The annual field crops and soil conservation tour is slated for Tuesday, Sept. 13, with three agencies participating to pinpoint new developments in Collingsworth agriculture.

The sponsors are the County Extension Service through its Northwest Texas Research Demonstrabtion program, the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District and the Farmers Home Administration.

The tour will start at 9:30 a.m. at the courthouse and visits will be made to outstanding field crop demonstrations and soil conservation projects. The financing phase will be covered by the FHA.

A barbecue served at Ellison Park at noon will end the tour. The Salt Fork SCD supervisors will be the hosts.

In charge for the sponsoring agencies are Dwane Scott, research demonstration assistant, and County Agent Sam Helmers of the Extension Service; James Chappell, county supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration; and Gary Reed, work unit conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service.

Old Settlers Meet in Park September 9

A change in location of the Old Settlers Reunion on Friday, Sept. 9 was announced by Chairman Zook Thomas this week.

The reunion will be returned to Ellison Park, where it has been held several years. It was first planned to hold this year's event in the roadside park at the Mangum Y.

The south side of Ellison Park will be reserved for the old settlers, and the area will be roped off, Thomas said.

The reunion will start with registration at 11:15 a.m. and at noon a basket dinner will be served. There will be group singing and specialty numbers beginning at 1 p.m.

All persons who have lived in the county prior to 1946 are considered old settlers, regardless of age, Thomas reported.

First, second, third and fourth place ribbons will be awarded in four categories; the oldest person attending, the person who travelled the farthest, the person having the most grandchildren, and the person having lived in the county the longest.

Assistant chairman to this year's reunion is R. H. Isbell, and Mrs. Isbell is secretary. W. S. Brewer will be in charge of entertainment.

Swine Short Course Offered Area Growers

The vocational agriculture department of Wellington high school is sponsoring a Swine Production Short Course Monday through Thursday, Sept. 12 to 15, beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the vocational agriculture building.

Joe Tocquigny, swine production specialist at Texas A&M University will be in charge of the programs. The fee will be $2 and anyone interested should contact Don Lacy at the vocational agriculture department.

"We feel very fortunate to get Mr. Tocquigny here for the swine short course. Since the production of swine is a coming thing in this part of the country, I feel sure this course will be of much benefit to anyone in the swine business or anyone thinking about getting in," said Lacy, vocational ag teacher.

Postpone Fair Queen Contest

The Miss Collingsworth County Fair Queen Contest has been postponed indefinitely, Jack Sanford, chairman, announced Wednesday, Aug. 24.

It was originally set for Monday night, Sept. 5.

This annual contest has been an outdoor event held on the opening night of Fair Week, and the first night of the carnival performance. The cancellation of the carnival, due to the labor shortage, is a major consideration in the postponement of the Fair Queen contest, Sanford said.

She urges that more parents join.

"We are going to apply for the Certificate of Achievement, and the number of members helps to get this," she said.

Farmers Urged Not to Plow Up Guar

The possibility that farmers in this county and surrounding area may harvest guar this year that was planted under Federal Farm Programs and still receive 100 percent diversion payment was given a considerable boost by Congress Monday, Aug. 29.

U. S. Representative Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls said that the House had unanimously approved his bill to provide full diversion payments on specified non-surplus crops, one of which is guar.

In view of this news, local grain dealers have been advising their customers to go slow on plowing up their guar acreages at this time.

Other crops covered by the Purcell bill are sesame, safflower, castor beans and a number of others; but none of these are of commercial significance in Collingsworth County. None of these crops are on the surplus list at this time.

SKYROCKET COACHING STAFF

Shamrock Man Found Dead at Farm in County

Joe Sours, 56, of Shamrock, was found dead in his pickup at his farm one-half mile east of Greasy Corner about 6:30 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 28.

After an investigation conducted by Sheriff John Rainey and Deputy George Hooten, Justice of the Peace Claude McKinney ruled the death was due to carbon monoxide poisoning. He said Mr. Sours had been dead eight or nine hours.

His body was found by his wife and Mr. Blakemore of Blakemore Chevrolet Co., where Mr. Sours was employed.

Funeral services were conducted at the Missionary Baptist Church in Shamrock at 3 p.m. Wednesday and burial was in the Shamrock Cemetery.

Mr. Sours was reported to have lived in the community several years ago.

Then the Season Starts

Rockets Scrimmage at Paducah Friday

The Wellington Skyrockets, both varsity and junior varsity teams, will scrimmage the Paducah Dragons at Paducah Friday, Sept. 2, the last srimmage before the regular 1966 season opens.

The junior varsity game will start at 6:30 p.m. and the varsity game at 8.

"We thought the boys did real fine with Claude," said head coach Bill Beene, adding that coaches and boys are spending this week correcting mistakes that did appear and polishing both the offense and defense.

The Rockets scored three touchdowns against Claude, one on a pass and two on running plays. Of these, one was a 60-yard run and the other was carried from 35 to 40 yards out.

With their versatility at running, the coaches feel the Rockets will be able to move the ball three yards in a cloud of dust, or break and go. Others on the coaching staff — Dick Hamilton, James Stavenhagen and Denzil Lacy, agree.

They feel good about the passing game, too.

"We sent out three or four receivers and they all looked good," remarked Beene. "The quarterback situation is looking real well, and we believe we have some capable people in Andy Bell and Freddy Mayhugh."

The coach indicated that while a tight offense was run in the Claude scrimmage, the Rockets will run a wide offense when they meet the Dragons.

Classwork Starts

4 County Schools Enroll 1042 Monday

Collingsworth County's student population, 1042 strong, reported for their first day of classes Monday, Aug. 29, and for most, their work was well under way the following day.

J. L. Harper, superintendent of Wellington schools, said 753 students were enrolled Monday and a few more are expected to come into elementary school during the week. The number was 26 under the enrollment at the end of the 1965-66 school term in May, he added.

The superintendent gave a breakdown by classes: first grade, 76 students; second grade, 59; third, 62; fourth, 59; fifth, 71; sixth, 63; seventh, 63; eighth, 76; ninth, 57; tenth, 64; eleventh, 48; and twelfth, 55.

The Quail enrollment stood at 110 at the end of the first day, up five from the close of school figure in May, E. P. Haynie, superintendent, reported.

Samnorwood superintendent Robert Dwight reported an enrollment of 190, the same as last year.

Only school work has been considered with one exception, the appointment of Judy Martindale as editor of the school annual and Jay Wischkaemper as photographer and assistant editor.

Lloyd Patterson, superintendent at Dodson, reported 89 students enrolled Monday and one or two additional on Tuesday. He expected the total enrollment to near the 100 mark.

