Agency to Register Child Care Homes

A program to update licensing and registering of day care facilities as well as family home care providers is underway in a number of Panhandle counties.

Mrs. Wanda Minchew, area field person responsible for the region including Donley County, pointed out that her first concern will be in establishing contact with existing facilities and contacting prospective home care providers.

"There's been such an enormous upsurge in the number of day care centers as well as homemakers caring for children of working mothers that the State Department of Public Welfare felt compelled to seek some minimum standards for the well-being of this number of children being affected," stated the Tulia-based licensing representative.

Operations effected by the revised minimum standards of the Child Care Licensing Act of 1975 and the Revised Civil Statutes will be day care centers, private kindergartens and church nurseries along with family home care givers.

There is a distinction between the licensing of group day care homes with twelve or more children and the registration of family owner care givers with up to six non-related children under supervision.

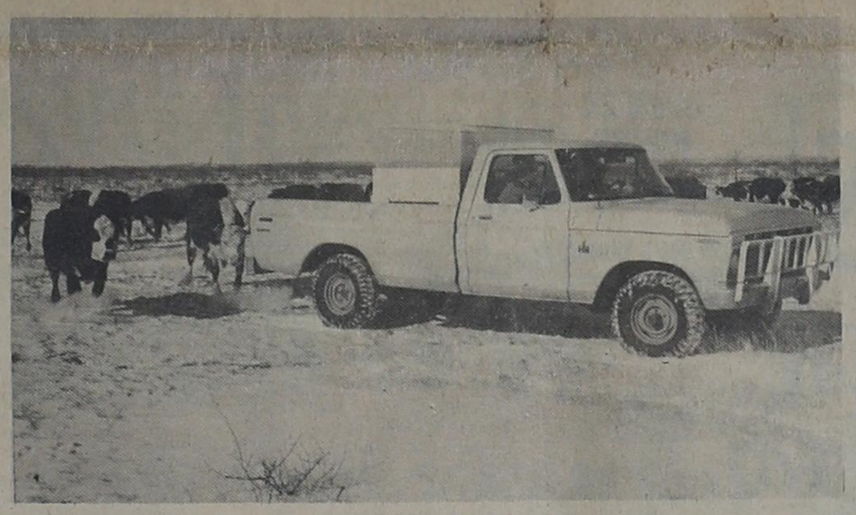

"We hope that homemakers thinking of keeping children in their home will not be frightened by this program. Basically we want to help these people to gain compliance," said Mrs. Minchew.

To meet registration compliance home care providers must have certification of a TB test, have home checked by the fire marshall, and require immunization shots for each child cared for including these diseases: diphtheria, tetanus, polio, measles, rubella and pertussis.

Information on specific day care and family home care giver minimum standards is available from Mrs. Wanda Minchew, 105 Hospital Avenue, 2nd Floor, Tulia, Texas 79088.

"It is basically an honor system of self-certification for registered family homes but there are penalties envolved for non-compliance. A civil penalty of not less than fifty-dollars nor more than one thousand dollars per day per child is written into the new code regulations," pointed out Mrs. Minchew.

"We certainly don't seek court action and will aid people out of compliance to get in compliance. I doubt seriously if there would be great concern for child safety because most of the people I work with are sincerely devoted to caring for children. Incidents in larger metropolitan cities involving child abuse and neglect at some care facilities has prompted much of the new regulation effort."

The quiet beauty of the pasture down on the JA's is the setting for Jiggs Mann as he tends cattle below the Caprock. No matter what the weather there's work to be done everyday. There's cattle to feed noses to count and check for new calves along with chopping out watering holes and looking for strays.

In a recent meeting with County Judge Billie Christal and Fire Marshall Clyde Price the subject of ultimate liability for certifying a home safe from fire hazards pointed up a gray area in the new minimum child care standards.

Price pointed out the poor guide lines set forth to license homes for compliance with state child care standards.

"I have no personal liability and I'm not certain if the city would feel compelled to back me should a suit arise over injury due to fire in a child care facility," pointed out Price.

"It's to the point where I feel I'm able only to certify that these homes I've inspected meet the minimum state standards. I don't feel the standards set down are detailed enough to go beyond a minimum rating," summed up Price.

Price raised the question of whether the child care regulations sacrified the safety of the child in favor of economic advantage of the working mother. Price pointed out that too often he found wiring too light and fire escapes non-existent simply because homes were not built to accommodate children in a group care situation.

