SON OF BANKER IN HENRIETTA IS SHOT TO DEATH

Mystery Shrouds Slaying of Frank Sudduth Early Sunday

WERE NO WITNESSES

Dead Man Comes From Pioneer Family in That Section

Special to The Record News.

HENRIETTA, Texas, Sept. 16.—Frank Sudduth, who held an executive position with the Clay County Cotton Oil company, was shot and killed on his twenty-fifth birthday at the company office here early Sunday morning. Two bullets entered his body and head, one in the right shoulder and the other in the back of the skull.

Immediately following the shooting, C. F. Kinnamon, employed as night watchman for the cotton oil company, was placed under arrest and held without bond until a preliminary hearing is ordered. Justice Clay Coleman held an inquest and pronounced death due "to gunshot wounds inflicted by C. F. Kinnamon."

There were no eye-witnesses, as far as has been learned, but a negro was near the scene and, on the grounds. Sudduth was found dead in the company office and was unarmed. It was said late Sunday afternoon that officials had found an empty sweet spirits of niter bottle near the scene of the killing, which the man held is said to have been seen to throw down. No motive has been found for the killing, and Kinnamon has made no statement. Kinnamon is married, has a wife and two children, and is about 40 years of age.

Frank Sudduth comes from a pioneer family of this section, and is the son of W. F. Sudduth, an official in the Worsham bank here. He is survived also by three brothers and a sister. One of the brothers is R. Donley Sudduth, local attorney. He is an Odd Fellow and active member of the American Legion post here.

Funeral services will be Monday afternoon from the Sudduth home, but definite arrangements have not been completed.

MISSING STUDENT IS CROSSING OCEAN

By The Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Sept. 16.—Thomas Earl Dudney, missing Texas Christian university student who disappeared on August 29 and for whom a nation-wide search was instigated by his parents and the police, is on a vessel bound for Antwerp.

This information was contained in a letter which was written to the chief of police at Dallas by Raymond King, of Houston, who was a companion of young Dudney from September 1 to September 5, during which time he was in Houston. The letter was later forwarded to the missing boy's parents who reside here.

Dudney, according to King, left his classes because of a near break down caused by excessive study and school work during the last year. He disappeared on the day that he was to have received diploma as graduate missionary. He had accepted a pastorate at Hope, Ark., and was to have occupied the pulpit there in September.

ARGUE OVER PINT; ONE NOW DYING

By The Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Sept. 16.—A. B. Davies, 30 years old is dying in a local hospital and L. B. Pruett is in jail on a charge of attempted murder as a result of an argument between the two men at Lake Worth this afternoon.

Davis declared that he purchased a pint of liquor from Pruett and returned half hour later for another pint when Pruett accused him of being a stool pigeon. The latter started to walk off and as he did so, Pruett ordered him to halt. When he failed to stop, Pruett emptied the contents of a shot gun into his body.

Young Wife Slays Mate In Quarrel

"Feared I Would Be Beaten to Death," She States After Murder Charge.

By The Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Sept. 16.—"I shot him because I feared he would beat me to death."

This was the declaration of Mrs. Lillian Broussard, 28 years old, who at 9:30 o'clock this morning shot and killed her husband, Eugene L. Broussard, 28 years old, at their apartment here. Broussard died instantly. A charge of murder was filed against the woman immediately afterward, and she was later given her freedom on bond of $10,000.

The slayer declared that her married life had been a nightmare of brutality and unreasonable jealousy on the part of her husband, whom she married last Christmas Eve. She stated that when she arose this morning her husband continued an argument which started last night, and after a few words he arose and knocked her down. She rushed into another room, obtained a revolver and fired one shot into the body of her husband. Broussard was an engineer employed at a local packing plant. He is survived by his parents who reside in New Iberia, La.

RESIDENTS FLEE FLOOD DANGERS

Two Cloudburts Flood Roswell — Streets Under

By The Associated Press.

EL PASO, Texas, Sept. 16.—According to messages received by the telephone company from Roswell, N. M., a second heavy cloudburst occurred there Saturday night. This afternoon there was three feet of water rushing down Missouri street and several inches of water on the main floor of the Citizens National bank building. Spring river is out of its banks, and houses in the vicinity are under several feet of water. Residents are moving out. At 5 o'clock it was said that the Hondo river was about to go out of its banks and the city has rushed a lare force of men to attempt to dyke it and prevent a flood. The main part of town is under from one to three feet of water.

DAMAGE HEAVY

By The Associated Press.

ROSWELL, N. M., Sept. 16—The second near cloudburst in three days hit Roswell and adjoining territory this afternoon. The rain was accompanied by hail, and early reports indicated that heavy damage has been done to fruit and cotton crops in some sections of the valley. Three inches of water fell in two hours, causing all the streets to be flooded. Water ran into a number of business houses. Heavy rains to the west of Roswell caused the Hondo river to overflow, and a large portion of this water passed through the city. Homes in the lower sections of this city were flooded. Boats by the score were seen on Main street. Not since 1914 has there been so much water in Roswell as there was today.

By The Associated Press.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Sept. 16.—Two young men were killed and two negro brakemen injured when a freight train on the Gulf Coast Lines was wrecked about three miles from Odem early this morning. The men who were killed were said to be John Starr, 17 years old, of Yoakum, Texas, and ——— Sistrunk, about 21 years old, also of Yoakum.

The bodies are being held at Sinton, pending instructions from relatives at Yoakum. A third youth who was on the train with the two, but who left them at Odem, identified the dead youths.

GOVERNMENT OF FIEUME RESIGNS

Independent State Complains on Delay on Part of Italy

By The Associated Press.

ROME, Sept. 16.—The government of the independent state of Fiume, resigned today.

The Italian government today received from Signor Depoli, vice president of the assembly of Fiume, a letter complaining of the delay in settling the Fiume question. He said the situation had caused much discontent. The populace was suffering greatly through unemployment, and he had repeatedly called the attention of the Italian government to the dangerous effect of delay in settling the questions at issue. Signor DePoli added now that the negotiations had failed he felt that it would be useless to remain in office, although when resigned there would be no authority in Fiume and by the end of the month the city would be completely deprived of any means of subsistence.

Signor DePoli since March, 1922, has been in charge of the Fiume government.

"The city is lost," said Signor DePoli in his letter, "unless the Italian government takes its destiny to heart. Fiume turns to Italy with anxious hopes because it is she that garrisons Fieume with her valiant soldiers."

Declaring that Fieume cannot become the ground for hopeless experiments, but has the right to live, Signor DePoli expresses the firm conviction that his withdrawal will serve the purpose of putting the situation right before the whole world. He calls attention to the fact that the day he leaves office, no authority will remain, except the staff of royal troops.

SAYS PROVIDENCE SAVED SHIP

Thrilling Stories Of Quake Told

Special to The Record News.

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 16—A providential hand held the Empress of Austria on an even keel when she was caught in the earthquake and tidal wave which swept Yokohama at noon on September 1, according to Rev. Francis G. Gilbert, Boston missionary, who was on board the vessel in Yokohama harbor when the disturbance came.

His experience, reinted here late last night as the Admiral Oriental liner President Jefferson discharged refugees at this port, just added another view of the horror which every survivor aboard the craft exhausted superlatives in describing.

The President Jefferson was the first craft which carried survivors of the Japanese disaster to reach the American continent. There were 155 in all, representing 13 nationalities and 155 striking, sickening experiences which left many of them maimed or crippled.

Recounting his experience on the Empress of Austria in Yokohama harbor, the Rev. Mr. Gilbert said:

"It threw the great vessel 25 feet out from the wharf, and in doing so the wire mooring ropes jerked out the heavy mooring pins and piles of the wharf, set in cement. Then barges, some of them oil barges which had been torn loose, 16 or 18 of them in all, jammed around the Empress of Austria and took fire, all burning at the same time. At one time the bow of the ship was plunged right through a burning barge. Before the vessel could work her way out of this, some of the oil barges were burned down to the water's level.

WILL CONSIDER A LARGER FORCE MAYOR STATES

No Question But That More Police Needed, Says Collier

FUNDS OF CITY SHORT

Explains Reason For Condition and Tells of Efforts To Economize

"We are going to hold a council meeting right away, and if posible add more men to the police force as the need is keenly felt," Mayor Frank Collier said Sunday in discussing the status of the Wichita Falls police force and the lack of adequate police protection.

"The police department is not being discriminated against in the matter of appropriations for every branch of city's business is running short of men and funds," Mayor Collier said.

Mayor Collier said there was no question but that the city police department is in need of more men and that the street and park departments were also in need of more help.

The mayor explained the city's present financial inadequacy dates back to the boom days when Wichita Falls grew from 8,000 to 42,000 inhabitants. To meet that growth the city had to make large financial deals for city improvement and had to do it at once. The plans were outlined and money expended on the theory that the city would grow to 100,000 population. The fact the city failed to make that growth could not of course be seen at that time and no one is to be blamed that the city got in debt."

The mayor said the case of Wichita Falls is far different to that of other large Texas cities because the latter made their growth, steadily and paid as they grew whereas as this city had to take a chance on what the population might be. The mayor said when the present administration went into office in April, 1922, it faced an overdraft of $230,000. The situation at that time according to the mayor was that private citizens had to go on the city's note to borrow the needed funds.

This resulted in city employees in some instances having to discount their pay checks while others held them until several had accumulated.

"We felt that this situation should be checked if possible and set out on retrenchment policy in all the departments to try to pay as we went. So far no checks have had to be discounted."

The mayor said the city was still financially in arrears on a number of projects which would not be taken care of for sometime to come.

"I believe most of the taxpayers appreciate the fact that we are not trying to spend their money ruthlessly and that we are trying to be as conservative as we possibly can," he concluded.

KING DISSOLVES HIS PARLIAMENT

By The Associated Press.