Dodson school is promoting the use of its lunch room, he said. The cafeteria has been redecorated over a period of several months and students are being encouraged to eat there.

Collision Sends One to Hospital

A two-car collision on FM 1642 two miles north of Dodson hospitalized one person and left another shaken and bruised Friday evening, Aug. 26.

Deputy Sheriff George Hooten was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital and released. The occupant of the other car, Mrs. Tommy Van of Dodson, was taken to Hollis where she was hospitalized two days, Hooten said.

The deputy reported both vehicles were traveling north and the accident occurred as he started to pass Mrs. Vann's car, at the same time she began a left turn.

Heavy damage to both vehicles was reported.

58 County Court Cases Dropped

Fifty-eight cases were dismissed from the county court docket Tuesday, Aug. 23 after it was deemed that they could not be prosecuted under the new criminal code.

The action came in a session presided over by County Judge C. C. Bishop and attended by County Attorney R. L. Templeton, Sheriff John Rainey, County-District Clerk Lorene Jenkins, and attorneys Paul Spillman and Jack Lackey.

County Attorney Templeton moved for dismissal of these cases on the grounds that prosecution was prohibited by the new criminal code which requires a case to be tried at the first term of court following its filing, he told The Wellington Leader.

Some of these cases were filed as much as five years ago, he said.

Almost half the cases, 25, were hot check cases, officially designated as "defrauding by worthless check." Some of those filed on were never in custody since they were transients and could not be located for arrest.

Some of the names were probably fictitious in the first place, officials pointed out.

Other cases dismissed included three for transporting alcoholic beverages for purpose of sale; two theft, one theft by fraud, one theft by bailee, one removal of motor vehicle without consent of mortgagor, one unlawful possession of liquor for purpose of sale, one removal of car from custody, one child desertion, five illegal sale of beer in dry area, one wilful fail and refuse to support wife and children, one theft of auto value under $50, one obtaining money under false pretenses, one DWI, and one aggravated assault upon a female.

Twelve cases were dismissed in which judgments were rendered but the cases were not completed, Judge Templeton said.

Among these were grave desecration cases, illegal possession of dangerous drug, carrying concealed weapons, defrauding by worthless check, and unlawful possession of alcoholic beverage.

The next session of county court is set for Sept. 19, when eight jury cases are due for trial, Judge Templeton said.

MASS LAWLESSNESS ENDANGERS NATION

Many influential thought-leaders have contended that there has never been an internal Communist danger in the United States.

The spread of destructive and alarming Negro riots in Chicago, Cleveland, Brooklyn and other northern cities may have changed the minds of many previously ill-informed citizens throughout the nation but the same voices that always have deplored "anti-Communism" now are attributing the shattering and expanding racial violence to nearly every cause except Red agitation.

These opinion-moulders saw nothing sinister in the recurring pattern established earlier in Harlem and Watts, where the announced target of the rioters was the "brutal" police, and where the mobs "got out-of-hand" and went on shooting, burning, pillaging, plundering sprees of utter lawlessness and wanton destruction.

But Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago and Cleveland authorities were obliged to point out the obvious — that the rioting violence has a distinct "pattern."

"The staffs" of some of the Negro organizations had, said Mayor Daley," come into Chicago and trained people in tactics and strategy for violence."

Mayor Daley included in this rather surprising charge the staff of Martin Luther King.

To anyone who has studied the Communist movement, worldwide and especially in America, this summer's rioting with its potential nation-wide explosiveness, is not at all surprising. Whatever actual physical part Communist agents may or may not have had in the Negro riots in Watts, Harlem, Cleveland, Chicago and other cities, the uprisings and their burning madness are of a pattern with Communist intrigue, strategy and plotting.

It will be recalled by most Americans that Malcolm X, who was murdered in New York, originally was an advocate of "Black Power" and planned-violence against the White race. Then, several months before he was shot to death, he appeared to have changed course and was openly working in collaboration with less militant Negro leaders. (His long-time associates claimed Malcolm X has not renounced his "Black Power" goal.)

Here is a significant editorial published in the Chinese Communists' People's Daily of Peiping, probably written by Chou En-lai, second only to Mao as an international tactician. The editorial headline: "The Blood of Malcolm X Will Not Have Been Shed in Vain." The editorial says:

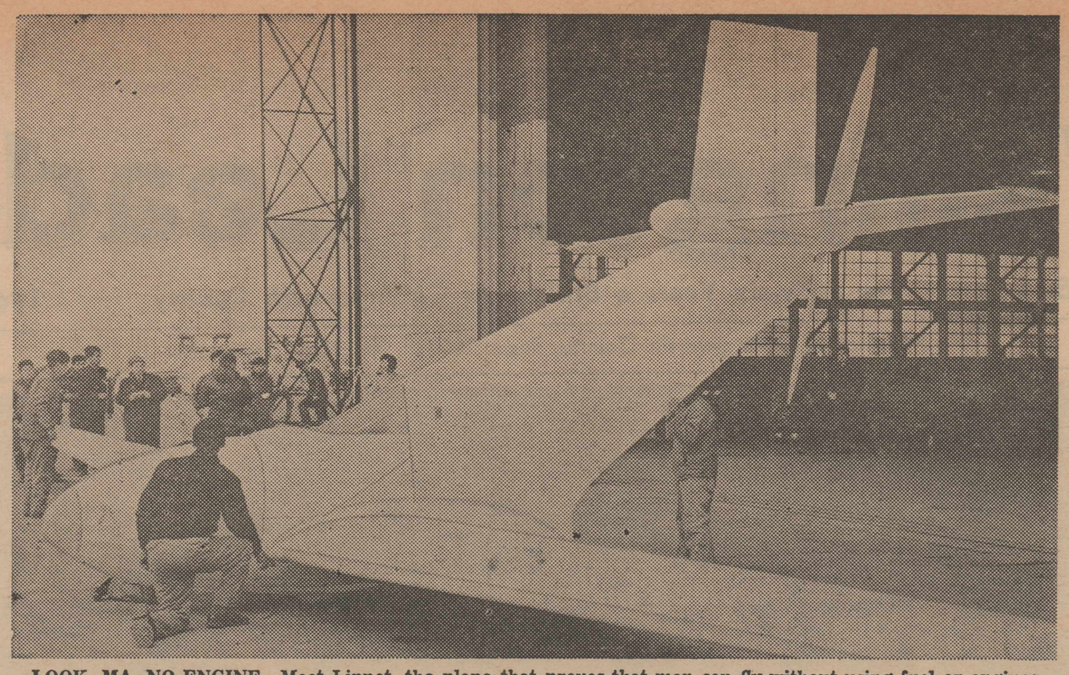

"American Negroes will undoubtedly realize from his murder that in dealing with the imperialist aggressors, violence must be met with violence, as Malcolm X himself taught . . .

