BATHING POOL AT PRICE'S CAMP

This is one of the several pictures used by the Eagle printing department in getting out 3,000 six-page folders advertising Kimble County in general and Price's Camp in particular.

R. S. Price, owner of this camp is alive to the possibilities of the tourists camp possibilities in this county and has one of the nicest commercial tourists' camps just above town on South Llano, that can be found anywhere in the country.

Although the tourist season is just opening, Price's Camp is already enjoying a splendid patronage.

NEW C. OF C. OFFICERS ELECTED TUESDAY NITE.

The annual meeting of the Kimble County Chamber of Commerce was held at the Court House Tuesday night after an excellent supper of barbecued chevon, bread, coffee, milk, etc. had been enjoyed by some thirty men, most of whom were old members of the Chamber of Commerce.

The chevon was prepared to a "queen's taste" by Frank Smith, under the supervision of the committee, who also saw that all other necessary articles of food were provided.

After J. A. Heyman, the president called the house to order, and announced the purpose of the meeting, the principal one of which was the election of officers. Oren C. Reid was elected temporary secretary and checked the ballots.

Seven directors were elected by ballot as follows: W. P. Eiley, F. E. Garrett, C. T. Holekamp, H. G. Perry, Alton Miller, Walter Buck, and George Braley.

In order to save time, it was decided to elect the president by acclamation. Three men were nominated, one of whom was withdrawn, and J. N. Hodges, president of the Schreiner-Hodges Co., was elected president for the coming year.

A motion to leave the matter of securing a secretary to the Board of Directors was carried, but during the discussion, it was clearly shown that it was the desire of practically every one present, that a paid secretary be secured, if possible, at least during the summer months.

The matter of the annual dues was also discussed and it was decided to leave this for the consideration of the Board of Directors.

After the election, numerous subjects of general interest were discussed and those present displayed an enthusiasm seldom observed at a meeting of this kind in a small town.

It is very conservative to say that if all the business interests of the town were as interested in the work which only a well organized Chamber of Commerce can do, Junction would certainly have the most active body of its kind to be found.

During the past year, the local Chamber of Commerce has been without an active secretary. One or two have served without pay, for short periods, but the work of the organization has been seriously handicapped by lack of a secretary. Most of this work has naturally fallen on Mr. Heyman, the president, and he has given much of his time to the interests of the community, while serving as president.

HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER VISITS JUNCTION.

D. K. Martin, wife and son, arrived Monday, accompanied by Miss Bassie Quisenberry, who has been teaching in the High School at Itasca, Mr. Martin's home town.

Mr. Martin is one of the three State Highway Commissioners and in speaking of the Junction-Kerrville highway that is now being maintained by the Department, stated that he was well satisfied with the work that is being done on this highway, and that the road bed is in good shape, except a short stretch near the county line which needs a better foundation for the gravel topping.

While here, Mr. and Mrs. Martin were guests at the W. A. Quisenberry home. They returned to San Antonio Tuesday.

Mrs. George Vierling has returned from San Antonio.

Mr. Hodges stated Wednesday morning that he would call a meeting of the new Board of Directors within the next day or two to take up matters of immediate importance.

LOCAL CONCERN HAS 1ST CLASS BOTTLING WORKS.

Step by tep, Junction is equipping itself with the facilities for keeping in line with its assured future rapid but sound growth.

During the past few months numerous additions and improvements have been noted in these columns, and three or four new businesses have been established here since the first of the year.

Hankins Drug Co. has just received and is installing a bottle washing machine that will compare with machines in the larger bottling works of the country. This machine, installed at a cost of more than $1,000, eliminates hand washing and does the job much better. It will wash and sterilize 500 bottles per hour. Among other additions to the bottling works of this concern, are a cooling system and a large filter. All water going into the bottles will be filtered twice, insuring an absolutely pure drink.

The plant has been over-hauled and by the end of the week will be in shape to take care of all the demand for Kimble and some adjoining counties.

Mr. Hankins stated that he had recently secured the exclusive bottling right in this county for Coco Cola and the exclusive rights on Delaware Punch for this county, as well as for Edwards and Sutton Counties.

