Season's Course
Distributed

Each member of Twentieth Century Forum met at a coffee at city club rooms yesterday morning which preceded the study session. Mrs. Arthur Swanson, Mrs. Don Conley, and Mrs. Clarence Barrett were hostesses in rooms bright with garden flowers.

A review of the novel, Spargen-broke, by Charles Morgan, was presented by Mrs. Hol Wagner. She told the story in interesting fashion. Plans for the season's course were completed. The distinctive program, which followed a greeting to guests from Mrs. Arthur Teed, speaking for the club president, Mrs. Frank Perry.

Coffee was served to members and the following guests: Mrs. W. H. Davis, R. M. Bellamy, W. V. Jarrett, W. J. Smith, Carl Nichols, Frank Carter, J. B. Massa, W. L. Loring, Mark Heath, O. L. Bassham, Malcolm Brown, H. E. Lyman, C. H. Hickey, Wagner, and Miss McClintock.

Members present were Mrs. E. J. Turner, D. D. Cochran, A. B. Goldstein, Russell G. Allen, Max Mahaffey, Edward Damon, George Pfriau, W. D. Dixon, Arthur Holland, Teed, and the hostesses.

Yearbooks for the 1936-37 season were distributed, outlining the course of current developments based on Time and Fortune magazines. Special programs will be the annual Christmas party and the May luncheon which will close the year. Meetings on second and fourth Tuesdays will be in members' homes.

Kid Band Invited
For Appearance
At San Antonio

Kid band members and their leaders at Woodrow Wilson school are considering an invitation to appear today to play on the state convention program of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs at San Antonio Nov. 12.

If the trip is possible, it will be combined with a visit to the Centennial exposition at Dallas. Mrs. Annie Daniels, principal, said today. The band is directed this year by Eugene Senstrand.

Band members of the school are to meet tomorrow evening, and at that time will discuss the trip and whether it should be undertaken. The kid band was the first ward school band in Pampa, and has attracted much attention over the state. The band of three years ago went to Austin to appear before a statewide women's convention.

News Notes From South Oilfields

By MRS. B. T. HARGIS

Tree Will Grow
With P-TA Unit
At Baker School

Leaves will be thick and many-colored on an oak tree drawn on a blackboard at B. M. Baker school, if plans for a membership drive in the Parent-Teacher association are successful.

The tree was drawn yesterday morning when room mothers, teachers, and association officers met to begin the campaign that will close on Oct. 9. Pupils will assist, and the room enlisting the most members will be given a period off from classwork.

Leaves will be drawn on the tree, one for each member. Different colors have been designated for fathers, teachers, and friends. A goal of 200 members has been set.

Mrs. McGowan Is Hostess to Club

Mrs. Claude McGowan entertained Hi-Lo bridge club at her home yesterday afternoon, with Mrs. Roy Dyson and Mrs. W. M. McWright as special guests.

Club members present were Mrs. Tom Morris, Homer Wallace, Jim Sturgeon, Raymond Brumley, and G. R. Slocum. Mrs. Dyson scored high for guests, Mrs. Brumley for members, and Mrs. Brumley low.

Salted nuts and coffee were served after the games.

COURT NAMES JUDGE

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 1 (AP)—M. B. Walcott stood nominated today for the Tenth circuit judgeship after the Fourth Civil Court of Appeals held against Bob Davis, who appeared after a lower court ruling in favor of Walcott. Davis led in the July primary but the trial court held Walcott the winner after a runoff election for both candidates had been removed. Davis appealed on the grounds that 48 absentee votes cast for Walcott were not signed by the presiding judge. The appellate court held such signatures were not necessary.

By ELLEN WORTH

Here's a tailored shirt frock and quite different from anything you've seen.

It has a bosom-yoked bodice that buttons up to the shirt collar. The slim skirt has a front kick pleat and patch pockets. The back of the dress cuts in one-piece, which makes it easy to sew. Pin inverted tucks fit it through the waist.

A wool and rayon mixture as the original is an excellent choice for first fall days for town or back-to-school.

Velveteen is another popular choice in black or wine.

Style No. 1840 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 years, 36, 38 and 40-inches bust. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards of 39-inch material.

TEACHERS ARE GIVEN SHOWERMagic City Couple Is Presented Gifts
By P-TA

BY MRS. C. A. HODGES.
MAGIC CITY, Oct. 1.—Two members of the Magic City faculty, who were married recently, were surprised with a shower of gifts at the close of a social meeting of the Parent-Teacher association Monday evening.

They were Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Wharton. Mrs. Wharton was Miss Friday, primary teacher here for three years. Mr. Wharton has been principal of the school the last five years.

The shower followed a regular program of the association, featuring an address by J. L. Gilmore of Wheeler. Miss Della McCany gave a reading and Evelyn Ray McDonald a piano solo. Games were played and refreshments were served.

A play, Jimmie Be Careful, will be presented at the school building at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association. It is a drama with an oil field setting, and the public is invited.

Missionary Society.
The Missionary society met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Harris Walker with nine members present for a lesson on National Missions. Mrs. McQuitty was elected treasurer to fill an office vacancy.

Cake and hot chocolate were served in the social period.

Personals.
Reported ill this week are Cap Thompson, who is somewhat better today, and "Grandma" Thompson, who is seriously ill.

R. C. King and Mr. Winkler of Skellytown visited Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hodges recently.

W. W. Doorn and family are moving to Pampa this week. They have resided here 10 years, and will be missed in Magic City.

Mrs. Bill Cadenhead was called to Wellington recently to be with her mother, who underwent an operation there.

The Home Demonstration club will meet at the home of Mrs. Rock Sutton Friday of this week.

Miss Davis and
Mr. Holmes Wed

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Fay Davis of Groom and C. A. Holmes of Pampa, solemnized last Thursday in Amarillo by the Rev. Mr. Grimes of Polk Street Methodist church.

Now on a trip in New Mexico, the couple will be in a new home on East Craven Ave. when they return.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ike Davis, residents of the Groom community for several years. She was graduated from White Deer high school.

Mr. Holmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Holmes, has lived here the past 12 years, was graduated from Pampa high school in 1932, and has been with a wholesale grocery company for three years.

Cereal Flakes
Improve Flavor of Cookies, Bread

"The more the merrier" is the sentiment of most housewives when they hear of new recipes for popular dainties as nut bread and ice box cookies. Here are two brand-new recipes which make these good things even more delicious.

A new whole wheat flake cereal, Huskies, contributes materially to the texture and flavor of these cookies and nut bread, and adds to them, at the same time, the important food essentials of whole wheat.

2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1-4 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup butter or other shortening
1 egg, well beaten
1-2 teaspoons vanilla
1-2 cups Huskies

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and then add vanilla and lemon juice and Huskies. Shape into rolls, 1-2 inches in diameter, and roll in waxed paper. Chill overnight or until firm enough to slice. Cut into thin slices. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 5 to 6 minutes. Makes 4 dozen cookies.

Lunch-Box Nut Bread
2 cups sifted flour
4 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1 cup milk
3 tablespoons melted butter or other shortening
1-2 cup broken walnut meats

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift again. Combine egg, milk, and shortening, add to flour mixture, stirring only enough to dampen all flour. Add Huskies and nuts and blend. Bake in greased loaf pan, 7x3x2 1/2 inches, in moderate oven (350 F.) 1 hour and 10 minutes or until done.

Fifth Grade to Present Chapel
Program Friday

Parents are invited to a chapel program at Woodrow Wilson school tomorrow at 2 p. m. when the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades will assemble. The fifth grade is in charge.

Two numbers of the chapel club under direction of Miss Jean Wells, and two numbers by the Kid band directed by Eugene Senstrand will open the program. A reading by Carolyn Darnell is also scheduled.

Rainbow Girls to Have Weiner Roast

Rainbow Girls will be entertained with a weiner roast, this evening, and are asked to meet at Masonic hall at 5 o'clock to start on the outing. Cars will be available for all.

Each member is privileged to invite a prospective member as a guest for the evening. Arrangements are in charge of Mrs. W. A. Seydler, advisor.

Church Loyalty Vs
Club Is DiscussedMen at Dinner Hear
Club, Bank Night'
Mania Flayed

Consuming loyalty to bank nights and civic clubs was assailed at the First Methodist church's men banquet last night by E. H. Quattlebaum, chairman of the official board at Polk Street Methodist church, who declared that church progress in Amarillo would never be satisfactory until "we get rid of bank night."

The speaker deplored church members who put civic clubs first and who attend civic club luncheons because it is their "duty" but who will not attend church for the same reason. He declared that fidelity to bank nights and civic clubs is an obsession of the moment and will soon pass away.

Mr. Quattlebaum, an employee of the Santa Fe railroad at Amarillo, declared that no church, no minister, talked enough about giving and financing. He spoke a strong plea for men to return to Bible reading and to praying.

The main speaker of the evening was introduced by the Rev. W. C. House, pastor. Supt. R. B. Fisher presided, and reports were given by the stewards present. More than half of the stewards were absent. A plan for stewards to visit in all homes of the church and not ask for money was announced and discussed. Other talks were made by Roy Bourland and W. J. Daugherty.

A committee headed by Rufe Thompson prepared a barbecue dinner for the 75 men present. The meal consisted of barbecue, cooked by Mr. Thompson and his assistants, sliced tomatoes, onions, pickles, coffee, potatoes boiled with the skin on, buns, pumpkin pie.

The dinner, labelled as Scotch, was enlivened by recital of Scotch jokes by Travis Lively, Mr. Fisher and others.

