Cotton Crops Are Looking Good

Despite a rough start in some areas due to a siege of wet spring weather, Mitchell County's cotton crop looks promising. In fact, with a general rain the next few weeks, and some letup in insect activity, a good crop could result.

"Our crop went through a stress period earlier due to the extended wet weather, but the return to cotton weather has encouraged fruiting," says Dr. Bob Metzger, cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "We started the season with good deep moisture in most areas to sustain the crop, but a rain in early August would 'put the icing on the cake'," he added. Metzger.

"We currently have the potential range of 325 to 350 pounds of lint per acre," believes Metzger. "We might even get close to the 400-pound mark if needed rains come and insect damage is limited."

Boll weevils and bollworms are currently plaguing some producers, and fleahoppers caused damage in some locations, resulting in loss of early fruit set. In addition, some squares were lost to the wet weather, which also caused boll rot problems in coastal and southern areas.

Cotton in the area got off to a good start this year, notes the specialist, although heavy spring storms caused considerable replanting in some locations. Hot, dry winds are depleting soil moisture, and the dryland crop in these areas will need additional rain.

Harvesting is now underway in the Rio Grande Valley, with good yields, especially in well-drained fields, says Metzger. Bolls are starting to pop open in the Coastal Bend and in some parts of South Central Texas. However, rank growth of cotton along the Coastal Bend and in many Central Texas fields will likely cause some defoliation and harvesting problems.

This rank growth prompts Metzger to urge farmers to give particular attention to practices that will reduce the number of overwintering boll weevils. These include applying an insecticide in combination with a defoliant when preparing the crop for harvest, and then destroying stalks and plowing them under as soon as possible after harvesting.

"Efforts to reduce overwintering boll weevils is particularly crucial this year because rank cotton with late fruit can provide a safe haven for boll weevils," he emphasizes.

So, all in all it looks like a good year for cotton. A lot of things can happen before the last bale comes in, but for now the stage is set for a promising harvest.

COTTON FIELDS, like this one, surround Colorado City and look like they will turn out some good crops. (See related story.)

Local Residents To Participate In The Texas Folklife Festival

The Texas Folklife Festival will be held today (Thursday) through Sunday.

Mitchell County will be represented there with Rev. Monte Jones and about 20 people from this area cooking chicken fried steaks, gravy and hot puffs.

Rev. Jones stated that this is the third year that the All Saints Episcopal Church has gone to the Festival and, the booth they will have will be called the "Cactus Cafe."

The entourage left Colorado City about 9 a.m., on Wednesday and traveled to San Antonio in cars. The group will be staying at the Menger Hotel in San Antonio.

The money that is raised by this venture will be used to buy a new organ for the church, stated Rev. Jones.

The Texas Folklife Festival is held every year on the 15-acre grounds of the University of Texas Institute of Texan Cultures on the Hemisfair Plaza in downtown San Antonio at the corner of Bowie and Durango Streets.

Some 100,000 visitors are expected to visit this vast array of music, food, entertainment and craft displays. All of this represents about 32 different cultural and ethnic groups with about 6,000 people participating.

The Festival includes music ranging from bluegrass to gospel, entertainment on nine Festival stages, and crafts varying from crocheting to making wine, and food differing from Rev. Jones' chicken fried steaks to Cajun gumbo.

HEAP Program Will Assist

A program, HEAP, was designed to assist low-income households in meeting the increased cost of energy for heating and cooling of their homes (Home Energy Assistance Act of 1980, Public Law 96-223, Title III, HEAP).

