TWO ROUTES FIGHT FOR NEW RAILROAD

Between the tri-county alliance and Kimble, Sutton and Gillespie, on the one hand and Gillespie, Mason and McCullough, on the other, the directors of the railroad from San Antonio northwest to San Angelo "are going to have a good show before it's over," W. H. Baker of Junction, Kimble County, told the San Antonio capital stock-raising committee at a special meeting for northern neighbors, in the assembly room of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon.

Delegations also were present from the other alliance, represented by Fredericksburg, Mason and Brady. They were alarmed, F. R. Wulf, of Brady said, by the announcement that the railroad to the northwest is to be from Kerrville to San Angelo.

Evidently "hurt by the fact that no money-raising had been definitely allotted to Fredericksburg, Mason and Brady, Carl Runge of Mason said: "Please don't set the route in advance of raising the required capital."

The tri-county committee promised at one time to raise $100,000 for bridging the gap between Fredericksburg and Brady by way of Mason, Alfred Petsch of Fredericksburg said, and added, "We will certainly try, I might as well say we will raise it yet."

While Baker said it is "the friendliest sort of competition," he declared there are those on the Junction-Sonora route to San Angelo who will say to ordinary business men: "You raise so much and we will give the remainder."

A. G. Farmer, former county judge, who was here with Baker, is a civil engineer, and has data of a convincing nature on the route from Kerrville west and north to San Angelo, Baker said. "You're welcome to our country," he said, "and we hope you don't feel hurt for our butting into your meetings."

Petsch indicated a willingness to acquiesce to the thing that will be best for the railroad company when he said, "If, after a survey by experts the other route should be decided upon, it will be all right with us. We don't want you to commit yourselves to one route at this time."

"We remember what San Antonio, through such committees as L. J. Hart did for Fredericksburg when the branch line from the Kerrville road was to be built to our city. We're here to assure you we are interested, not to argue."

While the railroad directors are interested in "what is going to support it," data now in the hands of U. S. Fawcett, manager of the San Antonio Freight Bureau, will be carefully analyzed before a route for the road is chosen, Albert Steves, Jr., chairman of the San Antonio finance committee, told the visitors. Route selection is up to the directors and not to the committee, he told them.

"We are anxious to get to our friends on the north as they are to get to San Antonio," said L. J. Hart. "It is our task to raise the San Antonio quota of $600,000, and the route of the road will be determined afterwards."

"Your coming down will be a good thing for the railroad project, even though the cause of your coming will rightly have to be taken up with the directors," Steves told the visitors from Gillespie, Mason and McCullough Counties. Much the same sentiment was expressed by Ernest Altgelt and N. H. White, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Other visitors at the meeting were C. S. Vedder, Mason; W. I. Brodgen, Brady; C. A. Balsig, secretary of Brady Chamber of Commerce, and H. F. Schwenker, Brady. San Angelo has a quota of $250,000 capital to raise for the

LOCAL MAN OUT FOR REPRESENTATIVE 86TH

The Eagle has no authority from Judge Coke R. Stevenson for this announcement, but it is noted in a number of other papers of the 86th Representative District that he is the man most wanted for the office; therefore the Eagle is naturally in sympathy with them in the move to have the office seek the man, instead of the other way around.

Judge Stevenson needs no eulogizing, words of praise or introduction at the hands of the Eagle, as he has too many friends in the district who know him and his ability to fill the office which seeks him.

It is only necessary to quote from a letter to the Rocksprings Record written by Mr. Hutchins, setting forth Judge Stevenson's qualifications. After fully defining the necessary qualifications of a representative from this district, Mr. Hutchins says, in part, in closing his communication:

"It has been the pleasure of the writer to become well acquainted with the Hon. Coke R. Stevenson, who you are favoring for representative of this district, in the state legislature, and it seems to him that here is one who would fill all the requirements named above. As to ability and character there is no doubt as to where he is to be placed. Courage he is known to possess, and the kind of courage named above. As a ranchman he knows and feels the needs of a ranch country. As a progressive citizen he will help advance the interests of the community; but as a business man of good judgment, he will not do so more rapidly than good policy would warrant. As a lawyer he has had the training that will make it possible for him to hold his own on the floor of the body to which he is sent. As a man of character he will also safeguard as much as possible the moral conditions of our communities so that we shall have safe places to raise our most loved possessions; our boys and girls."

GOOD OLD SUMMERTIME

In Bermuda you ride in a carriage, in the saddle or on a bicycle, for trains, trolleys and motor cars are prohibited on the Island. That is one reason why Bermuda has come to be regarded as a fairyland—it is comfort in the 19th degree, with all the hustle and bustle left out—and this is only two days removed, on a palatial steamer, from New York City.

Returning tourists from this beautiful all-year-round British paradise, describe Bermuda to be as delightful in summer as in winter. There is nothing lacking in the embellishments of the island to satisfy the requirements of our modern human beings. After two tonic days at sea, the Furness Bermuda ships arrive at the beautiful harbor of Bermuda. Opal tinted water, coral beaches and cedar covered hillsides rich in floral color greet the tourist's eye. Quaintly picturesque, the scene is one that will never be forgotten. Ashore are all forms of sports and entertaining opportunities for recreation. Bathing, sailing, canoeing, motor boating and fishing fill the aquatic program. Then there is splendid golf. There are fine tennis courts. There are great hotels where the cuisine and service is noted throughout the world.

Mrs. Brown King returned Saturday to her home in San Angelo, after spending some time here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Hankins.

P. T. A. HONORS FACULTY AND GRADUATES

The Parent-Teachers Association honored the faculty and graduates of the local school Friday afternoon from 5 to 6:30 o'clock, in the form of a "Kid Party" at the park.

Dressed in fancy gay colored caps, each guest was given a balloon and told to follow the leader, who led them by a table where lunch of chicken salad, pickles, stuffed eggs, crackers and punch were served.

The graduates who attended were: Willie Baker, Oual Jobs, Melba Burt, Flossie Boone, Ruth Bessent, Albert Becker, Guy Munn, and Walter Schrier. The teachers were: Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Cowles, Mr. and Mrs. Wenzel, Mrs. Joe Felps, Misses Bernice Chenaunt, Myrtis Merrill, Cecelia Merchant, Mary Ellis Blackburn, Mary Willis, and Mrs. Byron. The guests were Mrs. Conde Harleman, Mrs. Guy Wynne and Miss Austin Durst.

BUSINESS VERSUS POLITICS

After weighing a business proposition that has been offered me, I have, after much thought, decided to withdraw my name as a candidate for the office of County Judge.

