Seeks Cooperation Of Governor Roosevelt In Organization Of Machinery For Consideration Of Problems

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. — President Hoover today told congress that with or without its assistance he intends to cooperate with President-Elect Roosevelt in creating machinery to deal with the complex problems of war debts, disarmament and world economic affairs.

In his long-awaited special message, which was received with general approbation on Capital hill, the president promised to review the debts of those "nations who have sought to maintain their obligations to us." He indicated defaulting nations would not be so treated.

Suggestion Rejected

Pointing out congress already has rejected his suggestion for a revival of the war debt commission, the chief executive said he would proceed at once, with the hoped-for cooperation of the president-elect, to name delegates to "exchange views upon the debt questions with certain nations and advise upon the course to be pursued as to others."

Although confirmation was withheld at the White House, there were definite indications tonight that Mr. Hoover had communicated the views and recommendations of his message to Mr. Roosevelt at Albany. Those in a position to know the president-elect's plan were convinced he would prefer to leave the subject and its immediate disposition to Mr. Hoover.

Police Chief Reviews Case

Amarillo Officer Says Woman Appealed To Him For Help; Estranged Husband Of Slain Woman Testifies

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, Dec. 19.—Chief of police W. R. McDowell testified late today that Mrs. Edna Myers, on trial for murder in connection with the slaying on December 5 of Mrs. Mae Stewart, appealed to him for help a few days prior to the fatal shooting.

The police chief, who said he had known the defendant for 15 years, testified that she came to him with domestic troubles, "but there was little I could do." On cross-examination he said that Mrs. Myers "did not seem herself" when she appeared at the police station a few minutes after the shooting to surrender herself and the weapon she had used.

Tells Of Death

Robert Stewart, estranged husband of the slain woman, and the only other witness who had been examined when Judge Henry S. Bishop adjourned court for the day, testified only regarding Mrs. Stewart's death. He said two children, eight and fifteen years old, survive.

Mrs. Stewart was shot to death as she stood in front of her residence talking with Harry Myers, husband of the defendant. Mrs. Myers is the mother of four children.

Man's Skeleton Discovered On Ranch Thought By Daughter To Be That Of Missing Chicagoan

Daughter Of Fugitive Chicago Banker, Warren C. Spurgin, Seeks To Prove Father Is Dead; Had Been Sought After Indictment For Misappropriation Of Funds From Bank

(By The Associated Press)

EL PASO, Dec. 19.—Whether a skeleton found on a ranch in northwestern Chihuahua was that of Warren C. Spurgin, fugitive Chicago banker, remained a mystery here tonight.

W. C. Roche, attorney for Mrs. Vivian Tilton, daughter of the banker, said the remains found by Grady Boyd, ranch foreman, had not yet been identified as Spurgin. Roche said he was conducting a private investigation to determine if it was his client's father who was slain on the Chihuahua ranch.

Several teeth in the skeleton were filled with platinum, leading Boyd to believe that the man had been wealthy. The skeleton appeared to have been a tall man and of about the same build as Spurgin.

Spurgin, former president of the Michigan Avenue Trust company, Chicago, went to Mexico in 1921. He later was indicted with five other officials of the bank charged with misappropriation of $400,000 of the bank's funds. He last was seen in southern Chihuahua in December, 1921.

In her suit against an insurance company, Mrs. Tilton contended Spurgin was dead, since he had not been heard from within the seven years' legal limit set by Texas laws. Witnesses for the insurance company testified Spurgin had been seen as late as 1931 at San Antonio.

Feeling Runs High As Posses Scour Wide Area For Negroes After Gun Fight; Three Dead

Four Deputies Are Wounded In Skirmishes; Officers From Four Counties Stage Search With Armed Citizens

(By The Associated Press)

MONTGOMERRY, Ala., Dec. 19.—Sheriff Sam Stearns, Montgomery, said on his return here tonight from Tallassee that three negroes had been killed in skirmishes with officers and possemen in Tallapoosa county today and that six had been arrested.

Four deputies were wounded early in the afternoon when they sought to attach livestock belonging to Cliff Jcmes, negro farmer, about 12 miles east of Tallassee.

Two Found On Hill

Sheriff Stearns said the bodies of two of the negroes were found on a hillside and that of the third in a yard. He said three of the six arrested had been placed in jail at Tuskegee and Sheriff Hasty Golden of Wetumpka had charge of the others.

Sheriff Golden said feeling was high in Tallapoosa county tonight and that at least 50 cars of armed possemen were scouring the countryside for the negroes who engaged in the battle with the deputies. He said he had the names of 13 of the negroes.

"The situation is pretty raw," Sheriff Golden said, adding he would return in the morning to aid in rounding up the negroes. He confirmed reports two of the men killed were John McMullen and Judson Simpson, but said he did not know if the others were slain.

He said McMullen was killed at the farm house where the gun battle with the deputies occurred and Simpson was slain by a posse when he was found barricaded in a house Jemes escaped, apparently badly wounded

Forfeiture Of Bond Ordered

Judge Orders $3,000 Bond For Slick Melton Forfeited As Appeal Is Overruled; Marks Second Time This Year

For the second time this year, bond of S. E. (Slick) Melton was ordered forfeited Monday by District Judge Homer L. Pharr of 72nd court. Melton, convicted of liquor law violation and sentenced to serve three years in the penitentiary, has been under $3,000 appeal bond.

Bondsmen are P. G. Boyd and Ellis Martin, the district attorney's office said yesterday.

Melton pleaded guilty of prohibition law violation in 72nd district court June 17. Last March, when the case was called, Melton did not appear in court and a $1,000 bond was ordered forfeited. When the defendant returned to Lubbock, the forfeiture procedure was dropped.

The sheriff's office holds an alias capias warrant for Melton's arrest the warrant having been issued Nov. 28 after Melton's appeal of the conviction was overruled by the court of criminal appeals.

Soviet Russia's Godless Generation Of Youth Will Ignore Christmas Day

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, Dec. 19. — Soviet Russia's generation of Godless youth and most of its elders will ignore Christmas day this year just as they have during the 14 others that have passed since the October revolution.

In this country — where Christmas is outlawed—the day will have nothing of the holiday spirit and religious significance associated with it elsewhere

For most Russians, Dec. 25 never had any significance. The Greek Orthodox Christmas fell on Jan. 7, which was the date generally observed during the czarist days.

The "living church," a small offshoot of the old Orthodox religion, adopted the new calendar, however, and celebrated Dec. 25 as the day of the nativity.

A few others — mostly old persons, belonging to the Orthodox faith — observe Christmas Jan. 7.

Children born since the revolution, now including those up to 15 years old, never have known what Christmas is.

Carpenter Has Criticism For School Change

Dallas Attorney Declares The State Would Not Progress If It Takes Drastic Action In School Economy

Tech Is Praised

No Texas Institution Has Ever Excelled Tech In Usefulness To Boys And Girls, States Education Champion

LEWIS T. CARPENTER, a Dallas attorney, who was a member of the 38th legislature, which passed the bill creating Texas Technological college, has issued a statement concerning recommendations of the efficiency committee, appointed by the legislature as affecting Technological college.

Declaring himself "in accord with every effort towards retrenchment in governmental expenses of our state," Mr. Carpenter says:

Opposes School Curtailment

"I am slow to believe, however, that the state will be making great progress if it takes too drastic action in the matter of reducing efficiency of its schools and colleges. I do not think it would be wise economy to curtail the educatoinal opportunities of the children of the state, especially since there are numerous other places where economy can be practiced without injury to anyone, and with positive benefit to all."

In Texas Technological college was created, Mr. Carpenter says, "a college having for its purpose a different scope of education from that heretofore offered by the colleges and universities of Texas, namely, that of a technical education with a tendency to prepare boys and girls of Texas to do technical work in the

Hopes Of Luke Lea And His Son For Clemency Are Lost

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP) — The hopes of Luke Lea, Tennessee publisher, and his son, Luke, jr., for supreme court intervention to save them from heavy sentences imposed in North Carolina, today were apparently extinguished.

The court refused to review the North Carolina supreme court's denial of the Leas' appeal for a new trial. Already, last October 24, the highest court had refused to review the convictions themselves. A reconsideration of this ruling has been asked, but the court rarely changes its mind in such cases.

