MAKES HIPPIES

Santa Called Harmful

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Want a hippie in the house? Keep telling your child there's a Santa Claus, says a university psychologist.

The worst thing parents can do is delude their young early in life about a jolly fat man with a bagful of gifts, says Chaytor D. Mason, a psychologist at the University of Southern California.

Not only is Santa a fraud, says Mason, but allowing youngsters to believe in him can cause the kind of emotional conflicts that eventually will make hippies of them.

The child who doesn't get truthful answers, said Mason in an interview Thursday, either learns to distrust his parents or else has to defend them against other kids who already know there's no Santa Claus.

The result is deep conflicts, the psychologist says.

'Thanks, Santa'

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A service station employee, Billy Davis, 28, said he was robbed today by a gun-wielding woman bandit who told him, "I'd hate to kill a nice fellow like you so early in the morning."

As she left with $65 to $75, Davis said, she quipped, "Thank you, Santa Claus."

Bomb Accident

SAIGON (AP) — An American war plane accidentally dropped a bomb in a South Vietnamese village 50 miles southwest of Saigon Thursday, killing three civilians and damaging several homes, the U. S. Command announced today.

The Air Force pilot was making bomb runs in support of a South Vietnamese army search and destroy operation in the Mekong Delta when the bomb accidentally dropped off target, the command said.

An investigation was started.

SALES TAX

Two Victories

By The Associated Press

The one per cent city sales tax rang up two more victories Thursday, by large margins at Paris and Kerrville.

The approvals brought the tax's victories at the polls to 116 against 18 defeats.

The vote at Paris was 1,188 - 157. Kerrville approved 625-299. City officials at Kerrville estimated the tax could mean $85,000 a year in new revenue. Paris officials promised a 20 cent cut in the property tax if the one per cent levy was approved.

Water For West

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., has suggested a feasibility study of proposed diversion of water from the Missouri River to the arid lands in the Southwest.

An identical bill is pending in the House. The study would be made by the Army Corps of Engineers.

The $3 billion proposal would divert Missouri River water from Ft. Randall Reservoir, Neb., to areas in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado and Nebraska.

Vealmoor Voting

Robert Merrick, judge of Election Precinct No. 14 at Vealmoor, reminded voters Friday that there has been a change in location of the voting box. Instead of voting at the Vealmoor Baptist Church, he said, voters should come Saturday to the "white frame building behind the former site of the Vealmoor school."

A cold front, which has most of the middle west in its grip, swept deep into Texas Thursday and left Big Spring with a white coating of sleet and snow. It brought the harshest weather of the current winter, and was successful in bringing the booming Christmas shopping spree to an almost complete standstill.

TRAFFIC SLOWED

Slippery streets, an inch deep in ice, caused traffic to crawl at a snail's pace, and left some unwary drivers hopelessly stalled on slopes and hills.

Schools in Big Spring and over most of the area were closed.

The temperature dropped to a chilly 23 degrees shortly before dawn, which was just four degrees lower than the high of Thursday. The reading at mid-morning today was 26 degrees. Cloudy skies continued, and while no precipitation was falling Friday morning, the forecast called for occasional flurries of freezing rain, sleet and snow today, tonight and Saturday.

The same kind of weather is expected Saturday.

In spite of slippery roads, only one minor accident was reported to the police Thursday afternoon and night. Jose Padilla, 300 NE 8th, and Rocky Lee Wooley, 627 State, were in collision at Eighth and North Benton at 6:32 p.m. Thursday.

Around the clock street crews continued work this morning, spreading gravel and blading ice off city streets, said Ernest Lillard, public works director. Since 4 p.m. Thursday, city trucks and workmen have been busy improving hazardous driving conditions.

"As long as streets are icy, we'll stay on the job," said Lillard. He urged residents to remain off the streets, particularly to avoid hills.

Special trouble spots for motorists are on Birdwell south of Fourth, FM 700 at Birdwell, and Eleventh at Lancaster.

Voters To Determine Two Issues Tomorrow

In a last-day flurry of advertising messages and appeals to vote, Howard County and Big Spring residents are called upon to decide the fate of two issues in a double-barreled election Saturday.

County-wide, there will be a referendum on two propositions having to do with airport development. In the city of Big Spring, citizens will vote on whether to authorize a one-cent city sales tax.

20 PLACES

The airport issue will be before voters in all 20 polling places of the county. Only those with property rendered on the county tax rolls are eligible to vote.

The city tax matter is open to all voters who reside within the corporate limits of Big Spring. They will vote at the seven polling places within the city limits — where, of course, they can participate in both elections.

There are two propositions on the airport ballot. They read: "FOR the creation of Howard County, Texas, Airport Authority composed of the area of Howard County, Texas; authorizing the levy of a tax not to exceed 25 cents on the $100 valuation."

"AGAINST the creation of the Howard County, Texas, Airport Authority composed of the area within Howard County, Texas."

And secondly, "FOR the issuance of $750,000 Airport Authority Bonds."

"AGAINST the issuance of $750,000 Airport Authority Bonds.

For city voters, the sales tax ballot reads: "FOR adoption of a one per cent local sales and use tax within the city."

"AGAINST adoption of a one per cent local sales and use tax within the city."

Ballots, under a new Texas law, contain squares, and the voter simply checks the square to indicate whether he is for or against.

Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Both issues have engendered heavy public interest and there has been strong campaigning both for and against, both the airport and the sales tax.

Both factions have sent speakers before numerous groups, have made presentations on the radio and via television, and have engaged in numerous debates.

Observers generally agreed that the size of the vote turnout would have a bearing on election results. The weather promised to be a deterring factor, but spokesmen for both sides of the issues were pleading for voters to express their opinion at the ballot box.

NOT LARGE

Absentee votes were not considered large. There were 110 cast on the county airport propositions, and 98 in the city sales tax.

(See List of polling places on page 8-A)

Trans-Texas Cites Plans For Jet-Power Service

Proposed improvements of the Howard County Airport should help Trans-Texas Airway firm up its services here, TTA president R. E. McKaughan Jr. said in a telegram today.

He also said "plans already are under way for all-jet powered air service in Big Spring."

The telegram from McKaughan was addressed to Clyde Mc-

Mahon Sr. as chairman of the Howard County Airport Advisory Commission (appointed by the commissioners court), and read:

"My best wishes for the success of your bond issue this Saturday. TTA urges the citizens of Howard County to vote for the airport improvement. A new terminal building and longer and wider runways should help generate more traffic from Howard County Airport which will mean more scheduled air service for your growing area. The planned improvements will enable TTA to provide more reliable air service during periods of bad weather. Plans already are under way for all jet powered air service in Big Spring. It is our hope that the citizens will see fit to provide jet air improvements for your airport — R. E. McKaughan Jr., Pres., TTA."

Girl Tips Santa

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The Portland Post Office says not all the kids who write to Santa Claus ask him just for presents.

One girl, Susan, invited Santa and Mrs. Santa and all the reindeer to her house for dinner.

Another girl wrote: "First of all, Santa, I want to tell you about our chimney . . . we haven't got one."

WE GAIN ONLY BY LOOKING FORWARD

(AN EDITORIAL)

The groups which become vocal on public issues have had their say on the airport improvement and city sales tax proposition. They have served a good purpose in developing the arguments for and against.

Tomorrow is the time when the mass of the people in Big Spring and Howard County should express themselves. If they have remained on the sidelines during the debates, then Saturday is the day for them to have the important part of deciding at the polls.

The Herald's final observation is that opponents of the propositions seem to have cloaked their arguments negatively; in other words, we are well enough off as we are; we can't keep up with Midland, so forget it; business is not so good right now, so let's quit trying; the city is not now in a bind, so why worry about the future?

On both the airport improvements and sales tax issues, our point has been that a community with self-pride, with ambition and with goals for betterness, needs to take the step forward. When a town and county stop struggling forward, they run the risk of being through.

THE SALES TAX

It is curious that while scores of Texas cities have accepted this modernization of municipal tax structure (a population ratio of 18-1 where the issue has been submitted) an above-average negative outcry has been raised here. Perhaps the City Commission should have said, as did authorities in other places: "Either vote the sales tax or up goes your property tax." Is our city to be penalized in future development because it has good management that has avoided operating in the red? Are we going to quit trying to improve the city? Does anyone think we can freeze our needs where they are today?

Instead of a property tax hike, some relief is pledged in the property tax by cutting the rate. In addition, a sensible program of making vital improvements, without having to borrow the money, has been charted.

Our city is looking ahead here. In what other direction would you have it look?

THE AIRPORT

Yes, a small tax outlay is involved here. This is the way we have built schools, highways, a courthouse. Can we look at the fantastic trend to air transportation in the past few years and not realize that more development lies ahead?

Shouldn't our area keep in step with this? Are we willing to close off a vital avenue through which may come opportunity for more business and industrial growth? Or are we willing to be the tail tied to the Midland-Odessa kite when it comes to air transportation — and logically in other realms?

The county is looking ahead to tomorrow in these airport proposals. In what other direction would you have it look?

There is challenge enough to keep Big Spring and Howard County moving that it calls for the talents and personal contribution of every citizen — farmer, laborer, professional man or business operator.

We all gain together; we all lose together. Why not strive for the gain by voting Saturday — voting for these issues?

By The Associated Press

Snow, sleet and freezing rain tightened an icy clutch on the northwest half of Texas today, and travel grew more perilous by the hour.

Traffic accidents attributable to the icing or rain claimed at least 11 lives across the state and little improvement appeared in sight through Saturday.

BUS WRECK

Whipping winds caused a Continental Trailways bus to spin around and overturn on an ice-slick highway at McNary in far West Texas. Sketchy reports from state police said one person was killed and four injured.

Light to moderate rain kept nearly all the rest of the state chilly and damp, leaving road surfaces wet and slick even outside the ice belt.

Up to four inches of snow mantled parts of the Panhandle-Plains sector and the fine, grainy particles gradually moved toward the east, often mixed with sleet or drizzle.

Weather Bureaus and state police warned motorists that highways were glazed and extremely dangerous throughout the freezing zone — generally to the north and west from a line linking Del Rio, Fredericksburg and Mineral Wells.

Predawn temperatures ranged as low as 15 at Plainview, 17 at Dalhart and Perryton, 18 at Plains and 19 at Amarillo and Lubbock.

HEAVY SNOW

Some of the heavier snow accumulations were in the area around Plains, which is in Yoakum County and just 15 miles east of the New Mexico line. After dawn, Wichita Falls, Abilene, Midland, San Angelo and Amarillo reported freezing rain or drizzle. Some sleet fell at Wichita Falls.

The Amarillo Weather Bureau station reported light freezing drizzle and rain mixed with snow covering 20 per cent of an area from 10 miles north of Wellington to near Childress to 10 miles west of Spur to 25 miles south of Tucuman, N.M. The area of freezing rain was slowly increasing in size and intensity after dawn.

El Paso, still shaking off the effects of snow which blew in on winds up to 70 miles per hour Thursday, saw the mercury dip to 25 degrees. The wind took the roof off a church and overturned several trailer houses.

