Kindergarten Enrolls August 7

Kindergarten will be a part of the Wellington School System during the coming school year, and plans for it were announced this week by Supt. Thayne Amonett.

Registration of all eligible kindergarten students will be held Tuesday, August 7, at 1:00 p.m. in Elementary School, Mr. Amonett said. Classes will begin along with other school classes Monday, August 20.

Any child five years old on or before September 1, 1973, will be eligible to attend. Mr. Amonett estimated the enrollment will be about 55.

He emphasized that every child entering kindergarten and first grade must have a copy of his birth certificate or the original certificate. He said that copies are preferred, because these must remain in the permanent files of the school.

The teacher will be Mrs. Lynn Jenkins, who was elected earlier this year. A graduate of West Texas State University with specialized training in kindergarten work, she taught kindergarten and first grade last year at Quail.

Each child will attend kindergarten only one semester, and after registration it will be determined which students will attend the first semester and which will attend the second semester.

"We will try to select these strictly by age," the superintendent emphasized. "The older 5-year-old group will attend the first semester and the younger group will attend the second semester. We selected this option of letting one group attend one semester and the other group the other semester because we can't take home and pick up the children in the middle of the day. This way, each child will attend kindergarten a full day for one semester, rather than a half-day all year."

It was explained that a kindergarten "full day" will be the same hours as the first and second grades, with the children getting out at 2:45 p.m.

License Office Closes in July

The DPS Drivers License office in Wellington will be closed Tuesday, July 24, and Thursday, July 26. During that time, Bill Ricks, with the DPS Drivers License Division will be on his annual vacation.

Mr. Ricks will be back on Tuesday, July 31, and his August dates in Wellington will be every Tuesday and the second and fourth Thursdays. His office is in the Justice of the Peace office in the court house.

He said that in case of an emergency concerning a drivers license while he is away, the license holder may come to the Childress Office, which is open each Monday through Friday, with the exception of Wednesdays, and the first, third and fifth Fridays of each month.

Petroleum Industry Pays County Royalty Owners Quarter Million

The petroleum industry in Collingsworth County played a significant role in 1972 in helping to satisfy the unprecedented demand for Texas' crude oil and natural gas.

Collingsworth was one of 190 of Texas' 254 counties which produced oil and gas valued in excess of $100,000 in a record production year for the state's No. 1 industry, according to figures compiled by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

The county ranked 155th in the state in the value of petroleum produced, $1.8 million. The sale of natural gas accounted for most of that total.

But despite this record year, due in large part to nine months of production at 100-percent of the maximum efficient rate, the nation's largest producer of petroleum could not produce enough to satisfy demand.

"To further stimulate production, we need a restoration of the open market force," said Robert A. Buschman of San Antonio, president of the Association.

"This would produce two much-needed effects: First, it would channel the state's pet-

FARM BUREAU QUEEN

Friday the 13th held only good luck for Connie Lewis, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carthel Lewis. On that evening she was chosen Collingsworth County Farm Bureau Queen and will represent the county in the District I FB Queen Contest on July 27.

New Ambulance Need Is Put Before People

The Volunteer Ambulance Service is to point out it must consider the purchase of a new ambulance, officials of the service have revealed. Equipment in the present ambulance also needs to be replaced.

Information from officers and a report to the Chamber of Commerce Monday, July 9, shows that the ambulance now used on out of town runs has traveled more than 113,000 miles, and twice recently it has experienced mechanical trouble while transporting a patient.

This ambulance, a 1967 Oldsmobile, was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Kelso when the service was organized January 1, 1972.

"We feel that since this vehicle is used primarily for transportation of patients to other towns, with this many miles, there is a possibility of malfunction, causing a delay in the patient's reaching the hospital," said Bob Watson, vice-president of the service.

The Volunteer Ambulance Service is presently exploring all avenues of financing a new ambulance, and of determining the kind that will best fill this county's needs.

Purchase of an ambulance, it is pointed out, may be regarded as a long-term investment. With use such as it receives here, a new vehicle could be considered the primary ambulance for five or six years, and the back-up ambulance for several more.

Directors plan to look at the ambulances of other services in this area to see what is available.

The last two purchased by Metropolitan Ambulance Service were bought for $9,600 each, completely equipped, according to reports received here. On the other hand, Clarendon bought a vehicle and built in its own equipment.

The second, or back-up, ambulance currently in use is a 1967 Pontiac Navy surplus vehicle which was rebuilt and repainted. It is serving well as a local ambulance, but again, drivers and ambulance attendants are reluctant to take it on long trips.

A fact before the local service is that it must sometime in the near future meet new state and federal specifications which neither of the present vehicles meet.

Several individuals have said they would like to make a donation toward the ambulance purchase, and Mrs. Margaret Vines, secretary, announced that a special fund for this has been set up.

Memorial gifts also may be made to this fund.

The Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service is one of the few in this area operating in the black. It has not had to continually ask for support from the governing bodies of the area which it serves. Other than the initial money to set up the organization, and that required for building the ambulance barn, there has been no request for tax dollars.

Pioneers to Gather Sunday for Annual Loco-Arlie Reunion

Pioneers of the Loco and Arlie communities, along with those who came later or who still live in the area, will gather Sunday, July 22, to swap memories and relive experiences of another day in that area south of Wellington.

This annual event will be in Bura Handley Community Center, according to Mrs. Silas

Crawford.

Final plans were announced. Hosts this year are Mr. and Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. Olean Bearden of Carey, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bearden of Hale Center, Mrs. A.V. Lowrie of Dodson, Merritt Durfee and Mrs. Zelma Davis of Lubbock.

Registration will begin at 9:00 a.m. and coffee and doughnuts will be served at 10:15. A basket lunch will be spread at noon, then visiting will continue until 5:00 p.m.

There will be a short entertainment program in the afternoon, and a memorial service will be held.

As in the past, there will be an exhibit of old pictures and newspapers, and other memorabilia which would be of interest to those who have been a part of these two communities.

More than 100 invitations were mailed to people who live out of town who formerly lived at Loco or Arlie. No invitations were mailed locally. Mrs. Crawford said that all who have at any time lived in the community are urged to attend.

Solution Sought To Dodson Area Water Problem

Representatives of Soil and Water Conservation Districts in Collingsworth, Childress and Harmon Counties, along with representatives of the three Commissioners Court, will meet in Dodson Thursday, July 19, to look at a water problem existing in that area.

The meeting will be at the Dodson Cafe at 10:00 a.m. according to County Judge Zook Thomas.

Damage to roads in that area from water coming out of fields has been reported, Judge Thomas said. The men from the three soil conservation districts will be asked to look at the problem and suggest a solution.

This is not a new problem, the county judge reported, but one which has been present for a number of years, but about which no remedial action has been taken.

Bloodmobile Draws 71 Units in County

Only 71 donors reported to the Red Cross Bloodmobile on its visit here Tuesday, July 10, Garner Altom, Collingsworth General Hospital administrator has reported.

Five of these were rejected, leaving only 66 units to apply toward the county's quota of 110 units for this Bloodmobile Visit.

"Of the 66, eleven were first time donors to our current Blood Bank program," Mr. Altom said.

"This only left 55 out of the 118 who gave last time, or some 63 needed people who did not show," Mr. Altom continued.

"Although 66 donors is good and the recipients will be grateful, we must do better if we are to take care of the blood needs of our county," he continued. "There are some who said they would have given had it not been summer months...."

the need for blood is just as great in summer as winter.... sometimes more so.

"We have used at Collingsworth General Hospital, or at other hospitals for residents of our county, over 120 units of blood since our last Bloodmobile on March 13.

"Our next scheduled bloodmobile is March 1974, so it is quite obvious we will use many units of blood before next year, Mr. Altom concluded.

On the other hand one couple, Mr. and Mrs. George Keeton, came from Amarillo to give blood toward this county's quota.

Blood donors Tuesday were: J.C. Howell, Hubert Mauldin, Doyle Brown, David Hodges, Bill Lindsey, Mr. and Mrs. Keeton, Mrs. Carl Wischkaemper, Marshall Peters, Lynda Cleere, Robert Valliant, Mrs. Mildred Turner, Colquitt Nash, Dina Wagoner, Mrs. Cecil Masten, Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Fires.