I feel rather indispensed at this time to make this decision on account of friends who so earnestly solicited me to enter the race. In view of the fact that I believe it to my best interest financially and otherwise, and because it is the desire of my immediate family and relatives, who have opposed my re-entrance in politics, I have decided to accede to their wishes in the matter.

I feel that should I be elected, I would be making a financial sacrifice that would be an injustice to my family, when a more pleasant and better business opportunity is offered.

It has been my experience and observation that politics has a tendency to narrow rather than widen ones circle of friends, and I wish to gain and retain the friendship and best wishes of all the people of Kimble County.

Should my business venture materialize as I have planned, I expect to conduct it on the basis of courtesy, politeness and fair dealings, and by this policy add to a constantly growing circle of friends. Trusting that my short sojourn has not muddied the political waters, and that my friends will understand my position in the matter, I am retiring from the political field, and wish to express my sincere thanks to those who have favored my candidacy, and to all who have said kind things about me.

Sincerely,
A. G. Farmer.

Arthur Deats of Telegraph was one of the fifty-four graduates to receive diplomas at the conclusion of the commencement exercises at Schreiner Institute, Tuesday, May 29. The title of Associate in Arts, signifying that he has completed half of his work toward a degree, was conferred on him. Besides being an active club worker and participant in athletics, Deats received a Certificate of Merit at the close of the last term, certifying that he had gone through the entire year without having been assessed any penalty and with a deportment grade of "A." He has expressed his intention of carrying on his work toward a degree in Business Administration at the University of Texas next year.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Perry and little son, of Carrizo Springs, were week-end guests of Mrs. Perry's mother, Mrs. R. H. P. Wright and other relatives. Mr. Perry returned Sunday morning, leaving Mrs. Perry and son here for a week's visit.

Miss Natalie Lowry came in Tuesday from State University where she has been the school term, and will spend the summer at home.

BUSINESS BUILDING BEING ERECTED ON MAIN

Walter G. Loeffler started the foundation for a business house, 28x35, on the vacant lot between the Blue Bonnet grocery and the Masonic building, closing the only space in that block. The building will be constructed of concrete.

Mr. Loeffler has leased the building to Mr. A. G. Farmer, who has arranged to open a first class furniture business, and has withdrawn from the political field as candidate for County Judge.

The Eagle commends both these gentlemen for their spirit of progressiveness and bespeaks success for the furniture business.

FORT WORTH STRONG FOR LOUIS J. WARDLAW

Citizens of Fort Worth, believing in the ability and integrity of Louis J. Wardlaw, candidate for governor, have organized the Tarrant County Wardlaw for Governor Club. The chief purpose of the club, according to H. H. Adams, president, will be to assist in the formation of similar clubs all over Texas.

"First we want the people of Texas to know that Fort Worth is 100% behind its candidate for governor," Adams declared. "We know here in Fort Worth Wardlaw would make a good governor, and we want to help tell the rest of Texas he will."

Other officers of the Club are Mike Smith, vice-chairman; Frank Sansom, secretary and E. A. Corbett, secretary.

THE FORCE OF INTELLECT

More and more sheer brain power is coming into its own as opposed to brute strength. The world has known times when physical force dominated both man and beast. Those days are gone. Now everything is ruled by thoughts in the minds of men.

And this Age of Intellect is having unexpected results. The old-time prize-fighter, and many other old-time exponents of various sports, had only strength. The prize-fighter with the largest biceps, longest reach, steadiest legs and the best punch was the idol of the populace. Now a prize-fighter is expected to have some business sagacity, and a good scientific knowledge of the fist's game. In addition, we have come to expect our prize-fighters to know a little, even more than a little, about things which belong in the realm of art.

Witness the coming to this country of Italy's champion, Umberto Torriani. Not half as much fun is being made about his classical education. Umberto is proud of being a deep student of Shakespeare, Homer, and the entire range of classic literature.

Our own Gene Tunney—whom Umberto would like to meet both in the ring and as an opponent in an intelligence test—knows not only the art of the uppercut but has been a good reader all of his life and only a few weeks ago addressed an audience of college students on the subject of Shakespeare. And he made some pretty wise remarks about the Bard of Avon, too.

In all sport, and in many other lines of activity, the participants today have more in their craniums than a cynic would expect. This is an age where brain-power dominates.

Mrs. J. A. Heyman, accompanied by Mrs. W. H. Wilson and Miss Cecelia Merchant, went to Austin last Friday to attend the commencement exercises at the State University. Miss Lotie Heyman received her M. A. degree, and they all returned to Junction Tuesday.

Miss Mabel Nelson of Raymondville is a guest at Price's Camp for the summer.

FISHING IN THE LLANOS IS GOOD SINCE RAINS

Another catch of two large and two small cat fish occurred last Monday night. Gene Tomberlin and Lem Fleming were in town Tuesday morning with two of the prettiest yellow cat that it has been this writer's pleasure to see in many a day. One tipped the scales at 32 pounds and the other 30 pounds; with these two large ones were two smaller ones of about 5 or 6 pounds each.

This is no "fish story" as can be verified by calling at Murf's Studio and viewing the pictures taken of the catch.

JUNCTION BOY MAKES GOOD AT SUL ROSS

Louis A. Loeffler, of Junction, received his B. S. degree and a permanent teachers' certificate from Sul Ross State Teachers' College at Alpine on Friday night, June 1, with the highest average in the class. He majored in science and has been assistant in the biology department for the last three years of his undergraduate work.

Louis has been news editor of the school paper for the past year besides serving as vice president of both the press club and the boys' debating society in the college. He was elected to senior ranking in the Sul Ross Scholarship Society after a year's membership ranked as a junior. This society is the local chapter of the Scholarship Societies of the South and the admission is open only to those students whose records based on all the college work place them in the upper tenth of the junior and senior classes.—The Skyline, Alpine, Texas.

ANNOUNCEMENT PARTY

Mrs. P. A. Hoggett entertained with a bridge party of charming appointments on Tuesday afternoon honoring Miss Emmerine Ray, a June bride-elect. Baskets of vari-colored sweet peas were placed about the lawn, carrying out the rainbow colors of other decorations. Mrs. Perry distributed the tally cards which were little Kewpie brides. Miss Ray was presented a waist corsage piece of lingerie. Mrs. Paxton of Virginia was awarded high score. Mrs. H. E. Luehrs cut and Mary Spiller low. There were six tables of players.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. L. E. Standifer honored her husband, Dr. Standifer, with a birthday dinner party Monday evening at the Fritz Hotel. The table was prettily decorated with three bowls of sweet peas and mock orange blossoms. In the center were four pink candle tapers. Covers were laid for Mesdames and Messrs. U. D. Kindrick, C. R. Stevenson, P. A. Hoggett, Conrad Hokekamp, Irvin Jarvis, Ovrie Buster, Misses Clara Fritz, Emmerine Ray, Messrs. R. C. Tatum and H. O. Denman.

