

4 Insect Control Meets Planned

Plans for organizing Collingsworth County for boll weevil control will be set before the cotton growers of four communities this week.

Meetings were announced by County Agent Sam Helmers and the schedule will be:

Quail, vocational ag building, Thursday, March 10, 2 p.m.

Sammorwood, vocational ag building, Thursday, 7:30 p.m.

Dodson, Dodson Cafe, Friday March 11, 2 p.m.

Wellington, Farm Bureau building, Friday, 7:30 p.m.

Several plans for boll weevil control will be presented and discussed.

Whatever action is taken will be by the choice of the cotton growers themselves and the men they select to represent them.

These meetings are a follow-up of the county-wide meeting of the cotton growers held on Feb. 22 in which speakers explained the plan by which the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., has almost eliminated boll weevil on the South Plains.

At that time the growers attending voted that an 8-man committee would be named to handle any insect control program in Collingsworth County for 1966-67. Two men from each community will be named in the meetings this week.

There will be a discussion of the plan which the local growers feel may be more adapted to this county.

Those attending will hear an explanation of the control program based on uniform delayed planting dates and early and late spraying.

Helmers explained that under the delayed planting dates, all cotton in an area is planted in late May or early June, and the first crop of boll weevil emerges before there are any squares for them to lay eggs in. Thus an entire generation of boll weevil is missed.

Two sprayings are made at this point and two more in the late summer to kill boll weevil that might winter over.

The cost of various control methods will be brought out in the meetings and discussed. One alternative to be investigated will include hiring an entomologist who will keep careful check on the fields of this county during the boll weevil season.

Control would then be carried out by the growers on an individual basis.

Since these are organizational meetings for the election of committee members, Helmers urges that all cotton growers attend.

March 17 is Deadline Under Voting Law

Midnight Thursday, March 17 is the deadline for voter registration under the new law that supplants the poll tax system, Rita Owens, county tax assessor-collector warned this week.

Through Monday, 21 persons who had not paid poll taxes had registered with Mrs. Owens.

The requirements for voter registration are the same as the old requirements for paying a poll tax. However, those who paid poll taxes during the regular period which ended Jan. 31 do not have to register under the new set-up, it was pointed out. Those who have passed their 60th birthdays and were "overs" under the poll tax regulations do not register either.

Demo Committee Sets Location of N-Wellington Box

The county Democratic Executive Committee, meeting Friday, March 4, changed the location of the North Wellington voting box so it will be in that precinct, then drew for places the county and precinct candidates will occupy on the ballot for the first Democratic Primary.

The new location of the North Wellington voting box will be at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Paul Spillman, county Democratic chairman, called attention to the law that states a voting box must be in the precinct which it serves. The North Wellington polling place has been in the county courthouse, although the precinct line runs down the middle of Eighth Street—on the north side of the courthouse.

It was brought out by committee members that because of the large number of older

Facts in Perspective Stressed for Teachers

It is not enough that students be taught facts, important as that is, but it is even more important that they learn how to use those facts.

With this, Min. Grandol Forehand set the theme for his talk before members of the Collingsworth County Teachers Association in its dinner meeting at Quail Monday night, March 7.

Min. Forehand of the Church of Christ in Wellington was the guest speaker. Mrs. Robert Dwight of Samnorwood, president, was in charge of the meeting and vocal selections were given by the Quail high school girls choir directed by Joe Lennon.

The minister pointed out that in addition to knowledge of the facts, these need to be presented in their proper perspective.

Next the teachers were reminded they must direct the development of citizenship and social awareness, which might be summed up in the word "character." There is a need for impressing the students with the necessity of vigor and industry and enthusiastic work.

"There must be a development of genuine warmth and altruism, a sensitivity to the needs and feelings of other people," Min. Forehand said.

"The problems that exist today are due to our failure to be sensitive to the feelings and the ambitions of other people."

As his final point he said: "There is a need for the development of individuality, the development of self confidence that enables the student to think for himself."

"That isn't to make him a non-conformist, but to help him conform to principles of real value on the basis of his own understanding and thinking."

In closing, he told the Collingsworth teachers: "I realize these are not new ideas at all, but they are aims which you have all held and do hold."

Approximately 65 teachers and guests attended.

Church Leader Speaks Thurs. for Nazarenes

Dr. Edward Lawlor will be the special speaker for services slated for the Church of the Nazarene Thursday, March 10 at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Lawlor, who is the executive secretary of the Department of Evangelism for the Church of the Nazarene will be here to hold services that will see people from several Nazarene Churches in this area participating.

The services are emphasizing the need of evangelism and this is one service of several to be included in a tour of the Abilene, Texas, District of the Nazarene Church.

Also on the tour, Dr. Lawlor will be accompanied by the Rev. Raymond Hurn, district superintendent, and the Rev. Ron Lush, who will be in charge of the music. Rev. Lush is on the faculty of music at Pasadena Nazarene College and will be leading a group of area teenagers in a choir.

Rev. Ronald Crosby, pastor of the local Church said that all interested persons are invited to attend.

Two Die, One Injured in Head-On Collision

Collingsworth County had its first traffic fatalities of 1966 Monday, March 7, when a Childress couple died in a head-on collision 7.4 miles south of Shamrock on US 83.

The accident occurred at 6:55 p.m.

Dead on arrival at Shamrock General Hospital were Mrs. Velma Murray Givens, 67, and her husband, John Kenneth Givens, 73, of 808 Avenue G NW, Childress. Mrs. Givens was identified as the driver of the 1961 Buick, according to Highway Patrolman Dave Croslin.

In critical condition in the Shamrock hospital is Sam Scott, 63, who farms in the north part of the county. He was alone in a 1965 Chevrolet pickup.

Mr. Scott has a broken pelvic bone, several broken ribs, a broken hip, and severe cuts over his body, according to his brother, George Scott. He was en route to his home from Wellington.

Mrs. Givens was driving south.

Patrolman Croslin said that the accident was witnessed through the rear-view mirror by the driver of an out of state semi-trailer truck-tractor who was ahead of Scott.

Croslin praised the truck driver who put out flares which prevented another car from crashing into the wreckage. He also made a statement to the officer. At the truck driver's request, his name was withheld by the Highway Patrol.