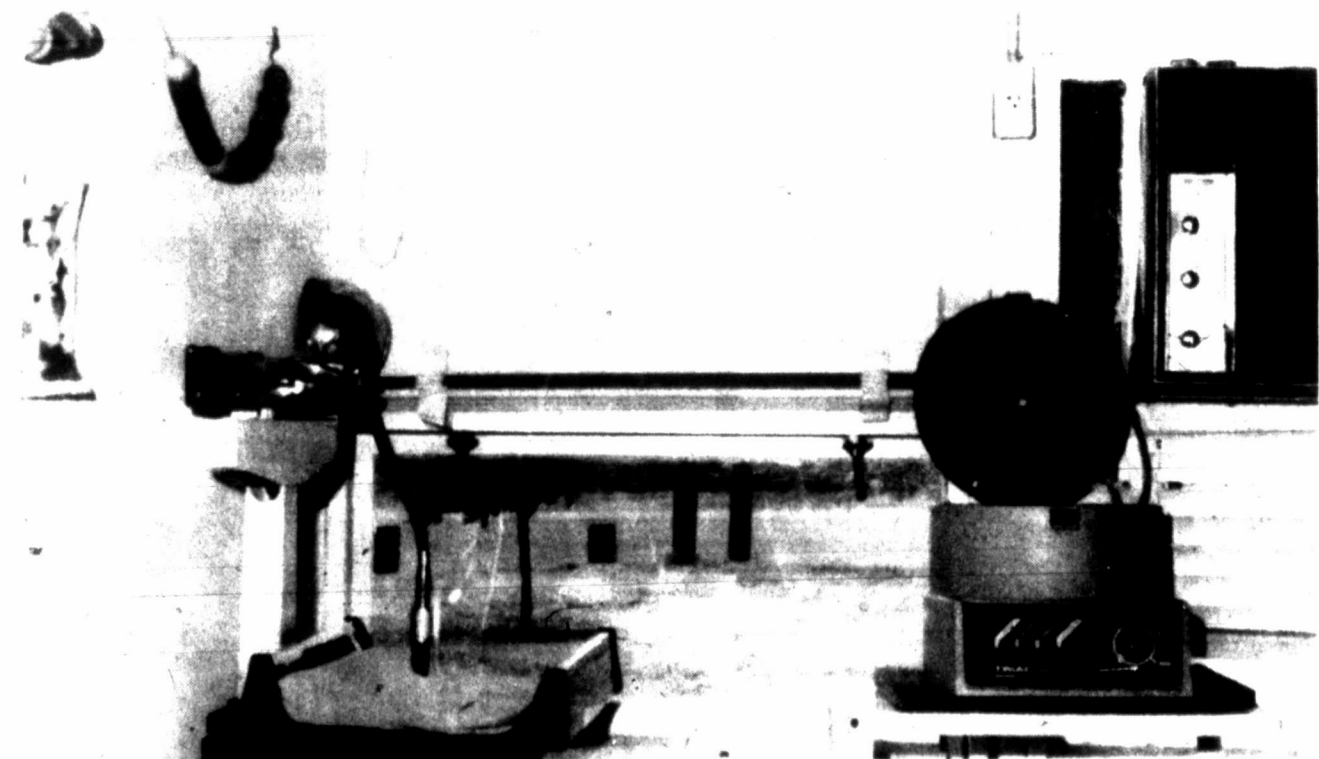

It is federally funded through the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) and it is administered by the Texas Department of Human Resources (TDHR).

Under TDHR's plan, those households not receiving an automatic payment can apply until Aug. 31 of this year for assistance.

If certified as eligible, the household should have their benefit payments within 20-30 days.

This program is to help low-income households pay for cooling their homes and they should apply in August for a cash payment.

For more information or to apply for HEAP, contact the Texas Department of Human Resources at 136 E. 3rd Street or phone 728-2618.

Chamber Manager Gives A Report On Rodeo Monday

The Colorado City Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors met Monday night in their regular scheduled meeting in the directors' room.

Jack Hollis, chamber manager, gave a report on the AJRA Rodeo, recently held, and he noted that he was able to pay off one of the bills incurred by the Chamber with the money netted from the rodeo.

Hollis requested that the chamber pay off a $106 water bill owed to the City of Colorado City for water used at the rodeo grounds. Hollis also stated that he checked into the matter of getting the water bill set up on a yearly basis.

Van Mills of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, announced at the meeting that they would meet Tuesday morning to set up a date for the Mitchell County Farm Tour. The farm tour was set for August 27.

Barbara Gray, of the Education Committee, reported that the Chamber would sponsor a coffee for the Colorado City Teachers In-service on August 19. The teacher in-service was scheduled will be August 19, 20 and 21.