PASSABLE

State police reported all Texas routes remained passable, although some were in no better than borderline condition.

Forecasts promised still more snow or sleet in parts of Northwest and Southwest Texas, light freezing rain or drizzle over the rest of those sections and into the north central part of the state, and scattered light rain over the eastern and southern areas.

Another cold night was in prospect. Predictions called for lows early Saturday down to 18 in the upper Panhandle and extreme Southwest Texas, 25 to 28 in Central Texas, 32 to 35 in East Texas.

Key Bridges Are Hit Again

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes returned to Hanoi today for the second day in a row to attack key bridges linking the capital of North Vietnam with supply lines running northeast to Red China.

U.S. officers said Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs from bases in Thailand hammered the Canal des Rapides bridge, five miles northeast of the center of Hanoi. On Thursday U.S. pilots attacked Hanoi's biggest bridge, the mile-long Paul Doumer railroad and highway structure.

The American command said one American and one Communist plane were downed in the raids Thursday. This brought the announced total of U.S. combat planes lost over North Vietnam to 761, and the U.S. Command in one of its period summaries of losses said that more than 3,000 U.S. aircraft have been lost in the war.

Social Security Bill Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate sent to President Johnson today a Social Security bill carrying record cash benefit boosts, the highest payroll tax in history and tighter restrictions on welfare programs.

Approval on a 62-14 roll-call vote followed 2½ hours of debate on the measure. But, with passage apparently certain, few senators listened to the final arguments.

The vote cleared one of the major obstacles remaining to final adjournment of the 1967 congressional session, expected later today.

The bill would increase Social Security benefits $3.6 billion and hike payroll taxes $1.5 billion during its first full year of operation, 1969.

The 24 million Americans now on the rolls would begin receiving next March Social Security checks increased by at least 13 per cent.

The controversial welfare provisions, cutting back on aid to families with dependent children, were called harsh and regressive by many senators.

They said they had assurances from Johnson, who is expected to sign the measure, that efforts will be made to change these next year.

CHEER FUND IN 'FREEZE'

The freeze caught the CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND today.

There were only two new gifts, one from W. A. O'Neal for $5, and one from Mr. and Mrs. Shine Phillips for $5, this one made in memory of Jack Johnson.

These brought the Fund total to $658.50.

This figure is far behind that of a year ago, and more money is needed if the poor children of the city are to be remembered at Christmas. Time is running out, too, so if you'll help, please respond promptly. Make checks to CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND and send to The Herald for acknowledgment.

Your gift will help make Christmas brighter for youngsters who know no other Santa Claus, and it will help provide food and medicine when families are in dire emergency.

U. S., Limeys Take New Look After Constantine's Defeat

ATHENS (AP) — The Greek military government declared today that "absolute order" prevails throughout the country two days after King Constantine's abortive attempt to oust the military dictatorship.

State Consultant To Review Local Development Program

Jim Heath, industrial development consultant of the Texas Industrial Commission, will be in Big Spring Monday to review the local program of community development and industrial expansion.

"The growth of West Texas has depended largely upon oil and agriculture activities for sometime," Heath said, "but today the future of many towns in West Texas hinges on the economic gains the local community can make in securing new and additional payrolls through establishment of industrial facilities. Attracting industry calls for unified local effort and industry, like a football game, requires a field to operate on, a site developed with certain specifications, and regulations to go by.

Brig. Stylianos Patakos, one of the junta members, said: "Let the enemies of Greece be informed, and all those who may have doubted, that the entire Greek people are supporting regenerative efforts of the national government."

Both the United States and Britain were taking new looks at their relations with the military regime. The U.S. State Department said it was withholding recognition in the wake of the young king's ouster, while Britain held that its recognition was invalidated because the chief of state to whom its ambassador was accredited — the king — had fled the country.

The junta announced it had reports from the provinces that absolute order prevailed throughout the country.

Life was back to normal in Athens. Tanks and troops that took up Wednesday in the early stages of the king's counter coup were gone from the streets.

NEXT MOVE?

The big questions on all sides were "What's the king going to do now?" and "Has he said anything so far?"

Guard Leaders Praise Negro Enlistments Idea

WASHINGTON (AP) — National Guard leaders say a test program in New Jersey for stimulating Negro enlistments is a success. But a decision on extending the program nationwide awaits a survey on Negro attitudes toward military service.

"This is one program that has worked," Maj. Gen. Winston P. Wilson said of the New Jersey pilot program. Wilson is chief of the National Guard Bureau.

Two Negro Guard officers, Lt. Col. William S. Frye and Maj. Carl E. Briscoe, reported a gratifying reception from Negro youths in New Jersey during the recruiting campaign. They said they were not harassed by any Black Power groups.

Roscoe Newell, principal of Bunnels Junior High School, was officially installed as president of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club Thursday night. He replaces Bill Johnson, who is ending a year as head of the club.

Installation was by Julian Pressly, lieutenant governor of the 22nd Division, Kiwanis Clubs International. He is the coach and instructor at Odessa College and recently replaced the Rev. V. Ward Jackson, Big Spring, as lieutenant governor.

Despite the bad weather, a representative turnout was on hand at the Howard County Junior College Student Union Building for the installation dinner. Due to the cold, the program was limited to the installation ceremonies.

Officers, in addition to Newell, installed were Jim Thompson, first vice president; Sam Blackburn, second vice president; and Delaine Crawford, secretary-treasurer.

Directors are Jim Beam, Wendal Parks, Donald Lovelady, Dawson DeViney, John Coffey, Bill Johnson, Edgar Phillips and Noel Reed.

RECEIVES HERO'S WELCOME

Bogus Doc Escapes Charges

GROVETON, Tex. (AP) — Freddie Brant, the 44-year-old ex-convict who posed successfully as a physician in this East Texas lumber town, returned to a near hero's welcome Thursday, less than a week after he was unveiled as a fraud.

Brant worked for nearly three years as Dr. Reid L. Brown at the Terrell State Hospital in Kaufman County but resigned last summer and took up practicing medicine in this town of 1,200 on the edge of the Davy Crockett National Forest.

ADOPTED
He was the only doctor for more than 20 miles around, except that he was no doctor. He assumed the name of a Chattanooga, Tenn., physician for whom he'd worked as an X-ray and lab technician.

He was swiftly adopted by the townsfolk, made a member of the Lions Club and spearheaded a drive for a hospital.

Thursday the Lions Club honored him at an emotional luncheon where fervent words were spoken in his praise and as a healer. He left the luncheon to appear before the Trinity County grand jury which decided to press no charges against him.

LBJ Says Republicans Aren't So Bad After All

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, who vigorously attacked Republican leaders earlier this week, says they aren't so bad after all.

"I say good things about the members of the other party when there are good things to say," Johnson told a White House audience Thursday. "We frequently have that opportunity."

BUGGY BLAST
Johnson had told the AFL-CIO convention in Miami Beach, Fla., that Republicans are "wooden soldiers" riding a buggy capable only of going backwards and downhill.

But while signing the Flammable Fabrics Act he told his White House listeners, including several congressmen: "I don't want to get into name-calling contests. I don't want to say any ugly things about individuals. But I do about programs and about bills."

Kaufman County officers have charged him with perjury and forgery.

SWEET MISTAKE
"We've brought Doc back to Groveton. And we're going to keep him here," declared L. G. McDonald at the luncheon.

When McDonald paused and asked if anyone else wanted to talk, Mrs. Arlisha Adams stepped out of the kitchen. She had prepared the luncheon.

"I think I speak for all the colored people hereabouts," she said. "Doc is one of the greatest souls on earth. He is a healer. And he never turns anyone down. Money doesn't enter into it. He made a mistake. But it was a sweet mistake for us here. We've prayed for him and prayed for him. We've asked God to have him back here in Groveton."

Then, crying softly, she stopped.

As Brant and his pretty 23-year-old wife strode toward the courthouse, people stopped them on the street.

A LOVELIER YOU

Give Her New Version Of Cherished Classic

By MARY SUE MILLER

What can you give a lovely who has everything? When the answer eludes you, remember that like old wine in new bottles there's a new version of "everything." Be on the lookout for it. Just to get you in the groove, these updated gift classics:

For Miss Teen, a tiny jewelry chest with the drawers arranged to hold pierced earrings in small, lined compartments. And tiny tongs for handling delicate pieces.

Gift or silver safety pins to fasten the flap of a preteen's kilt, exactly as it's done in Scotland.

A careerist would positively dote on "watch" gloves with a see-through vinyl window that fits over the dial of outsize wrist watches.

In sheerest, shimmering black, evening stockings and tights are surely tagged for dancing belles.

A perfectionist must relish a silk scarf, large and square, designed and signed by a couture name.

In hot pink or red tapestry, a long paper shift promises delight for a holiday hostess.

For the sophisticated, an evening bag to swing from the shoulder in silver metallic crocheted is sure-fire.

Chains — the chained belts — are an accessory that les girls of all ages just cannot seem to get their fill of. It's rumored that Santa himself will be girding his middle with a chain this year.

Burleson Cautions Against Increase In Oil Imports

WASHINGTON — Congress for assurances that the Oil Import program will not be jeopardized by certain potential increases. In the letter prepared by Burleson, nine points are made which it is believed threaten the program. It is emphasized that it is imperative that the import program not be circumvented in a way that would permit oil imports beyond the 12.2 per cent of daily production.

The salient nine points made in the letter signed by some 20 members of the House of Representatives are as follows:

1. The Secretary of the Interior's approval of importation of 15,000 barrels daily of oil products from the Virgin Islands, although within the 12.2 per cent quota, it substitutes products for crude, and sets a precedent for granting other such applications.
2. Defense Department's resumption of use of its import quota of 30,000 barrels daily of jet fuel.
3. The Secretary of the Interior permitting importers to make up import allocations not used because of interruptions in 1967, during the Middle East crisis.

4. Technical changes made in July, 1967, in definition of residual fuel oil that will result in 25,000 barrels daily increase.

5. Permission of continuing substantial increases in imports from Canada.

6. Proposals by chemical companies to exempt imports for petrochemical plants.

7. Proposals from northeastern section of the country to decontrol import of home-heating fuel oil.

8. Proposals to increase imports of asphalt.

9. Potential increases in "bonus" imports for production of low-sulphur fuel to serve pollution abatement; laudable, but extraneous to the purpose of the program.

Womack Gains Industry Tips

Don Womack, Big Spring division manager for Texas Electric Service Co., is at the University of Oklahoma this week attending the basic industrial development course presented by the university and the Oklahoma Industrial Development and Park Department.

The six-day course is designed to provide intensive instruction in the theory and fundamentals of comprehensive industrial development. It is primarily an "in depth" study for those who would like a more comprehensive exposure to industrial development techniques, and is available to industrial practitioners, industrial realtors, chamber of commerce executives, public officials, civic workers and others who have a special interest in community or area economy.

