred in a room 20x40 feet with about 12 persons present.

About 12 persons were in adjoining rooms in the building, which is about the length of a football field about 10 miles west of Texarkana. The official name is Lone Star Army Ammunition Plant.

Col. Harris said the explosion occurred on an assembly line where fuses are attached to the shell. He said the projectiles are not picked up or taken off the line in that area.

The commander said that the roof was blown off the building immediately above the room where the explosion occurred. He said operations continued today in other portions of the plant.

Harris said cause of the explosion is unknown and that a board of investigation will probe for the reason. He would not speculate. He said he could not determine whether all the fatalities were in the room where the blast occurred.

The shift lacked only an hour and 12 minutes of completing its day. Col. Harris said the explosion time was set at 10:30 p.m.

The projectile weighs about 33 pounds and is a foot or more in length.

One witness said "A ball of fire went right down the line and several people's clothing caught on fire."

The building is of hollow tile and reinforced concrete.

The plant employs 7,000 persons and is one of the largest such plants in the nation.

EL PASO (AP) — Billie Sol Estes, serving a federal prison term for fraud, will not appear at El Paso for a hearing to determine the validity of government tax claims against his bankrupt estate.

Violent Storms Whiplash North

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Violent storms of one form or another whiplashed across the nation today, spawning heavy snows in the northern Plains and Great Lakes region, gale-force winds through the Midwest and thundershowers in Pennsylvania and New York.

A mammoth deep freeze tracked the bitter storms and temperatures fell below zero in many areas.

Fresh snows piled from 4 to 10 inches in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Eight inches of snow at Traverse City, Mich., Wednesday night closed a 5-mile section of U.S. 31. The snow struck the Upper Peninsula pushing the season's total to 201 inches in Keweenaw County. High winds in the Detroit area toppled power lines leaving 5,000 homes without electricity.

Minneapolis-St. Paul received 8 inches of snow which closed down most activity in the Twin Cities.

Schools closed in many parts of the state and early morning temperatures dipped to —30. It was —9 in Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Winds raging at more than 80 miles per hour in downtown Chicago blew the roof of a building under construction onto the tracks of a commuter railroad, disrupting service for several hours.

A 300-foot radio tower was knocked down near Medina, Ohio, as 70-mile gusts skipped along the northern tier of the state.

Kremlin Reportedly Ready To Discuss Arms Race

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, indicated today the Kremlin is ready to hold talks on halting the development of antimissile systems as well as offensive arms.

The paper said Premier Alexei N. Kosygin told a news conference in London last Thursday that "the Soviet government is ready to discuss the question on preventing a further arms race both in the field of offensive and the field of defensive weapons."

The official Soviet text of the news conference had carried no such statement by Kosygin. Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said that Kosygin gave this reply when asked in London if he believed the antimissile defense system planned by the Soviets is a new step in the arms race:

"I believe that defensive systems, which prevent attacks, are not the cause of the arms race, but constitute a factor preventing the death of people.

"Some argue like this: 'What is cheaper, to have offensive weapons which can destroy towns and whole states or to have defensive weapons which can prevent this destruction?' At present, the theory is current somewhere that the system which is cheaper should be developed."

Kosygin's remarks were seen as a criticism of U.S. plans to develop stronger offensive weapons to counter improved Soviet defenses against missile attack and a rebuff to President Johnson's overtures for U.S.-Soviet negotiations to prevent a new arms race between the two major nuclear powers.

It appeared that Pravda's revised version, obviously issued with official sanction, might be an attempt to soften the impact of Kosygin's off-the-cuff reply to a question at the London news conference.

U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson arrived in Moscow Jan. 11 with a personal message from President Johnson to Kosygin which reportedly contained a bid to avoid a costly race to develop antimissile systems. In his State of the Union message the day before, Johnson noted that the Soviet Union had begun setting up an antimissile defense system near Moscow and called for avoidance of a spiraling arms race between the superpowers.

Infantrymen Under Heavy Red Attack

By ROBERT D. OHMAN

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Three battalions of American infantrymen were reported under heavy enemy attack tonight in the central highlands near the Cambodian border about 230 miles north of Saigon.

The fresh battle developed after actions in which 385 Communists were reported killed, two U.S. infantry companies suffered moderate casualties and 13 U.S. helicopters were downed.

The U.S. Command disclosed that action last week, covered in part by the Tet truce, pushed American combat casualties in the war above the 50,000 mark. Of these men, 7,353 were killed.

Associated Press photographer Al Chang told of the highlands battle. He reported from the field that all three battalions of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division's 2nd Brigade — totaling about 2,200 men — were being hit with "heavy mortar fire and extremely heavy automatic weapons fire" in jungled terrain.

The troops, engaged in Operation Sam Houston, were credited with killing 74 of the enemy Wednesday. Two of the division's companies suffered moderate casualties.

No report was available on losses for either side in Thursday's fighting. Chang said the Americans believed they were engaging a North Vietnamese army regiment or some 2,900 troops.

South Vietnamese rangers and infantrymen smashed a Viet Cong battalion during a two-day battle in the canal-laced Mekong Delta, killing 311 guerrillas and capturing six, a government spokesman said.

Coupled with 243 guerrillas reported killed by Korean marines in a seesaw battle Wednesday, the three engagements accounted for 628 enemy dead.

Four American crewmen were killed and eight wounded in the downing of the 13 U.S. helicopters Wednesday.

Ten of the UH1 helicopters were shot down as they shuttled more than 3,000 South Vietnamese troops in to reinforce two ranger companies in the raging delta battle 110 miles southwest of Saigon.

The two companies of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division were in separate perimeters some distance apart when the Communists opened fire with mortars and automatic weapons. Sporadic fighting continued throughout the day as American reinforcements were flown in.

Sporadic shooting continued today in the delta battle to which some 4,000 Vietnamese rangers and infantrymen have been committed. The action started Tuesday when government troops killed 56 Viet Cong and captured one.

Wednesday morning, two ranger companies sweeping about 10 miles north of Tuesday's fighting brushed against a guerrilla battalion estimated to number 500-600 men.

Within five hours, three battalions of the 21st Infantry Division and one battalion of rangers had been moved in by U.S. helicopters.

When the guerrillas broke contact just before dusk, the Vietnamese troops reported they had killed 255 of the enemy and captured five. They said they seized 16 crew-served weapons and 34 individual weapons plus mounds of medical equipment, ammunition and mines.