JOHN P. BAKER

Kimble County mourns the loss of another one of her pioneer citizens—one who helped to make the civilization which we are now enjoying. In the quiet confines of his own home, at 8:45 a. m., Friday, June 1st, 1928, John P. Baker passed peacefully away. Without pain, murmur or complaint, but gently and contentedly, he faced the crossing of the bar with the same unflinching courage which had guided him through life.

John P. Baker was the last member of the elder family of Bakers. Five brothers and two sisters there were, and they and their descendants for more than a generation have been, and are today, prominently connected with the life and development of this County and several adjoining communities. They have at all times been identified with the best interests of the community and a large number of our most prominent ranchmen and business men are descendants of the Bakers, or relatives by marriage.

Many of the qualities of character which gave the family prominence were possessed by John P. Baker. He was industrious and economical, managed his affairs successfully and accumulated a competence sufficient to make him a substantial citizen. In doing this he never wronged his fellowman. He was always honest and reliable. He was a truthful man and never deceived anyone as to his position on any question, public or private. He hated sham and hypocrisy and all forms of deceit. He believed in frankness and plain speaking. He had a generous disposition and freely aided friends and relatives when their necessities required. He was sincere in his views and loyal to his friends. No man would do more for a friend than he would and he genuinely enjoyed the company and companionship of those whom he considered his friends.

Mr. Baker was a native Texan, having been born in Grimes County, Texas, February 24th, 1861. His boyhood was not spent in the midst of luxuries and conveniences such as the boyhood of today knows; but his advent was in the troublous times of the Civil War. Educational facilities were extremely limited in the days of his boyhood and his education came from the school of hard knocks and frontier experience. Nature gave him a strong intellect, however, and by dint of effort he kept well posted on current affairs. When he arrived at a conclusion on any subject he was firm and unyielding in his convictions. He made his contribution to good citizenship, and was a factor in subduing the wilderness of the early days and making it into the happy, habitable community of the present.

His body was laid to rest in the Junction cemetery Saturday morning, in the same row where sleep his four brothers and two sisters. Six grand-nephews acted as pall bearers and Rev. Milton F. Hill officiated in the funeral services. A beautiful floral offering covered the place of interment selected by him for his last repose, and attested the esteem in which he was held by those who gathered to pay their last tribute of love and affection. The Eagle joins with a host of others who reverence his memory and deplore his loss; and extends its sympathy to the bereaved members of the family.

Rev. L. R. Doak and little daughter and Mrs. M. Wilkinson were Del Rio visitors last Thursday. On returning to Junction Saturday, they were water-bound and had to remain in Sonora until Sunday morning. Rev. Doak arriving here in time for the morning services at the Christian Church.

Mrs. J. C. Cherry and little son, of Aransas Pass are here the guests of Mrs. Cherry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Buck.

MRS. O. C. REID HONORED AT HOWARD-PAYNE

It is with pleasure that The Eagle notes from the Yellow Jacket Howard-Payne school paper, that Mrs. Oren C. Reid has won honors at that place.

The Yellow Jacket has the following to say relative to Junction's product:

"Howard Payne students rank with the best of them. The truth of the above statement was again verified this week when Mrs. O. C. Reid, honor member of the Senior Class received notice of having placed in the National Spanish Essay Contest sponsored by 'La Prensa' of New York. 'La Prensa' is a national Spanish daily which caters to the Spanish citizens of this country. Early this year this paper offered a number of prizes for original work in Spanish. Some fifteen subjects were submitted from which contestants could choose. Mrs. Reid chose for her subject 'Cervantes—the Soldier.' Her paper was written in Spanish and was chosen by the judges as one of the prize winners.

This recognition of Mrs. Reid's talent is very gratifying to her many friends here and elsewhere and is of especial importance to Howard Payne College and the work of Miss Middleton of the Spanish Department under whom Mrs. Reid has had her work in Spanish.

Mrs. Reid is the wife of Rev. O. C. Reid. They came to Howard Payne four years ago from Junction, Texas, where Mr. Reid was connected with a bank for a number of years. They now live at Bates, Texas, where Mr. Reid is pastor of the Baptist Church. Both Mr. and Mrs. Reid are members of the Senior Class and receive their diplomas this week."

LOUISE FRAMER ELECTED H. E. CLUB PRESIDENT

Louise Farmer of Junction has been installed as president of the Home Economics Club at the University of Texas. Adele Houssels of Vernon was put in office as vice-president.

Other officers elected for next year were Julia Pirack of Snook, secretary; Elizabeth Faulkner of Austin, historian; Jewell Foster of Austin, senior council member; Frankie Thompson of Houston, junior council member; and Lorraine Von Rosenberg of Runge, sophomore council member.—Daily Texan.

DEALERS ARRANGE VACATION DISPLAYS

Vacation time displays in Oakland-Pontiac salesrooms throughout the country for two weeks, beginning June 2 and continuing through June 16, will offer local car owners many suggestions as to camping, hunting and fishing equipment.

A Vacation Log booklet—a diary for 22 days—which has space for a daily itemized report on car expense—will be presented motorists who are planning vacation tours.

Oakland-Pontiac owners also are to be given Tourist Courtesy Cards which may be presented at any Oakland-Pontiac service station with the assurance they will be given preferred service by 4,700 dealers everywhere.

Oakland-Pontiac dealers will also co-operate with local motorists in furnishing road, hotel, tourist camps and other information through automobile clubs, hotels and other sources.

As a result of this co-operation, local motorists may be assured that their vacation tour will be more enjoyable if they visit the local dealer, Powell Motor Co.

A SIDELINE THAT GREW

Our little dairy developed from a few cows kept for family use. It occurred to us that we had to attend regularly to our few cows kept. The surplus product was churned and sold as country butter, which is no paying proposition as butter is a perishable product and has to be delivered promptly and often. Hence, we decided to keep a few more cows and sell cream.

From 8 to 10 cows produce enough cream to justify bi-weekly deliveries and leave a nice margin over feed costs, home consumption of milk and butter, and labor involved.