TRUCE AVERTS FRISCO DOCK UNION STRIKE

ARMISTICES WILL LAST FOR 15 DAYS ON WEST COAST

PAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1. (AP)—A threatened day of coast shipping through disruption of working agreements between shippers and unions representing 37,000 workers was averted, early today through union acceptance of a truce proposed by employers.

Under the truce as outlined by assistant Labor Secretary Edward F. McGrady, commerce will continue under the old agreements, with "no strings" attached to the arrangements.

During that period, he said the unions will appoint committees to decide whether disputed issues shall be submitted to arbitration in negotiations the employers propose to extend for an additional 45 days.

The question of arbitrating these disputes has been a principal cause of deadlocking negotiations, the union declaring they could not arbitrate such fundamental questions as recognition and the right to collective bargaining.

Employers in turn said they had granted full union recognition and were in accord with the workers' rights to bargain collectively.

Announcement of the truce came half an hour after the time expiration of the old agreement, under which the maritime workers generally were granted higher wages and improved working conditions.

Found coast shipping slowed to a fraction of its normal movement in anticipation of waterfront trouble. Many ships were idle here. Some bound for this port had been diverted to other harbors. Disputes centering around the labor situation delayed a few sailings.

In voting unanimously to accept the truce, the joint union negotiating committee thanked McGrady, and Federal Conciliators E. P. Smith and Edward Fitzgerald for their efforts in "preventing a lock-out by employers."

The working agreements involved are those which followed the bitter coastwise strike, in which a dozen men lost their lives, and which finally led to a mass walkout of all unions in the San Francisco Bay area, virtually paralyzing activity in this city.

Under these agreements, the maritime unions received generally higher wages and better working conditions. The agreements were renewed a year ago by mutual consent, but this time both sides announced dissatisfaction and a desire to modify them.

T. J. Laffer, Stuttgart, Ark., and Mrs. Martin Kline, 36, his daughter, were reunited in Houston, Tex. recently after a 32-year separation.

Evangelist Has Growing Crowds To Hear Sermons

Hyma Appelmann, Jewish evangelist, teaching in the First Baptist church, is drawing larger and larger crowds with every passing service. The day crowd yesterday at 10:15 a. m. was doubled in size. There were scores of people in the night service at 7:30 p. m.

The evangelist preached on "What is the Price of a Soul in Pampa?" He detailed the price paid by God and by Jesus Christ for the salvation of every single soul. He described the travail of the early Christians who paid their life's blood that this salvation might be preached. He finished with an appeal to the Christians present to pay the price for their souls, sinking into hell, the price of prayer and consistent witness bearing.

"This morning the Jew spoke on 'The Greatest Force in the World.' He stated it to be prayer because it moves both God and men. It is the only force in the universe that can constrain God, compel God to work on behalf of His people, he said.

Tonight the sermon subject is to be 'Taking Christ's Place in Pampa.' Tomorrow morning the evangelist will speak on 'Impossible Things.' The services will continue two weeks twice daily, 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. George Reynolds, gospel singer, is leading the choir and congregation in singing old time hymns. This man has led singing for great evangelists, and revivals all over the south.

Tonight is All-First Baptist Church Members-Night with a special invitation issued to the members of this church to come and sit together by families. Everyone else is welcome. Last night at the meeting of the teachers and officers of the Sunday school, a goal of 800 present was set for the Sunday school this Sunday. It is to be a revival rally day in every department.

According to Pastor Lancaster this Jew is preaching the Gospel in a way that is sure to appeal to everyone that comes and hears him. This is a golden opportunity for our town to back up the most important thing in the world, the religion, the church, the Kingdom of the Lord Jesus Christ."

Those of you who are firm believers in the idea that a full cookie jar is the surest method of obtaining a reputation for hospitality will enjoy this unusual recipe for chocolate poppy seed cookies.

Of course you may have heard tales about poppy seeds, tall tales about the dreams they inspire, but these innocent little poppy seeds will induce no dreams except those of good, crunchy cookies with a wonderful flavor, due to the use of the little black seeds.

You can buy poppy seeds at most grocery and delicatessen shops. Usually 1-4 cups (1-2 pounds) sell for about ten cents.

Poppy Seed Cookies
One-half cup butter, 2 ounces sweet cooking chocolate, 1-2 cup hot milk, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-2 cup poppy seeds, 1-4 cups flour, 1-4 teaspoon ground cloves, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon.

The sweet chocolate comes in packages just like the bitter chocolate, marked off in the one ounce squares.

Soak the poppy seeds in the hot milk. Melt the chocolate over hot water. Cream the butter and sugar and add the poppy seeds and milk, then the melted chocolate and sifted dry ingredients (flour, cloves, baking powder and cinnamon).

Mix thoroughly to a smooth batter.

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST: Cereal cooked with figs, cream, crisp white wheat toast, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON: Poached eggs on milk toast, celery and carrot straws, baked apples, poppy seed cookies, milk, tea.
DINNER: Broiled liver and bacon, creamed onions, buttered broccoli, head lettuce with French dressing, cherry pie, milk, coffee.

Grease a large cookie pan and drop the batter in small rounds about two inches in diameter and one inch apart.

Have our oven moderate (350 degrees), and bake the cookies about 12 minutes.

Remove with a spatula or flat knife to a board to cool.

These cookies will be crisp and have a delicate and elusive flavor.

Incidentally here is a solution for that knotty problem of "what is there in the house to eat with drinks." They are an ideal accompaniment to tea or coffee or even iced drinks, since they aren't too sweet.

And to serve with a fruit dessert, nothing could be better than these delicious little bites.

By the way, save this recipe for your pre-Christmas baking. These cookies are just right to have with a Christmas or New Year eve nog.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED
HOLLYWOOD, CALIF., Oct. 1. (AP)—Jeanette MacDonald, the blond screen star, will be a June bride, unless wedding bells ring sooner.

The singer and her actor-husband, Gene Raymond, had agreed on the month, but not the date. Their engagement was announced several weeks ago.

FRANC DEVALUATION IS GIVEN APPROVAL BY FRENCH DEPUTIES

PARIS, Oct. 1. (AP)—The French Chamber of Deputies today gave final parliamentary approval to devaluation of the franc, adopting the monetary measure, with its compromise clause on price fixing decrees, by a vote of 354 to 217.

The vote meant that only the promulgation of President Albert Lebrun is necessary to make reduction of the gold content of the franc a law.

The government and the senate, earlier, had gotten together on the devaluation bill in a political atmosphere charged with threats of disorder.

Rumors that the capital's mobile guards were being reinforced were reflected in the Senate debate, where speakers urged avoidance of "the psychosis of civil war."

SINCLAIR IS VICTIM IN EXTORTION ATTEMPT

NEW YORK, Oct. 1. (AP)—Frank Vitolo, 33, of Yonkers, N. Y., an unemployed acrobat, faced a hearing today before United States Commissioner Garratt W. Cotter on charges of attempting to extort $64,000 from Harry Sinclair, wealthy oil man, and six other prominent men and women.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, said Vitolo would be charged with writing threatening letters to Sinclair at his Great Neck, N. Y., home; to Col. Douglas I. McKay, president of the New York Title Insurance company; Mrs. Alexander Hamilton Rice of Newport, R. I., wife of the explorer and philanthropist; and to Mrs. Bernard E. Smith of Bedford, N. Y., wife of a wealthy New York stock broker.

Hoover quoted Vitolo as telling him the "wild scheme had been concocted from information obtained from a detective magazine."

He said the suspect never appeared to obtain the sums of money demanded.

Hoover said Vitolo had made a full confession.

SCHOOL CHILDREN ARE VISITING CENTENNIAL

DALLAS, Oct. 1. (AP)—The vanguard of thousands of school children expected to visit the Texas Centennial exposition on holidays granted by Governor Allred arrived today.

Today and tomorrow were set aside for delegations from district one in the Panhandle. Railroads offered a fare of half a cent a mile for pupils and their sponsors.

It also was Wharton Day, Bexar county agricultural day, Sterling Price camp, United Confederate Veterans day, and Texas homeopathic day.

Yesterday attendance was 16,291.

A son, Richard Earl, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dickinson at Worley hospital Tuesday. He is a grandson of B. H. Doughty.

C. B. Cree and B. L. Hoover are in New York attending the world series. They flew last Saturday.

MAROONED MEN RETURN.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Oct. 1. (AP)—Four men marooned in the summit house on Pike's Peak five days by Colorado's September snow storm were home today, after a cog train made its way up the 14,099-foot mountain. The four were Kirk Kimbrell, Fred Miles, Kirby Sells and Axel Simonson, summer employees at the summit house. Simonson said the mercury dipped to 4

below zero on the peak Monday night and four feet of snow fell. Mrs. Dave Pinkelstein was taken to her home from Pampa-Jarrett hospital this morning.

HARVESTERS CONFIDENT AS THEY POLISH OFF FOR MIGHTY SOONERS

WEE LADS SET TO HOLD THAT TIGER FRIDAY

HARVESTERS EXPECTED TO PLAY GREAT GAME

A Harvester football team that is beginning to believe in itself will meet the Norman high school Tigers on the turf at Harvester field tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. In a scrimmage with the Gordias yesterday afternoon, the Harvesters showed much promise in running plays, which leads the rail birds to believe that a clicking offense will be ready for the Tigers.