Additional room has been provided which will be used exclusively for the bottling works.

BECKER HOTEL UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT.

As announced in an advertisement appearing elsewhere in paper, the Becker Hotel, which for the past several months has only kept regular boarders, is now under the management of Henry Schild and wife, who have been employed as chefs in another local hotel for some months past.

Mr. Schild took charge of the hotel the first of the month and states that he is now ready to take care of the general public.

THE HALF-WAY POINT ON THE O. S. T.

This picture of a section of the fine standard highway between Junction and Kerrville shows the turn at what is known as Cloud Point, five miles east of Junction, and marks the half-way point between St. Augustine, Florida, and Los Angeles, California.

This highway, which is now maintained by the State Highway Department, is in splendid condition, and the distance of 57 miles between Junction and Kerrville is made in less than two hours, and the run to San Antonio is only a matter of 4 or 5 hours.

POSTER AND NEWS- PAPER ADVERTISING.

Junction Tailor Shop has an advertisement of Holeproof Hosiery running for the month of June on one of the big poster boards near Heyman's Drug Store. This is the first local merchant to use this form of advertising, but others are to follow.

Phillip Joseph has reserved one board for three months during the fall and will likely reserve another one for several months this fall and winter.

The Ford Motor Co., through their local agents, the Junction Hardware Co., is also using Poster Advertising here. The Ford Motor Co., is spending more than $11,000,000 this year on newspaper, magazine and poster advertising, thus completely breaking down the old excuse that advertising should only be used for things people do not know about. There isn't a man, woman or child in the United States that does not know about Henry Ford and his Universal car, but Henry still believes in advertising.

While newspaper advertising is recognized by every line of business as being the most effective and economical medium,

ICE PLANT OWNER HERE THIS WEEK.

W. K. Snow, owner of the local ice plant, was here the first of the week and stated to The Eagle reporter that he thought they would have plenty of ice to sell by the middle of next week.

It has required a good deal more time and expense to fully equip the plant here than was anticipated, and it requires time to get the complicated machinery, necessary for making ice, in proper running order. They have been making some ice the past few days, but have not offered any for sale, as it was not up to the standard they mean to maintain in the manufacturing of ice.

Mr. Snow says he expects to spend the summer here and will do everything possible to render the public the very best of service. Some more additions will be made to the plant and a few more days of work and adjusting will place it in condition to make first class ice for the public.

Mr. Snow asks that the public bear with them in the delay in placing their ice on the market, as they are preparing to give the public the best service possible and in order to do this, have taken every precaution to prevent any tie-up in the future.

WINTERS EDITOR IS CAMPING ON LLANO.

Ed. P. Eason and family arrived this week and are at the Hardeman-Estes camp ten miles up South Llano.

Mr. and Mrs. Eason edit and publish the Winters Enterprise, one of the liveliest papers in Central West Texas, and although business is rushing with them in their newspaper business, they could not delay their regular summer visit to the Llano.

Mr. Eason paid The Eagle a fraternal call Monday and says he hopes to beat the record made by Doc Sellers of the Rising Star X-Ray, when Sellers was here last summer, and we hope he does, for Doc will be coming this way pretty soon and will want to have something to inspire special efforts on his part.

Dr. R. H. P. Wright will leave the last of the week for a visit with relatives in East Texas. He will be away ten days or two weeks.

Poster Advertising is an aid to getting better results from the newspaper ads.

The Junction Eagle is in the advertising game. We can handle your advertising in the proper manner and help you and your customers.

Advertising is not an expense; it's an investment.

WOOLEN MILLS PROPOSED FOR SAN ANGELO.

Definite steps were taken at a meeting Friday night in the Board of City Development of San Angelo, to start a thorough campaign in this section for a woolen mill. A concrete proposition has been made the board, which its members feel deserves the closest attention of the wool producers and the business men of the city.

A two-set mill costing, with $250,000 has been proposed by a man who has been raised in the mill business and is familiar with every line of operation from buying the wool to selling the cloth.

