A spider, which was found in the office of The Olton Enterprise Friday afternoon has been tentatively identified as the deadly Brown Recluse.

Making the identification by comparing an enlarged sketch of the species which appeared in a book belonging to an entomologist, the markings appear to be the exact same markings as are on the sketched spider picture.

The spider was also observed by Wayne Moore, whose wife was bitten by one such spider in November. Gene Gee, local science teacher, also verified identification by comparison of spider to picture.

The spider will be at the newspaper office for observation by others who might think they have found a Brown Recluse on their property.

Mrs. Finney Is Chairman

Mrs. W. G. Finney has been named chairman of the Breath of Life Campaign to fight children's lung diseases, according to Frank Scott, president of the North Texas Chapter, National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation.

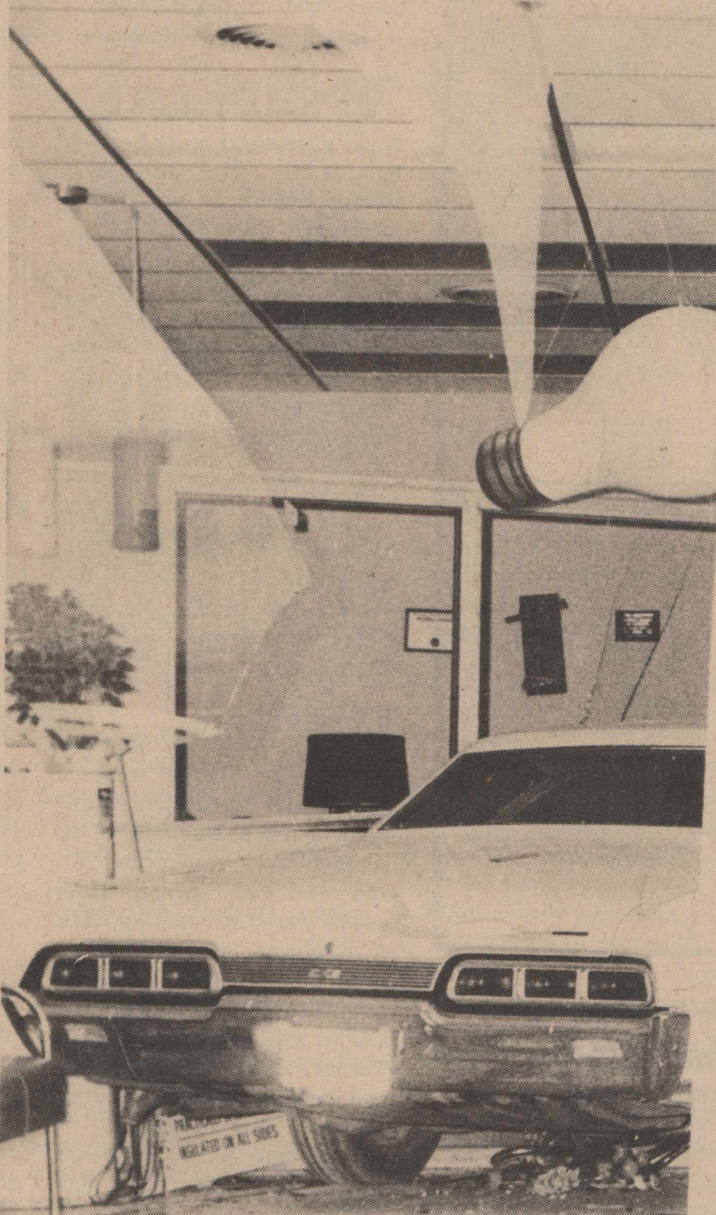

Mrs. Finney will lead Olton volunteers in raising funds to support research and care programs for children affected by lung-damaging diseases like cystic fibrosis, severe asthma, chronic bronchitis, bronchiectasis, and a condition called "childhood emphysema".

Cystic fibrosis, an incurable genetic disease, is inherited when both parents carry the recessive gene for C/F. It is believed that one in twenty persons or 10 million Americans may carry the C/F gene, usually without knowing it. Current research funded by the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation is seeking a practical test to identify these carriers.