Even so, one car skidded to within about 15 feet of the wreckage before coming to a stop, according to Croslin. The highway was blocked for approximately 45 minutes.

Seven File as Candidates for City Council

Seven candidates filed for the four places on the Wellington City Council before the deadline Saturday night, March 5, City Secretary Russell Yates said.

Five of these are seeking the three regular terms of two years and two are running for the one-year unexpired term created by the death last summer of Councilman Quinton Brewer.

The three incumbents are asking re-election. They are Leon Hartman, Bobo Castleberry and Henry Sullivan.

Others who filed were Mack Bush and Tom Wilkins. Those who poll the three highest votes will be elected.

Hurshel Tyler and Howard Holton filed for the unexpired term.

The election will be held Saturday, April 2.

John Gordon Ross

Norwood Youth Alternate to Naval Academy

John Gordon Ross, 17-year-old Samnorwood high school senior, has been nominated an alternate for appointment to the United States Naval Academy by Congressman Walter Rogers.

The nomination of one principal and two alternate candidates to each of the four appointments to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland; three appointments to the Military Academy at West Point, New York; and two appointments to the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colorado, were made by the 18th District Congressman.

The young Samnorwood alternate is the son of Mrs. Helen Ross of Dodson.

His teachers say that John Gordon initiated his application for the appointment last spring without any assistance from anyone. One or two of the faculty learned that he was seeking the place, but few of

Mrs. Wayne Cudd to Head Cancer Crusade in April

Mrs. Wayne Cudd is chairman for the 1966 Cancer Crusade, which will be conducted through Collingsworth County and the nation during April.

Before that date, the Crusade here will be organized and workers will be named, Mrs. Cudd said.

The drive this year is twofold. Each volunteer will distribute to her neighbors educational material telling of the advances made in the fight against cancer and how a person can best protect his own life from the disease, then she will appeal for much-needed funds.

"The Cancer Society seeks these funds not only to carry on at present levels but to enlarge its research, education and service programs and give us more effective control of cancer," Mrs. Cudd said.

"That is why, during April, we will once again ask your help. In this way, you, too, can fight cancer."

The Science Clubs of Dodson and Arnett schools will be the guests of the Dodson Co-op Enterprises on a visit to Lubbock enterprises concerned with the cotton industry. The trip will be made Friday, March 11.

Ed Crowder, the Co-op manager, said the group will visit the Plains Cotton Co-operative laboratory, which handled 1,150,000 bales this year.

Another visit will be to the cotton spinning laboratory at Texas Tech, where a complete spinning, weaving, dying and testing operation is set up.

The third stop will be at the Co-op Cotton Oil Mill and Compress.

Rotary Hullabaloo

Close Up View of Far Out Music Promised

Far-out music, some so far out it's perched on a limb, comes to Wellington when the Rotary Club stages its big Hullabaloo Thursday evening at the high school auditorium.

Curtain time is 7:30 p.m.

A few of the program numbers were announced by Bill Moseley, Rotarian who is handling the arrangements.

Three groups will draw attention, with Sharon Daves serving as drummer for all three.

First there's the Has Beens, a group of Wellington business men who are Jeff Wilson, Fred Saied, Earl Lynn Bartlett, Elmer James and Robert Gosnell and Sharon Daves.

The Left Overs are a little young for their title and their music is lively. They are Cleland Stallings, Dan Hatch and John Abernathy, with Sharon again appearing.

The Sonics will come from Quail and are Earl Feenster and Dale Morris, with Sharon returning on the drums.

Ten Go-Go Girls, led by Linda Richardson and Becky Brewer will demonstrate such up-to-the-second dances as the watusi, frug, mashed potato and whatever else may make its debut between press time and Hullabaloo time.

"We urge people to attend the Pancake Supper the Band Boosters Club is giving at the Cafeteria, then come on down to the auditorium and see an hour and a half full of fun," said Moseley.

This is a benefit event and the proceeds will go into the Rotary treasury for several school-related projects the club sponsors.

County Spellers Compete for Top Honors March 15

The annual Collingsworth County Spelling Bee will be held Wednesday, March 16 at 10 a.m., Don Van Pelt, county school counselor, announced this week.

The Bee will be in the county court room and the public is invited to attend.

The spellers themselves will report to the office of B. W. Beard, county superintendent, prior to the contest.

Eliminations will be held in the county schools prior to the spelling bee, and each school is eligible to be represented.

Mrs. Ben Ratliff of Wellington high school will pronounce the words and there will be a judge from each of the participating schools, Van Pelt said.

There will be two divisions, as in the past, junior and senior.

The winner of the senior division will compete in the District Spelling Bee at Amarillo in April and the winner will participate in the national contest in Washington, D.C.

The 1965 senior winner was Janice Gosnell and the junior winner was Kittie Cooke. Both attend school at Quail.

Thirty-Two Voices Sing Out

Wellington School Choir Makes Debut in TIL Competition Thurs.

The 32-voice Wellington high school choir will enter its first Interscholastic League competition Thursday, March 17 at Canyon, director James Larson announced this week.

"We feel we have had a good year, no matter the rating we get," Larson declared, pointing out that only eight of the group were members of the choir last year. "They have made a lot of improvement," he added.

A number of these students were members of the Booker T. Washington Chorus and took part in competition with choruses from other Negro schools during that period.

The choir will have three contest numbers, all of a religious theme. These are Mendelssohn's "We Come Unto Our Father's God," "O Come Loud Anthems Let Us Sing," based on the 95th Psalm, and the final number which will be sung a capella, "Adoramus te Christe," by Palestrina.

ASCS Meeting on Reporting '66 Work Set

A meeting will be held on March 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the district courtroom, Wellington, to explain the farmer certification method of reporting performance under the 1966 program, Millard Brown of the ASCS office announced.

Since the farmers are responsible for measuring their own crops, computing the acreages and reporting performance to the ASCS office, this meeting is being held to give them information on how to measure and report their acreages. However, the ASCS office will provide a measuring service to those who desire it and pay the cost thereof. April 1, 1966 is the final date to make a request for measuring wheat and barley acreage, Mr. Brown pointed out.

All performance reports on the wheat measurements must be turned in to the ASCS office by May 1.

The ASCS office is now ready to accept reports on wheat acreages for those who can determine the final acreage of wheat for harvest at this time. The office will be glad to assist farmers in computing the acreages from the aerial photo or by the ground measurements presented.