"At the back of the murderer is the sinister force upholding the reactionary imperialist rule and racial oppression . . . By assassinating Malcolm X, it incurred a new blood debt . . . (Malcolm X) called upon the American Negroes to fight fearlessly for their rights 'by meeting violence, an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.' This incendiary statement of his reveals a truth: To achieve freedom and equality, the American Negroes must on no account rely on the benevolence of the ruling class, but should wage a resolute fight.

"Malcolm X's murder (the Communist newspaper continues) shows that the U.S. ruling class and racists today are in mortal fear of the awakening of the American Negroes . . . Hard facts have made the Negroes see more clearly that the 'Civil Rights Act' is no gospel of emancipation but an indenture to keep them forever under the yoke of the racists. Holding aloft their militant banner, they have continued to march onwards."

Sober-minded patriotic American Negroes—and most of our Negro citizens are in this category—reject the "Black Power" call of Malcolm X and those who are today echoing its incitement to revolution. They reject Communism, and many of them are aware of the Reds' plan to conquer the world.

Citizen leaders among our Negro population are now challenged to join together and replace on the national scene the "Black Power" agitators and those teaching violence under any guise, the people who are conducting "training schools for violence," and the actual Communist-dupes who are attempting to incite to violence the entire race. Our national and state leaders must meantime be strengthened in a determination to prevent and control (and assess hard penalties upon) the expanding mass lawlessness. The lives and property — and freedom — of all citizens are at stake.

LOOK, MA, NO ENGINE—Meet Linnet, the plane that proves that man can fly without using fuel or engines. The 110-pound craft was made by students at Japan's Nihon University to determine man's capacity to generate energy in terms of horsepower. It won't fly high or far but, by using pedals and a "stick" in the cockpit, you can get it off the ground.

L. M. Reynolds Dies at Plainview

Lewis M. Reynolds, 79, of Plainview, died Monday, Aug. 22 at Plainview, where he had lived since 1925. A retired insurance and real estate dealer, Mr. Reynolds and his family lived in Wellington a number of years before moving to Plainview.

He was in the insurance business here also.

Funeral services were conducted at the Lemons Funeral Home Tuesday and burial was at Plainview.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Myrtle Reynolds of Plainview, and one sister, Mrs. Mary Presnol of Gainesville. Two daughters, Winnie and Ruth, preceded him in death.

Relatives attending the funeral from here were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hite, James Hurst, and Earl W. Jones.

Thirteenth Annual Langley Family Reunion Held August 19 through 21

By Ida Langley Stuckey

The nice rain that came on Thursday evening, August 18, put all the local Langley kinsfolk in a happy frame of mind and relieved them of any field work and left them free to welcome their kin from many different parts of the country who were gathering for the 13th annual family reunion at the Langley reunion grounds 11 miles west of Wellington.

The reunion, held Aug. 19 through 21, was the second largest since it began in 1954.

By General Telephons

New Method Used on Long Distance Calls

A new and improved method of placing long distance calls is being recommended by General Telephone Company of the Southwest for customers served from the company's Memphis long distance center.

The new method which requires the use of the area-code also eliminates the need for giving the name of the town being called, according to Wayne Goodrum, manager of General's Memphis District.

"The best way to place a long distance call," Goodrum said, "is to give the operator the information in five steps. First, the Area Code of the place being called; next the number you are calling; the person you are calling (but only if you are calling person-to-person); then wait until the operator asks for your number. Your name will not be needed unless the operator asks for it."

"With the new procedure the operator enters all the necessary information on an IBM card instead of the more familiar tickets. All handling is purely automatic operation once the card passes from the operator's hand," Goodrum explained. "IBM computers, located at San Angelo, do all the rating of the calls automatically, eliminating the possibilities of human error."

"Beginning with the October bills details of most long distance calls will be printed directly on the customer's bill and will include the 'from' and 'to' points, called number, minutes talked and amount of the call. A code will be used to indicate the type call and the rate class. This code is explained on the back of the bill."

General's Memphis long distance center serves as the "Master" office for 10 area communities. The exchanges are Clarendon, Dodson, Estelline, Flomot, Hedley, Lakeview, Memphis, Quitaque, Turkey and Wellington.

Protocol Is Also the Responsibility of Members, Former HD Agent Says

Protocol looms large in the eyes of club women this time of year, when most study and service organizations resume meetings. While it falls heavier on the shoulders of club officers, the club member also has the responsibility of operating within its framework.

Membership protocol was discussed recently by Argen Draper, Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Agent and a former Wellington resident.

First she defined protocol as "established ceremonial forms; good manners, and common courtesy."

Here are some of the points Mrs. Draper listed that protocol demands of a member of any organization:

She will arrive on time for meetings and not leave until the meeting is adjourned.

She will always address the chair before she speaks.

She will be prompt in seconding motions to bring business to the point of discussion.

She will develop the art of listening, well mannered and attractive at all times.

The rap of the gavel of the president will bring her to instant attention.

She will never interrupt another speaker unless Parliamentary Law gives her the right, i.e., point of order.

She will not try to compete with the speaker by chit-chat with her neighbors.

In speaking, a member will avoid personalities and be brief.

She will not call "Question" but let silence indicate to the presiding officer that the group is ready for the vote.

She will avoid cliques, realizing that they break up an organization.

She will not sleep in meetings; not doodle; not whisper; she will always watch her facial expressions.

She will not sit on her hands when applause is in order.

She will be a contributing member and serve on committees.

She will be prompt in paying dues.

If she accepts an assignment she will complete the work as quickly and as capably as she can.

She will cooperate with the elected officers of her organization whether they are her personal choice or not.

She will discuss organization business in the meeting; she will not discuss it after the meeting.

She will offer friendly assistance to new members and be loyal to her organization at all times.

She will put forth every effort to help accomplish the goals of her organization.

Hunt Scrapped to Rescue Calf

TYLER.—At least one cow and one landowner would have been without a calf if Doug Blunck, a Tyler Junior College veterinarian student, had not been given permission to hunt squirrel near here.

As reported to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department Blunck found a motherless calf and thought more of it than he did his hunt, and gathered it up for delivery to the rancher almost a half mile away.

Sugar rationing in the U.S. ended June 11, 1947.

BEEF BUSINESS NEEDS LONG TERM, LOW INTEREST CREDIT

COLLEGE STATION. — The beef cattle industry, like other business ventures, often is afflicted with low or lack of uniform return on investment.