Grant Wooldridge, John Faris, Garnet Altom, Ronald D. Webb, Trinidad Cantu, Anita Anglin, Donald Curry, Ralph Owens, Bill R. Long, Mike Smith, Kenneth Brown.

Lavada Defoor, Bennie J. Defoor, Bob Watson, Emmett Bobbitt, Jimmy Cantu, Sr., Ross O'Hair, Dr. Carter Holcomb, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lowe, Mrs. Frances Williams, Albert Fulcher.

Chief Jim King Resigns, Moves To South Texas

Police Chief Jim King submitted his resignation to the City Council Monday evening, July 16, to accept a similar job with the City of Platoon, near Houston.

His resignation is effective July 31. Mr. King also served as fire marshal.

Kenneth Minatrea, who joined the police department five and one-half months ago, also resigned to accept a place in the city water department.

Mr. King came here in December 1971 from Panhandle. Besides all other regular duties of a police chief in a town this size, he has worked especially with boys and girls, and another field of interest was the enforcement of traffic laws.

Wheel Strays, Damages House

An errant wheel, which came off a dual wheel truck without the driver's knowledge, rolled 500 feet down Highway 83, broke off a mail box and finally knocked an air conditioner out of a window before it came to rest.

The incident was reported by Sheriff John Rainey.

A grain truck, driven by Emmett D. Williams of Burk Burnett, lost the wheel as he was traveling south on US 83, a short distance north of the Highway 203 Intersection, Rainey said. Officers were able to determine where it came off. The wheel first struck the mail box in front of Mrs. V.H. Lindsey's home and carried it about 300 feet. Reaching the office of King's Inn Motel, the wheel bounced and struck a window air conditioning unit, knocking it down.

Mr. Williams discovered the loss several miles south of town.

The owner of the grain truck was identified as H.C. Johnson of Wichita Falls.

GED Test Set At Clarendon

The G.E.D. Exam (High School Equivalency) will be given on the 11 of August, 1973, at Clarendon College, Clarendon, Texas. The test will begin at 8:00 a.m. in room 102 in the Administration Building. It will take approximately eight to ten hours to complete the exam.

Anyone interested in taking the test should contact Beryl Clinton, Leonard Selvidge, or Floyd Guinn at the College before the 8th of August.

Cost of the test will be $13, payable at the time of the examination.

All Students Must Have Immunizations

All children attending the Wellington Schools this year must have their immunization shots completed before they will be permitted to enroll, Supt. Thayne Amonett emphasized Monday, July 16.

"All children in Kindergarten and first grade must bring a doctor's proof (signed statement) that the child has been immunized for polio, DPT, Rubella (German or three-day measles), and Rubeola (hard or red measles)," he stated.

If a child is above the first grade and for some reason did not get his series of shots completed last year, these must be completed, and a doctor's statement will be required for enrollment, it was also pointed out.

Those students whose shots were completed last year, and this fact is recorded at the school, will not have to repeat the series.

"Any child not having this will not be permitted to enroll," declared the superintendent. This immunization series is required of all students by state law.

Report Cost-of-Living Facts, West Texans Told

J.Fike Godfrey, Executive Vice President of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, announced today a reporting system for West Texans to give the Cost-of-Living Council information to correct some of the distortions in the economy of West Texas, and the nation, as a result of the recent price freeze. This reporting system has been set up to give the Cost-of-Living Council factual information as to how the price freeze is adversely affecting business and the consumer.

West Texas Businessmen, chambers of commerce and association executives are urged to report immediately to the "Price Freeze Impact Data Exchange in Washington, D.C., any facts that have caused distortions in their areas.

This information will be transmitted hourly to the Cost-of-Living Council.

Data needed to shape administration policies should include names of companies that have curtailed, altered or terminated production because of the price freeze; products involved; has it caused reduction in working hours or employment; if so, how many hours per week, and how many people have been laid off?

Other information needed, any postponement of shipments; cancellation of orders, rationing, special allocation to certain customers; and names of companies, products involved and any evidence of harm to customers and consumers.

Also, what distortions in ag-

VA Benefits Unaffected by St. Louis Fire

Any damage to service records in the July 12 fire at the Military Records Center in St. Louis, will have no impact on the 13-million veterans and dependants currently receiving Veterans Administration benefits.

This assurance was given today by Donald E. Johnson, Administrator of Veterans Affairs.

VA records for those now receiving benefits are maintained mostly at the agency's 57 regional offices throughout the nation, and also at VA's 169 hospitals and two insurance centers.

VA does operate its own records processing center in the St. Louis area, but this is located about 10 miles from the fire-damaged military-records unit. This VA center serves as a repository for records of older veterans and beneficiaries no longer receiving VA payments or benefits.

The VA, Johnson said, also maintains other backup files containing essential, though not complete, military service information, which would prove helpful in processing any new applications for benefits from veterans whose military records might have been destroyed in the fire.

Since 1968, the VA Data Processing Center at Austin, Texas, has kept computer master records on some 3-million Vietnam Era veterans discharged since that date. Computerized master index records are also maintained by the VA in Washington on more than 32-million veterans living and dead.

These backup records contain information on dates and branch of service, character of discharge and other information necessary for VA to adjudicate claims for such benefits as G.I. Bill training, G.I. loans, VA pensions and VA medical and hospital care.

Veterans primarily affected would be those applying in the future for VA service-gricultural output have been created by the price freeze? If so, what products involved? Are there any shortages of raw materials, food stuffs or manufactured goods attributable to the price freeze? Are West Texans anticipating other distortions if price freeze continues until the 60-day deadline?

This information should be submitted by wire or fast mail immediately to Price Freeze Impact Data Exchange, 1615 H Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., 20006.

NM Engineer Ends 19 Years Service

SANTA FE — The staff of the Environmental Improvement Agency honored Aubrey Willard, retiring program manager for the Water Supply Construction and Planning Section, at a banquet Thursday night for 19 years service with the State.

The 63-year-old professional engineer plans to stay active in the field of water supply construction after retirement June 30 from duties with the EIA.

"I plan to work in a consultative capacity for other engineers, architects, groups, and individuals," Willard said.

He holds Grade A certificates in administration and operation of both water and wastewater systems. The certification is issued by the New Mexico Water Supply and Pollution Control Association.

During his tenure with state government, Willard administered 127 projects under the Sanitary Projects Act which is designed to help develop small community water supply systems.

"I enjoyed working with people like Eddie Vigil, former mayor of Chama, in this program," Willard said. "He was an aggressive organizer and gave untiring effort toward the construction of the Chama water system."

Willard has also reviewed and approved plans for more than 650 swimming pools across the state.

Willard said, "I expected the construction of public pools to level off after a few years, but it continues to increase. Most of the construction is in the Albuquerque and Santa Fe areas."

Willard has accumulated 17 years of active duty credit with the Public Health Service since he joined the service in 1941. He has been recalled to active connected disability compensation whose military medical records may have been destroyed in the file. Even if these medical records are not duplicated elsewhere in the military system, VA would have an alternative way of developing the veteran's claim. VA would already know if the veteran had basic eligibility as far as period of service and character of discharge is concerned.

For additional information needed, VA could check the veteran for any record copies or data he might have kept, could request affidavits from military buddies who witnessed the disability, and from military doctors and hospitals treating the veteran. A current VA medical examination would establish the present extent of the disability.

The first life insurance by a general company in the United States was offered by the Insurance Company of North America of Philadelphia. The first policy was issued Dec. 15, 1792, but within the next five years only six policies were written. In 1804, the company discontinued the life insurance feature.

Farm Tax-Saving Now Possible

Farmers can save on income tax during the summer by paying their children for farm work and combining vacation and business trips, says an economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Child wages can be deducted and the children still claimed as dependents if a farmer provides more than half their support.

A child will not have to pay income tax if he earns less than $2,050. Business-related expenses from a business-vacation trip are deductible as long as business is the primary purpose of the trip. Only the farmer's expenses, not those of the entire family, are deductible.

duty during emergencies such as Hurricane Carla which hit the Texas coast in the early 1960's, and during the floods which hit Connecticut in 1955.