MADRID, Sept. 16.—King Alfonso has signed a decree dissolving parliament.

No disturbance and little excitement have been caused by the establishment of the new military regime and the publication of decree by the new government.

For the present, General Primo Rivera is the only responsible minister. He has the power to publish decrees, which thereby become laws.

As the country is now governed by a military directorate, Primo Rivera's title appears to be president of the military directorate, instead of president of the council of ministers. The foreign ministry of war will be retained, but it is understood that all other ministers and sub-secretaryships have been suppressed. The various departments will be under control of a higher governmental official to be chosen by seniority; he must, however, submit all matters to the president of the directorate for decision.

The military directorate will begin rigid economies in the national expense, but without prejudicing the functions of the administration. The government, Primo Rivera declares, will propose and develop a policy of security, regarded as indispensable for the welfare of the country. He

Beautiful Wife Of Millionaire Stands By Him

Mrs. Walter S. Ward has joined her husband at the trial table in the Westchester county courthouse, where Walter S. Ward, millionaire baker's son, is on trial for first degree murder, charged with the killing of Clarence Peters. Ward declares he shot Peters in self-defense when he refused to hand over "blackmail" money.

Mrs. Ward is standing by her husband in the trial, watching closely every step taken by the defense and prosecution, and has furnished many facts to aid her husband's attorneys.

The ward case attracted nation-wide attention for weeks after the finding of Peters' body. Efforts to bring Ward to trial then failed. The absence of Mrs. Ward from the state for several weeks was taken as an indication that she did not care to appear at the trial.

ANSWER TO JAP APPEAL PROMPT

Coolidge Thanks People Of U. S. For Generous Response to Call

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—President Coolidge in a message addressed to the people of the United States today expressed his deep gratification at their generous response to the appeals from the sufferers in earthquake stricken Japan.

"The prompt and generous response of the American people to the urgent needs of a friendly nation in time of great distress has been most gratifying," the message said. "When the news of the tragedy in Japan first reached us the American Red Cross pursuant to a proclamation asked the country for five million dollars to meet this great emergency. The answer to this appeal was prompt and generous; in less than two weeks a sum far in excess of the original goal was given.

"At the close of this successful campaign, I wish to extend to the people of the United States my deep appreciation for this manifestation of their generosity and their willingness at all times to answer the call of suffering humanity."

"Although the American people originally were asked for only $5,000,000, returns to Red Cross headquarters tonight totalled $8,000,300 in cash and pledges and a great jump in the fund is expected from collections taken in churches throughout the country today."

Of the fund received up to yesterday, it was stated almost $4,000,000 had been expended for relief supplies now loading on ships or enroute to Japan, including food, medical and hospital supplies, clothing, blankets and building materials.

The southwestern division has contributed $450,000 to date.

By The Associated Press.

SEATTLE, Sept. 16.—America opened her doors in quiet pity to the first of the victims of the Japanese earthquake when 122 survivors, carrying all their worldly possession in little bundles done up in handkerchiefs, towels and bits of paper, disembarked from the mercy ship President Jefferson here today.

To some of them a black interlude was ended—they are at home again and the strain of the last half-month could now be forgotten and dismissed.

To others destitute, their homes demolished and perhaps a wife or husband or child dead or missing, it was another story. But to all it was relief.

The Jefferson, 10 days out from Yokohama and the first vessel with earthquake victims to reach an American shore, arrived at 4 o'clock this morning but it was four hours later before the tired passengers began to disembark. Ambulances hurried the six seriously injured to hospitals.

Few had been able to save any of their personal belongings as they hurried from the stricken Japanese cities and many wore borrowed garments when they left the Jefferson today. Members of the vessel's crew generously loaned clothing to those who had escaped in only scanty attire and in addition gave up their berths and slept where they could that their tired guests, some of whom had been unable to find accommodations, might rest in comfort. Some of the passengers who went to sleep last night with scarcely enough money to purchase cigarettes awakened this morning to find that they had been well

ARMY AVIATORS REPORTED LOST

Lieutenant and Three Men Missing in Big Martin Bomber

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Lieutenant Cole and three mechanics of Langley field, Va., who left Bolling field here, at 10:35 a. m. yesterday for St. Louis, by way of Moundsville, W. Va., were reported missing tonight after efforts had been made by officers throughout the day to get word of them.

Lieutenant Cole was piloting a Martin bomber entered in the Pulitzer race at St. Louis. A report through the naval air service that a ship at sea had sighted such a machine was being traced, but officers said it was unlikely the pilot could lose his course so completely as to land in the ocean. It was pointed out that a forced landing in sparsely settled country between Washington and Moundsville might have left the missing aviators without means of communicating their plight.

7 DIE IN FIRE; SCORE INJURED

Blaze Sweeps Tenement in Crowded Part of Jersey City

By The Associated Press.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Sept. 16.—Seven persons were killed and a score or more injured early today when fire swept through a tenement in a thickly populated district. The blaze started in a hallway and darted quickly to the upper floors, cutting off the escape of many of the 16 families in the building. Firemen made many thrilling rescues.

Those killed were:

Fireman Bernard Feehan, 35 years old, a member of truck No. 6.

Mrs. Pearl Thomas, 26, and son, Edward 8.

Edward Breen, 34 years old.

Sophia Kolasienski, 14.

Regina Kolasienski, 10.

Helen Kolasienski, 7.

All those killed were either suffocated by smoke or burned to death, except the fireman, who died following a fall from a fire escape in reaching occupants of the house.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Five thousand persons are reported to have perished in the floods which followed upon the typhoon at Tottari, northwest of Kobe, Japan, Saturday, according to an Osaka dispatch to the Central News.

The rivers Fukure, Chiyo and Takimi burst their banks, destroying many villages. The terrific downpour of rain has been general.

Tokio and Yokohama have suffered greatly from the deluge, and railways are crippled by the floods.

The imperial princes have decided to return to Tokio.

GAMBLERS LOSE; BANDITS WIN

Get $15,000 From Road House Patrons

By The Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 16.—Eight masked bandits armed with shot guns and revolvers, staged a spectacular hold-up at the Wayside Inn, a roadhouse, three miles from here, at 4 a. m., Sunday morning, and after robbing approximately 175 patrons and a gambling game in the rear of the place, escaped with cash and jewelry amounting to $15,000.

Women screamed as four of the bandits entered the front door, firing a volley of shots. Patrons rushed for the rear entrance but were met by the four other men, armed with shot guns. One of the men leaped on the counter and levelled his gun at the crowd while the others set about to conduct a thorough search of the patrons. The first "haul" was $8,000, taken from the gambling game. Ordering the patrons to "line up in single file in the rear" the bandits searched each patron who was then ordered to pass into the main dance hall where others of the gang stood guard over them.

"Billy" Evans, conducting the gambling game, was felled to the floor by one of the gang when he was "too slow" in moving away from the pile of silver dollars on the table. The proprietor was knocked down when he grumbled as one of the masked men robbed the cash register.

When the search was completed the back door was boarded up and patrons ordered to stand still and "keep your mouth shut." Locking the front door from the outside, the bandits fled.

Police from all surrounding towns and cities were notified and every car on the highways was stopped. No trace of the gang could be found today.

OKLAHOMA CITY IS TAKEN OVER BY STATE GUARD

Military Regulations Are Issued to Citizens—Firearms Banned

MACHINE GUNS SET

No Statements Are Issued By Either Klan or Governor Walton

By The Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept 16.—State wide martial law took a definite form tonight when Oklahoma City, leading the way for the remainder of the state, passed under the virtually complete control of the military.

General orders embodying the essential regulations under which the state capitol will live during the suspension of civil authority, were issued by Lieutenant Colonel W. S. Key, in command of local troops.

Streets to be Cleared.

Streets and highways of Oklahoma county in which Oklahoma City is located, must be cleared between the hours of midnight and 5 a. m., according to the orders. Persons whose employment makes it necessary for them to be abroad during the interval between these hours must obtain passes. Carrying of fire arms is forbidden unless by virtue of permission by the commanding officer. Sale of fire arms and ammunition is also prohibited.

Campbell Russell Knocked Down

By The Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 16. The first disorder growing out of the imposition of martial law here occurred tonight when Campbell Russell, former chairman of the state corporation commission, and a bitter political opponent of Governor J. C. Walton, was knocked down in front of a downtown hotel by Leo Clark, son of W. J. Clark, former Oklahoma chief of police under the governor's administration as mayor of the city.

Russell, who circulated a petition which resulted in the calling of a special grand jury to investigate alleged misuse of state funds by the governor, was distributing pamphlets attacking the executive's decree of state-wide martial law, when he became engaged in a controversy with Clark.

Both men were taken to the police station by regular police and released. Russell preferred charges of assault against Clark. Several score persons witnessed the disorder.

The special grand jury which Russell succeeded in having called tomorrow was forbidden tonight by military authorities.

Public assemblages called "for the purpose of creating opposition to the enforcement of martial law" are banned as is also publication of articles having a tendency "to incite to riot or violence or obstruction of the military."

Orders governing the conduct of business, operation of public utilities and agencies that "contribute to the welfare of the people" will be issued from time to time as the situation warrants, according to Lieutenant Colonel Key.

Grand Jury Stopped.

Simultaneous with the issuance of the general orders it was announced at military headquarters that a special district court grand jury scheduled to meet tomorrow to investigate alleged misuse of state funds by Gov-

American Baseball Pays Tribute To Adrian C. Anson

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—American baseball as an organization paid its tribute today to "a man who played the game."

One of the most notable gatherings of baseball men in history, assembled this morning in Oakwood cemetery at the grave of the late Captain Adrain C. ("Pop") Anson, leader of the "herole legion" of baseball, the Chicago White Stockings of the '80's and '90's, and, after his deeds had been recited and his services to the great American sport eulogized, unveiled a plain marble shaft, erected by the National league in his honor.