Death Sentence Enforcer For Capone Falls Before Policeman's Blazing Gun

Vicious Pistol Duel Brings Raid To An Exciting Climax

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—Frank Nitti, "enforcer" of death decrees to the enemies of the Capones, shot it out at arm's length with a policeman in a downtown skyscraper today and lost. He lay dying tonight at the Bridewell hospital. He wounded the patrolman before he fell.

The vicious pistol duel brought a startling climax to a sudden raid on a gangsters' rendezvous on the fifth floor of the La Salle-Wacker building, overlooking the Chicago river.

Policemen Burst In

Four policemen burst in on the hoodlums unannounced.

Surprised, unresisting, the seven gangsters lined up mildly enough. Nitti, a small, swarthy man, "brains" of the old Capone liquor syndicate, was unrecognized at first.

Then he sauntered from the line toward an anteroom. Policeman Harry Lang saw him slip a bit of crumpled paper into his mouth and chew violently. Lang lunged at him.

Whips Out Pistol

Nitti whipped out his pistol. It flashed and a bullet tore through Lang's hand. The officer staggered, recovered, drew his own weapon, and pistols spat flame and lead at each other.

Two of the policemen at the first shot ran to Lang's side, but they were not needed. Three of Lang's bullets had found their mark in Nitti's abdomen, neck and chest. One lodged in the spine.

They rushed Nitti, still conscious, to the Bridewell hospital. In the operating room, he moaned that he wanted to live, and called for Dr. Gaetano Ronga, his father-in-law, to operate. Dr. Ronga, however, was denied admittance.

Wound Not Serious

Lang's wound was not serious.

All the "brains" of the prosecuting forces of Chicago were assembled hurriedly to solve some of the mysteries presented by the raid. Experts were assigned to decipher orders and bills of lading for "wheat and oats" found in the office. Messages in code were given others to translate. A quantity of black powder which would not burn when

Mary Nolan Is Facing Charge

Actress Is Arrested Monday In Theater On A Complaint Based On $347 Check Which Is Marked "No Funds"

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. — Mary Nolan, an actress, was arrested in a third avenue theater where she was appearing in a vaudeville act today on a complaint forwarded from Minneapolis.

Police in Minneapolis said the complaint was based on a check for $347 presented to a hotel there last month and returned with the notation "no funds." The complaint was issued there Friday.

Asked about the incident last week Miss Nolan explained she had offered the hotel a note to be redeemed upon her return to the east, but that it had been refused. The hotel officials, she said, suggested she make out a check on some bank in New York instead, despite her assertion she had no funds in any bank here.

Police said Miss Nolan was known for years on Broadway as Imogene Wilson, musical comedy actress.

Texas Schools Are Closed By Spread Of Flu

Thousands Are Reported To Be Victims Of Illness; Deaths Are General; Pneumonia And Flu Claim Eight Here

(By The Associated Press)

Schools in several Texas cities were closed Monday and physicians, nurses and hospitals were kept busy attending victims of an influenza epidemic which invaded the state nearly two weeks ago, in company with the worst blizzard in two years.

Notices were posted in the corridors of Texas Christian university at Fort Worth by President E. M. Waits and Dr. J. H. Sewell, school physician, announcing that all classes would be dismissed immediately because of the prevalence of influenza among dormitory students, reports showing that 40 per cent of those living in the dormitories were ill. Christmas holidays would not have begun at the university until Wednesday. The announcement said classes would not be resumed until January 3.

Austin Schools Close

Austin public school authorities took similar action, dismissing classes for the holidays Monday, three days sooner than had been planned, because of influenza among students. The school board reported that 44 teachers and 37 per cent of the students were absent because of of influenza. The epidemic was reported as being widespread but mild in nature. More than 200 students of the University of Texas were reported absent from the same cause but no plans were announced for closing earlier for the holidays than Thursday, the date previously announced.

Lubbock reported eight deaths there in the last ten days attributable to influenza and pneumonia. Schools at Spur were closed a week ago until January 2 because of the

Supreme Court Condemns Pro Agents For Entrapment Of Victims In Crime

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. — Pronouncing "severest condemnation" upon prohibition agents who entice their victims into commission of a crime, the supreme court today set aside the 18 months prison sentence of C. V. Sorrells, a North Carolinian convicted of violating the liquor laws, after being tricked into doing so by an officer.

The evidence in the case, the court found, was that R. V. Martin, prohibition officer, had induced Sorrells, who lives in the mountains near Clyde, N. C., to procure him half a gallon of whiskey. Sorrells twice refused but it developed that both had served in the 30th division during the World war. An exchange of reminiscences followed and then Sorrells got the liquor because a wartime "buddy" wanted it.

Justice Roberts, Brandeis and Stone in a separate brief held a court should have the power to dismiss such cases because "the consummation of so revolting a plan ought not to be permitted by any self-respecting tribunal."

Justice Roberts, writing this brief, defined entrapment as "conception and the planning of an offense by an officer, and his procurement of its commission by one who would not have perpetrated it except for the trickery, persuasion or fraud of the officer."

Dramatic Meeting Monday In Olton Courthouse Results In Arrest As Victim Points To Man As Attacker

No Charges Filed

Coat And Pair Of Gloves Worn By Suspect Are Identified As Those Worn By Bandit In Night Raid On Home

(Special To The Avalanche)

OLTON, Dec. 19.—J. G. Hewett, about 60, this morning met face to face in the courthouse one of the men he believes hijacked him and his wife at their farm home three miles northeast of Olton, December 7. Both had been subpoenaed by a district court grand jury.

As a result of the dramatic meeting the identified man, about 25, and a second suspect are held in the Lamb county jail. Both were arrested by Deputy Sheriff Bob Miller.

Victims Tied In Bed

Two gunmen went to the Hewett home the night of December 7, after Mr. and Mrs. Hewett had gone to bed. The elderly couple was held at pistol point while about $50 in cash from Hewett's purse and from Mrs. Hewett's trunk was taken. The bandits then tied their victims in bed, and fled in an automobile. At about midnight, Hewett released himself to notify officers.

Mr. Hewett today was summoned to tell a district court grand jury here of the robbery. The suspect was supoenaed to testify in another investigation.

Coat Is Identified

As the elderly man was walking down the stairways he saw the suspect on the bottom steps. After watching his man for a few seconds, Hewett went to the sheriff's office in the building and the arrest followed. A coat worn by the man today was identified as one Hewett had seen during the robbery. He also identified a pair of gloves in the suspect's possession, it was said.

The pair held in jail was arrested by Plainview officers about an hour and a half after the robbery; and, after giving assumed names the men were released, Deputy Sheriff Miller said.

The second man to be arrested is about 28 years old, and lives in Littlefield. He also was subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury, it was said.

Meade Griffin, district attorney of Plainview, is aiding the grand jury in probing the case.

CHILDREN demand a logical explanation for many things and these pictures of old Santa Claus crawling down a chimney bother a lot of youngsters. You can tell that by reading their letters of instruction: "I will unlock the door. You can't come down the chimney because we haven't any."

It isn't hard to believe that the reindeer may be able to get around all over the world or that Santa can actually know the good little boys and the bad. Santa has some supernatural traits. But it is a matter for some worry when the child thinks that Santa might come around prepared to descend through the chimney and then pass him up because the house had no such means of entrance. Hence these notes of instructions telling St. Nick how to get in.

GIFTS FOR US

REAL CHRISTMAS

FIVE more days and then it will be Christmas again. Five more days to shop and worry and hurry and then it will all be over.

Christmas doesn't come often on Sunday so this will be a good occasion to observe a real Christmas—to spend some time remembering what the day means and to pondering over some of the reasons why it is a time for peace and good will.

We often forget that Christmas has any significance. It is a holiday for most of us and a time of feasting but, as a Christian nation, we give hardly a thought to the real meaning of Christmas Day; we hardly pause in our merry making. Next Sunday will be a good occasion to remember the significance of Christmas.

LIVING COSTS

MOST of us are inclined to look back five years and imagine that we are having an awfully hard time now because we are making so much less money than we did then. However, we can assuage those regrets a bit by remembering that those were days when we complained of the high cost of living.

We sighed, you will remember, for the days when the cost of living should drop. And, now that we can buy ten pounds of potatoes for seventeen cents and live for a few cents a day, we have forgotten that with the drop in incomes there has come a drop in living costs.

