SOUTH PLAINS OIL NEWS

EDITED BY EARL THOMPSON, PHONE 13 OR 14

OIL PRODUCTION DROPS

According to the weekly report of the American Petroleum Institute for the week ending last Saturday the daily average production of crude oil for the United States dropped 8,956 barrels, due mostly to the decreases in Oklahoma and Wyoming.

The declines in Oklahoma and Wyoming, with slight losses elsewhere, was partly offset by the gains in the Texas fields. The A. P. I. gives West Texas production a larger increase than the figures compiled from field data.

A sum total of the four districts of West Texas which it reported production greatly shows a daily average of 10,750 barrels per day, some 19,000 barrels higher than the field reports indicate for the period. The increase indicated for central West Texas 5,156 barrels is about 40 per cent greater than is indicated from the same sources.

Production in Brief

Oklahoma	377,400
California	512,100
Texas	601,400
Total 3 states	377,100
Total U. S.	2,577,100
Decrease	8,956

NEW YATES GUSHER

According to the latest reports from the Yates pool in Pecos county, the McMan-Markland, Yates No. 1, was flowing at the rate of 1,200 barrels daily. The depth of the well was 1,365 feet. The well practically quadrupled its production from 1,270 to 1,365 feet. It got to the top of the line and had drilled 31 feet past that mark. In as much as several wells have drilled past 100 feet in the line to get the big production, hopes are held that there will be a production increase in the next 20 feet, after which drilling will probably cease.

The McMan-Markland No. 1 Yates is a mile northwest and two miles and a half from the nearest production.

To the southwest of the pool the Masza-Rodbank Smith No. 1 scratched the top of the pay at 1,465 feet and shut down for casing and storage. This well balled a quarter barrel of oil each fifteen minutes.

With the Masza-Rodbank a potential well the Pecos county pool is now the largest shallow pool in the world, being about five miles east and west and 2 1/2 miles north and south. It looks like now that the trend of the field may be entirely changed.

Another well now being watched closely is the Allman Bell well, which will determine the northeast trend from the Yates discovery well. It is at 1,109 feet in line and undrilled.

HUMBLE GOODE TEST IS DRILLING AT 2,600 FEET

The Humble Oil and Refining Company's No. 1 Goode, section 1, of the H. & T. C. survey, Knox county, is drilling below 2,600 feet, according to a recent report.

FOARD TEST GETS GAS SHOW AT 1600 FEET

The Roxann-Eain-McGaha, No. 1 Matthews, in central Foard county, is drilling below 1,600 feet, according to a recent report.

The log of this well to date shows as follows: 1,000,000 feet of gas from 325, 2,000,000 feet from 1,370 feet, some gas and 55 barrels of oil from 1,484-1,492 feet and 1,000,000 feet of gas at 1,600 feet. This well is located in section 2, G. C. & S. F. survey.

TEXAS-ROBERTS WELL MAKING 15 BARRELS

A test placed on the Texas Company's Lucy Robinson permit, in 25-16-22 showed that the well made 16 barrels of oil and 29,000,000 feet of gas for a 24 hour period from a depth of 2,835 feet. Officials of the company said that the separator was not working correctly and because some of the parts of the separator were missing an accurate test cannot be made until the parts arrive. New Mexico oil men say this is an excellent showing, considering the fact that the tools were still in the hole.

Brewer Continues Pentecost Sermon

With his voice appreciably improved over its condition of Tuesday night, Elder G. C. Brewer delivered an eloquent sermon last night in continuation of his text on "Pentecost."

The audience last evening filled the seats of the auditorium and many people listened from automobiles parked in the alley ways and along the curb on Broadway. Visitors came from Plainview, Abernathy, Tahoka, and many nearby towns.

Elder Brewer has the ability to interest his audience. His sermons are delivered in a simple, convincing, and instructive manner.

Explains Spirit

Too many people are waiting for the holy spirit to move them to obey Christ, the speaker said. The holy spirit which came to the three thousand on the day of Pentecost comes to us today in the Gospel.