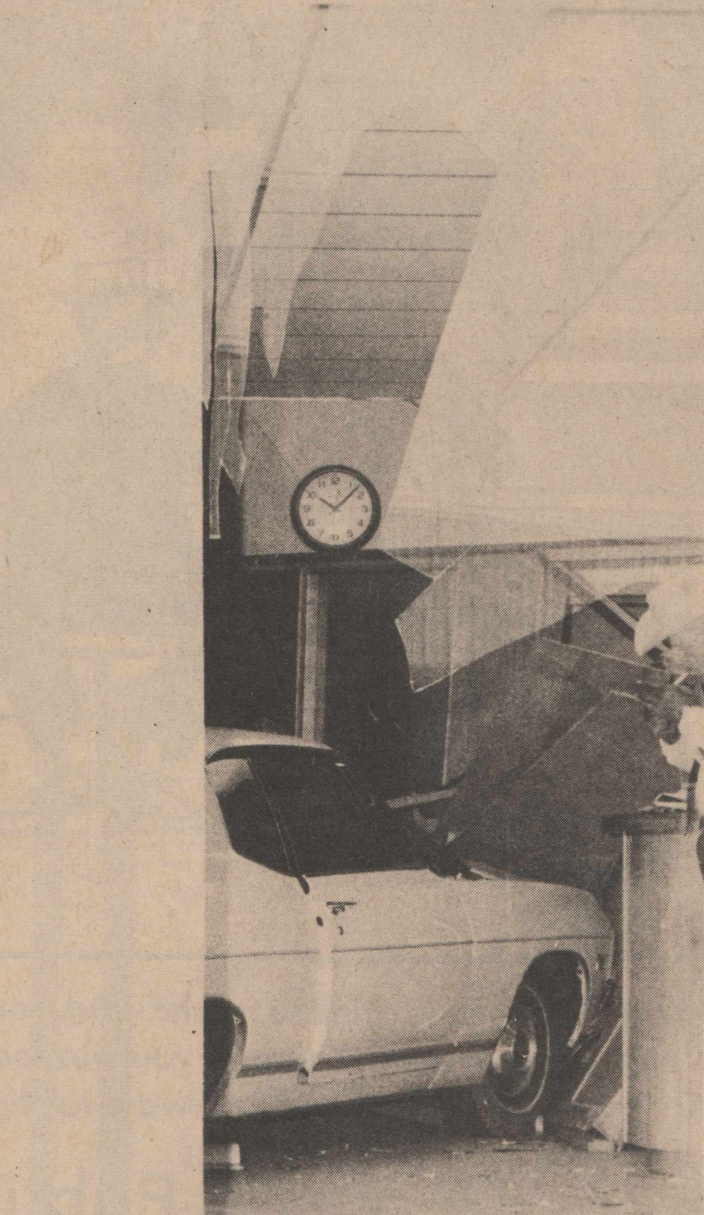

Because of improved therapy and constant research, many C/F patients are living beyond infancy to their teens and into young adulthood. That same kind of therapy is relieving and often curing children suffering from other respiratory afflictions whose symptoms resemble those of C/F.

"Most people don't realize that there are six million children in the U. S. affected by pulmonary illness," said Mrs. Finney. "For some of these children, breathing is not the natural function we, who are lucky, take for granted".

The Breath of Life Campaign supports not only research but over 100 C/F Centers for diagnosis and treatment across the country.

DRIVE IN CUSTOMER - Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Roberson had not planned a visit to Southwestern Public Service Office Thursday morning but wound up, car and all, inside the office in a

The 'Best' & 'Melba'

Movie Houses Recalled

Movies have come a long way since their beginning in the infant days of the twentieth century. Many changes have been noted right here in our town since the days of "The Best Theatre" and the "Melba."

Along in the mid or late 20's, the late F. W. Kersh opened Olton's first movie house in a small frame building located on the site of Thomas' Red Barn Furniture Store.

