Cooking Starts

Old Settlers 43rd Reunion Slated Friday

At 4 p.m. today, Charlie Merritt, barbecue expert, will set fire to the racks of seasoned mesquite piled in the barbecue pits at the City Park. The fire will be allowed to burn away until 11 p.m.

At that hour Merritt, and others on the cooking assignment, will begin laying the ton of choice beef selected for cooking on the grids. By midmorning Friday, this meat will be done to a turn and ready for the several thousand hungry diners expected to swarm the park.

Highlight of Meeting

The barbecue feast will be the highlight of the 43rd annual reunion of the Howard-Glasscock County Old Settlers.

It will be traditional in form — featuring, in addition to the barbecue, steaming bowls of son-of-a-gun stew, luscious pinto beans, bread, pickles, onions and iced tea. Last year more than 2,500 were served at this annual event. This year, Jess Slaughter, president of the association, anticipates an even larger turnout.

Registration gets under way at 9 a.m. at the Old Settlers Pavilion in the park. Mrs. Dorothy Taylor, secretary of the association, will be in charge of registration.

Only those who have registration badges will be served at the dinner.

Ed Fisher To Be Speaker

Ed Fisher will be the principal speaker at the reunion. He will tell the story of the pioneers in this area and of the accomplishments they have achieved.

Tribute to pioneers who have passed on will be sounded in a memorial speech by Rev. Elra Phillips, a member of a pioneer family of this area.

Music will be supplied during the day by Sam Roberts' Band. Texas Shorty, who calls himself the champion old time fiddler of Texas, will be here to demonstrate his skill.

There will be an old fiddlers contest in the afternoon with three cash prizes for the best fiddlers—$25, $15 and $10.

Prizes To Be Awarded

Prizes will be awarded to the pioneer at the meeting who came the greatest distance to attend; to the oldest pioneer in years lived in the counties; the oldest married couple in attendance; and the youngest married couple in attendance.

A big dance will be staged at the pavilion at 9 p.m. This will close the celebration.

Donations to help pay for the barbecue will be accepted at the registration table and Slaughter urged all to be generous. He pointed out that the expenses of this year's barbecue are higher than usual and that last year's small attendance depleted the reserve funds of the association.

Gifts Have Been Received

Gifts from well-wishers not previously announced have been received from Fannie Jo Percifield, Pauline Petty, Mrs. E. M. Newton, and Mrs. Nell Sanders.

Racial Turmoil Talk

By The Associated Press

With pleas for peace and threats of a fight until death, Negroes and whites voiced their opinion about the nation's racial turmoil.

Here's what some said:

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.: "We don't need measures like the antiriot bill which has sailed through the House of Representatives; we need legislation like the 'antirat' bill and the rent supplement proposal which were hooted down in that same chamber."

Sen. Everett Dirksen, Senate Republican leader: Responsible Negroes "realize what the situation is—that the Negro people are going to be hurt most by this rioting."

First Lt. Winford Parker of Detroit, a Negro soldier in Vietnam: "I've got enough problems fighting a war over here without having to worry about my people back home. I think the majority of the people — the rioters — aren't really concerned with civil rights per se. I think they are exploiting the situation for their own personal gain, such as the vandalism of stores."

John B. Harper, a 20-year-old from Ohio in Vietnam:

"Let them come over here if they want to fight."

Adam Clayton Powell, Harlem congressman-elect at his Bimini island retreat: "Violence is a cleansing force. It frees the native from his inferiority complex." The riots "are a necessary phase of the black revolution — necessary."

House Panel Might Launch Riots Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The subversives-hunting House Committee on Un-American Activities may launch public hearings next week on the Detroit and Newark riots, beating to the punch a proposed Senate-House probe.

Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., said the committee—best known for its often stormy investigations of alleged domestic communism — expects to meet next week to consider a preliminary staff report on supposed subversive influences in the riots.

SLUM PLEDGE

Willis said he felt committeemen would agree with him "the information developed to date will justify public hearings." And it was learned the committee is poised to begin public hearings a day after it approves recommendations in the preliminary report.

Wednesday's call by four Negro leaders for an end to rioting drew praise from Senate leaders, plus a bipartisan leadership pledge that the Senate will pass legislation aimed at alleviating disorder-causing slum conditions.

MOB LAW

In separate interviews, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen applauded the statement by Martin Luther King Jr., A. Philip Randolph, Roy Wilkins and Whitney M. Young Jr. saying, "No one benefits under mob law. Let's end it now!"

Dirksen said it demonstrated that responsible Negroes "realize what the situation is — that the Negro people are going to be hurt most by this rioting."

Mansfield expressed hope the position taken by the four "will help calm the situation" and prevent a spread in the rioting to other cities — such as predicted by Rep.-elect Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., in a Bimini, Bahamas, news conference.

Mansfield said he's confident a proposed congressional investigation of civil disorders will produce recommendations that go beyond punitive measures and get into the field of preventive action.

RAT BILL

The Democratic leader predicted the Senate will approve a federal rat control program for the cities, a measure hooted and laughed off their calendar last week by House members.

The four Negro leaders mentioned the antirat bill as an example in contending Congress "has exhibited an incredible indifference to the hardships of the ghetto dwellers." They called also for action to combat "joblessness, inadequate housing, poor schooling, insult, humiliation and attack."

Dirksen said the Senate certainly will consider a rat control program.

SOONER'S PLAN

The Senate Judiciary Committee has scheduled hearings next week on a proposal by Dirksen and Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., only Negro senator, to establish a Senate-House committe to investigate causes of the widespread riots and to recommend legislation. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark is the scheduled first witness.

Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., said he's suggested to White House aides that President Johnson set up a commission to do this job without waiting for Congress to act.

The Senate Judiciary Committee also has scheduled three days of hearings next week on a House-passed bill that would make it a federal crime to cross a state line with intent to incite a riot.

Mob Action Continues To Scar Nation's Cities

Riots Abate In Detroit

By The Associated Press

The fury of mob violence continued to sear the nation's cities today with at least 10 communities hit by fresh violence overnight despite pleas for quiet from Negro leaders. But in Detroit, scene of the worst race explosion in the nation's history, officials said the trouble seemed to be over.

"I think it's over," said Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, citing "an apparent continuing improvement in the over-all situation." He was joined in the statement by Gov. George Romney and Cyrus R. Vance, the President's special deputy on the scene.

36 KILLED

The day dawned peaceful for the first time in four days, but soldiers had Detroit under strict military control after several hours of routing out nests of snipers.

The death toll reached 36 during the night as the city turned to the task of providing riot refugees with food to survive. Most of those who lost their homes were reported living with friends.

In New York, where Spanish Harlem continued calm for the second night, a looting group of Negro teenagers swarmed out of Central Park and struck at midtown shops along fashionable Fifth Avenue in a lightning foray. Twenty were arrested.

GAS FIRED

Chicago police combatted scattered window smashing, looting and firebombing on the city's predominantly Negro South and West sides. There were 40 arrests. A mid-evening rain was credited with holding down the violence.

There were also disorders and vandalism in Toledo, Ohio, Phoenix, Ariz., South Bend, Ind., Cincinnati, Los Angeles, and Cambridge, Md., where National Guardsmen moved in behind a wall of gas to disperse an angry crowd.

In Chicago, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. declared Wednesday:

"Congress has created the atmosphere" for vicious Negro rioting and must take immediate steps to end unemployment.

'LET IT END'

"We do not need measures like the 'antiriot' bill which has sailed through the House of Representatives; we need legislation like the 'antirat' bill and the rent supplement proposal which were hooted down in that chamber," he said.

King joined with three other top Negro leaders Wednesday in calling for an end to the violence. "No one benefits under mob law. Let it end now!" said the statement, signed by A. Philip Randolph, Roy Wilkins and Whitney Young Jr. in addition to King.

In Washington the chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities said his group may launch public hearings next week on the Detroit and Newark riots, ahead of a proposed Senate-House probe.

Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., said the committee will convene next week to consider a preliminary staff report on supposed subversive influences in the riots. The committee is best known for its controversial probes of alleged domestic communism.

RUSSIAN VIEW

Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro told a cheering rally in Santiago, Cuba, Wednesday that the uprisings were an example of "convulsion on this continent."

Appearing with him on the speakers stand was U.S. Black Power leader Stokely Carmichael whom Castro introduced as "a prestigious leader of civil rights for Negroes in the United States."

The riots were also noted extensively in Russia where the government newspaper Izvestia said: "The scale of Negro riots, their character, their desperation, bare out the deep crisis of American society. The capitalist prosperity in the U.S.A. passed by the mass of Negroes."

In Alexandria, Va., H. Rap Brown, director of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, was released from jail on a $10,000 bond after being arrested as a fugitive from a Maryland charge of inciting to riot.

PHOENIX GANGS

A cheering crowd of some 300 persons greeted Brown as he emerged from nine hours of incarceration. He did not speak to either the crowd or newsmen however, but drove off to an unspecified destination.

Brown was in Cambridge Monday night before a riot broke out there. Wednesday night the guardsmen, on duty since the first violence, dispersed crowds of both Negroes and whites in separate locations.

Phoenix police fought gangs of Negro youths for four hours before a rigidly enforced curfew coupled with systematic patrols and arrests combined to restore calm early today.

Sniper fire rang through the streets for the second night as vandals looted stores without regard for their ownership. Ten youths were arrested when they broke the window of a Negro-owned liquor store.

BRICKS BATTLE

In Toledo young Negro rowdies hurled bricks and bottles at firemen battling a drug store blaze. Police made 48 arrests before quelling the third straight night of vandalism in the city.

'Commando' Police Unit On Patrol

A unit of the Detroit Police Department known as "commandos" patrols Grand River Ave., a main artery of Detroit, keeping the peace after a day of daylight sporadic sniping on the west side of the city. Costliest Racial Explosion In Nation's History Fading

DETROIT (AP)—Calm came to Detroit today and Gov. George Romney rescinded some of the restrictions that were imposed to quell four days of violence that swelled into the costliest racial explosion in the nation's history.

Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh said, "I think it's over."

Lt. Gen. John Throckmorton, military chief of federal forces in the city, told his troops, "Sheathe your bayonets."

ROMNEY GOLFS

Romney withdrew the 9 p.m. curfew and lifted stringent regulations on gasoline sales with one exception — pumping gasoline into portable containers remained forbidden.

"It looks greatly improved," Romney said. "I went out to the main trouble area and took a good look. Things are approaching normal."

Romney, after four days of keeping pace with the developing violence, apparently was, too—he played golf before touring the city.

DISASTER AREA?

The governor told a news conference that he and Cavanagh had sent a telegram to President Johnson asking him to declare the battered city a disaster area to make it eligible for federal funds for rebuilding.

Romney said, however, that there might be some legal question about whether the President could make such a declaration.

"The law has never been applied to a situation like Detroit," he told newsmen.

Citing "an apparent continuing improvement in the over-all situation," Cavanagh urged businesses in the riot-blitzed city to resume normal operations.

He was joined in the statement by Gov. George Romney and Cyrus Vance, special assistant to Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

SNIPERS' NESTS

Soldiers afoot and in tanks, armored cars and helicopters maintained guard on areas where violence has been fiercest, but the city appeared to be bustling back to normal.

Tranquility came to the disheveled city after another night of military siege on stubborn, last-ditch nests of snipers.

In the showery darkness before dawn, helicopters gave troops guidance as their searchlights probed rooftops to betray hidden gunmen.

The last four hours before sunup passed with only two reports of snipers.

ARRESTS DIP

Arrests, mostly for curfew violation, mounted to 3,100, but between midnight and 6 a.m. they increased by only 199, small by comparison with other periods since the riot erupted.

"With the exception of pockets of snipers, we have the city under control," said Lt. Gen. John Throckmorton, military commander in this city of 1.7 million, after four agonizing days of terror.

"It takes time to root out these snipers," Throckmorton added. "And we will root them out."

The death toll reached 36 during the night.

The appalling count of death and destruction in Detroit exceeded even that of the 1965 Watts riot in Los Angeles. More than 1,000 were injured here. Damage was assessed at $500 million and expected to mount.

TREACHEROUS FIRE

Reckoned in the thousands were those burned from their homes and jobs in pillaging and arson that reached a peak Monday. The riot broke out Sunday with a routine police raid on a Negro after-hours nightspot.

Many Detroit residents reportedly fled across the Detroit River to take haven in Canada. The morgue was so jammed that its normal procedures were abandoned temporarily.

Food was scarce in the 92-block West Side area, where the riot began along 12th Street, a main artery. This area is one of the few in Detroit that are inhabited almost exclusively by Negroes, who make up 30 per cent of the population.

The section lies six blocks west of the Fisher and General Motors buildings, both surrounded by the city's most exclusive shops. It is three miles north of the downtown financial section.

Racial Scene At-A-Glance

By The Associated Press

DETROIT — The costliest riot in the nation's history abated with 36 persons counted dead and damage assessed at $500 million.

NEW YORK — Negro teenagers ran wild over a stretch of Fifth Avenue breaking shop windows and looting. Spanish Harlem was quiet.

CAMBRIDGE, Md.—National Guardsmen moved into the Eastern shore city, chasing crowds from the streets with "riot" gas.

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Snipers and looters fought with police in a four-hour outbreak.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. —National Guardsmen entered the home city of Notre Dame University to put down a disturbance. A general curfew was imposed.

CHICAGO — Firebombing, window breaking and looting broke out in the predominantly Negro South and West sides.

There were also reports of scattered outbreaks in Toledo and Cincinnati, Ohio, San Francisco, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, and two New York City suburbs in Westchester county — Mount Vernon and New Rochelle.

Jurors Won't Quiz Abilene Patrolman

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) —A 42nd District Court grand jury considers murder charges today against an Abilene highway patrolman who is accused of beating to death his wife and telling police two Negroes did it.

Alfred P. White, 37, a 14-year veteran with the Department of Public Safety, has been held without bond in Taylor County jail since his arrest in Austin last Thursday.

WAITRESS CALLED

He is accused of slaying his 38-year-old wife, Joyce, at their home July 14.

Mrs. Joan White, a waitress at a local cafe and no relation to the Whites, and Rev. Bob Rich, White's pastor, have been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury.

Dist. Atty. Ed Paynter said he had no plans to call White to the hearing.

White told police two Negro intruders entered his darkened home and attacked both he and his wife after they came home from a late movie. White said the attackers, wielding pipe and chains killed Mrs. White and hurt him.

White said he could never "erase the sound" of his wife being beaten.

The couple's 14-year-old son is now living in Dallas with an uncle.

Arrest In Manhattan

New York police struggle to arrest a man on Fifth Ave. near 46th St. in mid-town Manhattan late Wednesday night. More than 100 Negro teenagers surged into the center of town, smashing windows and looting stores. The youths came out of Central Park after attending a free rock 'n' roll concert. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Black Power Leader Free

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — H. Rap Brown, Negro leader of the militant Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, is free on $10,000 bail after spending about nine hours in the jail of this Washington suburb.

An uproarious sequence wound up with him booked under Virginia law as a fugitive from Maryland warrant charging he incited a riot Monday night in Cambridge, Md.

CROWD CHEERS

Brown received lusty cheers when he walked out of the jail early today and faced a crowd of some 300 — mostly youthful Negroes who live in the area.

With his hand raised in defiant elation, Brown, 23, attempted to speak to the crowd but was hustled down the steps of the building by eight SNCC members to a waiting car.

He again tried to speak but was pulled into the vehicle and his words were drowned out by cheers of the youngsters screaming "Black Power."

Brown's Black Power speech in Cambridge Monday preceded a disturbance which ended with the burning of about a dozen buildings including a school and a church in the heart of the city's Negro area.

POLICE ESCORT

Another Maryland warrant charged Brown with "counseling and procuring" the burning of the school.

After making its way with difficulty through the Alexandria crowd, Brown's car and four others sped away their destination unknown. Police escorted them to the city line.

Brown was arrested Wednesday morning by FBI agents at National Airport near here on a federal fugitive warrant.

Prior to an afternoon hearing before a U.S. commissioner, the Justice Department dropped the federal warrant. Brown stayed inside the federal building for a time, claiming immunity from Virginia arrest. But then he was hauled outside by police and arrested on a Virginia warrant charging unlawful flight to avoid prosecution in Maryland.

'HONKIES' THREAT

When FBI agents first led Brown into the federal building, he told newsmen "We'll burn the country down, honkies and all." He uses "honkies" to refer to white people.

William M. Kunstler, Brown's white attorney, maintained the SNCC leader had "never been a fugitive from anybody," but had been in Washington. He said Brown was on his way to New York to surrender to the FBI when he was arrested.

A hearing on the state fugitive charge is scheduled here Aug. 22.

Judge Franklin P. Backus set bail at $10,000. It was understood SNCC leaders had difficulty obtaining a bondsman to put up the bail.

Earlier in Baltimore, Md., Gov. Spiro T. Agnew said he had listened to a tape recording of Brown's talk in Cambridge and found it "entirely reprehensible and criminal." He said the SNCC leader "was guilty of breaking the law" and should be punished.

Agnew also said he has turned over to federal authorities information he said "indicates that the Newark riots and the Detroit riots had a similarity of planning and execution."

While refusing to disclose the sources of the information, Agnew cited as similarities in the riots which wracked the New Jersey and Michigan cities the effective use of snipers, interception of police messages and jamming of police broadcasts.

Meanwhile a State Department official said "consideration will be given" to revoking the passport of Brown's predecessor as SNCC leader, Stokely Carmichael.

Carmichael, who looked on Wednesday night in Havana as Prime Minister Fidel Castro called the riots the "tragedy of imperialism," violated the government's ban on travel to the Communist-run Caribbean island.

Released To Supporters' Cheers

H. Rap Brown raises fist as he leaves Alexandria, Va., jail early today to the cheers of some 300 supporters. The 23-year-old leader of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee was released on $10,000 bail. Arrested as a fugitive from a Maryland charge of inciting to riot, he is sought in connection with last Monday's rioting in Cambridge, Md. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Quake Claims At Least 70

ANKARA (AP) — Another violent earthquake struck Turkey Wednesday night in an area where 23,000 persons were killed in 1939 in one of history's most disastrous quakes. The government radio said by noon today the known death toll had reached 70, but many villages had not been heard from.

The quake occurred in eastern Turkey, south of the city of Erzincan. Erzincan was the site of the disastrous quake of Dec. 27, 1939.

The quake Wednesday night was Turkey's second such disaster in six days. On Saturday in western Turkey nearly 100 persons were killed at Adapazari.

The Pulumur region was reported hardest hit by the latest quake, with only 7 out of the 70 villages able to communicate with the provincial authorities.

The seismological observatory at Kandili said the quake was recorded at 8:50 p.m., an hour and a half after Pope Paul VI left western Turkey to return to Italy. The center of the quake was some 500 miles northeast of Izmir and Ephesus, which the Pope visited Wednesday.

Byerley Loses Appeal Case

Because Marshall E. Byerley denied at his trial here that he made a phone call alleged by the state to have been obscene and abusive to a teenage Big Spring girl, he was not permitted to contend that his arrest was the result of an "entrapment," the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals held Wednesday.

Byerley was found guilty of the alleged obscene phone call and sentenced to two months in the county jail and a fine of $200. He appealed the conviction.

His principal argument for reversal of his conviction was that he had been "entrapped"—in that the 16-year-old girl he is accused of calling was told by her mother to "lead him on" when he called.

Judge W. A. Morrison writing the decision of the appellate court said that since Byerley denied at his trial he made the alleged call he was not entitled to claim entrapment.

Byerley's attorney, in the appeal, also argued that the girl was an accomplice, but this was also rejected by Morrison.

Under new telephone company procedures, a person may request his phone be tapped and calls made to it traced to their origin. Information so gathered can be given only to law enforcement officers. This was the method followed here in the Byerley case and the Howard County jury which heard the evidence was convinced Byerley made the call charged to him.

Claustrophobia Jury Duty Excuse

SEATTLE (AP) — An economy move on the part of county commissioners may have provided Seattleites with a reason for being excused from jury duty—claustrophobia.

The commissioners have approved a plan to brick up the windows in the courthouse to save $7,200 a year in maintenance costs.

Superior Court Judge Lloyd Shorett said Wednesday, "I certainly would feel that a juror's being subject to claustrophobia would be grounds for excusing him from service in a walled-in courtroom."

Fifth Avenue Stores Looted

NEW YORK (AP)—A mob of Negro teenagers ran rampant on fashionable Fifth Avenue early today, looting two stores in the Rockefeller Center area and smashing several windows.

Witnesses said there were at least a dozen girls among the more than 100 youths who spilled into the area from a free rock 'n' roll concert in Central Park.