Contribution To Community

An asset to Mitchell County that many may not be aware of is the services offered by the Texas State Department of Health at the Wallace Community Center, located on the Robert Lee Highway in Colorado City.

Clinics, such as immunization, Well Child, multiphasic, blood pressure and T.B. screening and treatment are offered to the public free of charge, according to Emily Elizondo, RN. She is the nurse on duty at the office.

Assisting Ms. Elizondo is Henrietta Gomez, LVN and Terri Hulme, receptionist.

Ms. Elizondo stated that the clinics are for anyone and everyone.

There is one immunization scheduled at this time for August 25, added Ms. Elizondo. The clinic is set a day after school begins, but children needing boosters or any kind of childhood shot may attend the clinic from 1:30 p.m., until 4 p.m., in the health office.

Ms. Elizondo stated the tests given in their multiphasic clinic included pap smears, diabetic tests, blood pressures, hearing tests, vision tests, colon-rectal cancer screening, T.B. skin tests and counseling.

She added that if any abnormalities were found in the results of the tests, the person will be referred to their private physician for further treatment and recommendations.

Ms. Elizondo stressed that all the services offered were free and everyone was encouraged to take advantage of them. Appointments must be made by phoning 728-5796 for the multiphasic and well child clinics. She said the blood pressure clinic and immunization clinic were walk-in clinics.

Big Spring Family Has Sailing Accident At Coopers Cove

Saturday, at 9:45 a.m., there was a freak sailboat accident at Coopers Cove at Lake Colorado City.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Dick and their daughter of Big Spring were in a sailboat, when the stern hit a Texas Electric power line. This power line had 69,000 volts of electricity flowing through it, according to B. B. Hardee of Texas Electric. He stated that an automatic switch cut off the electricity in the power line when the sailboat hit it which could have attributed to the extent of damage and injuries.

Dick was transferred to Root Memorial Hospital by the Mitchell County Ambulance Service. He was released from the hospital early this week after being treated for burns to his left arm and thigh.

Mrs. Dick did not receive any kind of burns or injuries because she was holding onto a rubber handle in the boat when the accident occurred.

Their daughter was knocked from the boat and received minor burns and injuries. She was treated for these injuries and released from the hospital.

Mitchell County Deputy Sheriff Tommy Headrick and Texas Parks and Wildlife Ranger, Ronnie Aston assisted in the rescue of the family.

'Only An Orphan Girl' Review

By LULU TURNER

a close during the opening night performance on Tuesday.

The presentation, along with a very responsive audience, proved to be an evening of entertainment as there was an almost sell out crowd attending. There are still three more performances scheduled, (tonight) Thursday, Friday and Saturday and curtain time is 8 p.m., sharp.

Admission is $3.50 and reservations may be made by phoning 728-3491 or going by the box office anytime between 1 p.m., and 5 p.m.

The cast of Sweet Nellie, Lesa Wilkinson, the villainous Arthur Rutherford, John Mikow; Dick Perkins, (the hero), Elmer Ward; adopted father, David Galvan; adopted mother, Nell Holman; wife of the villain, Trina Taylor; Widow Appleby, Marie Jackson and her daughter, Lucy, all together give a black hat performance to create this humorous and delightful play.

Tandy Curlee accompanied at the piano by Tracy Womack are an added attraction to the evening's enjoyment as they lead in group participation from the audience in singing old time favorites.

Joan Lookadoo directed the production and she was assisted by Jolyn Mikow, first vice-president in charge of productions.

You may think you can retain your self from booing, hissing and cheering for the good guy, but it may be a fete you might fail.

I never knew singing "Jingle Bells" in August could be so much fun.

Now that you're curious, maybe you should check it out.

August 27 Is Date Set For Farm Tour

Everyone is invited to join the tour and luncheon.

Tickets to this luncheon will be $5 per person. They will go on sale Friday at the Chamber of Commerce.

Everyone is asked to buy these tickets in advance so that they will have an accurate count of how much bar-b-q to cater, stated Mills.

