Campaign Kickoff For Jim Keffer Thursday

The Jim Keffer Family. . .
Mr. And Mrs. Jim Keffer And Sons, Chris, Brad and Robby.

Jim Keffer, Eastland businessman and Republican, will be feted by a big sendoff on his State Representative campaign on Thursday, August 8. This event will be held at the home of Steve and Sandra Haines, 703 S. Seaman, from 5-7 p.m.

State Senator Jane Nelson will attend and highlight the Campaign Kickoff. Keffer is running as State Representative for District 60, which includes Eastland, six other area counties, and part of Taylor County.

Jim Keffer's opponent is incumbent John Cook, a Democrat and Breckenridge Attorney.

Keffer says he comes into the race as a businessman, not another lawyer-politician. At age 43 he is President of EBAA Iron Sales, associated with an Iron Foundry employing 300 people.

He is married to Leslie Bradley Keffer, and they have three sons. He is a Deacon and Sunday School teacher at the First Baptist Church in Eastland, and is also active in community affairs, including Youth Sports Associations.

Keffer is a member of the Texas Association of Business, a member of the Chamber of Commerce, on the Board of Directors of the Eastland National Bank, and Chairman of the Texas Cast Metal Association.

He has worked for the Republican Party for some years, and is a Past Eastland County Republican Chairman.

One of the main points Keffer is bringing out in his campaign is a plan to reform the Appraisal process for homeowner tax relief. He says he favors immediate Property Tax Relief, with a property taxpayers Bill of Rights to safeguard against unfair valuations. He also stresses tax protection for Senior Citizens.

He says that he favors Governor Bush's reforms to stop frivolous lawsuits, also together juvenile justice, the restoration of local control to public schools, and requiring welfare accountability.

He opposes a state income tax, and also opposes affirmative action/quotas.

Keffer has been visiting in the District, meeting people and bringing out his ideas. He says he plans to make this a hard-fought campaign, with hopes of unseating the incumbent on the issues involved.

The public is invited to come to the Reception Thursday and wish Jim Keffer success.

Tidbits From A Local Reader

She writes we thought you might like to run this in our local newspaper and says not to teachers only.

"She said I would never amount to anything"

An Alabama woman looks back to a terrible year:

When I was in elementary school, one of my teachers made a regular habit of talking down to me and degrading me in front of the other students. One time when I had acne on my forehead, she stood next to me, lifted my bangs up and said, "What's wrong with you? And she said it loud enough so that everyone turned and stared. The worst part was that she lifted up my hair with her pencil, like I was a leper.

One Friday I woke up with a strep throat and had to stay home. It was one of the few time I ever was sick. But an assignment was due. And when I brought it in on Monday, I was told that I had faked illness and was a no-good, lazy kid. That teacher told me I was a bum and I would always be a bum and would never amount to anything. This time I went to the principle and told him what had happened. I also called my mom. And the principle backed me up-he told my teacher that he believed me and gave her a warning. But I was never so glad to see a school year end as that one.

It took me a long while to get over the way that teacher treated me. My selfconfidence was shot for a long time. Teachers need to understand that students hear those things they say and that teachers can make or break a person.

They only solace I have is that I am successful today and didn't become a bum, as that teacher predicted.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Lord help me, I never thought I would wind up as one of those old coots writing letters to the editor, but after so many years as a classroom teacher, I am compelled to speak out. I have never met Mr. Woolam. He may be the finest gentleman in Eastland County, but this statement that the Democrat Party left him reminds me of other people I know who have made the same statement.

How did the Democrat Party leave these people? The first step was when the U.S. Supreme Court in the 40's ruled that The Party could not exclude non-whites from participation in the Primary election. The Civil Rights Act, I believe it was in 1964, was a major step away from the old Party members, commonly called Shivercrats named for that grand old Democrat Allan Shivers (the man who put Ike on the ballot in Texas as a Democrat).

When the Uppity Women started pushing for equal rights under the law, and the Democrat Party endorsed this move, it was the last straw for some of the old Democrats. Others hung in for a while longer. Then the Gays had the audacity to ask for equal protection of the law. Those who really believe that all people - regardless of race, religion, place of origin, length of hair, number of rings puncturing their bodies, sexual preference, amount of wealth - deserve equal protection under the laws of this nation; we could not in good conscience turn our backs on them.

What some people seem to NOT understand is that to tolerate is not the same as endorsement. There are many things that I as an individual, who happens to be a Democrat, do not approve of nor do I think are laudable. But is it my place to judge these actions of others as long as they do not infringe on me and mine?

I most certainly am not a Bible Scholar, but I seem to remember from Sunday school lessons that Christ mingled with less than socially acceptable persons. We also sang a song about Jesus loving all the children - Red and Yellow, Black and White.

The Republican Party under the leadership of Nixon's "Southern Strategy" took full advantage of the dissatisfaction of these former Democrats using the method of "don't listen to what we say, watch what we do". In Texas the Party of the "Great Emancipator" became the Party of the Racist Former Democrats. Let me EMPHASIZE, I am not calling all Republicans racist. What I am saying is that I personally know individuals, some are members of my own family, former and current friends, who fully fit this mold.

It frightens me when I see the ease with which people in this democratic Nation are so easily divided by playing to our prejudices and fears.

