Starting a business in a town is always an uphill business for a time. That is especially true if the town has been without a business of the kind for a time, and during a drouth too.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Rector moved to Loraine from Roscoe about a year ago and opened a shoe repair and upholstering business. Their business has not been as good as it would have been in normal times. In spite of the fact he does very good work on both shoes and upholstering he just hasn't received enough patronage for the business to thrive as it should. On top of the drouth and a lot of sickness Mr. Rector fell a short time ago and dislocated his shoulder, which has incapacitated him for a while.

The Lions Club wanting to see all businesses in town do well, voted Tuesday to assist Mr. Rector in getting his business better advertised, and for each member to urge patronage of the shop. As soon as Mr. Rector gets able to work again the Club will run a series of advertisements for him to let the people of the community know what his shop is capable of doing.

City Politics Not Hot Same Bunch Runs

Loraine City politics is not even warm this year. A mayor and three members of the council are to be elected on Tuesday, April 5, and the deadline for filing for a place on the ballot passed with no applicants for the jobs other than those already serving.

The official ballot will have on it: Vance Dickinson for reelection as Mayor; Gene Baird, Ray Preston and Bill Stribling, reelection as Councilmen.

Holdover members of the City Council are J. H. Boone and Herbert Mearse.

Dr. Johnson Helps Inspect Hospital

Dr. Bruce Johnson of Loraine, with two other doctors of the state, were selected at a recent state medical meeting to inspect the State Hospital at Big Spring. The three doctors made their visit of inspection last Saturday and Dr. Johnson gives the report of their visit as follows:

The hospital is equipped for approximately 369 patients but now has 539. Two other buildings are under construction which will give the hospital an additional 365 beds.

Dr. Roy Sloan is superintendent of the institution and he with two other doctors take care of the medical needs of the patients, which is more than a full time job.

The hospital unit, composed of 40 beds, is well equipped and 47 major and 33 minor operations were performed there in 1954.

No complaints whatsoever could be said about the cleanliness and neatness of the institution. They were up to high specifications but the lack of many things that could add to the comfort and enjoyment of the patients such as TV, radios, more chairs, is readily seen.

There are only 3 TV sets and radios are not too plentiful. 25% of the patients are 70 years or older. 35% are 60 years and older. 20 to 25% are Latin Americans.

There are 96 employees, cooks, housekeepers, yard keepers, etc. who receive a salary starting at $150 per month with a limit of $195. 46 cents per person a day is allowed for food and $2 per day per person is allowed by the state for operation of the entire expenses which brings the living level down to bare necessities.

The town of Odessa is the only place that has demonstrated an interest in seeing that the patients have a few of the little extras and comforts that the budget is not able to take care of. Odessa has furnished one of the 3 TV sets and was reported to be planning to install an electric organ.

It would certainly be a worthwhile project for a club or organization to sponsor the purchase of a radio, chair or other comfort for these patients, says Dr. Johnson.

INFORMATION WANTED

For several reasons The News would like to get information on irrigation wells in this territory. One reason is that we may influence a dealer in fertilizer to come here and also someone who can repair irrigation equipment.

We see no need for farmers to have to go long distances to obtain what they need in this line and would like to have a dealer here in Loraine. But in order to interest a dealer to open a store here he would want to know the number of wells for irrigation in the territory and the number of acres under irrigation.

If you haven't reported yours to us please do so right away.

The moisture measured .30 of an inch here in town, but some sections north of town received more than an inch.

A drizzle and a few sprinkles on Friday had left about .03 of an inch which, with the .30 Sunday morning, brought the total moisture for the year to 2.18 inches.

April Is Month Set For Polio Vaccination

The entire nation is looking to the month of April when the final report from the Salk polio vaccine will be announced. If then the vaccine is licensed by the National Institute of Health, a new hope will be born for the wiping out of this, the most dreaded disease of our time.

After the 1916 epidemic, public interest in this disease was increased. President Roosevelt founded the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in 1938 to lead, direct and unify the fight against the disease. Mr. Roosevelt had been stricken by the disease 17 years before.

Much brilliant research has been conducted since. The injection of gamma globulin which seemingly lasted from 6 to 8 weeks, then the effect was gone, was not what the scientists were searching for. Then Dr. Salk and his associates set out to follow an idea pioneered by Drs. Howard A. Howe and Isabel Morgan of John Hopkins, with the result of their search—the Salk vaccine.

1,830,000 school children who participated in the nationwide field trial sponsored by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis last year will show if the vaccinated children escaped paralytic polio attack.

