EVERYTHING IS shaping up nicely for the annual banquet of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce to be held here Saturday night, Chairman D. N. Morison reports. Something like 200 tickets have already been sold and the other 200 are expected to be bought before banquet time.

The tickets, which cost $2, are now on sale only at the Chamber of Commerce.

AS YOU KNOW, the banquet speaker will be Mr. R. G. LeTourneau of Longview, one of the nation's best known industrailists and religious leaders. Mr. Morrison reports that obtaining Mr. LeTourneau for the banquet address was very difficult due to the demand for his services as a speaker in all parts of the country.

CofC leaders decided early in the year that they would like to have Mr. LeTourneau for an address and they had to wait several months in order for him to fit Cisco into his busy schedule. He accepted on condition he might also appear in local churches on the followng Sunday. And, of course, local churches were delighted to have the opportunity to present him to their congregations.

Mr. LeTourneau's offices in Longview have worked out every detail of his stay in Cisco. He is to arrive by airplane Saturday afternoon late and his party of some six or eight people will occupy several rooms at the Victor Hotel.

After his banquet speech Saturday night and three church addresses Sunday, the party will depart by airplane. Mr. LeTourneau travels in his own twin-engine plane to look after his far-flung industrial enterprises and to carry on his busy religious program. Although he is a Baptist, he appears frequently before congregations of various churches.

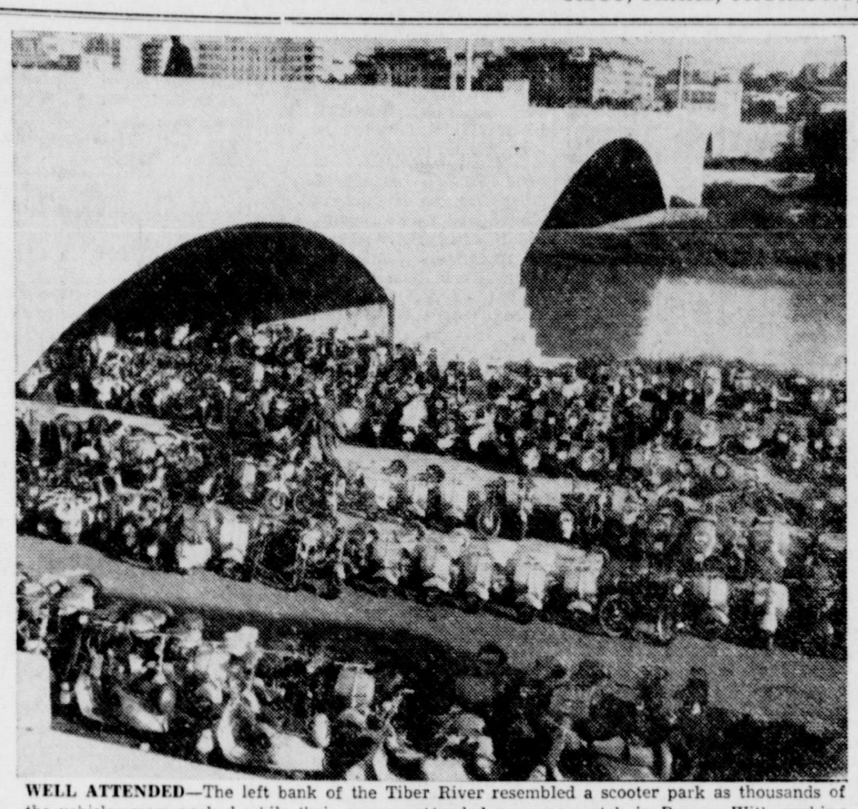

CofC leaders are expecting a capacity crowd for all of his appearances here. Numerous out-of-town people are expected. Certainly all Cisco will want to avail themselves of the opportunity to hear this noted Christian gentleman.

ONE OF THE best things about Thanksgiving is the fine food that goes with the season. Comes an invitation for us to eat with the Lutheran folks tonight at the First Christian Church basement, and our experience is that the Lutheran ladies really know how to prepare Thanksgiving food. Members of the church and friends will hold their annual dinner at 6:30 to about 8 o'clock tonight.