Baseball stars, owners, executives and fans from every walk of life were present for the simple services for the former leader of the Chicago National League club, and leaders in the baseball world declared "Pop" Anson had exerted a greater influence in making baseball the greatest American sport than any other man.

Former Judge K. M. Landis, national commissioner of organized baseball and President John A. Heydler, of the National League were among those who spoke.

The only inscription on the base of this shaft besides the name of the veteran player and the date of his birth and death, are the words, "He played the game."

Anson died last April.

Jupe Pluvius Halts Last Two Games of Year

SPUDDERS END SEASON WITH AVERAGE OF 523 IN FOURTH PLACE; CATS TAKE PENNANT

Bad Luck Jinx With Bergerites Most of Season Credited With Lowering Spuds in Standings; Team Breaks Up For Winter.

By DON WELDON

Old Jupiter Pluvius had things all his own way yesterday, and the Spudders were deprived of their last two games of the season when rain made the playing of the double bill with Galveston impossible. A slow drizzle that kept up all day completely flooded the playing diamond, and soon after noon Umpire Fanning called off the games.

The season ended with the locals in fourth place, with a season average of .523. The possibility of finishing third, ahead of the Dallas Steers, went glimmering with the appearance of clouds that stopped the last day's play, and the Bergerites were forced to be content with the fourth place, the Steers holding on to a three run margin.

The Fort Worth Cats, with a season average of .635 were easily winners of the pennant, and the Bears, with an average of .544 had a good lead for second position.

Playing good ball in spite of many handicaps, the Spudders showed a fine display of sporting courage, keeping up the fight to the last in spite of the fact that several of the best men on the club were at various times forced from the lineup with injuries. The local camp had more than its quota of hard luck this season, and while there is little use in crying over spilled milk, still there is an explanation in order.

The Spudders are better than a fourth place team. The local crew is better than a .523 per cent crew. But they played in hard luck, were handicapped by many changes in the lineup due to several serious accidents, and on the whole did as well as could be expected in view of the hand of fate that seemed to swing down on them in the most opportune moments.

And more than that, the Spudders aren't through. There is another season not so far off, and already a bunch of the loyal fans are looking around and figuring out the lineup for next year. The grand stand managers have it all doped out—who will play and how it will end. Of course they all have it that the Spudders are coming back next year to hand the Cats a bit of bitter medicine. There is just one thing that they haven't been able to guess. Who is going to manage the team?

Skippers Change.

The Spudders underwent a change of skippers in the middle of the season. Any change, however good, is certain to upset a club, and while the change cannot be given responsibility for the loss of the pennant, still it probably had its effect on the team. Whether the effect was good or bad is impossible to tell.

At any rate the season is over, and the Spudders will be putting their bats and gloves away in moth balls for the winter, to wait for another season to roll around. Some will play in post season exhibition games, while several are billed to go with Calvo's All Star team to tour Cuba in the winter league there. Still others will hie themselves to their businesses in various parts of the south, to earn their three a day till next spring.

Some few of the Spudder crew will not return. Rumors are out that one or two will retire, to rest on laurels already theirs. But the call of the diamond is strong, and it is doubtful if many will be missing from the playing field, somewhere if not here, when the training season opens again.

But the season is over, the Cats won, and the Spudders are in fourth place. The club house is still, the lockers are empty, and the gang is gone. Gloves have been oiled and put away, bats are up in the attic for the winter. We'll have to be content with football, basketball and some mediocre prize fights for a few months, till the gang gathers again.

Even the press coop will be empty for a while and somebody will be packing up a battered old typewriter and rambling off to a new parking place. Yep, the season's gone alright!

COTTON REACTED FROM NEW PEAK

First of New Saw Record Prices for This Season

By The Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 16.—New high marks for the season were made on the opening session of last week of the cotton market, but after that something of a reactionary feeling developed and mild recessions occurred every now and then during the remainder of the week, so that the close was two points higher to 32 points lower than the close of the preceding week. At the highest, the trading positions were 42 to 68 points over the close of the preceding week; at the lowest they were 36 to 64 points under. The range of prices carried the active months over 96 to 107 points. October traded up to 27.78 and down to 26.74, while the close was at 27.12. In the spot department prices gained 76 points on middling, in the net result, that grade closing at 17.50, against 21c on the close of this week last year.

The rise on the opening session appeared to be the culmination of the bull movement of the recent past, and was made mainly on private crop estimates, ranging from slightly under 10,000,000 bales up to 10,240,000, the latter being regarded as altogether too low for the safety of the world supply of raw textile material. The advance was checked partly by the efforts of traders on the long side to get their profits, and partly by the dry weather over the belt, which succeeded what was generally considered to be a disastrous spell of wet weather. Under the dry weather, it was conceded that crop prospects were improving again.

At the end of the week wet weather again appeared in the northwestern section of the belt and, according to the view held by many traders, was likely to spread to highly important sections of the belt where dry weather is imperatively needed for maturing the crop and to allow picking to go ahead.

Rains Beneficial

Special to The Record News.

LOCKNEY, Texas, Sept. 16.—S. J. Cole, district manager for the West Texas chamber of commerce, with headquarters at Amarillo, has been advised by the Lockney chamber of commerce that recent rains on the south and east plains are not only greatly benefiting late cotton, but are putting the country in splendid shape for wheat planting. While indications are that there shall be restricted wheat sowing because of the low price of the commodity, the other small grain crops will be increased in sowing.

Denied Permit.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 16.—Permit to dispense "prescription" liquor was denied a Texarkana druggist by Comptroller Lon A. Smith, when it was found that the druggist, although maintaining his business in Texas, was a resident and citizen of Arkansas. His home, only a few blocks from the drug store, is across the state line. The Texas comptroller has no supervision over persons in other states, it was held.

Santa Fe Addition.

LAWN, Texas, Sept. 16.—The Santa Fe railway is at work building an addition to their local depot. Request for these additional depot facilities were made some time ago by local business men through the West Texas chamber of commerce.

ANSWER TO JAP

provided for. Within a few hours after the Jefferson's arrival telegraph companies had delivered money transfers aggregating in the neighborhood of $60,000. Messages to the refugees poured in by scores.

Still Dazed.

Fifteen days after the greatest disaster in recent history the men and women who lived it and suffered it and watched the great cities of Japan razed by earthquake, typhoon and fire were unable to give any comprehensive picture of the destruction. It was too sudden, too violent, too terrible. Their picture were the personal ones—a husband dying in the wreckage of a home, a child lost some where in the blazing mass of Yokohama, the crumpling of great buildings into heaps of twisted material. It was havoc, but the survivors of it had no cross sections. They knew that thousands had died, but not how many thousands, that there was heroism, and self-sacrifice and murder and robbery, but they knew nothing of the whole, only the part.

Hot Before Quake.

The destruction of the Japanese cities, the survivors related, was preceded by electrical disturbances that lighed the city brilliantly at night, hot, humid days and an atmosphere almost stifling. On the morning of September 1, the sun rose hot and brilliant.

First Tremor at Noon.

The first tremor came an instant before the booming of the canon that marked noon. It was a perpendicular shock, violent and destructive. Then came a horizontal quake and the landscape was changed in an instant to one of desolation.

Miss Ann Jeffrey, principal of the foreign school at Tokio, described the destruction of her school.

School Destroyed.

"It was quiet except for a truck that rumbled over the pavement past our door. Then came two shocks in quick succession, just as the noon gun sounded. Houses tumbled down like cards. Our school was destroyed and I barely escaped with my life. One of our teachers was crushed to death. Luckily none of our 70 pupils were there.

Fires Start.

"Almost instantly the fires started. Men and women rushed about aimlessly. I saw many killed by falling walls. Others were burned to death. It was ghastly."

Miss Jeffery escaped to a park and was later rescued by the crew of a British vessel in the harbor.

Tried to Amputate.

Mrs. Bertha Vest of New York City, hurrying to safety, saw one of the employes of the Y. M. C. A. at Yokohama imprisoned tightly in the wreckage of the ruined building. His legs had been crushed, she said, and blood poisoning had set in. He begged piteously for release and finally his friends, frantically trying to aid him, attempted to amputate his leg with a pocket knife. He died a few moments later from loss of blood.

REDUCE THE COST OF ELECTRICITY

By The Associated Press.

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 16.—Steam boilers that evaporate 300,000 pounds of water an hour, increasing steam pressure and temperatures and economy in fuel consumption, are steadily reducing the cost of steam generated electricity, according to information compiled by the Texas public service information bureau. These manufacturing economies practically offset increased costs of materials and labor of recent years, it is stated.

The evaporation capacity of boilers for electrical central stations has increased in recent years from 20,000 pounds of water an hour to 300,000 pounds, it is said.

The information bureau has been collecting data regarding such manufacturing economies in Texas plants

YANKEES TAKE TWO FAST GAMES

Home Run Drives Win Both Games From Indians

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Home run drives enabled the New York Yankees to defeat the Cleveland Indians in both sections of a double header today, 4 to 2 and 3 to 2.

In the first game, Ruth tied the score in the sixth inning with his 37th homer of the season, and again tying Cy Williams of the Philadelphia Nationals, for the season's home run record. In the seventh inning, New York won the game when Schang and Scott hit home runs on successive pitched balls.

With the score tied in the sixth inning of the second game, Meusel won for New York with a drive for the circuit. Scores.

FIRPO WILL MEET WILLS NEXT YEAR

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Luis Angel Firpo announced today that he would not be ready to meet Harry Wills, negro heavyweight, for a year, but that he would be willing then. Tex Rickard, who put on the recent fight at the Polo Grounds in which Firpo was defeated by Champion Jack Dempsey, announced some time ago that he had signed the Argentine to meet Wills. The negro, however, never attached his name to a similar document.

OKLAHOMA CITY

vernor Walton would not be convened.