Minchew agreed with Price on the seeming vagueness of guidelines available but stressed the need for regulation was self-evident in the face of the number of children currently being cared for out of the family home.

Minchew classed most of facilities operators, both day care and home care givers, as middle-class house-wives.

Minchew estimated most of the facilities she contacts are solidly middle-class operations. Young mothers not willing to leave the home and young children to supplement the family income constitute the newest addition to the child care industry.

To aid these people as well as the grandmother types who've operated such a facility for years but now must meet new regulations Minchew promised a series of continuing services to them.

"We will be holding seminars and workshops for people with problems. And, we have a hotline consulting service where care providers can call for immediate information on such topics as recreation, nutrition and sicipline problems."

Gas Shortage Closes Schools

Natural gas cutbacks to industrial users forced cancellation of school Monday in Clarendon and Hedley. Superintendents Jeff Walker of Clarendon and Vernon Scott of Hedley were informed by Lone Star Natural Gas Company of the cutbacks in the face of a severe arctic outbreak over a wide area of Lone Star's consumer area.

Schools are classified along with plants and factories as industrial grade users. During periods of extended low temperatures home heating requirements take precedence over commercial users according to Lone Star policy.

Walker pointed out that Lone Star officials had encouraged the Wellington, Hedley and Clarendon schools to turn down thermostats to sixty degrees with the hope the cutback would be short. Walker explained Lone Star Officials would be contacting those institutions sometime Monday to notify of resumption in gas service at the normal rate.

The decision to close the school in Clarendon was not a board action. Only when weather conditions present a hazard to the safety of students transporting them to and from school does the school suspend operation Walker explained.

Spiraling fuel costs are a concern with the schools. Walker commented that December fuel costs had run in excess of $2800 but pointed out that some $600 of that amount was what was referred to by Lone Star as a fuel adjustment cost factor. Even though the maximum rate is fixed the company is allowed the cost factor increase.

Clarendon, Hedley and Wellington schools as well as industrial users like factories have what are termed by Lone Star officials as an interruptable contract. These clients are then subject to accept curtailment in service when Lone Star determines its service to homes for heating purposes will have a shortfall.

AREA SPORTS

SPORTS ROUNDUP GIRLS BASKETBALL

Clarendon high school girl's basketball team dropped its opening game at the Claude Tournament over the Christmas-New Year's break 62-42 when Silverton's team played consistently through the third and fourth quarters of the game.

Ball control and field shooting remained a problem through the third and fourth quarter for the Clarendon girls. Not even Ricci Tunnel's remarkable thirty-three points could hold the Silverton team from victory as the third quarter score of 51-31 grew to 62-42.

The second game of the tourney pitted Clarendon against Hedley in what didn't develop into a contest as the Clarendon girls comfortably handled the Hedley team 42-24. Though Hedley's half-time situation was not hopeless the third quarter of this game found Clarendon's ball control and shooting much improved and Hedley was held to eighteen points on the board at the end of third quarter play.

Ricci Tunnel again won high point honors on the Clarendon team with twenty-eight points. Coach Karen Crofford described it as a "relaxed game."

In the consolation game with Panhandle, Clarendon's girls shot an unbelieveable sixty percent from the field in what Coach Crofford termed an excellent game. High scoring individuals included: Ricci Tunnel, twenty-one points; Karla Nance, nineteen points; Janette Myers with thirteen points. Clarendon downed Panhandle for a score of 53-46.

Not so rosy was the encounter with Valley, January 4 when trouble with the shooting game saw Clarendon remain scoreless during the entire first quarter of play. Halftime scores tell the story with Valley 31, Clarendon 10. "We played an awful game that night, I make no excuses about this one," said Coach Crofford.

"We did not cancel school on a decision from the board. If possible we try to operate at all costs since our school monies are based in part on attendence," said walker.

Walker stated that in the thirteen years of his connection with Clarendon schools more school days were lost during February than in January. Ironically with the coldest temperatures of the year in January its the February snow storms that work the greatest hardship on keeping schools running in the county.

INSUR-MATION

BRIGHT NEWHOUSE

American Amicable Life Insurance

I know life insurance premiums increase with age. Is there any particular age when life insurance is a better bargain?

No. There is no big difference at any one age. You do run the risk of becoming uninsurable at standard rates when you wait to buy insurance. Furthermore, the premium increases gradually each year and if you assume you will live to 60 or 70, you will probably pay more premium if you wait a few years and then buy your insurance. If you really can't afford to buy right now, you might consider "renting" insurance. This is buying term insurance at a very small premium. You can have special provisions included which allow conversion later to permanent insurance.

