Plans Underway For Chamber Of Commerce

(By O. F. REA)

After a lapse of several years Abernathy is trying for a Chamber of Commerce again. On two previous occasions a Chamber was set up and functioned for some time but finally played out from lack of support.

On Thursday of last week some 58 Abernathy business men and women and a representative of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, Executive Vice President John Logan, and Tanner Lane of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, met at Graham's Restaurant for the purpose of hearing Mr. Logan give a talk on the manner of organizing a successful Chamber and keeping it successful.

Following the very interesting and informative talk, former mayor Ed Graham called for a show of hands to see if Abernathy really wanted to make an effort at securing a Chamber of Commerce. Practically every hand went up in response.

2nd Meeting Held

The second meeting was held in the City Hall Club Room Monday at 7:30 p.m., and although due to short notice of the meeting and only 40 persons present, the enthusiasm was even greater than at the first meeting.

Short talks were made by Ed Graham, Andy Reid and Joe Thompson. This was followed by a general discussion and checking of the list of prospective members. The list contained the names of 100 businesses and the amount each would be asked to contribute monthly to the support of the Chamber. These amounts ranged from a minimum of $3.00 to $25.00, depending on the judged ability of each business to contribute.

While no individuals were listed as such, it was brought out that there are many farmers and land owners living in town and the surrounding community who would be glad to help in the support of a live-and-going Chamber of Commerce under good management. Pledge cards were passed out and every business representative present signed a card indicating their support.

After further discussion it was decided to appoint a nominating committee of eight who would contact all businesses listed that were not represented at the Monday night meeting. The list of supporters and the amount suggested for each to contribute would be shown and they would be asked to sign a card indicating their wishes as to support. This would give the committee an indication of the amount of support they could count on initially and they would then proceed with the nominating of officers to be elected at a meeting on Monday, April 6.

It was decided to secure the services of someone familiar with and capable of handling the management of a Chamber of Commerce. After the election of officers and getting organized the matter of securing a manager would be started as soon as possible.

Remember the date of the next meeting, Monday, April 6, and arrange to be present at the City Hall Club Room.

City Ballot For April 7 Is Complete

City Manager Charles Norwood has announced the ballot listings for the annual city election set for Tuesday, April 7, in the city hall clubroom. Three councilmen (aldermen) are to be named in the election.

Three aldermen are to be selected from the following list of names on the ballot: Clifton Newton, owner of Newton Radio & TV; Royce Henson, owner of Abernathy Oil Co.; Cosden Service Station; Bonnie H. Easter Seal Drive Will End Soon

The annual Easter Seal Campaign sponsored by the Lubbock County Society for Crippled Children was launched February 28, Mrs. Rudolph Struve, Abernathy Chairman for the Drive, announced.

Half the returns from the Campaign are given the Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center. The remainder buys braces, crutches, wheel chairs, corrective shoes and transportation to medical centers for needy crippled children whose parents are unable to provide the needed care. Last year over 375 crippled children benefited from the Easter Seal Campaign.

The Campaign will continue through March 29, according to Mrs. Struve. Contributions may be sent to Drawer 1121, Lubbock. Everyone connected in any way with the Easter Seal Campaign donates his or her time so that money received may be used to help crippled children.

The purpose of the Easter Seal Campaign is to provide funds for the care of crippled children so they may learn to walk and to lead happy useful lives.

On Saturday, March 14, a canvass was made of Abernathy by the following Cub Scouts: David Dayenport, Paul Combes, Barry Blair, and Rayway Struve; and Scouts Randy Hendrix and Fritz Struve.

A sincere thanks to all who contributed.

High Plains Textile Mill Announced

RALLS, Texas (Sp.)—Construction of the Texas High Plains first textile mill was announced last week by Jean D. Smith, president of Ralls Tex Mill, Inc.

The Ralls Tex firm is owner of the new building which will house a modern automated textile mill. The masonry and steel structure will include over 50,000 square feet for manufacturing and packaging.

The primary product of Ralls Tex will be the production of cotton bale bagging. Smith said, "At long last a dream of the cotton industry will be a reality—to wrap cotton with cotton competitively."

