Truman Believes Congress Obligated

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (UP)—President Truman said today he feels Congress is duty bound to approve his civil rights program in view of the Consitiution and "the fundamental faith of this country.'

The President, in an obvious slap at the iron curtain countries, also deplored the campaigns "being waged to turn religion into a tool of the state." Such actions, he said, represent "a new barbarism more terrible than that of ancient times."

Mr. Truman spoke at a luncheon of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, after making the traditional Armistice Day call at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Ceretery.

On civil rights, an explosive factor in the 1948 election campaign, the President recalled that he wanted the federal government to take a more active part in achieving "greater justice" for all racial groups.

"I have called for legislation to protect the rights of all citizens, to assure their equal participation in national life, and to reduce discrimination based upon prejudice," he said.

The President's civil rights program calls for enactment of anti-poll tax and anti-lynching legislation, and of a law to establish a fair employment practices commission.

High in his speech, Mr. Truman deplored Communist violations of human rights. Although he did not mention Russia or any of its satellites by name, his implication was plain.

"In various parts of the world today," he said, "human rights and freedom are being deliberately violated and suppressed. Men and women are being systematically persecuted for their religious beliefs. Campaigns are being waged to turn religion into a tool of the state.

Mr. Truman indicated he does not believe this nation is completely above reproach. An inward look at the United States, he said shows "instances of discrimination and injustice because of differences in color, religion, or national origin."

"But we are working diligently to overcome these violations of the fundamental faith which holds us together. It is encouraging to see that Americans all over the country are growing more and more aware of the importance of this problem."

Nation Pauses To Pay Tribute To Wars' Dead

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (UP)—The nation paused in its fight for a lasting peace today to pay tribute to those who have already given their lives in the struggle.

From President Truman on down, civic, military and government leaders called upon the American people to dedicate this Armistice Day— the 31st anniversary of the end of World War I—to the memory of the nation's fallen soldiers, sailors, airmen and marines.

They expressed the hope that the future years would find that their sacrifice was not in vain.

Special ceremonies were scheduled throughout the country. The President was to place a wreath at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery (11.01 a. m. EST).

The wreath-laying ceremony was sponsored by the American Legion. The army ordered the third infantry regiment from nearby Ft. Myer, Va., to furnish color guards for the President.

Legion National Commander George N. Craig of Brazil, Ind., was to deliver the principal address.

After his Arlington visit, Mr. Truman explained the significance of the unknown soldier in an address to the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

"No American knows, and no real American cares, whether that man was a Catholic, a Jew or a protestant or what his origin or color were," Mr. Truman said. "That grave—the grave of the Unknown Soldier—symbolizes our faith and our unity."

About 30 top civilian and military officials of the Defense Department were scheduled to address Armistice Day meetings of veterans and other patriotic organizations throughout the country.

Pilot's Emergency Request May Have Been Jammed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (UP)—The Washington Airport control tower chief said today that a Bolivian pilot's emergency landing request shortly before last week's air disaster may have been jammed because the tower was trying to transmit at the same time on the same radio frequency.

This possibility was raised by Stanley Seltzer as a Civil Aeronautics Board panel sought to establish what caused the November 1 air collision and crash which killed 55 persons aboard an Eastern Air Lines passenger plane.

Joseph C. Zacko, tower operator in charge of ground operations at the airport on the day of the crash, testified that the Bolivian fighter was making a "high, steep approach" just before the collision.

"He wasn't making a flat approach—he was diving in," Zacko said.

"Was that a normal desent?" he was asked.

Zacko, who said he was an air force pilot during the war at a field used by P-38s, replied:

"I would definitely say it was steeper than a normal desent

He said he first observed the P-38 in a northeast heading about two miles southwest of the airport in its "high steep approach" to runway three, but that it was "not lined up" on the runway. The Eastern craft, he said, was lined up and the fighter was "high to the right."

Zacko said that when the P-38 was on its final approach, he did not see any other aircraft landing. The Bolivian pilot Erick Rios Eridoux, in his hospital bed testimony, had said he saw a C-45 or C-60 land and taxi off the runway while he was making his approach.

Acheson To Offer Plan To Restore Western Germany

Concessions Reached At Paris Conference

PARIS, Nov. 11 (UP)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson left for Germany today to offer leaders of the West German republic a formula for resuming their place in the family of western nations.

Acheson carried with him new concessions for Germany which were reached here at a two-day conference with Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France. The conference ended just before dawn today.

Acheson also was armed with a warning from the western Big Three, aimed primarily at Russia, that "firmness and humanity" would be used to prevent another world war and to preserve the peace and security of Europe and the world.

The three-power decisions were to remain secret until Acheson and the three high commissioners for western Germany had discussed them with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

But the decisions included a compromise plan for partially abolishing the program of dismantling German plants for reparations, more freedom for Germany to send representatives abroad, and promises of closer integration of Germany with western Europe.

Although the ministers conferred until nearly dawn, they were up early on the 31st anniversary of the first world war armistice.

