

County Residents' Personal Income $59 Million

Texans are a fast growing lot with a far superior increase in buying power, individual investors and insurance coverage than has the entire nation as a whole.

Supporting these facts this week was a massive 2-part market study by the Texas newspaper industry. This study reveals that, among other things: "There are now 15,400,000 Texans comprising 54,450,000 households with spendable incomes totaling more than $147 billion."

These multiple-digit figures highlight an impartial study commissioned by the Texas Press Association (TPA). Conducting the study was Communications Management, Inc. (CMI) of Winnipeg, Canada.

Their massive research revealed that Texans annually spend:

*$28 billion for food,

*$24 billion for motor vehicles,

*$31 billion for clothing, furniture and other department store items.

Lynn County's population and economics played a significant role in the statewide study.

This was revealed in statistics showing that Lynn County during 1983 was segmented into 2,900 households comprising a total population of 8,600. Personal disposable income in this county was $59 million during 1983, with a healthy increase indicated for 1984. Personal income is basically income after payment of personal taxes.

Lyndell Williams, Executive Vice-President of the state association comprising 542 Texas newspapers and more than 200 corporate associate members, termed the study results "An accurate and thorough barometer of the size and scope of the state's booming economy and growth."

"This important study also provides local business and industry with the data necessary to make intelligent decisions involving vast expenditures and investments of capital."

The Texas boom is reflected in this study's report showing a 55.4 per cent increase in retail sales over the recent 4-year period. Retail sales throughout the U.S. during the same 4-year period rose only 33.2 per cent ... 22.2 per cent less than the Texas growth.

John Taylor, Director of the Texas Newspaper Advertising Bureau (TNAB), said the study dramatized with accuracy the unlimited potential for still further growth within this state.

"Investors and the business community in general are reaching tomorrow's potential ... today. They're not sitting back waiting for growth to come -- they're becoming a part of it right now."

He emphasized this by pointing out that Texans who bought shares of publicly-traded stock during the past two years increased 37.4 per cent, as compared with a national increase of only 31.3 per cent. Individual stockholders in Houston and Austin provided the biggest increases in number with 38.4 per cent and 35.1 per cent during that 2-year period.

Taylor, whose Ad Bureau represents Texas newspapers in dealing with the major regional and national advertisers, also cited the "multi-billion-dollar buying power" of this state's 5,450,000 individual households.

"Texans spend more than $6 billion for clothing and shoes, another $1.35 billion for furniture and over $1 billion for major appliances," he continued.

Women 16 years of age and older spend the most money for clothing and shoes, at over $2.7 billion per year.

Second highest spenders to be clothed and shod are men in that same age bracket, 16 years of age and older. This group spends close to $2 billion annually.

More money is spent on shoes for boys in the 2 to 15-year-age bracket than for girls. But less is spent on boy's clothing.

Over $500 million annually is spent on clothing and shoes for infants under two years of age.

These expenditures were being reflected by buying in Lynn County, meanwhile, where $3 million was spent for clothing and shoes, $612,000 for furniture and $511,000 for major appliances.

Williams, who commissioned the current study along with a massive survey still to be completed about Texans' reading, shopping and living habits, stressed the importance of individual ownerships and investments in Texas.

"We sought total accuracy in this study to determine the economic levels of not only businesses and industry within this state, but also those of its individual citizens. We feel that the study just completed by Communications Management has achieved that goal."

"It should also be noted that retail potentials listed won't necessarily correspond with retail sales figures for an area. That's because a goodly amount of shopping by many local area consumers was done in other counties."

Williams pointed out that this "retail drift" of local income dollars being spent in other areas should provide community-located business firms with incentives for increasing their business promotions and advertising.

"The dollars are there in the vast majority of cases, and this study has revealed that an alarming amount is being spent outside of the local community's trade area."

The study also pictured Texas agriculture as a $10-billion-a-year industry, and farmers of this state as major purchasers of farm machinery and supplies.

Lynn County's economy is also strongly supported by its agricultural community. The study revealed that 650 farms were operating in this county in 1978, and that its farm population was 1,565 in 1980, figures initially reported by the U.S. Census reports.

Farmers of Lynn County also received $53 million in 1982 for their products.