County Teachers Attend District TSTA Friday

Collingsworth County schools will be dismissed Friday, March 11 in order that the teachers may attend the annual convention of the Northwest Texas Conference for Education, District IX, Texas State Teachers Association, in Amarillo. Children of the county will have their traditional holiday.

The theme this year is "Education for Peace and World Understanding," said Mrs. Robert Dwight, president of the Collingsworth County TSTA.

Some 3,000 teachers from the area will attend.

The principal speaker will be Joseph E. Burger of Pasadena, Calif., director of sales and public relations for H. V. Nootbaar Company. He will speak on "How to Get Better."

Besides the principal address there will be sectional speakers covering the curriculum offered in Panhandle schools.

In the cast are Jackie Barton as Sarah, Leslie Covey as Deborah, Sharon Blackshear as Abigail, Danny White as Nicholas, and Cleland Stallings as Goodman Gutch.

WTU Wins 6th Annual Safe Driving Award

For the sixth consecutive year the employees of West Texas Utilities Company have won the coveted Bureau of Safety Motor Vehicle Accident Prevention Contest awarded annually to the electric utility company having the lowest accident frequency rate. This is unprecedented, for no other operating company has approached the record of WTU.

In 1965 WTU employees drove 338 motor vehicles a total of 1,377,392 miles for a record of 3.16 chargeable accidents per 1,000,000 miles. This was a substantial reduction from its 1964 rate of 4.63. The average rate for all contestants was 6.63, and the estimated rate for all electric utility companies is 10.51.

Lyle A. Westrom, Bureau vice president, said in a letter to R. W. Hardy, WTU president: "We offer our warmest congratulations to you and your employees for this remarkable safety achievement and wish you continued success in the future."

"We have been pleased that your employees were not satisfied with being in first place so long, but have actually made a sizeable reduction in an already excellent driving record."

Roff Hardy expressed his appreciation to company employees for their safe driving habits and their concern for the public's safety and welfare in the operation of WTU vehicles.

THE "PSY" AND "PROP" WAR

The extent to which the Viet Nam conflict is accompanied by a battle of propaganda—with words and ideas in fierce and bitter psychological struggle for men's minds—becomes more evident daily.

Men are not killed with paper bullets, it is true, but the evil purposes of Communism make the struggle as much concern to the world as if every living person were on the battlefield.

Russia spends at least $2 billion annually (and no one knows how much more that cannot be traced) on propaganda that intends first to confuse, then capture the minds of men.

Our efforts to counter these effects have lagged far behind. Our officials in South Viet Nam have spoken frequently of our need there for creating a "will to win" on the part of the South Vietnamese. A recent study made there by the U.S. Army has showed that the most essential ingredient in bringing the war to an end is confidence of the part of the Vietnamese peasant that freedom's way, rather than the way of the Communists, is the way for him. Not every peasant has chosen, although our increasing military and civilian aid is providing encouragement.

But is this not the same problem, in fuller scale, that the world faces? Not all have chosen. Some in Europe, some in South America, and even some in the U.S., have failed to place sufficient confidence in the ascendant desire of men everywhere to confront tyranny and win their struggles for freedom.

We ourselves, as the leading free nation, stood by while China went into bondage. We extended no help to the Hungarians in their bloody and courageous revolt. We were confused and intimidated at a time when we could have helped the Cuban people remain free.

It was perhaps the success of Red propaganda in America that required President Johnson to meet Premier Ky in Hawaii for reassurance. And the mileage that the Reds got out of their gimmick of sending a Yale professor to see Ho Chi Minh! One can expect some sentiment from poorly informed persons who call for an end to the war by negotiation when there is nothing to negotiate.

Among the draft-card burners and street demonstrators one discerns the Soviet and Peking influence. But the fuzzy focus of 15 Senators who asked President Johnson not to resume military pressure on North Viet Nam is most amazing.

One cannot help but wonder whether the "peace offensive" that included a pause in bombing North Viet Nam was actually achieved by Moscow through its varied agitation and propaganda pressures. All avenues must be explored, no stone left unturned that might prevent our reaching the conference table, they were saying. Let us "cease fire" for a while longer, to see what happens, the clamor went on. All the while, the pause was being used by Russia to move up-dated SAM (surface to air) missiles around the Hanoi-Haiphong industrial and shipping complex.

The Associated Press help-out with an "interpretative" background story about the deposed Khrushchev, who sparked the Red fuss with Peking after an effort to de-Stalinize the Communist Party and open new vistas of a more peaceful, abundant life to his people.

Lippman and lesser pundits went all out. Even President Johnson held out the bait during the "peace offensive" of more trade with Moscow and its satellites, and Senator Fulbright spoke of Red nations which might possibly "abstain from hostile activities against non-Communist countries."

These are false hopes, whatever else such views may be. No Communist leaders are going to do anything except seek the downfall of free nations, regardless of whether the plays are called from Moscow or Peking. The quickest way to world conquest by overthrowing capitalist countries is the goal of world Communism, and it more and more appears that they are learning to achieve it with far less cost and trouble than we assume in our efforts to prevent it.

Their propaganda costs are only a fraction of our military outlays, and such tricks as the "cease fire" were made to work in China when Chiang was ousted and against us in Korea.

Russia's propaganda machine is working overtime to impress gullible Americans with her peaceful intentions.

More Hibernating Weevil Found

Surveys in 7 southern states indicates more boll weevils are in hibernation this winter than last in some cotton growing areas. USDA entomologists co-operating with state agencies made the surveys.

In central Texas, more weevils entered hibernation in the fall of 1965 than in any year since 1960 but the increase was slight. Up from 4,406 weevils in 1964 to 4,425 in 1965.

Kansas produces one-fifth of the nation's winter wheat.

Irrigated Crop Returns Studied

Research at the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway has proved that time of irrigation on the crops grown in this area is more important than just putting on water. Due to the physiological growth of plants, there are times when the water is more beneficial than at other times. Proper timing of irrigation in balance with the correct fertilizer level appears to be one of the answers to maintaining high yields on less water and with added income.

James Valliant, water engineer, says that high yields alone might not make the most money. With his research at the High Plains Research Foundation, he is working toward the most economical return per dollar invested. With this in mind, Valliant's research is geared toward developing the highest practical irrigation efficiency in the production of crops.