Shift Of Pickers To Valley Seen In Near Future

AUSTIN, Nov. 11 (UP)—Large movements of cotton pickers from West Texas to the Rio Grande Valley and winter garden areas will begin in the next week or 10 days, the Texas Employment Commission predicted today.

These workers, the TEC said, will arrive in time to harvest citrus fruits and vegetables.

The report from the TEC revealed that 37,000 Mexican nationals have crossed the Rio Grande in the last season to help Texas farmers in the harvest of their cotton crop.

It was estimated that last month 279,000 pickers and pullers were working in Texas' cotton fields.

Flash Blaze Hits Tell Cemetery

Slight damage was caused when a flash fire blazed through Tell Cemetery and an adjacent cotton patch shortly after 11 this morning.

City firemen, who answered the 11:15 alarm in the booster-tank fire truck, said Tell firemen had put out the flame when they arrived on the scene around 11:30

Origin of the fire is unknown. City firemen said a cigaret thrown into the field probably started the blaze.

"Give Her The Gate," Grass Widow Tells Lover Piatt In Come-On Note

PORT ORCHARD, Wash., Nov. 11 (UP)—Wilford "I'm just an average lover" Piatt suspected today that a fan leter from a New York "grass widow" was written by a group of roisterers in a bar.

Piatt, 31, whose wife hired two men to kill him so she wouldn't have to endure his lovemaking every night, said a divorcee sho signed herself "Alice Knox" had written him from 807 Third Ave., New York City.

"I have been without a husband for 14 years," the letter said.

"I'm 38, have a good figure and weigh 123 pounds. I stand five feet five inches.

"I would never get tired of your loving. Let me hear from you.

"There is no sense to your wife's attitude. Give her the gat. I'll keep my arms open for you.

Love,

(Alice."

In New York, a telephone call from the United Press office to 807 Third elicited the information that it was an establishment known as "Shaw's Place," a bar grill, an employee there said he was unacquainted with an Alice Knox. However, he said he heard some of the clientele discuss Piatt's marital problems the other night.

Mrs. Piatt got some mail, too—dozens of letters and newspaper clippings. She is in jail on an attempted murder charge.

A letter from a St. Louis woman's club, signed with 50 sets of initials, suggested Mrs. Piatt get a divorce and find another mate.

Another letter said her husband was "neither man nor mouse but a beast." An opposite point of view came from one writer who said Mrs. Piatt "didn't know when she was well off."

Mrs. Piatt will be arranged Monday. Her two alleged accomplices, Hollis Scott, 24, and Wallis Mottern, 22, are free on $2000 bail. Mrs. Piatt claimed they failed to carry out their part of the bargain after she paid them $1500. However ,they insisted they never intended to murder Piatt.

U. S. Laws Must Be Used, Catholic Judges Warned

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (UP)—Glenn L. Archer, leader of a Protestant organization, has called on Catholic judges to resign if they cannot decide cases according to U. S. laws.

Archer, executive director of Protestants and other Americans United for Separation of Church and State, said Pope Pius XII's recent pronouncement on the obligation of Catholic jurists "raises a grave question" whether non-Catholics can obtain an impartial trial from Catholic judges.

The Pope said earlier this week that Catholic judges should not pass sentences based on laws that the Roman Catholic Church considers unjust. He singled out divorce laws for particular criticism.

Vatican sources later said, however, that the Pope told jurists they would not be considered guilty of any wrongdoing, if, unable to have a particular case heard by another judge, they granted a divorce in accordance with the laws of the country in which they live.

In a statement distributed here, Archer questioned whether Catholic judges could remain true to their oath of office and "at the same time heed a voice from

Steel Agreement Near; Coal Dispute Remains A Stalemate

By United Press

The striking CIO United Steel Workers and U. S. Steel Corp. were reported in agreement on major pension and welfare issues today, but government efforts to settle the soft coal dispute marked time.

In a third major industry, International Harvster Co. offered its workers a 10-cent hourly "package" including a non-contributory pension and a contributory welfare plan.

Meanwhile, the AFL Masters, Mates and Pilots Union and East and Gulf Coast ship owners decided to move their negotiations from New York to Washington in the hope that federal mediators can avert a walkout next Wednesday.

A final settlement of the 42-day strike by 170,000 employes of U. S. Steel was expected momentarily. Union sources said the company would accept an approximation of the settlement with Bethlehem Steel Co. last week.

Industry sources said only two minor points were in dispute, and that a settlement might be reached later today.

Meanwhile, Follansbee Steel Co., employing 1200 workers at two plants in West Virginia and Ohio, announced settlement generally "along the lines the union wanted."

White House souces said no developments were anticipated in the soft coal dispute during the week end. But it was learned that government lawyers are drawing up papers for a no-strike order to prevent another walkout by the United Mine Workers November 30.

John L. Lewis, who called off the 52-day coal strike Wednesday and failed to show up at a government mediation conference yesterday, turned up in New York today but refused to tell newsmen why he was there.

Despite the threat of an anti-strike injunction under the Taft-Hartley law, informed sources said President Truman might first appoint a fact-finding board outside the law, as he did in the steel dispute.