Health Tips for Colds

People get an average of three colds per year and spend more than $735 million trying to find relief, a federal report shows. Yet none of the 35,000-50,000 cold and cough preparations on the market actually can cure the common cold.

The Texas Medical Association (TMA) says a doctor cannot cure common colds and should be called mainly if there is a fever over 101 degrees for more than 24 hours, bloody discharge from nose or mouth, persistent chest pains, earache, severe or long-lasting sore throat or persistent cough. A doctor also should be contacted if a normally healthy person has a cold for more than a week or two. Of course people With other illness may need medical attention if they even get the sniffles since colds can complicate other illnesses.

Eagle Scouts to Austin

The Eagle Scouts of Clarendon have been chosen to represent the Adobe Walls Council at the Annual Scout Report to the State Ceremony which will be held Sat. Feb. 12 at the State Capitol of Texas in Austin.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe will participate in the ceremony. A report to the State will begin with a 7:30 a.m. breakfast at the Stephen F. Austin Hotel, followed by the Scout Parade down Congress Ave. at 10 a.m. Last year about 10,000 Scouts attended.

Tips On Bad Weather Driving

Turn on lights. In rain, cars tend to disappear. Use parking lights at least, to make your car more visible.

Look out for the oily road slick that forms in new rain. It is as slippery as ice and tires skid on it very easily.

Use windshield washers when light drizzles start. Otherwise, wiper blades may turn the first few drops into an oily smear, report windshield wiper experts at Anco.

Wearing the right amount and type of clothes is the key to keeping warm--but how much is enough?

Mrs. Becky Culp, area clothing specialist, points out that if a woman replaces a skirt with pants, she will feel 1.5 degrees F. warmer. And wearing a full slip with a dress adds 1 degree F, while a light long-sleeved sweater adds 1.7 degrees F. and a heavy long-sleeved sweater adds 3.7 degrees F.

This specialist is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A & M University System.

"If a man replaces a summer-weight jacket with a winter-weight one, he will feel 2.5 degrees F. warmer. Also, replacing a short-sleeve shirt with a long-sleeve one adds eight-tenths of a degree.

"Accessories even add extra warmth. If a woman wears nylon hose, she adds one-tenth of a degree, while wearing enclosed shoes rather than sandals adds two-tenths of a degree. For men, a necktie adds two-tenths of a degree, and replacing ankle-length socks with knee-length ones adds six-tenths of a degree," she explained.

Natural fiber such as cotton and wool keep the body warmer than synthetics, because they allow perspiration to evaporate as vapor. Synthetics tend to trap perspiration, requiring the body to work overtime to evaporate the accumulated moisture, the specialist said.

"Clothing worn in several light weight layers is warmer than one heavy one. Air is trapped between each layer. Examples include turtlenecks, ribbed or buttoned cuffs, belts and tucked in blouses or shirts," she said.

The specialist reminded that choosing clothing with warmth in mind during cold and cool weather can help save energy by lowering thermostat settings and keep you more comfortable whether inside or out. insulating the body. For example, a lined garment is warmer than an unlined one.

"Clean dry clothes and/or thicker fabrics are warmer than soiled or wet clothes and/or thinner fabrics that allow warm air to escape from the body.

"Garment designs that fit close to the body where warm air cannot escape or let cold air in are warmer.

Donley County Hospital Board has meeting

Following the urging of the Associated Ambulance Authority board to hold a special session Hospital Board members met in emergency session to consider AAA alternative proposals for continuence of ambulance service in the community.

At the one o'clock meeting December 30, Gerry Knight and Billy Ray Johnston, who also serve on the AAA board reported the proposals to fellow Hospital Board members.

In information presented to the board Knight apprised board members of findings brought out in the AAA meeting. Knight outlined the fact the the Donley County Hospital District originally was a part of the authority with the hospital administrator named to serve on the board. The District did obligate itself in 1972 by signing a note jointly with the City and County to purchase the ambulance. The City and County between 1972 and 1976 did pay $1,500.00 each against the note for the vehicle but the District did not make a payment.

Knight pointed out the District's $1500.00 share of the note was paid from the fund of the Ambulance Authority. Knight also noted that the title of the Ambulance is in the name of the Donley County Hospital District.