Out at the Tech college practice house recently the girls tried out a week's menus on the basis of a limited income. And for that week they lived on an average of 2 cents per day. Moreover, the women living there had every nutrition need satisfied.

When people can have everything they need to eat for one week—and the young women in that house had plenty to satisfy them—for 22 cents, living costs aren't so very high. It took planning, of course, to live on so little. But the experiment proved what can be done.

Ordinarily the young women there live on about thirty-six cents per day each, a total of something like $2.50 per week. And they live well out at the home management house. Lots of people spend more than that for food each week, it is true, but there are few who eat all they should eat, that is, have balanced rations, for that amount.

Here is something else of interest, and it is a recommendation for the diets. College women who go into the house and are over-weight generally lose some during their residence there, while those who are under-weight usually gain. And there is seldom any illness among those residing there.

There may be as much to the theory about eating as some dietitians and doctors claim.

"Extension work during the past year has been of benefit to more than 85 percent of the farm women in this district", announced Miss Myrtle Murray of College Station, district home demonstration agent, at a meeting of the Home Demonstration council Saturday.

Thirty-five women were present for a business meeting and Christmas program. Miss Murray reviewed the past year's achievements and outlined a program for the coming year.

A short recreational program consisting of games, contests and Christmas carols was carried out.

Each guest took home a gift, valued at 25 cents or less, for the Christmas tree. These were distributed by a game in which the women found a gift at the end of a six-foot string.

The next regular meeting will be the first Saturday in January at 2:30 p. m., according to Miss Isla Mae Chitwood, county home demonstration agent.

Parent-Teacher Associations Will Provide Christmas Joys

Children Will Be Remembered At Holiday Season; College Group To Make Talks; Plans Made For Founders Day

BY MRS. J. M. CRAIN
P.-T. A. Publicity Chairman

CLAUDE, Dec. 19. (Special) — "Safeguarding Childhood Through This Crisis," the theme motivating major educational activities of the Texas Congress of Parent-Teacher associations for several months past, is interpreted as the holiday season, approaches as meaning, "Make Children Happy at Christmas Time."

Christmas stockings neglected by an over-worked Santa Claus this year may be filled by many of the 2,065 parent-teacher associations in the state. The emphasis of holiday activities will be placed on making the child happy in the home. Lighted outdoor Christmas trees, community Christmas celebrations, home play projects and many other activities are being planned.

President Speaks

Mrs. A. F. Wood, president of the Texas Congress, makes this statement: "As the winter season comes on and the Christmas season draws near, we should not forget those about us who through no fault of their own are forced to accept aid from community chests and other servce agencies. From every section of our Lone Star state reports have come of relief work being done by our members. Many have so planned this outside activity as to include many parents that gladly render services for the help given thereby maintaining their self-respect and morale. Warm clothing and substantial food are necessary for the building of strong bodies. The citizenship of future generations depends largely upon how we respond in this hour of need to cries of little children."

Eminent educators from the Texas State College for Women, College of Industrial Arts, Denton, will broadcast the following addresses from radio station WBAP, Ft. Worth, as part of a program given every Wednesday morning from 9:30 to 9:45: December 21, Christmas," Jerome A. Moore, assistant professor of department of foreign languages; December 28, "After High School, What?" L. H. Hubbard, president; January 4, "How to Select a Well-Balanced Meal," Mozelle Craddock, assistant professor, department of home economics; January 11, "A Woman's College for Women," Estella G. Hefley, dean of women; January 18, "Safety Measures for the Home", Ruby Simpson, instructor, department of home economics; January 25, "The Chemistry of Cosmetics", Willis H. Clark, director of department of chemistry.

Six new pageants and a new book, "Through the Years", are announced by the national congress as sources of inspiration for Founders Day Programs and for information concerning the history of the organization. February 17, 1933 commemorates the thirty-sixth anniversary of the national congress, founded in Washington, D. C., February 17, 1897, by Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst and Mrs. Theodore W. Birney. Parent-teacher programs throughout Texas, as well as the United States, will honor with special ceremonies the memory of these two pioneers in the child welfare movement.

Christmas Tree "Don'ts" Center On Fire Hazards

WASHINGTON. (AP) — The old-fashioned Christmas tree with its burning candles, beautiful as it is, comes under the disapproval of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, which announces a set of Yuletide "Don'ts" in the interest of happy holidays. It says:

Don't use lighted candles on trees.

Don't set up a tree so that it can topple over easily, and don't place it near lighting and heating fixtures.

Don't use paper or other combustible tree ornaments.

Don't allow smoking near Christmas trees.

Don't be careless in the use of electrical equipment or in extended wiring.

Don't give small children dangerous toys such as those requiring alcohol, kerosene or gasoline.

Don't neglect to keep handy something with which to put out a fire if it does start.

Don't keep the Christmas tree up after Dec. 31. It becomes dried out after a very few days.

Six Enter In Race For Post

Eighth Congressional Seat In National Capitol Is Sought By Houston Men; Widow May Also Ask Place

HOUSTON, Dec. 19. (AP)—Six men definitely had announced today as candidates for the 8th district congressional seat left vacant last week by the death of Daniel E. Garrett of Houston, and 20 others were represented as being in a receptive mood.

The 26 would represent virtually every shade of political opinion, save for the fact that all are Democrats. Some are prohibition repealists, some are for a continuation of prohibition, some have been identified in the past with the forces which unsuccessfully supported Governor R. S. Sterling for re-election as governor, while others were found in the victorious camp of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson.

Those who had definitely announced were Ellis Binford, former Congressman Joe H. Eagle, defeated by Mr. Garrett in the Democratic primary last summer; Virgil E. Arnold, Allen Peden, R. W. (Bob) Castleberry and Edgar Soule, all of Houston.

Meanwhile, the proposal for a double election on the same day — one for the term ending March 4 and the other for the new two-year term beginning March 4, was regarded by some as of doubtful legality and the governor had been requested to obtain an opinion in the matter from the attorney general.

Concerning suggestions that Mr Garrett's widow be drafted to take up his place, E. A. Berry of Houston, himself mentioned as a possible candidate, said today in a statement:

"If Mrs. Garrett, at the proper time, indicates her desire to succeed her husband, she shall have my wholehearted support . . Standing as she is in the shadow of her greatest bereavement, it is too much to expect a precipitate announcement of her intention, and until she has a reasonable time in which to make known her wishes, it is both inopportune and inexcusable for gentlemen to enter a mad scramble for a place that she ought to be permitted to fill if she so desires."

The eighth district embraces Harris (Houston), Waller, Fort Bend and Grimes counties, but the great bulk of the vote, of course, is in Harris county.

Mrs. Stimson, who died of pneumonia in a sanitarium here Saturday morning, is survived by the widower, a son, a daughter, a brother, and five sisters.

Relatives Attend

With the exception of Mrs. J. L. Baker, all of her sisters were here for the funeral services.

Other relatives attending were Lannie Stimson of Rockwall, Miss Ruth Stimson of Royse City, Woodson Stimson of Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Haun of Vinita, Okla.

Mrs. Joe Penney, who is spending the winter in Houston, came in several days ago. Others who were here Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. G O. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Skillman, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones, M. W. West and Frank Squires, all of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Vanderpool, Mrs. A. M. McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Mirth And Melody Is To Be Served

Mirth and melody with a strong Scottish flavor, but with an appeal which is said to be universal, will be served at Lubbock High school auditorium Wednesday night, Dec. 28, by that inimitable comedian, Sir Harry Lauder, and his company.

Sir Harry is reviving some of the inimitable character songs which he offered during his first visit to America, and which few of the theater-goers of today have heard him sing. Among these are "The Weddin' o' Sandy McNab," "Stop Yer Ticklin', Jock," "I'm Goin' T' Marry 'Arry," and "I Love My Jean."

There, too, will be a group of new numbers. One of these comics deal with the hen-pecked husband whose wife went to the hospital with a broken leg. A song with heart and sentiment, "The End of the Road," also will be one of the newer Lauder songs to be offered here. The accompanying troupe of entertainers will include an orchestra.