Dr. O. D. Butler, head of Texas A&M University's Animal Science department and a speaker at the 16th annual Beef Cattle Short Course recently, said the situation shows a need for better credit programs.

He said the estimated cost of maintaining a beef cow in Texas is $95.64 per year. The calf crop is about 81%. Each calf, then, costs about $117.

Calves weighing 400 pounds at weaning time would have to bring $29.25 per 100 just to pay costs on a rented pasture operation. Interest on owned land investment would increase the cost to a much higher figure.

This illustration, Butler said, shows the extreme pressure under which cow-calf producers operate. Increased fertility of breeding herds, high milk production of dams, and genetic ability for rapid growth are imperative.

"The illustration also points up the need for long term, low interest credit for cattle production," he emphasized.

Many pasture improvements are not made because of lack of funds, the speaker told the estimated 300 persons attending the short course. Credit for such practices is usually short term, whereas the amortization is long term.

"Landowners simply can't operate on this basis," Butler said. "Long term credit at low interest is essential for improvement of Texas' forage lands."

And there is the problem of inflated land value. Butler said rate of return from livestock production based on such land values is usually less than 3%. A greater return often can be had from banks or savings and loan institutions.

As a result, many landowners are selling to the moneyed investors. The investor can buy and improve land either as an investment or as a tax advantage, often as both, Butler pointed out.

He said he believes the greatest improvement in forage production will come from this type of ownership and this type of ownership will continue to increase. This, perhaps, will be the main source of financing in the future.

Prowling 'Gator Becomes Trophy

PARIS.—Alligators aren't all found in the swamps, reports the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. Some of the big reptiles are still found north of what has been thought of as alligator range.

John Lowery, who lives just north of Paris, located one that he made into a trophy. It measured seven feet and was taken from a small lake near the Red River.

DODGE THE RUSHES

Early starts — to the vacation spot and the return trip home — help drivers to avoid peak traffic flow.

Tell of Texas in French, German

AUSTIN.—It's a sincere compliment when a person says of another, "He speaks my language."

The Texas Highway Department today issued two new, full-color travel folders in which Texas speaks the language of Germany and France.

Based upon the enthusiastic acceptance of a similar folder in Spanish, produced by the Highway Department last year, the new German and French folders should enjoy significant appeal.

French and German travelers, anticipating a visit to the United States, will find Texas travel literature in their own language at U.S. Travel Service offices, and on racks of international travel agents, air and steamship lines.

Highway Department surveys indicate that Texas is an increasingly popular destination for European travelers. The new folders are designed to capitalize on that interest, and increase the flow of foreign visitors by speaking to them in their own language. In addition, the folders are expected to create good will for Texas in those other lands.

The new publications will become a part of some two million pieces of travel literature produced and distributed by the Highway Department each year. Copies may be obtained at the Department's eight Tourist Bureaus, or by writing the Texas Highway Department, Travel & Information Division, P.O. Box 5064, Austin, Texas 78703.

Squirrel Crop Hinges on Fall Food Supply

NACOGDOCHES. — Since squirrel hunting in many East Texas areas is more important than the filling for a tooth, Charles Boyd, biologist, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is constantly appraising available food supplies for the bushytails.

The 1965-66 mast crop, especially the acorns that are so necessary for food, has not been a good one despite heavy rains in April and May.

Boyd feels that if the condition continues until September, it might cause detrimental effects on young summer squirrels, thus lowering fall hunting success.

Hunting on wildlife management areas, he says, is expected to be fair for this year. From such places the Department gleans valuable information on several species of wildlife.

Atomic Energy to Test Soil Moisture

McGREGOR.—There's a fascinating machine here that uses atomic energy to measure soil moisture. It's just another example of what a sophisticated science agriculture has become.

The rig sends neutrons out into the soil. By the number that bounce back into a neutron trap, soil moisture can be accurately recorded, says G. W. McLean, A&M researcher in charge of the tests.

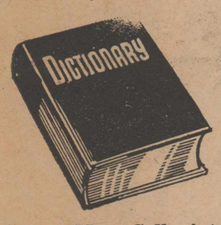

Seamless steel tubes about one and one-half inches in diameter are driven some five feet into the ground. Then a probe containing beryllium-flouride is lowered into the steel tubes. The beryllium-flouride releases neutrons in all directions into the soil. Neutrons are tiny, about one-billionth of a millimeter. They travel out at the speed of light until they hit something, bounce back and are captured in the neutron trap in the probe.

LONG STEP

It takes a full half second—the time it takes a car to travel 42 feet at 60 miles per hour—to move the right foot from the gas pedal to the brake.

Confusion Over Free Speech

Too much eleven-year-old talk and not enough emphasis on responsibility seems to have taken place at the Dobbs Ferry School Board meeting at which free press and free speech were under examination.

These constitutional privileges were under scrutiny because some misguided students had utilized school property to produce a publication advocating the legalization of marijuana. The right to become dope addicts seemed interwoven in this strange exercise of freedoms.

Plainer talk on the part of school authorities and concerned parents might have been more helpful to everybody concerned.

For example, the concept that public school or a classroom are "democracies," in which democratic rights prevail—including our heritage of freedoms—is a basic error.

A classroom is an autocracy in which students are privileged to study under the direction of a teacher and a principal and a school board vested with power to order them to study, and to maintain "law and order" in the classroom and in the school—and no fooling.

When the teacher requires that the class do its homework, vacate the room or proceed to leave the building, that's an autocratic order. There is no room for independent challenge, no opportunity for a vote to obtain majority opinion, no right to strike, no privilege to invoke constitutional freedoms.

Democracy functions in the community because it DOES NOT reach into many situations, like the classroom. A newspaper office, for another example, might be plunged into chaos if reporters or other employees chose to avail themselves of independent rights to act or not to act, to propose referenda about accepting the editors instructions. The armed services, similarly, are autocracies. So are hospitals, supermarkets and a variety of other institutions.

Now as to freedom of speech and of the press, which are guaranteed in the Bill of Rights, in the very first amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

In essence, it is the right to criticize the government. In its broadest sense, it is the right to criticize anyone or anything, and to advocate anything.

Free speech and the free press, however, are complete freedoms only partially—each American is free from all legal restraints in this field PRIOR TO PUBLICATION. He or she cannot be restrained by censorship or injunction or prohibition — in the free society of the mature and responsible world—in advance.

In effect, press freedom means the right of anyone to own a printing press and to print with it anything he or she likes—even if it is unpopular, untrue, or propaganda.

Afterward, however, he or she may be punished for printing something to which society objects — blasphemy, obscenity, libel, subversion, etc.