ANOTHER HAPPY hunter is Mr. Rudolph Schaefer. He brought home a fine buck yesterday from the Strawn hunting grounds. The boys at the Cisco Locker Plant report that the Schaefer buck dressed out 70 pounds, and his horns had five points . . . Mr. W. E. Dean was due to leave late today for a hunting trip . . . And Mr. W. B. Wright has been practicing with his rifle, getting set for a hunt.

ACCORDING TO our birthday calendar, a number of local people are celebrating this week. Among those observing birthdays are: Nov. 15, Wanda Ann Dunlap; Nov. 18, Dallas Elder, Jane Flint and Mrs. Otis Edwards; Nov. 19, David Elder and Shirley Edwards; and Nov. 21, Mrs. C. J. Turner and Bobby Rains.

WAS TALKING TO a Comanche man yesterday and he reports that the folks over that way are right pleased with the football situation. Their undefeated Indians have won the district crown already and the Cisco game couldn't hurt them. He says the talk there is that the Indian second team will get a chance to do a lot of playing against Cisco this Friday night, allowing the first stringers to rest before they open the playoff the first week after Thanksgiving . . . And since we can't win the crown, we all hope Comanche as the district winner wins the state Class AA championship . . . A large crowd of Ciscoans will go to Comanche to see the season's final game . . . And the last home game of the season takes place tonight out at Chesley Field when the Lobo "B" team meets the Comanche "B" team.

CHS BASKETBALL TEAM BEGINS SEASON IN GAME HERE TUESDAY

The Cisco High School Lobo basketball team, coached by Al Langford, will open its 1953-54 season at the Community Gym next Tuesday night with Gorman as the competition. The Lobo Queens will officially open their season the same night. Mrs. James Wimbish is the Queen's coach.

Coach Langford will face the season with three returning lettermen from last year's team. They are George Callerman, C. W. Keller and Don Emsley.

Other boys making strong bids for places on the squad are: centers — Bill Smith, C. A. Ditmore, and Roger Lisenbee; guards — Bobby Bennie, Tommy Reynolds, and Kenneth Duke; and, forwards — Jim Branton, Fred Hayes and Jerry Weiser. Emsley and Callarman are guards and Keller is a forward.

Several other players will begin work as soon as football practice is completed and some of the players will be strong contenders for starting posts. Coach Langford is expecting some 35 boys out for practice next week.

The team will participate in three tournaments in addition to playing the regular schedule.

The first tourney will be their own — on December 10-12. Eight boys and girls teams are entered in the Cisco tournament. They are Cisco, Cross Plains, Moran, Strawn, De Leon, Eastland, Dublin and Putnam. The other two tournaments are at Cross Plains and Putnam.

The schedule for the season is as follows:

Nov. 24 — Gorman at Cisco.
Dec. 1 — Cisco at Cross Plains.
Dec. 4 — Cisco at Gorman.
Dec. 8 — Cisco at May.
Dec. 10-12 — Cisco tournament.
Dec. 15 — May at Cisco.
Dec. 17-19 — Putnam tourney.
Dec. 22 — Cross Plains at Cisco.
Jan. 5 — Eastland at Cisco.
Jan. 7-9 — Cross Plains tournament.
Jan. 8 — Cisco at Weatherford.
Jan. 12 — Comanche at Cisco.
Jan. 15 — Cisco at Eastland.
Jan. 19 — Cisco at Stephenville.
Jan. 22 — Minerall Wells at Cisco.
Jan. 26 — Weatherford at Cisco.
Jan. 29 — Cisco at Comanche.
Feb. 2 — Open.
Feb. 5 — Stephenville at Cisco.
Feb. 9 — Cisco at Mineral Wells.

The games with Stephenville, Comanche, Minerall Wells and Weatherford will be conference games. The conference winner will be decided on a percentage basis with the teams playing two games on a home and home basis.

On each of the above dates, with the exception of the Mineral Wells games, both the Loboes and the Queens will play. Mineral Wells does not have a girls cage team this year.

Army Announces Buddy System In Recruit Training

A new buddy system of Army training, which guarantees enlistees at least eight weeks of training with friends and acquaintances from their home town or community, provided they enlist together, is now in effect within the Fourth Army area, according to Colonel N. D. Woodward, Military Personnel Officer, Fourth Army Headquarters, and Commanding Officer, Southwestern Recruiting District.