Texas Schoolboy Grid Title To Be Decided At Corsicana

Site Selected By Coin Toss; Play Monday

Tigers To Be Playing On Own Soil As Result Of Coach Pierce's Calling Right; Two-Hour Parley Held

(By The Associated Press)

CORSICANA, Dec. 19.—The toss of a coin today was the deciding factor in the selection of Corsicana as site for the state championship high school football game to be played next Monday between Corsicana High and the Masonic Home team of Fort Worth.

Coach John A. Pierce called the coin tossed by Coach Russell of Masonic Home, after a two-hour conference here. The game will start at 2:30 p. m.

The Corsicana Tigers entered the finals by defeating John Reagan High school of Houston 19-7 last Saturday and Masonic Home became a contender with a 7-6 victory over the Amarillo Sandies. The Tigers realized their ambition after suffering elimination in the semi-finals of 1930 and 1931.

Spartans To Play Rangers

Ex-Jefferson University Grid Team To Meet Portsmouth Squad In Game At Dallas, January 2

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Dec. 19.—Forced into idleness today because of the soggy condition of their practice field, Coach Nick Dobbs' Dallas Rangers planned to begin strenuous training tomorrow in preparation for their game here January 2 with the Portsmouth, Ohio, Spartans, second place football club in the National professional football league.

The Dobbsmen no longer represent Jefferson university here, as a result of a breach that developed between the coach and President Andrew Priest of the law school, who declared practically all of the first string stars of the untied and undefeated team ineligible for failure to attend classes.

To Play Texarkana

Jefferson, however, still maintains a football squad and has booked a game with the Texarkana Junior college eleven at Texarkana, Ark., for December 26.

The Dobbsmen, under the Jefferson standard, rolled up an impressive season record that included victories over the Oklahoma Aggies, Missouri Valley champions; Oklahoma City university; Phillips university; Simmons university and others.

In addition to winning three national titles, two of his teams have placed second in the national competition and three of them in third place.

His football teams have won 104 games, suffered only six losses and have been tied twice. For Collins has won the state title eight times.

(AP)—The Springfield Leader said today that Tony Bernardi of Little Rock, Ark., manager of the wrestling syndicate which furnishes talent for mat cards in Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas, in Joplin today admitted that Ken Hollis and Teddy Waters are one and the same wrestler.

Secretary Ben J. Harrison of the Missouri Athletic commission, who is investigating the use of two names by one contestant, said Waters, or Hollis, would be allower to appear on a card at Joplin tonight and could fill contracts for matches already agreed upon, but that the commission probably would suspend him when it is satisfied they are the same person.

Dallas Star Is Honored In Writers' Poll

Texas Girl Gets Nearly 40 Per Cent Of Ballots In Contest; Helen Madison Is Second With 45 Votes

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. (AP) — The country's sports experts experienced no difficulty whatever in singling out the feminine performer most entitled to recognition as America's outstanding girl athlete of 1932.

She is Mildred Babe Didriksor., Texas' "Wonder Girl," double Olympic champion and, in the opinion of many observers, the greatest all-around athlete her sex has ever known, regardless of any issue now over her amateur standing.

Gets 40 Per Cent

Out of a total of 199 votes cast in the second annual Associated Press poll, Miss Didrikson received 77, nearly 40 per cent. Her nearest rival, Helene Madison, Seattle record-breaking champion of all women free-style swimmers, polled 45 to finish a good second. Another far westerner, Helen Wills Moody queen of the tennis courts for years, occupied third place with 21 votes.

In a close contest for fourth place, the new national golf champion, Virginia Van Wie of Chicago emerged with a three-vote margin over Eleanor Holm, slim and pretty champion of the backstroke swimmers. Their totals were 16 and 13.

Miss Didrikson's performances were ranked by many sports observers as superior, relatively speaking, to the accomplishments of any masculine stars of the year. Her vote, too, was larger in the Associated Press poll than that accorded Gene Sarazen, picked as the outstanding performer among the men.

The Texas girl, all by herself, won or tied for first place in a half dozen events in the National Women's Track and Field championships, collecting enough points to win the team title. She captured the Olympic javelin throw and 80-meter hurdles with world-record performances and finished second to Jean Shiley in the high jump. She has played football is a star at basketball and wallops a golf ball well over 200 yards.

The Results

The tabulated results of the Associated Press follow: Mildred Babe Didrikson, Olympic champion and all-around star 77; Helen Madison, world free-style swimming champion 45. Helen Wills Moody, world tennis champion 21; Virginia Van Wie, national golf champion 16; Eleanor Holm, backstroke swimming champion 13; Helen Jacobs, American tennis champion 6; Stella Walsh, Olympic sprint champion 5; Helen Hicks, former national golf champion 3; Katherine Rawls, national swimming champion 3; Glenna Collett Vare, former national golf champion 3; Georgia Coleman, Olympic diving champion 2; Jean Shiley, Olympic high-jump champion 2; Amelia Earhart, aviatrix 1; Dorothy Poynton, diving star 1; Maureen Orcutt, golfer 1.

SMU Will Meet Oklahoma A & M At Texas State Fair

STILLWATER, Okla., Dec. 19. (AP)—An agreement for a football game at the Dallas fair next October 21 was signed here today by officials of Oklahoma A. & M. college and Southern Methodist university, Coach Lyn Waldorf of A. & M. announced.

The Aggies hope to bring the Kansas Aggies to Stillwater next autumn to round out an eight-game schedule. They also are negotiating for a game Dec. 9 with the Texas Aggies.

Helmet Did It
"Pickers" Nearly Lost The Game

LIVERTY, Texas, Dec. 19. Advocates of compulsory headguards will find no favor with the Liberty "Cotton-Pickers" local negro football eleven.

In fact, the "Pickers" want no part of a headguard whatever because one of the fancy contraptions nearly cost them victory in this year's "championship" game against Sour Lake, their dearest rival.

Sour Lake led, 24 to 0, at the half. They had broken up every one of the "Pickers'" plays before they could get started, and the Liberty boys were a sorely dispirited group at the rest period.

"Seven-Eleven Jim," Liberty's coach, appealed to a white friend, a former footballer, for advice. The second half barely was underway when the mystery was solved.

"I see what's wrong, Jim," said the Liberty rooter. "Your boys have only one headguard, and every time they go into a huddle they give it to the boy who's going to carry the ball."

"No wonder those Sour Lake boys were so smart," marveled Jim, as he hustled a substitute out to retrieve the helmet.

He sat on it the remainder of the game, and Liberty came back to win, 30 to 24.

Western Stars To Start Practice

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19. (AP)—Officials of the East-West Shrine charity football game, to be played here Jan. 2, announced today the 44 players comprising the two squads would assemble here Thursday.

Dana X. Bible of Nebraska, co-coach of the Western team, notified headquarters he would reach Denver tomorrow, where he is to meet seven members of the squad. They are Steve Hokuff, end, and Larence Ely, center, both of Nebraska; Jack Johnson, tackle, and Frank Christensen, fullback, both of Utah; George Atkeson, guard, of Kansas, and Ernie Koy and Harrison Stafford, backs, both of Texas.

Bible's coaching associate, Orin Hollingbery of Washington state, is here, as are several of the other Western players.

World Champion Yankees Are To Play 28 Training Games

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. (AP) — The World champion New York Yankees announced today a schedule of 28 spring training ball games, ranging from the opening pre-season engagement with the Boston Braves March 14 at St. Petersurg, Fla., and ending with the annual contest with the West Point Cadets April 10. The Giants probably will move their game with Army to April 4.

At the same time a call went out for pitchers and catchers to report to the training camp at St. Petersburg March 1, with infielders and outfielders arriving a week later.

The Wisconsin-Minnesota football series is the oldest in the midwest, the Badgers and Gophers having met annually since 1890 with the exception of one year, 1906.

Locals Point To Win Over Athens Quint

McMurry Is Drilling Team For Game Here Wednesday Eve With Well Known East Texans; Lively Tilt Seen

With their hearts set on a victory over the Athens High school Hornets, holders of three state and two national basketball championships, candidates for the Lubbock High school quintet are working strenuously for the game with the Hornets here Wednesday night. The tilt will mark the opening of the home season for the locals.

Coach "Swede" McMurry has intimated that he has the best cage prospects that Lubbock has had in several years and a victory over Athens would serve as a milestone in development of the team. At any rate, two games played the past 10 days have convinced fans that McMurry has a "hustling" crew. They won from the Wayland Baptist college five and took Meadow to a 34-20 count last week.