Oscar L. Chapman Gets Appointed To Secretary Of Interior Post

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (UP)—Oscar L. Chapman, now undersecretary of interior, will succeed J. A. Krug as secretary of interior, the White House announced today.

President Truman accepted Krug's resignation today, effective December 1.

Mr. Truman will give Chapman a recess appointment to the top post in the next few days.

Presidential press secretary Charles G. Ross was asked whether Krug quit because of a policy dispute and replied that reporters should wait for an exchange of correspondence between the President and Krug which will be made public later today.

Krug announced his resignation late yesterday after a day of denials by the White House that such a step was imminent. Mr. Truman was almost the last to learn that Krug was quitting the cabinet position he has held since March, 1946.

His formal letter of resignation was not received by the President until he reached Blair House—long after Krug issued a laconic statement which said:

"I am leaving. I have wanted to leave for a long time."

The terseness of his statement and the unusual circumstances surrounding its release—the White House usually announces cabinet changes—led to speculation that there might have been some friction between Krug and the President.

Government Will Attach All Assets Of 11 Communists

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (UP)—The federal government will attach all assets of the 11 Communist leaders convicted for conspiracy to provide security for payment of $110,000 in fines, U. S. Attorney Irving H. Saypol announced today.

Saypol questioned the men to determine their private wealth and issued subpoenas restraining them from disposing of any property which could be used as security.

The restraining order included an attachment of all salaries earned by the American "politburo" members since their conviction October 14. This would include their wages as Communist Party officials.

The order prevented Negro councilman Benjamin J. Davis Jr., one of the defendants, from collecting his salary at city hall yesterday. However, he received a check for $166 which was due him prior to his conviction. Saypol said Davis would be in contempt if he cashed the check.

The Communists are free in bail totaling $260,000 pending an appeal of their conviction. The sum was posted by the bail fund of the Civil Rights Congress, a left-wing organization. Saypol said he would investigate the fund so that he could attach any contributions which the defendants might have made.

Pitman Escapade Has Development

A long-distance telephone call today to Mrs. Joe Pitman from the editor of the Shreveport Times and a United Press reporter from Louisiana, is another step in what is becoming a rather envolved case which started with young Joe Pitman falling out of a window.

There doesn't seem to be much connection, but there is.

The Index carried the story of young Joe's escapade. We also filed the story with all wire services, including the United Press.

A Mrs. J. E. Stigall of Shreveport read the story and wrote Mrs. Pitman. In her letter she asked Mrs. Pitman if she knew of a 'Dub' Leslie Anderson who married a widow from Childress.

The Index again printed that story and a Mrs. Bohannon from here apparently wrote Mrs. Stigall in Shreveport—at least so the reporters on the phone today said.

That was during the first part of October. That also brings the story up to the present phone call. From what Mrs. Pitman could learn, an estate, be it large or small, awaits Anderson—if he can be found. He's been tracked to Kansas, then lost.

Apparently the end of the story is yet to come.

Colder Weather For West Texas Is Predicted

By United Press

In most sections of Texas today Armistice Day parades were watched by men in shirt-sleeves and women in summer clothes.

The unusually warm weather will continue through the late afternoon, the U. S. Weather Bureau at Dallas said, but the mercury should start dropping tonight.

A few showers and cooler temperatures were forecast for Northwest Texas tonight and Saturday, and "colder" weather was predicted for West Texas.

Skies were considerably cloudy throughout the state early in the day but started dissipating in some sections.

Skies were considerably cloudy throughout the state early in the day but started dissipating in some sections.

The only rain reported over the 24-hour period ending at 6:30 a. m. was a slight drizzle at Austin.

Maximum temperatures yesterday ranged from 87 at Laredo, 85 at Childress, to 65 at Guadalupe Pass, while Ozona reported the low minimum, a pleasant 40 degrees.

Winds up to 15-20 swept through the north central portion into the heart of the state today.

Officials Claim Vishinsky Is Full Of Hot Atomic Air

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (UP)—Andrei Y. Vishinsky's statement that Russia is using precious atomic explosives as a substitute for cheap blasting powder struck officials here today as being on the silly side.

One official called it "more Vishinsky hot air." Others less police called it other things less printable but adding up to much the same figurative meaning.

Several officials didn't want to comment.

"Why act as though you even hear it?" one said plaintively. "It will just help him out with his propaganda."

Another said:

"Oh, that's just the Soviet line—trying to persuade the world we're atomic war mongers while the Russians, great humanitarians that they are, are interested solely in atomic blessings."

State Expenses Up As Revenue Drops

AUSTIN, Nov. 11 (UP)—State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, in a report covering state finances through October, said today that state expenses were up almost $17½ million while revenue was down more than $2¼ million.

Most of the decrease in revenue was accounted for by a drop in gross production crude oil taxes.

Expenses for the month exceeded by more than $9 million the total revenue for the same period, leaving the state a cash balance for the rest of the fiscial year of $67,273,621.

A radio skit, "We Are New Here," was presented by speech students Frances Hodges, Betty Lou Harris, Jimmy D. Smith and Denzie McAlister. Announcer was Jackie Foust. "Strange Freedom" a reading, was given by Patsy Campbell.

