REFUGEE LEADER SAYS BIG ATTACK TO BE IN NORTH

CONCENTRATION OF REBEL TROOPS BEING PREPARED FOR THERE

LACKS MUNITIONS

COULD FIND 500,000 MEN IF HE HAD ARMS FOR THEM

By Associated Press
TUCSON, Arizona, Dec. 6 (AP)—Thousands of Mexicans in the United States are willing to cross the border to join a revolutionary movement against the Calles government, Adolfo de La Huerta, former provisional president of Mexico, asserted today.

He followed up his Sunday statement that he would lead the revolt, once the anti Calles forces have captured a border garrison, by declaring that the revolutionary movement is taking it all states of the southern republic. "If I had arms and ammunition for 500,000 soldiers," De La Huerta said, "I could find that many soldiers to fight against the present government." He explained that "only the lack of munitions" has prevented the revolutionists from showing greater strength.

The one-time President contended that the federal troops number only 40,000 and that there is not reliable, as even some of the generals are waiting the proper time to desert. Revealing in part the plans of the revolutionists, De La Huerta said that the heaviest attack against the government is to be made in Northern Mexico and that a movement now is under way for a concentration of rebel troops there.

Christmas Cheer Jars Put Out for Citizens to Fill With Small Coins

Christmas Cheer Jars, which will give every person in Lubbock an opportunity to aid the poor of this city, will be placed in a number of stores today, and people who feel they are not able to make a large donation may contribute any amount from a penny up by dropping it in these jars.

It is now only a little more than two weeks until Christmas, therefore it is necessary that goodfellows get busy and make their donations at once. We have about 400 on hand through last year's campaign, and need over 100 for Christmas. Subscriptions follow:

Senator Walsh, of Montana, yesterday requested an investigation into the campaign of Senator Gould, of Maine, just before that new member of the senate was sworn.

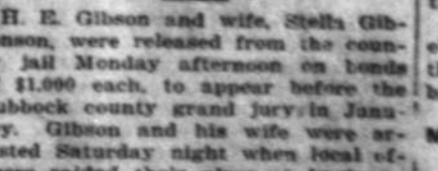

Galligan, of HERRIN, MISSOURI, was charged in a warrant sworn to by Mrs. Charlie Woolard, with the murder of her husband, one of six killed in a riot and anti-klan gun fight at HERRIN, August 30, 1924. The arrest, however, was demanded by klanmen who in the interest of peace had agreed with members of the other faction that there would be no further prosecutions on either side.

The former sheriff furnished $5,000 bond pending action of the grand jury. Galligan, whose spectacular four years term left him aged far beyond his 33 years, said he planned to return to the coal mines which he entered as a boy of 11.

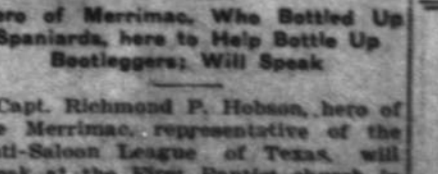

The sheriff's office has been a storm center since the HERRIN mine riots of 1922, when twenty-two were killed. Galligan came into office shortly after the riots and soon became engaged in warfare with klanmen, led by the St. Glenn Young, whose liquor raids he resented.

Officers Got Young Trio For Austin Robbery; One Says He's Just Been Pardoned

AUSTIN, Dec. 6 (AP)—Three youths from San Antonio believed to have been the three who stole an automobile from Floyd Woolsey of Austin, and then staged a daylight robbery of a shop operated by A. L. Fugle, here, captured on the Post road a few miles east of San Antonio Monday night. Officers fired a fusillade of bullets at them.

One of the captives said he was celebrating his 23rd day of liberty from the penitentiary having been pardoned by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson.

A Lubbock Mexican paid a $15 fine in city court Monday on a charge of carrying a pistol. The Mexican, it is charged, took the box from a local dry goods store late Saturday afternoon, but clerk saw him. He was arrested and lodged in jail, and Monday he paid the fine. The stolen box was returned to the dealer.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE
To the home of PROF and MOL-LIE ELWELL in Cambridge, Ind., one night in October of 1925, comes MARTHA DALTON, a nurse, bearing with her a woman who had fainted on the Chicago-Indianapolis train on which Martha had been traveling.

Prof Elwell is an artist. He has a five-year-old son, JIM. Prof and Mollie take the stranger in and, late that night, two girls are born to the woman, who dies a few hours later without leaving a trace of her identity. She had mentioned the name Jack and babbled of leaving a husband who was untrue. Her attire had indicated her to be a person of wealth and culture.

The story moves forward to June of 1916. The allies are demanding that the United States join hands with them in the war, and in Prof Elwell's workshop, where he paints sidewalks and theater curtains, the reader is introduced to Jim, Elwell, now 22, and his father's partner, and to the twin girls, who have grown up in the family and are now 17.

NOW BEGIN THE STORY
CHAPTER II
"You're just in time, my dear," was Prof Elwell's greeting to the twins on this day in June when he had quenched his thirst and wiped off his lips.
"You must have had a hunch. Here, Rusty, you're first by reason of being fifteen minutes older than Betty."
"But your whiskers are so very fine," said the girl who held a quart, you know."

Rusty, more formally known as Margaret, accepted the proffered "cup" and clamped her lips over it. Her gravity made it all the more ludicrous.
She made funny noises in her throat as she sipped and then passed the pail to Betty, who just as gravely went through the same motions. Jim looked on and waited.

"Great Snakes!" he burst out suddenly. "Don't you ever come up for a little air? Where do you think you are—in a brewery?" and he reached for the pail, a fierce glare about his eyes. He knew that Betty had not detected the taste of beer and only made a pretense of drinking because they thought they were fooling him, and of course he must let his pals
"do their stuff." It would be unwise-ness to call them bluff.

"Goodies takes," he exclaimed better, and she looked much surprised.
"My but you're stinky with your old air. Ask a lady in to have a drink and then ask it out of her hand!
I haven't you any manners!"