The game tomorrow night will be the last home appearance of the Harvesters until they meet Lubbock's big Westerners on the afternoon of October 24, here. It will also be the last night game of the season. On October 9 the Harvesters will go to Oklahoma City for a game with the Capitol Hill Indians of Jim Lookabaugh who has a starting eleven men who average 180 pounds per man. It won't be a big team that will represent the Oklahomaans, which will give the mighty little Harvesters a chance to show their stuff against an almost equal weight. The Tigers will average about 150 pounds per man to an average of about 153 for the Harvesters.

In a log scrimmage with the Gordias yesterday afternoon, the Harvesters showed up much better in sweeping and runs and passed which are scheduled to play an important part in the team of offense against Norman. Plays to get, passes, shifts back, past the line of scrimmage, worked more smoothly. Blase is one of the best broken field runners on the squad but so far his interference has been unable to get him into the open.

Little J. W. Graham, the other half, has shown some nice work in the open. Woodbridge is the spinner man with Showers providing the power and passing. His punting has been a cause of worry. That angle has been worked on this week and an improvement is expected to be shown in that department.

Only one tackle position has not been definitely filled for the start. Rice and Little John Henry Nelson are battling it out for the starting call. Rice has been showing up better on offense while Nelson's defensive play has been superior. Lewis Jones, biggest man on the squad, will hold down the other tackle position. The guards will be Morgan and Mathews. Both played good ball last week. Leon Noblitt will be at center and lead the defense from behind the line. Roy Lee Jones and Maxey will be back at their end positions after a week on the bench because of injuries.

Coach Luster will bring 22 players here. His starting lineup will be intact following a 19 to 6 victory over Lawton last Friday. Leading the Norman attack will be the pass combination of Munsey, Jennings or Jennings to Munsey. Remy, a 134-pounder, is the scooter of the team. Devore provides the power from the fullback position.

The Tiger ends, Garrett and Spottedwood, are small but rangy. Both are good pass receivers and shine on defense. Corbett and Smith are big tackles. Corbett weighing 172 pounds and Smith, two pounds less. The guards, like the Harvesters, are small and fast. Miller plays on the left side of the line with stubs on the other side. Wood holds down the center position.

Officials for the game will be Dunlap and Pendleton from Oklahoma City and Hill and Honey from Amarillo. Their duties will not be assigned until just before the whistle.

Mrs. Helen Lawson In Quarter Finals

SUMMITT, N. J., Oct. 1 (AP)—Playing golf and riding are common but mixing the two makes life interesting for Mrs. Helen Lawson Shepherd of Beverly Hills, Calif.

They're her one-two hobbies and she plays both of them to the limit. To give equal attention, she has east to compete in the 40th U. S. Women's golf championship now under way at the Canoe Brook country club.

The rain drenched tournament marks her fifth try for the national trophy but has failed to go far in match play competition. Neglected by the experts and gallery alike, she has advanced this week through the first three rounds to the quarter finals.

Her opponent today was 24-year old Kathryn Hemphill of Columbia, S. C., whose chief bid to golf fame was her victory in the Bellini tournament this winter. To win, she defeated Mrs. Maureen O'Connell in the semi-finals and Mrs. Glenna Collett Vase, six times national champion, in the final.

DEFEAT REMEMBERED. WEST POINT, Oct. 1 (AP)—When Washington and Lee invades the plains for a game with the Cadets Saturday many old army men will recall another meeting with the generals 20 years ago. Then an united and undefeated Army eleven faced defeat and only in the last few minutes when Elmer Dillinger broke away for a touchdown were the Cadets able to win a victory.

BETTING ODDS FAVOR GIANTS SINCE VICTORY

HUBBELL SILENCES BIG BATS OF HOMICIDE SQUAD

By SID FEDER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP)—The pitching mastery of Carl Hubbell and the mudhorse talent of his mates shifted the betting odds sharply in favor of the Giants in the New York civil war series today.

While Old Man Weather reeled another laugh at the expense of the athletes and baseball faithful, threatening to duplicate the soaking wetting fraternity about-faced from the previous odds of 11 to 20, with the Yankees favorites, and made it 4 to 3, and take your choice.

They came out for their huddle, however, with Lefty Gomez's erratic speedballing the 3 to 5 choice to take today's second game over Hal Schumacher at the Polo Grounds, and even things up for the manner in which Hubbell subdued Murderer's Row so successfully in yesterday's 6 to 1.

To the baseball experts, who say the American league champions outsmarted and outplayed, finally reaching the point where their defense came apart in the opening test, it appeared the waging men were more than generous in making the Yankees favorites for the second game, Schumacher's return to form strengthens the pitching edge Hubbell has already given the Giants.

In short, the Yankees faced a rout unless they put on a speedy comeback with their big sticks.

Only 39,419 of the faithful paid $172,157 to see the opening tilt, far off the nearly 55,000 capacity expected, and the continued downpour made it doubtful that any more, if as many, would show up today in the event the weather and field were suitable enough to play.

To match the pitching shifts, both lineups faced changes for the second battle. The Giants assigned Hank Leiber, a right handed hitter, to center field in place of Jim Rippel against Gomez's portside offerings, and batting in the clean up spot, Mel Ott dropped to fifth in the batting order.

George Selkirk, whose homer accounted for the only Yankee run yesterday, was expected to regain his regular place, No. 6, in the batting order against Schumacher. Selkirk was dropped below Powell and Lazzari yesterday.

It took more than 10 years for the weather man to catch up to a world series, and a decade for any National league club to do the same to the Yankees.

PANHANDLE AND McLEAN WILL BATTLE IN CLASS B CLASSIC

was given able assistance by Burgess Whitehead, the flashy second base youngster whose fielding was top, and by Dick Bartel, Bill Terry and Mel Ott, who contributed two hits apiece in the nine-hit attack on Ruffing.

While the two biggest guns of the Yankee firing line, Lou Gehrig and Bill Dickey, were completely silenced, the particular bright spot for the homicide squad was Jake Powell, who collected three of the seven hits Hubbell gave up, and whose spectacular catch of Bartel's towering fly to left in the first inning, was a fielding highlight.

Most interest in inter-district games will be at McLean where the Panhandle Panthers will meet the McLean Tigers. Last year McLean, district 3 champions, nosed out Panhandle, district 2 titlist, 7 to 6, in a bitter struggle. Gone this year are the big McLean players while Panhandle has a bigger team than ever.

Memphis and LeFors are scheduled to wage a bitter battle under the lights at Shaw field. All games will be night affairs. Some of the games over the Panhandle:

Panhandle at McLean.
*Wheeler at Cleburne.
*Memphis at LeFors.
*Lakeview at Shamrock.
*Whittemore at White Deer.
*Perryton at Canadian.
Happy at Claude.
Estelina at Wellington.

Indian Head is the highest point of the Palisades of the Hudson river and is so called because of its resemblance to the features of a human face.

Burgess Whitehead's private and personal rooting section was out in full force, not only yesterday but the night before. Burgess had to hire a detective to stand guard in front of his house so he could get some sleep. When he woke up yesterday morning he found 22 notes from southern admirers who had dropped around during the night.

Incidentally, Burgess (who is a Phi Beta Kappa) helped save the game for Hubbell when he started that double play on Joe Di Maggio in the eighth.

The three Giant outfielders were the lucky guys. Joe Di Maggio's mother came all the way from Princeton to root for Joe in Italian. On his second time up the vista from the Di Maggio section made the W. K. Welkin ring.

STAGE FRIGHT IS FEARED BY STEER COACH

ARKANSAS WEAKENED BY INJURIES AND ILLNESS

(By The Associated Press)

Coach Jack Chevigley sought today to prevent his University of Texas Longhorns from suffering stage-fright when they make their advance debut against Louisiana State at Austin Saturday.

Chevigley feared the team's first public appearance plus the opposition of a squad that trounced Rice Institute last week would produce a case of jitters.

At Fayetteville illness and injuries threatened to force the use of sophomore tactics in the Arkansas lineup in the conference opener with Texas Christian at Fort Worth. Coach Fred Thomas drilled the Razorbacks on defense against T. C. U. plays.

Aerials, which have brought fame to Southern Methodist eleven in the past, held the attention of the Mustangs as they prepared for Saturday's contest with Texas A. and I. Bob Finley, Jack Morrison and Red Stidger did most of the tossing.

Texas Christian frosh, using Arkansas plays, failed to show up to the mark. Coach Leo (Dutch) Meyer found no cause for elation in the varsity's blocking performance. Lin Blackmon, fullback who was injured in the Texas Tech game, returned to practice.

At Baylor Emmet Kriel, guard, and Doc Kensle, reserve tackle, were injured in practice to add to Coach Morley Jennings' worries. Lloyd Russell and Bubba Germond divided the coaching duties as the Razorbacks drilled for the Centenary game at Tyler Saturday.

Bruno Schroder, Texas Aggie fullback who has been out with an ankle injury, was back at practice but was not expected to see service in the Hardin-Simmons clash at Wichita Falls Saturday. The Aggies drilled on punting and place-kicking.

The Rice Owls were at Pittsburgh where they clash Saturday with Duquesne.

Oilers plan to win league flag tonight.

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 1 (AP)—Tulsa baseball fans today were anticipating participation by their Oilers with Birmingham in their first Dixie series and indications were that Texas league park will have a sell-out tonight for what loyal Oilers boosters believe will be the conclusive game of the Texas league playoff series.

With Tulsa leading by the count of 3 to 2, both teams arrived here this morning to renew hostilities in the sixth game tonight.

Weather indications were encouraging, the prediction being fair, with chances for a warmer sun to temper the biting chill that has prevailed here on recent nights.