In closing, when anyone tries to tell you and me that all we have to do to solve our problems as a nation is to (Fill in the Blank) - close our borders, balance the budget, kill all the gays, do away with welfare, all join the same church, leave the U.N. or any other hot button issue, that person is a Fool or thinks you and I are Fools.

Politically yours,

My Angel For The Day

The last of June I was in Wal Mart shopping. My last item to get was in the toy and game department.

As I was looking for a game, a little boy come up to me and said. What are you looking for. I said I need to find a Bingo game. He said I am five years old, can I help you. I said yes that would be sweet of you. So we looked everywhere, on all the shelves that had games. He would pick up a game, and say is this the one. I said no, I don't think they have one. He said "I know where you can get one." I said "where". He said in Houston my cousin has one. I said well I don't have time to go to Houston today. He said "okay lets look again." I said "Where is your mother." He said "Over there," and pointed where the hair care products are. He said she knows where I'm at. So we looked again. I said I think I'll ask one of the clerks if they have a Bingo game. He said I'll go with you.

We went to the desk at the back of the store. One of them went with us to look. This darling little blonde headed boy stayed close to me, just helping all he could. The clerk said I guess we are out of them. I told the little boy I guess we are through looking, I better go check out and go home. I said Thank You for helping me, maybe I'll see you again sometime. He stood there watching me go with a look on his face, "Oh please don't go." That child will never know how much he really helped me that day. I went in the store in a big hurry, wishing everyone would get out of the way, so I could get what I needed, rush home and do a million other things.

When he said I'll help you. I though oh no I don't have time for this. When I looked at his sweet face a thought came to mind. In the Bible it says "a child will lead them.." And such a love flowed through me as I looked at him. He was offering to help me. Some mother around Eastland County has a precious child to be proud of.

I wish I could see him again. We sure miss a lot by rushing through life.

Just that short time with him really made my day. I didn't rush around anymore that day. I'm sure he has a grandmother, but just for awhile I was his grandmother.

Thank you, where ever you are

Ready Or Not

By Our Western Philosopher

Vacation is over - we have seen the sights, the movies and the relatives. Now we'll set our clocks to alarm and made our own coffee.

With mixed emotions we think of all we have seen and done - how people and places have changed. How we have changed.

We bring home mental pictures and sounds that cause us to reach for higher hopes and dreams.

Did you make a new friend, did someone special hold you close and did you watch the sun rise or set? Did you enjoy the wind and storm after the hot fourth of July? All this is part of a vacation.

It is a good time to reach out to someone you have hurt or one that has hurt you, to make it right - it does take time.

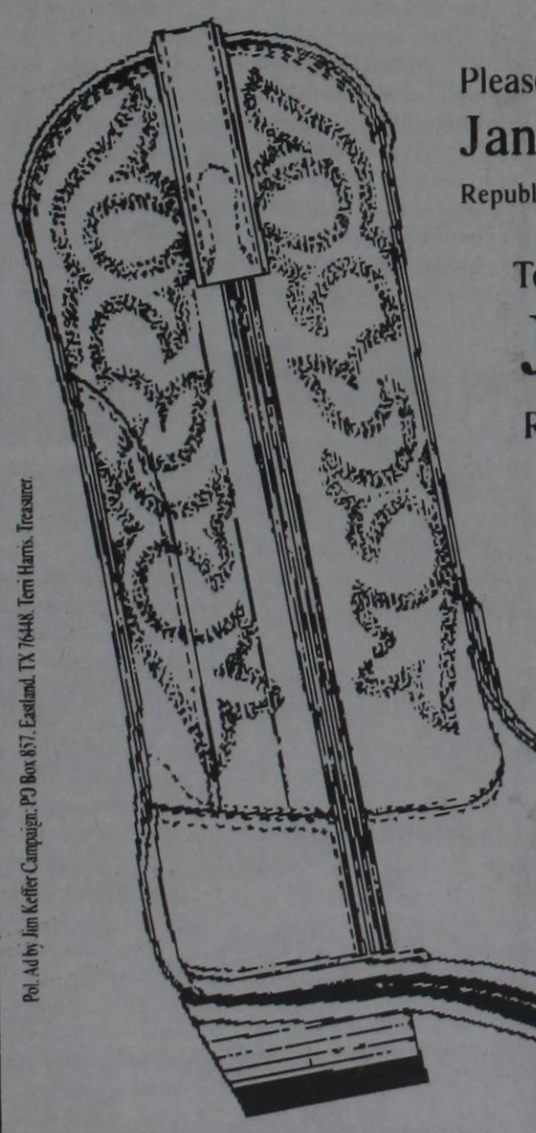

Time with family and friends to grow and appreciate each other - to really see and know what is in the heart and mind. To enjoy all of God's beauty and goodness and mercies.

Was your vacation as good as mine?

Hope so.

ZAMBIA, ZIMBABWE

Sounds were everywhere,
Voices singing in the distance,
Soft melodious voices speaking near Proclaiming the gospel to
All who passed and would hear.

Gurgling water pipes,
Squeaky shoes in the hall,
Dogs loudly barking in the night.
Birds chirping in the trees
And sometimes just quiet.

Each crusade meeting
Guest warmly welcomed
With a hardy rubbing of the hands;
Then a sharp three clap chorus.
Laughter was heard throughout the land.