A partly closed up barn with concrete floor and gutters and screened in milk room with milk cooler, and separator driven by electric motor, constitute our milkling quarters and greatly add to the comfort and convenience of the work. The cows are only stood in the barn for about an hour at milking time and all milk and cream is removed from the milk room as soon as the work is done.

We prefer to have two or three cows freshen at practically the same time for the convenience of raising calves and trying to freshen the cows in fall and early winter, when prices for cream are at their best. The cows also have a tendency to produce well for a longer period which is a great asset if they are to be milked ten months or longer in one lactation period.

Summing up there are two distinct incomes from a well kept dairy herd; the milk products so highly valued, and the increase of the herd when well cared for and properly developed.—K. A. Holkamp (Master Farmer, Kerr County) in The Progressive Farmer.

NEW SLOGAN

The Fort Worth Star Telegram, published by Aron G. Carter, of Fort Worth, who was reprimanded by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson for yelling "Hurrah for Dan" at a Texas A. & M. football game, has coined a new campaign slogan for Louis J. Wardlaw, Fort Worth candidate for governor, which is:

"We've had a woman for governor."

We have a boy for governor. Let's have a man for governor. LOUIS J. WARDLAW."

TARRING SHEEP NOSES

When sheep bunch up on a warm summer day with their heads together and their noses near the ground, they are probably trying to avoid a species of fly which annoys them by depositing its larvae on the edges of their nostrils. These maggots later moving to the head sinews. During dry weather these actions of the sheep result in stirring up considerable dust, which, if it is around old buildings and sheds, consists principally of manure and contains various organisms that may produce irritation in the respiratory tracts of the sheep. Although sheep are not especially susceptible to many of the infectious diseases of animals, they are quite susceptible to local infections. Undoubtedly a large number of the respiratory troubles common in sheep are due to this irritation by dust, and losses from this source can be avoided by providing plenty of shade on clean ground without too much dust. If old corrals and sheds are used, they should be kept as clean as possible. Bedding the shaded places for sheep with clean straw is a cheap, effective way of keeping the dust down. Plenty of shade will help to avoid crowding. The use of pine tar on the nostrils of sheep during the fly season is said to be of value in preventing the flies from depositing their maggots on the edge of nostrils of sheep. This can be applied by hand or by using a plank with 2-inch augur holes containing salt and with the pine tar around the edges of the holes, or a V-shaped trough containing salt and with the pine tar smeared in a line above the salt where it will adhere to the noses as the sheep lick salt.

"INSIDE" INFORMATION

Rub leather furniture upholstery occasionally with a little castor oil, applied on a soft cheesecloth. Rub the oil well into the leather, to preserve and soften it.

Poke shoots are delicious when carefully cooked. To lessen the slight astringency of flavor, discard the first water, after cooking five minutes, and continue cooking in fresh boiling water. Serve like asparagus with butter and seasoning of salt and pepper.

Cook asparagus the shortest possible time. If it is very young and tender, 10 minutes may be long enough. More mature stalks may take up to 25 minutes. Trim the ends of the stalks before cooking, and

PLANT FOOD FOR PECAN ORCHARD

Although some inexperienced growers, lured by reports of high profits in pecan culture, have met with disastrous failures because they failed to understand that a pecan orchard requires good fertile soil and intelligent cultivation, the soil requirements for pecans are now better established, and fewer failures on this score are to be expected. However, given good soil to begin with, the pecan is a crop that requires continued fertilization and cultivation.

In the years before the trees begin to bear, the pecan grower should make a point of building up the fertility and condition of the soil. Before the roots have spread widely it is well to grow cover crops, summer and winter, and plow them under. Year by year less of deep plowing will be possible; then the soil near the trees should be disced and planted to legumes or rank growing cover crops. If cash crops are grown at all the plant food they take may well be returned in the form of commercial fertilizer. Either in the form of cover crops or in fertilizer the growing pecans need a liberal supply of nitrogen.

When trees come to bearing age, all cropping of the land should cease and everything grown should be returned to the land. Deep plowing becomes injurious, and disking or shallow plowing is required. Cowpeas or soy beans may no longer be desirable as summer cover crops, for in some districts they harbor the smut bug pest. The use of commercial fertilizers is desirable, and in the mature bearing stage commercial fertilization is usually essential.

From experiments conducted over a term of years by the United States Department of Agriculture co-operating with commercial growers, it has been established that on most soils a commercial fertilizer is desirable. An 8-6-4 mixture is ordinarily desirable for young trees, and a 10-5-3 mixture is suitable for older trees. Nitrogen and phosphorus vibrate the tree and promote the growth of well-filled nuts of high protein content. Potash helps to produce nuts of clear desirable kernel and high fat content. The nitrogen supply should be derived from various sources and about two-thirds should be in the readily available form with one-third from the less quickly available forms of nitrogen supply.—Farm and Ranch.

CAPON FOR WEST TEXAS

The bane of existence to many poultrymen is the surplus cockerels. About half of all the chicks hatched are cockerels and unfortunately it is impossible to tell them from the pullets until they are several weeks old. It is necessary therefore to raise many thousands of them each year to get the needed supply of pullets. In order to dispose of the cockerels as early as possible, they are marketed as "broilers" and "fryers." But as these markets receive enormous numbers in a short period of time, low prices generally result. Everyone has them and wants to sell them at about the same time each year and this creates the cockerel problem.

In the East many poultrymen are handling a portion of these excess cockerels as capons. They are doing this for several reasons, chief of which are (1) the Eastern consumer has come to appreciate the capon as a special delicacy and is willing to pay good prices for it, thereby creating a good market; and (2) by taking a part of the cockerels off the broiler and fryer market, this market is somewhat strengthened. Thus the producer has found it a profitable venture and rapidly increasing numbers of capons are raised and consumed in the East.

They can be produced on the waste grain on many Texas farms, turning into money thousands of pounds of waste around the grain stacks of the Plains farms alone. Many Plains farmers have found it necessary to keep the flock of layers penned up for half a day in order to force them to eat the laying mash. So much waste grain is available that if they are allowed to run in the open all the time they will eat this grain alone, get very fat and lay but few eggs.

There may be many other places as good, but there are none in a better position to cheaply produce capons than the grain sorghum belt of Texas.—C. M. Holmgren, in The Progressive Farmer.

REASON NO. 7: Handy-Andy Courtesy does not end with the purchases and the tinkle of the Cash Register! It goes farther; Handy-Andy is not satisfied with a sale after you give him your dollar! He wants to aid you further—he will gladly take your bundles and place them in your car.