That is where responsibility is essential — vital to protect the sacred rights of free discussion, free press and the other freedoms.

Responsibility is the key word in the whole situation. To advocate access to narcotics among young people is a vicious anti-social, life-maiming and possibly murderous business. Even if there were not the towering responsibilities of school authorities to stop such nonsense in the bud—as part of the education process—such recklessness merits consequences, even includng suspension or expulsion.

School children can learn about their freedoms without necessarily exercising them rashly — any more than they need to be gravely burned by a hot stove to learn that this is periolous, or to get smashed up in an automobile to discover the wisdom of traffic regulations.

Better inform every young person, in or out of school, in Dobbs Ferry and elsewhere, that harnessed with each of our precious freedoms, is "a big ball of responsibility." Only with that "big ball" can liberty be kept in proper and useful control at all times.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

Mayor Lindsay demands the federals get busy and extort $50 billion from hick towns and farmers over the U.S.A. for him to spend on making New York City an exciting place to live.

My underexcited neighbor says that town must be an awful dull place if it's going to be that expensive to make it exciting.

But he reckons if the Great Society is going to furnish guaranteed incomes and guaranteed doctoring and guaranteed leisure and guaranteed color blending, then it had also ought to furnish guaranteed excitement.

Word is that whole communities are liable to get cut off from any federal benefits and services if some white citizen therein shows color prejudice.

My zip-brain neighbor wants people in our county to keep on getting bank deposit insurance and federal welfare and dam aid and such like, so he is trying to keep it a secret from Washington that he is biased in favor of white socks.

Says he is real happy to note, though, that there haven't been any threats that racist-polluted areas will get cut off from federal Internal Revenue services.

The word has got out around here that numerous wild-eyed and foamy-lipped demonstrative types got heard at a hearing of the House Committee on Un-American Activities the other day.

My ennuiful neighbor says he would like to get in on some of this fun, but his vacation never does come at the right time for it, and he has to work the rest of the year.

Says he reckons that people with time to ruckus and demonstrate must all be non-working leisurites by reason of being rich, or else on public welfare or the Communist payroll or both.

My money-addict neighbor says the New Gospel that massive application of money will overcome any problem, is getting a little set-back.

It has worked pretty good to pay farmers to hold back on raising wheat; and also the lathering of slum guerrillas with federal money, so they will go easy on raising hell, may have helped some.

But promising Ho Chi Minh to build him some dams and cut him in on Urban Renewal hasn't turned him into a peaceful Democrat. Obviously he's either a freak of some kind, or else he's holding out for a federal judge appointment.

Each Sunset Cuts Minute Off Hunting

AUSTIN.—Before dove hunters become involved in a luminous dial crisis, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department suggested taking note of the actual sunset times marking the end of legal shooting.

A hunter down in a draw, in a wooded area, or even in tall vegetation might not notice the actual sunset. And guessing on a cloudy late day also is not recommended for those eager to quit firing within the time limit, noted the Department.

Here then are some typical sunset times for the North zone Sept. 1 opener, with a reminder that the sunset times will change about one minute daily:

Amarillo, 7:14 p.m.; Austin, 6:54 p.m.; Dallas, 6:53 p.m.; Del Rio, 7:07 p.m.; El Paso, 7:30 p.m.; Midland-Odessa, 7:13 p.m.; Wichita Falls, 7:00 p.m.; Northeast Texas, 6:40 p.m.

For the whitewing dove hunters, the sunset times as related to the Brownsville area are Sept. 3, 6:47 p.m.; Sept. 4, 6:46; Sept. 5, 6:45; Sept. 9, 6:41; Sept. 10, 6:40 and Sept. 11, 6:39.

That Skyrocket Band to Exceed 75 Members

That Rocket Band of Wellington High School with a membership of between 75 and 80 will become a reality this year, director James Larson announced with the opening of school.

Two weeks of pre-school drill were completed and the next week will be spent in polishing the band for its first appearance in the parade which opens the big Collingsworth County Free Fair Friday morning, Sept. 9.

That night, the band will perform at the first football game of the 1966 season when the Rockets meet Hollis.

The marching band will number 61, Larson said, an increase of 20 over last year.

This will be an experienced band in many ways. It lost only a few players by graduation and added a lot of youngsters from the junior high band.

Only the high school band was called in for practice before school opened.

The Junior High band held its first session Monday, Aug. 29. When it has its full enrollment it should number around 45, the band director said.

Instruction for the elementary band will begin Monday, Sept. 5, and this group could number anywhere between 20 and 30, according to Larson.

Rolling Plains Cotton Growers Hold Meeting

The second annual membership meeting of the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers was held on Aug. 23 at 2 p.m. in the Stamford high school auditorium.

The principal speaker was F. Wainwright Blease, South Central Area ASCS area director. Blease told the group the 1967 cotton production regulations would seek to maintain a better balance between supply and demand, that producers wishing a price support program would have to cooperate in acreage reduction regulations and that there was little chance of any changes in present skiprow regulations.

Emory Boring, area entomologist, gave a report on the insect survey work just completed and explained the value of the survey for control and eradication work in the future.

Earl Younts of the National Cotton Council gave a comparison of the markets of synthetics and cotton at the present and told of plans for cotton promotion which will begin this fall through national magazine advertising.

Charles Stenholm, executive vice president, presented a resume of the work accomplished in the past year and plans for the coming year, and Bob Hartgrave, CPA gave a report on the 1966 audit.

During the directors meeting, J. B. Cooper, Jr., of Rossoe was re-elected president; Neuman Smith of Ballinger, vice president; and Johnny Hansen of Avoca, secretary. Directors for the ten districts were elected, including Paul Montgomery of Memphis, District 1, and Joe Liles of Childress, District 2.

One Hundred to Ride at Boys Ranch Rodeo

Clowning-around is serious business at a Boys Ranch rodeo, if you happen to be one of the four boys who play the biggest part in making the 22nd annual Labor Day rodeo safe for the young participants.

Nearly 100 boys will be riding professional rodeo livestock, Brahma bulls and broncs, and the clowns will be in the arena to protect them from injury.

Several boys try out for the clown positions each year, just as with the other competitive events. The Ranchers who are chosen have thoroughly demonstrated their skill, agility and speed in practice sessions which are now being held.

One of the most difficult things for a Boys Ranch clown to learn is not to run instinctively to the fallen rider and help him to his feet. Their job is to run between an angry bull or bronc and the boy; divert the animal and hold his attention until the rider is safely clear.

Besides their important functions for safety, the clowns will be riding at different times themselves.