There were smells.
Occasionally smoke and dust,
Sun screen, body odor, and bug spray;
Bread baking and cooking food,
Carol's pizza on Thursday.

Eyes were filled
With sights never to forget.
Cloudless clear blue sky,
Bright flowers on colorful hedges,
People continually walking by.

No hands were used.
Women carried bundles on their heads,
Bundles of sticks or sugar cane in sacks
With their chitenji skirts wrapped around
A baby strapped to their backs.

Sentry guards at the gates
Of homes with high walls;
Walls topped with barbed wire or broken glass.
Fear of snakes meant raking with thatch
And yards with no grass.

Congested market places,
Rustic road side stands on corners'

Men at stop lights peddling their wares,
Newspapers, tangelos, bananas, avocados,
Faces filled with cares.

Poinsettias and Flamboyant trees
Colorful and standing tall,
Winds were gently blowing.
Streets filled with deep pot holes,
Public buses filled to overflowing.

In the countryside
Thatched roof huts in villages,
Some with no walls,
Cattle roaming free in the road,
Then to lovely Victoria Falls.

God's promise remembered!
Sun and mist mix to make a rainbow
As tons of water tumble with a roar.
From great heights flows the Zambeze River,
For now and ever more.

A game preserve
Giraffes, baboons, eland, gazelles,
Lions and cape buffalo looking mean.
After viewing only elephant droppings and tracks,
A herd of elephants was finally seen.

Hippos on an island,
Seen from the drive on the river road.
Tops eaten from many a tree;
Guinea hens, kudu, and wart hogs
So many sights to see.

Back to Lusaka,
Back to the Baptist compound,
Farewells were said to new friends.
Leaving a bit of our hearts behind
Our visit came to an end.

Map Production Needs Time, Care, Computer Experts Say

Printed maps are not exactly the simple items we take for granted, Eastland Lions Club members learned recently.

At a luncheon meeting Jill Nix and Rebecca Walker, cartographers, outlined the basics of map production.

Rebecca and Jill are new Eastland residents, having arrived this summer to work for Map Supply of Texas, a wholesale distributing Company owned by Tom and Freida Loggins.

Freida Loggins introduced the new employees. The cartographers worked for seven years for map makers H.M. Gousha of Comfort, Texas; until this organization was shut down because of a buy-out.

The young ladies told Lions Club members that traditional cartography had been done for many years, but the new digital process, on computers, is only about five years old.

Technical training and experience is needed for this process, but it is much faster than the laborious hand drawing once required.

Jill Nix explained that all maps on the market are copywrited — you can't just go out, find some you like, and duplicate them.

"You have to go back to the different sources," she said. "These include City Engineers, County Engineers, Chambers of Commerce, official Department of Transportation maps, and United States Geographical Service Topographical maps."

Rebecca Walker explained that after the original sources were put in use, some became a template (model). Details can be taken in and out this model, and live work done by computer.

"Details are painstaking," she said. "All line work is measured to the thousandth of an inch."

The computer screens will show up to 1600 percent of a map, enabling the cartographer to observe the accuracy of all details.

After they have scanned the sources they redraw them on the computer and scale to size. This is like a blueprint. Then comes the proofreading and editing, which includes checking for spelling, etc.

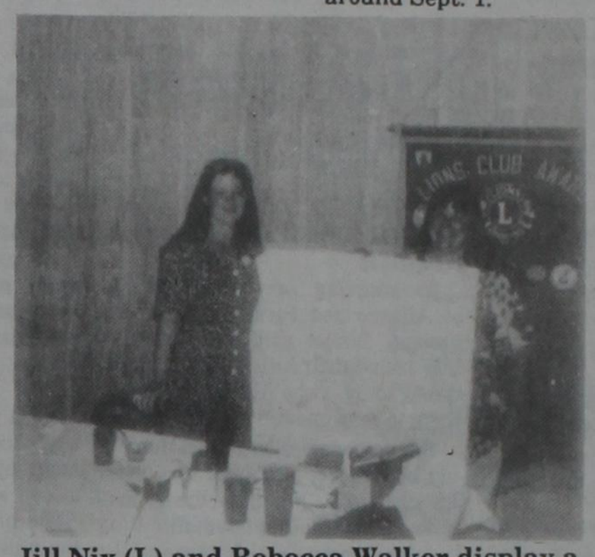

The actual out put will be on 4-color film, and this will be sent to a printer [illegible] Jill and Rebecca are working on the United States maps and major cities. It takes 6 to 8 weeks to do a state map, and sometimes five months to do a city map.

They showed Lions Club members a map of Texas which will be in production soon.

Of course map making is a never-ending job, for each year there are changes in roads and places, particularly in cities and counties.

Jill Nix and Rebecca Walker are being joined by another employee this week, Johnny Zavala, making three new families for Eastland.

Tom and Freida Loggins say they are very excited about being able to produce the maps here in Eastland. A follow-up on this story is expected around Sept. 1.

Jill Nix (L) and Rebecca Walker display a map of Texas during their talk at a Lions Club meeting. These ladies moved to Eastland recently to work for Map Supply of Texas.

By Mrs. Luke Huskey

Twenty-three members and guests were present for the Gavel Club meeting in Albany, Monday evening. A watermelon supper was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. Nadine Brewster.