The answer came from Jim in surprise. "And there was no bluff about that 'funny noise' the twins were making down; the lids were falling fast."
"Got plenty of manners," gasped Jim finally when he had pulled his pail out of the pail. "Just didn't want to get light, that's all." He winked at his father and set the empty can down on a nearby table.

"What do you think of the curtain?" asked the twins, waving a hand toward the big canvas. "Know what it means? Who is the dusky bird in red suits swooning to the air around the whiskers? You tell us, Betty, you know your Shakespeare."

Betty studied the picture with a great pretense of puzzled awe, pursing her pretty lips and signifying by aboriginal grimaces that she was considering very deeply.

"I never could guess, Jim," she answered finally with an unworried sweetness—she who had read the story of Desdemona many times and who represented well what the picture represented.

Jim eyed her with keen approval.
"You're getting on great," he stated with confident familiarity. "As a lady little liar I've got to hand it to you. You're learning fast. By the way, you're twenty you'll be well fitted to realize your life's ambition, to be a candidate queen of the movies.
You're pretty near able to pass manner right now."

Betty bowed.

Jim told her there was someone present on whom she might practice her wiles. "Oh, Vamp Prof! Into finding the border on that curtain and I'll doll up and take you over to the place for dinner. He inquired of Betty whether his leg was passable and then went on to explain that he had heard the Palace had a new engagement. "How does that sound to you?"

"Kids!" the twins sneered in unison. Margaret added, "Where do you think that kid stuff, Jim? We're nearly thirteen!"

Jim grinned tolerantly and admitted that he expected they'd grow up one day, and turned toward the moment to change his clothes.

Betty started in at once on her assignment of vampire Prof into doing his work. Her efforts seemed to have an immediate effect. A little to the left of his path-flicked cheek, a little rumples of his iron-gray hair and little kink on the corner of his lip of the Vamp had her subject purring at grinning like the famous Cheshire cat.

But the treatment appeared to have no effect on Prof for he remained seated after the trio had come in fond, retrospective light in his eyes.

The painting he ignored.

"Gad, what girls!" he soliloquized softly, his mental gaze turning back down the years. "Both of 'em. Just like Mollie was at their age."

He stared reflectively at the canvas and Jim's unfinished work. He asked himself, "What about Jim? Where does he get off? He seems to consider them kids yet just about the same as he did five years ago. Kids nothing!"

He told himself that seventeen and eight was older by some three months than Mollie had been when she married him. And both of them were eternally petting and kissing Jim, "just like Betty was vamping me as she calls it."

They were like a brace of "darn" littens with just about as much of an idea of the danger concealed in their soft little paws as kittens seemed to have. How did Jim really stand and where? Did he really like them both just the same, just as they would if they had been, in fact, his sisters?

"No use to ask him; they're still his kid pals. How can a boy of twenty-two be that way with two such glowing girls? I'll have to talk with Mollie on this."

But still he remained seated, lost in the hazy mists of the summer noon dream, living again through the days that had passed. On the line of his mind he saw the years pile up one by one and the gradual change take place in the growth of the twins. Across that lens fitted pictures of the two as they looked at different periods in the seventeen years since that night in October when they had come into the world.

They were children playing with Jim about the house and yard. Then came their school days and Jim's graduation six years before. Then the twins' own graduations in the previous June. Then came the celebration of the girls at the age of seventeen, their birthday celebrated by a visit of the little family of five to Chicago, where they had gone to the opera and seen Mary Garden and heard her sing. From that time on, he remembered those days with a keen socility and so strongly into the lives of Mollie, Jim and himself, had been dreaming their dreams and talking of the day when they, too, might see their names flashing in the white lights of Lima.

Betty-Margaret—who saw herself as a descendant of Elizabeth, a descendant of legends, Betty-Elizabeth —who dreamed of singing before the crowded heads of Europe—when the war was over, of course. And who would consent to being a movie queen and a candidate queen of the movies?
Mollie, a dreamer of artistic dreams, missed his dinner on that day in June of the year 1916.

Life is a series of years and a succession of days. And this has been the case of Jim and Mollie ever since. It was that way with the twins and Jim Elwell.

Betty Elwell jerked open the screen door opening onto the porch of the little Cambridge cottage one Saturday morning and came rushing into the sitting room where Prof and Mollie were talking. Her hair was flying in a glittering spread of coppery gloss.
Her cheeks were flaming and her eyes glowed.

The door banged behind her and she drew up in front of Prof and Mollie, panting and greatly excited.

"Where's Jim? I've got something to tell him—quick!"

Prof and Mollie Elwell stared in amazement.

"Quick!" repeated this flame of excitement. "I've got something to tell him that won't wait!"

Jim, his mother managed to gasp was out in the woodshed. She had heard he was shining his shoes. "But what in heaven's name is the matter?" What's happened?"

But she, flame was blazing its way through dining room and kitchen, the sheen of coppery hair trailing out by its wake like the spark-blows tail of a fiery comet. Mollie turned to Prof, an inquiring look in his eyes, but his suffice reassured her and she remained in her chair.

formation that carried a vague hint of what it was all about.

"Quick, Jim—come! He's mounting his nose for us! He got fresh with Betty an' me! We were out in the back yard under the 'trees dryin' our hair. He came along by the alley fence. He's bigger'n you are—that made no difference to Jim he told her, beginning to roll up his sleeve—
"an' he started makin' smart cracks at us. Betty told him to go on about his business or he'd get thrashed. He said our whole family an' all our friends couldn't lick him and he'd go on when he got good an' ready!"
So Betty is tryin' to keep him busy till I get you."

Jim needed no further enlightenment. Some bum had got smart with his kid pals. That was enough. "Lead me to 'im."

In the back yard, with a space divided off for croquet grounds, was a chump of maple trees. Under one of these trees farthest away from the alley stood Betty quivering with indignation. Her wealth of hair, like Rusty's, spread like a shimmering cloud of russet gold over her shoulders. Leaning against the back fence with an amused grin on his lips was a person of decidedly tough aspect, with the cut and trim of a young Jim opened up on him from a distance of twenty feet.