Before leaving Dallas, where the Oilers returned to batting form last night to take the fifth game, 8 to 4, Manager Marty McManus announced that Irv Stein would be his selection for the pitching chore, Vic Frazer will go to the mound for the Oilers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (AP)—Here's how the receipts for the first world series game yesterday were divided:

Gross receipts... $172,157.00
Commission's share... 25,823.55
Players' pool... 87,800.07
Leagues' share... 29,266.69

Four Conference Games Set For Week-End In Oil Belt

Amarillo Is Going to Capitol Hill for Game

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF, Associated Press Staff Writer.

Texas Intercollegiate League football teams move into the thick of the fight for district championships this week, seventeen conference games dotting the schedule.

Eleven districts have games counting on the standings, the bulky Oil Belt heading the list with four.

The state's card is attractive there being 41 conference, inter-district and interconference games out of the 55 contests slated.

One conference engagement is scheduled in district 2, Olney, which played Vernon to a scoreless tie last week, meeting Quanah, while in the Oil Belt Big Spring and Brownwood start the ball rolling Thursday night.

The former played a scoreless tie with Eastland and Brownwood lost to Sweetwater in openers last week. Eastland goes to San Angelo, Sweetwater to Cisco and Ranger to Abilene. Cisco was swamped 38-0 last week by Breckenridge.

District four sends Austin, El Paso against Yuleta and two games "for keeps" top the Fort Worth district card. Poly meeting Stripling and Masonic Home, defending champion, engaging Riverside, which lost to Mineral Wells 18-0 last week.

North Dallas and Sunset, rated top flight teams in the Dallas district, clash Saturday but other clubs of the sector have inter-district games.

Gladeswater and Texarkana open conference festivities in district nine and Mexia plays Lufkin to start the ball rolling in district ten. Wash-hatch and Cleburne meet in district eleven which had a conference game last week, Corsicana nosing out Bryan.

Two conference struggles are on the San Antonio district opening card with Harlandale meeting

Brackenridge and San Antonio Tech going to Kerrville.

District 14 opens the drive with Fort Arthur playing South Park at Beaumont. Down in the Rio Grande valley Brownsville, which opened its bid for the title last week, beats Pharr-San Juan-Alamo 7-0, plays San Benito and Harlingen goes to Weslaco.

Interconference Games. Four of the interconference games are with Oklahoma teams. Pampa, Amarillo, El Paso, and El Paso engage Albuquerque, N. M. The week's schedule by districts:

1—Friday: Plainview at Clovis (N. M.). Hereford at Borger. Norman (Okla.) at Pampa; Saturday: Amarillo at Capitol Hill (Oklahoma City).

2—Friday: Denton at Vernon. Quanah at Olney (conference). Wichita Falls at Cleburne (Oklahoma City). Matador at Childress. Vocational (Fort Worth) at Graham.

3—Thursday: Big Spring at Brownwood (conference); Friday: Eastland at San Angelo (conference). Sweetwater at Cisco (conference). Ranger at Abilene (conference). Mineral Wells at Breckenridge.

4—Friday: Austin (El Paso) at Yuleta (conference). Anthony at Pampa. Albuquerque (N. M.) at El Paso High.

5—Thursday: Denison at Durant (Okla.); Friday: Forest (Dallas) at Gainesville. Adamson (Dallas) at Sherman. Plano at Bonham. Paris at Clarksville.

6—Friday: Hillsboro at Greenville. Honey Grove at Sulphur Springs. Dallas Tech at McKinney.

7—Friday: Poly (Fort Worth) vs. Stripling (Fort Worth), conference; Saturday: Masonic Home (Fort Worth) vs. Riverside (Fort Worth), conference.

8—Friday: Waco at Woodrow Wilson (Dallas); Saturday: North Dallas vs. Sunset (Dallas) conference.

9—Friday: Gladeswater at Texarkana (conference). Henderson at Marshall. Waxahatchee at Kilgore. Minpola at Longview.

10—Friday: Alto at Jacksonville, Mexia at Lufkin (conference). Crockett at Palestine.

11—Thursday: Franklin at Brownsville. Highland Park (Dallas) at Temple. Tyler at Corsicana. Wash-hatch at Cleburne (conference).

12—Thursday: Harlandale (San Antonio) at Brackenridge (San Antonio), conference; Friday: Laredo at Austin. San Antonio Tech at Kerrville (conference).

13—Friday: Beaumont at San Jacinto (Houston). Milby (Houston) at Goose Creek; Saturday: Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) at Reagan (Houston).

14—Friday: Port Arthur at South Park (Beaumont), conference; Jeff Davis (Houston) at Ball High (Galveston).

15—Friday: Sam Houston (Houston) at Corpus Christi. Rosenberg at Kingsville. Corpus Christi College-Academy at Robstown.

16—Friday: Brownsville at San Benito (conference). Harlingen at Weslaco (conference). Donna at McAllen. San Perlita at Pharr-San Juan-Alamo.

PORTLAND WINS COAST LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP. OAKLAND, Calif., Oct. 1 (AP)—A renewed, hard-fought battle, a steady climb of fingers, held the 1936 Pacific Coast league championship today.

Which is to say that Portland's Beavers wrapped up the tattered last night by knocking off Oakland, 5-3, in the deciding game of the championship series.

Portland left no doubt in the minds of fans as to which was the best team in the league. The Beavers finished on top in the regular season, polished off Seattle in the playoff semi-finals with four straight, then took four out of five from Oakland.

HEAVY GUARD IN SHANGHAI IS STRENGTHENED

JAPANESE SEND MORE TROOPS INTO HONGKOW

SHANGHAI, Oct. 1. (AP)—Heavy patrols of Japanese marines took up positions in Shanghai's Hongkew district today in an apparent reinforcement of guard duty for Japanese residents.

Japanese officials declined to discuss specific reasons for enlargement of the patrols, which came suddenly and without warning.

A Japanese naval spokesman was reported as declaring the action was based on developments in the trial of the alleged slayers of a Japanese naval warrant officer, Radeo Nakayama, who was fatally wounded in Shanghai Nov. 10, 1935.

The Japanese sources pointed out previous sensational developments in the trial had resulted in the killing Aug. 10 Kosaku Kayau, a Japanese employee of a trading company.

The Japanese professed belief that if the Nakayama trial is finished today, fresh anti-Japanese violence might break out and therefore the patrols were established.

American sailors and marines, who arrived at Shanghai on the U. S. S. Augusta, flagship of the Asiatic fleet, were forbidden by Admiral O. G. Murrin, commander of the fleet, to enter the trouble zone.

Chinese residents of the eastern section of the Shanghai district, meanwhile, began moving into the international settlement by foot, rickshaw and automobile, carrying with them personal and household belongings.

The movement of the Chinese recalled similar processions in 1932 when thousands attempted to enter the international zone during fighting between Japanese and Chinese troops in Shanghai.

Reports from Peking declared the Tokyo government had made formal demands on the Chinese administration to allow establishment of an autonomous regime in five northern Chinese provinces.

Included in the demands, in addition to the provincial government action, was one for the withdrawal of the 20th Chinese army from the region.

The Japanese were reported to have demanded also dismissal from North China's government of all officials alleged to be anti-Japanese sympathizers and installation of Japanese inspectors in all northern provinces.

DAIRY SPECIALIST TO TALK HERE SATURDAY

R. R. Eudaly, dairy specialist of the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. college, will be in Pampa Saturday, October 3, and will discuss feeding and feed conservation at the county court room beginning at 9:30 a. m., according to Ralph R. Thomas, county agent.

After Mr. Eudaly's discussion, the group will go to a nearby farm where there is a trench silo and hear actual experiences Gray county farmers have had with silos and the feeding of silage.

Everyone interested in feeding, either dairy cattle or beef cattle, should attend this meeting. Mr. Eudaly's discussion will cover mainly feeds in relation to dairy cattle but the same principal of feeding also applies to beef cattle feeding due to the fact that so much of the feed crop in the northern and western part of Gray county is so short that it will be practically impossible to cut and bind and there would be a great wastage in feed if handled in any other way except in a silo.

There should be a great deal of interest on the part of the dairy men and stockmen in this meeting. Mr. Eudaly stated today, as farmers who have had experience with silos in the past in Gray county claim that there is very little waste when such feed is put in a silo.

LONG-DISTANCE RACERS KILLED IN SHIP CRASH

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Oct. 1. (AP)—Max Findlay, England, to Johannesburg, air racer and his radio operator, A. H. Morgan, were killed today in a crash near Abercorn, Northern Rhodesia, the Reuters (London) news agency reported. They were speeding, at the time, down the last lap of the $50,000 air race, won today by G. W. A. Scott and Ollie Guthrie, Scott and Guthrie passed their plane down at Johannesburg at 10:34 a. m. G. W. A. Scott, 44, and O. S. T. to win the $20,000 special prize.

They completed the flight from England in 52 hours and 46 minutes, an average speed of 133 miles an hour. Winner of the $15,000 handicap prize and other awards will not be determined until the remaining fliers arrive and their times are figured.

Scott, winner of the England-Australia air race in 1934 with T. Campbell Black, moved into the van when G. S. Hines, previous leader, crashed on the last lap.

Flying Officer David Dewell and G. S. Hines, unreported since last yesterday, crashed near Moulton, Lake Tanganyika, when they ran out of gas. They escaped unscathed but their plane was wrecked.

The average cost of operating the Manhattan, Kas., public schools was $92.55 a pupil for 1935.