The Westerner material has a number of tall boys in it, a characteristic Athens has been noted for. The Athens team this season is also tall and a lively scrap is in prospect.

Brownfield To Play Hornets Also

BROWNFIELD, Dec. 19. (Special)—Coach Marlin Hayhurst has been giving Brownfield High school basketeers strenuous workouts in preparation for a game with the Athens Hornets on Friday night of this week. The game marks the opening of the season here.

Hayhurst has five lettermen, Hulse and O. Moore, forwards; Captain Neill, center; and Huckabee and Bogle, guards; and another good quintet to pick his players from. Cruce and Owens, both outstanding in practice at forwards and Graham and Anderson, guards, are due to see action in early games. W. Moore is also a hustling candidate for a forward position.

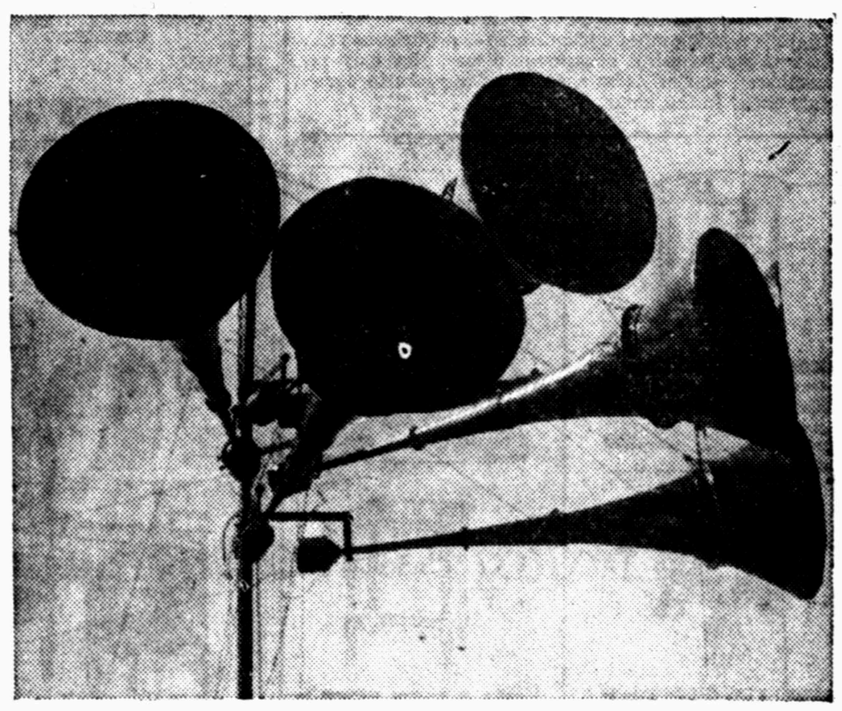

GLASS-HARD

● Incredible as this may seem—"BLUE BLADE" edges actually will cut glass. Hundreds of shavers accepted our recent invitation to prove this by test. Here is positive evidence of the "BLUE BLADE'S" amazing quality. The steel is hardened by secret process in electric furnaces. Temperatures are automatically adjusted to the special requirements of the metal as the steel passes through the furnaces in long strips. This assures uniformity and a type of temper that permits phenomenally sharp shaving edges. You will never know how comfortable a shave can be until you try the "BLUE BLADE." Buy a package on our money-back guarantee.

No package contains genuine "BLUE BLADES" unless it carries the portrait of King C. Gillette.

FOR CHRISTMAS—Ask your dealer to show you our special gift box containing 100 "BLUE BLADES." You pay for the blades alone. The handsome cigarette or jewel case—rich mahogany color—is free.

Italy's Budget Deficit For Fiscal Year Will Be Large

ROME, Dec. 19 (AP)—Italy's budget deficit for the fiscal year 1933-34 will be 2,900,000,000 lire, approximately $150,000,000, it was announced today.

The council of ministers approved the budget totals of $1,030,000,000 expenditures and $880,000,000 receipts. The expenditures are $28,000,000 more than in the present budget because a deficit of $34,000,000 in the state railroads increased the burden of interest on the public debt and the development of public works.

Estimated expenditures for the war, navy and air departments are decreased $29,000,000. The deficit in the present fiscal year was placed at $145,000,000.

A Well-Chosen Statement

"IF we had the power to disrupt the whole system of higher education in Texas we wouldn't do it because every unit was created after earnest thought. We come not to destroy, but to fulfill the prophecies of these institutions."

That was the statement—the logical statement—made Saturday by Nat Washer, of San Antonio, chairman of the State Board of Education and in connection with the recent recommendation of the legislature's "efficiency" committee to junk Texas' system of teachers colleges and all but wreck Texas Tech. We think the statement well prepared and well taken.

As Mr. Washer went on to indicate, the politicians on the "efficiency" committee dashed out before the public with recommendations based upon half-baked ideas. To be bluntly frank, they got off on a subject which is none of their affair and, as The Morning Avalanche remarked a few days ago, the whole business had its conception in the desire of somebody to get his name in the papers.

We are not worried over the suggestion of the now infamous "efficiency" committee; we never have been. We are, however, concerned—and deeply concerned—over any effort to disrupt higher education in Texas and especially to curtail the avenues of service for Texas Tech.

Even with the prospects of a hysterical legislature, we forecast that the recommendations of the "efficiency boys" will be rightfully junked.

If they're not, look out for trouble!

TO MUCH FATALISM

There is one school of economic thought which refuses to excuse the economists, the government and the capitalistic system for the depression on the fatalistic alibi that the depression is a phase of a cycle beyond man's control. This school may be wrong, but at least it has not surrendered and dares to give battle to the inevitable, if this sickening dip in the economic curve was inevitable.

"Ox-age thinking" is blamed for "this futile and foolish depression" by Edward A. Filene, merchant and economist, and persons willing to admit the facts, though they take the wind out of the sails of the "great" captains of industry, financiers, statesmen and economists, agree with him.

The logic by which he arrives at his conclusion is as follows:

"We know how to produce goods. We have engineers able to direct the necessary work, and we have millions of workers willing and more than willing to do the work required. Moreover, the work would not cost us anything, because it would be wealth-producing work and would pay for itself, whereas the present idleness of these potential workers and directors is costing us so much that the burden seems almost unbearable.

"In spite of all this, we put up with the idleness and poverty and staggering waste of human life, because, while we have the automobile, we haven't done any extensive automobile-age thinking yet."

He contends that the depression could have been prevented and would have been prevented had there been coordination between production and distribution and a little more application of engineering knowledge.

RETURN OF BARTER

"Ethical dental services exchanged for lady's fur coat."

This offer appearing among the "public notices" in a metropolitan newspaper ought to be proof enough for anybody that the depression has taken the country back to barter and exchange, a method of distributing the world's goods and man's labor antedating the days of horse trading.

The dentist possesses skill and facilities and his wife needs or covets a fur coat. Somewhere in the same city there is a woman with a toothache and fur coat and no money, or there is a fur merchant with dental troubles in his home and no buyers of his coats or no cash to pay off employes who need dental care.

His depression problems as well as some of those of his customers were solved by a young merchant in rural Pennsylvania by loading his delivery trucks with the goods his farm and mountaineer patrons need and exchanging them for their surplus produce which he trades or sells. His new store building is depression built.

Back to barter and exchange! It may not be as dignified and simple as trading through the medium of currency but it is ethical, or will be if all the old horse-traders are dead.

Looms As Demo Leader

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas apparently is being skidded—with infinite care, to avoid any unpleasantness—out of his leadership of the Democratic forces in the upper house of congress. Political Washington surmises that he has been assured he will be suitably provided for otherwise, and is acquiescent.

Charles P. Stewart

The story thus far is perfectly plausible.

Reports that Senator James F. Byrnes of South Carolina is slated to succeed the Arkansan as generalissimo of the Jeffersonian phalanx at the north end of the Capitol building are not so easy to believe. In fact, they are almost incredible. Nevertheless, they are persistent.

THE CHARACTER of last November's election result would have made Senator Robinson's present position uncomfortable for him, even were it not for the constant attacks of Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana.