"Say, you're barked, what's the big idea, gettin' fresh with a couple of little girls in their own back yard?"
"Tryin' to stir up some trouble for yourself?"

2,500 Search Loot for Lost Property

While a major portion of the articles confiscated by city officers during a recent raid, at which time four Lubbock young men were arrested, have been identified by owners, quite a few articles remain at the city hall. Almost every day some man or woman calls to look over the goods, and very often they find an article that was stolen from them.

It is estimated that at least 2,500 people have visited the city hall since the raid, and most of them claimed to have had goods stolen during recent months.

TECH WILL LOSE A NUMBER OF STUDENTS UNLESS JOBS ARE FOUND FOR THEM IN LUBBOCK, EMPLOYMENT HEAD SAYS

There are quite a number of boys and a few girls in Texas Technological college who are going to be compelled to leave school by the first of the year unless they secure employment in Lubbock to pay all or, in some instances, part of their expenses, according to Cecil Horn, chairman of the employment committee. Many of these students came here with enough money to carry them through the first term expecting to get work later on.
In other instances conditions at home have changed and parents are unable to render the necessary financial assistance.

Mr. Horn further stated that Lubbock business men had shown a fine spirit of co-operation in their efforts to use college students. Considering the size of the town Lubbock un doubt-edly leads in this matter. And in most cases students are giving satisfaction to their employers. Very few complaints have been made. The employment bureau does not expect a student to be given employment without his returning in exchange full value received. President Horn and the col-

BIG IRRIGATION PROJECT ON IN NORTHERN MEXICO

LAREDO, Texas, Dec. 6 (AP)—One of the most extensive irrigation projects in Northern Mexico, to cost $6-$8,000,000 and involving the damming of the Rio Salado, one of the most important streams in the Mexican republic, is under way. The work is in charge of the J. B. White Engineering Corporation, with offices in New York, London and Mexico City, and this company has established offices at No. 39 Calle de Arce, Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, to handle the business of this project.

The Rio Salado will be dammed at Rodriguez, 43 miles south of Nuevo Laredo, which is across the Rio Grande from Laredo. A system for the irrigating of several hundred thousand acres will be set up. A force of 2,500 men will be employed in construction of the irrigation system.

Too Much 'Acid?'

Excess Uric Acid Gives Rise to Many Unpleasant Troubles.

AUTHORITIES agree that an excess of uric acid is primarily due to faulty kidney action. Retention of this toxic material often makes its presence felt by pain, puffing joints, a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic headache.
That the kidneys are not functioning right is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Thousands assist their kidneys at such times by the use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Doan's Pills are recommended by many local physicians. Ask your neighbor!

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Cromolium, an uncombined crescent that is pleasant to take. Cromolium is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, cromolium is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Cromolium contains, in addition to cromolium, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the crescent action to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the inflamed checks
the growth of the germs.

Cromolium is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial catarrh, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

SANTA CLAUS AND THE SOUTH PLAINS

That the South Plains is to receive a real gift from Santa Claus seems certain as the developments of the new railroad grow from day to day. It would seem at this time that within the present month, and before Christmas Day there will be several crews of flannel-shirted men in the field getting things ready for actual grade work on the new line that will be built into Lubbock, through Lockney and a score of other good South Plains towns on to Plainview and thence to Dimmit to the west of Tulsa.

Frank E. Clarity, vice president and general manager of the Fort Worth and Denver, returning to his office in Fort Worth from a conference at Chicago with Hale Holden, president of the Burlington System, made important announcements.

"We are ready to shoot," Clarity said. "Not a single obstacle is in the way of the new South Plains line. Our engineers will be on the ground in about two weeks, staking out the grades. Mr. Holden and I have studied the Interstate Commerce decision granting us permission to build from Estelina to Plainview and Lubbock, with feeder lines to near Dimmit and to Silverton. We find not a single flaw that would delay work. We are pushing every angle of the job, and as fast as it is possible to arrange for grading and gathering of material, the road will be built. Long before the time limit in December, 1928, we expect to have overnight sleeping car service from Fort Worth to Lubbock and Plainview."

Contracts will be let in a few weeks for grading, Clarity said. Several of the largest concerns in the country will be asked to bid on the work. Several crews would be employed so that completion of each section would be timed with the other sections. The hardest part of the work will be building up the Caprock," Clarity said. "There will be a 1 per cent grade westward onto the Plains. The grade eastward will be about 6 per cent, showing that the heavy hauls we expect from crops will be handled easily, while the empty cars and light merchandise trains will go west on the steeper grade. The terrain is almost ideal from this point of view. The grade at the steepest point is about the average for the entire Fort Worth and Denver to Texline. This grade, 1 per cent, is much easier to negotiate than Colorado conditions offer. There the grade is as much as 1.56 per cent in places." Holden was much pleased when informed of the victory before the Interstate Commerce Commission, Clarity said. The Fort Worth and Denver has waged a fight to get a permit for a South Plains line ever since Clarity came to Texas, about six years ago. For the past three years the fight has been bitter, other railroads seeking to be first to enter the rich territory west to Fort Worth not now served adequately by railroads. The growing South Plains section would get but one railroad, it became apparent some time ago when the Interstate Commerce Commission made it apparent only one permit would be granted. The Santa Fe, Frisco, Texas Panhandle and Gulf, and Gulf, Texas and Western were involved in the fight before the Interstate Commerce Commission. The last hearing was at Plainview more than a year ago. Plans for railroad stations, townsites, bridges and other details still are to be worked out, Clarity said.

The beginning of the road that has been sought for so many months, and which will transverse a section of country that is rich in agriculture and in diversified farming products will mean much to the development of this part of the state and will mean a great deal toward the development of the many products of the country that cannot be successfully handled without rail facilities. Within the year this road will be in position to handle the products of all the country tributary to the line. The Burlington system will be a real Santa Claus to the South Plains.