Election Bureau Eves Last-Minute Changes In Race

DALLAS, Nov. 11 (UP)—The Texas Election Bureau today continued to watch closely two of 21 races for the state board of education in last Tuesday's election, just in case of a last minute change in tide.

On the basis of its last tabulation yesterday, the bureau said Paul Matthews, Greenville banker, apparently had won a tight race with Roy Baker of Sherman, former national president of the Young Democrats. The vote count was 4944 for Matthews to Baker's 4506.

The other two closely contested districts were 9 and 19, with returns still incomplete and inconclusive. Mrs. Joe Wessendorff of Richmond led George Duncan of Alvin, 5792 to 5420, in District 9. In the 19th district, E. H. Boulter of Lubbock led J. M. Rankin of Ralls, 4193 to 3867.

Tatum Involved In His Second Attempted Break

PHOENIX, Nov. 10 (UP)—Jack Tatum, 28-year-old desperado captured in El Paso after a successful jail break, was involved in another escape plot today when his cell-mate was discovered sawing through a bar with a cotton mop-string.

Maricopa County jailer Herb Green placed the entire blame on Tatum's cellmate, Oliver Coursey, who had cut his way through a one-quarter inch steel bar in less than an hour with a twisted mop string treated with abrasive from wall plaster.

Green said that Tatum, arraigned last Monday on a Dyer Act violation and awaiting federal grand jury action on a prison break charge, "must certainly have known about Coursey's plan."

Coursey, 31, known as an "escape artist," is awaiting sentence on conviction of attempted kidnap and robbery.

Calvin Jones, Pioneer, Recalls Many Changes In Childress

Just a few months ago, Calvin Jones, pioneer Childress groceryman, was heard to say that he had seen many changes take place since his arrival here 49 years ago.

Tomorrow, another great change will take place here, and Jones, after seeing history made here for so long, will make a bit of it himself.

Tomorrow, he will formally open his new concern, Jones Market, in southeast Childress after operating several stores in the downtown district for 33 years.

Many merchants and businessmen of Childress have already expressed their congratulations to Jones on his new venture, and hundreds, if not thousands more, will visit the store tomorrow to extend personally their best wishes

Jones and his son, J. C., have spared no effort to give shoppers of the southeast, and the entire city, a modern, neat and convenient place to replenish their depleted grocery supplies.

Lighted throughout by neon tubing, the building is reported to be the only one in the city so lighted. Store hours will be from 7:30 a. m. to 10 p. m., and plenty of parking space will be provided around the 25 by 75 foot building.

The elder Jones is an early settler of Texas and Childress County, emigrating here at the turn of the century by covered wagon from Oklahoma.

He met and married the late Verna McKnight Jones shortly after coming here. The young couple tried farming in the Arlie Community for several years, then returned to Childress in 1904.

Jones then took employment in the general store of Dr. Myrkle, until 1908 when he bought and operated Jones Eatery.

Later he bought a wagon yard at 114 Avenue B, Northeast.

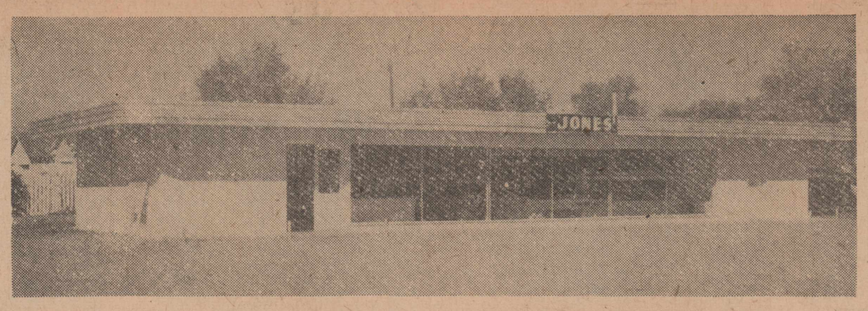

A familiar sight on Childress streets around 1913 was Calvin Jones delivering meat in a two-wheeled horse-drawn cart for Joe Rhea.

In 1916 he went into the grocery business for himself, and operated a store at 100 North Main. He later moved to 126 Main, and still later operated another store on Avenue B, Northeast, just east of the present Griffin and Butler.

He later moved into his fifth location, 114 Avenue B. Southeast, the same address from where he had operated his wagon yard about 30 years earlier.

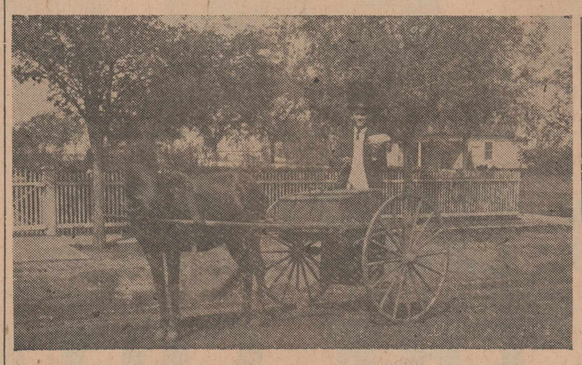

It was from this site that he moved to southeast Childress early this month.