When informed of the intention of the military to prevent the grand jury's meeting, District Judge George W. Clark asserted that the jury would be convened and that the military authorities could then order its adjournment.

"The grand jurors will meet," Judge Clark declared. "The governor may deliver his order. Then I shall see what can be done about it."

Machine Gun Up.

Across the street from the court house a machine gun, mounted on the roof of a restuarant, is trained on the windows of the grand jury room.

Courts will function as under civil rule, according to Major General F. O'Brien, executive officer on Lieutenant Key's staff, with the exception that cases involving specific violation of the general military orders will be prosecuted before a court martial.

Law enforcement in Oklahoma county was assumed by the military when the Oklahoma City police department passed under the full control of Captain Nelson J. Moore, and a military supervision over the sheriff's office was established.

Machine guns planted about the city hall, the police station, the court house and the city and county jails, added reality to the occupation.

Outside of Oklahoma county and Tulsa county, the latter having been for more than a month under military rule, there was no semblance of military activity. From all parts of the state the reports were the same—no troops had been mobilized and there was nothing to indicate that military rules had been invoked.

No Statements Made.

Meanwhile, as preliminary plans for the state-wide military occupation moved apace, silence was maintained by Governor Walton and leaders of the ku klux klan, the opposing figures in the unique situation.

All efforts to reach the governor at his residence met with failure—the governor was "not at home and had not indicated his whereabouts."

Likewise, the state headquarters of the klan in a downtown business building, were deserted and klan officials were not at their residences.

In his proclamation of martial law, issued last night, the governor said plainly that his move was directed at the klan as an organization and that he would bend every effort to drive it from the state.

DEMPSEY WILL NOT FIGHT THIS YEAR

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, declared today that the champion would not fight again this year. An offer for Dempsey to fight Harry Wills, negro contender for the heavyweight championship, at Tia Juana, Mexico, in February, had been received Kearns said.

He refused, however, to comment on this offer.

GASSERS WIN FASTEST GAME

Time Record of Fifty Three Minutes Set

By The Associated Press

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 16.—A Texas league time record was established today when Shreveport and San Antonio played nine innings in 53 minutes. The score was 5 to 0 in favor of the Gassers. Bob Couchman used only a fast ball and forced the locals to hit. Most of the drives were pop-ups. Ferguson, a recruit, took things easy with the Bears and they went out on high-skiers. Before the game a field day program was carried out between players on the two teams. Score:

THINK DENVER ROBBERS FOUND

Two Arrested in Oakland With Money Bags of Denver Mint

By The Associated Press.

OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 16.—Two men arrested here in conection with alleged automobile thefts, when searched by police today, were found to have in their possession empty money bags bearing the stamp of the Denver mint and an Oakland bank robbed recently. They are being held in the belief that they may be implicated in the robberies of the Denver federal reserve bank and the Oakland bank.

PROVIDENCE

There, with burning oil 16 to 18 inches deep, the flames shot fully 300 feet up in the air. That oil on the water burned for six or seven hours."

The Rev. Mr. Gilbert asserted that there had been no exaggeration in the reports of damage reaching this continent.

Many Roasted to Death

He said that thousands of persons were roasted to death in Yokohama. Persons were caught under their falling houses and could not get free before the flames devoured them.

F. P. Dally of New York and Yokohama, chief Oriental buyer for 20 years for A. A. Vantyne & Co., New York, arrived on the President Jefferson with his wife, young son and three daughters. He showed the burns on the backs of the children's necks where they had been scorched while the family stood for five hours in a canal and doused water over themselves while the flames consumed everything around them.

"I was busy in our offices at 268 Yamashita Cho, Yokohama, rushing our payment before the bank closed at noon, when the quake came," Mr. Dally said. "We had no time to get the books away. A heavy steel American safe in the office was tossed around like a toy by the vibrations.

Took Refuge in Canal

"My wife and family were upstairs. Our building did not collapse, but as I rushed up the stairs it was swaying like a swing. I got them all down when another quake came. We all hid under the desks and then rushed out into the back yard. Fire was already raging on every side. We could not get out anywhere, so we all jumped into a dirty canal to escape the flying cinders and the scorching heat. Around the canal were three coal yards which all took fire and burned like mighty furnaces.

"On one side was a paint factory and a motor repair shop, and a waste silk dump. The oils and materials in these all started to burn.

"For five hours we kept ducking into the water to save ourselves. Finally some of the fire died down a bit, which gave us a chance to rush out. We made for the beach at Homoku, where we had a summer place.

"Then the agents of the President Jefferson sent a launch out and took 16 of us who had gathered off to this vessel."

CATS TAKE DOUBLE WIN FROM EXPORTERS

By The Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Sept. 16.—Fort Worth wound up the 1923 playing schedule of the Texas league by defeating Beaumont in a double-header, taking both games by scores of 2 to 0. Kraft knocked his 32nd home run of the season off Gray in the fourth inning of the second game, tieing his mark of 1922. Goodbred pitched another good game and made a two-base hit in the short affair, which was called at the end of the Beaumont half of the fifth inning. Scores:

HOW TO BUILD, FINANCE BETTER HOMES HAPPINESS AND FURNISH A HOME

Some Valuable Suggestions On Equipment

Lighting

Electricity if possible. Bulbs in all rooms should be frosted and shaded. Hall—Electricity or lamp hung from center in form of lantern or cast-iron bracket to hold at least one bulb or one lamp. If side lights are desired, fixtures of brass, cast iron, or enameled iron are effective.

Living Room—If possible, at least one baseboard plug, one center ceiling light or side brackets if desired. If room is large a center floor plug is desirable. Plugs permit lamps to be used without unnecessary cords showing. If wire must pass through rug, do not cut rug but push threads apart.

Dining Room—If a center light in shape of dome is used, hang low enough to avoid shinging in eyes of those dining. A soft effect is gained by side brackets representing sconces. Wired metal or glass candlesticks on mantel and sideboard, give pleasing effect. Floor plug near dining table for electrical table appliances.

Bedrooms—Fixtures should be placed in long wall space convenient to bureau or dressing table. Have plug near bed for lamp for reading in bed. If space permits, night light on table in upper hall is useful. All plugs and sockets should be of standard shape and size.

Cleaning

House should be easy to clean with hard, smooth floors, with the cracks well filled, and rugs rather than carpets. Rounded edges and corners of baseboards desirable, also simple baseboards. One flight of stairs is sufficient if located out of sight of living room. This saves labor of cleaning two flights. Two cleaning closets, one on ground floor and one on second floor, are labor saves. Have space for vacuum cleaner and for hanging all brushes, brooms and dusters, and a shelf above or at side for the cleaning compounds. Zinc or other fireproof lining to cupboard and ventilator desirable.

Storage space—Attic with rows of shelves for storing boxes and small objects is desirable. Wooden chests, trunks, and a cedar-lined chest or cupboard useful. Built-in closets or rows of inexpensive chests or drawers with space to pass between are good.

Storage Closets

Every bedroom should have clothes closets with hooks and a rod for hangers, a shelf for shoes. A tall closet may have near ceiling an additional rod for hangers for less-often used clothes, and long rod lifter to reach hangers. A cupboard for bed linen should be in upstairs hall or in a centrally located room. On ground floor coat closet is desirable; also a tool cupboard or chest, large china cupboard, low enough for all china to be within reach. Cold closet with open wire screen cabinets in basement.

Pantry

If kitchen is well ventilated and stove has hood, pass pantry not necessary. It makes extra steps. If pass pantry is in house, only its narrowest dimension should divide kitchen from dining room. Partitions under sink for trays to stand; a narrow space for table leaves; a china cupboard with reachable shelves, and a sink and drainboards like those described for kitchen are desirable. Drawer on small shelf, the ornamental lion in between, the muffin stand, and also the brass fire screen and andirons. All these things add an interest which can be easily duplicated in every home.

A Husband's Soliloqua

What a satisfaction it is to return to our homes at night after the day's work and be greeted by the wife free from care and worry, ready to help erase from our minds some of the business worries that naturally come to every man.

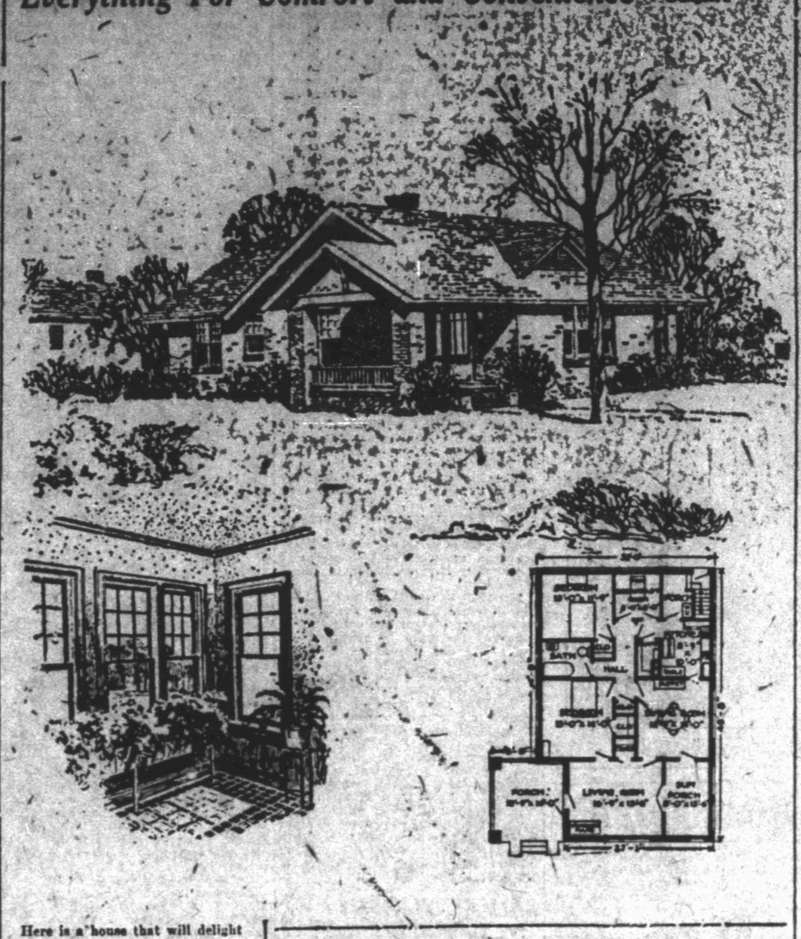

When this is not the case, when the wife's face is flushed with heat from a hot fire, when her brow is furrowed with worry over the outcome of an evening meal which she is endeavoring to jungle over the three burners of a stove,—I wonder sometimes if it isn't often the husband's fault.