TWO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

Two Constitutional amendments, each touching a vital phase of the State Government, are to be proposed at the forthcoming session of the Legislature and both will have the active support of the Highway Club of Texas, officials of that organization announce.

As outlined by Mr. Tillotson, the author of the bill in a recent address before the Highway Club in Dallas, the amendments will seek to place both the public schools of Texas and its highway system on a more stable financial basis, providing definite sources of revenue for both of them and removing the uncertainties of income now handicapping the two departments. The Highway Club has voiced the sentiment that public education ranks first in popular importance and that highway transportation facilities as a State responsibility and public service rank second. Educational authorities, spurred by the ever-increasing scholastic enrollment, are seeking new and additional sources of revenue, such as taxes on natural resources and other special revenue possibilities. These efforts are indorsed by the Highway Club, and they point out that "until the maintenance of the public schools has been definitely and adequately provided for from funds directly indicated by the Constitution, it will be difficult to secure legislation that will finance a State program of highway development on a solid basis." They likewise say that an independent and exclusive fund for use in establishing, constructing, controlling and maintaining a complete system of State highways is one of the greatest problems confronting the State. Of the two amendments to be proposed seeking to serve these two important public purposes, the first would provide that the Legislature be empowered to authorize at each regular session, on the basis of scholastic enrollment, for the levying and collection of an ad valorem tax on all the property in the State sufficient to maintain all public schools, whether in independent or common districts, for an equal period, thus removing all necessity for special appropriations and providing flexibility and absolute certainty of adequate public school fund. The second amendment would direct the Legislature to provide for a State system of public highways to be constructed and maintained by the State, and designating motor license fees and a gasoline tax as logical sources of revenue for a distinct and exclusive State highway fund, and to which it may become necessary to add the revenues, in the discretion of the Legislature, from other occupation taxes.

HOGG'S PLAN TO MAKE TEXAS LAND OF TREES

Shortly before Governor Hogg died he said to a number of friends who were gathered around his bedside: "I want no monument of stone or marble, but plant at my head a pecan tree and at my feet an old-fashioned walnut; and when these trees shall bear, let the pecans and the walnuts be given out among the plain people of Texas so that they may plant them and make Texas a land of trees." This was March 2, 1906. In order to carry out definitely the wish of Governor Hogg, his friends called a meeting at Austin on May 29, 1906, of all persons interested in the growing of pecans and walnuts. As a result of this meeting a pecan tree and a walnut tree were planted at the grave of Governor Hogg in Austin. In agreement with and through the co-operation of Will and Mike Hogg, of Houston, sons of Governor Hogg, Dean Kyle has taken over the task of distributing seedling pecans from the nuts gathered from the tree at the grave, which is now bearing. Arrangements have been made to have the pecans gathered every fall and sent to the Horticultural Department of the A. & M. College. The nuts will be planted on the horticultural grounds. The young trees resulting will be taken care of for two years, when they will be sent upon request to the high schools of the state. It is planned first to give one tree to each high school in the county seat of every county where the superintendent of schools and the children will agree to plant the tree and care for it. When these schools have been supplied, trees will be distributed by other high schools. After the schools have been supplied, it is planned to have a tree planted on every courthouse lawn in the State. Nuts from all these trees, to be known as the Hogg Memorial Trees, are to be distributed for planting through the school children to the homes in the surrounding sections, thus bringing about in truth the realization of Governor Hogg's wish that Texas might become a land of trees.

INSPIRATION

To put all of the emphasis on the value of an education is a mistake in so far as education without inspiration is valueless. Only when you include inspiration as an element of education or one of its by-products can you rate education above all other advantages. There are educated men, well-read men and intelligent men who are of little value to themselves or society because they have not that divine spark of inspiration which puts education to work and without which education can not work. Education comes to man through reading, talking, listening and thinking. Inspiration comes with it through the right kind of reading, the right kind of conversation and the deep and profound sort of thought. In other words, some literature conveys book learning and other literature proposes only to inspire the reader, to lift him out of his work-a-day stupor. Unknown to many, the human mind, by proper impetus, is capable of kindling the divine spark of inspiration. There are many workmen who are stirring their creative ambitions by daily meditation on the ideals of their occupation and upon the vast possibilities lying dormant in their field of labor. No man ever suffered by imagining his job bigger than it really was. Of such imaginings is inspirations made. Inspiration hitched up to education or just plain knowledge is making men, communities, nations, business enterprises and all the great inventive, industrial and commercial marvels of the twentieth century. "There can be no great and lasting work without inspiration," wrote Emerson.

OUT OUR WAY

SO THINK WE

We think a lot of folks think they have reached a conclusion when they have merely reached a period.

We think there possibly may be something more foolish than arguing with a woman but we have never discovered it.

We think the Christmas savings funds are now ripe and will be all picked before the first of January.

We think usually when you find a critic of this paper he wants to use it as a grindstone to sharpen his ax on, and when he does not put that over he is all disappointed and of course begins to kick.

We think some people would be very willing to share the unhappiness of other people if they can just get in on some of the gossip that the other party may know.

We think that women must be about as dangerous as man when they get drunk. One of the fair sex took on too much fire water and shot her husband. It might have been a Christian act for the community but it was not a very lady-like performance either to get drunk or to shoot her husband.

We think there would never be a divorce suit in court if the wife would always cook what the husband likes and the husband would always like what the wife cooks, but we guess that is a physical and mental impossibility.

We think the chief end of men should be to make both ends meet, and then if there is any laying over to lay it away for a rainy day.

We think people should resolve next year to put on a savings program. There is no need to be stingy, but just honestly saving. It will mean better times and more prosperity throughout the land.

We think if you will do your Christmas thinking early you will possibly avoid the rush.

We think in your same moments before Christmas, before your rubs is over taxed with a lot of things that you will be able to show a lot of thrift and your money will go farther because you can take the time to think and plan and know what will suit your children, your wife or husband or friend best and you will not buy a lot of stuff that you might buy if you were confused and in a hurry.