JOBLESS WOULD GET INSURANCE UNDER NEW ACT

Testimony Heard in Pension Inquiry
At Austin

AUSTIN, Oct. 1. (AP)—A bill to provide for Texas participation in benefits of the national unemployment insurance program was before the House of Representatives today on a unanimous favorable report from its labor committee.

Rep. George Davidson of Eastland, author of the bill, said he hoped to obtain floor action on it before the end of the week.

Unemployment insurance was one of two subjects submitted to the Legislature when it convened three days ago. The other was taxation for old age pensions. Nearly a score of tax proposals had been introduced but the House sidetracked them until after it had made a thorough investigation of pension operations.

Conducting the inquiry as a committee of the whole, the House called Orville S. Carpenter, state pension director, as the first witness. Carpenter was questioned for three hours yesterday and asked to return today.

The director said the reason many probably eligible persons were not on the pension rolls was that investigators had not had sufficient time to find out whether they needed aid. He said that one man could investigate only 25 applicants a week on the average.

Of the 75,269 persons on the rolls September 1, Carpenter testified that 62,610 were native whites, 748 Mexicans, 11,903 negroes and eight Indians.

He said there was no discrimination against negroes as shown but that the average monthly grant to native whites was $16.48 and that to negroes $11.84. The law directs the pension administration to consider the applicant's previous standard of living in determining the amount of his pension.

Only 224 of the 75,269 pensioners received the maximum of $30 allowed by the state and federal governments, Carpenter said. Only four negroes were given as much as $25 a month.

Carpenter categorically denied that pension operations participated in the political campaign last summer. Opponents of Governor Allred charged that the pension organization was a political machine.

The House revenue and taxation committee decided to begin hearings Monday night on the multitude of revenue-raising proposals. Time will be allotted for representatives of each affected group to appear. The committee said it intended to finish the hearings by Wednesday night.

MCLEAN SUIT AGAIN ENDS IN A HUNG JURY

JURY DISMISSED AFTER DELIBERATING TWO DAYS

For the second time a jury has failed to reach an agreement in the lawsuit of the Albrechts Gasoline Corp. against W. H. Blevins, former operator of a service station at McLean.

Judge W. R. Ewing at 2:45 p. m. Wednesday dismissed the district court jury which had been sitting on the case since Monday and which had been deliberating the evidence since 2:30 p. m. on Tuesday.

The plaintiff sought to collect $1,200 which he claimed was due for products sold to the defendant. Blevins denied that the amount was owed and counter-charged that, in fact, the plaintiff was indebted to him in the sum of $50 due to improper credits to his account.

When it appeared late yesterday that the jury was hopelessly deadlocked on the issues involved, Judge Ewing ordered the jurors discharged. There will be no more civil jury work this week, the court stated.

Next week, third of the September term, will be criminal jury week.

AIR - TOUR TO PHILIPPINES IS ORGANIZED

TO BEGIN AT NEW YORK SUNDAY AND LAST SIX DAYS

NEW YORK, Oct. 1. (AP)—The longest passenger air-tour ever attempted across territory under the American flag was being organized here today.

It is an air odyssey which will begin Sunday and go half-way around the world — commercial aviation's conquest of the air from New York to the Philippine Islands.

The tour is not an attempt to break records — it's mission is to report the progress of American aviation — but the 10,700-mile journey will be accomplished in six days of travel.

The members of the tour will take part in the preliminary passenger flight of Pan American Airways across the Pacific ocean, a survey of conditions which will be experienced by ordinary travelers when the line is opened for the first regular passenger flight to the Orient Oct. 20.

The flight to be accomplished entirely by commercial transport planes flying on regular routes, opens an era in which American salesmen can reach their far eastern markets in the time it formerly took them to cross the continent.

The preliminary passenger flight will return to San Francisco Oct. 20. Plans for flying passengers across the Pacific began four years ago. The men who were to carry out the operation were given month after month of intensive schooling over the Caribbean and around South America.

Simultaneously, flying boat designers went into competition to develop a ship powerful enough to fly safely over long ocean stretches and still carry "spay loads."

JAPAN PLANS NEW SCHOOLS FOR MUNITION WORKERS

TOKYO (AP)—The need for trained workers and foremen in Japan's expanding munitions industries is the explanation given by the Tokyo education bureau for its decision to establish five new technical schools next year. With the army planning to spend about $900,000,000 on expansion and especially replenishment of arms and munitions during the next six years, thousands of skilled factory men will be required.

FDR ATTACKS OPPONENTS OF SECURITY ACT

WILL SPEAK TONIGHT AT PITTSBURGH OVER RADIO

ABOARD ROOSEVELT TRAIN EN ROUTE TO PITTSBURGH

Oct. 1. (AP)—President Roosevelt carried his eastern campaign into West Virginia and Pennsylvania today after delivering an attack against critics of the social security act.

The President deplored what he termed "partisan hostility" to the law. His remarks were contained in a letter last night accepting the resignation of John G. Winant, former Republican governor of New Hampshire, as chairman of the board charged with administering the law.

Winant resigned to carry on a speaking campaign against critics of the new deal law, including Governor Alf M. Landon, Republican presidential nominee, who had termed it a "cruel hoax" on the working man.

The President said the "passions of a political campaign" had "fanned the flames of partisan hostility to this non-partisan legislation."

He told Winant he appreciated "the sense of public duty which impelled your resignation and your wish to be free as a citizen, not simply to clear up misconceptions and misinterpretations of the act, but actively to defend the constructive provisions of the act and to oppose spurious substitutes."

Kidney Trouble Relieved And General Health Improved

Caretaker in Sweetwater Church Now Sleeps and Eats Well—All Sluggishness Gone

Practically all bodily ailments grow progressively worse when not correctly treated and have a tendency to lead to other disorders. That was the experience of Mr. Lawrence Penn, 316 Orange Street, Sweetwater, Texas. His first trouble was with his kidneys, this trouble becoming so severe that he could hardly sleep nights, having to get up 3 or 4 times every night. Indigestion and a general run down condition developed until he could hardly keep going. Williams' S.L.K. Formula has given him real relief as expressed in his own words:

"No pains, no burning sensation, almost eliminated getting up nights. I sleep better than I have in a long time and my appetite is improving. All sluggishness has disappeared."

Williams' S.L.K. Formula is recommended for kidney, liver and stomach disorders, the symptoms of which include lame back, distress after eating, headaches, a tired, run-down feeling and many others. Keep your kidneys, liver, and stomach healthy and nature will do the rest. You can get Williams' S.L.K. Formula at Cretney Drug Store with the positive guarantee that if you are not entirely satisfied with your very first bottle your money will be refunded—any.

FAULKNER AND HICKS SEEING WORLD SERIES

Two Pampans were in the stands at the Polo Grounds yesterday afternoon when the Giants defeated the Yankees in the opening game of the 1936 world series. The two slipped quietly out of Pampa Tuesday night and boarded a Transcontinental Western Air plane at Amarillo, passing over Pampa about midnight.

The two were Siler Faulkner Sr. and Dr. H. H. Hicks, two rabid baseball fans. They made up their minds to make the trip Tuesday evening and without noise left the city. When neither reported at their offices yesterday, questions were asked and the trip revealed.

WORLEY FILES BILL TO RAISE BETTING TAXES

AUSTIN, Oct. 1 (AP)—The House Representatives cleared the way for its fact-finding inquiry into the old age pension situation by adopting rules of procedure. Six more bills were introduced in the House, raising the total in that body to 20.
Rep. Traylor Russell of Mount Pleasant, and Eugene Worley of Fort Worth, introduced bills to raise taxes on horse race bets. Russell introduced a bill to raise the tax on the track's ten per cent of the track's ten per cent of the take. Worley advocated a sliding scale, dependent on the volume of the race, ranging from 33 1/2 per cent to 50 per cent of the take. Russell's bill is 25 per cent.
Rep. Lindsey of Anson proposed a bill to raise the tax on automobile license revenues by 10 per cent. The bill would be added to the highway tax on the road fund. B. E. Quinn of Beaumont presented the omnibus tax bill introduced by the House at its last session. Wallace E. Broyles of Fruitland proposed a tax of $1 a ton on Arthur O. Riddle of Lockhart to a bill to double the present rate of 2 cents a barrel on oil. Quinn urged that the representatives get to work as soon as a committee of the whole on tax proposals that the Senate would not wait long before starting consideration of revenue-raising measures.
Rep. Helen B. Moore of Texas, only woman member of the House, announced she would ask the governor to submit the bill to the Senate. She would put into effect the constitutional amendment adopted last year authorizing commitment of insane under certain conditions without trial by jury. Moore was author of the amendment.
The Senate adopted a resolution Senator E. M. Davis to furnish textbooks to school children in needy reading courses and advanced until tomorrow.

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS

BY WILL H. MAYES.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. As evidence of good faith inquiries must give their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. When and where was there a "Hubbard College" in Texas? C. J. A. A college of that name was opened in 1881 at Overton by Prof. W. M. Crow, who afterward was superintendent of public schools at Galveston.

Q. I have seen a recent claim that artificial ice was first manufactured in Galveston in 1880. Is that correct? E. K. A. According to a sworn statement of B. J. Benefield, of Jefferson, who sold and delivered it at 10 cents a pound, ice was manufactured in Galveston by Boyle & Scott in 1874 or 1875. After about a year Boyle went north to raise money to promote ice-making and was never heard of again. His partner went into bankruptcy and the plant was moved to Harrisburg, near Houston.

Q. When did Stephen F. Austin reach San Antonio to arrange with Mexican officials to carry forward his father's colonization plans, and when was he granted permission to explore the lands on the Colorado river? M. M., Navasota.