Randy Miller entertained the group with singing, accompanied himself on the guitar.

Those from Moran attending were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kays, Hebert Brewster, C.L. Miller, Elma May Huskey and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Mohon.

Barbara Miller, president, called the meeting to order. Nadine Brewster, Secretary read the minutes of the last meeting and they were approved. Faye Ola Self, treasurer, gave the financial report.

State Capital HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams & Ed Sterling
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Lower homeowner and renter insurance rates take effect Oct. 1, after a ruling last week by Texas Insurance Commissioner Elton Bomer.

Bomer ruled Central Texans should not have to pay for bad storms in North Texas through higher insurance rates.

"It's not right for homeowners in (Central Texas) to pay for hail storms in Dallas, just as it wouldn't be fair for homeowners in Dallas or Fort Worth to pay for hurricanes along the coast," Bomer said.

For the purpose of computing insurance rates, the Dallas-Fort Worth area had been lumped with Central, South and West Texas, the Austin American-Statesman reported. As a result of this "lumping together" policyholders in those three regions subsidized the insurance premiums of those who live in Dallas-Fort Worth.

Bomer separated the single rating territory into two, and therefore, Central, South and West Texas residents will feel less impact when the $1.1 billion in insurance losses from the May 1995 Dallas-Fort Worth hail storm are figured into the new rates.

While insurers backed Bomer's decision, some consumer groups did not, saying that basing insurance rates on large territories helps prevent rate shock to any one geographical area.

The new rates will show a suggested 4.3 to 4.8 percent decrease for homeowners and a 26.7 to 30 percent decrease for renters.

Meanwhile, Bomer formally banned a billing practice that prompted a $100 million class-action lawsuit against two insurance companies.

In adopting new rules aimed at Allstate and Farmers insurance groups, Bomer said the insurers may round their bills to the nearest dollar only once before sending them to customers.

Both companies have been rounding bills twice, a practice that critics claim has provided the firms with a $100 million windfall.

Crackdown on Dirty Money

Texas Attorney General Dan Morales said his office will provide banks with updated information and training to help detect drug money laundering schemes.

Up to 80 percent of the cocaine entering the U.S. each year crosses the Texas-Mexico border and an estimated $35 billion in illegal drug money is laundered in Texas each year, Morales told the Associated Press.

Christopher Williston of the Independent Bankers Association of Texas pledged that community banks would work to battle the money laundering, and Gregory Crane, president of Broadway National Bank and chairman of the Texas Bankers Association, said he knew of no bank presidents who would knowingly launder money.

"My office and the Texas banking community have pledged to work closely with each other and with other law enforcement agencies to keep the dirty money out of the state," Morales said.

His office's financial crime division has access to U.S. Treasury information on money transactions and has been studying suspicious money transfers.

Colonia Aid Falls Short

Colonias along the Texas-Mexico border desperately need basic services that most Texans take for granted.

State, federal and private sources have contributed $750 million to a water and sewage plan, but to get the job done, it will take a billion dollars to provide water and sewage services to those 1,500 substandard subdivisions.

At an Austin conference last week, state officials and colonia residents discussed ways to come up with the $250 million that is still needed.

Dan Torrez, who coordinates colonia projects for the state attorney general's office, said a way to make up the difference would be to call a bond election, but added, "The question is whether there is the political will in the mid-1990s to approve something like that — the concensus is probably not."

Meanwhile, organizers are working on recommendations, such as asking private foundations to help, creating a board to guide public and private projects and seeking designation as a "federal empowerment zone" for the border area to help raise money.

Judges Eye Congressional Maps

A three-judge federal panel in Houston has received congressional redistricting maps from Democratic defendants, Republican plaintiffs and others in three predominantly minority districts in Dallas and Houston.

The U.S. Supreme Court in June upheld the Houston court's ruling declaring the districts unconstitutional because race was the main factor in their creation.

The judges will decide by Aug. 8 whether they will void the March congressional primaries and order special elections in re-mapped districts.

Other Capital Highlights

- The U.S. Taxpayers Party has gathered the 43,962 required signatures to earn a spot on the November general election ballot in Texas, following a ruling by Texas Secretary of State Tony Garza. The party wants political commentator Pat Buchanan as its presidential nominee.

Grass fires have been raging the past few days. Do be careful with fires, as the weather continues to be very dry, and fires can be extremely dangerous. Do be careful. Many of the stock tanks are very low on water. Grass and weeds are drying up due to the extremely dry conditions. Moran was blessed last week with some much needed rain when approximately 2 inches fell, but much more is needed. The temperatures still stay near the 100 degree mark.

EGYPT

No Charge

A young boy left his mother a note saying:

For raking leaves 75¢
for carrying out trash 50¢
for running errands 50¢
for cutting the grass $5.00
total $6.75

When his mother came home she read the note then turned it over and this is what she wrote, for carrying you 9 months - no charge, for doctoring you when you were sick - no charge, for tucking you in bed when it was cold and raining - no charge, for setting up late when you were sick and couldn't sleep - no charge.

When the boy came in he read the note, and said mother I sure do love you.

This is a true mother's love, but Jesus loves us when we are unloveable. He paid a debt that we owed, but couldn't pay. Should we not love Him? He said "as much as you have done it unto the lease of my little ones you have done it unto me." We serve God by serving one another. Jesus said, "give and it shall be given back to you." He was not speaking only in terms of money.