Perhaps we have become so absorbed in the pursuit of the almighty dollar that we have forgotten to heed her suggestion about the labor-saving device which will mean the preservation of her youth and your happiness.

The new vacuum sweeper may bring back her girlhood laugh. That fireless cooker or range may mark the return of those musical evenings which you both enjoyed before she was too busy or tired to share them.

So consider brother benedicts the possibilities of the new household inventions as a preserver of domestic felicity.

Everything For Comfort and Convenience—In a 6-Room Bungalow

Here is a house that will delight home-builders who are looking for a bungalow with all the features of a two-story house. The face brick assures a permanent, beautiful, fire-safe exterior to an exceptionally compact, convenient and comfortable interior.

Connecting with the living and dining rooms, the enclosed sun porch in this bungalow will radiate its cheerfulness to both of them. It links them together, making a splendid arrangement for afternoon parties or other entertainments. It would be a delightful spot for evening meals on hot summer days, while through the winter months it could be made a veritable flower garden.

At the other side of the living room is the outdoor summer porch over which extends the roof, thus connecting it with the house in a very harmonious manner. In fact, the entire roof treatment is what gives this bungalow its charm.

It is one of those designs that need no added embellishment. Its very simplicity is strikingly effective. By turning the house quarter round, an excellent outlook in the garden from the living room is obtained, in which case a wider lot would be necessary.

The exterior treatment here is along modern lines. The ornamental frieze under the cornice could be treated in many different ways, by using different colors and textures of face brick.

The breakfast room in this plan is a most attractive and convenient spot. It is located on the rear of the house, overlooking the garden, and is convenient to the kitchen and bedrooms. Note the convenience of having two separate entrances, one from the hall and the other from the kitchen.

The light and airy kitchen has cupboards at both sides of the sink, in addition to a large storage pantry—an ideal arrangement. The built-in kitchen table, with an opening above it to connect with the sideboard in the dining room, is a convenience many will appreciate because it helps lessen housework.

The bath and bedrooms, each with a closet, are as well isolated as if they were in a separate story. There is a convenient cloak closet off the living room, and linen closet in the hall.

The basement provides accommodations for laundry, heater, fuel, vegetable cellar and storage.

A study of the plan will furthermore suggest possible changes which might better meet individual fancies. The sun room could, for instance, be thrown into the living room; or the breakfast room and corner bedroom could be combined into one bedroom, either one large bedroom or a bedroom with a sleeping porch on the corner. Such changes could readily be made without effecting the plans as a whole.

Old-Time Front Parlor Is Relic

It Was Opened Only For Funerals, Weddings and the Like

The statement that Americans as a rule throw all their belongings indiscriminately into the rooms of a house and then call the place "home" has been made. Do Americans as a people do this? The contention has been made by observers of certain houses, and it must be confessed that the criticism is sometime deserved.

The old-time front parlor, closed up tight except on such rare occasions as weddings, funerals and the arrival of company is almost a thing of the past. It was finished with a haircloth sofa or sometimes with the fearsome "three-piece set." A center table occupied an invariable place in the middle and in the corner was the "whatnot," with its collection of shells, minerals and family relics. It was the day of the family photograph album, when one infallible way of entertaining visitors was to show the photographs and relate family histories.

In spite of much education away from the old-time front parlor, the day of perfection in American homes has not fully dawned, notwithstanding the beauties and conveniences of the bungalow age, with its conveniences, built-in furniture and well finished woodwork. The eye of the critic of decorations would pause long before passing a favorable verdict on the furnishings of many of them.

It may be said with absolute truth that money does not play the sole part in creating beauty in the home. It requires a more subtle sense. Many people have confused ideas of "better homes." Though they may flourish check books, the nouveau rich have no monopoly on homes of real beauty. The decorator may do all he can, but he does not know the family, and his efforts often go for naught. The home must have the "homey" atmosphere or all efforts will be unavailing.

A single false note in the arrangement of the home may set the scheme awry. In putting up wall paper, the wrong color scheme may be used. The draperies may not strike the chord of harmony with their surroundings. The home-builders should give careful thought to this, for it is an error into which they are likely to fall. Close study of this subject is necessary.

A student of American decoration says it is not sufficient to tell the people of this country that things are not in good taste; they must know why. The idea of acquiring knowledge and then putting it to use is not so much of a bore to all people as may be imagined. In fact there is a lot of fun, as well as of instruction in it. Look around. If you don't like the appearance of your dining room, try to find out what is the matter with it. Study the dining rooms in other houses, and then make a comparison with that in your own home. Sooner or later, by going at the problem in the right light, you will arrive at an understanding of your problem and find a way to solve it.

Makes Cloth Top For Table

Take some firm cotton material without any nap, something like linen or ramie linen, either is good. Cut it just the size of your kitchen table top plus two and one-half inches, turn under one-half inch of the material and stretch it tightly over the table top.

With brass-headed carpet tacks, tack it under the edge of the table, all around, placing the tacks about one and one-half inches apart. After tacking is finished, with a good paint brush give the material two coats of flat white paint, then a coat of whiteenamel, waiting for each coat to dry before adding the next. When perfectly dry you have a kitchen table that is easily cleaned and is attractive.

It means money saved. Brick houses endure. Brick houses resist fire, wear, cold in winter and heat in summer.

Brick houses are most attractive. Buy your bricks here—they are of a quality which is being vouched for by every builder who uses them.

HENRY FORD'S MODEL VILLAGE

Henry Ford has purchased Pequaming, a village on a narrow pensinula in Michigan. It has a population of 600 and back yard covering 400,000 acres for the men to work and play in.

According to Michigan correspondents it is a village where the monthly rent for any one of the 105 cozy cottages is just $1.00 per month, where electric lights and water are furnished at cost, where coal strikes and wood famines are unknown and here the doctor's bill is never in excess of $1.50 per month.

Pequaming is a lumber town. It was built in 1877. There are 105 cottages and two churches—one Catholic and one protestant—and amusement hall which is used for community social gathering and motion pictures; a school, a club house, a telephone system, a public playground and park and all other accessories of civilization

Founders of this town held it for 41 years and then Henry Ford came along and is said to have mistaken it for a summer resort instead of a saw mill village. He wanted it and it is his. Along with the town the billionaire flivver maker purchased the only industry—a saw mill, vast tracts of land, 400,000,000 feet of standing timber, 30,000,000 feet of lumber on the docts, 3,000,000 feet of logs, several tug boats and scows and a railroad.

Henry Ford has $26,000,000 in bank subject to check. He has never invested a dollar in tax exempt bonds or securities. Every time he makes a new purchase he places additional names on his collosal payroll with all the benefits that go to a wage worker who belongs to the Henry Ford family.

He hasn't let go of Muscle Shoals.He is going to make large investments in Mexico. He says the flivver and the tractor will revolutionize individual and agricultural life in that country.

Wonderful man, this billionaire flivver maker.If he had another fifty years to live without a break in his record of achievements he would be the industrial king of the world.

And 24 years ago this coming Thanksgiving day he did't have the price of a fat hen to make a dinner for the Ford family.

Midas may have been a wonder in ancient days, but he was a piker when placed along side of the world's most successful manufacturer.

REAL THANKSGIVING

Americans are not going to starve this year. There is a wheat crop of 789,000,000 bushels, or seven and one-half bushels for every man, woman and child in America, a corn crop of 3,067,000,000 bushels and a total of 5,441,-000,000 bushels of the five leading grains. This was forecasted by the government September report. Thanksgiving day this November should begin before dawn and not wind up before midnight.

FIGURES THAT STAGGER

Japan suffered a property loss of $2,000,000,000 while the national crime bill of America is said to be more than $3,000,000,000 a year by the National Surety company.

The survey shows the greatest single item is stock frauds, the annual loss from which is estimated at one billion a year.Fradulent bankruptcies inflict annual losses of $400,000,000 on the investing and speculating public. According to these figures every man, woman and child in the United States is robbed or cheated out of about $30 a year, or putting it another way, enough crime is committed in the United States to earn an income of $30 a head to every American.

Blue sky laws may help some but there are millions of suckers born every year and when a sucker is promised $5 or $10 dollars for $1 invested, he appears to be willing to bite and then whines when he is swindled. After the oil craze was over and a billion dollars had been taken out of the stockings or the pockets of the family, of easy things, Uncle Sam let loose his agents of justice and now they are filling the federal penitentiaries with the gilded crooks of the period.

Of course new crooks are born every year. They come with the crop of new suckers. But think of a national crime bill of three billions a year or a billion dollars more than the losses inflicted upon Japan by the greatest earthquake disaster in the history of mankind.

GET TOGETHER

Senator Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota, running mate of Mangus Johnson, is on the road again demanding legislation which will strip the federal reserve board of its power and other legislation curbing the injunction power of the courts.

Henrik has a new one. He says that the federal reserve board made it possible for Wall street to loan $10,-000,000 to war ridden nations in the expectation that Europe would come back quickly after the war. Europe did not come back quickly and the American people were robbed of billions of dollars.