We think that every wise man knows better than fall in love just before Christmas.

IT IS REPORTED

It is reported that several of Lubbock men are going to leave soon for a bear hunt in the Big Bend section. They will possibly have a deer or turkey minus the bear when they return.

It is reported that there is enough cotton already gathered and piled up in the fields of this county to keep the gins all running full time for the next two weeks.

It is reported that Lubbock county is going to grow this year more than 75,000 bales of cotton. Even at the present price that will bring into Lubbock a lot of brand new money to circulate around here.

It is reported that the Texas turkey crop is worth the millions of dollars. And since paying for four turkey dinners Thanksgiving we believe it will sell for much more than that.

It is reported that one United States Senator was once heard to say that he did not care how much voting was done just so he could do the counting.

It is reported that some people thought the wind was doing overtime last month, when as a matter of fact November failed to produce her average wind run by 624.68.

It is reported that some one is saying now that Jack Dempsey was poisoned when just before he entered the ring in his last fight for the world's championship, but Jack says he was all right, but his opponent just bit him too often and too hard.

It is reported that the banks of the south are in better condition than for many years, and that along will have much to do with the general conditions of the country.

It is reported that the colleges of Texas that are teaching agriculture are reporting a greatly increased enrollment of students in that department now than ever before.

HOW COCONUTS GROW

Why do coconuts have "eyes"? This says the naturalists is the reason: Coconuts generally grow at the edge of seas or rivers, and a good many of the nuts as they become ripe fall into the water. The nuts are covered with a thick husk, which has a waterproof covering, so that they will float. As they float, three eyes, which are all at one end of the nut, are always on top.

Once in the water, nature goes to work. From one of the eyes there comes a shoot that sends forth fresh leaves that act as sails. The wind catches these sails and wafts the coconut on a voyage that may be many miles long. As it sails, the other two eyes send out roots, which at first grow among the fibers of the woody husk.

In time the coconut is swept on another shore, perhaps on another island. The roots embed themselves in the soft earth, the sail becomes the trunk, and very soon a thrifty coconut palm is growing where none grew before.

DIVERSIFICATION BEING PROVEN

J. Westerfeldt Sells 80 Turkeys for $25.25 Saturday

Mr. J. Westerfeldt, of the Robertson community, was in Lorenzo Saturday with a load of 80 turkeys that he sold to the Lorenzo Produce company for $25.25, bringing a little over 32 a piece, and then some people will take their fowls down and plant cotton out to the public road so as to have just as much cotton as possible, when they had raised a few turkeys they could have covered under the fence and grazed on the posts that were trying to destroy their cotton.

Mr. Westerfeldt is a big farmer of the Robertson community, but like all progressive and prosperous farmers, he raises a few chickens and turkeys each year. This 1926 was practically all profit, no expense to raising turkeys on the farm. How many trips would one have to make to town with cotton to clear that much money? It would take about seven days, or perhaps ten days, and hard work at that. Move turkeys, chickens, hogs and cows will solve your financial troubles.

Attend the Crosby County Poultry show at Lorenzo on December 16th, 17th and 18th and see what other people are doing along poultry lines. A great show is in the making and you are invited to attend, and bring your chickens along and place them in the show. It will help to inspire your neighbor to get into the chicken business.—Lorenzo Tribune.

Sudan Farmer Raised 70 Fine Turkeys

T. R. Long, 3 miles south of Sudan, was in town Saturday with a bale of cotton and while waiting his turn at the gin visited this office. In conversation with News man, said that Mrs. Long had raised about 70 fine thoroughbred Mammoth Bronze Turkeys which they hope to sell for breeding purposes in this community. "They are a fine lot of birds" is the way Mr. Long put it and should not be permitted to go to market. They have only 32 gobblers left and if you are wanting good stock for breeding purposes it may pay you to look the flock over before they are all gone. Turkeys are bringing 25c per pound in Sudan this week.—Sudan News.

New Generation Soon to Take Command of Well-Built Ship "Moviana"

By DAN THOMAS NEA Service Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 6.—A new generation soon will begin taking over the reins of the motion picture industry. The old heads who have built up this great enterprise—already the fourth largest industry in the United States—will step aside for the younger men now coming up.

Laemmle

One of the first and most important steps in the change of affairs will be the reorganization of Universal Pictures with Carl Laemmle, Jr., replacing his father as the active chief. This is Laemmle's plan. To carry it out, he has outlined a course of training in all branches of production and distribution for his son, now 29 years of age. Carl, Jr., recently made his first venture into picture production when he wrote and supervised the making of a series of two-reelers which will be released as "The Collegians." The manner in which his son handled this series has convinced Laemmle that with the right kind of training he will soon be able to take over the reins of the entire corporation.

Keep Busy and Be Happy

Ask a healthy adult what he considers one of the worst afflictions in the world, and after a moment's thought he will be likely to answer that a life of forced inactivity is one of the worst things that can come to a man. To be shut in a dark room with nothing to do, not even a piece of paper to tear up, to arise each morning with all faculties alive and fresh but unable to use them must be torment torture. If this is true with regard to grown people whose minds are developed and whose memories are rich and full, how very true it must be of children, who have very little memory and to whom an hour is almost as long as a day to their elders, and yet how often we tell them they must be good without giving them anything to do.

Take, for instance, the child who goes out to tea with his mother. He must "sit still and behave himself." No doubt he will get a cookie or two that will help to break the weariness, but in spite of that prospect how drearily long the afternoon seems. It is to keep him busy, and usually left out-of-doors, until ruined. There was no toy box in the house. Mother took little interest in the playthings, never suggesting games or plays. BASEBALL MOGULS GATHER IN ASHVILLE, N. C.