"Special arrangements with two training divisions, within the Fourth Army area, which are located at Camp Chaffee, Arkansas, and Fort Bliss, Texas, make it possible for buddies to enlist together at Recruiting Stations and be assigned to the same training divisions where they will train together for the first eight weeks," Colonel Woodward said.

He also pointed out that the Army will guarantee enlistees that they will not be separated during this period unless certain individuals miss training due to sickness or other emergencies. At Camp Chaffee, a trainee may miss up to five days training and still continue with his old unit, while Fort Bliss specifies that no more than three days may be missed. In cases of this kind the trainee must be transferred to another training unit that has advanced to his stage of training in order to complete the full eight weeks required.

"Similar plans have been tried in other Army areas and generally have proved popular with new enlistees," Colonel Woodward concluded.

Talk On Money Program Feature For Lions Club

Louis Goodwin of De Leon, an employee of the Humble Pipe Line Company, showed coins from his extensive collection and spoke on money used by various countries of the world as the program feature Wednesday at the weekly luncheon of the Cisco Lions Club. Lion A. R. Westfall was in charge of the program.

Mr. Goodwin, whose hobby of collecting coins has extended over some 25 years, has several thousand coins. He showed Lions several hundred of them, including many in use several centuries ago. Some of the coins are mentioned in the Bible.

The first metal coins were introduced by the Greeks 700 years before Christ, replacing the barter system of trade, Mr. Goodwin said. He told Lions that he has been trying to obtain samples of coins from every country of the world and needs only 18 to complete his collection.

Money has been made from all known metals and other materials in the various countries, Mr. Goodwin said. He has an extensive collection of coins minted by the United States over the years.

In other action, the club studied a recommendation by Dr. C. E. Paul that a broom sale be held during the annual Treasure Hunt for the benefit of the Lions Crippled Childrens Camp at Kerrville.

Lobo 'B' Team Plays Comanche Here Tonight

The Comanche Indian "B" team is scheduled to be in Cisco at 7 o'clock tonight for a game with the Lobo "B" team on Chesley Field.

The game was originally scheduled for Tuesday night, but a mix-up in dates caused the postponement.

Health Officer Urges Good Diet For Young People

AUSTIN, Nov. 19. — In speaking about the food requirements of a child enjoying maximum health, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, emphasized the importance of a well rounded diet and stated that a healthy and well nourished child enjoys life because he is physically fit.

Stressing the importance to health of an adequate and well balanced diet, Dr. Cox stated further that when a child is in good health, his appetite is good, elimination regular and sleep is sound and untroubled.

"A child's appearance can usually help parents to judge the state of his nutrition. A well nourished child has good skin color and there is a moderate pading of fat over the bones and muscles of the arms, legs and body. Muscles are well developed and strong. Teeth are good and the gums firm and pink," Dr. Cox said.

That finicky appetite or a tired feeling after a little exertion indicates a possible malnutrition and the child should see the family physician. Poor appetite can also mean the beginning of an illness and possibly that the child does not require as much food as he is being urged to eat.

Required as a diet for the preschool child and those of school age, Dr. Cox included milk, fruit, vegetables, eggs, meat, fish or cheese, cereal and bread and added that cod liver oil and other vitamin preparations are important in winter and early spring but should be prescribed by the family physician.

Mrs. A. F. Miller, Mrs. Bob Sanders, and Mrs. Jesse Youngblood of the Wesley Methodist Church attended the District meeting of the W.S.C.S. in Breckenridge Wednesday.

Mrs. W. D. Hazel, Mrs. D. Ball, Mrs. C. E. Whitmire, and Mrs. W. L. Baum of the Lake Cisco Home Demonstration Club attended the Achievement Day in Eastland Wednesday.

Noted Business Leader To Speak

The entertainment feature for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet to be held Saturday night at the junior high school gym will be the presentation of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta in burlesque, "Trial by Jury," by the a cappella choir of Cisco Junior College.