Formal Opening Is Set Tomorrow

Jones Market, Childress' newest grocery store, will be formally opened tomorrow, Calvin Jones and son, J. C., who will be associated with him in the business, announced today.

The new grocery is located at Third Street and Avenue G, Southeast. It is reported to be the only business building in the city lighted throughout by neon tubing. Ample parking space is provided for shoppers.

A familiar sight in Childress 36 years ago was this young man making meat deliveries in a two-wheeled cart, horse-drawn.

The young man was Calvin Jones, who later went into the grocery business for himself.

After operating five stores in downtown Childress, Jones will formally open Jones Market, the city's newest grocery, in Southeast Childress tomorrow.

NTSC To Erect Library Addition

DENTON, Nov. 11 —A $100,000 addition to the library building at North Texas State College has been approved by the college's Board of Regents.

The expansion of the library building will provide added space for a five-stack level to house an additional 175,000 volumes.

Already under construction on the NTSC campus are a new million dollar science hall, a men's gymnasium and physical education building, and a new men's double-unit dormitory. Plans have been authorized for a new $200,000 women's gymnasium and physical education building.

Margaret May Have Lined Up A Romance

DETROIT, Nov. 11 (UP)—Margaret Truman will return to the scene of her professional singing debut here tonight amid speculation that her visit combined business with a touch of romance.

Expected in the audience was 34-year-old Frank Handy, Jr., frequent escort of the President's daughter last winter and her luncheon "date" at the swank Detroit Athletic Club yesterday.

Miss Truman arrived here three days early for her concert, explaining only that she had a "break" in her tour schedule. Handy manages a printing plant owned by his father, a publisher in nearby Ypsilanti, Mich.

Earlier this week after a concert at Battle Creek, Mich., Miss Truman said smilingly that she was emphasizing on her singing career and "leaving the romance tc the Vice-President."

Soil Conservation Special To Leave For Week's Tour

FORT WORTH, Nov. 11 (UP)—The annual soil conservation "special" of the Burlington lines will leave here Sunday for a week's tour of Texas conservation areas.

The trip and conservation meetings are sponsored by the railroad, the Second National Bank of Houston, U. S. Soil Conservation Service, and Texas A&M Extension Service.

The Texas Zephyr will carry members of the group making the trip to Childress, leaving here at 3 p. m. Special cars will be picked up in Childress for the remainder of the trip.

Conservation meetings and tours of projects will be made Monday at Shamrock; at Childress on Tuesday; at Quanah on Wednesday; at Henrietta and Spur on Thursday; and at Stamford on Friday.

R. Wright Armstrong, Burlington vice president here, will head the railroad's Fort Worth group. The party also will include, besides representatives of the sponsoring agencies, members of newspaper from Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Amarillo, Lubbock, and Abilene.

Baptists Hold Rump Session

DALLAS, Nov. 11 (UP)—A Baptist delegation that convened a rump session protesting a resolution passed by the Baptist Missionary Association of Texas announced today it would rejoin the main body of delegates if the BMA would change some of its policies.

The walkout occurred yesterday at the BMA annual meeting following approval of the measure which dissenters said would curb freedom of speech.

The adopted resolution declared a policy of "non-fellowship with any church and pastor that shall continue to attack, falsely accuse and intimidate our churches, pastors and leaders." It recommended that "such churches and pastors be indefinitely suspended from this association."

GENERAL NEWS

After taking up of school again the Carey Annual Staff started back to work on the annual. A little more than three-fourths of the students have deposited on their annual and some have paid all of it. The girls on the staff are spending some of the advertising sheets off while the boys are collecting deposits and selling ads.

The school pictures have arrived, and all students are eager to see how flattered they were by the camera.

Health records are being started for each pupil in school. In charge of this work is Mrs. Delaney, our visiting teacher. The T. B. test will be given on Tuesday, the fifteenth.

There will be an announcement in next week's Jounral listing the classes contributing one-hundred per cent to the Junior Rad Cross.

Mrs. E. D. Owens was dismissed Monday from the Quanah Memorial Hospital where she underwent a major operation. She is said to be improving.

Agriculture News

By Delbert Cagle

The F. F. A. class of Carey went to the Dallas Fair October 15. Mr. Bailey left with the group of agriculture boys about 7:30 Friday morning and entered Dallas about 3:30 that afternoon.

The Fair was really interesting to the F. F. A. boys because it contained so many educational exhibits. The livestock and hogs were just about the most interesting things because there was any kind of either you wanted to see.

WITH THE CLASSES

Senior Class

The senior class met Tuesday and took their measurements for their caps and gowns. This class is the only one that has 100 per cent attendance this week. The senior annual staff met Monday to make final plans before sending in part of their ad pages.

Junior Class

The junior class met Monday. Plans were discussed for an activity to raise money for the junior senior banquet. Jo Shoffner visited in Carlsbad, N. M., while school was out.

Jolene Owens and Travis Howard visited in Plainview at the home of Roy Howard.