Statewide, the number of farms operating in Texas during 1978 totaled 194,253. The farm population stood at 268,893 in 1980.

Texas farmers in 1982 sold their products for $9.67 billion. They also received an additional $643 million in government payments.

The estimated market value of farm machinery and equipment in Texas in 1974 was over $2.75 billion, but had risen more than 65 per cent by 1978.

Principal expenditures for Texas farmers included the purchase of livestock and poultry, which increased from $1.34 billion in 1974 to an additional billion in 1978.

Other high cost items for Texas farmers for 1978 (the last available figure) were $334,700,000 for commercial fertilizer, $169,100,000 for other agricultural chemicals and $524,700 for commercially mixed formula feeds.

A second study to be released by the Texas Press Association will include a total statewide report on consumer shopping tendencies, media usage by Texans, readership by content and a wide variety of other demographics.

These studies, described by experts as the largest and most comprehensive ever conducted by the newspaper industry in the U.S., were conducted by out-of-state firms in order to achieve total objectivity and the most accurate figures obtainable.

This second study is being completed by Consumer Data Service, of Oklahoma City. This study is under the auspices of the Journalism Research Center at the University of Oklahoma.

Petroleum products, of course, was also one of the top expense items for Texas farmers in the 1970s. Farmers paid over $4 million for these products in 1978.

tires/wheels was set at $330.

Edith Wallace of 1713 S. 3rd reported to police that someone had stolen a box of teabags, three cans of tomatoes and three cans of tuna from her residence while she was attending a Senior Citizens meeting last Thursday.

Police also answered a couple of family disturbance calls during the past week and also two more obscene phone calls were reported.

Persons jailed during the past week include one for failure to appear, one for DWI second offense and two counts of theft by check and one person for public intoxication.

Cleanup Campaign Planned In City

Residents of the City of Tahoka are being asked to make a special effort to clean up and spruce up their homes and businesses during the next week, as part of the campaign sponsored by the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce with the help of city officials and workers.

"Getting rid of weeds and trash and generally straightening up around a home or business really can help the image of the town, especially for those who are coming into Tahoka for the first time," said Weldon Self, chairman of the Chamber's Beautification Committee.

"It also will help a lot if people can find their way clear to do some painting and repair work," he added, noting that such things add to the value of property in addition to making it look better.

Clearing of brush and trimming trees also is usually a major part of any cleanup, and the city indicated it would make a special pickup of tree limbs and other trash not suited for the dumpsters on the week following the cleanup.

"There's not much point in trying to pick the stuff up during the actual cleanup week," said City Manager Carl Reynolds. "That's because one man may clean up his place and stack up some limbs and things in the alley, we go get it, and then the next day the man right next to him gets his job done and we have to go to the same place...we're just asking that everyone stack up limbs and other large items in the alleys and we'll get them in a week or so." Mayor Mel Leslie has proclaimed next week, June 18-22, as Cleanup Week in Tahoka.

All Services Campaign Set

The United States Postal Service of Tahoka extends a warm welcome to the people of Tahoka to attend the open house on June 21, 1984 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, according to Postmaster Leonard Dunn. Refreshments will be served.

New stamps and some Philatelic products for the stamp collectors to purchase will be on display.

"AT THE SOUND OF THE TONE PLEASE LEAVE YOUR NAME AND A SHORT MESSAGE AND I'LL GET BACK TO YOU AS SOON AS I CAN."

Does this sound familiar to you? If it doesn't you're lucky. I don't like phone answering machines, although they do, in fact, serve their purpose, but ordinarily when I make a phone call, I have a question or two that I'd like answered right away, not two days later. Usually if I dial a number and get an answering device I hang up, but if it's long distance, there's little choice but to go ahead and leave the message, since you are charged for the call anyway. The same goes for being put on hold through long distance. I wonder how much Lynn County residents would save on their phone bill alone if we had a direct line to Lubbock!

You see, a few years ago I had a job as a phone solicitor and all I did was dial numbers for a storm window company and read off a two-minute sales promotion to convince homeowners to spend $3,000 on replacing their two year-old windows with new ones so they could save on their utility bills. Ha!