The AAA board proposal to have City, County and Hospital entities pay $200 per month to Robertson with the hospital administration office preforming bookkeeping duties was turned down in unamimous vote.

The board did move to immediately pay the AAA the hospital district's $1500 share of the original note but with the understanding the present board members had not been made aware of this condition previous to the recent AAA board meeting.

The board also moved to seek transfer of title designate from the Hospital District to the Associated Ambulance Authority.

In a counter proposal the board voted to extend the following: That the City and County would each reimburse the Ambulance Authority $300.00 per month with the Hospital District performing the following functions for its $300 share.

The Hospital Board would maintain all books of the authority, file all insurance and Medicare forms and process and submit all bills.

In addition to the above functions the hospital board would also supply to the authority all materials necessary for bookkeeping. Postage, envelopes and materials for mailing statements would be provided by the Hospital Board. Forms, trip tickets necessary for insurance and charges would also be supplied.

The Board would also supply the Authority needed sterile bandages, tape, sterile solutions, asceptic pack processing and any other expendable supplies.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH REVIVAL SCHEDULED

Members of the First Christian Church and their pastor, Wilbert Bernabe, will hold a two-day revival beginning Thursday, January 13 through Friday January 14.

Scheduled to deliver the revival messages will be Terry Bernabe of the First Christian Church in Osage, Kansas. Using the theme of descipleship for his message Thursday night Mr. Bernabe will address the problem of attitude changes associated with living a Christian life and how these attitude changes are scripturally sanctioned. Friday night the message will be directed toward what Christians should do once these attitude changes take place.

Friday evening music will be provided through singing by the Rider Family of Boise City, Oklahoma. The Riders, recently on tour, will be with the congregation to give their talents for the revival.

Guest pianist for the Thursday evening service will be Ms. Dee Williams.

The revival meeting begins at 7:00 p.m. each night. The public is invited to attend each evening.

Ministerial Alliance meets

Members of the Donley County Ministerial Alliance representing some thirteen church denominations in Clarendon and Hedley met in their regular monthly morning session, January 5.

The coming community Easter service ranked high on the agenda and discussion was continued for final preparations at the February meeting.

Members held an open discussion on how community churches select their pastors. An open discussion of various church doctrines pointed out the overwhelming simularities of many modern Christian denominations.

Stressing the need to co-operate in the face of growing world-wide apostasy, those present noted the need to join together to present a solid front against the atheistic atmosphere which seems to permeate society. Members of the Alliance urged all community citizens to be faithful to the church of their choosing.

Pastors reviewed the upcoming Soil Conservation Week, May 15-22 and various ways to commemorate the duty to preserve the land.

Election of officers for the coming year was postponed until the regularly scheduled February meeting in the hope more minister in the county would participate in the elections.

During 1976 the Donley County Ministerial Alliance supplied some two hundred dollars in aid to transients and others needing immediate financial aid.

Funds for this charity work were provided by offerings donated during the Community Easter and Thanksgiving services. The recent Thanksgiving offering totaled $101.62.

The Ministerial Alliance meets the first Wednesday following the first Sunday of each month in the Farmers State Bank Hospitality Room at 10 a.m.

Clarendon Country Club News

Eighteen women met at the club Thursday, Jan. 6th., for their monthly meeting and luncheon.

Everyone's diets just fell apart for the food was delicious and the will powers weren't all that strong. We surely did enjoy the meal, Jean and Ella.

Tonight, the 13th, we have our buffet and bingo games. Hope you can join us.

Attention men! We have a fun day planned for you Sat., the 15th. There is going to be a breakfast at 10 o'clock that morning. The breakfast is for all of our men golfers, and for any men who do not now belong to the Men's Golf Ass'n but would be interested in joining.

Following the breakfast there will be an 18-hole handicap tournament. This is strictly a fun affair (wonder if you'll be playing in overshoes and overcoats?). Don't worry if you don't have a handicap--they'll give you one. Do try to come out for this. It could be such a good way for the men to have an "outing".

The 17th the ladies will be meeting for bridge and luncheon.

The evening of the 17th the Shriners will have dinner at the club.

Circle Saturday the 29th on your calendars. Our social committee has planned a Mexican food buffet with surprise entertainment. We need reservations by Wedth. The cost is $3.50 for adults and $2 for those under 12.

See you at the club. Have a nice week.