Irrigation methods developed by the Foundation are based on the stage of growth of the crop and its water requirement at that stage. This, along with the proper fertilizer balance, will give the farmer the highest net return per dollar invested.

In a recent study at the Foundation, Valliant found three irrigations, including pre-plant, along with the proper fertilizer, gave the highest return in net dollars with grain sorghum. Plots with additional irrigation had higher yields, but lower net returns.

The Foundation's irrigation research program under Valliant has been extended to cover all of the principal crops grown in Texas. With each of the different crops, timing of the irrigation water has made the difference of profit or loss.

Rural Electric People

Payrolls In The City

Each year, rural electric people all over the nation buy more than a billion-and-a-quarter dollars worth of electrical equipment and appliances—and this is only a fraction of the annual total of goods and services produced in the towns and cities and bought by rural electric people.

Workers and businesses feel this rural electric purchasing power where it counts—in their pay envelopes and cash registers.

We are proud of the part we play in helping to keep this nation's economy strong.

If the first part of your vehicle identification number is here, you might be a winner.

Here's how it works. Look at the first symbols (the prefix) on your vehicle identification slip. Then look at the symbols listed above. If you find yours on the list, you've taken the first step toward being a winner. Now go see your Buick dealer. He has a list of 72 winners posted in his showroom. If you see your entire vehicle identification number on the poster—the symbols plus the rest of the numbers—$2332 cash is yours. (If your prefix isn't listed in this ad, don't give up. Your numbers may have been posted during the past few weeks. And every week there are 72 new winners posted on the showroom wall. So watch for next week's list of new symbols in this newspaper.) No slogan to invent, no puzzles to solve. In fact, you don't even have to own a Buick to have a winning number. While you're in the showroom, get a good look at the Buick Special. The $2332.00* happens to be its price. *Manufacturer's suggested retail price for Special V-6, 2-dr. coupe. Price includes Federal Excise Tax and suggested dealer delivery and handling charges. Contest Rules. Residents of Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska may, if they prefer, send in a postcard to R. L. Polk and Co., P.O. Box 1347, Detroit, Michigan 48231 and receive the weekly list of winning numbers by mail for comparison with their own vehicle identification number. An official entry form will be included. Sweepstakes limited to persons over 21 living in the continental U.S. Not valid in Florida or states where prohibited by law.

Excelsior Hears O'Neill Play Review

Miss Rose Shadid was hostess to members of the Excelsior Club in her home Thursday night, March 2.

The members heard a review of Eugene O'Neill's tragedy, "Desire Under the Elms," set in New England. The story tells of stern and tyrannical Ephraim Sabot, of the two wives he buried long ago and the young third wife, Abbie; of the two sons who left earlier to join the California gold rush and the youngest, Eben, who stayed at home and fell in love with Abbie. Against the background of struggle for possession of the farm, the story builds in tension to the murder by Abbie of her child.

Yellow and white were used as the color scheme in decorations and appointments of the refreshment table. Those attending were Miss Bonnie Willis, Mrs. J. F. Michael, Mrs. Denver Powell, Mrs. E. F. Bartlett, Miss Dorothy Robertson, Miss Marie Shadid and the hostess, Miss Rose Shadid.

A music education major, Mrs. White is the piano student of Prof. Norden. She began her music studies as a small child in Wellington, studying with Mrs. John Harper. She continued her studies in Abilene Christian College and West Texas State University, before she and her husband, Tony White, transferred to Southwestern.

Mrs. White's program will be:

Sonata No. 9, Op. 14, No. 1 by Beethoven.
La Soiree dans Grenade from Estampes by Debussy.
No. 1 from Suite, Opus 14, by Bartok.
Intermezzo, Opus 117, No. 2 by Brahms.

Federated Clubs Hold Second Annual Friendship Tea for Newcomers

National Friendship Week for the clubwomen of Collingsworth County was observed on Sunday, March 6, with the Wellington City Federation of Women's Clubs as host.

This was the City Federation's second annual Friendship Tea honoring newcomers to Collingsworth County. Invitations were delivered in person by the clubwomen to the new women in this area.

Theme of the tea was the "Federation Friendship Rose". Guests entered a "friendship gate" entwined with blue and gold "roses" and in the receiving line were City Federation president, Mrs. Mack Bush; Belles Lettres president, Mrs. Coy Vaughan; Domestic Science president, Mrs. John Coleman; Excelsior Club president, Mrs. E. F. Bartlett; Samnorwood Young Matrons Club president, Mrs. Ralph Owens; 1954 Study Club president, Mrs. Edward White; 1954 Study Club president, Mrs. Paul Spillman. Mrs. Sherrill Beanland represented Dodson Civic Club in the absence of its president, Mrs. J. T. Bogle.

At the registration tables were tripods of rosebuds, holding the registration sheets of blue. These tables were covered with floor length white net cloths. A white floor standard with tapers and "federation friendship roses" lighted this area. The entire clubroom of the Bura Handley Community Center was lighted by candles in similar floor standards. Centering the room were the standards and elevated baskets of the blue and gold "federation roses."

Virginia Patterson of Dodson played piano selections in a candlelight and roses setting.

A flower-decked sign said "Welcome" near the refreshment area. The serving table was covered with floor length white net. Gold punch with floating blossoms was served at either end of this table by Mrs. M. J. Stowell and Mrs. Howard Riggs. A diagonal arrangement featured two long contemporary sprays of the "federation friendship roses" parallel to many graduated tapers of blue.

City Federation officers are president, Mrs. Bush; vice president, Mrs. Clyde Drake; secretary, Miss Hattie D. Wells; treasurer, Mrs. Jennie Holcomb. On the Friendship Tea planning committee were Mrs. John Coleman, Mrs. Bob Highower, Mrs. Bob Stephenson and Mrs. Bob Goforth. Others in the house party were delegates to City Federation and members of affiliate clubs.

Clubwomen and newcomers attended from Dodson, Samnorwood, Quail and Wellington.

Domestic Science Honors Member, Hears of Civil Defense Needs

The Domestic Science Club paid tribute to Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, a member longer than any other woman, in its meeting Thursday, March 3, when she was selected the club's nominee for National Federation of Women's Club Diamond Jewel.