The choir, under the direction of Jack Chambliss, has been working since the beginning of school on the presentation, and the choir is ready for the initial performance. The same program will be given at the junior high school next Monday afternoon and for the public Monday night.

The operetta is built around a breach of promise suit brought by Angelina against Edwin, who has tired of her and found another. The scenes are in the court room with John Slaughter as the learned judge. The part of Angelina is sung by Harriett Spenny. Elton Strother has the part of Edwin. Calvin Grung is counsel for the plaintiff and Donald Nicholas is the usher. Dan Wilkerson is the foreman of the jury.

R. G. LeTourneau, noted industrialist and religious leader, of Longview, is to be the speaker for the banquet. He will arrive Saturday afternoon for a two-day stay. Sunday, he will make talks at three local churches.

Advance ticket sales indicated a crowd of 400. Many Chamber of Commerce leaders from West Texas points are expected here for the banquet.

D. N. Morrison, general chairman for the banquet arrangements, reported that all plans were complete, and leaders were confident that the affair would be one of the most outstanding ever held here.

Mrs. Hill Speaks At Church Dinner

The First Methodist Church of Rising Star has inaugurated a monthly Fellowship Dinner similar to those enjoyed by the various churches of Cisco. The first one was held Wednesday, November 18, at 7 p. m. in the basement dining room of the church. New tables have been secured for the purpose.

The dining room was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, pumpkins, and cut flowers, and a turkey dinner, with all the trimmings, was served.

The hostesses for the dinner were the members of the women's Service Seekers Sunday School class.

The speaker for the occasion was Mrs. Minnie L. Hill of Cisco who showed color slides and spoke on her recent trip to the Holy Land. Mrs. Hill was assisted by her sister, Mrs. R. F. Smith, who also attended the dinner.

AUSTIN — John C. White, Texas commissioner of agriculture, is the newest prospective candidate for governor.

White declined to permit his name to go on the Republican ticket for commissioner of agriculture last year under the cross-filing arrangement. Other candidates for state offices were on both tickets.

A strong critic of Secretary Benson, White has particularly opposed Benson's stand against livestock price supports.

Victor over the late J. E. McDonald for the state agricultural office three years ago, White won easy re-election last year.

Coming to the fore among prospective gubernatorial candidates is Reuben Senterfitt of San Saba, speaker of the Texas House of Representatives.

Senterfitt announced that he was considering the chief executive's office.

Thereupon, he received a considerable number of encouraging letters. And the people in his home county started organizing Senterfitt-for-Governor clubs.

Ralph Yarborough of Austin appears to be a candidate. Others who might get into the race were still waiting to see what Governor Shivers would do.

On this waiting list are Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey of San Augustine, Attorney General John Ben Shepperd, Congressman Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr. of McAllen, Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, Senator A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris, and Mayor Roy Hofheinz of Houston.

In the U. S. Senate race, incumbent Lyndon B. Johnson is running as hard as he can, although he has so far no announced opposition.

Johnson received the endorsement of former vice-president John Nance Garner of Uvalde.

Texas Republicans have announced that they will put up a strong candidate against Johnson.

Former congressman Ben Guill of Pampa, now an assistant to the U. S. Postmaster General, seemed a likely G.O.P. choice.

Anti-Johnson Democrats also are moving behind the scenes to select a candidate.

Governor Shivers was not considered by most observers here as a probable starter in the senatorial race. Nor was former governor Coke Stevenson, who lost to Johnson by that historic 87-vote margin the last time out.

Top newspaper and radio correspondents from Washington and the various states attending the National Governor's Conference in Seattle, rated Shivers fourth among governors who are prospects for President of the United States, and fourth among the list of best governors. Ahead of Shivers were Governor Earl Warren of California, now Chief Justice; Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York; and Governor Alfred Driscoll of New Jersey.

Colonel Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, says it is hard for him to understand public apathy to deaths and injuries on the highways.

In all wars in which this nation has participated since 1777 more than a million men were killed.

Since the first traffic fatality in 1899, more than a million persons have died in traffic accidents, Garrison said in a speech here.

By putting into effect a relatively simple program of engineering, education, and enforcement, and with real public support of that program, the traffic death rate could be cut in half, Garrison declared.