This is not to belittle the "Kingfish's" achievements. He struck at every vulnerable joint in the Arkansas solon's armor, and especially did the latter no good when he offered in evidence, at the last session of congress, a lengthy list of the power corporations included among the clients of the Little Rock law firm of which the senate leader for many years was a member.

True, Senator Long is said to have agreed, for party harmony's sake, to be as forbearing as possible with the Arkansan during the current congressional session. His definition of forbearance, however, differed from that of some of his fellow lawmakers; it was no later than the session's opening day that he demanded Senator Robinson's retirement from the Democratic leadership, in favor of a progressive Republican—Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska.

BUT, AS remarked, the Robinsonian situation would be awkward anyway.

The senator is ultra-conservative; Governor Roosevelt is on record at least liberally enough to have won the campaign support of such advanced statesmen as Senators Norris, Bronson Cutting of New Mexico, Hiram W. Johnson of California and Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin.

The senator's past association in a legal practice closely related to the power interests is but doubtfully consonant with Governor Roosevelt's attitude on the power question.

Governor Roosevelt's election was generally deemed a wet triumph. Senator Robinson, while too loyal to repudiate the Democratic platform, was a bone dry until last summer, and only recently expressed himself as friendly to dryish modifications in the form of the eighteenth amendment repeal.

All these considerations being taken into account, one can see that Senator Robinson may anticipate a deal of trouble in the key position he holds now, and consequently be not unwilling to relinquish it, if he can look ahead to something else as good or better at the first fair opportunity.

Parenthetically, it is gossiped that he covets a place on the federal supreme bench.

One also senses the possibility that the newly-dominant Democratic element may have a preference for a senate leader whose views are more nearly its own than reasonably can be expected from an individual so distinctly of the passing generation as the Arkansas veteran.

SO MUCH for Senator Robinson—but it falls to explain Senator Byrnes.

There is no blinking the signs that Governor Roosevelt likes the Carolinian. Senator Byrnes toured the south with him prior to election. And the senator has had numerous conferences with the president-elect since then. Clearly he is close to the administration-elect.

Senator Byrnes has "sat in" at Senator Robinson's metings, of late, with the correspondents. Whether or not he really was their author, several policies the senate Democrats have adopted are attributed to his suggestions. The attempt to push him to the front is obvious.

AND ASSUREDLY Senator Byrnes needs pushing. He served seven terms as a representative between 1911 and 1925, but it is hard to find an old-timer of that era in the house who remembers him, for anything he did or said there.

Following a five-year interval of retirement, he ran for nomination to the upper house against Senator Coleman L. Blease, and catching this formidable politician in a bad year (he had just had a violent falling out with organized labor), beat him; of course being elected—a Democratic candidate, in Dixie.

He took his senate seat last December and if he has said anything from it, except to answer to his name, I can't find it in the Congressional Record.

He is a smallish, slimish, non-commital-looking person, with a youngish face for his 53 years, no particular expression, one way or another, and probably the speediest side-stepper, on any and every subject, on Capitol Hill today.

He classifies neither as a conservative nor as a liberal. Senator Blease, in his campaign, referred to him as "pro-power", but how he verified it, if at all, is a mystery.

In the next congress 30 Democratic senators will be senior to him, and leadership usually is determined largely on that basis. Will patriarchs like Pat Harrison, Key Pittman, Duncan U. Fletcher and Ellison D. Smith (Byrnes' South Carolina colleague, with 24 senatorial years behind him) consent to follow a first-termer?

Senator Byrnes will puzzle Huey Long, however. Leader Robinson never has shunned an oratorical encounter with the "Kingfish". The "Kingfish" can out-slug him, but the Arkansan always is ready for more. To land a k. o. on a pillar of mist is not so simple.

WOODEN "STOCKINGS":

Even as Santa Claus, many of our modern Christmas customs were brought here from Holland. In accordance with their native habits the children of the settlers of New Amsterdam would place their wooden shoes on the doorsteps of their house expecting the Christmas Saint to fill them with gifts during the "night before Christmas." With the disappearance of the wooden shoe in New York, the modern "stocking" made its appearance.

Fee System Is Being Opposed

Interest Of Officers Said To Wane After Fees Of Handling Prisoner Are Paid; Instance Is Cited

AUSTIN, Dec. 19. (AP) — Officials operating under the fee system sometimes lose all interest in enforcing the law after they have collected their fees, a report of the fee investigation committee of the Texas senate stated today.

As an instance of the waning interest after fees have been collected; the committee cited the case of a man sentenced in May of 1930 to serve three years in prison for murder. The convict, the report stated, never appealed his case and has never served a day on his conviction.

"Legitimate reason for postponing his punishment cannot be advanced," the committee stated in referring the case to the attorney general. Whereabouts of the man is unknown to the committee.

"This case shows how the carelessness of a fee officer may defeat the ends of justice," the committee reported. "The committee does not believe this case is unique, but is of the opinion that there are many similar cases if they could be ferreted out. Although this man has not served a single day in prison, all fee charges were paid in connection with his conviction. It seems that all interest in enforcing the law vanished when the man's value as a source of fees was exhausted."

Cotton Cotton Trade Ruling Quiet — Livestock Cattle Receipts Show A Decrease — Grain Monday Wheat Prices Tumble

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 19. (AP)—Cotton ruled quiet nearly all of today's session and prices fluctuated within a moderate range and without special trend, closing one to 4 points down.

The opening was steady as Liverpool cables came in about as due and closed several penny points better than due. Private cables said Continental and local trade buying absorbed hedge selling. Manchester cabled there was a fair business in cloth and yarns. First trades here showed gains of 1 to 3 points and the market improved after the start on some trade buying. There was some evening up in January in advance of the first notice day. January advanced to 6.05, March to 6.17 and May to 6.27 or 6 to 7 points above Saturday's close.

The market turned easier later in the morning on selling induced by a private estimate for ginnings to December 13 which were considered quite large, the total being placed at 12,188,000 or 557,000 bales for the last period. March eased off to 6.08 and May to 6.18 or 9 points down from the earlier highs and 8 to 3 points below the previous close. The market rules quiet but steady most of the afternoon, keeping within the earlier range and about 4 points above the lows. In the late trading however in sympathy with weakness in stocks the market eased off some more, May and July made new lows for the day with the former at 6.07 and the latter at 6.28 or 10 points down from the early highs. The close was at or near the bottom with March showing a net loss of 3 points, May 2 points and July 1 point.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 1 penny point down.

Port receipts 32,741, for week 55,460, for season 5,514,868, last season 5,986,709. Exports 28,473, for week 50,514, for season 3,780,464, last season 3,864,721. Port stock 4,821,343, last year 4,711,914. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 181,859, last year 185,288. Spot sales at southern markets 18,669, last year 33,399.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. (AP)—The cotton market was quiet today with a slight early advance on continued trade buying followed by reactions under a little more southern selling and scattering liquidation promoted by uncertainty in the stock market. March contracts sold off from 6.30@6.08 and closed at that figure, with the general market finishing easy at net losses of 8 to 9 points.

The market opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 4 points, with active months showing net gains of 4 to 5 points during the early trading on a continuation of the foreign and domestic trade buying which had been noted here toward the close of last week. This carried prices for the active months into new high ground for the movement, which seemed to attract some realizing and prices eased off later in the day, with the selling becoming a little more active toward the close.

Offerings from the south were little in evidence during the early trading, but increased somewhat late in the day, while the late ruling of the stock market may have brought in some local and Wall street selling. January selling at 6.07 early, broke to 5.95 while May declined from 6.31@6.18 and closing prices were at the lowest for the day.

The weather in the south was a little more favorable, in the opinion of local traders, but was hardly mentioned as connection with the day's market. Brokers with Continental and Japanese connections were buyers here at the opening and Japanese interests were credited with buying again toward the close.

January liquidation continued with considerable switching from that delivery to other months. Trading in current December contracts will end at noon on Thursday and the interest in that month had evidently narrowed to very small proportions.

The carded cloth statistics showing sales for November amounting to 82.3 per cent of production with an increase in stocks and a slight decrease in unfilled orders apparently was without particular effect on the market. A private report was published estimated ginnings prior to Dec. 13 to 12,183,000 bales. According to the New York cotton exchange service foreign crops may be about 400,000 to 500,000 bales less than earlier season indications. Based on recent reductions in trade estimates of the Indian and Chinese crops. Liverpool cables said Continental and local trade buying there was supplied by hedging.