The long ago days are still remembered by Kersh's son, Alva, who helped operate the movie house as a boy.

Electricity had not come to Olton in the days of the Best, he recalls. The projector was operated by an electrical system of their own. With gasoline motor and several glass batteries, the show did go on. That is, unless the sometimes-balky gasoline motor refused to respond to the crank. When the stubborn motor could not be coaxed, Alva would run the movie by hand crank.

Alva recalls, too, that businesses in town advertised their wares for prospective clients in the movie house. With no way to film the home-town "commercials", glass slides were used to convey the sales promotions of various businesses of the town.

Merchants also chipped in each week to help defray the cost of free movies on Saturdays. The end of the week found a bustling town with folks coming in to shop for a week's (or longer) supplies, a day for visiting with friends and neighbors, and the treat of a free movie, paid for by merchants whose names were credited on the silent screen.

Admission prices of 10 and 25 cents sound astonishingly low to movie goers of today but was "pretty good money" for the customers of the Best.

Thelma, Alva's wife, recalls she saw her first movie in the Best when she was 15 years old.

Destroyed by the "1929 tornado," The Best was succeeded by a new and larger theater, the Melba, built by the late Jim Fuller. Changes of ownership through the years brought changes in names but the building still stands today. No longer used and now wearing the name Alameda, perhaps ghosts of those early day movies provide the "best entertainment" for a scampering mouse in its deserted walls.

Magnificent in its heyday, the one-time Melba Theatre was movie house, sandwich shop and ice cream parlor and, at one time, even provided a small space where Milady could have her hair "marcelled" by Mrs. Paul Burrus.

Resplendent with its marble soda fountain, graced with a long mirrored background, the Melba's customers could see movies each night of the week and matinees on Saturdays.

Popular gathering place, folks stopped in for the sandwiches and other fare served up by "soda jerks" who at one time included I. B. Holt and the late Paul Burrus.

Mrs. Fuller, Delia, sold tickets at the box office, young Jack Fuller and the late Grace White played the piano to the tempo of the action of the silent movies. Fuller filled in in every capacity and was projectionist when there were no older boys begging for the opportunity of "running the show."

Admission to the treat of treats, Mrs. Fuller thinks, was probably a quarter. She remembers vividly the hours such a business required, operating the front each day and the movies each night.

"Just when we'd think we'd have a night we'd get to close up early, here'd come a late customer. Then the entire show would be re-run for that person's benefit."

A frequent late arrival, she recalls, was Price Holland, who was to later become owner of the theater, sell it and enter the movie business in Plainview with very successful results.

Mrs. Fuller explains that it was some time before they learned Holland's lateness was the result of his chores - hand milking some 20-30 cows each evening after his day's work.

Depression, the word that still brings dread memories of the changing decades, struck hard at the Melba, too. Mrs. Fuller recalls they lost the fine fountain and equipment in the disaster but were able to keep the building.

Intervening years are sketchy but the movie house became revitalized again in the mid 30's.

Holland, whose home is still Plainview, recalls that the "talkies" had arrived in Olton not quite a year before he purchased the theater in September, 1937.

Another fountain replaced the one erased by the Great Depression. Movie-goers had the thrill of also hearing their favorite movie stars as their story flickered across the "silver screen." And they could enjoy the bliss of ice cream confections in an era when such simple things were treasured.

Ever changing times brought a new era to movies after World War II when the drive-in movie left its birthplace in California and spread across the nation.

The novel idea caught on quickly because of the convenience of bundling the children in the family car and the "come as you are" advantages.

Oltonites got their own drive-in movie and etched in the concrete at the "Mustang" is the date "June 1952."

Movies have made an indelible mark. Without the silver screen, few Oltonites would ever have known the talents of Rudolph Valentino, Mary Pickford, Janet Gaynor, Clark Gable, Gary Cooper, Claudette Colbert, Gene Autry or the kids in Our Gang.

Perhaps the filmland makers have been right; "Movies are your best entertainment."