This being the 50th anniversary of the commercial motor vehicle, Governor Shivers issued an official proclamation inviting Texans "to consider the great accomplishments and the bright future of the trucking industry and to salute the men and women who are associated with it, on the occasion of the fiftieth Anniversary of motor freight transportation."

Texas, as the governor pointed out in his proclamation, has more commercial motor vehicles than any other state, with more than 600,000 such vehicles registered in Texas this year.

Delegates to the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, convening at Mineral Wells, voted against giving their advocacy to price support on cattle.

The convention asked instead that the Secretary of Agriculture expand his government beef-purchasing program.

Fitting into the pattern of economic recovery for livestock producers is the U. S. Department of Agriculture school lunch program, which includes beef and gravy.

An Austin chili firm for example, shipped out seven carloads of this product to points in Texas and Louisiana in a single day.

More than 6,000 cattle have been removed from overgrazed and undergrassed lands of drouth areas through fulfillment of government contracts by the Austin company.

Administrator of the newly created state water resources committee is M. K. Weitzel of Garland. He helped direct the Tideland's battle as secretary of the Texas Property Defense Association before accompanying Senator Price Daniel to Washington.

Ed Felder of Austin leaves Governor Shivers' staff to become executive secretary of the committee. Mrs. Dorothy Meadows of Austin will be secretary.

Purpose of the the committee is to conduct a long-range study of the state's water problems. Private funds will finance the study.

Maybe Texas will know, come spring, whether or not the natural gas gathering tax passed by the last legislature is valid.

About $14 million per year is being collected under this tax law, and the money is being held in suspense until such time as the court test is completed.

Tentatively, the U. S. Supreme Court has decided to hear the case early in January. That means the final ruling will be due early in the spring.

Texas school children may read the United National declaration of human rights in their textbooks, but no editorial comment on the document.

Eugene R. Smith of El Paso, member of the State Board of Education, complained that one textbook's comment on the declaration had a "pink slant."

W. W. Jackson of San Antonio, another board member, commented, "We're dealing here with something deeply fundamental. I certainly hope that the time never comes when we descend to the level of thought control."

Vote to include the declaration in textbooks, and omit comment on it, was 12-3.

SHORT SNORTS: Texas employers' costs for workmen's compensation will be reduced $4 million for the year beginning Dec. 1, according to an announcement by J. Byron Saunders, Texas casualty insurance commissioner . . . About 1,000 doe deer will be killed legally in Mason and Gillespie Counties from Dec. 1 to 15, under terms of a law passed by the last Legislature . . . Nov. 16 to Dec. 25 has been officially designated Christmas Seal Month in Texas . . . Harry Knox, former adjutant general of Texas, died in Washington . . . Scientists meeting at the University of Texas talked about a new method for accurately measuring rainfall by radar, and about breaking up tornadoes by shooting guided missiles into them.

High School News Notes

By RHELDA JO REED
By RHELDA REED

Our football team will be finishing its season with its game with Comanche this Friday night. We are very proud of what our football team has done this year. They have played good ball all year long and they deserve a lot of credit. The students of CHS have done their part too. They have attended all the games, no matter how cold it was, and they have always been there backing their team, win or lose.

The students have raised the school spirit of our high school a great deal this year. We feel that we have had a successful football season and now we are ready for basketball and we are sure that we will have a very good basketball team, both boys and girls.

Band to Stephenville

The Lobo Band will go to Stephenville Saturday to compete in the Interscholastic League band marching contest. They marched in this contest last year and won a first division rating. They have been practicing very hard for the contest and they are hoping to win a high rating this year also.

They reported a very good time last Saturday when they went to Denton to the North Texas homecoming game.

Girls Basketball

The Lobo Queens had a victory over Clyde Monday, 28 to 14. They had a regular game. They are hopeful of a fine team this year. The "B" team captains were annaunced this week also. They are Winona McKinney, Joyce Lancaster and Veneta McLister. They are due to have some games in the near future.

Meet the Seniors

CARMEN BLOUNT — Carmen was born in Longview, Texas, on September 13, 1936. She has lived in Cisco for eight years. Carmen plans to go to North Texas after graduation from high school. She is going to be a fashion designer. Carmen enjoys band very much. Carmen's hobby is making hats and dancing. Carmen enjoys school and is looking forward to college.