Magnus said that the slump in the price of wheat from $1.25 to 90 cents per bushel robbed the American people of billions of dollars, that the federal reserve act was all right but that every banker connected with it should be stripped of official power and kicked into obscurity.

These financial senators from Minnesota should compare notes, exchange views and then adopt a joint program of calamitous recital.

This is the 1924 building construction program forecasted by the New York builders exchange: "The first $100,000,000 year for the United States." Makes magnificent reading, if it comes prosperity should be printed in capital letters.

According to trade papers manufacturers of equipment and supplies for the oil industry are unusually busy meeting present demands and the oil trade supply industry expects record breaking activity during the autumn months. Pessimism appears to have run its race.

To Avoid Becoming Public Charges

Some Folks Think We Should Install a Free Public Nursery

So Goes It

By B. H.

Drifting back to the prize ring we note that one Jack Dempsey is supposed to have gotten $480,000 out of the fight in which he and Mr. Firpo tried to make mince meat of each other. We never have been very strong for Dempsey personally, taking the view that all of his fighting has been done in the ring and none for his country, but—

Of one thing we are definitely certain: That if we, while engaged in a fistic encounter, floored our adversary five times, and he riz up after the fifth flooring and knocked us into the audience, we would feel that we were entitled to seven million dollars in cash money.

The successful man is the one who, after company has spent the evening in his home, is not reminded of something he said that he shouldn't have said, or of something he did that he should not have done.

It is suggested that what the league of nations really needs is a new third baseman—someone who can handle the hot ones.

WHAT TODAY MEANS

BY MARY BLAKE.

VIRGO

Two adverse aspects operate in the early morning today, and two of unimportant strength culminate later. Their influence can easily be transcended by being deliberate, practical and moderate in all things. Beware of gossiping and false friends this day.

A child born today will be careless and irresponsive, unless educated according to its interests.

You are straightforward and direct, if today is your birthday, and often a trifle tactless in your dealings with persons not in sympathy with your immediate interests.

Yours is the personality and the intellect of the specialist. You will never achieve half the success in general business that you would in specializing in any of your numerous proclivities.

In general, your tastes as well as your faculties point toward a scientific career of one type or another. You have both the necessary curiosity and the patience to enable you to spend long hours in study and research. You have also the practical inventiveness of the clear thinker, and when you have made a discovery you instantly visualize its possibilities of application.

You have that intense interest in your subject which marks the born educator, and with your personal force and magnetism you could be a lecturer of amazing power.

In disposition, you generally are kind and cheerful, if a little blunt in your witticisms at the expense of others. There is no real malice in you, however. What you say, you say for the sake of the thought rather than for the effects.

You are also slightly melancholy at intervals, because your active mind exhausts your body, and you do not take sufficient care of your health. Meals you regard as quite incidental to your interest, and you have no hesitation in omitting them when something more engrossing seizes your mind. Continued irregularity in this respect may make you dyspeptic.

In your personal life, you have all the faults of the scientific mind. You do not understand the opposite sex. You try to fit them into your laws and classes to no avail. They remain enigmatical. There is not much of a love life in store for you, unless you choose a person temperatentally suited to your type.

Successful people born on your birthday are:

TIMELY VIEWS on WORLD TOPICS

"Farming Unrest in United States: Food Riots in Germany."

"The recent food riots in Germany have come as surprises to many Americans who have been under the impression that Germany is in a very prosperous condition. The fact is that Germany has for two years been short both of foodstuffs and raw materials," says H. G. Moulton, director of the Institute of Economics, Washington, D. C., and joint author with C. E. McGuire of "Germany's Capacity to Pay," the only exhaustive scientific study of the reparation problem that has ever been made.

H. G. MOULTON.

"The German consumption of food in the year 1922," continues Dr. Moulton, "was wholly inadequate to maintain the population in a state of efficiency. The consumption of wheat was only about 55 per cent of the 1913 total; rye, 60 per cent; barley, 31 per cent; oats, 60 per cent, and potatoes, 95 per cent. Meat consumption has also been very greatly reduced. Sugar consumption alone is of pre-war volume. The 1923 grain crop promises to be somewhat better tha n that of last year, but the ability of the nation to buy imported food and raw materials will be materially less.

Must Import Foodstuffs

"Germany cannot exist as an industrial nation without importing large quantities of food and basic raw materials. With an area only about two-thirds that of the state of Texas, Germany can produce sufficient foodstuffs to maintain efficiently only about three-fourths of her population; the other one-fourth is dependent upon imports. Moreover, Germany does not produce such basic industrial raw materials as cotton and rubber; and she can produce only a small part of the copper and iron ore required. The import figures for these materials show factory production is far below normal.

"Germany can pay for these imports of raw materials and foodstuffs only with the proceeds of exports of manufactured commodities, with earnings from shipping and banking, and the entertainment of tourists, and with interest on foreign investments. Before the war the net receipts from the non-trade sources of revenue amounted to about $400,000,000 a year; now they are practically nonexistent. Meanwhile exports have fallen off to about one-fourth of pre-war volume. As a result, Germany can no longer buy the foodstuffs and raw materials that are indispensable to the economic life of the nation.

"While the great food-growing regions of the world suffer from lack of adequate markets, the industrial population of Germany suffers from lack of food. Farming unrest in the United States; Food riots in German cities!"

T. U. REPORTING ON ILLITERACY

Estimates 400,000 in State Cannot Read or Write English

AUSTIN, Tex.—Report on illiteracy in Texas is the title of one of the latest bulletins published by the University of Texas Press, containing the results of investigations made by E. E. Davis, rural school expert of the university. Mr. Davis was assigned the task at the request of both houses of the legislature and the governor of Texas, and his report in summary form was made to the first called session.

The work had not proceeded far, it is stated, until it was discovered that the task of removing illiteracy in the state was closely related to the problem of education in general and to the problem of the immigrant and particularly the Mexican immigrant.

The bulletin gives a discussion of these problems and makes certain recommendations. It is intended as a handbook to those interested in the problem of illiteracy in Texas, and may be obtained from the University extension bureau.

"The persons designated by the bureau of census as 'illiterate,'" states Mr. Davis in the introduction to the bulletin, "comprehend all persons 10 years of age and over who can neither read nor write, or who can read but can not write. Persons who can read and write a foreign language but can not read and write English are not classed as illiterate. There are a great many persons of foreign birth in Texas who have a reading and writing knowledge of their mother tongue, but who cannot read and write English.

"Just how many persons there are in Texas unable to read and write English is not definitely known. There are good reasons for believing that the number is considerably in excess of 400,000.

"In 1920 there was a total of 295,-844 illiterate persons in Texas. This was 8.3, per cent of the entire population of the state 10 years of age and over. The percentage of illiteracy for 1910 was 9.9. Illiteracy in Texas was reduced by 1.6 per cent during the decade 1910-20.

"In 1920 there were in Texas 2,-648,333 native white persons 10 years of age and over, three per cent of who were illiterate; 332,955 foreign born white persons 10 years of age and over, 33.8 per cent of who were illiterate; and 572,719 negroes 10 years of age and over, 17.8 per cent of whom were illiterate. The numerical distribution of illiterates in Texas according to race and nationality are as follows: native white, 80,645; foreign born white, 112,417; negro, 102,053; others, 741."

SALVATION ARMY GROWTH IS GREAT

Lieut. Col. George Wood, commander of the southwestern division of the Salvation Army, with jurisdiction over the activities of the army in the states of Texas and Louisiana, a few days ago observed the seventh anniversary of his present command.

Since assuming command of this division, Col. Wood has seen new corps established in 20 cities; young women's boarding homes in three cities; men's hotels and emergency homes in seven cities, and the divisional Woman's Home and Maternity hospital at San Antonio enlarged to double its former capacity. Until two years ago, Oklahoma was a part of the division, taking 11 corps and other institutions from Col. Wood's command.

There were only five Salvation Army properties, worth about $50,000 in the division seven years ago. Now, there are 45 with a total value of more than $700,000. Twenty-two pieces of property have been purchased for corps purposes and 14 officers' quarters. Seven new buildings have been erected and several have been enlarged. In addition, a 55 acre tract of land was bought near Dallas for Woodcrest Camp, the new Salvation Army fresh air resort for poor mothers and children. Named in honor of the divisional commander.

Although his headquarters are in Dallas, Col. Wood keeps in close touch with all corps under his command. He figured recently that he had traveled more than 260,000 miles in seven years. He joined the Salvation Army 33 years ago in Canada. After serving there four years, he was transferred across the border and has since served in many capacities and in many parts of the world. New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, St. Louis, San Francisco and Honolulu were some of his stations.

More Truth Than Poetry

—By James J. Montague—

HOLDING OUT

I've read in divers magazines,
Subscribed for by a neighbor,
Of sundry gentlemen of means
Who rose alone by labor.
They started in the lowest ranks,
Where toil is rough and dirty,
But they were presidents of banks
At thirty.

Each writer tells a stirring tale
Of fierce and strenous action,
But somehow all the stories fail
To give on satisfaction.
When each is done, you know no more
Of how they gained great credit,
And boundless riches than before
You read it.

I, too, have labored all my life,
I've always risen early
To battle in the gruelling strife
Of business hurly burly.
As long upon the job I've sat
As any average mortal.
But still the wolf is barking at
My portal.

I do not doubt these persons' words—
They're pillars of the churches—
I only wonder how poor birds
Attained such lofty perches.
Their right to rise I'll not gainsay,
Or question, Heaven forbid it;
But I do wish they'll tell the way
They did it.

EARLY SETTLER IS BURIED IN BOWIE

BOWIE, Texas, Sept. 16.—Funeral of Mrs. Minnie H. Beauchamp was held Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock from the home of her mother, Mrs. W. S. Cummins on West Live Oak street, interment in the Elmwood cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. F. O. Miller and Rev. J. W. Cole of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Beauchamp died Thursday afternoon after an illness of several weeks, during which time she underwent an operation in a Dallas sanitarium. She was 54 years old and was the widow of a former county treasurer. Her family was one of the early settlers of Montague county.