The looting was the first in midtown Manhattan in recent history.

Police moved in with 40 patrol cars and arrested 16 persons. They later sent double patrols into the 17-block area of Fifth Avenue extending south of Rockefeller Center and northward to Tiffany's at 57th Street.

WOMAN STRIPPED

A men's shop owner said $15,000 worth of merchandise had been stolen.

A foot patrolman, hand on holster, commented, "This is the wrong area to fool around with. A lot of money is wrapped up here."

Police said there were several reports of persons being accosted by a small band of Negro youths in the Columbus Circle area, just off Central Park.

Officers said one young couple was pummeled and robbed of between $10 and $20. A lieutenant at the West 54th Street station, responsible for the area, was unable to confirm a report by the Daily News, which quoted a Transit Authority patrolman, that the woman had been disrobed.

FREE CONCERT

The teenagers' spree began after they surged out of a free rock 'n' roll concert in Central Park featuring Smokey Robinson and the Miracles. The show was part of a series designed to keep city youth "cool" during the summer.

A police sergeant said the group — "100 to 150 of them" — headed down Broadway, tried unsuccessfully to turn over a taxi, then moved east at 46th Street to Fifth Avenue, startling strollers and show-goers.

Tearing away protective grilles, they smashed the windows of Blye's men's shop with garbage cans and stripped racks and displays clean of jackets, and cashmere and alpaca sweaters. The mob also dragged mannequins out of a Wallach's men's store window across the street and broke windows in the office of the American Oil Company.

'DOWNTOWN' SPREE

"They got about $15,000 in stuff, retail value, from me," said Arnold Blye, owner of the haberdashery. "I understand the cops expected something. People in the jewelry business nearby told me they had been told to take everything out of their windows and close up early."

Negro extremists in Harlem had warned of "going downtown" and "hitting the white man in the money" — an expression used in Cambridge, Md., this week by H. Rap Brown, national chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

Midland Road Bids Checked

AUSTIN (AP) — The Highway Department tabulated low bids on construction projects Wednesday, including, by county:

Strikers Gain Jobless Pay

AUSTIN (AP)— The Texas Supreme Court agreed with a district court Wednesday that 49 workers who went on strike against Shamrock Oil and Gas Corp. in 1964 can draw unemployment checks.

The unanimous ruling today reversed an Amarillo Civil Appeals Court judgment that the men could not get jobless benefits because of their picketing activities during the strike.

The Texas Employment Commission joined with Shamrock in contending that state law says an employe disqualifies himself for unemployment compensation if he is directly interested in a labor dispute that caused his unemployment.

Court records show that William Kraft and 48 other Shamrock employes, all members of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union, AFL-CIO, took part in a strike that began Aug. 6, 1964. In October, Kraft and the 48 others voluntarily crossed union picket lines and offered to go back to work. Shamrock told them there were no jobs open, the vacancies having been filled either by new employes or by other strikers who had decided to return. The records show that the 49 men, after being refused re-employment by Shamrock, continued through June, 1965, to qualify for strike benefits from the union by reporting for picket duty at least eight hours a week.

The ruling today said that according to state law "the basic disqualification (because of strike activities) no longer existed after claimants were refused work because no jobs were available" and affirmed the trial court judgment that Kraft and the others were due jobless benefits.

TEXAS NEGRO TEEN TO HEAD BOYS' NATION

WASHINGTON (AP)— Alan Keyes, 16, Negro youth from San Antonio, Tex., is newly elected president of Boys' Nation.

Keyes, first of his race ever to win the office, triumphed over Howard D. Burnett, 17, of Pocatello, Idaho, 50-49, in the spirited mock presidential election which features the annual Boys' Nation meetings.

The two had been nominated by rival parties in conventions preceeding the election.

Keyes' running mate, Douglas B. Kamerov, 17, of Alexandria, Va., was elected vice president over James. R. Higgins, of Wessington Springs, S.D., 56 to 43.

Delegates to Boys' Nation, which is sponsored by the America Legion, were chosen earlier in the summer at state conventions. The 99 high school students represent all 50 states and the district of Columbia.

In addition to holding mock political conventions and elections, the boys have toured Washington and met various government leaders. Their schedule for today included a visit to the White House and a meeting with President Johnson. The government study program will end Friday.

South Plains Takes Farming Turnabout

EDITOR'S NOTE: The South Plains, just about one of the world's greatest farming areas under certain conditions, has made some changes. Little noticed by many Texans, the land is being used for something other than staple crops. What's up?

PLAINVIEW, Tex. (AP)— An old buffalo hunter, his stomach filled with little except meat, coffee and whiskey, would snort in disbelief were he to awaken like Rip Van Winkle and see his old hunting grounds on the South Plains now.

For that rich country has turned into a paradise for the vegetable, once the handiwork of only a sodbuster's wife.

The South Plains, largely known for its cotton, grain sorghum and beef cattle production, now is filled with farmers who talk about vegetables in terms of tens of thousands of acres.

VEGETABLES SUB

This is a good year for production of vegetables in the South Plains. The weather, except for the usual hazards of a farmer's lot, has been reasonably cooperative for such farming. And much acreage planted to wheat was plowed up when that crop failed in places and was replanted in vegetables, increasing the worth of the total vegetable crop.

Commercial vegetable growing is widespread in Texas.

Well-established vegetable areas also include the Rio Grande Valley, the trans-Pecos, Winter Garden, Laredo, portions of North, East and Central Texas, the Upper Coast, Coastal Bend and the San Antonio region.

$45 MILLION

Official figures for the Texas Panhandle and High Plains show vegetables brought in $15 million last year and could reach $45 million this year with favorable weather and markets.

The season begins in early summer and extends to fall.

Producers estimate more than 45,000 acres of onions, 10,800 of potatoes, 10,000 of carrots, 500 of bell peppers, 600 in cabbages and 1,000 in other mixed vegetables such as squash, beets and parsley from a broad area around Plainview alone will readh markets before the season closes in mid-November.

The switch to the new crops in the High Plains has been slow. But most growers predict a continuing growth of vegetable acreage in West Texas.

GIANT RISKS

Growers point out that lack of a price guarantee in all cases, high costs of production and the risks involved are deterrents.

However the area's growing season, fertile soils and availability of water, plus an expected large population growth, will draw this area more and more into vegetable production, producers say.

"This area's future is so great, people can't visualize its potential," he said.

Processors help take some of the gamble out of vegetable farming. Very little production in the Plainview area is for the open market and most producers know before they plant what price they will receive because of contracts.

One of the larger vegetable processing operations in Plainview, Walker Brothers Produce Co., Inc., founded in 1957, grows 75 per cent of its crops on farms owned by the corporation and has contracts on another 20 per cent. Less than 10 per cent is bought on the open market.

Other growers have contracts with food and soup companies, pickle processors and the potato chip industry.

In the Hereford area northwest of Plainview, vegetable production is more general and farmers growing for the open market are more plentiful, Wendell Holloman of the Plainview Daily Herald notes. Growers forecast an excellent year with 3,395,000 hundredweight of potatoes there alone. Excellent yields of 36 tons per acre for the 35,000 acres of sugar beets are expected.

The Texas Panhandle onion crop this year is estimated at 16 per cent more than last year with 5,450 acres ready for harvest.

Castro County cucumbers will run approximately 500 acres. About 400 acres of tomatoes have been planted in the Dimmitt-Muleshoe area.

Hale County (Plainview) has 75 acres of tomatoes, about 450 acres of cucumbers, and other production of carrots, potatoes and cucumbers.

Although the fresh vegetable market receives most Plainview area production, two Plainview canneries operate on a national basis.

Hayes O'Quinn, a processing plant spokesman, said carrots on the Travis Goree farm were ready about July 5, the earliest carrots ever were produced in the Plainview area.

SHORT SEASONS

O'Quinn said High Plains farmers are at some disadvantage in producing vegetables at the best prices because of shipping costs to the larger markets in the North and Northeast.

He said that although the High Plains have one of the longest growing seasons of any area in the country, it has the shortest non-competitive selling season which occurs usually before northern vegetables are ready for harvesting.

One area farmer said that although the transportation cost is a handicap at the time, 20 years from now expansion of the population into the South and Southwest will make this area the finest possibility in the nation for major vegetable production.

West Texas Products

Carolyn June Burgess, Miss Plainview 1967, exhibits West Texas cabbage grown near Plainview. More than 600 acres of cabbage was planted in Hale County and surrounding areas this year. Onions, cabbage, carrots and potatoes are the major vegetable crops planted on more than 4,000 acres. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Texas Education Director Named

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Paul Kantz has been named executive director of the Region 15 Education Service Center to begin serving 18 West Texas counties by Sept. 1.

Kantz resigned Tuesday as assistant superintendent of the Midland school system. His salary at the new post is $20,000.

Kantz, 54, was employed by the Texas Education Agency from 1951 to 1960 when he joined Midland schools. He also has been with school systems at Santo, Carlisle, and New London.

He received a doctor of education degree this year from the University of Texas.

The Region 15 center will be located in San Angelo with a branch center in Brownwood.

Living Costs Still Climb

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs went up three-tenths of one per cent in June, with higher food prices contributing much of the increase, the Labor Department said Wednesday.

Prices for meats and fresh fruits and vegetables rose more than four per cent and Assistant Commissioner Arnold Chase of the Bureau of Labor Statistics said consumers have probably not yet seen the full effects of climbing food prices.

Prices also rose in all other major categories including housing, clothing, transportation and medical care, bringing the government consumer price index to 116.0.

The figure means it cost $11.60 to purchase typical family goods and services that cost $10 in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

Bid For Freedom By San Angelo Bomber Denied

AUSTIN (AP)—A bid for freedom by Harry L. Washburn, imprisoned for the 1955 car-bomb slaying of his former mother-in-law, has been rejected by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

The court, without a written opinion, denied Washburn the right to file formally a petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

Washburn was sentenced to from two to 99 years in prison for the murder of Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver in San Angelo on Jan. 18, 1955. She died when a bomb blew up her car.

Washburn's conviction by a Dallas jury was upheld after the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals reversed an earlier conviction o the same charge by a jury in Waco.

In his petition, Washburn complained of the use of television at his trial and said his lawyer at a habeas corpus hearing in Brazoria County permitted the hearing to proceed before his star witness arrived. Washburn said the witness was a carhop who saw him in Austin the day of the murder.

Science And You

Babies Are Benefitted

—By DR. LEONARD REIFFEL

There's been a lot of talk about the "spin-off" from the space program. People have tried very hard, sometimes too hard, to justify the tremendous number of dollars we've spent on space in terms of the benefits to us here on the ground. I don't think serious students of the space program really doubt there are going to be and already have been substantial benefits. But most of these benefits are hard to identify specifically.

Just what is it worth, for example, to have a man soldering TV sets on an assembly line who originally learned the skill in the space program?

On the other hand, there are occasional dramatic examples which show just what the general improvement of technology, brought about partly because of the space program, can mean to all of us here on Earth. Here is the story of one such example:

A new device had to be developed for the purpose of collecting urine samples from monkeys who are to spend 30 days in orbit as part of NASA's research program in space biology. The basic system involved a simple tube to be passed up into the monkey's bladder. Ordinary catheters, as these tubes are called, would not work well because they would cause infections after three or four days. So space scientists and medical people interested in the space program undertook to develop a new type of tubing which would work properly. They have succeeded.

What's this got to do with benefits to the man in the street? Well, the monkeys being used in these space experiments are about the size of human babies at the age of 18 months or so.

A number of human babies are born with congenital disturbances of the urinary tract and the only way to treat them is to use catheters which are inserted into the bladder. This allows the physician to take the necessary steps to save the child's life.

Up until now, ordinary catheters used for this purpose have caused problems. They could not be left in place for more than a few days. The child would have to be repeatedly disturbed. Treatment time was limited. After the space program doctors finished development of the new catheters for monkeys, they decided to try them out on human children. They worked beautifully.

Doctors can look forward to keeping these space-age catheters in place as long as 40 to 50 days, during which time the proper steps can be taken to save the afflicted child. It's not unlikely that quite a number of children will soon owe their lives to this simple piece of tubing. No one can say that the new catheter design would not have been developed if it had not been for the space program. But would it have happened so soon?

Former Coach And Soldier Now Heads A&M University

EARL RUDDER

COLLEGE STATION — J. Earl Rudder was to become a high school football coach.

So predicted his classmates when he was graduated from Eden High School in 1927. And he did; he coached at Brady five years and at Tarleton State College three years before he was called as a first lieutenant in the Army in World War II.

His high school classmates' prediction was accurate if a bit short-sighted.

Today Rudder is Texas A&M University president. He's a war hero and has served the public in political offices as Brady mayor and Texas land commissioner.

Recently he retired as a major general after a military career spanning 35 years. Now he plans "to devote my full energies to A&M."

Rudder attributes his successes to "the selection of good people around me."

Asked if there's anything at which he ever failed, Rudder replied: "I'm sure there has been, but fate's been pretty good to me."

Rudder, 57, has traveled a road with a lot of hard, narrow spots since he was graduated at Eden.

Until recent years he was best known as the World War II commander of the 2nd Ranger Battalion which scaled 100-foot-high cliffs at Pointe du Hoe during the D-Day invasion of Normandy.

For his leadership in the successful assault Rudder was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross, second only to the Medal of Honor in U. S. combat decoration.

General of the Army Omar N. Bradley, U. S. field commander for the 1944 invasion that marked the end of Hitler's Third Reich, described Rudder's role in the historic assault in his book "A Soldiers' Story."

"No soldier in my command has ever been wished a more difficult task than that which befell the 34-year-old commander of this Ranger force," Bradley wrote.

Bradley said the Brady ranchman was to land a force of 200 men on a shingled shelf, scale the face of 100-foot cliff and destroy enemy guns trained on Omaha Beach.

"As Rudder closed in on Pointe du Hoe, enemy artillery raked his landing craft. Half a dozen ropes were catapulted over the edge of the cliff. But as the Rangers went up the ropes hand over hand, the enemy dropped grenades on their heads," Bradley continued. "A destroyer raced in and swept the top of the cliff with her guns.

"Within five minutes after the landing, the first Ranger had bellied over the top. Seconds later his companions swarmed up behind him."

Rudder's battalion suffered more than 50 per cent casualties, and Rudder himself was wounded three times. He later was picked to command the 109th Infantry Regiment which helped repluse the last major offensive of the Germans at a battle known as the Battle of the Bulge.

"I felt very grateful that I had around me the kind of men that I did on this day, well trained, well-disciplined men fighting for a cause," Rudder said.

Rudder was born at Eden May 6, 1910. He attended Eden public schools and, in 1925, helped organize the school's first grid squad.

After high school graduation he entered John Tarleton Agricultural College, now Tarleton State. Then came two years at Texas A&M where he lettered in football. In 1932, he was graduated from A&M with a bachelor of science degree in industrial education and a reserve commission as a second lieutenant.

His first job after college was the State Highway Department, but in September 1933, he began coaching and teaching at Brady and saw his teams win two district championships.

In June 1937, he and another Brady teacher, the former Margaret Williamson, were married. Mrs. Rudder's home was in Menard and the family still owns ranchland in McCulloch and Menard counties.

He moved to Tarleton as football coach in 1938 and was there in 1941 when he was called to active duty.

After war heroics, Rudder returned to the U. S. in August 1945 and awaited transfer to the Far Eastern Theater, but the war came to an end and the division never was shipped.

He was released after serving on special War Department missions, holding the grade of full colonel and wearing, in addition to the DSC, the Legion of Merit, Silver Star, Bronze Star with Oak Leaf Cluster, Purple Heart with Oak Leaf Clusters, French Leon of Honor with Croix de Guerre and the Bulgarian Order of Leopold with Croix de Guerre and Palm.

He returned to Brady and renewed his interest in private business and ranching. He was elected mayor of the McCulloch County seat and served from 1946 to 1952. In 1953, he became Brady Aviation Co. public and labor relations counselor.

In January 1955, Rudder was appointed by Gov. Allan Shivers as commissioner of the general land office, a post he held until Feb. 1, 1958, when he resigned to become A&M vice president.

He continued to be active in the Army Reserve and became division commander of "Texas' Own" 90th Infantry Division June 20, 1955. He attained the rank of brigadier general and 1954 and major general in May 1957.

In 1959, Rudder became president of A&M and was promoted to president of the A & M University System Sept. 1, 1965.

Ten years after the D-Day invasion, Rudder returned with his son, Bud, to Pointe du Hoe. When he went back it was "with mixed emotion.

"With a heavy heart for those you lost, but with great pride for those that made it."

Heavy Rain Alerts Out

By The Associated Press

Violent weather swept across much of the Midwest late Wednesday with a band of heavy rains, hail and strong winds extending from Nebraska to Illinois.

Numerous funnel clouds appeared in Northern and Central Illinois, Northern Missouri and Eastern Iowa. No damage or injuries were reported.

Showers also were scattered through the Southeast and parts of the Rockies. Elsewhere clear skies prevailed.

More than four inches of rain drenched Rokeby, Neb., near Lincoln, and almost two inches fell at Peoria, Ill.

Winds up to 52 miles per hour swept through St. Joseph, Mo.

Heavy rain warnings were posed early Thursday for Eastern Missouri with the possibility of some local flooding and very strong winds.

Sunny skies were forecast west of the Rockies and over most of the Midwest and Southern Plains, with showers scattered elsewhere over the nation.

Lynda Bird Gulps Warm Beer, Jigs

LONDON (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson drank warm English beer and danced to pop music in a cockney pub until 4 a.m. today.

The President's daughter, 23, attended a party given by Paramount Pictures to celebrate the midway mark in the filming of "Up the Junction," a movie about life in a seamy area of London's East End.

She was accompanied to the Duke of Kent pub in the East End by her usual two Secret Service men and an American named Oscar Molinari.

Asked about Molinari, a security man replied tersely: "He is her escort."

Sip Beans Juice If You Desire To Reach 118

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It was a quiet birthday party by Tatzumbie DuPea's standards Only seven years ago, when she turned 111, she went on a helicopter ride.

But the tiny Piute Indian's sight began to fail several years ago, and now she says, "I can hear, that's all."

The party for her 118th birthday Wednesday was given by the U.S. Social Security Administration which lists her as the oldest lady on its rolls.

High point in the proceedings came when she was asked the time-honored question about her secret for living so long.

Then Tatzumbie DuPea, who recommended lean meat after turning 100 and at 101 pitched for fresh food, probably forgot she suggested eating fried bananas for breakfast a few years back.

Or, perhaps she was simply exercising a woman's prerogative when she whispered: "The secret is drink the juice of pink beans. It don't taste bad."

OIL REPORT

Duncan Stakes Flanker Site

Duncan Drilling Co. of Big Spring No. 1-B G. E. Ramsey Jr. and others is projected 2,500-foot as a flanker to the three-well Geraldine, West (2,430-foot Delaware sand) pool in Northeast Culberson County, 14 miles northwest of Orla.

Location is 990 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 44-58, T-1, T&P survey, 14 miles northwest of Orla.

C. D. Wiley has plugged and abandoned No. 1 O. R. Bolinger, a wildcat, at a total depth of 4,010 feet in Howard County. Location is 467 feet from the north and 2,173 from the east lines of section 40-32, T1N, T&P survey, two miles northeast of Big Spring.

William K. Davis' wildcat, No. 1 Emma Whitaker in Howard County, is swabbing following tests at 7,378 feet. The well kicked off and flowed 75 barrels of fluid in 12 hours through a 12-64 choke. The fluid was 35 per cent oil and 65 per cent water. Perforations are between 6,723-28 with 4½ inch casing set at 6,808. The Wolfcamp zone was acidized with 500 gallons. Location is 2,202.4 feet from the north and 1,750 feet from the east lines of section 36-25, H&TC survey, six miles northwest of Vincent.

COMPLETIONS

STERLING

A. E. Walker Jr. No. 7 Lee Hunt, an older well worked over, is complete at a depth of 1,719 feet in the Durham (York and Harper) field. Initial pumping potential registered 10 barrels of 31 gravity oil per day and six barrels of water. Perforations were between 1,684-1,710 feet with 5½ inch casing set at 1,719 feet. The zone was acidized with 750 gallons and the gas-oil ratio was too small to measure. The drillsite is 990 feet from the south and 330 feet from the east lines of section 2-T, T&P survey, four miles southwest of Sterling City. Derrick floor elevation is 2,412 feet.

DAILY DRILLING

DAWSON

W. A. Moncrief No. 1 Baldwin-Sherman is drilling at 6,436 feet in lime. It is 1,980 feet from the north and 2,640 from the west lines of section 5-5, D. L. Cunningham survey, 11 miles north of Lamesa.

