The J. P. Takes the Cake

T. E. Arnold, justice of the peace in Precinct 1, celebrated his 83rd birthday Tuesday. Deputies in the tax office were hostesses for a party in the county courtroom. Pictured with the honored guest is his wife. The couple celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary four years ago. The J.P., who goes to his office every day, recently drove his wife and daughter to Casper, Wyoming, for a vacation visit. Courthouse workers gifted him with a new gaily trimmed fishing hat for his birthday.

Nine Pay Fines for D.I.P.P.

Nine persons, all men, have paid fines in recent days for drunkenness in a public place.

All nine defendants entered pleas of guilty as charged in city corporation court. All nine were fined $25 by Judge Don Butler, city recorder.

One defendant, after pleading guilty to being drunk, also entered a plea of guilty to throwing rubbish in a public place. He was fined an additional $15 on that second charge. The defendant was arrested after Lake Colorado City residents complained to police that an apparently drunk man was "throwing

Strategy Mapped In Dam Site Fight

Steering committee for Mitchell County citizens trying to secure the giant Colorado River dam site project for this county have held two additional meetings in recent days.

Headed by Charles C. Thompson as chairman, the committee still seeks more light on what if anything can be done about the decision of Colorado River Municipal Water District board to move the project to Coke County. An amended request for a permit switching sites was filed by CRMWD in Austin recently.

Committee members here met Wednesday noon with local attorneys as guests and with an Austin attorney whose specialty is water rights, Martin Harris.

"Harris," said Thompson Saturday, "simply took under advisement our position against moving of the lake site. He took a good look in this preliminary meeting and will advise us by mail."

Mitchell County steering committee, Thompson pointed out, intends to reach no decision as to the next move until detailed study is completed by Harris, the Austin attorney.

"We have already gone on record as protesting the change in plans by CRMWD," Thompson said, "in the six protesting telegrams we wired to Texas Water Commission." The matter still rests there at this point, Thompson added.

Two resolutions were fired at CRMWD before they made public their decision to seek an amended permit leaving Mitchell County out of the picture. Original permit named a site 18 miles south of Colorado City in this county and was granted by TWC in 1960.

Resolutions and a meeting by mutual agreement of the steering committee with E. V. Spence, CRMWD manager, and Charles Perry, president, failed to sway the CRMWD Board from their new stand. Mitchell leaders again served polite notice of an impending battle.

The proposed new dam, if built, would take two years for construction and would impound 435,000 acre feet of water. The project is one of gigantic porportions.

At the stage of the now open fight between CRMWD board and Mitchell County civic leaders, solution awaits further evaluation of legal rights affecting this county's chances.

Second meeting of the steering committee and several guests was held at the breakfast hour Friday. It was an "off the record" discussion and planning session.

No further formal petitions have been presented in Austin to date. What route the next effort of formal protest will take will probably be announced early this week, Thompson said after that second meeting. That decision awaits technical legal advice.

Members of the steering committee are Dr. John H. Chinn and Martin Weaver, mayor and mayor pro-tem of Colorado City; George Womack, secretary; County Judge Elmer Martin, Dr. Williams S. Rhode, Gus Chesney, president of the local Chamber, Bob Robinson, Joe Bell, J. Ralph Lee, Raymond Fuller, finance chairman, Wylie Walker, of Loraine, and Thompson, chairman.

Riding Club Needs Stalls

More than 30 entries have already come in from West Texas and Oklahoma for the Colorado City Junior Cowboy Rodeo to be staged here, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Sponsored by the Western Riding Club, the Junior Rodeo is approved by the American Junior Rodeo Association. The 1963 version attracted 140 young riders to the Colorado City event. Officers of Western Riding Club expect between 200 and 250 contestants for the '64 event this coming weekend.

Performances will begin at 7:30 each evening in Western Club's arena just east of Mitchell County Agriculture building, Highway 80, west business route.

Flagmen for the riding events will be R. B. Cain and Lloyd Smith. Timekeepers will be Delmar Lowe and Billy Henderson who lives in Oklahoma.

John Kearney of Marfa will be announcer for the shows. Lawrence Kline and John Gibson of Henrietta will furnish stock and arena judges.

Colorado Citians with available stalls which can be rented for the horses of Junior Rodeo visitors are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Dolores Wood, secretary of the Riding Club. All rodeo fans within reasonable riding distance of the riding arena are requested to list available stalls with Mrs. Wood.

Gate prize, to be awarded holder of the luck ticket during the final performance, will be a Shetland pony. Tickets from all three night shows will be placed in the drawing drum, Mrs. Wood said.

Riders from the youngest to those 19 years old will be limited to three events for each contestant.

All entry fees will be returned to contest winners in the way of purses for prizes.