If it works and is licensed by the Federal Government, the vaccine will be offered young school children throughout the nation before the polio season begins. The National Foundation has contracted for enough vaccine for this purpose and it will be supplied to State Health Departments without charge. Local doctors will administer the vaccine. Parents will, of course, have to give their requests for their child to receive the vaccine.

Facts about the vaccine are being put before the public now so that when and if the vaccine is licensed, everything will be in readiness for the vaccinations before the polio season comes.

SERVICES DESIGNED TO MEET THE NEEDS OF THE PEOPLE

A series of services designed to "Meet the Needs of the People" will be launched at the First Baptist Church in Loraine. The services will start Sunday, March 27, and continue through April 3, with night services only during the week.

Rev. Lenard Hartley, pastor, has been selected by the local congregation to conduct the services. Joe Airtene will direct the music. Mrs. A. R. Miles will serve as organist and Maxie Sheppard as pianist. Meeting time is 7:45 p. m.

Rev. Hartley in making the announcement of the revival said: "With a mighty volume of earnest, prevailing prayer, the clear, warm appealing gospel will be preached in power. Let the redeemed of the Lord speak."

Rev. Hartley urged the people to "enter the church reverently and prayerfully. Come to worship with the spiritual power of expectation. You pray and God will draw the crowds."

Realizing that Loraine and all the world needs a re-awakening to the teachings of Christ the pastor continued: "Christianity makes sense, there are many who through contact with the Lord, will find a new life."

"There is a pattern in His Word. When God commands, He enables. What He promises, He provides. When He tells man to seek wisdom, He tells him how to attain it. God is ready to teach through His Word, and in our midst is God's messenger. Have you given it a place in your life? God can solve your problem, they can not be too large or too small. God has made His promises legal by putting them in writing. But they are much more than type. They are exuberant reality. Christianity works, it is the biggest, noblest, most revolutionary force in the world, it can transform lives and save civilization."

"Come not criticising, but admiring, not only filling your pew, but performing your task." The message for the next Lord's day is: "The World Needs the Eleventh Commandment." Another message of interest during the series of services will be "We Need Monotheistic Worshipers."

"May every prayer, every hymn, every message, be a blessing for each individual. You are invited to experience Christianity at the First Baptist Church in Loraine," the pastor concluded.

Range Conservationist

According to an article in The Cattleman, the problem of poisonous plants is serious, but mostly west of the Pecos River. This is ordinarily the case, but as dry as it has been the last few years, the problem may show up farther east. This is due to the fact that many ranchers were caught with a lot of cattle and sheep and couldn't get rid of them. Naturally, their pastures were overstocked when it became dryer. This overstocking has caused an increase in the poisonous plants and other undesirable and non-beneficial plants.

The plants can be in a good pasture all the time and not show up as there is plenty of grass and good weeds for the cattle and sheep to graze on. But just as soon as the good plants play out and the number of livestock is not reduced accordingly, the poisonous plants and undesirable weeds have a chance to get ahead. Livestock will usually eat everything else in a pasture before they will take poisonous plants. A cover of good grass is the best competition a poisonous plant can have, in addition to affording good forage.

There are some control measures of poisonous plants, but these are rather expensive and sometimes not effective. These include mechanical eradication, herbicidal sprays, and fencing to exclude livestock.

Good range management is the easiest and best method of preventing losses to most poisonous plants. In addition to offering a competition that will prevent poisonous weeds from spreading, a good cover of grass will eventually wipe out most poisonous plants.

Of equal importance is the fact that the cover on the surface is the only way we can absorb the rain where it falls. It's the rain you keep that counts.

Livestock Pointers

The saying goes, "Nature takes care of its own"—in the animal kingdom and otherwise. But in these days of small profit margin on farm livestock, a little assistance from man is necessary.

With the spring crop of animals coming on, the difference between profit and loss may be only one or two pigs, calves or lambs for the average farmer in certain sections of Texas. Some pointers offered by the American Foundation for Animal Health might be helpful in holding down the death loss.

"Be sure that mother animals get top notch rations," the foundation suggests. "They should get plenty of suitable proteins, vitamins, minerals and good legume hay."

"Keep brood animals comfortable and clean in properly ventilated quarters."

"Be sure the young are born on clean pasture, or in clean, dry well-bedded quarters, away from drafts, if possible."

"Near the end of the gestation period, be on hand so that if assistance is needed in delivery, a veterinarian can be called to disinfect the navels of the young."

"Check up to see that the new born nurse properly. Calves should get the cow's first milk. Baby pigs should have access to clean sod or an iron preparation which will prevent anemia."