The course, which is accredited by the American Industrial Development Council, is being held at the Oklahoma Center for Continuing Education on the university campus at Norman. The faculty for the sessions are both practitioners and academicians in the area of industrial development and includes speakers from Texas, Arkansas, Missouri and Massachusetts, as well as a number from Oklahoma and the university.

Womack will return to Big Spring tonight after the course is completed.

Big Buck Gores Security Officer

LOS ALAMOS, N.M. (AP) — Bucky, a 200-pound buck and pet at a Los Alamos scientific laboratory technical area in a forest near here, unexpectedly gored an Atomic Energy Commission security officer.

Guard J. W. London, who shot Bucky to death during the animal's attack, was reported in good condition at the Los Alamos Medical Center with injuries in the chest and leg.

Bucky was brought to Los Alamos two years ago from near Taos where he had been injured by a rope used by family to trap him. After Bucky's recovery he remained near the technical area, wearing an orange collar and bell.

Man-Made 'Life' Eyed

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Dr. Arthur Kornberg says genetic material that he helped synthesize in a test tube could "with reservations" be considered a primitive form of life.

At Stanford University, Kornberg and Dr. Mehran Goulian, who is presently on the University of Chicago faculty, manufactured viral DNA, the nucleic acid essence of life, and it, in turn, produced active viruses in living cells.

Y Membership Drive Slated

The Big Spring YMCA will kick off its 1968 membership campaigns Jan. 15, Wafile Choate, chairman of the YMCA membership committee, announced today.

The "Y" sustaining enrollment will begin on Jan. 15 under the direction of Mrs. O. S. Womack. The participating enrollment will follow on Jan. 22 under the leadership of Frank Hardesty.

The two chairmen will lead a force of approximately 135 campaigners who will seek YMCA memberships for the coming year.

"Mrs. Womack and Hardesty have worked earnestly in previous YMCA membership enrollments and each served as chairman of the respective campaigns last year," said Choate. Both chairmen serve currently on the YMCA board of directors.

The chairmen are now in the process of obtaining additional leadership to help in the enrollment. An Olympic theme will be used in 1968 in keeping with the Olympic Games to be held in 1968 in Mexico City.

Choate pointed out that the Y had 3,080 youth members during 1966. The 1967 report figures are not yet completed; however, there are at present 978 youngsters from 6 to 18 years enrolled in groups at the YMCA. In addition, there were 518 young people who attended swimming instruction classes at the "Y" this summer.

Horoscope Forecast FOR TOMORROW — CARROLL RIGTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Today's Full Moon certainly is good for anything of a forcible nature. Now for trying to work any sort of obvious angle to get what you desire. But if you can be best utilized to advantage by quietly doing whatever you have promised and by carefully studying the right ways and means by which to gain data you need.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) If you dash around too fast you find that you can get into a good deal of needless trouble. Be well advised. If you refrain from arguing, you can take advantage of fine situations around you.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Care must be taken to stay within your budget where recreation is concerned. Spending too much money for fun is not worth it. Take in more wholesome and inexpensive pleasures that leave you feeling happy.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Getting out early is fine so that you avoid any possible arguments that could come up in that room of your life today. By evening all is fine. You have wonderful talents and should put them to good use.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you give serious attention to some big problems you have without confiding in others, you find the correct solution. Your intuition is not accurate. Rely exclusively on good mental judgment.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Getting together with good points is fine, but be more willing to go along with those ideas instead of expecting them to do what you want. You have plans that are best worked out alone. Then you become successful in them.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Anything of a civic or outside nature is best done on your own. Since others are not to be acting in an unpredictable way. Others are apt to criticize a good deal. Also, they take offense very easily.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Any long trip or medical change you have in mind should be studied at greater length or postponed, or given up altogether. Listen to the ideas of others. These could prove to be most valuable to you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) The conditions around you seem almost more than you can bear, but if you work quietly and steadily, you get all nicely cleared up. Carry through with what ever you have planned to do with a coworker. Avoid those who are unreliable.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Showing associates that you will meet them more than half way is wise right now, since you risk loss of association. Avoid arguing with a competitor. This could lead to real trouble later.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Investigating privately into the manner and means to get along better with others is fine, but do not take any more active. Schedule your activities intelligently. Then you accomplish more.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Plan early with good friends for the evening's entertainment. Then get busy with business, creative matters. Others are in excellent form and give you the support you want, and should have.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You may be perfectly right or nowhere with business and family matters. So be sure to concentrate more on such now. Get some personal and private matter handled satisfactorily, also. Be active, engaged.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow he, or she, will be a very logical, young person, though restless and all too eager to study everything that comes to his, or her, attention. Give the child the finest education you can and bring out the wonderful talents in this patent child. The field of psychology, teaching, etc., are fine here. Give spiritual training.

- NO CITY SALES TAX -

City Property taxes or City Ad Valorem taxes were increased in 1966 from 50% to 60% of total valuations and this was an increase of 20% in taxes collected and produced an additional income in the amount of $187,000.00.

City Garbage and Sewer charges were increased in 1967 and will produce an estimated increased income of . . . $150,000.00 annually.

It is estimated by the City Commission that the city sales tax will produce $250,000.00 annually . . . in some quarters it is estimated to be much more.

TO YOU, THE CITIZENS OF BIG SPRING . . .

This would be an increased cost of $587,000.00

for a two year period

VOTE 'NO'

DID YOU KNOW THAT . . .

It seems certain that Social Security will be increased. The Big Spring Independent School District will shortly increase taxes by 10%. In the special session of the legislature in 1968 or in the regular session in 1969, it is almost certain the state will increase its sales tax. President Johnson is asking and will no doubt receive an increase in Federal Income Taxes in 1968. The county is asking for an 8% tax increase for the Airport on the December 16th Ballot. In 1958 all property was re-evaluated and taxes were reduced to $1.20 per $100.00 valuation and the very next year the rate was increased to $1.50 per $100 valuation. Why should we think that the 10 cent reduction offered now will last longer than one year, as the present City Commission cannot in any manner, bind the future City Commissions.

The City Commission has said that additional income is not needed at this time, so why shall we vote for something that is not needed?

Praise ye the Lord. Praise the Lord, O my soul. (Psalm 146:1)

PRAYER: Father, we thank Thee for Thy Son Jesus Christ, Thy great gift to mankind. May the leaders of the nation look to Thee for guidance to find new roads to peace, and may we take Thee more completely into our lives. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

Many Rounds Of Tideland

Texas lost the latest round in the seemingly interminable "tidelands" (submerged land) litigation — and with it some potentially valuable oil royalties for state school children — but this time Texas did not have much of a case.

The U.S. Supreme Court's ruling that Texas' seaward boundary should be measured from the natural shoreline, rather than from manmade harbor works jutting into the Gulf (as at Sabine Pass and Galveston, as well as Corpus Christi), seems fair enough. However, in specifying the measuring point as the natural shoreline as it was in 1845, when Texas was annexed by agreement under which it retained its public domain, the court set up contentions for further litigation. For the natural shoreline has changed substantially at many points in 112 years and will continue to change, and locating the 1845 shoreline precisely to define the seaward boundary is likely to raise further legal disputes.

But Texas is still the big winner of the long tidelands fight that began in 1950. That year the Supreme Court ruled 4-3 that no state owned submerged offshore lands beyond the three-mile limit of U.S. territorial waters. In effect, it said Texas lost on annexation its republic's 1836 claim to a seaward boundary of three marine leagues from shore (about nine nautical miles or 10.35 statute miles). President Truman vetoed two quitclaim bills by Congress, but President Eisenhower in 1953 signed one granting states ownership to their "historic limits."

The Department of Justice subsequently brought suit to fix "historic limits" for all Gulf states at three miles. The Supreme Court in 1960 agreed, but with the exceptions of Texas and Florida, whose "historic limits" were rightly recognized as three marine leagues or 10.35 miles.

But the 1960 decision left open the question of where the seaward boundary was to be measured from. It now says that point is the natural shoreline as it existed when the "historic limits" were set — for Texas the 1845 annexation date. That is sound legal reasoning, but a lot of oil could be involved in the technical task of locating the 1845 shoreline for measurement. So the Supreme Court probably will be called on again to lay down legal guidelines for that geographical determination.

How Canny Is Cop's Intuition?

WASHINGTON (AP) — So uncanny is woman's intuition only a foul would stand in her way.

But what about a cop's? How often does he guess right and how much elbow room should he have to work out his hunches?

An off-duty policeman, investigating a noise outside his apartment, finds a man tiptoeing down the hallway. The fellow claims to be calling on a lady friend. She's married and he'd rather not give her name.

UNIMPRESSED by the pass at civility, the policeman finds two wrenches and six picks in the man's pocket—the tools of a burglar.

A detective, 39 years on the force, watches two men on a street corner. Within 10 or 12 minutes they make five or six trips over to the window of a jewelry store.

He senses they are "casing" it, searches both and finds loaded revolvers in their overcoats.

IN NEITHER instance did the officer know at the start that a crime had been committed. Nor, at that time, did they have enough evidence to support an arrest.

In fact, the arrests eventually made had nothing to do with the jewelry store or the actual commission of a burglary. Instead they were for illegal possession of weapons and illegal possession of burglars' tools.

The officers got the necessary evidence by acting on their suspicions, their intuition or a "sixth sense."

As Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black suggested this week, an officer who finds a man lurking in a dark alley near a basement door in the middle of a rainy night might reasonably suspect "he is not there on a holy mission."

BUT WHAT does the Constitution permit the policeman to do? Does arousal of his suspicions justify forcibly stopping people on the street and searching them?

The Supreme Court, looking again into the way policemen operate, spent much of two days on the subject earlier this week.

Everyone—the justices, prosecutors and civil liberties lawyers—agreed a policeman has a right to question someone who appears suspicious.

But there was almost no agreement on what the officer should be allowed to do if he doesn't get an answer or doesn't believe what he's told.

UNLESS HE CAN establish

"probable cause"—the Fourth Amendment's somewhat nebulous term—to make an arrest, he can do nothing, one civil liberties lawyer contended.

The fact is most of the people police stop, question and search turn out to be innocent.

For instance, according to New York City Police Department figures, of 1,617 people stopped and frisked by police in a little less than three years, 183 were charged with a crime—only about 1 of 10.

Ex-Porter Achieves Dream

NEW YORK (AP) — In 1940 George Kirby, 16, a porter in a Chicago night club, dreamed a big dream.

"I wanted to become the first Negro comedian to stand flat-footed in front of a microphone and do my act without having to break into a buck and wing dance, roll my eyes or wear funny clothes," recalled Kirby, currently appearing at the Royal Box here.

George achieved that pioneering goal a long time ago. As mimic, raconteur, singer, dancer, pianist and actor. He has been in two films and ranks as one of the most popular performers on the nation's supper club circuit.

THE CHUNKY 240-pound comic has even reached that height of all current heights in the entertainment world—stardom in a televised beer commercial.

Small wonder that George now earns several thousand dollars a week and brings along his own valet when he travels.

"I came from show business people," he said. "My father played all the stringed instruments, my mother and aunt were singers, and my uncle did blackface comedy.

"After a year and a half in high school, I had to quit and get a job so I could help out at the house."