MANY GROCERS—after they get your money don't care whether you hang, or not—but Handy-Andy, in his desire to please you—and assist you in any way possible.

JUST ASK any Handy-Andy employee to assist you with your packages! Note his pleasant smile—his eagerness to be of service!

THIS COURTESY is just another of Handy-Andy's many qualities—and is just another reason why women prefer trading with the funny little man.

WHY PICK ON HIM?

An editor is often asked to take a shot at somebody through the columns of his newspaper.
Why pick out the editor for this job? A person making a request of this kind would not think of going to a merchant and asking him to kick so-and-so out if he came in to buy a suit of clothes, just because he had a grudge of some kind against the fellow. Yet, there would be just about as much sense to a request of that kind.
An editor carries load enough fighting his own battles, without taking up a personal grudge fight for somebody else.—Ault (Colo.) Booster.

BURY IT

Country editors have got so much in the habit of being called poor business men that most of them believe it. Let's see what an expert has to say on the subject: The auditor who is now engaged in going over subscription lists says all the men he has met are of an unusually high type, that they are capable, fair, honest, know their business and are desirable chaps in every way. This ought to be good enough testimony for anybody.

Here is another illustration:
Ask the average man who are the best business men in any town and he is quite likely to start out by mentioning the bankers. Well, more than two hundred Nebraska bankers have gone plumb, completely busted in the last few years. Has anyone ever heard of a country publisher, even one, being sold out by the sheriff?

Let's get away from that
"poor business man" complex.—
Nebraska Press.

We have many communications on our desk commending us in our effort to get Hon.
Coke R. Stevenson announce for representative of this district, and we suggest that Mr. Stevenson's friends and admirers over the district write him, in an effort to draft him for this place. In fact, let's make this office seek the man, for in that manner alone will we get the proper timber to represent us in this district. Politics is in a bad state of putrefaction at this time, and in order to get good, clean men to represent us, then we must have the office seek the man. So, all together, let's get after Coke.

P. S. Since writing the above
Coke's friends have prevailed upon him to announce.—Rock-springs Record.

EDISON AT EIGHTY-ONE

Hats off to Thomas A. Edison! The great inventor has just outlined a plan for twenty years' work. He is eight-one.

That is quite an advanced age for a man to begin work in a new field. But Edison always has been unlike other men.
Scoffing at old age, he is personally supervising the construction of a new chemical laboratory in which he will carry on extensive rubber experiments.
He plans to develop an emergency rubber industry in the United States.

The inventor has in mind new devices for use in extracting rubber, it is said. He is devoting his entire time and efforts now to the study of rubber and its possibilities in the United States, and expects this study to keep him busy for the next twenty years.

We humbly extend our best wishes to Mr. Edison, and congratulate him on his discovery of the true secret of longevity —being so interested in some worthy work, so wrapped up in it and fascinated by it, that one simply hasn't the time to stop.

How many of us at eighty-one —provided that we reach that venerable age—will be fortune-ate enough to be able to look forward to a task of twenty years' duration.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Missionary Society of the Methodist church met with Mrs.
Wm. McDonald on the 5th, Tuesday, p. m., for a social meeting.

Miss Pearl Smith of Eldorado, the District Secretary, made an interesting talk about missionary matters. Sister Hill played beautifully two compositions of Ethelbert Nevin, readings by Irma Lawler and Nevada Blackburn were enjoyed and several contests created amusement.

A special committee served refreshments of delicious cake and ice tea to about seventeen ladies.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this method of thanking the many friends for their assistance in trying to save our home from burning.
We feel very grateful to each and every one.

Mrs. R. Waits and family.

ICE Refrigeration

Used in Twelve Million
Homes

MORE than 95 per cent of all home refrigeration in this country is done with ice. Twelve million families use ice.

Ice is cheap, quickly available in any amount desired, and involves no investment in apparatus except a good refrigerator. There is little or no upkeep and your ice supply is abundant and certain.
Be sure you have a good refrig-

The old Masonic building, one of the first real handsome structures of Junction, erected some twenty-five years ago, has just had completed a new concrete front, which gives it a real city appearance and puts it in keeping with the later construction buildings adjacent.

The rain of last Friday night amounted to a fraction over an inch in this immediate section, but was much heavier in some portions adjoining, which caused the rivers to rise some three or four feet, and since then the fishermen have been extremely busy with splendid results.

On the 25th of May the school at Pecan Springs closed and the event was celebrated by a barbecue and baseball game between Camp Allison and Pecan Springs. The occasion was one of much enjoyment to those in attendance. Pecan Springs school was conducted by Mrs. Eloise Emery, who will teach the Coparas school the coming year.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

A cordial invitation is extended to everybody to attend our protracted services now in progress. Brother Glenn Wallace is doing the preaching and every service is interesting. We are having good preaching, good singing and fine turnouts with a good interest. Don't miss a service. The day services begin promptly at 5 p. m., this is to accommodate many who live at a distance and want to come to both services.

The evening services begin at 8:15, and are held out on the lawn. We appreciate the many visitors from a distance and the co-operation of so many who are helping in many ways in this meeting. We appreciate the good crowds who are giving a listening ear to the preaching and who are giving such fine attention. We will have a basket dinner Sunday at noon at the McWright Park. Bring a basket well filled and enjoy the day with us. Sunday morning we will meet at the Theatre auditorium.

Fraternalty yours,
J. S. Newman,
Minister.

When you wash strawberries or other products likely to be sandy, do not strain the water off them. Float them in a bowl of water, and skim them off the top, letting the sand sink to the bottom. Put only a few berries at a time in the water, take them out quickly, and put them through several waters. If washed the other way, grit from the upper berries settles on those below instead of being entirely removed.

BANNOWSKY-NORTHCUTT

One of the June weddings announced by the Eagle last week materialized Monday when Miss Ira Dell Northcutt and Mr. Chester Bannowsky were united in marriage at the home of the bride, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Glen Wallace of the Church of Christ.

Miss Northcutt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Northcutt, and is one of the popular younger set of this community, while the groom is a prominent young ranchman of Kimble County.

They left immediately after the ceremony for a trip to San Angelo, after which they will be at home on Mr. Bannowsky's ranch.

The Eagle joins their many friends in wishing them all happiness and prosperity in their wedded life.

MARTIN-WHITE

On May 30th, at Eden, Texas, the marriage ceremony, uniting Mr. Roland Martin of Junction, and Miss Ada White of Menard, with Rev. Allen, Methodist Church of Eden, was performed.