So now, I use the phone as little as possible and try to get my information needed and then be done with it. My wife must have a different attitude, since she can talk to a friend across town for an hour about work, soap operas, etc. But that's all right-- as long as she's on the phone, I won't get any calls.

Home Economics In The '80s

BY TAMERA OVERCAST

Warm weather brings out both seasoned athletes and "fair-weather" sports lovers. Whether you and your family "athletes" are Little Leaguers, joggers, gymnasts or weekend tennis players, each should know how to take care of him or herself while exercising during the long, hot and often humid Texas summer.

Most athletes know that they lose water through the skin as the body lets out heat through perspiration. But what many don't know is that it is virtually impossible to replace all the water lost by sweating.

To partially replace lost water, drink small amounts frequently during exercise, in addition to the water you drink before and after the activity. Remember that during strenuous exercise, even

If you have quenched your thirst by drinking water, you may not have satisfied your body's need for fluid replacement.

Athletes also lose sodium, or salt, through sweating in hot, humid weather. An athlete eating an average diet gets enough sodium except when sweating is excessive. If additional salt is needed, you can add an extra sprinkle from the salt shaker to meals and eat saltines, nuts, crackers or cheese after exercising. You can also make a homemade solution of one teaspoon salt to six quarts of water, or buy one of the "sports" drinks which are diluted solutions of sugar, glucose, salt and artificial sweeteners.

Salt tablets should not be used because they contain such a high concentration of minerals. In fact, excessive salt from tablets will reduce an athlete's efficiency because it results in water retention and causes stomach upsets, excessive excretion of sodium and a loss of potassium.

Some weather conditions make it very difficult for the body to retain the salt and fluids it needs. If temperatures are over 84 degrees and the humidity is over 90 percent, it would be best to simply postpone strenuous exercise until a cooler time of the day.

Smart athletes make sure they get enough

FROM THE CEA'S DESK BY GREG HENLEY

4-H'ers Learn Animal Care--Owning an animal brings with it an obligation to learn to keep it healthy. The national 4-H veterinary science and dog care and training programs, young people are learning a broad range of skills, says Greg Henley.

With the help from local veterinarians who often serve as project leaders, 4-H'ers in the veterinary science program, supported by the Upjohn Company, learn to identify potential health problems and how to prevent and control diseases. The program covers all animals--from tiny mice and gerbils to the more common dog and cat pets to horses, livestock and zoo animals. 4-H members conduct animal care workshops, volunteer for work at zoos and assist veterinarians with simple procedures.

4-H'ers in the dog care and training program, supported by the Purina Dog Foods Group, Ralston Purina Company, learn about the more than 100 breeds of dogs in America and how to choose a dog most appropriate for their special pet. They learn proper care and training techniques to increase their understanding of what's involved in making their pet healthy and a well-adjusted family member.

Most importantly, 4-H'ers in both programs learn that, just as in humans regular checkups and prompt action in case of illness are vital to the health and vitality of their animals.

Awards and incentives, provided by Upjohn and Ralston Purina, and arranged by the National 4-H Council, are available to members who excel in these problems. In both programs, medals of honor are awarded to four members in each county.

Men In Service

Navy Seaman Jeffrey A. Sweet, son of Allan R. and Nan D. Sweet of Route 4, Tahoka, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the eight-week training cycle, trainees studied general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

JOHN M. AUSTIN
Airman John M. Austin, son of Julia A. and Otto L. Austin of Tahoka, has been assigned to Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training. The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the aircraft maintenance field. He is a 1981 graduate of Tahoka High School.

Sate Winners in dog care receive a transistor radio. While in veterinary science state winners each receive a special certificate and pin. All state winners then are eligible to compete for sectional awards--expense-paid trips to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago. During Congress, six natural winners in each program win $1,000 scholarships.

You can learn about these and other 4-H programs by contacting the county Extension office.

Hearing Tests Set For Tahoka On June 21st

LARRY LINDSEY
Tahoka -- Electronic hearing tests will be given at the Senior Citizens Center on Thursday, June 21st, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Larry Lindsey, licensed hearing aid specialist, will be at 1600 S. 3rd to perform the tests.

