FREDERICKSBURG HILLBILLIES BEATEN BY JUNCTION EAGLES

CROCKETT CO. TO VOTE ON GOOD ROADS

After a petition signed by 110 voters of Crockett County was turned over to the Commissioners' Court, this body set the date for a $375,000 road bond election on Wednesday, December 21. The property tax-paying voters of Crockett County will decide at the polls on this date whether they will issue bonds in the sum of $375,000 for the purpose of matching state and federal funds for the construction of $1,500,000 worth of good roads in that county.

Some of the largest tax payers in the county signed the petition which calls for the construction and maintenance of macadamized, gravel or paved roads and turnpikes. The O. S. T. will be paved from the Sutton County line through Ozona to the Pecos River if this election carries.

A two-thirds majority of all votes cast is necessary to carry the bond issue.

From the point of view of Junction people, this is an important matter, since the building of a good road through Crockett County will aid materially in improving our route west, and also it will give us a good road right into Ozona.

FRITZ HOTEL NOW HAS STEAM HEAT

The new steam heating plant which has been under construction at the Fritz Hotel has been completed, according to Mr. J. A. Thompson.

Steam heat has been connected to every room. The new plant was constructed at a cost of approximately $7,500.

"DOC" STEWART IS VICTIM OF TRAGIC HUNTING TRIP

The first tragic event of the current hunting season in this section, was the accidental death of E. J. (Doc) Stewart, for 30 years football coach in various parts of the nation, when he received a full load of buck shot in the breast at 75 feet and the discharge went through his body according to reports sent out from Kerrville. A man whose name was given as O'Bryne of San Antonio, formerly of Missouri, shot the coach, according to reports. The hunter was said to have been grief stricken over the mishap. Stewart had left O'Bryne at the top of a slope and gone down a small canyon to chase out a deer. Waiting for a shot at the animal, O'Bryne expected Stewart to return by a different route. Stewart, however, returned up the same slope. Taking him for a deer, O'Bryne fired.

Stewart has coached football teams in all corners of the nation. He produced championship teams and was well liked wherever he was known. "Doc" is not merely a nick name as Stewart did study medicine and took a M. D. degree from a University in Ohio.

There are many football fans in this section who have followed closely the teams coached by E. J. "Doleful Doc" Stewart, and will be saddened to learn of his tragic death.

LOCAL ARTIST'S COLLECTION WINS FIRST PRIZE AT FAIR

Mr. J. A. Thompson, local artist, received a telegram recently from officials of the South Texas Fair at Beaumont, stating that his collection of oil paintings received the first prize at the recent exhibition at the Fair. There were more than 188 entries in the contest, and Mr. Thompson's collection was ranked the best by competent judges.

Mr. Thompson's collection included nine canvasses and every picture was painted from Kimble County scenes with the exception of one. The names of the pictures that won first place are: "Lover's Leap", "Cedar Creek", "Scene on the South Llano", "Big Paint Creek", "Texas Bluebonnets", and several small canvasses. Every picture in the exhibit had the name of Junction on it, and this section received some valuable publicity as a result of Mr. Thompson's work.

Mr. Thompson has spent three years in Chicago studying his work. Since April 1, he has painted fifty canvasses, and has already sold half of them. He stated that a painter could hardly wish for any more beautiful scenes to paint than those which Kimble County offers.

HUNT TURKEYS WITH BOW AND ARROW

Keeping in the dark their Archery Club, Savers Farmer, Hardy Farmer and Rev. Milton F. Hill have been practicing for several weeks with the bow and arrow, attempting to become proficient enough to bring down wild turkey and deer with the ancient weapon.

They claim that the animal does not have a chance when the hunter carries an automatic rifle, and in order to give their game a sporting chance they have adopted the bow and arrow.

It's a humanitarian idea, but we are afraid the idea won't last. When about two good bucks get away from the archers, the old bow and arrow will go into the closet and the rifle will come out of the scabbard.

Dr. Burt Addresses Pecan Association

Dr. J. Fred Burt, president of the West Texas Pecan Growers' Association, attended the meeting of that association which was held recently in San Angelo. A banquet was the outstanding event of the meeting. Nuts on the menu was one feature of the banquet.

Dr. Burt outlined the thought that research would determine something to be done for a tree afflicted with rosette or any other of the common tree diseases that today often destroy crop prospects. Study might determine the needs of colloids or alkaloids in greater or lesser amounts or other elements to make a healthy and productive tree.

Several pecan experts made addresses at the banquet. Mr. R. S. Price, owner of Price's Camp at Junction also attended the meeting.

BOX SUPPER WILL BE HELD AT IVY

On Friday night, November 29, at the Ivy school house a benefit box supper will be held, according to Henry Walker, of this community.

Everybody is invited to be present and take part in the bidding.

FURNITURE COMPANY RECEIVES NEW STOCK

The Farmer Furniture Company is placing on their floors this week the largest and most beautiful line of furniture ever seen in Junction. Mr. A. G. Farmer, manager of the company, recently returned from Tennessee where he personally selected the stock from the factories there. He bought an unusually large stock.

This new furniture is being uncrated and arranged this week and Mr. Farmer invites the people of this section to call and inspect this large stock of furniture.

Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Emmons had as their guests the past week-end Dr. and Mrs. R. Vann Bailey and son and daughter of Abilene.

STRONG MONEY

The new currency to be issued by the Government will be twice as strong as any of the older types of paper money. The Bureau of Standards has been perfecting grades of paper until a new kind has been worked out that can be folded eight thousand times without breaking it. Now when you get some of this money to make it last longer than the old bills did.

Chamber of Commerce Banquet Draws Large Crowd Tuesday Night

JUNCTION AND KERRVILLE WILL MEET ON THANKSGIVING DAY TO DECIDE CHAMPIONSHIP

Running rough shod over the Fredericksburg Hillbillies Tuesday, the Junction Eagles advanced to the finals for the championship of District 12. The score was 41 to 0. At the same time the Eagles were unmercifully pounding the Hillbillies, Kerrville trounced Bertram in a semi-final game by the score of 41 to 0. As a result of these two victories, Junction and Kerrville will meet in Junction on Thanksgiving Day to decide the champion of this district.

And what a football game it will be! It will be a classic. In the estimation of many fans, it will be the greatest demonstration of foot ball ever seen in Junction. Two powerful and undefeated teams will meet in a blood battle. It will be a struggle from start to finish, and the breaks may decide the game.

If you go by dope, figure this out. Kerrville defeated Fredericksburg 32 to 12. Junction defeated Fredericksburg 41 to 0. These figures show Junction to be exactly three touchdowns better than Kerrville.

But read this. Kerrville defeated Ozona 43 to 0, and Junction defeated Ozona 31 to 0. Those figures show Kerrville to be two touchdowns better than Junction. Dope is fickle, but when Kerrville and Junction clash here Thanksgiving Day there will not be one point difference in the two clubs. The team that puts the most fight into it, and the team that is in the best physical condition will probably be the victor.

DR. WRIGHT TO GIVE HIGH SCHOOL BONFIRE

Dr. H. E. Wright, enthusiastic backer of the Junction High School Football team, will give every member of the team and every student in the high school and the business men of Junction a huge bonfire tomorrow (Friday) night. The bonfire will be on the new Wright addition which is located just south of the Riley-Ragland addition.

A Weiner roast will also be staged with the bonfire. Dr. Wright is having the brush and wood collected for the fire, and unless the weather interferes, it will be set off at 8 p. m. Friday.

COPPERAS P. T. A. WILL PRESENT SALE

The Copperas P. T. A. ladies will have a sale of cakes and pies in Junction on the afternoon of the 27th, on the sidewalk near the Chase building. Come and inspect our eats. You will find something suitable for your Thanksgiving dinner.

The Copperas P. T. A. quilt will be dispensed at the same time.

LOCAL LUMBERMAN ATTENDS CONVENTION

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McCarroll attended the Lumbermen's Convention in San Angelo which was held last Friday and Saturday.

Mr. McCarroll is the local lumber dealer here, and keeps well posted with what happens in the lumber business.

WEATHER REPORT

The weather man introduced winter weather in this section Thursday morning, November 14, and since that time we have been having colder weather.

Some snow fell Friday and there has been considerable cloudy, damp weather all the week.

FREAK WEATHER

About four o'clock Friday afternoon, Junction folks who noticed it, witnessed Mr. Weather throw a freak fit. Snow and rain fell together while the sun was shining. Even the weather hounds who talk of nothing else, seldom get the opportunity in this section of witnessing it snow and rain together while the sun is pouring down, also.