The Good Samaritan stopped, and poured in oil and bound up the wounds of the injured man and took him to an Inn and told the keeper of the Inn, if there is anymore charges when I return I will pay.

Fire Suppression Grants Applied For - No Word Yet

In late July the Division of Emergency Management (with the Texas DPS) announced that another wildfire had been added to the list of Texas fires eligible for assistance since the first of the year.

That brought the number of "approved" fires to 54, with some of them in Eastland County and this area.

From February through April of 1996 the manpower, equipment and finances of Eastland, Stephens, Callahan, Brown and Comanche Counties were pushed to the limit by various dangerous blazes.

The Departments went anywhere they were called to go to save property and lives.

Now local firemen may get some financial assistance from the Division of Emergency Management, although it appears that it will be slow coming and less than needed.

Even putting in requests has been complicated and at times frustrating. Area firemen went to a meeting at Albany some weeks ago to get instruction on how to fill out the forms and present their requests.

They learned that they could apply only on "approved" fires, such as those listed by the DEM. They found that the forms they needed to fill out consisted of about 5-7 pages, and were time consuming.

They also learned that the grants, which FEMA administers, may provide up to 70 percent reimbursement for eligible state and federal firefighting expenses.

Apparently these Grants do not pay anything on the manpower used in a fire, but only for a percentage on the use of equipment and fuel used, etc.

Captain Bill Dolen of the Eastland Fire Department says that his Department has applied for assistance on several fires. One group is called the North Texas Complex Fires, which burned in both Stephens and Eastland Counties between Feb. 21-25, 1996.

The Department is also asking for some reimbursement on the Colony Creek Fire in Eastland County on March 11, 1996.

Another request is for help on expenses of the Double Mountain Fire in Stephens County, March 14-17, 1996.

These were all large fires, and the Eastland Fire Department went some distance to fight them -- especially the ones in Stephens County.

Dolen says that the total Fire Suppression Grant request from his Department is $1839.00.

If approved, FEMA will pay Eastland Fire Department approximately 30 percent of this, which would equal $551.70," the Fire Chief said.

"I don't expect this to come in real soon -- it could be several months. But any amount will help."

Cisco Fire Chief Joe Jarvis seems concerned because a big fire his Department fought is not included in the "approved" list. This was a blaze near Putnam, on the Eastland-Callahan County line, and it burned several thousand acres of ranch land.

The Cisco Department had tires ruined, a truck motor blown up, and other special difficulties on that one.

Cisco Firemen fought fires every direction during the early spring. One of the fires, private companies brought big trucks to haul water, and a dozer had to be called in.

Jarvis says that what kept the firemen going on some of these big blazes was that the wives of the firemen would come out with food and drinking water. Also, the Red Cross brought supplies to a fire.

The Cisco Fire Department has applied for around $1900 in reimbursements, and is not sure what to expect.

A spokesman from the Ranger Fire Department reports that Ranger has applied for grants on the "approved" fires they fought.

This Department was out to many of the big fires in Eastland and Stephens Counties. They were at Caddo on March 12 and Caddo II on March 14.

They also fought a fire at Lake Hubbard, and a fire near Lake Daniels south of Breckenridge. They were at the big Ivan fire also.

Ranger Firemen were also at the Colony Creek Fire and others in Eastland County.

To add to this, they have fires closer home, "almost every day" around Ranger Hill during the spring season.

This Department, like others in the County, is wondering what sort of assistance may come from the Fire Suppression Grants.

ORNERY TOENAILS

People ordinarily take toenails for granted, remembering to trim them from time to time -- sometimes only when they begin to wear holes in socks. No wonder that it comes as a painful surprise when a toenail becomes ingrown. This occurs when the side of a nail grows into the skin. The result usually is swelling, redness and pain. That isn't all: piercing of skin can lead to infection. In some people, heredity may make nails more likely to grow inward. Sometimes it's injury, tight shoes or fungus infection that triggers the process. Often, it's failure to trim toenails straight across.

The podiatrist frequently treats ingrown toenails. Relief often is provided by removing only the ingrown side of a nail. Other cases may call for further steps. The most important safeguard against developing an ingrown toenail is to trim nails straight across, not contouring corners, so that they have a better chance to grow straight.

WANTED!
UTILITY COMPANY CUSTOMERS

Who Want Their Utility Companies To Help Buy Them A New Central Air Conditioning System? Let Me Explain...

If you're presently cooling your home with window units or central air conditioning over 10 years old, you're paying up to twice as much on your utility bills as you should be. There have been technological breakthroughs in central air conditioning design, which when installed properly in your home or small business, will reduce the amount you pay the utility companies up to $100 per month!

Conservation efforts are reflected in your electric meter, which measures energy use.

NO MONEY DOWN
NO INTEREST
NO PAYMENT FOR SIX MONTHS

YOU CAN BUY WITH NO CASH
We negotiated a financing program with No money down, No interest and No payments for SIX MONTHS with approved credit.

LOOK AT THIS
Imagine what you could do with $4,980.00. $4,980.00 is the money you could be throwing away over the next 10 years while you heat and cool your home with old, inefficient heating and air conditioning equipment. And this does not include any future repair cost to your old system.