Vocal Music Contests Are Slated Here

Vocal solo and ensemble contests will be held here Saturday for the east section of Region IV of the Texas Music Educators Association.

Competition will be in progress between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. This is the first time in many years for Snyder to be host to the event.

Approximately 20 schools will be represented with a total of some 450 students of both junior high and senior high level. They will compete in solo, trio, quartet and madrigal events. Each will be trying for first division rating, which will earn a medal for the competitor.

Seven judges from various colleges and high schools will put in a busy day listening to the students.

LBJ's Plan To Protect Consumer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson sent Congress today a 12-point program which he said would "protect the American consumer." It calls for stiffer regulation of consumer loans, mail order land sales, mutual funds, welfare and pension plans, some medical laboratories, and natural gas pipelines.

These were some of the high points included by Johnson in a special message which he summed up in these words:

"The cost to taxpayers of carrying out these proposals is very small. The savings to them as consumers will be great—in dollars, in safety, and in peace of mind."

Once again, the President urged Congress to enact a "truth in lending" law that would make certain the installment buyer is told the percentage rate of intrest in carrying charges he must pay on his purchases.

If this was a hardy perennial idea for protecting consumers, Johnson also advocated a number of new proposals.

For example, he said many Americans—particularly those in the older age brackets—become victims of interstate mail order land sellers and "have wasted much of their life savings on a useless piece of desert or a swamp land" that they hoped would be a retirement homesite.

Johnson urged that Congress pass a new law that would require those who sell unimproved subdivided lots in interstate transactions to spell out their wares in precise detail through statements filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and distributed to potential customers.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband's business associate (Mr. G.) recently lost his wife after a marriage of nearly 40 years, so we telephoned him (he lives in Indiana) and invited him to our little winter home in Florida to rest up and get over his grief. Mr. G. said he would love to come for a few weeks.

About 10 minutes later he called up back asking if he could bring his "girl friend! Abby, we were shocked! My husband said, "But we have only one guest room." Mr. G. said, "That's all right. I want to see how this gal looks in the morning before she puts her face on."

With that he hung up, so now we are trapped. We certainly don't want that kind of set up here, but what can we do?

TRAPPED IN FLA.

DEAR TRAPPED: If you can catch Mr. G. before he heads south, call him and tell him that the invitation was for him alone. And if he has in mind auditioning "New talent" while he recovers from his grief, he'll have to find friends with a larger home.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: We belong to a women's church group. One of the older members happens to be a very nice lady who is well-liked by everyone and for many years has been a devoted worker in the church. But Abby, she keeps cats, and lets them climb all over her sink, her table, and even her stove when it's not on.

The problem is when she entertains at home no one wants to eat her food. We realize she goes to a lot of trouble and expense preparing refreshments, but when she serves it, we all look at each other and our stomachs turn. She is the kind of hostess who watches to see that everyone eats, but how can we, knowing that the food is probably full of cat hair? We hate to hurt her feelings.

CHURCH LADIES

DEAR LADIES: If you "hate to hurt her feelings." — eat what you can and leave the rest. And if you forget about the "cat hair" you'll be bothered less about it.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I sure wish I knew what to do about my husband. He is so jealous if someone looks at me he thinks they are going to grab me and run. He has lots of friends and he thinks all of them are (or at one time have been) in love with me.

I have to think over every statement 10 times before I say it to be sure I don't mention some man's name, because if I do, I will have a fight on my hands.

I am no raving beauty and I am not forward or overly friendly to men. I am a good woman, Abby, and I was when he married me. He knows that for certain, but he's still jealous.

He is making a nervous wreck of me. I am 25 and he is 29 and if I have to put up with this the rest of my life I will crack up.

A WRECK-

DEAR WRECK: It's your husband who has the problem. He is tormented by fantasies, self-doubts and insecurity. Insist that he get some professional help (and I do mean a doctor) your marriage is headed for the rocks.

Garbage Cans Used To Steal Furs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — About $16,000 worth of furs were hauled away from the Saks Fifth Avenue department store in a garbage can — but don't bother checking the county dump.

The garbage can was carried by two men wearing white smocks. They entered the store Wednesday, said "We're here to service the rest rooms" and asked a saleswoman for some wrapping paper.

"I'd say the door to the fur vault was unguarded for about 30 seconds while she got the paper," said James Ludwig, store manager.

The loot included a $3,400 Russian sable jacket and two $2,600 mink coats.

THE LIVELY NEW FACES — The brightest new fashion faces for resort and Spring are the knitted wools, with their cheery colors and patterns, varied textures and unmistakeable air of quality. Vivacious styles like these, illustrate why all-American knitted wools are the newest pacesetters for the on-the-go life; left, happy-go-lucky skimmers of double knit wool, short-sleeved and boat necked, in a flash of tri-color striping; right, airy-light short-sleeved coat in tweedy knitted wool, mated with a double-knit wool short sleeved dress with long torso seaming and a squared-off neckline.

"BITE A COOKIE, OURS!"

Have YOU seen Camp Boothe Oaks? This is the name of the established camp for West Texas Girl Scout Council. It is located seven miles south of Sweetwater in-would you believe it?- a beautiful grove of oak trees! We have a large dining hall - kitchen - recreation hall, staff house, a caretaker's home, an infirmary, a craft house, a unit shelter, many tents and tent platforms and a large swimming pool. Boothe Oaks is fifteen years old and every bit of improvement on it has been paid for by money from cookie sales! Some day drive over and see the camp Girl Scout Cookies built!

No United Fund money is available for maintenance and improvement of Camp Boothe Oaks. This is the reason girls registered in West Texas Girl Scout Council hope to sell 45,000 boxes of cookies during this week.

Although we recommend eating these delicious cookies right out of their boxes, here are a few easy recipes you may wish to try:

COOKIES 'N' FRUIT

Turn a 22-ounce can of cherry pie filling into an eight inch pie plate. Press 6 to 8 vanilla sandwich cookies slightly into surface. Heat in 400 degree oven until bubbling, 15 or 20 minutes. Spoon into dessert dishes, with a cookie on top of each serving. Serve warm with cream. (Chocolate Sandwich Cookies are delicious with peach or pineapple pie fillings.)