A. He arrived at San Antonio, Aug. 10, 1821, and at first was bluntly rebuffed, but through the intercession of Baron de Bastrop, whom he chanced to meet, he was authorized to explore the Colorado on Aug. 14.

Q. For whom was Ochiltree county named? O. H. A. Ochiltree county, created in 1876, was named for Gen. Wm. B. Ochiltree, a native of North Carolina, who came to Texas in 1839, was judge of the Fifth Judicial district of the Republic in 1842, secretary of the treasury in 1844, attorney general and member of the annexation convention in 1845 and of the secession convention of 1861. He died at Jefferson, Dec. 27, 1867. "Col. Tom" Ochiltree, the noted and eccentric Texas wit, was his son.

CENTENNIAL SCRAP BOOK
Get the Scrap Book habit. Encourage the children to do so. The newspapers are full of pictures and items relating to Texas that should be kept for convenient reference. Especially will it be helpful to preserve Texas history in this form during Centennial year.
This scrap book is artistically designed, indexed and classified under appropriate headings and can be expanded as needed. Cover in heavy paper with large picture of Texas Capitol surrounded by Six Flags of Texas. Inside covers contain much information about Texas.
This lovely Official Centennial Scrap Book mailed for 25 cents. Send all orders to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Tex.

BURGLAR TOOLS USED IN TESTS ON DRUNKS

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Police surgeons here have added two safe-crackers' tools to their kits—a hammer and flashlight—to test the sobriety of autoists.

With the tools the surgeons determine whether the suspect is cold sober, alcoholically argumentative, or just plain "blotto."
The hammer, rubber-headed, sounds out the reflexes of the arms and legs. The flashlight is used to determine whether normal dilation of the driver's eyes has been affected by liquor.

FRANK GRAHAM DIES.
Word of the death of Frank Graham at the home of a daughter in Kansas Sunday, was received by friends here Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Graham was formerly superintendent of the Skelly Oil Co. in the Panhandle field. He was in charge of operations when the company opened the now famous Schaefer ranch pool. For several years Mr. Graham had been in ill health. Funeral arrangements had not been learned up to this afternoon.

Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith Seen As "No. 1 U. S. Rabble Rouser" On Anniversary of Huey Long's Death

REV. GERALD L. K. SMITH, hailed as "No. 1 Rabble-Rouser of the U. S." (1) pledges fealty to the portrait of Huey P. Long, his one-time leader; (2) practices oratorical flourishes before the mirror of his hotel bedroom; (3) arouses an audience to frenzy; (4) receives the tribute of their uplifted hands; (5) grants an interview while taking a showerbath.

FRENCH REACH AGREEMENT ON DEVALUATION

GOVERNMENT FAILS TO OBTAIN POWER IN PRICE RISES

BY EDWARD KENNEDY,
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

PARIS, Oct. 1 (AP)—Premier Leon Blum's government solved a dangerous political problem today by agreeing to compromise in the legislative fight for franc devaluation, a decision which met quick approval by the senate.

The senate passed, without a record-vote, a substitute measure to revalue the French currency but denied the government's original request for full power to control price rises.

The government approved the substitute bill, withdrawing its opposition to senate objections to particular clauses in the original measure. The substitute was brought forward by Camille Chautemps, minister of state, in an agreement which held to actual devaluation but eliminated a government demand to be allowed to prevent price rises.

The price-fixing problem was solved in this way: after devaluation, the government may be given the right to control prices for six months by issuing decrees. These decrees, however, must be submitted to the national economic council for ratification.

Vincent Auriol, minister of finance, expressed hope of ending the legislative deadlock which arose yesterday when an obstinate senate refused to pass the devaluation bill already approved by the chamber and rightists and leftists tangled in political clashes.

The finance minister also presented a special bill to the chamber to provide restoration of pension cuts to war veterans, a clause which the senate eliminated yesterday in rejecting the government's monetary measure.

The devaluation proposal, sponsored by Premier Blum's government, became tangled in two political fights which constituted a grave crisis for the socialist administration.

USE BROADTAIL FUR FOR EVENING COATS

PARIS (AP)—Among Vionnet's new evening coats is a full-length model in black broadtail fur. Her capes include a model in black studded ermine, another in black seal skin with cut-away fronts, and a short cape of black Persian lamb buttoned on the left shoulder with three large green buttons. One model is half cape, half coat, as there is a sleeve on the right side.

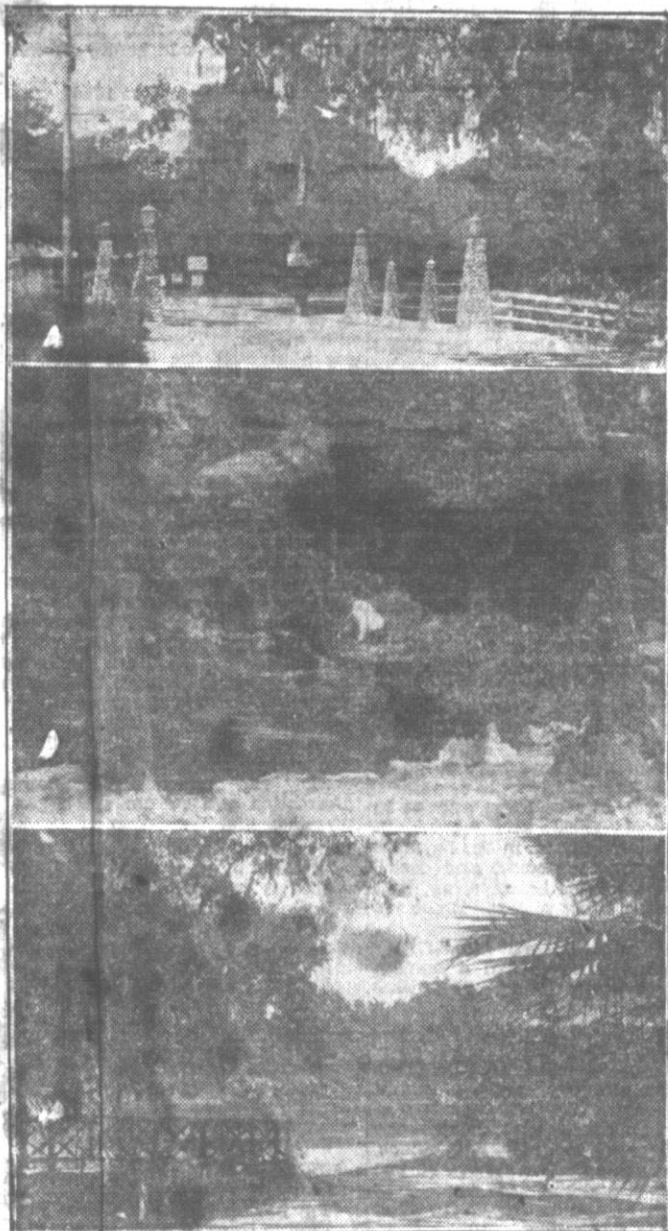

MAKE 'EM HOT
NEW YORK (AP)—"Hot sermons" is the Rev. Norman Vincent Peale's answer to the Rev. Frederic Plummer's recent suggestion for a "moratorium on preaching."

A thermometer ought to be hung on every pulpit in the land, Dr. Peale told his Maine collegiate reformed-church organization. "By their temperatures shall ye know them."

New Braunfels Jaycees Win

The annual award of the outstanding achievement of any Junior Chamber of Commerce in Texas for the year went to the New Braunfels Junior chamber at the state convention of Jaycees held in Corpus Christi last week. The achievement was that of successfully putting over the re-opening of Landa park, magnificent 140-acre Texas beauty spot. New Braunfels Jaycees secured an option on the property which had been fenced for more than two years and by an intensive campaign induced the city of New Braunfels to vote bonds of $80,000 to purchase the property and municipal park. Then a big clean-up day in which 1,000 citizens donated a day of work was held to remove the two years' growth of weeds and underbrush. The park was reopened to the public in record time and is now to be improved as a WPA project.

The above pictures show scenes in the park. One of the head springs of the Comal river is shown. These springs flow a total of 240,000 (two hundred and forty million) gallons of water daily. They form the Comal river, which has its head and source in the city limits of New Braunfels. The other views show typical scenes in the park.

H. A. Triebel is president of the New Braunfels Junior chamber of commerce and E. H. Whitehead is secretary. E. P. Nowotny is state director.

RULE REQUIRING CCC BOYS TO HAVE BEEN OUT OF CAMP A FULL YEAR LIFTED FOR GRAY COUNTY

Certain restrictions of rules governing eligibility for CCC camp enrollment have been lifted in drought designated counties. Your county is one of these and the quota has been raised accordingly. The restrictions lifted are as follows:

New regulations required a former enrollee to have been out of camp a full year before being eligible to re-enroll. These restrictions have been lifted.

Regulations for some time have required former enrollees to have served for full months before being eligible for re-enrollment. This rule has been lifted. An honorable discharge regardless of length of service, shall be necessary.

Gray county boys must report to relief office immediately, since they report designated camp on October 7.

physically fit to perform manual labor must not have any criminal record, nor hold any peace office commission.

If the applicant has been in camp before, he must have been out of a camp a full twelve months and must have served a full four months while in camp. The last two restrictions are waived in "drought" designated counties. If the applicant has had former CCC service, he must have an honorable discharge.

This enrollment comes at an opportune time when many families are in need of assistance and can not be assigned to WPA. The enrollees receive some very beneficial training and their families benefit from their allotments. Applications will be received by the local welfare case worker.