Ralls Tex recently acquired manufacturing rights to a blending process from Ronald H. Marks of Dallas which will enable them to produce a material using seven parts cotton and five parts other natural cellulose fibers. Exhaustive tests show this new knitted fabric to be more uniform, stronger and presents a more marketable package.

It will be competitive with traditional bagging material, Smith said.

High Plains Counties Receive 140,150 Reapportioned Cotton Acres For 1964

As a result of the 1960 law which permits unwanted cotton acres to be reallocated within a state, the 23-county High Plains area represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., will have an additional 140,150 acres of cotton to plant in 1964. This total represents an increase of over six and one-half percent above the 2,132,499 acre original allotment for 1964, and brings the total acreage available for planting to 2,272,649 acres. This figure is slightly more than three percent greater than the 2,202,553 acres available for planting in 1963.

On a normal year this extra acreage should bring the area some $21,000,000 in gross income from about 140,000 bales of added production.

The total figure of 140,150 acres gained by the High Plains was compiled from information released to Plains Cotton Growers by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office at College Station. The amount compares with only 91,684 such acres in 1963, which is an increase of 34 percent over that year. The law, referred to as Release and Reapportionment, provides for unwanted cotton acres to be released to the ASC committee and then reallocated to those who request increased acreage.

The ASC office first uses released acres to fill requests for additional acres within the county and zone where they were released and the excess acreage is then available for filling applications for increased acreage in other areas of the state. The State ASC Committee slightly rearranged the two zones in Texas for 1964, and this fact accounts for the increase in acres coming to the High Plains area.

Final date for requesting additional acreage through Release and Reapportionment in Zone Two, which covers all of the High Plains, was March 4 and the date for making distribution of the acres to farmers filing requests before that date is March 25.

Limitations placed on the number of acres a county or individual farm was eligible to receive under the 1964 program are as follows:

1. No county or individual farm could be given reapportioned acreage that would bring total acres in cotton to more than 50 percent of the total land in cultivation, nor could a county's base allotment be increased by more than 50 percent.

2. No farm could receive reapportioned acres unless at least 75 percent of that farm's effective 1963 allotment was planted or unless failure to plant the allotment could be explained by weather conditions, illness or other good cause beyond the farmer's control.

3. Farms with less than 15 acres base cotton allotment were limited to a 100 percent increase or an increase to a total of 15 acres, whichever was greater.

4. Farms with from 15 to 24 acres base allotment were limited to an increase of 100 percent or an increase to a total of 37½ acres, whichever was greater.

5. Farms with 25 or more acres of base allotment were limited to an increase of 50 percent of that base allotment.

The reapportioned acres for Hale and Lubbock Counties, together with other pertinent figures for comparison are tabulated below:

Hale County
 "Bonus" acres for 1964, 7,395;
 Original 1964 allotment, 157,532;
 Total 1964 Acreage, 170,071;
 Total 1963 acreage, 160,996; Total acreage gain comparison, 9,075.

Lubbock County
 "Bonus" acres for 1964, 7,395;
 Original 1964 allotment, 215,704;
 Total 1964 acreage, 223,099; Total 1963 acreage, 160,996; Total acreage gain comparison, 3,269.

The school nurse was examining a small, first-grade boy because of a breaking out on his body and arms. She advised him to go home and get into the bath tub and soak himself for about 30 minutes each day.

Going back to the room he paused in front of his teacher's desk long enough to complain, "I don't understand why the nurse would tell me to take a bath because she wears the same old dress to school every day."

VA QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I recently received my GI insurance dividend check. I am now drawing 100 percent service-connected disability, and because of this, I have a waiver on my insurance premiums. Since I do not pay anything into the insurance fund, should I return the check?

A—No. The money is yours as long as you continue to have a 100 percent disability.

Q—May a child in training under War Orphans Educational Assistance Act pursue summer school for about two months during the next two summers without jeopardizing full entitlement for four full school years of college training?

A—It depends. If each regular school year begins approximately September 15, and ends approximately May 15, only eight months entitlement will be used each year, leaving entitlement for enrollment for the two summer sessions. A longer regular school year would leave less entitlement time.