HOWARD

L. W. Holbrook No. 1 Barber is drilling at 4,731 feet in lime. The drillsite is 1,050 feet from the north and 760 from the west lines of the northwest quarter of section 47-31, T1N, T&P survey.

STERLING

Moncrief No. 1-31 R. T. Foster is circulating for samples at 8,750 feet. The wildcat drillsite is 1,320 feet from the south and 933 from the east lines of the southwest quarter of section 31-13, SPRR survey, eight miles southwest of Sterling City.

Queen Mary Finds Home

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The Queen Mary, venerable lady of the Atlantic, will find a permanent home on the waterfront of Long Beach and rival Disneyland as a lure for tourists.

The ocean liner, now too old for travel as a luxury ship, is being sold by Cunard Lines to the city of Long Beach for $3,444,000.

The city, whose bid topped 17 others, plans to spend $3 million to $5 million to make the Queen Mary into a maritime museum, hotel and convention center.

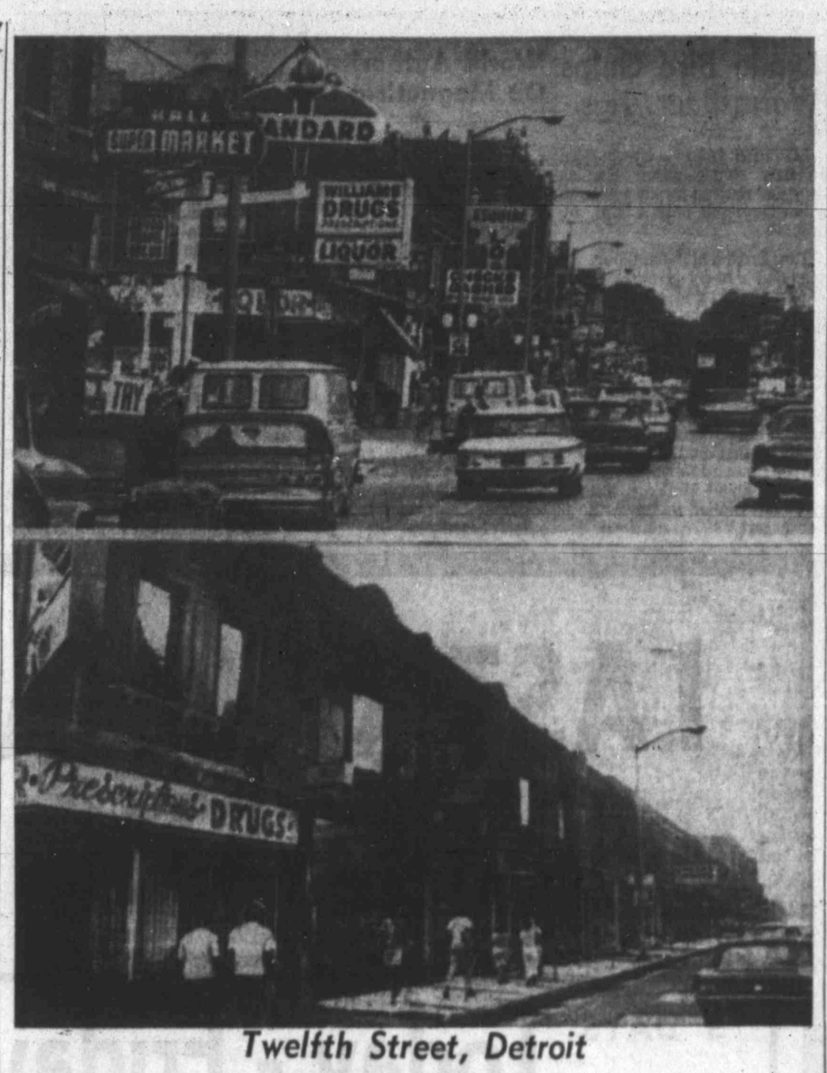

The news Wednesday from London, where the sale was announced, created excitement among Long Beach citizens.

"She'll rival Disneyland," said Mayor Edwin Wade.

He predicted that the luxury liner will attract two million persons a year. She will rival Disneyland, Marineland and other Southern California facilities as a tourist attraction," he said.

Wade, discounting comment in London that the proud old ship would become "an unfair spectacle," said it would retain its dignity in Long Beach harbor.

The oil-rich California city of 380,000 beat out New York City, an Atlanta, Ga., group and scrap dealers all over the world for the ship that carried millions of persons across the Atlantic with a stint as transporter of 765,000 allied troops during World War II.

Twelfth Street, Detroit

Twelfth Street, Detroit, top, a few days ago was a place to buy a prescription, cash a check, buy a loaf of bread or join the bustling one-way northbound traffic. Today, bottom, it is a defeated place, devastated by fire, stripped by looters, stained by violence after days of rioting. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Food Still Major Detroit Problem

DETROIT (AP) — The massive task of providing riot refugees with food—and providing it fast—faced Mayor Jerome Cavanagh's Committee on Human Resources Development today.

"Housing's not the problem," said Ralph Rosenfeld, an assistant to Director Philip Rutledge. "Food is."

Rosenfeld said a hotel taken over by the city for the purpose of finding places for refugees to live had attracted only eight families.

"Apparently they're moving in with friends," he said.

Officials could only guess that there are from 300 to 3,000 homeless.

NO BREAKDOWN

Harried Detroit authorities could offer no breakdown now on destruction but said at least 1,500 businesses were looted and there were more than 1,500 to 3,000 damaged or destroyed buildings. Many fires had left an undetermined number of families, living in tenements above burned stores, homeless, officials said.

Offers of places to stay in neat, peaceful and nearly all-white neighborhoods went almost unheeded.

"We're all responsible for these things happening now," said Bush, a manager for the Detroit Edison Electric Co. "I think there are lots of good people in this area and this type of action may help improve their understanding and improve their acceptance of their own responsibilities."

REFUGE IN CANADA

Across the Detroit River police in Windsor reported many displaced persons had sought refuge in Canada. Many Negroes, police said, had crossed the river in boats and were staying with friends.

Border restrictions, eased for the first time since the rioting broke out, made it "easier to get out of Detroit than to get in," a U.S. immigraion official said.

But back in the riot-ripped areas of the nation's fifth largest city, the problem was not so much finding a place to live. It was finding a way to live.

Incomplete estimates by the committee indicated thousands of people would be out of jobs after the mess is cleaned up — because their places of work have been destroyed, left as twisted steel girders growing as strange weeds from beds of rubbled brick.

How to get the food to the uncounted thousands was a major problem. But where to get the food to give them was a bigger one.

COLD CEREAL

A vanload of cold cereal had been donated by a breakfast food producer, the Interfaith Emergency Center which was established to meet the crisis, reported. A spokesman for the center said a dairy came through with 500 half-gallon containers of much needed milk. And the Wayne County AFL-CIO Council set up a motor transport pool to deliver the goods, the spokesman added.

DOLLAR A QUART

Other than milk, the committee sought only staple foods.

Food distribution centers were set up in churches throughout the city.

Many were giving out food on a meal-to-meal basis. Others were providing it on a daily basis. "Hoarding could become a problem," Rosenfeld said.

The committee also reported cases of price gouging on hard-to-get food. The boosts were 100 per cent in some cases, Rosenfeld said.

Milk was reported in one case as being sold for a dollar a quart.

Federal Grant Being Sought

Steps which might lead to a federal grant of $60,000-$70,000 for Big Spring, were made Tuesday by Ernest Lillard, public works director.

Lillard took an application for a federal demonstration grant to be reviewed in Dallas by the regional planning director for solid wastes programs of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Friday the grant will be submitted to Washington, D.C., for approval. If approved, Lillard said the grant money would be expended over a three year period to operate the sanitary land fill run by the city.

While in Dallas, Lillard also met with representatives of the engineering firm of Freese, Nichols and Endress to discuss problems encountered in their study of the city's water system and methods of improving it.

Water Usage At Low Ebb

City water usage continues to fall below that of last year during July as only 7,772,000 gallons were used for the daily period ending Wednesday morning. This compares to 9,958,000 gallons used for the same time last year.

Total usage reported thus far in July is recorded as 174,644,000 gallons; 229,287,000 are registered for the corresponding period last year.

Grant Planning To Close Store In Big Spring

The W. T. Grant Company is planning to close its large variety-department store in Big Spring, according to reports made public here today.

A tentative date of Oct. 15 has been set, according to Jay Newman, manager, but he added that he was awaiting a firm date from his district office. Company officials were expected to be here the first of the week.

Grants was among the original firms opening in the College Park Shopping Center in August, 1962.

200,000 ARABS WAIT

Three Little Words Block Repatriation

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — A dispute over three little words—State of Israel—is blocking the repatriation of up to 200,000 Arab refugees who fled across the Jordan River during and after the Arab-Israeli war.

With only 14 days to go, no applications have been filled out for the refugees to return to the west bank of the Jordan, which Israel occupied in the June war.

FORMS REFUSED

The Jordanian government has been urging the refugees to go home but it is not yet known how many want to.

The Israelis announced that refugees could begin returning Aug. 10 provided their applications were approved after security and health screening.

Israeli authorities supplied 7,000 printed application forms to Roland Troyon, a representative of the International Red Cross committee in Jordan.

The Jordanian authorities refused to accept the forms because they were headed in English "State of Israel—Ministry of the Interior." The Jordanians considered this an attempt to squeeze out recognition of Israel as a nation, something the Arab countries have refused to do since the Jewish state was established in 1948.

All but a few of the forms were returned to the Israelis.

DEADLOCK

Jordan earlier drew up its own form for would-be repatriates but Israel rejected them without explanation. The Jordanians are reported insisting on a form headed by the Red Cross symbol and some such noncommittal wording as "application for repatriation."

The Israelis have indicated privately they would accept such a form if Jordanian officials negotiate directly with them. But the Jordanians feel this also would imply recognition of Israel and open them to certain criticism from the other Arab states.

Three Hurt In Car Crash

An airman and his girl companion were hospitalized late Wednesday night and a second airman escaped injury when the car in which they were riding ran out of control and ended up 300 feet farther along in the borrow ditch of US 87.

The mishap occurred, according to Lindy Oldfield, deputy sheriff, at the intersection of a county road and the Country Club road, south of the city limits.

He said the 1967 sports car, driven by Gary Dixon, 21, Webb AFB, was travelling west. In the car with Dixon was Rozina Brown, 19, of 607 Scurry, and Airman 3.C. Dale Nickerson, 20.

Oldfield said the car plunged across the Country Club road and crashed over the rocky terrain 300 feet before rolling into the borrow ditch of US 87, across the road from the Big Spring City Park entrance.

Dixon was taken to the base hospital where he was under observation but is not believed to be seriously hurt. He was first treated at Cowper Hospital.

Miss Brown is in Cowper Hospital with a right foot injury.

Nickerson was examined at the base hospital and released.

Stock Mart List Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — Strength in General Motors and Chrysler helped point the stock market higher early this afternoon. Trading was active.

The market made upside progress for the second straight session but it was not entirely clear sailing as profits still were being taken in some recent gainers.

The ratio of gains to losses was little less than 2 to 1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.47 at 906.61.

Although GM and Chrysler both reported lower profits than a year ago for the second quarter. Wall Street was pleased with the reports as indicating a turnabout based on increasing sales.

GM was up a solid 2 points and Chrysler more than a point.

Steels and rubbers, closely allied to the auto industry, moved generally higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .5 at 338.9 with industrials up 1.5, rails

Ford and American Motors each took fractional losses.

The quieting of the turbulence on the steets of Detroit lent some degree of reassurance to a stock market which has been very much aware of the impact racial rioting can have on business.

McDonnell Douglas and Boeing continued to respond to the big jet orders from United Air Lines, Boeing adding another 3 points and McDonnell Douglas about 2.

Fire Destroys Opera House

SANTA FE (AP)— The Santa Fe Opera Co.'s outdoor amphitheater burned to the ground today in an early morning fire, with the loss estimated at nearly $1 million. No injuries were reported.

A company spokesman said the fire broke out backstage about 4 a.m. and when people at the Opera Ranch, a few hundred yards away, woke up, they saw the stage in flames.

The burning wooden roof sheltering the stage section apparently blew over onto the open audience section, catching the seats on fire, with the flames spreading to a covered seating section of the back of the 1,200-seat auditorium.

Most costumes, scenery, orchestral parts, some instruments, and lighting equipment were lost to the flames.

The U.S. premiere of "Cadillac," by Paul Hindemith, was staged at the open-air theater Wednesday night. The opera spokesman said the second performance, scheduled for Friday night, has been cancelled because of the loss of costumes and orchestral parts.

John Crosby, general manager of the company, now in its 11th season, began plans at once for continuation of the summer season in temporary quarters. He also said the company would start immediately on rebuilding of the theater for next year's season.

Another U.S. premier, "Boulevard Solitude," by the German composer, Henze, probably will go on as scheduled, the spokesman said, if the necessary orchestral parts can be obtained. He said the scenery for this production was stored outside the theater and was not lost.

Cause of the fire has not been determined.

Knott Tour, Supper Held

KNOTT — Parents, friends, and Knott 4-H members viewed "4-H in Action" as they toured the Knott community and saw various projects at different members homes early this week.

Showing swine projects were Kayla and Kelly Gaskins, Johnny and Patty Peugh, Keith Nichols, Claudia and John Nichols, and Larry Shaw.

Girls who exhibited clothing projects were Janette Nichols, Connie Hughes, Mary Lynn Hopper, Claudia and Donna Nichols, Patty Peugh, and Kayla Gaskins.

Kayla Gaskins also showed her bedroom improvement project and a piece of furniture that she refinished.

The tour was climaxed with a basket supper at the community center.

Mike McClain showed fat steers and lambs as his year's project.

New members with the group who were showing projects for the first time were Mary Lynn Hopper, John, Claudia, and Donna Nichols.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Delaine Crawford and children, Mrs. Conard Miller and children, and Mrs. James Shelton and daughter.

FBI's Publicity Chief To Resign

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI's top publicity man said today he's retiring from his $25,800 a year job for financial reasons.

Robert Wick, an assistant director who heads the FBI's Crime Records Division and is the bureau's principal public information source, said he'll become Washington publicity manager for Pan American World Airways July 31.

Four Girls Are Hurt In Wednesday Collision

Four girls received minor injuries in a two-car collision Wednesday afternoon at Seventeenth and Aylford. Sherri Lynn Jones, 16, 2205 Alabama, was released from Cowper Hospital this morning after treatment for multiple abrasions. She was driver of one of the cars.

Three passengers in the Jones car were taken to Cowper and released Wednesday afternoon. They were Deborah Goodwin, 13, 1401 Princeton; Vicki Moore, 8, 2205 Alabama; and Patty Sue Jones, 14, 2205 Alabama.

The second car involved in the accident was driven by Susan Kay Green, 14, Box 830. Two passengers in Miss Green's car were uninjured.

Three other accidents have been investigated by city police. Charles Briggs, 1314 E. 3rd, told officers Wednesday morning that an accident had occurred after midnight involving his car and one unidentified. Damage to a fence at the Big Spring field station resulted from a one-car accident at the intersection of IS 20 and US 77 on the north service road. Driver of the truck involved was Ernest Eugene Makowsky, Midland. Police learned the mishap was caused by rear brake failure.

An early morning accident occurred today at the Yellow Cab parking lot. Involved in the collision were Eusefio Fierro, 507 N. Aylford, and Ulysses Riggan, 1110 N. Gregg.

Reds Plant Fake Hong Kong Bombs

HONG KONG (AP) — Pro-Communist Chinese stepped up their bombing and arson attacks in Hong Kong Wednesday night, then planted fake bombs in Hong Kong's business center today in an attempt to terrorize further this British colony.

Police shot to death one bomb thrower who disabled a double-decker bus and wounded its driver and a passenger.

It was the colony's 27th violent death since Communist rioting began May 11.

TRAFFIC JAMS

Eight other bombing attacks injured 15 persons, including three children and six adults waiting in a streetcar stop queue when a time bomb exploded.

Two fake bombs and an unfused dynamite parcel threw bomb scares into the central business sector, tying up traffic as demolition experts barricaded streets before moving in.

Hundreds of pedestrians blocked streets and sidewalks as they watched demolition experts work over a box of black powder with what looked like a timing device and fuse. It was found on Queens Road Central, a major ranking and business street. Another bomb-like box was found near the Supreme Court building, and the dynamite parcel in front of a low cost housing estate.

ACID VIALS SEIZED

Police raided two Communist Chinese department stores, from one of which bombs were hurled Wednesday night as a British Army patrol car escorting a bus down the main street of Kowloon, the Chinese-packed city across the harbor channel from Hong Kong island. One soldier was slightly wounded in that bomb attack.

The raiders found cauldrons of acid, plus acid-filled vials apparently loaded and designed for throwing. They also found scores of rioter kits — each including protective goggles, gas masks and slingshots and boxes of steel ball - bearing ammunition. At close range, a police officer said, the catapults could crack a skull, put out an eye, or kill.

In Taipei, Nationalist China's official Central News Agency said Nationalist intelligence sources reported heavy armed clashes between rival groups of Red Guards broke out Monday in Lhasa, capital of Tibet, and became more serious Tuesday.

DEATHS

Ellis R. Browne, Formerly C-City

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Ellis Raymond Browne, 60, former resident, died early Wednesday morning in the Medical Arts Hospital in Brownwood after a long illness.

Funeral will be held Thursday at 5 p.m. in the Kiker and Son Chapel, with Rev. Fred Smith, pastor of the Payne Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be in the Colorado City Cemetery.

Mr. Browne was born in Mitchell County Nov. 11, 1906 and married Kathryn McFarland Nov. 16, 1930 in Sayre, Okla. A retired farmer, he had lived in Brownwood several years. He was a member of the Spade Baptist Church.

Survivors are four sons, Raymond Lee Browne, Bangs, Lewis Wayne Browne, serving with the armed forces in Vietnam, Mike and Randy Browne, both of Merkel; four daughters, Mrs. Buddy Eldred, Robert Lee, Mrs. LeRoy Selman, Spring Lake, N.C., Mrs. Tex Rhoades, Arlington, and Kathy Browne, Merkel; one brother, J. B. Browne, Tyler; three sisters, Mrs. Layne Carey, Cisco, Mrs. Lum Carey, Abilene, and Mrs. Maggie Webb Browning, Madera, Calif.; and 13 grandchildren.

Mrs. Harmon, Brief Resident

Mrs. Inez Harmon, 77, died Wednesday evening in a local hospital.

She is survived by one niece, Mrs. Ansel R. Menges, Big Spring.

She was born Feb. 30, 1890 in Clarksburg, Kan., and married the late Victor L. Harmon April 15, 1917, in Denver, Colo. He preceded her in death Dec. 29, 1965, and she came to Big Spring in September, 1966 to live with her niece.

Services are pending at Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Jaycees Planning A Ride Carnival

The Big Spring Jaycees will sponsor a ride carnival July 31-Aug. 3 at the College Park Shopping Center.

This weekend the area Jaycees meeting is planned in San Angelo and interested Jaycees are asked to meet at the Downtown Tea Room Saturday morning to form a caravan.

Monday, at the regular meeting, Roscoe Cone discussed the new Texas driving insurance plan which becomes effective Aug. 1.

At the meeting next Monday, Bob Knight, president of the Big Spring Optimist Club, will speak on the heart.

Weather Forecast

Widely scattered showers and thundershowers are expected Thursday night in New England, the Middle Atlantic States, the Ohio Valley, the South and Central Rockies, the Central Plains and the Central Mississippi Valley. It will be cool in the northern quarter of the nation east of the Mississippi Valley. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

Cast And Wrought Iron Novelties

Magic Metal Specializes In Ornamental Ironwork

James L. Johnson and Charles Briggs, longtime residents of Big Spring, are specialists in ornamental metal at the Magic Metal, Inc., 1314 E. 3rd.

They custom build and design external and internal metal work, and are the only ornamental metal specialists in the Big Spring area.

Dealing in cast iron and wrought iron works, Magic Metal has a selection of 14 patterns in metal stock columns, including curly oak, pine cone, scroll grape, sunflower, Chinese modern, and Cattail to name a few.

"We have a wide selection of colonial and modern columns, and also patterns in the popular Spanish design," Briggs said.

Also, cast iron panels and brackets are available in the same patterns as the columns. Mail box stands in cast and wrought iron are available at Magic Metal. All stands have horizontal brackets drilled to fit standard mail boxes, and they have a cut-off feature, so the stand can be set at any height.