Anyone who has trouble hearing or understanding speech clearly is welcome to have a test using modern electronic equipment to determine if his loss is one which can be helped. Some of the causes of hearing loss will be explained and diagrams of how the ear works will be shown.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year if there is any trouble at all understanding speech. Even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told nothing could be done for them should have a hearing test and find out whether the latest methods of hearing correction can help them hear better.

The free hearing test will be given Thursday, June 21st from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at the Senior Citizens Center. If you can't come in, call 998-5264 and arrange for an appointment at another time. In home testing is also available.

Toll Free Energy Hot Line Set

The Public Utility Commission has announced the establishment of a toll-free number as part of the statewide "Texas Tune-Up" campaign. The toll-free energy number is expected to play a key role in this ambitious public service project. Throughout Texas, consumers will be able to call 1-800-643-SAVE to receive advice and publications on controlling their home energy use this summer.

Designed to make residents aware of available steps for controlling their utility bills this summer, the campaign includes television and radio spots, outdoor boards, and newspaper ads, as well as written material in the form of brochures and fact sheets. The toll-free number will be prominently displayed on each produced and printed piece for maximum exposure. Texans are encouraged to call 1-800-643-SAVE for further energy related information on the Texas Tune-Up."

Major V.J. Cawthon, Dept. of Public Safety Commander of Region 5 said, "When driving in the rural area, slow down before, not after entering a curve. If you wait until it seems urgent to slow down, it is too late. Your engine should be pulling your vehicle through the curve. This pulling force aids in directional control, when you use a safe speed in a curve."

SPS Receives State 4-H Award

Southwestern Public Service Co. of Lubbock, a longtime supporter of the 4-H program in Texas, was cited for outstanding service at the 1984 Texas 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M University, June 5-6.

Bill Harr, the company's consumer services manager, was presented a special plaque by the Texas 4-H Foundation, the service organization of 4-H, and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, 4-H's parent organization.

Southwestern Public Service has sponsored the South Plains 4-H Electric Camp in New Mexico for the past 26 years, said Tom Davison, state 4-H program leader with the Extension Service. Through the camp, more than 3,320 4-H members, volunteers and professional staff have gained additional knowledge and appreciation of electric energy.

The company has borne the cost of this annual camp with respect to the program, meals and lodging, Davison noted.

Senate Honors Montford

In a resolution passed June 4, the Texas Senate honored Sen. John Montford of Lubbock as a good samaritan for rendering aid at the scene of an accident.

Sen. Montford and his family were returning from an Easter weekend, when he arrived at the scene of a traffic accident. Sen. Montford stopped immediately and delivered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation for approximately 30 minutes. His action allowed the victim, Lisa Terrell, to survive until emergency medical services arrived.

"I deeply regret the fact that she was not able to survive. It was a very trying experience for everyone," said Sen. Montford.

The resolution commending Sen. Montford was sponsored by Sen. Bob Glasgow.

FARM EQUIPMENT SAFETY-- Farm safety training should be an annual activity because it can help prevent serious injury or even death, emphasizes a safety engineer. New workers should be instructed on farm safety as soon as they are employed. Safety training should include the safe operation and servicing of all equipment with which a worker is or will be involved. Special attention should be given to these practices: keep all guards in place, permit no riders, stop the engine before working on equipment and disconnect electrical power before servicing equipment.

By Stanley
Young

Bagworms are one of the major pests of junipers and other trees and shrubs in Texas. Spring hatch began in mid-May in the Lubbock area this year is now almost complete. Insecticide control is most effective in late May and early June when the bagworms are small.

In the spring, bagworm larvae emerge from hatching eggs inside last year's bags and begin feeding on leaves. They soon begin to construct their own protective bag of silk, twigs and leaves, making them camouflaged and hard to see. As the larvae and their bags continue to grow, control becomes more difficult.

Bagworms feed throughout the summer months, building their bags until the bags about 1½ inches long. In the fall, the bagworms become adults, mate and the females lay eggs inside their own bags. They then overwinter in these bags in trees and shrubs. Each overwintering female bag on a tree contains from 500 to 1500 eggs.

"Since the bagworm only completes one generation a year and spreads very slowly from plant to plant, picking the bags off infested plants in the winter will help a lot toward controlling this pest."