Q—Why was my 1964 insurance dividend so much lower than 1963?

A—The dividend paid in 1963 included a special dividend in addition to the regular dividend. Only the regular dividend was paid in 1964.

They went from there to nearby Prattville, Ala., to tour the plant where Continental Gin machinery is manufactured. They are scheduled to return home Thursday night.

Postmaster Issues Reminder On April 1 Parcel Post Hikes

Postmaster Herman Lambert reminded residents of Abernathy area that an effective date of April 1 has been set for new domestic parcel post rate increases.

The parcel post increase — approved recently by the Interstate Commerce Commission and averaging about 13.1% — is expected to yield about $75.4 million annually.

Catalog rates will be increased approximately 13% and will produce added revenue of about $2.4 million if 1962 volume is maintained.

The higher rates do not affect air parcel post or international parcel post.

Postmaster Lambert said he has been advised by Postmaster General John A. Gronouski that the decision of the ICC will assist the Post Office Department in carrying out its objective of reducing the drain on the Federal Treasury by $100 million.

The last parcel post increase was on February 1, 1960, the postmaster pointed out.

To illustrate the effect on the new rates here, Lambert noted that a six-pound parcel — which is the average weight for local area delivery will cost 37¢ instead of 32¢.

Truman Harrison has moved to 1012 Avenue E.

Taxpayers Should Check Returns

District Director of Internal Revenue, Ellis Campbell, Jr., said that the percentage of correctly prepared returns has increased sharply in the past few years, but numerous simple mistakes continue to show up.

Mr. Campbell said: "The best advice we can give on filing a return is when you complete it, resist the temptation to put it in the mail right away. Set it aside a day or two, then give it a thorough review for omitted income or deductions, errors in arithmetic, printed name and current address, social security number, correct copies of W-2's, signatures."

Quite often, Mr. Campbell pointed out, the taxpayer will find that a review of his return will turn up mistakes he did not notice previously. "It's human nature to want to put the return in the mail immediately," he said, "but a careful review by the taxpayer now may prevent delays in processing your return or the issuance of a tax refund or savings bond."

Mrs. Dale Arthur was taken by Chambers ambulance from Abernathy Medical Clinic to West Texas Hospital, Lubbock.

Mrs. Bill Wolf left Sunday for San Diego, Calif., to be with her brother, Gene Caywood, who suffered a severe heart attack. Gene formerly resided in Abernathy.

COTTON TALK

LUBBOCK—One of the most current and relevant questions to reach this office lately has been: "How did such and such county get more cotton acres from the Release and Reapportionment program than my county?" After much discussion with ASC officials on both local and state levels, we will attempt to explain here the "how" of release and reapportionment for 1964.

The number of cotton acres allocated to a given High Plains county through Release and Reapportionment in 1964 was determined by (1) the total acreage available for reallocation to the High Plains, (2) the total acreage requested by the High Plains, (3) the number of acres the county itself requested and (4) a set of rules drawn up by the State ASC Committee.

Only two of the State Committee's rules had any significant effect on High Plains counties. One of these prohibited an individual farmer from requesting acres that would bring his total acres in cotton to more than 50 percent of his total land in cultivation. The other stated that a county could not request acres in excess of 50 percent of its base allotment. Therefore a farmer with 200 acres in cultivation and a 90 acre cotton allotment could request only 10 additional acres to bring his total to 50 percent of cultivated land. True, he could file for more than that but his county ASC was required to adjust his request back to 10 acres before including it in the total county request to the State Committee.

By the same token, a county with a 50,000 acre allotment could request 100,000 additional acres but the State Committee would consider only 50 percent of the county's allotment, or 25,000 acres.

After all county requests were adjusted in this manner, the total was compared to the total acres available for distribution on the High Plains. It was found that the total available acres came to approximately 20.62 percent of the total asked for, and this factor was impartially applied to each county's adjusted request. Thus if a county's adjusted request came to 1,000 acres, it received 206.2 acres.