Carrol Seal pulled two and one-half bales of cotton last Wednesday evening. Of course he used a bole puller.

The Junior Class will sponsor a carnival and have a coronation of the queen for the term of '49 and '50, on November 18. Each class has elected a candidate to represent their class. They are as follows:

Seniors: Ellen O'Daniels; Juniors; Jo Shoffner; Sophmores: Virginia Imhof; Freshmen: Juana Carpenter.

We are all looking forward to our queen's winning.

The votes will be one penny a vote.

Freshman Class

The freshman class has a new member; his name is Bobby Dodson. He came from Oregon.

Seventh Grade

In health, the students made a newspaper on health topics and the teacher, Mr. Cagle, is now reading the paper to the entire class.

A regular visitor to the seventh grade arithmetic class is a mouse that does acrobatic stunts on the steam pipes.

Fourth Grade

We have two new students whose names are Raymond Son and Sivilla Loucks. In health we are studying how to make posters. Some of our students are absent. Some of them are pulling bolls. We have given some money to the Junior Red Cross.

Fifth Grade

The fifth grade are enjoying our Weekly Readers very much We got a test this week. In health we are studying safety; we are also making posters of safety. Several of our classmates are still absent from school. In English we are studying singulars and plurals. The ones who makes a 100 in all subjects are having their name put on the 100 per cent board. The boys are enjoying football very much. We are all looking forward to getting our pictures.

CAREY CHARACTERS

Bobert Conway

Robert Conway, a junior, is one of the many athletic-minded boys attending Carey School. He is one of many who will "dig" at night to get his English for the next day, just to play ball. Robert, who wears number 77 on the A string, is one of the two junior boys that play on the main string. He enjoys working in his agriculture class, which will help him in the future to be a farmer.

R. S. Conway

R. T., a junior student, is among our boys interested in agriculture and other subjects of vocational nature. He is ordinarily very quiet, but in spite of this, he makes his presence felt in many ways; for one thing, his generosity prompted him to give more to the Red Cross than any other student to date. He is a pleasure-loving boy who enjoys class activities fully. R. E. chose to be with us again at C. H. S., which makes us very happy.

SPORTS

By Joe Arnold

The brave old Cardinals fell in line this week for about 85 laps to get warmed up. Then played a little. They expected to play a game sometime soon. They started training yesterday for the district, which starts December 10, 1949.

The girls plan to play basketball game sometime next week.

It will be girls' night and they will take donations for new suits. All the money made will go for suits.

The Carey Cardinals will play host next Tuesday night. November 15, to the Odell High School basketball teams. The admission will be on a donation basis and all proceeds will go to purchase the girls' basketball suits.

This is the first time in a long while that the girls in Carey have had the opportunity to play basketball. This will be the girls' first first game this season, and the boys' fifth. Every one be sure to come out to see this game. The first game will start at 7:30.

JUST THINKING

BY FRANK HATT

These days Childress is making history. Years hence people will be talking about 1949 "the year of the big cotton crop."

Homer Coats expressed it this way . . . most of us may never see another like it.

Joe Liles reports that he could gin for 48 hours on the cotton waiting in his yard. The Co-op gin is busy as a beehive 24 hours a day. Other gins report the same thing.

Frank Barksdale says he is worked down at the railroad, with all available cars being used to handle the cotton shipments.

Farmers are buying groceries by case lots, bacon in 20-pound lots and larger. Saturday will see every available sales person working in our stores.

But if ever our stores needed the rush they do this year. For most of them are heavily stocked and must move the merchandise or suffer a loss after the first of the year.

And, hard to believe but true is the fact that some of the dry goods stores have been having big sales with merchandise reduced in price.

The good fortune of a bountiful crop never happened to a better people, for I believe the folks of this area are the salt of the earth.

Congratulations to two food stores observing big events tomorrow. The Jones Market celebrating its formal opening in southeast Childress and the Griffin and Butler Grocery Saturday having its fourth anniversary celebration.

Calvin Jones, a pioneer well loved and respected has been "under the weather" and may not be able to take much of a part in his opening, but his son J. C. will be there to greet each visitor.

Griffin and Butler have imported a famous personality, "Aunt Jemima" who will serve pancakes and coffee tomorrow. The coffee will be Admiration, dished out by Clyde Henderson, the Duncan Coffee representative in this part of Texas.

Childress-Wichita Falls Renew Grid Rivalry Tonight

JOE POWELL—Childress' fine field general who stepped into the quarterback slot vacated by T Jones last year. The ace Bobcat passer is an all-around 60-minute man. He saw some action against Wichita Falls last season.

—oOo—

Crisp, autumnal weather was in the offing for the 8 p. m. Kickoff, and an overflow Armistice-Day crowd was expected to watch the arch foes slug it out for survival in the conference.

The powerful Pack, flitting along on a seven-game win skein, has a preponderance of factors in its favor--experience, speed, depth and season record. They are still vengeful of last year's staggering 13-to-12 Bobcat upset.