C. A. Broome, former president of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, was appointed chairman of a committee to take the matter in hand and conduct further investigations as to the opportunity for success of a mill located here.

It was pointed out at the meeting that if a woolen mill could be successfully put into operation here that it would open the way for a score of similar mills in other cities of this section. The board feels that there is no reason why interested wool men throughout this section should not co-operate in providing the capital for this initial enterprise, which, if successful, will transform the wool industry in this section.

Mr. Broome and George H. Cox, president of the Board of City Development, will appoint the remaining nine members of this important committee within the next few days. Other members from surrounding sections of the country will be added as the proposition develops.

For more than a year the textile committee of the board has been studying the textile business and gathering data on wool and cotton mills. Today they believe that they can prove to the business men of this section that there is no reason to believe that with proper management a woolen mill in this section will not pay. It appears that a manager of unusual ability can be secured now who will invest in the project.—San Angelo Standard.

ALTO FRIO ANNUAL ENCAMPMENT NEWS.

The Baptist Encampment will open July 4th, with a great patriotic address by Dr. J. Frank Norris of Fort Worth, and a great free barbecue dinner. Preparations are being made to accommodate eight thousand persons on this occasion.

All service given by the management will be better than ever before. This is particularly true with reference to the cafe. Tents and cots will be for rent as heretofore. Miller of San Antonio; Music in charge of Prof. and Mrs. Alva Wilgus.

Each and every man ought to interest himself in public affairs. There is no happiness in mer dollars. After they have been acquired, one can use but a moderate amount. * * * The greatest good a man can do is to cultivate himself, develop his powers, in order that he may be of greater service to humanity.—Marshall Field.

HEART OF TEXAS FAIR ORGANIZATION PERFECT.

A Heart of Texas District Fair organization was perfected at the court house in Mason on Wednesday afternoon by delegates from Llano, Fredericksburg, Brady and Mason.

R. G. Striegler, president of the Fredericksburg Chamber of Commerce and J. E. Bell, secretary of the same organization, and Max Stehling, a director of the same organization composed the delegation from Fredericksburg, and from Llano, came Messrs. Frank Buttery, Roy B. Icks, John Moneyhon and Orr; from Brady were present Wm. D. Cargill, secretary of the Brady Chamber of Commerce, and Geo. Elhinger, county agent; Mason had a fair representation at the meeting.

The meeting was called to order by Attorney Roscoe Runge, who introduced Mr. Cargill. Mr. Cargill explained the purpose of the meeting, and this was followed by brief talks by various delegates in attendance. The next step was the selection of a temporary chairman and secretary for the Heart of Texas Fair Association. Mr. Frank Buttery of Llano was chosen as chairman and Mr. Wm. D. Cargill was selected as secretary. A permanent president, secretary and treasurer will be selected later by the board of directors.

The Heart of Texas District is comprised of fifteen counties, and it is the purpose of the Heart of Texas organization to hold a Heart of Texas Fair. Each county is to select a director and the fifteen directors will have charge of the holding of the Fair. The four counties represented at the meeting Wednesday afternoon selected their directors, and Brady will have Mr. Ed Road as their director, Fredericksburg, Mr. Riley; Llano, Mr. Frank Buttery; and Mason, Mr. W. I. Marschall.

San Saba was selected as the place for holding the first Fair, subject to the approval of the directors. Each county will be requested to select their directors immediately, and a meeting of the directors will be held at San Saba within the next ten days.—Mason County News.

ONE KILLED, AND TWO INJURED AT KERRVILLE.

Kerrville, May, 28.—Leroy Gold, 20, was fatally injured and Bill Melear and Scott Fawcett are in a serious condition following a collision of the Ford car in which they were riding with a freight car on a siding, at 11:45 o'clock Tuesday night.

Gold died at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning as a result of his injuries. His skull was crushed and it is believed he suffered spinal and internal injuries.

Melear is in a hospital with a fractured elbow, lacerated hip and several severe cuts and bruises about the face and body. Unless internal injuries and complications develop, it is thought he will recover.