And still the weather forecasters keep on predicting Texas weather.

More Than 200 People Present For Annual Officers Elected

Football Team Guests of Chamber of Commerce At Annual Feed

Amid a shower of confetti and mingled with the noises of souvenir horns, the Kimble County Chamber of Commerce Annual Banquet was a gala affair.

The Kimble County Chamber of Commerce Band in their new uniforms, and directed by Mr. I. W. Myers, presented a half hour of music before the banquet started.

The members of the girls' Pep Squad of the high school served as waitresses for the banquet. Before the banquet started, the Rev. G. W. Crabbs delivered a prayer of thanks.

According to Mr. Barney Williams, who had charge of serving the banquet, more than two hundred plates were served. This year the largest crowd that has ever attended a meeting of the Kimble County Chamber of Commerce.

Guests Introduced After the banquet was over, every guest present was introduced to the members present. There were visitors from San Antonio and other cities. Some of the out of town people present were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hunter, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Lavelle of London.

President C. T. Holekamp made a short address, and then introduced the secretary, E. V. Stewart, who made a report of the activities of the Chamber of Commerce during the past year. He stated that the Chamber of Commerce had increased its membership 100 per cent during the past year, and had expended practically three times as much money. The organization has a balance of more than $1,000 in the bank now.

A five minute address by Judge Weaver H. Baker followed Stewart's report. Judge Baker spoke of the worthy accomplishments of the Chamber of Commerce during the past year.

Mr. R. E. Homann, County Agent, made a short, peppy address concerning the assets of Kimble County and stated why it was a good place in which to live.

The band sang a song following Homann's address.

Elect Officers One of the most important parts of the program was the election of officers. When nominations were in order for the election of a President of the organization, Captain H. W. Rieck arose and made a speech concerning the worthy accomplishments that Mr. C. T. Holekamp had done while serving in that capacity. He stated that Mr. Holekamp had given Miss Merle Morris of Rock-Springs and Miss Mildred North of Ozona were week-end guests of Mrs. Jim Carpenter and Miss Morris.

Messrs. Pierce Stevenson and Newcomb of Austin spent a few days in Junction last week.

Mr. S. B. Kendrick was a business visitor in San Angelo and other towns in that section the past week.

HUNTER MAKES SAD MISTAKE; PLUGS FINE JERSEY COWS

It has been said that city folks think milk comes in cans. Dr. J. Fred Burt is beginning to believe that city folks really don't know what a cow is.

Since the hunting season opened November 16, hunters have shot two of Dr. Burt's fine Jersey cows, mistaking them for deer. Both cows were shot in the stomach, but neither has died yet. One of the Jerseys that was shot cost Dr. Burt $175, and is one of his prize milk cows.

The cows were close to Dr. Burt's ranch home when they were shot. The hunters that plugged Dr. Burt's cows evidently did not look closely to see if the animals bore pronged horns.

MERRY WIVES CLUB

The Merry Wives Club and a group of friends were complimented with a bridge Tuesday evening at the residence of Mrs. Sam Woodward, with Mrs. Slaton Fleming as hostess.

Pretty chrysanthemums were placed about the rooms. The Thanksgiving motif was carried out in the tallies, napkins and table covers.

Madera napkins went to Mrs. Pierce Hoggett, who made high club score, and Mrs. Hy Taylor who made high guest score. A pair of silk hose went to Mrs. J. A. Thompson for high cut prize.

Chicken salad on lettuce, saltine flakes, potato chips, coffee, olives, and pumpkin pie topped with whipped cream brought the evening to a pleasant close.

Among those present were: Misses Mary Hubert, Mary Ellis Blackburn, Lela Taylor, Mesdames C. R. Stevenson, Joe Watson, P. C. McInnis, H. G. Hubert, Frank Patterson, J. B. Randolph, Guy Wynne, Sam Woodward, John Blackburn, Mattie Patterson, Vann Martin, H. E. Luehrs, Jack Richardson, Watt Turner and Rowland Martin.

AUTUMN PARTY

An autumn bridge was given Monday evening by Mrs. Ben Wheat of Rocksprings at the residence of her sister, Mrs. C. T. Holekamp, complimenting the members of the Laf-A-Lot Club and friends. Miss Betty Butland and Mrs. Dorothy Wilcox were honor guests on this occasion.

The living room was artistically decorated with autumn leaves and the tallies and party appointments further carried out the autumn motif.

Miss Lillian Kindrick won the club prize, a pair of silk hose. The guest prize, Madera napkins, went to Mrs. Vann Martin. Large chiffon handkerchiefs were presented the honorees.

Lemon butter sandwiches, ham salad sandwiches, pecan pie with whipped cream and coffee were served. The autumn plate favors bore a fortune for each guest.

Those enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Wheat were Misses Lillian Kindrick, Tottie Martin, Lela Taylor, Mary Hubert, Mesdames Joe Fritz, Tom Butland, A. L. Mudge, Clay Secrest, Mattie Patterson, Hy Taylor, U. D. Kindrick, Vann Martin, John Martin, Dorothy Westmoreland, Rowland Martin, Slaton Fleming, S. A. McDonald, J. M. Livingston, Pierce Hoggett, John Blackburn, P. Joseph and Roy King.

KERVILLE GUESTS ARE HONORED WITH PARTY

One of the attractive parties of the past week was given by Mesdames C. W. Atchison and Jas. A. Prentice, Friday afternoon at Mrs. Atchison's residence, honoring Misses Myrtle Davey and Kathleen Watson of Kerrville.

Beautiful pink and yellow chrysanthemums were placed about the rooms in vases and baskets.

Bridge provided the medium of entertainment. When the total scores were added a rose glass bowl was awarded Mrs. Joe Watson, who made high score. The cut prize, a tea pot, went to Mrs. John Martin. Mrs. Chas. Harrison of McCamey received a fruit cake for consolation. Pretty linen guest towels were presented to the honorees. The color scheme of pink and yellow was further carried out in the refreshments. Two plates of each color were placed at the tables, bearing chicken salad on lettuce, saltine wafers, potato chips, olives, hot tea and fruit cake iced in pink and yellow. Butterscotch candy and almonds were served during the afternoon.

Those present were Mesdames Frank Patterson, J. M. Livingston, Clifford Hamer, W. W. Buck, A. L. Mudge, Joe Watson, C. R. Stevenson, Felix Watson, Joe Fritz, J. A. LONDON LOCALS

Our boys and girls won their ball game from Ivy school Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. May and Mrs. O. B. Turberville visited relatives at Leaky last week returning Monday, bringing little Mickey Hensley with them.

Mr. Rex Lavelle was looking after the Smith garage Friday and Saturday during the absence of the proprietor.

R. A. Sallee was among the sportsmen who failed to bag the desired buck in Mason County.

Mr. J. R. Smith, Mr. Dick Weaver, Mr. Howard Kothmann and Bob Weaver formed a jolly crowd who hit the happy hunting ground in Mason County early on the morning of the 15th. As usual, J. R. Smith bagged a buck. Howard Kothmann got a good shot or two but missed. Dick Weaver never got a shot. Bob Weaver, the most successful of all, got lost and rambled for about 8 hours, finally being successful in meeting a Mr. Liferster, who proved the good Samaritan. Bob, being footsore, weary and hungry, was towed into camp by Mr. Liferster.

Mr. E. H. Kothmann and son, Rankin, each brought in a fine buck Saturday evening. They bagged them on the ranch belonging to Rankin near Mountain Home.

Your reporter, in company with Mr. J. P. Rush, was out hunting Sunday. Our location was out near the foot of the Blue Mountains. We were each armed with a single shot 22 caliber target. The writer had very good success. He got back home with the most of his pants on, while Mr. Rush did not even tear his.

Mrs. Fleming and Miss Victoria Brewer were shopping in Brady Saturday.

The Parent-Teachers entertainment Friday night was well attended and all report a good program and a jolly good time.

Our Masonic brethren meet every Thursday night unless otherwise agreed upon for general practice, and we have a jolly good time as well as a beneficial hour spent in a great work. You who have not been taking advantage of these meetings have been losing an opportunity to improve yourselves in Masonry. Come, let's know more of the work and more of each other.

Our school is progressing nicely. Everyone seems interested. Even some of the teachers are doing a correspondence course, looking forward to their degree. This is commendable, too, because there is no standstill. We are either going forward or backward; the entire universe is a mass of moving matter; no such thing as standstill.