Every column is fabricated from one inch square structural steel tubing and had wrought scrolls, spot welded into place with a special alloy nickel welding rod. Scrolls are formed from ⅛ inch by ¾ inch iron. Corner columns will bear a load of approximately 7,500 pounds; flat columns will bear about 3,999 pounds, with all columns having a safety factor of two to one.

Wrought columns are eight feet high and can be cut down to any required height between eight feet and seven feet, two inches. All columns are available in 10 inch or 12 inch widths at the same price. Ten inch columns will be shipped when ordered unless 12 inch widths are specified.

Magic Metal, Inc. has in its stock a selection of cast iron patio furniture in the Grape and Classic designs. The patio set includes a settee and two chairs, arm chairs or plain chairs. Also tree benches are available as are tables, planter boxes and benches.

Wrought iron has been used to form columns, screen door grilles, and outside stair railings.

In wrought iron, as in no other building medium, the creative artistry of the craftsmen is given free rein. Working with forge and hammer, the ironsmith can create patterns of endless variety, each one complementing perfectly the installation for which it is designed. This line of iron work also comes in the standard patterns.

Ornamental iron is becoming increasingly popular for interior use where its strength, beauty, and versatility make it especially useful for stair rails and room dividers. In modern or ranch style homes, particularly, it is possible to maintain their open, uncluttered effect at no sacrifice in structural strength.

In interior installations, an appropriate design, either in cast or wrought, should be selected that will complement the room furnishings.

Magic Metal, Inc. also carries aluminum wall and door plaques, as well as cast iron andirons, trays and dishes, trivets, and other metal ornamental items.

Magic Metal, Inc. also practices general shop welding, including truck headache racks and trailer hitches.

Until recent years, however, every installation was completely custom, and the various columns, brackets and miscellaneous parts needed for a house were individually cast or wrought for that specific installation. The costs incurred by this method restricted its use in the home building to the wealthy, but now, with the economics of mass production, ornamental iron work has come within the reach of the most modest budget.

Today, any home owner or home builder can enjoy the charm, durability and sound architectural value of iron work for his own home, by contacting Magic Metal, Inc., 1314 E. 3rd, telephone 267-8370.

Quarter-Century Servant

Ted Phillips, owner and operator of Phillips Tire Co., 311 Johnson, has been serving the Big Spring area for 28 years. His firm handles Fisk and Michelin tires.

Phillips Tire Serves Area Over A Quarter-Century

Some tire salesmen know little more than the basic conception that a tire is round and has a hole in the center.

This is the point where a person needs a professional, and this is the point where the Phillips Tire Co., 311 Johnson, has been stepping in for the past 28 years.

Ted Phillips, owner and operator of the Phillips Tire Co., has been placing his knowledge of tires and a tremendous service effort behind every top quality tire he sells.

Phillips Tire handles the Fisk tire, known as the Fisk Premier, and it is the safety tire of superior durability. Engineered with four piles of powerful, pressure - cooled nylon, the Fisk Premier has proved new high speed safety. The tire has new highway control and was tested in corner, tracking, lande changing, passing and parking.

This recently proved control has been attributed to the wrap-around shoulder sureness on curves.

Another superior tire that is handled by Phillips Tire Co. is the "X" tire. It is the most versatile passenger tire and is designed not only for the tire connoisseur and rally enthusiast, but will perform as well for the average driver who owns a compact, sports or foreign car.

The Michelin "X" tire, the first radial cord tire to be placed on the market, was developed by Michelin 15 years ago, and constantly perfected since that time.

In a Michelin "X" tire, sidewalls and tread area work independently from each other; the radial ply carcass flexes easily to reduce generation of heat, rolling resistance and therefore fuel consumption; the three layers of steel cords brace the tread to ensure full contract with the road and eliminate tread distortion. That is why "X" tires grip better and last longer.

For your tire needs, check with Phillips Tire Co. and inspect the Fisk Premier tire and the "X" tire. Ted Phillips has been in the tire business for 28 years, serving the Big Spring area, and he knows his tires. He is an expert in the tire field.

Out With An Audience

Carl Yastrzemski of the Red Sox is tagged out at home by California Angels pitcher Minnie Rojas in seventh inning at Fenway Park Wednesday night. Action started when Yastrzemski doubled off left center field wall scoring Norm Siebern (4), Mike Andrews (2) and Joe Foy (1). Yaz attempted to score when Jose Cardenal threw ball past home but catcher Bob Rodgers recovered and threw to Rojas in time for the out. Boston won, 9-6. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Mike Andrews Shocks Tribe As Sox Win

By The Associated Press

Mike Andrews had an idea and also a solution in case it didn't work. Happily it worked.

There were men on first and third with two out in the Boston sixth inning Wednesday night with Andrews at the plate. He bunted.

By the time surprised California third baseman Woody Held fielded the ball Andrews was on first and Reggie Smith was home with the third run of the inning to tie the game 4-4.

The Red Sox went on to score three more times in the inning for a 7-4 lead en route to a 9-6 victory.

"It was my own idea," Andrews said. "If I would have popped it up, I would have just kept running."

While Andrews was outsmarting the Angels, Washington was beating Kansas City 6-3 and New York split with Minnesota, winning the first game 6-1 and losing the nightcap 3-2 in 18 innings.

The Cleveland at Chicago game was rained out. Detroit and Baltimore were not scheduled.

Asked if he was thinking about bunting with Andrews up, Boston Manager Dick Williams replied:

"No. He caught me just like he caught Woody Held."

The Red Sox, who stayed ahead of the Angels in second place with the victory which snapped California's seven-game winning streak, got their first run in the seventh on Tony Conigliaro's double and George Scott's triple.

Marcelino Lopez then relieved George Brunet and was greeted by Rico Petrocelli's sacrifice fly. Smith singled and pinch hitter Norm Siebern got aboard on an error before pinch hitter Dalton Jones flied out, setting up Andrews' bunt.

Fireman Juan Pizarro Salvages Bucs' Bacon

By The Associated Press

Bob Veale, weary from having struggled through a complete game just five days ago, discovered Wednesday night that he just couldn't turn the trick twice in succession.

With Juan Pizarro waiting in the wings, it couldn't have mattered less.

Veale, still relishing his first complete game in 16 starts on July 21, held Los Angeles at bay for 7 1-3 innings in the Pirates' 4-2 victory Wednesday. But then the familiar signs of non-completion set in and in came Pizarro to protect the big lefthander's 12th victory against four defeats.

Pizarro should go into the protection business. He came in with one man on and two balls on Ron Fairly. After completing the walk, he got down to business. Al Ferrara and Jim Lefebvre went down swinging, ending that particular threat, mild as it was.

And in the ninth? First there was Bob Bailey. He took a third strike. Then there was Wes Parker. He swung at a third one. And last there was Jeff Torborg a swinger, but not a hitter.

In other National League action, St. Louis beat Chicago 4-2, Cincinnati bounced Atlanta 7-1 and rained washed out the second game of a scheduled doubleheader, Houston edged Philadelphia 3-2 and New York bombarded San Francisco 11-5.

Willie Stargell homered for the Pirates in the fourth inning, but the Dodgers came back to tie the score 2-2. Manny Mota singled in the run that broke the tie in the sixth and Maury Wills walked, stole second, went to third on an error and scored on a forceout for the final run.

The Cardinals extended their league lead to two games by downing the Cubs. Julian Javier drove in three runs, two with a homer, and Lou Brock stole two bases and scored twice. Nelson Briles, 5-4, was the winner, but needed ninth inning help from Jack Lamabe and Joe Hoerner.

Deron Johnson cracked a two-run homer, sparking the Reds' victory after Phil Niekro had held Cincinnati to one bunt single through the first six innings. Mel Queen, 10-5, was the winner.

Joe Morgan's single drove in the second run in a ninth inning rally that sent the Astros past the Phils. Jackie Brandt's single earlier had tied the game after singles by Dave Adlesh and Bob Aspromonte.

Cleon Jones, who has been having a terrible time hitting the ball all year, broke loose for a homer and five runs batted in against the Giants and Bud Harrelson had four hits and two RBIs for the Mets.

Mermen Give U.S. Boost At Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Canada (AP) — The United States entered the fourth day of Pan-American Games action today with 11 of 15 possible gold medals bundled up and its powerful track and field team yet to explode onto the scene.

The talented U.S. swimming team Wednesday night accounted for five gold medals in an opening six-event program which produced two world records — by a couple of phenomenal kids.

Mark Splitz, 17-year-old wonder from Santa Clara, Calif., won the 200-meter butterfly in 2:06.4, shattering the world mark of 2:06.6 set by Australia's Kevin Berry in the 1964 Olympics.

Canada's 16-year-old Elaine Tanner snapped a string of five straight U.S. triumphs with a superb women's 200-meter backstroke effort of 2:24.44 smashing the world record of 2:26.4 set by South Africa's Karen Muir in 1966.

Miss Tanner also may dent U.S. aquatic superiority in tonight's five-event program which includes the women's 100-meter backstroke.

Uncle Sam's wrestlers could come close to sweeping all eight gold medals in tonight's closing competition, with Oklahoma City's Wayne Baughman already owning the 191-pound crown.

The Yank track team which begins flexing its muscles in Saturday's opening finals including the 10,000-meter run, javelin and shot put is tabbed to take at least 18 gold medals on the men's 24-event program.

The U.S. basketball team Wednesday continued to make a walkaway of its quest for fifth straight Pan-Am title by whomping Peru 93-37 with five players hitting double figures.

The U.S. cagers now stand 2-0 after opening Tuesday with a 131-43 clouting of Colombia.

In baseball, the U.S. squad won its second straight game 8-3 over Puerto Rico and stand 2-1. The only Yank defeat came in a 4-3 opening loss to defending champion Cuba which Wednesday downed Mexico 4-1 to stand 2-0.

Kicker Resting

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Danny Villanueva, the Dallas Cowboys' first string place kicker, was reported doing well today after surgery to remove two bone chips from his ankle.

Crousen Is Named Grid Aide Here

Joe Crousen, one-time all-state player at Breckenridge High School, has been named to succeed Don Fuqua as head defensive coach at Big Spring High School.

Fuqua resigned earlier this week to accept employment as a varsity coach at Pharr-San Juan-Alamo in the Texas Valley.

Crousen, who rented a house here after conferring with athletic director Spike Dykes Wednesday, has been serving as defensive coach at R. L. Turner High School in Carrollton, under coach Kirk Drew. He joined the Carrollton staff three years ago, when Nolan Poovey was coach there.

Crousen also coached the Carrollton team to a district baseball championship last spring. His baseball team's over-all record in 1967 was an impressive 24-12.

Carrollton's football team lost to San Angelo's Bobcats in the semifinals of the state playoffs last season, 41-15.

Crousen was a four-year letter winner at Breckenridge, where he performed under Emory Bellard. He captained the Buckies his senior year as a guard on offense and a linebacker on defense, at which time Breckenridge won the state crown in its division.

Dykes said Crousen was his No. One choice among all the men he has interviewed for the position and felt Big Spring had 'scored a ten-strike' by signing him.

Joe captained the team everywhere he played football, later at San Angelo Junior College and then at Sul Ross in Alpine. He was captain of the San Angelo team that played in the Hospitality Bowl in Mississippi.

At Sul Ross, he performed under David Slaughter. He later coached the defensive secondary and serve as chief scout at Sul Ross before moving to Carrollton in 1964.

Crousen is married to the former Willa Vee Purdue of Victoria. They have one child, a three-year-old boy named Kevin.

Mrs. Crousen planned to supervise the family's move here while Joe is attending the coaching school at San Antonio with the other Big Spring mentors.

TO ELDORADO

Roberts Resigns Coahoma Post

COAHOMA — Head coach Bernie Hagins of Coahoma High School is seeking an assistant to replace Norman Roberts, who resigned recently after one season on the job to become an aide to Ray Morgan at Eldorado High School.

Hagins, who calls his Bulldogs into fall training Aug. 15, said he had several men in mind for the position but may not be able to make an announcement on the matter before next week's coaching school at San Antonio.

Hagins plans to leave Sunday for San Antonio.

In reality, Coahoma is seeking two coaches, one of them a head basketball mentor. Bill Easterling, who has been doubling as high school cage coach and high school principal, has indicated he will concentrate on his administrative duties in the future.

On two occasions, coaches have tentatively accepted the basketball position at Coahoma only to back out, Hagins said. The situation remained attractive to both but other conditions not related to the job entered into their final decisions.

Hagins will start his second season as head coach of the Coahoma football team this year. The school is a member of District 5-A.

Magee And Drake Win Partnership

The Big Spring tandem of Carrie Magee and Pat Drake used a 63 to win first place in the one-day Women's Partnership Golf tournament staged at the Big Spring Country Club Wednesday.

The 18 holes of competition attracted four teams from Snyder, two from Ozona and one from Midland Ranchland Hills, as well as six representing Big Spring.

Pat Barbee and Wanda Stewart, both of Ozona, were second, one stroke off the pace. Third was the Big Spring combination of Madeline Atkins and Billie Dillon, who settled for a 65.

Trophies went to all members of the three leading teams. The visitors stayed for lunch following the morning activity.

Indians, Legion Clash Tonight

A two-game baseball series between the McMahon Indians of the Hi-Junior Teen-Age Baseball league and the Big Spring American Legion team will get under way at 8 o'clock this evening in the Teen-Age Park.

The practice set will be concluded Friday evening.

The Indians are marking time for the District tournament, which starts in San Angelo next week.

The American Legion club wound up its District 19 season several weeks ago but regrouped in order to give the Indians some competition.

Proceeds from the two games will be used to help defray expenses of the McMahon team to San Angelo.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

With football less than a month removed (the pros start playing early next month), the brochures dedicated to the autumnal madness are beginning to cascade through this window.

One of the early arrivals features an ex-Big Spring great, Charley West, on the cover, and for good reason. West will serve as a tri-captain of the University of Texas at El Paso team. Serving with Charley in that capacity will be quarterback Billy Stevens and defensive tackle James Fountain.

Linebacker Fred Carr is being projected as Western's All-America candidate but more than one UTEP observer has insisted that West is the finest athlete on the campus and the most valued Miner football player.

Eddie Mullins, the UTEP publicity man with a weakness for the cliche, says that West should have been arrested for robbery last season and described him as the greatest thief since the Brink's gang.

West swiped 11 enemy passes in 1965 and, in Mullins' words, "broke up so many others he could have been carrying a secret service agent's badge."

* * * *

Charles skipped spring training with the Miners in order to concentrate on baseball. As a catcher for the Miners, West hit a robust .366 and had ten home runs and 48 runs batted in.

His future in athletics probably lies in baseball. The Phillies tried unsuccessfully to sign him to a $30,000 bonus pact last season and are probably still after him.

* * * *

Tackle Thurman (Big Daddy) Randle, at 263 pounds is one of the bigger men in college football, is another former Steer with the Miners. Randle, noted for his play here against San Angelo his senior year, has trimmed down from 300 pounds, his weight the day he hit the UTEP campus.

Randle was admittedly poor on fundamentals when he arrived at the El Paso school but his coaches say he has improved by leaps and bounds.

Truman made fine progress in spring workouts and likely will ease coach Bobby Dobbs' worries in his interior line.

* * * *

Still another Big Springer eligible for varsity play with the El Pasoans is defensive back Joe Jaure, a sophomore-to-be Joe, who stands six feet, is up to 185 pounds now. He's jet-propelled and is likely to play as a regular with the Miners. He is possessed of fine hands. Joe was all-district two years running as a defensive halfback for Big Spring, so he carried good credentials with him to UTEP.

Jaure will be one of 48 newcomers to the Miners' varsity squad this fall. Included in the group are red-shirts and transfers.

Dobbs has recruited boys from as far away as Endicott, N.Y., and Monaca, Pa., in efforts to give the Miners an immediate transfusion.

The Miners open their 1967 season at home the night of Sept. 16 against the University of California (Santa Barbara branch).

Santa Barbara doesn't have much of a reputation as a football power in far West Texas but their coach, Jack Curtice, does. Curtice coached at Western years and years ago.

One of Jack's aides, incidentally, is Andy Everest, who played his high school football in Odessa and whose mother lived here at one time. Santa Barbara was a respectable 6-4 last season.

* * * *

The Miners will look west for all ten of their regular season games, by the way.

Every team they meet over the season lies west of El Paso geographically. Following Santa Barbara, UTEP will face San Jose, Arizona State, Arizona, Brigham Young, New Mexico, New Mexico State, Colorado State, Wyoming and Utah in that order.

Morton's Is Twice Winner

LAMESA — Morton's Foods of Big Spring, warming up for its opening game in the Districts 7-26 Texas Amateur Softball Association tournament which starts here Friday night, defeated the Lamesa Merchants in both ends of a practice doubleheader Tuesday night, 10-4 and 8-0.

The Merchants are also entered in the six-team tournament, a double - elimination event which extends through Saturday night.

Ray Bouldin and Cotton Mize teamed up to pitch Morton's to victory in the opening game, surrendering only three hits to the Lamesans.

In the contest, Joe Sharpnack hit two doubles and Herb Sorley two singles for Morton's. Billy Paul Thomas smashed a third inning home run for the winners. Norman Roberts duplicated that feat in the same inning.

Thomas went all the way on the mound for Morton's in the second game, rationing out only one hit to the Merchants. That was a second inning leadoff single by B. Brown.

Thomas also led his team at bat with a home run, double and single. In all, the Big Springers collected 11 hits in the afterpiece.

Minor Deletion Made In Budget

An athletic budget calling for expenditures of $89,572.01 during the 1967-68 school year was adopted by the Big Spring board of trustees at a luncheon meeting held Wednesday at the Holiday Inn.

The total budget includes a $12,000 outlay, roughly the sum paid visiting football teams here in an ordinary season. Visiting clubs get half the gate in games, after expenses have been settled.

The $77,572.01 estimate exceeds last year's net budget by $5,023.13.

Only deletion from the original budget submitted by athletic director Spike Dykes was $221.10, which was lopped from a request made for costs incurred by cheer leaders on the high school and junior high levels.

The original request submitted for that particular expenditure was $1,221.10 but included an outlay for some equipment which the girls already have on hand or which the girls supply themselves.

Income from athletic contests scheduled here during the school year was estimated by Dykes at $29,275, of which $22,875 is due to come from A team football games. It was agreed by board members and the athletic directors that the income could exceed that, if the Steers prosper on the field and remain in contention for the district championship.

The projected budget calls for the outlay of $1,450 for athletic awards, $6,613.05 for equipment, another $1,500 for equipment repair, $1,550 for travel, $1,450 for game officials and $2,900 for miscellaneous items like scouting and filming—all on the high school level.

Expenses incurred on the junior high level, of course, contribute conspicuously toward the final figure.

Total cost of football equipment estimated by Dykes will amount to $12,013.15. The cost of basketball gear will amount to $1,451.30 while a maximum of $2,901.45 would be spent on baseball equipment, $730.93 for volleyball gear, $215 on golf (all for balls — the linksters supply their own clubs), $875 for tennis supplies, $497.75 for swimming gear and $3,405.70 for track supplies.

Coach Dykes said he would continue to seek a head swimming coach after that phase of the budget came in for liberal discussion. There had been talk that swimming may be dropped as a competitive sport because of a lack of facilities and the fact that no coach had been hired but no proposal to that effect was forthcoming at the meeting.

Competitive swimming was added to the local curriculum last year and Dykes said that the enthusiasm for the sport remains high within the school.

Texans To Meet Andrews At 8

ANDREWS — One Big Spring team has already reached the finals in the District 3 Little League tournament going on here this week.

Another will try to reach the final round in a game with the Andrews Nationals tonight.

The Big Spring Texans, first round winners over the Andrews Americans by a 9-1 score, meet the Andrews Nationals at 8 o'clock this evening.

The Big Spring Nationals walloped the Big Spring Internationals Tuesday night, 12-4, to attain the finals.

No games were played in the six-team tournament Wednesday evening.

Action In Midland Clinic Starts With Cage Contest

MIDLAND — The 100 Texas coaches who lead the state's six and eight man football teams as well as their schools' basketball team efforts gather in Midland August 6 through 12 for the 22nd annual Six and Eight Man Football Coaching School.

In addition to lecture, clinic and panel sessions, the coaches will field four football all-star teams as well as two all-star basketball teams. Making up the teams will be the cream of the state's smaller school athletes, 112 strong.

The 1967 session of the Texas Six and Eight Man Coaches Association is being sponsored in Midland by the Chamber of Commerce sports committee under the chairmanship of Bill Malone. General chairman of the Midland planning is Spencer Blocker.