GEORGE worked first "as a towel puller in a laundry," then as a night club porter. He earned $75 a week.

"I'd leave home at 3:30 in the afternoon, and get back home the next morning at five o'clock so tired I'd fall asleep on my knees saying my prayers," he said, and added with a touch of pride:

"When I returned to the same night club later as a performer, I found they had four porters and three ice machines doing the work I'd once done there by myself."

Kirby learned his trade by assiduously studying entertainers at the club and occasionally filling in for one who fell sick.

During the World War II he spent three years as a combat engineer in Europe and the Philippines.

To Your Good Health

A Hard Drinker 'In Perfect Health'?

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband is a very heavy drinker. Every few weeks when he comes in after a drinking spree he has big, strawberry-colored blotches all over his face and upper part of his body. One night he also had a spell when he couldn't catch his breath.

I have been told these blotches indicate liver trouble. Can you shed any light on this? He won't see a doctor.

Every time he has a physical for a job they say he is in perfect health. Do they have to perform certain tests to detect liver trouble? — Mrs. S. A.

Such blotches plus his heavy drinking imply a liver disorder, but special chemical tests would be necessary to confirm such a disease, cirrhosis in particular.

There are no signs — and perhaps this is unfortunate — that appear promptly from heavy drinking. You can't tell by looking at a man whether his liver is starting to be damaged. Later there are some temporary signs — like the blotchiness you describe.

But by the time obvious outward symptoms develop, the internal damage is severe and irreversible.

The pronouncement of being "in perfect health" at the time of an employment examination does not mean much. Often these exams are not detailed.

There is a search for the more obvious specific defects — Rupture, high blood pressure, overweight, severe eye defects and that sort of thing.

If he does not smell of booze at the time, his drinking habits can be overlooked in this type of examination.

Dear Dr. Molner: How and where could I get a diabetic cook book? — Mrs. L.M.E.

An excellent one is available from your local diabetes association, or write to the American Diabetes Association, 15 East 48th Street, New York, N. Y. 10017. I believe the price is about a dollar or so.

Dear Dr. Molner: My daughter, 18 months, has sickle-cell anemia. I would like some information about this. She goes to Children's Hospital. I have heard so many stories about this disease, such as only Negroes get it and so on. — Mrs. B.

This is an anemia — a very distressing one — resulting from the destruction of red cells. The cells are sickle-shaped (giving the disease its name) instead of being round like normal red cells. Whether the destruction of the cells has to do with the shape, or some other factors, is hard to say.

It is a hereditary disease occurring mainly in Negroes or dark-skinned peoples. The origin of the disease is not known, but considerable study has been done, and there is a suspicion that conditions in the areas around the Mediterranean and south of it may have had a bearing, many generations ago.

Patients suffer from weakness, headaches and pain throughout the body. Blood transfusions can ease these symptoms within limits, but it is a difficult disease to treat.

The hospital to which you are taking your daughter happens to be one of those which is studying sickle-cell anemia intensively, but there is much yet to be learned about it.

It is possible to have the sickle-cell trait yet not have the anemia, but a certain percentage of such people can pass the disease on to their children.

Paste-Pot Pundit Says 'Yes'

Should a "Paste-Pot Man" favor a candidate or issue in an election?

Many think he should look his type-writer when it comes to saying which candidate or issue is good, which is doubtful or which one is bad. They hold the people can be easily influenced.

OTHERS ARGUE this. They say, and they are correct, that there is nothing in the tenants of honest journalism that forbids siding with men and issues.

Indeed, they hold that the newspaper and newspaperman who doesn't search for the best is practicing gutless journalism.

And it is on local issues precisely how you can judge journalists.

IT TAKES little courage to side with or condemn the men and issues in the next South Vietnamese elections.

But how do they rate in the heat of the local kitchen? Alas, many in the press fail that test.

With that preface, this writer takes a stand on tomorrow's election.

WE ARE NOT — repeat not — telling you how to vote. That would be an insult to your intelligence.

We do propose to tell you, in our judgment, why the one per cent sales tax deserves an overwhelming vote of approval.

The need for a new source of revenue to finance the expanding services essential to a growing city cannot be denied.

THE HISTORIC custom of asking the property owners to bear virtually the full burden of financing the growth and operation of a city has reached its practical limits. The City Commission has pledged to reduce property taxes some when the sales tax is approved.

Big Springers will vote tomorrow on a one per cent sales tax to provide this new revenue source without placing an unjust burden on any one sector.

NO, I'M NOT a home-owner. Just a renter of a low-cost apartment. However, if I work hard and this city grows and prospers — I hope some day to call a house my own.

The limited one-cent tax is no "soak the poor" outrage as some misguided critics claim.

MOST BASIC needs such as groceries, housing, prescription drugs and the like, are exempt, so that in reality those financially able to buy the most luxury items will pay the most taxes.

Moreover, a sizable share of the tax will be paid by Big Spring visitors — tourists, convention delegates and others here on pleasure or business.

THE ADVANTAGES are obvious, a fact that has already been recognized by more than 115 other Texas cities and 2,700 municipalities across the nation.

If the airport issue is approved, I wonder if foes will quit calling it a "boondoggle."

You know, a boondoggle is something that the other fellow spends money on. When we get in on it—that's progress.

Problem Of Aid To Dependent Children

WASHINGTON — Congress is in a jam. It wants to put through a 3.6 billion dollar increase in Social Security benefits, but the same measure happens to include some provisions intended to correct abuses in the use of "welfare" money by persons who do not wish to work.

The two factions in Congress are nearly equal—those who want to retain the restrictions already in the bill, and those who think that damage will be done to such projects as "aid to families with dependent children." So the second group argues that it would be much better to wait until January to deal with this program in a separate measure.

THE PROBLEM has been gnawing at the members of both houses for some time. Widespread complaints have been voiced. In 1958, for instance, there were 756,000 families and 2.9 million individuals getting help under the "aid to dependent children" program, at a cost of 900 million dollars. This kind of assistance now goes to 1.2 million families and 5 million individuals, and costs 1.5 billions a year.

WITH THE INFLUX of Negroes, the big cities in the North have found their welfare rolls soaring year by year. In New York City, for instance, Mayor Lindsay has said that women with dependent children account for 80 per cent of the relief load of the metropolis and that he believes such a percentage prevails in every major city. The number of New York City's population on relief rolls has been growing at the rate of 12,000 a month, despite a decline in total population.

UNFORTUNATELY, the problem is not easy to resolve because many of these children are illegitimate and the bulk of them are in fatherless homes.

In some instances, fathers not in the homes get the benefit of the checks, despite the efforts of many of the states to adhere to a "man in the house" rule so-as to reduce cheating by women who say they have been deserted or abandoned.

IN MANY INSTANCES husbands have really deserted their families, and the mothers feel that they cannot, if they go to work, get enough money to pay for the care of their children. The proposed law emphasizes the concept that children are better off growing up in a home where work and wages are the principal source of family support, and it has therefore won adherents. There are mothers, however, who feel they would rather be at home so as to care for their children or at least get back from work when children return from school.

THE BILL ALSO would limit future grants to each state in proportion to the percentage of its children under 18 years of age getting money from the "aid to dependent children" programs as of January 1. This is opposed, however, by those states with large cities which have a growing number of children on relief. Mayor Lindsay of New York, for example, has told Congress that such a "freeze" would increase his city's relief costs from 50 to 70 million dollars during the next 18 months if the present standard of relief payments are to be retained.

The outlook at present is that Congress may pass a law at this session putting into effect certain restrictions, and these doubtless will be reconsidered at the January session.

McCarthy And The Wallace Story

(For Marquis Childs, who is on vacation)

WASHINGTON — The real question before Sen. Eugene McCarthy is not whether he can win a significant number of Democratic Presidential Convention delegate votes. For this he simply cannot do.

The question is whether 1968 will be a replay of 1948. Can he maintain effective control of the "protest" against the Vietnam war he now embodies and so confine it to some faintly orderly political movement within the irreplaceable two-party system?

WILL NOT circumstances beyond his reach and associates beyond his power of discipline in the end turn a primary challenge to President Johnson from within the framework of the Democratic party into a third-party push of total irresponsibility, much as that of Henry Wallace, another protector of the bipartisan American policy of Communist containment?

Wallace was never a Communist or pro-Communist of any sort, but the result two decades ago of his attempt to destroy President Harry Truman's plan to halt aggressive communism in Greece and Turkey was to make him a captive of forces which were pro-Communist, indeed.

WALLACE HAD SET out to force a change by democratic means, under either a capital or a small "d." But his "revolt" ultimately brought him before a howling so-called third-party convention which had unhidden contempt for all American institutions, including that of majority rule — and contempt also for its chained and bound "leader."

Eugene McCarthy, of course, is not in the remotest sense a fellow-traveler. He is, instead, an agreeable, somewhat archly intellectual and a demonstrably ineffectual member of a Senate where he has never managed to lead anybody toward much of anything.

THOUGH MORE abrasive than McCarthy, Wallace, too, was ineffectual.

Again like McCarthy, he had so profound a certainty of his own rightness and righteousness as to be wholly unable to work usefully with lesser men.

Before 1948 was out, other men with far more practical skills and far harsher purposes had moved in on the dreamer who was Henry Wallace. These were no dreamers. They were playing for keeps; and their game was to smash American resistance to Communist expansionism.

CAN THE DREAMER, Eugene McCarthy, avoid a similar capture by similar types? Already, his campaign is taking on the tone that Wallace's showed. His appeal is nowhere so much to adult political groups as to shrieking collegians, some of whom burn their draft cards and some of whom prepare mimeographed instructions for "spontaneous" abuse of pro-war speakers.

Will this sort really allow McCarthy to sustain a degree of public responsibility?

THIS COLUMNIST doubts it. For a small straw in an increasingly ugly wind, consider this point. The most radical groups in the United States have already claimed McCarthy for their very own, but one of their spokesmen, Robert Scheer, has nevertheless just warned "the protest movement" not to buy McCarthy irrevocably just yet.

Why? Because, says Scheer, when McCarthy loses his primary contests, he just might then accept majority will and support the majority's nominee of his own party, presumably President Johnson. "Where," asks the bearded Scheer, "does that leave the protest movement?"

THIS IS THE open beginning of overt pressure from the fanatic fringe upon McCarthy to be ready in the end to go all the way, as a similar fringe pressured Wallace a generation ago. No competent politician can fail to see this for what it is.

Lower Phone Rates Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Action by the Federal Communications Commission has cleared the way for lower telephone rates throughout the country. Now it's up to the states.

The FCC approved Thursday a temporary plan allowing state utilities commissions at their option to reduce interstate telephone charges by $66 million next year. One FCC official predicted most states will make the reductions retroactive to Dec. 1.

The FCC, conducting a lengthy probe of the financial structure of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., voted last July 5 to permit the states to make an $85 million reduction in intrastate rates.

A spokesman said when the matter is finally resolved, sometime before next Feb. 1, the FCC will restore the full $85 million. And, he added, there are proposals to increase this amount.