Financial Markets Generally Work Lower Monday; Trading Very Dull

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. (AP)—Financial markets generally worked lower today, although trading was dull in most directions.

Stocks, profiting by efforts of professional traders who had an eye on a possible Christmas rally, did reasonably well until the last hour, when steel shares were sold. This pressure deflected leaders in other departments and the net result was a minute fractional loss for the averages. A few issues, obviously under special sponsorship, held part of their gains.

German loans again outdid other foreign bonds and traded actively. U. S. government firmed in a brisk turnover, but some irregularity seeped into other sections of the investment market. Wheat, facing a crop report tomorrow, was off about half a cent and cotton eased.

U. S. Steel stocks reacted about a point each, the common dipping just under 39. Lowe's, Case and Santa Fe had similar losses, while Bethlehem, New York Central, Western Union, Union Pacific, United Aircraft, Westinghouse and Montgomery Ward yielded around half a point net. A bullish demonstration in Auburn automobile netted 3 points. Allied Chemical, up 2 at the best, forfeited all but a shade of its advance.

Other firm spots included the tobaccos, Standard Oil of New Jersey, American Can and Gillette. Rails were barely steady. Oils, helped by plans for closing the East Texas field, looked considerably smoother than last week. Coppers also were less susceptible to pressure, possibly because the foreign metal market has recently stopped declining. Transactions totaled 916,985 shares.

touched with flame was sent to the crime laboratory at Northwestern university. Detective leaders and State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney rushed to the bedside of Nitti to question him. He would not help them.

The six gangsters arrested were whisked away to the detective bureau for thorough examination. They identified themselves as Johnny Pope, Louis Masscra, Joseph Parrello and Louis Carime. Charles McGee, Martin Sanders,

Role A Silent One

Nitti's role in gangland had been a silent one since his emergence last March 24 from the federal prison at Leavenworth, after serving 14 of 18 months imposed for dodging payment of an income tax on his $842,888 share of Capone profits for three years. He had pleaded guilty, and the talk was that Nitti was to "take the rap" and get out in time to boss things after Al Capone went to Atlanta penitentiary.

As the "enforcer," Nitti, or Nitto, was reputed to have given the orders for the killings, bombings and other violence the Capone gang required for disciplining henchmen and blotting out competitors.

epidemic. City schools and one county school at Longview likewise were dismissed, one-third of the enrollment having been absent because of the malady. Fatalities had averaged one each day for the last two weeks.

Beaumont Passes Peak

Beaumont schools remained in session, the peak of the influenza epidemic having reached there a week ago when 1,000 school children and about 1,000 adults were confined to their homes with influenza or severe colds. Physicians estimated that 15 persons had died there during the last month, most of them negroes, from influenza.

Bishop C. E. Byrne of the Galveston Catholic diocese ordered that no midnight masses be held on Christmas eve, last influenza be spread. No fatalities had been reported there.

Three Die In Amarillo

Amarillo has had three deaths in December attributable to the malady and one pneumonia death with influenza as a contributing cause. Physicians there said the epidemic was light and schools continued in sessions.

San Angelo schools closed last Friday, a week ahead of schedule, because of influenza and the cold weather, as did schools at Lampasas, Cameron and several Bell county schools. Temple schools were operating as usual but five deaths had been reported in the city in the last week, resulting from pneumonia. Scores of persons were kept away from work and confined to their homes because of the illness.

Others Not In Session

Schools also had been closed at Texarkana, Gilmer and Llano because of the cold and the "flu" epidemic. Houston reported that 30 teachers were absent from classrooms last week and a smaller percentage of pupils. Dallas reported nine fatalities due to influenza last week and city health officers estimated that several thousand persons in the city were victims of the malady.

Dr. J. C. Anderson, state health officer, said at Austin that the influenza epidemic was general over the state, his department having received reports of numerous deaths from pneumonia which developed after patients were stricken with influenza.

He said officers from Tallapoosa, Gilmore, Macon and Montgomery counties, were on the ground and expressed the belief they could preserve order.

Sheriff Kyle Young of Tallapoosa, who directed a search of the Jemes home tonight, said he found communistic literature of the share croppers' union sent from Birmingham.

manufacture of raw materials." He continues:

Praise Is Given Tech

"In my opinion, no institution of learning that Texas has ever had has excelled it (Technological college) in its usefulness in affording educational means for the young men and women of the state, and particularly the western part of the state.

"The legislature very wisely located the Texas Technological college in the portion of the state which had not until that time had the advantage of a nearby educational institution of higher learning. This location was fortunate also, because the college was placed in the section of the state comparatively undeveloped and rich in mineral resources as well as having great natural advantages of stock raising of all kinds and for the production of cotton, the great staple crop of Texas."

Contrary To Best Thought

"An engineering school, particularly that of textile engineering, has been established and is just beginning to be appreciated, and the suggestion from the efficiency committee that the whole purpose of this college be abandoned and that it be turned into a college of liberal arts is contrary to the best thought for the development of natural resources . . . The legislature could very wisely and well afford to add to its development by proper appropriations, and add to its equipment those things necessary for further technical education.

"The safety of the state and its preservation lie in the education of its citizenship not only education along lines of liberal arts, but along technical lines, so that the boys and girls educated along these lines can work into the finished product the things for which our state produces unlimited raw materials, and other course will be hurtful and devastating to the onward march of the educational ambitions which this state has manifested in the past."

Will Bring Disaster

Expressing confidence that the next legislature will recognize the importance of the technical institution, Mr. Carpenter adds:

"Any move to curtail or thwart its purpose will bring disaster to the man or group of men who undertakes it, because it is contrary to the will of the people of Texas.

The Dallas attorney speaks of the value of the University of Texas "recognized as one of the great state universities", said of Texas A. and M. college, "one of the best of its kind," and declares:

Equal Advantages

"I cannot understand the sort of reasoning which actuates anybody in saying that West Texas should not have equal advantages with other portions of the state, and that Texas Technological college will take away support from the A. & M. college. . . . When the bill for the Texas Technological college was being presented to the legislature by myself and the authors of the bill, before it was presented, I personally had a conference with the representatives of the Texas A. & M., discussing with them the scope and purpose of the school, having in mind a wish to avoid any conflict if any existed, and inquiring if it would not be well to add to the scope of the work performed by the Texas A & M. I was told that they were not interested in broadening their scope and would not be interested in the passage of such a bill, but would be glad to cooperate in the creation of the Texas Technological college as it was explained to them, and as it was actually created by statute. They have used this influence wisely and honorably."

Texas Technological college "has grown to a commanding position as a technological institution," Mr. Carpenter states, "and now that it is just beginning to come into renown as a technological college, I think it would be a very short-sighted policy to undertake to curtail its usefulness by curtailing the scope of the purposes for which it was erected. . . . I hope to see the day come when she (Texas Technological college) will stand as the peer of the Boston Tech and Georgia Tech and other great technological colleges of the United States."

Utilization Of Public Land Is Idea Promoted By Texan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (AP)—Following up the theory that "a man might own a million acres of land and starve for lack of a dinner," J. A. Greene, civil engineer of San Antonio, has written Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee suggesting utilization of the public domain as the foundation for new currency.

"Since land is the source of all wealth and is the only indestructable property in this world," said the Texan, "it would seem reasonable that it should be represented in our financial system."

He proposed that congress authorize the treasury to issut bonds, notes or land certificates, backed by the value of 185,000,000 acres of unsold public land, to be loaned to individuals are not more than two per cent interest and in amounts not exceeded the original mortgage on the land.

Hoover Message

these same delegates should also be in a position to lay the groundwork for the world economic conference to be held next year, and that some of them should "be associated with the arms conference." Some also, he said, should be members of congress.

From the tenor of his note it was assumed here the president already had made overtures to Mr. Roosevelt. It was indicated the personnel of the commission will be submitted to the president-elect for his approval.

Should Not Delay

The chief executive used these words in speaking of his successor-elect: "Discussions in respect to both debt questions and the world economic conference cannot be concluded during my administration, yet the economic situation in the world necessitates the preliminary work essential to its success. The undertaking of these preliminary questions should not be delayed until after March 4.