SWPS Office Heavily Damaged By Freak 'Drive In' Crash

"Unbelievable," "I wouldn't have believed it," and "I don't see how it did it," were some of the most talked phrases heard about Olton last Thursday morning following a freak crash on eighth street at Southwestern Public Service's office.

About 10 a. m. Thursday, a 1967 Chevrolet driven by J. C. Roberson crashed into the plate glass front and entered the office of the utility company.

Neither Roberson nor his wife, who was riding with him, were hurt when their car jumped the approximately 12-inch high curb and hurtled completely inside the building before coming to a stop at the petition which is built 22 feet back of the office front.

Office of manager, Melvin Rape, was demolished in the shattering crash. Extensive damages were also inflicted on the tile floor covering, office counter and the petition wall. Two of the three plate glass windows, reaching to the sidewalk level, were shattered. A water heater, displayed in the office, also bore the marks of the accident with a deep dent in its gleaming side.

At early prestime, official estimates of the damages to the office had not been made. City Marshal Ped Hunt placed a personal estimation of $5000 damages to the SWPS office.

Damages to the auto were remarkable minor in light of the freakish details of the accident. Hunt estimated that to be $200.

Secretary Berniece Davis was the employee in the office at the time of the accident. Henry Cowart had stopped in the office and was chatting with Mrs. Davis at the time of the accident. Neither was looking toward the window and their first impression was there had been an explosion.

"I thought the car had stopped until my desk began moving toward me," Mrs. Davis said. Her desk, placed back of the interior counter, was moved backwards leaving just a small amount of space between the desk and a petition wall at her back. Cowart also was unhurt.

Impressions of persons in neighboring stores was also that an explosion had occurred. Eye witnesses declared they could not believe their own eyes.

Olton Walkers Win!

Calvin Hill is coming to the city to present a well earned award.

According to word received here Friday, the Fellowship of Christian Youth in Olton Junior High School is winner of the state's highest award as supportive organization in the fund drive for benefit of the Association for Retarded Children.

To present the well earned tribute Hill, Dallas Cowboy who served as National Chairman of the fund drive, will make an appearance in Olton. Date of his visit has not been determined.

Tabulations made in Austin show the FCY contribution totaled $1905. A total of 77 bikers/walkers were given encouragement by 20 who helped with refreshments. To determine a per capita basis a figure of 1800 population was used. Olton's supportive group placed above the other 50 counties covered in the effort.

Winning second place in state was Schulenburg, a town of 2000 population with a contribution of $1800.

Sponsors leading the youth group in the endeavor were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Shackelford, Carl McClure and Mrs. R. V. Allcorn.

Vaccinations Of Dogs Set

Dr. Joe G. Peoples, veterinarian from Town and Country Animal Clinic in Plainview, will be in Olton Saturday, July 14 from 1 to 6 p. m. in the fire station for the convenience of pet owners.

Persons who have dogs who have not had their shots this year are reminded of this opportunity.

Oltonites Visit Germany As Part Of Crusade Team

"Our object was to tell those people what Christ has done in our lives, and this we were able to do," commented Mrs. Archie Sorley.

"We were able to build warm relationships with our host families and with those with whom we had contact," Robert Sivilly added, "and should we see them again, say even five years from now, I believe we will be glad to see each other."

The two are members of a team of five people from First Baptist Church recently returned from a two week stay in Germany as members of New Life for Germany Crusade. Others making the trip were Archie Sorley, Bryan and Vic Allcorn.

Sponsored by the Worldwide Evangelistic Foundation, the five made the trip at the invitation of the Rev. Mickey Warlick, evangelist of Seminole. Also accompanying the Rev. Warlick were his wife, Shirley; a music teacher, Joyce Cate of Seminole; and Jackie Johnston, student at Wayland Baptist College.

The Warlick team was a part of the approximately 500 people in Germany for the Crusade. Making the trip in three planes, the entire group met in Dusseldorf for orientation. Dividing into 25 teams, each team went the following day to a pre-assigned church for an eight day meeting.

The Warlick team was assigned to Hameln Baptist Church, in a city of 60,000 people, a city made famous in literature by a "pied piper."