He is well-known for his work in reducing malaria in Greece and the Philippines while serving with the PHS. By monitoring the disease in infants and by observing the habits of mosquitoes during nighttime hours, Willard helped to gather data that eventually led to a dramatic decline in deaths from malaria.

Concerning work closer to home, Willard said, "I can count about 90 projects in Santa Fe for which I have designed or approved plans." They include the sewage disposal systems for the Santa Fe Opera, the State Police complex, the State Highway Department, and Santa Fe Downs.

Willard married Allie Henderson, his college sweetheart in 1941 after graduating from Texas Tech the same year with a degree in civil engineering. They had three children: Carolyn, 29; Larry, 25; and Linda, 17. Allie died in 1969. In September, 1972, Willard married Mrs. Lois Brennan.

In reflecting on his service to the State, Willard said, "I have enjoyed working for the State, and I plan to continue to be active in the field of water, swimming pools, and liquid waste."

Mr. Willard grew up in the Needwood Community, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Willard, pioneers in that part of the county.

forcement of traffic laws. He and Mrs. King have a son, James King, Jr., with the U.S. Army in Germany; two married daughters in Amarillo; a daughter in Albuquerque, N.M.; and their youngest daughter, Donna, 13, is at home.

rangement which would allot ownership of the building to eventually revert to the city. This would be on airport land. The proposed hanger would match in style the administration building.

The council instructed its legal counsel, Paul Spillman, to draw up a contract to be presented to both Mr. Hartman and the City Council.

In other action, City Manager Lyman Daniel was given the authority to purchase a sewer rodder.

The list of delinquent property taxes was reviewed and the council approved turning it over to an Amarillo attorney for collection.

Mayor Bill Hatch read the resignation of Police Chief Jim King, and a motion was passed to accept his resignation.

Bob Watson, a member of the Fire Department, was appointed assistant fire marshal.

The council heard a proposed planning program by Brown Hudson of Wichita Falls, a professional city planner. No action was taken on his presentation.

Chloride Control in Red River Asked

In a letter to the director of the Office of Management and Budget, Congressman Bob Price requested that approval be given to begin construction during fiscal 1974 on sit VIII of the Arkansas-Red River Basins chloride control project located on the Wichita River near Guthrie.

One part of the overall control project affects Collingsworth County. A brine reservoir into which salt water will be stored will be east of Memphis and extend over into this county.

This is opposed by a number of landowners who fear contamination of irrigation and other underground water supplies.

Another similar brine lake is proposed north of Vinson, to control brine on Elm Creek below Salton.

Although I am advised that preconstruction planning for the entire Red River Basin will not be completed for two more years, that site VIII of the project has been established to be feasible both in an engineering and economic sense. Of all the Red River basin site, number VIII clearly would provide the greatest chloride control benefit to the area and is justified for construction on an individual basis. Completion of this site would reduce the amount of chloride flowing into Lake Kemp and Lake Diversion by a full 30 per cent and would improve the quality and quantity of water, available to the city of Wichita Falls and surrounding area for both municipal and agricultural irrigation purposes.

"Furthermore, since the amount needed to begin construction is estimated by the Army Corps of Engineers not to exceed $200,000, I believe for the benefit to be derived that this expenditure would be fully warranted and wise," Price said to OMB director, Roy Ash.

The Congressman emphasized that construction on site VIII facilities was authorized by existing legislation subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Army and the president. "My understanding is that the report giving your recommendations on the project is still in your hands and I am unaware that any effort has been made to transmit the report to the Congress," Price said.

The Texas Congressman cited developments to date on site VIII as evidence that the Wichita River segment of the project is ready for construction. "Therefore, I strongly urge, presuming funds are appropriated to initiate construction on area VIII facilities, that support a construction start by the Army Corp of En-

This was the first time the Bloodmobile had operated under the experimental hours of 4:00 to 8:00 p.m. Of the 71 donors, 46 came after 5:00p.m., indicating the heavy use of the evening hours.

Coming with the Bloodmobile from Wichita Falls were Polly Briesemeister, Kay Hilt, Gail Newton, Katie Eckberg and Jim Gill.

Former Residents in Colorado Bear Hunt

A Colorado bear hunt in which several former residents and their friends participated was recounted this week by Preston Gilbreth of Hedley.

The hunt occurred while he was visiting his son, Richard Gilbreth and family at Antonito, Colorado.

Here is the account:

"It was nearly 3:30 a.m. (that's mighty early for a cotton farmer and a peach orchard man) on Sunday, June 24, when Richard Gilbreth, his sons, Rich and Zane, and their visitors, Richard's dad, Preston Gilbreth, and Red Daugherty of Hedley loaded the dogs and started up to the mountains from their Colorado cabin.

They were to meet Dick Ray of Chama, N.M., with his dogs and his guests, Frank Auriemma and Sam De Leo from Melrose Park, Ill.

They were in quest of a bearskin rug.

After meeting at Big Horn Corral about one and one-half miles from Gilbreth's Colorado ranch, the dogs struck a fresh bear track, then followed it three miles through rugged canyons and rocky trails before the bear treed.

Close behind, the hunters began to drag themselves through the entanglement that only a wild bear would enter—or eager bear hunters. Arriving breathless at the tree, the hunters gazed upward at their prize. Sam De Leo then shot the four year old black male bear.

After this exciting episode in the mountains, many yarns were spun over milk shakes and coffee with plans made for more bear hunts and elk and deer hunts this fall.

"There's no better way to make friends and pleasant memories than out in the beautiful southern Colorado Rockies."

Home Management

By Mrs. Arla Felts

Consumers have the right to complain—and to expect adjustments—on purchases that do not meet the claims of manufacturers. Registering complaints is not only a right but also a responsibility. This means making justifiable complaints—not those stemming from consumer negligence or abuse. Policy varies from store to store concerning returns, exchanges, and refunds. Generally speaking, a reputable store will allow them except on sale merchandise.

Consumers may help to insure better products and services by looking at a few guidelines.

Make a habit of keeping receipts, hangtags, warranties, and care labels in one convenient place. These can be valuable not only for reference for service or maintenance but they are often required if merchandise is to be returned.

Before buying, read carefully the instructions concerning use, storage, washing, oiling, and other general care. This will give you a clue as to what to expect from the product. After buying, follow instructions. Understanding these things may eliminate the need to return merchandise.

When returning merchandise, avoid making returns near closing time or during rush hours. If leaving an item for repairs, or if a refund will be mailed to you, be sure to get a receipt for the item.

In making a complaint, be calm and courteous. Be friendly, but firm, and avoid being sarcastic or abusive.

Let the facts speak for themselves. State the facts clearly—where and when the product was purchased, its model number (if any), brand name, price, and what is wrong with it.

Try to explain what went wrong, when and how the defect appeared.

If telephoning a complaint, ask name of person receiving the complaint. If writing a letter, include your name, address, zip code, and telephone number on all correspondence and keep carbon copies.

Most often, justifiable complaints are accepted by local dealers and nationally known manufacturers. Just as the consumer has rights, so do these people. We, as consumers, should not try to make them pay for our mistakes in using or misusing merchandise.

Company addresses appear in "Poor's Register of Corporations, Directors and Executives" or "Moody's Industrial Manual" in most libraries.

If a company doesn't respond to the first letter within two or three weeks, send a second letter. If there is still no response, refer to Consumer Protection lawyers in the nearest regional office of the state attorney general.

Miss Tanya Alston Weds Danny Watts In Church Ceremony at Quail July 7

The Quail Baptist Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Tanya Ann Alston of Quail and Danny Lee Watts, 704 Bowie Street, on Saturday afternoon, July 7. The Rev. John Stout of Clarendon, pastor, officiated at the two o'clock ceremony.

Miss Alston is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Alston of Quail, while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Watts of Route 6, Wellington.

Wedding music was presented by Miss Glenda Gamill of Amarillo.

Centering the altar was an orchid candle, and on each side were baskets of white gladioli. A satin-covered prieu completed the setting.