APRICOT WHIP

½ T. plain gelatin
3 T. cold water
1 cup hot apricot syrup
¾ cup crumbled Butter Flavored Shorties
1 cup whipping cream
12 apricot halves

Soften gelatin in cold water, add to hot syrup and stir until dissolved. Cool and chill. When slightly jellied and beginning to set, whip until light and fluffy. Fold in crumbled cookies and whipped cream. Place apricot halves in bottom of mold and stand Butter Flavored Shorties around the edge. Pour in gelatine mixture and chill until firm.

MINT ICE CREAM

1 can condensed milk
1 pint cream
12-20 Mint Cookies - chilled to make brittle.

Whip cream and add condensed milk slowly, mixing well. Put Mint Cookies in a paper bag or between two sheets of heavy wax paper and roll to crumbs. Stir these into the cream and pour into the tray of refrigerator. When practically frozen, remove from refrigerator and stir once more.

DATE AND NUT ROLL

1 doz. Butter Flavored Shorties, coarsely broken
¾ cup chopped dates
14 marshmallows - cut up
1 cup chopped nuts
½ cup whipped cream

Combine the above - saving ½ cup crumbs. Mix well and roll up with ½ cup crumbs on the outside. Wrap in waxed paper and put in refrigerator at least 5 hours. Cut in slices and top with whipped cream.

Rosy Applesauce

3-pound bag small red skinned apples such as Winesap, washed
½ cup water
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar

Quarter apples without peeling or coring, but remove blossom ends and stems. Into a large kettle turn the apples, water and salt. Cover and cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, until apples are soft — 15 to 20 minutes. Spoon apples, including any liquid in kettle, one-third at a time, into food mill placed over a large bowl. Strain; stir in the sugar. Cool; refrigerate tightly covered. Makes about 1¼ quarts.

Oatmeal Wafers

1-3 cup butter or margarine, at room temperature
¾ cup firmly packed light brown sugar.
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 tablespoon undiluted evaporated milk
1¼ cups quick-cooking rolled oats.

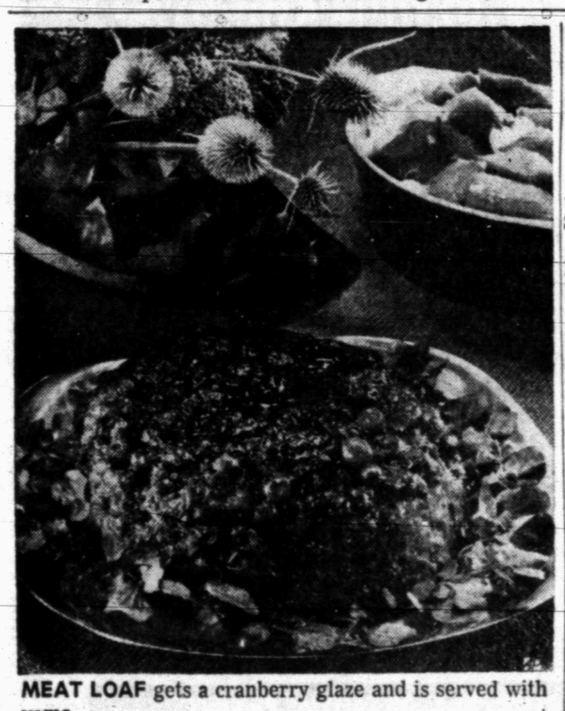

In a medium bowl, thoroughly cream the butter, sugar, salt and vanilla. Stir in the evaporated milk, then the oats, mixing well. Drop by level teaspoonfuls, about 3 inches apart, onto ungreased cookie sheets. (You can bake 12 cookies on one large sheet.) With palm of hand, flatten into thin (about ⅛-inch) rounds. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until cookies spread and brown — 8 to 10 minutes. Allow to cool on pan for about a minute or just until firm enough to lift, with a wide spatula, to wire rack; work quickly. Makes about 4 dozen.

Baking custard? Freshly grate a little nutmeg over the top of the custard mixture before it goes into the oven. Modern nutmeg graters are available if Grandma's isn't in the kitchen!

MEAT LOAF gets a cranberry glaze and is served with yams.

Meat Loaf, Fancy Sauce

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

THIS MEAT LOAF looks pretty enough for company.

It's baked in a different way from usual. The meat mixture is packed into a round layer-cake pan and then turned out into a large pan so it will keep its shape during baking. Just before the loaf is ready, it's given a glaze of whole cranberry sauce from a buffet-size can.

The meat mixture is a little different, too. It calls for lots of finely chopped celery. You can use the narrow end of celery ribs for this, saving the lower wide part of the ribs for eating "as is," for cutting into wedges and stuffing or for slicing thin and adding to salads.

When the meat loaf comes out of the oven and you are ready to transfer it, this can be done easily with two large spatulas. Only one wide spatula on hand? Use it along with a pancake turner.

Because of its sweet glaze, you might like to serve this meat loaf with yams. Add a tossed green salad and some crusty rolls and you'll have your main course made.

GLAZED MEAT LOAF

1 egg
½ cup milk
¼ cup fine dry breadcrumbs
1 pound ground beef
1 pound ground pork
2 tablespoons minced onion
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1½ cups finely chopped celery
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspon pepper
½ teaspoon pumpkin pie spice
1 tablespoon soy sauce
1 can (8 ounces) whole cranberry sauce

In a large mixing bowl beat the egg enough to combine yolk and white; add milk and beat to combine. Stir in breadcrumbs; allow to stand for about 15 minutes. With your hands or a mixing fork, thoroughly mix in the beef, pork, onion, parsley, celery, salt, pepper, pumpkin pie spice and soy sauce. Turn into a round layer cake pan (8 by 1½ inches); pack down. Line an oblong pan (13 by 9 by 2 inches) with foil turning sides up; turn out meat mixture onto center of greased foil. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven for 1 hour. Spread cranberry sauce over top of meat loaf; return to oven to heat cranberry sauce — about 10 minutes. Transfer to serving plate; if watercress is at hand, loaf will look pretty ringed with watercress sprigs. Makes 8 servings.

New Rum Mousse

½ cup cold water
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup each sugar, dark molasses and light 80-proof rum
½ cup milk
½ pint container heavy cream

In a round-bottom metal mixing bowl or similar double-boiler top sprinkle the gelatin over the cold water and allow to soften for about 5 minutes. Over very low heat, with a rubber or wooden spatula, stir constantly until gelatin dissolves — about 3 minutes. Remove from heat; add sugar and stir until dissolved. Stir in molasses and rum, then milk. Chill, stirring several times, until slightly thickened. Whip cream until it holds soft peaks and fold into gelatin mixture, beating gently if necessary to combine. Turn into a 1-quart mold; chill until firm; unmold. Makes 6 servings. (If you want the molasses and rum flavors to blend so the former is hardly distinguishable chill dessert overnight before unmolding and serving.)