The overland trip to Hameln took the travelers through the Rhur Valley, crowded metropolitan area and industrial center of Germany, in which ten million people live.

The trip also included a tour along the famous Autobahn. "On this roadway, except for designated sections, there is no

Voice Of Business

BY ARCH BOOTHE

Why Phase 48 Won't Work

Dear Grandchildren -- you have asked me to explain how we got to Phase 48 of our temporary economic controls program. I will try.

Phase 48, as you may remember, resulted from the failure of Phase 47. Phase 47 was, of course, a response to the widely acknowledged faults of Phase 46.

Phase 46....but maybe I'd better go back to the beginning.

It all started with the first wage-price freeze in the summer of 1971. This freeze was supposed to halt the inflation that resulted from President Johnson's efforts to pay for both the war in Vietnam and the Great Society welfare programs without a tax increase.

Like you and me, governments can pay their debts by asking for a tax increase, which is like a pay raise. Unlike you and me, governments can also pay their debts by printing more money. When a government prints money faster than a country's businesses are able to make things to spend it on, prices go up, because there is more money to buy things with, but not more things to buy. This is what caused the trouble in 1971.

Freezes cause economic problems in the long run, because businessmen cannot tell what people want most when all prices are regulated by law rather than by what people are willing to spend. Since the important men in the government are smart enough to know this, they announced that the freeze would only be "temporary."

And so it was. The first freeze was replaced by a more flexible series of controls called "Phase II." Under Phase II, prices and wages could increase, if the government approved.

The freeze and Phase II looked good at first, because the economy was slowing down anyway when they were applied. Prices and wages usually don't rise in a slow economy. But many people do not understand that, so they gave Phase II the credit for the moderation of price increases.

However, trouble was building up under the calm exterior of Phase II. Some important commodities began to run short, because businessmen could not make any money by supplying them under the Phase II price limits. Many big labor unions were allowed wage increases much larger than Phase II was supposed to permit, because the government was afraid of them.

So, to make a virtue of necessity, the government officially ended Phase II about the time it would have come apart at the seams anyway. Phase II was replaced by Phase III, which was very loose.

All of the pressure that had been building up under Phase II came out into the open in Phase III. Prices went up fast. Some bad luck added to that. Bad weather in our Midwest farm belt and a worldwide shortage of food raised food prices much faster than usual. The government's banker, the Federal Reserve System, increased the money supply too fast in 1972. Devaluation of the dollar made American goods more attractive to foreigners, which added to shortages on the American market. A whole complex series of events caused a shortage of the fuels from which we get most of our electricity and gasoline.

Prices climbed fastest for those things that were in shortest supply. This stimulates increased production, which is healthy. But high prices are unpopular, for very understandable reasons. Politicians began to claim that the government could prevent high prices just by passing a law against them. Many people want to believe that, because passing a law is much easier than increasing supplies, which is the only real cure for high prices.

When enough people believed that passing a law was the answer to our problems, President Nixon was forced to act.

So the President proclaimed the second freeze, and then Phase IV, which was a lot like Phase II.

Phase IV didn't work, of course. Phase V was initiated to make up for its defects.

Phase V didn't work either. And that brought along Phase VI.

Anyway, that's how we eventually got to Phase 48. People just refused to believe that some problems have no easy solutions. So they began to hope that the answer lay in the next law, the next new economic plan, the next phase. And there were plenty of politicians ready to tell them they were right.

There still are. That's why it's so important for you to study hard to learn how our economy really works.

With greatest affection, your loving grandfather.

Texas Dept. Of Public Safety Recruiting Applicants

The Texas Department of Public Safety is actively recruiting applicants to fill the ranks of its uniformed services. Major C.W. Bell, Regional Commander of the DPS, announced that the training school for new uniformed law enforcement personnel will begin September 25.

The Major noted that the DPS has been increasingly successful in recruiting persons from minority groups to these positions and said efforts in this direction will continue.

Also in keeping with the current trend, female applicants will be considered for these rewarding careers in law enforcement.