Fawcett was taken to his home and was beginning to recover consciousness Wednesday morning. He suffered cuts and bruises, but unless complications develop, he will probably recover within a few days.

The young men were preparing to return home after having dropped some of their friends at their various residences when they ran into the freight car standing on a spur in the center of Sidney Baker street. Melear was driving the car, which was evidently traveling at a high rate of speed. The Ford was driven under the corner of the freight car which telescoped it. Gold and Melear were on the front seat and were pinned in their positions. Fawcett was thrown from the back seat and knocked unconscious.—San Antonio Express.

PAYING BILLS.

If you receive bills and request for payment of your delinquent accounts, be a MAN and don't ignore them. Give them serious attention. You are expected to do no more for those you owe than you would expect them to do if they owed you. Nobody bears an ill will and you should bear none.

Whenever you want to be sure that you are right, just put yourself in the other fellow's place. If, when you have finished a job, you believe that you are entitled to your pay, then you cannot honestly withhold from the other the money that is due him for goods or service. You cannot really call anything your own until you have paid for it.

No man can beat a just debt without sacrificing his own self-respect. The least you can do is to justify the confidence placed in you.

Pay your bills promptly and keep your credit good.—Insurance News.

A big wholesale house at San Antonio has seen the light at last and is now calling on retail merchants throughout Texas to put on a consistent and aggressive campaign in their local newspapers in order to combat the growing mail order evil. The weekly press has been preaching this doctrine for many years and advocating the fact that the only way to fight the mail order houses was to do it with the same weapon employed by the mail order houses—advertising. The big mail order houses flood this community, as well as all other communities, with their catalogues and other advertising matter at each season of the year and we all must admit that they get the business. The editor has always contended that a larger portion of the business from Franklin to the mail order houses could be kept at home and there is only one thing to do—let every local merchant consistently use printer's ink. Buy a specified space in each and every edition of your local newspaper and in this space give the people your weekly message. Tell them what goods you have to offer and what prices you are asking for same. We again make the assertion that the time has past when any business house can sit still and say "Oh, everybody knows I'm here," and expect people to trade with them.

These modern times of automobiles and good roads make it imperative that the local store carry a good stock of goods and push their business with newspaper advertising each week in the year. Until the local merchants do this, a much too great a portion of our money will go to the mail order houses, and the amount sent away will not return.

Don't let prejudice or other reasons deter you from building up your own business.—Franklin Texan.

"I began taking Black-Draught over fifty years ago and my experience with it stretches over a good long time," says Mr. Joe A. Blackmore, a Civil War veteran and former Virginian, who is now a prominent citizen of Floyd, Texas. "It is the best laxative I know of for old people. . . A good many years ago, in Virginia, I used to get bilious and I found that was the best and quickest relief I could get. Since I came to Texas I have these bilious attacks every now and then—a man will get bilious anywhere, you know—and I find that a little Black-Draught soon straightens me out. After a few doses, in little or no time I'm all right again." Thedford's Black-Draught is a purely vegetable liver medicine, used in America for over eighty years. It acts on the stomach, liver and bowels in a gentle, natural way, assisting digestion and relieving constipation. Sold everywhere.

MORE HEAVY RAINS OVER WEST TEXAS.

Another rain of more than 1½ inches fell at Junction Sunday night and extended north and northwest for about one hundred miles. South and east the rain was also heavy, according to reports of people coming from Mason, Kerrville and Rock Springs.

North Llano rose about ten feet during Sunday night and Monday morning and traffic toward Sonora and Menard was cut off Monday. South Llano was up two or three feet.

So far as information was available every section of this county is now well soaked by the two or three recent rains.

While no rain fell at Sonora, the rainfall there during the past few days has been more than four inches, with about the same for Schleicher and Menard Counties. At one place in Schleicher County it is reported more than 8 inches fell within a short time.

Range conditions throughout the entire section of the State are the best for years and all kinds of livestock are doing extremely well.

While some losses due to high water have occurred, damage to crops has been light and prospects are good for a heavy yield this year. No damage from hail storms in the county has been heard of.

on this little planet isn't the important thing.