It is encouraging to see our good president and his secretary

Mr. Mellon coming to the front, calling conferences of great men in this hour of our country's need, but it appears to us small fellows that these conferences could have been held a year ago and possibly have saved the little fish. Why wait until the man with moderate means is swept away and his life earnings swallowed up by the captains of finance before coming to the rescue? All thinking men know that the high interest paid for call loans by stock speculators would centralize our money supply in that channel and thereby call it out of the channels of legitimate trade, causing depression over the country in all lines of trade. This is why I claim that these conferences would have been more wisely timed if they had been called months ago before the crash came.

Mr. Arthur Brisbane classes those who lost all as being fools and gamblers. Very likely Mr. Brisbane got his from the very channel in which they lost theirs and yet he is one of the wise ones because he won. If you win, you are foresighted and very intelligent; if you lose, you are only a common fool and what is worse than a gambler.

The only thing for us common people to do is to remain quiet, trust and help each other, hedge and economize until this panic passes over as all other panics have done. No use for anyone to deny that the crash is on. The price of your live stock, wool, mohair, cotton, in fact everything you have to sell declare it on and on severely.

Thanksgiving and Christmas is coming; let's all be thankful and joyous.

IVY ECHOES

Our basket ball teams, both boys and girls, and the London teams in match games of basket ball at London Friday afternoon. We dislike being beaten, but London was an easy winger in both games, yet we possess still, a friendly feeling for London.

TWINS ARE NAMED "EVER" AND "NEVER"

For countless centuries, proud parents have turned to the Bible, the family tree or to the president's directory for names for their children.

But a Dallas negro couple inaugurated something brand new in that line for twins when they named their offsprings "Ever" and "Never" according to a report filed with the city vital statistics department. The twins form the first Ever-Never combinations ever filed with the department, Miss Birdie Smith, registrar, declared.

Ever will have a name to live up to, alright, but poor Never.—Exchange

HENS DOUBLE OUTPUT AS ROCK IS BLASTED

Whitehall, N. Y.—Oliver G. Nedd, a farmer, claims that blasting rock from Toll Gate Hill Mountain doubles the production of eggs among his 1,000 or more hens. "As long as the blasting goes on," he says, "my hens lay exactly twice as many eggs as ordinarily." When there is no blasting he fires a shotgun near his hens—and the results are almost the same.

ROOSEVELT SCHOOL NEWS

We have been enjoying the nice warm sunshine for the past few days.
Edith Surber was absent from school Monday and Tuesday.
The literary society had its regular meeting Friday. The program was enjoyed by all the pupils. The program for the next meeting will be a Thanksgiving program.
Buster Adams is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Goodall. He is also visiting the school.
J. C. Goodall was back in school Tuesday after being absent for several days on account of illness. We are very glad for him to be back with us.
Burlson Parker was absent from school Monday and Tuesday.
Miss Alice Roberts brought some new pictures to school Monday.
Hugh Lawler was absent from school Friday.
The flowers are most all killed. The pot plants are looking very pretty.

ROOSEVELT ROUNDUPS

Mr. Sanford Roe is up today looking after the new highway.
Mr. and Mrs. Adams were here from Mertzon Sunday visiting.
Misses Alice and Ethel Roberts spent the week-end in San Antonio.
Miss Eunice Goodall and Miss Morris were here from Pear Valley.
Messrs. H. H. Farmer and J. A. Parker are in Old Mexico on a hunting trip.
Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Jones and Miss Pauline Kelso were at Segovia Sunday.
Archie Surber has leased his shop to Bennie Simon.

"SWEETHEART CAKES" COME TO JUNCTION

Fredericksburg

half ended with the score 14 to 0.

In the second half Junction came back strong and "Hot" Johnson carried the ball across for a touchdown soon after the last half opened. Ragland dropped kicked for the extra point.
The third quarter ended with the score 21 to 0. But the Eagles were just getting started and in the fourth quarter they piled up 20 more points at the expense of the Hillbillies.
Ake plunged over the goal line for the first touchdown in the last quarter. On the next kick Fredricksburg fumbled the ball, and Munn recovered. After marching down the field with the ball on successive plunges, Captain Frank Hubbell carried the ball across the goal. This was the last touchdown of the game.

In the game Tuesday, the Eagles looked more like district champions than they have looked this season. While they probably put more scrap into the Ballinger fray, that determined spirit for victory was stronger Tuesday than it has been this year.

Football is a great game the way the Eagles play it. They are a clean fighting bunch.

In the affair Tuesday, the Eagles made 19 first downs while the Fredericksburg Hillbillies made two first. One of their first downs came on a penalty of the Junction team, and the other was on a pass.

The starting line-up for the game Tuesday was:

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

Friday afternoon the 22nd, being Industrial Day the W. M. U. will meet at the church at 3:30 p. m.

Next Sunday the pastor will preach both morning and evening. Let us gladden his heart by a large attendance. We had a wonderful service last Sunday morning and now as Thanksgiving Day draws near let us assemble ourselves together with loving, grateful hearts to worship and give thanks to the Heavenly Father for all His goodness and kindness towards us.

Yes! God is good: in earth and sky,
From ocean's depths and spreading wood,
Ten thousand voices seem to cry
God made us all and God is good.

Yes! God is good, all nature says
By God's own hand with speech endowed;
And man in louder notes of praise
Should sing for joy that God is good.

Don't forget the combined service of choir practice and Prayer Meeting each Wednesday at 7 p. m.
We are very glad to have Mrs. Walter Richardson back with us after a long siege of illness.

Also to report both Mary Lee Graves and Mrs. M. A. White as much better.

Mr. Amick, who put his letter in the church two weeks ago is very heartily welcomed as a new member of our church.

To the country members we want to say, "Do not be afraid to come to church because it is such cold weather for the new stoves are up and the building is comfortably warm". We also want you to see the new ceiling in the dining room, made possible by the generosity of the Men's Bible Class.—Reporter.

Dr. and Mrs. Carol Dixon of San Antonio and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Buckner and little daughter, Louise, and Mrs. C. M. Waldrip of San Marcos left Wednesday for their homes after a visit with Mrs. Les Beasley.

Hon. Coke R. Stevenson, Representative from this District, made the motion that Messrs. E. A. Loeffler, Chris Schraub, Edgar McLendon, H. W. Rieck, Rex Lavelle, Weaver H. Baker, Clay Secrest, E. R. Borden and J. S. Farmer be elected as the directors of the Chamber of Commerce for the ensuing year. These men were elected unanimously.

After the officers were elected every one present sang "America." Mr. K. G. Durst led this song.

Mr. N. H. Skaggs led in the benediction.

Football Team Present

The members of the High School Football squad were honored guests at the banquet. They had two special tables reserved. After the banquet, Supt. Guy C. Moses introduced every member of the squad to those at the banquet. He introduced Coach and Mrs. Earl Bowers.

The spirit manifested at the banquet was of the best sort. There was a friendly feeling among all present. From every standpoint, the banquet Tuesday night was the greatest ever staged by the Chamber of Commerce.

Famous Stunt Flyer And Wife Perform in Junction Sunday

Depending, of course, on the weather conditions, Junction citizens are expected to turn out very strong next Sunday afternoon on the landing field where a "flying circus" is to be held. A number of entertaining and hair-raising stunts will feature the afternoon.

Using the ship piloted by Arnold Noland and owned by him and Rupert Hayes, "Dare Devil" Burns, together with Mrs. Burns, famous stunt flyers, will perform during the afternoon. Their stunts consist of hanging suspended by a Kelly Springfield inner tube from the running gear of the machine, swinging by the toes from a trapeze bar, wing walking, and numerous other feats equally exciting. Mr. Burns stated that no safeties were used on any of his stunts.