C. A. (Sonny) Ditmore — Sonny was born in Amarillo January 9, 1837. He has lived here for three years. C. A. plans to go to college and major in engineering. His favorite subject is speech. C. A. likes basketball and he is planning to be on the Lobo squad this year. His hobby is dancing. He enjoys school if he didn't have so many lessons.

Speech Class News

About ten days ago, Mrs. Moore the CHS speech teacher, and Wanda Hamilton went to a speech conference at ACC where about 12 schools were represented. They had sections for drama debate, extemporaneous speaking, and journalism. The highlight of the day was a speech by Dan Smoot who is director of Facts Forum which you see and hear over radio and TV. They enjoyed this conference a great deal.

The following week a group, including Leon McCrary, Ronald Farley, Nancy Cluck, Wanda Hamilton, and Mrs. Moore went to Hardin-Simmons where they saw the production of "Miss Lulu Betts" by Zona Gale. The play was given in their arena theater where the actors moved about among the audience. This was a new experience for the students and they enjoyed it immensley.

Bus to Comanche

There will be a student bus to go to Comanche Friday night to the ball game. It will probably leave about 5:30. We hope to have a good crowd from Cisco at the game because it is the last of the season and it will be a very good game.

GOSSIP — Martha Eudy has a very pretty watch which she received for graduation. The students of CHS should always know what time it is after graduation anyway . . . Jeannette McCrary has some new mink — yes real mink — earrings. Johnny gave them to her . . . Beulah Smith has a very attractive new red coat. She was seen wearing it at the ball game Tuesday night. . . Patti Nell Haynie was seen sitting with Monty Ingram at the game . . . The annual staff is working very hard on the annual, finally . . . Catfish Thames, alias Tuna Fish, has been using his georgeous convertable to ride the girls of CHS around at noon.

Members of the First Methodist Church attending the District W.S.C.S. meeting in Breckenridge Wednesday were Mrs. Jasper Wright, Mrs. J. W. Slaughter, Mrs. S. H. Nance, Mrs. Leslie Seymour, and Mrs. W. M. Joyner.

SKIMMING THE ROOFTOPS—Dick Pope, Jr., seems to be doing that as he performs one of the stunts in San Juan, P.R., that has brought him fame as world champion water skier. Formerly a Stateside acrobatic artist, Dick is now doing his stuff in Puerto Rico because he's stationed there, serving with the U. S. Marine Corps.

MIGHTY BIG JOB—After propping up a two-story brick house prior to attaching wheels with which they moved it a half block, workmen in Chicago are stopping to inspect the results. The building was among several being moved to make way for a new park site. This method must save people a lot of packing and unpacking on moving day.

Practice Good Posture For Beauty

Which girl will be beautiful? Of course the one with correct posture. During National Posture Week, young people especially are urged to begin a program of posture improvement. The body harmony which comes with good posture will add grace, radiance, comfort and health all through life.

Poor posture, on the other hand, detracts from personality and may lead to chronic fatigue and backache. Exercise is an aid to good posture. So is the wearing of good, scientifically designed foundation garments which provide support.

HARD ON MILK CARTONS—Firemen are pouring high-pressure sprays on a blazing garage in New York in which thousands of containers of milk were all ready for distribution by a milk company. Because negotiations between union dairymen and deliverymen had been deadlocked over a pay raise issue, a company official charged "sabotage" as the cause of this destruction by fire.

Washington "As It Looks From Here"

OMAR BURLESON
Congressman
17th District

This being an "off year" politically, a discussion of campaign promises seems appropriate.

First, let me say that I have never made campaign promises. It has been the custom and usual practice since time immemorial for a candidate for public office to represent himself as an honest man, and one who would serve the people whose votes he solicited, "honestly and efficiently." Well, certainly he would not say he would be dishonest in public office, nor that he would be inefficient.

My father used to say that no man need claim credit or uniqueness for being honest. Every man is supposed to be honest, and should be considered so until he himself proves otherwise. Why should any man boast that he is honest?

Now all of us have heard these remarks by candidates running for office. It is something to say, and they mean it sincerely, but why should it be necessary to make such a claim? It may be as well for the candidate to say that he is opposed to crime and sin.