Christina Tipton, a 69-year-old Liverpool lady, and John Horner, a 46-year-old former professional boxer who is now a dockerman in County Durham split the prize between them.

The lucky pair were the only ones to pick as many as eight ones in weekend soccer games. There were nine.

BEST MARCHER AWARD

Helen Miller Is Given Sousa Award At Banquet

Helen Miller, senior clarinet player with the Big Spring High School Steer band, was named winner of the John Philip Sousa award Thursday night at a band appreciation banquet sponsored by the Hi-Noon Optimist Club.

The Sousa award is a national honor which goes to the outstanding band student. Helen plays in the symphonic band and is active in solo and ensemble contests.

Miniature "Barney" trophies and medals were presented to 10 students selected as best marchers. Bob Knight, club president, made the presentation. Winners were David Bentley, Rob Chapman, Dee Elrod, Tricia Bogard, Gordon Marchant, Margaret Cooper, Raye Nell Dyer, Dwight Fortson, Kent Fish and Gwen Peer.

Gaylord Crenshaw received an award for the best marching spirit. Recognized as outstanding marchers from the two junior highs were Cynthia Stephens, Goliad, and Wayne Nugent, Rannels.

Serving as master of ceremonies was Jim Baum. Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation.

Election Judges Given Training

Despite the inclement weather conditions, most of Howard County's voting precinct judges and several of their aides were on hand at 3 p.m. Thursday for the training program in the Howard County Courthouse.

The session was arranged to inform the voting officials on procedures and changes in election laws.

They will be called upon to serve in tomorrow's double-barrel voting at the 20 voting boxes of the county.

There are three issues to be settled at the election.

In Big Spring, the voters will approve or disapprove a proposal to legalize a one per cent sales tax in the city. This issue will be presented at the seven urban voting precincts.

At these same boxes in the 13 other county boxes, the voters will also be balloting on a proposal to create a Howard County Airport Authority with taxing powers, and expressing their approval or disapproval of a plan for the county to issue $750,000 in airport improvement bonds.

Lee Porter, county judge, discussed the election laws and urged them to exercise the greatest care in tabulating returns tomorrow.

He expressed appreciation at the turnout and the interest shown by the judges.

Mrs. Pauline Petty, Howard County clerk, said that about half the judges had picked up their ballot boxes and supplies this morning and that she anticipated all of the boxes would be on their way by closing time today.

Rep. Pickle Draws Republican Foe

AUSTIN (AP) — Ray Gabler, Austin businessman, has announced as a Republican candidate for the 10th Congressional District seat held by Rep. J. J. Pickle, D-Tex.

Gabler, 38, is the first candidate to announce. He said he would formally file for the office in January.

Gabler, a native of Wharton, was graduated from Kerrville High School, Schreiner Institute in Kerrville and the University of Texas. He was a marketing executive in Houston from 1953 to 1960 before moving to Austin, where he is a partner in a textile firm.

The 10th District includes Bastrop, Blanco, Burnet, Caldwell, Colorado, Fayette, Hays, Jackson, Lee, Travis, Wharton and Williamson counties.

Security Police Arrest Lawyer

LISBON (AP) — Mario Soares, prominent opposition lawyer and critic of the 40-year-old regime of Premier Antonio Salazar, was taken into custody by security police, his wife said.

Soares is one of the leaders of a government opposition group identifying themselves as Social Democrats. The reason for his detention was not known. He has been arrested a number of times in the past.

His detention follows the interrogation of five university student leaders by security police over student criticism of the government's handling of aid efforts following disastrous floods Nov. 26 which killed 470 people.

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Robert W. Jonte, president of the Bank of Greenville, was charged with misappropriating bank funds and credits totaling $94,347. Jonte, 43, was arraigned and then released on a personal recognizance bond pending federal court action.

AGGIES AID GIs IN VIET

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Texas A&M students contributed 345 pints of blood for U.S. servicemen in Vietnam during a three-day drive that ended Thursday.

The drive chairman, John Daly of Corpus Christi, said, "We're planning another drive in February, and we expect even greater success."

A spokesman for the collecting agency, Blood Services of Houston, said about 60 prospective donors were rejected because of colds or other reasons.

Sheriff Getting Tips On Bandit

Publication Thursday of a composite drawing made by a local artist which Robert Currie, president of State National Bank, described as a good likeness of a bandit who Tuesday afternoon robbed the bank of $12,000, has resulted in a number of phone calls and other tips, Sheriff A. N. Standard said today.

"We are checking out each tip," he said. "We realize that many will be of no value, but we cannot afford to pass up a single bet."

He said that FBI agents are still here working on the case. Two Texas Rangers who have been helping were out of town investigating what might develop into a new lead on the local holdup.

Officers commented today on the remarkable luck which marked the bandit's bold robbery of the Big Spring bank.

"Everything worked just right," they noted. "Every break fell his way. The odds against this happening are tremendous."

They also give the bandit credit for planning his coup with skill. It is evident that he had studied the bank in order to plot exactly the steps he would take, officers said.

Officers say that they must have a break now if they are to apprehend the bandit. The picture which is being widely circulated, will be of help, they think. Someone, they hope, saw something Tuesday afternoon which could be the break they need.

"If anyone knows anything that might help us," said Standard, "we hope they will get in touch with us."

Two or three possible suspects are being sought. When a suspect is eliminated, the officers say the field of possible offenders is diminished that much.

Texas Tommy Trot Outlawed

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — Frugging, surfing and doing the Monkey are acceptable in Weber County dance halls, but anyone caught doing the Turkey Trot or the Bunny Hug is violating a county ordinance.

County Attorney Jay Wilson said Wednesday a 1914 county ordinance imposes a $100 fine and-or 60 days in jail for "dance offenders."

The Grizzly Bear and the Texas Tommy also are outlawed.

Wilson found the old dance regulation during a study to update ordinances no longer practical.

Sleet Storm Smash Kills Three Texans

PANHANDLE, Tex. (AP) — An automobile skidded sideways in front of a sports car during a sleet storm and the crash killed three persons Thursday night.

It took 30 minutes to extricate the bodies of Don E. Warrick, 33, from near Hereford and Guy W. Savage, 38, of Pampa and his wife Loyce, 38.

Sheriff John Nutt reported the Pampa couple's vehicle slid out of control into the path of Warrick's car.

Calls Gas Chamber Much More Humane

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A member of a House committee studying capital punishment has called for a study of eliminating the electric chair in favor of the gas chamber as a more humane means of execution in Georgia.

"I personally had rather see the gas chamber than the electric chair," said Rep. Hines Brantley of Metter.

Brantley described the gas chamber as more humane, both to the doomed criminal and his family. He said he had witnessed an electric chair execution and found it a traumatic experience.

ENTERTAINER FOR CHILDREN
Bill Sherid has artificial knee and hip joints, but he dances, skates and bowls

Crippled Entertainer To Perform At Shrine Party

When crippled children of the area go to their Shrine Christmas party Saturday, they might take hope from a lively fellow who will be one of their entertainers.

He is William (Bill) Sherid of Sitka, Alaska. Bill suffered massive leg wounds in World War II, recovered only through the fitting of artificial joints. It took him three years to learn to walk again, and another year to accomplish exceptional dexterity. Now he skates, dances and bowls.

Saturday, he will entertain in these acts for the handicapped youngsters. Sherid makes it a practice to appear at VA hospitals, children's hospitals, fraternal clubs, and anywhere else he can lend a helping hand.

The party Saturday is sponsored by the Big Spring Shrine Association, and will be at the Cosden Country Club beginning at noon. Some 40 youngsters, ages 4 to 14, are expected to be on hand as the Shriners' guests.

They will be treated to a full Christmas dinner, will be entertained by Sherid and other specialty performers, then will have a visit from Santa Claus who will have special presents for them.

The youngsters will be called for at their homes by a Shiner wearing his fez, and will be returned after the party. Shriners say they want every crippled child, age 4-14, in the area to attend; and if there are any who have not yet been listed for the festivity, they may call day phones 267-2332 or 267-2309, or night, 267-6894.

Texas Airport Funds Sought

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Aeronautics Commission voted to ask the federal government for $500,000 for airport construction, $50,000 more than was granted this year.

A commission spokesman said 67 Texas cities and towns are on the waiting list for airports, and 23 are ready to begin construction immediately.

The commission also heard an application by Miller Aircraft Co. to service a route from MacGregor, southwest of Waco, to Dallas. Hood Airlines has a permit for this route but is not using it at present. The commission decided to hold another hearing to determine what Hood's intentions are before granting a temporary permit to Miller.

Salazar Strikes Back At Critics

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Threatened with a political scandal and increasing opposition, the 40-year-old dictatorship of Premier Antonio Salazar is striking back at some of its critics.

Within the past week, the government has:

- Arrested a well known lawyer considered the main spokesman for the opposition.
- Deported a Chilean member of the International Commission of Jurists.
- Refused to admit a correspondent of an American magazine to Portugal.

SEX-AND-SIN

—Interrogated five Lisbon University student leaders in connection with student accusations that the government was negligent in providing adequate aid to survivors of disastrous floods which killed 470 people.

—Accused foreign correspondents in Lisbon of filing dispatches detrimental to Portugal.

Rumors about a sex-and-sin scandal involving Cabinet ministers, bankers, aristocrats and a number of other prominent individuals have been making the rounds for the past year. They have intensified and have been given greater weight by recent foreign newspaper stories about them.

According to these unconfirmed reports, Joao Antunes Varela resigned as minister of justice because the Salazar regime would not let him prosecute the persons involved in a vice ring that employed teenage girls.

Antunes Varela has refused to discuss the reports with newsmen. There has been no official comment on the rumors, and strict censorship has kept them out of the Portuguese press.

Sen. Long May Have Short Circuited His Ambitions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic whip Russell B. Long, who knows which wires to cross to make sparks fly in the senate, may have a short circuit on his hands.

With one 30-second exercise, a key Senate Democrat believes Long has dimmed, perhaps eliminated the chance that he will one day become Democratic leader.

And the leadership ambitions of Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., now No. 3 in the Senate's Democratic hierarchy, suffered in the same process.

GRABS REINS

Long and Byrd engineered passage of a bill, the Social Security increase, when only a handful of senators were on hand Thursday morning.

Byrd made the routine motion which normally renders passage final. But nothing is really final in the Senate, so the whole process was swiftly undone, to be done over again today.

A bloc of Senate Democrats oppose restrictions on federal welfare aid written into the Social Security bill, and they wanted to talk about the subject.

They assumed that, in the club-like custom of the Senate, they would be protected by Democratic leaders—that is, that there would be no vote until they had their say.

Former Circus Fat Lady Now Weighs 110 Pounds

DANIA, Fla. (AP) — Dolly Dimples, one-time circus fat lady with a 79-inch bust and a waist seven feet around, now complains she is underweight.

Celesta Geyer, a svelte 110 pounds today at 4-feet-11, weighed 555 pounds in 1950. That was when she worked in sideways, carnivals and circuses.