Mr. Alston gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride wore a gown of white organdy with dainty lace daisies trimming the standing collar, panel front and sheer lantern sleeves. The full flowing skirt fell from an empire waistline to form a train at back. Her veil of bouffant white illusion was attached to an open crown trimmed with lacy blossoms and bride's pearls. She carried a bouquet of white daisies tied with satin streamers.

Miss Hope Souder, the maid of honor, wore a floor-length dress of orchid crepe, made with empire waist and long lace sleeves. Her flowers were white carnations.

Nicky Watts, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man and ushers were Gary Alston and Jerry Alston, brothers of the bride.

Melanie Watts, sister of the bridegroom, was the flower girl, wearing a dress styled similar to that of the honor attendant, with puff sleeves and lace trim.

Kevin Hall Has Birthday Party

Mrs. Bill Hall honored her son, Kevin, with a swimming party on his twelfth birthday, Saturday, July 14.

The event was held at Marian Airpark Pool. After the swim, refreshments were served at poolside.

Attending were Carl Taylor, Don Lewis, Jon Sessions, Jeanne Morris, Kelley Covey, Carol Ann Daves, Connie Daves, Vanessa Ingram, Pam Ingram and Arnie Ingram, Lyn Hurst, Joe Ed White, Laura Gragson, Darren Hall, and the guest of honor, Kevin Hall.

The Rev. and Mrs. Porfirio Mejia are the parents of a daughter born July 12, in Collingsworth General Hospital. She was named Sandra Kay and weighed six pounds and twelve ounces.

Garden Care Told to Club

Garden pest and insect control was the program theme when members of the Wellington Garden Club met Wednesday, July 11, in the home of Mrs. Coy Vaughan. Miss Glenda Kiker was co-hostess.

Mrs. Silas Crawford was the speaker, discussing "Garden Welfare, Feed and Protect." Some of the insecticides for home gardens which she named included carbaryl, (sevin), diazinon, dicofol (kelthane), malathion, methoxychlor, and sulfur.

These are available as dust, wettable powders and emulsifiable concentrates," Mrs. Crawford continued. Dusts are marketed in ready-to-use form, where as wettable powders and emulsifiable concentrates must be mixed with water.

Dust usually is preferable for the home garden, the speaker said. Some dust containers can be used as applicators. The best duster is one with a tube and nozzle. Several brands of dusts contain two or more insecticides and can be used to control both chewing and sucking insects.

Prepare sprays by mixing emulsifiable concentrates or wettable powders with water. The usual hand application equipment includes compressed air sprayers, slide sprayers, or garden hose attachments. If wettable powders are used, agitate the solution while spraying to mix the insecticide, the club members were told.

Those attending were Mrs. Vivian Vaughan and Mrs. Ethel Brittain, guests, and Mrs. Nell Cook, Mrs. Silas Crawford, Mrs. W.F. Harbin, Mrs. John Henard, Mrs. G.L. Jones, Mrs. O.B. Raburn, Mrs. Joe Thompson, Mrs. Vaughan and Miss Kiker.

Former Houselog Residents Meet

Mrs. Ed White and children, Landi and Joe Ed, were in San Angelo recently to visit with two aunts, Mrs. Gertrude Tarrant and Miss Bonnie Atwood and other relatives.

They met two more of Mrs. White's aunts, Miss Edna Atwood of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Jake Wheeler of Lynwood, Calif.

The Wheelers returned to Wellington with Mrs. White and her children and will be here about 7 weeks altogether. Mr. Wheeler also spent a week with his relatives in Clovis, N.M.

The four women with whom Mrs. White has visited are the sisters of her mother, the late Mrs. Mary Shipley. All formerly lived here, having grown up in the Houselog community.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Kelso were Mrs. Tom Lockridge and Erik of Austin.

Miss America, 1972, Terry Anne Meeuwse, knows the value of wearing both the lap and shoulder belts as she demonstrates an easy method for making sure the shoulder harness is properly adjusted. The American Safety Belt Council urges everyone to buckle up both lap and shoulder belts so that all traveling over the summer holidays will have a happy homecoming.

Grapefruit Goodies a Taste Treat for Hot Summer Months

Grapefruit - a bargain nutritionally and economically - doubles as a delightful summer cooler and taste treat.

"Experience its variety soon - Texas grapefruit is included in May's plentiful foods," points out Karen Kreipe, foods and nutrition specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University.

"Although generally associated with breakfast, grapefruit adds variety to any meal.

"For a tangy snack or anytime salad, alternate apple slices and grapefruit sections on a lettuce leaf. Top with a favorite sweet dressing and garnish with a cherry.

"Or, replace the usual chilled half with a broiled one.

"Before broiling, loosen the sections and spread a thin layer of orange marmalade over the top of each half. Brush with melted butter and broil until bubbly and golden brown.

"Serve immediately for a breakfast surprise that's hard to beat."

"For only 50 calories, a grapefruit half provides all the vitamin C a person needs each day - plus some vitamin A and small amounts of B-vitamins, iron and calcium."

Shape "tells" the consumer what she's getting. For example, if a grapefruit is pointed at the stem end, it's likely to be thick skinned.

Thin skinned fruits provide more juice, she explained. Rough-ridged or wrinkled skin also indicates thickness and lack of juice.

AT THE RITZ

The unsinkable Shelley Winters . . . Miss Winters had to perform this underwater rescue of Gene Hackman several times for the production of "The Poseidon Adventure", now showing at the Ritz Theatre through Wednesday, July 24.

'Poseidon Adventure'
Shows Here This Week

"The Poseidon Adventure" one of the most enthralling and thrilling movies made last year, is now showing at the Ritz Theatre in Wellington.

It has been drawing standing-room-only crowds in other cities and will show for one full week in Wellington.

When the superb British superliner Queen Mary was brand new, writer Paul Gallico sailed in it in 1937. The stabilizing equipment had not been perfected and a heavy wave sent the new queen of the seas pitching and tossing. The mind of the writer immediately caught flame. Was it possible for an ocean wave to overturn a mammoth, modern vessel?

Research revealed that the iron ore ship Jakob Verolm, 34,000 tons; no peewee, turned over in the South Atlantic during a storm. The cargo, engines and everything else fell out of her, but the hull remained afloat for 40 days.

Ergo, a novel by Gallico, which in turn became an exciting 1972 movie starring Gene Hackman, Ernest Borgnine, Stella Stevens, Red Buttons, Shelley Winters, Jack Albertson and others.

AND - The coincidence — much of the action was shot on the actual Queen Mary, now no longer queen of the Seas and a stationary tourist attraction moored at Long Beach, Calif.

Thirty-five years after Gallico's first inquiring thought — a thought which was nurtured into an idea, a question, a plot, a novel and then a movie. And the same Queen Mary was at the beginning and the end.

"The Poseidon Adventure" won an Academy Award for Special Effects and deservedly so. The plot line has Hackman, a defrocked preacher, leading a small band of survivors up through the bowels of the overturned ship in a seemingly hopeless try for survival. Most of the passengers of the luxury liner have been drowned as the sea hurled in, or fell as the ship overturned, or perhaps were consumed in flames.

The approach of the mammoth wave, perhaps tidal, is bone chilling, as is the scene in the New Year's Eve atmosphere of the Grand Ballroom, as the ship turns over and people cling momentarily before falling to their death to the ceiling below.

CRITICS on the whole have been critical about the artistic and dramatic values of "Poseidon". But the public en masse has responded to the pure adventure aspects of the movie. It is perhaps another endorsement of the show business axiom that people want to be scared and thrilled.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Patterson and James went to Waco over the week end to visit her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Norman and Glenda Marie. While there they went sight seeing. Mr. and Mrs. Norman are formerly of Wellington. Mr. Norman was employed at The Lone Star Gas Company, and Mrs. Norman was employed at the City State Bank.

Airport News

Not nearly all the people who use Marian Airpark sign the register, but here are a number who did during the month of June, according to Cliff Hartman.

Signing in were: Pete Caviness, Friona - cattle buyer, was here June 5. Bill Retteroth of Cordell, Oklahoma, flew in but did not state his business. Tracey Hamblin of Happy was here visiting.