Executive secretary of the coaches' association is Harold W. McGehee of Mertzon.

McGehee reports the young football and basketball players will begin arriving in Midland Sunday, Aug. 6, accompanied by their coaches and will immediately go into comprehensive morning and afternoon practice sessions. The annual all - star basketball game is slated for Thursday night, Aug. 10, in the gymnasium of Midland's Lee High School. Football action follows on Friday night when the 6-Man Eastern All-Stars play the Western 6 Man All-Stars. The 8-Man All-Stars take over Saturday night when the East plays the West. The football games will be played on the turf of Midland memorial stadium. Admission to the football games and the basketball game is $1.50 for adults and $1 for students for each event. West Texas sports fans are urged to attend the games as well as the daily practice sessions.

McGehee points out that the lineups will include top young performers from throughout Texas, nearly all of whom were all-district standouts and many were all-state selections.

Preliminary Winners In Pageant

Beauties From West Texas

Representing the western section of the Lone Star State in the Miss Texas Pageant at Fort Worth, are, left to right: Miss Stinnett, Judy Luginbyhl; Miss Abilene, Ann Ford; Miss Big Spring, Darlene Leifeste; Miss West Texas, Martha Whiddon and Miss El Paso, Carol Ann Bain. The pageant runs through Saturday night when the new Miss Texas will be named. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Miss Waco, Miss Dallas Score Wins

FORT WORTH (AP) — With Dallas and Waco beauties already in the spotlight, preliminary competition in the Miss Texas pageant moved today into the second stage.

Jeannie Wilson, Miss Dallas, repeated as a winner in the swimsuit division as the pageant opened Wednesday in Will Rogers Auditorium.

'LUCIA' TOPS

Mary Lois Summers of Waco, Miss Baylor University, won the first round of the prestigious talent division, scoring with an aria from the opera "Lucia."

The preliminary judging continues through Friday for the 63 contestants. One will be named Saturday night to succeed the reigning Miss Texas, Susan Kay Logan.

Both of the Wednesday night winners said they are seeking the state title for scholastic and professional rewards, among other reasons.

STATISTICS

Miss Wilson, 20, is interested in the theater. Miss Summers hopes to study in New York and Europe to become an opera singer-actress.

Miss Dallas, 5-7 weighing 120, competed here last year as Miss Nacogdoches—she has attended Stephen F. Austin College the past two years. She took swimsuit honors with statistics of 36-24½-36.

The brown-haried, blue-eyed beauty, studying voice this summer at Southern Methodist, said she had "a lot of reasons" for returning a second time to the pageant.

"The scholarship mainly," she said, referring to the $1,100 scholastic prize that goes to the winner, who also has a shot at additional prizes in the Miss America pageant at Atlantic City in September.

BAYLOR BEAUTY

She added, "Dallas hasn't had a Miss Texas in, I think, about 10 years. It's about time."

She mentioned also the "unlimited opportunities" the title would provide for a professional career.

A dancer, she is interested professionally in musical comedy.

Miss Summers said the title was appealing for similar reasons, pointing out that it provides "the opportunity to perform, to mature . . ."

And, she said with a smile, "I'm the first Miss Baylor University—I'd like to see this as the start of a good tradition for Baylor."

Miss Summers, 37½-25½-37½, brown-haired and with blue-gray eyes, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ray Summers of Waco. Dr. Summers is chairman of the department of religion at Baylor.

A Baylor graduate Miss Summer entered the graduate school there this summer.

Dallas Discards Nepotism Policy

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Public school trustees discarded an old rule Wednesday in deciding that more than one member of a family may teach in the Dallas system.

They agreed that an anti-nepotism policy followed since 1954 shall apply no longer to non - administrative personnel.

The purpose is to make more persons eligible for jobs as teachers, nurses, clerical employes and the like.

Dr. Ewell D. Walker, assistant superintendent in charge of personnel, said he has been receiving resignations from 15 to 20 teachers a day and "we're going to have a teacher problem."

Hubby Disappears With Husky Lion

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A circus animal trainer says her husband has disappeared with a 300-pound lion.

Adela Sneija, a trainer for Ringling Bros.-Barnum & Bailey circus, told police that her husband Blasjak and the lion, Stanislaus, were gone when she awoke Wednesday.

Mrs. Sneija said the 7-year-old lion, property of the government of Poland, was lame.

recipe for speedy, low-cost Long Distance calling:

use Direct Distance Dialing

What ingredients do you want in your Long Distance calling — speed, ease, low cost?

You get all these with Direct Distance Dialing.

Speed — Your call zips through in seconds when you dial direct.

Ease — It's as easy as a-b-c. Where the Area Code is the same as yours, just dial "1" and the telephone number. If the Area Code is different from yours, just dial "1," the Area Code, and then the telephone number. That's all.

Low Cost — When you dial your own Long Distance call, it costs about one-third less than a person-to-person call.

Check the front pages of your telephone directory for a handy list of area codes and full information on Direct Distance Dialing.

It's a great way to keep in touch.

Dairy Co-Ops Plan Merger

By The Associated Press

Six dairy groups in Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Kansas are merging into an organization to be called Milk Producers, Inc.

MPI will be headquartered in Dallas and will distribute the bulk of the milk for the four states.

Officials said Wednesday final approval of the merger would come before Sept. 1. Each division will elect from its board one man for every 300 members to serve on the MPI board.

Cooperatives involved in the merger are the North Texas Producers Association, headquartered at Arlington; South Texas Producers Association, Houston; Central Arkansas Milk Producers Association, Little Rock; Central Oklahoma Milk Producers Association, Oklahoma City, and Southwest Milk Producers Association, Wichita, Kan.

Approval by the North Texas group was disclosed Wednesday. The Central Arkansas dairymen voted for the merger July 15 at their state meeting in Conway, Ark.

At the North Texas producers' meeting in Arlington, association manager J. G. Anderson reported 1,400 of the 1,800 members voted by mail for the merger. A two-third majority was necessary for passage.

W. T. Crouch of Arlington, who was re-elected president of the North Texas group, expressed confidence that all the other cooperatives would follow suit.

Anderson said the move will bring about greater efficiency and stability in dairy marketing.

In a financial report to the North Texas producers, Anderson said the income of Texas dairy farmers increased $10.5 million in the past year and they received approximately 74 cents more per 100 pounds of milk.

Texas agriculture commissioner John C. White told the group meeting at Arlington that a trend toward fewer dairies and higher prices reflects efforts "to hold the line against rising costs and falling prices."

First Lady Plans To Leave Texas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson was expected to return today from Texas, where she has been supervising work on an extension to the presidential ranch house.

The Johnsons are putting a one-story addition onto the brick and frame house where the President vacations.

The First Lady has been in Texas since Friday.

Her press secretary, Elizabeth Carpenter, said Mrs. Johnson was engaged in research work for the restoration of Johnson's boyhood home and birthplace in Johnson City.

She said Mrs. Johnson was not doing anything public, although the First Lady had made an overnight excursion Sunday to Amarillo to see a pageant of Texas history at the Palo Duro Festival near there.

El Paso Charter Vote Scheduled

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — El Paso voters decide Saturday on a new city charter.

But only a light turnout, as in most city elections, is expected. Absentee voting ended Wednesday with only 256 ballots marked.

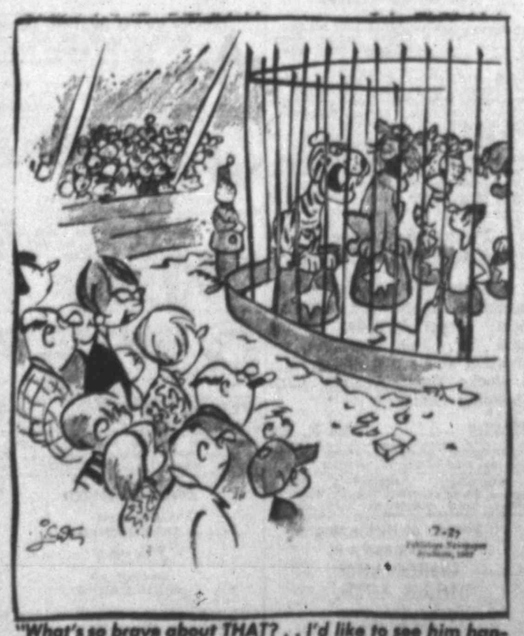

The new charter would reduce the authority and increase the number of city aldermen.

Corporation court judges under the proposed charter would be limited to two terms, the tax assessor would be appointed instead of elected; the city treasurer would be abolished and a board of equalization appointed to review tax evaluations and the city's share of employe pension funds would be increased.

Cosman Optioned

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Jim Cosman, a 24-year-old right-hander has been optioned by the St. Louis Cardinals to the New York Mets' Jacksonville farm club in the International League, the Cardinals announced Wednesday night.

Dear Abby

Don't Go To The Cabin!

DEAR ABBY: I am 20 and engaged to a great guy who is 29. We are to be married in January. My fiance (I'll call him Jack) lives a great distance from me, so we get together only on weekends. About a year ago I saved up enough to buy a small cabin on the beach. This summer Jack and I planned to take our vacations at the same time and would like to spend them together up at my cabin.

There would be nothing stopping us except that we don't want to do anything wrong. Do you think it would be okay? It has two bedrooms. I could invite my best friend and her boy friend to go with us if you think it wouldn't be right for Jack and me to go up there alone.

JACK'S GIRL

DEAR GIRL: I don't know what you consider "wrong," but if you are saving the most intimate relationship for marriage, forget the cabin vacation until you and Jack can go up there as Mr. and Mrs. The presence of the other couple wouldn't help much.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: We have a next door neighbor who is almost totally blind. He earns his living by etching out names and designs on wood and polished metal. He seems to be a very nice person.

Our problem is this: Whenever he uses his etching machine, the power is drained out of our television set. This can get maddening at times when one wants to see something special and suddenly finds it impossible. What do you suggest?

GOOD NEIGHBOR

DEAR NEIGHBOR: I suggest that you hot foot it right over to your neighbor and state your complaint. Don't assume that because he is "nearly totally blind" he expects charity, pity, or special consideration. A handicapped person can be every bit as self-respecting and thoughtful of his neighbor as one who isn't. Give him a chance to solve the problem with you.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: When my grandchild had a birthday I sent him a gift. His mother called me a few days later and asked, "Why didn't you come over for Jose's birthday?"

I said, "I wasn't invited."

The mother said, "You don't need an invitation to go to a son's or daughter's house for your grandchild's birthday. Where are your old-fashioned manners?"

I said, "I'm sorry I don't go any place without an invitation." To tell the truth, Abby, I would have felt silly rushing into someone's house while a party was going on. Or maybe a party would be going on at a park and nobody would be home.

So what's a grandmother supposed to do, drop dead? She's damned if she does and damned if she doesn't. Who's right? Mother or grandmother?

NOBODY

DEAR NOBODY: Grandmother. Mother should have invited you. Where are HER "old-fashioned manners?"

Midland GI Killed In Vietnam Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said Wednesday Army Pfc. Paulino G. Lopez, husband of Mrs. Elpidia Lopez, 419 East Dengar St., Midland, Tex., was killed in action in Vietnam.

Marine Pfc. Tyron Barrett, husband of Mrs. Tyron Barrett, 9506 Sierra, Houston, died of wounds.

Prexy Says Never Lose Your 'Cool'

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Dr. George L. Cross says the secret of being a university president is to never "lose your cool."

Cross, retiring after 24 years as head of the University of Oklahoma, passed on his philosophy at a luncheon Wednesday.

Cross said: "When funds are missing from your bookstore; when Students for a Democratic Society demonstrate on your campus, as they will; when you have a kiss-in; when marijuana is discovered among your students, as it will be; when your art school is accused of using nude models—don't lose your cool."

Interest Rates Boost Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department's plan to borrow $15 billion in new cash during the six-month period which ends in December is expected to boost interest rates.

It also could give a sense of urgency to President Johnson's proposal for a six per cent surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes which thus far has gotten a cool reception in Congress.

One reason for the surcharge would be to hold down interest rates and help stem inflation.

Some officials are convinced that without increased taxes the nation will suffer serious inflation late this year and early next year.

Treasury officials conceded Wednesday their plans for borrowing new money would represent an "obviously substantial demand" on the money market.

But Frederick L. Deming, undersecretary of the Treasury for monetary affairs, told a news conference the borrowing shouldn't have a tremendous impact on interest rates, which already have increased substantially in recent months.

NEW CASH NEEDS

He said the money market had anticipated an even higher figure.

The assessment of new cash needs, Deming said, was based on estimates of spending and tax receipts.

It indicated a slightly higher level of spending than Johnson proposed in his budget for the fiscal year which began July 1, and slightly lower tax collections as previously reported by Treasury officials.

The new money would supplement regular tax collections and would be designed to make ends meet.

The bidding:

1 ♡	1 ♠	3 ♡	Pass
4 ♡	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of ♠

Altho South appears to be off four tricks—two spades, one diamond and one club—he managed to salvage his four heart contract by projecting a series of endplays against one of the defenders.

South opened the bidding with one heart and West overcalled with one spade. North made a jump raise to three hearts, forcing to game. East was somewhat tempted to enter the auction, however, the level of the bidding as well as his singleton spade acted as an effective deterrent. South, of course, proceeded to game in hearts.

West led the king of spades and when the dummy was put down, it appeared that the contract hinged on the fate of the diamond finesse, inasmuch as the declarer was off two spade tricks and one club on the face of it. When East followed to the opening lead, South concluded that he had a singleton spade, for West was not apt to put in a vulnerable overcall with anything less than a five card suit.

Declarer decided that he might obtain extra working room and thereby improve his chances somewhat, by postponing the diamond finesse until he had first attacked his opponent's line of communications. After winning the first trick with the ace of spades, he drew two rounds of trumps ending up in dummy. A club was led next and East put up the ace, felling South's king. The suit was continued and declarer ruffed.

A small diamond was led and dummy's queen was finessed. East was in with the king and since a club return would obviously present declarer with a ruff and discard, East led back a diamond. North won the trick with the ten and cashed the ace on which South discarded a spade. The remaining diamond was led from dummy covered by East's nine, and declarer shed another spade, permitting his opponent to hold the lead.

This time East had no escape. The forced return of either a diamond or club, permitted South to discard his last spade as the dummy ruffed. In all, he lost two diamonds and one club—but not a single spade trick.

Scout Jamboree Lures Texas Boys

GRANDBURY, Tex. (AP) — Twenty-eight Boy Scouts from Northeast Texas left Wednesday for Farragut State Park, Idaho, and the XII world Jamboree, scheduled Aug. 1-9.

They left by bus from Camp Leonard, near Grandbury, where they spent the last 12 days getting acquainted, learning to cook on charcoal as they will at the Jamboree and discarding unneeded equipment.

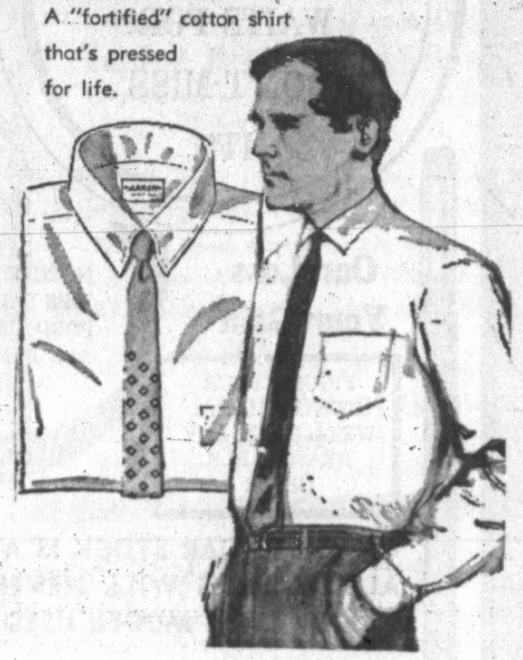

With scoutmaster Tommie Speed and his two assistants they will visit Yellowstone National Park on the way. When they reach the Jamboree grounds, the Circle 10 group will join about 300 other Scouts from Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

The total U.S. representation at the Jamboree, being held in this country for the first time, will number 5,000. There will be 10,000 more boys from 100 countries.

War-Injured Children Get Free Trips Offer

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. government has offered free air transportation to this country for war-injured South Vietnamese children needing specialized medical treatment available in the United States.

Two members of the Committee of Responsibility, an organization of American physicians, told The Associated Press that William Bundy, assistant secretary of state for the Far East, made the offer in a letter to the group earlier this month.

AIR EVACUATION

"We approached him earlier this year on the matter," said Dr. Herbert Needleman, a Philadelphia physician. "In early July we got a letter that said the State Department was 'prepared to offer air evacuation' for the children if the South Vietnamese government approves."

Needleman and Dr. Frank Ervin of Boston, left New York for Saigon Wednesday afternoon to get that approval.

OPTIMISTS

"We're going with an open mind about the problem," Needleman said. "We expect that the children will be released to us. You might say we're cautiously optimistic."

The program would start with four children already chosen for evacuation. They range in age from 10 to 14 and have injuries too severe or of a nature that cannot be dealt with in Vietnam.

Two require facial plastic surgery, one had a groin injury and the fourth was severely burned on his face and neck by napalm, the doctors said.

30,000 INJURED

The committee has estimated that 30,000 South Vietnamese children will be injured in the war this year by one side or the other. A third of those children never will reach the medical facilities of the South Vietnamese Ministry of Health, the doctors said.

Of those who do receive help, only about 200 meet the evacuation program's criteria—that they are too severely hurt to be treated in their homeland or that they have injuries for which cures are not available.

Can You Recall The Old Ferries?

By ED SYERS

When I was a boy and we jampacked, right to the running board luggage rack to 'go touring', nothing excited more than coming to the ferry, many pulled over on a mule-team line. Marshall's Frank Caldwell, who thanks you for finding Munger, feels the same way, wonders how many old ones you remember. He knows four, near his city.

"At the southern edge of Hallsville, leaving FM 450, a road marked Waldron Ferry Road heads west. East, across Harrison County at Crossroads, leaving FM 31 eastward is another, marked Walden Ferry Road. They could not have been the same (though the names are nearly so) and evidently both crossed the Sabine.

"At the community of Gill, leaving US 59 westward, a county road not marked, ends at a beautiful site on the Sabine. This place is known as Board's or Borden's Ferry.

"Finally, before SH 43 was built, the road to Beckville (from Marshall) crossed the Sabine by bridge at a place called Carter's Ferry. I have not found any way to get to this latter place.

"It seems to me that these and other early ferries might make an interesting search, particularly for East Texans (where ferries were numerous) and would yield real historical value." (Note: Agreed, and you don't have to go too far back to ferry most of our rivers.)

LADY OF THE SEA

"There is a lovely church in Port Isabel and it seems unusually blessed," writes Wichita, Kan.'s Mrs. Emily Jean Ward. "We saw it briefly last winter at the end of visiting Padre Island and the Valley. I would like to know more of "Our Lady Star of the Sea."

"I was told that storm and fire had made establishment of this church very difficult over the last century, but that one day in the 1880's, a small and fragile white statue of the Virgin was found unaccountably washed ashore and was taken to the church, giving its name.

"Since then, I understood, the church has been partially or totally destroyed by several hurricanes and one fire, yet somehow, this delicate statuette has remained untouched.

"If this is a true story, I think it a significant one for our faiths in these terribly, terribly troubled and stormy times." (Note: OBT believes you've told the story, drawn the conclusion, and that it is true. However, our Valley friends may give you more specific information.)

• • •

ABOUT QUANTRELL

Whitesboro's (Grayson County) Mrs. R. C. Burba: "How can I get a copy of OBT's story on (Guerrilla leader William Quantrell's alleged escape and 40 year survival after Civil War). I have stories of Quantrell at Pottsboro and Gordonville (also near Sherman) where a member of his gang shot and killed Constable Dallas Hodges on the downtown street of Gordonville." (Note: Story's en route; your report helps confirm little known fact that the man who burned Federal Lawrence Kans., did, in fact, shoot up Confederate North Texas more than once.)

Austin's J. V.: "Many years ago, I read somewhere that they once trained circus fleas from the Monahans sands . . . never could find out . . . wish someone would confirm or disprove this . . . Houston's Ken G. Thompson: "I am interested in caves. Has anyone ever heard of a cave under the Rio Grande from U.S. to Mexico?" (Note: Rings an OBT bell, legended somewhere in Big Bend, but need help and what must be pretty wild details.)

Write OBT, care of The Herald, or Ingram, Texas 78025. For personal reply, please enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Sharp-Eyed Diver Finds False Teeth

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—A Boise man and his false teeth are reunited thanks to a sharp-eyed diver from the county sheriff's office. The sheriff's office sent the diver to look for the teeth after the man, whose name was not disclosed, lost them in a reservoir. The diver found them in 30 feet of water, the office said.