Major Bell said general qualifications for DPS officers are these: applicants must be 20 through 35 years of age; height not less than 68 inches; weight not less than 20 pounds per inch of height; visual acuity of 20/40 correctable to 20/20; and a minimum of 45 semester hours of college credit.

Applications may be obtained by contacting any DPS employee or any DPS office. The completed application form should be taken to offices in Lubbock, Amarillo or Wichita Falls where the competitive examination is given each Tuesday and Wednesday at 9 a.m.

Major Bell said persons selected as cadets will be assigned to Austin for training at the DPS Academy. The salary during training will be $625.00 per month. Upon being commissioned the salary is raised to $719.00 monthly with the opportunity to advance to $848.00 per month.

Uniformed personnel receive additional longevity pay for each five years of service to 25 years. They are also granted a monthly uniform cleaning allowance, and receive travel expenses when away from their station.

Uniforms, vehicles, weapons, ammunition and related equipment are furnished. Group life and hospitalization are paid for the employee and dependent coverage is available at reasonable rates. Officers participate in the Employees Retirement System of Texas as well as Social Security. Vacation, holidays and sick leave are as provided for all State employees.

Successful graduates will be assigned to the Highway Patrol, License and Weight Service, Motor Vehicle Inspection Service, or Drivers License Service, according to the needs of the DPS and consideration of personal preference.

All officers are eligible to compete for promotions after two years of service. Experienced uniformed DPS personnel interested in criminal investigation may apply for appointment to positions in the Criminal Law Enforcement Division, which includes Narcotics, Intelligence, Motor Vehicle Theft and Texas Ranger services as vacancies occur.

Arrangements will be made for a physical examination. A character investigation will be conducted and those persons who are accepted for employment will be notified prior to the beginning of the September recruit school.

What Makes Dieting Successful

Can you eat everyday foods and still lose weight? If you possess (or can develop) these seven qualities you can achieve SUCCESS in attaining and maintaining your desired weight. In the next seven paragraphs success is spelled out for you and you can obtain this success by following the letter in each paragraph.

SERIOUSNESS about trimming your figure...secure in the knowledge that you will feel better...look better...be happier.

UNDERSTANDING that it took time to put pounds on...and it will take time to shed them...but that persistence pays.

COURAGE to stick to your weight reduction plan regardless of how tempting are the second servings...and the rich desserts.

CALORIE-CONSCIOUSNESS...knowing that when food provides more calories than your body uses...the excess is stored as body fat.

EXECUTIVE ABILITY in making a decision to lose weight...to follow through from firm starting date to accomplishment of goal.

SENSE OF HUMOR to smile at your well meaning friends who try to lure you away from your diet before your desired weight is attained.

About the FOOD way to WEIGHT REDUCTION...The Advantages meals with the family can be enjoyed since you, too, may eat everyday foods, such as meat, milk, eggs, cheese, fruits, vegetables, cereals, and bread and butter. You will form good food habits which will be the basis for maintaining your desired weight throughout life. There is less danger of putting pounds back on because you have a better understanding of foods and food values.

Eating away from home is easier since your meals don't require special formula foods. You will save money because you eat from the family table and expenditures for special preparation are not required.

The disadvantages - you must exercise control in regulating the amount and kind of foods you eat rather than rely on a "measured" preparation. You must develop an understanding of the general calorie count of foods as a guide in choosing alternates in your diet.

THE PROLOGUE TO THE SUCCESS STORY...(1) Talk to your physician unless you only want to lose a few pounds. Health may be endangered if an attempt is made to shed pounds too rapidly or foods are eliminated which contain needed nutrients. (2) How much you need to lose and how fast you should lose it is best decided by your physician. In general, you can lose 1 1/2 to 2 pounds per week if you cut 1000 calories from your daily needs. (3) Decide when you will start. Will it be tomorrow, next Monday, OR one of those future days which never arrive? (4) START on the day decided. No more putting it off.

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News
Compiled From Sources
Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Texas continues to be the number one cattle feeding state in the nation, but Iowa is rapidly closing the gap. As of May 1, there were 2,163,000 head of cattle and calves on feed in Texas. Iowa had 2,003,000 head of cattle and calves on feed.