PEOPLE ARE WARNED TO BEWARE OF SEED FRAUDS

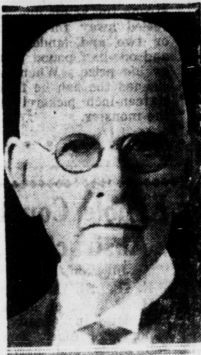

(F. C. Richardson, Field editor)
 Nearly every year people are victimized by sharpers offering some new and miraculous variety of seed. Sometimes it is an evergreen lawn grass, again it is a field crop of some old variety with a new name. A lawn grass that sold at $1.50 a pound was found on analysis to be made up of meadow fescue, rye grass, and redtop, all very common grasses which can be had for a few cents a pound.
 Before you pay a fancy price for any new seed of which you have not heard before, it will pay you to do a little investigating, whether it is offered by salesmen, by advertising or through a catalog. There have been some exceptional developments in the plant world, and no one should close his mind against new things. But don't pay a high price for them unless you have some evidence besides the word of the seller that the "new" crop actually has superior qualities, different from other varieties.
 Sometimes, as in the case of the wonderful lawn grass, the seed can be identified by any competent seed analyst, and every State has one at the service of its people. When such things are offered a sample should be secured and analyzed before large quantities are bought. This simple procedure would have saved a Decatur, Illinois, man probably about $400 out of the $500 that he paid for 100 pounds of the mixture mentioned above, and sold under the name of "Herbae-Mira." It will probably have a new name and the sharpers will have a different address this year. That enticing name sounds enough like Latin to fool the unwary into thinking it the botanical name; a Texas Mexican would interpret it: "See the plant!"

When new species are discovered or new varieties originated the impulse of the dollar-catcher is to thrust it on the market with all the blab-blah he can think up. The experiment stations will test all such if they are given time, and the seed are submitted to them. They will report what actually happens, and farmers can then buy or let it alone as the facts enable them to form a judgment. Experimenting by farmers themselves is not to be discouraged so long as they do it cautiously, on a small scale, so that the financial loss, if any, will be small. In crops, Ben Franklin's advice is good: "Be not the first by whom the new tried, Nor yet the last to cast the old aside."

PRESIDENT OF BIG FIRM NOW ENDORSES SARGON

"At the age of 79 I'm still active in business, and I attribute my splendid energy and vitality to Sargon. I believe it added years to my life."

DAVID S. BEEKMAN

"Before I took Sargon my health had been failing steadily for five years. What I ate soured almost as soon as it reached my stomach. My nerves were all to pieces and I hardly ever got a good night's sleep. I was continually bothered with constipation and biliousness. I tried many medicines but kept losing weight and getting weaker every day. I thought I would have to give up my business, which would have cost me thousands of dollars.

"Six bottles of Sargon made me like a different man. If I have an ailment left I don't know it. My appetite is keen, all trace of stomach trouble is gone, and I sleep like a top. I've gained seven pounds and feel as well and strong as I did 25 years ago. I go to my office every morning ready for a real day's work. It's a pleasure to endorse this remarkable treatment."—David S. Beekman, president Beekman Steel Fence Co., San Francisco.
 J. A. Heyman, agent.

Under the "Calamity" clause of the State Constitution, Texas has given away tax money that during the life of the tax exemptions will probably total $15,000,000. Every coast county except three—Harris, Jackson and Chambers—has either total or partial exemption from state taxes.

GREAT GAMES

Football and Basketball are great games; in fact, we all like a game of any kind if it is well played. Those who become known as stars in any game have necessarily spent much time in practice and study of the finer points of the game. An untrained player would not think it possible to play a winning game against a star player, yet young men and women without a business training try to play the game of business with the result that in nine cases out of ten, they make a miserable failure. A thorough business training in one of our four colleges would reverse the order of failure to where nine out of ten should make a success. A former student of ours who has made a great success, told us the other day that the money he paid for a scholarship in our school had produced larger returns for him than any money he had ever spent.

Since our four schools have the exclusive use of the Famous Byrne Simplified Shorthand and Practical Bookkeeping and no other business college is permitted to teach them, we can graduate a thoroughly trained stenographer, secretary, bookkeeper or accountant in half the time and at half the cost of other schools. Get our free catalogue, it will make clear to you how we can soon have you in a good position, or in business for yourself.

Fill in and mail for free catalogue. Address Byrne Commercial College, either at Dallas, Houston, San Antonio or Oklahoma City as you prefer.

"CHEVON"

"CHEVON" is the name of the meat of the Angora goat, just the same as "Mutton" is the name of the meat of our sheep. Texas has 2,800,000 of these fleeces bearing pasture mates of the sheep, shearing about 14,000,000 pounds of mohair annually, selling for an average of 50 cents a pound for the past 15 years, bringing into Southwest Texas $7,000,000 in two installments in the months of March and September.
 And up to six years ago the meat of these goats had no commercial name, like beef, mutton and pork, and the members of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association thought it was about time to name this meat. A prize was offered, a committee was appointed to select the best and most suitable name for the meat of the goat, from the thousands of names suggested and sent in from all over the United States, Canada and Old Mexico.

A West Texas ranch woman, Mrs. E. W. Hardgraves, won the word "Chevon." She coined the word from two French words meaning "goat-mutton." Chevon is sweet, juicy and game-like, as the Angora goat browses and feeds like the deer. The name has been recognized by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and is used by some of our packing houses, but it is not in general use yet.

Kimble Courts has, perhaps, the finest transient-apartments in the United States!

The natural beauty and care of the grounds is fast gaining wide approval.

We wish to leave the thought with the people of Junction and Kimble County that the Courts are here for their use, as well as for the use of the traveling public.

Would you not be surprised to know that 58% of the people in the United States live in apartments? This is the trend of modern times.

We believe Junction to be singularly fortunate in having the same accommodations available at especially cheap prices.

Apartment live relieves women of drudgery-burdened days and safe-guards the health of children during the winter.

Here you have electric stoves, steam heat, circulating hot water, private baths and toilets—with apartments completely furnished or unfurnished—as you wish.

You can live here cheaper than you can operate your own house.

Close enough in to be convenient. Far enough out to be in the country. City delivery service.

We would be happy to see more home people enjoy the comforts over here.

Ranch people visiting town for the week-end will find our place delightful. Rates to fit singles—or the whole family.

Come by some time and talk it over

WINDY CITY ERECTS WORLD'S GREATEST TEMPLE OF MUSIC

Chicago, universally known as the city that averages two murders a day, a paradise of gunmen, racketeers, bootleggers, kings and Black Hand societies; ruled by "Big Bill" Thompson and his ward heeler, has just dedicated the world's finest temple of music. Until now the Paris Opera, "National Academy of Music," for more than 50 years held that proud title. It was built between 1861 and 1874 and cost 12 million dollars; it seats 2,200 persons and is embellished inside and out as probably no other edifice has been. The Opera is the pride of every Frenchman, and many an authority agrees with Henry Waterson that it is the most beautiful building in the world. Others reverse that distinction for India's Taj Mahal.

Chicago's Civic Opera building on Wacker Drive cost 20 million dollars and seats 3,500 persons facing the stage on the first three floors. The building is 45 stories high—a pile of marble, steel, bronze and gold—far more imposing, if less ornate, than Paris' temple. A century ago the Place de l'Opera was as much a center of the French capital's life as it is today. Then the site of Chicago's new opera was a marshy flat by a small stream; it knew no music but the wolves' howling and the wind's moaning. Such is the miracle of American—particularly Middle Western—progress. The public-spirited Chicagoan must feel no less proud of this civic achievement than the Parisian does of his opera. And the stately temple is a sign to the country that there is another Chicago besides that portrayed in the criminal court records—a city with a culture and a heart.—Kerrville Times.

ONE PECAN SELLS FOR FIVE DOLLARS

W. J. Millican brought to the News office a sample of the very first genuine Mahan pecans ever to be ripened in San Saba County. He bought and set the tree just two years ago, and this second year there is a light production. This is a distinction belonging to River Bend Farm. It has the first Texas Mahan pecan ever produced in Texas.

And about the biggest thing in this new feat is that one single pecan has been sold for the fancy price of five bucks, $5 in cold cash.

The Mahan pecan is a world beater and no doubt will some day be in every pecan orchard in Texas. The pecan mother tree has a wonderful history, which we can't give here, but it reads like a romance.—San Saba News.

TWO FISH ON HOOK

Tomah, Wis.—"It can't be done," Louie Shie, Tomah fisherman, said to his friends after reading a fish story in which a fisherman caught two fish on one hook. Shortly after, fishing near Mauston, he felt a strong tug at his line. Louie reeled away for a minute or two and landed a ten and one-half pound pickerel as his prize. When Louie cleaned the fish he found a sixteen-inch pickerel inside the monster.

Extension of the citrus fruit area northward from the lower Rio Grande Valley is partly responsible for the estimated increase of 1,500,000 in citrus trees in the past year. Orchards of Webb County are coming into real bearing and Laredo expects this season to ship its first full carload of grapefruit, oranges and tangerines. When all the citrus orchards in the Texas valley are producing, Texas will no longer be third in citrus fruit production, and it may be first within the next few years, as the demand for Texas citrus fruits is growing as the public learns to appreciate their superiority.