Roland put one over on his friends here by not letting them know anything of the affair until it was over. He is one of Junction's popular young men and has been extended congratulations by his many friends.

Miss White is one of Menard's popular young ladies and is at present employed by the West Texas Utilities Co. of that place, and will have to be relieved before she can join her husband here.

The Eagle extends congratulations and best wishes to the young people and wish them the best that life can give.

ATTENTION, EVERYBODY

Under Art. 4477 of R. C. S. of the sanitary code, it makes it the duty of every person who attends or has knowledge of a patient who is liable to be suffering from any infectious or contagious disease to report the same to the County Health Officer immediately, so that he may take action accordingly. It is also the duty of every individual to report to the County Health Officer to keep a record and report regularly to the State Board of Health, and he can only do this by the co-operation of the people, as he cannot possibly have individual knowledge of every case of this kind. It is to everyone's interest that our health be kept unimpaired, so citizens do your duty.

J. B. Stevenson,
County Attorney.

Miss Betty Summers of Junction was in Kerrville the first of the week as the guest of Misses Ruth Leavell and Ruth Prescott.—Mountain Sun.

BECKER-BESSENT

Immediately following the closing of the graduating exercises last Friday night, Albert Becker and Miss Ruth Bessent were married at the home of the bride, Rev. Glen Wallace officiating.

Both the contracting parties were graduates of the 1928 class and had just received their diplomas. They left immediately for a trip to Mason, Fredericksburg and other points.

The Eagle joins their many friends in wishing them the best that life offers.

THE CHILD IS WHAT YOU MAKE IT

No work of greater pleasure or of higher obligation or of greater honor, or of richer reward could be given you to do. Your child is what you make it; and remember, your work of training and developing cannot be begun too soon. It is well understood that the first ten years do more to shape character and destiny than any subsequent decade; the desires, tastes and aims, the habits of thought and feeling indicated, and the course of after life are determined by the training up to that period.—Farm and Ranch.

A horned toad, known to newspaper readers as Rip Van Winkle, is supposed to have lived more than thirty years in a corner stone without air, water or food.

The toad has been seen by many, including the President. Some believe the yarn. The President has not committed himself. When the toad was placed on the President's desk neither said a word.

Now the toad's owner heightens interest, saying that in his dark, air-tight corner-stone the toad sat next to a Bible, and that noble book enabled him to hold out. Many will believe that. It is a credulous human race.

In a few days Germany will elect a new Reichstag, and thirty-one different parties will fight for the seats. These include two Catholics, three Socialists, two Nationalists, three Communists, and three Anti-Semite parties.

In America we have only two parties that count, and our people can hardly keep track of them. Not ten in a hundred could tell what either wants or plans.

Fortunate the country with little political excitement. It is quiet, because it is doing well.

The success of the individual is often the good fortune of the many.

Julius Rosenwald, who began with a public school education, courage and the desire to help others, has established a fund "for the benefit of humanity," recently adding $2,000,000 to other gifts, now in excess of $20,000,000.

Mr. Rosenwald gives the money to trustees for the public benefit, and imposes only one condition, that "all the money shall be spent, principal and interest, within twenty-five years of Mr. Rosenwald's death."

May that death be long postponed.

Moving picture enthusiasts will soon have sound with their pictures. Actors will talk and sing on the screen and news reels will enable crowds to see and HEAR what happens.

Moving picture actors will need good voices as well as beautiful teeth, faces, legs and hair.

Soon the actor without a good voice will be a moving picture actor no longer.

William Fox and his "Movie-tone" aided by Walter S. Gifford, of the big telephone company, and Mr. Bloom, of the Western Electric, have convinced the moving picture industry that moving pictures in future will require "sound and fury."

Various changes will come, actors with good voices will be imported to Hollywood or moving picture studios will be transformed to places where good voices can be found.

New York State has signed a check for $33,723,734, the biggest ever drawn by the richest State. The best part of it is that the money will be spent for public schools.

Not long ago every State spent more for prisons than for public schools, and nothing at all for public libraries. There is progress.

Art objects, from the Bronze Age, and pottery made by Philistines are dug up in Palestine.

It is impossible to realize what it meant to the human race when the ancients discovered, probably by accident, how to get copper from ore, and went traveling over the earth in search of it.

Centuries ago, boats sailed cautiously from Mediterranean ports, keeping in sight of land, having no compass.

Bold Phoenicians from the eastern end of the inland sea, traders that sold Solomon some of the wonderful things he put into his temple, sailed through the Straits of Gibraltar, into the wild Atlantic, using stars in place of a compass, pushing on to what we call the British Islands. That was a wonder.

PRINT IT, EVEN IF IT DOES HURT

If a prominent member of your community, the head of the city's associated charities and a large user of advertising space, returned from a road-house party with a woman who bore a bad reputation in your town, were to wreck his automobile and be taken to a hospital by the police, who were willing to forget the accident, would your newspaper print the story?

The American Society of Newspaper Editors voted unanimously that such a story should be printed after a debate between Walter M. Harrison, managing editor of the Oklahoma City Oklahoman, and Paul Bellamy, editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, at its recent convention.

The editors heard the newspapers criticized by five leaders of the bar, medicine, politics, church and the craft itself. The critics were Clarence Darrow, representing the law; Dr. Joseph Collins, representing medicine; Governor Albert C. Ritchie, representing politics; Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, representing the church, and Silas Bent, representing journalism. Dr. W. T. Ellis, former foreign correspondent, was chosen to reply to the critics.

YOUR FLOWER GARDEN

(by Romaine B. Ware)

Flowers for Poor Soil

If you are confronted with poor soil in the place you wish to grow flowers you will have to select those varieties that will succeed in spite of the soil they find themselves in. At one time I had a spot in a garden I was building that was nothing but an ash pile covered with an inch of soil on top. I did not wish to take the time to replace the soil so I planted Nasturtiums and they grew and bloomed to perfection. If you plant Nasturtiums in rich soil they will all go to foliage and be a total loss.

I will mention just a few annuals that may be depended upon to give you bloom in most any soil that may be worked at all. They are all of the easiest culture and may be seeded right where you want them to bloom and with a little care to see that they get water enough they will bloom very nicely. Here is the list: Portulaca, Verbena, Ice Plant, sweet Alyssum, Cockscomb, Kochia, Nasturtium and Bachelor Buttons.

If your soil is poor the thing to do is to make it better. Most any soil may be improved by adding plenty of leaf mould or compost, and if neither of these is available you may add a liberal supply of pulverized Peat Moss. Too, you will find that constant cultivation will help your soil. If you are able to obtain some well-rotted barnyard manure it will help the soil wonderfully.