What can be done on wires can be done through the ether that separates this earth from other planets in our family.

We shall get from these planets radio portraits showing faces of their strange inhabitants and radio
"blue prints" from Mars showing us how to dig canals to store the waters of the ocean when frost, rain and attrition make this earth perfectly round, leaving no natural cavities to hold the water.

If the earth were absolutely round, as it will be in a few million years, the ocean would cover it about a mile deep everywhere. We must know how to prevent that.
Mars, tens of millions of years older than Earth, will teach us by radio.

If that sounds preposterous remember what you would have said twenty years ago if you had been told that a president in Chicago some day would be heard in Los Angeles and Newfoundland in the same second.

From press reports, Amarillo is making unusual preparations for the meeting of the Texas Press Association, which is to be held there the 17th, 18th and 19th of this month. This will be the first time the Texas Press Association has met at this Northwest Texas city, which only a few years ago was only a village, but this editor and W.
A. Salter of the Mountain Sun who has consented to go along to take care of us, expect to have a whale of a time up there.

This will be our first time to attend the Press meeting and we are looking forward to this event with a great deal of pleasure. We will leave Junction Sunday, the 15th, take the Santa Fe to Ft. Worth, and go on a special train from there to the convention city.

EVANGELISTIC MEETING TO BEGIN SUNDAY.

Revival services at the Baptist Church at Junction to begin June the 8th, and continue with two services daily through June 15th.

The first service Sunday morning, June 8th will be an especially important one.

All pastors and churches may expect the most fraternal relations to be promoted in this meeting; and it is greatly desired that all churches may be graciously revived, and that many souls may be born into the Kingdom of God. The cooperation of all singers and church workers is kindly invited and requested.

TEMPTING

Summer months are tempting months. Inclinations are to throw dull care to the winds and bask in the sunshine of rest and recreation.
But when chill winds blow—then is realized the wisdom of consist-

RECAPTURE OF CYNTHIA ANN PARKER DESCRIBED

(By G. K. Elkins in The Brady Sentinel.)

"Early in the winter of 1860, Nocona, chief of the Comanche tribe, made a raid in Parker and Jack Counties and massacred the greater part of five families, and stripped the country of horses wherever they went. A man by the name of John Brown discovered the Indians when they were within a mile of his house. He undertook to outrun them and get home. Near his house he discovered that Indians were also ahead of him and turning to one side, his horse ran headlong into the top of a felled tree, where Mr. Brown was captured, murdered and scalped. The Indians then went to his cabin and surrounded it, began to bow to the ground, falling upon their knees and performing other antics. Members of the family detecting the presence of the redskins and the forethought of a daughter, 14 years of age, no doubt saved their lives. Placing a man's hat upon her head and a gun on her shoulder, the girl went to the upper story of the house and walked back and forth before an open window. The ruse had the desired effect, as the Indians, believing that armed men were in the house, fell back without firing a shot.

"It was on this raid that Mrs. Sherman was mortally wounded and scalped alive. My brother, John M. Elkins, and I saw her and talked with her just before she died. She received personal abuses too horrifying to mention. In raiding the Sherman home the Indians picked up a paper of pins, every one of which was driven by their hands into the back of Mrs. Sherman.

"Ninety-six men of Parker, Palo Pinto, Young and Jack Counties took up the Indians' trail, determined to follow them to their camp, wherever it might be, and obtain fitting reprisals for the fiendish murders they had committed upon innocent settlers of those counties. We were joined near old Fort Belknap by Capt. Sul Ross with about 20 Texas Rangers, and Sergeant Spangler with 6 men.