Applicants must be able to get to the place of final enrollment and take care of their own needs for twenty-four hours. Those rejected will have to return home at their own expense; however, as all places of enrollment are close, this will not work any hardships.

PURSE SNATCHERS ARRESTED
DALLAS, Sept. 30 (AP)—Charles Ashton of Purcell, Okla., thwarted an attempted purse snatching at the Texas Centennial Exposition and aided in the arrest of two men involved. Ashton heard the pair plotting to snatch the purses of two young women, warned the intended victims. The accused paid knocked him down and attempted to search his pockets but he fought them off. Police pursued the two and captured them at the Centennial gates.

A DISEASE MENACES 'RECOVERY'

A few more weeks and the agony will be over. We shall have elected our president and our Congress, the wild yells and the frenzied appeals of the campaign will have died down, and we shall forget about most of them while we look forward in the pious hope that the next four years will be kinder to us than the last four.

But there is one thing we should not forget, though we shall find forgetting it very easy: the fact that this country still contains a good many millions of men who need to work and want to work, but who cannot find jobs.

Just how many millions of them there are seems to be an open question. The campaign has brought forth ridiculously varying estimates.

But one thing is certain; there are altogether too many of them, and we shan't be able to pat ourselves on the back over our "recovery" until we have got their number whittled down very materially.

Poverty, we need to remember—the kind of poverty which means absolute dependence on outside help, with the last resources gone and no job in sight—poverty is a disease in the body politic, and it is just as dangerous to those of us who happen to have jobs, bank accounts, and comfortably lined stomachs as an outbreak of Asiatic cholera would be.

It may smolder along for quite a time, attacking only those whom we complacently look on as its natural victims; but it can spread with dire rapidity and strike into places where it never was known before.

The depression must have taught us how fatally easy it is for the jobless unfortunate to infect the white collar man, the merchant, the manufacturer, even the banker. This disease can go like wildfire.

And we shan't be able to say that we have recovered until we have at least got this infection under control. For we want our recovery to be a lasting affair, not just a month-by-month taste of prosperity.

We can't afford to take a chance on being reinfected just as the epidemic is subsiding.

The task that confronts us, then, is that of finding jobs for men who need them—real, honest-to-goodness jobs.

To say that is a great deal easier than to do it; yet it must be obvious that the job ought not to be as hard as, in our moments of pessimism, it seems to be.

We have a marvelous productive plant, able to turn out everything from loaves of bread to steam shovels at a rate never dreamed of before in all history; we have a land brimming over with people who need things the plant can produce; we have, in short, the needs, the workers, and the capacity to make the one supply the other.

Surely a county as energetic and intelligent as ours can't remain baffled by this problem forever. The only danger is that a glimpse of returning prosperity might make us forget that the problem exists.

BOTH SIDES of the CAMPAIGN

Official views of the Republican and Democratic National Committees on leading issues of the campaign are presented by leaders of the two parties in this series of 12 articles, taking the place of Rodney Dutcher's Washington column during Dutcher's vacation. The Republican and Democratic arguments are presented on alternate days.

The need for greater safeguarding of bank deposits was never more apparent than during the period from 1921 to 1933, for it was in this 12-year term that 40 per cent of the nation's banks, 11,457 in number, suspended operations.

These failures brought about a tie-up of some five and one-half billion dollars in deposits and distress to millions of depositors and stockholders.

Such a disastrous condition indicated a strong need for change in our entire banking structure if the remaining banks were to survive.

The climax was reached in the closing days of the previous administration, namely, in January and February, 1933. By that time the people's confidence in the banks had reached such a low ebb that the extremely heavy withdrawals of deposits for hoarding purposes threatened the entire banking structure of the nation.

Conditions became so acute in a number of states as to necessitate prompt action and several governors declared holidays to avoid complete collapse.

This was the situation which faced the new administration on March 4, 1933. One of the first acts of President Roosevelt was the closing by proclamation of all banks of the nation under what has become known as the "Banking Holidays of March, 1933."

Thus, at one stroke, and within the short period of 10 days, was accomplished a weeding out of all insolvent banks, a process which theretofore had been going on intermittently for 12 years.

Having relinquished those banks which were found solvent, it followed that confidence in the banks had to be restored.

The people were looking for a definite program from the new administration and that program—the "Banking Act of 1933"—was forthcoming.

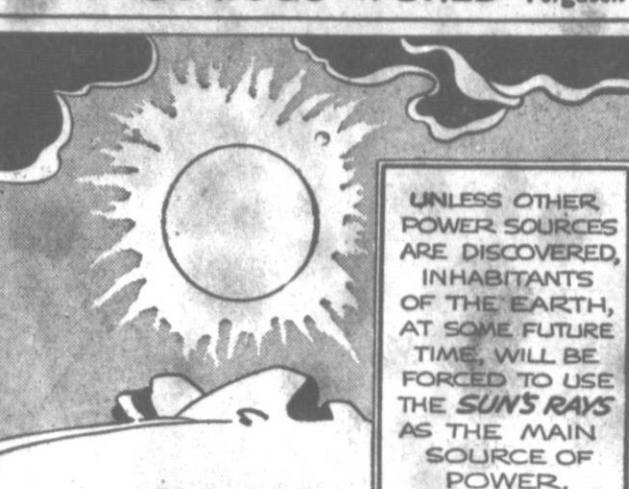

Most important of its provisions was the formation, or creation, of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, through which deposits of banks, on a specified basis, were insured.

Another provision broadened powers of the Federal Reserve Banks to enable the making of loans to member banks on securities, mortgages, and other sound assets, which prior thereto had been ineligible for discount.

Still another provision empowered banks to issue preferred stock, notes, and debentures, and granted authority

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

BY GEORGE TUCKER.

There was a lecture by Jean LaVore in the Village about some missing murals, and I drifted in to hear what that exciting adventurer had to say. But the lecture was in French, so I drifted right out again and went over to the Explorers' club, at 72nd street, where Paul L. Hoefler had just checked in after a year in India.

"How was Mother India?" I asked him. "Great," he declared, "and not at all what one would suspect. We were fortunate in being the guests of India's most powerful Maharajahs, and they went out of their way to help us get what we wanted. You see, we were making pictures, and there are parts of Indian philosophy and life that white men have never been permitted to witness. For instance, we secured some excellent shots of the Faithful at Prayer in the sacred Hindu and Mohammedan mosques.

"The Maharajahs honored us with special military reviews of their private, and let me assure you, powerful armies. Each detachment of men was headed by an elephant, and the jewels adorning the beasts' ears were estimated in value at a quarter of a million dollars. One of our most exciting experiences was negotiating Rajputana, the Maharajahs called 'The Land of the Princess.' This is the barrier between the millions of South India and the fierce, warlike tribes of the North.

"One met with a lot of violence and misery, of course, but the impression carried away by most observers is that India is the world's last great frontier of paganism, with its gorgeous palaces and shrines, mystics and yogis, the calm tranquility of the religious sects, the turbulent, rowdy tribes of the Rajput, the fighting and the dancing, the bright color and red dust.

"One of the sights I'll never forget was the fanatical prayer to the Sun God in Jaipur. They let us film it. Then we saw the famous camel corps of Bikaner, a private battery of thousands of mounted camels which is retained especially for the will of one man, the Maharajah of Bikaner."

"Did you witness any actual fighting?" "Listen—men may club one another, and a wild bull may gore a matador—but for sheer, magnetic horror, nothing can equal the death struggle between two enraged bull elephants. But each succeeding episode seemed to be more thrilling than the last. We persuaded His Highness the Nawab of Bhopal to overcome his prejudices against the camera and he permitted us to photograph him. One marvelous sequence shows him hanging down over a cliff taking a shot at a tiger."

"That must have been exciting." I agreed enthusiastically. "After being in the wilds so long, I'll bet you are ready to settle down in old New York for a while, eh?"

Explorer Hoefler shook his head slowly. "Not for very long," he said. "You remember after tomorrow I'm sailing for Africa."

Playwright George S. Kaufman, who has been in the news more or less of late, has built his new drama, in which Margaret Sullivan will play the part of an Indian girl, on Broadway's youngest and most widely discussed authors—Clifford Odets.

On the negative side, nutritional deficiencies have numerous injurious effects. The glands of internal secretion and the nervous system suffer. As the thyroid gland does when iodine is lacking in the diet, and the sympathetic nervous system when there is a calcium deficiency.

Rickets and softening of the bones arises from nutritional defects. Here we may consider the far-reaching effects of the consequent abnormal development of the bones (notably of the pelvis) on childbirth. A narrow or distorted pelvis renders normal parturition difficult or impossible.

The lack of certain food elements, notably fat, mineral elements, and vitamins, influences fertility. When of a marked degree, this lack is responsible for sterility.

In surgery, the bad effects of nutrition are evident in delay of healing in wounds and bone fractures. In neurology and psychiatry, we find the nerve changes associated with the nutritional diseases, pellagra, pernicious anemia, and the nerve inflammation due to lack of vitamin B. The lowering of resistance to bacterial infection, due to want of vitamin I, is seen in the diseases of the respiratory system, the nose and throat, and kidneys—all of which and more, can be appreciably prevented by good nutrition.

to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to purchase the same.

The program did not stop here. The banks were still loaded with thousands of frozen industrial, agricultural, and home loans. Relief from this situation was necessary to both banks and borrowers.

The federal government met this by broadening powers of the Farm Credit program and the Home Owners Loan Corporation, and granting new powers to the Federal Reserve banks and to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to make loans to private industry.