This is in connection with the national federation's diamond jubilee. Mrs. L. C. Hill presented the silhouette of Mrs. Stevenson.

Mrs. Troy Thomason was hostess to the members in the club room of the Farm Bureau building and she also presented the program on defense against atomic attack.

"We understand too little about radiation and fallout and we fear too much," Mrs. Thomason said.

"Every person should find the safest place he has in his home and make it his family shelter for their survival," she continued.

Mrs. Thomason recommended that each family get an emergency food and water supply to last two weeks, counting a half gallon of water per person and he should have food that needs little or no cooking.

"He should have plenty of material to read, games, etc., for entertainment. A complete first aid kit is necessary, because you will be your own doctor," the speaker said.

"Each shelter should have a battery radio, for it will be your only contact with the outside."

Mrs. Thomason pointed out that each person should be well informed on atomic attack and radiation and should know the dangers, but should not panic. She recommended that each family have a survival plan and practice it, so if atomic attack comes, each member will know his responsibilities.

"You will have to depend on your local Civil Defense, to keep you informed by radio," Mrs. Thomason continued. "Community shelters should be provided for hospitals and schools. In case of an attack, the community should be deeply concerned about fire protection, food management, and how other vital government services will be continued."

To conclude her talk, Mrs. Thomason pointed out the good points of radiation, especially as it helps man through medicine.

Mrs. John Coleman, president, directed the business session and Mrs. Deskins Wells gave the treasurer's report.

Those attending were Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Clyde Drake, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Jerry Nix, Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Farris Wood and Mrs. Thomason.

Bryan Hatch and Mike Johnson, students of Texas Tech at Lubbock visited with Bryan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hatch last week end. Mike is from San Antonio.

AUGUST WORST MONTH

In recent years, more motor vehicle deaths have occurred in August than in any other month. In 1964, 4,810 persons died in car accidents during August, almost 4 percent more than in October, which had the next highest toll.

There is room for 40 people to stand at one time on the Statue of Liberty's head.

Shamrock Ready for St. Pat's Day Events

SHAMROCK—This Irish Capital of Texas is extending a warm, western welcome to the neighboring cities, towns and communities to attend the 20th annual St. Patrick's Day Celebration on Thursday, March 17.

Launching this year's Irish Festival will be the Honorable John Connolly, popular governor of the Lone Star State, who will be guest speaker at the Pre-St. Patrick's Day Banquet scheduled Wednesday evening, March 16 at the Armory.

Everyone is invited to attend the kick-off event and hear the Texas Governor. Tickets, priced at $2.50 each, may be reserved by calling the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce.

The governor will remain overnight in Shamrock and view the gigantic Irish Parade at 11 o'clock St. Patrick's Day morning.

Featured in the parade will be some 30 elaborately decorated floats and a dozen or more bands and drill teams. The Irish Band Festival will be underway all day at the high school auditorium.

The downtown sound stage will be the scene of continuous program features throughout the day, ending with an Old Fiddlers Contest late in the afternoon.

Western entertainment at the Sheriff's Posse Rodeo arena will include contests in headin' and heelin', calf roping and jacks barrel racing.

Twenty-two beautiful colleens are competing for the title of Miss Irish Rose, who will be crowned in an impressive ceremony of coronation at the Armory in the afternoon.

The celebration will end on Thursday night with two dances. Willie Lo-Max and His Orchestra of Amarillo will furnish music for the regular St. Pat Dance at the Armory. Playing for a dance at Shamrock Skating Rink will be the Velasquez Bros. Orchestra of Wheeler.

Mrs. Ola Mae Smith returned to Wellington from a three months vacation which she spent with her son and his family, Wilbur E. Smith of Savannah, Ga., and her sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Young of Lamesa. Mrs. Smith spent two months with her son in Georgia and one month with her sister in Lamesa.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Watkins will leave this week for Camden, Ark., to visit her brother, Ralph Lewis.

Walleye Samples Are A-Okay

Panhandle fishery personnel set their nets in 40 to 50 feet of frigid water in Lake Meredith and caught 42 frisky walleye with their stomachs full of tiny shad, according to project leader Lonnie Peters.

Apparently growing steadily, most of the 42 fish caught were 10 inches long. When released less than a year ago these 10-inch specimens were about the size of mosquito larvae.

One walleye caught weighed over 3 pounds and was 19 inches long. Biologist Peters surmised that the large walleye had come downstream in the Canadian River from New Mexico where walleye have been growing for a number of years.

Program Calls for Eliminating Cotton Boll Weevil This Year

A series of meetings of much importance to the Collingsworth County cotton farmers will be held Thursday and Friday, sponsored by the Extension Service.

This is the second step in considering whether the Cotton growers here want to join the program to be carried out in conjunction with the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. which has almost eliminated boll weevil in the cotton growing sections of the South Plains.

County-wide organization is essential to the program, and part of each of the meetings to be held Thursday and Friday March 10 and 11 will be given over to organization. The work will have to be financed and that will be discussed too.

If Collingsworth producers go into this program, it will mean the introduction of cotton growing methods radically different from those we traditionally follow. Everyone will plant on approximately the same date, called in the program "uniform delayed cotton planting dates." This will be in late May or early June.

There will be a period of about 30 days after the female weevil are mature that there will be no squares for them to lay their eggs in. Thus an entire generation of weevil will be eliminated. Spraying early will kill this first crop of weevil that wintered over from last year, and spraying again late will kill any that might be able to winter over to next year.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW:

By Roger W. Babson

RISE IN LIVING COSTS
Lots of people are nervous about price inflation, and we don't blame them. Naturally, it does make a housewife fidgety to find out how much less her dollar can buy today than it could a year ago. And the breadwinner himself — while his income is probably moving up somewhat — notices how much more he has to pay for household goods and services to maintain a decent standard of living.

No End in Sight
To speak very frankly, the "creeping" price inflation that has been going on for so many years shows absolutely no sign of reversing itself. Consumer prices for December chalked up their sharpest advance for the month of report in fifteen years. Goods and services for January cost 2% more than they did, on average, only 12 months ago; and this is no small fractional nudge.

The base period used by the Labor Department is 1957-1959. If a typical city family measured what it was able to buy for $10 during that base period, it would find the same purchases now costing $11.10. Another way of looking at it: For the five years 1960-1964, the average annual increase of consumer prices was 1.3%. But during 1965 the figure pushed ahead to 1.7%. While the difference may seem small, the important fact is that despite a pause in January, the upward trend is still strong—and the upside pressures are increasing.