For boys under 12 years old there will be barrel races, pole bending, breakaway roping and calf riding. Girls under 12 will compete in a barrel race, pole bending, flag race and breakaway roping. Entry fees for that age group is $5 each event.

Girls 13 to 15 will vie for prizes barrel racing, pole bending, flag racing and breakaway roping. Boys 13-15 will try their luck at pole dending, ribbon roping, tie-down calf roping and steer riding. Entry fees for all contestants over 12 will be $10 for each event entered.

Cowgirls 16 to 19 will ride in a barrel race, a pole bending event, ribbon roping and breakaway roping. Cowboys in the oldest age group 16 to 19, will compete in tie-down calf roping, ribbon roping, bull riding and bareback bronc riding.

Deadline for filing an entry blank is midnight Monday, August 10. Rodeo headquarters are Western Motel, Highway 80 east business route.

BUDGET MEET NEXT FRIDAY

United Fund Planning Gets Early Start Here

Bill F. Carter, president of Mitchell County United Fund Organization, announced Saturday the appointment of Elmer Martin as campaign chairman for '64.

Martin, County judge, will lead the concerted forces in the financial drive for funds. Funds collected annually are divided on a percentage basis to various participating agencies.

Participating agencies which share in the United Fund budget are asked by Carter to make their requests between now and Friday evening when the budgets and Admissions [illegible] sheet.

[illegible] the committee, which approves the participating agencies and the fund share by percentage, will be at 7:30 p. m., August 14, in the Chamber of Commerce conference room, Carter said.

Bob Reily is chairman of the committee. Members are Paul B. Hunter, Mrs. W. K. Cowan, Jeff Taylor and Frank Ginzel. Carter and Martin will serve as ex-officio members.

A major change in the local carrying on of the campaign will be tried when the official drive strats, the latter part of October. The '64 United Fund campaign will be started altogether with local volunteers, Carter announced.

For the past two seasons Mitchell County United Fund organization has employed the services of a professional fund-raiser.

"It will be more work if we do all the work with local and county volunteers," said Carter, "but we are going to try to have the most successful campaign in our history without professional help this time."

Workshop for volunteer workers is planned for a date in September with exact time to be announced. An offer from a Lubbock district Red Cross officer to direct the workshop without charge has been accepted.

American Red Cross Mitchell County chapter is one of the major agencies which annually benefits from United Fund donations here. Ten other agencies, all educational, were included in the budget "health" or welfare agencies in 1963.

Agencies receiving money from the drive to "put all fund drives in to one big push" were Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, 4-H & FFA, Mitchell County Heart Council, Texas Rehabilitation Center at Gonzales, the Salvation Army, Southwestern Diabetic Foundation, Texas United Fund, Texas Association for Mental Health and Mitchell County council for Alcoholism studies, last year.

Dick Wistrand serves United Fund as County treasurer. George O. Witten, as secretary, vice-president are Herbert Mearse, first vice-president of Loraine; Herman Parson, second vice-president, Westbrook; Tandy Curlees, third vice-president, Colorado City.

CONVERSATION CORNER

READ two statements from fashion experts which have been kicking around in the attic part of the brain — that place used to store stray items you don't know what to do with.

First opinion was from a famous woman designer of creations for women to wear. "It's ridiculous to think about age," she said. "For the well-dressed woman there is no such thing as age."

That's what she said. Well, have you tried to wriggle into your year before last bathing suit lately? It's plumb demoralizing.

* * *

THE LADY may be right — up to a point. A great deal has to depend on what she means by "well-dressed woman." That's the catch to it.

Your heart can stay as young and gay as you please. That part is mostly up to you. Nobody who can still laugh at herself is ever truly old.

But there's an old, old saying that comes to mind. Remember? "A man is as old as he feels — and his wife is as young as he can afford to dress her."

* * *

SECOND statement that caught the eye was even more discouraging. It was made by a famous man designer of clothes for men.

"I know well-dressed men," he said, "who get along with only 10 to 12 suits."

That's what he said. After long and careful thought and figuring, decided he just had to mean 10 or 12 suits during an average lifetime.

It's sometimes hard to understand all the advice about being well-dressed, keeping fit, staying young, eating right and how to live rich on a budget.

* * *

TROUBLE with both of those fashion experts is that they don't sound very realistic or convincing.

At least, the woman expert failed to convince us that having a gorgeous wardrobe could do much about making a woman keep on feeling twentyish forever.

And as for the man style expert, it's still a source of concern that he sounded so stingy. Even with a new suit just every other year a man may need as many as 20 or 25 suits before he's through living. Any reasonable wife will agree.

* * *

HEAR TELL that Dr. James Hart, Lubbock vet, and his wife now have two babies! Just a few weeks after birth of their natural son the couple adopted a brand new little infant daughter.