Cotton Beats Weather

By BILL JANY

Cotton is growing and fruiting nicely. So far most of the fields that I have visited are weathering the current bollworm egg lay in good form. As a result of our heavy aphid populations in cotton, beneficial population are extremely high. Aphid populations are still declining, as a result of unfavorable weather, beneficial insects and spiders. Texas root rot is beginning to make its appearance in the southern part of Mitchell County.

Aphid populations are declining in every field I have checked. Beneficial insects including lady beetle larvae, lacewing larvae, spiders, minute pirate bugs, assassin bugs, nabids and parasite wasps are in very high numbers in cotton fields in both counties and are a major reason for the aphid population reduction. Hopefully, most of these beneficial insects will remain in cotton fields feeding on other insects including the bollworm.

Our bollworm egg lay is increasing in cotton fields in both counties. Younger cotton, or cotton which is growing very quickly and has lots of young tender growth are under heavier pressure than older cotton loaded with blossoms and squares. If this older cotton does not shed its fruit as a result of moisture stress it will become less attractive to adult female bollworms seeking egg laying sites. You may want to pay attention to your younger cotton, but don't ignore your older cotton completely.

As a result of the hot weather we experienced these past weeks, some adult female moths were laying their eggs in the lower portions of the cotton plant. When scouting your cotton, be sure to make whole plant sampling on one-third of the plants you check to keep tabs on the bollworm population in this part of the plant.

Over the past several years we have found that young larvae can and do bore into bolls larger than your thumb!

Unless you own stock in a particular insecticide company, or you have an excellent yield potential threatened by a high population of bollworms, it would be unwise to use a harsh insecticide to control your worms now.

Use only those insecticides which will not kill your beneficial insects. These include the microbial insecticides such as Dipel, Elcar or Thuricide.

Microbial insecticides are formulations of bacterial spores from the bacteria Bacillus thuringiensis Berliner or virions from the cirrus Baculovirus heliothis. Elcar which is the formulation of the nuclear-polyhedrosis virus is specific to only those insects of the genus Heliothis. In cotton the larval forms of the tobacco budworm and cotton bollworm are the only important pest species effected by this organism. Dipel and thuricide are formulation of the bacteria Bacillus thuringiensis and are selective against the larvae of insects in the noctuid family including the bollworm and budworm, cabbage loopers and the army worm complex. None of these insecticides will kill beneficial insects.

Even though these microbial insecticides can do a lot of things, they have certain limitations which you should be aware. They are most effective on low to moderate bollworm infestations. Don't use them if a field has an infestation above 50 percent. Also, the age of larvae is important.

Don't use a microbial insecticide when the average larval size is 1/2 inch or larger, and the majority of larvae are feeding in a square, blossom or boll. Microbial insecticides must be ingested (swallowed) by a larvae in order to be effective. Once larvae reach 1/2 inch they spend the majority of their time with their heads in some type of fruit, thus reducing the chance of them swallowing the bacterium.

One more point that you are probably aware of. Application technique is critical to the success of these insecticides. Use only a spray rig which will maximize your coverage such as a cotton killing rig with hollow cone nozzles, calibrated to apply a minimum of 10 gallons to the acre, more is better. If you are going to use an airplane, demand a minimum of three gallons to the acre, five gallons is optimal. If he refuses, find someone else. There are six aerial applicators who service Mitchell and Scurry Counties. If you don't know who they are, phone me and I will give you their names and numbers.

I will be at the following locations for turn row meetings on Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

BUDGET HEARING

Notice is hereby given that public hearing will be held by and before Mitchell County Commissioners Court August 10th, 1981 at 2 P.M. in the Commissioners Courtroom in the County Courthouse. Proposed said hearing is to adopt the 1982 budget.

County Judge, Bill F. Carter

Lisa B. Thompson, became the bride of Henry G. Mitchell, June 26th in a double ring ceremony in the First Baptist Church in Loraine.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Thompson of Roscoe. Mr. and Mrs. Grady Mitchell of Loraine are the parents of the bridegroom.