"The plan of salvation is simple," he said. "It is left to the intelligence of a person to accept the Gospel, believe it, and as Peter commanded, 'repent and be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of your sins and ye shall be saved.' You are not urged to become a member of any church but to accept Christ as your personal savior."

Nearing the close of the meeting, the elders and deacons of the Church of Christ will meet this evening at 8 o'clock preceding the services to discuss matters pertaining to the remaining days of the revival.

Tonight at 8:30 o'clock, Elder Brewer will speak on "What It Means to Believe in Christ."

UNDERGROUND DEATH IN NEW YORK - Trainmen and trainees examining the damage done by one of the bombs set off in two New York subway stations, killing one and injuring a score of persons. Sacco-Vanzetti sympathizers were suspected by the police, although among the suspects questioned was a disgruntled ex-employee of the underground.

Workers Parade In Interest Of Prisoners

The voice of millions, raised vainly in behalf of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, is symbolized here. The photographs are of parades and mass meetings staged by New York, immediately after Gov. Fuller of Massachusetts announced the two men must die. In Brooklyn, two thousand barbers left their work to march through the streets, carrying banners protesting against the executions. Inset is a banner posted at a great mass meeting in Union Square, New York City, urging a general strike and a boycott of Massachusetts-made goods. Similar scenes are being staged around the world.

The World Famous Case---From Start To Finish

Nicola Sacco (A SKETCH)

(By Associated Press)
Before his arrest charged with murder on May 3, 1920, Nicola Sacco, an Italian immigrant, worked by day in a shoe factory in Braintree, Mass. His evenings for a long period were spent in attending radical meetings and distributing radical literature.
He was of medium height, smooth shaven and wore his hair closely cropped. A fiery manner frequently characterized his attitude. He described himself as an atheist. He said he did not believe in war and in 1917 he fled to Mexico to evade the draft.
His opinions were usually made in Italian, his English being very broken. In his testimony at the murder trial he attacked American institutions. It was the first time he would be charged for his radical activities, he testified that led him to lie to the police regarding his movements at the time of his arrest.

When he came before Judge Webster Thayer for sentence on April 9, 1927, Sacco told his way about his beliefs.
"I know there are two classes—the oppressed and the rich," he exclaimed. "We fraternize the people with books and literature. You persecute the people, terrify and kill. We try to educate them."
"That's why I am here today, for having been in the oppressed class while you are the oppressor and you know it. I've never been guilty never."
Twice Sacco conducted hunger strikes. The first time was while he was in the Boston jail in February and March, 1923, while motions to let him out were pending. That one lasted a month. Then he was taken to the Massachusetts house of correction and finally fled there, when again he disappeared for persecuted for them.

He was thick set and swarthy. A huge black mustache drooping at the ends covered his mouth. So active was he in radical circles that when a fellow radical named publicly disappeared, Vanzetti was chosen to go to New York to search for him. This was late in April, 1923. On May 3, the body of Salvo was found on a New York sidewalk where he had jumped or fallen from a window in the federal department of justice rooms on the 14th floor. The next day Vanzetti returned to Massachusetts, and on May 6 he was arrested on the payroll murder charge.
It was Vanzetti's claim that on the night of his arrest he and Sacco were standing on a ledge on which they intended to pick up a mass of radical literature which they had distributed. They wished to dispose of it, he asserted, because they feared capture by federal officers and deportation for their radical activities.
Before he was brought to trial

Facts In The Case

(By Associated Press)
BOSTON, Aug. 10.—The crime for which Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti were sentenced to die was a double murder.
On the morning of April 15, 1920, Frederick A. Parmenter, paymaster, and Alexander Heraschik, his guard, arrived at the factory of Foster and Mottell Company, South Braintree, near Boston, to pay off employees. They carried in cash, $13,775. As they were about to enter the factory door, two men approached and fired at them. Both fell mortally wounded.
The two robbers grabbed the cash. An automobile, which had been waiting nearby, sped up to the scene. The machine was driven in and the two robbers climbed in. The distance from the Atlantic to the Pacific across the United States is between points near Charleston, S. C., and San Diego, Calif., the distance being 5,130 miles.