Between acts and during the special "stick-horse" race for the 4- to 6-year-old Ranchers, the clowns will unveil their dual personalities and perform light-hearted antics to add to the entertainment.

The rodeo will be held at 2 p.m., Sunday, Sept. 4 and Monday, Sept. 5. Tickets can be bought in advance from the Boys Ranch office, Box 1890, Amarillo, or at the arena. Reserved box seats are $2.50, general admission is $1.50, and children's and servicemen's tickets are 75¢.

C-C Directors to Meet Monday

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce will meet Monday, Sept. 5 to make final plans for the Collingsworth County Free Fair which opens Friday, Sept. 9.

The board meeting will start at 7 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Texas Cities Seek Funds

AUSTIN.—Officials from major Texas cities, beset with money problems, are calling on the Legislature to allow municipalities a 50-50 split in any new broad-based taxes enacted next year.

Gov. John Connally pledged to recommend "very substantial new sources of revenue" for the cities after a group of metropolitan area mayors conferred with him.

Question as to whether the kind of revenue-sharing plan advocated by the mayors is permissible under the state Constitution will be briefed by the Texas Legislative Council, at the request of House Speaker Ben Barnes.

Cities petitioned for a 50% refund of any increase in the state sales tax or an equivalent amount of any new broad-base tax, with the state doing the collecting and apportioning half of the new funds where paid.

While agreeing to ask the Legislature for financial relief for the cities, Connally declined to spell out the precise form and amount he will seek. He did promise there will be "no strings attached" to his recommendation.

Connally also reported an agreement for regular conferences on urban problems between mayors and top state officials.

What will happen to the cities' request for financial assistance in a legislative session where a state tax bill of more than $200,000,000 is regarded as a certainty remains to be seen.

Some legal authorities don't believe a straight refund is possible without a constitutional amendment, although the Legislature could authorize the cities to levy their own sales tax with the state serving as collector.

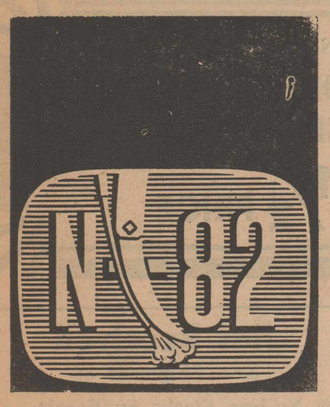

The late Franklin D. Roosevelt's hobby was stamp collecting.

War-on-Poverty Loan Progress Report Given

Over 750 families in Texas found the means to start working their way up from the poverty income level through family Economic Opportunity loans during fiscal 1966, L. J. Cappleman, Farmers Home Administration state director, said today.

Cappleman reported on progress of a lending program administered by the USDA Farmers Home Administration for the office of Economic Opportunity. Ten families in Collingsworth County have received loans under this program, in 1966, according to Jim Chappell, supervisor.

The past fiscal year saw 751 loans totaling $1,258,940 made to rural families in the lowest income group to provide tools, supplies, and working space they need in order to earn a better living.

Since the program began in January 1965 loans totaling $2,548,120 have been made to over 1535 families throughout Texas.

Cappleman said the Economic Opportunity borrowers are following more than 125 different kinds of non-agricultural enterprise, in addition to farming, as a result of the helping hand extended them through the program. Loans average $1659 a family, with a maximum of $2,500 in effect.

"These are loans to families at the bottom of the economic ladder. Nation-wide more than half of them existing on less than $1,500 a year for family living expenses," Cappleman said.

New Mansion for Governor

AUSTIN.—At its initial meeting, the Texas Fine Arts Commission, created by the Legislature in 1965, recommended a new governor's mansion and said the present residence, completed in 1855, should be operated as an historic house.

Gov. Connally has not yet expressed his view on a new mansion. However, last year when the State Building Commission, of which he is chairman, recommended a new $1,000,000 mansion, he differed and recommended that the money be used elsewhere.

Commission outlined a far-reaching program to encourage development of, and participation in, the arts, including traveling exhibits, festivals, nighttime family entertainment in communities, awards, and revived band concerts on the square.

Former Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd of Odessa was named chairman of the new agency.

School Bonds Hard to Sell

Tight money has made it hard for Texas colleges to sell their building bonds. Some still are looking for buyers.

On a third try, buyers were found for the 4% bonds of Angelo State at San Angelo, ($1,200,000); Stephen A. Austin at Nacogdoches ($2,600,000); and Sam Houston State at Huntsville ($2,500,000). But Southwest Texas State at San Marcos and East Texas State at Commerce still need buyers for their respective $2,400,000 and $2,300,000 bonds. Constitutional ceiling of 4% makes the bonds less attractive to investors than other issues bringing higher returns.

Extend Grazing on Soil Bank, Diverted Acres

An extension of haying and grazing on diverted acres and soil bank land has been approved by the Department of Agriculture, Millard Brown, office manager of the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service announced.

The extension is good through Oct. 31.

Mr. Brown explained that those who graze their diverted or soil bank land, or who cut hay from it forfeit $1 per acre per month of their payments for the first two months and 50¢ per acre per month thereafter.

Higher Texas Taxes Assured

Mounting demands of higher education in Texas seem certain to force a tax increase by the Legislature which meets in January.

Budget requests for the 22 state colleges are almost double those of the current two years, in large part because of a need for "catching up."

Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, says that the previous practice of providing money based on past enrollments just won't work. Cash should be provided for the 22 state colleges and the 34 junior colleges on the basis of what their enrollments will be, instead of what they were.

Junior colleges, fast growing as they are, will be some $16,000,000 short of operating money during the current two years. It will take $100,000,000 to put senior college appropriations on a current basis.

Prospects for a surplus in the state treasury of $75,-$80,000,000 have led to talk of increasing college tuition and fees, so students would pay more of the cost.

Red Means You're Wrong

You will be seeing lots of red if you drive the wrong way on a Texas freeway.

In a move to curb wrong-way freeway pileups, State Highway Department is installing red reflector buttons and pavement markers at entrances to interstate and other controlled access highways.

If you see a red arrow pointing at you from the pavement as you enter a freeway ramp, you are entering the wrong way. A straight red line pointing against you on lane lines means you are going in the wrong direction.

Fighting in Holy Land Comes Close to Touring Ministers

(This is the third in a series of articles written by the Rev. Ellis Todd, pastor of First Methodist Church, as he and Mrs. Todd travel through Europe and the Middle East. Earlier articles have described Rome, Cairo, Beruit and Jerusalem and the surrounding areas.)