THINK ABOUT THIS
If you have an older system you're already paying for a new system anyway, You just haven't received the benefit of it yet!

NO RISK - MONEY BACK GUARANTEE
No one else in our business gives you such a bold guarantee. If we don't meet all our promises and you're not satisfied, we'll take out the system and return all your money or install another system for a period of one year from date of installation. Think of it as a year long test drive.

HERE'S HOW
Just call J & J Air Conditioning at 817-629-2251 or 1-800-585-2251 and set up an appointment for your FREE survey. We will come out, measure your home and determine the proper size equipment. We will then analyze your existing equipment and ductwork and any other concerns you may have. If we find that this offering is beneficial for your situation we will explain this fantastic program to you. There is absolutely no obligation to buy anything.

'Twister' To Show For Another Weekend At Majestic Theatre

Ed Allcorn, Manager of the Majestic Theatre in Eastland, reports that the Warner Bros. movie "Twister" is being held over for another weekend.

"We had good crowds each night at this picture," Allcorn says. "This is one of the big ones this summer."

He said several who attended had seen the picture twice and planned to come back again.

The movie will show again here from Friday, August 9 through Monday, August 12. Curtain time will be 7:30 each evening, with admission $3.50 at the box office. Balcony seats will be available at $5 to adults. The rating on this picture is PG-13.

This film is an exciting, realistic story of two rival groups of scientists who are chasing tornadoes from a Severe Storms Laboratory. Each team is risking lives to gain information, and beat the other. Thrown into this mix is a married couple at war with each other, Jo Harding, (Helen Hunt) and Bill Harding (Bill Paxton). Their personal problems swing into focus against the backdrop of rampaging storms and destruction.

The movie is filmed in Oklahoma, with special digital effects when needed.

The scenes pictured are what local people used to avoid by going to the cellar when a bad-looking cloud came up. But that was before the days of the Weather Service and all the warnings, so at least you'll know beforehand if you're going to get hit!

This film has Kathleen Kennedy as one of the Producers and Steven Spielburg as one of the Executive Producers. It has a lot of music — everything from "Oklahoma" to classical, jazz and rock.

"Twister" should be interesting for anyone who has been near a tornado or who wants to avoid a tornado. And that takes in about everyone around here!

Jo Harding (Helen Hunt) and Bill Harding (Bill Paxton) have just encountered a storm in Warner Bros. and Universal Pictures new action/adventure "Twister."

Pet Care
by Cleo and Brad Conrad

Last week, we did an article on dog training, promising to follow up with cat training. Thus, here's the second in our series. We hope it's helpful.

Cat owners need to gain the trust of their cats in order for training to be a productive experience. Also, repetition is the key to the cat's training development. Therefore, owners must be consistent with rules:

* During training, an owner should never hit the cat. Rather, when the cat is caught being naughty, clap your hands or make a loud noise to startle him.
* Praise the cat when he's good.
* Be patient and look for potential causes if problems arise.
* If the cat scratches something that is off limits, clap your hands to startle the cat and then introduce him to his scratching post through play.
* Rub some catnip on the scratching post to make it more appealing to him.

Remember, your kitty probably will never come when called as Fido does, but you can at least stave off any behavior problems.

Moseley Named To 5th Court Of Appeals

James A. "Jim" Moseley of Coppell has been named by Governor George Bush to the 5th Court of Appeals. Moseley, who has been an attorney with the law firm of Locke Purnell Rain Harrell, will begin his duties immediately. Chief Justice Linda Thomas of the 5th Court of Appeals swore in Moseley as a Justice on July 31st.

Jim Moseley

Moseley, whose wife, Marian, is municipal court judge for the City of Coppell, has lived with his family in Coppell for about six years. They have two children, Becky, 10, and Jimmy, 7.

Moseley is an active member of the Coppell Republican Club and the Metrocrest Republican Club. He is an elder at Northlake Church in Coppell.

Moseley, who was regional director of the Federal Trade Commission in Dallas from 1983 to 1987, is a co-founder of the Federalist Society, a conservative organization made up mostly of lawyers which "looks at the role of judges in society as being to determine what the law is, not what the judge thinks it ought to be."

"I'm excited to have the opportunity to go into the Court of Appeals," Moseley said. "It's been a lifelong dream. I grew up in the Court of Appeals. My mother was clerk of the Court of Appeals in Eastland County."

Moseley, a graduate of Eastland High School, graduated from Baylor University in 1976, and entered law school after his junior year. He finished Baylor University School of Law in 1978, ranking in the top 15 percent of his class.

He joined the law firm of Locke Purnell Rain Harrell in 1987 where his duties included commercial litigation involving breach of contract, fraud, deceptive trade practices, franchising and dealer termination, eminent domain, real estate, construction, oil and gas and insurance defense.

As a regional director for the FTC between 1983 and 1987, he was responsible for enforcing federal antitrust laws in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana. In that capacity, he was responsible for 18 office employees, including nine attorneys.

The Court of Appeals, Fifth District of Texas at Dallas (5th Court of Appeals), meets on the second floor of the George L. Allen Sr. Courts Building at 600 Commerce Street in Dallas.

The Court consists of 12 justices and a chief justice. The court has jurisdiction over appeals from both district and county courts located in Dallas, Collin, Grayson, Hunt, Rockwall, Van Zandt and Kaufman counties. The court hears both civil and criminal appeals. Each year, about 2,000 cases are filed in the 5th Court of Appeals.