Nationwide, there were 9,391,000 head on feed in the seven major cattle feeding states. This is a decrease of three per cent from a month ago, but still six per cent above those of a year ago.

The number on feed in Texas is 17 per cent above a year ago, but four per cent below the number on feed a month ago.

Marketings of fat cattle during April totaled 353,000 head which is one per cent below marketings for March.

WHEAT harvest is now underway in Texas with a projected yield of 26 bushels per acre, a record high. Economists are predicting that wheat prices should remain at profitable levels.

The Texas' 1973 wheat production is estimated by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service at 83,000,000 bushels. This would be almost double the production of last year.

Planted acres, estimated at 4,400,000, compared with 4,050,000 a year ago. Acres for harvest as grain are estimated at 3,200,000-60 per cent more than the 2,000,000 acres harvested last year.

Meanwhile, oats have also been making excellent progress. Grain crop prospects are excellent and harvest is underway in southern areas.

Texas farmers are catching up rapidly with planting plans. Cotton still lags behind schedule but with dry weather producers can and will speed up in their plantings of the crop.

Range conditions are described as good to excellent throughout the state with only a few exceptions. As of May 1, range and non-irrigated pasture conditions averaged 88 per cent; this is five percentage points above April 1 and 26 points better than a year ago.

PRODUCTION of milk in Texas shows only a one per cent variation. Production during April totaled 307,000,000 pounds. This is one per cent above April of 1972 but one per cent below the previous month's production.

Milk production per cow averaged 855 pounds, which is 55 pounds under the nationwide average. Nationwide, milk production is estimated to be 1.4 per cent less than April a year ago. Production during the first four months of this year is almost two per cent less than last year.

Problems plaguing producers are noted in a special report citing that even though milk prices are 53 cents more than last year the ration value increased 83 cents.

A FOURTH more citrus production for Texas is now indicated. As of May 1, the Texas citrus crop is forecast at 18,900,000 boxes, which is 26 per cent above last year.

Grapefruit production is now expected to total 11,500,000 boxes, up 25 per cent from last year.

Most citrus trees had a good bloom for the 1973-74 crop with some fruit already starting to size. Irrigation water is ample and should provide adequate supplies during May.

DEBRA GRAHAM

Cook Of The Week

Cooking is a hobby for our Cook of the Week, Debra Graham, who shares one recipe she has been using since she was about three years old.

These easy to make brownies were not only good for a small beginner cook to make, they were also very good to eat so Debra's made them through the years.

Just graduated from Olton High School, Debra plans to study at Bethany Nazarene College, the alma mater of her parents and older sisters, Linda and Rita. She would like to major in sociology.

Linda, who is Mrs. Mike May of Aurora, Colo. is a graduate of Bethany; Rita is a junior.

Debra has two younger sisters, Jimmie Kay and Diane. She has a little brother, Steve.

Active in Future Homemakers of America all four years in high school, Debra also participated in choir and was a member of National Honor Society.

In addition to cooking, she likes to read and enjoys basketball and track. In this, OHS's first year for girls track, she ran the 100-yd dash and the 440 relay.

Debra is one of 10 Olton students who has just returned from a Thespian tour in New York City and Washington D. C. Crammed with so many thrills, Debra believes the highlight of the New York portion was a visit to the Waldorf Astoria and seeing Robert Goulet. "Cyrano" was her favorite play.

In the nation's capitol, her highlight would have to be the Lincoln Memorial, she says.

Debra is pictured holding a hand carved box, made in Russia, which she bought for her mother on their visit to the United Nations.

Hints for HOMEMAKERS

Tested Tips To Help You

Sticking and scorching is usually caused by excess moisture or improper iron setting. To avoid, do not apply spray starch heavily and do iron with setting recommended for fabric type.

To restore body to permanent press and make ironing easier, apply a quality spray starch like Niagara. Spray lightly and evenly. Since some fabrics do not absorb starch readily, allow starch to penetrate a few seconds before ironing.