SEWER ORDINANCE

An ordinance providing for the giving of indemnity bonds by plumbers, the manner and way in which plumbing work shall be done, the kind and class of material to be used in such work, providing for the inspection of plumbing work, enumerating the powers and duty of the inspector of plumbing, compelling buildings under certain conditions to be connected with the public sewer, and prescribing penalties for the violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Junction, Texas:

ARTICLE NO. 184

Plumber's Bond

SECTION ONE (1) Each person or firm shall, before engaging in the business of plumbing, execute to the City of Junction good and sufficient bond in surety company in the sum of one thousand dollars conditioned to protect said city of Junction against all loss or damage occasioned by the negligence of the principal therein to properly execute and protect all work done by him or under his supervision, in any way whatsoever, and further, conditioned to observe and keep all ordinances at any time enacted by said City relating to plumbing or plumbing work. Said bond must be approved by the City Council and shall run for a period of not less than one year and no plumber or other person shall do any plumbing work in the City of Junction unless he has executed such bond and the same has been approved by the City Council. Each person or firm shall pay into the city treasury $20.00 a year for a permit to engage in the plumbing business.

Inspector's Duty

SECTION TWO (2) The inspector shall give the owner or agent in charge of any building written notice of any defects in his or his principals plumbing or changes or repairs necessary, and such owner or agent shall within five days after such notice, make necessary change or repairs.

SECTION THREE (3) The inspector shall be appointed by the Mayor and approved by the City Council every two years, the master plumber shall pay the inspector of plumbing for inspections on the following basis: 50 cents for each lateral and 25 cents for each fixture installed, and in no case shall the charge be for less than $1.00. It shall be the duty of the inspector to inspect and pass upon all plumbing to keep a record of all plumbing inspected by him, it shall be his duty to inspect plumbing that has been installed, and give the written notice provided in section two of this ordinance, and for the purpose of inspection of any such plumbing or other plumbing, said inspector shall have the right to enter any house or premises in the city at any time between the hours of 9:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m., it shall be the duty of the inspector to investigate all alleged violations of the plumbing ordinances of the city and to file complaints when necessary.

SECTION FOUR (4) No plumbing work shall be covered or concealed until it has been accepted by the City inspector, after inspection, which inspection shall be made by inspector within two days after he has received notice that the work is complete.

SECTION FIVE (5) The plumber in charge of any work shall be held responsible for the condition and completion of said work according to the ordinance and regulations governing plumbing in the City of Junction.

MATERIAL

SECTION SIX (6) All the material used in the work of plumbing and drainage must be of good quality and free from defects. All work must be done in thorough and workmanlike manner. When the soil, waste and vent pipes within the building are in place, connected to the traps, and when such traps are below floor level, before being covered or concealed, they shall be filled with water to the top of stack above the roof. If leaks are indicated, they shall be corrected by the contracting plumber and retested.

Drain Pipes

SECTION SEVEN (7) All horizontal drains within the walls of the buildings shall not be less than two inches in diameter, and shall be readily accessible for inspection while building. They shall be securely hung from the walls or suspended from ceiling or laid in a masonry line trench with removable covers. The house drain, soil and waste pipe shall have a fall of at least one-fourth inch to the foot in length, and shall be provided for cleaning purposes, which opening shall be closed with brass screw plugs, and line extended through wall when cleanout is within 24 inches of wall.

SECTION EIGHT (8) The house drain must be laid in a straight line if possible. All changes in direction, where changes are absolutely necessary, shall be made with one-eight inch bends.

Special Connections Prohibited

SECTION NINE (9) Each residence or building shall be supplied with separate plumbing fixtures.

SECTION TEN (10) No connection for basement drain shall be allowed until owner of building has executed and signed a written release to the City of Junction, for any damage that may result from said basement being flooded by the stoppage of sewers, which release and agreement shall be filed with the City Council.

SECTION ELEVEN (11) No rainwater or down spout pipe, steam boiler pipe, or other pipe to convey or used to convey water or other substances of like character, except necessary to plumbing system shall be connected to any sanitary sewer, except upon the order of the City Council.

Vents and Revents

SECTION TWELVE (12) Each building must be provided with at least one four inch waste or vent stack, and for each branch of twenty feet or more in length within the building, same shall extend same size and bore through the roof or brought back, full size to the stack. All vents must be full size of trap outlets.

SECTION THIRTEEN (13) Where revent pipe is connected into main stack, it shall be at a point two feet above the highest fixture, and between revents two feet.

SECTION FOURTEEN (14) No continuous revent shall be placed more than 36 inches from the trap it serves, and the center of outlet between waste and outlet shall not be set below water seal of trap. All closets revented in the rough must have revent as close to floor line as possible. And in no case shall a waste enter above the revent opening. Each and every fixture must be revented and have water seal trap placed as close to fixture as possible. Stacks, vents, and revent pipes shall extend through roof and opening in roof shall be flashed. All drains from three feet outside the building to main sewer must be the best quality of vitrified four inch clay pipe of the bell and spigot type. Pipe must be laid to a good grade, without sag so as to drain quickly and completely. No drains shall be less than two per cent if obtainable. All joints shall be well cemented with two parts of well screened sand and one part of the best Portland cement. No vitrified clay pipe

Street Repairs

SECTION TWENTY-FOUR (24) Where sewers have been connected, all portions of the street disturbed must be restored to their former condition. The street must be thoroughly rrammed and filled in forty-eight hours after making connections or repairs, and in case it is necessary to leave trench open, the public shall be warned by red lights at night, and other proper means in the daytime.

SECTION TWENTY-FIVE (25) The city inspector shall at all times have the right to close up or disconnect from the public sewer any private sewer constructed or connected in violation of any of the ordinances governing the laying of house sewers.

Compelling Connection

SECTION TWENTY-SIX (26) After 90 days notice by the City Council it shall be unlawful for any person or persons, whatsoever to use or maintain, or permit to be used or maintained, on any premises situated on the line of the sewer, or within two hundred feet of same, within limits prescribed and designated in this ordinance, and owned, rented, leased, or controlled by such person or persons any privy, cesspool, watercloset, urinal basin, slop sink, slop drain, bath tub, or waste water drain from laundry, livery stable, or any receptacle whatsoever, used or to be used for the purpose of receiving or removing sewerage waste, or slop of any kind, unless the same shall be connected with the system of sanitary sewers of the City of Junction, Texas.

SECTION TWENTY-SEVEN (27) It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, to obstruct or in any way injure any of the pipes, drains, works or machinery belonging or connected with any system of sanitary sewerage owned, used or operated in the City of Junction, Texas, or to place or drop, or throw any substances whatever into any sink, water closet, bath tub, vessel, drain or other receptacle belonging to or connected with any system of sanitary sewerage owned, used or operated in the City of Junction, Texas, which may obstruct or injure same.

SECTION TWENTY-EIGHT (28) That any person, firm or association, or corporation who shall fail to comply with, or violate any provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than five dollars nor more than fifty dollars. Each day constitutes a separate offense.

Connection Fee

SECTION TWENTY-NINE (29) All business buildings shall pay a monthly rental of 75 cents and all residences shall pay a monthly rental of 50 cents. Schools and colleges $2.00 for each building, churches free, to the City of Junction, Texas. Any user of city sewers falling to pay rentals promptly shall be subject to being cut off from the city water service by order of the City Council.

SECTION THIRTY (30) The fact that there are now no rules and regulations governing connections with the sanitary sewer system creates an imperative public necessity that the rules requiring ordinances to be read at three separate meetings be suspended and that said ordinance be read three times at this meeting, placed on final passage, and take effect immediately from and after its passage and publication.

By order and approval of the City Council of Junction, Texas, in regular session this 28th day of October, 1929.

T. B. PHILLIPS, Mayor.

JOHN S. MUNN, City Secretary.

SYNOPSIS
What Happened Before
At a party in Palm Beach given by Mr. Cooper Clary, an attorney, meets Lucy Harkness, known as Devil-May-Care because of her adventurous, eventful life. In a game in which partners for the evening are chosen, Lucy is won by Tim Stevens, who has a great reputation as a successful heart-breaker. Lucy is a hit with him. Tim Stevens tells Lucy they are going aboard his boat, the Minerva, and she agrees in order not to be "a quitter." Asked if she is sorry that she won her company, Lucy says she is not and that evidently Fate has arranged it. Tim thereupon tells her to stop looking miserably after Leeson.