"Be alert for signs of scouring. It may indicate over-feeding, improper feeding or disease. Have pigs vaccinated against cholera around weaning time. Also, check with your veterinarian as to whether other stock may require vaccination."

"If any unexpected sickness should appear, get an expert diagnosis without delay. Prompt action may mean the saving of many valuable animals—and for that vital difference between a gain or loss in stock raising."

J. W. King, Jr. of Plainview visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. King, Sr., Saturday night and Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Narrell visited in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. "Bob" Price, in Lubbock and went on to Amarillo on a business trip Sunday night and Monday.

L. L. Jarratt of Fort Davis is attending to business here this week.

MONEY AND BANKING

In Everyday Living

YOUR ENDORSEMENT of a check is your signature written on the back. It is required before the check can be deposited, cashed, or transferred to someone else; the purpose being to record your part in the transaction. If you endorse a check drawn by someone else, so that a friend can cash it, you are, in effect, guaranteeing payment. If the check is returned unpaid, whoever cashed it can look to you for payment.

To make your money go farther, try planning your spending and saving. Experts in home economy suggest the following percentages as a guide in estimating the maximum amounts to allot for each category: Housing or shelter 20 to 30%; food 30 to 40%; clothing 15 to 18%; operating expenses (covering household, car, fuel, utilities) 10 to 20%; miscellaneous-personal (covering recreation, vacation, dues, etc.) 8 to 15%; savings 5 to 15%; revolving fund for emergencies—all you manage to spare from the other categories. Each family's needs will vary; hence the variation in percentages for each division. Of course, all these categories must add up to 100%.

BANK CREDIT IS VITAL! Banks are often called the financial heart of our economy. And bank credit may well be called the economy's blood stream; for the flow of bank credit to the millions of places where financial assistance is needed—homes, farms, business concerns—is a dynamic force without which our "free enterprise system" would die.

WELDON BRIGHT, popular radio star of KGNC says, "My wife has always used light Karo for cooking ... and on the table ..."

it's Karo for me, the best-tasting waffle syrup of 'em all"

Yes, indeed... biscuits go like hot cakes when you pour on plenty of delicious Karo waffle syrup. There's nothing like it for good eating. Satisfyin' flavor. So rich it stands right up on top of biscuits (keeps 'em light and fluffy). Keep Karo on your table morning, noon and night...it tops anything!

Ask your grocer for Karo waffle syrup, in pints and quarts

TWO COUPLES TOUR SOUTH TEXAS

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Wiggins and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Forbus and daughter Marilyn vacationed last week at the Tip-O-Tex Club house near Mission as guests of the Citrus Lands by the Rio Grande. The tour began at Sweetwater with Mr. Roy DeBusk, who is driver, for the owner of the Tip-O-Tex Club house and much of the magic valley land. The trip was made by way of Laredo with a visit at Falcon dam. One day was spent on Padre Island, returning by Brownsville, Harlingen and Ed-inburg and places of interest.

ON MUSICAL TOUR

Terry McCollum, 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McCollum of Tucson, Arizona, and grandson of Mrs. Dee McCollum of Lorraine, is on a Northwestern tour with the Tucson Boys Chorus. The chorus left Tucson January 31 and will return home April 1. Thirty boys ranging in age from 8 to 16 are members of the chorus.

This unique group was created by a highly educated Englishman, Eduardo Caso, who taught music and dramatics in some of England's famous private schools including Eton, before going to Tucson seeking a healthful climate. The chorus has a full summer schedule which will start with a coast-to-coast TV show when an audience estimated as high as 70 million will see and hear the chorus on May 22 on Ed Sullivan's Toast of the Town TV show.

The appearance on Sullivan's show will precede the boys departure for Europe by six days. On May 28, they will leave New York aboard the liner Santerina for Lisbon, Portugal, London, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Brussels and Paris and Germany where they will sing for troops stationed there. Plans are being made for a command performance before Queen Elizabeth at Buckingham Palace. Accompanying them will be two mothers, two of the chorus alumni, and an accompanist. This European venture is just a beginning according to dynamic director Eduardo Caso, who invisions a world tour in the near future.

The boys are on tour making 50 concerts in 47 cities in California, Oregon, Idaho, Utah, Montana, Wyoming, Nebraska, Colorado and New Mexico.

Instead of the usual choir gowns the Arizona boys will travel and make most of their appearances in broad brimmed hats and western clothes.

Mrs. R. D. Lefevre and her sister, Mrs. John Colson of Colorado City, left Thursday night for Phoenix, Arizona, to attend the funeral of a nephew, W. W. Hobin.