"But if bagworms were present on the plant last year and control measures were not applied, chances are very good that an insecticide will be needed this spring."

Insecticides which can be used to control bagworms include sevin, dursban, diazinon, malathion, dylox and orthene. The biological insecticide Bacillus thuringiensis can also be used. To obtain effective control, through coverage of the foliage is important. Always read and follow the label instructions when applying insecticides.

4-H Motorcycle Rodeo Set

The Dawson County 4-H will sponsor a motorcycle rodeo Saturday, June 16, beginning at 7 p.m. in the Lamesa Rodeo Arena with admission set at $1 per person.

Entries will be taken at the rodeo arena at $3 per event. Registration begins at 5 p.m. Helmets are required.

Events are keyhole, barrel race, wheelie contest, obstacle jump, pole bending and flat track. There will be three wheeler and motorcycle classes.

4-H Horse Show To Be Held June 16

The public is invited to attend the Lynn County 4-H Invitational Horse Show Saturday, June 16, beginning at 9 a.m. at the Tahoka Rodeo Arena. The show is open to all 4-H members between the ages of 9 and 11 and all honorary 4-H members under age 8. Only 4-H members are eligible to compete.

The three divisions are Pee Wee 9 and under, Junior 10-13 and Senior 14-19 as of Jan. 1, 1984. If you need more information, contact the Lynn County Extension Office, 998-4650.

A concession stand will be open all day.

Cotton Today

Leadership Class to Get Washington Orientation: Members of the 1983-84 Cotton Leadership Class will be in Washington, D.C. June 10-15 for a session on governmental and public affairs. During the week, the group will participate in discussions on how the legislative process works, current political climate, the role of organizations in government relations, and farm policy.

The class also will witness a White House briefing, tour the Washington Post facilities, visit the House floor, attend key Senate and House committee meetings and sessions with House and Senate leadership. Also on the agenda are meetings with officials of various government agencies.

Meanwhile, the Cotton Foundation has begun receiving applications for the 1984-85 leadership class. Deadline for submitting applications is July 1. The program is funded through The Foundation by a grant from Du Pont's Agricultural Chemicals Dept.

Exports Reported: Cotton export shipments amounted to 121,200 running bales during the week ended May 31. This brought the season's accumulated total to 5,657,700 bales, leaving undelivered sales of 1,274,300. Meanwhile, sales for 1984-85 delivery increased by a net of 47,999 bales to a total of 1,288,600. Major buyers were Israel, South Korea, Thailand and Bangladesh.

Immigration Bill Scheduled: Immigration reform bill, HR-1510, is scheduled to reach the House floor the week of June 11.

The bill would impose civil and possibly criminal penalties on employers who repeatedly and "knowingly" hire illegal aliens. The National Cotton Council earlier passed a resolution calling for efforts to "Prevent penalties on grounds that employers cannot feasibly ascertain whether a prospective employee is an alien."

IRRIGATED CROPS — Too many irrigation farmers think that running water down a row from one end of the field to the other is doing a good job of irrigating crops and managing irrigation water. That idea and the practice of it is one reason we are running short of water in Lynn County. Local soil and water conservation districts, here and across the country, are urging irrigation farmers to conserve water and make every drop count. For more information contact the Soil Conservation Service, Tahoka, Tx., 998-4622.

The Council favors the bill's provision that requires the Immigration and Naturalization Service to search privately held open fields. However, an amendment to strike the search warrant requirement is expected to be offered.

Father's Day is Sunday, June 17.

CHECK LABELS ON FORTIFIED FOODS- If you buy iron-fortified foods, check the nutrition label for the percent of the Recommended Dietary Allowance (RDA) it contains, says nutritionist Mary K. Sweeten. Preschool children, women of childbearing age and pregnant women are at the greatest risk of developing iron deficiency. Adding iron to some foods can help assure that people get adequate amounts of iron, but can also mean that others may get too much, she cautions. The Food and Drug Administration has established some product standard for iron. However, many products such as breakfast cereals do not have standards and may contain amounts of iron ranging from a trace to 100 percent of the RDA. Sweeten advises consumers to consider their individual need for added iron and use the nutritional label as an important shopping tool when buying fortified foods.