Aboard Stevens' boat, the Minerva, Stevens with contempt for her, goes on to tell her she will never let her go from the Minerva until she accepts him. To escape him, she leaps into the water from her cabin window, continuing a short distance under water. Lucy reaches land and meets Dr. Ferrus France on an island. He takes care of her and takes her home. Everyone is worried about her, and when she meets Stevens he is frantic, grief-stricken and still averse to propositions of love.

Now to the Story
"We start from here, then; I took you away with me; I frightened you; I drove you to almost certain death. But . . . we start from there. Is that it?"

"From where else could we start?" she encountered.
"And you . . . you can't forgive me, Lucy Harkness?"

"Can you make me?" That seems to be the question," she answered.
He rose from his chair, fatigue dropping from him like a bath-gown from a bather on the beach. That amazing virility which was himself, but which this morning had been absent, returned to him in a rush.

"I don't like equal chances," he cried. "I want the odds against me. Two to one, ten to one, a hundred to one!"
"They are," she reminded him.

"And . . . and what shall we tell . . . People are curious."
"I came home," she said calmly, "in my bathing-suit. If your crew and Modane—"
"They'll say nothing," he promised.

"And, naturally, we won't!" she laughed.
"And you'll see me, speak to me, as though nothing had happened?"
"I'll do what Fate directs," she promised.

He shook his head.
"You're no saint, Lucy Harkness. If you were, I'd not love you. You're flesh and blood and wavy hair and long lashes and pink and tan skin, and . . ."

human! You can't fool me. You're going to do something."
"Which ought to make life interesting, Tim," she chuckled.
"Trying to outguess a woman is hard enough under ordinary circumstances, but under these . . . But perhaps your blood has cooled. In emotion we want things, promise things, do things that contemplation causes us to regret. An hour ago death was an adventure which you welcomed. Now a flirtation seems dangerous. Well, go your own way, Tim Stevens."
"I'll go yours," he cried. "The way of Fate."
She laughed.
"We'll see."
"You hate me. You'll get even, some way . . ."

He paused, too puzzled to continue.
"Of course I hate you," she returned evenly. "I think you're low, bestial. But what has that to do with Fate?"
"You're daring me," he asserted.

"And you're afraid to take a dare," she accused. "But I've given you all the time I can this morning. I'm due at the Beach Club."

"After parties I regain my girlish color by plenty of sleep," she said. "And aren't you being a trifle persistent, Mr. Leeson? I'm not used to cross-examination, or insinuations that I'm unable to take care of myself. What makes you think that Stevens, or anyone, could take me anywhere against my will?"
He blushed nervously.
"I didn't mean to be . . ."

"I don't care whether it's good form, or being done, or anything like that. Steven's bad, Miss Harkness, I mean . . . a rotter. And when you go off, with him, and don't return . . ."
"The intimation is that I am also bad, a rotter, isn't it?" she returned.
"Not at all. His blush was painful. You know . . . No, you don't know . . . how could you? . . . My opinion of you."
"It might be interesting, though," she scoffed. "And I almost believe you're frank enough to give it."
"You don't mean frank; you mean unsophisticated, Miss Harkness," he said. "Well, I suppose I am. I'm not used to well, the sort of people, the sort of things I meet down here."

"Why not run back home, then, where every one is nice and wholesome?"
"Now you're not being you. You know I'm not critical, or condemning. I'm merely explaining. I . . . I'm a lawyer, Miss Harkness. And I ought to tell about Stevens."

"How ethical?" she murmured. "Stevens is a client of your firm, and I am not. Therefore, you will tell me about him."
"Professional ethics can't be permitted to conflict with common decency," he declared. "And he isn't a client any longer. The firm have telegraphed that, owing to many things, he is no longer a client. They've asked me to remain down here a while; ordered me to . . . to get in touch with him, to get explanations of certain matters to settle up affairs with him."

"And you, out of common decency—was that it?—tell me, who have no interest in the affairs of Mr. Stevens or your firm, that the latter is too holy to deal with the former. Stick to professional ethics, Mr. Leeson; they will get you farther than common decency, it seems to me. Professional ethics are laid down for you; you don't have to guess at them. But common decency is open to interpretation, and a cad will interpret it according to his cadishness."

"That is not merely unfair; it is dishonest," he said. His color, his embarrassment had vanished. He was not the nervous youth who had entered the patio, but a cool and collected attorney, willing and able to challenge her, to pick her up where she left off.
"Why isn't it?" she demanded.

"Because when a woman is involved a man must not protect another man. He must protect the woman."
"You think I need protection?" she asked coolly.
"This man Stevens is a beast; any woman would need protection from him, and almost any man who wasn't forewarned. And I . . . isn't anything fair in love or war?"

"Is there a war?" she asked. "Perhaps there's love," he retorted.
"We met last night," she reminded him.
"And again now," he said. "There's going to be a warrant issued for his arrest, today, unless he settles a certain matter. And he can't settle. It's for a quarter of a million cash. That he stole. That's why I come, caddishly, to you, to warn you not to have anything to do with him."

"Did you think he'd borrow from me?" she asked bitterly.
"Oh, I didn't mean to say all this!" he cried. "I . . . I wanted to see . . . you and I'd worried, as Mrs. Clary had done, and then . . . you defend Stevens, and . . . Well, I've told you."
"Most unethically, and not even common decency. Your ex-client—"

"To my present client." He smiled. "You didn't know? Your lawyers, Maddox and Roe, have just joined our firm. Another reason I am staying longer than I intended. The firm—the new firm, Maddox, Thamer, Roe, Willson, Crews, and Lovejoy—telegraphed me this morning."
"Oh," she said.

She hid a sigh of relief when luncheon ended. Here formality ceased; one went to the room and at hazard or roulette forgot one's hostess, one's guests. She played a while at a wheel, then was conscious of someone standing over her. She turned, to meet Leeson's intense gaze.
"Hello!" she said.

He knew the etiquette of roulette.
"Don't let me disturb you," he said hastily.
She shrugged, but her last few chips, lost, and rose from the table.
"No need to concentrate on the wheel when one's luck is vile. I'm through. Have you been lucky?"
"I can't afford to play," he said. "I came to luncheon, and am just looking on. Stevens," and his voice sank to a husky whisper, "is to be arrested at five."

"Why that hour instead of another?" she asked. She was hardly conscious that her every muscle was tense.
Leeson laughed.
"After all, Stevens has been our client. To demand a quarter of a million from him on the spot is going too far. To demand it within a few hours is slightly different. Stevens was given that amount of money for a definite purpose. Either he used it for that purpose or should have it accessible. He didn't use it. Therefore, must have it. Unless he's stolen it, converted it to his own use. This, we happen to know, he has done. But the police here won't act on the moment. He asked, an hour or so ago, until five o'clock. Said he had the money, but was busy on other things. At five he'd pay. But he can't."

She hastened from the room, secured her wrap from the maid, and went out into the blazing sunshine, so incredible in February. The doorman beckoned for a chair, and stepped into it, she ordered that she be taken to her bank.
"What's my balance?" she asked the yapping teller.
He looked it up and told her that she had something over forty thousand dollars on deposit.
"How much can I borrow?" she asked.

The teller summoned the president; there was a ten-minute conference. From the vaults Lucy brought securities. The loan she asked was quickly arranged.
"And there'll be no word of this leak out?" she asked.
The bank officials assured her of their silence.
"I'll take it in cash," she said.

Well, those who came to Palm Beach did many strange things, and Luck Harkness was called Devil-May-Care. She had deposited four hundred thousand dollars of the best securities for a loan of two hundred and

Visitors' Day at School Draws Women

Friday was Visitors' Day at school. Among the visitors were the following: Mesdames S. L. Kirkpatrick, J. O. Wright, W. B. Buster, G. W. Crabb, Sanford Roe, W. M. Taylor, A. H. Wahl, Mae Ragland, Earl Glossbrenner and Mr. J. O. Wright.

Why is it that we always have more women visiting school than men? Is it that the men cannot get off from work, or that the women take more interest in school?

"SENIOR SAYINGS"

The Seniors had a call meeting at caisthenics period last week. Mrs. Dutton thanked the Senior class for the flowers that they sent her while she was in the hospital. She also thanked each one for his visit to her room while she was sick.

The Seniors are very glad to have Mrs. Dutton back in school, and they were glad to hear her say that they will start their play after Christmas.

The football boys have been camping at Mr. McKee's ranch and the Senior boys came to school Monday with long whiskers. They looked like "cave men." They all say that they will not shave until they "Beat Tivy."