Childress, with only two 1949 wins, has a scrappy, young eleven which has improved twofold over its early-season performances They will be performing on familiar terrain, and they'll boast a two-pound weight advantage per man over the Coyotes.

Game time should find both both clubs in near top physical condition. Wichita Falls, after a layoff last week, announced that only Jerry Fouts, all-around Coyote standout end, may see limited service because of an injured left knee.

The Bobcats, with running star Kenneth Buckley back in form, are due to field an unpatched starting eleven for the first time in several weeks.

With big Herbert Reavis starting at a tackle position, Childress will average out at 160 pounds per man, while Witchita's starting eleven hits 158 pounds the gridder. Up front the Bobcats will average 169 pounds--a four pound advantage per man over their opponents. The backfields are even at 152 pounds.

Wichita stresses a hard ground attack, with Tommy Fields, James Self and Bill Waggoner operating behind a precision-blocking Coyote line. Waggoner and Billy Lookout have handled what little passing the Coyotes have done this year.

The Coyotes have thus far appeared to be a "team" outfit, well steeped in football fundamentals.

Childress may come out with an all-out overhead offensive to crack the tough Wichita defense which has yielded only 33 points all season against strong opposition.

Joe Powell, John Baker and Kenneth Buckley--the Bobcat passing triumvirate--have shown well in rehearsals all week. But Jogalong Joe, the lank T-master, will probably do most of the chunking.

All four Bobcat ends are in shape for the first time this year to help the passing cause. R. D. Bradshaw, Kenneth Bearden, Jarvis Michie and Harold Wright all might be in for a busy afternoon.

Childress has defeated its downstate opponent only four times in 19 starts. They won 12 to 0 in the first meeting in 1930, 13 to 6 in 1936, 11 to 7 in 1939--and of course the Wichita 13-to-12 Pearl Harbor of 1948. The Bobcats lost a 6-to-7 hairliner in 1934.

The biggest score ever run up by a Coyote eleven was a 41-to-0 win in 1947. The Bobcats have never scored more than 13 points against a Wichita team.

Wichita boasts conference victories over Electra and Quanah. Childress has defeated Graham and Electra, and lost to Vernon.

R. D. BRADSHAW . . . gangling end who poses a chief target for Bobcat aerialists. The sophomore starter is due to see lots of action against the unbeaten Coyotes tonight.

Schoolboy Teams Get Reshuffling

LUBBOCK, Nov. (UP)—A general reshuffling of the schoolboy football alignment in the South Plains by next season will remove Brownfield from District 3-AA into Class A and Sudan, Seagraves and Sundown from District 4-A into Class B.

Brownfield has been a Class AA team since 1942, but has never been able to compete seccessfully against the larger schools. Since its enrollment was below the 500 Class AA standards it had to be voted into the higher classification.

None of the three 4-A teams dropped into Class B met the 150-minimum enrollment for Class A and their application for membership was denied by the 4-A executive committee in a meeting here.

The committee voted to abandon the north-south split district which has prevailed in 4-A and have each member play an eight game schedule against district foes.

dave's drivel

BY DAVE LEWIS

Last Saturday was a great day for the underpup, which is another way of saying the Aggies showed dogged determination in tying the Mustangs.

Everybody but the Smoos were glad to see the Aggies have their day. The Farmers had played SMU to a standstill in 1947 and 1948, when the Mustangs were Walkering over everyone.

Now comes the hot-and-cold giants from Arkansas to try the Ponies in the Cotton Bowl Saturday, and the Hogs likewise came within a hairsbreadth of knocking off the Southwest champs in '47 and '48.

Elsewhere along the line favorites are pretty clear cut. Strength of Baylor's foe, Wyoming, is unknown, since the unbeaten eleven has been messing around in the bush leagues.

Wyoming did roll up a 103-to-0-win over Colorado State last week, though. That's six points about every four minutes—a rare feat even if there had been no opposition.

Texas is favored to dump TCU, and Rice isn't supposed to be worried over Texas A&M.

SMU-Arkansas—Mustangs saving Sunday punch for Notre Dame, which they will need on a Saturday. The Ponies in a close one, 20-14.

BAYLOR-Wyoming—The Bears, 20-6, but the crystal ball is hazy.

RICE-Texas A&M—The Aggies are leaving Kyle Field. Owls, 21-0.

TEXAS-Texas Christian—And here comes the nearest thing to an upset. Longhorns, 14-7.

Vernon B's Take B Bobcats, 26-6

Paced by 200-pound fullback Virgil Patton, Vernon's B team romped to a 26-to-6 win over Childress' B Bobcats here last night.

The game Bobcats, spotting their king-sized adversaries about 20 pounds per man, fought the reserve Lions to a 6-13 halftime score before falling victim to Vernon's two-touchdown fourth-quarter splurge.

Patton, a junior who transferred from Oklaunion where he played six-man football, played havoc with the light Bobcat line. The big fullback certainly needed faster company.

Vernon marched 65 yards on the ground after the opening kickoff for its first touchdown, with Patton going the last two bitterly contested yards. They pushed over another six-pointer early in the second period on another 45-yard overland rush to lead 13-0 before Childress could get started.