Deceased is survived by her mother, Mrs. W. S. Cummins, of Bowie; a daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Norton, and granddaughter, Gwendolyn, of Washington, D. C.; a son, Jack Beauchamp of Dallas; three sisters, Mrs. Harry McMillan and and Miss Frances Cummins, of Bowie, and Mrs. George French, of Bonham.

Several out-of-town friends and relatives were here for the funeral, among them were: Mrs. Harry May of Wichita Falls, Miss Sallie Lewis, of Quanah, Albert E. Thomas, of Fort Worth, and Mrs. Smith and daughter, of Fort Worth.

TURKEY MARKET REPORT TO START

By The Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 16.—What probably will be the first marketing service of its kind undertaken by any state will be started in the near future by the state marketing department, under the direction of J. Austen Hunter, assistant marketing agent. It will be a daily report on state turkey markets and turkey movement.

From the leading turkey points in the state and nation, the marketing department will receive daily reports on turkeys. These will be compiled and dispatched over the state, giving data particularly regarding Texas shipments.

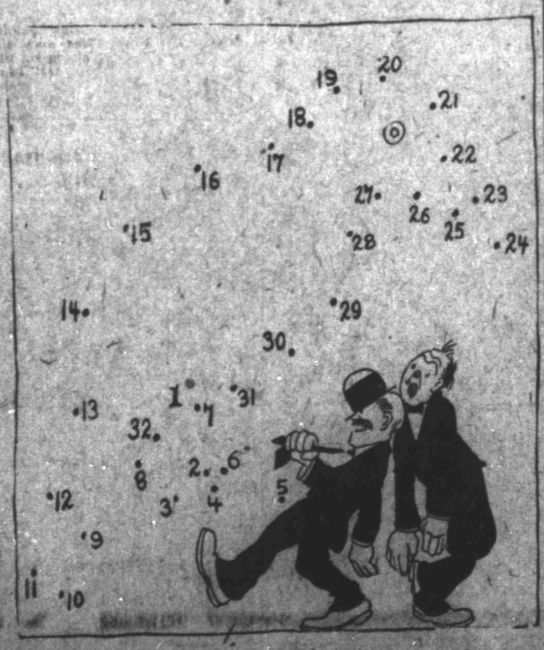

Already plans are under way for the inaugurating of the market service, it is stated.

This exhibit will be displayed in Dalhart, and all or part of the same later shown through co-operation with the West Texas chamber of commerce at the Tri-State fair, Amarillo; the Texas State Exposition, Austin; the Texas Cotton Palace at Waco, and also at fairs at Hutchinson and Wichita, Kan., and the Oklahoma State fair at Oklahoma City.

DOT'S PUZZLES

Burkburnett

NEWS AND PERSONALS

Handkerchief Shower

On Friday afternoon the friends of Mrs. Charles Clisbee honored her with a handkerchief shower as a farewell courtesy on her departure from Burkburnett to Los Angeles, Calif., where the family will make their future home. The occasion was a delightful party throughout, and bespoke the esteem and affection of the honoree's large circle of friends. Both Mr. and Mrs. Clisbee will be missed in the business and social circles of the city, especially with the Magnolia Petrolia communities with which he has been associated for the past five years. The young couple will leave Burkburnett for their new home early Sunday morning, making the journey overland in the large Buick car won by Mrs. Clisbee during a recent subscription contest by the Burkburnett Star.

The Red Cross drive for the Japan relief amounted to about $200, according to general reports of the campaign. This, with the collections from the churches, Sunday schools and Salvation army kettles, listed Burkburnett among those doing their part for the Japanese sufferers.

Dr. Webster Majors and Dr. Gill returned from their overland trip to Littlefield, Texas, early Friday morning.

Mrs. S. G. Cruse accompanied her mother, Mrs. Edwards, as far as Wichita Falls Saturday morning, enroute to Fort Worth, where the latter is returning to her home at the close of a visit with the Cruse family in this city.

The officers and teachers of the Methodist church and Sunday school entertained the Burkburnett school teachers Friday evening at the church, where the new school faculty of over 00 young women and men were in attendance. During the get-acquainted hour, each was introduced informally, and the evening was spent in merry games and social contests. A refreshment treat was served at the close of the pleasant function.

A slow, steady rain fell in Burkburnett throughout the morning hours refreshing the atmosphere and fal gardens of the vicinity. The after noon sunshine, however, came forth it all its glory after the showers.

"Yeh, I've Heard That Before"---

Ever tell a story that you thought was a real funny story, and have your listeners just sit there and look like they'd lost their best friends, and then—

Thinking they didn't get it, you went into a lot of detail and made it as funny as it could be made—

And, yet they never cracked a smile.

Then some bird would yawn and say—

"Yeh, I've heard that before."

Ever pick up the newspaper you read every day, and selecting some apparently choice news item, read it to your wife, and have her say: "Yeh, I've read that before."

If you had that happen to you the chances are ten to one THAT NEWSPAPER WAS A PRE-DATE—printed hours before the date it carried on the front page, because it had to be in order for it to reach you the day you received it.

The Record News reaches you the morning of the day it is printed!

The Record News has no pre-date editions!

The Record News carries to you news that is as fresh as griddle cakes just off the fire!

Today's news today—that's the kind of service you get from The Record News.

CHRISTMAS KETTLE BOILED FOR JAPS

Immediately upon receiving word of the Japanese earthquake disaster, Lt. Col. George Wood, southwestern divisional commander of the Salvation Army, sent telegraphic instructions to corps officers in 26 cities to make collections for the quake victims at all indoor and street meetings during the week ending September 10.

Christmas kettles were placed on the street corners in all corps cities Saturday, September 8, and hundreds of dollars were collected in this manner.

In Japan, there are more than 1,300 Salvation Army officers and 130 corps and institutions. Many of these activities were in Tokio and Yokohama, the two cities hardest hit by the disaster. Territorial headquarters for Japan are in Tokio. At this time, it appears that many, or maybe all, of the Salvation Army institutions in the devastated area have been destroyed. Salvationists outside the stricken territory, rushed in relief and aid to Tokio and Yokohama. With but few exceptions, the Salvationists in Japan are natives who have been converted to Christianity.

Irrigation Hearing.

SAN SABA, Texas, Sept. 16.—On October 1 the commissioners court of San Saba county will hold a public hearing on the petition presented to the court by land owners in conservation and reclamation district No. 1 of San Saba county. For many years Senator Rector, a member of the irrigation committee of the West Texas chamber of commerce, has advocated the creation of a special irrigation district in this county and indeed Senator Rector's principal object in allowing himself to be elected to the upper house at Austin was to aid in securing desiring irrigation legislation. He was a member of the special committee which in 1921 called on Gov. Neff to request him to give aid to irrigation and conservation in Texas.

JUDGE J. C. KAY TALKS OF LUKE

Tells Class Why He Became One Great Writer of History

"Now, Luke, in the New Tantament, became one of the great writers of authority, historic authority for the life of the Savior," said Judge John C. Kay, in addressing the Kay class Sunday morning, at the Strand Theater. "Why does he become so? Because, he was a cool, level-headed, sober, quiet man. Luke doesn't get excited about anything. He can tell his story in fewer words than any man in this house. When he comes to where that boy died in one place, he didn't make a great, long rambling, pathetic sob story out of it, but he said: "He was her only son and she was a widow." How much—how more than much, did he express in one line, The Bible does that. It just squeezes out all the chaff and straw, and leaves you with the very wine of thought.

"Luke was a physician. The Master was often called a physician in that day was something different to what he is today. Just how different, we do not know. I want to pay my compliments here this morning, as best I am able, to a righteous, fair, industrious doctor. I think a doctor, whose chief ambition and whose chief resolve is to go out and burn up his life in serving humanity, ranks among the greatest of all men. But, I speak not for that doctor who would make haste to be rich. Some of these country doctors, living in small communities, that have devoted their lives to the treatment of the sufferings of that community, rank among the world's heros, and, no doubt, many of you will recall men of that type.

"Now, Luke laid that down. He even laid that great profession down to take up a greater one—to go about with St. Paul, teaching the gospel. You know whether he was a big man when Paul says that he was his companion.

"Who is going to write that about you—that you were his companion and friend? When you get up yonder they may ask you 'What kind of people did you associate with down here on earth.' Who was your friend and your boon companion? Now, we can not all be friends to the great. There are not many St. Pauls running around for me to meet and associate with, but let me beg of you to have good friends, true friends, decent friends, or that you have none.

"Luke went out—for what? To make the world better. To make it better!

"I haven't got much time, as I have to often said here, not much inclination if I had all the time, to exalt any church, or to lift up the hands of any religious movement, that merely wanted to teach a naked belief.

"These apostles went out, as the Savior went out, to relieve human suffering, and to meet human need, and to teach men a better way of life. Yet, some of these fellows will debate. They do not have these debates like they used to have them so much, but they would meet out here on Mud Creek and debate about what the Bible meant. Let me tell you, folks, that's ignorant doings. And, you couldn't be justified in attending such a thing at all, unless you might go there, like you would go to any other show.

"Luke was the best educated of these apostles. His writing is the most logical. It is put together with more skill than any of the others. I say, he was out teaching men how to live. That was his mission. Teaching them, as the Savior taught them, that they must repent, that they must turn around, that they must seek forgiveness with a contrite heart. These were the things that the Master taught, and that Luke taught, and Paul taught.

"Now, are these things lost on us? I can understand how some fellow from the wilds of the Congo River in Africa, and from the bush of Australia, and from the great whiteness beyond the Arctic circle, might go up there and say that 'I never knew and I never heard about it,' and he might, under the mercies of God, be justified about it, but what shall we say of such men as you and myself, who have listened with two good ears to the gospel all our life long? Has it been wasted on us? We don't suffer for teaching, or for preaching, or for information, or for a want of knowledge. All these things we have had from our youth up, in this blessed country.