She had a heart attack in 1950 and a doctor put her on a menu of baby food and said, "Diet or die, Dolly!"

"Right before I had my heart attack I used to pray to die because I was so helpless," said Mrs. Geyer, now 66 and operator of a small gallery of amateur art in this suburb of Miami.

"I lost 401 pounds in 14 months," she said.

She pirouetted, showing off her figure beside a life-size photo of the fat Dolly Dimples.

"I couldn't even cross my legs then," she said, motioning at the poster.

"Actually, I'm a little on the skinny side right now. I try to stay between 116 and 122 but I'm down to 110 pounds," she said.

Her diet is 800 calories daily. For example, she has a cup of chicken soup, a soda cracker, gelatin salad and skimmed milk for lunch.

ADDS 100 POUNDS

"In school all the kids called me tubby and fatty. I'd come home crying and eat some more. I was about 150 pounds when I was 13 and 295 when I dropped out of high school," she said.

"That's when I met my husband, Frank. Every night I'd make him a fresh pie or cake and he'd eat one piece so I'd finish it. I gained 100 pounds in a year."

Frank, who weighed 135 pounds, died earlier this year.

"It used to take 12 yards of cloth to make my dress. Now I'm a size 12," she said.

"My friends told me I'd kill myself if I went on a crash diet," Mrs. Geyer said. "Well, if I do they don't have to bury me on a truck anyway. I'll fit in a hearse now."

SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE

It wasn't the first time Mansfield had seen his deputy try to take charge. In an earlier disagreement over a tax bill, Mansfield declared the issue to be a vote of confidence in his leadership. He won.

This time he angrily remarked that a leader is entitled to some consideration when he must leave the floor, and added: "There is such a thing as decorum and dignity in this body."

But an unrepentant Long left town for Louisiana defending his tactics.

"The way to break a filibuster is to vote when you have a chance to vote," Long said.

"I thought I was dealing with men," snapped Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., who said he had an understanding with Long that there would be no vote until he had spoken on the bill.

Byrd stepped in at this point and said he resented Kennedy's words, denied there was any deception, and added he had repeatedly delayed Senate roll calls to suit the New Yorker's convenience.

Co-Op Refund Checks Mailed

COLORADO CITY — Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative members of nearly a decade ago will receive a welcome pre-Christmas refund starting Friday.

Martin Murphy, president of the Lone Wolf directors, said that capital credit refunds of $22,551.59 for the last half of 1967 were being dispatched today. Members who received service in 1968 should receive these checks before Christmas.

The amount of each member's dividend (capital credit refund) is determined on a patronage basis. Those who use a great deal of electricity will receive larger dividends.

Because the cooperative is chartered as a non-profit corporation, any margin of income after expenses must be returned to the members. In order to preserve a safe working margin, there is a time lag of several years on the refunds. For the years 1956 through 1958, Lone Wolf Cooperative has returned to members $147,915.37, said Murphy.

Dear Abby

Say 'No' And Send It Back

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a mother-in-law (Hubby's Mom) who is generous to a fault? We have been trying unsuccessfully to fight off lavish gifts, free trips, etc.

We want to be independent and would rather have less than always be saying "thank you" for this and that. My mother-in-law is a very extravagant person, and when she buys for us in the same grand manner that she buys for herself, it's my poor father-in-law who has to pay the bills, and Abby he is not that rich.

We have told her over and over again that we don't want anything, but she won't take no for an answer. Please tell us what else we can do.

LOSING PATIENCE

DEAR LOSING: The "no"

that seems to be posing a problem is not the one your mother-in-law won't take for an answer. It's the one you and your husband seem unable to make stick when you try to refuse her gifts. No one need be the recipient of a gift he really does not want. Put a little more conviction into your "no" — and if she gives you the gift anyway, give it back.

DEAR ABBY: They say that worry kills more people than work. Is this true? WORRIER

DEAR WORRIER: Undoubtedly. Because more people worry than work.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 47-year-old bachelor with a problem like I'm sure you've never been asked to solve before. I can't make my mind up between Hazel, a 30-year-old divorcee, and her mother.

I started going with Hazel and thought I was in love with her until I met "mamma." It was love at first sight with mamma. She is 48, but you would never know it. Abby, I am going nuts between these two. Mamma and I started seeing each other on the Q.T. because we didn't want to hurt Hazel, but Hazel found out about it and she threatened to kill me. Now they are both on my neck to make up my mind. I feel like a rat, but I can't help it. Is Hazel too young for me? Is mamma too old for me? They both have their good points, but I really prefer mamma. Can you tell me what to do?

DOUBLE TROUBLE

DEAR DOUBLE: If you prefer mamma, go ahead and marry her. But don't accept any dinner invitations at Hazel's unless you take along a food taster.

CONFIDENTIAL TO Fort Worth Reader: If you don't want him the way he is, leave him alone. You can't teach an old dog new tricks. The "old dog" you have in mind may not want to learn any new tricks. Especially from an old trainer.

Foreign Aid Bill Squabble Might Stall Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP) — A last-minute hassle over foreign aid may endanger prompt congressional adjournment after Senate and House conferees agreed on other remaining major bills.

With a chance to go home after more than 11 months in session, both the House and Senate expected to approve today compromises on:

—An appropriation of $1.77 billion for the antipoverty program that is only slightly below the amount the administration said it needed, although well below the $2.06 billion it originally wanted.

TOUGHEST

—A $9.3 billion, two-year extension of the Elementary and Secondary School Act worked out in what one Senate conferee called "the toughest conference I've ever been in."

Final action on another bill to which adjournment was pinned — a major expansion of Social Security benefits — is expected to start the surge for adjournment when the Senate votes on it before noon.

The House flagged down the rush at least temporarily Thursday when it rejected 196 to 185 a compromise $2.3 billion foreign aid appropriation bill. It sent the measure, which would appropriate the lowest foreign aid total in the program's 20-year history, back to the conferees.

They quickly agreed to a figure $20 million lower, setting the stage for another House confrontation on which early adjournment hopes appear to ride.

BIG OBSTACLE

Another big obstacle to adjournment on schedule was removed Thursday night when conferees agreed to the school aid bill that would authorize funding for the program through fiscal 1970.

Detectives Named In Bribery Charge

FORT WORTH (AP) — Two Haltom City detectives were charged with bribery Thursday night on an accusation that they took a $100 payoff in marked bills.

Charged in Justice of the Peace W. W. Matthews' court were Fred Schanz and Charles Pulley.

Schanz was released on his own recognizance. Pulley was held in county jail in lieu of $10,000 bond.

Dist. Atty. Frank Coffey, whose office directed the arrests, said two young women came to him Thursday.

He said they told him they had been accused of shoplifting in a Haltom City store and had been taken to the police station there. Haltom City is a Fort Worth suburb.

The women, who were reported shoplifting by the store's manager and who were arrested by Haltom City patrolmen, claimed they were told that for $100 no charges would be filed. The alleged incident occurred Wednesday night.

Coffey said he supplied the women with $100 in bills that were chemically marked.

He said that soon after the women passed the money, two Texas Rangers and three members of the district attorney's staff arrested the two men.

An infra-red test showed the marked bills to be the same bills the women had been given, Coffey said.

City Manager Pat Moffatt of Haltom City said both men would be suspended pending their trials.

Holiday Dinner Slated Saturday

Pollard Chevrolet Co., 1501 E. 4th, will entertain employees and their families at a Christmas dinner Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn.

The group will be entertained by Christmas music. Santa Claus will visit the party bringing presents to all children. Bill Pollard will serve as master of ceremonies.

Faithful Five OK Spy Board

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only 5 of 100 members were present when the Senate decided the fate of the controversial Subversive Activities Control Board.

But that didn't block action Thursday, with a 3-2 vote to extend the life of the board, sending the measure to President Johnson, who is expected to sign it.

The faithful five rattling around the big chamber were Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen and Democrats William Proxmire of Wisconsin, Albert Gore of Tennessee, Sam J. Ervin Jr. of North Carolina and Alan Bible of Nevada.

Dirksen, Ervin and Bible voted in favor of the one-year lease on life for the board. Proxmire and Gore made up the losing side.

The board's job of identifying Communist-controlled organizations has been all but whittled away by Supreme Court decisions over the years. No hearings have been held for more than two years.

The board's five members are paid $26,000 a year.

Employees Slate Gag Gifts Swap

Dick Lauderdale will be master of ceremonies Sunday, Dec. 17, at 7:30 p.m. when Gibson Discount Center holds their employee Christmas dinner party at the Cosden Club.

Mrs. Joy Meyer is in charge of the program which will be put on by employees. Christmas music will be furnished by a combo composed of store members.

There will be an exchange of gag gifts. Approximately 120 employees and their spouses will attend the dinner.

Thug Flees With Booze

Police are investigating two thefts. An undetermined amount of liquor was stolen from Vernon's Liquor Store at 602 Gregg Thursday night. Entrance was gained by breaking in a back door.

Sgt. Frank Andrews reported Thursday the theft of a television, record player and clock from his residence at 1505 Oriole. A bathroom window was broken to gain entrance.

Traffic Offenders Hike Court Take

Traffic violations crowded the docket of the Corporation Court Tuesday through Friday. There were 67 charges filed with a total of $638 in fines assessed.

Fifty-one of the charges were for traffic violations and netted $306 in fines. Thirteen charges of being drunk were filed and fines totaled $305. One charge of disturbance brought a fine of $25.

One traffic violation charge was set for hearing on Dec. 21 while another one was set for Dec. 28.

Charges Filed In Car Wreck Death

Mike Pineda, 54, of 502 NW 7th, has been charged with failure to stop and render aid in the fatal collision Tuesday afternoon which took the life of an 81-year-old Big Spring woman.

Pineda, who allegedly fled the scene after the accident, showed up at the office of Sheriff Aubrey Standard, Thursday afternoon accompanied by his attorney. The two men had come from Lubbock.

Wayne Burns, district attorney, filed the charge against Pineda in the court of Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter. Slaughter set bond at $5,000, which was posted for Pineda by his attorney. He was released from custody.

Failure to stop and render aid is a felony complaint and Pineda will be taken before the next grand jury, the district attorney said.

He is alleged to have been operator of a car which was involved in a collision with that

City Churches Donning Holiday Look

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHAPEL
Dedicated to Curtis Driver in 1960

Christmas is less than 10 days away finding Big Spring churches in the midst of holiday decorating to add a touch of Christmas spirit to Sunday services. Locally, decorations may mean anything from placing poinsettias in the sanctuary to constructing a life-size manger scene.

At First Methodist Church, an advent wreath surrounds four candles beneath the pulpit of the Rev. Leo K. Gee. The past two Sundays, one of three maroon candles has been lighted during morning services. The third will be lighted this Sunday and the fourth — a white one symbolic of Christ — Christmas Sunday.

Holiday wreaths on the front doors of the First Christian Church greet members of the congregation each Sunday. Inside the sanctuary, poinsettias are placed at each window. The prayer chapel features a spiritual air as worshipers kneel in front of a simple cross, poinsettias and a large Bible. Although the church was constructed in 1952, the prayer chapel was not used as such until its dedication in 1960 to the late Curtis Driver.