Even Government Wary
Although the White House is eager to hold prices in check so they will not explode into runaway inflation, there is only tentative official optimism about the future. The Labor Department has come right out and admitted that consumer prices are likely to increase even more in 1966 than they did in 1965. There is not really too much encouragement in the cautious prediction that the rate of gain is going to advance more in 1966 "but not much more." There is, of course, no way of telling when an inflationary blow-off might suddenly dislocate our basic economy. If such a thing should happen, the inevitable result would be violent deflation.

Probably the greatest danger lies in the possible emergence of a speculative psychology, the sort of thing that happened in the first year of the Korean War. Fortunately, there are vast differences between that time and the present. When the trouble broke out in Korea our plant capacity was pitifully inadequate to produce the needed volume of both guns and butter. The result was a real buyers' rush for goods that drove the consumer price index up a spectacular 9% in 12 months.

Voluntary Restraints . . . or Compulsory?

Currently, our production of both military and civilian goods is miles ahead of any other in our history. In fact, it is not far from capacity. Hence, it is to be hoped that speculative consumer buying will not be so frenzied that it will drive prices radically higher. Labor Department experts do expect to see the greatest concentration of price gains this year in those items that led the list in 1965: Food, shoes, medical attention, transportation, home maintenance, auto insurance, gasoline, and tobacco products—which make up a good part of the home budget.

The Administration continues to plead for voluntary restraints on both prices and wages. Consumers and manufacturers are asked to avoid piling up top-heavy inventories that might tilt the apperant. It is obvious that many of the government's

This is how weevil were almost eliminated on the Plains.

If our cotton growers do not want to adopt this plan, alternate methods will be discussed.

Changes in agriculture come fast. In just one season Collingsworth went from hand harvesting to 85 per cent machine harvesting our cotton crop. We may be able to do as much for eliminating boll weevil.

"Make Believe" Meat Can Affect Texas Economy

COLLEGE STATION—"Make Believe" meat — a substitute for red meat and poultry could have a severe impact upon the economy of Texas, say Ed Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist, Texas A&M University.

Recent development in the use of spun fibers of soybean protein as a substitute for almost any food with natural fiber texture may bring this problem closer to farmers and ranchers in the foreseeable future.

The fiber can be treated to imitate such foods as meat, dried fruits, potato chips, nut kernels and many vegetables. Since it has no taste, it may be given any flavor desired.

Substitution of synthetics for farm products is not new. Nylon, rayon, dacron and other synthetic fibers have cut deeply into wool and cotton utilization. Soybeans or other substitutes for meat is therefore not too surprising.

The final story will be unfolded in the future. Since these synthetics are new, research is still in progress and many product developments and consumer response problems still have economic advisors would truly like to avoid compulsory curbs on prices and pay rates. Chances are they may be able to avoid them unless some huge escalation of the Viet Nam struggle darkens the picture. If it does, controls will be tried.

Important Item Omitted

But, while government officials hammer away at the necessity of avoiding price and wage increases, they seem to forget that their own actions compound the problem. The price of government at all levels is soaring year by year. So why not include the price of political administration in the Department of Labor's Consumer Price Index?

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor

News is that Denmark's birth control program includes the doctoring of chronically jobless citizens so they can't reproduce.

My job-lorn neighbor says this may be a good idea in Denmark, but it would be a self-defeating project if used in the U.S.

Says breeding out the habitually jobless in this country would actually increase the burden of the unemployed on our economy, because each workless citizen now keeps several career bureaucrats employed counting him.

My historical neighbor says over 100 years ago many people in our southern states enjoyed a Great Society.

These lucky folks had food, raiment and shelter provided free all the days of their lives, as well as getting any other needs taken care of, including the need to decide what they needed.

They didn't have to worry about unemployment or high taxes, and had total medicare, with free bed and medicine when sick, without even having to pay the first $40.

The way I hear it, the Supreme Court has ruled that Communists don't have to register in the U.S. because this would be self-incrimination, which the Constitution deplors.

My legal neighbor says he takes this to mean that any law is out of order which forces a citizen to sign a paper that might prove he had ought to be in jail.

Say the way this logicals out, the income tax return is unconstitutional, because it is compulsory and is susceptible to being used to haunt and incriminate the party who signs it.

Prospective President Bobby Kennedy has got some publicity here lately by recommending a government in South Viet Nam with Viet Cong leaders as co-bosses.

My demadjusted neighbor says he reckons this would make for more broad-minded and democratic government than where just one man makes all the rules.

Says maybe would have even more democracy in the U.S. government if we had a certified Communist for co-President with Mr. Johnson. And we might could hire Mr. Khrushchev for this job, now that he is unemployed.

A MISSIONARY BY PROXY

Mrs. Addie M. Lewis, formerly of Dodson, never realized her girlhood dream of becoming a missionary, but by making and selling quilts, she supports three orphans overseas and a Libyan minister.

Former Dodson Woman

Quilting Brings Funds For Foreign Missions

A former Dodson woman who wanted to be a foreign missionary but never had the opportunity, uses her hands instead to support a native African minister and three orphans.

She is Mrs. Addie M. Lewis, 76, who now lives in Hollis, and who has been a talented seamstress since she was a young girl. She is the sister of Farris Cornelius.

Besides the work she now does, this quiet humanitarian through the years has clothed hundreds of little orphan girls overseas, non of whom she has seen.

The daughter of a Nazarene minister and third eldest of 11 children, she grew up near Dodson and received her education in one of the rural schools of this area. Like many young girls, she dreamed of becoming a missionary. Instead, she stayed at home, learned to sew from her mother, then married and settled on a farm north of Dodson.

Her husband died in 1956 and in 1961 she moved to Hollis. One son now works her farm, the other lives in Holdenville, Okla.

It was as a farm wife that she noticed the colorful print feed sacks that held chicken feed. After corresponding with a church organization in California, she learned of the need for clothing in overseas orphanages and went to work with the feed sacks and her treadle-type sewing machine—which she bought secondhand in 1932 and still uses.

"The first year I made 75," she recalls, "the second year 90, the next year 175. One year I made 180."

This was before she began making quilts six years ago.