If you have a lot of any size and the soil is poor you may in a period of two years improve it so that you would hardly know it. This may be done with green manuring. Have it plowed early in the spring and plant it with Cow Peas or Soy Beans; when these are fifteen to eighteen inches high plow them under and plant another crop. Do this constantly for two whole seasons and you will hardly know the soil. You can improve your soil if you really want to.

PEN SENTENCES FOR POULTRY THIEVES

At the last session of the Texas Legislature an attempt was made by Senator P. B. Ward of Johnson County to make chicken and turkey theft a felony as well as a misdemeanor. In other words, it was left to the discretion of the jury whether the thief was to be convicted of a misdemeanor and sent to jail or whether he was to be given a penitentiary sentence on a felony charge. The idea was that in particularly heinous cases, it would be possible to inflict the penitentiary sentence. Such a bill was passed by the 39th Legislature and has been in effect two years.

In a number of states, notably Illinois, where chicken-theft is punishable with a penitentiary sentence, it has been possible to curb considerably the activities of poultry thieves. The Texas law had the same purpose in mind, but the court of criminal appeals recently found it unconstitutional because under the Constitution a bill cannot provide penalties for both a felony and a misdemeanor.

The court reversed and dismissed two chicken-theft cases against Dick Redding from Franklin County. In one case Redding had been fined $100 and sentenced to ten days in jail and in the other fined $50 and given ten days.

If we are to have a bill to protect farmers from the poultry thieves, it must make such a theft either a misdemeanor or a felony. It can't make it both. In order to put the fear of the law into these thieves, a penitentiary sentence seems necessary, and, therefore, chicken-theft should be made a felony.

This is a problem that should have the attention of our lawmakers next January. In a number of Texas counties farmers have organized anti-theft associations for the purpose of presenting a unified front against poultry thieves. However, the efforts of these associations will be pretty largely set at naught unless they are backed up by a law that makes it possible to inflict a heavy sentence on the thief after the anti-theft association captures and convicts him.—The Progressive Farmer.

WHAT DOES IT COST TO GROW TON LITTERS?

Summarizing the five-year results of the Texas Ton-litter Contest, we find that the average sized litter has been 9.7 pigs which on an average has weighed 2,430 pounds or an average of 250 pounds per pig. Inasmuch as our feeders now have a better knowledge of hog feeding than when this contest started and very often make their hogs average from 250 to 300 pounds with a total of more than a ton of pork by the end of the 180-day period, we have decided to raise the bars and make them lean a little higher. From now on the feeding period is 150 days. The 180-day feeding period produced a hog that was too heavy for the packers' purposes. The 150-day period should suit him about right. It should produce hogs that weigh about 200 to 225 pounds.

The three-year average cost of producing ton-litters is 6.66 cents a pound. It is estimated that the cost of feed represents about 80 per cent of the total cost of pork production. On this basis the total cost of producing these ton-litters during the past three years has averaged 8.32 cents a pound. The average price of hogs during this period has been as follows: 1925, 11.63 cents a pound; 1926, 11.72 cents a pound; 1927, 9.83 cents a pound; an average for the three-year period of 11.06 cents a pound. This leaves a margin of 2 3/4 cents a pound profit. It shows that over a period of years, if they are fed correctly, there is money in hogs as a side-line.—Engine Butler, in The Progressive Farmer.

Paris green, it was discovered recently, is effective in killing malarial mosquito larvae in swamps. The Bureau of Entomology of the United States Department of Agriculture has found that Paris green dust may be successfully applied from the air by airplanes. The demand for the poison has been increased by this new use.

PINTS FOR THE HOME

(by Nancy Hart)
A Summer Meat Course
For the meat course of a quickly-served summer dinner, try jellied meat loaf prepared from the tinned fish, chicken or tongue that should be on every proper shelf. The foundation of the loaf is lemon-flavored gelatin, with slices of hard-boiled egg or green peas used alternately with the layers of meat or fish. Served with mayonnaise and rice or potato patties, fried crisp and brown in butter or margarine, this makes a very satisfying meal.

Quick Cup Cakes
1/4 cup melted butter or margarine, 2 eggs dropped in cup with 1/2 cup shortening, fill cup with milk. Sift 1 cup sugar, 1 1/2 cups prepared cake flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder in the flour. Pour mixture in center of flour, add flavoring, beat well and bake in muffin tins.

Three Syrups for Canning
This year when you preserve, remember that there are three kinds of syrup to choose from—depending on the kind of fruit used. For heavy syrup to use with cherries, peaches, plums, quince and rhubarb, use 5 cups of sugar (beet or cane) to 4 cups water, and boil 15 minutes for a medium syrup for blackberries, gooseberries, huckleberries, apricots, use 2 1/2 cups sugar to 4 cups water, and boil 15 minutes. A thin syrup for apples or pears may be made by boiling for 15 minutes 2 cups sugar with 4 cups water.

A Note About Cloves
In using cloves for pickling or preserving, the blossom end should be removed, as it darkens the liquids.

Removes Grass Stains
Pretty hard to keep little folks off the grass just now. But never mind. Grass spots will come out easily if washed in alcohol.

A Good Floor Polish
To put a high and lasting polish on hardwood floors, use a pint of beeswax to two pints turpentine, dissolved in a saucepan on the range until a paste is formed. Apply with a soft flannel and rub briskly.

On Ironing Day
Instead of sprinkling clothes by hand, use a whisk broom dipped in water and shake it over the clothes. Also keep an atomizer filled with water nearby when ironing, so you can spray dry spots as you iron.

To Mend China
A splendid cement for broken china may be made by mixing plaster of Paris with white of egg until it is creamy. Apply as you would any prepared cement.

To Clean Enamelled Tubs
Practically all scouring powders dull the polish of enamelled tubs and lavatories. Gasoline does the work better and quicker and does not harm the porcelain.

Junction Trade Notes

The sale of wools at San Angelo last week was only a "feeler sale," it is said, to "try out the market." About 300,000 pounds short fleeces, the first accumulation, were offered and all bids rejected. A few sales of long wool by individual ranchmen were made, it was said, at prices ranging from 40c to 45c.

The Masonic building, one of the first pretentious buildings erected in Junction, about 1903, is now undergoing modernization. Styles in buildings change—same as women's apparel—but fortunately not so frequently.

Prepared prunes in tins, practically as cheap as prunes in the raw, and ready to serve. Gann Grocery Company.

Try Mackerel and Kipperd Herring in the tins. Gann Grocery Company.