"We followed the trail six days in a westerly direction, crossed the Peas river, and camped on its western banks. During the night a severe rain-storm came up and though we used utmost precaution, our arms were damaged from water and the next morning was spent in camp cleaning our guns, drawing the loads and getting them in order. Again taking the trail, we followed up-stream along the river bank until night-fall when the trail led us back across the river to the east bank. The next morning, which I remember so well as if it were but a week ago, was the crowning event of our chase. We had traveled about an hour after breaking an early morning camp, when fresh signs of the Indians were found. I remember we found a freshly hewn down hackberry tree from which berries had been picked. The tracks of a small papoose were plainly visible in the sand. A few hundred yards we came upon an abandoned camp, evidently left by the Indians that morning. Here Capt. Ross and Serg. Spangler and their men rode off ahead of our party to scout for the presence of the Indians. They had been gone out of sight but a short time when we heard firing. Spurring our horses into a gallop, we were racing toward the direction from which the reports of the firing came, when, as we overtopped a mountain, we met Capt. Ross, who reported that they had encountered a hunting party of Indians and killed all of them alone.

"We went back with Capt. Ross to the scene of the battle. There we found a white woman and her child which had been captured by the two white men. This woman, it later developed, was Cynthia Ann Parker, and the Indian Chief heading the hunting expedition was Nocona, her husband. Capt. Ross killed Chief Nocona with a well directed revolver shot as the two became engaged in a hand-to-hand encounter. The white woman was captured by Serg. Spangler, who believing her to be one of the Indians, outdistanced the pony she was riding with his pedigreed Kentucky horse. Just as he raised his gun to fire, Spangler noticed a child wrapped in a buffalo robe was being carried by the 'Indian' and declined to fire. Bringing the pony to a halt, the army officer found to his astonishment, his quarry was a white woman. As the two racing horses came to a standstill side by side, the woman held up the arm that had controlled her cowhide bridle reins, and cried out, 'Me Mericiano.'

FRISCO DROPS SLEEPER ON JUNE THE FIRST.

C. Crawford, local agent for the Frisco Railway, was advised this week that effective after June 1st, the Frisco would discontinue the sleeper service between Brownwood and Menard, the sleeper being dropped at Brownwood. The matter of dropping the sleeper at Brownwood has been brought up by the Frisco officials at recurring intervals during the past several years, until the entire citizenship of this section is thoroughly disgusted over the matter.

The Frisco's action was discussed at last night's meeting of the Brady Luncheon club and was denounced in no uncertain terms. A resolution was passed that the entire Frisco family, and J. M. Kurn, president of the Frisco in particular, be furnished with a copy of the action taken by the Luncheon club.

The last through Pullman will leave Ft. Worth Saturday night May 31st, and returning, will leave Menard Sunday night, June 1st.

Brady's answer to the Frisco's action is certain to be of such nature that when this question of sleeper service for Brady is finally settled, it will be settled for all time to come.—Brady Standard.

GRASSHOPPERS ARE HERE.

We much expected them. Now they are here. Reports of their presence and in some cases actual damages, have been flooding our mail for the past week. Last week the Entomologist began a tour of inspection of the western counties. In the Brownwood section, the hoppers are more numerous at this time than last year, and are still hatching.

All counties in the infested section should prepare at once for a fight. If a fight is begun at once and continued with persistence as long as damage impends, there is no reason why a single acre of crops should be lost in the entire State. It is up to the farmers of each county. Considering fields large and small, the crops should be saved at a cost of less than 50 cents per acre.

Counties having an agricultural agent will be in best position to make a successful fight. Counties having no agent should inaugurate a campaign at once by calling in representative farmers from each section to a central meeting. A general meeting is not necessary. Instruct these representatives fully in preparing and distributing the mash. Determine where the materials can be obtained. Outline a plan for financing a campaign so as to enable every person to save his crops. Let each representative in the meeting then return to his community to direct the campaign among his neighbors. Having been instructed himself at the county meeting he should personally direct the mixing of the mash in his own community.

No time should be lost. Act at once. The entomological forces will give such aid and advice as is physically possible, but are not sufficient to cover the entire State in the short time before heavy damage results.

The following formula will control the grasshoppers if it is mixed and applied as directed (cut out and save this for reference when needed):

Wheat bran, 25 pounds; white arsenic or Paris green, 1 pound; lemons or oranges, 6 fruits; low grade cane or sorghum molasses, 2 quarts; water, 2 gallons.