A quilt takes anywhere from three days to a week to complete. Customers take her the material and she pieces and quilts the coverlets. The money she receives, $6 per quilt, goes to support the Korean boy, two Libyan orphans and the Libyan minister, of whom she says, "He goes where I cannot."

Mrs. Lewis has no idea how much she has given.

She began her orphan family project while recovering from surgery in 1950. The minister was first.

Things were going well in 1951 until the Lewis' cotton crop, already mature, was wiped out in a hail storm.

"It didn't hurt me to do without, but I just couldn't bear to let the native worker and orphan down," she said.

Using a garden rake, Mrs. Lewis went into the field and raked the cotton, beaten into the earth, from the ground the only way there was to do it, with hard back-breaking work. Her husband was ill and could not help. Painfully, she gathered $790 worth of cotton.

Before the year was out, she added responsibility of the Libyan girl. Three years later she chose the Korean boy.

How long does she plan to continue?

"I'm going to send it as long as I can make it," said Mrs. Lewis.

Asked if anyone has requested that she teach them to make a quilt, she replied, "Goodness, no. Younger people don't quilt any more. And I wouldn't recommend it."

Besides her quilting, Mrs. Lewis makes regular trips to the three nursing homes in Hollis, visiting the patients and taking them newspapers to read.

One of her sons recently reminded her that she really didn't have to work that hard.

Mrs. Lewis laughed. "Yes, I do," she answered. "If I don't I either have to sit here and twiddle my thumbs or go to the 'bug' house."

Trew Joins SCS in Virginia

A former Collingsworth county man, Thad (Pat) Trew, has joined the staff of the Soil Conservation Service at Pulaski, Va., as staff soil conservationist.

Working in grassland management, Trew will give technical training to SCS personnel, assist SCS workers and farmers in developing conservation practices on their grasslands, and work with Virginia Polytechnic Institute and other agencies and organizations on grassland management. His work will cover 21 counties in western Virginia.

Reared on a farm in the Rolla community, Trew is the son of Mrs. E. H. Trew, now of Fort Worth, and the late Mr. Trew. He is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. John Trew, Jake Tarter and Bill Tarter.

He graduated from Wellington high school, received a BS degree in animal husbandry and MS degree in range management from Texas A&M University.

A veteran of World War II, he is now active as a Lt. Col. in the Army Reserve. He is a member of the Methodist Church, American Society of Range Management and the Organization of Professional Employees of the USDA.

With the Soil Conservation Service since 1948, Trew's principal work has been in the field of range management.

Before going to Virginia, he served three work units in the Stephenville area and also has worked at Menard and Brownwood.

He is married and has two children.

June worked for City State Bank from 1952 to 1957 and from 1958 until 1960.

Another way is through financial counseling with our customers, making loans where that is called for. Farming in our area has become big business, and a prosperous farmer will no more carry on his operations without regular financial "get-togethers" with his banker than will an industrialist.

Wellington Track Team Second in Iowa Park Track Meet Saturday

The Wellington Skyrocket track team placed second in the big Iowa Park track meet Saturday, March 5 in competition with 24 teams from central, North and West Texas.

Wellington men scored 62 points, and won praise from their coach, Don Beck. "They did real well. That was as tough competition as we will face until we get to the regional match," he declared.

First place Midlothian had 74 points, but 40 of those came from the two relays. "Wellington had only 12 from the relays, and as individual events were concerned, we made a better showing than anyone there," Beck said.

Class A and B teams competed together at Iowa Park, while Class AA teams were in another division. Altogether 38 teams participated.

In the A-B division, Baird placed third, Rotan fourth, and Cedar Hill fifth.

Wellington's Tommy Yarbrough was a tournament standout in the hurdles. He won the low hurdles with a time of 15.5 and had the best time in either division by .3 second.

Then he came back to win the high hurdles, again with a 15.5 time and this was .7 better than anyone in either division. The best Class A time was 16.2. He was the leading point getter with 20 points.

Freddy Bobo was fourth in the low hurdles and Andy Bell fifth.

Bobo was fourth again in the high hurdles.

Wesley Ward was second in the discus throw and set a new school record of 136'4".

Johnny Maxwell was fourth in the shot put and Johnny Harris sixth.

The sprint relay team was third, and members were Jimmy Barber, Claude Barber, Jackie Needham and James Smith.

Smith was second in the 220 yard dash with a 24.4 time.

Bobo placed sixth in the high jump.

Now it costs you and all day Sunday

In 1915 a coast-to-coast phone call cost $20.70*. By 1934 the rate had been reduced to $9.00. Today the same call costs you only $1.00* if you place your call station-to-station after 8 p.m. or anytime on Sunday. And, it costs even less for shorter distances.

What's more, if your area has been converted to Direct Distance Dialing, you can use this fast, easy service to dial directly, at no extra cost.

Today, there's more reason than ever to use Long Distance for all its worth.

Draw your own picture of the place you want to live

It might be said that you have already drawn that picture... after all, you probably wouldn't be living here in this community if you really wanted to live in some big crime-racked traffic jungle that hardly knows you're there.

But pictures may change, after we draw them. This is a nice place to live and make a living. For our own personal, self-serving reasons, let's keep it nice, and make it even nicer.

The practical way, of course, to keep a community alive, and nice and profitable to live in, is to spend our money in it.

Cubs See Magician at Blue, Gold Banquet

"Strong for America" was the national theme selected for the traditional Blue and Gold Banquets for Cub Scouts of America. Pack 31, the Wellington Cubs of Dens, 1, 2 and 3, celebrated Feb. 28 at the Bura Handley Community Center.

Douglas Lowe, Cubmaster, was master of ceremonies. Mack Bush, local Cub institutional representative, gave the invocation. He also introduced Childress Mayor P. A. Lyons, a magician, who delighted the audience of approximately 75.

The background for the head table was a huge U.S. Shield flanked by four red, white and blue columns. An ornate Uncle Sam hat centered this table. Smaller U.S. Shields with gilded national emblem eagles were on either side.

Den 1's table featured the Liberty Bell surrounded by tiny Cub Scouts in a tiered arrangement. Individual napkin holders held small U.S. flags which were repeated in the cake motif. Red and blue streamers on white background were the length of the table.