TRAINING WORKSHOPS ANNOUNCED FOR 4-H LEADERS

Two 4-H training workshops for 4-H leaders are set in early February at the Texas 4-H Center at Brownwood, and they are open to Donley County 4-H leaders, according to Cynthia Manning, County Extension Agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

One workshop deals with clothing projects only and is scheduled for Feb. 2-3. The workshop will include an overview of 4-H clothing projects, teen fashion and fabric trends for this spring, a session on metrics, thread and embroidery, and a session on clothing care.

Instructors for this workshop will include Extension clothing specialists Becky Culp and Marlene Odle and Janet Byrd with Coats and Clark of Stamford, Conn.

A second leader training workshop is set for Feb. 5-6 and is designed for 4-H leaders in gardening, automotive and public speaking as well as clothing projects. The clothing session of this workshop will be a repeat of the workshop conducted Feb. 2-3.

The gardening segment of this workshop will be conducted by Extension horticulturists Sam Cotner and Dr. Jerry Parsons and will include basic information on gardening as well as ideas for gardening projects, such as container gardening, herb gardening, vegetable seed identification, vegetable judging and setting up a county 4-H vegetable show.

The session for those interested in automotive projects will be conducted by Extension agricultural engineer Henry O'Neal and will include discussions on the availability and use of literature and training aids and planning and conducting activities and exploring opportunities related to automotive projects.

Cynthia said interested 4-H leaders should register with the State 4-H Office for the first clothing workshop no later than Jan. 26 and by Jan. 28 for the other four training sessions. Further details on each of the two workshops are available at the county Extension office.

Howardwick Partyline

By SHARON MILLS

Approximately forty-five members and wives and guests attended the Howardwick Lions Club meeting and chicken supper Saturday night. It was unusual to keep adding places on the tables to what was thought, at first, to be plenty considering the very disagreeable weather. It was nice to have Lion President Lynn Cherry back. Susan Bright, the club's sweetheart read "Thank You" notes from Lynn Cherry who had been in the hospital and from the Hayes family. Twenty-fifth Anniversary Children's Camps for crippled children pins were presented to the President, Lynn Cherry, and to the secretary-treasurer, Vernon Berry, by Past District Governor Lion James Wheeler of Amarillo. Lion Wheeler was in charge of the program. He presented picture slides of the Diabetic Camp near Houston and the Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville. The camp at Kerrville is also for the blind, both adults and children. Lion Wheeler also noted the slides are available to any group. Mrs. Lynn Cherry, assisted by Mrs. Albert Moore and Mrs. Will Corgill, was in charge of the meal.

During the holidays, the Glenn Day's company included his father and mother, Alvin and Nellie Day of Pampa, Joella's sister and family, Bobbie and Erwin Corbett of Borger, her father, Orville Terry and friend, Nellie Thomas of Pampa, Glenn's daughter, Cindy and her fiance, Keith, of Pampa, Joella's brother and family, Bill and Lou Terry and children, Sherry, Donny and Cindy of Pampa, also a sister and family, Jean, Ray Grantham, daughters, Ragena and Tammy of Oklahoma City.

Thursday Mrs. Pick Cox went to Matador to visit her mother-in-law, Mrs. Frank Cox, also to take care of some business. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Cox's daughter and son-in-law, Sandra and Charlie Layton of Dumas came to pick up their son, Joel, who spent a week with his grandparents.

Norma and Will Corgill spent Monday night in Turkey with their daughter and family, Louise and Kennith Garvin and children, Rita and Bo. The Corgills then went to Childress Tuesday to visit Will's brother and wife, Charlie and Mattie Corgill, also an uncle, Henry Corgill. Saturday, Louise and children, Rita and Bo returned her parents' visit.

Jimmy and Marie Dunn were in Amarillo Friday visiting a brother-in-law, C. E. Counts, who is in Northwest Texas Hospital.

Mrs. Lucille Green visited her mother, Mrs. Soder in Sunray last week.

Mrs. Willie Blevins and Mrs. Norma Corgill took Jim and Thelma Corgill to Lawton, Oklahoma Wednesday to meet the Corgill's son, Jimmy, of Arkansas and a daughter, Mrs. Martha Matlock, of Lawton who would then accompany their parents to Houston where Jim underwent more surgery on his eye. Jim is doing real well and he and Thelma will be home this week.

If any of you want to knit, crochet or do any kind of handwork, you are most welcome to go to the Donley County Senior Citizens Center at 103 E. Fourth. Mable Elmore will be glad to help you get started.