MAGNATES BARGAIN FOR PLAYERS AS UNPRECEDENTED NUMBER OF SWAPS AND SALES ARE PUT ON PROGRAM

(By The Associated Press)

ASHVILLE, N. C., Dec. 6.—As baseball men gathered here in record-breaking numbers for the annual meeting of the national association of professional baseball leagues, a record also was impending in the number of trades and sales of players discussed, but not completed. All day long the relative merits and demerits of playing talent in many leagues were cited without serious change thus far in the rosters of the clubs.

Secretary John J. Farrell predicted a record breaking attendance. President Mike Sexton was detained by a death in his family.

Thomas J. Hickey, president of the American association was given a Christmas present by his league in the form of $2,000 a year increase in salary. Hickey was re-elected president of the league for a term of three years at a salary of $10,000.

In the absence of an official announcement, friends of Leo Fohl, former manager of the Boston Red Sox, insisted that he will succeed Dan Howley as manager of the pennant-winning Toronto team.

Clarence Rowland, American league umpire who arrived Friday is said to be a special envoy of Dan Johnson, league president. Rowland, in addition to his role of umpire, also is said to be seeking an umpire to take the place of George Moriarty, who recently accepted Ty Cobb's job of managing the Detroit Tigers.

Miller Huggins, manager of the American league champion Yankees, declared he was not looking for players, but with business manager Edward G. Barrow, was being besieged by clubs of AA and A classification for a lift. One outfielder on the New York reserve list is being sought by seven clubs in the big minors.

Texas Has Corner on Heavyweights

NEW YORK, Dec. 6. (AP)—With four leading contenders under long term contracts, Tex Rickard apparently held a corner on the 1927 heavyweight market today after signing up Jack Sharkey and Jim Mahoney of Boston, and Paulino Uzcudun, of Spain, within the last three days.

Their names are to be added to that of Harry Persson, the Swedish challenger, who will do all his boxing next year for Rickard. Jack Dempsey, defeated champion, also has indicated that any future fighting he may do will be under the promotion of the Madison Square Garden, fight impresario.

From this field and possibly Paul Uzcudun, a light heavyweight, it is expected to produce Gene Tunney's next opponent through the simultaneous sales which have been in progress at Madison Square Garden for several weeks. Uzcudun still is outside the fold, but Rickard's friends predicted that he would be added to the group soon. He was his appearance before the state athletic commission recently, seeking to break a contract with Humbert J. Fogarty in order that he might participate in the distribution of prizes.

If Rickard succeeds in controlling Uzcudun, which observers consider highly probable, the only possible contender of national reputation not signed for the Madison Square Garden tournament will be Jack Holroyd. The light heavyweight 175 lb. holder has announced his desire to leave the place, but apparently stands a small chance of getting a test fight unless he breaks away from Fogarty.

Hornsby After 3-Year Contract

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 6. (AP)—President Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Cardinals today took under advisement a request of Rogers Hornsby for his resignation for three years as a player and manager.

Hornsby made the request at a conference in which Breadon proposed that Hornsby ret. himself (AP) — that Hornsby retain his player contract, which still has a year to run, or to combine the old contract with a one year contract as player-manager with an increased salary.

"I told Hornsby," Breadon said, "that the three year contract as proposed ran into bigger money than the club's earning power for the past eight years justified and that one year way as far as I could reasonably see my way to sign."

Breadon said that the fact that he and Hornsby did not reach an agreement today did not mean that they would not "get together," but that he did not know when he would give the Cardinal manager an answer.

Texas Sports Heads to Meet in Dallas

DALLAS, Texas, Dec. 6. (AP)—The greatest all-round football team that has ever played in the southwest—that's the title that has been hung on the 1926 Southern Methodist University Mustangs of Dallas. For the second time in four years this eleven, coached by Ray Morrison, one of the greatest quarterbacks in his day that ever starred for Vanderbilt, has captured the Southwestern Conference championship.

For those who aren't familiar with the Southwestern Conference, its personnel follows: Southern Methodist University, Dallas; University of Texas, Austin; Texas A. and M. College, College Station, Texas; Rice Institute, Houston; Texas Christian University, Fort Worth; and the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville.

It was back in 1923 that Ray Morrison began to put the Mustangs on the football map. That year his team

It was back in 1923 that Ray Morrison began to put the Mustangs on the football map. That year his team

Not only that, but the team marched on through to the conference title. That was the starter, and the Mustangs have been romping over rivals in a manner akin to their name—"wild horses"—ever since. During the last four years, including 1926, S. M. U. has met with only three defeats and only one at the hands of a conference rival. That was last year when it lost to Texas A. and M. 7 to 6, after a hair-raising battle.

One of the other defeats was suffered last year when Benny Owen's strong University of Oklahoma Sooners beat S. M. U. 9 to 0 on a date between two hard conference games. The other loss during the last four years was a defeat in the last few minutes of play in a post-season game with West Virginia Wesleyan in 1924. The score was 9 to 7.

FLOYDADA WHIRLWINDS ARE TO MEET CLARENDON GRIDSTERS FRIDAY AT FLOYDADA; BOTH ARE TITLE HOLDERS

(Special To The Avalanche)

FLOYDADA, Dec. 6.—On next Friday evening the Floydada Whirlwind football squad, champions of class B, district 2 will meet the Clarendon eleven, champions of district 1 class B, on the local gridiron. Preparations for the largest crowd to witness a football game in the history of the county are being made by the Floydada coaches, J. C. Wester and Ike Jys.

Though having tasted defeat twice this year, neither of which was an interscholastic contest, the Whirlwind squad is confident they can defeat the Clarendon team. After defeating the Slaton Tigers, who were district champions for three consecutive years, the boys have gone into training for the coming game with a spirit that will be hard to down.

Two of the most valuable assets for a winning football team have been drilled into the Floydada squad, that of playing good clean football, with no individual stars and the harmony of team work. Kubanks, heady quarter, Marshall, line plunging and broken field runner, White, speedy half, and many others might be named as the leading players of the Floydada team but every man on the eleven has made himself an essential cog in a well drilled team.

The Clarendon team comes to Floydada recognized as one of the cleanest and best high school teams in the Panhandle. Floydada will give them a splendid welcome but for sixty minutes of play all friendship will cease until the Whirlwinds have done away with another foe in their race for championship of class B schools.

afternoon. Arrangements are being made to care for a great crowd.

Wednesday evening at the Tech pavilion the defenders of the Starlet and Black for 1926 will be honored with a real "feed" by the compliments of Marvin T. Warlick. Lettermen for this year will be awarded their sweaters and the leader for the "bull fighters" will also be named at the banquet.

Lubbock and the South Plains will have the opportunity of seeing some real hounds race on Sunday afternoon, December 12th, at the Merrill park. The Lubbock Coursing Park association will stage their banner races for 1926. Dogs of high rating from all parts of the Southwest will be brought to take part in the races. Fastest variety of rabbits have been secured. So the sporting element of the South Plains will have some real thrill.

Some of the lads are wishing that while this freezing weather is here that it will freeze the park lake enough to stand ice skates. I know of several fellows that have spent some good money on ice skates and have never gotten to use them.

When the Matadors big gymnasium is completed the basketball fans will have a chance to see good games in actual comfort. For years here fans have stood up, stretched, and gotten themselves in all sorts of shapes to witness a cage performance. This gymnasium will have a 2,000 seating capacity with locker room and storage room for athletic equipment. Also offices for the coaches.

Again I ask, what is going to happen with baseball in Lubbock in 1927? Why don't somebody say something? First thing we know the season will be on us and no baseball. Do you fans know what baseball has done for Lubbock in the past two years? It has given the city of Lubbock and the South Plains much advertising such as can not be purchased for love or money. In 1925 Lubbock won the Denver tournament, the "Dexter Post" came out with glaring headlines on the front page for some days about Lubbock. This daily newspaper has more than 100,000 readers in the Rocky Mountains. Can't you see what the baseball clubs have done for Lubbock? Now is the time for Lubbock fans to say something.

Amarillo has been admitted into the Western League. Class A baseball for the Panhandle fans of Texas. That is great—hope some day Lubbock may be able to support this kind of baseball. But at that the Hubbers have had an organization that would make some of the class A teams get on a "high horse."

Strolling Down Sport Lane With James R. Dow

Everything is going good in the way of getting started in the basketball circle at the high school. The westerners started their training yesterday afternoon with a good turn-out for the initial call. Some fifty or more high school lads reported to the coaches for work in the cage action this coming season.

Football, like many other things, has its "hang-overs"—the Clarendon Bonchos and the Floydada whirlwinds, winners of their district in class B football will stage a contest in Floydada on Friday for the Panhandle honors.

Superintendent J. C. Wester is expecting a record breaking attendance for the game in Floydada on Friday

Hale County Has Ginned 26,118 Bales

(Special To The Avalanche)

PLAINVIEW, Dec. 6.—Hale county has ginned 26,118 bales of cotton so far this year as compared to 16,418 for the same period last year, 1925. It is estimated that nearly 50% of the crop is yet unginced, and that the total production for the county will run near fifty thousand bales.

The largest crop that Hale county has ever produced prior to this year was in 1924 when 22,906 bales were ginned. This year the net return from the total crop will perhaps be as large as it was in 1924; but the per bale profit is practically nothing according to well informed cotton producers.

More than $1 billion was spent last year for goods sold on the installment plan.

Texas Sports Heads to Meet in Dallas

DALLAS, Dec. 6. (AP)—Dallas will be the scene of a point meeting of the three leading Texas collegiate athletic organizations Thursday when officials of the southwest conference hold their annual meetings here to make annual championship awards, map out schedules, select officials and discuss rule changes.

Approximately 25 athletic and faculty representatives from schools belonging to one of the three organizations are expected to be here.

Hear Tiger's Kick on Mickey's Win

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 6. (AP)—The Illinois state athletic commission at its regular meeting tomorrow may pass upon a request of Walk Miller, manager of Tiger Flowers, for a reversal of referee Henry Yanger's decision which transferred the middle-weight championship to Mickey Walker after a ten round contest at the Coliseum last Friday night.

Opinion was divided tonight on the possibilities of a reversal. The impression prevailed that the commission would not act favorably of Miller's suggestion and would consider the case closed. Legal authorities said the commission had no power to reverse a decision unless evidence of a frame up is brought forth.

Missouri and Illinois, in 1911, passed the first mother's aid laws.

The NUT CRACKER by Joe Williams

MICKY WALKER won a fight the other night. This probably indicates he has finally become acclimated to Mr. Kearns perfume.

WHO can remember the good old days when Harry Wills used to be looked on as the downtrodden, oppressed representative of the Negro race feared by all the Caucasian heavyweights?

BY arranging to hold their golf championship at the same time America is holding hers, Great Britain has hit on a practical plan to keep the silverware away from Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen.

IT is reported Benny Friedman turned down $50,000 to play professional football. If this is so the young man's reputation for brains has been grossly exaggerated.

IT all depends on the circumstances. For instance, it takes important dough to talk back to the butcher about this time of the year.

AMONG others the Yale football eleven have Mr. Feltz, a halfback, this year. Now all together, mate, "Oh, how I miss my Seltz!"

ONE of the drawbacks of those cage matches is that they never result in anything but the insects that ought to be esped.

CALIFORNIA will not get to see the final wrestling match between Lewis and Stecher. God's country is right.

WE note that the William and Mary eleven scored 141 points this season, and being interested in the equality of sex, we'd like to know how many of these Mary made.

W. T. C. C. Will Back Tax Survey Plans

(Special To The Avalanche)

STAMFORD, Dec. 6.—Officials of the West Texas chamber of commerce will put forth every effort to secure the passage of a tax survey resolution at the 46th convention of the legislature which convenes in ANTONIO, 1927, according to official announcement.

"I regard the matter of a tax survey of Texas as important," said president Arthur P. Duggan, of the West Texas chamber in a recent statement. "We cannot get at the root of this matter until we get all possible information and a real tax survey will accomplish this. The commission will be re-introduced at the regular session, and I sincerely trust that all good citizens will stand by the plan."

Ford Fingerprints Suspected Persons

Lubbock county has her own fingerprint department, and Deputy Sheriff Vernice Fred in conducting Monday the officer spent several hours taking finger prints of prisoners held on felony charges, and those who have been sentenced to the penitentiary.

The officer stated that in all his experience he had never taken the print of a man that did not have one or more crippled or battered fingers, which proved that the criminal element is rough physically as well as morally.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lubbock County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Leola Rex, by making publication of this citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the district court of Lubbock County, to be holden at the court house thereof, in Lubbock, Texas, on Monday, January 4, A. D. 1927, the same being the 10th day of January A. D. 1927, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 27th day of July, A. D. 1926, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court as No. 2821, wherein Leola Rex is plaintiff, and Leola Rex is defendant, and said petition alleging that it is a writ for divorce plaintiff and defendant having married in Aspermont, Texas, on the 20th day of Dec. 1920; that they lived together as man and wife until June 27th, 1923, since which time they have lived separate and apart, and that Leola Rex, defendant, has been guilty of adultery with one J. H. Pao, with a man by the name of Bernard Hill; that defendant has had child in adultery with the said J. H. Pao, and this plaintiff, the wife of said defendant, has been injured in her honor and account of the act of adultery, since which time they have not lived together.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays that upon final hearing hereof, he be granted an absolute divorce from the defendant, for general and special relief, civil, criminal, and in any other way that may be proper, and have your return filed in said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court at office in Lubbock, this 27th day of Nov. A. D. 1926. Louis F. Moore, Clerk, District Court, Lubbock County.

ing such gas piping, appliances, fixtures, apparatus or material shall cause the same to be put in safe condition and tested and approved by the City Plumbing Inspector.

When any gas piping, appliances, fixtures, apparatus or material of any nature whatsoever has been in any manner disconnected and rendered inoperative by the City Plumbing Inspector or the service discontinued, as set forth in the foregoing provisions, it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to in any manner reconnect the same or cause the same to be reconnected to any supply of gas or to use the same as a part of any gas piping system until they have been issued by the City Plumbing Inspector.

SECTION 5: In every gas installation all piping and attachments must be of at least such capacity as will supply gas up to the full maximum requirements of all appliances, contemplated to be connected thereon according to the requirements of this ordinance.

No gas piping, appliances, fixtures or apparatus, or the installation, construction, reconstruction or repair thereof, for which a permit is issued shall be put to use of connected to any supply of gas until inspected and accepted by the City Plumbing Inspector.

All applications for inspection will be held at least twenty-four hours after the same are filed. It is required that said individual, firm or corporation, or his or its representative shall personally inspect every installation before a card for inspection is filed and that all work for which the inspection is asked shall be complete.

Applications for re-inspection must be made out on new cards the same as the original application, stating whether the first, second or third inspection will not be considered.

When any gas piping, appliances, fixtures or apparatus is found to have been installed without a proper permit or not in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, the City Plumbing Inspector, or his assistants is hereby authorized and empowered to prevent any supply of gas thereto or to the consumer until such permit has been secured from the said City Plumbing Inspector and such work inspected and approved.

Application for inspection shall be filed with the said City Plumbing Inspector and recorded in a book kept in the office for that purpose. A fee of One Dollar and Fifty Cents ($1.50) shall be charged for the first inspection and One ($1.00) Dollar such for the second and third inspection on condemned installations.

Before any such gas piping, appliances, fixtures, or apparatus constructed or furnished under permits hereafter granted, shall be approved, or certificate of acceptance of the same be granted, the said work must be complete, and in compliance with the provisions of this ordinance.

Plumbers or gas fitters shall consult gas company for the location of meter before starting job. The plumbers or gas fitters shall be held responsible for any changes in meter elevations installed in locations not authorized by gas company.

SECTION 9: Any gas installation not especially covered by this ordinance must be approved by the City Plumbing Inspector.

SECTION 10: All powers conferred by this ordinance upon the City Plumbing Inspector are hereby likewise conferred upon his assistants and such assistants and each of them may likewise exercise all such powers.

SECTION 11: That any person, firm or corporation who shall violate any provision of this ordinance, or who shall fail to comply with the requirements of this ordinance, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding Twenty ($20.00) Dollars, and each and every day's continuance of any violation of the provisions of this ordinance shall constitute and be deemed a separate offense. NEW YORK, Dec. 6. (AP)—Coffee futures opened at a decline of 3 to 9 points in response to slightly easier Rio Exchange, but offerings were very light and prices later advanced from 14.79 to 14.94 for March deliveries on receiving and local trade buying.

Stocks were fairly liberal and offers generally weak to lower. Closes showed the biggest drop, the decline ranging from 25 cents to 50 cents. Receipts called for 5,590 grown cattle, 2,590 calves, 149 hogs and 1599 sheep.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK FORT WORTH, Tex., Dec. 6. (AP)—Inactivity developed in most divisions of the livestock trade here today. Receipts were fairly liberal and offers generally weak to lower. Closes showed the biggest drop, the decline ranging from 25 cents to 50 cents. Receipts called for 5,590 grown cattle, 2,590 calves, 149 hogs and 1599 sheep.

SEND OUT QUESTIONNAIRE TO ASCERTAIN STAND OF FARMERS

(Special to The Avalanche) LAMESA, Dec. 6.—At a meeting of the directors of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce this morning the body went on record of endorsing intensified and diversified farming in Dawson county. The work of the county agent C. B. Martin in sending out a questionnaire checking the want, and crop prospects of every farmer in the county was commended. The cow, sow, and sheep proposition was discussed and it was pointed out that in the past two months Dawson county had well stocked with cows, hogs, and chickens. A move to further encourage every farmer in the county to have at least 100 hens, plenty of hogs for family use and cows for family milk production will be pursued by the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce.