Rev. Sam Parker of Roscoe, and Rev. David McNary of Loraine, officiated in the 6 p.m. ceremony. Marsha Richburg, accompanied Debbie Brown, Charlene Killgore and Sherry Parker in the special music. A violin solo was played by Steven Thompson.

The altar was centered with an arrangement of white gladiolas, daisies, mums and baby's breath, focused on a unity candle. The choir rail were accented with fresh English ivy, trailing to an arrangement of ivy and baby's breath on either side of the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white organza and simulated alencon lace featuring a cathedral train with ruffles bordering the A-line skirt. The tiered ruffles were used again in the train making it the focal point of the gown. The bodice featured a high neckline and full bishop sleeves. Tiny buttons down the back of the bodice completed the dress. A finger tip veil of white organza edged with alencon lace, drifted from a Juliet cap re-embroidered with tiny seed pearls.

The bride carried a cascade of burgandy roses laced with seed pearls and tied with burgandy ribbon.

For traditional something old, the bride wore garnet earrings given to her by her late great aunt, Mellie Gillean, something new was her wedding dress, borrowed was a gold wedding band belonging to her great grandmother and something blue was her blue garter.

Emily Davidson, of Roscoe, served as maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Deborah Higdon and Susie Thomas, both from Maryneal.

They wore identical dresses of burgandy rose buds on white and were made in Antebellum style. The off the shoulder dresses were accented with soft lace and burgandy ribbon. Each bridesmaid carried a natural straw basket of white daisies accented with burgandy ribbon. Rings of daisies, rose buds and ribbon were worn in their hair.

Tricia Mitchell, niece of the groom, was flower girl. Her dress, of the same material as the bridesmaids, was styled with puff sleeves and a yoke accented with insertion and burgandy ribbon.

David Mitchell, nephew of the groom, served as ring bearer. Brandon Bankhead, nephew of the bride, was train bearer. Both wore identical white linen suits with burgandy ribbon ties.

Candles were lighted by Dodd Pharis of Shreveport, La., Matt and Melanie Parker, of Roscoe, carried the family unity candles to the altar.

Alan Boyd of Loraine served as best man.

Groomsmen were Rodney Taylor of Loraine and Brad Thompson, of Roscoe.

Ushers were Rodney Reeves, Roy Miles and Monte Richburg.

The couple were honored at a reception in the Fellowship Hall following their marriage.

Members of the house party were Carlene Givens, Billy Ruth Tartt, Etta Williams, Jeannine Stewart, Helen Martin and Rudy Thomas.

The bride's table of white satin and net was accented with burgandy bows. Crystal appointments were used to serve the cake and punch. A centerpiece of daisy and burgandy rose buds graced the table.

The groom's table was covered with a candlelight and beige cut work and lace tablecloth over a burgandy under skirt. Appointments of silver were used to serve the cake and coffee.

The bride and groom will travel to Red River, N.M. for their honeymoon.

Following the honeymoon, the couple will be at home southwest of Loraine.

Clinic Is Scheduled To Begin

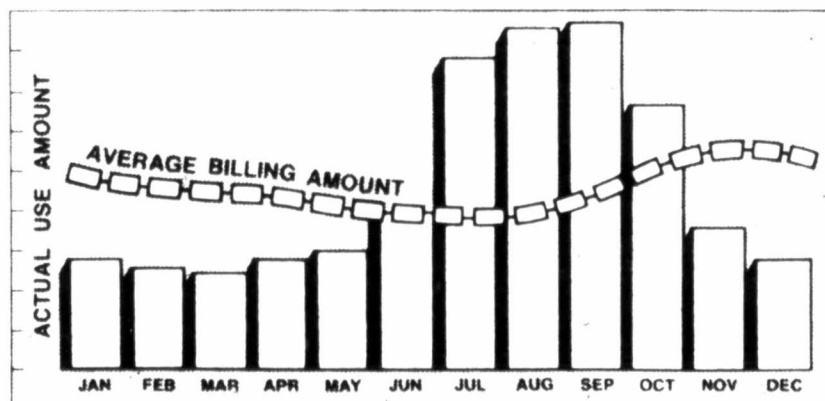

Colorado High School cheerleaders for the 1981-82 school year have announced they will be holding a cheerleading clinic for girls ages 7 to 13 years of age at Colorado High School.