Consider three actual examples, in which counties received 3.7 percent, 8.9 percent and 10.2 percent of their base allotments.

LUBBOCK COUNTY farmers filed requests with the local ASC office totaling 234,391 acres. But, Lubbock county cotton allotments already average about 42 percent of cultivated land, so the county office was required to adjust these requests (individually, to keep each within the "50 percent of cultivated land" provision) down to a total county acreage request of only 35,948 acres. When applied to the 20.62 factor Lubbock county got only 7,395 reapportion-

COTTON TALK

LUBBOCK—One of the most current and relevant questions to reach this office lately has been: "How did such and such county get more cotton acres from the Release and Reapportionment program than my county?" After much discussion with ASC officials on both local and state levels, we will attempt to explain here the "how" of release and reapportionment for 1964.

The number of cotton acres allocated to a given High Plains county through Release and Reapportionment in 1964 was determined by (1) the total acreage available for reallocation to the High Plains, (2) the total acreage requested by the High Plains, (3) the number of acres the county itself requested and (4) a set of rules drawn up by the State ASC Committee.

Only two of the State Committee's rules had any significant effect on High Plains counties. One of these prohibited an individual farmer from requesting acres that would bring his total acres in cotton to more than 50 percent of his total land in cultivation. The other stated that a county could not request acres in excess of 50 percent of its base allotment. Therefore a farmer with 200 acres in cultivation and a 90 acre cotton allotment could request only 10 additional acres to bring his total to 50 percent of cultivated land. True, he could file for more than that but his county ASC was required to adjust his request back to 10 acres before including it in the total county request to the State Committee.

By the same token, a county with a 50,000 acre allotment could request 100,000 additional acres but the State Committee would consider only 50 percent of the county's allotment, or 25,000 acres.

After all county requests were adjusted in this manner, the total was compared to the total acres available for distribution on the High Plains. It was found that the total available acres came to approximately 20.62 percent of the total asked for, and this factor was impartially applied to each county's adjusted request. Thus if a county's adjusted request came to 1,000 acres, it received 206.2 acres.

Consider three actual examples, in which counties received 3.7 percent, 8.9 percent and 10.2 percent of their base allotments.

LUBBOCK COUNTY farmers filed requests with the local ASC office totaling 234,391 acres. But, Lubbock county cotton allotments already average about 42 percent of cultivated land, so the county office was required to adjust these requests (individually, to keep each within the "50 percent of cultivated land" provision) down to a total county acreage request of only 35,948 acres. When applied to the 20.62 factor Lubbock county got only 7,395 reapportion-ed acres, or 3.7 percent of its 215,704 acre base allotment.

CASTRO COUNTY farmers requested 56,296 acres from the county ASC office at Dimmitt. After application of the "50 percent cultivated land" limitation, only 22,790 acres could be requested from the State Committee. This times 20.62 percent gave the county 4,701 acres, or 8.9 percent of its 52,905 acre base allotment.

TERRY COUNTY request to the County ASC office came to 239,480 acres. But in this case the county limitation to "50 percent of base allotment" came into play. Terry county's base 141,347 acres, 50 percent of the 70,673 acres. After was made and applied Terry 14,472 acres, of base allotment.

These examples, nation, should be as to "how" real were divided among counties. As to the members of the State committee contend that most fair and equiis also responsible for the cotton base cotton as high as it is now at the 16 million acres in the states, not planted in practically loses to states a better cotton base of East Texas farmers their allotted because they have found it more profitable to raise some other commodity. Release and Reapportionment allows these farmers to release unwanted acreage to their ASC Committee for transfer to other farmers, within the state, who will plant them and in this way preserve the state's history. Otherwise the unwanted acres would be lost to other sections of the country—at the expense of Texas farmers who want and need larger cotton allotments.

Release and Reapportionment is a good program and well worth working to keep alive.

NAHA AB, Okinawa—Technical Sergeant Carl D. Smith, son of Roy Smith of Abertown, Texas, has arrived here for duty with a unit of the Pacific Air Force.