Monday morning, Aug. 15, early we left Old Jerusalem and it took some time to get us through the gates to the New Jersualem. We spent the morning sightseeing and that afternoon we drove on down to the shores of Galilee. After leaving Jerusalem a way we came through the Plains of Megiddo, and it is a very fertile valley, raising everything that we can—cotton, peanuts, milo and beets—and as we came near the coast, there were all kinds of fruits, bananas, grape vineyards, and the people were much more prosperous. They were using mules and tractors. They bring the water all the way from Lake Galilee, some 350 miles. It looks like our country down in South Texas. You see prosperity everywhere you look. They do not have all the land in cultivation yet, but they are putting it in as fast as they can pipe the water in. They use sprinkling systems. Of course this is a desert land, and huge piles of sand are piling up here and there.

This morning, Tuesday, we drove down to the Sea of Galilea. Got in a boat and rode across the sea, about 9 miles. We visited many of the places where Jesus preached and worked His miracles. I buy slides of these places where I can find them. They only tell you, "Here is where Jesus did this" and in most places they have a church built there. Then we made our way back to Tel-Aviv, where we will spend the night.

We were in a very dangerous spot in the Sea of Galilea. We saw them shoot down a plane and it fell in the Sea of Galilea. We were out for a ride and were only a few miles from it when it was shot down.

We spent the day in Tel Aviv ,left for Athens at 11:00 that night, which was Tuesday, and got to Athens about 2 in the morning. Due to the air strike we are running about 12 hours behind time. We took a 120 mile drive out in the country, sight-seeing, 60 miles to Corinth. About all we saw was olive groves and grape vineyards. We also saw a lot of big ships out in the sea. They say Athens is a very poor country. It is a city of a half million people and I think that all of them were out. Last night we walked around the square. Everyone has something to sell. We are supposed to leave Athens this morning but it will be 10:30 before we can get out, that is 10:30 tonight. We spend half our time waiting for the bus or waiting at the airport. Everything is off schedule everywhere since the strike. We will arrive in Paris in the morning at 3:00.

Several have been sick but they are moving with us. We have seen so much so fast it is hard to keep in mind the most important things. We are supposed to be home Friday, but we may not make it. Tell Deck he may have to preach in my place.

ELLIS TODD.

P.S. No table to write on, just my lap.

$7 Bills Come Out of Prison

HUNTSVILLE.— Officials of the Texas Department of Corrections have completed their investigation into what at first appeared to be a massive counterfeiting ring operating in the Walls Unit.

They're producing $7 bills in the print shop of the Department at Huntsville, and it's legal. However, the money isn't the kind that can be used as cash. Instead, the bill is being used to promote the 35th Annual Texas Prison Rodeo.

Basically, the 7-Buck Bill is a "Return Invitation Note" to The Prison Rodeo of Texas and is being distributed to persons who purchase tickets to the 1966 Prison Rodeo series held here each Sunday in October.

Since the Prison Rodeo's 7-Buck Bill is larger in size than Uncle Sam's official paper money, it is doubtful that anyone will try to cash it.

On the other hand, the clever slogans appearing on the bill will make it an interesting conversation piece.

As an invitation to the "Wildest Show in Texas", there are two important signatures on the front of the bill: "U. R. Welcome" and "Will U. Join-us."

Prison Rodeo officials say that anyone who wants a supply of these 7-Buck bill will find them available at each performance of the Rodeo.

SALT FORK SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

By Bill Gunter

What is the biggest advancement made during this decade in soil and water conservation? Parallel terraces!

Farms are getting larger each year, and as they get larger, farming equipment gets bigger, too. These changes demand changes in terrace systems.

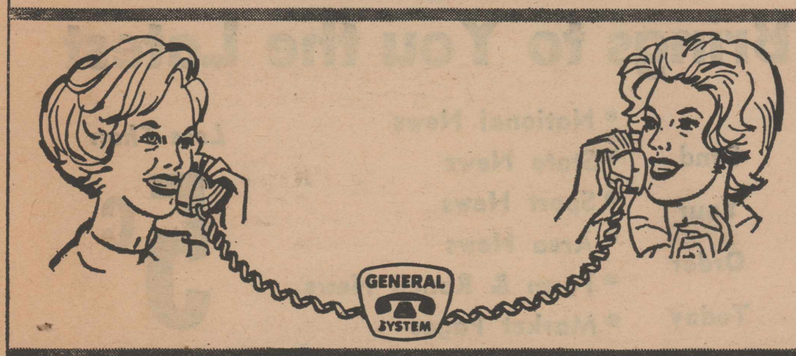

Today, most farming in the Texas Panhandle is done with four-row equipment. The trend is to replace four-row equipment with six-row equipment.

Parallel terraces eliminate most of the point rows and in some systems there are none at all. Wider equipment means fewer turns on the few that are not eliminated.

Soil Conservation Service personnel are laying out parallel terracing systems that will fit four-row equipment now and also fit six-row equipment after the changeover has been made.

Parallel terraces can be cost shared by the ACP program or the Great Plains Conservation program. Additional information may be had from the Wellington Soil Conservation Service offices.

Here's the fast new way to call Long Distance

Give the operator this information and in this order –

1. Area code
2. Called number
3. Called party (if person to person)
4. Then wait until the Operator asks, and give her all seven digits of your telephone number
5. Give your name only if the Operator asks for it

These suggestions speed up your calls because operators are now using a new form of ticket. These "Mark Sense" tickets permit machine interpretation of long distance records, to insure correct billing. Please note: It's no longer necessary to give the operator the name of the town you are calling.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Last week there was a story in the daily papers that was somewhat amusing at first reading but which brought indignation and even fear on more thoughtful consideration. The Veterans of Foreign Wars held a seven hour parade in New York City which went on past midnight. There was the usual fanfare, claptrap and noise that is familiar to anyone who has ever seen a parade of The American Legion or The Veterans of Foreign Wars in a large city. What was perturbing was the vituperative protests from left wingers who in their milder statements protested the intrusion of "these red-white-and-blue interlopers."

★ ★ ★

This parade was authorized—it simply lasted too long. In short a patriotic parade for which permission was granted is not to be tolerated; but it is o.k. when civil righters demonstrate without the semblance of a permit. It is disheartening to realize that there are people and groups who think organized and planned riots—the statements of high officials to the contrary notwithstanding — are to be condoned; but that a parade of men who fought for their country should be forbidden. Communism is stronger in this country than some of us think.

★ ★ ★

Who were these men who were parading past midnight? They were the men who stormed the beaches at Omaha, at Salerno, and at Okinawa. Undoubtedly there were some who fought in Korea and there may have been some from the war in Viet Nam. They were the men who slogged through the jungles, flew the airplanes and manned the ships in defense of our nation. It is disturbing and disgusting to realize that these men were criticized for holding a patriotic parade, while their opposites are encouraged.