The great benefits of this program, to both the banks and the people, are too well recognized to require comment here.

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. How old is Helen Jacobs, the tennis player, and where was she born? E. M.

A. Helen Hull Jacobs was born in Globe, Ariz., in 1908.

Q. How many pupils are carried to school by buses or other vehicles? E. J.

A. There are 2,794,000 pupils who are transported to school in 77,000 vehicles.

Q. What is the highest elevation in New York City? J. G.

A. The highest elevation of land in New York City—430 feet—is on the summit of Todt Hill, Staten Island.

Q. How old is the Filson club in Kentucky? E. R.

A. The Filson Club of Louisville was organized May 15, 1884, for collecting, preserving and publishing historic material, especially that pertaining to Kentucky.

Q. When were angels first pictured with wings? V. R.

A. Artists base their conception of the angel on the fact that in the Old Testament they are described as having wings. The first Scriptural mention of cherubim with wings occurs after the departure of the Israelites from Egypt. See Exodus, chapter XXV, verse 20. "And the cherubim shall stretch forth their wings on high, covering the mercy seat."

Q. How many pairs of wings are usually represented by heads with one, two, or three pairs of wings which symbolize pure spirit, informed by love and intelligence. This manner of representing the two high orders of angels is very ancient. It is not possible to say when angels were first pictured with wings. They are the distinctive angelic symbol, and are emblematic of spirit, power, and swiftness. Wings were used by the artists of ancient Egypt, Babylon, Nineveh, and Etruria as symbols of might, majesty and divine beauty.

Q. When was the train wreck which was known as the Chatsworth Horror? M. E. S.

A. Chatsworth Horror occurred on August 10, 1887, at Chatsworth, Ill., in the days of wooden railroad cars on the Toledo, Peoria and Western Railroad.

Q. Is there a superstition connected with jade? J. W.

A. The ancient Greeks believed, as do the Chinese today, that jade acts as a charm to cure all kidney diseases.

Q. How many eggs does an alligator lay? E. W.

A. The alligator lays from 30 to 40 hard white eggs about the size of those of a goose.

Q. Has Paderewski ever appeared in the movies? H. K.

A. The famous pianist is soon to make his first screen appearance in a picture called "The Moonlight Sonata." Marie Tempest will appear with him in the production which is to be made at the Denham Studios in London.

Q. How much have bank deposits increased in the last three years? M. P.

A. Between June 30, 1933, and March 4, 1936, total demand and time deposits of all banks in the United States, excluding interbank deposits, increased by about $11,000,000,000 to a total of nearly $49,000,000,000. In 1929 the total was $55,000,000,000.

Q. How many of the tragedies of Aeschylus are in existence? J. W.

A. Only seven of his seventy tragedies are extant: Seven Against Thebes, The Suppliants, The Persians, Prometheus Unbound, The Eumenides, and Agamemnon.

Q. What food value have turnips? H. W.

A. They are high in calcium and phosphorus, with some iron and copper, and contain all of the vitamins.

Q. What is the religion of Rexford Tugwell, undersecretary of agriculture? T. C.

A. He is a Congregationalist.

Q. How many radio stations have daily news programs? L. B.

A. Of the 635 broadcasting stations of the country, 500 are now using daily news broadcasts.

TRANS-PACIFIC FLIGHT

By DECK MORGAN

CHAPTER X.

Kay knew that two things stood above all else in Ted Graham's life—his adopted son, Dickie, and his job. And she knew, too, that she had come to idolize and to love Ted Graham.

It rather surprised her. She had always imagined that she wanted the man she loved to be gay and impulsive, to sweep her off her feet with his impetuous manner. He seemed only to seek new sensations, to think of having a first person he all had heard him say, over and over, that romance, for him, was behind him. He was never going to fall in love again.

Then he returned. He came down out of the skies, after two weeks of gazing at the blue Pacific, and the first person he saw on shore was Kay Dunn. Dickie was at her side, trim in his grey military uniform.

It seemed so natural that the pair should be there, waiting for him. To Ted Graham's disciplined mind to seem well-ordered, exacting, right.

Kay sensed this, and, for some reason she could not have explained, she felt annoyed that he should accept the incident in such a matter-of-fact way. She had gone to the military school to get Dickie, had secured leave for him to come to meet his father. Kay thought that Ted should have been thrilled at this reception.

There was no doubt, though, that he was pleased to see Dickie once more. He took the boy in his arms, lifting him high until Dickie, recalling his military dignity, asked to be put down.

"Regulations, sir!" Dickie said. "No scuffling in uniform."

Dickie was inordinately proud of Ted in his flying togs.

Ted said to Kay, "And how, is the job on Overland Airways?"

It was Dickie who replied for her. "I live here now, and works."

Right on the beach near us. I had dinner with her almost every night during the holidays."

Ted looked at the girl a moment, then said quietly, "I think you will like it better at the airport here. There's more life. Do you like the colony?"

"I adore them all," she told him. His eyes were searching hers steadily. "I thank you for looking after Dickie—during his holidays."

I'm afraid Jerry lets him run wild. The Japanese boy who tends the house is supposed to look after him, but he doesn't."

"Sato doesn't cook as good as Kay, either," Dickie put in, and they both laughed.

Dickie went on, "I don't like the military school any more. I'd rather stay at home."

"But all little boys have to go to school," Kay said.

"I could stay at home and go to day school," Dickie said, fearful. "I don't like to stay up in the barracks every night. It's cold. And dark."

Kay patted his head. "Now, that isn't being a big soldier. Brace up. Be brave."

"But I want to live at home," Dickie repeated. "I never had a home—like yours—with flowers in the windows and pretty curtains. There's nothing at the barracks but iron beds and bare walls."

Ted put a hand on the boy's shoulder and they walked toward the roadster. Kay began to talk of trivial, impersonal things—the weather and the new Bay bridge. Ted nodded occasionally, but he was looking straight ahead, looking at nothing. He didn't seem to hear what she was saying.

He was thinking about the things Dickie had just said. Perhaps the kid was lonely in the barracks. They drove up the beach to Ted's little house on the shore. For a few moments they watched the other children playing games on the sand. Then Ted opened the door of the car. Sato came running out to greet them, his mouth in a toothy grin.

"It's almost 6; why don't you stay and have dinner with us?" Ted said to Kay.

"Yes!" Dickie said eagerly. "Yes! Sato can help Sato to cook it better."

Kay cried out with gay laughter. Ted was apologetic.

"Dickie! You don't ask a lady to dinner and then tell her to go cook it."

"Dinner ready," the Japanese said, with his toothy grin redoubled. "Pork and beans. Box meat from long trip. Me open six cans. Got coffee, too."

Kay bent double with laughter, but Dickie was almost indignant. "Pork and beans again, Sato! I fix you bread and milk."

Ted turned the switch in the car. "I think we'll dine in a restaurant," he said, "as usual."

But Kay stepped out of the car. "No," she said. "You go to the corner grocery and buy a steak this big!" She spread her arms. "And all the trimmings—eggplant, potatoes, tomatoes. Bring them back to the house here. And don't forget a brick of ice cream for Dickie."

She didn't wait for a reply. She went inside with Dickie at her heels. Ted looked after them, smiling, then drove off toward the grocery.

Sato was pleased to have Kay in the kitchen. He had usually worked in a house where there was a "missy," and paddled around in his sandals, grinning, and showing her the kitchen implements—all of them spotlessly clean. Sato did know one thing about a kitchen.

"Sato's very good," he said. "Very good to cook. Put him in the stove."

then I go out and sit in the sun. Pretty soon he is done. Sometime one hour. Sometime two hours."

Kay went about her preparations for the dinner as if she were in her own little apartment. Dickie and Sato both helped.

In a few minutes Ted was at the door again with the groceries. Kay didn't look up from the salad bowl. "Did you remember to buy butter?" she asked.

Ted beamed with pride. "Butter!" he said, holding out the package.

Kay inspected the steak skeptically, but found it to be of excellent quality. It was certainly large enough.

"I'm really hungry," Ted said. "Then take Dickie in the living-room and tell him all about your flight from Manila," she said. "Sato and I will manage here in the kitchen."

When he hesitated, she said, "Please, Dickie has been dying to hear about your trip!"

Ted went then with Dickie, and she could hear the murmur of their voices. Dickie's high and shrill. Ted's voice quiet and full of that resolution that Kay so much admired.

Talks to parents

By BROOKE PETERS TEACHER.

Mrs. Brown was a teacher before she was married, and carried the habits of the class room over into family life. The first baby was scarcely able to talk before he was receiving instruction.

The trouble lay not so much with the instruction itself as with Mrs. Brown's insistence on finding out how much she was accomplishing. She could not resist the temptation to ask questions and set examinations.

And for all her effort she seemed to get nowhere. Her children did not seem interested in learning, objected to being told stories or read to, or even to going to the movies with mother. They found that it was not much fun to be asked to repeat what they had heard or seen and then get scolded if they had forgotten something. All the pleasure of books and pictures and music was gone when they became a task. They even stopped asking questions lest they forget their mother's careful answer.

It is the school's business to make a labor of learning if labor it must be. The consists between the minds of parents and children should not be so exacting. The child remembers what he needs and can assimilate, and no one can say how much or what it is to be. Schools have programs and set standards to which the children must conform if they are to enter high school or college. Only at home can the child acquire joyously and painlessly the general information and culture which give fullness of life.

It is the parents' privilege to answer question, read to the child, introduce it to a thousand treasures the mind which no thought of what the child learns. They are not responsible to a school board for results, and so can be companions instead of instructors.