'Barnes Group' Denied Cash

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court upheld Wednesday lower court decisions denying cash judgments to two parties in the collapse of Billie Sol Estes' financial empire.

No written opinion was issued.

Left standing were a Pecos district court jury's finding that both Walter E. Heller and Co. and the so-called "Barnes group" acted "in bad faith" in dealings involving non-existent anhydrous ammonia fertilizer tanks.

The El Paso Court of Civil Appeals earlier upheld the judgment.

The "Barnes Group," consisting of J. C. Barnes Sr., J. C. Barnes Jr., Russell J. Ramsland and W. F. Wynn sued Superior Manufacturing Co., Estes, the Heller company and several other defendants for damages and for cancellation of certain obligations held by Heller, among others, in connection with the tanks. The group paid into the court $81,299 representing "bonus payments" from Estes for purchase of fertilizer tanks.

Heller was the only defendant to contest the suit, denying it had entered into a fraudulent arrangement. The big financial firm sought judgment for the unpaid balance of notes signed by the Barnes group.

The jury found the Heller company acted in bad faith in taking the instruments involved in the suit and that the Barnes group acted in bad faith in executing the instruments.

Also, the jury found that Heller participated in a conspiracy with Estes and Superior, a tank manufacturer, participated in a conspiracy to conceal the nonexistence of the tanks from the Barnes group. The jury ruled that the Barnes group represented to the Heller company that the tanks had been delivered, but that the Heller company did not believe or rely on the representation.

"To allow Heller to recover on the instruments in question would, under the circumstances, allow it to benefit from its own misconduct and dishonesty, as found by the jury, even though the Barnes group would not be entitled to rescission or cancellation of these instruments," the court of civil appeals said.

The appeals court also instructed the district court at Pecos to turn over the $81,299 deposited by the Barnes group to the trustee for Estes' estate for distribution among Estes' creditors.

SAMMY JONES

Sammy Jones Receives Eagle Badge Tuesday

Sammy Jones, 14, received the Boy Scout Eagle award at a Court of Honor for Troop 4 Tuesday evening at Cosden Country Club.

To be awarded the Eagle, a scout earns 21 merit badges, 11 of which are required. The badges cover a wide field, from first aid to animal husbandry, he said. It took him three years to earn the badges and become eligible for the Eagle badge.

He received the God and Country award April 18, 1965, and was awarded the Gold Quill, an award of excellent communication and self-expression.

He is an active member of the Boy Scouts in many other phases also. He is the Order of the Arrow chapter chief of the Lone Star district and attended the National Junior Leader Instructor Training camp in New Mexico.

On a western tour this summer, he will attend the World Jamboree in Idaho, Aug. 1-9. Also during the latter part of August, he will attend the National Order of the Arrow Conference at the University of Nebraska.

He was an aid in the council junior leader instructor training at Camp Ed Murphy June 4-11, and was on staff at the council camp in the Davis Mountains June 22-July 15.

Pope Planning To Rest, Study

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Back from what he depicted as a wearying but satisfying journey to Turkey, Pope Paul VI settled today into his summer vacation routine of rest and study.

The Pope was driven directly to his summer residence at Castel Gandolfo, south of Rome, after debarking from the jetliner that brought him home from Turkey Wednesday night.

"We are a little tired," the 69-year-old pontiff told a crowd of greeters at Castel Gandolfo only a few hours after he trudged around the ancient Christian ruins of Ephesus, Turkey, in wilting 100-degree heat.

The Pope said he would take "a few moments of rest," then "turn to the much, much, much work" still ahead of him.

COOL RETREAT

He is expected to remain at his cool retreat five or six weeks. During that period he will finish preparation of a forthcoming document on reorganization of the Curia and of plans for the historic worldwide synod of Roman Catholic bishops to be held in Rome starting Sept. 29.

Also still before the Pope is the issue of birth control, the principal topic of study during his summer vacation last year. He has long postponed any declaration on whether the church will lift its anticontraception rule.

It was not excluded that the Pope might spend some of his vacation time contemplating a possible new trip.

Returning on the Pope's jet from Turkey, Vatican aides commented on the pontiff's fifth journey abroad and said that he could be expected in the future to travel "just as often as he has in the past."

SACRIFICE VOWS

Looking back on the two-day Turkish trip, the Pope told the Castel Gandolfo crowd that God had blessed his meetings with officials of that Moslem nation and with Orthodox religious leaders, including Patriarch Athenagoras.

Predicting greater Christian unity advances, the Pope said the Orthodox leaders "showed themselves truly to be of such goodness and greatness of spirit as to let us foresee many other good things."

The Pope and Athenagoras both vowed to make personal sacrifices in setting an example for the flocks of their "sister churches," separated nine centuries ago by the great schism.

Top Ten Companies Refuse To Increase Black Power War Chest

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — A general attitude of enmity toward the so-called white power structure did not prevent the recent National Conference on Black Power from seeking support of some of the nation's largest corporations.

Among those solicited for funds and delegates were U.S Steel, Humble Oil and Mobil Oil. None contributed, nor did the other seven companies that make up the 10 largest industrial corporations in America.

The 50 corporations that Dr. Nathan Wright, chairman of the Newark conference, claims did contribute apparently did so only to a small extent. Contacted this week, Wright said the maximum contribution was $250 and the minimum $25.

Such sums are small for organizations which included, as Wright said, "some of the largest corporations in the world." Based on his figures, the total contribution could have been more than $12,275.

Wright declines to identify the companies because "we don't want to give the names of any white people who contrbuted to Black Power." To do so, he said, "would put them in the position of defending Black Power, and we do not wish to put whites in the position of doing so."

The reason? "It would be offensive to black people to have whites defending Black Power."

BIG CAMPAIGN

He did say that corporations were not singled out for donations but were merely part of a vast campaign for funds and delegates from organizations such as police departments, antipoverty units and self-styled revolutionary groups.

Though Wright declined to name the companies which contributed, some obvious possibilities were contacted by this reporter.

Prudential Life Insurance, based in Newark, said it had received a letter seeking funds but that it had declined to contribute largely on the basis of the meeting being segregated.

"We discussed it and decided we wouldn't make a contribution," a spokesman said.

General Electric received a request for funds, but not through its executive office. The mimeographed invitation came to a community relations man and asked for a $250 contribution.

INVITE DELAYED

GE did not make a contribution, although the matter never came before a decision-making body in time for action to be taken because the community relations man failed to forward the invitation.

Others in the Big Ten, such as International Business Machines, Ford, General Motors and Texaco were neither solicited nor did they contribute, spokesmen for these companies said.

Just because none of the top 10 industrial corporations supported the conference does not diminish Wright's claim of assistance from industry. Hundreds more corporations can be called major or giant.

On the other hand, it must be said that those companies that declined to contribute or to send a delegate may not have done so out of animosity toward Black Power. Most corporations have strict policies on acceptable charities.

Ex-Beauty Queen Missing In Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Police feared foul play today in the disappearance of Mrs. Carmen Goll, 26, formerly of Amarillo, Tex., who has been missing since July 19.

Mrs. Goll, a former Kansas beauty queen and divorcee, was last seen leaving the apartment of a friend early July 19, police said.

Communist Gunners Kill 11 U.S. Soldiers And Wound 43

SAIGON (AP) — Communist gunners unleashed a heavy rocket and mortar attack on an American infantry camp and adjoining airfield north of Saigon today, killing 11 U.S. soldiers and wounding 43.

At the same time two nearby South Vietnamese installations came under similar attack.

South Vietnamese headquarters did not announce military casualties but said three civilians were killed and 13 wounded in one of the barrages.

DEATHS DROP

Ground action continued light, as it has been for almost a month, and the scarcity of major action was reflected by a slight decline in the weekly casualty figures. The U.S. Command said 164 Americans were killed last week and 1,442 wounded, compared with 175 killed and 1,443 wounded the week before. South Vietnamese losses were put at 183 dead and 523 wounded compared to 202 killed and 543 wounded the previous week, while 1,702 Communists were reported killed, a drop from 1,995 a week earlier.

On the political front, the South Vietnamese government announced it has asked the United Nations to send observers for the presidential and senatorial elections Sept. 3 to "testify to our determination to hold free and honest elections."

SHELLS RAIN

The Communist mortar and rocket assault hit the headquarters of the 1st Infantry Division's 1st Brigade at the airfield at Phuoc Vin, 35 miles north of Saigon, about four hours before dawn.

U.S. Command said there was light damage to installations and equipment at the airfield — a relatively small field used by spotter planes, helicopters and troop transports.

The Red gunners used mostly light mortars but some of the rounds were from Russian-made 122mm rockets, one of the heaviest weapons in the Viet Cong arsenal.

The shells rained on the headquarters and the field for 25 minutes, sending sleeping GI's scurrying for sandbagged bunkers and reaction patrols fanning about the barbed-wire camp perimeters.

Flareships lit the area and American guns under radar control opened up on Communist firing positions. They were located later in the day by ground patrols, abandoned and battered by shellfire but with no Viet Cong bodies left behind.

Heavy thunderstorms over the Hanoi-Haiphong area limited air attacks on North Vietnam Wednesday to supply lines between the industrial area and the southern border.

Military headquarters reported that despite the heavy weather 135 missions — an average day — were flown against the North with extensive damage to trucks, railroad rolling stock, barges and supply sites.

TONS OF BOMBS

U.S. B52 bombers, sweeping five miles up in the sky along the Laotian and Cambodian frontiers, poured tons of bombs on Communist camp and infiltration areas in two raids early today.

Medium-size bombs in saturation patterns blasted an enemy camp area in the central highlands near Pleiku and another jungle gathering point near the hard-hit A Shau valley farther north.

In Saigon, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky announced South Vietnam's armed forces would be increased by 65,000 men to a total of 700,000 and said the United States has agreed to equip them. This is 10,000 more than an increase announced by Ky on July 21, and the revision appeared to result from the visit earlier this week by President Johnson's special envoys, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor and Clark Clifford.

MORE TROOPS

As he had before, the premier said most of the new troops would be militiamen of the regional and popular forces. He said the number of Revolutionary Development workers who operate the pacification program may be doubled from 29,000 to 60,000. But this will depend on the increase in the militia since they are supposed to provide protection for the pacification program.

Ky said he also had agreed during his conferences with Taylor and Clifford to an allied summit conference in October in either Bangkok or Seoul.

KREMLIN RISK?

A new development in peace prospects appeared today with a report that the Soviet Union is ready to risk a break with Red China to bring peace to Vietnam with the condition that the United States stops bombing North Vietnam. The Tokyo newspaper Yomiuri Shimbun said Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin gave that word to visiting Japanese Foreign Minister Takeo Miki. Miki went on to Poland for further talks on the subject with Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki.

The Japanese report said Kosygin told Miki last Saturday that the Russians would seek peace if the United States called an unconditional and indefinite halt to its bombing of the north, but otherwise they would do their utmost to help Hanoi.

The report said Kosygin told Miki he outlined the same position to President Johnson at their meeting last month at Glassboro, N.J., and Johnson reacted favorably. But the premier added that the United States had made no concrete peace moves.

Heat Letup Not In Sight

By The Associated Press

"Quite warm" was the weatherman's laconic description of Texas conditions today.

Except for occasional patches of low overcast near the coast and over parts of the south central section, skies were brassy clear.

Isolated showers dried up after tantalizing areas around Amarillo and Childress, along the west edge of Texas and some of the Big Bend country about nightfall Wednesday.

Overnight temperatures stayed from the low 70s to 80s at many points.

Top marks the day before ran as high as a blistering 108 degrees at Presidio in far West Texas. The mercury hit 103 at Cotulla, 102 at Laredo and Wichita Falls and 100 at Del Rio and San Angelo.

No letup in the heat was predicted. Forecasts held out a prospect for a few showers again by evening in the Panhandle and west of the Pecos River.

'Lifer' Ordered Freed From Pen

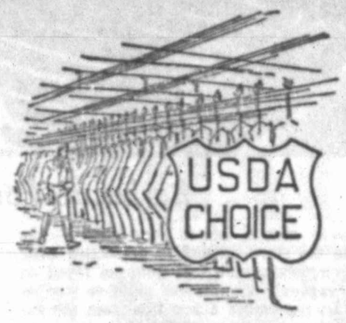

AUSTIN (AP)—Vernon E. Hill was ordered released from prison by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals today because he was not represented by counsel when he was convicted of felony theft in 1932 in Johnson County.

That conviction, Hill contended, was used in setting a life sentence on a later forgery conviction. The court declared the 1932 conviction void, said he had served enough time on the forgery conviction and ordered him released.

USDA CHOICE BEEF & LAMB

(Only top grades, too, in pork and baby beef)

At Safeway, every steak, every chop, every roast of beef and lamb is of USDA Choice Grade. This is meat graded by U. S. Department of Agriculture experts who judge strictly and impartially. USDA Choice is awarded only to meat that will deliver tender, juicy, flavorful cuts. It is the most popular grade of beef.

In order to feature lower prices, some other stores buy meat of lower grades. Some others mix USDA Choice and lower grades. Some coin fancy names for the lower grades they sell. But at Safeway every cut of beef and lamb is USDA Choice Grade.

SCIENTIFIC MEAT AGING

Even the finest quality beef and lamb reach peak flavor only after proper aging. In vast air-conditioned aging rooms, Safeway holds meats under controlled temperature and humidity the exact time required to assure full tenderness and flavor.

Extra storage space with expensive air-conditioning equipment is required to do this job correctly. Some stores which claim to age meat do not even have the facilities to do meat aging.

EXPERT MEAT CUTTING AND TRIMMING

Our method of trimming meat gives you more good eating meat on the table for your money, because excess fat and bone are cut off before the meat is weighed. In preparing meats for sale, we also make sure that each cut will be just right for its cooking method. The meat on every Safeway steak, for example, is all steak meat. The less tender end portion has been trimmed off to be sold at a lower price per pound. Similarly, a Safeway roast is roast meat.

MRS. D. W. (BILL) FRYREAR

Makes Draperies On Old Treadle Machine

By RHODA LEMONS

When Mrs. D. W. (Bill) Fryrear moved into her home on Route One, near Sand Springs, she decided to make the draperies herself. The machine she used was originally owned by her grandmother, the late Mrs. Os Watson, and it is over 50 years old.

The treadle - type machine works well to date, and only recently has Mrs. Fryrear bought a new electric model. The old one is in excellent condition and it is used as a point of interest in the den.

She made floor - length variegated blue and orchid draperies for the living room, and her mother, Mrs. Jesse Watson of Wray, Colo., made matching decorator pillows for the osyter white sectional couch.

"I found that drapes should be weighted to hang properly," said Mrs. Fryrear. Other rules she learned from her first attempt included the use of clothespins to hold the pleats while handling, and accurate measurements so that the seams are hidden in the back pleat. She also found that by hanging the drapes for several days before hemming, they would drape better and hang more evenly.

Mrs. Fryrear lives with her husband and two children. Fryrear is a research engineer and superintendent of the Big Spring Experiment Station. Their children are Kenny, 8, and Debbie, 9, third and fourth grade students in Coahoma Elementary School.

"I make all my daughter's clothes and many of my own," said Mrs. Fryrear. "It's economical and allows for more variety in their dress."

Mrs. Fryrear was reared on a farm and learned to cook at an early age. In her early teens, she was left with the responsibility of the evening meal, and she still enjoys cooking. Her family prefers American style meals, and one of their favorites is barbecued chicken.

Mrs. Fryrear does not use mixes, and prefers to bake her cakes and cookies from scratch. She does professional - type cake decorating, and on festive occasions has just the cake to suit the holiday. She makes confection roses and stores them in the freezer. Her recipe for these is one egg white mixed with powdered sugar until stiff enough to form balls. The petals are shaped by hand from the ball and the rose is formed by placing one on top of the other. The green leaves are made by adding food coloring to a small portion of the mixture and by shaping in the desired pattern. Seal tightly and store in the freezer until ready to use.

Mrs. Fryrear prepares one large meal in the evening. Her husband takes a sack lunch to work, and during school months the children often carry their lunches.

The Fryrears like to entertain and enjoy family - type parties. Mrs. Fryrear usually serves buffet or patio meals for which she has prepared the food in advance. They prefer bridge or pinochle for entertainment.

Mrs. Fryrear values her food freezer highly. She stores baked goods for the freezer and puts up seasonal foods such as peaches, peas and beans.

Mr. and Mrs. Fryrear do a number of home projects together. Her husband recently finished building the furniture in their children's rooms. He made handsome beds with matching night stands and double dressers for both their rooms. They stained the furniture walnut, and Mrs. Fryrear made companion bedspreads and draperies. She used a pink fabric with patterned velour kittens in her daughter's room, and brown cotton with velour horses in her son's bedroom.

RECOMMENDED RECIPES

Mrs. D. W. (Bill) Fryrear

BUTTERSCOTCH PIE

1-3 cup flour
1 cup brown sugar
1 tsp. salt
2 cups milk
3 tbsps. butter
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 tsp. vanilla

Mix first three ingredients in saucepan. Stir in milk and butter gradually. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until hot. Remove from heat. Gradually stir part of hot mixture into egg yolks, and blend into hot mixture in saucepan. Boil; stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Remove from heat and stir in vanilla. Pour into baked 9 inch pie shell. Spread meringue on top, sealing to edge of crust. Bake until browned (8 to 10 minutes) in 400 degree oven.

PIE MERINGUE

3 egg whites, room temperature
¼ tsp. cream of tartar
6 tbsps. sugar

Beat egg whites with cream of tartar until frothy. Gradually beat in sugar, a little at a time. Continue beating until stiff and glossy. Pile meringue onto hot pie filling.

COLORADO BISCUITS

2 cups sifted flour
3 tsps. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. cream of tartar
2 tsps. sugar
½ cup shortening
2-3 cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, cream of tartar and sugar. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk all at once, and stir only until dough follows fork around bowl. Turn out on lightly - floured surface, and knead gently one-half minute. Pat or roll one-half inch thick, and cut with cutter. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet in very hot oven (450 degrees) 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 16 medium biscuits.

OVEN BARBECUED CHICKEN

Dip 2½ pound frying chicken, cut in pieces, in barbecue sauce. Place in casserole dish; sprinkle with salt and two tablespoons brown sugar. Cover and bake until tender in 350 degree oven about one hour.

CARROT CAKE

2 cups sifted flour
2 tsps. soda
1 tsp. salt
2 cups sugar
2 tsps. cinnamon
1½ cups salad oil
4 eggs
3 cups shredded raw carrots

Sift together flour, soda, salt, sugar and cinnamon. Add salad oil, eggs and carrots and beat well. Pour into three greased and floured eight-inch pans. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Frost when cool.

ICING

3 cups powdered sugar
3 tbsps. butter
Yolk of one egg
Enough cream to spread
1 tsp. vanilla

Mix well and spread on cake.

FROSTED 7-UP SALAD

2 pkgs. lemon gelatin
2 cups 7-Up
20 oz. (1 large can) crushed pineapple
1 cup small marshmallows
2 bananas, sliced

Dissolve lemon gelatin with two cups boiling water. Add 7-Up, let partially set. Add drained pineapple, marshmallows, and bananas, and chill until solid.

TOPPING

2 tbsps. flour
1 cup pineapple juice
1 egg, beaten
2 tbsps. butter
2 cups whipped cream

Cook until thick. Cool, add two tablespoons butter. When chilled, fold in whipped cream. Spread over gelatin that has set. Sprinkle with grated cheese and top with maraschino cherries. Use a 9x13-inch pan.

Serve Crab Dish For Guest Buffet

SUPER CRAB QUICHE

2 cans (each 7½ ounces) king crab with tendons removed 9 inch unbaked pastry shell with a high fluted rim
4 eggs
1½ cups heavy cream
½ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. white pepper
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese

Drain crabmeat and scatter small pieces over pastry shell; arrange large pieces, spoke fashion, around the shell. In a medium mixing bowl, beat the eggs slightly; add cream, salt and pepper; beat to combine; pour over crabmeat. Sprinkle cheese over the top. Bake in a very hot (450 degrees) oven for 10 minutes; reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees) and continue baking until a knife inserted in center comes out clean — about 35 minutes. Serve at once. Makes six servings.