★ ★ ★

Better not get in too big a hurry about plowing up that guar you planted on diverted acres. Congress has passed a bill allowing the farmer to harvest guar planted on diverted land and still receive 100% diversion payment. If the Senate passes the bill it will mean a lot of money to the Wellington area for many farmers have planted guar and it looks like the yield will be the heaviest per acre the county has ever had. The bill was passed to encourage the production of non-surplus crops.

★ ★ ★

To a man who farms with a typewriter these so-called surpluses seem something like the old shell game—now you see it and now you don't or the bureaucrat's tongue is faster than the farmer's tractor. The wheat acreage has been increased about one third for 1967 yet it was only two years ago that they were talking about the huge wheat surplus. Grain sorghum acreage may be increased in 1967 for there is not enough grain sorghum even now to meet the demand.

★ ★ ★

Considering our limited acreage we will do our part to fill the gap this fall; because this county will harvest one of the best per-acre grain sorghum crops in the history of farming in this area. Everybody has been talking about how a dying maize crop turned into a far above average yield.

★ ★ ★

Those who like to read about the early days in the Panhandle should get a copy of the 75th Anniversary edition of The Matador Tribune. It is filled with pictures and stories of the pioneers and stories of Motley County and the people who lived there before 1900. The pictures of the pioneers are excellent and those of the Matador cowboys on the range are most interesting. Congratulations to Doug and Lila Meador on a notable achievement.

★ ★ ★

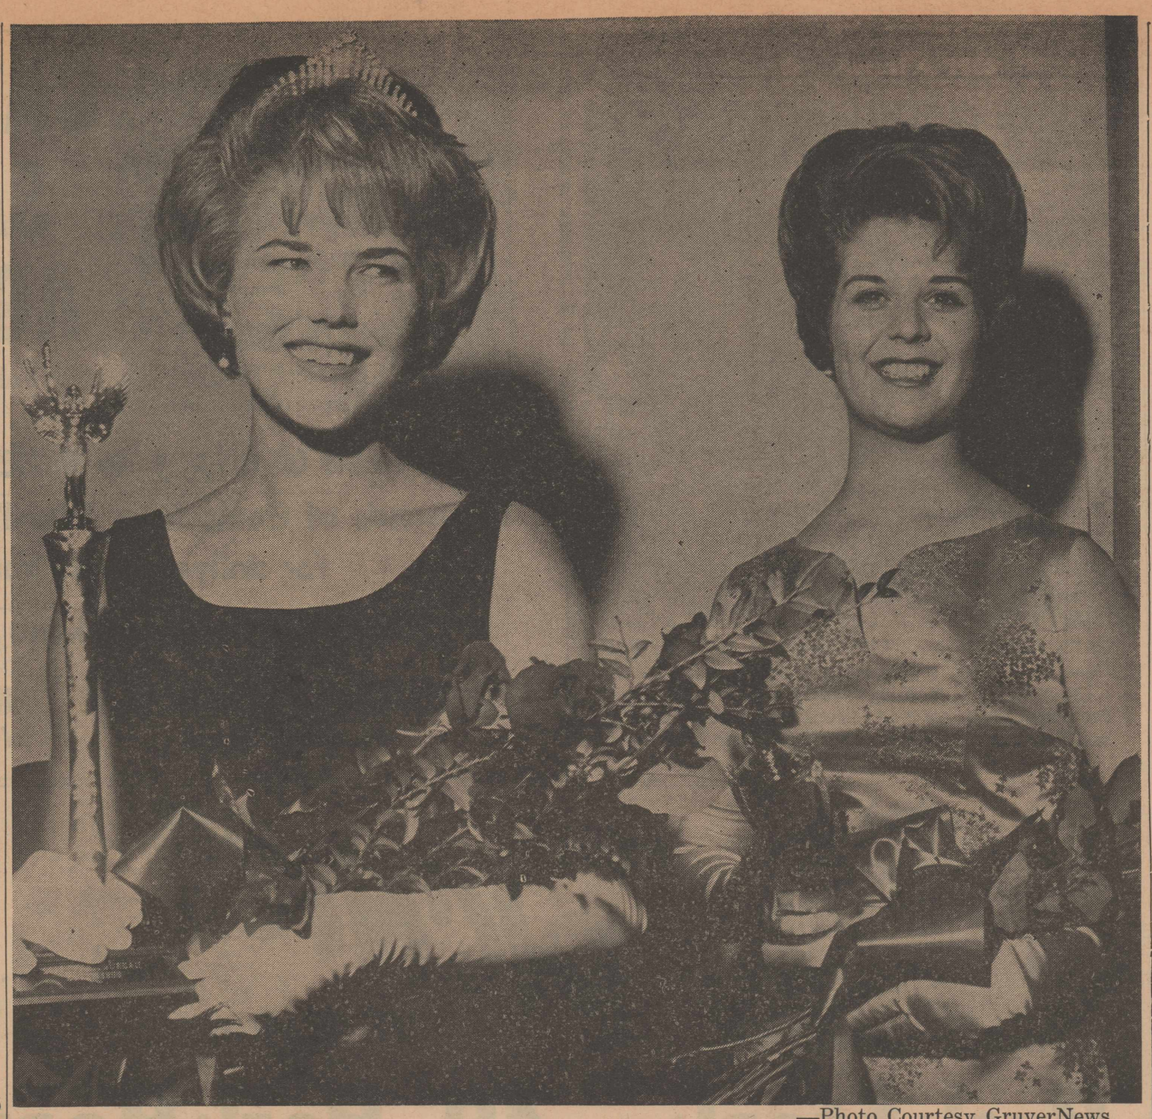

Eunice (Bird) Pickering of Eatontown, N.J., was in Wellington this week visiting friends with her lovely young daughter Sue Ann who looks like a high school student, but actually is working on her Masters Degree. As usual, Eunice was full of talk and opinions. She said she couldn't understand why we were trying to bring in industry to this pleasant friendly community. "You will have an entirely different class of people when you begin to get industries," she said. Yes, Eunice, but we like money and so do our young people and we want something to keep more of them at home. I notice that Mrs. Pickering still lives up there in industrial New Jersey where they pay teachers a higher salary than they do in Texas.

George Henry says we have more things going for us in the Wellington area than we realize. He was contrasting our future with that of the plains where he formerly lived and where the water table is being lowered constantly every year. He thinks that with the distasteful prodding of a few more dry years that there will be many more irrigation wells below the caprock and these wells are recharged annually, he points out.