"How many signs are we going to pass by unheeded? Are we going to put these things off and try to turn around later, and trust? We do not like to mention it, but once in a while we say: 'When I die.' Well, lots of you are dying now, with your heads turning white, with a tooth coming out, with a little capillary broken somewhere in your body, with a little tube stopped up. We are already dying, and this gospel is to dying men. A great doctor taught that when a man was forty years old, the seeds were already planted in his body that were going to carry him away from here. Will you listen to this great gospel? Will you believe in it? What is it with all of its imagery, with all its wealth, with all its beauty, with all of its power? Is it to be wasted and lost on us because we will not heed, and will not listen, and will not look out?

"Paul thought, and Luke thought, and the Savior thought that these things were so important to men that they never lost an instant of time in rushing through their life in the world hither and yonder, in order that they might reach, in the short time allotted to them, as many men as possible. But, they couldn't reach them all. They did not reach them all. They do not now.

"The effort of the church is to reach as many as possible. But, that book says that it is for all.

"One of Paul's favorite expressions was 'the Jew and the Greek.' The bond and the free. This man, and that man, and all men. I would not want to adopt, or believe in, or know about a religion that was not open to all men and to every man. That's the kind that Luke and Paul especially taught.

"Go out, and see that you have and live up to this priceless message that these great apostles wrought out for you and brought to you."

BOYS AND GIRLS TO JUDGE LIVE STOCK

The judging of live stock at the Texas-Oklahoma fair, the first week in October by boys and girls enrolled in the live stock judging club work will be one of the educational features of the fair.

Keen competition is developing among the children for places on the judging teams, which are to judge part of the exhibits at the fair, according to those in charge. The boy or girl who takes away highest honors will have to be well trained and well versed to do so. Club officials will be in charge of the judging of various exhibits at the show.

The live stock judging project has become one of the biggest and most popular kinds of club work in the country since its introduction several years ago. The government is promoting it particularly because of the interest in farming which it is creating among boys and girls, and the impetus which it is giving to the raising of pure bred stock of all kinds.

The boys and girls club work department is sure to be of interest during the fair, according to officials.

AMERICAN BOOK CO. APPEAL PERFECTED

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 16.—Appeal of the American Book company, from decision of Federal Judge Duval West, holding the contracts awarded by the textbook commission last December to the book company were void, has been perfected, and filed in the federal circuit court of appeals at New Orleans for hearing next month, E. F. Smith, attorney for the book company announced. Mr. Smith, who was formerly first assistant attorney general, has been engaged in the textbook litigation for several months. Mr. Smith is a member of a leading Houston law firm.

Time appeal will probably be submitted in New Orleans in October attorneys were notified. Other litigation involving the purported contracts is pending in state courts.

The state board of education is awaiting an opinion from the attorney general department to guide the board in action next Monday toward rescinding a former order to set aside $1,450,000 for purchase of the textbooks named in purported new contracts. If the order is rescinded, the board of education will likely make a supplemental apportionment of $1 per capita to convey this sum to the schools for use during the new session.

Nationally Known Poultry Fancier Invited To Fair

An invitation will be extended Walter Burton, nationally known poultry man and director of the Seventeenth district of American Poultry association, to attend the poultry exhibit and act as a critic with judges during the Texas-Oklahoma fair and exposition, Oct. 1 to 7, inclusive, according to Ira D. Brown, director and superintendent, poultry division, fair association.

Burton recently visited the largest poultry and duck farms in the United States and Canada. One of the Long Island farms, there being 80 on the island, recently raised 130,000 ducks and sold them whe nthey were 11 weeks of age for a profit of $1 each. Most of the Long Island farms have their own packing and storage plants and deliver produce daily to the wholesale houses and to market. He visited plants in Pennsylvania, Illinois and other states.

One of the greatest plants for the hatching of chickens is located in Ohio. It has a capacity of 1,000,000 chicks every 21 days. Should Burton accept the invitation he will probably show films of the different plants of the east and north.

SPLAWN TO OPEN A. &M. COLLEGE

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Sept. 16.—Dr. Walter M. W. Splawn, member of the railroad commission, will be the principal speaker at the formal opening of the A. & M. PREDICT LARGE HORSE ENTRIES

Several Owners of Draft Horses to Make Fair Entries

A record breaking exhibit of draft horses is predicted by officials of the Texas-Oklahoma fair and exposition to be held here starting Oct. 1 because of the interest which has been aroused in the show.

According to information received by fair officials several owners of fine draft horses who were not here last year are planning to bring exhibits to the fair this year.

The skilled horseman has his animals in good condition. He gives them special care and attention for ebm.

about 30 days before exhibiting put a horse in good shape. A typical ration consists of four parts of oats and one of bran. A cup of molasses is often poured into a half pail of water, and a little of this sweetened water is poured over the feed, to give an edge to the appetite. From a pound to a pound and a half of ration is given daily for each 100 pounds of live weight. Hay is fed once a day, and alfalfa or clover hay is given at another feeding.

Many good horses fail to win prizes because they can not be handled well in the show ring. They have not been taught to stand, walk, or trot, and do not show off to advantage. A period of lessons in handling is preferable to a short period of long lessons.

NEWER SCHEDULE FOR ART COLLEGE

DENTON, Texas, Sept. 16.—In order to reduce to the minimum the correspondence of the registrar's office at the College of Industrial Arts preliminary to the opening of the twenty-first annual session Monday, September 17, Registrar Walker King announces the following new schedule for the matriculation of students.

On Monday and Tuesday, September 17 and 18, all seniors and juniors are requested to report for matriculation and Tuesday, September 18, the sophomores are invited to be present. Freshmen and new students are requested to report for matriculation on Wednesday and Thursday, September 19 and 20, while all students who find it necessary to take entrance examinations in order to matriculate are privileged to report to Dean R. J. Turrentine from September 18 to 20 inclusive. All room reservations that have been made for students will be held for them through Thursday, September 20, after which students who have rooms reserved and who fail to report will forfeit them.

The first college assembly of the twenty-first annual session will be held in the big auditorium on the campus Thursday morning, September 20, at 10:15 a. m., at which time a suitable program will be rendered.

Dr. Bralley reported today that everything was in readiness for the opening of the college and that the largest opening attendance in the history of the college was expected.

EMPLOYMENT IN TEXAS HOLDS UP

General Situation in This State Reported to Be Excellent

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 16.—With the exception of oil field employment and building construction which have slackened somewhat, the employment situation in Texas is reported excellent by the employment bureau of the U. S. department of labor in its bulletin for August issued today.

In addition to the absorption of a large number of workers by cotton harvest activities it is stated that many workmen from Texas and Oklahoma are being employed in New Mexico in harvesting the fruit and cotton crops. The cotton harvest in Texas has taken up most of the surplus workers. Highway construction is also affording employment to common labor. Work in the oil fields is slack in the north-central districts but fairly steady in the south. Refineries show a limited increase in employment. Lumber mills are working full time with a slight increase in working forces. Building construction is somewhat less extensive, though there is a small surplus of building craftsmen.

The report for three leading Texas cities follows:

Dallas.

A moderate increase in the demand for industrial workers, coupled with requirements of adjacent cotton harvest, has stimulated the employment of both skilled and common labor. Gains are recorded in textiles, machine shops, lumber products, and transportation lines. Sufficient labor is available for expected needs of the near future. Building trades, particularly workers on frame structures, report a decline in employment despite considerable construction in process and planned. A small surplus of mercantile and clerical help exists.

Houston.

Employment conditions still further improved during August in industrial lines, lumber manufacture, textile products, and railroad shops moderate increases are reported. Metal-working plants and clay products hold steady, with full quotas employed. Building construction shows a slight downward trend with a small surplus noted in these trades. The supply of common labor is ample for present needs.

Fort Worth.

An appreciable reduction in the surplus of common labor is noted, due to a small demand for agricultural workers. Mechanical lines, oil refineries, food products, vegetable oils, and other basic industrials register virtually normal working forces. Industrial and dwelling construction affords work to a large percentage of building craftsmen. A small surplus of clerical help exists.

MERKEL EXHIBITS WILL MAKE TRIPS

MERKEL, Texas, Sept. 16.—Merkel's community fair is to be staged on September 22. Part of the day of the holding of the fair will be devoted to judging poultry and dairy products. Farmers from Taylor and Jones counties are to compete for various prizes. Products from this community fair will later be included in the All-West Texas exhibits to be shown at the International Wheat show, Wichita, Kansas; the Kansas State fair, Hutchinson; the Oklahoma State fair, Oklahoma City; Texas State Exposition, Austin; Texas Cotton Palace, Waco; Mississippi-Alabama fair, at Meridian, and the Georgia State fair, Macon, Ga.; all of which are to be assembled by the exhibit bureau of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, R. M. Whiteker, exhibit manager, which will also attend the community fair here and interest farmers in sending in choice exhibits to the West Texas fair at Abilene.

To Represent Gillespie.

FREDERICKSBURG, Texas.—The local chamber of commerce will have Gillespie county represented in the galaxy of counties showing exhibits from West Texas at the State Fair of Texas. Funds have already been raised for sending the most comprehensive exhibit ever gotten together in Southwest Texas for this purpose. After showing at the State Fair, the products from the Gillespie county exhibit will be turned over to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and by them shown at the Texas State Exposition at Austin; Cotton Palace at Waco, and in the National fairs exhibit movement by showings at Oklahoma State Fair, Oklahoma City; Louisiana State Fair, Shreveport; International Exposition, Wichita, Kansas; Kansas State Fair, Hutchinson; Mississippi-Alabama Fair, Meridian, Miss., and Georgia State Fair, at Macon.