The Walther League, the youth organization at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, is responsible for a life-size manger scene set on the roof. Inside the church, a 12 foot Christmas tree brightens the sanctuary. Trimmed in white, the tree's decorations were made from styrofoam by ladies of the church.

MALACHI SPEAKS OF DIVORCE IN WEEK'S UNIFORM LESSON

Malachi had a lot to say to people who say "I do" and then don't. Divorce, however, was just one of the sins of the Israelites mentioned in the first two chapters of Malachi — last book of the Old Testament and scripture selection for this week's uniform lesson.

It becomes clear in the scripture that the people of Malachi's day had lost any care for good living in every area of life. Simply the way they offered sacrifices proves that point. God charged the priests with despising His name in Malachi 1:9 and in the following verse tells them how, saying they had offered polluted bread on His altar.

The priests did not realize, nor want to realize, that when they offered dirty, blemished sacrifices they were offending the Lord. Malachi warns them to "give of your best to the Master." To offer the Lord our second best is to insult Him.

One of life's most sacred relationships had also been trampled on by the people — the marriage contract. Today when divorce is exceedingly common in the world and in the church, few speak against it. But Malachi did.

When the sinning Israelites married heathen wives, they divorced their wives from their own nation. In 2:13-16, Malachi speaks on adultery — "And this have ye done again, covering the altar of the Lord with tears, with weeping, and with crying out, inasmuch that He regardeth not the offering any more, or receiveth it with good will at your hand. 'Tears covering the altar' referred to the forsaken wives at the temple telling the Lord of their sorrow. Because of this, the Lord could not accept the offerings of the sinful husbands.

These people Malachi reprimanded said God's rules were old-fashioned and punishment impossible. They gave to Him, but only when it was convenient. They sacrificed, but without going to much trouble about it. They promised, but then forgot.

Holiday Cantata Set Sunday Night

The Sanctuary Choir of the College Baptist Church will present "The Glorious Message" by Donna J. Krieger, Sunday at 7 p.m. This Christmas cantata, having been published only this year, will be offered for the first time in the Big Spring area. It proclaims the Christmas story in music and paraphrase of the Scripture. Featured soloist will be Mrs. Gorman Rainey and Orville Bryant, with Miss Nan Whittington narrating. James M. Stephens is the conductor.

Following the cantata presentation a fellowship will be held in the Fellowship Hall. Featured here will be the breaking of a "pinata." Breaking the pinata is a custom of Old Mexico and will be of special enjoyment to the children. "We want everyone to join in this time of worship and enjoy the fellowship which will follow," invites the Rev. R. Byron Grand, pastor.

Annual Parley Set By Baptists

The Texas Baptist Evangelism Conference will be held Jan. 15-17 in Dallas. The new year marks the 32nd annual conference to be conducted in Texas and is "expected to attract upwards of 10,000 persons," said Dr. C. Wade Freeman, evangelism division director. In addition to the conference, 118 associational (county) conferences are scheduled during 1968 with emphasis on evangelistic methodology.

Baptist Exhibit Set For HemisFair

DALLAS — Contracts have been signed which will provide a Baptist exhibit at HemisFair '68 and assure restoration of an historic dwelling in San Antonio, T. A. Patterson, executive secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, said Friday. He reported to the 192-member Executive Board meeting at the First Baptist Church.

Participating in the exhibit will be the San Antonio Baptist Association, the Baptist General Convention of Texas and the Home and Foreign Mission Boards of the Southern Baptist Convention.

George E. Stewart, superintendent of missions for the San Antonio Baptist Association, signed the contract for the exhibit space on behalf of the association and the state convention and SBC agencies.

The Baptist exhibit will be housed in the historic Eager house built in 1886 which will be retained as a permanent landmark after the close of the HemisFair, the 1968 World's Fair scheduled in San Antonio from April through October of 1968.

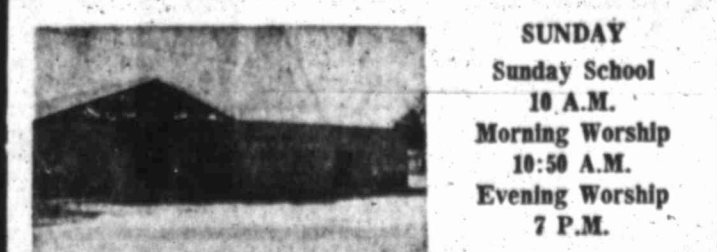

The Eager house was constructed as a wedding gift for the first Anglo-American girl born in San Antonio, Sarah Riddle (later Eager), by her father, William Riddle. When she died in 1947 at the age of 105, Mrs. Eager still lived in the house. Her daughter, Mrs. Florence Eager Roberts, recently moved from the house after living there for 100 years.

The historic home will be restored and air conditioned to house the Baptist exhibit which is to depict the history and message of Southern Baptists, "with particular emphasis on our concern for people and their spiritual and physical needs," Stewart said.

Patterson added that a major contribution can be made to the Crusade of the Americas, a 1968-69 evangelistic effort, through the HemisFair.

Patterson said that the exhibit affords "a fine opportunity to make people better acquainted with our Baptist message and the Baptist contribution to the new world."

Theme of the HemisFair, scheduled April 6-Oct. 6, 1968, is "The Confluence of Civilization in the Americas."

come Look at the snow, mommy!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

There she was — blue eyes, rosy cheeks, thirty-five pounds of joy bundled up in a warm, wooly snowsuit. How could I resist her request — even if the ironing weren't done, and there'd be no pie for dinner. I pulled on my parka and went outside to join her.

We walked through the frosty winter world together and I seemed to see it anew through the eyes of a three-year old. Our commonplace street was miraculously frosted and furbished in silvery whiteness. From every corner beauty sparkled and shone.

And then we came to our church. It looked like a beautiful Christmas card, with the snow glistening blindingly from icy windows. Susie exclaimed, "Oh, Mommy, look—God is shining through!"

"Through the eyes of a little child" . . . this thought rang through my head, and I prayed that God's presence would always shine for her through the windows of God's Church.

Steers Seek 9th Win Here At 8

Big Spring tries to improve upon an 8-4 won-lost record in an 8 o'clock basketball game with Odessa Ector here tonight.

The job won't be easy. Ector, coached by Moe Madison, has won eight of nine starts and has emerged as the heavy favorite to win District 2-AAA honors.

Ector has been beaten only by Odessa Permian and averaged that reversal. The Eagles could well be the strongest of Odessa's three high school teams.

Big Spring has won some big ones this year but has lost some it should have won. That's why they book exhibition games, however. Practice games are sort of like a shakedown cruise—they scheduled to get all the kinks out.

The Longhorns have defeated

Lamesa, Hobbs, N. M., Seminole, Brownfield, Andrews, Permian JV and Lubbock High twice.

They have lost to Seminole, Lubbock High, Odessa High and Crane.

Coach Kirby Pugh likely will start a team consisting of Danny Clendenin, Jerry McGuire, Wayne (Goose) Johnson, Snake Tucker and Ronnie Wrightsill.

Ector could counter with Harold Tacker, Lawrence Henry, Troy Ellis, Robert Hendrix and Robert Smith. The visitors will have a height advantage over the locals. At 6-5, Tacker is the tallest of the bunch.

B teams of the two schools square away at 6:15 p.m.

The Longhorns won't be seen at home again, after tonight, until Jan. 2, when they open 2-AAAA play against Odessa High.

The Rannels Saints edged the Goliad Blacks in seventh grade basketball play here Thursday, 18-16, to take a firm grip on first place in the four-team standings.

The Saints are now 2-0 while the Blacks are winless in two starts.

and did an outstanding job all season. When punter Pat Studstill was injured, Barney also took over the punting chores.

Barney, who made his seventh interception in Sunday's game with the New York Giants, said at the time there had been only one touchdown pass thrown in his territory all season although a second TD was charged to him in a switch of assignments.

"The hardest job was studying the receivers," said Barney. "In college you run up against one good one and then you can take a rest. In this league they are all good."

"I've been up against fellows like Boyd Dowler and Carroll Dale of Green Bay, Jack Snow and Bernie Casey of Los Angeles, Dave Parks of San Francisco and Willie Richardson of Baltimore. The most catches I made were three. That was by Richardson and he also got the touchdown."

Barney, a flanker, runback man and defensive back in college, got an advance lesson on the NFL from the veteran Dick "Night Train" Lane, now a special staff assistant with the Lions. Lane came down to the campus at Jackson to give Barney some clues last spring.

DETROIT (AP) — Mel Farr doesn't like the brutal contact of pro football and the Detroit Lions' rookie running back has successfully avoided National Football League tacklers for 791 yards rushing this season.

Impressed with his work, a panel of Associated Press sportscasters and sports writer, three from each league city, named the former UCLA All-America NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year.

Cowboys, Rams Are Favored In NFL

NEW YORK (AP) — Can the Western Conference title hinges on the outcome of that big one Sunday at the Memorial Coliseum.

The American Football League doesn't end its schedule until next week and it still has one race going between the New York Jets and Houston, tied for the Eastern Division lead with two games to play.

Last week's exciting action produced an 8-3-1 record and left the season record at 103-41-11 (68-27-9 in the NFL and 35-14-2 in the AFL). Let's try to better that 715 batting average. All games are Sunday unless otherwise noted.

Dallas 28, San Francisco 21 (Saturday) — Cowboys marking time before Dec. 24 home game with Cleveland for Eastern Conference crown. Craig Morton may start this one because of Don Meredith's broken nose. Cowboys may have Bob Hayes ready. The 49ers broke six-game losing slump last week but Atlanta is no Dallas. It's a Saturday television (CBS) game.

Los Angeles 27, Baltimore 24 — Second half of the Sunday television doubleheader and the whole nation will be waiting for the crash. They played a 24-24 tie Oct. 15 at Baltimore. George Allen always comes up with a good defense against John Unitas, dating back to old days with Bears. He has the Rams believing. Colts gung ho for that unbeaten season. Both smelling that $25,000 at the end of the line. The collision of the year. Key to game is ability of Bears' Fourness to get to old No. 12. It might wind up in a field goal duel between red hot Lou Michaels and Bruce Gossett.

Cleveland 27, Philadelphia 21 — The Browns already are in Century Division title. Eagles still trying to save the old homestead for Jerry Wolman. Philadelphia always best at home but Blanton Collier will want to keep Browns moving for next Sunday's big date at Dallas. Leroy Kelly too much for Eagles, to handle. Norm Sneed smeared seven times by Dallas last week.

New York 28, St. Louis 24 — Who wants to win it the most? Cards were knocked out of race last week. Giants were sad against Detroit. Home park gives Giants edge with Fran Tarkenton and Co. trying for 500 mark but Cards still have outside chance at third place money and field goal kicker Jim Bakken is going for record. Giants beat Cards on opening day 37-20.