Sergeant Smith, a machine shop technician, came here from an assignment at MacDill AFB, Fla. The sergeant attended Abertown High School. His wife, Geneva, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Scott of Comanche, Oklahoma.

USS MANN (FHTNC)—Marine Private Harry L. Sherman, son of Mrs. Charlotte Robinson of Abertown, Texas, departed San Diego, Calif., March 5 aboard the attack transport USS Mann for duty with the Third Marine Division on Okinawa.

The division is the sea assault force of the Seventh Fleet in the Far East.

Okinawa, only 65 miles long and 2 to 17 miles wide, is about 960 miles from Tokyo and 900 miles from Hong Kong. It is in the Ryukyu chain of islands which stretch about 800 miles along the coast of the Asian mainland.

His tour of duty with the division will be about 13 months. About five percent of the nation's gross national product and employment originates in timber-based activities. Timber increases in value nearly 25 times between the stump and delivery of finished products to the consumer.

Mrs. Roy Matthews called our attention to an advertisement in the March issue of Harpers Bazaar magazine (page 87), showing a little girl dressed in clothes made of Kodel Polyester Fabric. The ad was placed by (The

Mrs. Matthews informed us that this particular dress was designed by Rebecca Ann Clapp, a niece of hers and also a niece of Gordie Clapp, and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clapp who lived in Abertown several years ago.

Rebecca Ann started to school here to Rachel Webb and they later moved to Borger where she graduated from the Borger High. She then entered what is now Texas Woman's University and majored in dress designing. She is now in the employ of Johnston's of Dallas, shown in the ad as the designer of the particular dress shown.

According to Mrs. Matthews, Rebecca Ann showed remarkable talent in art as a little girl and this, coupled with a wonderful imagination, led into the excellent position she now has and the fact that one of her designs was included in an advertisement in a magazine with national coverage.

A & M Animal Husbandry Head Honored By Cattlemen

The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association honored the head of the Department of Animal Husbandry at Texas A&M University with its highest award to climax the 87th annual TSCRA convention in Dallas, March 16-18.

The TSCRA Distinguished Service Award was presented to Dr. O. D. Butler by President Leo J. Welder of Victoria, March 18.

In making the presentation, Welder pointed out that Dr. Butler has made significant contributions to the beef industry as a scientist, a teacher, and an administrator.

"Dr. Butler is well acquainted with all facets of the beef cattle industry," Welder said. "He has conducted research on various aspects of beef production, marketing and consumption, and he is recognized as an outstanding authority in the field of carcass evaluation of beef cattle."

Dr. Butler is the author of a number of technical publications on beef cattle, carcass studies and meat information, and has served as chairman, Research Committee, American Society of Animal Science, and as technical advisor, Specifications Subcommittee, Beef Grading Technical Advisory Committee, American National Cattlemen's Association.

In addition to his duties as coordinator of animal husbandry activities and as a teacher in animal husbandry senior and graduate seminars, Dr. Butler presently serves as advisor on animal husbandry research projects and assists with activities of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

From time to time he has accepted special assignments outside Texas. In 1962 he served as consultant in meat technology for the United States Agency International Development Mission in Buenos Aires, Argentina, for a brief period, and the previous year, he acted as coordinator for a joint program of graduate work with the Foreign Agriculture Service and Consejo de Bienestar Rural in Venezuela.

A native of Orange, Dr. Butler was graduated from Orange High School, and obtained his B. S. and M. S. degrees from Texas A&M University and his doctorate from Michigan State University, in the field of meats. He assumed his present position in 1956.

Dr. Butler is a member of the American Society of Animal Science, Reciprocal Meat Conference, Society of Sigma Xi, Society of Phi Kappa Phi, American Institute of Food Technologists, and Reserve Officers Association, where he now holds the rank of colonel. He also is a member of the Academic Council and Athletic Council at A&M.

Dr. Butler is married to the former Miss Jane Gray of College Station. They have a daughter and two sons.

Hale County Rural Accident Report Given

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 15 accidents on rural highways in Hale County during the month of February, according to Sergeant D. S. Lawson, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for six persons injured and an estimated property damage of $5,910.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county for the first two months of 1964 shows a total of 39 accidents resulting in no persons killed, 18 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $26,440.00.