Palmer Gets Tucson Nod

By STEVE BASSETT
AP Sports Writer

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The 60,000 Tucson Open golf tournament got underway Thursday with some 144 pros keeping one eye on Arnold Palmer and the other on the wind.

Palmer, returning to the tour after sitting out the Phoenix Open last week, is the favorite for the $12,000 winner's purse, mainly because the Tucson National Golf Club course seems tailor-made for him.

The par-36-36—72 desert layout measures 7,200 yards and with the exception of the 10th and 18th holes, both laced with water hazards, offers no real trouble spots.

However, if weather forecasts are accurate, wind could be a big factor, especially on the first two days of the 72-hole tourney. Forecasts call for wind gusts of up to 25 miles per hour Thursday and Friday under mostly cloudy skies. Temperatures are expected to be in the lower 70s.

Without a wind Wednesday, Palmer managed to shoot a two-under-par 70 during the pro-am warmup, five strokes behind leader Bill Johnston, club pro from Phoenix, Ariz.

Defending champion is Joe Campbell, golden-shoed cigar Campbell, golden-shoed cigar - chomper from Tansi, Tenn., who managed an even par 72 Wednesday.

Palmer, winner of the Los Angeles Open, is the only 1967 tour winner entered. Phoenix Open titlist Julius Boros has taken a month off the tour to be with his family in Florida.

New Mexico Aggies Are Comeback Team

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

New Mexico State is the comeback team of the year in college basketball this season.

The Aggies from Las Cruces cemented their claim to the honor by whipping Texas Western, the national champions, 64-53 Wednesday night for the second time.

It was the Aggies' sixth victory in their last seven games and upped their over-all record to 14-8 compared to their dismal 4-22 mark last season.

The second straight road defeat of nationally eighth-ranked Texas Western overshadowed Syracuse's 11th straight victory.

The 10th-ranked Orange, in The Associated Press Top Ten for the first time, whipped Colgate on the road 100-86. Seventh-ranked Houston romped over St. Mary's of Texas 122-58 at home.

Mal Graham, the nation's leading major college scorer, threw in 45 points to lead NYU over Manhattan 76-63.

Villanova edged Canisius 47-44, Toledo whacked Bowling Green 103-83, Georgia Tech downed Georgia 87-79, Virginia Tech thumped George Washington 78-66, Dayton walloped Northern Illinois 101-60, Marquette nipped Xavier of Ohio 71-69, Chicago Loyola squeaked by Western Michigan 85-84 in overtime and Denver defeated the Air Force 75-73.

Bob Evans, with 16 points, led New Mexico State to a 29-11 halftime lead as the Aggies handed the national champs from El Paso their fifth defeat against 16 triumphs.

The Aggies' terrific defense limited Texas Western to only two field goals in the first half. The Miners actually didn't score a field goal during a 14-minute span.

Ken John topped Texas Western with 11 points as David Lattin, the Miners' star, was limited to five points and fouled out on personals. Don Haskins, Texas Western coach who is probably thinking of changing his team's orange road uniforms to blue, was not available for comment after the game.

Syracuse upped its record to 18-2 by defeating Colgate behind George Hicker's 24 points. Rick Caputo topped the Red Raiders with 25. Elvin Hayes' 30 points sparked Houston in its rout of St. Mary's.

Little 5-foot-nine Bobby Brizendine converted seven free throws in the last 49 seconds to help Georgia Tech over Georgia at Athens, Ga., for the Engineers' 10th triumph in their last 11 games.

Ted Ware threw in 22 points to lead Virginia Tech over George Washington in the nation's capital for the Gobblers' 16th victory against three defeats.

Dayton, another top independent, had little trouble crushing Northern Illinois at home as Don May playing little more than half the game scored 20 points and grabbed 17 rebounds for the Flyers.

Miami of Ohio stayed on the heels of Toledo in the Mid-American Conference by downing Ohio Univ. 80-56 at Athens, Ohio, behind 27 points from Fred Foster and 20 from little 5-8 Phil Snow.

Also on the road, Temple beat Delaware 66-48, St. Peters of New Jersey overcame Stonehill 80-73 and St. Francis, Pa., defeated East Carolina 64-55.

Captures More Whales

SEATTLE (AP) — Ted Griffin, whose famous killer whale Namu died last year, has captured several more.

Griffin, director of the Seattle Marine Aquarium, said he believed he had "10 or more whales ranging from small to pretty good size." It was too dark to count them.

Namu drowned last July 9 when he became entangled in a net at the aquarium.

Griffin was notified Tuesday by the Coast Guard that killer whales had been spotted at Port Angeles, Wash., headed this way. Griffin began the search Wednesday morning and ran the whales down about 6 p.m. in the Yukon harbor area of Puget Sound.

He was assisted by a helicopter and an airplane. He hopes to bring the whales to Seattle, a distance of about seven miles, in a floating pen.

Bruce Brown, guard on Rochester's basketball team, is the son of the late Jack Brown, former NYU athlete.

Violence Clouds Basketball Tilt

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Wichita Falls Rider High School and Grand Prairie High meet Friday in a basketball game clouded by the violence that plagued a contest here Tuesday night.

The schools were to play at Hurst, Tex., near Fort Worth. Officials moved the gametime from the evening to afternoon to avoid any further incidents like the one here that resulted in a wild melee that left a teenage cheerleader stabbd and marked for life.

Alan Gensler, 18, a Rider cheerleader, remained in satisfactory condition at a hospital here today, suffering from a stab wound in the chest and an eight-inch gash across his face.

Gensler was stabbed Friday night when he tried to break up a fight following Rider's 62-59 victory over Grand Prairie in the second of three playoff games.

William Earl Jones, 17, of Grand Prairie, was arrested in that city Wednesday and brought to Wichita Falls. He was charged with assault with intent to kill and his bond set at $5,000.

Dist. Atty. Stanley C. Kirk of Wichita Falls Wednesday deplored the actions of both sides in the melee and singled out some city residents for "forming a vigilante band" after Gensler was stabbed.

Police had to provide escorts for some Grand Prairie automoviles leaving town Tuesday night.