Jim is the son of Pat and Oleta Moseley of Olden.

CJC Dinner Theatre Presents 'The Fantasticks'

Fans of musical theatre won't want to miss The Fantasticks, the final show of the Cisco Jr. College summer season. The Fantasticks is a romantic tale of young lovers whose parents purposely separate them thinking that forbidding the youngsters' romance is the best way to encourage them to fall in love. When the parents, played by Mack & Cindy Tubb of Cisco, enlist the services of the mysterious El Gallo, portrayed by Ronnie Watson, his mute assistant, Kathy Toof, and two vagabond actors played by Fred Mullinax and Cory Hull, side-splitting humor abounds.

Jeff Parker and Shelley Perry who have grown up on the CJC summer stage return as the young couple, Matt and Luisa. The talents of Parker and Perry blend beautifully through comical situations as well as touching and heartwarming moments. Together they lead the audience through the joy, heartache, and madness of young love.

The Fantasticks was written by Texans Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt. Since its opening in 1960 it has played in more than 5,000 American cities and 50 foreign countries as well as becoming the longest running and most continuously produced show in American theatre. Its mixture of brilliant humor and bittersweet love with classic numbers such as "Try to Remember" and "They Were You" make for a truly magical experience for audiences.

Stephen Buse, Drama Director at Breckenridge High School is guest director and choreographer, Angela Inman designed the production and serves as its technical director, and Susan Wester is music director.

The Fantasticks can be seen in five more shows this week. Wednesday, Thursday, Friday & Saturday are dinner performances with dinner served at 6:45 p.m. followed by an 8:00 curtain. Tickets are $15. Sunday's matinee performance at 2:00 is a dessert only performance for $7.50. Reservations are required. Call 442-2589 for tickets and information. The CJC Summer Theatre is located in the Conrad Hilton Community Center on Conrad Hilton Avenue in Cisco, Texas.

Annual "Denim And Diamonds" Aug. 10

The Lamesa Association of the Arts is sponsoring its 14th annual "Denim and Diamonds" art exhibit, sale, and auction on Saturday, August 10. This year's event has been dedicated to its founders, LaFrae Sharp and Dorothy Canon, who began the Art Show in 1983. The historic Indian Canyon Ranch, located 8 miles east of Lamesa on the cusp of the caprock, will again host the benefit for West Texas Rehabilitation Centers of Abilene and San Angelo.

Sixteen artists from several Texas cities and towns are scheduled to participate. A wide variety of artwork will be displayed at the show, ranging from western art to contemporary. This is also a special opportunity to meet the artists in person while you view some of the best sculptures, landscapes, and western scenes in Texas.

The preview of auction pieces will begin at 6:30 p.m. followed by an authentic chuck wagon barbecue at 7 p.m. Jack Aufill of Lubbock will again serve as auctioneer beginning at 8 p.m. Providing musical entertainment for the night will be the band "Texas Lone Riders." There will be two drawings held during the show. One will be a round trip ticket for 2 courtesy of Southwest Airlines and Premier Travel. The other will be a bed and breakfast getaway for 2 at Schildknecht-Weidenfeller House in Fredericksburg. You must be present to win.

"Of course one of the main reasons to attend the show is its atmosphere and setting," says Chuck Canon, chairman of the event for the past two years. The picturesque stone ranch house situated atop the edge of the caprock provides a glimpse back at an important piece of our area's rich heritage. The Indian Canyon Ranch was originally part of the famed Col. C.C. Slaughter's holdings, which in the early 1900's totaled more than one million acres and 40,000 head of cattle. The portion known as the Indian Canyon Ranch was inherited by Carrie Slaughter Dean, one of Slaughter's 11 children. The ranch is now owned by Col. Slaughter's great-granddaughter Patricia Dean Boswell McCall, who now resides in Fort Worth.

Tickets to the event are $20 per person and a limited number of reserved tables are available. Everyone is invited to attend. You may purchase tickets at the door or by contacting Linda Taylor at (806) 872-7818 or Todd Howard at (906) 872-3233.

The British Medical Journal reports that Chiropractic treatment of low back pain, which affects 75 million Americans, is superior to the standard regimen administered by medical doctors.

The study, published in the summer of 1990, indicated that chiropractic manipulation can relieve severe back pain quicker and at lower cost than medical treatment. Chiropractic patients experienced less pain and disability and missed fewer days work.

At Barry Chiropractic Clinic we are committed to not only getting you free of back pain but treating those conditions which cause your pain. No symptom can be more depressing than persistent back pain. Don't delay treatment when help is readily available.

Sheriff Richardson Promotes County At State Meeting

Sheriff Bob Richardson, and his wife, Charlene, just returned from a training conference in Corpus Christie that was hosted by the Sheriff's Association of Texas.

The Sheriff advised he attended some very informative and interesting classes that were taught by people from across the state from different state agencies.

The Sheriff advised it was too hot and dry to get outside to do any sightseeing. They have not had as much rain as Eastland County and, in fact, Corpus Christie is under a water rationing plan.

The Sheriff promoted Eastland County by contacting several merchants and requested some gifts to be given away as door prizes.