Launder dark fabrics separately from whites and from items such as terry cloth that readily give off lint. Apply spray starch and iron on the wrong side. If necessary to iron on the right side, protect from shine with a press cloth.

To insure that an aerosol starch container will spray properly, Niagara spray starch offers these suggestions: shake can well before using; turn spray button arrow to red mark on can; hold can at a 45° angle; and replace cap before storing. If starch does not come out in a fine, even spray, remove spray button and rinse under warm running water.

Germany

speed limit," Sorley said...."and they believe it!" He told of cruising at speeds of 120 and 140 miles per hour.

The Americans lived in German homes and pronounce them perfect hosts, mindful of every need. One of the visitors said "we enjoyed getting to know these people, to see how they lived, and to know they have problems and want solutions...the same as we do."

Sivley, a high school administrator, visited in city schools for comparison. He learned that they offer 13 years of schooling; attend classes only in the morning, six days per week. Elimination examinations begin about the ninth year and students failing to make proper grades are not allowed to continue studies, but are channeled into trade schools. Foreign languages are required, and Bible study is offered.

He was also told this is the first year for co-educational schooling. The process begun in sixth grade this year and will proceed upward. Most popular sports are basketball, soccer and gymnastics. Sivley held conversation with an English teacher who believes American schools are much more progressive.

While the class rooms in the school he visited were very old and showed no modern furnishings, Sivley was very impressed with the science department. "They had everything, chemicals and apparatus-everything," he stated.

Mrs. Sorley, also a teacher, visited in an elementary school and found it to be a new and modern plant. She, too, was concerned that the buildings are used only in morning sessions, but almost the year around. Mrs. Sorley was told of a shortage of teachers, she stated that should a teacher become ill, or for some reason was unable to attend school the class was dismissed and there are no substitute teachers available.

Sorley, a farmer at heart, looked for growing conditions. He was surprised to learn that all grains, wheat, barley and the like are labeled "corn." He stated that the economy of the land seems in good condition, there is no unemployment problem and everyone looks forward to their "four-week-paid-holiday."

Most of the people the travelers met had fled East Germany, some during World War II, some at later dates. Hameln suffered no bombing and had no ruins, while nearby Hannover was hard hit.

One disturbing feature for all of the group was the early (4a. m.) sunrise. All commented upon the beauty and cleanliness of the land, the lush growth and profusion of flowers.

"They know about Water-gate" Sorley said, "they mentioned it and it was in all the papers....I know, because it was the only word I could recognize."

Bryan and Vic Allcorn remember, especially, long hours of walking on Hameln streets, witnessing with tracts printed in German. They remember varying results, rebuffs and grateful acceptance.

They feel that German young people have rebelled against the staid sort of religion the older people continue to insist upon. They see nothing in it, and are protesting.

The boys also remember "juice parties" of Coke and "apfelsaft" without benefit of ice...delicious cookies to be purchased on most any corner, bicycle riding in the park, hill climbing and "eating in a castle!" And, with sheepish grins, they tell of approaching the bed the first night in the German home and wondering what the feather coverlet was? Since it was all encased in a cover, snapped on...they took it to be a sleeping bag, unsnapped the end crawled inside to sleep.

Tentative plans are being made for the Germans to return the visit three years from now. "Nothing", the travelers all agree, "would make me happier than to have these people come to visit in my town, my church and my home."

FAMILY REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gabehart and their daughter-in-law and grandson, Mrs. Preston Leggett and Britt of Lubbock, attended the Ellis family reunion held June 23 and 24 in the Girl Scout House of Stephenville. Among the thirty-five relatives present were Mrs. Gabehart's brothers-in-law and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dominey of Hamlin, and Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Woods of Stephenville. # INDEPENDENCE DAY

1973

July Fourth...a day for remembering the birth of our great nation. This was the turning point for both America and its people. On this day, in 1776, the Declaration of Independence was adopted, making our country free and securing for all citizens "certain unalienable Rights...among them...Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness." Today, as then, Americans affirm these rights.