Needs Work More Than Anyone Else

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — Five Houston Astros have not signed their 1967 contracts but only one apparently is a serious stage non-signee.

Relief pitcher Claude Raymond is seeking the largest raise, believed to be a hike from the $10,000 to the $30,000 bracket. He may be the toughest of all to sign.

Others unsigned are catcher John Bateman, outfielders Rusty Staub and Jim Wynn and second baseman Joe Morgan. Bateman, however, is expected to sign as soon as he returns from winter ball in Venezuela.

Staub is seeking an increase based on his .280 average, 13 home runs and 81 runs batted in. Both Wynn and Morgan are seeking more salary on the basis of what they might have done had it not been for injuries.

Morgan missed 40 games after going out with a fractured kneecap on June 25. He wound up hitting .285.

Wynn collided with a fence in Philadelphia on Aug. 1 and was out for the rest of the season.

Manager Grady Hatton has left all negotiations to business manager Spec Richardson.

"All I know is if they report late, get off to a bad start and don't have a good year, it'll cut into their salary next year," Hatton said.

Relief pitcher Carroll Sembera signed his contract Wednesday as 23 players went through a three hour drill in 80 degree weather under clear skies.

Catcher Ron Brand was the newest arrival.

Hatton expressed disappointment that pitcher Dick Farrell had not arrived in camp as yet. "I'm disappointed he hasn't started work yet, as he needs the extra work more than anyone else," Hatton said.

Bob Franklin scored four points in his first, and last game. "They let me play because I'm a graduating senior," he said.

Salukis Remain Atop Cage Heap

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lincoln of Missouri and San Diego State each advanced three positions in the latest Associated Press small-college basketball poll while Southern Illinois, Kentucky Wesleyan and Cheney State held the first three places in that order.

Lincoln climbed to fourth place after defeating Fort Hays, Kan. State 102-79 and Kentucky State 88-72 for a 21-2 record. San Diego State zoomed to sixth on the strength of victories over Whittier, California State of Long Beach and Cal Poly of Pomona.

Southern Illinois collected all except one of the votes for first place in the balloting by a national panel of 17 sports writers and broadcasters based on games through last Saturday. The Salukis, 15-2, after downing Centenary 79-63, also received one vote for second place, totaling 169 points.

SAYS COACH'S WIFE

Happiness Is . . . . Being A Winner

By RACHEL EBERLE

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Husband and wife teamwork has made the Indiana University basketball team No. 1, at least in the home of the coach.

With Indiana in a four-way tie for top spot in the Big Ten, Norma Jean Watson, 39, wife of Coach Lou Watson, gives the Hoosiers top billing in the family's seven-room home within blocks of the campus.

"It's a real team effort," Mrs. Watson said of the duties she inherits from her husband's position.

She's never sure when Lou might call from the fieldhouse to ask her to show the campus to parents of a prospective player. Maybe son Mike, 16, will have to stay later than usual for high school basketball practice. Or the two girls may be late coming home from girls athletic association activities.

"I can't stand the humdrum," Mrs. Watson said.

Lou, 41, is in his second year as head coach at his alma mater after 14 years as freshman and assistant coach. Mike, 6-foot-2 and still growing, takes after his 6-4 father and is a junior forward for Bloomington High School.

The daughters, Lee Ann, 14, and Judy, 11, join their mother at the Indiana and high school games.

Mrs. Watson, an ardent sports fan who loves basketball, attends all the college home games, and a few of them on the road and most of the high school home games.

Dark-haired, attractive Mrs. Watson said she often listens three hours as her husband rehashes a game. "Lou's not a good loser, but he's out there to win so that makes sense."

Mrs. Watson also aids in recruiting, spending a weekend with parents of prospective Indiana players. "I handle the mother's angle. They want to know about curriculum, food, where their sons will sleep. The campus sells itself, and I really enjoy meeting different people."

She also is a counselor of sorts for the wives of the five married basketball players.

"It's a busy, interesting life," she beamed. "The glamour comes, I suppose, when you're winning and are on top."

Rift On Troops In Europe Takes On A New Twist

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — After 16 years it's the "great debate" all over again, maybe. The argument is the same — about American troops for Europe — but this time with a twist.

Last time Republicans led the pitch for fewer U. S. troops in Europe, or none at all. Democrats argued for more. Now 31 Senate Democrats and 11 Republicans call for fewer troops in Europe. But some Republicans say "wait."

The original argument had its roots in the 1940's, with Republicans divided then, too. Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, long an isolationist, abandoned that position.

He asked in 1948, and got, Senate approval of a resolution for U. S. military alliances and mutual help among the allies. This paved the way for the creation of the North American Treaty Organization a year later as a bulwark against possible Soviet attack.

But Senate Republicans, led by Robert A. Taft, did their best to scuttle NATO. They failed and the Senate approved the treaty in 1949. President Harry S. Truman quickly said he would send troops to Europe as part of NATO.

Then the opposition began in earnest. The first big shot came from former President Herbert Hoover in September, 1950. He was against U. S. troops in Europe until the allies did more to produce their own battalions.

He thought of the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans as American moats, with the United States committed for its own sake to defending the Atlantic east to Britain and the Pacific west to Japan.

On Dec. 20, 1950 — when the United States had been fighting the Korean War almost six months — he made a famous speech, calling this country the "Gibraltar of western civilization."

This was exactly the view taken by American foreign policy critics in this country up to the time of Pearl Harbor.

He called for a big American Navy and Air Force, but he saw little need for "large armies."

Their view was summed up this way: All this country needed was a small, mobile army to defend both coasts — although how they figured this country could survive if fascism and communism took over the rest of the world is hard to say.

Within less than a month after Hoover made his second speech Taft backed him opposing the use of any large American force in Europe. But Taft, and those Republicans who supported him, lost.

The wheels turn. Last year the Senate's Democratic leader, Mike Mansfield of Montana, called for a big reduction in U.S. forces in Europe. The Senate didn't do anything about it in 1966.

But this year Mansfield and 41 other Senators joined in challenging U.S. policy in Europe and offered a resolution urging a substantial reduction in American troops there.

This resolution, if it passed, would simply say U.S. forces in NATO should be reduced, leaving it to President Johnson to decide by how much.

This might seem an almost innocent kind of resolution except for one fact: It would be putting a lot of pressure on Johnson to bring a lot of troops home.