On June 8, Vaughan D. Nowlin of Childress flew in while looking over the country. He landed, drank a pop and took off to survey some more of the lower Panhandle.

Earl Gene Berger and Windall Brunker of Fredonia, Kansas, flew in. Mr. Brunker was here to see his father, who is ill, and visit his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Spillman and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Alexander came in from Searcy, Ark., with their son on June 10. He is with Harding College in that city. They came to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Alexander of Dodson, and to help with branding.

Danny McCasland of Carlsbad, N.M., signed the register on June 14, as did Doug Loudner of Canyon.

R.A. Williams, Jr., of White Deer flew into visit his father, R.A. Williams, on June 17. He is one of the men who, as a youth, learned to fly out of Marian Airpark in the years following World War II.

Randall Gelton of Denver, Colorado, stopped for gas as he was en route to an air show.

Another visitor was Harvey Holderman of Perryton on June 24.

"The Lowry's" of Torrance, Calif., came in to visit relatives on June 25.

The Watners of Lubbock also were visiting on June 30.

Signing the register July 9, was Billy H. Adams of Waco, Air, Inc. He brought Michael J. Vaughn, chairman of the board, and Robert C. Sullivan, vice chairman of the board for a directors meeting.

Some ag spraying is under way.

Duggie Jameson of Aero Ag reports that he has been doing some spraying for grasshoppers along turn rows, and this measure seems to control them at this time. One field of alfalfa has been sprayed.

Cliff Hartman of Wellington Flying Service, also reports turn-row spraying, but adds that the hoppers are beginning to increase.

Runway lights are working fine. A number of those who registered made night landings. The airport beacon is not lighted at this point, as it will have to be changed to conform with new Federal Aeronautics Administration regulations.

Some of those using the field have indicated surprise that a town the size of Wellington should have lighted runways, as there has not been time to have this fact indicated on flight maps.

Tutoring Program Helps Failing Student Excell

Sixty-five Wellington boys and girls who were having difficulty with their school work are enrolled in the summer tutoring program, which will end immediately before the opening of the fall term.

This is a federal program, under the Emergency School Assistance Act, and administered in this area by the Texas Panhandle Community Action Corp. Mrs. Tessie Burba of the local CAC is in charge of the tutoring program in Wellington.

The teacher and co-ordinator of this program is Mrs. James Williams, who moved to Wellington recently when her husband became head coach of Wellington schools. She has both bachelor's and masters degrees and has had teaching experience.

The tutors, high school or college students, were hired on the recommendation and approval of elementary and junior high school teachers and the administrative staff. They include Randy Amonett, Jenny Earnest, Betty Burba, Sally Tarver, Gwen Lewis, Debra Long, Lennie Morgan, Patti McAllister, Elena Romo, Paula Howard, Juliana Baumgardner and Toni Taylor.

"This is a six-weeks program, which will end August 16," Mrs. Burba explained.

Marla Savage Represents City In Pageants

Marla Savage, the current Miss Wellington, will represent the town in two upcoming events.

One of these will be the Wheatheart of America contest in Perryton Saturday, August 25, according to Mrs. Margaret Vines, Chamber of Commerce secretary. It is traditional that the reigning Miss Wellington will be the official representative. Already, Wellington has had two Wheatheart winners and several runners-up.

She will also be the official representative of the city and C-C at the Top of Texas Pageant Saturday, August 11, at 8:00 a.m., in M.K. Brown Memorial Auditorium, Pampa. The girls will be judged on beauty, personality, poise and figure and will appear in formal and in swim suit.

The winner will receive $250 cash; first runner up $100; and second runner up $50.

Lakeview Tourney Gives Players Good Experience

Eight youthful tennis players represented Wellington in the Lakeview Tournament, an annual summer event, recently.

These included Larry Doty, Lee Templeton, Leslie Doty, Joe Ed White, Don Allred, Sammy Gonzales, Patti McAllister and Edi Watkins.

Larry Doty was the only member of the Wellington team to reach the quarter-finals, but all of them chalked this tournament up to good experience.

Lakeview players, considered some of the best in the state, begin lessons in the elementary grades, some as early as the second grade. Some of the other towns represented, besides Wellington and Lakeview, included Memphis, Borger and Amarillo.

Doty will enter the Panhandle Closed tournament in Amarillo this week end, and the same group that went to Lakeview is due to play in the Tri-State Tennis Match in Amarillo on Labor Day week end.

With this in view, the Wellington players are practicing long hours each day.

McBride Receives Doctorate at OSU

EDMOND - A former Wellington resident, Gene McBride, chairman of the sociology department at Central State University and son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W.E. McBride, recently completed his doctorate at Oklahoma State University.

Dr. McBride, who has taught at Central State since 1966, finished his Master of Social Science degree at the University of Oklahoma in 1968.

His doctoral dissertation - the largest family observation study that has been done - is entitled "Intra-Familial Interaction Analysis."

Dr. McBride explained what it is all about: "Many students in my family classes helped me gather the data. Individually, we went into a total of 100 homes of close friends with three children or less and spent a mean time of 9.6 hours in each."

"We took down everything that was said and done in order to ascertain any patterns, commonalities or divergences peculiar to all the families."

Dr. McBride and his students were gathering the data to test several hypotheses including:

1. A mother is the most intense interactor in a family.
2. A mother's task is primarily "expressive."
3. Children are more resistant to their mother than to their father.
4. There is an inverse relationship between petitionary (dependent) acts and the age of a child.
5. Communication is more intense between parents and children than between siblings themselves.
6. A mother is more directive in an overt sense, but a father is directive in a more subtle way.
7. A mother is more punitive toward children than a father, because she is with them more in their height of activity.

Dr. McBride gathered data for two years and then coded each line of every conversation that had been recorded. He made more than 46,000 different codes.

Using a computer, he formed conclusions about his hypotheses. There were a few surprising discrepancies between his gypotheses and his conclusions.

"For example, the mother and father were about equal in their directivity toward children and 'instrumental' and 'expressive' roles of respective females and males were almost indefinable," Dr. McBride pointed out.

"Also, the resistance scares

THE WELLINGTON (TEXAS) LEADER
Thursday, July 19, 1973

AUSTIN, TEX. — Annual public hearings to determine auto insurance rates were held here July 10 amid predictions that premiums will drop again this year.

Insurance Board Chairman Joe Christie expressed hope that evidence will bring a reduction for insurance buyers in most of Texas' 40 statistical rating territories.

This year's hearing was conducted against a backdrop of new legislation and a price freeze which applies to insurance as well as the usual review of accident frequency, claim cost and inflationary factors.

Laws which must be considered are comparative negligence, repeal of the guest statute, personal injury protection and the new deviation or competitive rating plan.

Texas Safety Association will also ask additional credit for persons completing the defensive driving course. Board rules now allow a 10 per cent reduction in auto insurance rates for those certified as having taken the course.

Meanwhile, House Insurance Committee Chairman Rep. Ben Bynum of Amarillo predicted the average premium will drop 10 to 15 per cent when new rates are set this fall.

Competitive rates may mean drops of as much as 20 to 30 per cent for drivers with good safety records, Bynum said.

"Nobody can definitely state what the final rates will be until the statistics and the impact of new insurance laws are weighed in detail after the hearing," said Christie.

REVISION SCHEDULE SET — The Constitutional Revision Commission will meet here July 27-29 to review policy presentations of its seven standing committees on specific areas.

Commission members will hold briefings for the press during the three-day meeting. Members of the Texas Press Association and Texas Association of Broadcasters will meet with commission members on Friday, July 27.

Commission action on the committee reports will be taken September 6-8 and 13-15.

Consideration of the final document is slated for meetings September 20-22 and 27-29, and the presentation, together with supporting reports, November 1, followed by briefing of legislators in December.

Commission members bogged down at a recent meeting here on adoption of basic guidelines for their mission and postponed consideration of a statement of principles until their July 27-29 meeting.

Instead, they agreed tentatively to write a "revised" constitution — the minimum assignment of voters last November 7 when they directed wheels be set in motion toward overhauling basic state laws. Two members thought even that non-specific commitment was premature.