Late in the second period, Mickie Compton tossed a flat pass to halfback Jimmy Shubert on his own 30, and Shubert picked his way 33 yards through the Lion secondary down to the Vernon 37.

Childress moved to the Lion 20 on a penalty, then Compton heaved a perfect pass to Billy Collier in the end zone for Childress' only score.

In the fourth period Patton took a low Childress punt near midfield and streaked down the middle into the end zone, but a clipping penalty placed the ball back on the Childress 26. The Lions worked the ball over in five tries.

The final Vernon counter came late in the fourth quarter when a Lion back intercepted a Bobcat pass on the Childress 35 and raced to paydirt to give Vernon a 26-to-6 margin.

Compton's running and passing and Shubert's kicking were bright spots in the Childress attack. Freddy Ray Hall and newcomer Ronald Neill also looked good in spots.

According to a statement made today by Dr. Forrest C. Allen, University of Kansas Basketball coach, the FBI may be the one to decide finally whether some college football stars receive room and board or a junior executive's salary for their talents.

The Kansas professor claims that the FBI is going to crack down on amateur athletes for income tax invasion.

Dr. Allen has long contended that a few star quarterbacks have been dodging more than tacklers.

Bob Huntley, owner of the Vernon Dusters of the Class D Longhorn League, has brewed up a deal to sell his club.

In a telephone conversation with Index Managing Editor Bill Warren yesterday, Huntley said he would certainly be interested in Warren's proposal to put a class D club in Childress—if he fails to reach a price agreement Saturday with his prospective buyer.

Warren suggested in a letter to Huntley several weeks back that a Class D outfit might go here because of the wide area hereabouts without pro ball. Huntley agreed—at least tentatively.

The Vernon baseball mogul thought the ball park here would need a face lifting if he moved in—grass on the outfield, new stands, and general improvements.

If Huntley doesn't sell his club Saturday, he's promised to visit Steve Cowan and the Childress Baseball Association to make a survey of the situation.

Eight Are Killed, Fifteen Injured As Trucks Collide

GILA BEND, Ariz., Nov. 11 (UP)—Eight men were killed and 15 others injured late last night when a truck carrying 23 cotton pickers collided with a heavy truck-trailer 17 miles west of here, police said today.

Six were killed instantly. Another died en route to the hospital, and the eighth man died on the Maricopa County hospital emergency table. Hospital authorities reported the other 15 in critical or serious condition.

Charles Davis, Los Angeles, driver of the truck said he attempted to pass the slow moving trailer, loaded with 30-tons of airplane engines, but swerved on the rain-soaked highway and smashed into the trailer's side.

The truck turned over four times, hurling dead and injured for more than 200 yards along the highway.

A bus driver who witnessed the crash said the truck attempted to pass the larger vehicle only to be faced with an oncoming automobile.

He said the driver apparently tried to cut back in behind the big truck in an effort to miss the car.

Tito Sees Split In Kremlin Among Highest Officials

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Nov. 11 (UP)—Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia believes a "split" in the Kremlin is why some top ranking Soviet leaders "disappear."

Tito told Edward Clausen of Politiken, Copenhagen independent daily, in an interview that it is obvious that there is no unity in the Soviet politburo, including the question of the harsh Russian policy towards Yugoslavia.

Clausen was received by the Yugoslav leader Monday night and recounted his conversation with Tito to the United Press later.

Asked whether the Yugoslav government's repeated references to "some Soviet leaders" indicated there are other Russian leaders who disagree with the hostile policy towards the Tito government, Tito replied:

"If you think it over you can see there is a split. There are still people who disappear over there."

This was interpreted as a reference to the shakeup in the Soviet hierarchy which began in March, 1949, with the dropping of some of the better known Soviet leaders.

The shakeup reportedly is continuing.

Tito also made these points in his interview, according to Clausen:

1. He still does not believe that Russia will take any armed action against Yugoslavia, and he still believes that war between two "socialist" countries is impossible."

"They know very well that an isolated armed attack is impossible," Tito reportedly said.

2. Russia will vainly try to create internal unrest in Yugoslavia by more border provocations and infiltration of agents.

"They can not do anything," Tito was quoted. "Maybe they will continue further provocations and send secret agents here in an effort to split our party. We have some Cominformists, but they mean next to nothing."

3. Reconciliation with the Kremlin is next to impossible. "It will take a very long time, if ever. They have gone too far with the propaganda war," Tito said.

Cpl. Jackson Arrives In Osaka

Corporal Elman Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jackson of 507 Avenue, H, Northwest, after disembarking at Yokohama, Japan, has now arrived in Oska, second largest city in Japan, and is assigned to the 25th Infantry (Tropic Lightning) Division which is commanded by Major General William B. Kean.

The 25th is one of the battle scarred veterans of the Pacific Campaigns. Stationed at Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941 the men of the Tropic Lightning Division were pressed into combat duty immediately. After taking part in the Guadalcanal Campaign the division moved up through New Georgia, Vella La Vella, Arundel, and Kolombangara, and by its participation in the Luzon campaign was instrumental in the liberation of the Philippines.