Now a Republican steps forward to oppose Mansfield's troop-reduction thinking. This is Sen. Jacob A. Javits of New York who, with a team of fellow Republicans, prepared to offer the Senate a different kind of resolution today.

This would call for a broad study of U.S. policy in Europe before there were any troop cuts. At the moment it is not known exactly how many senators will support Javits but Wednesday night he had only five lined up with him.

Johnson would probably prefer Javits' resolution to Mansfield's. No matter what happens to it, it is a bit of a switch from 16 years ago.

Junior Editors Quiz on BELLS

QUESTION: How did bells come into use?

• • •

ANSWER: When pieces of certain metals are suspended so the main mass is free to vibrate, and are then struck, they will produce a ringing sound which can be heard for a long way. Metal bronze, a combination of copper and tin, makes a particularly musical sound which is stronger if the bronze is cast into the familiar bell shape. It is this ability of the bell sound to be heard at a distance which led to men inventing and using bells in times past. The earliest bells were Eastern and were used in temple ceremonies. The Athenian Greeks used them to tell people when fresh fish had arrived at the markets. In Rome, they summoned worshippers to the temples. Christian countries carried on this idea. In 400 A.D., the Italian bishop Paulinus is said to have hung a large kettle upside down which was then rung to summon the faithful. The use of church bells continued thereafter. We illustrate the famous Liberty Bell, rung on July 8, 1876, to call people together in Philadelphia so they would know that the Declaration of Independence had been adopted.

Things That Never Seen To Happen

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —They say if you just keep living everything will happen to you.

But I've been standing on the street corners of life for half a century, staring at the shop windows of eternity, and have never yet—

Danced a polka with Queen Elizabeth.

Taken a Turkish bath in Sweden.

Learned to play chess.

Drawn a mustache and a beard on a public poster of Sophia Loren.

Gone for a walk atop the third rail of the subway.

Tasted manna.

Ridden an elephant in a circus parade.

Rented a Rolls-Royce for a weekend.

Attended any function requiring the wearing of white tie and black tails.

Given advice to LBJ.

Traded diet secrets with Elizabeth Taylor Burton.

Cooked a steak over charcoal.

Seen the little man that isn't there.

Ridden the rods on a freight train.

Headed off the rustlers at Eagle Pass.

Figured out the new arithmetic.

Been weighed and found wanting.

Taken snuff or smoked marijuana.

Heard a Wagnerian opera all the way through.

Shot an arrow into the air and let it fall to earth I knew not where.

Had a suspicious French husband slap me in the face with aglove and challenge me to a duel at dawn.

Eaten a hamburger in the House of Lords.

Hummed a hymn in the death house at Sing Sing.

Read every word in the Long Island Rail Road timetable.

Promised a red-haired girl to show her the Taj Mahal by moonlight.

Performed a tonsillectomy on a hippopotamus or fitted an alligator with dentures.

Go to a cocktail party on time or left it when it was supposed to be through.

Put 15 pennies into the fare box after giving a Manhattan bus driver a dollar bill and getting 20 nickels back in change.

Read a poem attacking inflation at the inauguration of a Republican president.

Saved a banker's blue-eyed daughter from being hoofed down by a runaway horse.

Won a daily double.

Had my prose trimmed by an editor who was also able to walk on water.

Inherited anything from a relative that was worth carrying to a pawnshop.

Yep, they say if you just keep living everything happens to you.

But when?

Fish Yield Told

AUSTIN (AP)— Commercial fishermen took 66,426 pounds of rough fish from Dam B. Reservoir in East Texas during the fiscal year ending Aug. 31, 1966, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department reported.

Rules On Exemptions Vary When Claiming Dependents

EDITOR'S NOTE — For income tax purposes, a wife is not considered a dependent, but some relative, or even a friend, might be. This is the fourth of five articles on income tax returns.

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Claim every exemption you rightfully can in filing your 1966 income tax return since each one means $600 knocked off your taxable income.

This is true for yourself, your wife, and your dependents. But the rules on exemptions vary, particularly the rules on dependents. A wife is not considered a dependent for income tax purposes.

Everyone filing a return gets $600 exemption for himself if he is under 65, $1,200 if he is 65 or older, and an extra $600 if he is blind. He gets the same for his wife but only up to a point.

He gets a $600 exemption for his wife only if she files a joint return with him, whether or not she had income or, if she had no income, she fails to file jointly with him and she is not a dependent of another taxpayer.

If she had $600 or more income, she must file a return, either separately or jointly with her husband. If she files separately, she takes her $600 exemption on her return, he takes his on his return.

If a wife had any income at all — say it was less than $600 and therefore didn't require a return from her — her husband can claim no exemption for her unless she files jointly with him. Failure to file jointly in a case like that is throwing away all or a part of a $600 exemption.

If the wife died any time in 1966 and the husband did not remarry in that year, he can claim a $600 exemption for her and file a joint return. So much on married couples.

Now for dependents. A dependent could be your child, stepchild, adopted child, parent, or some other relative, or even a friend. But you get no extra exemption for a dependent because he is over 65 or blind.

There is one well-known test — called the support test — on whether you can claim a person as a dependent: Did you contribute more than half his support in 1966?

For instance: You can claim as a dependent your child who was born or died in 1966, if you met the test for that part of the year in which he lives, even if a new-born child lived only a minute. But you cannot claim as a dependent a stillborn child, which means dead when born.

Age 19 is important in deciding whether you can claim a child, adopted child or stepchild as a dependent.

Remember: Anyone under or over 19 who had $600 or more income of his own in 1966 must file his own return and take his own exemption on that return. But —

Suppose you had an under-19 child for whom you met the support test. You could claim him as a dependent, take a $600 or more income and taken his own $600 exemption on his return — and you wouldn't have to report his income on your return. The test there is whether you contributed more than half the support of this under-19 child.

But the rule is different if he was 19 or over and had $600 or more income, even though in his case you also met the support here.

In his case you couldn't claim him as a dependent — even through you contributed to more than half his support — unless he was a full-time student. And he couldn't be considered one if he had a full-time job during the day and went to school at night or took correspondence courses.

But you could claim a $600 exemption for him if he qualified as a full-time student — no matter how much his income — and got more than half his support from you.

Suppose your dependent child won a scholarship. You can ignore its value in figuring whether you paid more than half your child's support.

You could claim a friend as a dependent if he lived in your home the full year and you met the support test. But you couldn't make the claim, even though he got more than half his support from you, if he had taxable income of $600 or more.