"Fantastic? Yes, but true," stated the veteran patrol supervisor of this area. In all of its 60-year history Texas reached its darkest hour in traffic fatalities during 1963, with the preliminary death count now standing at 2,703, which is 282 more lives lost than in 1962. Also, this is 92 greater than the previous all time high of 2,611 in 1956. It is estimated that when all reports are received for the year 1963, the death figure from traffic accidents in Texas will reach a staggering count of 2,725.

"The death count for the year 1964 now exceeds 400 which is an 11% increase over the same period for 1963. With these facts in mind, we wish to appeal to all Texans to recognize the seriousness of the traffic situation with which we are faced. If the present 11% increase continues we will kill in excess of 3,000 persons in traffic accidents in the year 1964," said the patrol supervisor.

HEAVY DUTY MACHINE HAS BEEN INSTALLED

Since moving to their new home, the Robison Drapery Shop has added a heavy duty sewing machine to their shop equipment. This new machine will handle heavy upholstery material and does an excellent job of cording which is used extensively in furniture upholstery. They can also do other work as they have several attachments for different kinds of work.

This raises to three the number of machines used in the shop. Also new is a heavy duty draw curtain rod that is very decorative and dispenses with the need for a valance. This hanger rod is new and was only recently brought out by the curtain rod manufacturer.

Postmaster Urges Caution To Avoid Being Defrauded

Noting that mail frauds flit millions from the public annually and are increasing, postmaster Lambert urged today that local residents take care in responding to "offers too good to be true."

Lambert said that he had received information from a postmaster general John A. Grounauki about the problem and that the postal service is pressing a strong drive against quackery by mail, and fraud promotions, gyp-work-at-home schemes and so forth.

Mr. Lambert noted that one of the stiffest prison terms ever administered to a medical "con man" was given to Roy Wright DeWelles, of Pass Christian, Miss., who made an estimated $1.5 million peddling a worthless "oxygen therapy" device known as Detoxa-colon.

In another recent case, Edward H. Johnson was ordered to make restitution of $60,000 to purchasers of worthless desert land near Elko, Nevada.

In Chicago, Beldon Clyde, was convicted of violating 18 USC 1321 which forbids use of the mails in taking of impressions or the manufacture of dentures by other than persons licensed to practice dentistry.

"It should be emphasized," Postmaster Lambert added, "that most businesses doing business by mail are reputable firms, including many that may not be familiar to the prospective buyer. However, if there is any doubt, it is best to get information from reliable sources, such as the Better Business Bureau."

In cases where there is a genuine basis for suspicion of fraud, we would like to have prompt information in my office and I will see that appropriate action is taken."

MOTOR VEHICLE INSPECTION DEADLINE APRIL 15

IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE—The Department of Public Safety urges all motorists to get their 1964 Inspection Stickers before lines start forming at inspection stations.

Motorists Urged Now To Obtain Inspection Stickers

The time is almost here... April 15th is the deadline for having your 1964 Motor Vehicle Inspection sticker displayed in the lower right hand corner of your windshield. Only 50% of the 604,369 registered vehicles in Region No. 5 of the Texas Department of Public Safety have visited safety inspection stations and obtained their 1964 safety inspection sticker, according to Captain Alan Johnson, Motor Vehicle Inspection Service of the D.P.S.

"Residents of Hale County own 34,000 registered vehicles and as yet 16,320 have not been inspected," Johnson said.

"Under the law there can be no extension of the deadline, and motorists who fail to display the new sticker on and after April 15th are subject to arrest," he said. Authority for the enforcement of the provisions of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Act is vested in any Sheriff or Deputy Sheriff and City Policemen as well as the enforcement officers of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

According to Captain Johnson, there are 28 state approved inspection stations located in Hale County, and many motorists are going to find long lines awaiting them as the deadline rolls nearer.

He added, "It is as much a violation to display an old sticker as not to have one at all. The law provides a fine of from one dollar to two hundred dollars plus court costs for operating a vehicle registered in Texas subject to the Motor Vehicle Inspection Act without a valid current inspection sticker."