The display table for Den 1 showed original designs of transportation made from random items found in the home. Elaborate Valentines for parents were also displayed.

Den 2's banquet table featured eight uniformed Cub Scouts, representing each den member. Each one was saluting his own U.S. Flag. Centering the table was a round cake of red, white and blue topped with a confection of the Cub Scout symbol. Red, white and blue lapel badges marked each place setting.

The display table of Den 2 showed achievements of scrapbook and collections; Valentine bookmarks and drawings on transportation. The den's own scrapbook was surrounded by Cub Scout Plaques of blue and gold.

Den 3's banquet table featured the life of the first President of our country. A huge cherry tree was flanked with smaller cherry trees the length of the table. Busts of George Washington were erected in the center of a low circle of U.S. Flags. Individual places were marked with stems of cherries and red napkins.

The display table of Den 3 showed original posters with details of transportation as a background for assembled models representing the poster contents.

Members in Den 1 are Chuck Chappell, Steve Hartman, Larry Wright, Danny Manly, Joe Porter and Mike Cummings.

Den Mothers are Mrs. Lynn Wright and Mrs. Leon Hartman.

Receiving awards in Den 2 were Frederick Bush, Bobcat pin; Richard Sims, Wolf badge; Randall Sims, Wolf badge. Others in Den 2 are George Brewer, Neal Cochran, Jimmy Saied, Pat Thomas, Mickey Vassey. Den Mothers are Mrs. B. M. Sims and Mrs. Mack Bush.

Receiving awards in Den 3 were Keith Davis, one-year pin and Wolf badge; Steve Marsh, one-year pin; Tim Jones, one-year pin and Wolf badge; Rusty DeMoss, one-year pin and two-year pin; Brent Wade, one-year pin; Tommy Holton, one-year pin and Wolf badge. Den Mothers are Mrs. Clyde DeMoss and Mrs. Ham Holton.

Climax of the Blue and Gold banquet was a patriotic skit in rhyme recited by the combined dens of Pack 31.

'66 Park Parade Ready To Go

AUSTIN.—Look out for Possum Kingdom, Palo Duro Canyon and points in between.

They'll be on the way shortly. That is the ten million or more State park visitors expected this year.

Here's what sparks the premonition:

A letter from Farmington, Michigan, asks for "information on camping facilities" since "our family plans to tour your state as a part of our vacation during the summer of 1966."

And now the wide open spaces inquiry:

"We are particularly interested in primitive camping accessible to a car camper."

Manager B. G. Rogers has some lake fronting spots still as primitive as the glacial age originally dictated; so rocky that helicopters would make a better vehicle of transport. Plus fishing and shade, and rations within walking distance.

They don't have the lake at Palo Duro Canyon State Park in the Panhandle but they have the scenery, as befits Texas' own "Little Grand Canyon." If the guests do need to revert to the wilds, there's some aoudad sheep back land that come highly recommended. Then, over yonder in the Davis Mountains State Park it's even better recommended.

If those Michiganders want some salt water and sea breezes in their primitive setting, there is Goose Island State Park near Rockport with a scrub brush beach hideaway. Probably more to their back-to-nature craving, there Boco Chica or Brazos Island State Park at the southern tip of Padre Island offering nothing but unlimited sand and surf, down Brownsville way.

If those Michigan folks would only ask for something difficult.

Our revenue expert tells us there can't be any more hidden taxes. There's no place left to hide them.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

The surveillance of registering potential voters who did not pay their poll tax may be attracting some attention in other counties; but it has no flurry of excitement here. In fact, only 21 people had registered up to Monday. This paper has carried the information before; but as a reminder we will tell you that you can register simply by going by the office of the county clerk, Rita Owens, and filling out the proper form. You have until next Tuesday, March 15, to do this. If you paid your poll tax, you are eligible to vote.

It would take Washington to figure up the use of a word like surveillance. I presume somebody would be fired if some under official should use the words "close watch." Both of them have only ten letters.

The loss of revenue from the poll tax next year and the even greater decline in the anticipated tax from cigarettes may cause the people in Austin to start looking for another source of revenue. Travelers are now being warned that they can bring back only two packs of cigarettes from across the border. There were 77 million packages of cigarettes purchased legally in February of this year but there were 83 million packages bought in the same month of 1965. What we need to do is get Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arkansas and Louisiana to raise their rate; but how are you going to get them to do that? They have too good a racket going selling cigarettes in Texas.

There is some division of opinion about the advisability of setting up a county wide boll weevil control program. Some growers contend that the cost will be excessive and that the program will not be practical here in view of the stringent reduction of cotton acres for 1966. Anyway the meetings will be held in Quail and Samnorwood on Thursday and in Dodson and Wellington Friday and you owe it to yourself to find out as much as you can about the plan. Everyone seems to agree that a uniform planting date over the area would be beneficial.

My hand has been called by people who have lived in California or who have relatives there regarding my statement of last week about the relative length of the coastlines of Florida, Texas and California. I said Texas was second to Florida in coastline and ahead of California in the Continental United States. I have been shown maps and received phone calls and a few remarks about my knowledge of geography of the mainland of the United States and my intelligence in general.

They contend that a rough glance at a map of the United States and a calculation by the scale of miles chart shows that Florida has a coastline of about 1150 to 1200 miles; California has something over 950 miles while Texas has only 750 to 800 miles on the map. Now listen a moment my friends before you call me a braggadocio to your own confusion. To count the true coastline of Texas, you must count both sides of Padre Island, Galveston Island and all the other islands that abound from Port Arthur to Brownsville. To an inlander or a tourist a vast expanse of sea water is a coast regardless of whether he is looking west or east. By this practical and commonsense criteria Texas has more seacoast than Florida if it were not for the Florida Keys.

We will leave Alaska and Hawaii out of this discussion. Alaska is all seacoast except for the mountains and ice and Hawaii is all seacoast except for the volcanic mountains and the "sugar."

Bill Hatch came by the house the other day to see how we had relaid our lawn in grass. We did it by the use of strings and a straight edge shovel and cutting the grass out in square blocks and setting it out level just as you would lay brick or tile in your yard. I was demonstrating the technique to Bill Hatch when he gave a big sigh and said: "Your yard looked so nice and level so quickly, I thought there might be an easier way to keep it." "Brother Hatch," I replied, "there ain't no easy way to keep a yard unless