The clinic will be held from 9 a.m., until 10 a.m., Monday through Friday of next week.

Entry fee is $10 per girl for the entire week. For more information, contact Kitten Arthur, sponsor, at 728-5013 or Karla Herm at 728-3033.

All girls interested in being a cheerleader in the future are invited to attend the clinic, Mrs. Arthur added.

Average Billing can help smooth out high summer electric bills.

If you use the same amount of electricity this summer as you did last summer, you'll see a big increase in your bills.

But our Average Billing Plan can help, because it "averages out" your payments. You still pay for all the electricity you use. However, in high-use months you pay for less electricity than you use, and in low-use months you pay for more than you use.

Many customers find this helps ease the impact of high summer air conditioning bills. Our Average Billing Plan is available to both residential customers and churches. If you'd like to know more, give us a call at Texas Electric.

Earned Income Available

Persons qualified for the Earned Income Credit may continue receiving the credit in paychecks or as a part of their tax refund at the end of the year, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

Before the 1979 law change, qualifying persons received Earned Income Credit in the form of a tax refund after they filed their Federal income tax return. Now, eligible taxpayers can receive the credit in the same way, or may choose to get it in advance payments each payday. Qualified persons must present a signed Form W-5, "Earned Income Credit Advance Payment Certificate," to their employers, if they choose the paycheck option. The law change raised the base amount to 10 percent of earned income up to $5,000, for a maximum credit of $500. In other words, the closer earned or adjusted gross income gets to $10,000, the smaller the credit, until it reaches zero at $10,000.

For additional information on the Earned

Income Credit. The number is located in the telephone directory under "Federal Tax Information."

Roscoe In Need Of Land

The U.S. Postal Service is seeking a suitable site upon which to build a new post office building at Roscoe, Texas.

The preferred area for site consideration is: "Located within the general business district of Roscoe, Texas, and preferable within the area bounded on the north by Front Street, on the south by Third Street, on the east by Pecan Street, and on the west by Ash Street."

Minimum site size is 24,500 square feet or a lot with dimension of 140 feet x 175 feet.

Copies of the advertisement for sites may be obtained from the Postmaster at Roscoe, Texas.

Property owners are asked to submit their site offering no later than August 31, 1981, to Rob Moren, Realty Management and Acquisition Analyst, Field Real Estate and Building Office, U.S. Postal Service, P.O. Drawer 239, Dallas.

Bob Bullock Report

Efforts to halt the smuggling of untaxed diesel fuel along the Texas-Mexico border resulted in the arrest of a 58-year-old Laredo man, according to State Comptroller Bob Bullock.

Bullock said Milton Trujillo, also known as Jose Milton Trujillo, was arrested in Laredo on an indictment from the Travis County grand jury.

A series of roadblocks and investigations by Bullock's office led to the indictment and the surveillance will continue until "the diesel leaks from Mexico are plugged," Bullock said. Trujillo was charged with selling fuel without a state permit after his arrest by agents of the Comptroller's office, the Webb County Sheriff's office and U.S. Customs.

According to Bullock, Trujillo was jailed in Webb County after being arraigned on the fuels tax charge which is a third-degree felony.

The arrest is part of a continuing investigation ordered by Bullock to crack down on diesel smuggling along the Rio Grande and Bullock predicted "two or three more arrests will follow."

Bullock's investigation showed an estimated 100 million gallons of untaxed fuel was coming into Texas from Mexico each year.

"I intend to put the contraband fuel business out-of-business because these smugglers are stealing from the taxpayers in this state," Bullock said.

Texas taxes diesel fuel at six and a-half cents a gallon with the revenue going to highway and state education funds.

Inexpensive diesel fuel in Mexico—sometimes as low as 17 cents a gallon—helped create the blackmarket for fuel in Texas.

Texas routinely collects taxes on more than a billion gallons of diesel fuel a year sold by legitimate dealers.