NEWS from the High Plains Research Foundation

The High Plains Research Foundation has undergone quite a facelift since it first set up shop in Clyde Bray's real estate office in Muleshoe seven years ago. Those seven years have been progressive ones, not only for the High Plains area served by the Foundation, but for the Foundation's appearance as well.

Today, the Foundation boasts one of the most modern centers of agricultural research in the world, and more is in store when a $2 million fund drive now underway over the area is completed this month.

Bulk of the Foundation's facilities are located at the headquarters at Halfway. Offices are housed in the beautiful Killgore Memorial Building which was provided by a gift of the Killgore Foundation and Pioneer Natural Gas Co., of Amarillo, in 1962. The Killgore building also houses the ultra modern plant science laboratory and conference room.

Adjacent to the Killgore building is the Jim Hill Greenhouse, also built in 1962 with funds provided by the Jim Hill Estate of Hereford. The greenhouse enables invaluable research to be conducted throughout the year.

Latest addition, building-wise, to the Foundation picture is the cotton gin and farm machinery building south of the offices at Halfway. The structure was completed last fall. It replaces the building destroyed by fire last winter.

The 20-saw gin housed in the building enables the Foundation to gin its own cotton for testing, a vital factor in the cotton research program.

The building also provides seed storage, out-of-the-weather storage and maintenance facilities for machinery and office space for several of the Foundation staff.

Possibly the most vital facilities of the Foundation, however, not discounting the laboratory and greenhouse, are the two farms on which the research programs are conducted. The Foundation has conducted research on 310 acres at Halfway since 1957 and has virtually all its experiments on the more than 6,000 plots on the farm.

Acreage was more than doubled recently, however, with the purchase of 504 more acres some 10 miles southwest of Halfway. The land, boasting 413 acres in cultivation and three irrigation wells will enable the Foundation to measurably in the future.

Six Flags over Texas will commence its 1964 operating season on Saturday, April 18, according to an announcement by Angus G. Wynne, Jr., President.

Following the opening weekend and for the first time in the popular theme Park's history, Six Flags will be open every Friday evening in addition to a regular Saturday and Sunday spring schedule. Operating hours have been set for 5 p.m. to 11 p.m. on Fridays and 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

"We have inaugurated the Friday evening program in response to a significant number of requests that turned up on our guest surveys during the 1963 season," said Mr. Wynne. "Also, according to the Texas State Highway Department surveys, these days many out-of-state travelers are taking advantage of our balmy spring weather for a three-day weekend rather than two. "Fridays have been busy days at the various highway information bureaus as visitors have already begun to inquire if Six Flags will be open on Friday nights, when they arrive in the Dallas-Fort Worth area," Mr. Wynne continued.

"Another factor was a service to the young people. Now, students and young adults will be able to take their dates and enjoy a special Friday evening of dancing and boater programs in a clean, wholesome atmosphere in addition to the Park's regular rides and attractions," he added.

Six Flags experienced its third straight record breaking year as over 1,400,000 visitors from all 50 states visited the Park in 1963. Attendance forecasts at Six Flags for the 1964 season indicate that the Park will draw an estimated 1,500,000 visitors.

VARIETAL PURITY IMPORTANT IN COTTON PLANTING SEED

What is the single most important factor in purchasing cotton planting seed? The answer most universally agreed upon by agronomists is "varietal purity."

What does it mean to a cotton farmer? Simply, it means the farmer is getting the seed of the variety of cotton for which he is paying. He can be assured of getting genetically pure seed that will, under normal weather conditions, have the same growth habits and produce a uniform product at production levels the variety is capable of producing.

"Varietal purity" guarantees comes only in certified or registered seed.

In addition, the farmer who plants certified or registered seed can be assured:

1. The seed will be graded. 2. The seed will be tested. 3. The seed will be true.

And the farmer can be sure the seed has been grown under rigid standards, and that the seed can be traced directly back to the originator. The certified tag is "the tag on the bag that guarantees the breeding in the seed."

Ask for certified cotton seed at your gin or from your seed dealer.