Following is a list of other relatives whom you could claim as a dependent but only if you provided more than half the support for that relative and he did not have as much as $600 in taxable income in 1966:

Your grandchild, great-grandchild, and so on; your legally adopted child or stepchild, but not the latter's descendants; your brother or sister; your parents, grandparents, or other direct ancestors, but not a foster parent; your stepfather or stepmother; your niece or nephew, meaning a son or daughter of your brother or sister; and such in-laws as your father-, son-, daughter-, brother-, or sister-in-law.

Generally, you could not claim them as dependents if they lived overseas, unless they were U.S. citizens.

Death or divorce does not end any of the above relationships. For example: Suppose your wife is dead or divorced. You can continue to claim her father — your father-in-law — as a dependent if he fits the rules given above.

A relative doesn't have to live with you for you to claim him or her as a dependent. For instance: You may have been paying more than half the support of your father who is living with your brother.

But if any of these relatives had taxable income of $600 or more you could not claim him as a dependent, even though you did contribute more than half his support.

If he had $600 or more taxable income, he would have to file his own return and take his own $600 exemption there.

That raises some other questions.

If one of the relatives listed above had nontaxable income — say $700 to Social Security payments — could you claim him as a dependent?

Suppose that relative with $700 in social security payments banked the money and did not use it to live on. You could claim him as a dependent if you met the support test.

But if he spent some or all of it to support himself, then you'd have to decide whether your support was more than half the support he got from that nontaxable $700.

Next: Deductions.

Soviets Say Mao Plans New Rift

By FRED COLEMAN

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist party accused Mao Tse-tung today of planning new attempts to provide a break in Soviet-Chinese relations, while more anti-Soviet pronouncements were reported from Peking.

On Formosa, Nationalist China's official Central News Agency said armed clashes between forces for and against Mao have spread from Tibet throughout the adjoining province of Szechwan, in southwest China. It said that the fighting had prevented supplies from reaching Maoists in Tibet and that clashes in Lhasa, the capital previously reported under anti-Maoist control, were nearing a climax.

A pro-Nationalist Chinese newspaper in Hong Kong said part of Kwangsi Province bordering on North Vietnam has been taken over by anti-Maoists but Mao's supporters have the upper hand in some big cities. Clashes were reported in Wuchow, a Kwangsi city of more than 200,000.

Except during actual war, the Soviet Communist newspaper Pravda said in a 4,000-word article, "never before has such a fierce campaign been conducted" against the Soviet Union. It said relations with China were likely to get worse.

In an implied appeal to Mao's Chinese opponents, Pravda said Peking still had the chance to restore friendly ties with Moscow and rejoin "the ranks of the socialist community." The Soviet people "want precisely this prospect to emerge victorious and want the Chinese People's Republic to advance along this correct road," the newspaper said.

In perhaps the strongest Soviet press attack yet in the Chinese-Soviet split, Pravda said Mao's "storm troopers" are ready to sacrifice the interests of communism and the Chinese people for the sake of power.

The Tokyo newspaper Asahi reported that Communist Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi had told a Japanese trade group in Peking that the Soviet leadership will be overthrown because it is cooperating with U.S. imperialism.

Claim On Valley Land Dismissed

AUSTIN (AP) — Without a word, the Texas Supreme Court has finally dismissed a claim by Guerry M. Strong of Austin that some 6,700 acres of land in the Lower Rio Grande Valley belonged to the state, not the some 1,800 landowners who lived there.

Had the high court upheld Strong's claim, he would have received 1-16th royalty of the minerals in the oil and gas-rich Hidalgo County area between San Juan and Alamo, Tex., plus his high court costs.

That would have been his reward under Texas' land vacancy laws.

Strong estimated the land survey and lawsuit which he filed after State Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler refused his vacancy claim has cost almost $100,000 over a four-year period.

The boundary suit arose in 1963 when Strong applied for an oil and gas lease in Hidalgo County and paid an estimated $20,000 for survey of what he contended was "vacant land."

Sadler then appointed Byron L. Simpson of Bexar County to survey the land in question, and held a public hearing at which Simpson testified. Sadler ruled immediately that no vacancy existed, dismissing Strong's claim.

Strong sought to overturn Sadler's ruling in the courts, but was refused by the 139th District Court in Hidalgo County and the 13th Court of Civil Appeals at Corpus Christi.

The Supreme Court, without writing an opinion, refused last year to hear Strong's appeal, saying it could find no reversible error in the lower court rulings. On Wednesday, the high court refused Strong's request to reconsider its decision, ending possible remedies in state courts.

Strong had contended that the east line of Porcion 72, as surveyed in 1967 by the Spanish, and the west boundary of Los Torritos, as patented by the state in 1877, were not contiguous and that vacant land existed between the boundary lines. He also contended that vacant land existed between the north line of Porcion 72 and the south line of the R. J. Swearingen Survey to the north.

Cites Need Of Dams In Texas

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—A Texas Water Development Board official said Wednesday that three dams proposed for Northeast Texas are needed to help meet a part of the state's long-range water requirements.

Executive Director Joe G. Moore Jr. urged immediate start of construction of Cooper Dam on the South Sulphur River in Delta County.

He added that work should be started toward congressional authorization of dams on Bois D'Arc Creek and Cypress Creek.

These dams "will be needed to help meet a part of Texas' water requirements of some 37 million acre feet of water annually by the year 2020," Moore said.

The Cooper Dam, already authorized by Congress, would be built about 4½ miles southeast of Cooper. It would store 413,700 acre feet of water. An acre foot is 325,851 gallons.

The proposed Cypress Dam in Titus County would be built about six miles southeast of Mount Pleasant and would have storage of 422,700 acre feet.

The Bois D'Arc project, with a proposed storage capacity of 102,040 feet, would serve as a water source for Bonham, Sherman and Denison.

Moore spoke at a meeting of the coordinating committee for a comprehensive basin study of the Red River below Denison Dam.

The committee is composed of representatives of Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Louisiana and five federal departments.

N. M. Drops Allowables

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — The New Mexico Oil Conservation Commission has set allowables for 50 barrels per unit for March, a drop of two barrels from this month.

The action marked the first time in more than a year the allowable had been reduced. D.R. Wall of Dallas, Tex., however, an industry representative, said further decreases in crude stocks will come within the next two to three months.

Normal unit oil allowable for March in Northwest New Mexico was set at 70 barrels for March, the same as the past few years.