Children Delight In Chewy Bars

HONEY BARS

2 cups sifted regular flour
¼ tsp. baking soda
¼ tsp. salt
1¼ cups sugar
¼ tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. nutmeg
½ cup butter or margarine, melted
½ cup honey
4 egg whites, unbeaten
2 tbsps. milk
¾ cup (16 to 20) pitted dates, finely cut
¾ cup (lightly packed) flaked coconut

Into a medium mixing bowl sift together the flour, baking soda, salt, sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg. Add the melted butter, honey, egg whites and milk. With a spoon, stir just until all dry ingredients are moistened. Fold in dates and coconut. Turn into a greased and floured 13 by 9 by 2 inch baking pan.

Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean —about 35 minutes. Loosen from sides of pan; turn out on large wire rack; turn right side up. Cut into bars.

Celebrate Weather On Patio

The weather is balmy so let's set the buffet table on the patio, or if you prefer, the porch. Guests like the casualness of outdoor eating and when the main dish is a casserole, it is easy service. For a quick to fix, handsome dish, combine a large size can of chili with beans and fluffy cooked rice in a casserole. Top the rice with fresh orange slices and bake to heat throughly. The casserole can be brought piping hot from oven to table and guests will enjoy this delicious brown and white casserole with its orange accent.

Serve the chili with beans and rice with a clove studded glazed ham and bright, crisp greens salad laced with tomato wedges, red onion slices and avocado.

CHILI RICE CASSEROLE

1 medium size orange
1 (2 lb. 8 oz.) can chili with beans
2 tbsps. sliced green onion
3 cups cooked rice

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Grate one tablespoon orange rind. Slice orange into thin slices. In a 8x12 inch baking dish, arrange rice down center of dish. Spoon canned chili with beans into dish on each side of rice. Top with the orange slices. Bake uncovered, for 20-25 minutes. Makes six servings.

Eggs Are Healthful, Plentiful

The egg is one of nature's most nutritious ready-packaged foods, says Gwendolyne Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist with Texas A&M University.

Egg supplies are plentiful now, resulting in lower prices.

It's no trick to cook up a pan of hard-cooked eggs at the beginning of the week and have them ready to use at any time. When cooking eggs, be sure the water is kept below the boiling point. An easy method to hard-cook eggs is to cover them with cold water and bring the water to the simmering point. Turn off the heat and allow the eggs to remain in the covered pan of hot water for 15 to 20 minutes. Cool eggs at once in cold running water. Butter in which eggs are fried should be kept below the smoking point. The key to cooking eggs is low temperature, so protein remains tender and tasty.

The hard - cooked eggs can go into salad dressing, combined with canned kidney beans, pickles and celery for a salad. They are delicious in a cheese sauce over rice or toast; egg sandwich fillings are excellent, and deviled eggs are always a favorite.

It's amazing how often one will use hard-cooked eggs if they are already cooked and ready to go.

Economical Meat Used For Meal

BARBECUED LAMB RIBLETS

4 pounds lamb breast
½ cup packed dark brown sugar
½ cup catchup
½ cup water
½ cup frozen chopped onion
2 tbsps. tarragon vinegar
1 tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
½ tsp. salt

Have lamb breast cut into two rib portions and place in a single layer, fleshy side up, in a large shallow roasting pan. Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven for 30 minutes; pour or siphon off fat. Stir together the remaining ingredients and pour over lamb.

Cover tightly (with foil if necessary) and in a slow (325 degrees) oven continue baking (basting midway) until ribs are tender — 45 minutes to one hour. Uncover, continue baking in a hot (425 degrees) oven — 20 to 30 minutes to brown. Makes four to six servings.

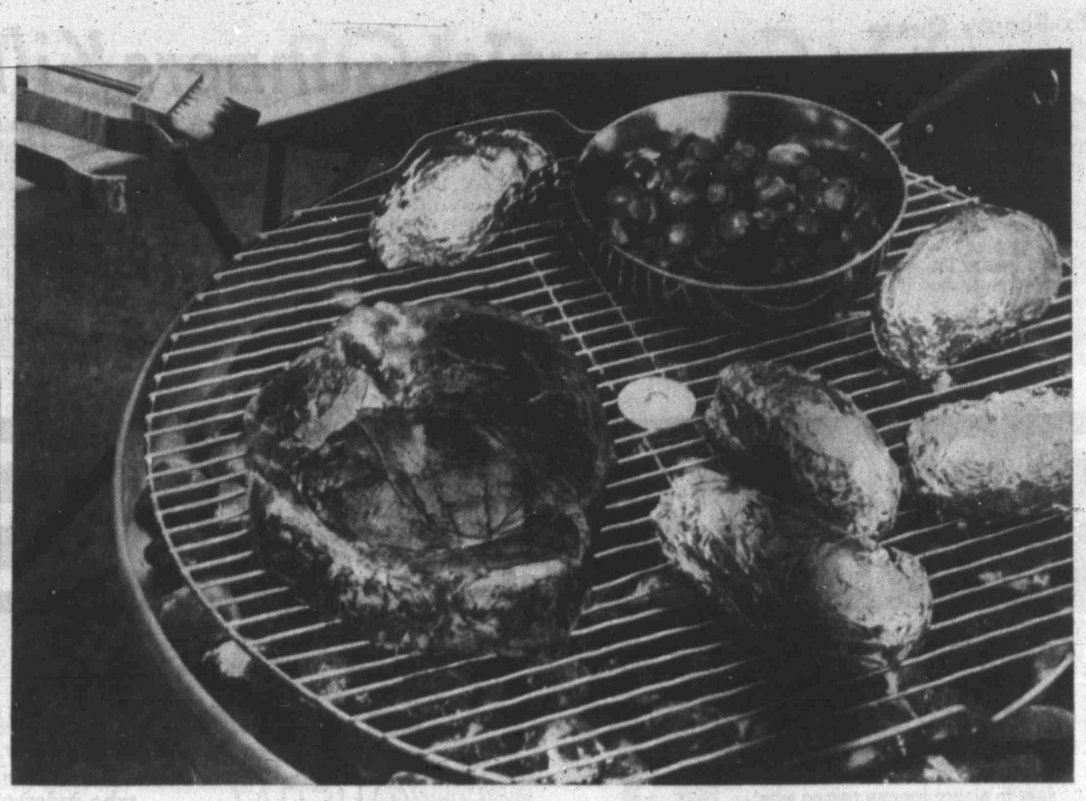

Light, Refreshing Luncheon Treat

The dessert is light, refreshing and prepared ahead.

PINEAPPLE WINE JELLY

1 pkg. (3 ozs.) strawberry-punch flavor gelatin
1 cup boiling water
¼ cup pineapple syrup (from canned tidbits)
¾ cup dry rose wine
1 cup well drained canned pineapple tidbits

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water; stir in pineapple syrup and rose; chill until slightly thickened. Fold in pineapple tidbits. Turn into six or seven one-half cup molds; chill overnight to allow wine to flavor pineapple tidbits. Unmold. Makes six or seven servings.

Barbecue For Westerners

During National Barbecue month, this is your meal — the finest, thickest steak in the store, grilled to perfection over glowing coals. Nothing makes a man feel quite so loved as a steak — and nothing makes a woman feel quite so free as to have him cook it. Just remember a few tips from the experts. Have the coals white hot, and brush steak with meat tenderizer to seal in the juices and insure a tempting outside crust. Serve with garlic bread and salad, and sit back and wait for the compliments.

Grill Texas Style Steak, Hold Backyard Round-Up

When it comes to outdoor cookery, most families turn almost by instinct to steaks, chops and hamburgers.

National Barbecue Month, July 1 to 31st, is the time to go all out on the biggest most beautiful steak you can find—and because it's such a magnificent specimen, Dad will want to use his best grilling technique to insure a crisp outer crust and the tenderest, juiciest meat inside.

Confide in your butcher: Tell him you want the best he has. A two-pound porterhouse will be perfect for the two of you; if there's company, or if the kids are joining you, better get a sirloin strip steak. A 16-ounce steak is about right for most men. Ladies might want a smaller steak. But never go below 10 ounces or you get something too thin and puny for proper grilling.

Let the meat come to room temperature and brush it liberally with meat tenderizer beforehand—this will seal in the juices and result in extra flavor and bouquet.

Salt and pepper your steak and set it on the grill. It should be seven or eight inches above the coals where the heat will be just under 500 degrees.

Cook to taste, figuring that 10 minutes on each side of a one-inch-thick steak will give you something that is medium well-done.

Plan a Texas - type meal—baked potato or hot bread, sliced tomatoes and scallions and good coffee served in a business-like mug. This is no time for paper cups.

Finally, ladies—be sure to tell him he's the greatest steak-chef going and that you feel pretty good to have him around.

Balance The Budget, Pressure Cook Beans

For those meals that come when you are trying to balance the budget, cook dry beans. Besides being economical, they're good.

You will find an assortment of fried beans that will delight even the most particular bean fancier. And budget-wise, what better meal is there for all-round nutrition?

Supplies of dry beans are available right now, reports the Consumer and Marketing Service. Government takeover of dry beans this year has been very heavy. Enjoy dry beans often.

For those hurry-up summer meals it takes only about 30 minutes for the whole process of pressure cooking beans or whole peas. This time even allows for a slow rise and fall of pressure, which is important in cooking these foods evenly. You will find dry beans do not break as easily when pressure is raised and lowered gradually rather than suddenly. Put some on now — they're good!

Take two precautions to keep beans within bounds and to prevent clogging the cooker vent tube: (1) Add a little fat and (2) fill the cooker no more than one-third full, including water.

Here is the general procedure to follow. After soaking beans and putting them into the cooker with the water and seasonings, adjust the lid, and heat to boiling. Let steam escape for one minute.

Put pressure control or indicator on, and over low heat bring pressure up slowly to 15 pounds. Start counting cooking time. When the beans are done, set the cooker off the heat to let pressure drop gradually.

Delight your family with dry beans prepared in a variety of ways. You will be eating with the lite when you serve Boston baked beans. You'll need two cups dry beans, 1½ quarts water, one teaspoon salt, ¼ pound salt pork, four tablespoons molasses, and ½ teaspoon mustard.

Soak beans in water. Add salt and boil gently 45 minutes.

Make cuts through the rind of the pork about ½ inch apart. Put half the pork in a bean pot or deep baking dish. Add beans and rest of pork, exposing only the scored rind.

Mix molasses and mustard with the cooking liquid from the beans. Pour over the beans. Cover baking dish.

Bake at 250 degrees six or seven hours; add a little hot water from time to time, if beans brown on top. This makes six to eight servings.

For shorter baking, boil the pork 45 minutes along with beans. Add molasses and mustard and bake at 333 degrees for three hours. Remove the lid the last 30 minutes to let the beans brown on top.

For the little different flavor, the U.S. Department of Agriculture recommends putting a peeled onion in the bottom of the pot or adding ½ cup chopped onion. Or use one tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, ½ teaspoon ginger, and pepper to taste. You can add ¼ cup catsup to the molasses, salt and mustard for a tangy flavor.

Once you have baked a good-sized pot of beans, you have a start toward several quick meals. You will find an abundance of delicious dishes calling for baked beans in your recipes.

Be sure you have plenty of dry beans on hand. Well cared for, they will remain nutritious indefinitely.

Pork Sausage Improves Meal

Pork sausage can be cooked in "balls" just for a change, Canadian - style bacon can offer variety from sausage when served with pancakes and waffles and smoked sausage links might be just the thing to go with French toast.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Old-fashioned vegetable combination: canned green peas heated with canned snap beans.

* * *

Delicious and different: thin strips of preserved ginger added to curried chicken.

* * *

Ever add a dash of nutmeg to corned beef hash? Or cover the hash with buttered crumbs and brown under the broiler?

* * *

If poached eggs have to wait before they are served, keep them in lukewarm water.

* * *

Drained small sardines, arranged on lettuce and garnished with lemon wedges, may be served as a main course for lunch or as a first course for dinner.

* * *

Chef's way with individual boneless steaks: dip both sides of the beef in melted butter, then in bread crumbs and broil.

* * *

Company yams: dice cooked sweet potatoes and heat in light cream seasoned with salt, white pepper and nutmeg.

* * *

Simmer canned pear syrup with a cinnamon stick until it is spiced and thickened; remove the cinnamon stick and pour the syrup over the pears.

* * *

Does your family enjoy cooked vegetables in salad? Use a canned or cooked frozen vegetable such as snap beans or brussels sprouts and marinate in French dressing. Mix the marinated vegetable with crisp salad greens.

* * *

Old-fashioned breakfast combination: hot cream-style corn served with shirred eggs.

* * *

Add a pinch or two of sugar and nutmeg to that creamed spinach. Serve topped with poached eggs as a luncheon dish.

* * *

Experienced waffle - makers say that it's unwise to peek at waffles while steam is escaping around the sides of the waffle iron. Such peek-a-boo curiosity may make the waffles stick!

* * *

If you bake a quick coffee cake in an oven-proof glass round or square dish, you can bring the cake straight to the table and cut and lift out the servings there. Coffee cakes should be served hot so this has an advantage. Use a pie knife for removing the individual portions.

A Devotional For The Day

(Jesus) said to them, "Why are you afraid? Have you no faith?" (Mark 4:40, RSV)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, forgive our small faith by which we reduce Thee to our size. Forbid that waves of difficult circumstances should blind us to Thy presence with us. When we have done what we can, grant us the wisdom to leave the outcome in Thy hands. Through Christ, our Lord and Master, we pray. Amen.

Tougher For Teen Drivers

In just a month — Aug. 28 is the date — the state's revised driver licensing law goes into effect. It is going to involve a lot of teenagers. The new act raises the licensing age of an operator from 16 to 18, or from 14 to 16 with driver education. Under certain exceptions, 15-year-olds will be able to get a license.

Some Texas teenagers under age 18 may still obtain a driver's license before Aug. 28. They will, of course, have to make their application and pass their examinations prior to that date.

Youths 14 and 15, if they passed an approved driver education course, may also obtain a license if they complete the formalities before the law changes.

After the key date, 16-and 17-year-olds may obtain a license only if they have passed a driver education course. Fifteen-year-olds will be able to drive with a "learner's" permit, which requires that they drive only while accompanied by a licensed driver who is at least age 21.

Texas teenagers who already have their licenses will not be forced to give them up, but all those which have been issued and those which will be issued to youths under 21 will be on a provisional basis. The terms of the provisional license prevail until the holder does reach the age of 21. There are terms under which the provisional license may be suspended.

What the new law adds up to is the fact that it's going to be much harder in the future for all the youth of our state to get their operator's licenses, and it's going to be tougher to keep them.

Why Not Abolish The Board?

A segment of the press and many in the political ranks are in full hue and cry after President Johnson for appointing a former secretary's young husband to a $26,000-a-year job as one of the five members of the Subversive Activities Control Board. And that's fair enough in the catch-as-catch-can rules of the game of partisan politics.

The hullabaloo, however, raises a rather more serious question. Why continue the Subversive Activities Control Board — with its $130,000 in board members' salaries, and much more for staff — at all?

The board was created in 1950, and amended in 1954, to hold hearings on whether to put alleged "Communist-action," "Communist-front," or "Communist - infiltrated" organizations on the attorney - general's subversives list, thus forcing them and their officers to register. It also holds hearings on appeal as to whether to take organizations off the list.

The board has held no hearing in 20 months. And there are no cases pending or in prospect.

The truth of the matter is that the United States Supreme Court, in a series of civil-rights decisions, has held unconstitutional most that the board was supposed to do.

So, the Subversive Activities Control Board is impotent. It caused more confusion than it caught Communists anyway, and the federal government is well - equipped to cope with subversion without having to resort to the ancient technique of inquisition. Whether the President's young friend is qualified to be a board member, or not (the Senate confirmed that he was) is of little importance. Whether the board itself is worth supporting is an issue of substance.

Safety In Uranium Mines

WASHINGTON—There was a tech sergeant at a World War II training base who consistently added 2,000 feet to the mountain peaks over which the training flights took place. When an irate operations officer pointed out that New Mexico mountains didn't stand that high, the sergeant explained he was giving the green aircrews an extra margin of safety.

You would have to call the sergeant's method humane, but nonscientific, a precautionary "overkill." The same method, to the admiration of some and the dismay of others, was applied last May by Labor Secretary Wirtz in setting standards for the mining of uranium, the raw material of nuclear energy.

WIRTZ SET a measurement of radiation, called 0.3 W.L. (working level), at which, he said, a uranium miner in the Rocky Mountain states would be no more likely to develop lung cancer than would anybody else. The Secretary threatened to cancel the government contracts of any underground mine that could not show, by instruments, that it complied with his standard. Since virtually all uranium mines have contracts with the Atomic Energy Commission, the Secretary's ukase spread consternation throughout the industry.

IT MUST BE seriously asked: Did Wirtz hyperbolize the danger? The Secretary, his spokesmen at the Labor Department tell me, is quite willing to exaggerate in order to be on the safe side. He also is quite willing to reconsider if his figure proves to be unrealistic—as a good many experts believe that to be. Some of the facts surrounding the Secretary's action are these:

He acted only after gruesome newspaper stories declared that 100 miners had unnecessarily died of radiation-caused cancer, and that 1,150 others were doomed to die. He acted after an editorial in the powerful Washington Post thundered that "not one miner should be allowed to work for one more day in an Atomic Energy Commission death mine."

Wirtz picked 0.3 W.L. as the safety standard because the Public Health Service had used it as what amounted to a "super-safe" level.

BUT IT NOW appears that the news stories and editorial were sensationalized, and that the public health Service figure is very fuzzy. The deaths of the 100 miners and the cancers of the 1,150 others at work did not result from current conditions. They resulted from conditions that existed as long as 15 years ago. Uranium mining became a major American industry in the 1950's when radiation conditions were 10 times as virulent as they are today. The dead and doomed miners were victims of past perils, now non-existent. Most mines today, according to the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy and the Atomic Energy Commission are at or near a safety level. The generally accepted safety level is 1.0 W.L.—much higher than Wirtz's level.

SECRETARY WIRTZ, a man of conscience, did what the tech sergeant did. His judgment, not his compassion, is now on trial. In a series of round-table hearings the Joint Committee is trying to arrive at realistic safety standards in the ever-fascinating enterprise of harnessing nuclear energy's wild horses.

Billy Graham

I want to be a Christian, but don't know how to become one. I try to pray but when I pray I don't feel close to God. Please help me. F.E.

Your feelings will not tell you whether you are a Christian. Feelings often deceive. The Christian life is lived through faith. The Bible does not say we are saved by feelings but by faith. "Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ is a child of God." A Christian is one who trusts Christ alone for salvation.

There can be good prayers, bad prayers, wandering prayers. Bad prayers are when you want evil things, and ask for them inwardly. Many of us get to wandering in our prayers because faith is faulty. Good prayers are in full and living faith. A Christian is a new creature. That means a new response to the will of God.

Cracked Indian Being Hunted

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Phoenix police are on the lookout for an Indian with a broken nose and a cracked shoulder.

The Indian belongs to Phoenix furniture store owner Ray Evans, who told police the 400-pound statue was last seen standing in front of his store clutching four cigars.

Bachelors Eat

MADRAS, India (AP) — The state government had good news for Madras bachelors — they can eat again on Monday and Thursday evenings.

An order imposed as a result of the food shortage had banned serving of cereal dishes by restaurants on those two evenings. And since many south Indians will eat only rice, this, in effect, meant bachelors and others who dine out went without a meal on Mondays and Thursdays.

Now the ban has been lifted.

Riots Start Shouting Match

WASHINGTON (AP) — Before it could even be brought under control the Detroit riot was up to its neck in politics, looking straight at the 1968 presidential campaign.

It's a good guess we will be hearing about it until next year's elections.

Republican leaders, with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower approving, warned that anarchy is approaching and blamed President Johnson for failing to "recognize the problem."

THIS ATTACK was made Monday while Johnson — at the request of Michigan Gov. George Romney, who may be Johnson's Republican rival in the 1968 race, was arranging to send U.S. troops into blazing Detroit.

The whole story of what happened Monday—and why Johnson took so long before permitting the troops to be used in the riot center—hasn't been told. It took many hours.

THE NEW YORK Times reported that at first "some officials in Washington suspected that the governor was primarily seeking insurance against a political setback in the riots by quickly associating the President with his own law enforcement efforts."

But Johnson for his part, in his public explanation on the troop use to the nation around midnight Monday, repeatedly made it clear Romney couldn't control the riot and that the reason the troops were being sent was because Romney said he needed them and couldn't do without them.

ROMNEY, who has spent a good deal of 1967 scouting around the country to sound out sentiment about his chances next year, seemed certain until this riot to try for the Republican nomination.

But Detroit was only the beginning of his trouble since riots subsequently swept one Michigan city after another.