They have named her Cyd, say Parnesa Hart (Mrs. Chester) the proud paternal grandmother of the babies who are almost — not quite — twins. Cyd's five-weeks younger than her big brother!

* * *

OFFICE visitors have included a V.F.P. (Very Favorite Preacher) named Claude E. Cogswell, former C-Citian now of Eldorado.

Also blonde Mrs. E. L. Tiller saying she's expecting a visit from daughter Ann, soon.

Nice Neal Rogers, Calvary Baptist pastor, was in for a minute . . . Ditto Trevor Crawford and his wife Mary's brother Dick Reavis . . . Jeff Taylor and Jay Craddock, too.

* * *

PRE ROUNDUP PREPARATION

Girl Scouts Attend Intercouncil Camp

Eight Girl Scouts from Colorado City and Silver have just returned from Camp Bullhead, an intercouncil Patrol Encampment, at Camp Jo-Jan-Van, established campsite of the Frontier Girl Scout Council in Real County.

The campsite contains 245½ acres of hill country terrain and provided ideal conditions for a primitive encampment to prepare the scouts for the 1965 Senior Girl Scout Roundup next July in Idaho.

Attending from Colorado were Lynn Gray, Linda Morgan, Joyce Godwin and Brenda Robertson. Silver scouts attending were Fredda McCabe, Karen Fugate, Debbie Hines and Cynthia Davis. Local scouts were representatives of the West Texas Council. Other councils participating were Frontier, Heart of Texas, Caprock, Permian Basin and Bluebonnet. Approximately 160 girls attended from the six councils.

Patrol leaders for the C-City scouts were Mrs. Shirley Rekers of Lubbock and Mrs. Velma Vestal of Plainview. Living quarters were "two men" tents, and all cooking was done by the girls over charcoal.

Recreation provided included swimming, canoeing, fishing, hiking and arrowhead hunting. An average day's schedule included the following; arise at 6:30, breakfast at 8 o'clock, recreation from 9-10:30, formation from 11-12 o'clock, lunch at 12:30, rest from 1-2 o'clock, swimming and free time from 2-5 o'clock, supper at 6:30, followed by a Hootenanny from 7:30 till 9 o'clock and sing-song at 9-11 o'clock. Forums were conducted by girls who attended the 1962 Roundup in Vermont.

Scouts from Colorado City and Silver met at Camp Boothe Oaks near Sweetwater where they boarded a chartered bus for Camp Jo-Jan-Van, near Vance. The first afternoon was occupied with registration, pitching tents and setting up camps. Return trip to Boothe Oaks was made by bus on Saturday.

Director of the camp was Harriet Redwine with Margaret Hill as assistant director.

Scouts attending the pre-Roundup patrol encampment are Senior Scouts or 9th Grade Cadettes.

BACK HOME (and broke) saw two of C-City's most attractive young couples and their children having a swim party at Ruddick Park — Alan and Corinne Conley and their cute children Cristen and David, all in the water, plus Bob Barman and his handsome two and a half year old son Brent, with Donna Barman watching from the bench. Ruddick pool has some colorful new shade-makers on the west fence, by the way.

FAMILIAR FACES, various places, included Mrs. Selma Dickson, of the long time no see department, getting her lovely silvery hair done . . . Martha Earnest and Schell Merrill lunching together at the Villa.

Saw cute Dorothy Morrison in a splashy and becoming shade of orange . . . Mrs. Sam L. Majors Sr. wearing lush fuschia linen . . . Mrs. R.P. Price . . . Inez Hock of the ASCS office.

Banking citizens encountered briefly were Bill Randle . . . Sam Thompson also Rae Ann Carlock (Mrs. Bim) and good friend Charlie Thompson.

* * *

HOME from Colorado are the Bill Carters, the Jimmie Harrisons and the Fred McKays. Their trip reads like a TV script. Two escaped convicts took off in the McKay car and left it in the state of Missouri! Well, at least they won't soon forget their '64 vacation in Colorado.

The Bowles, Perry and Evelyn of Looney community, were in Fairfield for a polled Hereford sale last week. Then the couple visited relatives in Longview and in Tyler.

Saw Virginia Turner (Mrs. Johnny) and her adorable Christi, little pony-tailed blond who'll be four, come September.

* * *

FAVORITE fan letter of the summer was not exactly ours. It was mailed to Joe Earnest by Robert and Opal Shepherd of Houston.

Mr. Shepherd was one of the two prominent Houston attorneys honored here in their old hometown during Tumbleweed Festival for '63.

After first accusing Joe of not being "as pretty as" the Regular columnist the letter praised Joe's guest column as "interesting and well written."

The letter also tells that Bob's brother Jim is improving after an illness involving a heart attack, followed by an attack of pneumonia. May his recovery be speedy . . . as pleasant as possible . . . and complete.