Well, these are the obvious campaign promises. But what about the candidate or the political party which promises to do a lot of things which appear to be the popular thing at the time? We have all heard candidates say, "When I am elected, I will do so and so." In some instances, on specific issues and in certain offices, this may be perfectly proper, but in the broad sense, and particularly in a legislative office, he is likely talking through his hat. He either doesn't know what the limitations are to carry out his specific promises, which means ignorance of the situation, or else he does not care whether or not he can fulfill those promises.

The same is true with the political parties and of the platforms they announce. Broad policies and philosophies should, of course, be set forth as definitely as possible, but statements of positive intent are one thing, and the execution of those intents and purposes is another.

For instance, the candidate for Congress tells folks about the things he is going to do when he reaches Washington. He is likely to appeal to the popular sentiment, whatever it may be at the time. Well, there are 435 members of the House of Representatives and 96 Senators — a total of 531 members of Congress. They represent the 48 States of the Union — the big cities, the shipping centers, the coal fields, the great industrial and manufacturing areas, and agriculture. All have their peculiar problems and are trying to represent their people. There is conflict of interest and many different ideas on what should be done, and especially how it should be done. So, most everything to some degree becomes a compromise. You do the best you can, but seldom get things exactly as you want them.

Political parties are very liberal in promising the people many things, but once in power, it seems those promises grow dim, or else they find they cannot be carried out.

Since writing this newsletter, I have returned home and am making more visits over my Congressional District. Anyone wishing to contact me is invited to do so at any time.

FLATTERY — Kitten-soft angora tops the dress and frames the face in flattery as Wyner adds a snowy collar to a two-tone gray jersey dress. The light and dark panels of the tube-slim skirt and dolman-sleeved bodice are arranged to minimize the figure. That's an effect dear to the heart of any young lady of fashion.

A MATTER OF MANNERS—A sea lion in the London Zoo may be using his tail to stifle a yawn on a sunny day. He has no hand to use, and although a flipper might serve the purpose, in this instance he seems to prefer the end of his tail. Of course, he may have something else in mind, but it does seem unlikely that he's merely chasing the end of his tail like a kitten will do.

VETERANS RECREATION CLUB

LAKE CISCO ROAD

Nearly every day all of us are making agreements with our fellow citizens. Our whole system of free enterprise and trade is based, to a large extent, upon mutual agreements or promises to do something in the future. The important thing we need to remember is to make every agreement perfectly clear whether it is oral or written.

Generally speaking, you can enter into a verbal agreement that is just as binding as a written contract. Consequently, the great majority of contracts that we enter into are never put into written form. But exact terms of an oral contract may be difficult to establish if a disagreement arises, and a well drawn written contract will help to avoid the unfortunate disputes which arise from honest misunderstandings.

Not every written contract meets the test of clarity, however. Suppose Mr. Householder has a piece of paper on which is written the heading "Proposal" and which thereafter reads as follows

"We will build a garage for you on your lot for the estimated price of $800, work to be done in a workmanlike manner. All of our work is guaranteed to your satisfaction. Subject to the conditions printed on the reverse side."

This is signed by the XYZ Company. Under this signature is the word "Accepted" followed by a line for the signature of Mr. Householder. His question is, should he sign it?

Here are some of the misunderstandings that might arise from such an agreement: The company has agreed to build a garage — yet nothing is said about the size or type of construction. It has not even been stated whether it is to be a single or double garage. There is no indication in the agreement as to where on the lot the garage will be built. It says nothing about when the work is to be finished. There is no agreement as to whether Mr. Householder is to pay in advance, in installments, or not until it is completed.

Further, they have not actually agreed upon a price. The agreement refers to an estimated price of $800. They should be specific and make either a fixed price contract or an agreement whereby the builder is reimbursed for his expenses plus a definite profit percentage. Perhaps the XYZ Company feels that if their expenses are higher than anticipated, they will be able to charge more than the estimated $800. On the other hand, Mr. Householder probably feels that $800 is the maximum price he will have to pay.

The most important prerequisite of a clear contract is that it cover the essential elements of performance. This is not as difficult as it might seem.