House and Senate committees, meanwhile, have been named to make preliminary plans for the January-May constitutional convention, draft rules and agree on procedures.

14 MORE GAS SUITS FILED — Atty. Gen. John Hill has filed 14 more suits to recover full market value of royalty gas produced from state lands. The first such suit was filed May 18 against Exxon Corporation.

The state contends it is not limited by long term contracts, nor to any regulated ceiling prices promulgated by the Federal Power Commission.

Defendants, according to state allegations, are selling gas at about 20 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, or less, while the market value is around 45 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

COURTS SPEAK — A four-year prison term assessed Amarillo former State Rep. Walter Knapp for using $1,200 worth of state-issued postage stamps to buy a used pickup truck was affirmed by the Court of Criminal Appeals, on a three-to-two split vote.

The same court reversed and remanded conviction and 20-year sentence of a Mineral Wells man for alleged delivery of heroin because of testimony concerning beatings by police officers.

AG OPINIONS — Law requiring finance reports by House speakership candidates is clear as to who may and may not contribute, the amounts, extent of expenditures allowed and other matters, Attorney General Hill held.

Department of Public Safety, Hill said in another opinion, is governed by statute which requires certification of accuracy of seller's invoice in purchases through the State Board of Control. Other purchases requiring disbursement by the comptroller form the operator's and chauffeur's license fund must be accompanied by the vendor's certification of the invoice's accuracy in the usual manner, Hill continued.

APPOINTMENTS — In a major reshuffling, Gov. Dolph Briscoe appointed William T. Keenan of Houston executive director of the Governor's Committee On Aging, replacing Mrs. Carter Clopton of Austin.

Briscoe, at the same time, named Alton O. Bower of Austin chairman of the Committee on Aging.

Other recent appointments by the Governor include: J.R. Taylor of Amarillo and John Biggs of Vernon to the Animal Health Commission.

Dr. Margaret Cigarroa of Laredo to the Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

Dr. Richard Hooker of Austin as gubernatorial school finance advisor.

J.R. Porter of Dallas to Texas Mass Transportation Commission.

LETTERS from the People

In the turmoil that is being stirred over our very real energy crisis AND the fuel that is available in such vast quantities on Alaska's North Slope, People are tending to toss the whole subject out of their minds, and leaving it to "them." This is a political football, and the viewpoints expressed by many are selfish. As a very interested individual, I can no longer be silent.

This I believe:
1. As American citizens, it is our obligation and privilege to aid our country AND its states, all fifty of them.

2. The arguments against a pipeline from Prudhoe Bay across Alaska are ridiculous, and blown out of all proportion.

3. It is unpatriotic to tie up a state economically and pour millions of dollars to other countries for fuel, the transportation of which creates the identical risks that would be taken in Alaska (and these have been exaggerated for various reasons).

My opinions are based upon this background:

1. I am an interested Christian Citizen.

2. I have had over thirty years of experience teaching science in the public schools of Oklahoma and Texas.

3. I am a dyed-in-the-wool conservationist, but am aware that not all moves in that direction are real conservation.

4. My husband and I toured Alaska recently, and became most interested in this subject while there.

a. We flew over the 1500 miles of tundra to Point Barrow, and saw its vastness.

b. We visited with a friend, an employee of one of the major oil companies which has its hands tied at Prudhoe Bay, and discussed this problem at length with him.

c. We talked with friends there who know the political and economic problems of the state since statehood.

d. We saw and heard how pressure groups are taking advantage of the Eskimos and Indians.

I repeat, "Help at once!" Write many letters NOW to your Congressmen and Senators asking that the North Slope Oil be piped across Alaska immediately, not across Canada, for our benefit and for Alaska's! Mrs. Jack Davis, Wellington, Texas

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

Big rhubarb among our Washington overlings is about whether to pipe Alaska oil across our own territory or across Canada.

All of which fiddling-while-we-burn-up-our-oil is keeping the Alaskan oil in Alaska instead of in our gas pumps for maybe seven or eight years more.

But Canada hasn't been seriously consulted yet. Sort of like deciding whether to build your garage driveway through your neighbor's living room, without inquiring if it's alright with him.

Music From Muses
The word "music" is taken from the name for the daughters of Zeus, the Muses, who governed all beauty and harmony in the world, according to Greek mythology.

The original copy of the Declaration of Independence now reposes under guard, alongside the Constitution, in Washington's National Archives building, where it can be viewed any time the building is open.

Truck Transportation a Growing Part of Our Lives

One of the fine and reliable services which we, and others in towns like ours, take so much for granted is that rendered by the trucking industry.

Perhaps it needed the energy crisis and the food crisis to bring this before us.

It might be good to fill a little leisure time remembering those things that come into and go out of Wellington by truck . . . food, fuel, crops and livestock we raise, the necessities of life and the luxuries we buy so casually.

Besides being a large segment of industry, trucking companies operate efficiently, and as much as any in the country are constantly upgrading their equipment, operations and personnel to meet today's needs.

What it boils down to is that this industry is much more a part of our lives — a necessary part — than we may be aware.

Whether we think in terms of a company operating cross country, a locally based enterprise, or an industry that delivers its own products, life in many towns such as our own rides with the trucking industry.

Auto Insurance Rates

The State Board of Insurance has reduced auto insurance rates for some drivers for the second time in two years, easing the annual fretting of some Texans who were worried about the costs of protection. But this advice is still paramount: "The quickest way to lower auto insurance rates is to reduce traffic accidents, deaths and injuries," Leon Embry, chairman of the Texas Automobile Insurance Service Office, says.

Texans received a slight reduction in auto insurance rates last year, but drivers still did not compile an enviable record. Consider these statistics from 1972:

- * One person was killed every 2½ hours.
- * One person was injured every 4½ minutes.
- * One accident occurred every 1¼ minutes.
- * Every fifth accident resulted in a death or injury.

* Every third pedestrian killed or injured in a traffic accident was a child under 10.

Rather than hoping each summer that the insurance board will magically reduce their rates, Texas drivers can make a big contribution toward that end all year long by obeying the state's traffic laws and driving with caution, courtesy and common sense.

Services Held On Sunday for Miss Eva Bishop

Miss Eva Bishop, a Wellington resident for more than 55 years, died in Collingsworth General Hospital at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, July 14, after an illness of five months.

For more than 20 years, she had been associated with Mrs. Pearl Aaron in her catering business. Widely known and respected in the community, Miss Bishop was especially popular with the organizations with which she was in regular contact. Her talent for her work was recognized not only locally, but by visitors from a wide area who have attended dinner functions at the community building.

Miss Bishop was born April 9, 1906, at Denver, the daughter of the late J.M. and Eliza Emsey Bishop. The family came to Collingsworth County in 1916 from Simpson, Oklahoma.

She had been a member of the Church of the Nazarene since early in life.

Trading Money

has more lives than a cat

It has been said that cats have nine lives. But our trade dollars beat that score notably. A dollar ... paper, silver or pot-metal...generates thousands of dollars in trade volume as it moves in the world of buying and selling.

That's why it's important...and wise...to keep as many of our dollars as possible in our home trading channels as long as possible, to enrich and invigorate our own community and our own lives instead of someone else's.

Main Street Looks Better Every Day

There's a better look on Main Street these days—thanks in part to America's consumer-owned rural electric cooperatives.

You can see it in the spruced-up shops and stores, selling the latest products of American industry. And you can see it in the faces of the merchants and their customers, too, who have jobs and purchasing power provided by the new industry served by rural electrics.

Last year alone rural electrics helped establish 443 rural area development projects creating 31,000 new jobs. That makes a total for the last six years of 2,100 projects and 182,000 new jobs for rural people.

The increased prosperity makes it possible for the towns to build new schools and improve community facilities, to keep the streets in good repair, and provide the services every town needs.

Rural electric cooperatives, owned and operated by their member-consumers, are working with city officials and other local business groups in community programs to make Main Street—and all America—an even better place to live and work.