All this will probably be used against him within his own party before nomination time comes. And if he gets the nomination, judging from the pains Johnson took to tell the country Romney couldn't make the grade with just one riot, the one in Detroit, the Democrats are a cinch to use it against him.

Brain-Drain Characters

NEW YORK (AP) — Every society has its rituals, and in the modern business office no ritual is more sacred than the staff conference.

Theoretically, a conference is held to solve problems or to consider new proposals to advance the firm. In fact, the conference at best is a way to pass the time between the morning coffee break and lunch; at its worst it serves as a torture session which enables the boss to torment his executives.

ALL CONFERENCES start in dramatic hopefulness. On the huge table before each seat is a shiny new memo pad and half a dozen freshly sharpened pencils.

The executives enter and greet each other as warily as professional boxers going into the ring. Who knows which will be carried hors de combat before the meeting is over?

If you have ever attended one of these office brain-drain sessions, you will find the following characters familiar:

THE EAGER BEAVER—Inexperienced in office - jungle wiles, the junior executive leaps at the invitation of the boss to advance some new suggestions. He has half a dozen ready. But as he floats them up like toy balloons, the older executives sadistically shoot them down as if they were wielding elephant guns. In 15 minutes the junior executive ages 15 years.

The Treasurer — No matter what is suggested, he objects, "That'll cost too much." If he had his way, they'd throw out typewriters and go back to goose-quill pens because goose-quill pens are less expensive.

THE DOODLER—He appears to be busy scribbling down notes on what the other executives say. What he is actually doing, however, is drawing pictures of glamorous girls—and adding long beards to their faces.

The Fugitive—By prearranged plan, he has his secretary enter and announce, "Detroit's on the phone, sir. It sounds important." He makes his escape and doesn't return until he is sure the conference is about ready to break up.

THE NEANDERTHAL Man—The senior vice president has been with the organization since the days when businessmen wore tall beaver hats. To each proposed change he has the same rebuttal? "We tried that in 1908, and it didn't work. We tried it also in 1917 and 1929 and 1935 and 1953, and it didn't work. So why try it again now?"

The Cheerleader—Never having had an idea of his own, he tries to lighten the mood by telling a few jokes all have heard before. The other executives have a feeling that before long this guy's white brick ranch house in the suburbs will have a "for sale" sign on it.

MR. BIG HIMSELF—After a dreary hour of fruitless hemming, hawing and buck passing, the boss says, "Well, it doesn't look like we're getting very far today. Same place, same time tomorrow. Maybe by then one of you zipperheads will be able to come up with something more constructive than excuses."

That's the only sure thing about office staff conferences: As in drinking, one just leads to another. They're habit forming.

Wants To Lose Weight Here, Not There

Dear Dr. Molner: I am dieting strenuously but not losing weight evenly. Are there diets or exercises that will take off weight effectively in the upper arm, shoulder and bustline area? — L. H.

One of the notions which flourishes endlessly is the fiction that by diet, exercise or magic incantation it is possible to reduce one part of the body and not another.

There isn't to my knowledge any effective means of local or regional reducing. Or gaining.

Girls with thin legs demand "a diet that will give me better shaped legs." Others want diets that will make hips smaller but not make the face and neck thinner. Or many other places.

Aside from exercise to tone up muscles, which will do a certain amount to make a figure generally trim, there isn't any way to put weight on here or there, or take it off there or here.

You can control total weight. You can't change the pattern which Nature has decreed for your weight to be distributed.

Some people, especially women, spend a lot of money seeking such will-o-the-wisp methods of contravening Nature's intentions.

The best advice I can offer is to accept the facts of life. Improved posture can do wonders. Choice of cut and color of clothes can do a very great deal to accentuate your best points and camouflage your poorer ones.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: What do you think of lobeline sulfate or lobeline hydrochloride to deter smoking? — Mrs. C. L.

Without doubt, lobeline can help break the tobacco habit, if properly used. Using it correctly is not so easy.

The drug in some ways has much the same effect on the system as nicotine. I have been told by experts who have studied this problem in depth, that the correct strategy is to give so much of the drug that any nicotine in addition will give a person a sickish feeling. Thus the idea of smoking becomes repugnant.

A maximum dose of the drug needs to be given. A small amount has little effect. This means that a dosage for each patient has to be figured quite precisely — not enough to make him sick, but enough so that a little smoking will.

It is still necessary that psychologically the patient must be determined to stop smoking. And with that determination to start with, he can succeed without the drug.

Thus lobeline sometimes is used as a crutch in some cases, but it's simpler to quit without the effort and cost of using the drug. You'll find this discussed in my booklet, "Tips on How to Stop Smoking." Send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Molner, in care of The Herald, if you'd like a copy.

* * *

Are you having a gall bladder problem? To find out how the gall bladder works and what types of trouble to look for send for Dr. Molner's booklet, "You and Your Gall Bladder." Write to him in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, enclosing a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover the cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

A Third-Party Winner?

Is there any danger that some "third party" might garner enough votes to make any difference in the national elections? Most of us think not, but I have been handed some facts on the matter that adds another furrow in an already wrinkled brow.

Our president, of course, is elected by the Electoral College, which as we have all known for some time, makes it possible for a candidate to be elected although his opponent has the majority of the people's votes. There is another kink in that system of selecting a president, posing an equally dire possibility.

IN 1948, Strom Thurmand's States' Rights party got 39 electoral votes. In 1968, suppose that George Wallace carried Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina, giving him 53 votes.

There are 538 votes in the Electoral College, and it takes 270 to get elected. If we assume for a moment, with some of the long-range prognosticators, that it will be a tight race between Demos and GOP, we might assume the Johnson ticket 250 and the GOP ticket 235.

THUS, NOBODY has won and the problem is dumped into the House of Representatives. Here is the second disturbing prospect: the members of the House do not vote as individuals, they would vote by states. New York, for instance, would have one vote for its 41 congressmen and 17 million people; Nevada would have one vote for its one congressman and 300,000 people.

SO, THE MAGIC number for election would become 26. Once again, the Wallace ticket would get six votes. States having two congressmen might well have a Democrat and a Republican, and fail to vote as the neither of the two would agree to cross the line.

In brief, Mr. Wallace might well wind up in the driver's seat as neither of the major parties could garner the needed 26 votes. Also, members of the House would not be bound to follow the dictates of the electorate's whim during the general election. They could line up as they want when the state's vote is cast.

ALL IMPOSSIBLE? In 1800 (Thomas Jefferson) and 1824 (Thomas Quincy Adams) the election was decided in the House. In 1948, the Progressive Party tipped the scales in favor of Dewey in New York State, without itself winning a single electoral vote. Maine lost its vote in 1824, as the two congressmen were divided. On three occasions, in 1824 (Adams), 1876 (Rutherford B. Hayes), and 1888 (Benjamin Harrison), presidents were elected without receiving a plurality in the voting.

It appears a third party can make a lot of difference, given a close election between the major parties.

No Method To Forestall Riots

WASHINGTON — Are the riots in American cities the result of a preconceived plan, or do they break out spontaneously only after someone furnishes the spark?

Federal officials say they have no evidence of a conspiracy. This does not mean, however, that elements outside of a given city have not contributed to the outbreaks or that criminals who have no special concern with racial agitation do not use the opportunity to loot and to commit acts of vandalism.

STRANGELY ENOUGH, the riots which have taken place in many of the large cities were specifically predicted nearly three months ago. The results of a survey made by "U.S. News & World Report" were published last April. Several members of its staff talked to national and local Negro leaders, officials and police in more than 25 cities which were listed as spots of potential trouble.

The survey showed evidences of widespread alarm, and friction was reported to exist not only between Negroes and whites but among people of Puerto Rican and Mexican backgrounds who feel their problems are being neglected while Negroes get aid. As to where the riots were most likely to erupt, the magazine article at the time quoted Floyd McKissick, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, which has 200 branches in 43 states. He said:

"HARDLY ANY community in this country can call itself immune to trouble this coming summer."

When asked to name the most likely trouble spots, Mr. McKissick added:

"Cleveland stands out like a very sore thumb. Nearly every city in New Jersey is in bad trouble. I'd bet that New Jersey will never get through the summer without trouble.

"AMONG OTHER cities, I'd name New York, Detroit, Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis and especially East St. Louis, Chicago, Gary, Ind., San Francisco and Oakland, Los Angeles, of course, and also Washington, D.C."

It is obvious that the federal, state and city governments have known in advance about potential trouble. They seem unable, however, to agree on what measures of restraint should be taken.

Although the tragic developments of the last 90 days were anticipated, fear of the political reaction among Negroes caused administration officials here to avoid any steps that would interfere with "demonstrations." The assumption has been that the states and cities must take care of the policing problem themselves.

NOW THAT Gov. George Romney of Michigan has called upon the administration to send in federal troops, it is significant that, while the national government responded promptly, it still is reluctant to take charge of the situation in other cities or to adopt measures which will restrict the travel of agitators or potential rioters from state to state. The federal government, under the Constitution, must protect states against "domestic violence," which means sending troops when a state legislature or governor calls for aid.

THE ISSUE which will have to be resolved eventually is whether inflammatory statements and meetings exhorting racial groups to utilize forceful measures to gain their ends will be dealt with as incitements to violence. Speeches that provoke disorder are not immune from punishment, but the administration has been reluctant to apply the law. So it seems likely now that matters will have to grow worse before effective restraints will be applied as a preventive of riots.

It's Difficult To Fill These Jobs

WASHINGTON — The appointment of Simon F. McHugh, husband of one of President Johnson's former secretaries, to the Subversive Activities Control Board, has caused a great deal of comment here in Washington. The job, which pays $26,000 a year, is very demanding in that the board decides which organizations in the United States should be listed as subversive, Unfortunately, the Supreme Court ruled the whole thing unconstitutional, so the Subversive Activities Control Board hasn't met officially for 20 months and it has no plans for meeting in the near future.

THIS HAS angered penny - conscious senators, congressmen and Republicans who feel that President Johnson's appointment of the 29-year-old McHugh was nothing more than a wedding present to a young couple starting out in life.

But the truth of the matter is that President Johnson had a heck of a time filling this vital appointment and a nation-wide search had been on for months trying to find the right person for the job.

One man who had been interviewed for the position several months ago and who turned it down told me:

"I'M WILLING to serve my country as well as the next fellow but when they explained what I had to do, I told them my health and family came first."

"What did they tell you your duties would be?" I asked him.

"They said that next year or perhaps in 1970 the board might be asked to meet to decide whether an organization was Communist - oriented or not. A call would immediately be put in to me, and no matter where I was or what I was doing, I would have to drop everything and report to my office with the other four members of the board."

"It sounds exhausting."

"THAT'S ONLY part of it. They told me we might have to hold two meetings, even three, and that we could be tied up for a week if we had to hear witnesses. Now I ask you, is that worth a lousy $26,000 a year?"

"I should say not," I said. "Particularly when you'd also have to spend several days writing up a report."

"We wouldn't have to write up a report. They have a staff for that. But the point is that I'd have to read the report once it was written."

"What did you tell them?"

"I SAID TO them that it sounded as though the job required a younger man, somebody around 29 years old, who could stand the long hours and the rigors of the work."

"Did you convince them?"

"Not at first. I got a call from the White House and the person I spoke to — I'm not at liberty to say who it was — said, 'Ah need you more than you need me. Ah'm only asking you to come to Washington for this important job because you're the best man Ah can find.'

"I SAID, 'Sir, I'm flattered, but the way it was explained to me, anyone could do that job. Why, even your secretary's husband could do it without too much difficulty.'

"There was a pause on the other end of the phone. Then the voice said, 'Ah never thought of him.'"

Tallest Stack?

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — The American Smelting and Refining Co. here is laying claim to the tallest smokestack in the world.

The stack is 828 feet high, or 428 feet higher than the old one.

Smelter Manager W. J. Woodside said the new smokestack was built at a cost of about $1.5 million.

Farmers Fought Dry Land, Blowing Sand

By JO BRIGHT

At the turn of the century if a man was a farmer in Howard County you knew he was a breed above the rest—a man as tough as the Texas soil and as patient as a hungry stomach permitted.

In his makeup, there was no room for brittleness or the winds would break him—no allowance for softness or the sun would bake him—and no time for rest or the desert would defeat him.

And yet, come they did, with their scrawny cows, tired horses and hopeful hearts, determined to make a dream come true and paint the plains a verdant green.

Will Roberts was a farmer, as his father had been before him, and now, in 1913, he had arrived in Big Spring with his wife, five children and a contract to rent 200 acres of land near Midway. As their wagons left the settlement and rolled westward, the youngsters braced themselves for the bumps and scanned the land for the things that children look for. Nellie Roberts, just turned 15, looked apprehensive as she returned the startled stare of a horned toad that froze as the caravan passed.

In only a year, her mother was dead.

Nellie and the other children joined their father in the fields. They arose at 4:30 every morning, and when the season came, guided the horses and urged the mules that pulled the one-row planters. If luck was with them, and the cotton grew, the days of chopping stretched ahead, and later, the picking.

There were Rhode Island Reds and White Leghorn chickens to feed, several cows to milk twice a day, and when the first ice appeared, hogs and yearlings to butcher. Hungry for ham and beef, nevertheless, the family ate chicken meat all summer, knowing the butchering must wait for cold weather or it would spoil before the curing. Nothing could be wasted, for the nation was at war—and the west was being scorched by the 1917-18 drouth.

"We couldn't raise a thing," recalls Mrs. John W. Miller, the former Nellie Roberts. "Barely enough feed grew to nourish the couple of cows we milked, and we had to watch the others die. The cotton was gone and so was the garden. Most of the farm people, like us, were living on milk, chicken and eggs, along with the few staples we could buy. Because of the war, sugar and flour were rationed, and what flour we could buy was brown as though it was made from maize. We couldn't eat the biscuits after we made them."

Many of the Big Spring men were in France and Germany, fighting with the famed 42nd Division. One of the young men was John Miller, whose correspondence with Nellie resulted in their marriage in 1920, a year after he returned from overseas. He worked as a cowboy on the Henry Boatler ranch for awhile, and they lived in the east part of town, their small frame home being about where the water filtration plant is now located. There were no streets in the area then and no houses near.

However, the farming fever soon began to burn in Miller. In 1922, they rented land at Elbow, but a year later, moved to the E. L. Wasson place southwest of town. They worked that land until 1928 when they moved to Knott during the vicious years of the depression.

"We fought it together," says Mrs. Miller, referring to the numerous farming families who made up the community. "Whatever we had, we shared, and whatever we could grow, we divided. If someone had a bean or corn crop, the women gathered to can it. Seems we were always picking, cleaning, peeling or boiling. We canned everything we could get our hands on."

And the wind continued to blow the freshly - plowed earth until it shadowed the sun.

Another shadow was looming—World War II, and the Millers moved to town with their family. Their oldest son, J. W., died of injuries received in the war. Another son, Granvil, served in the Air Force, and later, the youngest, D. A., saw service in the Korean conflict. Their only daughter, Mrs. Ray Phillips, now resides in El Paso.

In Big Spring, Miller went to work as a blade operator for the road department, a job he held until retiring in 1963. Since that time, the Millers have spent most of their time in their home at 1806 Goliad. When they leave, it's usually with fishing gear in a car that habitually heads toward their cabin at Lake Colorado.

Even the longest years now seem like only yesterday.

Heads New Slate For Homemakers

Mrs. Billy Spears was elected president of the Young Homemakers of Coahoma at the Monday evening dinner meeting at the Spanish Inn. Other officers named were Mrs. Randall Reid, vice president; Mrs. Johnny Zitterkops, secretary - treasurer; and Mrs. Kenneth Scott, reporter. Mrs. Donnie Reid presided and announced the next club year's program topics. Members will study a new subject each month. Twenty attended.

Bride-Elect Is Honored At Party

A surprise kitchen shower was held Tuesday afternoon honoring Miss Kay Bettle, bride-elect of Curtis Beaird Jr., in the home of Judy Daniel. Joan Robertson served as cohostess. Guests were close friends of the honoree, and approximately 20 attended.

Newcomers Club Gains Members Wednesday

Mrs. T. F. Keener and Mrs. Kenneth Boyd were introduced as new members at the Wednesday meeting of the Newcomers Club in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

Hostesses were Mrs. L. S. Daugherty and Mrs. Bertis Harris. Mrs. Harris presided and presented the guests. They were Mrs. Noel Shelton, Mrs. Lloyd Privett, Mrs. James Howard, Mrs. Shine Philips, Mrs. Grant Boardman, Mrs. Jerry Phillips, Mrs. Robert Franklin and Mrs. Jay Turnbow.

Bridge winners were Mrs. Curtis Compton, Mrs. Gene Arrington and Mrs. Boyd. Refreshments were served to 28. The next meeting will be Couple's Bridge, Aug. 5, in the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building.

Tea Honors Bride-Elect

COAHOMA (SC) — Miss Sharon Rogers, bride-elect of Robert Rich, was complimented with a gift tea Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Bill Read, 312 N. Main. Calling hours were from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sig Rogers, 710 E. 14th in Big Spring, and the prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Z. C. Rich. The couple will marry Aug. 12.

A LOVELIER YOU

Hair Change Can Be 'Psychological Jolt'

By MARY SUE MILLER

Professional hair colorists recommend a slight change in hair shades for the first - time users of permanent tints. It is claimed that very few women are prepared for the psychological jolt that comes with a drastic color switch. To go from dark brunet to pale blond in one step is to take on a new identity. And most unsettling.

There's another strike against making a startling change. The hair tone too often throws the skin tone off key. For attractiveness the two must complement each other. Make-up can be used with some success to restore lost harmony until the hair can be properly toned.

But the problem would not occur if hair were lightened or darkened very gradually. By using the slow method, you gain perspective on the eventual goal —how well it will suit you and how it could be modified to suit you better.

Fair Skin—silvery blond, light auburn and, if you are youthful, blue-black.

Brunet Skin — tawny blond, chestnut and dark brown.

Florid Skin — deep ash blond, dark auburn and brown shades with golden glints.

Sallow Skin — warm shades of brown with reddish glints and honey blond tones.

Whatever your skin tone, beware of a brassy bright hair tone. It's the attention-getter for lines and blemishes.

Care For Plants

If you're worried about houseplant health during long summer weekends, here's an easy way of insuring a moisture supply. A sturdy tray can be foil, lined with wet peat or sphagnum moss, and used for plunging house plants. If plants are in porous clay containers, they will absorb needed moisture from the moss through container walls.

Versatile Chair Plays Lead Role

The occasional chair wins plaudits as the most versatile actor in today's well-decorated home.

It has captured acclaim because of its dramatic ability to play a leading role as well as figure prominently in supporting positions. The occasional chair can electrify an otherwise bland decorating scheme and also sets the mood of an entire setting.

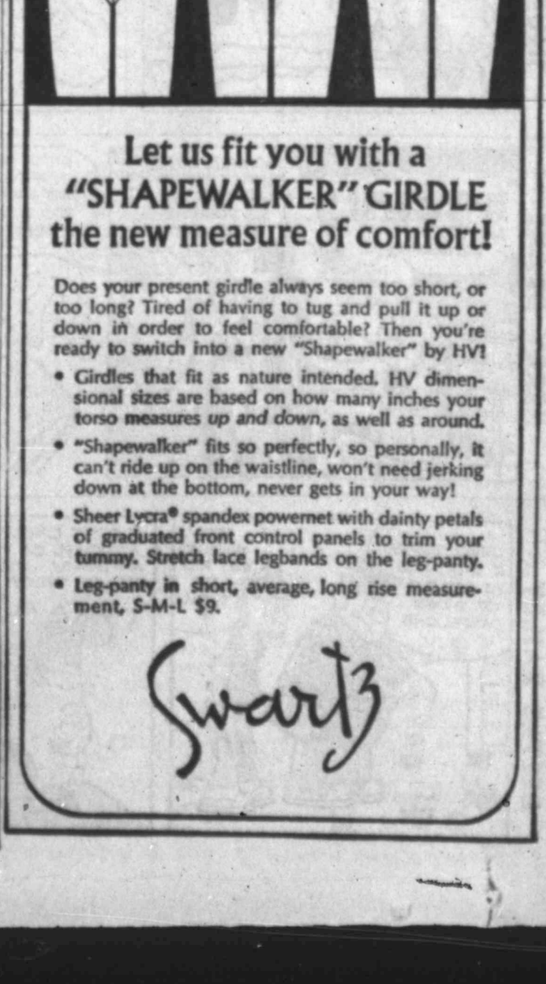

As with any competent actor, the occasional chair can assume an infinite variety of roles. It can enliven the decor of a room through the use of color — or mellow a setting with soft, lush upholstery.