Green Bay 27, Pittsburgh 14 — Packers shot the works against Rams and lost last week figure to take Steelers in stride while waiting for Rams and Colts to decide Dec. 23 opponent. First regular season meeting of Vince Lombardi and ex-assistant Bill Austin. Kent Kist starts for Pittsburgh.

Washington 23, New Orleans 21 — Redskins need to win to be sure of third-place cash, about $900 a man. Sonny Jurgensen will be shooting holes in Saints' leaky defense. Washington won Sept. 24 game 30-10.

Chicago 17, Atlanta 7 — Atlanta fans get their first look at Gale Sayers and it may be a sight to remember against Falcons' defenders. Bears second in defense. Falcons 16th in offense.

Detroit 21, Minnesota 20 — They played 10-10 tie Nov. 12 at Minnesota when Lions fumbled 11 times. Two tough defensive units but both erratic on offense. Mel Farr still gunning for yardage will be out to show home folks how he won rookie honors. Karl Sweetan had best day of season last week. Vikings' Dave Osborn needs 114 to hit 1,000-yard mark.

In Clarendon Game

Barry Linder, at 67 the tallest member of the HCJC basketball team, will see action tonight when the Jayhawks open Western Conference play against Clarendon in Clarendon. HC will be seeking to improve upon a 4-7 record. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Cougars Grab Meet Crown

HOUSTON (AP) — Second-ranked Houston is the first official champion of the Bluebonnet Basketball Classic.

The undefeated Cougars, sparked by All-America Elvin Hayes' 45 points, raced past Montana State 113-67 Thursday night to take the title.

SUNLAND TO GIVE WINNERS $2 BILLS THIS WEEKEND

SUNLAND PARK, N.M. — Keeping with the holiday spirit, Sunland Park's general manager Bob Haynsworth will play Santa Claus in a roundabout way this weekend at Sunland Park.

Two dollar bills, which are rarely seen in this part of the country, will be very much in evidence this Saturday and Sunday at the Sunland Park racing palace. Some $50,000 in $2 bills will be circulated in the mutual payoff lines, and for as long as they last, patrons wishing to be paid off with the rare bills will get their chance.

"We have most of the two dollar bills in El Paso," says assistant general manager Art Johnson. "And we felt there would be a great number of people who would like to have them as souvenirs. They will be circulated Saturday and Sunday as long as they last."

Maravich, LSU Face Badgers

By The Associated Press

Pistol Pete invades the North to shoot up the Wisconsin Badgers tonight.

Which is to say that "Pistol Pete" Maravich, the latest hot shot in college basketball with Louisiana State, will play with the Tigers against Wisconsin in the first round of the Milwaukee Classic.

Pistol Pete, 6-foot-5 sophomore son of the LSU coach, Press Maravich, leads the nation's major college scorers with a 47-point average in three games. He has made 44 per cent of his shots but says, "I should be shooting over 50 per cent."

Calvin Murphy, another highly touted soph at 5-10 who is the second highest scorer with a 45-point average, threw in 41 points for Niagara in a losing cause against Bowling Green in the Bluebonnet.

Unbeaten Houston was the only team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action. Mississippi State beat George Washington 70-55 for third place in the Bluebonnet.

Illinois topped previously unbeaten Brigham Young, 63-55 at Champaign while, in other home court victories, Purdue whipped Indiana State 90-71, Iowa State beat Drake 88-83, Wake Forest defeated Maryland 75-60, Butler surprised Michigan State 65-55 and Utah smashed Idaho State 106-91.

It's the things we leave out of a Volkswagen that make it work so well.

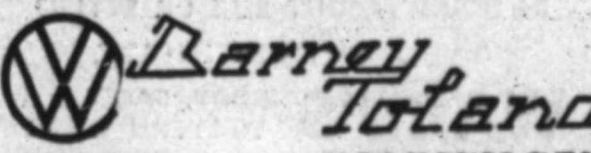

We leave out the radiator. So the engine will never boil over or freeze and leave you stranded somewhere. (Don't worry. It's air-cooled.)

We leave out the water hoses and water pump, too. Still fewer parts to break down and leave you stranded.

We leave out the drive shaft. You know the long bulky thing that transfers power from the engine up front to the drive wheels in back. (Always losing a little power along the way.)

Instead, we put the engine in back, right over the drive wheels. Where it'll put its power right to work moving the car.

As soon as we can think of something else to leave out, we'll leave it out. Just as soon as we can decide on the best place not to put it.

Cosden Employees Asked To Back Airport Issue

A statement advocating passage of the Airport Authority propositions on Saturday has been issued to Cosden Oil & Chemical Company employees in a bulletin from the president, R. L. Tollett.

Tollett agreed to the publication of this bulletin as a matter of information to the public. It follows:

"It is the desire of your management that Cosden employees qualify to and vote in all elections. Occasionally we have asked our employees to consider voting FOR or AGAINST certain proposals. Please do not interpret our doing so as an imposition on you. It is solely to explain why we are FOR or AGAINST some proposal.

"On Saturday you will be asked to vote on two proposals. We are FOR the creation of an Airport Authority. The creation of it will enable us to get improvements at Big Spring Airport that will definitely reduce costs and increase productivity, which in turn will recommend our Big Spring location for further expansion that will create additional jobs and more No. 1 operators and craftsmen.

"In an operation as complex and as extensive as ours, we cannot maintain in our warehouse stock all the repair parts for the hundreds of pumps, motors, instruments, and other parts and fittings. When we have a failure for which we have no replacement, we must get it as quickly as possible from the factory; and that means the use of air freight or even first class air mail. Furthermore, some of our licensees and customers, have executive jet powered aircraft, which they own to avoid time-consuming delays in getting to and from our Big Spring location.

"Presently our airport is not safe for the landing of jet or turbo-prop planes even during the best of weather. To improve our airport is a must, which cannot be accomplished by Howard County. We have got to have an Airport Authority to get us the improvements that are needed for the continued growth and expansion of our company. Your vote FOR the creation of an Airport Authority will be greatly appreciated, because it will be in your interest as much as it is in the interest of management employees and our stockholders.

"You are reminded of the plant now being constructed near Baton Rouge, La., in which we will own a one-half interest with Borg-Warner Corporation. We are a long way towards completion of negotiations for the construction of another polystyrene plant in Ohio to use some of the monomer that will be produced at our Carville plant. Our sales offices are in Chicago, Los Angeles, and New York City. Our real parent corporation is Petrofina, S. A., which has its headquarters in Brussels, Belgium. Jet or turbo-prop transportation is a must for Cosden within the not too distant future.

"A vote FOR the Airport Authority is in your interest and in the interest of having a better hometown and an airport terminal building we are not ashamed to make use of when visitors come to see us. Its appearance now marks us as a chic town. A chic town is no site for an industry such as we have developed here in Big Spring and very much hope to continue expanding."

—R. L. TOLLETT

Pope Appeals For Peace

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI appealed today for worldwide prayers for peace every New Year's Day but rebuked cowards who refuse to fight for justice and liberty.

"Peace is not pacifism," he said, in a papal statement.

"It is to be hoped," the Pope declared, "(that) the exaltation of the ideal of peace may not favor the cowardice of those who fear it may be their duty to give their life for the service of their own country and of their own brothers when these are engaged in the defense of justice and liberty, and who seek only the flight from their responsibility and the risks that are necessarily involved in the accomplishment of great duties and generous exploits.

"Peace . . . does not mask a base and slothful concept of life but is proclaimed the highest and most universal values of life—truth, justice, freedom, love."

In his first message on world events since his prostate operation Nov. 4 the 70-year-old pontiff of the Roman Catholic church warned against the "apocalyptic awfulness" of modern war.

Pearson Quitting His Post, Retiring To Nurse Bruises

By BEN BASSETT
AP Foreign News Analyst

Lester Bowles Pearson, the diplomat who reluctantly became a politician, is retiring to nurse his bruises.

He doesn't put it that way. He says he's grateful for the opportunities he has had, and thankful for party loyalty.

But Pearson, though he emerged from two elections as Canada's prime minister, was never able to win majority rule in the House of Commons. Too many Canadians in too many areas never quite bought what he offered.

His announcement Thursday that he is resigning from leadership of the Liberal party means he must give up the prime ministry. He carries on in both posts until a new party leader, who also will take the government job, is chosen—probably in March or April.

Canada thus faces a new choice, not an echo of recent elections, when it next goes to the polls.

John Diefenbaker, longtime leader of the other major party, also has surrendered to history in this 100th year of Canadian confederation. His successor as the Conservative chief is a new face on the national scene, Robert Stanfield, ex-premier of Nova Scotia.

Stanfield's age—53—may shadow the Liberal party's huddles when it selects Pearson's successor. Foreign Secretary Paul Martin is 64 and has been around a long time; that may be held against him. Other Cabinet ministers in their 40s may have a better chance, but the field is not limited to them.

The prime ministry goes to the man leading the party that came in first in the most recent election. Pearson ousted Diefenbaker in 1963 but fell short of winning a majority of Commons seats. He tried again in 1965, and again was on top but short of a majority.

The Liberals have ruled because the Conservatives and the minor parties in Commons couldn't get together to provide an alternative government, and because no one wanted the expense of another election in which he couldn't win a majority.

Opening lead: Eight of ♠
A slight slip by South, the declarer at three no trump, provided his opponents with an opportunity which they capitalized upon with rare delicacy and finesse.

West opened the eight of spades, the three was played from dummy and East won the trick with the king. There appeared to be no further pickings for the defense in spades, so East—in an attempt to make a play for his partner—shifted to the seven of diamonds.

South put in the ten and West was in with the king. It was apparent from the spots played that East had led the top of nothing so, in an attempt to continue the assault on declarer's diamond holding and still maintain communications with his partner, West returned the eight of diamonds.

South won the trick with the jack and led the jack of hearts. East played the ace and led his last diamond thru declarer's queen-seven. West retained the ace-nine behind South and he scored two more tricks for the defense, to register a well earned upset on the deal.

Altho the opposition had functioned with flawless timing against him, South had only himself to blame for losing the hand. Taking the spade finesse at trick one was a purely mechanical gesture on his part which served only to set up the defense.

Observe that when the dummy is spread, declarer has five top tricks, four clubs, and one spade. As soon as the ace of hearts is disclosed, he will have four more to bring the total to nine. He should, therefore, waste no time in trying for overtricks, inasmuch as the spade finesse is not essential to his success.

By playing the ace of spades at the outset, he retains a second stopper in the suit but—what is more to the point—he assures himself of establishing the game fulfilling trick before his opponents have a chance to coordinate their attack.

After East gets in with the ace of hearts, the best he can do is cash the king of spades and then shift to a diamond which enables West to win two more tricks. South has the rest.

'Hippie-Type' Tiger Tale

HERMOSA BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The little tiger came into Ray Folsom's hands this way:

These "hippie-type" youths drove up to his pet shop and explained "traveling around with a tiger in their back seat just wasn't working out."

After declaring they bought the 3-month-old cub in Colorado, Folsom paid them $150 for it. He learned the tiger had been stolen Sunday from its cage in the San Francisco Zoo.

The 30-pound cub went home by plane.