Mr. Moses is collecting the money this week for the Senior's rings, which will be here soon.

This is "Exam" week at Chas. Schreiner High School, and the Seniors are studying as they never studied before.

THE ART OF GRIPING

(By Ruby Davis)

"Sfunny how mad it makes you when some people gripe, isn't it? Also, how elated when you encounter one who can articially and enthusiastically exhaust a cause for complaint. The whole difficulty of the matter is not in the quantity but in the quality (as with most other things). By the time one is finished listening to the ordinary species, he is so fed up with it that it is impossible to appreciate properly the artist. And so few things are worth griping about, that unless an artist is handling it, it is a tedious bore, for the one justification for a gripe is not the gripe, but the way the gripe is griped.

It is true that sometimes a spontaneous outburst relieves the system, the stultious cultivation of griping on any and every occasion is a strain on the good nature of the one who is listening in. Wonder why Tom Edison said he was lucky for being deaf?

INTERMEDIATE NOTES

The seventh grade has organized two Good English Clubs. The Good English Tigers and the Good English Bears.

The officers of the Bear club are: President, Junior McDonald; Yell leader, John Riley Gardner.

The officers of the Tiger club are: President, Margaret King; Secretary, Grace Johnson; Yell leader, Jeanette Yentzon.

The Bears' colors are blue and gold. The Tigers' colors are red and black.

Margaret King.

Last week the 6-A class carved furniture out of soap for a toy house.

Edgar Savage.

Nov. 14 was visiting day. Mrs. Kindrick's room had two visitors. They were Mrs. W. P. Riley and Mrs. Livingston.

Milton Hill.

The six-A class, Mrs. Kindrick's room, are going to play their harmonicas for the Rotary Club Nov. 21.

Grace Kendrick.

The following is a list of the pupils who write the Intermediate Notes: Lota Pete Graves, captain; Alfred Boyd, Milton Blackburn, Veda McKay, Viola Jennings, Bill Baugh, Hazel Davis, Nancifred Duderstadt, Edgar Savage, Warren Livingston, Louzon Tinsley, George Eberle.

N. G. L. C. Has Meet Friday Afternoon

The N. G. L. C. met Friday, November 15, at one o'clock, for the purpose of completing the organization.

The organization had not been complete when Mrs. Margaret Dutton, sponsor, became ill. The president, Miss Harrie Ethel Hubbell, declined to take any further steps without her aid.

Friday Miss Vivienne Livingstone was elected secretary, and Mr. John Lewis Weaver was elected sergeant at arms.

We learned several things we needed to know about conducting ourselves in our club.

Mrs. Margaret Dutton presided over the club Friday, but Miss Hubbell will resume her position next week.

The president announced the meeting adjourned at one forty-five.

Junior Historical Club Has Meeting

The members of the J. H. C. with their sponsor, Mrs. Dutton, assembled in room 13 Friday, November 15, to discuss some of the topics of general interest in the Literary Digest.

Harry Witt, president, called the meeting to order.

Mrs. Dutton urged that we begin work on our scrap-books immediately. Suggestions concerning the scrap-books were offered by the members.

General current events were discussed by the club members. The vice president gave some of the most interesting events she had found.

Very interesting discussions made on the topics in the Literary Digest. Among others was the discussion of Atheism, which the members enjoyed very much.

The meeting adjourned at 12 o'clock.

Speech Arts Class Rehearses Play

The Little Theater of the Hardeman school of Speech Arts, has in rehearsal "The Thirteenth Chair," by Bayard Veiller. This well known mystery play was produced by William Harris, Jr., at the 48th Street Theater in New York, and enjoyed a long run there.

The High School department of the Expression Class is rehearsing "The Charm School," by Alice Duer Miller and Robert Milton, with music by Jerome Kern. This play was originally produced at the New Bijou Theater, New York City, and in the Comedy Theater, London.

Both of these plays are royalty productions, and have large casts.

Mary Farmer, George Robert Pepper, and Lela Bell Amick read in the chapel program of the fifth grade Thursday morning.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NOTES

First Grade.
T. M. Ehrie is absent on account of burns.

Julian and Raul Pablo entered low first this week.

Miss Blackburn's Grade.
Miss Mary Ellis Blackburn spent the week-end in Austin and Mrs. Mattie Patterson substituted on Friday.

James Evans has been absent the last last week, but is back in school now.

Mrs. Mattie Patterson, Mrs. Clay Secrest, Mrs. Hayden Lawler, Mrs. Odie Wright, Mrs. Riley and Mrs. Wilson Buster visited on Thursday.

GLEE CLUB NOTES

The Glee Club met in regular order Monday afternoon. From the group of thirty members, thirteen were requested to sing at the Rotary Club Thursday afternoon. The following were selected:

Sopranos—Lucille Taylor, Ruby Davis, Bonita Barnes, Blackie Motley, Vivian James, Elsie Besant, Kaleta Taylor and Leola Hodges. Altos—Mrs. Dutton, Eunice Northcutt, Jewel Riley and Brownie Motley.

JUNIOR CLASS NOTES

This is the sixth week of the second term of school and almost everybody seems to be studying hard for those examinations we are expecting.

Lawson Johnson was absent from school several days last week. We are glad to have him with us again this week.

Here's to the mighty Juniors. The Juniors of the day. Look out Seniors. We're on our way.

Basket Ball Girls Go Into Training

The basket ball girls met Monday, November 18, and planned their course of training. There are twenty-three girls that have run their three laps around the football field three times daily, but we are sure that there are some more who will join us soon. We are expecting as successful a team this year as the one we had last year, and with some backing we can have it.

CHAPEL PROGRAM

On Thursday morning, November 14, at nine o'clock, the curtain rose in the High School auditorium to make way for the presentation of a thirty-minute chapel program by the fifth grade students. Miss Ruby Newman sponsored the program and Jack Jarvis made the announcements for the class. The program follows:

Song—"Old McDonald Had a Farm"—class song. "Three Fishermen"—class.

Play—"The Labor Convention"—group of pupils.

Recitation—"Old Grady's Goat"—George Robert Pepper.

Recitation—"The Trouble With School"—Junior Cowsert.

Recitation—"Virgil McCoy."

Recitation—"When the Teacher Gets Cross"—Rose Mary Secrest.

Recitation—"Since Mother Joined the Club"—Mary Farmer.

"The Blue Yodel"—Jack Jarvis.

"The Gay Cabalero"—Jack Jarvis.

Solo—Rose Mary Secrest.

Style Show—represented as given by Philip Joseph with fifth grade pupils as models. This show was a perfect scream. The little boys dressed in high-heeled footwear, showy dresses, harmonizing hats, and matching accessories, showed their apparel by strutting across the stage to piano music by Rose Mary Secrest.

We greatly appreciated the presence of the visitors among whom were the following: Mesdames R. Oxford, George Everle, Clay Secrest, Joe Ramsey, H. H. Farmer, Mattie Patterson, C. S. Amick, Frank Cowsert, Nat Cowsert, George Pepper, Miss Ray Munn and Mr. Nat Cowsert.

NINTH GRADE NOTES

The ninth grade has been taking examinations the past week, and are relieved that most of them are over.

Vernelle Tinsley spent the week-end in San Antonio where she attended her aunt's wedding.

Audrey Winkel and Richard Coleman were absent Monday.

V. A. CLASS NOTES

The third year agriculture class went to Gerald Ragland's Monday and judged his Delaine ewe lambs. Last Friday they worked in the work shop. They are doing nice work but think they should get out in the open, fresh air more.

Jake and Harry were at the theater one night and Jake noticed the word "asbestos" written on the curtain.

"Harry, what does asbestos on the curtain mean?"

"Oh, be quiet, Jake, and don't show your ignorance; that's Latin for welcome."

Recounts Events Battle Saratoga

On October 7, 1777, Burgoyne, the British general, surrendered at Saratoga. This is known as the turning point of the American Revolution.

It was, in many ways, the turning point.

It completely disbanded Burgoyne's army. Many were killed and the remainder surrendered. But this loss of men was the least of the calamities which it meant for the British. The French had been secretly aiding colonies. After this battle they openly declared themselves to be allies of the colonies, and immediately lent not only money, but forces, to aid the colonial cause. The victory at Saratoga also gave greater moral courage to the soldiers. After such a decisive victory, following so many defeats, they were given new moral courage to try again, especially after France openly entered the war. France declared in favor of the colonies; Spain entered the war against England, and, while she made no alliance or agreement with the colonies, she was fighting England, thus aiding the colonies. The next year Holland also declared against England. After the war assumed this European character, it was only a matter of time until England was asking for peace terms. Thus it was that Saratoga, in more ways than one, was the true turning point in the war for American independence.