Trio in Special Education Study

AMARILLO, Tex.—Three students from Wellington, Carey Lewis, a junior, and Miss Rita Lowrie and Mrs. Deanna Van Pelt, both graduates, are currently enrolled in special education courses at West Texas State University in nearby Canyon.

WTSU exists as one of the few universities in the state of Texas where teachers can earn a special education endorsement for their teaching certificate says Dr. Wilma Jo Bush, coordinator of the special education program.

"Most teachers would have to attend school during the gular semester to complete their special education requirements," said Dr. Bush. "However, the WTSU Education Department tries to make it convenient and practical for teachers who are currently working during the fiscal year to gain their endorsements in one summer's work."

Special education endorsements may be gained in four areas at WTSU. They are mental retardation, teaching the emotionally disturbed, language and learning disabilities and early childhood education for teachers of exceptional children.

"Each of these endorsements require 12 additional hours of study except for the language and learning disabilities, and that requires 15 hours," said Dr. Bush.

Dr. Bush stated that West Texas is also well known throughout the state as being a university that is able to offer its students a practical study of actual teaching situations.

There are several institutions near the university, such as Kilgore Children's Psychiatric Center and Hospital, Amarillo State

Center for Human Development, Central Plains Mental Health Clinic, and Camp Wigwam, a summer camp for retarded children, where the students go for on the job training.

"These practicums are most beneficial to the students and to those being treated," Dr. Bush said.

West Texas State special education courses are taught on the Texas "Plan A" concept of teaching.

"This concept," Bush explained, is a program to establish special education in a regular classroom situation."

"In other words, instead of having a special class that consists of only special education students, the trained teachers goes into the classroom and teaches the special children from plans that were drawn up for those children by individual analysis."

"Hopefully, the student will spend the greater part of his day in the regular classroom," she concluded.

GI Home Loans Up in Volume

The number of G.I. home loans guaranteed by the Veterans Administration in the current fiscal year will likely register the heaviest volume of activity in 16 years, Jack Coker, Veterans Administration Regional Office Director, reported today.

Coker noted that 303,000 loans with a face value of $7 billion were guaranteed in the first 10 months of this fiscal year, up four percent over the 291,500 loans approved in a comparable period of Fiscal Year 1972.

A total of 359,000 loans guaranteed in all of F.Y. 1972, in turn, marked the most active year since F.Y. 1957. In the Waco Regional Office area, 13,872 valued at $289,384, 828 were made for the same period.

Veteran loans for mobile homes increased 40 percent in the first 10 months of this fiscal year, jumping to 4,900 from 3,500 in a comparable period last year.

Coker said the upward trend in VA loans volume began in 1971, and he attributed much of the gain to the general availability of mortgage money for home building and buying.

Mrs. Raymond Ledbetter, who moved earlier this year from Samnorwood to Pampa, returned to her home during the week end after visiting her daughter, Mrs. Clyde Gollighugh and family in Columbus, Ga.

Great Plains Program Offers Financial Aid

The REAP program is gone and there is no other cost-share assistance available to farmers and ranchers except through the Great Plains program. A new Fiscal Year has begun with new appropriations for cost-shared items under the GPCP. With this new appropriation of money the Wellington Field Office of the Soil Conservation Service is able to accept applications for Great Plains contracts.

After application is made, one of the staff members with the Soil Conservation Service will arrange a time and date suitable to the farmer or rancher by which they can review the farming or ranching operations. Together the SCS employee and the Producer will review the entire operation field by field and determine what is needed to prevent wind and water erosion from occurring.

The needs of a operation can vary from building parallel terraces, providing a course of live-stock water either by constructing a stock pond or drilling a well and providing a storage facility. Perhaps more grazing is needed for the operation, then recommendations will be given on types of grass to seed, how the seedbed needs to be prepared, depth of planting amounts for fertilizer and after establishment the proper grazing height.

Perhaps a waterway is needed before a system of parallel terraces will function properly. The SCS employee and the Producer will determine the location of the waterway according to the lay of the land as shown on a grid map. A cropping system and residue management will be worked out that will be best suited to the type of soil in a field. The GPCP cost-share practices include brush control: (mesquite, sagebrush, shin-oak), grass seeding, drill waterwells and storage facilities, shaping and establishing grass in waterways, build new terraces and removal of old terraces, constructing dams and installing draw-down pipes - if needed, establishing trees and shrubs, constructing diversions, installing irrigation pipeline and cross-fences. The amount of cost-share varies for each practice.

Harwell Ends P&G Top Sales Record

WICHITA FALLS - A familiar face will be missing this week in scores of grocery stores over a seven-county area which includes Wichita Falls and the surrounding vicinity.

After 31 years and a million miles of safe driving, Tom E. Harwell, a native of Wellington, is retiring as the nation's top sales representative of the Proctor and Gamble Distributing Company.

Harwell is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Tom F. Harwell of Wellington and the brother of Ernest Harwell and Mrs. Doc Turner of Wellington and Earl Harwell of Childress. He is a frequent visitor and for many years was part owner of the Harwell family farm at Lillie. Many of the P&G products Harwell introduced into the area have become household words, such as Duz, Cheer, Tide and Comet.

Harwell's 16-year record of P&G sales calls and product orders has never been equalled by any other man in any area, including the major metropolitan centers such as New York and Chicago. Company officials now point to his achievements as a standard for other men to shoot at.

Over the 31-year-period, Harwell has received more than 50 awards and commendations such as "Trail Blazer" and "Top Bold Bomber." He has never had a serious automobile accident in a company car.

When Harwell first began working for P&G in 1941, he sold only eight products, such as Oxydol and Crisco and P&G soap, and traveled a 30-county territory extending from Wichita Falls to the Red River, Childress, Fort Worth and Sherman. The company's business has

Martin Attends Science Seminar

Danny Martin, head of the science department of Spearman High School, is attending a chemistry seminar in Beaver College, Glenside, Penn., now at mid-point in the 8-weeks session.

His wife, Linda, and their children, Greg and Brent, are with him.

Only science teachers are participating in the seminar, according to his mother, Mrs. J.Y. Martin, and the experiments on which they are working will be put to practical use.

On week ends, the family is visiting much of that part of the country, as Glenside is a suburb of Philadelphia. En route to Glenside, they visited the Football Hall of Fame in Detroit, Indianapolis 500 Speedway and they will also visit in Washington D.C. before they return.

Harris to Grand Saline School

Bryant Harris, 1966 WHS graduate, has accepted the place as high school band director at Grand Saline, a AA school.

Grand Saline is the home of Dr. W.L. (Bill) Thomas, who is a member of the school board. Dr. Thomas is a former pastor of First Baptist Church, Wellington, and a long-time friend of the family.

Mrs. Thomas (Babbs) taught Harris his first music lesson when he was in the first grade.

Harris is married to the former Sheila Fowler of Memphis. They have a son, John Charles (Chuck) who was two years old the Fourth of July.

They will move to Grand Saline August 1.

Father Burke to Visit England

It's that time of year again, and Father Pat Burke, Priest of the Catholic Church here, is preparing to leave on his annual flight home to Europe.

Father Pat leaves Wellington July 24, and boards the plane for New York the following morning at Amarillo, landing at London airport early July 26th.

He hopes to visit relatives and friends in half a dozen countries before his return here in mid-September. During the British priest's absence, the parish will be led by Father Alex Frankovic. Father Alex is at present working in a parish in Nevada, and will live at the rectory at 12th and Floydada.

Father Pat's cousin, Celia Jones, from Liverpool, England, flew to Brooklyn, New York last week after a 3-week stay in Wellington. She will return to England after a visit with some of Father Pat's relatives in New York. Celia, whose first visit to Texas began June 21, enjoyed her stay very much, and made many friends among the young people of Wellington. She promised to keep in touch with them by mail, and hopes to visit in our area again in the future.

Woman Treated For Gun Wound

County officers were called to investigate a shooting south of Loco Saturday, July 14, in which a woman was shot in one foot. Sheriff John Rainey reported.

He identified the victim as Mrs. Josephine Rodriguez. She was brought to Collingsworth General Hospital where she was treated and released.