The following merchants donated various items for gifts:

Cisco Rope Co., Quality Computers, Texas Communications, Mott's of Cisco, Family Dollar of Cisco, S&M Supply of Cisco, Songs and Psalms of Cisco, C&C Florist of Cisco, Philpott Florist of Cisco, Perkins Implement of Eastland, Jay Way Janitorial, Express Photo, Buddy's Shampoo, Everisto Tire & Appliance, Parnell Peanuts, Birdsong Peanuts, E'Lan and Company of Gorman.

11th Court Of Appeals Upholds Order On Money

The 11th Court of Appeals in Eastland has upheld an order from District Judge James Morgan of Comanche that $162,100 found in an automobile in Comanche County April 28, 1984 be forfeited to the state.

On appeal, Chief Justice Bud Arnot held that the search of the claimant's vehicle did not exceed claimant's consent, and there was evidence to support the finding that the money in the automobile was connected to a felony.

The $162,100 will reportedly be divided three ways, with 60 percent going to the Department of Public Safety, 25 percent to the 220th District Attorney's office, and 15 percent to the Comanche County Sheriff's Department.

Alejandro Acosta, driver of the car that was searched, argued in his appeal that the State seized the money during an illegal search and had failed to show that the money was contraband.

State Trooper Rickye Feist stopped Acosta's car for illegal window tinting. He testified that he was writing a warning ticket when he became very suspicious that the man was hiding something. He asked Acosta for permission to search the vehicle, and was given consent to do the search.

The packages of money were in the backseat of the car under a jacket. An odor of marijuana was reportedly in the car and also on both packages of money.

Social Security

Are you a former Social Security beneficiary who owes a past-due debt to Social Security because you received an overpayment of benefits? If so, you should know the Internal Revenue Service is authorized to reduce or withhold your federal tax refund to collect the delinquent debt. Approximately 132,000 persons will receive notices in July and August stating that any federal tax refund they may expect to receive next year will be subject to be withheld for their delinquent debt.

Social security overpayments occur when beneficiaries fail to report a change in their circumstances that affect their entitlement to benefits. Examples are a mother or father whose young child is no longer in his or her care; or a disabled worker who returns to work. In both cases they may continue to receive benefits to which they are no longer entitled, and may accrue an overpayment.

If you receive a letter from Social Security about money you owe, you can review your records with a Social Security representative. You have 60 days to appeal the overpayment decision or to repay the debt. If you don't owe the money, your record will be corrected. But, if you do owe the money, you can repay the amount in full or in installment payments — whichever is most convenient for you. In some instances, the debt may be waived completely if you can show severe hardship and that the overpayment was not your fault.

To avoid problems with future tax refunds, contact Social Security if you have an outstanding overpayment. You can contact your local office or call Social Security's toll-free number 1-800-772-1213. Because the lines are busiest early in the month, it is best to call later in the week and later in the month.

1996 Property Tax Rates in Ranger ISD

This notice concerns 1996 property tax rates for Ranger Independent School District. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the school district can set before it must hold a rollback election. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes and state funds by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:

Last year's operating taxes-$641,033

Last year's debt taxes-$120,798

Last year's total taxes-$761,831

Last year's tax base-$58,370,271

Last year's total tax rate-$1.30517/$100

This year's effective tax rate:

Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)-$725,222.03

(Divide by) this year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting value on new property)-$53,783,497

(Equals) this year's effective tax rate-$1.34840/$100

(Times) 1.03 equals-maximum rate unless the school district publishes notices and holds hearing-$1.38885/$100

This year's rollback tax rate:

Last year's adjusted taxes operating taxes-$610,229.57

(Divide by) this year's adjusted tax base-$53,783,497

(Equals) this year's local maintenance and operating rate-$1.13460/$100

(Times) student enrollment adjustment-1.0

(Equals) this year's adjusted maintenance and operating rate-$1.13460/$100

(Plus) $0.08 cents equals this year's maximum operating rate-$1.21460/$100

(Plus) this year's debt rate-$.16000/$100

(Plus) Rate to recoup loss certified by commissioner of education-$-0-/$100

(Equal) this year's rollback rate-$1.3746/$100

Schedule A: Unencumbered Fund Balances

The following estimated balances will probably be left in the unit's property tax accounts at the end of the fiscal year. These balances are not encumbered by a corresponding debt obligation.

Type of Property Tax Fund:

Maintenance & Operation.

Balance: $163,712.00

Bond: $62,153.00

Schedule B: 1996 Debt Service

This unit plans to pay the following amounts for long-term debts that are secured by property taxes. These amounts will be paid from property tax revenues (or additional sales tax revenues, if applicable).

Description of Debt: Bond

Principal or Contract payment to be paid from property taxes: $85,000

Interest to be paid from property taxes: $40,410

Other amounts to be paid: $200

Total Payment: $125,610

Total required for 1996 debt service-$125,610

(Minus) Amount (if any) paid from funds listed in Schedule A-$49,445

(Minus) Excess collections last year-$0

(Equal) Total to be paid from taxes in 1996-$76,165

(Plus) Amount added in anticipation that the unit will collect only 85% of its taxes in 1996-$13,440.88

(Equal) Total debt levy-$89,605.88

This notice contains a summary of actual effective and rollback tax rate calculations. You can inspect a copy of the full calculations at:
