Beginning The Search For Lake Victim

Officrs and firemen on the shore of Lake Champion prepare dragging equipment a few minutes after Gene Chandler disappeared under water. They are, left to right, Morris Sloan, Buck May, Sheriff Lewis Claxton, Don Webb, J. A. Sadler Jr. and Danny Majors. The search went on six hours before Chandler's body was recovered.

Lone Wolf Gets $350,000 Loan

Rural Electrification Administration in Washington, D.C., has approved a $350,000 loan to Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative Inc.

The new money will finance 64 miles of distribution lines to serve 212 new customers and extensive improvements throughout the cooperative's system.

Senator Ralph Yarborough and Congressman Omar Burleson notified The Record of the loan approval from their Washington offices.

Approval of the loan application, submitted earlier in the year, had been anticipated here for several weeks.

"The loan was approved in its entirety and exactly as our Lone Wolf directorate requested," said James Hull, manager of the coop, "and all of us at Lone Wolf are pleased with the favorable action.

"This new financing will help us to contrinue to meet the ever growing demands of our custimers.

A portion of the loan will reimurse the cooperative for general funds already spent on previously approved improvements and new facilities.

Lone Wolf Electric, which went into operation in 1939 with its average customer using between 50 and 75 kilowatt hours of electricity per month, has seen its customer demand increase to a monthly average usage of between 500 and 600 kilowatt hours.

This is approximately 10 times the original demand.

The 212 new consumers, which this new loan will provide lines for service, are anticipated by Lone Wolf within the next two years. Now, the cooperative serves approximately 5,000 custimers within its area that includes almost the whole of Mitchell County and parts of Nolan, Fisher, Scurry, Borden and Howard counties.

In addition to the 64 miles of distribution lines to serve new customers, the loan will finance seven miles of new tie line, conversion of 11 miles of existing lines and related facilities, installation of a new 1,000 KVA substation near Colorado City, new office billing equipment, connect Lone Wolf office with a regional data processing center for adequate data and record keeping.

Last previous REA loan for Lone Wolf from REA was in 1963 for the amount of $469,000 — primarily for the same purpose as the new loan — to meet demands of customers.

First Victim Of Year

Lubbock Man Drowns Swimming For Boat

A 41-year-old Lubbock man with an injured arm sank to his death in moss infested waters of Lake Champion Saturday evening as his wife watched helplessly nearby.

Colorado city firemen recovered the fully clothed body of Eatil (Gene) Chandler approximately six hours later.

Justice of Peace Leonard Henderson of Precinct 4 returned an inquest verdict of accidental drowing. It was the first lake tragedy of the year ter Mitchell County and second drowning since construction of Lake Champion.

Chandler and his wife were camping on the shore of Lake Champion with their tent approximately 25 feet from the water's edge.

It was about 9:30 p.m. when the Chandlers observed their boat and motor drifting out into the lake.

Chandler, who had complained of a hurting shoulder and arm after playing golf earlier in the week, waded into the water to retrieve the boat.

"He waded out about shoulder deep," said Mrs. Chandler, "then swam 10 or 15 feet.

"He just went under and didn't come up."

The wife, who was at the shore, immediately called for assistance and police and firemen were notified in Colorado City.

A search with grappling equipment and skin divers was conducted from boats continuously until the body was recovered at 3:30 a.m.

Louis Hargrove and Robert Brooks, both firemen, and Hargrove's son, Phil, were in the boat which pulled the body from the lake.

It was tangled in moss about 120 feet from the lake shore. The moss was about two feet under the surface in wajer more than 10 feet deep.

Chandler was an employe of Lubbock Cigarette Company. He is survived by his wife, a daughter, two stepsons and his parents.

Measles Vaccine At School

Immunization against measles, childhood disease which can be serious, will be given to all pre-school children whose parents request the vaccine by Mrs. Mike Hammans, Colorado School nurse.

About 60 children have returned the forms requesting the vaccine through the pre-school classes now in session at Colorado Primary School, said Mrs. Hammans Wednesday.

The program in Colorado City will be restricted to the pre-school classes, children who will enter first grade in September.

Westbrook pre-school children have an appointment for 2 p.m. Monday at Primary School here for their measles immunization shot. Mrs. Rex T. McKenney will supervise the bringing of the Westbrook children in a group.

It's Still The Army

You Can Tell By Duty Assignments

It is still the same ole Army — at least, for Specialist 4th Class Willard Howle.

Howle, who was with Soil Conservation Service staff here after a degree in agricultural education at Texas A&M, entered military service last September.

After basic training at Fort Hood, he reported to Fort Sam Houston for combat medic school.

When he completed the medic course, he was assigned to Fort Hood and a typewriter as company clerk.

July 1 he will report to Chicago, Ill., for a veterinary course in a civilian school.

"I've heard 'em laugh in the Army that the usual procedure is to send a guy to veterinary school and then assign him as a medic," Howle wisecracked here Tuesday, "but this is the first time I've heard of 'em training you to be a medic and then making you a veterinarian".

The veterinary school is for two periods — eight weeks and 11 weeks. After this schooling Howle expects an assignment in Japan — inspecting meat.

In County Cotton Fields

Insects Are Light

"A few farmers have reported some damage by wireworms," he said.

However, this damage on most fields has been light.

Other highligts of the report are as follows:

Thrip — very light infestation since the rain. Aphids — very light.

Boll weevils — First overwinter boll weevils were found on cotton this week.

Lemons said the first weevil was found in young cotton on the Travis Turner farm.

Boll weevil damage was reported on the Raymond Hackfeld farm where cotton has one-third grown squares.

Beneficial insects in Mitchell County fields were observed light to medium, the agent said. Hooded beetles, flower bugs and spiders make up the bulk of these beneficials insects.

Lemons said nine fields are being checked in Mitchell County this year — Travis Turner, O. P. Givens Raymond Hackfeld, A. K. Treadaway, E. B. Bowlin, E. W. Haggerton, A. K. McCarley Jr., Curt Shaw and Louis Small.

Flag Presentation For Teen Baseball

Jesse Bunch, right, World War 2 veteran and quartermaster for Colorado City's Veterans of Foreign Wars Post; presents a U.S. flag to the local teen baseball program. Accepting for the baseball organization are four representatives of Junior Teenage League — player Tommy Guelker of the Braves; his father, J. H. Guelker, assistant manager of the Braves; player Robert Bender of the Braves, and C. W. Smith, president of the league. The presentation was made Monday night just prior to game action

White Sox Pull Upset on Braves

First place Braves were handed their first defeat of the season by a hustling White Sox team Monday night in Junior Teen League play.

Though both teams managed to get runners on base in the first inning, the frame proved unfruitful score-wise.

The action waited until the second inning to explode. The entire lineups of both teams performed in the batter's box through the most score packed inning of the game.

Brave batters, John Medrano, Wayne Banks, and Robert Bender all walked to their bases without a single strike being thrown. Then Dana Baker, right fielder for the Braves, began the scoring with a single. Cary May and Gary Chaney racked up a single and a double respectively, and all six runners strided across home plate before the opposing team members got their chance at bat.

The White Sox also fared well in the second frame with four runs recorded by Joel Kirschbaum, Stoney Stone, Steve Kennedy, and Randy Hillhouse.

The third inning was dry for the Braves, but their opposition used it to bring in another fine string of runs. For the second frame in a row the entire White Sox field got a chance to bat.

Tallying up points this time were Hillhouse, Johnny Kirkland, Dennis Phariss, Kirschbaum, and Stone, leaving the score after three innings of play, 9-6 in their favor.

The one Brave run by May in the fourth frame was offset by White Sox Tommy Boyd's in the fifth. An unproductive sixth inning left the final score 10-7.

Pitchers were plentiful Monday night as Hillhouse, Steve Vest, and Kirschbaum shared honors for winning pitchers while Chaney, Bender, and Tommy Guelker were listed as losing hurlers.

LIONS 6 — COLTS 4

Second place Lions bettered their standings Monday night with a 6-4 win over the so far unvictorious Colts in other Junior Teen League action.

Third baseman Barney Brewton and Second baseman John Lelek put the Colts out front the first inning with two runs, aided by Stanley Bracy's single.

The lead was maintained until the fourth frame when Lions Joell Clark and Carl Devorce got on base with singles and Ben Olibas walked to first on balls. All three eventually crossed the plate for scores. Aiding with a sacrafice hit was Larry Williams.

In the fifth inning the Colts evened up the score again with a run by Bracy. The tie didn't last long, for the Lions tallied up three more points in the sixth with runs by catcher Ben Olibas, shortstop Randy Hoyle, and fielder Gabinel Ornelas.

Lelek's score for the Colts in the seventh and last inning was not enough to overcome the Lions lead, and the final score was Lions 6 — Colts 4.

Joell Clark was the winning pitcher; losing hurler for the Colts was Bracy.

Thursday night at 6:30 the Lions will be seeking a tie for first place in the league by defeating the top positioned Braves. At 8:30 the Colts will seek their first win against the White Sox.

Car Dealers Re-Appoint Jay Adams

Reappointment of J. W. Adams Jr., Jay Adams Chevrolet, as area director of the Texas Automobile Dealers Association was announced in Austin Wednesday by H. C. Pittman, executive vice president of TADA.

In accepting this appointment, Adams stated, "I am proud to represent my fellow franchised dealers in this area.

"Our major program this year will be to work with state officials in implementing the Texas Safety Act passed this year by our Texas Legislature, and to promote a high standard of integrity and assist the automobile dealers in better serving the public by making driving safer, more convenient and more economical."

Adams will serve as an area director until the next TADA Convention in Dallas in May, 1968.

The association, with headquarters in Austin, celebrated its 50th anniversary this year and is the largest statewide new car dealers association in the nation.

TRAFFIC COUNCILMAN'S

4 Tips for Safe Vacation

Colorado City area motorists Wednesday were urged to apply four driving tips to make their vacation trips safer and more pleasant.

The suggestions were given by Jay Craddock of Craddock-Witten Ford as part of a safe summer driving campaign sponsored by the Auto Dealers Traffic Safety Council, of which he is a member.

The four-point plan advises Craddock, is:

1. Have the family car safety-checked bumper to bumper. A safe drive demands a car kept in safe driving condition.

2. Lock all doors from the inside before you drive. This helps keep you and your passengers in, and other people out. Lock the doors from the outside when you park, to protect both the car and its contents from theft.

3. Buckle all safety belts before you start the car. This simple act can save lives and prevent or reduce injuries in case of a crash. It can also lessen fatigue on long trips.

4. Stay alert. On long trips take frequent rest breaks to guard against fatigue, drowsiness, and lack of attention.

Mr. Craddock cautioned motorists against taking short drives around town for granted.

"Studies show that 80 percent of all traffic accidents happen within 25 miles of the driver's home," he stated, adding "Seventy-five percent of all traffic deaths occur within the home county."

For around-town driving as well as for long vacation trips, the Auto Dealers Traffic Safety Council offers this "capsule" reminder, Craddock says: "Lock Up when you get in . . . Lock Up when you get out . . . Buckle Up in between. Get the Safety habit!"

ASSURED FOR AREA CROP

Better Cotton Classing

U. S. Department of Agriculture will place more emphasis on accuracy of its human cotton classers in Rolling Plains area for this crop year.

That is the assurance reported by Rolling Plains Cotton Growers Inc. after a conference in Dallas with USDA officials.

At the same time the Rolling Plains organization reported that instrument cotton classing may be moving more rapidly to reality than most persons realize.

The step forward improving cotton classing procedures in area classing offices came last week in a parley between USDA officials and representatives of Rolling Plains Growers and other cotton producer and ginner groups.

Discussion was concerned mainly with instrument classing of cotton in future years, but there were also assuances that U.S.D.A. in 1967 would place added emphasis on the accuracy of its human classers, especially in the Rolling Plains.

Stanley Rademaker, director of the Cotton Division of U.S.D.A.'s Consumer and Marketing Service, said extra care would be taken in the assignment of classers to the Abilene, Munday, Memphis and Altus, Okla., offices and that current plans call for increasing the number of classing supervisors.

A report on work in the field of instrument classing and a visit to Motion Control, Inc., a Dallas corporation that is developing a line of instruments, gave hope that instrument classing is closer at hand than many people realize and could very well be effected in the near future, according to Charles Stenholm of Stamford, RPCG executive vice president, who represented RPCG at the meeting along with J. B. Cooper Jr. of Roscoe, president.

Stenholm reported that at least one and possibly as many as three, instrument classing "lines" will be set up this fall in Memphis, Tennessee to evaluate both individual instruments and the system. He said all instruments which are sufficiently developed at the time will be tested in the lines.

Evaluation of cotton classing instruments of somewhat different type will be carried out at Plains Cotton Cooperative Assn. in Lubbock again this fall. USDA and Plains officials will exchange ideas and evaluative materials in hopes of speeding up the development of machines that will get the job done.

Machines likely to be included are a combination colorimeter-trashmeter, length analysers improved micronaire tester and possibly strength and uniformity instruments.

Another meeting with these same USDA officials and others is being planned for next spring when the results of this fall's operations, as well as the latest developments from other sources are known.

"At that time" Stenholm said, "we will be in a much better position to determine which, if any, of the instruments can be put into actual classing office operation in the fall of 1968."

He pointed out that use of instruments to more exactly define the spinning value of cotton fibers will eventually be of great benefit to cotton producers.

"And, incidentally, the use of instruments will have to be the result of producer and ginner efforts. No help at this time at least can be expected from other segments of the industry," he added.

Michael Cooper At University

Cooper is being sent there by the company for which he works, Commercial Credit.

His wife, Angela, and son and daughter, Franklin and Heidi, will remain at their home in Atlanta Ga., during his absence. When living in Colorado City, Cooper's college was North Texas State University at Denton.

CONVERSATION CORNER

Ruth Coffey's

IN CASE you haven't eyed the calendar lately, it may confuse you to know that yesterday was the first day of summer — officially.

It might confuse every themometer in town, too, because unofficially it's been egg-frying-on-the-sidewalk weather for days and days and weeks on end.

Wonder whatever possesses people to make them want to fry an egg on the sidewalk, anyhow?

The same little quirk, maybe, that makes people think up all kinds of stunts to break the monotony or to get fleeting attention.

* * *

WE HAVE sometimes had with us the flagpole sitters goldfish swallowers . . . marathon dancers.

Then there were the telephone booth packers . . . the roll a bed so many milers . . . the old hearse riders.

Now we've got the "ins." The sit-ins . . . the peace-ins . . . the line-ins . . . love-ins . . . sing-ins.

Whenever the restless young get bored, some of them will expend their natural exuberance thinking up something else to take part in — the crazier, the better.

* * *

EVEN SO, the majority of our sound, sane young people are too busy with the study-in along with marry-in, this season, to bother.

What's more, if there are eggs to be fry-in, they'll be neatly done in the kitchenette of little apartments on or near college campuses all over Texas!

'Cause summer is officially marry-in season.

* * *

PEOPLE engrossed with live-in are usually not interested in the egg fry-in trick.

That's why some of us have never found time for the hot sidewalk test or other remarkable things such as roller skating to and from church . . . Yogi . . . pushing a wheelbarrow down highway 80 . . . or entering pie-eat-in contests.

Life is complicated enough just trying to keep the cool-in, man.

* * *

DEREGIBUS FAMILY, Frank, Frances, their daughter Dana and son Eddie are going to New York.

They leave Sunday, flying via Braniff, for Marlboro, N.Y., where Frank's parents Mr. and Mrs. Edward Deregibus will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

Then they'll spend three days in New York City where they plan to go sight-seeing in Washington Square and Greenwich Village.

* * *

SAW Mrs. E. L. Tiller who was saying that daughter Anne, her husband Tommy Palmer, and their children Chuck and Beverly will drive via rent-a-car to Oklahoma for a class reunion, then to Washington D. C. and Baltimore.

The Palmers will leave the rented car in Baltimore and fly home to Houston, where they live.

* * *

FAMILIAR FACES various places included Tom and Emily Barry on Walnut St. in the cool of the early morning . . . Bobby Lemons . . . Carolyn Baumann . . . Oscar Haney . . . Paul Hunter.

At the Playhouse show, "A Man Called Peter," spied Bim and Ray Anne Carlock and son Tom . . . Rev. and Mrs. Weems Dykes . . . Jay and Marian Craddock . . . Mrs. J. Ed Richardson . . . Annie Dixon, Crickett Hrbacek and Pearl Lindsey together . . . Tandy Curlee . . . Mike Mikle.

Saw Mary Post Hart, husband Bruce, and Mary's sister and brother-in-law who had just flown in from Colorado in their private plane . . . Bonnie and James Brown with her mother Mrs. Charter Moore . . Rubilee Noble over from Abilene to see the show.

* * *

Our town is blessed with some wonderful citizens who are thoughtful enough to think extra good things for all of us . . . and energetic enough to be sure their ideas materialize.

In this category are Mrs. G. D. Foster and her Chamber of Commerce cultural activities committee, who presented their second musical program Sunday afternoon.

Their contribution to community life is a special topping for which all of us can be appreciative and proud.

By the way, you might look around and try to find another town our size with the variety served here last weekend — the Playhouse staging of "A Man Called Peter," Western Riding Club and Jaycees' rodeo, western dances and the cultural musical series — not to mention the likes of baseball and other sports.

Audiences Approve Show "A Man Called Peter"

By RUTH COFFEY
Women's Editor

Gripping performance by Paul Boyd Hunter, sympathetic portrayal by his wife Dorthea Hunter and by the whole cast made "A Man Called Peter" something to be long remembered by hometown audiences, Thursday Friday and Saturday nights.

Colorado City Playhouse presented the three -act drama in three night performances in Colorado High School auditorium, last weekend.

Fine direction by Don DeLaney shone through from first curtain to last.

Setting by Porter Richardson, George Womack and Tandy Curlee was finest offered by Playhous to date. Lighting effects, handled by Ricky DeLaney, were technically and artistically excellent.

The cast, without exception, had memorized and mastered their lines and their roles. Six teenagers in the cast turned out to be six bright additions to the production.

Ada Womack, as Hulda the housekeeper, stole the show during the scenes in which she appeared with her casual flair for pure comedy and stage business.

Story of episodes in the life of Dr. Peter Marshall, Presbyterian minister, his wife, his son, and three sub-plot stories, was properly timed with interest sustained through five scenes.

If there were, in the drama by John McGreevey, some sentimental interludes suggestive of the "old hokum" seen and heard at once popular tent shows, those sentimental scenes were so sympathatically played the audience was caught and held. The audience, apparently, liked every minute of it.

Playhouse home talent shows, audience reaction definitely proved, do not have to be great — just so they're good. "A Man Called Peter" was a good show. Good triumphed over evil and there was a happy ending — a pleasing climax to an evening of family entertainment.

Key to the successful presentation lay in the very sincerity of the amateur actors and actresses. It was a compliment to the cast that viewers had to refer to programs sometimes to see just who was playing which part. Complete and rapt silence during touching scenes was also tendered by the audience. Applause was warm, prolonged and spontaneous.

Paul Hunter could have been a minister named Peter he lived his part so well. His attractive wife, who played Catherine Marshall, had just the right touch of good humor plus pathos. Jim Morgan, as Peter John Marshall, turned in a delightful little-boy performance.

Surprise of the evening came with Melba Mikle's acting as Judith Bickle, tight - lipped, bitter - tongued maiden aunt. Mrs. Mikle, last seen as a glamorous young wife in "Mister Angel," walked, talked, and acted her part with finesse. So did Ann Morgan as Jessie Bickle, Judith's timid sister.

Don Feaster caught the fire of his angry scene role. Vickie Bodine was a charming Susan. Playing Susan's mother, Frances Deregibus was aptly haughty and handsome at once. Jim Harris as Susan's father did well with his paternal role.

Dale Bynum, Susan's fiance George, handled his lines and scenes with polish. Robert Jones as Joe, the underprivileged lad, was an assured standout in his first Playhouse role.

Melbroun Palmer, ranting as the Senator, won his share of plaudits. He was believeable and right for his role. Candy Curlee and Rose Ann White, as high school seniors, managed sparkling appealing performance.

Staging, costumes, make-up, and properties were done in excellent taste by the behind-stage crew. Gwen Brown was prompter for the play.

Certainly, "A Man Called Peter" was a change in pace for Colorado City Playhouse. And the pace was steady entertainment, well - balanced between life's light and heavy problems — which was, perhaps, about as true to life as any stage show can manage to get.

Opening The Door

New Law For Government Meetings

Gov. John Connally, has signed into law an "Open Meetings" bill which he proclaimed as "a great step forward for the people of Texas".

He was referring to Senate Bill 94 sponsored by Sen. Chet Brooks of Pasadena. Similar legislation was introduced in the House by Rep. Bill Rapp of Raymondville.

Passage of the "Open Meetings" legislation at the 1967 session culminated a drive that began some 20 years ago. It was engineered by legislators and the press to insure a better flow of information to the public.

* * *

AT THE BILL signing ceremony, Governor Connally made this statement regarding the importance of the legislation:

"Senate Bill 94, commonly known as the open meetings bill, provides basically that all meetings of boards, agencies and commissions shall be open meetings, open to the press. This is something that the working press in the capitol and the press throughout the state have been interested in for a long, long time. I think it's an historic and significant bill and a significant day.

"Certainly there's never been any desire, as far as I know, on the part of anyone who serves on a board or an agency or commission to transact its business under the cloak of secrecy. But, nevertheless, the meetings have, from time to time, been closed."

* * *

CONALLY ADDED: "This bill will now end that and provide that all the meetings shall be open to the press. It's a great step forward in trying to provide a means where the public can be more informed with respect to governmental affairs and public affairs.

"Beyond any question, one of the weaknesses of a democratic society is that it's always difficult to try to articulate and to inform the public of the problems that surround the administration of government. I personally feel that if the public is informed, if it has the knowledge, people themselves will always make the right decisions. And this is going to be a step in providing the means where people can be better informed on the workings of their government."

* * *

GOVERNOR CONNALLY further stated: "This is particularly important because the affairs of this state are run by the various agencies, boards, agencies and commissions. People generally do not quite understand the significance of these various boards, agencies and commissions and the work that they do and the decisions they make. It is really the heart and the essence of government in Texas.

"So I want to applaud the efforts of the press itself to bring into the light and to the awarness of the Legislature the needs for this type of legislation. I want to commend the members of the Legislature who supported it and congratulate the people of Texas that they now can be better informed on their own affairs."

Excepted in the bill, so far as open meetings are concerned, are grand juries and certain executive sessions supported by or expending public funds. The law also excepts meetings called to consider the appointment, employment or dismissal of a public officer or employee or to hear complaints or charges brought against such persons, unless the individual concerned requests a public hearing.

SIMILAR legislation was introduced by the Texas Press Association some 20 years ago. This year it had the backing not only of TPA but also the Texas Daily Newspaper Association and the Sigma Delta Chi journalistic fraternity, plus the support of radio and television media.

Co-sponsors of the new law, in addition to Senator Brooks, were the following Senators: Joe Christie of El Paso; Barbara Jordan of Houston; Henry C. Grover of Houston; A. R. Schwartz of Galveston; and Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo.

Joining Representative Rapp in escorting the bill through the House were Representatives Russell Cummings and Paul Floyd, both of Houston.

Open Meetings Now Mandatory

Governor John Connally is shown signing Senate Bill 94 which makes it law that all meetings of official public bodies in Texas must be open to the press and to the public. The signing by the governor was in the presence of (standing left to right) Garth Jones, Associated Press; Senator Chet Brooks of Pasadena, sponsor of the bill; Stuart Long, Long, Long News Service of Austin; and Don Scarbrough, Williamson County Sun, Georgetown. All four are members of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, one of several groups urging passage of the bill.

Sermon of the Week

'God Help Us To Pray' – Psalm 50:15

By M. A. SMITH
Pastor, First Baptist Church

The scene is a Yugoslavian classroom. The persons are the teacher (whose salary is paid by the dictatorial government of Tito), the school children (hungry as most of them are), and two soldiers.

The teacher tells her class, "Children, you like cookies. You have heard that God will answer your prayers, so let's ask Him and see if in the next half hour He will send cookies."

They join in prayer but no cookies come. The children are puzzled but then the teacher says, "Now let's ask Tito, the great leader of our country, to see if he will send us cookies."

The class begins to mumble prayers to Tito. After a few moments a knock is heard on the door and two soldiers enter with a large basket of baked goods supposedly from Tito. The class applauds concluding that God failed to produce cookies while Tito did.

* * *

WE STAND AGHAST at such teaching as this, but is it not rapidly becoming the philosophy of our day to expect help from most any source except God Himself. If there should be a cry on our lips today in the midst of our materialistic unbelief it should be: "God, help us to pray!"

* * *

IN THE PASSAGE of Scripture we have selected we are told that we should pray in the day of trouble.

In the light of current national and international events, no one would deny that we are living in one of the most perilous times in the history of the world. You may shut your eyes to it, deny that it exists, stifle a yawn when it is mentioned, but we have reached a critical hour and we need God's help.

On the national scene we should be reminded that we now have largest public debt in history and the ceiling is lifted periodically. It has been computed that the national debt interest is now $966 million a month and it now takes all the federal taxes of everybody earning $6,000 a year or less to pay the interest on the money the Federal Government has already borrowed. Such fiscal insanity cannot continue indefinitely without catastrophe.

Socially, we are reminded that racial tension is the greatest since the Civil War and crime rides on the highest crest our Nation has ever experienced. Morally we have sunk to our lowest ebb. May God help us to pray in this hour of trouble.

* * *

NOT ONLY DO we face trouble collectively, but many individuals face problems that are seemingly insurmountable.

Some have heartaches and grief that no one knows anything about. Some have problems too deeply imbedded to discuss with anyone. Some have experienced disappointments so keen that pride will not permit their becoming known to others.

Some are frustrated and confused and burdened with a sense of lonliness indescribable. Some are living in homes that are very little short of hell on earth and many couples are precariously perched on the precipice of divorce. God has told us to pray in the hour of trouble.

* * *

NOT ONLY HAS God told us to pray in the hour of trouble, but He has promised us deliverance from our trouble.

The Bible is replete with examples of those who called upon God and He provided their deliverance.

Elijah prayed from Mount Carmel, and God answered with fire from heaven. Moses prayed and the bitter waters of Marah were made sweet.

Hannah prayed for a child and God gave her Samuel—one of Israel's greatest leaders.

Hezekiah prayed in the hour of trouble, and the Angel of the Lord destroyed 185,000 Assyrians in one night.

Paul and Silas prayed in the Philippian jail and God answered with a mighty earthquake that burts the prison bars and loosed them from their bonds. God hears and answers prayer and has told us to pray in the hour of trouble.

Our passage says, "I will deliver thee." This is God's guarantee backed up by the holiness of His Person and all the resources of eternity. Have you experienced God's deliverance? May God help you to pray.

Danger In Old Scars

Israel, Arabs Now Need Wisdom

By RALPH YARBOROUGH
United States Senator

The past two weeks the world has seen and survived an international confrontation that might easily have spread into World War III, extending war beyond the Middle East and bringing a nuclear war between nations. The showdown between the government of Israel and her Arab neighbors concerned all of us. It showed how quickly an old and smouldering disagreement can suddenly endanger all of humanity.

The Israelis have won an overwhelming and thorough military victory. Even the Israeli generals must have been astounded at the completeness of their amazingly quick victory — the victory with which their crack troops swept back Arab forces. But now the hardest battle — a battle for peace — looms ahead.

It is here that the United States can play its most important role.

* * *

I HAVE WATCHED during these past two decades as Israel and the Arab nations have three times resorted to bloodshed.

The Israelis are a proud and courageous people who have certainly earned their right to independence, their recognition as a nation among nations.

The Arabs, proud people too, have been burdened by poverty and misled by the folly of their leaders. But the aggressive policies of the Arab leadership have caused the Arab people pain and suffering. Perhaps they now will resist the lure of large, burdensome military forces and concentrate on education and internal development for their nation.

* * *

ON JUNE SIXTH, as the fighting raged along the Egyptian frontiers on the Sinai peninsula, I appealed on the floor of the United States Senate for an immediate cease fire. I urged the United States to assert its dedication to an independent and free Israel. And I said that the United States must take the lead in the search for a lasting and real peace.

President Johnson has taken a step toward assuming that role. He has appointed a task force of top U.S. foreign policy advisers to explore the problem of long-range peace in the Middle East.

* * *

UNDER THE RULE of Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser the Egyptians and their allies among the Arab Nations are being taught to blame the United States for the Arab defeat and their ills blare out hatred for this country.

In a recent broadcast Radio Cairo viciously declared: "The United States is the enemy. The United States is the hostile side in the battle. The United States is the force behind which Israel is taking shelter. The United States is the enemy of the peoples, the killer of life and the shedder of blood."

That was Nasser blaming the United States for the war that Nasser brought on when he said he was going to destroy Israel and its people.

We stood behind Israel, but did not intervene — and Nasser found that his belligerence toward Israel was wasted and fruitless.

* * *

NOW IT IS time for a new Middle East, and the United States should help guide both the Israelis and the Arabs toward that day. Nasser has been badly beaten and his people disillusioned. We must show compassion and understanding for the rights of all of the peoples to avoid further flare-ups.

We must bring the two sides to a common table, encourage them to sit down together, and seek a middle ground. This will take statesmanship and wisdom. It will take leadership. And if the United States provides that leadership I believe that we can eradicate the Middle East problems that otherwise will bring still more bloodshed. Unless the root causes for those tensions are removed, another war is certain.

It might not end as quickly as this one. The building of hatreds breeds war. Peace is built on a mutual acceptance of peoples not on continued recriminations. The Middle East cannot bear the heavy burden of armaments that have been weighing it down. They must disarm and build their resources and their people with a free Gulf of Aqaba and equal passage to all nations through the Suez Canal.

New Outlook For Oil

Far East Influence Upon Texas

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Railroad Commission authorized Texas oil industry to produce an additional 2,268,000 barrels of oil during the last two weeks of June in view of curtailed supplies from the unsettled Middle East.

Commission increased the June allowable from 33.8 per cent to 35.9 per cent, retroactive to June 1. This figure will permit maximum oil production of 3,112,191 barrels daily compared to current 2,992,236 barrels. Commission postponed setting an allowable for July, but another moderate increase is almost certain.

* * *

STATE OFFICIALS, concious of the Legislature's special tax session looming next year, see a possible revenue windfall (which could reduce the new tax need) from the crisis-caused oil production jump.

With an increase from 10 to 13 days a month in production, there is no telling at this point how much the ultimate increase will be. Before the emergency situation, the oil production tax income for the coming year had been estimated at nearly $140,000,000.

* * *

THESE FACTORS figure in the magnitude of future allowable increases:

- Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, Iraq and Algeria have banned oil shipments to U.S. and Britain. Libya's production has been halted by a strike.
- Arabs want to nationalize their oil fields or cut-off Spain and France to develop their petroleum industry, replacing the U. S. and Britain.
- Suez Canal may remain blocked for several months. Thus any oil shipments would have to round the Cape of Good Hope. Trip would be longer and more expensive.

Interstate Oil Compact adopted a resolution calling for a 12.2 per cent limit on the ratio of imported oil to domestic stocks east of the Rocky Mountains. Experts say present situation demonstrates need for better government attitude toward domestic production and industry development.

DRIVERS POINTS — Auto drivers may have forgotten, but they will be reminded of "points" starting August 1.

That's when the new insurance plan adopted last July by the State Board of Insurance begins to show on insurance rates. Drivers will pay 15 per cent more for insurance if they have one point charged against them, 35 per cent for two points, 60 per cent for three points and 90 per cent for four points.

Points are assessed for accidents or traffic law violations which came after August 1, 1966, when the plan was adopted. Penalties will apply when auto insurance policies are bought or renewed after August 1, this year.

A driver who is assessed points can "work them off" Only points assessed after August 1, 1966, will count. But after three years of being charged more, the points drop off the driver's record, for rate purposes.

Board believes this will lower the basic rates, thus will reward no-point drivers.

* * *

14-YEAR-OLD CAN DRIVE — Fourteen-year-olds who complete driver education before August 28 still can get a license good until its regular expiration date.

Homer Garrison Jr., Director of Texas Department of Public Safety, issued the interpretation following numerous calls about new licensing law amendments.

New law which goes into effect in late August would raise the minimum age for licensing drivers with behind-the-wheel instruction to 16, except in unusual cases. Garrison said, however, he did not interpret the new law as denying "the privilege of driving" to 14-year-olds who already have qualified under existing regulations.

DESALTING FEASIBLE — New study concludes that large scale desalting in the Lower Rio Grande Valley can provide a dependable source of good municipal water at costs comparable to that of conventional production.

Study for Texas Water Development Board and U. S. Department of Interior said water could be made available to a metropolitan district for about 25 to 31 cents per 1,000 gallons at a desalting plant. Cost of delivery to individual cities in the Lower Valley would increase that figure from one to two cents per 1,000.

COURTS SPEAK — U.S. Supreme Court has agreed to hear arguments October 2 on whether the one-man-one-vote standard it applied to congressional and legislative districts also fits county commissioners precincts in Midland.

State Supreme Court found no error in lower court opinions dismissing the case of a woman who sued Galveston County for $20,000 after finding glass in scrambled eggs served her at the county's Memorial Hospital.

A certificate-holding student pilot does not meet standard insurance policy definitions of a duly-licensed aircraft operator whose passengers remain insured while in flight, State Supreme Court concluded in a Gillespie County case.

* * *

ATTORNEY GENERAL— Gulfward state boundary is a line three marine leagues from coast, and in those waters Texas is empowered to control and regulate fishing, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has ruled.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

- In counties where the office of ex-officio county school superintendent has been abolished, a county judge serving in superintendent's role continues to be paid for the extra job until the end of the current term of office. Thereafter, he must perform those duties without pay.
- State can make lease and rental contracts for up to four years, contingent on availability of funds appropriated by the legislature.
- When a married couple creates a valid joint tenancy agreement with a third party, including right of survivorship, inheritance tax is applicable on passing of the couple's interest.

* * *

WATER PROJECTS — Texas Water Development Board found San Antonio River Authority eligible to seek $960,000 in state aid to build a low water dam on Cibolo Creek and provide water supply to Karnes City and Kenedy. SARA also will seek a federal grant of $915,000.

At the same time, Board extended for 120 days a $2,700,000 loan commitment to the Upper Leon River Municipal Water District for facilities to take water from the Proctor dam reservoir to Comanche, De Leon, Dublin and Gorman, pending outcome of bid for a federal grant.

* * *

AIR SERVICE — Texas Aeronautics Commission has given Fleetway Commuter Airlines a certificate to begin operations in eight locations and approved extension of Davis Airlines service to Houston.

Fleetway, a new company, will fly two routes: from Gregg County airport to San Antonio via Tyler, Waco and Austin and return; and from Tyler to Houston via the Gregg County Airport, Palestine and Nacogdoches and return.

Davis, which now operates between College Station and Dallas, was granted a permit for service between College Station and Houston.

Both companies had presented evidence showing the need for their passenger services on these routes.

* * *

MANPOWER — Texas Employment Commission reports that during April the vivilian labor force in Texas continued to expand with an increase of 37,000, boosting the total to 4,204,300 at mid-month.

Non-farm employment reached 3,784,400, a record for April; and agricultural employment rose 16,800 — to 307,400.

There were 110,000 unemployed in mid-April, 4,000 less than were unemployed in mid-March. This put unemployment at 2.6 per cent of the total labor force.

* * *

SHORT SNORTS — Agriculture Commissioner John White reports that crops are making good progress in the eastern third of the state and conditions have improved in northwestern Texas, while South Texas and parts of West Texas that failed to receive rainfall continue short of planting and growing moisture.

Texas is one of seven states to participate in a new program sponsored by the US Defense Department to develop additional fallout shelter space.

Soil Testing

Up With Fertilizer

Texas agricultural producers in 1966 submitted more soil samples for analysis and used more fertilizer than ever before.

But the 29,980 samples tested by the Agricultural Extension Service Laboratories and the Stephen F. Austin and Wharton County Junior College Labotatories in 1966 falls far short of the 100,000 tests needed annually to adequately guide fertilization programs, says C. D. Welch and Carl Gray, Extension soil chemists at Texas A&M University.

The soil chemists explain the 100,000 figure this way. They say if each 40 acres of crop and improved pasture land were tested once every five years, the annual rate of sampling would be 250,000. Figuring the amount of land used for low intensity production and substracting it from the higher potential lands, the net result is their 100,000 figure.

In commenting on the fertilizer use growth, the chemists note that the movement of commercial fertilizer from July 1965 - April 1966 was 30 percent above the same period of 1966-'67; 1,296,329 tons compared with 990,324 tons.

Health Tips

Take It Easy In Summer

You can't really beat the heat.

Whether it's the heat or the humidity or both, it's hot in almost all of the United States in July. After weeks of sweating and steaming, it's not uncommon to find the heat is beginning to wear you down.

You can't do anything about the outside temperature. You can avoid it if you're fortunate enough to work and live in air-conditioned comfort, but it still will be hot outside.

The American Medical Association points out that there are some things you can do to be more comfortable — things that can help you beat the heat.

Stay out of the sun as much as possible, especially during the middle of the day when rays are hottest. Wear light, loose clothing. The ladies have an edge over the men in this respect. Drink more liquids than usual, but take extra salt only on your physician's advice, particularly if you have liver or kidney trouble or a heart condition.

Take a shower or dip in the pool once or twice a day to cool off. Get plenty of rest and sleep. Eat your regular diet and don't go overboard on cold cuts and salads, unless you like them anyway.

Get up early in the morning to do your heavy work on the lawn or garden. Or work at dusk in the evening, but try to avoid heavy exertion during the hottest hours of the day. There is a sound physical reason behind the siesta custom of the tropics.

You need exercise in the summer as well as in the winter, but don't overdo it, especially on extra hot days. Don't overdo physical exertion, whether at work or at play.

The more relaxed outdoor life of the summer months has many advantages to compensate for the heat. Stay relaxed and use common sense and you can beat the heat — at least somewhat.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Once this vine was just a seedling, struggling to survive. Now look at it! Each year it grows stronger and yields a greater harvest.

The Christian faith has grown and flourished like the vine. From the seeds of the early church, Christianity continues to spread its joyful message to people everywhere.

World-wide Communion Sunday is a day for Christians of every creed to meet in spirit at the Lord's Table. This annual event makes us deeply aware of our brotherhood within the Church whose truths we share.

Come and take part in this special service. Your prayers, and those of all Christians, will combine to strengthen the roots of God's vine throughout the world.