There are thirty-one golf courses listed in south Texas, not including the Junction course, which is in the offing.

Dr. Gray Browning and A. W. Browning have moved their office to the ground floor and are located next door to Gann Grocery Company.

Albert Becker is now in charge of the Becker Hotel, popular hostelry in Junction, while his mother, Mrs. R. Becker, is taking a well-earned rest.

Choice "Blue Ribbon" dried peaches in individual packages, 1lb., 2lb., and 5lb. Gann Grocery Company.

A visitor to Junction, attracted by the well-groomed yards of Fritz Hotel and the Kimble County courthouse, remarked that if the home premises here were as well kept, "Junction, with its natural attractive setting, would be the prettiest town in Texas."

H. S. Bradley of Price's Camp, has joined the working fellows' club, and is now an attaché at Junction State Bank.

A 23-inch bass that probably weighed six pounds, was the reward of a tourist from the Texas plains this week. The shining fellow was caught from the South Llano with a fly, according to law, and S. O. Durst.

The Evergreen school and church community will hold a pre-supper Friday evening, June 8th, to which the public is invited. The entertainment is for the purpose of raising funds to liquidate the piano. "Sun Garden" coffee, furnished by Gann Grocery Company, will be served along with other choice viands.

A. F. Fritz of London community marketed choice farm butter and yard eggs in Junction during the week. The first Llano Valley peaches of the season, choice fruit from the fertile London valley, were marketed in Junction early in the week.

The building era in Junction is further augmented by the recent letting of contract for a new store building on Main by W. G. Loeffler. J. C. Ray is contractor. Evacuation for foundation is under way and the building should be finished before the first of July.

The City Council of Junction, acting through its mayor, E. Holecamp, has fixed the first week of June—5th to 8th—as clean-up week. Every citizen should do his duty. We can do a lot in four days if we are of a mind to.

LONDON LOCALS

Miss Virginia Jones returned home the 30th from her grandparents who live at Katemey, Texas. She says she had a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gentry, Misses Icy and Selma Adams visited friends at Johnson City last week.

Mrs. Jim Amberson and Miss H. Gebhardt returned from San Antonio on the 31st.

Miss Goldie Brewer spent the 1st and 2nd with homefolks, returning to San Marcos the 3rd.

The London Graphic is a safe proposition. It is here now, and will make its first appearance on Thursday of this week and on each week thereafter, so states Mr. J. Marvin Hunter, Jr., its editor. Let's get behind this enterprise and give it all the help and encouragement we can.

Claude E. Weaver and Joe A. Harris have dug themselves a storm house. If you wish to see either of them during a thunder storm, just knock on the dug-out door. We might all of us wish we had a dug-out some time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Farris and others from Waxahachie are spending their summer vacation on the Llano River at the irrigated farm.

Our friend J. E. Hodges, a former citizen of the London country but now connected with the Union Bus Line of San Antonio, was meeting friends here Monday. Eli informs us he is just recovering from an operation and we are all glad to know he is doing well and will soon be on the job again.

Mr. Rankin D. Kothmann who has been attending Baylor University at Waco has returned home. We always rejoice when our boys and girls go away to schools of high learning, and hold for them a glad hand on their return.

Mr. and Mrs. Camp of San Antonio, Mrs. Anna Dixon of Lometa and Mr. A. J. Ivy of Sanderson are attending the bedside of our beloved citizen and friend, Mr. S. H. Ivy, who is very low at this writing. Others of Mr. Ivy's relatives are on their way to attend his needs.

T. S. Jones of Junction was in town Monday.

August Herbst was in for supplies Monday.

We are all looking pleasant since the rain and especially does O. D. Price wear a real smile.

Mr. Edgar Furr has returned from Abilene Christian College. We are informed that Edgar preached for the church at Hext last Sunday and will preach for London on the 17th of this month. We are proud to say London has been sending out teachers for 20 years. Why not give some of our youths to the pulpit? Upon the home, the school and the church depend our future civilization. The home, the very foundation of all, determine the class and character of your schools both in regard to teacher and pupil. The school prepares and trains the young mind and sends it on to the church, thereby becoming jointly responsible with the home for the kind, class and character of the individual who enters the church. The church is, or should be the grandest, the purest and the most exalted institution on earth. Its individual members should exemplify the very highest and purest ideals in their daily life, and if they fail to do so, the fault is in the earlier training. The fault can be traced back to the school, the home; one or both are to blame. We only make reference to the human side of the church.

We hope others of our boys who have had the proper training and are otherwise fitted for the ministry will decide to devote their lives to the cause.

SOUTH LLANO NEWS

Our community was visited by an electric storm and fine rain Friday night and had high water Saturday and at night several from here were water-bound until Sunday morning at Junction.

Sunday at 3:00 p. m. Rev. Crabb preached a very interesting sermon to a crowded house at the Evergreen school house. We appreciate his coming and hope to see him in our midst again soon, also his estimable family who accompanied him.

We were glad to meet so many of our Junction friends out at the services at Evergreen Sunday. You have a cordial invitation to come again.

Mrs. F. M. Hodges returned from Harwood last Wednesday where she had been to attend the funeral of her sister, Mrs. W. A. Johnson, of Tucson, Arizona, where she had been for several months in search of health. Her husband and children returned to Arizona last week where they will make their home for an indefinite time.

Mrs. Hodges also made a visit to relatives in San Antonio. Troy Fleming and wife made a visit to homefolks at Brady last week-end.

Mr. E. E. Callender and Lacy and Lem Fleming were business men in Junction Monday.

Alton Davis and wife were week-end guests in Junction. Ol Fleming and wife were visitors at their son's, Alton Sunday.

A couple married fifty years were given a great many gifts and a big party by their friends. They certainly deserved it.

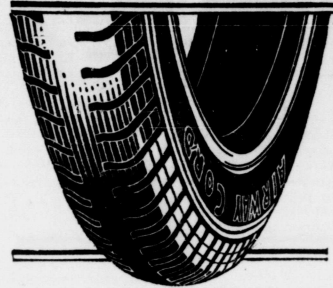

Harry Mershfield tells of a Scotchman who went crazy trying to shoot off a cannon a little at a time.

See the new Summer Felts. All pastel shades in California Sport Hats. Always the newest. The Model Shop.

Mr. Hodges Schroeder was a guest of relatives and friends here Sunday and Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick, son and daughter, of Houston, spent a pleasant vacation on the Gibbs ranch, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gibbs. They state that their vacations will all be spent on the Llano from now on.