Mr. Rainey said that other members of the family were present. Since the accident occurred in Childress County, that sheriff's department was called to make the investigation. No charges were filed, he said.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—by Deskins Wells

THE RAPIDLY growing city of Denver seems to have the greatest gas shortage in the United States. It is due to three causes. Denver has a poor gasoline and fuel oil distribution system. The mile high city is growing at a fabulous rate -- 4,500 people a month according to one report. And then the annual influx of tourists moves in to the cooler region and there is not enough gas to go around.

YOU MIGHT as well take note of this before you start for the mountains. The same condition is true of the mountains of New Mexico and other western states, even if it is a lesser degree.

WHY DO so many people think they have to go west to take a vacation? Take a vacation in Texas. No gas shortages have been reported in Texas, yet. The Davis Mountains and the Big Bend offer cool altitude. The Gulf Coast is cool when the sea breeze moves in which it does every day during the hottest part of the year. The Gulf Coast is a wonderful place for those who like the wind and sun and sea.

SUPPOSE you are one of those people who because of age or temperament like forms of vacation recreation other than the great outdoors. There is sophisticated and cultural entertainment in the summer months in many of our larger cities. This is true in particular of Dallas, Houston, San Antonio and Ft. Worth; but by all means do not forget Galveston, Austin, El Paso, Texarkana, Corpus Christi or Brownsville.

IF YOU WANT something between the rugged outdoors and the comfort and culture of the larger cities, there are hundreds of towns and communities that offer a variety of air conditioned comfort and play at the lakeside. Texans have been going everywhere. Why not try your home state this summer. Texas has everything from high cool mountains to sparkling seacoast including some desert and virgin swamplands. How much of Texas have you seen?

SUPERIOR entertainment, summer comfort, high drama, rugged scenery, is the performance of TEXAS in Palo Duro State Park each summer. This is entertainment of the best quality that every Texan should see before he goes adventuring.

LAST WEEK we were riding from the International Airport thirty miles outside Houston to our hotel near the Medical Center. Our driver was Ray Jennings, who has a special permit to transport medical patients to and from the Medical Center to International and to Hobby. He cannot transport people on an ordinary trip across town. His fare must be a medical patient.

IT WAS about 6 p.m. in the evening as we approached the environs of Houston. We were driving into town and our side of the four lane highway was comparatively clear. Ray Jennings pointed over at the opposite side and said: "Look at those one car drivers. Most of them could have a car pool, but they don't want that. The other side was a choked highway with one driver to the car going home."

THE GREEDY oil companies may be partly to blame for the shortage of gasoline and fuel oil in the United States, as charged. So are you and I. We could save tremendously in our starting and stopping right here in Wellington.

POSEIDON is showing at the Ritz for a full week. Poseidon (pronounced Po-si-dun) is the name of the show and it is also the name of a luxury liner such as the Queen Mary which capsized on its last trip as the result of a huge tidal wave, faulty ballast and the hurry of the new owners to get it to the wrecking yard. The huge ship turned over but remained afloat leaving the passengers and crew trapped. The scene turns from luxurious enjoyment into one of sheer terror. Most of the picture is about the efforts of ten people to get from the top deck to the bottom of the ship which has become the top. It is a majestic thriller. Drama critics on the daily papers do not recommend it for people with a heart condition.

YESTERDAY I beheld a heartening sight. It was young Don Lewis helping his father at the grocery store and he was doing it with politeness, quickness and efficiency. The son learning a trade or a business while helping his father was one of the great practices that made America great. The boy may not like some parts of it at the time; but it is a priceless heritage for a boy to learn under the direction of his father. Unfortunately all boys do not have this opportunity in this industrial and specialized age. Those who do should be grateful for it will be one of their treasured memories in later life.

FATHERS who have opportunity to teach their sons by working at their side should be thankful for the blessing. It is much more important than going hunting or fishing together.

Trio Fishes at Vermijo Park

A Wellington trio, C.T. Hubbard, Paul Spillman and Dr. J.M. Orr, fished recently at Vermijo Park, one of the historic ranches of northern New Mexico.

The headquarters, of mansion proportions, was used as a retreat by motion picture actors of the 1920s and 1930s. Later owners converted these buildings into a private resort frequented by businessmen and industrialists.

The State of New Mexico is now in the process of buying Vermijo Park for preservation of the land in its natural condition.

The Right to Make A Decent Living

By Weldon Owens in the Dallas Times-Herald

This is not aimed toward compliment or complaint. And I am sure that the average American housewife - God love her - will forgive editorial writer Bob Brunfield for putting his point over on the editorial page of The Cincinnati Inquirer. The clipping was mailed to me after a recent piece herein decried the role of modern mamas in national food price flights. Ted Rickenbacher used it, and I'm admitting to a second-hand issue, viz:

"It would serve the country's whining, complaining, penny-wise and pound-foolish housewife right if all the farmers started selling everything they grow to foreign countries. The typical modern American city housewife for all her virtues - real and imagined - is a shortsighted, lazy, pampered little ingrate, whose primary interests are her underarms, her hair, her hands, her hips, her over-indulged and over-educated children, her overweight and overpaid husband and the next thrilling episode of 'General Hospital' in that same order.

"A hard day's work in a grocery or bakery would do her a lot of good. So would taking over the duties of a farm wife for a while.

"Maybe then, she would realize that these people have a right to make a decent living just as much as her union-scale husband.

"Whoever gave the urban housewife the idea that she is the only person in the world having a hard time making ends meet?

"When was the last time she had to send her kids off to school with a couple of cold biscuits and a hunk of fat-back to hold them until suppertime, for flopped down, bone-weary after working from sunup to sundown, and worried about whether the frost was going to kill the money crop?

"While milady of the suburbs is soaking in her tub in her Better Homes & Gardens bathroom, thousands of farm wives are scraping off the dirt of an honest day's toil in a galvanized laundry tub (not nearly suited to her relaxed form and cramping legs and arms from all directions).

"And while Miss Citybriches is spraying on $10 worth of deodorant skin softener, hair spray and assorted beauty ap-kray, the average farm wife is counting her blessings because she can afford to swing for a bottle of Cornhusker's lotion or maybe a spot or two of Absorbine Junior.

"If the suburban housewife would stop organizing food boycotts and public protests and start shoveling a little cow manure, maybe she would learn where milk comes from and how much work is involved before she strains herself ripping open that little waxed carton of cold wholesome milk.

"Boycott a grocery store? Not me, Sister. I can still remember how many people would have starved in this country if the independent grocers had

Banking Change Could Boost Rural Areas

COLLEGE STATION - A recent lending change in the Federal Reserve System could be a boon to the rural economy of Texas. The change could make an estimated additional $1 billion in loanable funds available to Texas residents from the state's rural banks.

Called "Seasonal Borrowing Privilege," the change is designed to help rural banks expand loan fund sources where the loans not carried them on credit during the depression. "Wise up! All that pretty food and those nice cuts of meat didn't just appear in the markets in a blinding flash of sparkle dust. Millions of people worked their tails off to put it there for you. Butchers, bakers, clerks, truck drivers, on and on.

"These people have dreams, too. They pay rent and taxes just as you do. And they deserve to make just as good a living as you do. Why pinpoint them for blame and shame?

"Why not your husband, the account executive? The plumber? The lawyer? The doctor? (Check all their prices).

"You sit there in front of your color television with a $3,000 car in your garage. You smell like the Garden of Eden and look 10 years younger than you really are because you paid the price to get the shave to make you look that way. You take a vacation every year. Your insurance premiums are paid up, your husband has a good job where he knows what he will get every week.

"Still, you're going bananas because bread went up a penny a loaf!"

WTCC Begins Drive to Boost West Texas

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce will conduct a "Wonderful West Texas" media campaign during the months of July, August and September. WTCC executive vice-president J.Fike Godfrey has announced.

The purpose of this campaign is four-fold:

- To sell and remind West Texans what a great place West Texas is.
 - To sell visitors passing through West Texas on the advantages of West Texas.
 - To attract industry to West Texas.
 - To increase the tourist and travel business in West Texas.
- Newspapers, along with radio and television stations and outdoor advertising companies are co-operating in this effort.