"I propose, therefore, to seek the cooperation of President-Elect Roosevelt in the organization of machinery for advancement of consideration of these problems."

Mr. Hoover indicated he had small hope of congressional authorization of a debts commission, and the flood of comment from senators and representatives tended to confirm this view.

Borah Approves

Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee, an opponent of the president on many questions, spoke approval of the suggested debt review and proposed a world conference on armaments and money as well as war debts.

"We have a most menacing economic world situation," Borah said. "Let us assume that debts is an item bearing upon that situation. But it is only an item. Unless there is a full program dealing with reparations, the money question, armaments and such problems as stand in the way of the world's recovery, he will get nowhere by the consideration of a single item. If a reasonable program, including all these problems, could be proposed or agreed upon, I would gladly support it."

With hope still existing in the capital that France will pay, the president's message was interpreted in some quarters as holding open the door to debt review should the new Paris government submit its December 15 installment.

"As good neighbors," the president said, "and in accord with our traditional duty as wise and fair creditors whether to individuals or nations, we must honor the request for discussion of these questions by nations who have sought to maintain their obligations to us."

Orders Issued In Court Here

Jury Is Used In But One Case In Federal Court On Monday; Docket For Remainder Of The Week Announced

Orders and motions were issued in United States district court Monday by Judge William H. Atwell. The jury was used in only one case and was instructed to report at 10 a. m. today.

Mrs. Fern Meester was given an agreed judgment in her suit against the Georgia Casualty company.

F. A. Blankenbeckler, receiver of the Plainview National bank, was given judgment against George E. Brown, et al., by default. The jury brought in its verdict at the instruction of Judge Atwell.

Non-suit was granted in the case of Mrs. I. C. Bergholm vs. Peoria Life Insurance company.

One group of case consolidations was approved by Judge Atwell. No. 114, state ex rel F. A. Blankenbeckler vs. The Massachusetts Bonding company and No. 125, Massachusetts Bonding Co., vs. L. J. Halbert, et al, were consolidated. They were transferred from the law docket as case No. 57. All pleadings must be made by December 29.

At the morning session a previous move to consolidate the two cases No. 115, F. A. Blankenbeckler, receiver of the Plainview National bank vs. Harvest Queen Mill and Elevator and No. 124, Ben Smith vs. Massachusetts Bonding Co., with No. 54 of the equity docket, the Detroit Fidelity and Surety Co. vs. Harvest Queen Mill and Elevator company, failed.

Leave to intervene in the case of F. A. Blankenbeckler, receiver vs. R. C. Malone Gin Co., was granted to Continental Gin Co.

A hard fought motion to dismiss in the case of the Canal Bank and Trust Co., of New Orleans, La., vs. the Lubbock Hotel company, was overruled. Oscar M. Coke Dallas representing defendants in the receivership, which is a state court matter, sought to bar the bank from bringing its action in the federal court.

Judge Atwell, after hearing arguments from C. C. Crenshaw representing the plaintiffs and Mr. Coke, held for the plaintiffs. The bank, holder of a $200,000 indenture, seeks a judgment. The receivership is being handled by the Dallas county district court. The case is now to be heard on its merits in an equity docket hearing December 28.

Following is the docket for the remainder of the week:

Tuesday: Blankenbeckler, receiver, vs. Harvest Queen Mills; Guy Herring vs. Iowa National Fire Insurance company; Blankenbeckler vs. T. L. Thurman.

Wednesday: Kelley - Springfield Tire Co., vs. W. L. Cox; L. B. Withers, receiver, vs. Roy Stovall; L.B. Withers, receiver, vs. R. B. Smith; L. B. Withers, receiver, vs. C. W. Boothe.

Thursday: O. K. Sykes vs Plainview Sanitarium

Cleopatra's Beauty Charmed The World

Cleopatra's beauty charmed the world because she knew how to make the most of her charm.

Are you sure that you are obeying all the health laws of charm and beauty?

Are you demanding creme rouges that do not enlarge the pores of your skin?

Are you looking for a powder that is free from Orris-root, a substance that agitates hay fever?

Are you demanding liquifying cremes adapted to your type of skin, dry, medium or oily?

Are you using cosmetics that are adapted to the arid climate of the southwest?

Are you treating your skin with the finest available quality of vegetable oils?

Cleopatra was one of the world's most beautiful women who has been credited with wrecking one of the greatest nations in history (Rome); her charm enslaved the strongest oils, free from all poisons and irritable ingredients.

Cleopatra's charm would have been sacrificed had she exposed her skin carelessly to the harsh methods in ordinary use.

Charme scientific beauty cosmetics represent the combined fruits of an intense study of beauty secrets that have been mellowed by time for 5,000 years.

Charme enforces the laws of nature giving aid to beauty and charme. During this Christmas week a special introductory sale (special prices below) on Charme cosmetics will be found in any of the following drug stores: John Halsey, City, Bowen, Wylie-Jarrett and Clarke.

Join the throng of smart women and take advantage of this unusual opportunity to adorn your dressing table with one of the most attractive toilet lines on the market and enjoy perfect skin health.

Should Uncle Sam Close Greatest Building?

Department of Commerce Building

Balancing the budget again worries Uncle Samuel. "In more than one good quarter," suggests a Wall Street writer, "it is believed that a good beginning might be made by exterminating entirely the department of commerce and shutting up the great building, a half mile long, which, recently opened, stands as a monument to a nation's commerce dead from too much medicine."

Thomas Talks On Tax Plans

Tahoka Representative Favors Elimination Of A Property Tax For All Except Local Expenses

Elimination of property tax "for all except local expenses" is favored by John N. Thomas, state representative-elect of the 119 district, of Tahoka, he said in a recently released written statement.

"The greatest problem facing the 43d legislature is that of taxation, since the action on so many other questions depends so much on finances," Mr. Thomas said.

System Breaks Down

"Because of the inequalities of the property tax, the inability of so many to pay on their property, and the recent passage of the homestead amendment, I take the position that our present property tax system has broken down beyond repairs."

"Junking of our schools of higher learning is unnecessary," the Tahokan declared. "I do believe that rigid economy should be exercised in their administration, that duplication of functions should be eliminated, and that possibly the scope of work in some instances might be curtailed. I am inclined to think that students, especially those from out of the state, should be required to bear a share of the expense. Certainly Texas Tech should be supported in a way that it may attain the purpose for which it was founded."

Favors School Support

Believing "our school system, especially the rural schools, have suffered more than any other system supported by taxation," the representative-elect said he favored "supplementing other sources of income with an income tax to support our schools adequately."

"Very few property owners have much income today; therefore, I would take all incomes, and thus make the tax light for all," Mr. Thomas stated.

For A Sales Tax

A sales tax on luxuries and least essential ariticles would be favored by Mr. Thomas, if necessary, to support the general fund, he added.

"The tax on gasoline can easily be made to care for a state-wide road building program," the Tahokan said. He favors election of the Texas highway commission by the citizenship.

"Unless our present ad valorem tax system is abolished, I believe some means should be found of taxing money, stocks, bonds, notes, and other hidden items that, to a large extent, have been escaping taxation," Mr. Thomas said.

Governor Roosevelt Is Back At His Desk For Conference

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 19 (AP)—With less than two weeks to serve as governor of New York, President-Elect Roosevelt was back at his desk today, with his program for the day divided between state finances and at least one national matter—a visit from William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Mr. Roosevelt had expected to see Mr. Green at Hyde Park yesterday, but the conference with the labor leader had not taken place last night.

Interest centered in the Green visit because of reports that Green would like to see Daniel J. Tobin of Boston named secretary of labor in the Roosevelt cabinet. Miss Frances Perkins, Governor Roosevelt's industrial commissioner in New York state, also has been mentioned for this post.

Body Of Air Corps Pilot Being Returned To Abilene

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 19. (AP) Arrangements were completed today for the return to Abilene, Texas, of the body of Captain Louis R. Knight, 52, of the army air corps who died at the Fort Banks hospital Saturday of a heart attack.

Captain Knight, formerly attached to the first corps area, was assigned to the Massachusetts Institute of technology in September as professor of military science and tactics in charge of the air corps unit.

In 1921 Captain Knight was graduated from the American air service field officers' school as a pilot and observer. He had also served at Brooks field in Texas. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Ethel Knight.