Mix the bran and poison thoroughly while dry. Dilute the molasses with the amount of water as named; squeeze the lemon juice into this diluted molasses, then grind the rind of the lemons with a meat chopper and add this also to the liquid; now mix the liquid thoroughly with the poison bran mixture. After an even mixture has been obtained, add more water and mix until a mash is obtained so that after being squeezed in the hand, it readily falls apart.

Grasshoppers feed in the morning, and as the bait loses its attractiveness when dry, it should be applied so as to be as moist as possible at this time. It will therefore be best to put it out about sunrise; provided the ground is not so hot and dry as to remove the moisture during the night, it may be put out late in the evening. The mixture should be scattered, as if sowing seed by hand, or any type of seeder capable of distributing it. The amount given in the formula should cover about five acres.

Where the hoppers have become distributed over the cultivated field, the entire area should be sown, and the application repeated in a few days if necessary. If the hoppers are found to be advancing from pasture lands, distribute the mash in front of their line of march for a distance of a couple of hundred yards, keeping also the margin of pasture land treated daily until the danger of damage has passed.

A Substitute for the Formula Above:

Experiments in Montana have shown that amyl acetate, substituted for lemons, has increased the effectiveness of the poison bait. The most effective formula there appeared to be as follows:

Wheat bran, 25 pounds; salt, 1 pound; white arsenic or Paris green, 1 pound; low grade cane or sorghum molasses, 2 quarts; amyl acetate, 1 ounce; water, 10 quarts; apply in the same way as the other formula.

Amyl acetate as a substitute for the fruit has been tested in Texas by the Federal entomolo-gists, and while the results were successful, we hardly think the work has been sufficiently extensive as to justify us in giving this latter formula our unqualified endorsement.

We suggest that farmers stick to the first formula, and experiment on a small scale with this latter formula. Amyl acetate has the advantage of being much cheaper. Use only high grades of amyl acetate denoted as "C. P.," "U. S. P.," or "technical," and avoid compounds presented as "banana oil," "bronzing liquids," or "amyl acetate derivatives," which contain so little of the active material and so many impurities as to make them unadapted to grasshopper work. (Copies of the formula will be furnished, if needed, on application to the Entomologist, Extension Service, College Station, Texas.)

IF JIM CANT MAY- BE HIS WIFE CAN.

Waco, May 29.—Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson of Temple, wife of former Governor James E. Ferguson, today filed her application as a candidate for Governor with Joe W. Hale of Waco, secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee. The application of her husband was sent to Mr. Hale some time ago. The question of his eligibility for place on the ticket is now pending before the Supreme Court.

The same course was pursued by Mrs. Ferguson two years ago when her husband was a candidate for United States Senator, but she withdrew from the senatorial race after the State Democratic Executive Committee decided that his name should appear on the ticket.

Phone 64, two longs for milk. We appreciate your trade. 24- PROPOSITION TO DISSOLVE AUTO TAX INJUNCTION.

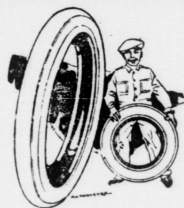

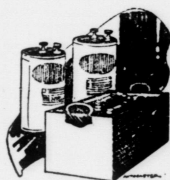

A number of citizens of De Leon came over Wednesday to go before the members of the Commissioners' Court, who are in Comanche this week sitting as a county board of equalization, asking that steps be taken for dissolving the injunction by which the auto taxes have been held by the tax collector here instead of being sent to the State Highway Commission. They asked that the injunction be abandoned and the collector allowed to forward the funds to the commission at Austin.

This request followed the announcement made a few days ago that a similar suit in Hamilton County had been abandoned.

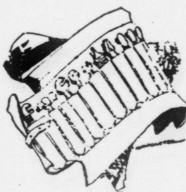

Acting for the Commissioners' Court, County Judge Reese telephone the Highway Commission that the commissioners here were willing to abandon the injunction and allow the funds to be forwarded to Austin if the Commission would pay back to each of the commissioners' precincts the amounts that the precincts have paid out on the roads. A reply to this proposition was expected yesterday but had not been received up to 6 o'clock yesterday evening.—Comanche Chief.