Pep Squad Members Visit Training Camp

Monday evening at 6:30, the Pep Squad girls went out to the football boys' training camp. The boys greeted us with a hearty welcome. After the boys had shown us their camp a big bonfire was built. The group of girls gave several yells for the Eagles. Then the Eagles returned some yells. Roy Cochran yodeled "Waiting for a Train," and "Sunny South by the Sea." As an encore, L. E. Dunbar accompanied Roy in singing "We're in the Jailhouse Now." Some speeches were called for, so Oscar Duderstadt gave a short talk. Blackie and Brownie Motley sang "Am I Blue?" The crowd was eager for music so Frank Hubbell played the French harp.

There was much fun and pep throughout the evening. The girls did not stay late. They left at 8:15, singing "Goodbye Eagles."

The Pep Squad girls have been practicing diligently on the yells and stunts they will give to help the Eagles win.

Twenty of the Pep Squad girls helped serve for the Chamber of Commerce banquet Tuesday night.

EIGHTH GRADE PUPILS TAKING EXAMINATIONS

The eighth grade pupils are having their six weeks exams. Everyone is trying hard to pass. We hope they will make better grades than they made last term.

The eighth grade history class have received their map books with which they will begin work soon. Everyone seems to think they will enjoy doing this kind of work.

Junction Trade Notes

(By G. G. Co.)

The major part of Texas short wool has been sold at slightly less than 20c, which is disappointing. Some attribute the low price to the stock debacle occurring on Wall Street. . . . Senator Norris of Nebraska, discussing the troubles of the textile and clothing industry, says the lesser clothing now worn by women is the cause of the trouble—"that a woman dressed in the most fashionable way nowadays has on less clothes than her grandmothers had on when she went to bed." Yeh! but what is the Senator going to do about it?

The tariff bill now up in the Senate increases duty on shelled pecans from 6c to 10c a pound, and on unshelled from 3c to 6c. . . . An act of the last Legislature provides that barbers shall have certificates of registration to practice barbering, and barbers who fail to make application for registration by Dec. 2 will be required to take rigid examination in order to obtain license. . . . Many milk bottles that go out with the milkman in the morning never get home. Patrons of local dairies may marvel at the estimate of the Dept. of Agriculture, which places the annual loss from this source at $20,000; and the loss, in the end, is added to the consumers' milk bill.

For hog killing: Sage, black pepper, saltpetre, in bulk; Wright's Smoke Salt—Sugar Cure, three operations in one, Gann Grocery Company. Spiced herring and mackerel, in kits.

Dr. Gray Browning left Thursday for a visit with her parents near Kansas City. Mrs. Hines of San Antonio, accompanied by her son, is enjoying a visit with her niece, Mrs. Dee Gibbs, on the Gibbs ranch. . . . Lawrence (Vic) Urban and Mrs. Lawrence Urban (nee Inez Warren) were to arrive Thursday from Houston and will be at home to many friends at the attractive Warren home, fronting South Llano.

Miss Edna Phillips of Stephen F. Austin College, Nacogdoches, whose is in Kansas City, was a week-end guest of Mrs. James Taylor, teacher of the Bundy school. Miss Phillips has seen much of the United States and in Europe. She thinks the Hill Country and the Llano hold a fascination not exceeded by any other section of the country.

In stock: Diced carrots in tins, mixed vegetables in tins, sliced beets, small baked hams in sealed tins, ready to serve; better than the law requires, Gann Grocery Company. Variety fruit-cake ingredients.

Charlton Brown, Mayor of Mineral Wells, accompanied by party of friends, including a minister, postmaster, banker, oil magnate, etcetera, was in the Hill Country for annual hunting vacation. Charlton Brown is the prospective "hickory squirt candidate" for governor. As a hickory shirt tail boy in Coleman County he was very fond of red beans; and, as mayor of Mineral Wells, he refers to red beans as cherties. . . . Calvin Jones and party of oil men came from the Pecos section to hunt deer and turkey in the Hill Country around Junction. . . . The second day of the open hunting season witnessed many cars going out of Junction decorated with from one to three deer and the quota of turkey, while one car carried a tonnage of six bucks. . . . At last account, however, the three Junction citizens who are hunting deer with bow and arrow did not have fresh meat in camp.

The next major attraction: Thursday, 28th, Junction Eagles vs. Tivy, on the local foot ball field. Attendants, do your duty. . . . We can supply home dressed turkeys and hams for Thanksgiving. Persons desiring this service should leave their orders not later than Tuesday.

URBAN-WARREN

The marriage of Miss Inez Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Warren, to Lawrence Louis Urban of Junction was solemnized Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, with Rev. A. Frank Smith reading the service and Mrs. Charles G. Heyne giving the wedding music. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a modish brown chiffon frock of princess silhouette with hat and accessories in a match, and carried a stouter bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

Attendants for the bride included Miss Josephine Urban of Junction, sister of the groom, as maid of honor, who wore a peach and black chiffon crepe ensemble with harmonizing accessories; Mrs. John DeWitt Morrow, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, who wore handsome dahlia chiffon gown; Miss Marjane Morrow, niece of the bride, as junior bridesmaid in beige georgette, and little Johnelle Morrow in white crepe as flower girl. All carried arm clusters of peach-colored roses. Arthur Dunbar of Junction served the groom as best man.

A wedding breakfast was served after the ceremony at a table spread with Italian cut work cloth and lighted with green tapers in crystal holders. White rosebuds and lilies of the valley adorned the board, forming a wreath about the embossed heart-shaped wedding cake. Misses Ruby Amborn and Maxine Phillips presided over the tea and coffee services, and Miss Loleet Warren was in charge of the bride's book. The home was in beautiful adornment of smilax, palms and chrysanthemums. Mr. and Mrs. Urban left later in the day for a wedding trip, after which they will be at home in Junction. Mrs. Urban wore a smart brown traveling costume with accessories to match.

Rev. J. Virgil Davis of Austin is a guests at the Beasley ranch this week.

Miss Josephine Urban and Arthur Dunbar returned Wednesday from Houston where they attended the wedding of Miss Inez Warren and Vic Urban.

4-SPEED TRANSMISSION STANDARD EQUIPMENT ON NEW FORD TRUCKS

All the new Ford trucks now have a four-speed transmission as standard equipment—this replaces the old three-speed transmission and the dual high is also discontinued since the new equipment furnishes all the power necessary for any hauling conditions. With four speeds forward and one reverse the owner of a new Ford truck has plenty of pulling power at his command and is also enabled to make good speed on the highway even with the car loaded at its rated capacity. The transmission will outlast the life of the truck under normal conditions.

The trucks have been reduced $20 even with the newer and more expensive transmission. The owner of this truck can match loads and speed now with any other driven on the road in anywhere near the same class of hauling.

And the economy of operation which is shown in the passenger cars is also true of the trucks. No accurate data has been kept on the trucks but tests have shown the Fords to run from 39 to 42 miles on a gallon in tests conducted under the auspices of certain dealers. Expenses of from two to two and one-half cents per mile on operation are not uncommonly reported by large fleet owners.

IT'S A TEMPLE

WORLD Famous engineers built it—master craftsmen created the cabinets—Temple is indeed Radio in a Twenty-two Carat Setting.

Temple is more than a name. It signifies a tone perfect in purity of reproduction—an acoustic realism established after years of successful manufacturing.

But that is not all—for in Temple quality has been combined with engineering of so high an order that distant stations become "locals." (Temple is Radio plus—it will amaze you with the stations that are at your call—making the matter of distance insignificant because of the marvelous and uncanny amplification.)

Consoled in cabinets that bespeak taste and luxury in any setting Temple is the Receiver of Tomorrow.

Model 8-60 and 8-61

These models carry the same chassis, power supply and speaker as the larger models, ideal where a small receiver is desired—with all the beauty and tone of the larger models.

$174.00 complete

Model 8-80 and 8-81

The larger of the consoles in the Temple line. Carries the specially developed 14-inch humless Temple dynamic speaker.

$194.00 complete

THE Temple radio-phonograph combination models offer you not only the finest in radio receivers but also allow for the recreation of phonograph recordings—all with a tone so beautiful and acoustically correct that it enralls you. It is double-barreled, you might say. A flip of the switch and the broadcast stations roll in—another flip and your phonograph records are reproduced in the most pleasing manner.