Estimated total southeast allowable for March is 397,322 barrels with production estimated at 317,858 barrels.

Estimated total allowable in the northwest is 26,228 barrels and estimated production for that area is 20,195 barrels.

Postwar Quebec is urban and industrial. The province generates nearly half of Canada's hydroelectric power, grinds forests of pulpwood into a third of the world's newsprint and mines more than 40 per cent of the world's asbestos.

AIR MALES, SPECIAL DELIVERY — Helicopters, supposed to be able to land on a dime, found they couldn't touch down on narrow hilltops in the central Vietnam coastlands, but they didn't stop from delivering men right on the money. Engineers blasted drop areas clear and the giant Chinook choppers dropped their soldiers of the 5th Battalion, 7th Cavalry Regiment, to participate in Operation Thayer II some 15 miles southwest of Bon Son, which is some 300 miles northwest of Saigon. March Of Dimes Dispute Brings Drop In Donations

By PEGGY SIMPSON
Associated Press Writer

Donations to the National Foundation's March of Dimes slumped sharply in several Texas cities this year, amid fending over fund-raising expenses and how much money local chapters can retain.

Dallas' January drive brought about half of last year's $120,000 March of Dimes collection.

In Fort Worth, the march was called off when the city refused the foundation a solicitations permit. Instead of the $64,000 collected last year, the intake has been $8,500 from mailed donations.

The Amarillo Solicitations Board also refused to sanction the annual drive, joining Fort Worth in saying the foundation spent too much on the expenses of the fund campaign. The march continued in the West Texas city, since the board was advisory with no weight of law.

Calhoun Wilson of Houston, the foundation's regional director for Texas and Louisiana, said despite the disputes he hoped the over-all Texas total would come near the $1,150,000 of last year.

He said the foundation disagreed with Fort Worth's contention that costs of the March of Dimes ate up more than 20 per cent of the total collected and said "as a matter of accounting the figure would be about 17 per cent."

The foundation has pursued its suit to nullify Fort Worth's ordinance under which the city denied a solicitation permit for the March of Dimes but the Texas Supreme Court has supported the city.

Wilson said only about $2 million of the $22 million raised nationally by the foundation now goes to treat polio victims. Since the discovery of a vaccine to prevent the crippling disease, the foundation has diverted its funds to help cure birth defects.

In the last years, the national group also changed its division of funds from a 50-50 split between the local and national groups and, according to Dyer, the local chapter now gets 37½ and the national 62½ per cent.

Famous Eating Place To Close

BURKEVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Burkeville's most famous institution—Miss Letitia Lucas' boarding house—will close its doors at 4 p.m. today.

Today is both Miss Lucas' 74th birthday and the 30th anniversary of the opening of her boarding house.

Although a college graduate with a degree in home economics, Miss Lucas attributed the popularity of her boarding house to the fact "I cooked just like mother taught me to cook."

Burkeville, a hamlet of 475 in Newton County, has been a popular stopping point for many residents of Southwest Texas for years because of the boarding house.

The menu varied but the quantity was always the same—the diner could help himself to four meats, six vegetables, two salads, hot biscuits, corn bread, and a variety of desserts.

On many a Sunday afternoon, the boarding house served 400 persons—almost as many as the entire population of Burkeville.

The most popular dish? Chicken with dumplings and dressing.

Certain Reserves To Be Activated

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says he will call to active duty up to 31,000 reservists who either are "unable or unwilling" to participate in reserve activities.

McNamara told a news conference Wednesday the action will affect individual members of the Reserve who are not participating satisfactorily in a unit or have not fulfilled their statutory reserve obligations. No complete units would be activated.

McNamara's move is aimed at the reservist who joins a unit to escape the draft.

Beginning next July, the defense chief said, these men will be called to active duty for 24 months, less any period of active duty or active duty training they may already have served.

Authority for the new defense department move is contained in the 1967 Defense Appropriation Act, which provides that certain individual reservists not satisfactorily fulfilling their obligations could become eligible for active duty.

The legislation was sponsored by Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Pentagon officers said the new authority would aid reserve units by enabling them to do some weeding out, thus creating vacancies for youths who are more interested.

"The new rules are designed to assure greater equity in fulfilling military service obligation," McNamara said in a statement. "The individuals directly affected are now enjoying draft deferment without contributing directly to the strength and readiness of reserve component units."

Pentagon spokesmen said the new rules will affect all reservists who are delinquent, including those who sign up for six months of active duty but miss meetings or otherwise misbehave before going to basic training.

Congress has criticized the policy of not activating reserve units while permitting young men of draft age to join units for six months of active training and thus, in effect, to avoid the draft.

The long delay in training these men also has been a sore spot with Congress.

McNamara made clear, however, that the Defense Department will permit exceptions to the new rules, particularly for those reservists who are prevented by government action from attending reserve meetings on a regular basis.

Pentagon spokesmen said all reservists in this category — members of so-called control groups and those unable to attend meetings because units are full — would be dealt with on a case-by-case basis. Exceptions also will be permitted in cases of extreme hardship or critical occupation, sources said.

The Defense Department estimated that the new plans will affect anywhere from 15,000 to 25,000 Army reservists, 3,500 to 4,000 Air Force reservists and 2,100 Navy reservists.

Sources said the new rules do not apply to reservists who already have served two years on active duty or completed their obligated term of service in the Reserves.

In a related move, the Defense Department announced the call-up Wednesday of 100 doctors who now hold reserve commissions. They will serve two years on active duty.

Sullivan To Head ACC Drive Here

Guy L. Sullivan, of Sullivan-Stanfield Insurance Agency, has been named city chairman for the Community Gifts campaign of Abilene Christian College's $25.7 million Design for Development.

Sullivan, 3601 Hill Avenue, will direct the activities of team captains and volunteer workers in Snyder as the Community Gifts campaign gets underway here.

The Design for Development, initiated in 1965, is a 10-year program to raise $25.7 million for academic, physical and endowment expansion. The Phase I three-year target of the campaign is $10.4 million, and currently more than $8 million has been raised.

The Community Gifts campaign will be conducted among the alumni parents and friends of ACC in more than 260 Texas cities. The effort will reach about 30 thousand persons, seeking three-year gifts or pledges up to $3,000 during the first half of 1967.

Sullivan received his bachelor of science degree from Abilene Christian in 1951 and has done graduate work at Texas Tech.
